Have a glorious, not gory Fourth

Although Delaware is one of fourteen states which ban private fireworks displays, the News Journal of July 6, 1983 reported that a Delaware man lost two fingers when a firecracker exploded in his hand.

The United States Consumer Product Safety Commission reports that during 1983, approximately 8,300 persons were treated nationwide in hospital emergency rooms for fireworks-related accidents. Most of the victims received serious burns and disfiguring injuries to the eyes, face, hands, and fingers. Boys and young men under 25 were involved in three fourths of the fireworks injuries recorded last year. The CPSC and consumer protection agencies are alarmed about mail order companies which offer chemicals for sale for the purpose of making fireworks and other explosive products. Recently, a 14-year-old boy was critically injured as he was mixing two of these chemicals in a ceramic bowl. A violent explosion erupted and he was impaled in the lower abdomen by a two-inch fragment of the bowl and received burns to his upper body and arms. The explosion caused extensive damage to three rooms of his house.

Delaware law prohibits the storage. sale and possession with intent to sell or to use fireworks, firecrackers, rockets, sparklers, torpedos, Roman candles, fire balloons, or any other kinds of fireworks. Ironically, there are more injuries from fireworks in states where they are banned than in states where the explosives are legal. Since bootleggers thrive where the public Federal safety standards, many injur-fireworks of substandard or inferior cannot purchase fireworks that meet ies result from improper handling of quality.

The Division of Consumer Affairs suggests that Delawareans take advantage of the numerous public Fourth of July displays which are planned for the holiday. For example, the City of Wilmington offers a delightful block party featuring the Delaware Symphony and an impressive fireworks display to top off the evening.

For those who may be visiting states where private fireworks are legal, the Consumer Product Safety Commission and the Division of Consumer Affairs urge that those participating in such displays take the following precau-children to handle fireworks. ·Light fireworks only outdoors in a clear area away from houses, dry brush, or anything that might ignite. Keep water available.

Caulk gets the reins by Harry G. Farrow Jr. LF HIGH SCHOOL - On Monday night the Lake Forest School Board elected Board member G. Wallace Caulk, Jr. as President of the Lake Forest School Board for '84-'85. Roberta O'Neal was elected Vice President of the Board for the same

Other offices filled were Secretary to the Board, Superintendent Gerald Lysik and Assistant Secretary to the Board will be the one chosen to fill the vacancy created by the retiring Melvin Luff, who is the present Deputy Superintendent and Assistant Secretary to the Board.

Caulk also selected newly elected Board member Russell McCready to serve as a member, from Lake Forest, of the Board of Directors for the Delaware School Board Association. Newly elected Board member, Sara Williams was selected by Caulk to serve as an alternate to McCready.

The Board has elected to change the times for the regular Board meetings as well as the workshop meetings.

They will be the 2nd Tuesday of the month for workshop meetings and the 3rd Tuesday of the month as the regular School Board meeting. The workshops will begin at 7:30 with the regular Board meetings at 8:00. McCready argued for an earlier time for regular Board meetings citing his reasoning as a convenience to the general public. "I think the meetins should be held earlier for the convenience of the public", he said.

The Board selected lawyer Harry M. Fisher, 3rd as the School Board attorney and approved his request for fees of $60 per hour. With a role call vote all members voted in favor with Caulk abstaining. Board member, Rick Feutz, applauded the General Assembly for passing legislation in favor of equalization of funds for the school districts and also cited the fact that the General Assembly voted to allow the School District to retrieve the $100,000 funds recovered for the damages due the district from the roof damages. Settlement is due from the contractors. "I think we should send a letter to our legislators from our District who all voted in favor of the measures", said Feutz. It was so approved. Those legislators in our District were Sen(s) Cook, Minner, and House members Terry and Quillen.

Caulk also asked the Board to consider doing away with executive sessions except on personnel matters where the "person" requests it. This matter was tabled for further study. Feutz pointed out that he thought the matter was governed by the Delaware Code. "There are certain matters which must be handles in executive session especially on matters involving questions to be asked perspective administrators who are seeking employment in the District. You would not want your questions known in advance", said Feutz.

