Short takes on area news

Accident at Harrington injures two

An accident at 1:30 a.m. on Thursday morning at the intersection of State Route 14 and U.S. 13 (Super Soda) caused injuries to the two occupants. A 1980 Chevrolet 4 wheel drive pickup headed west bound on Rt. 14 left the road and took down two poles...a Delmarva pole and an aluminum pole belonging to Super Soda. George A. Clayton, 36, of Dover Air Force base, the driver was extricated from the vehicle by the Harrington Vol. Fire Co. by use of the Hurst tool. He suffered massive head injuries and is listed in critical condition at the Delaware Division where he was taken by State Police helicopter. He had been first taken to Milford Memorial by the Harrington Ambulance.

A passenger, David P. Adams, 34, of 130 Mechanic St., Harrington was also taken to Milford Memorial where he is listed in serious condition as a result of a broken collar bone and extensive lacerations.

Neither was wearing a seat belt, and alcohol was believed to have been the cause of the accident. Charges are pending in the matter.

Delaware Lottery pays record sum

Someone out there who is still unidentified as we go to press is the holder of the winning ticket in the Delaware Lottery "Lotto" game which paid a record sum on Dec. 18. There is an unconfirmed report that a Smyrna man holds the winning ticket but is waiting for tax advice from his accountant on whether to claim the prize money before or after Jan. 1, 1985.

The lucky winner will receive a Christmas present beyond his greatest expectations—$1,600 a month for life, with a guaranteed payment of at least $400,000.

There was only one winner in the game, which went 11 weeks without a winner, according to Lottery executive director Ralph F. Betch.

The winning number was 6-11-12-15-18-26. A Houston man, Michael Gorski, who had five of the winning numbers won $338.

Delaware ranks 5th in SAT scores

The higher standards set by educators for themselves and their students over the past few years are apparently paying off, according to a report released by Education Secretary T.H. Bell.

Thirty-two states showed improvements in test scores, and only 10 states showed declines.

The Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) and the American College Testing (ACT) program are the major college entrance tests.

Delaware ranked fifth among the states using the SAT as the major criterion of learning.

The top five states were New Hampshire, Minnesota, Vermont, Connecticut, and Delaware respectively.

Fourteen states have established a pay system based on performance to reward their best teachers, which was earnestly recommended by the Reagan administration.

A goal of 90 percent high school graduation rate by 1990 has been urged by Reagan and Bell. Only Minnesota (90.7) and North Dakota (94.8) are currently above that mark.

Lake Forest students and teachers give blood

Members of the Blood Bank of Delaware, Inc. who can't give blood themselves had proxies donate blood for them.

The proxies were more than 40 Lake Forest High School students and 15 teachers who each gave a pint of blood at the recent drive at Lake Forest organized by the Student Government Association and adviser Billie Shaffer.

Lake Forest students participated for the first time in the 18-month-old program which encourages students to donate blood.

Before signing up for the drive, the students were visited by blood bank officials who explained the program.

Blood bank requirements were that a student must be at least 17 years old and weigh at least 110 pounds.

State enrollment rises first time in thirteen years

Public school enrollment in Delaware has increased for the first time since 1971, according to reports given to the Board and prepared by the DPI Division of Planning, Research, and Evaluation. Statewide enrollment at the end of Sept., 1984, was reported as 91,767, up by 361 students, over 1983. The Division I unit count, which determines state funds for personnel, increased by 104 units, or nearly 2 per cent, to 5529. Fourteen districts increased their Div. I unit count over 1983, led by Christina, with 46 more units; Red Clay gained 14, and Cape Henlopen, Capital, and Milford each gained 8. Four districts declined in Div. I units, while Delmar held constant. Public school enrollment peaked in Delaware in 1971, when 135,013 students were counted. District enrollments and Div. I unit counts appear at the end of Board Highlights. Nonpublic enrollment statewide fell by 753 students, or 3.2 per cent, to 23,061.

Aliens can apply for permanent resident status

Cuban nationals who entered the United States between April 15 and October 10, 1980, during the Mariel boatlift, are eligible to apply for permanent resident status under a new program in which Catholic Social Services is cooperating with the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service.

The program, authorized by the Cuban Adjustment Act, applies only to Cuban nationals and their Spouses and children. It does not benefit persons from any other country.

The diocesan and community agency is acting as an agent for the United States Catholic Conference Migration & Refugee Service in registering Cubans in Delaware and Maryland who are not U.S. citizens but wish to become

Blades and Peck remember the "Battle of the Bulge"

HARRINGTON. Russell Blades and Tom Peck are brothers-in-law. They served in Europe during WWII. "We were in the Battle of the Bulge...but from what we read in last week's Harrington Journal certainly nothing like John Trump experienced", said Peck with Blades agreeing.

Blades was one of the outfits that was retreating while the Germans were making their break-through and final push in the effort to win the war. "My outfit was stationed around St. Blith", said Blades. He went on to relate that suffered heavy casualties but was one of the outfits spared in the retreat. "The 106th Division was the one which I remember hit the hardest. They had just relieved the Pennsylvania National Guard. Their arrival and exchange marked the height of the push by the Germans. They were slaughtered", related Blades, who still has a hard time talking about it.

Peck who served with the 78th Infantry Division...the Lightning Division...was attached to the 308 Field Artillery Battalion. Peck who trained at Ft. Bragg, N.C. and Camp Pickett, Va. before shipping to Southampton, England on October 13, 1944. The outfit trained for one month in England and crossed the English Channel into France.

