

Economy in good shape, says Elise

by William T. Ficks

"The economy is in super shape. We don't have to apologize for anything," said Elise du Pont last Thursday at the Delaware State Fair.

She was at the fair to celebrate Governor's Day and to do some politicking of her own.

Du Pont is the Republican challenger for the Delaware seat in the U.S. House of Representatives now held by Thomas R. Carper.

Although the economy is in good shape, "something must be done about the deficit. That's the number one priority," said du Pont.

Raises in taxes must be matched by cuts in spending, she said. She also favors a 10 percent reduction in Congressional household budgets.

"I would start with my own staff," du Pont said.

The income tax payment process must be simplified. Worth considering would be a flat rate that allows deductions for interest payments and charitable contributions, according to du Pont.

Fearing the economic impact that the proposed two-year closing of the St. George's bridge for repairs would have on lower Delaware, she said it is vital that the bridge remain open.

Speaking of Grenada, du Pont defended America's invasion of that country, saying, "The people of Grenada thanked us for what we did."

Referring to her Cuban trip several years ago, when she was successful in securing the release of two prisoners, and her meeting with Fidel Castro, du Pont said, "I went there to secure the release of two very decent people. Castro is very communist, very opinionated. I spent three or four hours talking to him and telling him what a rotten system he was running."

Du Pont sees her race against Carper as being very close.

"I was eight or nine points ahead in a Delaware State College poll, allowing margin for error. I'd say it's very close," she said.

Although an early supporter of the ERA and a strong advocate of equal rights for women, du Pont said the selection of Geraldine Ferraro as vice-presidential candidate was "a good step for women, but a long way from earning anybody's vote for Mondale for President."

Every candidate, whether man or woman, must be considered on individual merit, according to du Pont.

Du Pont, a graduate of Temple University, earned a law degree from the University of Pennsylvania.

She served as a member of the Reagan Administration as Assistant Administrator of the Agency for International Development (AID). The White House called her achievements at AID "an astonishing success story."

She was a member of the Delaware State Board of Health during Gov. Russell Peterson's administration, and chaired the Governor's Council on Public Health during Governor Sherman Tribbitt's administration. In 1979 she became the first woman member of the Delaware World Affairs Council, leading the state's first trade mission to the People's Republic of China.

The Delaware Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc. honored her as Woman of the Year in 1982.

Du Pont hadn't thought of running for

Chitwoods, Boxcar Willie, Charlie Daniels smash hits at State Fair

by William T. Ficks

The Joie Chitwood Thrill Show on Children's Day (July 24) at the Delaware State Fair gave the spectators what they came for — thrills galore.

The Chitwoods put on a riproaring, slambang, daredevil show that had their fans on the edges of their seats. But this is nothing new for the Chitwoods. They've been doing it for 41 years.

Stuntmen performed precision driving, 4-car Hell Driving, leaps, reverse spins, crashes, rollovers, and two-wheeled wheelies.

Tim Chitwood holds the world's record for driving an American-made car on two wheels. In 1981 he drove 5.9 miles on two wheels.

Tim also provides one of the show's top thrills in the death-defying Space Rocket Jump in which he is catapulted through space in a blastoff flight from the mouth of a big cannon onto a ramp 65 feet away.

A new feature in this year's show was Todd Seeley's unbelievable motorcycle jump off a moving ramp truck.

Gerry Brondou, the talented clown, had the kids laughing and cheering with his hair-raising stunts and exploding firecrackers.

The versatile Brondou, who was a stunt driver before becoming a clown, also performed in the precision-driving act.

Brondou appeared as a stunt driver in the movie "Smokey and the Bandit" and the TV show "Chips."

Joie Chitwood Sr. started the show 41 years ago. With the 15-year-old Joie Chitwood III now in the show, the Chitwoods should be entertaining us for another 40 years.

BOXCAR WILLIE SCORES BIG

America's favorite hobo, Boxcar Willie, came to the State Fair Friday with his heartfelt country music in what I, for one, thought was the top musical show of this year's fair.

Boxcar Willie is one of those rare artists who can sell albums by television commercials. He has sold more than three million albums of his first major hit, "King of the Road."

Boxcar performs in the traditional or "pure" country style of Hank Williams, Roy Acuff, and Ernest Tubb.

Boxcar, a country Music Hall of Fame member, was backed up by Chuck Jennings and the Texas Trainmen on such hits as "T for Texas," "Mule Train," "Movin' On," and "Wabash Cannonball."

Between songs he delivered some excellent comedy banter.

He told his fans: "Reagan has come out with a new farm tractor. He calls it the Reagan-Matic. It doesn't have a seat or a steering wheel. It's for farmers who have lost their behinds and don't know which way to turn." All in all, a great show.

CHARLIE DANIELS DRAWS BIG CROWD

The Charlie Daniels Band on Saturday drew the largest crowd at this year's State Fair.

Representing the largest outlay of cash for a grandstand show in the fair's history, The Charlie Daniels Band proved their worth by packing the grandstand for two big shows.

Like "The Hubcaps," who appeared the previous Sunday, The Charlie Daniels Band possesses the rare ability of spanning the generation gap by appealing to both teenagers and old-timers. He draws both rock and roll fans and hard-core country music buffs.

The band performed new songs like "Peace on the River" and "Bad Boys" along with their well-known hits "Still in Saigon" and "Long-Haired Country Boy."

It was a stirring, foot-stomping show that set many kids to dancing in the aisles between the bleacher seats set up at ground level.

The music, which Daniels himself won't put a label on, is difficult to categorize. Perhaps Daniels put it best, when he said, "My music is earthy, very down to earth. It's just about people — common people...I call it blue collar music."

Daniels had a bit of competition from four-year-old Danny Witherspoon, of Thompsonville, who sat with his mother near the fence down front. Little Danny suddenly got up and started dancing and bowing like a pro as the audience showed their appreciation by clapping and throwing coins.

Maybe fair officials should check Danny out when lining up next year's attractions.

Levinson switches races

by William T. Ficks

Dave Levinson would rather fight — and switch.

Leaving the Democratic gubernatorial primary, Levinson filed as a candidate for state insurance commissioner Thursday.

"My goal is not to defeat my fellow Democrats. My goal is to serve the people of Delaware," said Levinson Saturday at the Delaware State Fair.

