

Welch brings police department under fire

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

HARRINGTON. "The citizens need to know what they are getting for their tax dollars spent for the police department of Harrington," said Grace Welch, a leading member of the Heritage Day celebration and long regarded as one of the most concerned citizens of the Town at Monday night's workshop meeting at City Hall.

Mrs. Welch, along with her husband Carroll, own Welch Seed Co. on the Vernon Road. In August of 1983, their office and building were broken into causing a great deal of damage and loss. "Basically the police department came out made their investigation, but that was the last we ever heard of it (the investigation)," said Mrs. Welch.

She went on to accuse the police department with poor public relations and added "... you should run your department (police) like any other business".

Chief of Harrington Police, Carl McIlroy defended by saying that the Department has been short handed.

"We are still one patrolman short, and we have been two patrolmen short for quite awhile," said the Chief, who also added that 24 hour coverage might not be all of the answer. "You won't solve every case," said the Chief.

Mrs. Welch said that before 911 (Kent County Call Board) came in "... I would call the State Police when I couldn't get a local policeman, and they would tell me they couldn't come in unless the Harrington Police Department requested assistance," she said. "Now with 911 ... I get an answer that there is no one (Harrington policeman) there on duty, and usually that's the end of it," she added. "Now it seems to me that the problem rests not with 911 or the State Police but with the Harrington Police Department. If we are in order to keep them," she added. Mrs. Welch went on to say that she feels the Police Department is the most important department in the City. "Why ... because we need to make it a safe place in which to live," she said. Mrs. Welch related another incident in which she says she has been harassed by youths in their late teens who have been hanging around her residence. "Officer McKenzie did respond on one occasion and I believe spoke to these youths. But one Sunday following that addressing by the police officer the same youths in a car blocked my movement in my car with their car. They just turned around in the back seat of their car and made gestures for quite awhile...then sped off. Let me tell you that disturbed me quite a bit," she added.

Following the exit of Mrs. Welch, Councilman Sue Ellen Dennis addressed the Council and offered some information. She said that if we are short of patrolmen "then we don't need an administrator and a patrolman on duty at the same time. The new schedule shows the Chief who acts as an administrator and a patrolman at the same time leaving two other patrolmen to cover the shifts," she added. "I don't think a town this size needs an administrator when we are short of help in the department," she concluded.

Councilman Dennis said, "in the last 7 and one half years we have had 19 policemen and 2 part-time officers. We have had some to start but did not finish the academy (police academy) which I figure has cost the town approximately $48,000 plus uniforms and other items, which must run us now a loss of approximately $65,000. Something is wrong," she said. But Councilman Jack Wyatt said "you will always have that problem the rest of your life." Dennis said "I don't think so. I think there are things that we can do it we choose to do so." she said.

Councilman Donald Jarrell who has asked for answers to matters in the police department complained about two matters. When the matter of scheduling came up he brought up the matter of working radar. "It is never worked during the regular scheduling hours. It is always arranged so that overtime is paid. This comes to $15 per hour," he said. But Councilman Wyatt shot back that "the money received in fines helps to pay salaries and other expenses incurred by the town."

Dennis offered a plan to have Dr. Jerome Lewis of the University of Delaware Department of Urban Affairs do a study on how the Police Department can be improved. "We can ask ... but we should also find out the cost involved first," said Mayor Alfred Mann.

Chief McIlroy in defense of his department said that "... already this year the Department has handled over 700 complaints. Despite the fact that we are short handed I think we have done a very good job with all things considered." He also asked Councilman Dennis to visit his department "... just to see how busy we are. I think that you would come away with a different view".

But Councilman Jarrell interrupted at that point and wanted to know if Councilman Dennis would have to go through the Police Commissioner. "When I tried to get some answers about the goings on in the Police Department I received a nasty letter saying that I could not go directly to the Police Chief. Instead I would have to go first through the Police Commissioner. Does this mean Sue Ellen (Dennis) will have to do the same thing," Jarrell snapped. "I'm saying this is an open invitation to anyone who is interested," said Chief McIlroy.

In other matters the Mayor brought to the attention of the Council a water problem on Simpson St. "Some residents have called and complained about lack of water pressure. I think we should study running a new line in the street with a larger capacity. It would be up to the property owners to tap in. This might correct the problem, because I suspect there could be some deterioration in the line, but that might not be all of the problem. Some could be with the homeowner too," said Mayor Mann.

The next council meeting is Monday, July 8th at 7:30.

"...when the red flag goes up...it is time to stop and reevaluate..."

At Monday night's workshop meeting of the City Council, a sound of alarm went up and was heard from the community. When Grace Welch began expressing her feelings regarding the Police Department, the rafters at City Hall began a slight tremble. But by the end, they were more than just rattling.

The feelings of Mrs. Welch were criticisms to be sure. What the Police Department and the Council...or vis-a-vis...should do now is address the matter as a possible problem, pull together, and solve the matter.

The chief thing now is pulling together. There are probably many things which can be done all of which if positive will result in a better Police Department and a safer City. If help is on the way that is one thing. If in the alternative, criticism is the order of the day, which I don't believe was Mrs. Welch's intentions, the results will be negative.

The alarm has been sounded. The red flag is up, and everything should stop and be directed into relief for this problem at hand. We shall as a result only improve the situation.

I also feel that if citizens were called into help in this matter...you would have a flood of volunteers.

Bowers Beach Town Council meets

BOWERS BEACH-The Bowers Beach town council met for the first time, on Thursday, June 20, under their new mayor, John F.W. King, who was sworn in the week before. Mayor King's term ends next August.

