"Project SELF" gets high marks from students and teachers

by William T. Ficka

[Second of two articles.] The pilot elementary counseling program at Lake Forest North Elementary School has passed the toughest approval test of all — the one given by the students themselves.

The program, known as "Project SELF" (Self-Esteem at Lake Forest), began two years ago when one pilot program was established in each county. Christina in New Castle County and Seaford in Sussex County have similar programs.

One of the program's main objectives is "improving students' self-esteem and respect for others.'

Student evaluation forms given to 116 sixth graders reflect a strong student satisfaction with the program. The strongest areas of response were in the "terrific." "good." and "OK" categor-

Self-esteem inventories were given to students in grades three through six at division had worked to introduce an the beginning and end of the 1983-84

Responses showing high self-esteem jumped from 68 to 81 percent for third graders; from 65 to 80 percent for fourth graders; from 66 to 75 percent for fifth graders; and from 66 to 80 percent for sixth graders.

John Caldwell, of Milford, who heads the program, had 497 individual counseling contacts in the 1983-84 school year. Forty-one students were referred to him by parents, teachers, and principals.

"You have to have empathy with kids," said Caldwell.

"A student in the hall may be devastated because a grandfather died. Or something may have happened on the school bus. You may think it's nothing, but it's important to the kid," Caldwell added.

"If you can get them at an early age and mold their minds — that's very important." he said.

Pre-evaluation questionnaires administered in September, 1983 showed a strong and unified support from the teachers. Teachers also expressed high expectations that the counseling program would meet the self-esteem and emotional well-being needs of the Post evaluation questionaires administered in June, 1984 indicated that the program fulfilled the hopes of the teachers and, in their estimation, satisfied the needs of the students.

During the 1981-82 school year, before the advent of the counseling program, there were 440 detentions and/or office referrals for fighting, harassment, disturbing the class, damage to property, profanity, stealing, and cheating.

During the 1983-84 school year, after the counseling program was in effect two-years, the number of detentions and/or office referrals had dropped to

Virginia Welgan, a counselor at Delaware State College, said, "I've read his (Caldwell's) end-of-year report and was very satisfied with it." Welgan is a member of the Delaware Division of American Association of University Women. Since 1976 the elementary counseling program such as the one at Lake Forest.

Now in the works is a bill that would establish a counseling program in all state schools on both elementary and secondary levels.

"It would be a phase-in bill over a five-year period," said Welgan.

There would be one counselor for every 300 students in secondary schools, and one for every 500 students in elementary schools, according to

Frank A. Young, Lake Forest North Elementary School Principal said, "I'm extremely happy with the program. It's worked out beautifully. He's (Caldwell) done a good job.'

Young who has advocated elementary counseling "for years" stressed the importance of reaching the students while they are still young and impressionable.

"We invite the public and especially educators and politicians to come to the school and observe the program," Young said.

According to all indications, "Project SELF" has been a resounding success. What else can you call a program that has the near-unanimous approval of administrators, teachers, parents, and the students themselves?

Update on Dover resident killed in fatal accident

Accident reconstructionists from Delaware State Police Troop 3 in Woodside have arrested a Bowers Beach man in connection with a fatal accident on July 3rd, 1984 which claimed the life of Gene C. Smith, 37, of 225 N. New Street, Dover, Delaware. Albert Gaylord Leitzell, 22, of Donovan's Dock. Bowers Beach, Delaware was arrested July 5th, 1984 for vehicular homicide 1st degree, leaving the scene of a personal injury accident, and failure to report an accident. Leitzell was incarcerated at Delaware Correctional Center in Smyrna, Delaware in lieu of $53,200 secured bond. Accident reconstructionists say that Leitzell and Bruce E. Shockley, 20, of R.D. 1. Box 110, Frederica, Delaware, the driver of the vehicle that collided

a Dover area night club. Leitzell and Shockley were on their way home in separate vehicles. Just prior to the collision, Leitzell was travelling on U.S. Rt. 113 in the southbound lane and Shockley was travelling south on U.S. Rt. 113 in the northbound lane, of the two lane section of U.S. Rt. 113. Harrington gets new Postmaster

by William T. Ficka

Cleo Adams, of Frederica, assumed official duties as Harrington's new postmaster, July 6.