Levinson's opponent in the Democratic primary for insurance commissioner is the Democratic National Committeewoman Marilyn A. Huthmacher. Another candidate, Dover attorney George N. Hudson, withdrew from the race for the sake of party unity, and threw his support to Levinson.

Levinson, a lawyer and real estate developer, said his training in the law, experience in business, and independence of all special interests make him qualified to be insurance commissioner.

Levinson said, "Roth refused to debate me. My polls showed I was six points behind and his polls showed me as three points behind. They were panicked. In the last three or four weeks of the campaign, they spent a quarter of a million on television commercials."

The television commercials gave a negative image of Levinson, depicting him as someone who spent most of his time out of state, and who was returning opportunistically to run for the U.S. Senate, according to Levinson.

Levinson lost his bid for the Senate by 11 percentage points.

Trivia buffs might be interested in knowing that the first out-of-state politician to come into Delaware to campaign for Levinson was Geraldine Ferraro. The second was Gary Hart.

Regarding the carpetbagger image, it goes without saying that if Levinson is not a true Delawarean, there is no such

Commentary

Party leaders urged Levinson to run for the office to avoid a splintering primary that could cause gubernatorial loss to Lt. Gov. Michael N. Castle, the lone Republican candidate.

Bill Quillen and Sherman Tribbett, the remaining Democratic candidates, both praised the Levinson move, saying he would make a good insurance commissioner.

The incumbent insurance commissioner, Republican David E. Elliott, said he will defeat either Democratic opponent in the general election in November.

Several weeks ago a poll on a three-way primary for insurance commissioner conducted by Development Research Associates showed Levinson leading the race with 60 percent of the vote, Hudson with 10.5 percent and Huthmacher with 9.5 percent. The poll also showed Levinson having 71 percent name recognition to Elliott's 45 percent. Levinson was favored by 49 percent of those polled, and Elliott by 35 percent.

Despite his present large lead over Huthmacher, Levinson is not taking her lightly.

"I never underestimate anyone. I take everyone seriously," said Levinson.

Levinson came upon the political scene in 1982 when he ran for the U.S. Senate against Sen. William Roth. Reminiscing about that campaign, animal. As Al Smith used to say, let's look at the record.

Levinson was born and raised in Middletown and educated in Middletown elementary and junior high schools and St. Andrew's School in Middletown where he was first in his class.

He went on to graduate with honors from Harvard College and Harvard Law School.

His family has been in Delaware 90 years. His uncle was a Delaware judge for 30 years. His father was mayor of Middletown for 12 years, and still practices veterinary medicine in Middletown at age 88.

After spending 30 years in Delaware, Levinson would periodically leave the state to take care of his various business interests. But he would always return to his roots.

If, after looking at Levinson's background, anyone can say he is not a true Delawarean, then my name is Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart.

"I have spent 20 years of my life acquiring a formal education, another 20 years acquiring experience in the world of business and civic affairs; and four years ago I decided to devote the rest of my life to serving my fellow citizens," Levinson said.

If things go according to Levinson's plan, the wish will become reality come November.

A Hambletonian History

"As a spectacle, the race for the first Hambletonian was inspiring. As a contest, it was satisfactory."

The weather was fine, although a strong wind retarded extreme speed up the backstretch; the track was in perfect condition; a vast throng enlivened the sport. I believe the best colt won, for Guy McKinney is a good race horse, and he was driven with rare judgement and skill by [Nat] Ray.

It was a thrilling sight to see so many superbly bred, well-mannered, attractive looking three-year-olds in a close, exciting struggle, and the audience showed its interest and appreciation in many and enthusiastic ways."

Thus did former New York Governor Horace White report on his day at the first Hambletonian on August 30, 1926 at the Syracuse Fairgrounds.

It was the "richest event ever given in the world for a harness race," the Horse Review revealed in its September 8, 1926 edition. The race was worth $73,451.32 with $45,815.92 going to the winner.

The Hambletonian, this year being raced for the 59th time, still ranks as a great spectacle and its purse of $1 million makes it one of the richest of all horse races. The Meadowlands hosts the stakes for the fourth time on August 4.

The development of the Hambletonian is credited to Chicago businessman Harry O. Reno. In 1923, he advanced a plan for a $25,000 pacing event called the American Pacing Derby and from there conceived the idea for a $50,000 race for three-year-old trotters. The publisher of the Horse Review, John C. Bauer, suggested honoring the "Great Father" of the standardbred, Hambletonian, in the naming of the race.

The first winner, Guy McKinney, was purchased by veteran Pittsburgh horseman Henry B. Rea at the fall Lexington sale in 1924 for $950. Rea had gone to the sale with trainer Townsend Ackerman. Rea liked a Lord Dewey colt. Ackerman, however, preferred the Guy Axworthy colt out of

by Victoria G. Ficks

Eating apple pie and ice cream is one American tradition that was upheld Thursday at the Delaware State Fair. Thirteen ice cream freezers, both manual and electric, were put to work as the contestants went about making ice cream before a crowd of spectators.

The contestants had a half-hour to make their ice cream before it was to be judged on its texture, hardness of freeze and taste appeal.

Governor Pete du Pont and Miss Delaware, Nancy Ball of Cape Henlopen, stood by patiently waiting for a taste of the delicious concoctions.

"I'm going to be running this off all week," said Miss Ball as she savored samples from each contestant.

Governor du Pont warned all the contestants about Sherman Tribbitt.

"Don't let him get near your ice cream. He's a politician. With all the hot air he'll melt it fast," said the Governor smiling.

The winners were announced by Benjamin Hughes Jr., owner of Harington's Hi-Grade Dairy & Restaurant. The winners in the fruit division were: grand champion was won by Claribel Walls, Milford and Meredith Hall, Hockessin, for their peachberry flavor; reserve champion went to Doris and George Payne, Wilmington, for their strawberry; runner-up was Pat Strahle, Milford, and Joan Smith, Goldsboro, Md.

In the plain division Betty McNatt walked off with her grand champion for vanilla; reserve champion was taken by Jane Simpson and David Vinyard, Houston, for their cookies and creme; runner-up was Leslie and Helen Tyler, Newark, for their chocolate.

The grand champion received a rosette and $25. The reserve grand champion received a ribbon and $20 while the runnerup took $15 home. All entries not receiving a prize were given $2 to help with costs.

