

4,000 sign petition against septic tank regulations

by William T. Ficks
 Harry Seipp, Seaford businessman, hand-delivered more than 4,000 signatures on petitions urging state legislators to limit the powers of the Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Control (DNREC). The petitions were presented to Jack Wilson, secretary of the DNREC, at an open hearing Friday.
 Seipp and his supporters are fighting the DNREC over its proposal to change septic tank regulations.

 The DNREC is planning the new regulations to improve the nitrate level of the ground or surface water.
 The petition says the new regulations "will force some of us to lose our homes and will skyrocket the cost of home ownership beyond the reach of many of us."
 Seipp said 90 to 97 percent of nitrates comes from sources other than septic systems.

Attending the hearing were state Sen. W. Lee Littleton, R-Laurel, 21st District, and state Rep. B. Bradford Barnes, R-Bridgeville, 35th District.
 Littleton and Barnes, in the main, support Seipp's position.
 If the regulations are passed "85 percent of the people in Sussex County will pack up and leave," said Littleton.
 The Farmers, Builders, and Homeowners Association (FBHA) organized by Seipp to combat the proposed regulations, is calling for a Constitutional Amendment to take away some of the DNREC's power.

 The DNREC now has the power to put the new regulations into effect at any time it deems it necessary.
 The septic tank controversy as it concerns Sussex County is the FBHA's main concern.
 Since the soil composition is not the same in all of Sussex County, Rep. Barnes suggested that various areas in the county be "put in zones or categories."

 "Even if all septic systems in Sussex County were eliminated, there would be little or no change in the ground water nitrate level," said Seipp.
 Although major changes in regulations have been made by DNREC between March, 1983 and July, 1984, the FBHA is still dissatisfied with the proposal.
 Major areas of disagreement are the projected costs to the homeowner if the proposed regulations are adopted, and the possible health hazard, if any, if septic tank regulations remain unchanged.

 The meetings between Seipp and DNREC officials have been going on for two years.
 Wilson said the regulations may be imposed near the end of the year, but it may be necessary to continue negotiations until early next year.

"Big Cat" still on the prowl

by William T. Ficks
 The "big cat" first sighted seven weeks ago in Harrington, is apparently still on the prowl.
 Elizabeth Vineyard, of Clark Street in Harrington, called the Harrington Journal Monday and reported numerous sightings of the animal.
 Vineyard originally sighted the big cat about seven weeks ago, which is when it was seen by at least five other residents of the neighborhood.
 Vineyard, in a telephone conversation with Harry Farrow, editor and publisher of the Harrington Journal, said, "Last Thursday night my dog was barking and running on a 50 ft. leash that I have in my back yard. He was running from one side of the house to the other. He was just frantic. It appears to me that the animal is injured, because when I tried to retrieve my dog (on the leash) I couldn't...so I blew the whistle I have, which in turn scared the cat. The cat leaped in one jump across the front of my neighbor's garage which is about 10 ft. wide. But after he landed he just poked along as though he was injured."

 She reports that she has called the SPCA asking them to shoot the cat with a tranquilizer.
 Vineyard said that she keeps a small child's wading pool in the backyard so that her dog can jump in it in hot weather as well as drink out of it. She said the cat has also been drinking out of the pool.
 She said the cat appears to weigh about 100 lbs.
 "I personally believe that it resembles a cougar more than anything else I have seen. I went to the Salisbury zoo to see if it would be possible to identify the cat. They have a jaguar there, but this is not a jaguar. To me it looks like a cougar," Vineyard said.
 More evidence of a large animal in the area was reported by Ed and Doris Kelly of County Road 438.
 Paw prints the size of a large coffee cup can be seen throughout a large flower field on the Kelly property.
 "If you'll notice, there are only three paw prints. It leads me to believe the animal has been injured," Doris said.

Dirt rows in the flower field were flattened in spots where the animal apparently had been lying down. Doris found a few brown and black hairs in those areas.
 "Look at how that row is flattened out. Our mule doesn't even make an indentation like that," Doris said.
 Doris called the Fish and Wildlife Division which said they would investigate.
 Although they haven't sighted the animal, the Kellys said their dogs have been "acting up" at night.
 "My poodle went ape and tracked it out to those woods," said Doris, pointing to a nearby wooded area adjacent to their property.
 There is about a four foot span between paw prints.
 Road 438 is east of highway 13 near Farmington about four miles from Five Points, where the big cat was sighted for three consecutive weeks.
 The Harrington Journal is offering a $50 reward for the live capture of the animal (see box on this page).

S.B. Woo barnstorms Harrington area

by William T. Ficks
 Who is Woo?
 He's an amiable, accomplished, articulate physics professor at the University of Delaware.
 He's also a Democratic candidate for lieutenant-governor.
 Although S.B. Woo isn't exactly a household name, his stumping the state with his attractive wife Katy has made many people sit up and take notice — and they like what they see.
 Woo stopped off at the Harrington Journal Monday in a barnstorming tour of the Harrington area.
 "I'm an American by choice. I've benefited so much in Delaware, I'd like to pay it back," said Woo.
 Topping Woo's priority list are education and economic development.
 "Education teaches children values. It is the foundation of our society," Woo said.
 Starting with the primary and secondary schools, we should seek the very best teachers. Higher pay, in line with other professions, is a necessity if we expect the best teachers, according to Woo.

 Woo believes his experience as an educator would be a valuable asset in helping solve educational problems.
 Woo was founding president of the Faculty Union of the University of Delaware and serves as a member of the university's Board of Trustees.
 As a scientist, he believes he can help find solutions to environmental, energy, high technology, waste disposal, and coastal preservation issues.
 Regarding economic development, Woo said we must "evolve away from a smokestack industry toward a high technology-driven industry."
 "As a scientist I would be able to ask the right questions," he added.
 Woo said a government report indicates Delaware already has 13.8 percent of its work force employed in high technology industries, the highest in the nation.