Adams, a veteran of 16 years in the U.S. Postal Service, began her postal career as a clerk in a Long Beach, California post office in 1968, and was later promoted to supervisor.

The 43-year-old Adams is the mother of three grown children who have given her five grandchildren. She succeeds Ralph Starkey, who served two years as Harrington Postmaster. Starkey was promoted to Postmaster in Cambridge, Md. Seven full-time and 6 part-time workers are employed at the Harrington Post Office. Adams left California and came to Delaware in 1976 when her husband, a civilian air base employee, was transferred to Dover Air Force Base. "I love it here. Out in California you don't have the four seasons. My boy was 13 before he saw snow," Adams

"There was so much smog, I saw the stars only twice in all the time I was out there," she laughed.

When Adams, a Harrisburg, Pa. native came to Delaware she worked once again as a clerk in the Nassau Post

She was promoted to postmaster in Nassau in September, 1980 and served in that capacity until May, 1982, when she was appointed postmaster in Frederica.

Adams served as Frederica postmaster until her recent appointment in Harrington.

Fair racing gets in your blood

HARRINGTON - When the 65th grow every year. continue to be a major event of the Fair, not only for spectators, but for the participants as well.

Back in 1921, race fans were assured that they would see "twenty or more of the fastest cars from Delaware, Maryland and Pennsylvania" and were "promised some of the most exciting races they had ever witnessed on a half-mile track." That promise has been extended through the years, and that, says Fair official, Walt Messick, is what keeps filling the grandstand year after year.

Messick, who is the Fair's race committee chairman, says that "people expect to see exciting races at the fairgrounds track" and that for the competitors, "it's a matter of pride as to which one gets to wear the Delaware Championship crown for the remainder of the racing year".

This year, as for the past several years, there will be two race days; opening night, July 20th and Wednesday evening, July 25th. Messick expects upwards of 100 cars per night with racing action being divided into three classes: Modifieds. Late Models and Limited Late Models. Purses for out the year. That award was estabeach night's program are set at $6,500, but s Messick explains, "We could probably set a purse of $100 and the competition would be every bit as tough. Racing at Harrington is a tradition....it's in their blood, and they wouldn't miss it for the world". And a rich tradition it is. Great drivers like Ted Horn and Tommy Hennershitz, acclaimed as two of the best former dirt track racers in the world, each took their share of checkered flags at Harrington. Bill Holland and Lee Wallard each took home the crowl jewel of auto racing, the Indy 500 and each have stormed the treacherous 1st turn at Harrington, rooster-tailing dirt high in the air and come home a winner before thousands of joyous

That tradition will be carried on in this 64th year of racing by drivers like Lou Johnson, Mel Joseph, Jr., Eddie Pettyjohn, and Bobby Wilkins; names familiar to Delmarva stock car enthusiasts for the past several years.

In addition to the $6,500 purse each evening, the overall top driver will receive a cash award of $500, an individual trophy and his name will be inscribed on a permanent trophy that sits in the fairgrounds office throughlished in 1982 by the Kent County

Only leadership can keep the First State First.

We're outnumbered in the U.S. House of Representatives 434 to 1. Delaware's voice had better be clearly heard or we'll be run over

And it will take strong leadership to help turn Congress' overspending around. After 270 Home Neighborhood Visits in my campaign for Congress, you have made government overspending your number one issue. Here's a six point program you helped me develop, so we can look after the interests of Delawareans, especially those in real need and reduce the burden on the taxpayers too. We

1. Cut defense spending without cutting our defense—by competitive bidding, standardized hardware, and reduced long-term overseas troop commitments.

2. Implement many of the Grace Commission recommendations to trim waste and duplication in every Department.

3. While protecting Social Security in every way, re-examine the cost-effectiveness of today's formula for indexing government programs (like civil service and military retirement) for automatic inflation increases.

4. Give the President a line-item veto over the budget.

5. Adopt a single flat rate tax as a reform of the ridiculously complex income tax. This is not a tax hike but tax reform. 6. Pass a constitutional amendment to require a balanced budget from the Congress. It's needed because Congress has failed to do the job-and a direct legal mandate is Delaware should be providing just this kind of strong leadership in the Congress—leadership to keep Delaware First. I'm asking for your vote to do just that.