McCready asked to be recognized to enable him to read into the record what he expects of himself as a School Board member. Numbering among the long list of things to do and should be done are principally that Board policy be uniform, and that all students be

McMillan, a poultry expert and one of the top three men in the Department of Agriculture, told reporters that the danger of avian influenza had passed and the poultry industry was now in the "cleanup process."

Depopulation, sanitation, and disinfecting were the key factors in the fight against avian flu, according to McMillan.

"The Department of Agriculture doesn't want to have to set up any new regulations. We prefer to let the industry itself take care of it."

McMillan said he was glad to be part of the effort to elect "a damn fine man to the U.S. Senate.'

The $50-a-couple fund-raiser drew Burris followers from all three counties.

Among those on hand to do some politicking on Burris' behalf were Battle Robinson, Republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor; G. Wallace Caulk, Republican candidate for the 33rd Representative District; and James H. Baxter, who ran unsuccessfully for the U.S. Senate against Joseph R. Bide Jr. in 1978.

A buffet dinner featuring barbecued chicken in abundance was available for those who worked up an appetite along with beer, birch ber, and iced tea to help wash it down.

Burris was given a round of applause when he said, "We need moderate conservatives in the Senate. They're the only ones who know how to say

Water Safety Awareness July 8-14

Lake Forest Aquatic Supervisor, Denny Berry announced that July 8th through the 14th is designated as Water Safety Awareness Week with a statement signed by Governor duPont and Lt. Governor Castle.

Berry was instrumental in securing the week designed to make the community aware of safe practices in, on and around the water as the Chairman of the DAHPERD (state) Aquatic Committee and member of the

AAHPERD (national) Aquatic Council. Denny contacted the Governor's office about the idea of a Water Safety Week and within two days, the Governor had signed the proclamation designating

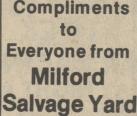

July 8th - 14th. Next year Berry states that the week will be observed in the month of May and he hopes to persuade the Department of Public Instruction to help provide materials to schools in the month of May.

Activities slated for the Activities slated for the Lake Forest High School pool include rescue demonstrations and films on safety which are scheduled at 7 p.m. Anyone who comes at 7 p.m. and views the safety programs will be admitted free of charge. The recreation swim is closed Monday due to a swim meet, but will resume activity from 7 p.m. - 10 p.m. the remainder of the week.

Towers scores double victory at Georgetown Speedway

Despite the threat of rain, a capacity crowd was on hand for the Twin 20 Modified Show at Georgetown Speedway's half-mile oval Friday night.

Heat races were won by Harold Bunting and Richard Jarvis in the modified class. Jim Mitchell and Lee Joines in the Limited Late Model class and Eddie Pettyjohn in the Late Model

The first feature of the evening was the first half of the Twin 20 Modified program. Before the first lap could go into the record book, Scott Morris went off turn 3 pulling the yellow flag. At the restart, Ray Wagner moved out front for the first circuit. Coming out of turn #4 to complete the second lap, Walt Breeding challenged Wagner for the front position, getting their front wheels locked together. Breeding broke free, spinning Wagner and Jarvis, having no where to go, hit Wagner. Sam Davis slammed into the wall unaable to continue.

On the restart, Lacy Lafferty and Scott Morris tangled and went off the 1-2 turn for the third caution flag. Walt Breeding kept the lead for four laps after the restart but another caution flag came out when Freddie Brightbill came to a stop on the back straight-

Joines grabbed it from him. With eight laps complete, Mel Joseph lost power on his #49, forcing a yellow flag. Joines retained his lead on the restart with Jim Mitchell challenging. Joines started smoking on the 11th lap but managed tohold the front position.

On lap 12 VanVorst lost control of his car on turn #4 for the second caution. On the restart, Mitchell outpowered Joines, taking the lead. By the 15th lap. Mel Joseph had moved into second and was challenging Mitchell for the lead when he rear ended VanVorst coming out of turn #4. It was a one lap dash for the cash when the green came down. It was Jim Mitchell, Joseph, Curt Slaughter and Lee Joines across Brett Givens jumped out into the lead in the Late Model feature, only to get out of shape coming out of turn #4 and Lou Johnson slipped by to score the first lap. Eddie Pettyjohn took over in lap 2 holding that position for seven laps when a yellow flag came out when Lou Johnson broke a front axle.

Pettyjohn breezed to an easy victory followed by Givens, Joe Garcia, Ron Wilson and Duane Rust.

