

Harrington names new City Manager

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.
HARRINGTON - After many months of interviews and speculation, the City Council announced on Monday night their selection of the new City Manager. He is George Volenik of Laurel.

A total of 29 applications were filed with the City for the position. Of those 29, only 7 were called for interviews. Mr. Volenik, 62, is presently the Executive Director of the Delmarva Council, and has held that position since 1981. A former City Manager of the Town of Princess Anne, he has also held jobs at Salisbury State College, managed a transit company, but told the Council "...I like a challenge." The new City Manager will earn $19,200.00.

In other matters, the Council passed a resolution that a "do not enter sign" will be placed at the north end of Fleming St. where it meets Liberty St. and no parking signs will be placed on the west side of Fleming St. and the east side of Dorman St.

Councilman Ray Gagne noted that he was not at all pleased with the recent re-surfacing of Commerce St. "It appears to have been done in haste... and I can't believe they left the edge on the shoulder." It was explained to Councilman Gagne by Councilman Jackie Wyatt, who is employed by the State Highway Department, which did the job through sub-contracting it to Tilcon, that to leave the edge near the shoulder "...or gutter" was proper. This is the way they do it now in all towns so as not to interfere with the flow of surface...the run-off.

Councilman Jarrell discussed a pension plan for the Police Department. "It will mean that for every 5% of their (Harrington City Police) salary...we will have to match it with 20% of our funds." Nothing further was discussed regarding this matter.

A Community Block Program was initiated by the Council on Monday night. The City has applied for a grant of $250,000, which is the maximum amount allowed. It does not mean the City will receive that amount or a portion thereof...or any at all. The areas cited for the rehabilitation program are parts of Mispillion, East, Milby and Thorpe Streets. These must be home owner occupied dwellings.

Councilman Jackie Wyatt said a complaint had been brought to his attention in the form of a written letter by a home owner who lives on Gordon St. complaining about truck traffic along Gordon St.

Gordon St. is located in Harrington Manor, and is a purely residential neighborhood. Truck traffic is not permitted in residential neighborhoods. When asked by Councilman Wyatt of acting City Manager, Norma Short, why the complaint had not been acted on, Mrs. Short replied "...the letter was unsigned, and therefore I don't know who wrote it." Mrs. Short cannot act on the complaint until the person is identified. Councilman Wyatt said "...I can't remember the woman's name, I will find out, and let you know."

Debate fails to switch vote

by William T. Ficka
The televised presidential debate between President Reagan and Walter Mondale Sunday night has unquestionably proved one thing — barring a monumental blunder by one of the candidates, only a small percentage of the electorate will switch its vote.

Although forensic authorities and pollsters say Mondale was the winner, political experts say he will pick up no more than 3 or 4 points in the polls.

In a close race, this would be significant. But in most pre-debate polls, Mondale was trailing by wide margins. He was trailing by 18 points in the Washington Post-ABC News poll, by 17 points in the Gallup poll, and by 23 points in the New York Times-CBS News polls.

History tells us that the debates favor the challenger. In 1960 John F. Kennedy went into the first debate trailing Richard Nixon by just 1 point. When it was over the Gallup poll had Kennedy leading 49-46. Later polls showed 3 million voters had switched to Kennedy because of that first debate. Since he won the election by only 112,000 votes, the televised debate was clearly a key factor in making him president.

Commentary

In 1964, Lyndon Johnson, far ahead in all the polls, refused to debate Barry Goldwater.

In 1968, Nixon, remembering the 1960 defeat, avoided a televised debate in his winning campaign against Hubert Humphrey. When Nixon sought re-election in 1972 against George McGovern, he led by wide margins in all the polls and rejected all suggestions of a debate. He went on to a landslide victory.

Challenger Jimmy Carter went into the first televised debate with Gerald Ford in 1976 carrying an 18-point lead in the polls. Appearing unsure and indecisive in the debate, Carter saw his lead dwindle to 8 points.

But in the next debate, Carter picked up all the marbles. This was the night of the incredible Ford gaffe. Millions of television viewers sat in stunned

Short takes on area news

Police say foster child was raped

Menno L. Chupp, 41, of Owens, a small community north of Greenwood, has been charged with two counts of first-degree rape involving an 8-year-old girl who was a foster child, according to Cp. Gerald R. Pepper, Jr., Delaware State Police public information officer.

