Stop arms in school buses in effect

The number of motorists who illegally passed stopped school buses dropped by one-third when stop-arm devices were used in a three-month trial.

By state law, drivers approaching a school bus when passengers enter or leave the bus must stop when they approach from the rear on all roads and from the front on two-lane roads.

"Penalties for violating the stop law are: a driver's license may be suspended for one to 12 months for the first offense; fines of $100 to $300 may be imposed, and six points are marked against the driver's license. A jail sentence of 30-60 days is also possible," said Lean Hart former Harrington High School Physical Ed. teacher and now Supervisor of School Transportation.

Local man saves children from fire

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

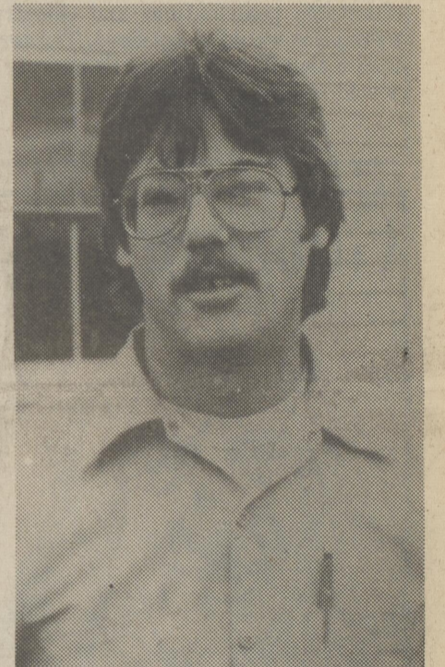

HARRINGTON. Last Tuesday Sean Dare was heading north on Railroad Avenue in Harrington going home. Before turning to cross the railroad tracks on Liberty St. he saw what he believed to be smoke over to his left. "It couldn't be," he said to himself. But sure enough in the next block at the corner of Fleming St. and Liberty St. there was a large cloud of smoke coming up from around the yellow house on the corner.

"I slammed on the brakes...and just stared for a few seconds," he said. "I still don't know to this day what drew me to the smoke," he added. But the next thing he remembers is being at the scene of the fire taking two small children by the hand and leading them to safety.

Apparently the tots were playing with matches in the back yard. The dry turf and grass quickly caught fire and spread right to the rear of the house. The rear of the house was quickly engulfed in flames.

"I ran inside the house and found two teenagers with a 5 or 6 year old plus another infant...and I yelled to them to get out of the house," Sean said. "I got one of the teenagers out...but the other remained behind to get her personal belongings. I couldn't fight with her... because I did not know what stage the fire was in then," he added.

"When I got the one teenager and the infant outside...I discovered the other two children...who had started the fire had run back to the spot where they had started the fire," he said. "So I had to get them out for the second time...by this time the Harrington Fire Company had arrived and things were soon under control," he added.

Sean Dare is married to the former Kitty Satterfield. They live on the Jackson Ditch Road. He is employed by Heritage Nursery. Quick thinking by Sean saved several lives.

Trackmen paste top rival Smyrna

by Keith S. Burgess

Jim Blades and his Lake Forest Spartans have virtually locked up another Henlopen Conference Southern Division track title and they did it before the end of March.

The Spartans' chief rival the Smyrna Eagles were trounced 89-52, despite the disqualification of a winning Spartan relay team, which resulted in a ten-point bonus, to the home-standing Eagles.

Coach Blades had impressed upon his stalwarts, the importance of this meet, as his assistant coaches had done also. The remaining members of this redoubtable quartet are: Dave Buck, distance coach; John Mumaw, shot, discus, high jump triple jump; Mark Donnelley, long jump, triple jump and hurdles. Coach Blades handles the sprints and relays and co-ordinates the whole operation, which has resulted in

Roth says tax reform must enhance savings

WASHINGTON — "I don't think Congress should endure the agony of rewriting the entire tax code unless we can add substantially to the savings and investment rate in this country," Senator William V. Roth, Jr., R-Del., said.

Roth said his tax reform plan, the Broad-Based Enhanced Savings Tax Act of 1985 (BEST), is the only one that satisfies what he believes are the four critical components of tax reform: simplicity and fairness, revenue neutrality, reduction of marginal tax rates and the provision of incentives for savings and investment.

"Our tax code should be more than just a vehicle to collect money," Roth said. "It should also be the blueprint for creating economic growth by creating the environment that makes that growth possible. Any tax reform must include major inducements for savings to sustain and improve the economic climate of the nation."