 "We must induce existing industry to keep up with the latest developments, not only in equipment but in the training of the work force," Woo said.
 Woo has been in the country 30 years, having spent the last 18 in Delaware. Married for 20 years, he is the father of a 19-year-old son and a 17-year-old daughter. He received his Ph.D in physics from Washington University.
 His wife Katy brings her own expertise to Woo's campaign, having been Sen. Joe Biden's personal secretary for six years.
 Woo is a man of intelligence and integrity with some novel ideas in his approach to politics.
 Compared to the run-of-the-mill politician on the campaign trail, Woo is like a breath of fresh air.
 As the campaign heats up, we'll keep you informed with the latest reports on this most gratifying addition to Delaware's political scene.

A man who remembers his roots

by William T. Ficks
 Merritt T. Laws is one man who doesn't forget his roots.
 The 71-year-old Laws was born, raised and educated in Harrington.
 He enlisted in the U.S. Army in 1932, one of the worst years of the Great Depression.
 "I had my choice of going to Panama, the Philippines, or Hawaii. There were too many snakes in Panama, so I chose Hawaii," laughed Laws.
 Receiving his Army discharge in 1935, Laws married a Hawaiian girl and has lived in Hawaii ever since.
 But he has never forgotten his friends in Harrington.
 Laws tries to return to his hometown every year and rarely misses making his yearly visit.
 An honorary life member of the Aloha Elks, he usually schedules his yearly Harrington visit to coincide with the Elks' national convention.
 "A few years ago the convention was held in Hawaii, the first time it was held off the mainland, so I didn't come back that year," Laws said.
 This year Laws came back for the Delaware State Fair.
 "I've always liked the fair," he said.
 Asked if he remembered many people the smiling Laws said, "You name them and I know them."
 After his military service, Laws went to work for an uncle who owned a roofing business in Hawaii. On the day his uncle retired, Laws formed a roofing business of his own. He himself retired 13 years ago and now spends most of his time taking care of his rental properties.
 Laws is the father of two sons, Bill and Pat. Bill the elder son, is married with three children and teaches speech at Northwestern University. Pat is still single and assists Laws in the upkeep of his rental properties.

 "He's enjoying himself. He's a beach boy," Laws laughed.
 "I enjoy swimming, but my wife worries if I overdo it," he said.
 A hale and hearty 71, the Hawaiian life apparently agrees with Laws.
 After visiting the fair and his many friends, Laws traveled to Chicago to meet his wife and visit his son Bill.
 "I'll see you next year," said the man who has never forgotten his friends in Harrington.

Harrington Journal offers $50 reward for live capture of "Mystery Animal"

The Harrington Journal is offering a $50 reward for the live capture, or information leading to the capture of the large black cat-like animal that has been sighted in the Harrington area for the past 7 weeks.
 We repeat, the $50 reward is for the "live" capture of the animal. We emphasize this because no one is quite sure whether the animal is someone's pet. The animal, according to pictures and sightings, is pure black, about 2 feet high and, including its tail, 3 or 4 feet long, and is said to resemble a panther or cougar.

 Anyone who captures or has information regarding the animal should call The Harrington Journal at 398-3206, or the Harrington Police at 398-4494.
 Harry G. Farrow, Jr., The Harrington Journal's editor and publisher, will be the sole judge in determining the recipient of the reward.

Swain recognized by MADD

Dale Swain, President of the Delaware MADD (Mothers Against Drunk Drivers) was given national recognition for his volunteer service in support of the fight against drinking drivers.

Swain and the MADD organization played a leading role in the passage of the DUI and the 21 year old drinking age laws. The MADD organization under Swain's leadership has also implemented a very effective victims assistance program and has helped maintain both official and public awareness of the drunk driving issue.

In a ceremony held at the State Office Building in Wilmington, Swain received citations for his achievements from Dianne Steed, Administrator of the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration; Candy Lightner, Founder and President of the National MADD organization; Jim Burnett, Chairman of the National Transportation Safety

Board; and Lt. Governor Michael Castle, Chairman of Delaware's Task Force on Drunk Driving.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) and National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) leaders were in Delaware to participate in a Delaware MADD sponsored award ceremony honoring 24 police officers from 9 different police agencies in the state who were selected for their dedication and commitment to removing drunk drivers from the road.

Delaware's traffic deaths stand at 59 (as of July 27) compared to 64 for the same period in 1983 and 69 for 1982. The percentage of fatalities involving alcohol has dropped from 67% to 49%.

Both NHTSA and NTSB are involved with the recent ruling on air bags, while NTSB has been deeply involved in reviewing the recent rash of train crashes.

August 17 is deadline for Delaware Lotto winner to claim $30,000

DOVER, DE - Delaware Lottery officials say that Friday, August 17, 1984, is the deadline for the winner to claim the $30,000 Jackpot Prize from the August 18, 1983, Delaware Lotto drawing. Ralph F. Bathc, Lottery Director, said that if the prize is not claimed by that date, then the prize money shall be reverted to the Lottery prize fund.

He said an analysis of all tickets purchased in the August 18 Lotto drawing indicates that someone did select the six winning numbers which were: 07-08-09-18-19 and 30. Lottery regulations state that all prizes must be claimed within one year of a drawing date or, in the case of instant games, a year after the official end of the instant game.

"We hope that the winner will come forward before the deadline to claim the prize," Bathc commented. He said the winner should be sure to sign the back of the winning ticket and bring it to the Lottery Office in the Blue Hen Mall, Dover.

According to Bathc a total of more than $2,715,000 has been won by Delaware Lotto players since the pick 6-out-of-30 numbers game started in April 1983.