This could be the first case in state history of a foster parent being charged with a foster child's rape, according to state officials.

"He (Chupp) was arrested for incidents that occurred on August 3 and August 4, in 1983," Pepper said.

According to Pepper, the child was scheduled to stay in Chupp's home only one week while awaiting placement in a permanent foster home.

Last month the child reported the alleged rapes to her current foster parents who notified the Division of Social Services, which in turn notified state police.

Chupp was arrested on Sept. 20 and arraigned in Magistrate Court 3 in Georgetown two weeks ago. He was released on $10,000 unsecured bond, and is scheduled to appear for a preliminary hearing October 18 in Court of Common Pleas in Georgetown, Pepper said.

Each charge carries a life imprisonment sentence.

Chupp, owner of the Greenwood Cabinet Works with his brothers, is a Mennonite church leader who has been a state-approved foster parent for three or four years.

Sharon K. Michaels, president of the New Castle County Foster Parents Association and a member of the Delaware State Foster Parents Association said "...innocent until proven guilty. No one thinks this is substantiated..."

Delaware beauties vie for Teen USA crown

After 30 years of successful pageantry, Miss Universe, Inc., the organization that sponsors Miss USA, created the Miss Teen USA pageant last year which offered girls a chance to represent their state at a national pageant held in Lakeland, Florida.

The pageant created a lot of enthusiasm and 50 states had representation at the national televised pageant.

This year, the preliminary competition will be held in Milford on December 1st, 1984 at the Milford High School Auditorium. The Miss Delaware Teen USA pageant will be sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce of Milford.

Girls between the ages of 15-18 can enter the pageant. For more information, write to The Chamber of Commerce of Milford, P.O. Box K, Milford, Delaware 19963 or call 422-3301 (locally) or 1-800-345-4200.

Seaford Board told to halt misuse of funds

As the result of a recent Superior Court ruling, Delaware school districts are prohibited from hiring administrators with state funds designated for teachers.

The Delaware State Education Association brought suit against the Delaware Department of Public Instruction and the State Board of Education for allowing the Seaford School District to pay administrators with teacher dollars. The suit charged the Department of Public Instruction with a violation of its duty to administer the section of state law dealing with the appropriation of monies under Division I for salaries of educational personnel.

Judge Balick ordered the Seaford Board to stop its practice of hiring administrators with funds designated for teachers. The Board has spent roughly $20,000 to $25,000 each year to hire two administrators — a director of personnel and a supervisor of instruction — with these state funds.

Woodbridge elementary gets counselor

The Woodbridge School District has added a full-time elementary counselor to the Woodbridge Elementary School in Greenwood as part of their total educational program. Mrs. Barbara Campbell of Stokely is serving in this capacity and has been with the Woodbridge School District for two years.

Parents in the Woodbridge School District are encouraged to contact Mrs. Campbell at 349-4539 or 349-4010. She will be willing to meet with you and the student and inform you about the program; show the student how to use the program and have you take part in the guidance activities as they happen.

Roth awarded small business honor

Sen. William Roth, has earned the "Guardian of Small Business" Award from the National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB) for his outstanding voting record on small-business issues.

On announcing the award, NFIB President John Sloan said, "The voting record of Sen. Roth throughout this Congress demonstrates that he is responsive to the needs of his state, because small businesses create the majority of new jobs and, if left to flourish, will continue to be the driving force behind this country's resurgent economic growth."

Video Den celebrates Grand Opening

by William T. Ficka
More than 200 people attended the Grand Opening of the Video Den on Saturday.

The Video Den, located at 20 Commerce Street in Harrington, is part of a 24-store chain.

The Harrington store is owned and operated by Sarah Pauley and her two sons, Thomas, 20, and David, 17, all of Seaford.

Many youngsters tagged along with their parents for the Grand Opening. While there they met "The Wizard," a kind of mascot who attends special occasions in the Video Den chain. The kids all traipsed off with gaily-colored balloons.

