

Harrington High celebrates Reunion

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.
 HARRINGTON. The Harrington High School Alumni celebrated their 29th annual alumni celebration on Saturday night at the W. T. Chipman cafeteria.

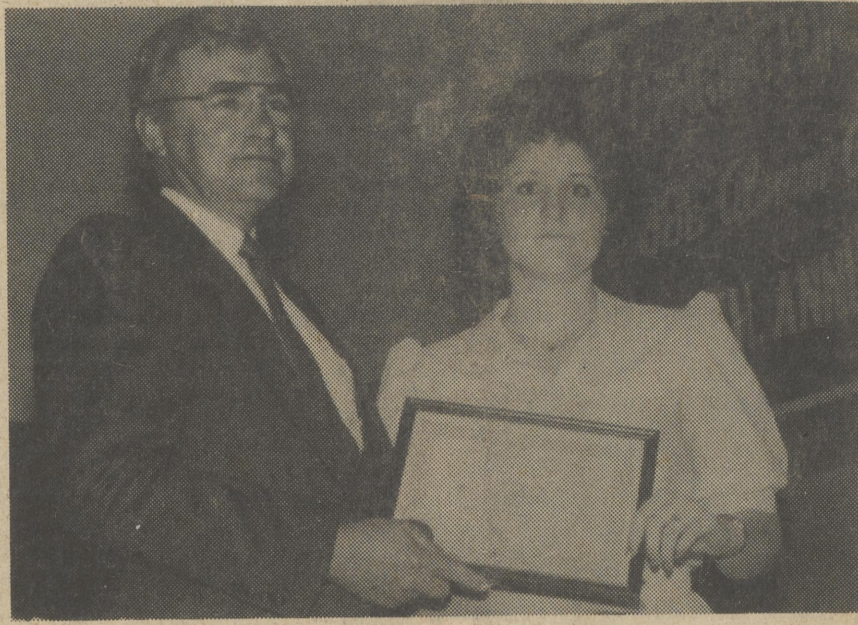

Nearly 500 alumni joined forces to salute the memories of the past with friends and guests.

There were approximately $5,000 given out again this year in scholarships.

Honored classes were 1915, 1925, 1935, 1945, 1955, 1960, and 1965. The farthest distance award went to Major James J. McDonald of San Antonio, Texas ('60). The oldest gentleman present again was Jehu F. Camper, of Harrington ('16). The oldest lady present again was Mrs. Ray P. McFaul, of Milford ('10). The class with the largest number present was the Class of 1965. The class with the largest percent present was the Class of 1910 (100%) and the Class of 1935 (88%).

One of the real highlights of the annual affair is the meal served by Mrs. Dorothy Messick Collins ('57) and her staff at the W. T. Chipman School. The affair this year ranks with one of the very best ever. The entertainment was provided by out-going president Shirley Kates Mackert and a supporting staff. There was no script, but the actions spoke louder than words... to be sure.

"Alma Mater"

by Melvin L. Brobst
 When the activities of the twenty-ninth annual reunion of the Harrington High School Alumni Association came to a close last Saturday evening in the W. T. Chipman School cafeteria, and the Alma Mater, led by Ronnie Hughes, was sung, an inquiry was made as to the origin of this favorite song of Harrington alumni.

It seems that back in 1941, due to the absence of a school song, a contest was held for the selection of an appropriate song as a suitable alma mater. A prize was offered and a committee appointed. Many entries were submitted, but none seemed appropriate since the music was taken from hits of the day with words that were trite and inappropriate. All were rejected.

It was then that Mr. Paul Hawk, director of physical education in the high school and a fine musician in his own right, submitted a song that he had composed that seemed to fit the requirements with words and music that represented the spirit and dignity of Harrington High School students. He had his wife, the former Charlotte Kraybill and music teacher in the local schools before her marriage, approve his creation and then submitted it to the committee. Before doing so, however, Mr. Brobst was approached to arrange the harmonization. It was subsequently approved and Harrington High School's "Alma Mater" was sung for the first time at a school assembly for students and faculty and enthusiastically endorsed.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hawk are now deceased, but the interest both created in the community will long be remembered. Paul Hawk had a fine baritone voice and made many appearances

Three die in accident near Canterbury

Delaware State Police Accident Reconstructionists are continuing an investigation of a three vehicle accident that occurred near Canterbury at 8:45 p.m. last Tuesday evening in which three persons died.

Christina L. Bollinger, 25, of 3023D, Hawthorne Drive, Dover, Cheryl M. Goldsmith, 22, of 3204F Cypress St., Dover and Mrs. Goldsmith's son, James Goldsmith, 3, of the same address, died when a 1979 Chevrolet Chevette, driven by Mrs. Bollinger, pulled into the path of a tractor trailer at the intersection of U.S. route 13 southbound and Kent 32, approximately five tenths miles west of Canterbury.

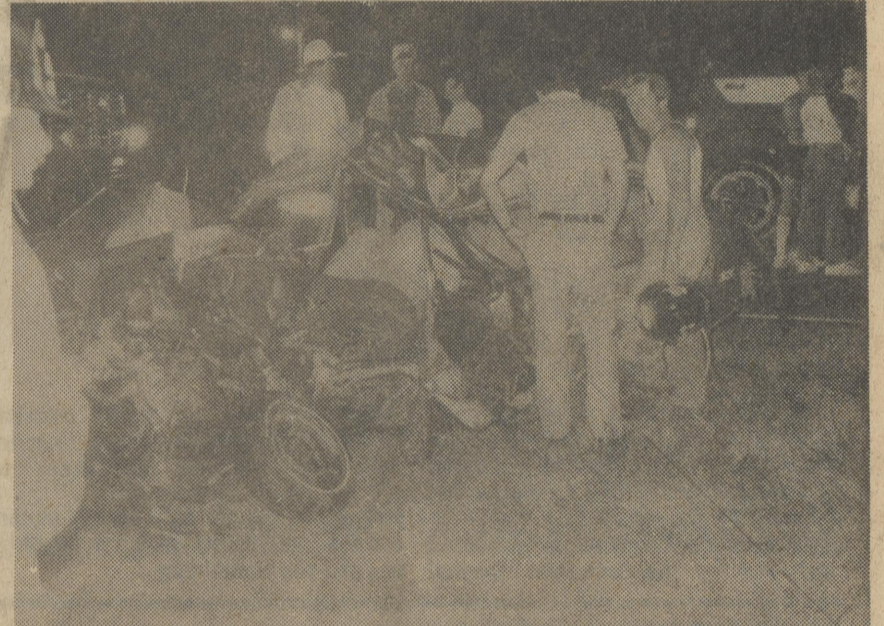

According to Reconstructionists, a 1984 Mack tractor trailer was being driven southbound in the right lane of U.S. route 13 southbound by Roy A. Dunbar, 30, of 607 Jefferson Street, Portsmouth, Virginia. Another vehicle, a 1978 Chevrolet, driven by Francis E. Fletcher, 60, of Church and High Streets, Felton, was southbound in the left lane of U.S. route 13 southbound, alongside the tractor-trailer. For an unknown reason, Mrs. Bollinger's vehicle entered onto U.S. 13 southbound, travelling in an easterly direction from Kent 32. The tractor trailer collided with the driver's side of Mrs. Bollinger's vehicle. After the impact, both vehicles travelled in a southeasterly direction for approximately 230 feet with both vehicles coming to rest in the grass median. As the tractor trailer and the Bollinger vehicle were travelling in a south-easterly direction, the tractor trailer collided with the Fletcher vehicle.

The injured were removed from the scene by the Felton and Frederica Volunteer Fire Company ambulances and the Dover paramedics. Christina Bollinger, Cheryl Goldsmith and James Goldsmith were pronounced dead on arrival at Kent General Hospital of massive head and internal injuries.

Seatbelt usage by Mrs. Bollinger and Mrs. Goldsmith is unknown, however, James Goldsmith was riding in a child restraint.

Neither Mr. Dunbar nor Mr. Fletcher were wearing seatbelts. No injuries were sustained by Mr. Dunbar and Mr. Fletcher. Alcohol involvement is unknown at this time.

This brings to total 28 highway fatalities this year as compared to 26 at this same time last year.

City to enforce lawn cutting

by George Volenik
 With spring, comes the need to keep lawns mowed. Citizens are urged to help the City present a positive image to visitors by keeping their properties mowed and clean. Today's visitors may be future residents or bring business to the City and first impressions are important.

Again, citizens are reminded that under City Ordinances properties must be kept mowed and free of trash.