19 modified machines took the green for the second half of the Twin 20 with Al Downes in first. John Bennett moved out front only to have the race halted as Downs came to a stop too close to the track in the infield. This Walt Breeding recaptured the lead on moved Ron Keys into the hot seat for

John Bennett again put the 707 out front holding here there until the fourth lap when Bob Wilkins looped his #007 and Walt Breeding ran into him. On the restart, Bill Towers and Howie join the battle. With 15 laps complete, Bunting held on for two laps but Gary Gollub came to a stop on the top

Miller tops large field at Middleford Speedway

by Gene Cain

With a little help from the weatherman, Middleford put on another excellent show Thursday night, while many areas around the race track received heavy rain and thunderstorms, only a light shower fell at the speedway. Surely, the weather deterred some from attending but those who did come were treated to an exciting night's racing action on a track that was super smooth and extremely fast.

Racing action got underway with the Junior Stock class. Keith Mitchell picked up the heat race win but had a rough go of it in the feature. Keith led the first eight laps, but on the 9th circuit, Rodney Peterman and Charlie Lutes moved around Mitchell, dropping him to third. In the late stages of the race, Peterman started to extend his lead even over Lutes as Charlie fell off the pace but held onto 2nd at the checkered. Mitchell salvaged third and Greg Darling 4th.

The Boys and Girls Class saw some exciting moments. Doug Henry had an easy time in the heat, winning it quite

But, when the field came on the track for the feature, Henry was nowhere to be seen. Back in the pits, the crew could not get his engine fired and the field had to be stopped and re-aligned. Henry did not get his machine started before the green flag fell but had to go to the rear. It then appeared that pole man Alan Darling should show the field the way around the speedway, but to almost everyone's surprise, it was the kart on the outside pole that took the lead at the green. Henry jumped from 7th to 4th on the first lap, moved into third on the third lap and passed Darling for second on the 5th lap. Still, there was one kart in front of Henry, and it was not to be an easy task for Henry as he and Darling looked for a way to get around. Now for the surprise. The leader was Kim Cole, and she gave no ground as she charged around the superfast speedway. Henry finally got by on the low side through three, but Darling never did as he has to settle for third behind Henry and Cole. True, the name of the class is Boys and Girls, but rarely does a girl come along and hold her own with the boys. For someone in their first season of racing to run so well with two "veterans" like Henry and Darling, speaks for itself. Someday, who knows, maybe Becky Wheedleton and Millie Bunting will have some company in Kim Cole as they do battle with the

In Limited Modified action, the third Darling to see competition did what his brother had not been able to do in the first two races. Kevin Darling won the heat and lead all but one lap of the feature to get the win. He was under constant pressure the whole race as Punky Chism rode the high side but couldn't find a way around and had to settle for second. Cliff Foskey followed these two under the wire for third.

Stock Light saw yet another close race between Bobby Comstock and Josh Swain. Comstock was to lead this one from wire to wire with Swain having to settle for the runner-up spot. Brian Murphy wound up third with Butch Harrington in fourth.

In the open two cycle feature, Rick Elliott showed blazing speed in posting a going-away win. A last lap spin moved Ernie Darling up to second and dropped Ronnie Fensick to third. Stock Medium had the largest field of the night and probably the most competitive race of the evening. Mel Miller won the heat and led the first lap of the feature but on the second lap Eddie Cain was on the point. Then on lap three Miller went to the front again and held on till lap six when Cain once again wrestled the lead away from Miller, but Miller got around Cain yet another time. While these two battled for the lead, three other karts battled for third right behind the leaders. Brian Murphy, Gene Cain, and Mike Passwaters were right there behind the front two. On lap nine, Gene Cain moved under Eddie Cain into second, but then on a mid-race restart both fell back to fourth and fifth as Murphy and Cosby moved under them. They got back around Cosby and were sitting right on the bumpers of Miller and Murphy at the checkered. Miller picked up the win with Murphy second, Gene Cain third, Eddie Cain fourth and Ronnie West fifth.

The Micros were on hand to put on a show and did they ever. The races that they run were nothing like those of years past. Good, clean, fast, exciting races were the order of the day. As it turned out, the fastest of all was Keith Krebel as he posted a wire to wire victory. After a win like that, Kustom Kaps, one of Keith's sponsors, will surely have to get him a bigger hat. Earl Coverdale came in second with Jack Mills third and Ron Ernis fourth.