Also on hand to celebrate the Grand Opening were John R. DeMeza, Sr., president of the Video Den chain, and Harold Horn, owner of the Seaford Video Den. Horn will open another Video Den, the 25th in the chain, sometime in the middle of October. The new store will be located opposite the main gate of the Dover Air Force Base on U.S. Route 113.

The Video Den rents and sells both Video Cassette Recorders (VCRs) and VCR movie tapes, both Beta and VHS Blank tapes are also available.

Club memberships are available at Video Den. All club members can buy coupon books which enable them to buy tapes a discount. Those who are members of another Video Den club can join the Harrington club for 99 cents.

The Grand Opening also featured a drawing for various prizes with values of up to $100. Winners and their prizes were: Sheri Bullock, of Harrington, who won the $100 grand prize; Olive Harris, Bridgeville, $50; Bill Propes, Greenwood, $20 book of coupons; Kelly Woodward, Felton, $10 book of coupons; and Ed Robichaud, Harrington, two blank tapes.

Harrington Food Rite to stage 1st Annual Pumpkin Contest

HARRINGTON - Donald Dadds, owner of Harrington Food Rite, announced this week the first annual Pumpkin contest for Harrington.

The categories will be for the funniest, ugliest, scariest and best character. Deadline for entries will be October 19th with the final judging on October 25th. Interested contestants should go to Harrington Food Rite and sign up for the contest. Prizes will be awarded.

Other rules of the contest are that there will be no cutting of the pumpkins. The designs should be colored in. Winners of the contests might be invited to tour the hospitals and nursing homes in the area with the approval of these institutions.

Woodward named Extension State Agricultural Leader

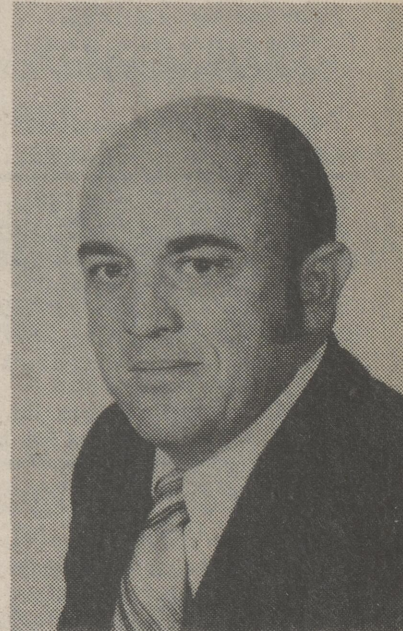

Long-time Kent County agricultural agent David H. Woodward has been named extension state leader for agriculture, natural resources and community resource development in Delaware, effective October 1st.

According to extension director Dr. Richard E. Fowler, "Woodward brings to this position an excellent rapport with the people Cooperative Extension serves, and a strong background in county agricultural programs."

A native of Delaware, Woodward grew up on a dairy farm near Wilmington and worked for a time in his family's dairy operation after it was relocated to the Middletown area. While in high school he was active in both FFA and 4-H, serving as state FFA president and winning a trip to Chicago as a state delegate to the National 4-H Congress.

He is a graduate of the University of Delaware, where he majored in animal science. Before joining the Delaware Cooperative Extension Service, Woodward served as new Castle County ASCS executive director for three years, and also worked as a salesman for the Ralston Purina Company.

As a county agricultural agent he has provided leadership and support for Dairy Herd Improvement Association programs in both Kent and Sussex counties. He has been an officer of the Kent Conservation District, and served five years on the New Castle ASCS county committee. He is an ex-officio member of the Kent County ASCS committee, and a member of the board of directors of the Delaware State Fair.

Besides supervising the dairy, beef and sheep divisions each year he has worked closely with 4-H and FFA youth programs at the Fair.

Woodward is a founding member and past president of the University of Delaware Agricultural Alumni Assoc-

Letter to the Editor

Dear Citizens of Harrington:

Well, we've survived another Heritage Day, and I believe God compromised with the farmers - rain for them and sunshine for us! Many people showed up regardless of the weather, to cheer on a runner, stroll through the crafts show, and as the weather improved, through the flea market and open houses.