Wick bars available

The Delaware Department of Agriculture is offering the use of 3 recently refurbished wick bars to state landowners trying to control johnsongrass on their property.

The wick bar is a 3 inch diameter pvc pipe with a piece of rope, or a wick, running through it. A herbicide is placed inside the pipe, absorbed by the wick, and then transferred to the johnsongrass as the bar passes through a field. Persons wanting to borrow the wick bars should contact Terry Van Horn's office in advance by calling 736-4811 or 1-800-282-8685. They will be lent out on a first come, first serve basis.

Mr. Van Horn also suggests persons report johnsongrass problems in fields and other lands to his office. If seen growing on roadside right of ways, the State Transportation Department should be contacted.

History of Camp Barnes

The Delaware Association of Chiefs of Police is composed of active law enforcement and correctional officers. Associate membership is open to private citizens interested in improving law enforcement in Delaware.

Formed in 1940, the organization decided in 1947 to challenge itself to undertake some project to combat juvenile delinquency in the First State.

A DACP committee was appointed to investigate the problems concerning youth, and its resulting recommendations led to the establishment of Camp Barnes for the recreation of deserving youths from throughout the state.

Originally used only for boy campers, Camp Barnes now is used each summer four weeks by girl campers, aged 10 to 13, and four weeks by boys, aged 10 to 13. Each youth spends his or her week in camp living in cabins which house 13 campers and a counselor. Two weeks camping experience is also provided each summer for young people from the Hospital for the Mentally Retarded at Stockley and during another two weeks, 4-H Club campers use the facility.

Camp Barnes is located on Miller Creek, next to the Assawoman Wildlife Area in Southeastern Sussex County, on property that once was owned by the Delaware Fish & Game Commission. Preparation for the site was started in February, 1948, and by the beginning of the camping season that June, about 12 acres had been cleared.

Volunteer help was used to modernize and convert an old house on the property into an administration building. Three barracks, a mess hall, and a first aid building were also moved onto the camp site.

It 1983, it cost more than $106,000 to operate the camp, which is administered by a Board of Directors, headed by the Superintendent of the State Police. A staff of 20 persons, including a registered nurse, waterfront director, program director, arts and crafts director and cabin counselors, manage the camp during its twelve-week season each summer.

Funds to maintain and operate the camp are obtained solely from private donations and fund-raising projects such as stock car races, a fishing tournament and golf tournament.

The children who attend the eight weeks at Camp Barnes are recommended by state and local police officers, school nurses, social service agencies, and DACP members. There is no charge. Since its establishment, Camp Barnes has provided recreational facilities for thousands of Delaware children who might not otherwise get to enjoy a summer vacation because of the size of their family or income.

The camp was named after Colonel Herbert A. Barnes, who was Superintendent of State Police at the time it was established and did much to raise the necessary funds and voluntary help to make the camp a reality. In 1948, only 40 campers enjoyed the recreational facilities at Camp Barnes. This past summer, more than 1,100 campers shared that opportunity.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,
As a taxpayer in the Lake Forest School District I am very concerned about the recent actions of several members of the school board and their decision to rehire another agriculture teacher at Lake Forest High School.
At an open meeting held a few months ago, it was stated that the Lake Forest School District unit count was down necessitating the teacher unit count to follow suit, all following a formula established by the Department of Public Instruction. It was also announced at that meeting that the 84-85 pre-registration forms submitted by the students showed a strong decrease in the number of students requesting Ag programs. Another point was that one Agriculture teacher had less than 70 students in 6 classes, where an English teacher had over 120 students in 6 classes.
I have recently read that the newly elected board members Sara Williams and Russell McCready as well as Board President Wallace Caulk voted to rehire the Agriculture teacher that was transferred to the Jr. High School.

I challenge all taxpayers in the Lake Forest School District to call Board Members Williams, McCready and Caulk and find out where they propose to get funds for paying an extra teacher. Is the Ag Dept. self-sustaining, or are they financially supported by the School District — ultimately us — the taxpayer?
Did the referendum that raised our newly received tax bills pass to pay our children's current teachers more money or to hire extra teachers? If extra teachers are going to be hired with my tax hike, I want more teachers in my children's areas of school, not an area of school that touches less than 1/8 of the students.
Marie D. Thorpe
Harrington, Del.

EDITOR:
A majority of the Lake Forest voters believed that our School District was in the kind of trouble that only a man like G. Wallace (Wally) Caulk could solve. So, two years ago he was elected to the Lake Forest School Board. This year two more people were elected to the School Board because the voters believed it when they were told that these troubles were too big for Wally to handle by himself. The voters gave Wally the help he needed by electing Sara Williams and Russell McCready; and the new School Board gave Wally what they thought he wanted, the Presidency.
As a Lake Forest parent of four small children, I believe that there are problems with our School District. Recently, a neighbor announced that as a teacher she could see why many other parents were moving so as to get their children out of Lake Forest and into other Kent County Districts. And so, I was happy to support my other neighbors when they wanted to tackle these problems and serve on the School Board — especially since they knew that their job would be difficult, require a long term commitment of their time, and probably would offer few rewards. With a new direction for the School Board promised by the recent elections, I was ready to watch things happen — finally.

After reading in the Delaware State News, that Wally will not be allowed to hold two elected offices — School Board and State Representative — I am concerned. If seekers of public office really believe that they are offering their energies to the public so that they can make things better, then why is Wally running for yet another public office? As President of the School Board, Wally is now in the most useful public position to do something constructive for those of us who are worried about the quality of education in the Lake Forest District.
I would vote for Wally (or any other politician) in some future election if he could legitimately look back on his (her) record and say, "You elected me to do the job, and now it is done." However, Wally has only started the job of providing the Lake Forest children with a high quality education. I believe that G. Wallace Caulk, Jr. should finish the job that the Lake Forest voters elected Ms. Williams, Mr. McCready and him to do — straighten out the problems in the School District. If that means setting aside (temporarily) his higher political ambitions because he already has responsibilities as an elected official — so be it.