P.S. I also think that if Congress won't put its money where its mouth is and balance the budget, the least each Congressman should do is voluntarily reduce his own office spending by 10%. It won't save a lot of money, but it might start a welcome trend. If our current Congressman won't start the trend this year, I will Katie, the only female in the race, to win Saturday, July 14th's featured driver John Lister in 1:58.1. The 4-year-old daughter of Committeeman, mark. who has ruled the fillies and mares open at this meet, took the lead at the start and paced the quarter in 30.3 and the half in 1:00.1 as no one in the seven horse field took up the chase. When the challenges started to mount down the backstretch, Forrest Bartlett's mare was more then equal to the task. A third quarter of 28.4 took the field by the three quarters in 1:30 and then Camden Katie drew off in the lane with a 28.1 kicker to polish off a last half of 57, downing Southern Robert (C.D. Harris) and Perky Fiddler (Rick Farrington) by open lengths.

Easy fractions told the tale in the Sunday's $6,000 Winners-Over pace as Discus Champ withstood a calvary charge finish to score a 2:00.3 victory over Scarlet Attraction (Vern Crank) and Valiant Bid (Edwin Gannon). Trainer-driver Don Irving, who coowns the 4-year-old daughter of Keystone Ore with father Dana Irving and Sam McMichael and Nelson Miller, Jr., guided the mare to fractions of 31.3, 1:02 and 1:31.2. Scarlet Attraction, sitting in the two hole, had no racing room down the stretch enabling Discus Champ to prevail by a half length over the latter with a 29.1 final quarter. The entire eight horse field was within three lengths of the winner.

Also on Sunday, Expresso captured a $5,500 Winners-Over pace for trainerdriver Steve Milam in 1:59.2. The 3-year-old son of Most Happy Fella set fractions of 29.4, 58.4 and 1:28.1 while being pressured by Ratta Tat Tat (Howard Parker) and held off Charter Winds (Nick Callahan) by a length to earn a new lifetime mark for owners Herman, Bernard and James Hofler. However, Allwood's Star Bid was the most impressive horse in the race. The 3-year-old son of General Star broke stride on the backstretch, spotting the field close to fifteen lengths before closing strongly for driver Pete Peter- occasions. sheim to finish third, just two lengths behind the winner.

> Four late closing series continued with plenty of exciting racing resulting, B.J. Scarlet (Crank, 1:58.3) and Fool's Errand (Tony Domino, Jr., 1:59.2) proved to be much the best in their $3,000 divisions of the Co-Star Series for 3 and 4-year-old males while Transition (Tom Gallagher, 2:01.1) and Southern Storm (Denis Mumford, 2:02) were first time winners in $3,000 divisions of the Ingenue Series for 3 and 4-year-old fillies and mares.

Abductor (Jim Larents, Jr., 2:01.2), Al Wil (Pres Burris, Jr., 2:01.2) and Yankee Boomer (Ted Wing, 2:02) dominated their divisions of the Cadet Sries for 2-year-old colts and geldings by winning the $3,000 events by at least two lengths each.

Invincibility was just that as she established herself as the one to beat in the Coquette Series for freshman fillies with an impressive 2:00.1 effort over a good track. Rick Farrington drove the daughter of Meadow Skipper to a wire-to-wire eleven length victory. Oxford Julie's 2:04.1 was good enough to capture the other $3,000 division for trainer-driver Bobby Reeser.

The fastest 2-year-old of the week was Silent Target. The son of Warm Breeze, a half brother to million dollar winner Carl's Bird, scored a 1:59.3 victory despite spending much of the mile first over. A final quarter of 29 enabled the Dick Farrington trained and driven and Lloyd and Nancy Arnold owned colt to down Roving Boy (Walter "Red" Ross) and Sterling K (Burris, Jr.) by half a length.

The race for the Brandywine driving crown continues to tighten. Through July 15, Abe Stoltzfus (44 wins) is with one to catch with Crank (40 wins) closing in. Forrest Gerry, III, and Jim Porter are still in contention with 37 wins each while Pres Moore, Jr. has visited the winners circle on 36

Freddie Brightbill took over the lead on lap 8 bringing the Purnell/Jarvis #680 of Richard Jarvis along with him and dropping Tobias to third. Jarvis had won his heat and started the feature outside of Harold Bunting in the 7th row. The next lap Kenny Brightbill made himself a factor as he latched onto Jarvis' bumper.