Last year I wrote that so many people behind the scenes of Heritage Day would never be thanked, and some not even known. Even that would be a tremendous understatement this year. However, as a beginning I will start with the people on the Heritage Day Committee itself, who has been meeting since March to start the wheels in motion:

Carolyn Poore -- her thoroughness, as usual, made the crafts display at Taylor & Messick the highlight of the day.

Kathy & Steve Dayton -- whose dedication and ingenuity tripled our participation with the car show and allowed the opportunity for more success next year.

Gene Price and his calm stability through rain, politicians, and me for the mucho time and effort setting up the flea market, keeping the Senior Center in his uppermost thoughts and opening his own home to the public.

Bobby Quillen and secretary Rose, who were able to construct the most crowd-pleasing entertainment for any Heritage Day, to date. He also played "M.C."

Jean Knaub and the behind-the-scenes work and dedication that enabled her fellow banking cohorts to hold another successful 10K "Run For The Penny" with minimal effort.

Buck Cahall once again in charge of our opening ceremonies as well as duties of master of ceremonies throughout the parts of the entertainment.

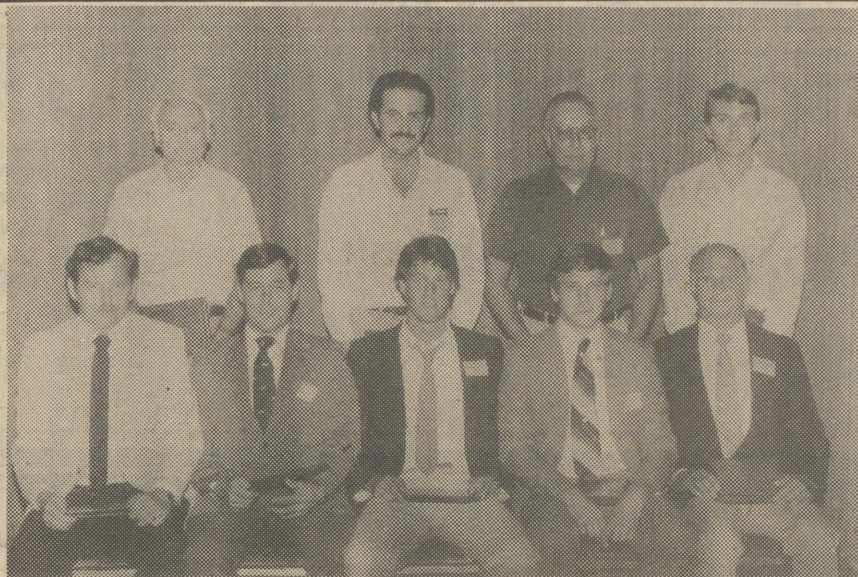

Kenna Adams was the work force behind our first Heritage Day Committee venture to make money selling ice cream.

Ken McKnatt updated and set up our road-side publicity and added many useful hours at meetings.

Jean Miller and Hope Minner serve the committee as secretary and treasurer, respectively. Their help and receivers of "delegated duties" kept the committee on top of every situation, along with the help of Howard Brown representing the American Legion, Grace Welch, the Historical Society, and Charlie Timmons with WAFL-WYUS Radio.

More next week.

POULTRY SUPERVISORS HONORED - Selected by their fellow workers, ten of Delmarva's top flock supervisors [servicemen] were honored at the 1984 Delmarva Broiler Housing and Flock Supervisors' Conference held in Ocean City, Maryland in September. Gerald B. Truitt, Jr., president of Delmarva Poultry Industry, Inc. (DPI), sponsor of this year's conference in cooperation with the Universities of Delaware and Maryland, announced that each company's supervisors, using the same 18-point criteria, selected the man they felt was their company's most outstanding supervisor. Truitt added, "We are pleased to recognize these outstanding, hard working and dedicated people." Flock supervisors are poultry company representatives who regularly visit and advise poultry growers to assist them in producing healthy and profitable flocks. An engraved plaque indicating recognition of dedication and faithful service was presented to each of these supervisors.

Volunteer firefighters from 48 different states and Canada worked on solutions to problems facing the volunteer fire service at Stonebridge III. Stonebridge III -- a workshop for the volunteer fire service was conducted by the National Volunteer Fire Council (NVFC) and sponsored by the Federal Emergency Management Agency, U.S. Fire Administration and National Fire Academy.