For the next month Peck's outfit moved to the north on the border between Belgium and German, and as chance had it was there when the "...breakthrough took place". "We were then assigned to guard the Schwammanuel Dam because our leaders felt that if the Germans blew up the dam...it could cause a flood of the low-lands, which would be disastrous for us". So...Peck's outfit never really felt the blow of the "Battle of the Bulge" but they did receive some of the long range shelling by the Germans with the big gun the Germans had then "Big Bertha" which had a range of 20 miles.

Both Blades and Peck agreed that what saved them was the dense fog. "I have never seen it that foggy anywhere since", said Blades. "You couldn't see anything. So...the Germans could not get their aircraft up, which

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

HARRINGTON — At Tuesday's School Board meeting a resolution was presented to the Board regarding a District wide renovation plan for the existing buildings.

The cost of the program is estimated to be $5.05 million. The expenditure would come about in a three step process.

If the referendum should pass the bonds would be sold on a 20 year term. The floating of the bonds would be separated with one amount for 1985, another for 1986, and the final in 1987. The amounts would be approximately $1.5, $1.7, and approximately $1.9 million.

A meeting is planned by the administration and one board member to determine the priorities of the plan. If the committee decides that the first matter to be attended to is the addition of six new classrooms at East Elementary plus a new boiler as well as the upgrading of the electrical and other matters to the heating system, it is quite possible according to Charles Saulsbury, Director of Buildings and grounds for the District, "...that perhaps...just perhaps no bond issue would be necessary", said Mr. Saulsbury. His reasoning being that the District might have enough money available without the need for a bonding referendum for that first year. The District received $107,000 from the State as a result of the out-of-court settlement with the contractors who were responsible for the defects in the roof at the High School. That, plus an accumulation of tax money which resulted over the years in a surplus has now allowed for a surplus in the fund. This is also topped off with the sharing with the State such as the 60-40 percent sharing by the State with the the referendum is shown in this article. Also the reduction in the over all cost as a result of the surplus and the sharing with the State, the debt now reflects somewhere around $4.5 million as opposed to the $5.05 million. If the referendum is sought for the entire program, the term...complete term would span a period of 22 or 23 years.

The intent of the Administration as well as the School Board is to hold meetings throughout the District in an effort to better get the message over to the general public. It is urged that when these meetings take place in your locale, that you attend and ask questions.

had they done that when they were pushing along...they could have done some real damage", said Blades. When the fog lifted the allied aircraft were ready and the British R.A.F. straffed the Germans very effectively.

That ended the Germans for all practical purposes as being a formidable opponent in the War. Peck's outfit...the 78th Infantry Division then

The two later joined up after the war in Germany. Peck became one of the G.I.'s who occupied Germany and rose to the rank of 1st Sergeant. Unemployment drops in Delaware, Maryland

The Delaware unemployment rate in October 1983 was 6.8 percent. During the same period in 1984 it dropped to 5.5 percent. Maryland dropped from a 5.9 rate in October 1983 to 5.4 percent in October 1984.

Although jobless rates are declining in most states, four states still show unemployment rates above 10 percent, according to a Labor Department report.

The highest unemployment rate in the nation was recorded in West Virginia where 16 percent of the civilian work force is jobless, the report said. Ranking second and third in the jobless rate are Alabama which reports 10.7 percent without jobs and Mississippi with 10.6 percent unemployed.

Despite business improvements in the auto industry, the industrial state of Michigan had a 10.1 percent jobless rate after dropping under double figures for the first time in two years with 9.8 percent in September.

Is This Justice or a joke?

by William T. Ficka
Blane L. Warfle, 28, of Laurel, still languishes in a jail cell at Sussex Correctional Institution near Georgetown despite the tireless efforts of his attorney, assistant public defender Karl Haller.

The Harrington Journal told the story of Warfle's plight in its Oct. 31 issue. Warfle appears to be the victim in a comedy of errors that began on May 10 when he was scheduled to appear in Magistrate Court No. 3 in Georgetown for a 60 day extension hearing.

According to Magistrate Court records Warfle did in fact appear on that date.

But Warfle contends he never left the prison that day.

"I was never brought to court on May 10," said Warfle. "I don't know who they brought in but it wasn't me."

According to Warden John Ellingsworth the records at SCI support Warfle's contention that he never left the prison on May 10.

Almost five months later, on Oct. 3, at a habeas corpus hearing in Superior Court in Georgetown, the state conceded that Warfle had never been brought to court on May 10.

Haller was given this information five minutes before the hearing began.

Judge Abigail Truitt doesn't know who appeared before her on that day.

"All I can say is someone answered to that name in court," Truitt said.

Cross-examined by Haller at the habeas corpus hearing, Truitt was asked if the hearing took place in the courtroom.

"No, in the front of the court," she answered.

"This is the waiting area, so to speak?" asked Haller.

"That's correct," Truitt replied.

"Did the person say anything? Did he say I'm Blane Warfle or did he just sit there and look up when the name was called?" asked Haller.

"I can't remember the specifics..." Truitt answered.

Another error in this endless fiasco, according to Haller, was made in the commitment papers which "were filled in in blank to be completed some days later."

Warfle was originally committed to SCI on Feb. 13 on Delaware charges of burglary and theft. These charges were dropped on April 12 after it was discovered that Warfle was out of state at the time of the alleged burglary and theft.

