Final presentation of Summer of Challenge program

The Summer of Challenge program has been a very successful pilot program for the gifted and talented students in our area. We have been in operation since July 1, running each Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday from 8:30-11:30 a.m. Our challengers are in grades six through nine and all have been very enthusiastic about this special summer program.

On July 24, 1985, at 7:00 p.m., the challengers will be presenting demonstrations of the work they have created during the program. Demonstrations will include: an environmental "happening", make up skills, visual arts in the forms of paper making and masks, theatrical games, skits, dance, and explanations of theatre techniques. The program will take place in the auditorium of Lake Forest High School and the public is welcome to attend. Refreshments will be served at a reception for the twenty students who have demonstrated their skills in this program. For more information on this program, please call Lynda Gannon at 284-4405 or 284-3004 after 5:00 p.m.

Final days approach

HARRINGTON. Crowds are building in anticipation for the final day of the 1985 Delaware State Fair. Thursday, July 25, will prove to be a day to remember as three fair traditions are featured that day. Governors Day and Senior Citizens Day headline the marquee. Hardees Day returns Thursday, with money saving coupons for all midway rides.

Governor Mike Castle will share the stage Thursday with the Ferko String Band from Philadelphia. This will be the first fair with Castle serving as governor. Anyone who gets caught up in the Mummer's Magic, as they "strut their stuff" up Broad Street won't want to miss this show. Ferko first appeared in 1922. The band has placed first or second on 32 occasions during the annual parade on New Years Day in Philadelphia. It all starts at 7:15 p.m. Thursday, July 25, in the grandstand. Senior Citizens over 60 years of age will be admitted to the grounds free. Those over 65 will receive free admission to the grandstand for the Ferko String Band Show, if registered by 7 p.m. in front of the grandstand area. Featured Thursday will be the Home-made Ice Cream Making Contest in front of the administration office. All this to honor our Senior Citizens.

Friday, July 26 offers a unique look at Antique Farm Machinery at 9 a.m. The James E. Strates Midway opens at 4 p.m. Wool and Spinning Demonstrations and 4-H Contests are also available for review Friday. The Ladies Lead-Line Contest is slated for 4 p.m.

A great way to cap-off your Friday night is by settling in to watch the "Razzle-Dazzle", of Louise Mandrell Show. She will be appearing in the grandstand for two shows. Mandrell is known for her family shows which contain a hint of Vegas production numbers. Her shows are known for their high energy, choreography and of costume changes. The sultrier sister of

Short Takes on Area News

Fire at Delaware State Fair

HARRINGTON - Firefighters from the Harrington Fire Co. doused a small fire which started on the stove at a concession stand. The fire burned a small hole in the plywood wall, searing the outer tin wall of the stand. Two more fire companies were called for a tool which could cut through the tin outer wall without causing sparks which would cause a second fire. There were no injuries in the fire.

5k run at Delaware State Fair

There will be a 5k run at the Delaware State Fair on July 27 at 8:00 a.m. The race course will begin and finish at the Grandstand. The course will be a scenic 3.1 mile loop through the Harrington countryside. There will also be a mile "fun run" (or walk) for everyone not participating in the 5k run. Completed official entry forms and six dollar checks or money orders must be received by July 24. The late entry fee is seven dollars. Awards to top male and female overall finisher, farmer, farmer spouse, 4-H, F.F.A., Granger, Farm Bureau member, and farm family will be given out. Special awards will also be given to top finishers in each age group: 19 and under, 20-29, 30-39, 40-49, 50 and over. For more information call Delaware Farm Bureau.

Felton man killed after car accident

FELTON - A Felton man died Sunday after his car hit a utility pole. Delaware State Police say Steven M. Kish, 24, was driving south on Kent 885 when he apparently lost control and hit a utility pole. Kish then got out of the car and went to a nearby residence to report the accident. As he was returning to his car, he apparently walked into a power line that had fallen as a result of the accident. Kish was taken to Kent General Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival at 3:50 a.m.

Harrington man loses pants and contents

HARRINGTON. Charlie Price of 225 Commerce St. in Harrington has reported to the Harrington Police Department that a prowler entered his home sometime in the early morning hours of Monday, July 22, through a side porch door and made off with his pants. "The worst part is that whoever it was, got everything I had in the pants like my wallet and all my credentials. I will have to have new ones made now", said Price. Price says there is definitely a prowler in the neighborhood, and he wanted citizens to lock and secure their homes at this time.

Jones to replace Rabbitt

George Jones will replace Eddie Rabbitt on Saturday, July 27, for two shows 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. Eddie Rabbitt tickets are good for the George Jones Show. Anyone desiring refunds must present tickets in person or by mail no later than July 27, 1985.