To The Editor:
As a Kent County resident, I am outraged at Levy Court's inability to make a decision. Moreover, I am outraged that Levy Court denied me a chance to say how my tax dollars should be spent.
The Kent County EMS Council proposed a country-wide paramedic program for Kent County and took the proposal to Levy Court. All the Council requested was that Levy Court ask the public whether they wanted such a program, and if they would be willing to support it with tax dollars. True, it would be an expensive program, but when shared among all the taxpayers in our county, it would be a bargain in emergency medical care. Well, the County government never gave us a chance. Instead they decided to pass the buck. By sitting by on their hands and taking no action, the idea of a referendum died.

I am a volunteer fireman in Kent County and I have been able to see first hand how this program can work. I know that we have a good system now, but why not have the best system available for our tax dollars.
I think we should all stop and ask ourselves just what are we getting for our tax dollars in Kent County. I personally am not satisfied with what I'm getting and I'm not satisfied with a government that gives me no chance to say what I want. It's time for a change.

Roller Baron [4] by Whata Baron and owned by Frank and Janice Rende [top left photo] paced a mile last week at Freestate in 1:56.2 for a new career record. He is held by part owner George Teague. He has had 24 starts this year, winning 9 seconds and getting $33,963 in earnings. He has paced his last 5 miles under 1:57. He has gone from a maiden win in 2:05 to present record. Bryce Truitt, one of the top ten reinsmen in the country did the reining. The filly in the right photo is also owned by Frank and Janice Rende [pictured]. My Sunny Solo [2] won a stake race worth last week at Freestate in 2:09 worth $18,000 to the Rendes. "I got away 5th and was 5th at the 3/4. All of a sudden I see the other horses are not pulling away from me. I had her on the outside of the lead horse coming to the top of the stretch, and she just eased right on by the field, winning by a neck," said Rende who drove her. Rende said Sunny qualified the day before at Ocean Downs in 2:15.2. "Prior to that she just would not go. I couldn't get her to qualify. I sent the $200 the morning of this stake race...and she wins it. I still can't believe it," he said.

State Police seek help in major theft ring

The Maryland State Police in St. Mary's County are investigating an outboard motor theft ring that has been operating in Maryland and Virginia since 1970. Many of the stolen outboard motors were inadvertently purchased by marine dealers on the Eastern Shore and resold as used motors. Investigators are looking for anyone who might have purchased one of these outboard motor believing it was a legitimate used motor. Any person who may have purchased a used outboard motor from a marine dealer on the Eastern Shore between 1970 and 1976 should contact the State Police in Leonardtown, 301-475-3165 between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. daily. Investigators are looking for the make, serial number, model number, where and when it was purchased. All information received will be considered confidential and if the motor is one of those that was stolen, the caller will not be prosecuted and the motor will not be confiscated. The information is needed to prosecute those persons who committed these thefts and the cooperation of the public is needed to assist in the investigation.

Mrs. Clara Judy and Mrs. Sylvia Meredith were leaders of Bible Study Monday morning. Favorite hymns were sung, a poem, "The Rose", was read by Mildred Vincent. Sylvia took for the study Psalm 23. She explained each verse. Virginia Smith was at the piano.

Jolly Timers, Tuesday morning, Ina Hughes tickling the ivories.

Both Bible Study and Band Practice were enjoyed by all as well as the "Senior Chorus" directed by Mrs. Sylvia Meredith. Those participating in the three activities were Anna Mae Short, Clara Judy, Ethel Holden, Amy Poynter, Mary Sapp, Frances Wright, Tony Perrone, Mildred Vincent, Gladys Hill, Florence Minner, Sylvia and Cecil Meredith, Virginia Smith, Thelma Legates, Elwood Morris, Ina Hughes, Ella Golt, Lillie McBride, Mammie Adams, Annabel Morrow, Bertha Dean, Andy Anderson, Catherine Stevens, Ola Tildon and Russell Legates. Russell Legates sang a solo, "Precious Memories" at the chorus practice. Wonderfully enjoyed!

Tuesday morning, nine happy people left the Center for Bowers Beach to go on a fishing trip. A great time was had catching the thirty-four fish. The day was described to me as one of the prettiest days they remembered on the water. Serene, calm, not a ripple, just beautiful, beautiful. A perfect day for fishing! Even those who did not catch any fish were effectively happy with the trip. Don't you like to hear of folk being contented and happy?

A chartered bus left the Center Thursday morning at 10 a.m. for "The Three Little Bakers", all anticipating seeing their new place and having lunch with them.

Lester Hatfield introduced Dave Levinson to the Senior Citizens at the Center Thursday at noon. Mr. Levinson had lunch with us and asked for the support of everyone in the primary and election.

Mr. Levinson gave the Center all the lovely plants that he had at his booth at the "Fair".

Harriett took the group local shopping.

The Woodside Police Troop have escorted the young men home after camping at Camp Barnes, Frankford, DE. All safe and all enjoyed their week.

The bus leaving the Harrington Senior Center, Inc. for a one day trip to the Three Little Bakers Country Club and Dinner Theatre, Aug. 2, was very enjoyable. The entertainment during our lunch of delicious food and beautiful desserts were wonderful. All persons celebrating a birthday received a craft.

The corn crop looks great around the countryside. Daughter Gene and husband took me for a ride Wednesday evening miles and miles of country, wonderful, homes everywhere, tucked away in the forest, close together, close to the road, set back from the road. Home to someone! Flowers, gardens, fields of corn, corn, corn, soya beans, etc. It was delightful!