A detainer from Georgia had been lodged against him on Feb. 13 for violation of parole. He had served more than three years in a Georgia jail on burglary and auto theft charges. He had left Georgia without permission when his mother in Laurel was undergoing surgery.

When Delaware charges were dropped on April 12, he was then arrested on the fugitive warrant.

Haller contends that the State should have acted on the detainer promptly instead of waiting 56 days. This, along with the State's failure to bring Warfle to court on May 10 amounts to a "manipulation of the justice process."

The errors continued to mount when there wasn't any bond set at either the first or second hearing, according to Haller.

But this is not the end. The comedy continues as Truitt writes Haller saying Warfle waived extradition. The copies "should be available from the SCI records department." Warden Ellingsworth says there are no such copies. Truitt concedes she was mistaken.

A governor's extradition warrant from Georgia was filed on May 4 and a governor's extradition warrant from Delaware was executed on May 25.

On June 10 Warfle was released on bond and rearrested on July 9 by Delaware State Police on the governor's warrant.

"I was out on bond on that. How can they arrest me on the same charge for which I'm out on bail?" asked Warfle.

Warfle's defense contends that when the governor's warrant was executed on May 25 it was already 12 days past the 90 days allowed for extradition under the Uniform Criminal Extradition Act.

On Oct. 3 Superior Court Judge Claud Tease denied the habeas corpus.

On Oct. 12 Justice John J. McNeilly, Supreme Court of Delaware, granted a stay pending an appeal.

Deputy Attorney General Gary A. Myers, Esq. wrote a letter to McNeilly saying that the stay was not proper, according to Haller.

abuses that have occurred as regards Blane," said Haller.

The American Civil Liberties Union Delaware has shown an interest in the case.

Joan L. Rosenthal, executive director of ACLU Delaware, wrote a letter dated Dec. 10 to Angelo Falasca, Esq., Chief Deputy, Office of the Public Defender, saying, "I would appreciate the opportunity to discuss the case with you and see if there is anything, in your opinion, that we can do to resolve

Perspective

McNeilly replied to Myers in a letter dated Oct. 24 saying, "It is obvious you can bring this matter to an immediate head by filing an appropriate formal motion supported by a memorandum which would be given prompt consideration by a panel of the Justices. Until that is done, however, your letters have no value."

On Dec. 6 Haller filed an opening brief and appendix in which he cites numerous precedents supporting his arguments.

"The State of Delaware now has to file an answering brief. After that the Supreme Court will make a decision in this. I certainly hope they don't ignore it." According to Francis C. Smith, Court Liaison Officer, Georgia Department of Offender Rehabilitation, Warfle has "7 months and 14 days left to serve on his sentence from the date parole is permanently revoked."

Warfle has already served more than 10 months in SCI.

Judge Claud Tease said at the habeas corpus hearing, "He should get credit for all the time in Delaware."

To which we say "Amen."

Delaware authorities have it within their power to give Blane L. Warfle the best Christmas present of all—his freedom.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir:

I very much appreciate the continued support that the Harrington Journal has extended to Delaware Crime Stoppers. People in the Harrington area have provided information on several serious crimes, one of which is currently under investigation. The crimes solved in your area have resulted, in part, from information supplied to Crime Stoppers.

For your information, callers have helped solve 177 crimes statewide with 113 arrests, while nearly one-quarter of a million dollars in property and narcotics recovered.

On another note, I hope that the large black cat will remain safe but be identified. I look forward to each new report. Again, thanks for your support.

Sincerely,
Sam McKeeman

The Division of Historical and Cultural Affairs for the museums employee's and retiree's held their Christmas dinner and exchange of gifts at the home of Sherman and Jeannie Tribbett, Hazel Road, Dover, on Monday, 17th. As we arrived we were given a tour of their home, more beautiful than words can express. The huge Christmas tree, which Sherman strung the lights and Jeannie trimmed the tree, it took the whole day of trimming, but oh so beautiful. The covered dish dinner was so delicious with ham and turkey, the table was beautiful. Every room in their home was beautifully decorated. The weather was warm so we enjoyed dinner by the fire-places. The exchange of lovely gifts which everyone enjoyed. All together once more made a very delightful evening.

Georgia Garton had a beautiful display of several items to show the senior citizens at Harrington. She taught us how to make a beautiful Christmas wreath and made a corn-husk angel and placed it on the Christmas tree. She was very entertaining and is willing to accept an invitation to return in January.

The Knit Wit Craft Club will not be having any meetings until Jan. 1985 as this week will be our Christmas dinner and gift exchange.

The bus left the Viola U.M. Church for a trip to Millsboro to see the display of Christmas. The display consisted of five families all in a line of quite a distance showing scenes of the Nativity, elves working, snowmen, Santa Clause, many animals in life-size and everything was animated. It was a setting you could walk through and all the settings were in buildings with glass enclosures. The decorated trees and homes were beautiful. We stopped on the return trip at MacDonalds for a treat—arriving back to Viola at 9:15 p.m. HoHoHo! Guess what, we saw Santa kissing Mrs. Santa Claus. "Merry Christmas and try to be mindful of others needs."

Sunday worship service 9:30 p.m. Sunday school for all ages following the worship service. Rev. Kyle N. Smith, Minister.

Last Sunday's message was "Christ Brings Love". The choir sang "Song of the Angels."

Another poinsettia was added by Anna Hammond in loving memory of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Williams and Clifford Hammond. Don't forget the Children's Christmas program at the church on Sunday, the 23rd at 3:00 p.m. and the Christmas evening candle-lighting service at 11:00 p.m. Christmas eve.