"The plain and simple fact is that our tax system contains an inherent bias against savings through double taxation," Roth said. "This is one reason our savings rate is so low."

The BEST plan calls for the creation of "super savings accounts," or SUSA's, which would function like IRA's, except that savings could be withdrawn for any purpose and at any time without penalty. Net contributions to a SUSA would be tax deductible, up to $10,000 for an individual and $20,000 for joint returns per year. Existing IRA's would be rolled into SUSA's, but Keogh plans would remain separate.

Other provisions of Roth's bill would create only four tax brackets and would eliminate most of the current deductions, except home mortgage interest, charitable contributions and catastrophic medical expenses. The personal exemption would be retained. The zero bracket amount would be expanded to insure that no one below the poverty line is taxed. The earned income credit would also be expanded.

More security. A Mellon Individual Retirement Account is insured by the FDIC up to $100,000 unlike insurance company and broker IRA programs.

No management fees. Unlike some other IRAs, a Mellon deposit IRA carries no service charge.

Extra convenience. At Mellon, you don't have to make your entire IRA contribution at one time. You can make deposits through Mellon Bank-by-Phone, payroll deduction plans, direct deposit and your Mellon community office. You can also call Mellon's Rate Line for our current interest rates, (302) 429-4980.

Gab Fest by Pat Hatfield

What a time we are having with the Corn Dodgers. We are steeping ourselves in a bit of Delmarva culture. A letter came from Miss Lucie Ellis of Seaford with two recipes. One she said that her grandmother used was the simple recipe containing just corn meal, salt, melted butter and water. I believe this to be probably the original one that most old time cooks used.
She also sends us one from the Everyday Cookbook, 1955. This calls for 1 cup cornmeal, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1 1/2 teaspoon sugar, and 1 cup boiling water. (I like the sound of that sugar). But here it differs. You preheat your oven to 400. Grease a baking sheet. Mix the ingredients well and pour the boiling water over. Beat until well blended. Drop the batter onto a greased baking sheet by tablespoonfuls. Bake about 20 minutes. Makes 12 dodgers. A number of Readers called and I thank them one and all.
The last letter I received had no name, but I thank the writer. She quoted from the cookbook, "The Joy of Cooking, 1953 edition."
Cooking in the U.S. is on the up and coming side, and it seemed to me that a peak was reached in a small Kentucky town where I was served Chicken and Dumplings. The latter was like thistle down. "O, yes," said the hotel proprietor wearily when I exclaimed over them, "They are always like that when our cook is drunk." Far be it from me to limit your sources of inspiration, but I am convinced that the following rules will give you superlative dumplings without dissipation.
The Joy of Cooking recommends

Palm Sunday evening, a special Lenten Service in Greenwood Church: March 31, first half of Service a gospel concert; second half preaching by Rev. Paul D. Marlowe, from Fishing Creek Charge, Cambridge, Md.
Todd's Covered dish supper 6:30 p.m. April 13, at the community bldg. Maundy Thursday communion, April 4, 7:30 at Greenwood Church.
Good Friday Service at Todd's, 7:30; Sunrise Service at Todd's. April 7 at 6 a.m.
Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hatfield accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Tom Shockley to attend a dinner and Drug Abuse Awareness Program, sponsored by the Lions Club, and held at the Camden Wyoming Fire Hall.
Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hatfield were delightfully surprised by a visit with Mr. and Mrs. William Bollinger of Lewisburg, Pa. The Bollingers were enroute to their home after spending some time with Bill's sister and family in Florida.

"Rule for Dumplings": Dumplings are apt to be heavy if lid is lifted during the cooking process. Cover the dumplings with glass pie plate so you can see how they are progressing."
Now this recipe is a bit different. Corn Meal Dumplings from the Joy of Cooking, 1953 edition: Sift 1 cup of corn meal, 1/4 cup all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teasp. salt.
Beat 2 eggs and add 1/2 cup milk. Combine egg mixture with the dry ingredients. Stir in 1 tablespoon melted butter.
Have simmering 5 or 6 cups of hot broth or stew or other hot liquid: Drop the batter by spoonfuls onto the hot broth or stock. Cover pan closely and simmer dumplings for 15 minutes. Remove at once from the liquor. (Note) To drop the dumplings from a spoon easily, dip spoon in water first and then into the batter. Simmer a few minutes, turn them and simmer until done.
Well, this is the story of Cornmeal dumplings or Corn Dodgers on the Eastern Shore, which should help Elizabeth Ruff in her search for oldtime recipes.
I should be able to try out all this good stuff now that I have just returned from a session with Dr. Doris Barnes, who makes my feet operate comfortably. Beside the benefit to my feet, it is always a joy to have a visit with Doris and her assistant, Mabel. They always have some lively stories to share and we have some good conversation about our dogs. Not only do my feet feel good, but I have enjoyed basking in the warmth of their love and friendship.