"These were all people who left jobs and families for the past four days to help us do some major problem-solving at the National Fire Academy--that's what volunteers are all about," explained NVFC Chairman, E. James Monihan.

J. Allen Methany, Hartly, represented Delaware at Stonebridge III. "The Conference provided an opportunity for me to share our state's volunteer fire programs with people from other states and vice-versa--it was a very valuable experience," Methany said. "Now it's important to keep that flow of ideas moving to the volunteers here," he added.

Stonebridge III continues the tradition of information exchange for the volunteer fire service which began at the 1979 Stonebridge held in Snowmass, Colorado. This original conference was the first time volunteer firefighters from across the country gathered to identify a broad range of problems. At Stonebridge II in 1980, the volunteers specifically defined the problems and set directions for federal programs and services.

However, at Stonebridge III the volunteers had a new challenge--develop a product to help solve the problems they identified at the first two conferences.

The Stonebridge participants tackled issues like fire codes, the image of the volunteer firefighter, public fire prevention education, volunteer training, service levels, personnel, business management and funding.

Major discussion also focused on communication--getting the message to the grassroots level. Therefore, network development strategies were recommended, as well.

"Volunteers represent 80% of the firefighting force protecting our country," Monihan pointed out. Estimates show the volunteer fire service is a million and a half strong.

Stonebridge III was aimed at bringing needed programs and information to each and every one of these volunteers. "Through the hard work of the volunteer firefighters participating in Stonebridge III, Monihan concluded, "we are now a whole lot closer to our goal."

- Brought more insurance companies to Delaware in the past five years than were here the previous 77 years. These insurance companies will have created 1,000 new jobs by 1985.
- More insurance products in the marketplace creating more competition for lower insurance rates. Delaware has the lowest auto insurance rates in all the surrounding states.
- Sponsored Defensive Driving courses attended by 32,000 Delawareans that will save over 1 million dollars on their auto insurance rates.
- Established the most stringent health insurance premium insurance guidelines that have saved Delawareans over $300,000 in premium savings.
- Initiated the largest decrease in workers' compensation rates in Delaware history which resulted in approximately a 10 million dollar savings to the employers of Delaware. This was accomplished by changing the filing procedure which caused more competition in the marketplace.
- Created more model legislation, bulletins and regulations that benefit the consumer during his eight years than in the previous 77 years of the insurance department.

RACEWEEK

Sammy Swindell Sweeps to $19,095 Supernationals Triumph

SYRACUSE, NY - sammy Swindell, recorded the richest victory of his career Saturday by capturing the 63-mile World of Outlaws/Skoal Bandits Shootout Ground Supernationals at the New York State Fairgrounds. Swindell netted $19,095 for his wire-to-wire victory. Swindell's weekend performance also resulted in his 20th Stroh's Challenge Cup race victory of the season. He earned 69 points and extended his year-long Stroh's point lead to 123 markers over Steve Kinser, in the battle for the $10,000 Stroh's top prize.

"The car was set up perfect by Jack (Eckhard, the team's crew chief)," the winner commented in victory lane. "I barely had to drive it, everything was perfect."

The eventual winner pushed the Old Milwaukee Bee 1 in front at the green flag from his second starting berth and was never headed the entire distance. A tire change was the only alteration the crew made to the car during the mid-race fuel stop.

Swindell's 12th WoO/Skoal Bandits Shootout triumph of the season raised his career total to 94. Swindell also captured the 1982 Supernationals event. Adding WoO contingencies to Swindell's winning total were Good-year, Brodix Cam Dynamics and Proformance.

The winner's younger brother Jeff Swindell also earned his richest payoff ever by placing second in the B&L Electric 80. He earned $10,225. The younger Swindell also garnered an extra $2,000 by winning the Syracuse-Oswego Challenge Cup. He finished 11th in his first ever payment ride in Saturday night's Oswego Speedway supermodified feature to claim the Cup.

Brad Doty overcame a 12th lap incident that left him sitting backwards on the front stretch to finish third in the Stanton Racing Shaver Specialties Doty earned $7,500.