Therefore, whenever weeds or grass need to be mowed or trash removed under the ordinance guide line, owners will be so notified to take action within a designated time. Prompt action by property owners will prevent penalties being levied against properties.

Citizens are requested to respond to notifications that may be sent to them by the City. If there are any questions, kindly contact the City Office.

Area residents honored at Recognition Award Banquet

Several area residents were among 126 Delaware Technical & Community College students honored at the Fifth Annual Recognition Award Banquet at the Southern Campus in Georgetown on Saturday, April 27.

Sponsored by the Student Government Association and Phi Theta Kappa Honor Fraternity, the event was designed, planned and executed by DT&CC students to recognize and encourage academic excellence toward personal and community development.

Following welcome greetings from SGA President Jacqueline Moore, PTK President Bill Haynes and Southern Campus Director Jack F. Owens, awards were presented in two categories: Outstanding Student and Academic Achievement to deserving students selected by peers and teachers.

This year's banquet was highlighted by a community award presented by the American Red Cross to Steve Lobo, a first year DT&CC Civil Engineering student from Harrington. The award, the highest honor the Red Cross gives, was presented by Alphonso Humes.

Dean of Students Robert W. Trout Sr. presented Outstanding Student Awards to one student from each DT&CC curriculum for superior performance in their technology and Academic Achievement Awards to full-time students enrolled in an associate degree program who maintained

Harrington Historical Society is on the move

The Greater Harrington Historical Society is on the move...The electric fixtures have been ordered for the Fleming Street Museum and should be in town by the middle of this month. Thanks to the citizens of the area, we have collected enough to pay for the insulation for the side walls. Mr. Porter and Sons has promised the scrubbing will soon be done on the ceiling. Isn't it wonderful what a community effort can do?

The Society has two more small projects for fund-raising in the near future...they will be selling donuts and coffee and hot-dogs and sodas at the Grand Opening of the McCullough Tire Center Grand Opening of their "Big A" Parts Department on Saturday, May 11 from 8 a.m. to 3 or 4 p.m. Please come and help them out.

On June 1 they will have a space out at the WAFU Flea Market at the Fair-Grounds. Anyone having anything to contribute can do so by leaving it at Welch's Seed Service on Vernon Road or calling 398-3835 or 398-8354. Each Historical Society member is asked to donate at least one item for this event. There are already some good ones promised!

throughout the area while his wife, Charlotte Kraybill, will be recalled as the founder and first director of Asbury United Methodist Church's Chancel Choir.

During the years following the adoption of the "Alma Mater" it was included in most school assemblies and combined with the singing of the state song, "Our Delaware". Assembly programs were weekly features at that time and continued to be so for many years.

Following are the words as recalled in the rendition of the Harrington High School Alma Mater:

Raise all your voices sing of Alma Mater
Tell of her glories in the days gone by.

Tell of her heroes honor to her colors,
Pledge your allegiance to Harrington High.

Our voices ring, we stand and sing,
Our song shall be, glory to thee.

Harrington High we always will be loyal
In days to come as in the days gone by

Thy name shall live and honored be forever
Pledge your allegiance to Harrington High.

May the recollection of these words bring back many pleasant memories to the many students who strolled through the halls of Harrington High!

National Association of Banking Women attend seminar

Left: Mary Jo Moran, NABW State Council Chairman on Education and Training. Right: Joyce Dyer, Vice-president NABW Diamond State Group.

The Saturday morning of April 20, 1985 found many of the Diamond State Group ladies of the National Association of Banking Women attending a seminar at Milford, Delaware.

With the title of "Enhancing Your Self-Image" a training module was presented by Mary Jo Moran, State Council Chairman on Education and Training.

An objective of the module is to be able to distinguish between self-image and self-worth. Changing our self-image is not trying to change who we are; it is altering how we view ourselves. It is not trying to be like someone else; it is realizing and developing our true self. We all have, right now, the resources to be and do what we want. Enhancing our self-image is learning to tap and use those resources.

Diamond State Group president Janet L. McCabe, assistant vice-president, Baltimore Trust Company, Selbyville, De. introduced Joyce Dyer, vice president JCPenney National Bank, Harrington, Delaware who spoke on scholarship applications. Joyce also made a presentation to Mary Jo Moran, Account Manager with Wilmington Savings Fund Society, Claymont, Delaware.

NABW programs are directed toward the encouragement of professional growth for all women in the financial services industry. The National Association of Bank Women is the largest individual membership association in the financial services industry and the only one that represents the interest of women financial executives.

Gab Fest

by Pat Hatfield

This past week has not been too comfortable for me since I've been fighting to get rid of the virus. I had to get someone to listen at my chest immediately, so I did escape pneumonia this time. But the medicine, though effective, takes its toll in various ways. The most difficult prescription for me is "rest". But I found something good about each day I was resting.

Two of my days were very special. One day I came into the kitchen and there on the breakfast bar was a gorgeous bouquet of spring flowers that had been delivered by the florist. The card read, Evelyn Henry. My dear little next-door neighbor had done this beautiful thing. The flowers also were my favorites, big yellow daisies, and here and there was a bright red tulip to perk up the whole setting. Her love and her gift has blessed me each day of my recovery.

On another day, Sunday afternoon in fact, one of my precious "adopted" granddaughters, Vicki Wragg of Dover, came to visit and brought with her a delightful school friend also. We had a good gab fest.

This morning my friend, Tess, had a little story to tell about her cardinal. The little cardinal guy has learned that after the big, greedy birds have gobbled up all the food, she will come out and put more. So he waits in the tree and whistles and chirps when he is ready and she goes out with his breakfast. So he comes down and enjoys it in great dignity. That is very precious communication, isn't it?

The miracle of the leaves is once more with us, and how fresh and green and new they look. The sycamore is working on hers now, but they are still tiny. The sycamore are the largest leaves of all when they are fully grown. "Ladybug", our little brown dog will be so happy when Garith is through school for the summer. They will have many a romp together and she will get more exercise. Like several other dogs we have had in the family she does not like to be left alone even for a few hours, and if I forget and leave the wastebaskets on the floor, she retaliates by upsetting them all and strewn the contents all over the floor.

Well, there is nothing like a baked ham in the house, is there? Luckily I had fixed a large one just before I got sick, and it keeps well. Dad never tires of it. I'm sure he would eat it three times a day, three hundred and sixty-five days a year if it was around. So, that and the family restaurant available at all times, we have come through fine.

I made some more of the Corn soup with the Cream of Celery base that I was telling you about. It will become a staple here. I am also fond of Cream of Broccoli soup. I make all my cream soups using the Campbell's soups as a base. Delicious and so easy.

Mother

I stand beside the ocean blue
And think of all that's good and true,
Of all the lovely things God made
There's one above all others
He took the best from all of these
And made them into Mother.
Happy Mother's Day to all Mothers.

"Jesus had compassion on them, and touched their eyes; and immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed him. Matthew 20:34. Physical blindness afflicts fewer people than spiritual blindness. Our spiritual eyes may be blind to the needs of others because of their race, finances, or education. But just as Jesus cured physical blindness, he can cure spiritual blindness.

From the Pastor's Pen

by Clifford Lones, Pastor

Independent Bible Fellowship Church, Harrington, De.

Comfort is a condition of life we all desire. We like to have a comfortable home, comfortable health and a comfortable financial income. No one desires trouble, trials, or any stressing conditions. It seems though that God is more concerned about our character than our comfort. Life experiences show us that a good strong character is never built by a life of ease. We are like a diamond in the rough that needs to be chipped on by a master craftsman until the beauty of our character shines forth. This must have been what the Apostle Peter was saying when he said, "That the trial of your faith, being much more precious than of gold that perisheth, though it be tried with fire, might be found unto praise and honor and glory at the appearing of Jesus Christ" (1 Peter 1:7).

Sometimes we look around and it seems everyone is more comfortable than we are. We begin to think God has given us a bad deal in life and we struggle with the inner feeling of resentment. But what about the character of compassion, sympathy and understanding the needs of other people? Has not our trials developed these in us? There are a lot of people in the world around us that are hurting in one way or another and they need help. But who is it that can help them the most, the person who has a life of ease, or the person who has had a character building process of knowing what hurting really is? The best comfort is to comfort others and this comes only by having a strong character produced by trying experiences.

HARRINGTON LITTLE LEAGUE OPENS SEASON

The Varsity baseball team bowed to Seaford in a rain shortened game on Thursday night with a score of 5-1. The Spartans collected 3 hits and were struck out ten times as Seaford coasted to their 10th win of the season. Seaford is 6-0 in conference. Sophomore Ricky Brown twirled a five hitter walking four...BUT singled in the only run of the game for the Spartans. The Sparts are 4-2 in conference play and 6-4 overall.