"There was a large number of people that turned out for the meeting to let me know they support me," Mayor King said.

Mayor King and the town council reviewed the town's books and found them in order.

Commenting on former Mayor Fred Eubanks, Mayor King said, "Fred had been carrying the load himself, which was really too much on one person. I personally feel Fred had too much on him."

The town council is looking for an alderman to serve for the Bowers Beach area.

Frederica holds Annual Street Fair

Frederica held its annual street fair on Saturday, June 22.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship (MYF) organized the street fair with the help of MYF's youth counselors, Marty Dowling and Tammy Scheffer.

"Our youth group wants to buy a new organ for the Methodist church here in Frederica," said Mrs. Dowling.

MYF raised funds for the new church organ by selling snacks, clam chowder, and ice cream. The fund raiser also featured a dunking booth which brought in additional funds and provided many laughs for those in attendance.

Animal euthanasia bill clears House

House Bill #93 limits the methods of animal euthanasia to the administration of sodium pentobarbital or chloroform. It specifically outlaws the use of high altitude chambers.

As one of the lead sponsors of the bill, Rep. G. Wallace Caulk argued that H.B. #93 represented the most humane method of disposing of animals. He said that "High altitude chambers are an inferior method of animal euthanasia because they can break down and cause unnecessary trauma and suffering to animals."

Rep. Caulk explained that the legislation represented one of the key issues among his constituents this session and said that during the debate on the bill he received letters supporting it from pet owners throughout the state. The final vote on H.B. #93 was 23 in favor, 14 opposed, 2 not voting and 2 absent. It now goes to the Senate for consideration.

Area farmers are involved in research

Two area farmers, Ronnie Blessing of Harrington and Robert Killen of Felton are participating in new product research.

In cooperation with the Stanford Seed Company, these two farmers are key ingredients of Stanford's new product testing program.

Ronnie Blessing is involved in the Wheat Program. This past Saturday Ronnie completed his project with the harvesting of his plot. The wheat plot was located one mile east of Canterbury. The project started with the planting of the plot in early November. Chris Frame, an Agronomist with the Stanford Seed Company of Denver, PA designed the plot and provided the seed. Ronnie planted seven different varieties of wheat which included some varieties that have not yet been released for marketing. Through out the growing season Chris Frame and Ronnie made a number of visits to the plot, during which visual observations were made and ratings were taken on disease pressure and plant health.

Saturday the yield data was collected with the use of a field crop weigh wagon. Each variety was harvested with Ronnie's combine. Then the harvest was measured by the field weigh wagon. Grain moisture and test weight were also recorded. Chris Frame and Doug Warrington, area representatives for Stanford, were collecting the yield information.

Robert Killen of Felton is engaged in a research program involving hybrid corn. Robert's plot is located on Rt. 13, South of Felton. The plot consists of sixteen different varieties of corn that have been planted side by side for comparison. The varieties are clearly marked and can be seen from Rt. 13. In addition to the comparison plot, Robert is also involved in a T&E plot for the Stanford Seed Company. This plot

Fairgrounds under many improvements

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

HARRINGTON, DELAWARE STATE FAIRGROUNDS. When Fair patrons return to the Delaware State Fairgrounds this July they are going to be treated to what are the beginnings of a truly beautiful setting.

Under the direction of General Manager Gary Simpson, the facility which is the oldest of its kind in the State and certainly with the potential of being one of the nicest will have on most buildings and roofs a new coat of paint.

The race track will be sporting a new fence ... black on the outside and pure white from the second turn to the fourth turn. "This was sponsored by our good friends the Mid-Atlantic Milk Marketing Board. They will have their billboard in the infield which will simply say MILK. Fitness you can drink", said Gary Simpson.

The plan over a long term is to rebuild and repaint the facility. "This year we will go as far as the money will allow. Each year we plan to do just a little bit more," said Simpson. One visiting the Grounds now can see the true potential coming through.

Currently there have been 10 barn roofs and 3 buildings completed. "We also did something this year, which I feel will really pay off in the long run and that is spray for weeds around the buildings and fences. We might not see the true effects this year, but certainly next year ... or by the fall racing meet, we will see a big improvement there," added Simpson. The plan before the Fair opens is to have 4 more buildings completed.

"We will also have the ticket booths painted this year, and we have selected the State colors ... blue and gold as the color of the paint," said Simpson.

Some new additions to the facility will be the new Department of Agriculture "building" which will be located across from the paddock or the building where the music contest is held. It (the building) will be used to promote various agriculture commodities," said Simpson.

The record for attendance is 202,000, and Simpson says with good weather and improvements in the facility ... they are hoping to top that figure.

School District approves minor capital improvements program

by Cathy Hickman

FELTON. The Lake Forest School Board approved a minor capital improvements program for the fiscal year 1987. Things such as reroofing several buildings with a single-ply membrane, replacing heating units and lighting systems with more energy efficient systems and removing and replacing the boiler system within the school are projects included in the proposal.

Administrative assistant Richard D. Moretti said that the district submitted higher proposals so the district would have more projects to choose from if they received more money than they expected.

The program, totaling about $110,000 will now have to be approved by the State Department of Public Instruction.

The board extended Superintendent Gerald S. Lysik's contract for another year. Lysik also received a raise of about $6,000. This increase raised his pay to about $47,000 a year. He will receive another increase if the state raises the superintendent's salary.