Smile and a very special Thank You to Everyone for Everything concerning the Spring Bazaar, March 29, 1985 - from all Departments! Everyone has been so cooperative.
I had to go to the hospital Friday eve, March 24, 1985. Am writing this among the clatter of pans, TV, sign-outs, calling Dr. Heart and an occasional light snore from my room mate. Listen, honey, she sounds like a baby compared to me. When I saw wood believe me I'm using a big saw! After my bath-breakfast and a letter to my grandson Lester in Japan, I settled back and pictured the ones that come on Dast getting their coffee and toast. Exchanging a few sentences with them and usually seeing what Ruth Bradley was making also Amy Poynter if she was there. Gradually the ladies and gents went to reading the papers, exchanging ideas, (and they do have lots of them). Pauline Legates was making a pretty brick cover. It is interesting to watch them even if you are not so engaged.

Now today is Monday and as the coffee break ends, they prepare for Bible Study. Always a Happy Hour with the discussion of the word and the sounds of many favorite hymns, played by usually Sylvia or Virginia and sung by all attending. Come on in and join the Happy Time!
Jolly Timers Tuesday is a great time too, the friendly faces - the music emitting from the various instruments and the toe tapping that sometimes ensues. Again it is a good hour to be a part of at the Center and you don't really have to be a music major.

EASTER
Now that the Christ is risen,
Now with the darkness gone,
The road lies out before us,
Upward, and on and on.
There are His sandle footprints,
There is His form ahead,
Straight and strong and compelling,
The Christ that they left as dead.
Nothing can dim His glory,
Nothing can stay His feet,
And countless are they who follow
Him down each lane and street;
And I would be among them,
Along the Glory Way;
I would arise and follow
The risen Christ today.
Happy Easter, everyone.

The highly touted Go Nancy Isle returns to action in one of six divisions of the second round of the Princess Series at Brandywine Raceway on Wednesday (April 3), Ladies' Night.

Go Nancy Isle, a 3-year-old Isle of Wight filly, has never lost a race she has finished. In round one of the Princess Series last week, she scored an awesome 15-1/2 length victory in a quick 1:59.4, the fastest clocking ever recorded by a filly this early in the year in Brandywine's 33-year history. Prior to last week's triumph, the homebred filly, owned by Serena Kalar of Dover, Delaware, won three of her four lifetime starts. Her only loss came when she did not finish due to an accident.

Linda McNatt will again drive Go Nancy Isle, this week from post six. Go Nancy Isle's 1:59.4 clocking last week was the fastest mile ever for McNatt, a 26-year-old Smyrna, Delaware, native who calls Go Nancy Isle, "The best horse I've ever sat behind. She just has so much ability."

In addition to Go Nancy Isle, Wine And Music also scored a 1:59.4 victory last week and will return to action of Ladies' Night. Joe Schwind will drive Wine And Music from post five in the seventh race.

Two divisions of the second round of the Starlet Series for female pacers and the Progress Series for trotters highlight a special eleven race Thurs. (April 4) card at Brandywine Raceway.

In the first section of the Starlet, worth $4,000, Paper Brenda looms as the favorite after drawing the one post for trainer-driver Terry Tomlin. The 4-year-old Nero mare will be opposed by Southern Hurricane and H. H. Bonnet, a winner last week in the Starlet. In the other division, the vastly improved A. T.'s Maggie will be favored over her nine foes, including Tarro, Shady Karen, and Unicorn Daisy Dot, a upset victor in round one of the Starlet, which concludes April 19.

Snappy Transaction and Estelle Kosmos head a field of nine entered in a $4,000 division of the Progress Trotting Series. C. D. Harris will drive the former from post two while Merie Parker will guide Estelle Kosmos from the six post. Fran's Billybob will be the odds-on favorite in the other Progress division. The 4-year-old Honor Rodney horse scored an awesome 2:00.2 triumph in the first round of the series for co-owner-trainer-driver Preston Burris, Jr. After being parked out for the first half mile, Fran's Billybob finally made the lead and then ran away from his nine opponents to reach the finish line 13 lengths in front.

PHILADELPHIA, PA — A total of 143 three and four-year-old pacers have been nominated for the $600,000 (est.) North American Pacing Series which will be contested in 15 legs at 13 different tracks with two renewals scheduled for the 1985 season at Liberty Bell Park.