It was Breeding, Trice, Brightbill, Bunting and Jarvis as the white flag flew and it appeared it would end this way. During that last lap, fate took a tight grip on the Trice car and the #33 faltered, giving Bunting, Brightbill and Jarvis the chance to move ahead. Trice this was truly the case Thursday night at Middleford Speedway. With a beautiful summer night, ann immaculately prepared racing surface and a large turnout of competitors and fans, Middleford Speedway had one of the best nights of racing so far this season. Getting the action underway was the Junior Stock class. For the third week in a row, Charlie Lutes simply ran away from the field and hid in posting an easy win. Behind Lutes, they really battled it out for second right down to the checkered. When they crossed the line Keith Mitchell was in second with Rodney Peterman knocking on the door, having to settle for third. The next class to take to the track was the Boys and Girls stock class. To see these karts fly around the high banks at better than 50 mph racing side by side and then realizing that the drivers are only 8 to 12 years old is truly amazing. The "man" to beat so far this season in this class has been Doug Henry, but in the past races Shawn Pepper has run twice and beat Henry both times. This week Shawn was on hand once again to try to make it three for three. In the heat Chris Mason lead nine of the ten laps but not the one that counts and let Henry and Pepper charge past and dropped Mason to third. One just knew that the feature was going to be something to see and it did not disappoint anyone. For fifteen laps Henry and Pepper waged a mini war as they blazed around the speedway but then going through lapped traffic, Henry caught a brake as Pepper got hung up behind one of the back markers allowing Henry to pull out a five kart length lead that he held till the checkered. Chris Mason wound up third with Kevin Colborn fourth. Hats off to these fine drivers for an exciting show.

Middleford Speedway It would seem almost impossible to top that race, but the Stock lights were willing to try as six and seven karts ran bumper to bumper the entire race. Jim Boone won the heat and lead the early stages of the feature only to have Josh Swain wrestle the lead away on the ninth circuit. Swain was able to get a little breathing room, but that could not be said for the rest of the field as six karts ran to the checkered bumper to bumper for second. At the wire Jim Boone held onto second behind Swain followed by Butch Harrington in third. Todd Shaffer rounded out the top four. After weeks of frustration, Harrington has to be pleased with his performance

The micros were next in line to take on the speedway. These superfast machines are something to see as they charge around the clay banks of Middleford. Wes Hastings was on hand and picked up the win but he never got command of the race until the twelfth lap when he charged into the lead. Following Wes across the stripe in second was Bud Coverdale with Paul Mills in third and Craig Coverdale in

In Stock Heavy, Eddie Cain returned to the winner's circle with a fine drive. In a rare appearance, Marshall Lewis was on hand and battled Mike Passwaters for second but had to settle for third behind Cain and Passwaters. Melvin Miller ran into the number three spot early in the race until being forced to retire from the race with a broken tie rod.

In open 2-cycle competition Emory West posted another win. Ernie Darling was the runner-up to Emory. Stock Medium looked like a rerun of Stock Light as Josh Swain returned to victory lane for the second time in one night. With the level of competition that was on hand it was an accomplishment to win a race let alone two. After a disappointing run in light, Brian Murphy ran a strong race to finish second to Swain in medium. Third place went to none other than stock car pilot Glen Wilson in his first appearance this season at Middleford. Bobby Comstock rounded out the top four finishers.

The motorcycles were on hand to close out the show, but unfortunately no results were available for the three classes that ran.

Once again with nine classes of go-karts, motorcycles and micros racing every Thursday night starting at 8 p.m., you can't beat the value for the two dollar admission charge. To see some of the fastest action around, you just have to see Middleford Speedway to believe it.

A ceremony honoring the POWs and MIAs will be held in the auditorium at the Veteran's Administration Hospital in Elsmere, outside Wilmington, on Friday at 1:30 p.m.

A retreat ceremony will be held at Dover Air Force Base at 4 p.m., according to Major Peter Clark, Public Affairs Officer.

Clark said balloons will be released in remembrance of the five Delaware men still listed as missing.

Clark has sent invitations to the DAFB ceremony to various veteran's organizations throughout the state. According to Clark there are 2,489 Americans still unaccounted for.

The government's fight to free the POWs and obtain reliable information on the MIAs began in 1973 when direct American military involvement in Southeast Asia ended under the terms of the Paris Peace Accords.