Wax-Ward-Delmar Studio's was awarded the contract for the Basic Package of school pictures for the 1985-86 school year. The package is $4.45 and the dates of the pictures will be released at a later date.

East Elementary will be receiving new dining room furniture before the fall. Approximately 20 booths will be installed in the cafeteria.

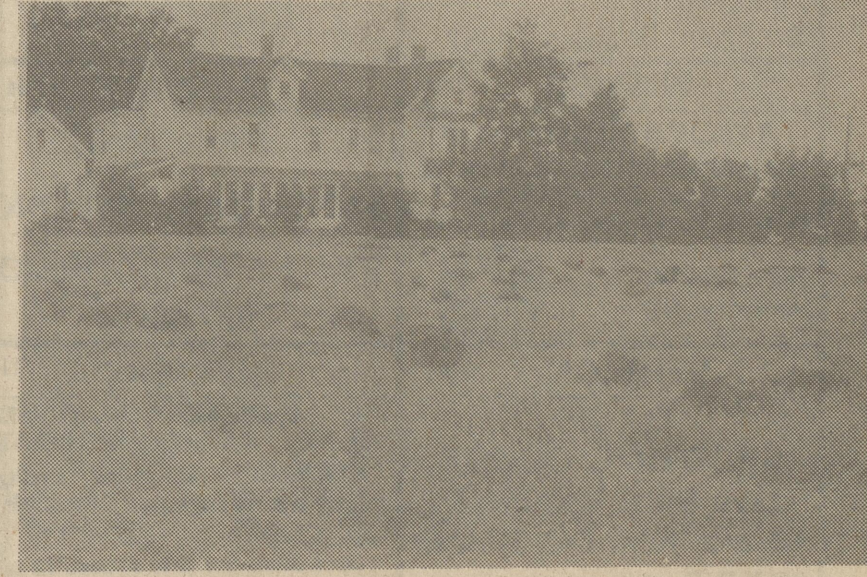

Lake Forest Ag teacher fired

Michael Coverdale, an Ag teacher at Lake Forest High School, was terminated by a June 3rd letter from the administration. The reason given was "roughing up a student while in school".

Coverdale allegedly denied the allegation saying only that he grabbed the collar of the student, and did not use excessive force.

Coverdale was the central figure in last April's shuffling of teachers in the High School Ag Department. He was transferred to W.T. Chipman to be a science

Milford Memorial Hospital implements Senior Saver program

MILFORD, DE. Milford Memorial Hospital has announced that effective July 1, 1985, it is implementing a new Senior Saver Program. This program will credit $200 to the hospital bill for persons age 65 and over who are hospitalized at Milford Memorial Hospital. The Senior Saver program is directed at reducing the amount of money which senior citizens must pay for non-covered items on their hospital bill, such as deductibles and co-insurance.

According to Jeffrey M. Judd, MMH Administrator, "Many of the elderly are hospitalized several times in one year. Those without complete insurance coverage are often required to pay money out of their pocket for each hospitalization. Milford Memorial Hospital feels the senior citizens have made a lifelong contribution to the community, and this is our way of saying "thank you". We want health care for our senior citizens to be affordable, and therefore, have initiated the Senior Saver program."

For senior citizens who are hospitalized at Milford Memorial Hospital, a $200 credit will be applied to the portion of their bill which insurance has not paid. It is not necessary to fill out any special forms in order to get the credit.

Further information about the Senior Saver program can be obtained by calling the Community Relations Department of Milford Memorial Hospital, toll-free in Delaware, 1-800-652-5600.

Food Stamp Program sets new eligibility limits

The Division of Economic Services has announced that effective July 1, 1985, new program eligibility limits released by the USDA may enable more people to participate in the Food Stamp Program. The eligibility limits are updated annually based upon changes in the poverty line. Under the new eligibility limits, a family of three with gross income of $969 or less may qualify for some Food Stamp benefits.

Under the old limits the maximum gross income for a family of three was $917.

The benefit levels of current participants will not be impacted by these changes. This is because the income eligibility limits are used to determine eligibility and not benefit amounts.

Persons with questions about these changes may call the toll free Food Stamp Hotline Number 1-800-292-7924.

Auto advertising target of Cease & Desist Agreement

Consumer Affairs Director Donald E. Williams announced June 18 that a Consent to Cease and Desist Order was negotiated with Frederick W. Hertrich III, the president and owner of two Ford dealerships, Frederick Ford/Mercury of Seaford and Milford Motors on North Walnut St. in Milford. The Order cites Hertrich and his businesses for misrepresentation and deceptive trade practices in connection with the advertisement and sale of cars and trucks.

Hertrich and his dealerships advertised that the Ford Motor Company had shipped 200 new cars and trucks to the Delaware State Fairgrounds for a factory authorized test marketing program and special sale October 26-28, 1984. The ad stipulated that only one car would be sold per customer, that representatives of Ford would be present to answer questions and assist in transactions, and that all prices would be at wholesale.

The Division of Consumer Affairs contends that the sale in Harrington was not a factory authorized test marketing program; that Ford did not ship the cars and trucks directly to the Fairgrounds; and that a customer could purchase as many cars and trucks as he wished.