The first Liberty Bell leg will be contested on Friday, April 5, during the Liberty Bell Racing Association meeting to kick off the $1,825,000 Bell stakes schedule and a second Liberty Bell leg is slated for Saturday, August 10, during the William Penn Racing Corporation meet. Both legs will be raced for $20,000 purses.

Carl's Bird, the leading money winning two year old pacer in the nation in 1983 when he won $901,760, tops the large number of nominees. Now a four-year-old, Carl's Bird was an upset winner in the $1,700,000 Woodrow Wilson Pace as a juvenile when he was clocked in 1:55.3/5. He was bred and is owned and trained by Carl Allen who already has part of his stable racing at Liberty Bell during the early stages of the '85 season.

Other top nominees are the Shady Stable Six pacing star Cosmic King, who has been an early season sensation this year at The Meadowlands, and the Joe Scorsone-trained duo of Meadow Ro Mar, who has won in 1:55.1/5 this year as a three-year-old, and Scoot's Magic, the fastest three year old in the early stages of the '85 season at The Bell with a 1:58.4/5 win to his credit. Both Meadow Ro Mar and Scoot's Magic are stabled at The Bell.

Linda McNatt

Two-year-old Pacer of 1984, the once-beaten Nihilator, tops the list of 104 nominees to the $1 million Meadowlands Pace set for Friday, July 19.

Nihilator, owned by the Wall Street Stable of Yardley, Pa., could become only the second colt (his sire, Niatross, was the first) to win both the Woodrow Wilson and the Meadowlands Pace.

Dragon's Lair, the Breeders' Crown winner, along with Sheppard winner, Praised Dignity and Fox Stakes winner Marauder, are listed among the three-year-old colts whose owners paid the $1,500 nominating fee. Sustaining payments totalling $9,000 will be due over the next three months.

1984-85 Harness meet over at Dover Downs

DOVER, DE — On March 23rd Dover Downs concluded its 71 nights of 1984-85 winter meeting racing. The total handle for the meet was $9,292,173.00. The average meet handle of 130,876 was an increase over last year's 117,349. Average attendance at the Dover Downs winter meet was 1,529, an increase over the 1983-84 season due primarily to the increased popularity of weekend races.

There was one less week of racing this season which accounted for an 11,827 decrease in total attendance from 120,401 in 1983-84 to 108,574 in 1984-85 season.

Mark Daniels was the meet's winningest driver with 49 victories. Linn Truitt was the top female driver while Eddie Davis captured the U.D.R.S. crown.

Dover downs produced a record 21 two minute or under miles.

Lake Forest girls track team wins big

by Keith S. Burgess

Lake Forest's Spartan track girls, are 2-0, as are the boys, in the young, track season. At Smyrna, Lake Forest was missing four, point-scorers. After a shaky beginning, the Spartans' field-event strength prevailed and Lake Forest won big 90-41.

The Mollohan twins, Andrea and Angela, are among the most versatile athletes, in Lake Forest history. These identical twins will win a total of 10 varsity letters, this year, in hockey, cross-country, basketball, track and softball.

Andrea and Angela went 1-2, in the discus, in their first track meet ever, throwing 96 feet and 82-6, respectively, with freshman Mary McGuire next.

Veteran Severa Harris had another shot put throw of over 35 feet to win the shot, with Andrea and Angela, getting second and third.

Lori Wilson cruised to victory in the 800 meters, in 2.42, good time for March, with Shirlaine Goodman in second (2.43.9) keeping an eye out for any trouble from the rear.

Sheva Batton annexed the 300 meter hurdles, in 54.5 and was third in the 100 hurdles.

Patti Drew (4-6) and Mary McGuire were 1-2, in the high jump. Sylvia Hicks, Patti Drew and freshman, Melanie Pelton, swept the 400 meters. Another sweep in the triple jump was engineered by Michelle Briggs 33 feet 2 inches, Pam Smith 32-11 3/4 and Valerie Durant 31-10. This is extremely close competition.

Pam and Michelle, 15-11 and 157 1/2 went 1-2, in the long jump Pam Smith, Della Smith, Sharon Coverdale and Patti Drew captured the 400 relay, in 54.7. Sylvia Hicks, Lori Wilson, Kelli and Melanie Pelton were first, in the 1600 meter relay, in 4.47.

Lori Wilson and Kelli Pelton, finished together, behind Smyrna's strong senior Molly Porter, at 1600 meters. Kelli and Jodi Jensen were 2-3, behind Porter, at 3200 meters. Porter, a much-heralded runner, was a state champion, as a freshman and has been a heavy point scorer for four years.

