For the past several weeks, a lot of paper work has gone into this request by developer Phil McGinnis of Alpha Realty of Realty World. The real estate firm is owned by Phil's father former Lt. Gover. James McGinnis.

The shopping center is proposed for that area south of Hardee's Restaurant which lies between both the north and south bound lanes of US 13.

UDAG (Urban Development Action Grant). The grant will be an outright gift to the City...which the City does not have to pay back. The other side of this "plum" is the fact the City gets all the interest due under the grant. This is all done without mirrors or magic wands...just purely legal.

The Council adopted the resolution to apply for the grant so that they could get in under the January 31st deadline...otherwise it would be a wait until May until another application could be

"We already have an ordinance governing this...and there has been no relief from that. Another ordinance is not the answer", he said. The Council approved a personnel request for salary increase. James Cooper, the Street Foreman, was given a raise from an annual salary of $12,084.80 to $13,062.40. The increase is approximately $1,000. The Council also heard a report from City Manager, George Volenick and Chief of Police, Carl McIlroy regarding parking only on one side of the street...at Mechanic (either side), Wolcott...no parking on the north side, and Ward St. no parking on the east side.

The voting on the proposal was tabled by Councilman Gagne for want of more information. # George Simpson dies

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

HOUSTON, DE. - George C. Simpson, General Manager of the Delaware State Fair and Harrington Raceway died from a heart attack Saturday morning at his rural Houston home. Mr. Simpson was 74.

Since 1940, George Simpson and the "Fair" have been extremely close, for it was at that time he was appointed Superintendent of the Swine and Cattle Departments at the Fair. He was named to the Fair Board of Directors in 1945, and to the Executive Committee in 1952 to fill the vacancy created by the death of Clayton Elliott of Bridgeville.

In August of 1961, Mr. Simpson became the fourth General Manager in the history of the Fair. Britt Halloway was the General Manager before Mr. Simpson. Halloway died in July of 1961 prior to the Fair that year. The Fair that year had no General Manager, for Mr. Simpson was appointed to this position in August of 1961 immediately following the Fair. The two preceeding General Managers were Mrs. Ernest (Ethel) Raughley (1951-1961) and the first General Manager. Ernest Raughley (1920-1951). The original holders of the position were called "Secretaries". Mr. Simpson's slow, home spun disposition about him quickly put

Trooper and K-9 injured in crash

Trooper First Class David Pulling, of Troop 3, and his K-9, Judge, were injured in a single vehicle crash on county route 384 at 10:00 p.m. Sat. night.

Trooper Pulling was attempting to overtake two vehicles which had committed traffic violations on U.S. 13 south of Felton. The two cars turned from U.S. 13 east onto county route 384 and travelling at 75 m.p.h. Two miles east of U.S.

13, one violator lost control on the snow and ice-covered roadway and ran into a ditch. Trooper Pulling, to avoid striking the spinning car, ran off the road edge, striking a utility pole with the right side. The impact ejected K-9 Judge through the right side glass. The Ram charger continued 33 feet beyond the utility pole. Trooper Pulling, who was seatbelted, was treated at the Kent

General Hospital for abrasions and contusions to the left leg, and then released. K-9 Judge was admitted to the Brenford Animal Hospital in critical condition with internal injuries and in deep shock. Both violators will be people at ease. Many people regarded Mr. Simpson's wit with a great deal of respect. "Many people have called the office (Fair office) and told me stories how he had helped each and every one of them...saying how much he will be missed", said Gary Simpson, Assistant General Manager of the Fair and Mr. Simpson's nephew.

Mr. Simpson was also known for his tight fiscal leanings, much of which came from his background as a farmer and humble beginnings. His father was a widower with six children to raise with Mr. Simpson second oldest at 9 at the time of his mother's death.

Mr. Simpson held many titles and offices in the past. He was the first President of the Delaware Farm Bureau after its reorganization. The Farm Bureau was founded in the '20's, but went out of existence in the '30's. When the Bureau came back in existence, Mr. Simpson was elected President in December 1944. He served until Dec. 1952 when Floyd Short became its President. Mr. Simpson was re-elected for 1953-54. He had also served as a Chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, a Director of the Peoples Bank of Harrington, a life time member of the Houston Fire Co.