After the announcing of the winners, ice cream and apple pie were served to a group of assembled senior citizens.

State Fair Odd 'N Ends

by William T. Ficks

Leftovers from a reporter's notebook concerning the 1984 Delaware State Fair: This year's attendance of 187,000 was the second best in fair history. Last year's 202,000 was the all-time record. The previous record of 177,000 had been set in 1981, according to Gary Simpson, the fair's assistant manager.

On Children's Day a guard at the back gate said, "I've never seen so many big 'children' in my life."

The grandstand show selling the most tickets was, as expected, The Charlie Daniels Band which appeared on the fair's final night.

The Prettiest Animal Award went to a lovable lamb presented by Melissa Wilson of Greenwood.....Preston Greenwall and Daniel VanVorst of the Milford School District won the pie-eating contest.....Caesar Rodney's Eric Joyner won the Hay Toss.....and the Tug of War championship went to the Milford School District.

Gov. Pete du Pont entered the nail-driving contest, but was no match for Brian Mosley of Milford. Mosley imbedded the nail in four quick strokes. It took the good governor 13.

The owner of the burlesque show decided to close the show rather than put up a $100,000 bond. He said okay to a $100 license, but said nay to the bond — especially after being told the girls could not perform any "bumps and grinds." A burlesque show without bumps and grinds? That's like a Senator Ruth Ann Minner, (D)-Milford, announced today that she will seek re-election to her 18th District seat. Senator Minner cited an extensive legislative record and overwhelming support from her constituents as reasons for running.

Senator Minner said, "I have received many expressions of support and encouragement from citizens from all areas of my district to seek another term."

"Having chaired the Senate Community Affairs Committee and served on the Highways and Transportation, Public Safety, Natural Resources and Environmental Control and Capitol Improvement Bond Bill Committees, I have had direct input on the issues of particular concern to my district and of major importance to our State.

The association has members from 20 states and over 100 "merchants" show up annually to display their wares at the Flea Market.

Besides the main attraction of the Wheat Threshing, there will be demonstrations of a rock crusher; saw mill; shingle mill; straw baling with a hand fed, wire tie machine and train rides on "Smokey Joe," a miniature steam train.

Another neighborhood visit report from...

Elise du Pont

Leadership that puts First Things First is the way to keep the First State First. In my 285 neighborhood home visits all across Delaware, your common sense has helped me shape my First Things First priority list. This is how I aim to help you in Congress:

- Balance the budget. Your families, your homes, your jobs depend on regaining economic stability; Congress must control spending.
- Safeguard Social Security. You've paid for it, you've worked for it, you've earned it. Its up to Congress to keep it for you.
- Achieve excellence in our schools again. Children are our greatest national treasure, and education is critical to our national security.
- Push for mandatory sentencing in our courts. You deserve to live a life free from the fear of violent crimes.
- Protect our Delaware shoreline. A clean environment is our legacy to our children. A beautiful beach attracts visitors and dollars to the First State.
- Resume arms talks. Our national defense is important, but the only way to insure it is through continuous negotiation.
- Balance the budget. It is important enough to begin the list and end it too. With these priorities a strong, new, respected voice in Congress can keep Delaware First. That's my goal.

P.S. I want to keep my First Things First list short enough to be effective, but if you think something should be added, call me at 652-8484. I want to hear from you—or better yet see you at one of my Home Visits.

for a dollar — remember I'm a conservative."

Sen. Joe Biden made a smart move in having Charlie Daniels appear at his booth below the grandstand. Thousands of fairgoers flocked to the booth. While there, they naturally shook hands with Joe, received his autograph, and walked off with his literature. We received word at the Harrington Journal about Daniels' appearance with Biden. We were told "Don't make this public. We don't want monster crowds." The first words I heard over the public address system as I walked into the grandstand were "Charlie Daniels is now appearing at Senator Biden's booth below the grandstand to sign autographs."

The Kent & Sussex Counties Fraternal Order of Police Lodges 2 & 3 are the proud sponsors of the 1984 Edition of Bentley Brothers International Three Ring Circus. Performances will be at 1:00 and 5:00 at the Harrington Fair Grounds. The proceeds will support their many worthwhile community projects. The first week of August has been declared "National Clown Week". We're celebrating by taking $2.00 off the gate price for anyone who comes dressed like a clown. (or with a clown face). Can you picture it? Show dates: Saturday, August 4th and Sunday, August 5th.

Hambletonian

Queenly McKinney, winning Rea "over to his belief."

The Guy Axworthy colt "always trained well, though not impressively," and was transferred to the stable of Nat Ray who started him three times at two "without much money or glory attached thereto."

The week before the inaugural Hambletonian, however, the verdict was "good, but not great, but has a big chance, on manners and stamina, to play a prominent part in the great race."

The harness book odds for Guy McKinney were 8-5, and, with highly praised handling by Nat Ray, the colt prevailed in straight heats. The first was clocked in 2:05 1/4 and the second in 2:04 3/4. New York City Mayor James (Jimmy) Walker was on hand to present the cup.

The Hambletonian, thus established, accomplished its goal to enhance the value of the trotting horse.

Because of rain in Syracuse, the Hambletonian was moved to Lexington's Red Mile in 1927 and '29. In 1930,

Good Time Park in Goshen, New York, played host to the race and Hanover's Bertha became the second filly to beat the colts. The Goshel Era, which lasted through 1956, was interrupted only once, in 1943, when due to wartime restrictions on gasoline, the site was switched to the Empire City thoroughbred course, later to become Yonkers Raceway.