Fourth was claimed by Kenny Jacobs in the Rno Auto Parts 4J. Jacobs won $6,000 and finished right behind Doty. Fifth was claimed by Bobby Davis, Jr. in the Gambler Chassis/Gil's Drilling 18. Davis collected $4,500.

Rocky Hodges set a new mile dirt track world record of 26.776 seconds (134,449 mph) in Friday's coleman Pacesetter Award Competition. Sammy Swindell led the entire 15-lap CRC Chemicals winners Classic Friday to earn another $3,000. In Saturday's main, WoO/Skoal Bandits Shootout point leader Steve Kinser finished 28th after retiring with engine difficulties.

NASCAR race driver, Richard Petty appeared recently at a fund-raiser for John Burris at the Georgetown Fire Hall. Burris gave Petty an "honorary Burris For Senate" hat and urged him to wear it in the Dover 500 NASCAR race at Dover Downs. burris is the Republican candidate for U.S. Senate.

Jack Johnson wins Schaefer 200 Classic

SYRACUSE, N.Y. Capping off a season where he won every feature event at Syracuse for Modifieds, Jack Johnson won his second Schaefer 200 in 5 years Sunday as he dominated the field in the 125 mile main event. The Troyer chassis, Hutter powered #12a was the class of the field as he won from the pole position. Second place went to 23 time feature winner in 1984, Carl Collis in his Olsen built, Superior engine powered #12. His strong showing was a bit of a surprise as he has limited racing experience on the tricky one mile surface here.

Surprises continued to be the story in the top 5 finishing positions but not for third place. In third was two time Schaefer winner, Merv Treichler in his Troyer mount powered by a Ron Hutter engine. Treichler has finished in the top 3 for the past 4 years with wins in 1981, and 1982, 2nd last year, and 3rd this year. Tommy Wilson and Ken Johnson had outstanding rides to finish 4th and 5th respectively. Ken Johnson was a first time performer in this race and drove steadily in his Troyer chassis Modified. Wilson has never had a top finish and he ran strong all day. His car was also a Troyer chassis "Mudd Buss".

Defending Champion, Alan Johnson was involved in a lap 20 accident while running 6th and was finished for the day. He did set a new one lap record for the mile with a clocking of 31.764 seconds in time trials on Friday in his new 1985 Show car.

Completing the top ten and earning over $3,000 were Jeff Heetzler, Harold Bunting, Randy Glenski, Charlie Rudolph, and Dave Lape. Heetzler was the only driver to finish in the top ten in both the Modified and the 320 Modified Championship races held Sunday. This in spite of the fact that such top name drivers as Horton, McCreddie, Hoffman, and Pauch. Besides the top 5, he was the only other driver to complete 125 laps.

Official Finish Of The 13th Annual Schaefer 200 U.S. 13 Speedway held 2nd Annual Enduro Race

The Official Finish of the 13th Annual Schaefer 200 is as follows with finish position, starting position, driver, laps, race disposition and earnings: 1, Jack Johnson, 125, running $5,423; 2, Carl Collis, 125, running $16,400; 3, Merv Treichler, 125, running $9,820; 4, 39, Tom Wilson, 125, running $6,700;

5, 13, Ken Johnson, 125, running $5,423; 6, 18, Jeff Heetzler, 125, running $4,470; 7, 32, Harold Bunting, 124, running $3,625; 8, 38, Randy Glenski, 124, running $3,050; 9, 34, Charlie Rudolph, 124, running $5,150; 10, 17, Dave Lape, 124, running $5,150

The second Enduro race for street type cars was held at the US 13 Speedway Saturday night. The 150 lap event saw a record 109 cars take the green from flagman Bill Lawson and after two and one half hours of heated wheel to wheel competition the checkered fell on the #96 Chevy driven by Billy Betts.

Nearly 50 laps were clicked off before the field began to thin out. Several of the competitors are regulars on the half-mile clay but many more were strictly novices. It was these novices that came out on top since only one of the top ten finishers were from the regular stock car ranks.