Della Smith was second in the 100 meters and third behind Sharon Coverdale's second-place, at 200 meters.

TALLADEGA, AL. — More than half a million dollars! That's the amount of posted awards that the NASCAR Grand National drivers will be running for when the Winston Cup circuit makes its annual stop at Alabama International Motor Speedway for the Winston 500 on May 5th.

Included in the structure of the purse are some interesting contingencies. Among them are a $10,000 bonus from Barclays American to the driver that leads the halfway point of the race, and a $5,000 bonus to the driver that improves his starting position the most, and is still running at the end of the race.

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, as a part of its mind-boggling Winston Million program, could be paying Bill Elliott an additional $100,000 if he gains his first Talladega victory on May 5th. Reynolds has posted one million dollars to any driver who can win three of the Big Four races (Daytona 500, Winston 500, World 600 and Southern 500), and will give $100,000 to the first driver to win two of them.

Elliott has already won the Daytona 500.

Ed McCulloch

MILWAUKEE (March 28, 1985) — "Lady Luck" smiled on Ed McCulloch and his Miller American Racing funny car and the result was McCulloch's win in the Pro Funny Car championship March 24 at the International Hot Rod Association's season-opening Zoom Winter Nationals at Darlington, S.C.

Mark Oswald, defending world champion, experienced traction problems in the final round against McCulloch. McCulloch was timed in 5.93 seconds at 253.52 mph to Oswald's 8.77 at 110.83 mph.

The win was McCulloch's first in IHRA competition and his first of any kind since the 1980 National Hot Rod Association U.S. Nationals. It looked like Pulde would win when McCulloch's car lost traction at the starting line and coasted through the quarter mile in 25.41 seconds at 81.99 mph.

Pulde, meanwhile, experienced traction problems of his own. His Miller American Racing Pontiac darted to the right side of the track and crossed the sideline marker resulting in an automatic disqualification.

The clutch was replaced and the transmission ratio was changed before the finale.

"I really didn't agree with (crew chief) Bernie Federly's transmission decision," said McCulloch. "But we talked it over and decided to go with it."

"The car lifted the front wheels off the asphalt at about mid-track and lost traction briefly. I hadn't seen Mark, but I knew I didn't want to see him come driving by me before the finish line."

McCulloch qualified fourth in the 16-car field (5.88 seconds, 248.61 mph).

Dale Pulde

Bill Elliott

He defeated Don "The Snake" Prudhomme — 5.77 at 255.68 mph to 6.06 at 221.13 mph — in the first round and Billy Meyer — 5.91 at 254.95 mph to 5.97 at 243.24 mph — in the second round.

DARLINGTON, S.C. — For Bill Elliott, push literally came to shove in last year's TranSouth 500 at Darlington International Raceway.

Elliott, who has never finished lower than ninth in the TranSouth 500, added a third-place finish to his record in 1984. But, the 29-year old Dawsonville, Ga., driver experienced a last-lap mishap that made this third-place showing the most unusual of his career.

Elliott, running third behind eventual race-winner Darrell Waltrip and runner-up Terry Labonte, was bearing down on the checkered flag when suddenly his car quit and scant 100 yards from the start-finish line. Elliott then hopped out of the car and pushed his Coors/Melling Ford Thunderbird the remainder of the distance.

Under NASCAR rules, which state that a car must complete a lap under its own power, Elliott wasn't credited with that final lap of the 367 laps that comprise the TranSouth 500. The Georgia redhead said he knew the lap wouldn't count, but he pushed the car anyway.

The final-lap problem, which later proved to be a disintegrated flywheel, put the capper on a frustrating afternoon.

Elliott's record at NASCAR's first superspeedway is indeed a brilliant one. In 14 career starts at the track, he has finished out of the top 10 only twice. Both of those finishes were in the Southern 500.

DARLINGTON, S.C. — Although Waltrip has been the TranSouth 500 special guest of honor in victory lane in 1977, 1979, 1981 and 1984, Darlington Raceway has left the Budweiser driver with twice that many headaches.

"At all tracks you have the competition and competitors you have to race. But, here at Darlington, you also have the track to battle. That combination requires more concentration than at any place we race."

"There is nothing easy at Darlington. It is not a forgiving track, one little slip at the wrong time and you're in the wall or into somebody, triggering a ten-car pile-up or you've taken yourself out of the race. This is the hardest track on you mentally or at least, it is for me. It is really hard on your mind. I usually have a tremendous headache when a race of Darlington is over... unless I win."