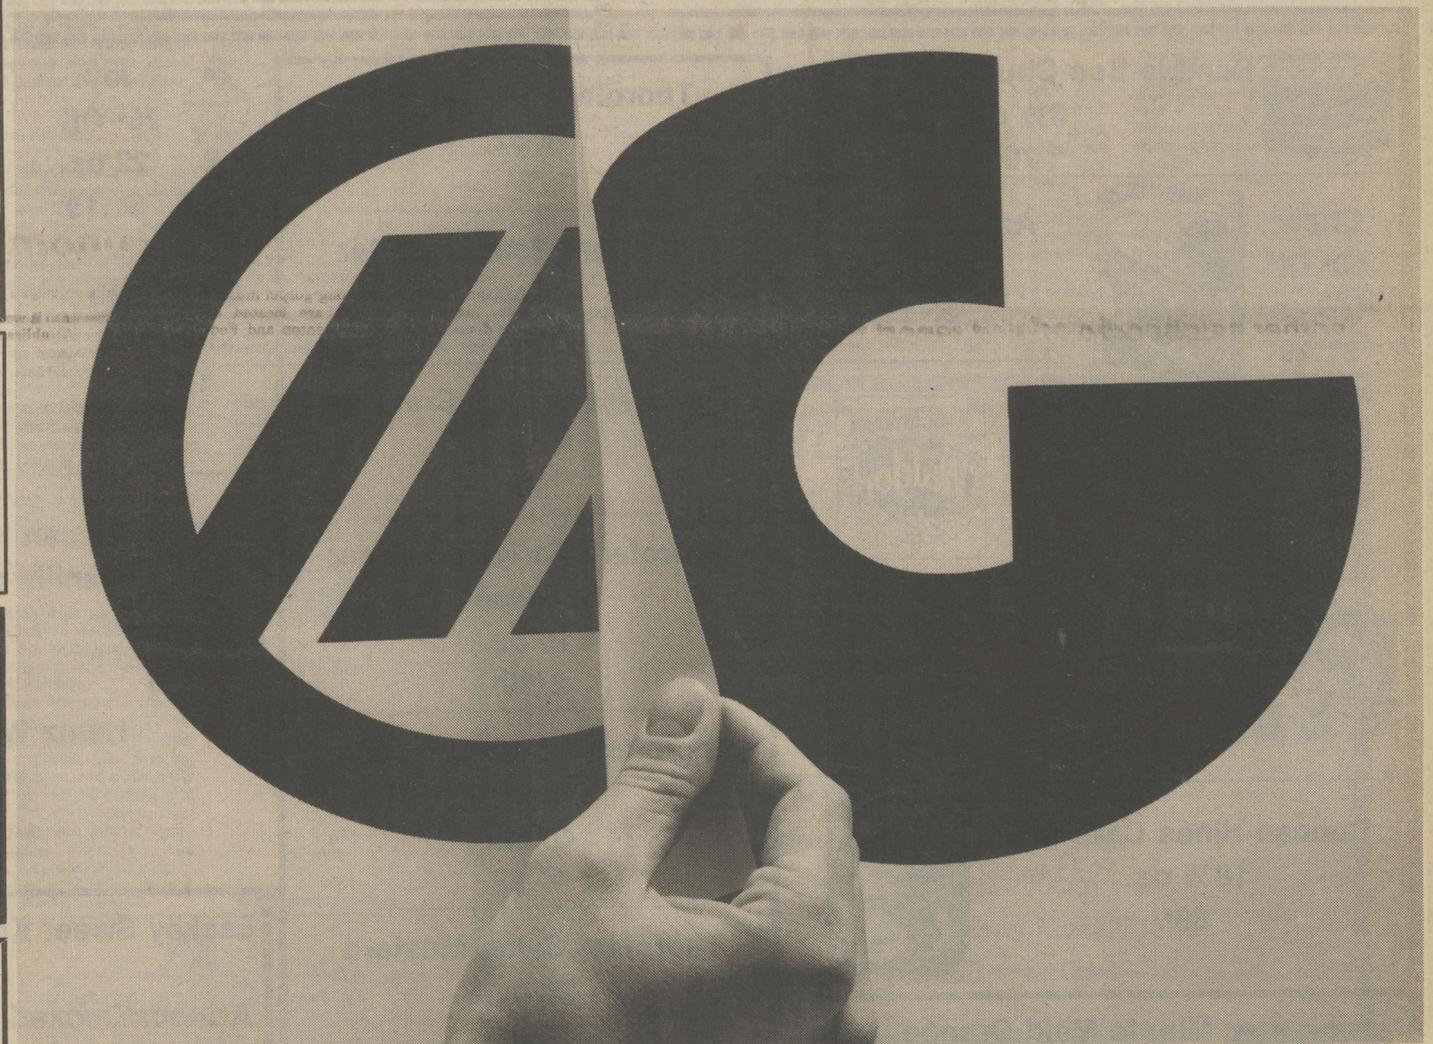

The Hambletonian did not gain its 'country' image until the Hambletonian Society awarded the contract to the Duquoin, Illinois State Fair for a period that began in 1957 and wound up lasting until 1980. The race debuted at the Meadowlands in 1981.

Like the Kentucky Derby, the Hambletonian is the main jewel in a Triple Crown, the other races being the $350,000 Yonkers Trot at Yonkers Raceway on July 21 and the $150,000 Kentucky Futurity at Lexington's Red Mile on October 5. But unlike the Derby, the big trot unfolds leisurely over the course of 90 minutes or more.

Over The Backyard Fence

Senior Center by Dorothy Graham

Happy Birthday August folk! Smile! Every once in a while special thoughts cross my mind about the folk (who or whom) read this letter. Just how are you? Where do you live? Have heard from several living in Maryland - some in Florida, others in Felton, Dover, Milford, Greenwood, Bridgeville, Seaford, Farmington, Brownsville, Williamsville, Argo's Corner, Slaughter Beach, Houston, Camden, Canterbury, Lincoln, Georgetown, Texas, California, North Carolina, West Virginia, Virginia and of course Harrington. If your town or city does not appear here, let me know. What do you do in the "Good Old Summertime?" Do you have a garden? Several that come to the Center do. The vegetables they share are beautiful and tasty. Flowers are the pride and joy of many here too. They adorn the tables from time to time. Come on in and let us know from whence you come!

We make our fortunes and we call them fate. Disraeli. The ladies at one of the tables were talking about different ways to serve corn. Honestly, it was down right sinful to recall all those delicious dishes: creamed corn (old fashioned kind) corn pudding, succatash (the mouth-watering combo) and on and on and on. Do you have any to share? Boy, corn on the cob, smothered in butter, dripping down your chin and elbow, you just can't (hardly) beat that!

Better get down to the basics of this letter to you before you quit reading. But like I said in the start, I felt like a chat with you. Just plain old love to talk with you.