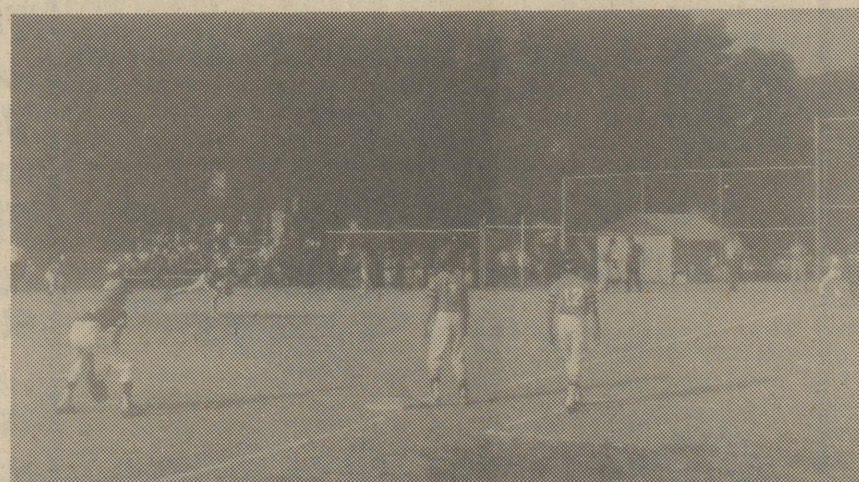

The Division also alleges that all of the cars sold during the three day promotion were sold at prices substantially higher than wholesale.

The Division discovered that the price of some cars sold at the Fairgrounds included an additional "dealer prep" charge that was not disclosed in advertisements for the sale. It was discovered that the price of certain cars included not only a "dealer prep" charge, but also two additional dealer installed options--"soundproofing", and "super high gloss finish". The amount charged for "dealer prep", "soundproofing", and "super high gloss finish" was $700 per vehicle.

The Division contends that the actual cost of "dealer prep", work performed on the vehicles was $20 & $40 per vehicle, and that Ford Motor Company reimbursed the dealerships for the cost of this work. The Division also asserts that the dealers' cost for applying "soundproofing" materials and "super gloss finish" was substantially less than the $700 charged for these options.

Mr. Hertrich has agreed to immediately cease and desist from advertising a "factory authorized sale" unless the event is actually authorized by the manufacturer; agreed he will not advertise a price as wholesale unless it is the same as the price paid by wholesalers to the manufacturer; agreed that when a sale is conducted away from the dealer's showroom he will not indicate the vehicles were shipped directly from the manufacturer to the site if they were not; that if an ad stipulates only one vehicle to a customer, only one will be sold per customer at the sale; and that if any advertisement promises services or options at dealer's cost, he will disclose exactly what those costs are and that no dealer prep costs will be charged if these costs are reimbursed by the manufacturer.

Over The Backyard Fence

Gab Fest by Pat Hatfield

Our ever-changing weather has brought us a hot, muggy day, more like July in the middle of June. The heat itself does not bother me too much. When the rest of the world is in front of an electric fan or sitting in an air-conditioned room, I will probably have on a light sweater. Yes, people do look at me oddly sometimes, but at this ripe old age, I'm built for comfort and not for speed. And the humidity does get to me. The world this morning feels as if someone was hanging a steaming wet blanket over my world, and it is hard to breathe. Of course, a lot of this is perhaps due to the fact that we are close to the rivers, ponds, and the great ocean.

We think of the mountain air as being always invigorating and mostly this is true, but I remember a day many years ago when I was vacationing with a dear friend in Cumberland, Maryland. We set out to climb Will's Mountain and we made it through the heat and the humidity. It was so delightful at the top of the mountain that we decided to stay up there at the Will's Mountain Inn overnight. We laughed at the maid when she was preparing our room, because she brought in so many blankets. She assured us we would need them that night and she was right. After a delicious breakfast at the Inn the next morning we went down through the early morning freshness. It was a day to remember always.

Dad came in this morning all excited, asking if I knew what bird chattered as it flew through the air. I could not think at the moment, but my friend, Tess, reminded me that the Bee Martins do this as they wheel and deal through the air to catch the insects on the wing. So, the Bee Martins must be back again. I hope they will catch all the mosquitoes.

Out in the garden the vegetables are growing like weeds, and that is pretty fast. Any day now I will have to get at the pickled beets. This I hate with a purple passion. I dread the whole process from one season to another, and I tell myself very firmly to apply the rule for this. Whatever is difficult it is best to do it right away and get it off the agenda. Dad does the first step. The beets are pulled, tops cut off and washed down. Then I scrub each one very thoroughly because I use some of the water in which they are cooked in to make a canning liquid. No matter how fresh and young they are, they seem to take forever to cook. And they usually boil over, spreading red juice over the stove and sometimes the floor. Then comes the skinning and the slicing and then into the liquid, sugar and spices, reheat and put into jars. Then I'll relax for a day or two and start thinking that next summer I'll have to do it all over again.

Mother Robin looks very careworn these days as she hunts in the yard for food for her babies. Her red breast has lost some of its bright color and she has no time for singing. But like all youngsters the time will come when they will leave the nest and we shall hear her again. I miss the Brown Thrasher. I haven't seen one in ages. And we do not hear the killdeer. The mockingbirds, too, are very busy with family ties. Probably they get just as tired making grasshopper salad and caterpillar cornbread as I do making pickled beets.

Do You Remember? by Dorothy Graham

Smile! This column is written gladly today. To wish you joy along the way. The memories that will bring you cheer. Not just today but year after year.

Do you remember playing miniature golf? It was fun. Edgar Hall and Claude Cahall had a course on Clark Street-Harrington. Never decided whether it was the golf I liked or the kisses we girls got as our boyfriends tried to teach us how to "Tee".