The program, "Celebrate a Country

Church Christmas", held at Griffith's Chapel, Williamsville, Sunday evening was held to a standing room only audience. The church was beautifully decorated even to the cedar Christmas tree with some homemade decorations. The kerosene lamps and canles shown a warm glow on all the participants. It was truly a very inspirational performance.

Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Parvis and Miss Connie Parvis attended a celebration and Sunday honoring the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Johnson of Milford.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Simpson and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Webb attended a dinner at the Coral Reef, Little Creek, given by Mr. Walton Simpson for his past and present employees.

The Delaware Chapter of Mother's Against Drunk Drivers presented memorial awards Dec. 11, 1984 to individuals honoring their efforts combating the drunk driving program in Delaware, during 1984. Each award was named in memory of a victim of a crash from drunken driving. The Martin A. Phillips memorial award, presented by the parents of a 22 year old man, who died during August 1980, was given to Houston Mayor Connie K. Morgan "for assuring swift and certain loss of license for Driving Under the Influence offenders". Morgan is senior Clerk of the Revocation section of the Delaware Division of Motor Vehicles in Dover.

What Christmas Is
Christmas is a lighted tree,
A candle and a star.
Christmas is a stable where the waiting shepherds are.
Christmas is a carol sung in frosty winter air,
An angel's wings, a manger bed,
And God's love cradled there.
May the warmth and love that surrounds us at Christmas time fill all your hearts with joy and shed radiance over the year that lies ahead.

Boy Scout News

Boy Scout Troop 141 were on a campout the 15th and 16th of Dec. Their campsite was located on Drapers Farm near Corsey's Pond. The boys had to carry their own food and also had to prepare their own meals. It was a rewarding and very knowledgeable trip. Any boy between the ages of 11 and 18 who would like to join our troop, may call Mr. Fred Biggs at 284-3714. The troop meets every Tuesday night at Felton Fire Hall at 7:00 p.m.

Senior Center

Thank all volunteers very much for your kindness during the year. Smile Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men. Luke 11:14.

Jolly Timers were in full swing Tuesday with Sylvia Meredith at the piano and "Andy" Anderson directing. The Christmas music is so inspiring and some very catchy tunes. I just plain like Christmas music. While I'm on the topic of Christmas, did you see "The Christmas Carol" with George C. Scott? My, I did enjoy that program. Also, Christmas in Washington in my estimation was a "worth looking at" show. It was nice having the Seniors of L.F. with us on Tues. Singing, serving and joining in the fun.

Senior Sounds Wednesday was truly a lovely day to be listening to our Seniors. Oh my, it does my heart good to hear the Christmas Carols and the Old time Country songs. Oh me, when Christmas is over I wish every once in a while they would sing "Silver Bells", and "Deck The Halls". I just love those songs along with "Silent Night".

Those participating in the Jolly timers and/or Senior Sounds were Keith Burgess, Andy Anderson, Russell Legates, Tony Perrone, Louis Gerardi, Elwood Morris, Marion Brown, Oletha Rinaldi, Ola Tildon, Mildred Vincent, Lola O'Day, Annabel Morrow, Lillie McBride, Amy Poynter, Mammie Adams, Gladys Hill, Virginia Smith, Mary Sapp, Anna Mae Short, Etzel McCready, Thelma Legates, Martha Porter, Frances Wright, Marie Wheeler, Sylvia and Cecil Meredith.

There was so much going on at the Birthday party. Dave didn't get to show the movie so he presented it Wednesday in the dining room. While in the "Parlor", Georgia Garton was demonstrating crafts to be made. They were fascinated and she presented them so well. A little late for Christmas this year but she surely gave you lots of things to think about for Spring Bazaar or just for home enjoyment. The apple cake that we had for lunch Wed. was delicious, really tasted homemade.

Jeannette Legates and Barbara Evans will assist you in just about any craft you are interested in. They have made some lovely, cute, useful things. Some still available. Ceramics are about gone, Christmas things, that is.

Know the Penns Landin Cruise will be something different. The folk leave the Center at 10:00 a.m. A grand way to begin the Christmas vacation we at the Center will indulge in Bingo. Some will go Bowling at Milford Lanes. Pop's—Our Dast Driver will take those who want to go—local shopping. Pool will continue as always.

Then comes Friday, if you were not present, well I feel sorry—for it is always a festival—grand time for all—a scrumptious dinner, served by the men—tables beautifully set, friends chatting, laughing—meeting new folk. Such subjects as Christmas pasts—"Remember when we had to go to Mom's house in a durbin and horses—with the children all wrapped up snug as a bug in a rug. Sometimes we would heat bricks to put in the horse and buggy to help heat it up, remember?" Remember when all we got for Christmas was a plate with an orange—apple—candy (usually hard toy candy) and one toy or book, but my we always had lots of good eats and all of the family used to come, wasn't it grand and we kids, oh, goodness we had fun—sliding down the stair bannister, popping corn and listening to the old folks talk. Remember?"

Hope your Christmas is merry and your New Year will be Healthy—Prosperous and Happy.

Make a New Years resolution to come to the Center—you will be glad you did. Faith.

Christmas is here and so am I—with a warm and friendly holiday "Hi"—Merry Christmas! And a Happy New Year too.

Well—wow—What a sensation the 10:45 a.m. rattle and shake. The house really shook and the windows rattled like crazy. Sonic Boom I guess. Maybe someone will announce the cause before I finish this short note.