Reverend Kyle Smith of Asbury and Houston United Methodist Church was leader of Bible Study Monday morning. Mary Sapp, Frances Wright, Florence Minner, Bertha Dean, Annabel Morrow, Elwood Morris, Phylis Clink, Ola Tildon, Virginia Smith, Catherine Donovan, Thelma Legates, Amy Poynter, Ethel Holden, Gladys Hill, Anna

Mae Short, Mamie Adams, Clara Judy, Mildred Vincent, Tony Perrone, Cecil and Sylvia Meredith participated in the singing of several hymns; enjoyment of the discussion of Luke, chapter 7, verses 1-10. Reverend Smith gave a prayer. He said, "Try the Christian life, you might like it." Virginia Smith was at the piano.

The Senior Chorus went to Greenwood Country Rest Home Monday afternoon. Sixteen went and truly were glad they made the trip. Sylvia Meredith directed.

Another quilt is in the process - it is a quilt of many colors, being made with love and tender care.

Jolly Timers - Tuesday morning with Ina Hughes. Then, there was Elwood, Cecil, Gladys, Mildred, Tony, Virginia, Andy, Ola, Annabel, Amy and Larry. "Senior Sounds" under the direction of Sylvia, Wednesday morning. Carrying the tunes were Cecil, Tony, Mildred, Frances, Ola, Mary, Mamie, Anna M., Amy, Gladys, Thelma, Elwood and Louis. Then after practice time, three or four or five got together and sang some of their favorite tunes. Pool, bingo, bowling.

The Fair has gone for another year. There were so many things to be remembered. Paintings, needlework, a beautiful different quilt, lots of lovely cakes, pies, flowers, etc. And of course, people. It was so nice seeing so many people that I haven't seen for such a long time. Met new folks. It was great fun. My sister, Nicky Harriet Thompson, Miss Delaware was interviewed Thursday. She still looks trim. (Woe is me!)

One thing the Fair needs is something during Senior Citizens afternoon. Wonder (who or whom) you see about that? Best wishes to all. Be kind to each other. Thanks to all volunteers!

Have you checked for trips? As you cannot do what you wish, you should wish what you can do. Terrence. Faith.

Asbury U.M. Church

We are happy and thankful to report that Beth Jarrell has returned to Delaware after a 12-day stay in Haiti as a member of the Rev. Donald Clendaniel's Mission Work Team of 1984. We thank you, the community, for your prayers and thoughts for Beth, the Work Team and Rev. Clendaniel during their stay and trip to Haiti. We also thank each and everyone who helped in any way in making this trip possible.

The Rev. Kyle N. Smith sermon topic "Choosing The Best" was taken from scripture readings of I Kings 3:5-12 and Matthew 13:44-52. This Sunday's sermon topic "The Miracle Food" will be taken from scripture readings of Psalm 78:14-20, 23-29, Nehemiah 9:16-20, Romans 8:31-39 and Matthew 14:31-21.

During the summer months, we have been fortunate to have special music provided by many members of the community. Several weeks ago, Linda Collins, of the Harrington Baptist Church, sang God's message entitled "Overshadowed". Cheryl Harrington, Ruth Layne, and Donna Miller sang "Like A Rose" this past Sunday. Next Sunday, Ruth Layne will bring us the message on the piano. We are truly grateful to all those who have been able to be with us during the Worship Service during these summer months.

Schedule for Sunday, Aug. 5: United Methodist Men at 7:30 A.M., Birthday Penny Sunday and Church School at 9:45 A.M., and Morning Worship Service at 11:00 A.M. Everyone is cordially "WELCOME!"

Hambletonian

The reason has to do with the traditional heats system.

To claim victory in the Hambletonian, a horse must win two one-mile heats. If the same horse does not win the first two, the heat-winners come back for a race-off.

If more than 16 enter the Hambleton, things get a bit complex: The field is split into two (or three) divisions, and the first five finishers in each division return for what is known technically as the final; however, if one of the division winners does not win the final, the two (or three) division winners and the final winner return for a race-off.

The maximum number of heats that a horse can race in is now three. Prior to 1980, a horse could race in as many as four heats.

Dana Irving's farm, scene of fair

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

WEST GROVE, PA - On Sunday, potato farmer and now celebrated harness horse breeder and owner, Dana Irving, opened up his farm once again for the Oxford Lions Country Fair.

There were rides for the kids reminding us of what smaller fairs used to be like as well as helicopter rides. The choppers were kept busy all day long.

The highlight of the day was the harness racing card. Mr. Irving has a beautiful farm for any function. His prized stallion Scarlet Skipper was on the grounds as was George Allen who had finished second on Saturday night at the hands of Bill O'Donnell losing by a short head in 1:54.4.

The amateur drivers were having their day. They were complemented by two Hall of Famers...Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees and harness horseman great Delvin Miller. Also in attendance were Charlie Keller, an outfielder with the New York Yankees (1939-1950), and pitcher, Jim Kaat who pitched in both American League and National League. All three athletes own race horses...mainly through Delvin Miller. Also present and driving was Rich McLeish, Philadelphia Flyers Center. He had two horses.

Tragedy hit in the fourth race when Wonder Wind, driven by young amateur driver Doug Lewis bolted at the finish line darting into the crowd. The horse ran over Bret Brittingham, 12, who is the son of Don and Shirley Brittingham of Felton. Lewis injured his leg when the horse raced through a board fence. Both young horsemen were taken to the nearby hospital, but were released. They returned to the Irving farm before the races ended. Bret suffered bruises and contusions of the back and rib cage.

Whitey Ford notched the best win loss percentage in baseball history. He won 236 games and lost 109 over 16 years in the majors.

Race results are as follows: 1st race - Keystone Moss (Theresa Shahan), Dixie Dance Queen (Carol Smith), Striking Scot (Diana Fagnani), Mockery (Sheree Miller), Nuni (Kathy Hawkins) and Instant Success (Laura Yerkie). Shahan is the paddock judge at Brandywine and Laura Yerkie is from Magnolia. (:31, 1:04, 1:35, 2:05).