The girls softball team continued to mow down their opponents with Andrea "Fireball" Molohan handcuffing the Blue Jays of Seaford on 6 hits. She was also tough at the plate going 3 for 4 and 3 RBIs. Final score was 8-4. Angela Molohan went 2 for 4 with a solo blast. Cricket Morris and Susan Mears cashed in on base hits for the

by Keith S. Burgess

Lake Forest's girls' track team won the Group II title, in Wilmington's Twilight Relays on Saturday night. The Spartans totaled 80 points with Dickinson High next with 75 points. Howard was a distant third (44 points) followed by Cape Henlopen 42, Seaford 38, Ursuline 37, Sanford 30, Archmere 25, Tower Hill 22 and Alexis I duPont 17.

Lake Forest and Dickinson appear to be the top contenders in the 1985 Group II state title chase, with Howard, Cape Henlopen and Seaford, having a chance.

Michelle Briggs and Pam Smith won the triple jump, combining for a distance of 66 feet, 6 inches. This pair also were second, in the long jump. Briggs finished her productive evening by uniting with Carolyn Browne, Sheva Batton and Sharon Coverdale, for a third-place finish, in the 880 yard relay in 1:50.8, a yearly-best for Lake Forest.

Freshman Mary McGuire, Melanie Pelton, Sheva Batton and Debbie Jester were third, in the shuttle hurdle relay, with McGuire turning in an outstanding stint in the seldom-contested event.

Even more rare is the Swedish medley in which Carolyn Browne opened by running 100 yards. Sharon Coverdale, 220 yards; Sheva Batton, 330 yards; Sylvia Hicks, 440 yards; completed the test in fifth place.

Debbie Jester, Patti Drew, Kelli Pelton and Lori Wilson were second in the distance medley.

Melanie Pelton replaced Patti Drew on this unit and they finished fourth in the two mile relay.

Drew, Wilson, Sylvia Hicks and M. Pelton ran a 4.28 mile relay effort, in 4.28, close to being a seasonal best.

Sharon Coverdale, Della Smith, Joann Smith and Carolyn Browne reeled off a second-place 440 relay, in 52.7.

Della, Joann, Hicks and K. Pelton made-up the Spartan sprint medley unit.

Severa Harris and Andrea Molohan, joined in a total of 66 feet, 4 1/4 inches to grab second place, in the shot put.

Andrea and Mary McGuire were third in the discus with a total of 186 feet, 3 inches. McGuire's 88-11 was a new personal heave.

McGuire and Drew totalled 9 feet, 2 inches, for second in the high jump.

Spartans tough in first loss

by Keith Burgess

Faced with one of the two strongest track teams, in Delaware, Lake Forest put up an outstanding battle before losing its first dual meet of the season, 78-83, to Cape Henlopen. The visiting Vikings were extended for the first time this spring, as Spartan athletes smashed two school records, had four people set personal bests and had three others establish yearly bests. Lake Forest has now surpassed state qualifying standards, in seventeen events.

Mike Melvin sliced seven seconds off the Spartan mark, clocking 4.36 for a third-place 1600 meters finish. Freshman Mark Tozer smashed the 3200 meters school mark by 19 seconds. Tozer's 10.19 came in second to a 10.16 recorded by Cape Henlopen's junior whiz, Mark Stack, who had to run the two miles distance, faster than he ever had before, under the tremendous pressure generated by the Spartan ninth grader.

Marcus Bray upset the Viking quarter miler by winning in 53 seconds flat. Micah Parker's yearly best 41.99 captured the 300 intermediate hurdles. Parker was second in a personal best 15.8 in the 110 high hurdles with Darren Hammond next in 15.8. Keith Smith was the triple jump winner with 42 feet, 6 inches.

Eric Warren tossed the 12-pound shot 53 feet, 6 1/2 inches, with Kermit Mosley, in second missing 46 feet by one inch, a yearly best. Barry Chaffinch was third here, then captured the discus with 144-10 1/4. Warren was next.

Sophomore Chris Drew (10 feet, 6 inches) Ken Hutchins and Joe Dopirak swept the pole vault. Paul Meding and Snead of the visitors each cleared 6 feet, with Snead being declared the winner, under the fewer misses rule.

Victor Hill as timed in a yearly best 2:04.2, for 800 meters, with Mark Whidden, getting 2:04.7, for a personal best, in a 2-3 Spartan finish.

Tim Harmon clocked a personal best of 22.5 and Don Bell did 23.3, for a 2-3 finish, for 200 meters. Robert Young had thirds in the 100 meters (10.9) and the long jump.

Eric Payne clocked a fine 10.39, for a third place finish in the 3200 meters, also a personal best.

Despite the loss, it was one of the finest hours (or two hours) in Spartan track history.

Spartan girls beat Cape 74-56

by Keith Burgess

Lake Forest's track girls are the best team in the Henlopen Conference. This was proven when the locals beat a strong Viking team 74-56. Kelli Pelton ran 12.33 at 3200 meters, her best performance in two years, with Tara Gladden next.

Mary McGuire, a valuable freshman athlete, led a 1-2-3 high jump sweep with help from Jodi Jensen and Melanie Pelton, another up-and-coming ninth grader. McGuire was third in the 100 meter hurdles, then came in behind Andrea Molohan's second place, in the discus.

Patti Drew (65.5) and Sylvia Hicks were 1-2 in the 400 meter run. Drew, Carolyn Browne, Sharon Coverdale and Della Smith captured the 400 meter relay in 52.4.

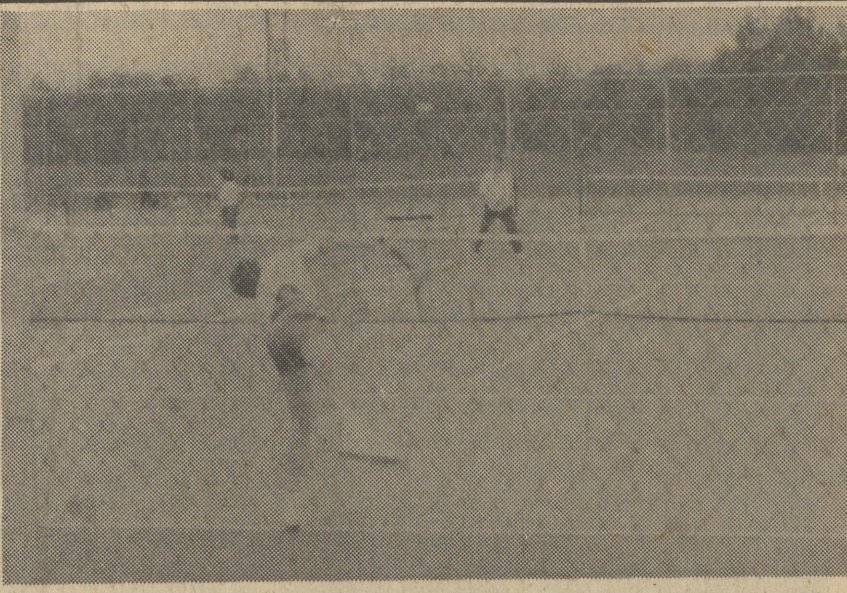

Hicks, Melanie Pelton, Debbie Jester and Lori Wilson took the 1600 meter relay (4:38).

Wilson had a personal best 2:34, second place 800 meters. Carolyn Browne was second, at 200 meters, but recorded a swift Spartan mark (25.5) Browne and Della Smith went 2-3, at 100 meters.

Severa Harris, one of Delaware's best shotputters, again broke her own school mark, with 398 3/4, she may reach the elusive 40 foot mark soon.

Pam Smith (34-1) and Michelle Briggs went 1-2, in the triple jump and 2-3, in the long jump.

Sheva Balton was second and third in the 300 intermediate hurdles. Shirlaine Goodman and Jody Jensen, did the same, in the 1600 meter run.

Boys get 4th in Dover relays

by Keith Burgess

With Jim Blades in charge of the Spartan girl's team, in Wilmington Saturday night, Dave Buck took the reins of the boys' team and guided them to a fourth place finish, in the 80th annual Dover Relays.

The Spartans were up against all the track powers, in the state and were only two points behind third-place Dickinson. The Rams and the Spartans figure to be the top challengers, in the Group II state title hunt, May 17.