To sum it all up, let is be said that if you weren't at Middleford Speedway Thursday night, you missed some very exciting racing. This coming Thursday night, July 5th, will be a double points night for the go-karts. Along with the go-karts, the micros and the motorcycles will be on hand to try their skill at the superfast, high banks of Middleford Speedway. With a gate admission of only two dollars, you can't afford to miss this exciting show.

NCMS, a one-mile superspeedway which features two NASCAR Winston Cup Grand National 500-mile events annually, and RID, an asphalt strip measuring a little over a mile and ranked as one of the nation's finest which sanctions two International Hot Rod Association championship events each year, are located 10 miles north of Rockingham on U.S. Highway No. 1, directly across the highway from each

The complete motorsport complex is offered with NCMS' road course -- a 1½ mile layout utilizing about three fourths of the speedway with a winding segment through the infield area -which annually schedules 12 to 15 events for motorcycles (AMA), sports cars (SCCA), go-karts and private car

Darrell Waltrip leads Dale Earnhardt by just 30 points, 2,237 to 2,207 with Bill Elliott third.

Ten drivers have found their way to the Busch award in the 15 races. Ricky Rudd has three to lead Cale Yarborough, Waltrip and Harry Gant by one. With 10 of 15 first wins, Waltrip and Yarborough with three, and Bobby Allison with two.

Rusty Wallace continues to lead the Champion Spark Plug awards with 158 points. Clark Dwyer is next with 135, Greg Sacks has 129 and Phil Parsons Earnhardt is leading the Union 76 Fund with his 2,207 points, but Bill Elliott has 2,154 and is coming on strong in his bid for a second straight big payoff, which is contested among drivers who use all Union products. Only selected races are involved in the pit race, so Yarborough has a good chance of staying on top. He's there now as Waddell Wilson and his boys have 127 points, 11 better than Bobby Allison's crew headed by Gary Nelson.

Ron Bouchard debuts his new sponsor, Hawaiian Punch, in the Firecracker....The Pepsi Firecracker 400 will be taped by ABC and current plans are to air it July 14 in Wide World of Sports....Latest count of entries for the Firecracker: 53, which is two short of the record....Richard Petty won't take the following weekend off -- he's headed to Seattle, Wash., for a Winston West Series race....Birthday boy: Grand National driver Benny Parsons will be 42 on July 12.

"When I was a kid, my heroes were Richard Petty, A.J. Foyt and Bobby Allison. They were about equal, and Cale Yarborough was right behind them. All the kids had toy race cars, and those were the ones I had. Now I see their cars quite a bit, and they sure aren't the toy kind," said driver Ricky Rudd, recently.

Mud wrestling is clean (but dirty!)

For the second year in a row, Delaware State Fairgoers will get a chance to see some real mud-slinging. And if you are waiting to see your favorite political candidate throw it at his upcoming primary or general election adversary - forget it. Although an event of that nature would undoubtedly draw thousands of spectators, this sport is strictly for professionals like those of the International All-Girl Mud Wrestling Show. The troupe of 8 women will make a State Fair appearance on Monday evening, July 23. "Last year's show was a rousing success," according to Fair Entertainment director, Virgil Jarerell. "We had close to 4,000 people who showed up for the event and Iexpect even more this year." Jarrell went on to admit that "some Fair directors were a little hesitant about booking a mud wrestling show at first, but after they saw that everything was done in very good taste, they were all for it this year."

A mud wrestling show is something that the average person doesn't see every day. Picture this - eight beautifully attired young women first appear on stage and do a modeling routine as they are introduced. They then retire backstage to change into their mud wrestling attire. When they re-appear back on stage it's all business as they pair up and the action begins. "It's ing the mud at Nancy Cook, S.B. Woo great fun for all demographic or Dave McBride? That would have to groups," adds Gary Simpson, be the match of the century.

Fair Assistant Manager. "Last year I could have taken my consecutive Mother to the show or my six-year-old and neither would have been offended. I observed the reactions of as many spectators as possible and after the show I had elderly people coming up to me and remarking how much they loved it.'