2nd race - Boo Boo Kitty (Tug Boyd), Prophet Lobell (W. Cuberson) and Oxford Bret (:31, 1:04, 1:34, 2:04...a new track record at the Irving Farm.) 3rd race - Sniffer (K. Shand), Pine Lane (W. Pocza) and First Bend (W. Birney). (:33.3, 1:05, 1:41, 2:13) 4th race - Wonder Wind (Doug Lewis), Motor Liner (S. Morton), Keystone Smyrna (Thersa Shahan) and J Cs Nana (George Dennis). 5th race - Royal Gesture (R. Ringle), Starpoint Sprite (donald Irving), and Kanes Crown (J.D. Dennis, Sr.). (:31.2, 1:02, 1:34.3, 2:06). 6th race - Spree (A. Baynard), Walstreet Pirate (T. Wheeler) and Harolds Jet (Red Ross) :32.3, 1:04, 1:34.3, 2:04.1 with the last quarter in :29.3. 7th race - Southern Fidler (Rick MacLeish), Splints (George Dennis), and Slip by Skipper (R. Ringle). (:32, 1:03.1, 1:33.2, 2:08). 8th race - Nans Steady Beau (Rick MacLeish), Our Comet (Bryan Maker), and Flying Nellie (George Dennis...for Bret Brittingham). (:32.4, 1:05, 1:37.4, 2:08). 9th race - Oxford Ivan (H. Thompson), Flowing Lucky (Darrell Lewis), and Paleface Junior (John Nornak) (:31.2, 1:03.3, 1:35.2, 2:08.3.)

Wednesday night stock car race results from Delaware State Fair

HARRINGTON - Bill Towers captured the 25-lap modified feature Wednesday night at the Delaware State Fair Stock Car Races at Harrington Raceway. Towers of Milford led the race from start to finish. Harold Bunting of Milford threatened, but never headed Towers during the feature. Bunting came in second and Gary Gollub of Pennsylvania third. Hal Browning of Georgetown won the 20-lap late model feature, his sixth win of the year. He beat out second-place Lou Johnson and third-place Don Riley. Mel Joseph took the 15-lap limited late model feature, followed by Gerald Jester and Bud Hickman.

Jarvis, Bunting & Towers share triple 20's

by Don Allen
Richard Jarvis, Harold Bunting and Billy Towers gave the U.S. 13 Speedway patrons three perfect exhibitions of Modified driving skills in the triple 20 show held there Saturday night. Each of the three features were unique with the exception of the fact that Wernersville, Pa. native John Kozak, driver of the Foolish Pleasure Racing #31, was the "bridesmaid" in each of them.

In the first event "Rapid" Richard was the man with the plan. Starting from the 14th position he steadily worked his Dennis Beer Distributors #680 to the front. The lead officially changed four times during the course of the race as first Bobby Wilkins then Towers and at the halfway mark Kozak took their turns setting the pace. When Kozak laid claim to the lead on lap 8 it appeared that the yellow and orange #31 was unbeatable. For the next eleven laps Kozak sat a lightening pace but on the 15th circuit, Jarvis latched onto a solid second and began to make his bid for the lead. A restart following a caution brought out on lap 18 for a spinning Dave Schamp gave Jarvis his chance and he dropped Kozak to second moments before the white flag was displayed. Kozak tried his best to use lap traffic on the final circuit but the #680 car was just too strong.

The second feature saw the field reversed and the crowd was looking forward to seeing Jarvis work his way to the front again. The fates were not on his side this time for when the event was only 3 laps old the #680, that had already powered into fourth, took a hard left into the infield and retired from the race.

Bunting, who had started in tenth, took the point just before Jarvis left the track. He would lead for the remainder of the race. Early on the D&D Dismantling #19D of Bunting opened a healthy lead and it seemed that the race would be a runaway. Positions shuffled and by lap six Kozak had moved into second dropping Bobby Wilkins to third followed by Jack Sapp and Billy Towers. At the halfway mark Kenny Brightbill joined in the fray as Towers fell to seventh behind him and Walt Breeding. Kozak began to pull away from this pack as the five lap sign was given and as the laps ticked off it appeared he was gaining on Bunting. Appearances proved deceiving though as the 19D glided through the remaining turns and bested Kozak by several car lengths at the finish.

Nineteen racers took the green for the final showdown. Jarvis was able to return as well as Bunting. The only caution seen in the event happened in the first lap when Clifford Todd's mount came to a stop on the front straight. From then on it was the "Billy Towers Show", Towers' Blue Hen Racing #30 literally jumped from its ninth starting spot to take the lead on lap two bringing young Ron Keys along with it. Keys and Towers made it a two car race until the halfway mark when the Key's Trucking #39 began to fade and the second spot was appropriately by Kozak. The leaders began to lap the field soon after and Towers used this traffic to pull away from Kozak and insure his victory. Kozak would once again finish in second well behind Towers.

Kiker flies at Piney Neck

by Gene Cain
The weatherman cooperated for a change and let Milford Kart Club get in a full night's racing action this Saturday at Piney Neck Speedway.

Racing action got underway with the Boys and Girls Class seeing action first. With the surface having calcium worked into it, the track proved to be very raceable as it stayed smooth and tacky throughout the whole night's action. The track conditions must have been to Craig Anderson's liking as he easily won the heat and posted a wire to wire win the feature. The feature win was not as easy as the heat as Doug Henry and Alan Darling kept the heat on. It ended up being a dice for second though as neither had enough to move past Anderson. Henry collected second place honors while Darling ended up third with Robert Reed in fourth.

Charlie Lutes continued his domination in Junior Stock with a convincing win. Actually, on the start Dale Elben jumped out front followed by Lutes in second. Elben's lead was short-lived as on the second lap Lutes moved by Elben into the lead and never looked back. Right now, wherever Lutes runs around here, he is definitely the one to beat in Junior Stock. Elben came home second followed by Larry Reed in third. Fourth place honors went to Chris Davis.

Stock Light action was the next race to take to the track. Millie Bunting picked up the win in the heat and looked to be in good shape for the feature. The real story however proved to be what was happening behind her. Reggie Hazzard moved from ninth to fourth in the heat while Jim Boone moved from eighth to third and Brian Murphy starting tenth ended up second and on the outside pole alongside Bunting for the feature. On the green flag, Murphy got the good start and moved past Bunting. As the race continued first Hazzard and then Boone moved by Bunting dropping her to fourth. At the checkered, it was Murphy with the win followed by Hazzard in second, Boone in third, and Bunting in fourth.