In the letter which accompanies the book, there is related to the receiver of the gift what the book is about suggesting that the contents when read "...ask your family to help you read it and understand it, so you can grow better as you grow bigger."

One mother, of the Jewish faith, recently asked the District to cease allowing the distribution of the book, since the contents were against her instruction and beliefs. The matter was discussed at the School Board meeting on Tuesday, Jan. 8th, and the School Board quickly decided that the violation of Church and State as well as Article I of the Constitution were possible violations. It therefore decided to cease to deliver the books as had been done in the past 15 years. An alternative plan as suggested by District Superintendent, Gerald Lysik, was to leave the books at the merchant's place of business for the parents to pick up the books there if they so desired. School Board member, Frederick Feutz, suggested that the School District might be criticized for

Local citizen in Reagan Inaugural

Harrington's David Reirden has been selected by The Committee For The 50th American Presidential Inaugural to represent Delaware State College in The All-American College Marching Band. Reirden's instrument is the trombone.

Reirden was chosen from 13 candidates submitted by Mr. Ivory Brock, Delaware State College Director of Bands. Audition tapes were used to make selections with appearance, (photos were also submitted), and attitude also being a factor. All applicants were between 18 and 26 years of age as of January 1, 1985 and currently enrolled in college. The students selected were judged on moral character, academic standing and musical ability, and deemed fitting as a representative of their school.

Air transportation as well as transall rehersals and the performance will Harrington.

be provided by The Inaugural Committee. The Band Camp will be located in the Washington D.C. area at a government facility. Dormitory-like accommodations will be provided.

The Inaugural Committee will provide a unique uniform look for the All-American College Marching Band. Height and weight were an important consideration in selecting candidates. To assure a clean uniform look, all band members will conform to the following grooming standards. Men: no beard, no hair over the collar or ears. Women: natural look, no heavy make-up or unnatural hair color. All bandsmen will wear their own school band uniform and an overlay will be provided.

Reirdan is a 1984 graduate of Lake Forest High School. He resides with his parents William and Georgia Betty Reirden and brothers and sisters at the portation to and from the airport and to family home at 125 Wolcott St.,

Rural communities undergoing change

Changes in the structure of agriculture, rapid growth of nonfarm employment and increased urban ties are changing America's rural communities. according to Daniel S. Kuennen, extension community resource specialist at the University of Delaware.

Rural communities need to understand these pressures, he says, because they place greater burdens on local government.

Agricultural changes include changes in the size and viability of farms, land ownership and demands on natural resources. Closely related to these is the rapid growth of nonfarm, nonagriculture-related employment. This places new demands on rural communities for services, the specialist says.

And finally, there is the growing control." interdependence of rural and urban America, including closer working relationships between neighboring communities.

"Just 34 years ago more than 2,000 counties in the U.S. derived at least 20 percent of proprietors' and labor tralization of the federal government income from agriculture. By 1977 this number had dropped to 684 counties, only one of which was located in the Northeast," Kuennen says. And the trend continues.

"The increasing demand for local services coupled with the recent decenwill result in even more challenges to local government," he says. "Increased budgetary pressures are a reason for better accounting systems, sound investment programs and improved

In lovely bright lights compliments of the July they had a riding entry in the Felton Jaycee Men. A Christmas Social annual 4th of July Greensboro Fire Co. parade. A Monte Carlo Nite was run in May. The month of August the Jaycees spread a little goodwill throughout the hosted Farms Games, where they challenged other chapters in their busy month the chapter held a community dance with a near sell-out crowd, and a family social which was held at Killen State Park for all members and their families. With the year coming to a draw this did not slow up the efforts of the men. The annual Haunted House got off to a "scary" start, but with the help of all the so dedicated Jaycee members their project prevailed as one of the best ever! The men seem to pick up more steam Jaycees. as they came into the month of November. They hosted yet another successful dance with some of the proceeds going to a needy family which had been burned-out earlier in Nov. thrive in '85. November was also the month of Fall Conference, which was held in Milford. At the Conference the Felton Jaycee's

From the second story window of his large studio size apartment, a view of the railroad, local tavern, and city banks can be seen. By walking to his rear window, a view of the Fire Hall is displayed. I was given an opportunity to see the Fire Company in action, as the whistle went off during the evening. It was fascinating to watch the speed and efficiency in which they responded to the call!