Before this venture Mr. Hall had a soda fountain and candy store where J.C.Penny's Bank drive-in windows are. Of course, when Mr. Hall had the store it was The First National Bank of Harrington. Sharp and Fleming Drug Store was next door. The store (Halls) was rented from Carrie Calmer. Many nice folks had this soda fountain and some had a restaurant also. Remember Irene Adams, Charles Toppin, Daniels, Salsbury, Laura Belle & Jim Wilson. Dyers. Do you remember any more? Some of our young married couples began housekeeping in the apt. over this store. Mr. Hall moved across the street on the corner next to the "Slaughter" building. Raughleys Insurance Building was not there then-just a grassy plot. Later a Holt Oil Co. built a building but it was torn down when Ernest Raughley built the now existing building. When Mr. Hall moved, he extended his soda fountain business into a restaurant and rooming house. Salesmen and Fair folks were their usual occupants. Sunday dinner guest regulars were Dr. W.T. Chipman and his family. Halls was a friendly place for men such as Mr. Harvey Burgess, Mr. Fred Powell, Mr. Frank Steinmetz, Mr. Wesley Satterfield, Mr. William Reed & Mr. Sam Thorp to gather and chat. Not only the young elders gathered at Halls but the young congregated after they had taken their dates home. Ethel remembers with fond memories these occasions. Some where Genie Anderson, Loyd Dayton, John Griffith, Chick Barlow, John Satterfield, Lewis Callaway, Slim Herman Ryans, Clarence & Marion Collins, Woody, Britt, and John Holloway, Edgar Harvey, Zip Legates, Lewis Henry, Maurice Hall and George Graham. Some of the folks that helped The Hall Restaurant to be a good & pleasant place to be and eat were: Irene Adams, Bertha Remus, Mrs. Venable, Edna "Hackie" Poore, Paulin Ryan, Edna Hopkins, and sometimes Helen Hopkins. It was during this time that Edgar Hall and Claude Cahall had the golf course. Hall sold the restaurant and moved his family to Dorman St. Hall's next venture was a soda fountain & Pool Room. The soda fountain was latticed off from the pool room on commerce St. there was no audible swearing etc. Anyone could go in & did to get a very good Coke. Comparable to Doc. Downes & Coke (Remember) he sold out to Dick Bullock and opened a grocery store and lunch room for the school kids. Mrs. Hall with the help of Mrs. Wm. Wechtenchies (Irene) served delicious hot meals to the school children. Talk about good cinnamon buns and pies. They were good. Ethel and Louis used to help out at the candy counter during rush hour. Cathel Layton (Bowdle) assisted when business was brisk. While this was going on in the front, in the back & upstairs a growing business in Dry Cleaning was going on. Mr. Hall moved some building; built some and moved his family to a different house on Dorman St. (Albert Simpson lives there now.) & opened the building in back for Dry Cleaning. The driveway to the D.C. business was turned over to his son Maurice and wife Ruth; but come World War II & Maurice joined the Navy. Ruth stayed on & helped. When Al's wife died, Mr. Hall sold the business to Albert Simpson. In the meantime, Mrs. Hall had closed the grocery store and lunch room and was a great assistant in the Dry Cleaning as a seamstress.

Mr. Simpson still has the Dry Cleaning although he has moved it to the Slaughter Building on Commerce St. across from the Post Office. He has enlarged it and has a laundromat include. He and his family is another column for sure. Mr. Hall thought for sure that it was time for him to retire now. But, along came Mr. Wheeler and asks him to tend "The Radio Store". Yes, he did for two or three years. Want to remind you that Alice & Edgar Hall had married Louis Hopkins and they had two children Lois and Lynn. Lois married Marker and they have three children, Curtis, Kevin and Jody. Craig Lynn married Ann Hoffman and they had two children, Amy and Jason. Maurice married Ruth Wilson of Milford. They moved to Florida.

Mr. Hall remarked, that every business venture was opened Friday the 13th, and everyone was a success. Thanks to the cooperation of family, friends (help) and other friends that attended each venture.

Mrs. Halls parents were Elizabeth & Lemuel Coffin. Mr. Halls parents were Emma & Santa Hall.

Guess that's why I Love Harrington so much every business that I know always was friendly & accomodating. Remembering this reminds me of stores across from the Slaughter building when Mr. Hall was in the restaurant business next to the "Slaughter Building". A better description would be where the Post Office now stands were the stores of Mrs. Margaret Langrell, one thing I remember in his store was a huge coffee mill with two large red wheels & a metal container (rocket like in shape) for grinding the coffee berries. It was impressive. Her granddaughter, Lois, has it now. Then there was Herb Dennes General Store. I've told you about it before. Denny's was - Jones Mae Jones Sheldracks father. Edith Derricks Restaurant (she had a daughter Emma) Edna Maes Beauty Shop. (she moved to Milford) and Irving Legates barber shop (he always put a touch of rouge on your cheeks when he cut your hair.) He had a relative of his visit him. She was a beautiful girl. Do you remember her? Tony Perrine was in this new row of stores at one time before he moved across the street where Clarence and Fanny Needon once had a store. Best wishes to all. Be kind to each other. Thanks so much for your wonderful response to "Do You Remember? It's nice talking to you and truly appreciate each call. See you next week. Faith.