Probably the most exciting race to watch of the night was Stock Heavy. Roy Dill won the heat but had nine karts right on his bumper at the wire. When the feature started, Dill jumped in front once again with the entire field glued to his bumper. First one then another driver would try to find a way around Dill, but none could succeed. Finally, well after the halfway mark, persistence paid off for Donald Lingo as he hooked up on the top side of the track and was able to power past Dill into the lead. With just a couple laps remaining, Alan Anderson tried to make a move past Dill into second. As these two duled with each other, they opened a hole and a cagey Marshall Lewis moved by both from fourth into second. At the finish it was Lingo followed by Lewis, Dill, and Anderson rounding out the top four.

The Limited Modifieds were next up and full of surprises. Mike Coverdale appeared to be flying and hoped to be a real threat to a very fast David LeCates. The lady in black struck out at Coverdale as he blew a head gasket in the heat leaving LeCates to coast to an easy victory. Then in the feature Coverdale had to start at the rear of the field but quickly worked his way up to second. But, as quickly as he worked his way through traffic LeCates has built up an insurmountable lead. Coverdale had finally settled into a battle with Kevin Darling for second when the Lady in Black showed her face once again but this time it was LeCates that she frowned on. Out front and flying down the back chute LeCates exploded a motor as the crank wrung off. The battle for second suddenly became for the lead and for the final five laps Coverdale held off a determined Darling to capture the win with Darling in second. Jack Davis came home third with Dale Venable fourth.

Stock Yamaha action closed out the racing for another week. Andy Kiker was on hand and really hooked up as he was able to breeze to a comfortable win. Larry Bunting was running strong but just couldn't do anything with Kiker and had to settle for second. C.R. Phillips wound up third with Joe Warren in fourth.

Browning outdistances late models at U.S. 13

by Don Allen
Georgetown, Del.'s Hal Browning chalked up his third season win in the Joe's Paint and Body Shop #100 in the 20 lap Late Model feature at U.S. 13 Saturday night. Lou Johnson finished second followed by Alex Beaumont, Steve Hill and Bobby Wilkins. Browning's triumph came over a full field of strong cars. The heat races would prove to set the tone for the evening with Browning finishing a strong second to Ed Pettyjohn and Johnson outriving Bob Wilkins to win his heat.

The two started at mid-pack for the feature. Cautions marred the early laps and they worked in Johnson's favor while Browning, at least once, was in the wrong place at the wrong time. Steve Hill led for the first nine circuits through restart after restart as Johnson avoided trouble and eased his way to the front. Browning was also on the move but a mishap on lap eight left him with a flat tire. The #100 fell in at the rear before the green flew.

Johnson powered by Hill two laps later and started to open up a considerable lead. That lead evaporated on lap twelve when caution came out as Bret Givens, Charles Wilkerson and Bob Vickers got together in the 3-4 turn. Browning had already moved back into seventh by this time and on the restart he took over fifth.

Caution was displayed again on lap 14 when the car of Sammy Lowe came to rest off turn four. On this restart, Browning, now in third, made the move that would win him the race. When the green came on he jumped to the outside of the Cropper's Pest Control #96 of Johnson and started a lead that would last for the remainder of the event.

FEATURE RESULTS: Browning, Johnson, Beaumont, S. Hill, Wilkins, Joe Gaita, Gil Clements, Vernon Harris, Duane Rust, Ron Wilson, Lowe, Ward Horner, Glen Wilson, D. Hill, Givens, Vickers, Harlan Williams, Wilkerson, Jim Wilkins, Earl Knickman, Deron Rust, Mel Joseph Jr. took his fifth LLM feature of the season outdistancing J.V. Wells, Curt Slaughter, Gerald Jester and fifth place finisher Chuck Collier Jr.

Syracuse qualifier to Bunting at Georgetown Speedway

A full field of modifieds were on hand for the preferred starting position for the Syracuse 200 to be held October 3rd-7th at the super 1-mile track in Syracuse, N.Y.

Heat wins were taken by Jarvis, Bunting and Kozak, with Brightbill arriving in time to capture the consolation win. Luck of the draw placed Jack Sapp on the pole for the special 30-lap event. Hal Browning took the lead on the start remaining there in the front for ten laps until a caution by Lacey Lafferty who stopped on turn one and two. On the restart, Ron Tobias out-jockeyed Hal Browning for the lead with Harold Bunting coasting with him. Steve Way brought out the caution on the 18th lap. With the restart, Bunting dashed past Tobias and held the lead to take the checkered. Tobias ended up second with Browning third. Brightbill beat Lady Luck from the 19th position to take 4th. Kozak rounded out the top 5. 19 of the 24 cars took the checkered.

Limited Late Model Feature found Jeff Turpin in the hot seat. On the start, Dutton took the lead and held it, fighting first Jeff Turpin, Curt Slaughter and finally Mel Joseph until sparks starting flying from under his car for the caution. Mel inherited the lead, leading to the checkered. Lee Joines second, Gerald Jester, third, Sam Lowe, 4th and Littleton 5th.

Next week Georgetown Speedway returns with a regular program of Modifieds, Late Models and Limited Late Models.

Harrington beats strong field at Middleford

by Gene Cain
The high banks of Middleford Speedway roared to life for another Thursday night's action under threatening skies this week. In spite of the weather, a full night's racing action was run without interruption. Junior Stock got the action under way for the night. Charlie Lutes lead almost the entire race, but when the checkered fell it was Keith Mitchell that crossed the line first. Charlie had to settle for second.

The Boys and Girls Boxstock class was the next group on the speedway and once again these talented young drivers brought the fans to their feet. For the past few weeks Doug Henry and Shawn Pepper have had some good races but tonight this duo was joined by Kevin "Sparky" Colburn to make it a three-way battle to the wire. Henry won the heat and jumped out front at the start of the feature with Pepper and Colburn right on this bumper. Henry somehow has been able to run the low groove consistently around the speedway when others couldn't. Pepper kept the pressures on, but Henry was up to the challenge as he came to the wire first. Shawn tried a move to the highside coming off four but fell about a half kart length short. Colburn was also right there but had to settle for third. Trailing this trio across the line in fourth was Kim Cole.

Stock Light was the next class up and they didn't give the fans much of a break as they put on just as exciting a race as the Boys and Girls had. Butch Harrington won the heat and led the feature wire to wire to pick up the win. It wasn't an easy victory for Harrington as for the first eight laps Rodney Peterman kept the pressure on Harrington. Then for the next four circuits

Bobby Comstock supplied the challenge, but then for the final eight laps it was Josh Swain, who started twelfth that gave Harrington all the competition you could ask for.