Not only was the view nice, but when I went out for a walk, I found that just exactly what I did. Together, my little about everything, including my girlfriend's house, was either within drive away, or if the destination the first snowfall of the year from the happened to be further away, the bus second story window of this apartment could be taken to get there.

After discussing living arrangements I agreed to get back to him in a couple of weeks. I still had to put my home up for rent as well. With everything settled, I went home. I had no sooner stepped inside my door when the telephone started ringing. To my surprise it was a friend of mine who wanted to come over and talk. After I had hung up, I just knew the people coming over wanted to talk about a place to stay. Sure enough, that is what we talked about. I persuaded them to take over my home, so I could move here, to Harrington. # What happens if 1985 Farm Bill gets stalemated?

As debate continues over drafting of specialist says. For example: the 1985 Farm Bill, the possibility of a stalemate cannot be overlooked. "Actions to reduce the federal deficit will orient bill drafting toward cutting farm program costs," says University of Delaware extension farm policy specialist Gerald F. Vaughn.

However, the dire straits of many farmers and a greater number of affected interest groups than ever before will make it harder-perhaps even impossible—to reach agreement on the bill, he predicts. "Some observers think an act replacing current farm legislation may not pass in 1985 and must again be attempted in 1986." What would happen if such a stalemate occurs?

According to Vaughn, some authorized programs would revert to provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1933, the Agricultural Act of 1949 and related statutes. Other pro grams would end.

Authority for about 11 programs would revert to previous statutes. These reversions pertain mainly to commodity programs-provisions for production adjustment, price support payments, and Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) sales policy.

Authority for about 29 other programs would end. These include authorization for agricultural research and extension funding, P.L. 480 ("Food for Peace"), food stamps, payment limitations for farmers under specific commodity programs, and the Agricultural Export Credit Revolving Fund. Reverting to previous statutes would affect commodity programs in ways that farmers need to consider, the ☆ Feed Grains: Price support for corn would be not less than 50 percent (65 if acreage diversion were in effect) nor more than 90 percent of parity. Other feed grains would be supported at levels in relation to corn. (Parity is the price at which a commodity has the same purchasing power it had in the historically stable period of 1910-

☆ Soybeans: Beginning with the 1986 crop, the Secretary of Agriculture price support available for soybeans. However, he would have discretionary authority to do so at a level not to exceed 90 percent of parity. Soybeans also would be supported if

☆ Wheat: Wheat would have price Harrington, 5; Mae Bonner, 6; Michael inport but without defici disaster payments. Wheat marketing ing certificates, and a national referendum of wheat growers would be ☆ Dairy: Price support for milk would be mandatory at a level between 75 and 90 percent of parity.

How would this compare overall with the cost of current farm legislation? "At present, it looks as though reverting to previous statutes would provide higher price supports and thus result in potentially costlier programs," Vaughn says. "In the months consequences of reverting to previous calendar to make sure it was January. The wind was blustery and the flocks of blackbirds moved in, covering the fields and darkening the sky. The dandelions were blooming in the yard and the peach trees in the area were showing definite pink. Surely, it is March, I thought. But, not yet. Next month if we get a warm February thaw the little Peepers will arouse them-selves and begin their shrill, sweet piping. I always think they are as anxious for Spring as I am.

Last night the Full Snow Moon was so gorgeous, big and round and golden. As I stood gazing at it, I chuckled to think what my grandparents would have said if I could tell them that men had visited up there and walked upon its surface. There is no way they would have believed it. This morning when I came down to the kitchen at 6:30, the moon was still there in the Northwest. As the sun came up it faded to pale I've started my first of the year clean-up. So I was going through my desk, sorting and filing and being very firm with myself about throwing stuff away. I am always amazed that usually there are several wastebaskets of stuff that can and should be thrown away. How can this be? If it can be thrown away now, why did I let it accumulate in the first place? I am not alone in this. My friend, Tess, admitted that this is her problem too.