Want to thank the folk who bring the splendid vegetables into the Center. It is so thoughtful of them, to plant, care for them - harvest and bring them in for those of us who have no garden, not a bit like the little red hen of our school days. She ate the whole thing. Remember that story?

Friday is Coupon Day - just like Christmas, cashing in their coupons from Bingo. Come on in and join in the fun. Usually a small treat after. Usually!

Have you checked for trips? Have you met a new person lately? Do you like tasty meals? Do you hate to cook? Do you have a grandmother's or mother's recipe you would like to share? My Grandmother Sharp could make good biscuits as I remember but her cakes always tasted like baking powder to me, maybe that is just a childhood memory! Anyway, that is what crosses my mind when cakes are brought up. On the other hand, Mrs. Mary Short could make a positively delicious yellow cake. One of these days, when my sugar spell's able (110 or 120) make one I am! Her daughter Lillian Camper used to make (maybe she still does) the most scrumptious ice box yeast rolls. Goodness, better quit this business, or I'll be eating these mint sticks (and I don't even like them.)

A very special greeting to you in N.C. Hawaii, Florida, Texas, California, Virginia and Maryland, so glad to hear from you.

Take care, be kind to each other, thank all volunteers so very much, you help make the Center a better place to be.

Best wishes to all homebonds, to all who are ill in either the hospital or at home.

Gab Fest

by Pat Hatfield

What a beautiful world it is and each day brings its own joys. I always say, "If you have a question, ask it", and someone will come up with the answer.

Already I have some information on the Kissing Strings. Florence LeCates of Hearn's Roads called and said that she had this plant in her yard. They bought their present home about forty-one years ago and there were patches of this all around. She thought it was so pretty that she kept some of it in her flower garden. It blooms a lucious hot pink and hangs down like Wisteria. She says her mother called it "Kisma Strings".

She has invited all of us to come and see it. Here are the directions: Go to Carey's Filling Station on the highway at the light. Go about 2 1/2 miles on the dual until you come to the second light. Turn left and it is the first chicken farm on the left of that road.

We've all been living on the mountain top these last few days. Our Ted and his schoolmate, Jenny Smith from Bridgeville arrived home with the group, having completed the coast to coast bicycle trip with the Wandering Wheels, which took them six weeks, after leaving San Diego.

Bridgeville, as usual, went all out in welcoming this group. Big signs were up everywhere and the United Methodist Church opened its doors to them. A delicious dinner was served before the services were held in the church sanctuary. Many of the parents came from different states to pick up their children and see and enjoy Delaware, especially the shore at Rehoboth where the trip officially ended.

They came into Bridgeville escorted by the police with full sirens screaming and excited cheers from the crowd of bystanders. It was a great moment and brought tears to the eyes and a lump in your throat.

The parents and relatives present were welcomed to dine with the Wheels, and a fine meal it was. They also prepared a lovely breakfast.

After the breakfast and the usual morning devotions, they left for Rehoboth and the final ceremonies. They came into Rehoboth with police escort also and immediately went through the ritual of dipping their wheels into the Atlantic. It had been six weeks since they dipped their wheels into the Pacific at San Diego.

There was another reason why this was a special time for me, I had learned through our families in Indiana that one of the riders would be "Pat" Palmer from Van Buren, Indiana who writes a newspaper column for her local papers as I do. Through an exchange of columns we learned that we were truly kindred souls with the same creed, the same reverence for life and all that it means. Her family, husband, brother-in-law, and two teenage children, Devon and Danielle, came to pick her up and enjoy Delaware. They had been riding all night and were ready to run in at the motel they had reserved. So, we brought Pat home with us to spend the night at Trail's End. We talked and shared until one o'clock in the morning. We were up at 6:30 so she could see the gardens and the antique shop, then on down to bridgeville for breakfast.

A day to remember always. I'll have a new and treasured friend for the rest of my life.

In the Pocket from Brandywine

by Joe Asher

Victories by Traffic Director, Oxford Mary Ann, Oxford Julie and Abdutor in $10,000 finals of four late closing series highlighted the week's action at Brandywine which included the largest crowd at the track in over two years.

On Saturday, August 4, a perfect drive from Joe Hundertofund, Jr. allowed Traffic Director to win the $10,000 final of the Co-Star Series for 3 and 4-year-old pacing colts and geldings in new lifetime best of 1:58.3. Fool's Errand (Tony Domino, Jr.) set fractions of :28.1 and :59 while racing unpressured for the first half. On the backstretch, Hundertofund pulled Traffic Director to the outside to take up the chase, flushing out Royal Ranger (Rick Farrington). Fool's Errand and Royal Ranger raced as a team past the three quarter pole in 1:28.4 with Traffic Director poised for the kill, second over.

As the field turned home, Hundertofund angled the 4-year-old gelded son of Oil Burner three wide and quickly overtook Royal Ranger to gain the lead. The Nathan and Barbara Heisslein owned and Joe Hundertofund, Sr., trained horse then held off several late challenges to win by a length and a quarter. Speedy Marvin (Forrest Gerry, III) earned place honors while B.J. Scarlet (Vern Crank) settled for third money.

On Friday, Oxford Mary Ann proved that she was tons the best in winning the $10,000 finale of the Ingenue Series for 3 and 4-year-old fillies and mares with the week's fastest clocking, 1:57.3. The Bobby Reeser trained and driven 4-year-old daughter of Harold J. took the lead from Southern Storm (Denis Mumford) nearing the quarter pole and set fractions of :28.2, :59.2 and 1:28.2 before drawing off without urging to win by three and a half lengths in a new lifetime mark over the latter with High Hope Tallu (Jim Case, Jr.) finishing third. The Bob Spencer bred and owned Oxford Mary Ann has not finished worse than third this year despite facing some of the top horses on the grounds at Brandywine and racing at The Meadowlands for three weeks.