One more correction in the article in the stores remembered, instead of Ryan it was supposed to be Ruze's, remember his shoe store and repair shop. And another was Martha Knox Sneath instead of Martha Knox Smith. She had a cute little store on the corner of Knoxes apts. (now Earl Quillan-Lewis Dairy) She sold home baked cakes-pies-rolls and homemade souppchick. salad. I told you before all about it, but such fond memories spring to mind. Wanted to correct the mistakes, honey, believe me the lady that types this has a job for I write (scribble) very badly & can't read what I've written, only if I use a large magnifying glass. So thanks to her and to you. Best wishes again and may the good Lord bless you real well. Happy Birthday July Folks.

Now imagine "Let Me Call You SweetHeart", "Just As I Am" and other popular songs and hymns being heard throughout your house. Well, that is what you'll hear at our house (the Center) when the Senior Sounds Chorus practice on Wednesday morning (3rd). Then after lunch we'll be celebrating "July 1st" with our RED, WHITE, and BLUE PARTY. We will have entertainment and refreshments for our party beginning at 1 p.m. We are asking all in attendance to show their patriotic colors, by wearing their flag pens or clothing of red, white or blue.

So, see again we've tried hard to offer something for everyone, but please remember the Center is so much more than the events listed above--its the fellowship exchanged, the friendship, the love, the caring of our "family", come and join us, you'll be glad you did.

Lake Forest Ministerium

The Lake Forest Ministerium held its June meeting at Asbury United Methodist Church, Harrington on Tuesday evening the 4th. The Reverend Philip Lawton, Felton United Methodist Charge and president of the Ministerium led in a review of the three events sponsored by the Ministerium during the fall, winter and spring seasons. We were pleased with the public support of the Service of Thanksgiving at the Asbury United Methodist Church, Harrington, the Service of Prayer for Christian Unity at the Trinity United Methodist Church of Frederica, and the Good Friday Service at the Trinity United Methodist Church in Harrington. The combined choirs under the direction of Mrs. Marsha Lawton, the Felton United Methodist Church, have blessed and inspired us at each service. The Ministerium appreciates the response to its request for money for the fuel fund and for food for the food pantry. Because of your generous response, a number of requests for food and fuel were filled. A person in need simply goes to one of the ministers in the Lake Forest area and makes his/her need known. When the minister determines the need is real, the person is referred to the food committee or Fuel Fund Treasurer so that the need may be met. A United Nations International Childrens Emergency Fund (UNICEF) collection will be made in October. Each Church in the Ministerium is asked to appoint a person to a UNICEF Committee to plan this event. Officers for the 1985-86 year were elected. Charles L. Brown, III, Priest, St. Bernadette's Roman Catholic Church, Harrington, President; Susan Mills, Vicar, St. Stephens Episcopal Church, Harrington, Vice-President; Frances E. Benson, Lay-member St. Paul African Methodist Episcopal Church, Harrington, Secretary; Ellen C. Perry, Lay member St. Stephens Episcopal Church, Harrington, Treasurer; Kyle N. Smith, Pastor Asbury United Methodist Church, Harrington, publicity chairperson. The next meeting of the Lake Forest Ministerium will be September 10 at Asbury United Methodist Church, Harrington.

Same Old Complaint

by Mike Harker

The other day I had a chance to look through some forty year old Harness Horse magazines. What I discovered was truly a shock and a blight on our sport. This fact made my inquisitive mind want to know more, so I dug a little deeper into history. The source where I found this fact again was in a 1897 issue of the Trotter & Pacer magazine, which my wife gave me a few years back. There it was again jumping right off the pages in front of me. Only this time it was in the form of a plea for help instead of a complaint, I had to know more, this thing was beginning to keep me awake at night, so out came my wife's copy of Life with the Trotters, which was written in 1889, by John Splan, and sure enough there it was again the same complaint. The Trotting Horse of America, by Hiram Woodruff, written in 1868 confirmed my suspicions that this problem has been major concern and obstacle in harness racing since it's start over one hundred years ago.

It would seem that with all of our bright minds, and even the ones that are not we could figure out a way to solve this complaint that has been bothering horseman and horsewomen longer than any of us can remember. Just think about it for a minute if you will, the same problem for over one hundred years, that's more than a century, living with the same problem. Sure the U.S.T.A. has looked at it,

Annual Blue-Gold game set for June 29th

The Blue-Gold All-Star Football Game is in its 30th year. To date it has raised more than 1.6 million dollars to benefit Delaware's retarded children. But more than this, the game and the events leading up to it are vivid demonstrations for the loving relationships which can develop between able and disabled people.

This year the date of the Game is Saturday, June 29th, at University of Delaware Stadium. An all-day event, the day starts with the all-Star 10K at 10:00 a.m., followed by a Food Festival and Tailgating. At Noon, entertain-

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

On Wednesday night a hard hitting Georgetown team came to Harrington to square off in a Big League event.

Georgetown came away with the best of it by a 14-2 score.

The battery of Tim Reynolds and Lance Abbott catching proved to be just too much. Southpaw Tim set down the former Spartans with a nifty 2 hitter while striking out 12.

Lance Abbott on the other hand recovered from a 1st inning injury and hit a two run blast.

The big bat of the game was swung by Terry Reynolds who hit two home runs. One was a blast to the deepest part of center field over the head of center fielder Mike Dill. When the bat made contact with the ball it sounded like a hand grenade going off. Instantly it was over the wall. The second shot was a towering Cape Canaveral blast which landed in the softball field behind the right center field wall.

Ricky Brown started and went three innings giving up 4 hits, 5 runs while striking out 4. He was relieved by Elvin Spence who gave up 6 hits and 9 runs. Elvin struck out 7. Craig Hurd relieved Spence pitched one inning gave up one hit and did not allow a run. He struck out 2.