Group I (larger schools) teams, Delcastle and Cape Henlopen were first and second. Lake Forest's fourth-place finish placed them ahead of most of the large schools and perennial power names like Salesianum, Wm. Penn. Dover, Howard, St. Marks, Concord, Wilmington and Newark. 'Twas a great evening for the small, rural school.

As expected, Lake Forest's giant Eric Warren and Kermit Mosley, dominated the shot put, combining for a distance of 98 feet, 10 inches, more than eight feet better than a St. Mark's duo. Warren has the state's best throw, this campaign, a throw of 87 feet, 4 1/4 inches.

Joe Dopirak did a fine job as he joined Lake Forest's stars, in both the high jump and pole vault, enabling them to get a second-place finish in each. Without him, Lake Forest could not have scored in either. Dopirak's personal-best of 5-8, in the high jump, when added to Paul Meding's career-best 6 feet, 4 inch leap, put Lake Forest only two inches behind Cape Henlopen. Meding is only 1/4 inch off James Browne's Lake Forest mark, at this writing.

Dopirak's 10 feet, 6 inch, pole-vault clearance, was added to Ken Hutchins' 12 feet, 6 inch vault, for another runnerup finish. Hutchins, the Spartan, record-holder, narrowly missed getting a new, record height of 13 feet.

In the 400 meter relay, the Spartan quartet, was sixth, but set a new school mark of 43.8 seconds. It was the second such effort of 1985 for Tim Harmon, Robert Young, Frank Coverdale and Don Bell. The same foursome were fourth, at 800 meters in a yearly best of 1:31.5.

Also fourth in the 3200 meter relay was the team of Mark Whidden, Victor Hill, Mark Tozer and Dexter Bray in yet another seasonal standard of 8:23.9.

Mike Melvin replaced Hill and the revamped unit ran sixth, in the distance medley.

Since Lake Forest could not enter two events, due to lack of manpower, it appears that the Spartans did an outstanding job against much larger schools!

Trackmen beat Dover 85-56

by Keith Burgess

Dover High, fresh off a 79-62 victory over Salesianum of Wilmington, were no match for Jim Blades' strong, once-beaten Spartans who prevailed easily, 85-56, at Dover.

Tim Harmon (11.3) and Robert Young went 1-2, at 100 meters. Harmon also took the 200 (22.5), then ran on the winning 400 meter relay team (44.5) with Young, Frank Coverdale and Don Bell.

Mark Tozer and Mike Melvin were first and second, at 1600 meters. Tozer doubled back, in the 3200 meters (10.25) with Eric Payne third.

Darren Hammond (16 flat) and Micah Parker occupied the first two spots in the 110 meter high hurdles. Parker later took the 300 intermediate hurdles in 42.1.

Sophomore Dexter Bray surprised by scorching the 400 meters, in 51.7, for second place. His previous best was 53 seconds flat. Improvement of this magnitude rarely occurs. He is just beginning to realize how to run this

Sports Round-Up

The Varsity baseball team bowed to Seaford in a rain shortened game on Thursday night with a score of 5-1. The Spartans collected 3 hits and were struck out ten times as Seaford coasted to their 10th win of the season. Seaford is 6-0 in conference. Sophomore Ricky Brown twirled a five hitter walking four...BUT singled in the only run of the game for the Spartans. The Sparts are 4-2 in conference play and 6-4 overall.

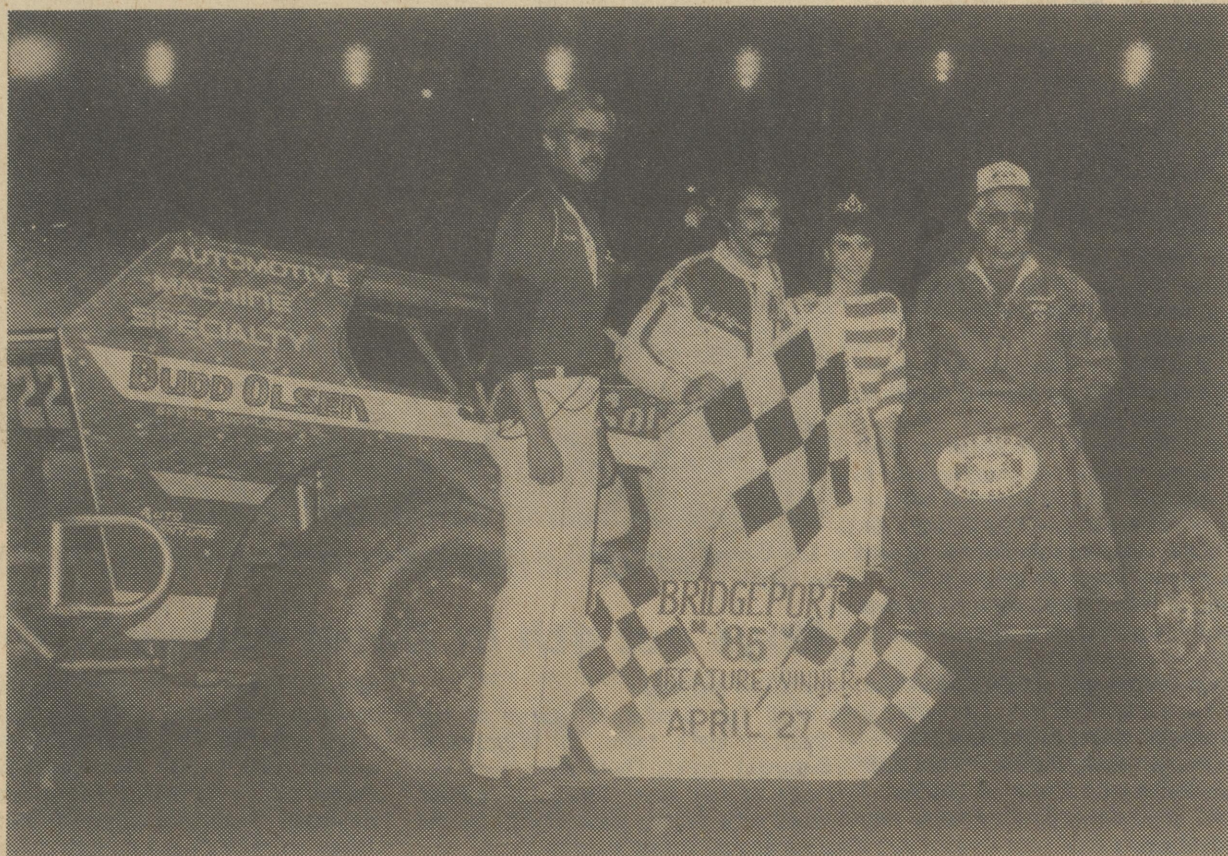

The girls softball team continued to mow down their opponents with Andrea "Fireball" Molohan handcuffing the Blue Jays of Seaford on 6 hits. She was also tough at the plate going 3 for 4 and 3 RBIs. Final score was 8-4. Angela Molohan went 2 for 4 with a solo blast. Cricket Morris and Susan Mears cashed in on base hits for the Spartans who are 6-0 in conference play and 7-1 overall.

In tennis action, Holy Cross beat the Spartans 3-2 with Gary Price winning the #1 singles match and Rennie-Mosley winning the #1 doubles. The girls tennis team beat Holy Cross 4-1.

The Chipman Softball team won both games over the past week with wins over Dover Air (38-9) and 15-10 over Selbyville. In both games Tammy Graham Renee Johnson and Edith Senter combined for the pitching. Robin Monroe, Jo Ann Outten, Dawn Andrew, Lisa Wamsley and Lisa Wilson supplied the strength at the plate with each getting several hits in each game. Robin Monroe provided a three run clout against Selbyville.

David Hill aces season second at U.S. 13

by Don Allen

David Hill piloted his Hill's Electric, Tri City Buggy #75 to his second season victory in the flag to flag 20 lap late model feature at U.S. 13 Saturday night. Hill's shattering front straight wreck in last week's event was long forgotten as the Hurlock, Md. native wheeled his '84 Trans Am from mid-pack to the lead with five laps to go and motored under the checkered ahead of Alex Beaumont, Duane Rust, Lou Johnson and fifth place finisher Ron Wilson.

Rust sat on the pole in the Donovan's Salvage #296 and would lead the first four laps while holding off the challenges of Beaumont and the #100 of Hal Browning. Browning proved Rust's strongest challenger when on lap five he snatched the lead as the two entered the first turn.

By the half-way mark Browning was enjoying a comfortable lead but then fate stepped in. The #100 began to show vapors and on lap 12 Browning retired it from the race. This put Rust back on the point with Hill in second. Hill changed this picture as flagman Bill Lawson gave the five lap sign as he and Beaumont dropped Rust to third and put a lock on the race.