The combination of Reeser and Spencer captured another $10,000 event two days earlier when Oxford Julie's 2:02.2 clocking was good enough to win the final of the Coquette Series for 2-year-old fillies. World Exclusive (Brian Manges) took the field by the quarter in :29 before Everglade Adriana (Ed Hysell) brushed quickly get the top nearing the half. Then Farrington pulled the favored Class Of Spring out of fourth to challenge the leader with the half going in :59.3.

Everglade Adriana refused to yield the top without a fight, leading to mutual destruction. When Class Of Spring finally cleared a length near the three quarter pole it was evident that she was tiring. After passing the three quarters in 1:30.1, Class Of Spring was challenged again by Everglade Adriana, who regained the lead turning for home. Shortly into the stretch, World Exclusive retook the lead but Oxford Julie, who had been racing with cover throughout the duel on the front end, was the only strong horse in the lane and overtook the leader 100 yards from the wire to win by three quarters of a length. Mannart Humbug (Crank) closed for the place while B.J. Shadow (Pres Moore, Jr.) finished third, ahead of World Exclusive. The victory established a new lifetime mark for the daughter of Scarlet Skipper.

The closest finish in any of the series finals occurred on Tuesday in the $10,000 conclusion of the Cadet Series for freshmen colts and geldings. Abdutor came flying on the extreme outside to get up in last stride to prevail in a three horse photo over Al Wil and Masthead in 2:01.3. Manges guided Masthead to the lead at the start and passed the quarter in a quick :28.4. As the field raced by the stands for the first time, Pres Burris, Jr., made a bold three wide move with Al Wil, circling by Frosty Wight (REd Ross) to get the lead approaching the half. After a 1:00 minute clocking at the half, Al Wil was pressured by the first over Frosty Wight. Those two raced as a team by the three quarters in 1:30.2 but the excitement was minimal compared to the thrilling stretch drive.

At the top of the lane, Masthead made a strong move to challenge Al Wil and the two colts raced down the stretch together. In the meantime, Jim Larente, Jr., was guiding the 3-5 favorite, Abdutor, from five lengths back through traffic and finally to the far outside. The Larry Kadish owned and Jim Larente, Sr., trained son of Abercrombie stuck his nose in front at the wire, prevailing by a nose over a game Al Wil with an equally name Masthead a head back in third.

Dave Brock gave Excellent Skipper a perfect second over trip, enabling the 3-year-old son of Scarlet Skipper to capture Saturday's $5,000 winners-Over pace in 1:59.3. Southern Robert (C.D. Harris) took the lead nearing the quarter pole in :29.4 and then began to slow down the pace to a virtual walk. Farrington pulled the favored Perky Fiddler to the outside to take up the chase but the half was nonetheless paced in a leisurely 1:01.4. The pace quickened on the backstretch with Southern Robert and Perky Fiddler battling nose to nose while Excellent Skipper sat patiently second over.

The two pacemakers raced by the three quarters in 1:31.2 and appeared to be going strong. In the stretch, Perky Fiddler took the lead but Brock then moved Excellent Skipper away from his cover and the Frank and Ferner Perry owned and Mike Brock trained colt overtook the leader and sped home with a :28.1 kicker to win by a length and a quarter. Perky Fiddler was photoed out of second by the third over Dozen Kisses (Abe Stoltzfus).

On Sunday, Sturdy Freight captured a $5,000 Winners-Over pace in 1:58.2. Trainer-driver Joe Holloway guided the 4-year-old trotting bred son of ABC Freight to the lead shortly after a :29.1 opening quarter and set fractions of :58.3 and 1:28.2 while being pressured by Allwood's Star Bid (Pete Peterseim). In the lane, the Dave Rovine and Shady Stable Five owned gelding fought off Ratta Tat Tat (Howard Parker) and had a bit of luck. Grandpa's Roger (Hundertofund, Jr.) was locked in tight all the way to the wire and could not get the bike through the small opening on the rail, losing by just a head.

On Thursday, Laugh A Day did not resemble anything close to her $625,000 purchase price as harness racing's most expensive yearling finished third in her second pari-mutuel start. The daughter of Most Happy Fella - Tarport Cheer (the same combination that brought us Tarport Hap, Tyler B and Jamuga), a 2:02.3 winner in her debut last week, set leisurely fractions of :31, 1:02.4 and 1:33.1 under the guidance of trainer-driver Dick Farrington before faltering in the stretch. March On (Steve Milam) won the $2,100 event in 2:02 over Loincloth (Eben Holmes).

A brilliant promotional idea by television entrepreneur Sid Alpert brought out the largest crowd at Brandywine in over two years on Sunday, 9,684 fans flocked through the turnstiles, many having received an invitation for free hot dogs and sodas and other complimentary as well as a chance to receive a $50 win ticket on the winner of the featured race. The parking lot was nearly filled to capacity and the crowd was reminiscent of the good ole' days.

Bunting takes 67th at U.S. 13 Speedway

by Don Allen

Harold Bunting of Milford recorded his 67th U.S. 13 Speedway career victory and his third season win at the half-mile oval Saturday. The Delmarva veteran in the D&D Dismantling #19D stormed under flagman Bill Lawson's checkered ahead of John Kozak, Richard Jarvis, Billy Towers and fifth place finisher Walt Breeding.