I found my little booklet of quaint sayings among the chaos and one of them I want to share. It is from Gregory McDonald in Boston magazine: "Life is a horse, and either you ride it or it rides you." Right on, fellow cowgirls and cowboys. Hop on and let's

How is 1985 treating you? Now it is addition, she gave up and enjoys her cold, but last week I had to check the nice yard. Dad smiled a bit, rubbed his hands together and said, "Well, I thought I was smarter than a dog."

We do not know her story and I'm quite sure we never will. When she came to our door, she was clean and well-fed. Her disposition was gentle. She could sit up to beg, already knew the words, "Go out", "bed", and "No-No". It seems that she must have been a pet. Did they lose her or did they turn her out here on purpose?

A little poem came my way through the National Enquirer. This poem had been submitted to the Enquirer by Kathleen Browne. No author was given but whoever wrote it surely loved "Alone Again" I wish someone would tell me what it is that I've done wrong.

Why I have to stay chained up, and left alone so long.

They seemed so glad to have me when I came here as a pup.

There were so many things we'd do while I was growing up.

They couldn't wait to train me as a Companion and a Friend. And told me how they'd never fear being left alone again.

The children said they'd feed me and brush me every day. They'd play with me and walk me if I could only stay.

But now the family "hasn't time". They often say I shed. They do not want me in the house, not even to be fed.

The children never walk me. They always say "Not now". I wish that I could please them. Won't someone tell me how?

All I had, you see, was love. I wish they would explain Why they said they wanted me, then left me on a chain!'

Ocean City, Maryland to be site of For more details contact: Sr. Barbara major Diocesan meeting

More than 200 persons are expected to attend a three day meeting of persons interested in religious education and family life to be held by the Diocese of Wilmington in Ocean City, Maryland, on the weekend of January 25-27, 1985. Representatives of the 56 parishes in Delaware and the Eastern Shore of Maryland will attend a variety of workshops and be addressed by two noted speakers in their field.

Dr. Christiane Brusselmans, international lecturer and teacher, will give the keynote address at this the fifth annual Sacramental Leadership weekend at the Sheraton-Fontainebleau

She will focus her presentation on the relationship between the celebration of the sacrament and the shape of the preparation program. Her own sacramental preparation program, We Celebrate the Eucharist, published by Silver Burdett, has been used throughout the United States for the past twelve years.

Besides her work in preparation of children for the sacraments, Dr. Brusselmans is known for her contributions to the development of the Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults. Presently Dr. Brusselmans divides her time between teaching at the University of Louvain, Belgium and giving workshops and courses throughout North America.

The Rev. James Young, C.S.P., a Paulist priest and a national figure in family ministry, will give a major presentation on Sunday morning. In recent years he has focused his ministry with separated and divorced Catholics. Besides his major presentation, he will give a workshop on Saturday at the conference.

Sacramental Leadership Weekends were begun by the Office of Religious Education to assist parishes in developing leadership teams of laity, religious and clergy to work with parents, couples and children to better prepare for the celebration of the sacraments in the church. It is co-sponsored by the Family Life Bureau and has grown from an initial gathering of 130 persons to 250 participants in 1984.

LF swimmers get two wins last week

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr. LAKE FOREST HIGH SCHOOL. At mid-week last week, the swim team defeated Wilmington High 96-48. It was a boys meet. Danny Hines, Robby Bates, and Tate Garey won twice against Wilmington. The other 1st place winners were: Gary Price 200 I.M. (2:47.96), Chris Drew 100 Meter Freestyle (1:04.94), Chris Greenly 400 Meter Freestyle (5:37.27), and Robby Bates in the 100 Meter Backstroke (1:10.63...which is a LF School record).

Lake Forest defeated Archmere Boys on Saturday 101-64. It marked the first time in the history of the Varsity Swim Team that more than 100 points have been scored in one meet. Tate Garey broke the one year old diving record with a score of 97.7 which broke David Ganne's mark of 95.6.