Not only will the girls be wrestling each other, but like last year, Fair officials are planning a celebrity tagteam match as well. Four popular radio or newspaper personalities will pair up and wrestle each other and then the winner of that match will be paired against the girls. "The crowd really liked this part of the show." added Jarrell. The guys were game for the event and really put on a show. However, the girls really manhandled them." he laughed.

So, if you like something out of the ordinary, a lot different and absolutely crazy, then perhaps the fairgrounds grandstands the place to be come Monday night, July 23, at 7:30 p.m. And if there's any political types who would like a legal shot at knocking over their oponents before the November election, call the fairgrounds...maybe they'll throw in another match. Governor's welcome accompanies Girard name change to Mellon Cheered along by a gubernatorial National Corporation," he said. welcome from Gov. Pierre S. duPont The governor's welcoming Iv, Girard Bank Delaware today officially changed its name and will now be known as Mellon Bank (DE).

Outside the main office at 10th and Market Sts. Wilmington Mayor William T. McLaughlin proclaimed Mellon Bank Day and thousands of balloons were released as a banjo band played to salute the new name.

Earlier this month, Girard's George network of automated teller machines began the process of adopting the colors and name of the Mellon-operated CashStream network.

H. Harrison Kephart, Jr., president of Mellon Bank (DE), said, "Today's change of our name is a dramatic affirmation of our merger with Mellon. It tells everyone in Delaware that we are indeed affiliated with a premier financial services organization.'

Kephart pointed out that the bank's official name is now "Mellon Bank (DE) National Association." "That name will be used, when required to distinguish us from other subsidiaries of Mellon

The governor's welcoming letter noted that, "There's nothing new about the network of office which served Delawareans for the better part of two centuries," but indicated that he was certain that Delaware could continue to rely on the bank and its officers to "continue the tradition of service long associated with these banks".

The charter of Mellon Bank in Delaware dates back to 1807, the founding date of Farmers Bank of Delaware. Farmers was acquired by Girard in 1981 when the state sold its interest in the institution.

The bank's local branches were festooned with banners that urged customers to "Join the Mellon Celebration," and full-page ads in local news-papers heralded the name change. Cookies shaped like the Mellon Monogram were available in both banks' employee dining areas during the day, and many employees donned various articles of clothing bearing the bank's new Monogram symbol.

Elliott answers auditor's criticism

by William T. Ficka

David H. Elliott, the embattled State Insurance Commissioner, held a public hearing in Dover Monday to answer criticism leveled at him by State Auditor Dennis E. Greenhouse.

Several errors were made by the auditor's office in its financial audit, including one amounting to $2,300, according to Elliott.

The $2,300 discrepancy occurred when the auditor's report indicated that on March 31, 1982, $3,500 was transferred from capital outlay to travel.

"The fact is that the amount was $1,200. This is an error of $2,300 by the auditor," Elliott said in a prepared statement released Monday.

Elliott contended that the Controller General's Office is the only state agency authorized to conduct management audits.

Because the controller general's staff was busy with matters in the General Assembly. Greenhouse's staff was asked to conduct the management audit in addition to the financial audit. Elliott said his department "strongly recommends that because the auditor's office lacks the expertise to conduct such a management audit that an independent management consulting group be utilized to conduct this specialized audit.' Because of the lack of expertise, such an audit conducted by the auditor's office would be "a waste of the taxpayer's money," Elliott said.

Elliott said he welcomes "a constructive audit by a qualified group."

Elliott also criticized the auditor's office practice of sending "advisory letters" to public officials which are leaked to the media. He asked for the findings and "then both letters could be Photo by HGF

Two weeks ago at a Sussex GOP Women's Club meeting, Elliott observed, "The daily press suggests I mishandle money. What it boils down to is $75 out of an $18,000 office budget -- less than 1/2 of 1 percent. The audit claimed it wasn't necessary to spend the $75. I disagree -- the outlay was directly connected to my office functions, and important."

Debbie Abbate of Houston was a gold opportunity to respond to the auditor's chederleader and Sam Hollis' buddy.

Danny coasted to a 45 second lead over the nearest competitor after completing the 500 yard swim portion of the race in 2nd place, but quickly moved into first during the 31/2 mile running portion which followed the boardwalk North to the State Park entrance before winding back to the finish line. Danny Haines and Chris Drew both swim for the Lake Forest High School and Age Group Swim teams and Danny runs for the defending high school State Champion Cross Country Team. Last year Danny placed 4th, but his swimming of over 3000 meters a day and daily runs at Garrison Lake (where he is working as a lifeguard this summer) helped Danny capture the win. Both Bob Brown and Denny Berry placed 4th in this respective age groups for the race.