Bunting qualified by winning his heat over Towers and as the field roared off the four turn to start the thirty lap feature; he wasted no time moving from his thirteenth starting spot. Before the race was five laps old a lead pack had taken shape that included the best that Delmar has to offer. Young Ron Keys was on the point after taking the lead from pole sitter Chris Michael on lap two. Close behind were John Kozak, Jarvis, Bunting and Bob Wilkins. Keys in his A&G Automotive #39 burned up the track for the next several laps with the other four hot on his heels like a swarm of angry hornets. By lap nine Keys had opened up a small lead but two laps later the racer slowed drastically on the back straight and disappeared into the pits.

Kozak was now the man in the driver's seat. Behind him Bunting, Jarvis and now Towers jockeyed for position. Breeding held onto fifth but the front four were in a race by themselves and by the mid-point of the event they had put considerable distance between themselves and the Taylor & Messick #7.

The D&J Recycling #31 of Kozak was blistering the track as he handily dealt with the challenges of Jarvis and Bunting. By lap 22 he had succeeded in putting some distance between himself and Bunting but on lap 24 the car faltered in the three-four turn and his lead began to evaporate. As the front pack exited the second turn on lap 26 the #19D moved to the outside and dropped Kozak to second. The #31 seemed to regain some of its strength but it was too late for Bunting had pulled out all the stops. The sparkling red and white #19D proceeded to flash around the track erasing any hopes Kozak might have had of putting an end to his streak of second place finishes at Delmar.

Next week the Atlantic Coast Old Timers Club will visit the U.S. 13 Speedway and will exhibit their antique racers which are sure to rekindle many fond memories of racing's "Golden Age". A regular ticket of the best in Modified, Late Model and Limited Late Model racing will also be on tap for the evening.

Browning wins fourth against all odds at U.S. 13

by Don Allen

Georgetown's Hal Browning was forced to do battle with a full field of Late Models including his own care to take his fourth season win in that division Saturday night at U.S. 13. Browning quite literally had his hands full as handling problems on his JB's Auto Machine #100 made travel through the turns of the half-mile clay oval a nightmare. Add to that the strong challenges of second place finisher Bob Wilkins in the JGRC, Carroll's Used Cars #69 throughout the race and one can see why the charismatic veteran of Modified and Late Model racing was exhausted when he stepped out of the car in victory lane after the 20 lap feature.

Browning was followed across the finish line by Wilkins, Steve Hill, Alex Beaumont and Billy Towers in Gil Clements' #K-9 racer.

Browning moved quickly from his 13th starting spot to the lead on lap two and Wilkins fell into 2nd behind him one lap later. This set the stage for a duel that would last the remainder of the race.

It was obvious before the event was many laps old that the #100 had developed a serious "push" that was not evident in the qualifying heat when Browning won out over Lou Johnson in the Cropper's Pest Control #96. This caused the nose of the racer to veer radically to the left each time it entered a turn. Browning could be seen "manhandling" his mount while second place Wilkins gracefully broadsided through each turn but when the two exited a turn Browning would pour on the coal and leave Wilkins behind.

Just before the halfway point, Wilkins found his chance and took the lead as the pair came out of the 2nd turn. His lead was short-lived though as Browning used his straightaway power to relegate the #69 to second two laps later.

Browning held on with sheer skill for the remainder of the event and though Wilkins tried valiantly he was forced to settle for runner-up.

FEATURE RESULTS: Browning, Wilkins, S. Hill, Beaumont, Towers, Vickers, Ronald Wilson, Earl Knickman, Jim Wilkins, Sam Lowe, Wayne Nailor, Duane Rust, Richard Swoger, Deron Rust, David Hill, Lou Johnson, Charles Wilkerson, Harlan Williams.

Todd Richardson became the sixth different Limited Late Model feature winner on the Delmar clay this season as he took the 15 lap LLM show putting an end to Mel Joseph Jr.'s three week win streak. Richardson took his Pitt Stop Restaurant sponsored '70 Camaro across the finish line ahead of Jeff Turpin, Jack Abbott, Keith Jerman and fifth place finisher J.V. Wells.

Benny Parks takes Delaware Cash Championships on co-owners birthday

by Don Allen

Benny Parks of Salisbury, Md. took his '38 Chevy coupe to the top of the heap in the combination Super Pro/Pro half of the Delaware Cash Bracket Championships held at the U.S. 13 Dragway Sunday. The victory was twice as satisfying for it came in his first outing this season at the track and also fell on the birthday of his co-owner Gary Parks and also that of Gary's son John. Parks had to overpower a pit full of cars from the Super Pro and Pro ranks that had turned out for this special, $1,000 to win event. In the final round Benny was pitted against Mike Gilroy who had thrilled the fans all through eliminations with his super fast, "wheely popping" starts. Parks' luck held in that final pass as he ran an ET 9.832/125.00 and shut down Gilroy's Camaro. Johnny Ennis and Bob Johnson were the semi-finalists and Jane Johnson, Robert Hopkins and Bob Bailey had to settle for the quarter-final slots.

The combination Heavy and Street eliminations saw Rich Baals of Bell-maur, N.J. take home the cash with his '80 Chevy. Baals also had some stiff competition to deal with on his way to the top. Among them was the "Budget Buster" '66 Falcon of Pittsville, Md.'s David Adkins. Both made it to the final round but Adkins had to settle for runner-up when Baals turned in an ET 18.246/64.23 missing his dial-in by only nine hundredths of a second. Wayne Anthony of Chestertown, Md. was the semi-finalist and Timmy Dennis and Tom Bevan ended their day as quarter-finalists.

Pro Bike competition was hot and heavy as all the U.S. 13 regulars were on hand as well as some new faces of which the winner, F.C. Henckel, the winner of the day, was one. Henckel, a "tall drink of water" from Easton, Md. blistered the track with his two-stroke, '72 Kawasaki and ran an ET 12.797/102.44 in the final round to defeat Pete Mahoney of Parsonsburg, Md. Mark Thomas and Curtis Coker were the semi-finalists while George Mosley, Jack Willard and Cheyanne Searce were the quarter-finalists.