Left fielder Keith Chandler gathered in 2 hits and knocked in two in the losing cause.

On Saturday night, Harrington duelled Georgetown again with Harrington besting the Sussex nine 3-0.

John Kirby started and was the winning pitcher striking out 12. Ricky

Brown relieved Kirby in the 7th. Kirby gave up 2 hits which is all that Georgetown got. Kirby had a tendency for wildness giving up 6 in 6.

Eric Collins went 2 for 3 getting the game winning run when he drove in two runs in the first inning.

Tom Penuel did the twirling for Georgetown yielding 2 hits and 8 walks. The two hits were gotten by Lance Abbott and Lance Keeler.

On Sunday night, Harrington unloaded on Woodbridge 10-2. Elvin Spence and Jim Kossman combined for the win. Spence gave up 3 hits and Kossman ended the game for Harrington in relief of Spence. Keith Chandler had the big bat getting a triple driving in 3 runs, and 2 singles. Harrington scored 3 in the second 4 in the third and 2 in the fourth to pull out of reach of Woodbridge.

Wilkins and Williamson score repeat wins at U.S. 13 URC show

by Don Allen
It was a night for encore performances at US 13 Speedway as Bobby Wilkins took his second checkered in as many weeks in the Modified ranks while the URC Sprint car pilot turned another thrilling twenty laps to capture the second round in the Taylor and Messick Farm Equipment sponsored Delaware State Sprint Car Championship Series. Thrilling doesn't come even close to describing the outstanding competition that the 24-car field of sprinters provided the fans Saturday night. The stars of the URC circuit were all in fine form and the ones that showed the brightest were Williamson and three-time URC Champ Dave Kelly. Kelly snared the lead early in the third lap. His Shaeffer Beer sponsored #17 rocketed to a commanding lead but by lap six

"Mud Madness" unqualified success

by Don Allen
The first leg of the "Mud Madness" mud hop series for 1985, promoted by the Seaford Volunteer Fire Company, proved to be a huge success. Over 2,700 fans lined the course at the Middleford Speedway Sunday, June 9th to watch 110 mud hopping 4WD rigs from throughout the Mid-Atlantic region do battle with the 400-plus foot stretch of hills and bogs laid out by the volunteer firemen.

Competitors were on hand from Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, Pennsylvania and New Jersey for cash and trophy prizes awarded for this first event. Those who accumulated points are now on their way to winning additional prizes should they do as well in the two additional events to be held on August 11th and September 8th. David Palmatary of Wilmington, DE, was the "maddest" mud rider of the day. He took his rig through the course in the fastest time of 15.87 seconds to relegate Kelly Hastings and his "Tonka Toy" ride to second spot in the Open Class competition.

Hoffman, Leach, and Margum take wins at Bridgeport

In an evening plagued with yellow flags; John Leach, Doug Hoffman, and Mike Margum all found their way through the dust to take the checkered flag. John's win was his third of the season while Doug added win number five to his growing list. In the first appearance of the season, Mike Margum turned in a stunning performance leading the Late Model field from the green to the checker.

The Sportsman 25 lap feature held over from the rainout took 45 minutes to run due to the caution flags, and the large field. Behind Leach, Stew Brown offers the stiffest challenge followed closely by Scott Irvin, Frank Mangone and Chic Cossoboon.

Pinter, Graves, and Steele at Georgetown

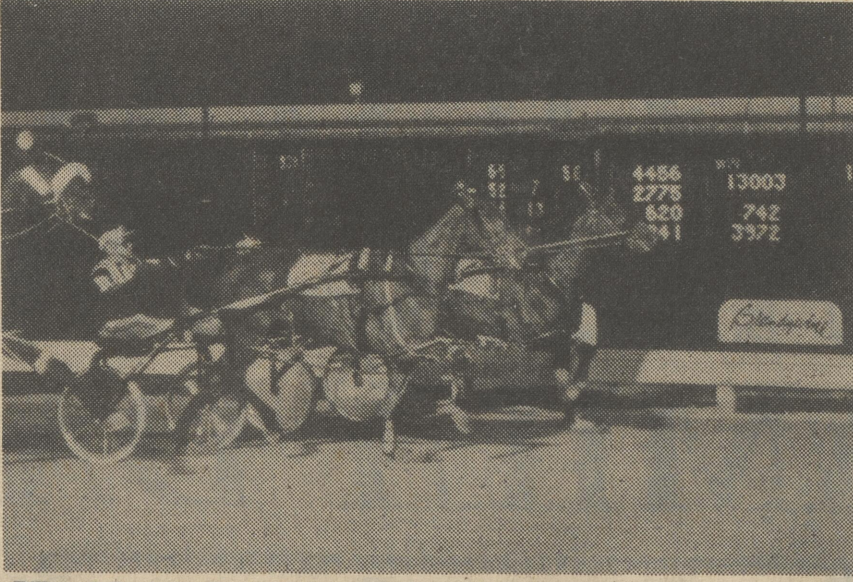

Georgetown Speedway. John Pinter won his first Georgetown Speedway feature Friday night in the B&F Towing-Graytak Chevrolet modified. Chuck Graves increased his limited late model feature win streak to four and Georgetown's Tony Steele became the sixth different winner in the Street Modified Division.