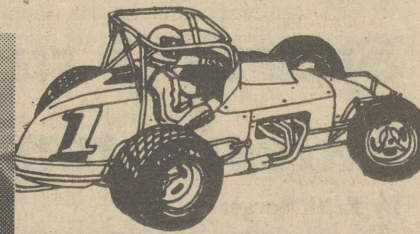

The 150 laps were run with few delays and only two serious accidents. Though the wrecks were heart-stoppers they did not result in injury to the drivers thanks mainly to their adherence to the safety rules. The most spectacular of these was the bone-jarring flip taken by Pat McNeal with only 25 laps to go. McNeal who had led the event in the early going entered the 1-2 turn & had a rear fold under the car. It became airborne and rolled some six times before coming to rest in the second turn. McNeal came out of the car unhurt but his race was over.

Betts got the lead on the restart and he motored to the winner's circle. Finishing second was Tony Steele with John Zimmerman third. Fourth went to Jim Evans, Sr. and fifth was Bill Penuel. The next five spots went to Leon Johnson, the only stock car competitor in the top ten, Phil Murry, Richard White, Bruce Brittingham and Norman Layfield.

...What ever happened to truck racing...

Bunting [19D] shown here at U.S. 13 finished 7th at the 13th Annual Schaefer 200 at Syracuse on Sunday.

Merv Treichler, Danny Johnson, Dave Lape, and Ray Dalmata in a modified feature earlier this year. All showed up for the Schaefer 200 with Treichler the best finisher of this pack.

Horse Show winners announced

The 19th annual State of Delaware 4-H Horse Show was held recently at Holly Glenn Farm in Farmington. The show was sponsored by the University of Delaware Cooperative Extension Service and the Delaware 4-H Horse Advisory Committee.

Winner of the Bea Campbell Perpetual Trophy for most points in showmanship and equitation was Tracy Hastings of Laurel.

In the western horse division, Barkley Shillman of Lewes won the championship, and Jeff Allen, Bridgeville, took the reserve championship.

In the western pony division, Joanna Davis of Newark won the championship. Belinda Schryver, Greenwood, won the reserve championship.

Barkley Shillman won the English horse championship. Sheila O'Dell, Newark, took the reserve championship.

Belinda Schryver rode the champion English pony. Becky Usilton, Newark, rode the reserve champion.

Proceeds from the show will be used to support 1984-85 4-H horse activities.

Local teens win State 4-H honors

Four Sussex County 4-H'ers have been named state winners in the 1984 national 4-H awards program. Janelle Taylor, daughter of John and Barbara Taylor, took the state's top award for her food preservation project. She is a member of the Seaford Blue Jays 4-H Club. Her award was provided by the Kerr Glass Manufacturing Co.

Karina Workman, also of Seaford, won the achievement award, sponsored by the Ford Motor Company Fund. Daughter of John and Ellen Workman, she is a member of the Blue Hen Workers 4-H Club.

Christine Jernigan, daughter of Ronald and Carolyn Jernigan, took the top award for her swine project. Her award was sponsored by the National 4-H Council. Also a Seaford resident she belongs to the Sandy Fields 4-H Club.

Robert Wilson, son of Robert and Barbara Wilson, Georgetown, took top honors for his veterinary science project. He belongs to the Broadkill Kool Kate 4-H Club. His award was

4-H Achievement Banquet held

The 1984 4-H Achievement Banquet was held at Sussex Central High School in Georgetown. The evening was set aside to recognize 4-H'ers and their accomplishments during the year.

Each year several first year 4-H members are recognized for outstanding project work. This year, Melissa Perdue, Michelle Beauchamp and Dean

Vasey of Dublin Hill, and Joe Messick of Sycamore received this award. 4-H'ers who gave a lot of help to our 4-H House Show either by selling ads and/or book work were also recognized. They were Sandy Miller and Michelle Miller of Sandy Fields, Heather Nennstiehl of Wildcats, and

National 4-H Week — October 7-13

Young people throughout Delaware and across the United States are gearing up for 4-H Week, October 7-13. Here in Delaware, 9,400 youngsters and 675 volunteers representing 160 clubs will conduct special programs and activities to commemorate the week. Many clubs are preparing window displays on this year's theme, "Building On Experience." Some will also attend church together.