Wednesday the Ladies Auxiliary of The Delaware Hospital for the Chronically Ill held their regular monthly meeting and in the fine holiday spirit. We joined the staff for luncheon and their chorus entertained us during the meal.

Gab Fest by Pat Hatfield

Now we are coming in on the home stretch with all banners flying. I finished the last batch of cookies this morning and tomorrow I shall pack the gift boxes and wrap the last-minute gifts and then I shall sit there for five minutes and allow myself a wee smug smile. But then it will hit me that there will be the rolls to make and the pumpkin pies and the apple pies for our Teddy who is expected home on leave this Thursday. Each day I am thrilled with gratitude for this blessed time in my life and I know that each day given to us is a precious gift to use and enjoy.

I've always heard it said that older people do not need as much sleep. Again I think that this is an individual thing. I never did need much sleep and always resented the hours I had to give to it. Even now I am not really ready to sleep until 1:30 or so and I am up and ready to go at 6:30 in the morning. On the other hand, Dad needs a lot of sleep and enjoys sleeping in now that he can do so at 85.

In these times, Christmas cannot be all joy. My heart aches when I think of those children in other lands who are starving and I'm sure many of you feel this concern. But we feel so helpless. The problem is too big. How did we, as a people, allow this situation to build up? We worry as some child we know cannot get a Cabbage Patch doll or some special toy, but over there children are hurting so bad they have no strength to cry.

Mr. and Mrs. George Davidson Sr. and Kenny from Magnolia were dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kirkman in Camden on Sunday celebrating their traditional holiday get-together.

57 Kent County Firemen attended the dinner meeting held at the Frederica Fire House Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Mary Purnell guest for Sunday Christmas were Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Payne and daughter Cindy of Newark, DE. Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ropka and Butch Masten. Mary's brother Nelson was guest soloist for the Sunday morning worship service at Trinity Church, accompanied on the piano by his wife Doris. It is always a great treat to have them perform for us.

Santa Claus arrived at the Frederica Adult Center Wednesday to greet the members and guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Teleford Rager are proud Grand-Parents, the Grand Baby a happy baby boy, Eric James—to the proud parents Mr. and Mrs. Pete Rager—Mrs. Rager the former Diane Rawding of Felton. Best wishes to all. May God Bless.

Just received our Christmas card from Reykiavik, Iceland from our Salvation Army friends of 40 years. Their name is Jonsson—the greeting comes in Icelandic as well as English. As soon as Rod receives the card he always starts planning for a trip there—we were to go last summer, but things didn't work out that way so maybe it will be "85".

The Christmas Dinner was well attended at noon Thursday the 20th at the Frederica Adult Center. Hopefully, next year we will have our new addition to the Center, so all of you keep coming and we will have a great year.

To all that are ill wherever they might be our prayers and best wishes, May God Bless.

When the papers made an early deadline for us due to the holidays, I replied that it would be difficult to gather the social news. Of course the Gab Fest I get out of my head (which is always full of bits of nonsense). The papers suggested that I find out what our towns folk are expecting to do, but I find them hard to get up with. I think they are out Christmas shopping. We have presented our Christmas Cantata last Sunday evening at Greenwood United Methodist Church, and it was lovely and well attended. Mr. and Mrs. Allison Davis are expecting their son, The Rev. William A. Davis and family of Cleveland, Tenn. for the holidays. Miss Cindy Davis will be home from the University of Delaware to spend the holidays with the Davis family.

Harness Racing Short takes

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

Fancy Crown named 1984 Harness Horse of the Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Fancy Crown, the fastest female trotter of all-time with world records on three different sized tracks, has been selected as the Harness Horse of the Year for 1984.

She was followed in the voting by a pair of pacing colts, the three-year-old, On The Road Again, and the two-year-old, Nihilator.

Fancy Crown thoroughly dominated the filly division, then took on the colts with success, including a victory in the Kentucky Futurity, the third leg of Trotting's Triple Crown.

Fancy Crown won 13 of her 21 starts, adding four second place finishes and a pair of thirds. She earned $701,189. Her clocking of 1:53.4 equals the fastest trotting mile in history, regardless of age or sex.

Fancy Crown came to the forefront of her division in early August, when she won the $354,000 Hambletonian Oaks. That race marked the first occasion that William O'Donnell, the nation's leading driver, had been in the sulky behind her.

Two weeks later at The Illinois State Fair in Springfield, Fancy Crown demolished the single dash and two-heat world records for females, winning the first heat in 1:55.3, then coming back in the second heat to score in 1:53.4. The latter victory equaled the fastest trotting mile ever, performed just a day earlier by Cornstalk.

On September 20, the daughter of top trotting sire Speedy Crown won the Buckette for three-year-old fillies at Delaware, Ohio in 1:57.1. That is the fastest mile in history by a female trotter on a half-mile track and is second only to Nevele Pride's 1:56.4 record that has long been considered "unbeatable", similar to Joe DiMaggio's 56 game hitting streak in baseball.

When she took on the colts in the Kentucky Futurity, Fancy Crown won in straight heats in 1:56 and 1:55.4.

Fancy Crown breezed to victory in the $365,000 breeders Crown, the richest race ever for three-year-old filly trotters. She closed out her 1984 campaign with a 1:57.4 victory at Pompano Park. This was yet another world record, making her the fastest trotting female in history on mile, five-eighths, and half-mile tracks.