Next week the Late Models will do battle in a "twin 20" program at U.S. 13.

John Kenney scored his second Limited Late Model win in as many weeks as he outdrove Chuck Graves, Jeff Brown, Todd Richardson and J. V. Wells to capture the 15-lap LLM feature at U.S. 13. A strong field took the green for the action packed event and Graves wasted no time in moving his Weller's Tire Service #312 from fifth to the lead. The #312 held off the charges of the #48 of Brown as Kenney worked his way up from an eighth spot start. By the halfway sign Kenney had put his Chesapeake Rim and Wheel #2 on the #312's rear bumper and on lap 13 he motored into the lead. Graves hung on to second as Kenney roared across the finish line.

The third time was the charm for Parsonsburg, Md.'s David Trice as he nursed an ailing engine in his Major Muffler Chevelle #90 to a win in the Street Modified feature. Trice has seemed a sure victor in both previous SM events this season only to have mechanical problems sideline him before the checkered fell. Trice's engine began to fail again Saturday night but this time David refused to give up and held onto his lead over Timmy White and third place finisher Ira Hitchens. White was last week's winner and Saturday night he drove to a convincing second in his Miller's Body Shop '72 Chrysler #40.

"Fast Freddie B." goes three for three

by Don Allen

Reinholds, Pa. chauffer Freddy Brightbill continued to dominate the 1985 modified fields at U.S. 13 Speedway Saturday night winning his third victory there in as many starts and his fourth feature of the year. Brightbill flat out-ran his competition in the Ray Martin chassis #25 to capture the 25-lap event. At the finish it was Freddy in first, a comfortable distance ahead of Kenny Brightbill, Harold Bunting, Charlie Moore and Gary Trice who rounded out the top five.

"Fast Freddy" and "Mr. Excitement" sat ninth and eighth respectively when starter Bill Lawson's green flag came out. Pole sitter Johnny Bennett had his work cut out for him as Bunting and Bobby Wilkins latched onto his rear bumper for the first three circuits. Bennett's Norristown Honda #707 showed the same strength exhibited in its earlier heat race win but the Delmarva Electric Motors #69 of Wilkins proved the stronger. As the pack entered the first turn to start lap four Wilkins found a chink in Bennett's armor and blasted into the lead. Fate only allowed Wilkins to enjoy the top for a few yards though for as the racer exited the second turn a universal joint gave up leaving Wilkins disabled on the back stretch.

Bennett stood on it at the restart but the "Brightbill Clan" were ready to make their assault on the lead. Kenny threaded the needle between Bunting and third place Ron Keys and jumped from fourth to second bringing Freddy along with him. The #19D of Bunting snapped at their heels for the next two circuits and on lap seven found his chance. Bunting parked his Bandit Chassied racer in the top groove through the one-two and roared by the three leaders.

The #39 of Keys would be the next casualty when it came to rest in the third turn and brought out the second caution. When the green flashed Freddy was the fastest on the throttle as he shot into the lead leaving Bunting to deal with Kenny. With an open track ahead Freddy turned up the heat and began to outdistance the battling 19's. Bunting's second place seemed to certainty in the final laps but as he and "Mr. Excitement" began to encounter lap traffic Kenny closed in for the attack. With only three to go Kenny put the 19D behind him but by now the chances of catching Freddy were gone and the Ritter Farms #25 claimed the checkered.

Bennett finished the event on a dismal when his equipment gave up on lap 18 costing him a certain fourth place finish.

The evening's heats were won by Bennett and Gary Trice. Sixth through tenth in the feature were snared by Jerry Dickinson, Tony Damato, Steve Downs, Ron Keys and Charlie Phillips.

Happy Mother's Day!

One daughter's love sparks Mother's Day

It wasn't a singular new idea. Anna Jarvis wasn't the first woman to dream it. Julia Ward Howe tried ever so hard to get a Mother's Day into the vernacular as far back as 1870 when she tried to weave it into an international movement for peace, following the Franco-German War. It was just that Jarvis re-invented the idea at the right time with the emotional appeal that struck a harmonious chord in the hearts of all America.

The time was 1907. Jarvis' Mother had recently passed away. She mourned her loss deeply, and confided to a group of friends her desire to make Mother's Day a national observance, as a reflection of her love and respect for her own mother and to pay special homage to all mothers for all that they had achieved.

By May 1908, her idea of a Mother's Day burst upon Grafton, West Virginia, where the Jarvis family had lived prior to moving to Philadelphia. It took the encouragement of John Wanamaker, Philadelphia merchant/philanthropist, and the coordinated action of civic groups to bring the idea to fruition.

Like so many other revered holidays, Mother's Day started as a modest church observance, marked by a special sermon delivered in a Grafton church, which still survives as a national shrine to a beloved holiday. More than 95 percent of America marks Mother's Day with special activities ranging from silent prayer to elaborate gifts, dinners, formal and informal family gatherings.

By 1910, a bare two years after the birth of the idea, Governor William E. Glassman proclaimed Mother's Day a state holiday. On the wings of immediate acceptance, Congress, by joint resolution, made Mother's Day a national holiday in 1913. And President Woodrow Wilson had the honor of issuing the first Mother's Day Proclamation, designating it to be observed the second Sunday of every May in all the states, territories and dependencies of the United States. The rest is hallowed tradition. Mother's Day is no longer solely an American holiday, but a day enjoyed and participated in by many nations all over the world. The 77th Mother's Day will be celebrated on May 12, 1985 — when much of the western world pauses to pay tribute to the unending responsibilities and gratifications of motherhood.

Anna Jarvis' original concept was founded on the notion of modest expression of reverence — a special letter to Mother, a visit to her on Mother's Day, perhaps the token of a flower. But the personal letter has been largely supplanted by the greeting card. The casual visit has become a feast at a posh restaurant or even a trip for Mom to some fantasy vacation resort. The simple wild flower has become a beautiful potted plant or a lavish bouquet of long stemmed roses. But the symbolism of the simple carnation, Jarvis' mother's favorite flower, has not been lost in the explosion of her idea.

America and the world took to the idea and made Mother's Day the beloved holiday we celebrate.

race and also to realize just how good he is. He's No. 3 on the all-time list here. He may be the first Spartan to eventually break 50 seconds. Bray ran another good one lap, as he, Keith Murray, Mark Whidden and John Caskey ran the year's best Spartan clocking of 3:38.4 for second place. Whidden and Melvin got the first two spots, at 800 meters.

Eric Warren, unleashed a mighty toss of 57 feet, 4 1/2 inches, the best scholastic effort, this campaign in Delaware. Kermit Mosley was third. Warren took the discus also with 145 feet, 4 inches. Barry Mosley threw 140 for second with Mosley third.

Paul Meding, one of the best high jumpers in the state, cleared 6 feet, 1 inch to win. Ken Hutchins, one of the top three Delaware pole vaulters, had another excellent effort to win with 12 feet, 6 inches.

Robert Young long jumped 20 feet, 1 inch for second place, while Victor Hill triple jumped 41 feet, 1 inch for third.

Spartan girls win 88-44 at Dover

by Keith Burgess

It was a great day for the Irish, as colleens Patti Drew and Mary McGuire each won two events to pace Lake Forest to an easy 88-44 win, at Dover.

Drew cleared 4 feet, 8 inches to annex the high jump, won the 400 meters (65) then ran on the winning 400 relay with Sharon Coverdale, Della Smith and Carolyn Browne, which clocked a seasonal best of 52 seconds flat.

McGuire, a freshman, clocked a personal best of 18.04, in winning the 100 hurdles, with Sheva Balton next in a personal best 18.4. Mary then captured the discus with her farthest throw ever of 8.8 feet, 9 inches. Severa Harris was second. McGuire was also third in the high jump.

Lori Wilson, a natural talent, was first in the 1600 meters, with her fastest yet clocking of 5:46.8. Kelli Pelton was third. Wilson ran a 2:39.6 to get second, at 800 meters, behind the flying Debbie Jester, whose 2:37.6 was her best open 800 yet. Wilson, Jester, Sylvia Hicks and Melanie Wilson took the 1600 meter relay in 4:32.

Sharon Coverdale was also flying low at Dover, winning the 200 meters, with a lifetime best of 26.6 with Carolyn Browne next.

Browne, though ailing, also managed a second (12.9) at 100 meters.

Sheva Batton's second in the 300 low hurdles (51.3) was a good effort. Shirlaine Goodman and Tara Gladden went 2-3, at 3200 meters.