The results of the individual Lake Forest members only are as follows: 200 Meter Medley Relay-LF team first members being Rob Burgholzer, Chris Drew, Danny Haines, and Robby Bates. 2:07.32; 200 Meter Freestyle-1. Danny Haines/2:12.57, 3. Chris Green-

LAKE FOREST HIGH SCHOOL. The

Aquatics program at Lake Forest High School has a new director. Named to succeed Dennis Berry, who left to head up the Aquatics program at Washington College is Mike Corash.

Corash was in his fourth season at the University of Tennessee as an assistant coach of the Varsity Swim Team at Despite outscoring their St. Mark's Others adding to Lake Forests total Tennessee when he was picked to head were Karen Sipple, 4; Teresa Taylor, 4; Andrea Mollohan, 2; Pam Smith, 2; the program at Lake Forest.

Before joining the Tennessee staff, Corash, a native of Coloado, had coached at Abraham Lincoln High School (1969-70) and George Washington High School (1971-78) in Denver, Colo. He joined the Grand Junction staff in 1981, and then onto the University of Tennessee.

His teams finished in the Colorado state rankings in the top 10 each year of his coaching. He produced several high school All-Americans while coaching at George Washington, and was twice selected as Colorado Swimming coach of the Year.

Corash is a 1969 graduate of Colorado State University. He has served as vice-president of the National Interscholastic Swimming Coaches Association and as General Aquatics Chairman of the Rocky Mountain AAU Swimming Organization. He holds a master's degree from University of Tenn.

While at University of Tennessee he headed the Volunteer recruiting program. He served on the organizing committee of the Tennessee Swimming Hall of Fame, assisted in the State High School Swim Meet and administered the physical testing program in the fall. He also organized an age group program in the city of Knoxville, and was the head coach of the Pilot Aquatic Club in Knoxville.

His duties at Lake Forest will be to supervise and direct the aquatics program for the District.

New Wave Swim Team

The Lake Forest New Wave Com munity Swim Team began its fourth year of competitive swimming on Saturday, January 12, 1985, at the Salisbury YMCA. The New Wave team members, coach Mike Corash, and numerous supportive parents marked their first meet victory of the season over Mid-Delmarva swimmers, 257 to

Outstanding performances were shown by the following members of the team, who took home more than one individual first in both relays and individual events: Alysse Lange (6 and under girls)-2firsts, Rebekah Crockeet (8 and under girls)-4 firsts, Barbara Murphy (8 and under girls)-4 firsts, Wesley Wood (8 and under boys)-5 firsts, Angie Mason (10 and under girls)-5 firsts, Jana Smith (12 and under girls)-5 firsts, Michelle Krone

(13 and over girls)-3 firsts. Our relay teams, made up of four swimmers each, competed in twelve of the sixteen relay events in the meet. The New Wave teams won all of the twelve events in which they competed. The New Wave team spirit is growing fast at Lake Forest and it can be seen in the number of individual competitors in the day's swimming events. Although all did not return as first, second, or third place winners, all did put out a great deal of effort in their individual performances for this meet. DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. - Florida native Butch Mock has been involved with NASCAR Winston Cup stock car racing for six years as a car owner, but he is more enthused about the 1985 season than any other since he and

from looking forward to a season with former world karting champion Lake Speed at the controls of the team's Pontiacs. In fact, Mock went so far as to predict a victory in the team's first scheduled outing, one of the 7-Eleven Twin qualifying races on the Thursday before the Daytona 500.

Along with Speed's progress as a driver, Mock credits his team's growth as the reason for his optimism. In 1983, the team's first year with full sponsorship, Rahmoc, with Neil Bonnett driving, won the Busch Clash and one of the 125-mile qualifying races preceding the Daytona 500. Later in the season, Bonnett won four pole positions and two other Grand National races, as well as a Busch Late Model Sportsman race.

Labonte Named Driver of Year

CHARLOTTE, N.C. - Terry Labonte has been named the 1984 National Motorsports Press Association (NMPA) Driver of the Year.

Labonte, 28, will receive $30,000 from R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., sponsor of the NMPA-Winston award. The amount is the largest prize presented to anyone for winning a driver of the year award.

In balloting by the NMPA, Labonte was a runaway winner as Driver of the Year after capturing the Winston Cup title for the first time in his young

NASCAR title in 1950, and Richard Petty was 27 when he won the first of his seven Winston Cup championships