Waltrip announced that he is coming back to Darlington as a double duty driver. In addition to piloting Johnson's Chevy in the TranSouth 500, April 14th, he will be in his own Budweiser Oldsmobile for the Dixie Cup 200 Late Model Sportsman race, the day before.

"As a driver you know if you win a race here, you've won it on driver ability in most cases. By the same token, most races here are lost through driver error. Darlington is one place where the saying is truer than ever, 'cars are made to run. Drivers are made to win.'"

Although, Waltrip scored his first superspeedway victory at Darlington in the 1977 TranSouth 500, the victory at Darlington he remembers most is the 1979 shootout with Richard Petty.

"That was some really good racing. Richard and I were battling for the win. I'm not sure how many official lead changes there were, but I remember we swapped the lead at least a dozen times in the last 10 or 15 laps and that last lap was really a battle. We were running side-by-side and the lead must have changed hands five times on the last lap. Richard passed me on the front stretch and I got back by him going into one and he passed me back on the backstretch. As we went into the third turn, he got a little high and I was able to get back under him and e came down the front stretch side-by-side. I got him by about a foot or so at the line. It was kinda like Harry (Gant) and Neil (Bonnett) on the last lap at Rockingham."

Pass the Goodies please.

Play the Name Game

NEW FACELIFT—Darlington Raceway is getting a new facelift prior to the running of the Dixie Cup 200 Late Model Sportsman race, Saturday, April 13 and the TranSouth 500, Sunday, April 14. More than 650 feet of new asphalt is being put down on the track the drivers call "Too Tough To Tame". Because of the 22 degree banking in turn one, the workers had to use a special designed asphalt machine to pave the banks. Note the support pipe from the grader that holds the machine in place. Asphalt had to be added via a crane. New asphalt has also been added to both the new pit entrances.

"Frog Bog": Good, clean, muddy fun

by Don Allen

It was a mud slingin' good time for those who braved a persistent drizzle to attend the "Frog Bog" Mud Race Series sponsored by Preston Ford and held at the U.S. 13 Speedway Sunday, March 31st. Over 80 amateur and pro heavy-duty vehicles of all descriptions were on hand to tackle the twin 200 foot "bogs" laid out inside the speedway's front straightaway.

The American Mud Racing Association sanctioned event went very smoothly thanks in part to the good folks at V. V. Hughes and Sons who supplied the John Deere "muscle" needed to retrieve the rigs unable to traverse the entire course. The tractors were kept busy as only a very few made the "full pull" through the mud during regular competition. It was a different story though when the All-

Pro, Super-Pro and Top-Pro monsters took the field and began devouring the course in record times. The fastest of these was Chrisfield, Md.'s Jim Hall in his 1950 Dodge, "Old Grandad II". He went the 200 feet in seven seconds flat to win the Top-Pro purse.

TranSouth 500 set for April 14th

DARLINGTON, S.C. — TranSouth 500 NASCAR Winston Cup race, Sunday, April 14, at Darlington Raceway.

Eight former TranSouth 500 winners are entered: Darrell Waltrip, Harry Gant, Dale Earnhardt, David Pearson, Benny Parsons, Bobby Allison, Buddy Baker and Richard Petty. That's a pretty stand-up group to begin with, and it becomes even moreso when you figure those eight drivers have won 18 of the 28 previous TranSouth 500s — 64 percent.

Then, throw in two others: Cale Yarborough and Terry Labonte. Yarborough has never won the TranSouth 500, but has five Winston Cup victories at Darlington to his credit. Labonte won the 1980 Southern 500 and is the defending NASCAR Winston Cup Grand National champion. Three more to consider. Bill Elliott and Dick Brooks have each finished second twice in Winston Cup races at Darlington, while Dave Marcis has three third place finishes in his career.

In the last Winston Cup race at Darlington — the 1984 Southern 500 — three more drivers proved they might have a handle on the "Truck Too Tough To Tame." Tim Richmond finished second, eventual Champion Spark Plug Rookie of the Year Rusty Wallace was fourth and Ricky Rudd took fifth place.

"At Darlington you run against the track, you run against whoever you're racing with at the time and you run against any problems other people might have. I can't think of a more demanding place," says Harry Gant.

Education

Dr. Fred Hofstetter, director of the Office of Computer-Based Instruction at the University of Delaware, discussed computers and children at Lake Forest East Elementary School in Frederica during March. The free public program was sponsored by the University as part of a series to help parents enhance the educational and emotional development of their elementary school children. Dr. Hofstetter offered suggestions for helping children with computer technology and answered questions about computers. The "Parents as Counselors and Teachers" series is sponsored by the University's College of Education and Office of University Relations.