Severa Harris again neared the elusive 40 foot mark with a winning 39.6. Jill Wix was 3rd.

Michelle Briggs (15 feet, 1 1/4) and Pam Smith were first and second, in the long jump and second and third, in the triple jump. Both Spartans had good 83 feet plus efforts, against Pinkett of Dover, a fine jumper, who could be upset, at any time, by either of the locals.

Rotary Club News

At a recent meeting of Harrington rotary, Mr. Richard Porter, Scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop #78, Harrington, made a report on the progress of the local troop. He was proud to say that the condition was progressing, with a growing membership. Among future plans is a bake sale to be held in front of Foodrite on Saturday, May 11, with proceeds to go for much-needed equipment to be used during the months and years ahead. A cook-out will also be held at Killen's State Park some time in the near future and the troop will be host to the Cub packs of the area. Alex Vaughn of Milford Radio Station has recently been appointed the new unit commissioner for the Delmarva Council in this area and will be available for any assistance local troops may need.

Among recent community-action participation was a substantial contribution toward expenses of the Odyssey of the Mind organization, formerly known as the Olympics of the Mind. This action was under the guidance of Dr. Arthur Gilbert, administrator in charge of curriculum and special programs in the Lake Forest School District and a member of the club. The event, this year, will take place at the University of Maryland, to include participation by students from Harrington.

Recent visitors to Harrington Club were Bob Reed, former district governor of District #763, and Leslie Wix, both members of the Dover Rotary Clubs.

Future plans for the club include two social events. One is a fishing party to leave from Mispillion Light, and another calls for a tour of the General Foods plant in Dover.

The Harrington Rotary Club meets weekly each Monday night at the Harrington Restaurant and Newsstand, 100 Delaware Ave., Bill Smith, president.

Gardens Facing in Four Directions

Supplement to The Harrington Journal, May 8, 1985

Those old-fashioned westerly vines which swing to the four points of the compass are good reminders of the opportunities available for summer color plantings. Each side of a house has its own special character. North, South, East and West — has some special opportunities to let flowers shine...and point the direction in choice of plants. Each factoring of a home has a different mini-climate, calling up varied garden possibilities.

Another good choice would be 'Sherbet Mix', a pastel combination with white, 'Roseette' and 'Duet' are two different double impatiens, the place to let shade tolerant and cooler climate flowers perform their magic.

mixed in grand array.

'Carotree' colors have more toned-down colors, with the new 'Carotree Buckskin' providing deeply-lobed buff-yellow leaves fringed with emerald with morning sun and afternoon shade, try using flowers which star under high light but need some protection from the blazing afternoon sun.

New 'Vista' impatiens are prime candidates for this situation. Their immense flowers (compared with traditional impatiens) guarantees them to be garden stars of the future.

Phloxes such as 'Bingos' are excellent border plants. 'Prelude' begonias are green leaved varieties with flowers of scarlet, rose, pink or white. The 'Bingo' begonia are bronze-leaved with flowers of either light pink or yellow.

South — in full sun, unless shaded by trees or shrubs, this side of a home or other building takes the entire heat of the heat. Remember that heat absorption at foundations or against walls and fences is so strong that plantings of even heat-loving plants should be held away from the unshaded background by 18 inches or more.

Edging plants such as ageratum or Alyssum are also good. Blue Frits 'nere' series, besides a red variety, includes an orange, a blue-violet and a creamy white.

Nicotiana, an old favorite, has seen a significant revival with the introduction of shorter plants which are tidy in the garden. The 'Nicki' series, which created the renewed interest, provides flowers of pink, red, rose, white and creamy yellow.

Marigolds, in their infinite variety of sunny colors, are among the best. Choose from husky triploids which never go out of bloom — even in the most torrid weather — such as primrose yellow 'Encores'. Use the compact plants of the new 'Bonanza' series in yellow and combinations of mahogany and yellow for dramatic blooming capacity.

The flat flowered form of the 'Queen' marigolds lend variety, while, for background plantings choose the large-flowered American marigolds such as the new 'Inca's', or 'Apollo' and 'Sunshot'.

Colorful petunias can be found in every flower hue. One of the most exciting new varieties is 'Summer Madness' whose hot pink blossoms are centered with deep red veins.

A new introduction in 1984 was 'Orockett's Victory White', named for the original.

as Jiffy Mix® , make ideal containers for flowers and vegetables.

Just poke several holes in the bag, fill it with water, let the soil mix absorb the water, add a slow release fertilizer such as Mag Ampe®, and start planting. Mix bags can be planted much like tubs or baskets, with taller varieties in the center and dwarf or spreading types on the sides. Once the plants fill in, the bag will completely disappear under the flowers and foliage.

Remember to poke several drainage holes in the sides of the bag about half-way up, and keep it well-watered.

Gardening Above Ground

Raised bed gardens are becoming increasingly popular, and if properly laid out, allows gardeners to fit a lot of plants in a small area.

One of the many raised bed schemes is the Square Foot Garden. Devised by a former engineer who wanted an easy but fruitful way to garden, it involves pots divided into square foot segments. The system's raised beds allow gardeners to start their gardens, soil and all, completely, from scratch. Most gardeners use railroad ties or wooden planks for the sides.

To start, decide exactly what you want to plant, how much area you want to use and the exact location of the garden.

Arrange them in such a way that you can reach all the plants without stepping into the beds. The garden can be arranged in neat rows, in squares, or in a number of other shapes.

In square foot gardens, each flower or vegetable is planted in its own square foot plot, always with an even number of plants per square, arranged in a box shape.

The key is to arrange the rows so that you can easily reach plants and get as much into your available area as possible.

Make sure that there is plenty of drainage. Work the ground before you put in the plants. Then, lay out the planks and bring in the soil. One of the greatest advantages of raised beds is that you can start, virtually, from scratch using a soil mix high in organic matter. To add to the drainage, drill holes in the planks next to the base every two feet to allow excess water to drain out.

what's a deck without a door? Glass patio doors provide easy access and a great view of your home's new addition.

These are just a few of the many ways that windows add style to your home. Check with your local dealers to see the full line of clad and wood windows, skylights and patio doors.

New Windows Add Style to Home

Window shopping? You will find a variety of new designs available to add distinctive personality to your home. Take, for example, the ordinary kitchen window. It's great for keeping tabs on the kids, but consider adding a box bay window to create a green-house effect. Fresh herbs can be just an arm's reach away when planted in a sunny kitchen bay. And you can still watch the kids. Skylights transform an ordinary area into a dynamic focal point. And thanks to improved design and installation techniques from manufacturers, today's skylights let the sun shine in but keep out unwanted elements. Patio decks increase recreational space and add architectural interest. And

Orange' marigolds, 'Little Devil' begonias on the edges, with taller flowers behind.

Raised beds also provide the perfect opportunity to intermix flowers and vegetables. Try 'Maggie Carpet' vinca beside 'Champion' tomato, begonias under 'Daddy' petunias mixed with bright 'falapa' peppers.

Like containers, raised beds deplete water quickly. Drip irrigation (easily assembled from widely available kits) is the ideal solution, but if you lack such a system, water deeply and evenly whenever the top two inches of soil dries.

Remember: the location of the garden determines what can be planted there. If you're particularly interested in growing vegetables or cut flowers, plant in the sun. Impatiens, salvia, cosmos and begonias will do well if your garden is in the shade but only non-fruiting, leafy vegetables such as lettuce will be successful.

Whether you try hanging baskets, window boxes, soil mix bags or raised bed gardens, experiment a little to see what works best. You'll quickly find your favorite varieties and containers and soon be on your way to having a great small-space garden.

Tips on Improving Garden Soil

Fertilizer is needed to supply the nutrients required by plants for proper growth. A complete chemical fertilizer is usually recommended. Such a fertilizer contains nitrogen (N), phosphorus (P), and potash (K), listed as percentages in that order. A 5-10-10 or a 5-10-5 fertilizer is best for most vegetables. You can also use an organic fertilizer, but this will usually be lower in nutrient content than a regular inorganic fertilizer.

To determine how much lime and fertilizer your soil actually needs, it should be tested. The University of Delaware offers a soil test.

Gardens for the Handicapped

Even people confined to wheelchairs or who have trouble bending can enjoy gardening, if the plot is modified. One way to make access easier is to build raised beds.

According to University of Delaware extension garden specialist Dave Tattall, a typical raised bed might be 4 to 5 feet wide and no less than 12 inches deep. The length is optional. A bed can be created by building a wooden box and elevating it on cinderblocks or similar supports. If the bed is to be worked from only one side, it should be no more than 30

Swarming Insects Come With Spring

Spring is the season when honeybees, ants, termites and many other social insects divide themselves to form new colonies. Exactly what triggers the swarming process is not known, but when people see it happen, they often panic. This is understandable, since a swarm may contain several thousand insects. One's first reaction may be to destroy them instantly.