When they came to the stripe, Harrington had the win with a very determined Swain in second. Bobby Comstock ended up third with Millie Bunting in fourth and Rodney Peterman fifth.

The Micros headed to the track next and a familiar name this season returned to the winner's circle as Rick Krebel posted the win after a couple weeks of watching someone else have the honor. Paul Mills had his fling as he came home second with Greg Coverdale third. Bud Coverdale and Jack Mills rounded out the top five.

In Stock Heavy action it was yet another easy win for Eddie Cain. In second behind Cain was Glenn Jarvis. Jarvis had to fight off the many challenges of Marshall Lewis who wound up third.

Open two cycle honors were captured by Emory West as he bested Ronnie Fensick in second and Ernie Darling in third.

Stock Medium was next on the card with Gene Cain winning the heat only to have a tire cut down on the start of the feature ending any hopes of a win. Sonny Warrington went out front and never was headed as he lapped the field in posting the win. Ronnie West was second with Mike Sheer in third. James Cadrey wound up in the number four spot.

The motorcycles closed out a busy night's action with some exciting racing but unfortunately no names were available on the winners of the three classes.

1984 Olympics

Olympics: Now and then

by Victoria G. Ficks

The Olympic Games are a series of sport events in which the best athletes of many nations take part in feats of speed, strength and skill.

The Olympics are patterned after the Olympic Games of the Ancient Greeks, which were held on the great plain before sacred Mount Olympus, where the god Zeus was believed to live.

The first events resembling Olympic Games were probably memorial services held around the year 1453 B.C. They were held to honor heroes who had died during the previous "Olympiad," or four-year period. In the early Olympics, Greek cities sent not only athletes to compete, but also orators, poets and musicians. Women were forbidden to watch these Games only free-born Greek men of good character could take part. The young athletes competed against one another in foot-racing, jumping, throwing the javelin and the discus, wrestling, boxing, and racing on horseback or in chariots. Each winner received a palm branch and a crown of olive leaves from sacred olive trees. The winners also became heroes and receive valuable gifts from their home cities.

After Rome conquered Greece in 146 B.C. the Romans took part in the Games. This caused friction between the countries and in 394 A.D. Emperor Theodosius stopped the Games.

Many years later a French baron, Pierre de Coubertin, worked to revive the Games. Money was raised to build a stadium near Athens, Greece and the first modern Olympic Games were held there in April, 1896. The American Olympic Committee, which organizes the United States teams today, had not yet been formed, but athletes from Princeton, Harvard and other colleges competed.

The modern Olympics have winter and summer Games. Competition is held in such events as swimming, diving, canoeing, cycling, gymnastics, weightlifting, wrestling, figure-skating, skiing, bob-sledding and ice hockey among others.

When a contest is completed, the top three scorers are awarded with medals. Gold for first place, silver for second, and bronze for third. The flag of the winner's country is displayed and its national anthem is played.

Athletes taking part in the Olympics take this Olympic Oath, "We swear that we will take part in the Olympic Games in loyal competition respecting the regulations which govern them and desirous of participating in them in the true spirit of sportsmanship for the honor of our country and for the glory of sport."

Gab Fest by Pat Hatfield

Our hearts are filled with excitement and joy as we prepare to welcome our Teddy home from his coast to coast bicycle trip with the Wandering Wheels. Weekly phone calls assure us that all is well with him and the trip has a great deal of meaning for him.

This is a delightful morning with a cool West wind, so comforting after the hot, humid day yesterday. About all we could do was sit in the yard chairs and ride it out. Thunder clouds (which we used to call in my childhood, "Gust Heads") were piling up like snow drifts in the blue sky and in the far distance there were mutterings of thunder. The air was heavy and too still; the atmosphere was simmering in the brooding heat and there seemed to be a feeling of foreboding. The only sound was the beautiful song of the mocking-bird. I have noticed in other summers that the hotter the day gets, the more rapture he gives to his song. He must love the heat. He knows and he tells us that the Creator is present in this situation also.

The roadsides are lined with the lovely Queen Anne's Lace. I must get some for the house. And do you know I discovered that there is a small clump of the Butterfly Weed by my mailbox. I fear that it is time any day for the highway mowers to come along and cut it down. When Ron was a young lad, he dug up a clump for me and I had it in my yard for several years. But the roots are many and deep.

During August I often think with pleasure of our trip to Kansas a few years back. The memory that lingers longest I think are the beautiful big fields of sunflowers in full bloom. This seemed especially appropriate because the Sunflower is the Kansas state flower. I have heard some talk of growing them commercially in Delaware, so perhaps we may see this spectacular flower field here some day.

How fast the seasons fly by! It seems that I no sooner get the houseplants out under the maple tree and tell them they are on their own until fall, then I have to keep planning to move them back on the window sill and get out the watering can and the plant food.

I see by the old almanac of 1853 that on Tuesday, the 23rd, there was a destructive tornado in S. Cambridge and Medford, Mass. They had problems in those days too!

They say when you hear the first katy-did, it will be six weeks until frost. Let's hope that will not be soon. There was always an old saying for every situation in life. Someone has said, "If it isn't done well, it is not done at all". My mother's version was somewhat similar. "If a thing is worth doing at all, it is worth doing well." One that I always remembered was said to me when I was prancing around in front of my grandmother in a new dress and thinking that I was a pretty little girl. Grandma said, "Young lady, handsome is as handsome does!"

There were silly ones, too which made not much sense. Like "If you sing before breakfast, you'll cry before supper." Or if the rooster crows before your kitchen door, you are getting company.

The Fair has come and gone, we enjoyed the Boxcar Willie Show on Friday evening. He's a real comedian and a genuine person. After the show, he talked with the audience, shook hands, gave out kisses, signed autographs and let people take his picture. I think I liked his joke about Reagan's new tractor better than any other. It's called the Reagan-matic. It has no seat and no steering wheel, that's for all the farmers who've lost their rear and have no place to turn. Sorry, not trying to be crude, just repeating a joke.

Miss Astrid Schulze of Boon, West Germany and Miss Carol Robinson of Wilmington spent a couple days at the Fair and also visited friends in town. Miss Schulze has been the house guest of Carol since June 8th.

Well wishes to all, take care, share a smile, God bless.