George Jones

George Jones to perform at The Delaware State Fair

Almost without trying, George Jones has, over the past 30 years, set the standards against which all other contemporary country singers are ultimately measured. Many will tell you, flat-out, that he is the greatest hard country vocalist to ever wrap a set of gilded vocal chords around, and throw a troubled heart into, a great honky tonk ballad.

Jones' voice, when he unleashes it, has the power of a great primal scream of sorrow, conjuring up a bottomless pathos that is the essence of honky tonk desperation. In more restrained musical moments, he can emot, with similar ease, all the softer emotional shades of tenderness and devotion with a voice that is as pure and soothing as mother's milk. Then, in the next breath, singing through clenched teeth, he can insinuate into even the most mundane of melodies, a compelling sense of sadness, rage and confusion that is as piercing as a cold wind blowing on a dark night.

In his own time, George Jones' persuasive influence and unparalleled vocal talents have been acknowledged by a whole generation of popular musicians. Willie Nelson, Johnny Cash, Waylon Jennings, Kris Kristofferson, Bob Dylan, Linda Ronstadt, Emmylou Harris, James Taylor and Elvis Costello are just a few of today's leading recording artists who number themselves among his fans. In fact, nearly all of the aforementioned artists took the time to formally pay tribute to Jones when they gathered in the studio to sing duets with Jones for his 1979 Epic album, My Very Special Guests. It was Tom T. Hall who once observed: I've never talked to a country music person whose favorite singer wasn't George Jones. George Jones' life has been almost inseparably intertwined with music almost from the time he was born. It has been an elemental part of his character and of his background all along, just as have the sort of hard times about which he so convincingly sings.

George Glen Jones was born September 12, 1931, near Saratoga, Texas, a small town near Beaumont, in a rural region known as the "Big Thicket." He was one of seven children born to George Washington Jones, a truck-driving, pipe-fitting, jack of all trades; and Clara Jones, a testotally Pentecostal who played gospel piano in church on Sundays.

Jones' first Starday single was released in 1954 and had the prophetic title of "There Ain't No Money In This Deal." Jones' subsequent Starday single releases garnered little attention until 1955 when "Why Baby Why", an unusual upbeat tale of adultery, was released. That song rose to the number four position on the national charts, and its popularity soon landed Jones a spot on "The Louisiana Hayride," a national radio program out of Shreveport, Louisiana that featured other up and coming artists of the day like Elvis Presley and Johnny Cash. In 1956, Jones was offered a similar spot on Nashville's "Grand Ole Opry," an organization in which he retains his membership today; and thereafter released his debut album for Starday, which was also the label's first album project, The Grand Ole Opry's West Star. During 1956, he was additionally named "Most Promising Artist of the Attendance through Monday put record figures into the books. Fair officials cited Friday as being the highest known attendance for that day in the history of the Fair. Garry Simpson, the General Manager, reported that Saturday's attendance doubled last year's Saturday.

Steve Homan is not a newcomer to the Delaware State Fair. This is his fourth year at the Fair. His father, Harry Homan, also worked at the booth for four years, which makes it eight years of peanut vending for the Homan family.

Homan, of Woodbridge, VA, works with the Coast Guard full-time, but takes an annual leave to come to the Delaware State Fair.

Homan says that the peanuts haven't been selling too well this year. "It hasn't been too busy this year, but things will pick up. I am sure I will sell all of my stock," said Homan as he pointed to a stack of peanuts.

If a fairgoer is interested in a sign he should see George and Gretta Bozinis at the Delaware State Fair.

The Bozinis', of Horseheads, NY, sell hand-carved redwood signs at their booth, located next to the grandstand. They have been at the Fair for 22 years.

George Bozinis carves the wood freehanded. The message is carved in the wood and then painted dark brown.

The Bozinis' go to all the major state fairs and after their stay at the Delaware State Fair ends they will be travelling to Springfield, Illinois for another fair. In the winter, the Bozinis'

Barbara, plays several instruments and has a sincere desire to entertain her fans. Plenty of good seats are still available for both Mandrell shows.

Saturday, July 27, is the final day for the 1985 season. The Delaware Feeder Hog Round-Up is featured at 10 a.m. The James E. Strates Midway opens at Noon. 4-H Fashion Revue begins at 3 p.m. The Giant Demolition Derby shoot-out starts at high noon in the Grandstands.

A perfect finale to a perfect State Fair could only mean, the country music stylings of George Jones. Jones will be appearing for two shows in the grandstand area. Seats are still available for both shows.

sell their signs at indoor shows.

"We go to things like home and flower shows," said Gretta Bozins.

Many people feel that the signs won't last and therefore are hesitant in buying.