However, the situation is rarely that urgent, says University of Delaware extension agricultural agent Derby Walker. The first step is to assess the problem. It would be smart to two other PCOs for written estimates. Ask each company or operator for references and PCO license number to be sure they are registered in Delaware. "Even if there is an infestation, don't panic and accept the first bid that's made," the agent says. "Both termites and carpenter ants work slowly. So take your time and select the best offer. The best deal is not necessarily the cheapest or the most expensive. Read the written estimates of what each PCO will do for you, then make your decision. It would be smart to check some of their references, too."

Honeybee swarms are a different matter. "These insects are quite gentle when they first swarm," says Walker—himself a beekeeper. "As long as they're not disturbed, they won't bother you. The bees in the new cluster gorge themselves with their honey before leaving their old colony to establish a new one. Since they're fat with honey, they're not likely to sting unless they've been hanging in a bush or tree for several days and have depleted their supply. Generally, who will pick up bees. Honeybees are valuable insects and should not be destroyed, Walker concludes. They pollinate many fruits and vegetables, provide beeswax, honey and even glue. "If you happen to see a swarm, don't panic," he says. "Just keep children away, make a few phone calls, and in a short time your swarm should either be picked up by a beekeeper or will leave of its own accord. There's no reason to get out a spray can or call someone to destroy them."

Vinyl Foundation Protects the "Bottom Line"

What's the best way to protect and beautify your home's "bottom line"? A foundation enclosure (also called skirting) is the answer if you are among the more than 9 million Americans who live in manufactured housing and are looking for the perfect finishing touch. Skirting shields gas, plumbing and electrical hookups from the wind, rain and snow to keep moisture from ruining the underside of your home. It also protects these connections from vandalism and accidental damage. Manufactured home owners are often tempted to

Gardens Facing in Four Directions

[Continued from page 2] Inal host of 'The Victory Garden' television show. Bearing enormous white flowers, it's an early blooming variety, too. The newest color in the all-time favorite 'Cascades' is 'Blush Cascade', a unique, light pink shade which is amazingly color-fast. And to the 'Magics', with more colors than any other petunia series, comes still another 'Cherry Magic', bearing large flowers of a rich, cherry-rose color.

No garden would be complete without geraniums — now blessed with an almost complete range of colors, flower types and plant habit. Red is still the most popular color by far, but new colors keep cutting into that lead. New 'Hollywood Star', for example, is a strikingly colorful white and rose bicolor variety, an entirely new color in hybrid seed geraniums. Meanwhile, its newly introduced companion, 'Hollywood Red', will win garden friends for their early blooming habit, flower power and compact growth habit.

West — heat build-up is the most intense in western exposures. Although the sun has passed its zenith by the time its full force strikes the west side of a building, bright sun is coupled with maximum temperatures (4 p.m. usually brings the daily maximum temperature)...so the heat can be intense. Choose rugged flowers for the most exposed situations. One of the best is vinca. These tough but pretty plants are prolific in adverse conditions. They soak up heat, and are virtually imperious to insects, pollution or disease. 'Magic Carpet' series of vincas are spreading plants with a self-branching habit which causes plants to become smothered with bloom. Morning Glory is a good upright vinca with scalloped clusters of flowers. Flowers are white, centered with a cherry eye. Another heat tolerant plant is portulaca, which performs admirably in western exposures. 'Wildfire', a vigorous plant, bears single flowers of white, yellow, rose and red. Gazanias are rapidly growing in popularity, thanks to

You should be living in a legend.

The Legend began in 1923 when Bruce Ward hand hewed his first log cabin in the remote wilderness of northern Maine. Today, some 62 years later, the Ward Legend lives on in a variety of shapes and sizes. Bruce Ward never dreamed of it. Succession Plantings Get More Mileage from Garden

Home vegetable gardeners can get more out of their gardens if they plan for successive plantings over the growing season. Different popular vegetables reach maturity at different times, says University of Delaware extension garden specialist Dave Tattall. A good garden plan will allow for growing two successive crops in the same space—an early maturing vegetable such as lettuce followed by a late-maturing beet, for example. In some cases, it may be possible to grow as many as three crops this way in the same year. Examples of early planted crops that can be followed by others are onion sets, beets, mustard, turnips, carrots, spinach, corn, peas and cabbage. Late plantings of beets, peas, brussels sprouts, cauliflower, lettuce, turnips, cabbage and spinach can also be made after.

Vine-type plants growing up a trellis, stake, pole, fence or wire cage take up less room than when they're allowed to lie on the ground. Some peas and pole beans will climb by themselves. Cucumbers, melons, squash and tomatoes can be encouraged to climb by tying them to the support. Intercropping, which uses the space between maturing crops, is another way to increase production, the garden specialist says. Plant a fast and a slow growing crop (such as radishes and carrots) in closely adjoining rows. Radishes grow quickly and will be harvested before they compete with the carrots. Tattall has one caution about using these intensive techniques: Be sure there are enough moisture and nutrients available so the vegetables will be able to produce abundantly.

Tips on Improving Garden Soil

All gardening begins with the soil. And good soil is an absolute must for a successful garden. Soil can be improved and made more productive by working in organic matter, lime and fertilizer. Organic matter improves soil structure and drainage. It may also add valuable plant nutrients. Sources of organic matter include mushroom soil, peat moss, garden compost and manure. Big Ideas in Small Space

There's a new way of gardening that's winning over converts, young and old, across America. It's taking the typical big backyard garden and trimming it down to a size where it can fit in a tiny apartment courtyard, a patio, a porch or a balcony forty stories high. This new way of gardening — using containers, raised beds, hanging baskets and even bags of soil mix — is convincing many that less is more in the garden. Gardens of hanging baskets, tubs, bags and raised beds are allowing gardeners with little space to still enjoy big harvests...of food and beauty.

For the urban pioneers who are moving back into older, smaller homes...or high-rise dwellers...to suburbanites with smaller backyards, restricted space gardens make a lot of sense. Plant breeders have seen the trend to smaller homes with smaller yards and less space to garden and have responded with plants specially bred to stay small and compact. There now are tomatoes, cucumbers, melons, peppers and eggplants that can be used in containers. Compact marigolds, petunias and impatiens for baskets, space-saving geraniums and small begonias all can be used in containers.

lucky cucumber for hanging baskets. It was specially bred for container growing with lots of juicy cukes from each plant. "Florida Basket" tomato is perhaps the most graceful of the container vegetables and drapes beautifully over container sides, bearing loads of cherry tomato fruits. And you can even grow vining plants like pole beans. Simply fasten 3 to 4 bamboo stakes together with twist ties — and make a teepee. Or use some of the new containers created for vertical gardening — such as the new StakPlant unit — a modular system with great flexibility. The great advantage of containers is that they can go anywhere. Even if you don't have an inch of topsoil, you can create a wonderful bouquet of living flowers or a garden of fresh vegetables. Remember to use containers with several drainage holes. Containers dry out quickly and should be watered regularly, and during hot spells, should be checked every day. For unique container plantings that are super-portable, try soil mix bags. Bags of professional grade mix, such as "Garden In A Bag" (continued on page 11)

Tips for the Pool

The sun and fun of summer are now upon us. Wanting this is a summer of joy for us all, the Bureau of Environmental Health has compiled these tips for swimming pool preparation and trouble shooting. We stress proper maintenance, and if done right, the pool should provide many happy hours of entertainment for family and friends.

Following the instructions of the owner's manual and establishing a regular maintenance routine should ensure a trouble free pool. After filling the pool, check the filter, pump and equipment for proper operation. Next, check the pH alkalinity and hardness of the water. This can be done with a pool test kit. If you need one, most reputable pool supply centers have them.

Let us now concentrate on pool water quality. If the pH is kept between 7.2 to 7.8, along with maintaining the alkalinity at 100-125 ppm and green, algae is viable. The pool water should remain clear. Swimming pools are closed systems that reuse the water over and over. The pool water must be disinfected to keep bacteria and other microorganisms in check. The most versatile and the least expensive method for doing this is chlorination. Maintaining a 1.0-1.5 ppm free chlorine residual should ensure safe pool water. Again, if these few things can be done to your pool on a regular scheduled maintenance program, your summer months should be care-free.