Hal Browning jumped into an early lead at the start of the Modified feature. The first caution flag fell on lap five when Bob Toreky spun. At this point Bobby Wilkins and Feddy Brightbill headed for the pits. The green came out for one more lap before Chip Slocum stopped in the second turn. Pinter moved into second on the restart and took the lead on lap nine. Tomcapie kept the pressure on Pinter through two more cautions. At the finish it was Pinter, Capie, Harold Bunting, Gary Trice, and Charlie Langenstein. With his victory, Pinter will represent Georgetown Speedway in a special modified event at the Hagerstown Speedway in August.

Chuck Graves took the lead from Laurel's Jeff Turpin on lap eight of the Limited Late Model feature and never looked back. J.V. Wells, Turpin, and Preston Beach made it a four car battle for the lead in the early going. Around lap twelve both Turpin and Wells dropped from the battle as Jeff Patella moved into third. Wiuth five to go, Pinter took over second. At the checker it was Graves, Patella, Beach, Buddy Messick and Leon Johnson in the top five.

The Street Modified feature was red flagged twice due to flips with Tony Steele leading wire to wire. Both Elwood Driscoll and Stanley Pete were uninjured when they flipped in separate incidents.

Wilkins and Williamson score repeat

Williamson had brought the Fiore #8 up to second and the stage was set.

Three caution periods marred the event. The most serious occurred on lap eleven when the racers of Fran Hogue, Tim Damiani and Fred Burger, Jr., tangled just off the fourth turn resulting in mechanical damage to Hogue and Damiani. On the restart Williamson gave it his best shot. He stuck close to Kelly's tail on the straights and held the car at the very bottom of the track while Kelly worked the cushion. As the pair roared through the three-four turn on lap 13 Williamson's strategy finally paid-off and he pulled Kelly across the stripe.

Kelly refused to give Williamson an easy win. The two engaged in a relentless battle for the remaining seven circuits neither giving an inch to the other. For the last half-mile neither let off the throttle and Kelly hung it on the absolute rim of the track trying to regain the lead. Williamson blasted out of the last turn low and bested the #17 by a mere two car-lengths at the checker. This was Kramer's second win of the URC season and it gives him a commanding lead in the Del. State Series.

Bobby Wilkins, pilot of the Delmarva Electric Motors, #69, apparently has put an end to his "dog days" at US 13. His Draime powered, Bandit Chassid mount shows itself stronger with every lap and for the last two weeks he has dominated the Modified wars.

Attrition took its toll on the eighteen car starting field leaving only seven racers running at the finish but this didn't take anything away from Wilkins' fine performance. The #69 dealt handily with the challenges of Ron Keys' #39, Garrygollub in the Covey's Car Care #21 and the Grotto Pizza #100 with Hal Browning at the wheel. Brownig was the only "Killer B" that Bobby had to worry about. Harold Bunting was forced to retire his #19D early in the event and the #25 of Freddy Brightbill had been put out of action in the race's only serious accident.

This disappointing turn of events was doubly disappointing for Brightbill and crew. The racer had burnt two pistons in the Friday night show at Georgetown. Thanks to the help of Lacey lafferty the team rounded up an engine, the power plant of Lacey's #1L Modified, and at 1:30 pm Saturday they started installing it in the car. The lap five tangle found Freddy with front and rear chassis damage when he got caught between the mounts of Tommy Long and Norman Short in the three-four turn. All three were towed to the pits and the only thing injured were the cars.

Wilkins led all but one of the event's 25 laps to score this his second season victory at US 13.

D. Hill wins ties Dad at 13

David Hill returned his Colony Pool Service, Hill's Electric Motors #75 to the winner's circle for the second week in a row at US 13 Speedway Saturday night. Hill dealt with drying track conditions and withering competition as he maneuvered from the back of the field to score his twenty-second career win at US 13. Hal Browning finished a very close second followed by Ed Pettyjohn, Vernon Harris and Alex Beaumont.

Pettyjohn came from fifth at the start to lead the first seven circuits as Browning and Hill dueled their way from the rear. Brownig saw daylight first when he parked his #100 on Pettyjohn's bumper on lap five. Hal "played" with the #880 of Pettyjohn until lap eight when he breezed by him as the two came off the second turn. Brownig stretched his lead leaving Pettyjohn to deal with Harris and Hill.

As lap 13 went into the record books Hill started to unleash the #75's power. With just five to go he picked off the third place car of Harris and on the next circuit he captured second from the #880. Caution came out on lap seventeen for the spinning racers of Joey Carey and Mike Tauber and this erased Browning's considerable lead. Hill hung tough on the restart. He put the racer to the low side of Browning and took teh teo-to-go signal from flagman Bill Lawson. Browning didn't give up the fight and the two spent the last two circuits wheel-to-wheel. Raw determination and a heavy foot held the lead for David and he led Browning by inches at the finish.

David's win last week put him ahead of his father Larry. In total, Hill's career victories and this week's victory leaves no doubt that he is a worthy standard-bearer of the "Hill Tradition" at US 13.

Hoffman, Leach, Margum take wins

Treats, Stew Brown bested John Leach and Dave Stanton grabbing the $250.00 purse. Stew will receive a trophy at the annual banquet for the win. The next "Dash" is set for July 20.

Doug Hoffman in the 125 car weaved his way through traffic from a ninth place start to best Jim Horton and Neil Kumerninsky in the closing laps to take the win. This win was Doug's 5th of the season at Bridgeport. Neil Kumerninsky put up a strong challenge to finish second, with Jim Horton 3rd, Barry Burkhardt 4th and Jim Baker 5th.