At that time 591 American prisoners of war were immediately repatriated. But some 2,500 missing American servicemen were lost in the shuffle, very few of whom have been accounted for to this day.

Perhaps the best description of the American POWs was given by the great Russian writer, Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn, who was sentenced to eight years in the Gulag Archipelago. He told us in 1975, "... Can you smell the Brownies baking? The gang likes something sweet around, and when I get in a jam for time and material, I don't know of an easier answer than a box of Brownie mix. They take only minutes to stir up and only a half hour to bake, and they kind of double for either cake or candy.

Siscone scores third feature win great experience this summer. He is on anne's lace and the orange butterfly at Wall on Skoal Motorsports

WALL TOWNSHIP - Defending champion Tony Siscone of Hammonton captured his third modified feature of the season Saturday night at Wall Stadium. Starting in sixteenth starting spot, Siscone patiently picked the right spots and made the right moves to win the thirty-five lap feature.

Vinnie Green of Red Bank quickly jumped out front from his outside pole position as Doug Wolcott of Neptune City ran second anf Farmingdale's Tom Mauser third. The first yellow of the event came out on lap thirteen as Bill Tyger spun his #48 in turn four.

On the restart, the battle for the lead became a torrid one, but on lap eighteen, leader Green and second place runner Wolcott came together with Wolcott taking over the lead with Green falling back to second.

With five more laps completed, a six car pileup in turn two erased five of the top seven cars including leader Wolcott. With the change of positions, Siscone became the new leader as Tony Ferrante Jr. was second and Gil Hearne third.

The top three drivers quickly pulled away from the remaining field, but with seven laps to go, second place runner Ferrante and third place runner Hearne came together sending Fer-

Siscone was never seriously challenged for the lead as he collected number three in the Barney/Morrison #14. Hearne, who crossed the line second was placed ninth by track officials, giving Lenny Boyd of Farmingdale second, Robert Hendrickson of Freehold third, Ed Brunnhoezel of Levittown, N.Y. fourth and current point leader Eddie Bohn of Freehold fifth.

Capturing the thirty-lap sportsman feature on Skoal Motorsports night was Charlie Kojsza of Hazlet. Leading the race from start to finish he had to hold off second place finisher Kevin Eyres of Colts Neck, as Steve Golembeski of Sayreville was third, Bill Stephens of Wall fourth, and Ted Alt of Old Bridge fifth.

In the rained out twenty-five lap modern stock feature, Bob Haberstick of Wall scored his 2nd win of the season besting 2nd place finisher Jon Mine of Cliffwood Beach. Third spot went to Glenn Osborn of Howell as Lee Taylor of Bricktown was fourth, and Brian Scisco of Farmingdale fifth.

The regular night's twenty-five lap modern stock feature went to Harold Dauncey of Bricktown. Haberstick finished 2nd as Osborn was 3rd, Steve Springsteel fourth and Jim Taylor fifth.

Breeding

Market #31 faltered on the back straight and retired to the pits. This gave the #680 of Richard Jarvis the Jarvis, who had apparently lined up late in the pits, started the feature in the scratch spot and while Keys led he was working his way through the pack. On the restart following Kozak's retirement he dropped Keys to second. The #680 began to pull away from the pack as Keys started to fade. Breeding, who started seventh, moved by Keys to take second on the 18th circuit but by this time Jarvis had nearly a third of a track lead. It looked hopeless for the #7 racer but no one counted on the unknown factor, Equipment failure.

During Jarvis' lead, caution closed up the field twice and both times Jarvis held off Breeding's attempts to pass him but on lap 25 Jarvis abruptly pulled to the infield as something on the car gave up.

Hal Browning won his second 20 lap feature at U.S. 13 Saturday night raising his Delaware season total to David Hill finished second with Nick Kincaid third, Gil Clements fourth and Duane Rust fifth.

Mel Joseph Jr. scored his fourth season win in the Limited Late Model Feature. Todd Richardson was second and current LLM points leader J.V. Wells was third. Jeff Turpin and Preston Beach rounded out the top

Landy Adams became the 5th different Limited Late Model feature winner this season at U.S. 13 when he piloted his Ford to victory over a full field in the 25-lap feature on Wednesday night. Todd Richardson finished second with Bunky White, Curt Slaughter and Buddy Messick rounding out the top