Wesley College offers scholarships

Elneta Russell Grier of Frederica, and lately of Wilmington, has bequeathed one half of her estate to Wesley College to create the Russell-Grier Educational Fund. Grier, an alumna of Wesley College, then known as the Wilmington Conference Academy, was a member of the class of 1900.

An initial bequest of $130,000 received by Wesley College has been invested to provide perpetual scholarship assistance to Wesley College students living within a specifically prescribed area of southeastern Kent County. Portions of Caesar Rodney, Lake Forest, and Milford school districts are included in this area. Students living in the prescribed area and attending private independent schools such as Broadmeadow, Holy Cross, Kent Christian Academy and St. Andrew's are also eligible.

Students may use these scholarships to enroll in any of the Wesley College bachelor degree or associate degree programs. The bachelor degree programs include Business Administration with majors in accounting, management and marketing, Computer Information Systems, Environmental Sciences, Applied Communication, Nursing, and Medical Technology. The associate degree programs include over thirty career and transfer programs.

In addition to the cash assets received by the college, Grier also bequeathed one half interest in the family farm known as Homestead.

For additional information on the scholarships, contact Ellen Hamilton, Wesley College admissions counselor, at 736-2400.

CR student named to Constitutional Scholar

Kimberly McDonald, a senior at Caesar Rodney High School, was named a Constitutional Scholar by the Delaware Heritage Commission on Friday evening, at a program at the Old State House in Dover. She will be awarded $1,000 to be used for educational expenses for her first year of college.

The Heritage Commission, which is sponsoring the Constitutional Scholarship Program for the third year, awards seven $1,000 scholarships state wide to students who complete projects relating to the U.S. Constitution or the constitutional period in Delaware in some way. Kimberly's project was "Basketry in Delaware," for which she wove examples of baskets commonly used in Delaware during the late 18th century.

Other Constitutional Scholars named this year include Tracy Campbell, Christiana High School; Alan Cox, Delcastle Vo-Tech; Roger Doughty, Newark; Sarah Keating, Mt. Pleasant; Lydia Zell, Brandywine; and Donald Hatfield, Delmar.

Applications for next year's competition will be available to Delaware residents who are seniors at Delaware high schools from guidance counselors in the fall. The awards can be used at any school.

"The Shooting of Dan McGrew"

"The Shooting of Dan McGrew" marionette show was presented at the Bridgeville Public Library on Thursday evening, March 28th. Seventh graders from Woodbridge school operated the marionettes—Robert Holloway, John Galaska, Dwayne Hignet and Ginger Hastings. Under the direction of artist, Jack Lewis, the marionettes were made at the Sussex Correctional Center and costumes designed by library volunteers—Loretta Galaska, Dottie Johnson, Eva Littrell, and Linda Mulvaney. More than 30 parents and children enjoyed the accordion and harmonica music performed by Mr. Lewis and the unusual marionette production. Any children interested in participating in future marionette productions should contact the library at 837-7401.

Christian group to perform at Wesley College

The David Coate Group will be appearing in concert on Friday, April 12, 1985 at Wesley College in Dover. The concert is sponsored by Kappa Chi, the college honorary fraternity for persons pursuing Christian vocations, in co-operation with the Wesley Student Christian Association and the Chaplain's Office. The event will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the outdoor amphitheater (the gymnasium in case of rain) and is free and open to the public.

The David Coate Group is a five-member band from Boston, Massachusetts. Considered to be a step ahead of the contemporary Christian music scene, the musical excellence and searing vocals of the group has made them one of the hottest, in demand bands from the northeast. Their latest album, "State-of-the-Heart", is innovative and fresh, packed with energy.

While it is a polished work, there is a live edge that adds in all-too-elusive texture that is as refreshing to the ear as the group is in concert.

The Coate Group takes their energetic and unique style to festivals, colleges, concert halls and youth conferences around the country. They perform regularly, with at least 150 concerts each year. The April 12 concert at Wesley will feature music from their new album as well as their popular debut album, "Time Keeps on Running". For long-time fans, they will perform some yet unrecorded concert favorites.

This is a return appearance at Wesley College for the David Coate Group. They were invited back following their impressive performance in October 1984. For further information, call the Chaplain's Office at 302-736-2485.

Simmons Cable TV of Midshore to change basic cable TV channels

March 28, 1985 — Harrington, De.; Because of Federal regulations that force cable companies to carry certain television stations, Simmons Cable TV of Midshore is required to change two stations presently carried on the basic cable TV service.