Bill Snyder of Weirwood, Va. was the Junior Eliminator of the day and Ernest Lake from Hurlock, Md. came out on top in the Hot Rod Eliminator class. Butch took the cash in the Last Chance eliminator competition besting the cream of the cars present.

Next week the "Truck Show '84" will come to the U.S. 13 Dragway featuring vans, 4x4's, wreckers, dump trucks, farm trucks and the centerpiece, Les Shockley in his triple jet engined Peterbilt, also on hand will be John Carey's Diesel Powered rail. Come and party, enjoy live music and see the heart-stopping action. Gates open at 12:00 noon and the Jet Truck runs at 4:45 and 7:00 p.m. General Admission will be $6.00. STOCK YAMAHA

The club has a growing Beginner and Rookie class. The lack of Junior drivers is probably due to summer jobs. Stock Yamaha just haven't displayed themselves to any extent this year. Light and Heavy Stock are averaging well in participation. Limited Modified seems to be the popular class this year with lots of heavy competition. This makes for a good night of entertainment. The well lighted dirt track located 2 miles on Poney Neck Rd. hold races every Tuesday night at 8 p.m. No charge for spectators. Refreshments and snacks available. Another trophy race is being scheduled for August.

Airport Speedway results

by Walter T. Chernok
 NEW CASTLE, DE - Mike DeFrank missed scoring a double feature win by fifty feet and Steve Hickey and Dave Ewing won divisional main events Saturday night, August 4, at the Blackbird Micro Midgets' Airport Speedway.

The triple feature program saw the industrial flathead cars line up on the homestretch in a new racing format. When the cars took the green, it was pole-sitter Gene Hendricks moving quickly into the lead. His lead lasted just two laps as Bob Dale roared past him. But Dale's lead also did not last long and three laps later he was displaced from the front spot by Steve Hickey.

With no yellows to slow him down, Hickey fought off the challenges of Jimmy Borthwick to record his first I.F. feature win since May 19. Borthwick finished a solid second and in turn was followed by Don Gehrman, Hendricks, Allen Cox, Tom Ciampa, Sam Commale, Tom Murray, Dan Birch and Dale.

The four stroke open class 25 lap feature got into trouble just after the green was thrown. Going into the first turn, John Carey got bounced around followed by a spin by Brian Jacobs. A complete restart was ordered and this time everybody completed the first lap without incident and Don Wilberg setting the pace. Lap two saw Willie Harrington moving into the lead followed one lap later by a two car tangle that involved Mike DeFrank and Bill Yowell. Sr. Yowell was sidelined by the incident but DeFrank bounced his way back onto the track in pursuit of the leaders.

It took DeFrank just three laps to work his way up to third and one lap later he was in second and closing on leader Harrington. Working the 10th lap DeFrank took the low road between turns three and four and came out the new leader. Seven laps later Donn Trego blew a right front tire and T-boned the outside guard rail in the first turn. The well-built #33 glanced off the steel rail and continued around the track until it finally stopped, coming out of the fourth turn and finally bringing out the yellow.

DeFrank was back in the lead as racing resumed and he stayed there to the end. Bob West finished second followed by Don Jacobs, John Carey, Harrington, Nelson Carey, Dan Baker (#7), Trego, Brian Jacobs and Wilberg.

1984 Olympics

Olympic athletes "do it for the Gipper"

by William T. Ficka

"Do it for the Gipper," President Ronald Reagan told the 614 members of the U.S. Olympic team in a pep talk before the start of the XXIII Olympiad.

Those words, which inspired a Notre Dame football team of yesteryear to an upset victory, are doing the same for our Olympic athletes today.

Reagan altered his famous line from the classic movie "Knut Rockne - All-American". In the 1940 film Reagan played George Gipp, a Notre Dame star who died during football season. On his deathbed, Gipp told Knute Rockne, played by Pat O'Brien, to tell the players, "to win one for the Gipper."

Unless our Olympic athletes are all old-time movie buffs, most of them probably didn't have the faintest idea of what Reagan was talking about.

But the words are having a magic effect anyway.

The U.S. Olympic team is simply running wild.

From the very start of the games our team has been winning gold medals galore — not to mention the silver and bronze.

Our swimmers tied their own Olympic record by winning 21 gold medals. The boy's gymnastic team scored a major upset when they walked off with the team title by defeating the highly favored teams of China and Japan.

Carl Lewis has now won two gold medals and seems well on his way to winning four, which would make him the first athlete to win four golds in track and field since Jesse Owens performed the legendary feat in 1936.

As we go to press, the U.S. team has won 101 medals, with 46 golds. Romania and West Germany are tied for second place with 34 total medals each. With a week to go in Olympic competition, more U.S. medals are sure to come.

The Gipper would be proud.

Sports Laffs

by William T. Ficka

The young fisherman was leaving the lake area when he was approached by a stranger.

"Catch any fish?" asked the stranger.

"I sure did. I took 30 out of this lake this morning," said the fisherman.

"Pretty good size?" queried the stranger.

"As long as your arm," replied the fisherman.

"You don't know who I am do you? I'm the game warden," said the stranger.

"You don't know who I am, do you? asked the fisherman. "I'm the biggest liar in the country."

Three fisherman were halfway across the lake when the first one stood up and said, "I forgot my bait."

He got out of the boat and walked to shore on top of the water.

The second man said, "I forgot my fishing tackle."

He also got out of the boat and walked across the water to shore.

The third man realized he had forgotten his lunch.

He got out of the boat and started to walk across the water — and promptly sank.

The first man said to the second, "We should have told him where the rocks were."