Lake Forest students participate in Olympics of the Mind

The Lake Forest High School team participated in the World Olympics of the Mind competition at The University of Akron recently, competing in division three "The Mousemobile prob-

Teams became eligible for world competition by finishing first in one of five events in their division at state finals

The Olympics of the Mind was started in 1978 by Theodore Gourley and Samuel Micklus in New Jersey. The program is designed to allow creative students to compete in team problemsolving activities. The teams work on one specific long-term problem and one spontaneous problem in one of three rade divisions.

The grade divisions are -- kindergarten through fifth in division one, sixth through eighth in division two, and ninth through 12thin division three. This year, teams faced five challenging problems. Charlots of Rescue competitors designed and build vehicles powered only by the weight and limited body movements of their drivers. The vehicles were required to retrieve inanimate objects using three different rescue mechanisms and to race.

Mousemobile Relay teams designed and constructed five vehicles powered by mousetraps. The vehicles competed in relay races against other teams.

For Moby Dick, students created and acted out a new chapter of the Herman Melville classic. The play featured slide projected "flashbacks," whale sculptures, drawings and paintings of whaling scenes, playbills, props and scripts. Strategy Structure participants designed and built eight-inch high structures of thin balsa wood strips. The soundness of each structure was tested by placing increasing amounts of weight on top of it. Last year one structure held almost 800 pounds!

Camelot required one student nonverbally to guide teammates through an obstacle course. On the course, team members were required to perform -- while blindfolded -- such feats as pulling a sword from a stone dousing a dragon's fire and rescuing a damsel in distress.

Approximately 3,000 students and coaches from throughout the United States and Canada participated in the Olympics of the Mind at The University of Akron. Following is a list of team members: Helen Downing, Chris Drew, Michael Drew, Mike Mosley, Joey Pettit and Randy Wroten.

welcome. Dates will be published later. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dill, daughter Lori, Felton, Ricky Booth, Felton, Melissa Barney, Frederica, all spent Sunday, July 1st at Hershey Park.

day on July 5th. Mr. and Mrs. Norman O'Day, formerly from Felton, are vacationing in the area with relatives and friends. They now reside in Plant City, Fla. for the past few years.

Let's get onto the ball game, first off, an error in last week's news column. It is Chambers Truck Center, not Chambers Sporting Goods, an honest error and not intentional. Felton Major League, Manager, James Boone; Coach Norman Tribbett, for Chambers Truck Center are in first place, winning the game on Thursday, June 28th; Chambers 12, score, JCPenney, score of 9. Chambers team went to Shakey's Pizza Parlor for a treat. Felton Senior League, Wares Market are in first place. Their manager Walter Moore, coach Steve White. Woodside Beverage is in 2nd place with manager Tom Carter, coach Ricky Booth. Next week's report will tell about the Minor League and the Pee Wee's as this week will finish the ball

Mr. and Mrs. James Havelow had a day in Atlantic City, enjoying the boardwalk and seeing the Casinos. "Welcome home" Mrs. Nettie Green of Felton, so glad to hear the good news. Take care of yourself, just relax and enjoy company.

Greenwood

On Tuesday, July 17, the free blood pressure clinic will be held at the Greenwood Library. This is a good time to have your blood pressure checked. Remember the time, 7 p.m. This is a monthly event at the library on the third Tuesday of the month. At Greenwood Day, July 14, the library will sponsor a book sale to benefit the library. All proceeds from the sale of the donated and surplus books will be used to purchase new books for the library. The best part is that all books will sell for 10 cents each....nothing more.

Also the library has chances on a "book-shaped" cake which they are selling. This cake, donated by Linda Zeroles, will be given away on Greenwood Day. The donations are 25 cents each or five for $1.00.

Also mark your calendar for August 3 at 2 p.m. for a program on Dinasaurs. This program is being presented by the Cultural Awareness Council. All children are urged to attend this program. It is for all elementary age children. Plan now to attend this program which will be held at the VFW Post Home in Greenwood.