Fancy Crown is trained by Ted Andrews for the Fancy Crown Stable of Archbold, Ohio. The owners consist of the filly's breeders, Dale and Floyd Miller of Archbold, plus prominent Pennsylvania breeder Max Hempt and his sons George and Gerald.

Fancy Crown becomes the sixth trotting female to be named Harness Horse of the Year, the most recent having been Delmonica Hanover in 1974.

Top Pacers of 1984 selected

On The Road Again, set a single season record for earnings by a harness horse of 1,751,695 and has been named the "Pacer of the Year" in the annual U.S. Trotting - U.S. Harness Writers' Association poll.

In addition to On The Road Again and runner-up Nihilator in the voting, the pacing division winners are Amneris, 2-year-old filly; Naughty But Nice, 3-year-old filly; Mr. Dalrae, aged horse; and Green With Envy, aged mare.

On The Road Again, early in the year, won the Goudreau Memorial in California, then traveled East where he captured the Cane Pace at Yonkers and the $1,293,000 Meadowlands Pace at The Meadowlands.

Nihilator set a world record of 1:52.4 for two-year-old colts with his victory in the $2,161,000 Woodrow Wilson Pace. Nihilator won 12 of his 13 starts, with record earnings for a two-year-old of $1,361,367.

Amneris is the fastest two-year-old filly of all-time, taking a record of 1:53.1 at Springfield, IL. She concluded her season in this closely competitive division with a victory in the Breeders Crown.

Naughty But Nice became the first pacing female to surpass the $1 million in career earnings, winning $789,165 this year to set a single season record for pacing fillies. She set world records on both five-eighths and half-mile tracks.

Mr. Dalrae, a half brother of 1973 Harness Horse of the Year Sir Dalrae, collected stakes wins from coast to coast. Among his 18 victories were two legs of the U.S. Pacing Championship. The five-year-old horse had seasonal earnings of $467,525.

Green With Envy thoroughly dominated the aged pacing mare division at The Meadowlands, winning 16 of 22 open paces for mares at the nation's biggest harness track. The leading money-winner among mares in 1984, the four-year-old earned $240,505.

The fighter had taken a few punches too many. When his behavior became erratic he was sent to a psychiatrist. Another ex-fighter was in the waiting room with him.

"What's the idea of allowing a man like that in your waiting room," he complained to the psychiatrist.

"Why, was he giving you any trouble?"

"No, it's not that, but that guy is crazy," said the disturbed fighter. "He keeps looking around and saying 'No lions, no tigers, no elephants'—and all the time I was waiting, the room was full of them."

Knute Rockne, Notre Dame's famous coach, was introduced to Heywood Broun, the well-known columnist for the New York World.

"I'm glad I finally met you," exclaimed Rockne. "I never miss one of your columns in the Journal."

"I really appreciate that, Mr. Rockne," said Broun, with a straight face. "And I never miss a one of your Yale basketball games."

Recent interview with Cale Yarborough on Ford

Reprinted from "Quick Times by Ford"

With 81 NASCAR victories, three NASCAR Winston Cup championships and more than $4 million in purses to his credit, it's hard to believe Cale Yarborough once seriously considered giving up racing.

Happily, he didn't quit, and the reason involves Ford. Yarborough was struggling with a racing career in the 1960s, and the outlook didn't look bright. He was ready to quit racing and concentrate on something more profitable, like farming or logging, businesses in which he was involved at the time.

But, before he could quit, Yarborough had an offer from John Holman to move to Charlotte, N.C., to do "odd jobs" in the Holman and Moody Ford shops and wait for a ride to come along. When it came — a ride in a Banjo Matthews factory Ford — it was all the break Yarborough needed.

He moved to the Wood Brothers team in 1967 and recorded a total of 10 superspeedway victories before Ford withdrew from the sport in 1970.

In 1985, Yarborough will be "coming home" to Ford, driving a Thunderbird prepared by his team manager and crew chief, Waddell Wilson, who also began his career with Fords, building engines for Holman and Moody in the 60s.

Here, Yarborough talks about his early days in racing and getting back to Ford in 1985.

QT: What was your first racing experience?