Occasionally, your pool will develop undesirable characteristics, these problems can be solved quickly when identified correctly. We have gathered the following list for trouble shooting from Swimming Pool Age and Spa Merchandiser Magazine, January, 1984.

1. Problem: Green pool water (not algae)
Cause: The pH is too high.
Solution: Test and adjust the pH down to the acceptable range of 7.2 to 7.8. Increase daily chlorine dosage until the color disappears.

2. Problem: Pool is slimy and green, algae is visible.
Cause: Inadequate concentration of sanitizer in pool water.
Solution: Check the pH and adjust to ideal range of 7.2 to 7.8 if necessary. Super-chlorinate with 3 oz. of unsaturated chlorine per 5,000 gallons of pool water.

3. Problem: Walls and bottom of pool have green, brown, or black algae spots.
Cause: Improper pH and or insufficient chlorine.
Solution: Check and adjust the pH to the ideal range and superchlorinate the pool with 5 oz. of chlorine per 5,000 gallons of pool water. A good quality algicide designed to solve black algae has been added.
Cause: The chlorine demand of the water has not been satisfied, or the water test agent may be faulty.
Solution: First, check the test kit against another, and if there is no reading, superchlorinate with 3 oz. of unsaturated chlorine per 5,000 gallons of water until a reading can be taken.

4. Problem: Chlorine test kit always reads high on the test kit but the pool water is still cloudy.
Cause: The test is reading total chlorine which is free chlorine (available to kill germs) and combined chlorine. Combined chlorine has formed a chemical bond with other chemicals and substances instead of oxidizing these materials.
Solution: To establish how much of the chlorine is combined and how much is free, use a D.P.D. test. To eliminate the combined chlorine, superchlorinate with up to ten times the normal dosage. This is sometimes called Break Point Chlorination.

7. Problem: White scale deposits on pool hardware, skin as well as give off a slight odor of chlorine.
Solution: Check and adjust the pH to the ideal range. Superchlorinate the pool with 3 oz. of unsaturated chlorine per 5,000 gallons of pool water. Sometimes it will take up to ten times as much superchlorination as we have prescribed here to break the chemical bond of a chlorine.

6. Problem: Chlorine readings are high on the test kit but the pool water is still cloudy.
Cause: The test is reading total chlorine which is free chlorine (available to kill germs) and combined chlorine. Combined chlorine has formed a chemical bond with other chemicals and substances instead of oxidizing these materials.
Solution: To establish how much of the chlorine is combined and how much is free, use a D.P.D. test. To eliminate the combined chlorine, superchlorinate with up to ten times the normal dosage. This is sometimes called Break Point Chlorination.

which will read on the test kit as available chlorine and show up as a white mark in pool water. This mark will irritate eyes and sensitive skin as well as give off a slight odor of chlorine.
Solution: Check and adjust the pH to the ideal range. Superchlorinate the pool with 3 oz. of unsaturated chlorine per 5,000 gallons of pool water. Sometimes it will take up to ten times as much superchlorination as we have prescribed here to break the chemical bond of a chlorine.

Remember Pool Safety

In a closing note, we need to mention safety. So let's always have an eye on the small children and keep excessive horseplay down. Without a doubt, your pool should bring you many happy hours, but a few careless moments could ruin it all. Having someone in the family learn basic life-saving techniques is indeed beneficial. Have a Great Summer!

Backyard Play Areas: Safety First

By James C. Cooper

Building your backyard play area can be compared to cooking a favorite dessert. Both require a good recipe or design, both require the right ingredients or materials and both need to be done in the right location. The kitchen usually works best for cooking the dessert, and there is a specific area of your yard that works best for building your play area.

Determine the best location for your play area by looking from within the house. Find a room, perhaps the kitchen or family room, that you will be in most often while the children are outdoors. Choose an area that can be observed from a window within this room. This is a great time sever when you have to check on crying, commotion or the absence of noise coming from the play area.

The area chosen from your window should be large enough for a 6 to 8 foot "use zone" around your play structure (see diagram). The "use zone" is for the running, jumping, and chasing that naturally occur around your structure. It should be free of shrubs, fencing, sidewalks and other objects children can trip on or fall against.

When buying or planning your play structure, pay close attention to any squeeze-thru size spaces or openings accessible to the children. If the opening is wide enough for the body to slide through but too narrow for the head, strangulation can occur. For this reason the Consumer Product Safety Commission recommends that accessible openings, such as the space between ladder rungs or safety barriers, be no less than seven inches wide. An easy way to test your play equipment for unsafe openings is to see if you can pass a seven inch diameter ball through any opening accessible to a child. If the ball can pass unobstructed through the opening, entrapment of the head should not be a problem.

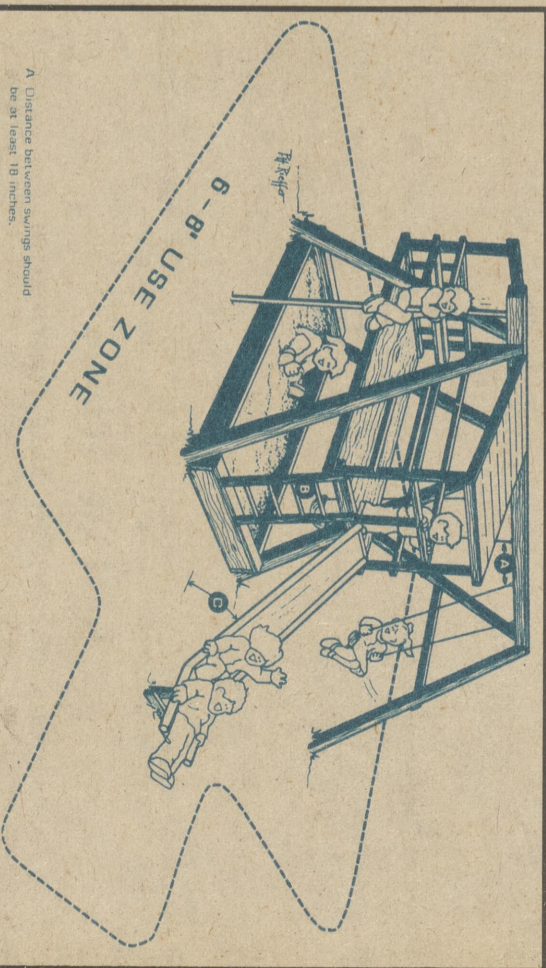

If you are building your equipment out of wood, the effects of weather and ground contact need to be considered. Redwood and cedar naturally resist inorganic preservatives. They are sold under trade names such as Outdoor Wood and All-Weather Wood. This type of treated lumber is widely used in commercial playground equipment. According to the EPA, it does not pose a risk from frequent or prolonged skin contact, and, therefore, does not require sealers for protection.

Most of the pressure treated woods found in lumber yards and home improvement centers have been treated with one of the inorganic preservatives. They are sold under trade names such as Outdoor Wood and All-Weather Wood. This type of treated lumber is widely used in commercial playground equipment. According to the EPA, it does not pose a risk from frequent or prolonged skin contact, and, therefore, does not require sealers for protection.

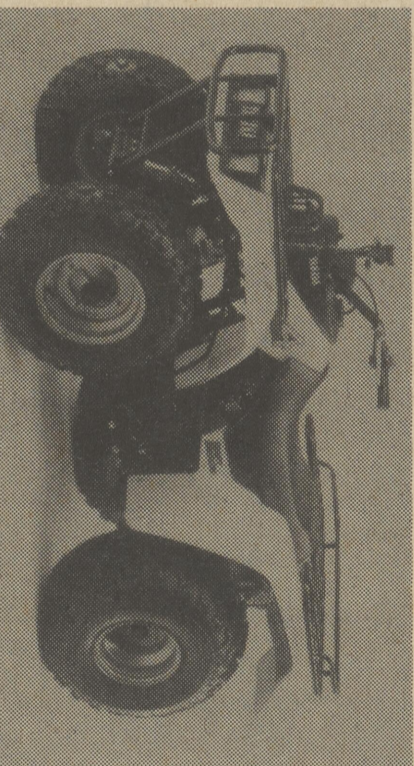

Exposure to the sun also has a tendency to shrink new lumber. This makes it easier for nuts and other connectors to vibrate loose. To prevent this use lock-type nuts or retighten all connectors within two or three weeks of installation.

Safe backyard play areas have a southern exposure unless they are shaded from mid-day and afternoon sun. Unshaded slides facing the South can get hot enough to cause second degree burns to bare skin.

Safe backyard play areas take a little planning and a little more work, but the satisfaction of doing the job right and knowing your children are safe more than pays for the extra effort.