In April 1985, KYW Channel 3, an NBC affiliate from Philadelphia, will replace WBFF Channel 45 an independent broadcast station from Baltimore on Simmons Cable channel 6. Additionally, WDPB Channel 64, a Public Broadcasting station from Seaford, will replace WHYI Channel 12 from Wilmington on cable channel 12.

Federal must-carry regulations generally require cable companies to add to their basic cable package any station that is less than 35 miles away, or which has a strong enough signal to reach a major portion of the cable companies market. KYW and WDPB both fall into this "must-carry" category for the Simmons Cable TV of Midshore system and have recently demanded carriage on the basic cable. But, in order to make room for these,

Channel 45 and Channel 12 must be dropped, as they are the only stations on the 12 channel basic cable TV service that are not must-carry stations.

"Our hands are tied," says Charles Stigberg, Regional Manager for Simmons Cable TV of Delaware/Maryland. "We are only making these changes because we have to. We just hope that our subscribers can find as much quality programming they enjoy on KYW and WDPB as they are used to watching on the other stations."

The communities served by Simmons Cable TV of Midshore that will be effected by this channel change include: in Delaware — Harrington, Houston, Frederica, Felton, Magnolia, Bowers Beach, Farmington, Viola, Bridgeville, Greenwood, Lincoln, Ellendale, and Milton; in Maryland — Denton, Preston, Federalsburg, Ridgely, Greensboro, and Hurlock. All these communities are served via the headend in Harrington, Delaware either directly or by microwave.

The Federal must-carry rules are presently being debated in Congress.

School lunch cut to eliminate program in 10,000 schools

The proposal by the Reagan Administration to further reduce federal support for the National School Lunch Program by $613 million will eliminate 5-6 million children, and 8,000-10,000 schools from the program, according to Ms. Gene White, the Legislative Chairman of the American School Food Service Association and Past National President.

The budget cut which is a 24 cents per meal reduction in federal support for approximately half of the meals served in the program will price millions of middle class students out of the program and force many school districts to drop the program depriving millions of poor children of a hot school meal.

In 1981 when the per meal school lunch reimbursement was cut 11 cents, some 3 million children were dropped from the program.

"The characterization by the Administration that the proposal simply eliminates a 'high income subsidy' is not fair or correct," according to White.

The so-called "High income subsidy" is not a transfer payment to individuals but a grand-in-aid to schools to support the basic infrastructure of the school lunch program. It goes to meet relatively fixed overhead expenses. Without this support, many school districts could not afford to participate in the National School Lunch Program, thereby depriving all children in the community, including poor children, of the nutritional value of the program.

ASFSA is the largest professional non-profit association of school food service public employees in the country. Based in Denver, Colo., the Association's 55,000 members represent school food service programs in more than 92,000 schools across the country.

Health Maintenance Organizations

A health maintenance organization (HMO) provides comprehensive health-care services for its members for a monthly fee. These services are coordinated and continuity of care is assured. The HMO is more than an insurance system. It actually furnishes the health-care services to its members rather than simply paying for the services its members require.

The comprehensive services provided by an HMO emphasizes prevention without neglecting needed medical treatment. This approach differs from that of the usual fee-for-service system, which lacks the financial incentives to provide preventive care. Under an HMO, you pay no fees-for-service.

Individuals or groups may enroll in an HMO for a specified period of time, usually one year. Under the agreement, members are entitled to health-care services from physicians and other health-care personnel who are associated with the HMO.

The HMO is obligated to furnish its members with all health-care services and will even pay for your hospitalization. The lower the HMO's costs of providing these services, the greater its profit. Thus, HMO's have an incentive to emphasize preventive medicine and generally to make their services as cost-effective as possible, without jeopardizing quality.

As yet, there are no HMO's in Delaware which will accept people on Medicare. For more information, call the Dover Social Security Office at 674-3610.

Earning additional benefits

A person who returns to work after beginning to receive Social Security retirement benefits may qualify for higher benefits because of the additional earnings.

It is not necessary for the worker to take any action in such cases. Social Security automatically refigures the benefit after the additional earnings are credited to the worker's record. People should, however, tell Social Security if they expect to earn more than the annual exempt amount.

In addition, a worker's benefits can be increased by 3 percent a year (1/4 of 1 percent a month) for each year after 65 that the worker does not receive benefits because of his or her employment. This additional credit also increases the payments eventually made to widows and widowers.

Additional information about the benefits may be obtained from the Dover Social Security Office.