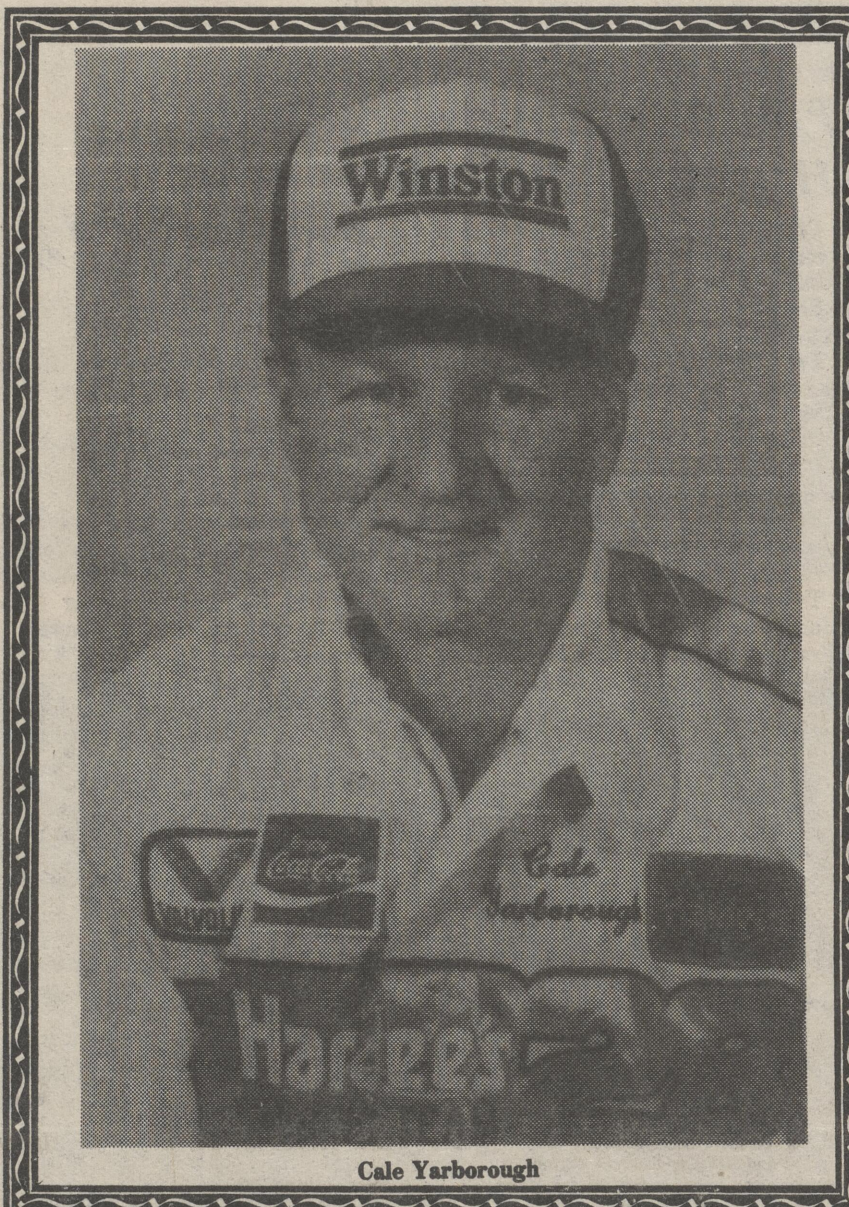

Yarborough: I started at the bottom of the racing world, in a soapbox derby when I was 10 years old. I built my first race car when I was 15 and ran it on local dirt tracks. I just kept graduating from there to longer tracks and paved tracks. I ran the Southern 500 in Darlington when I was 17. That's when things started turning around. People started noticing and offering me better rides.

QT: Is it true that you started off sweeping floors at the Holman and Moody shop?

Yarborough: Sure did. I ran a Grand National car, off and on, but my real break came when I went to work for Holman and Moody. When a ride became available, I was there and got it.

QT: You were threatening to quit racing just before that. Why was that?

Yarborough: I was in the farming business, in the logging business, playing semipro football and racing, all at the same time. I was doing too many things. I was weighing them out to see which way I should go. At that time, the racing future didn't look as bright as I wanted. So I threatened to quit and go fulltime into something I could make a living at. At the time, Jacques Passino was the head of Ford racing. He gave me the opportunity to drive a Ford, and that's where I really got started. That was a great time, I won a lot of races and I enjoyed my association with the Ford people. One of the biggest highlights of that period was winning the Southern 500 in 1968 on the old Darlington racetrack. That was the last race they ran on it before they changed the racetrack.

Cale Yarborough

I feel if I had gone through my racing career without winning at Darlington on the old track I would definitely have missed something.

QT: These days, you are not driving the full NASCAR Winston Cup schedule. Would you ever want to race for the championship again?

Yarborough: Never again. I just don't have time for it anymore. I've got a big farming operation, two automobile dealerships, six Hardee's restaurants, a Goodyear service center, three dry cleaners and several other businesses I'm involved in.

QT: What does it mean to you to be back in a Ford?

Yarborough: I'm pleased to be back in a Ford. I feel we'll be good for each other, and I think we can win races in a Ford. With the help of Waddell Wilson's experience and background in building Ford engines, we should have an extremely good team. I feel we can do a lot of development work for Ford and help them with their future in racing.

Volusia County Speedway

1985 Speedweeks World Series of Dirt Racing has attracted major sponsors; Howells Racing Fuel, San Antonio, Texas, Gambler Chassis, Hendersonville, Tennessee, McCreary Tire Company, Indiana, Pennsylvania and Fel-Pro, Chicago, Illinois. The early opening of Volusia County Speedway February 2 & 3 for Sprints and a $5,000.00 to win came about from many phone calls from Sprinters all over the United States.

Race fans will be delighted with the Northern Modifieds, Stars Late Models, with added attractions, Street Stocks and Cyclones.

Richard Murphy, president of Ri.Mi.-Pa. Inc., has made many major changes at Volusia County Speedway, adding a new office building, VIP area, concessions and rest room facilities for the convenience of race fans and race participants.

Elliott getting closer to that elusive Winston Cup

The 1984 NASCAR Winston Cup season ranks, obviously, as the best of Bill Elliott's young career.

In only his second full year on the 30-race Winston Cup Circuit, Elliott posted one of the most impressive records of the year.

The 29-year-old redhead from Dawsonville, Ga., nicknamed "Huck Finn" by his fellow competitors, raced his Coors/Melling Ford Thunderbird to three victories, 13 top-five finishes and 24 among the top 10 in 1984. Only one driver, Darrell Waltrip with seven, had more victories and none posted more top-10 finishes.

Furthermore, Elliott captured four pole positions and earned the $25,000 Busch Pole Award. He tied Waltrip, fellow Ford driver Ricky Rudd and Cale Yarborough with four poles apiece, but won the prestigious Busch Award for finishing higher than the others in Winston Cup standings.

His earnings total $529,708 — easily his career high — which doesn't include his take from NASCAR's post-season fund.

"We went for the championship," said Elliott in his familiar Georgia drawl. "That, of course, is why we ran the entire schedule. Even though we didn't win it, we still had a very good year. The crew really worked hard and put together a really competitive Thunderbird. I was very pleased with the overall performance we got from the car."

"I think we made some great strides this year. We won three times where we won only once last year. If we keep up this pace we'll be in the thick of the 1985 championship chase. I'm really looking forward to next season and the opener in Daytona (the Feb. 17 Daytona 500)."

Elliott's victories came in the June 17 Miller High Life 400 at Michigan International Speedway, the Oct. 7 Miller High Life 500 at Charlotte (N.C.) Motor Speedway — "Those Miller races were right good for our Coors team," he said — and the Oct. 21 Hodgdon American 500 at North Carolina Motor Speedway in Rockingham, N.C.

His poles came at Michigan twice (the second for the Aug. 12 Champion Spark Plug 400), the July 22 Like Cola 500 at Pocono, Pa., and the Nov. 11 Atlanta Journal 500 at Atlanta International Raceway.

"That Atlanta pole was the one that eventually put us over the top," said Elliott. "It was our fourth of the year and it came one race before the final show at Riverside. Talk about good timing..."

Elliott's showing was the best among Ford drivers during the '84 Winston Cup campaign. But another competitor Rudd, made his share of the news.

Driving the Bud Moore-prepared Wrangler Thunderbird, Rudd was one of the hottest competitors during the early part of the season and made a spectacular comeback from a serious wreck to earn the respect of peers and fans alike.

In the Feb. 12 Busch Clash at Daytona International Speedway, Rudd was involved in a frightening one-car accident in which his Thunderbird flipped several times before coming to rest at the exit of the high-banked fourth turn. Rudd was battered and bruised but still managed to run the Daytona 500 a week later, finishing a very respectable seventh.

Then the following week in the Miller High Life 400 at Richmond (Va.) Fairgrounds Raceway, Rudd, still very sore and armed with protective padding around his ribs and abdomen, pulled off his lone victory of the season in storybook fashion.

"If anyone ever had any doubts that the kid wasn't tough, they were erased at Richmond," said car owner Moore.

But the season cooled down for the 28-year-old Rudd, a resident of Chesapeake, Va. A series of engine problems plagued his Wrangler team, which made finishing races a problem. Still, Rudd wound up the '84 campaign in seventh place in the Winston Cup point standings with one win, seven top-five finishes, 16 among the top 10 and four pole positions. His earnings totaled $417,875 before inclusion of post-season funds.

"Well, it was a good year overall, but obviously it could have been better," said Rudd. "We started out so well and then had our problems. But we began to overcome them in the latter part of the year and I think we should be in very good shape for '85."

Rudd will again race for Moore's Spartanburg, S.C., team with a new sponsor.

Donlavey/Chameleon Sunglasses Thunderbird driver Dick Brooks wound up 15th in the Winston Cup point standings with one top-five finish and five among the top 10. Kyle Petty came home in 16th place in the standings with one top-five finish and six among the top 10 in his 7-Eleven Thunderbird.

Buddy Baker ended his association with the Wood Brothers/Valvoline Thunderbird team with four top-five finishes and 12 among the top 10 in 21 races.

In 1985, Petty moves behind the wheel of the Woods Thunderbird, which will carry No. 7 and the sponsorship of 7-Eleven.

"I am very excited about that," said Petty. "Now at last I will have a chance to do nothing but drive the car to the best of my abilities. The Woods prepare some of the best cars around — all you have to do is look at their record — and I feel they will give me the best opportunity I've had to show what I can do."

Top Trotters of 1984 selected

Columbus, Ohio — Fancy Crown, selected as the "Harness Horse of the Year," has also been named as the "Trotter of the Year" in the annual U.S. Trotting Association — U.S. Harness Writers' Association poll.

Fancy Crown, who shares the title of World Champion as the fastest trotter in history, set world records on mile, five-eighths mile, and half-mile tracks in 1984. The other winners of the trotting divisions are Workaholic, 2-year-old colt; Davida Hanover, 2-year-old filly; Baltic Speed, 3-year-old colt; Spunky Byron, aged horse; and Quick Trip, aged mare.

Workaholic won 9 of his 15 starts, including the season finale Breeders Crown. The colt earned $376,224 for his owners, The Workaholics of Ocean City, Maryland.

Davida Hanover captured 12 of her 13 starts. Among her victories was the $595,750 Merrie Annabelle at The Meadowlands. Davida's only miscue came in her division's Breeders Crown. She rebounded by setting a world record for a five-eighths mile track and a single season earnings record for a freshman trotting filly of $525,718.

Baltic Speed repeats as a champion, having been named the top two-year-old trotting colt in 1983. With his victories this year in several rich stakes, including the Yonkers Trot, the World Trotting Derby, and the Breeders Crown, Baltic Speed established a new single season earnings record for trotters of $1,062,611. Spunky Byron recorded 16 victories, including a streak of 12 wins in 13 starts. The five-year-old gelding collected $213,880.

Quick Trip trotted to a world record for aged mares on a half-mile track of 1:57.4 at Delaware, Ohio. The four-year-old earned $126,085.