"The signs are made from California Redwood. It lasts forever. It doesn't rot or chip, but the color will fade. When it does fade, all the sign needs is a coat of varnish," said Mrs. Bozins.

Some people think the prices, which go as high as $27, are too high, according to Mrs. Bozina.

"Twenty-seven dollars is a lot of money, but we spend that much on a pair of shoes and think nothing of it. These signs will last, shoes won't," said Mrs. Bozins.

The Bozins' will continue to come to the Delaware State Fair for many more years because they love their work.

"We really enjoy making signs. If we didn't we wouldn't be doing this now. Just seeing the look on a persons face after they see their name on a sign keeps us going," said Mrs. Bozins with a smile.

vanilla ice cream cone, topped with nuts and a cherry. Sounds good, doesn't it?

Fairgoers can get this delicious treat at the Ice Cream Sundae Cone stand, located by the grandstand, at the Delaware State Fair.

John Allison, of North Carolina, and Joe Swaney, of Hoboken, NJ, work at the ice cream stand. They have been at the fair for eight years.

"I met a guy in Wisconsin and he wanted me to work for him. So, here I am," said Swaney laughing.

The booth is not too busy during the day, but at night business booms.

"We haven't been too busy, but by the end of the week sales will even out," said Swaney as he served a fairgoer the mouth watering treat.

Allison and Swaney only work at the booth at the Delaware State Fair. When the Fair is over they have different plans.

"I'm going to Philadelphia," said Allison.

"I hope to be at the Golden Nugget in Atlantic City this time next week," said Swaney with a smile.

Year" by several of the major music trade publications.

The late 1950's and early 1960's turned out to be one of the creative high points of Jones' career. His output during these years included spirited classics like "Window Up Above," "White Lightning," and "She Thinks I Still Care." In 1962, and again in 1963, he was chosen as country music's leading male vocalist by the national music trade magazines. During the first decade and a half of his recording career, Jones also changed record labels roughly half a dozen times, going first from Starday to Mercury/Starday and then in 1967 to Mercury. In 1961, he moved to United Artists, and then joined up with Musicor in 1965. After a very brief stint with RCA, he moved to Epic in 1971, and has been with the label ever since.

Since his marriage to Nancy Sepulveda in March of 1983, Jones has experienced a re-birth of sorts in his life, a sobering and healthy happiness, that has culminated in his fulfillment of a lifelong dream--the opening of his own music park in his native land of Texas.

Appropriately called JONES COUNTRY (which is also the title of his latest album), the 82-acre park and entertainment complex witnessed its grand opening before a crowd of some 10,000 on Labor Day weekend as Jones and Sepulveda cut the red ribbon from atop the park's 70-foot stage, which played host during the afternoon to such guest entertainers as Leona Williams, Gail Davies and Little Jimmie Dickens prior to Jones' closing performance.

Meanwhile, Jones has recently followed his latest album success with Shine On, which produced two number one records: Shine On and I Always Get Lucky With You, with another brimming collection of the type of music that placed him at the top of the charts earlier this year.

Edna Bakley returns to area

Edna Bakley has returned to Felton from Albuquerque, New Mexico and was guest of honor at a pool party given by Rita Salsbury of Harrington at the Shawnee Country Club in Millford recently.

The affair had the flavor of "This is Your Life" as 20 of Edna's friends appeared one by one to get a personal greeting from her. Some had not seen her in eight years.

One of the highlights of the evening was the appearance of Rose Ann Pack, an actress, pretending to be a very dear friend whom Edna hadn't seen in years, when in reality she had never met Edna before.

Each guest brought two silk flowers and placed them in a wicker fireside basket to form a beautiful friendship bouquet. Edna was presented with this as a remembrance of a fun filled evening of swimming, delicious refreshments and great friendship.

Those attending were Ann Morrow, Phyllis Lemieux, Dorothy Pierce, Miriam Haines, Barbara Jacobs, Dorothy Chadwick, Ruth Gianpiero, Candice Detweiler, Doris Biggs, Charlotte Voshell, Betty Ann Havelow, Myrtle Brittingham, Doris Cohee, Mary Esther Nored, Bea Fredericks, and Grace Turner. Joanne Salsbury and Sherry Roe helped with refreshments, and Dawn Jacobs was the Shawnee pool lifeguard.

Edna said "Everybody should have this happen to them at least twice in a lifetime."

Body-builders flex at Fair

The Delaware State Fair held its first body-building contest Sunday. Needless-to-say, it turned out to be one of the biggest attractions Sunday. About 600 spectators crowded into the barn in which it was held.

The men and women body-builders flexed to music as onlookers cheered and whistled.

"It helps a lot if I get the crowd behind me," said Mickey Ryder, winner of the men's novice, men's open lightweight, and the overall trophy.

State Fair General Manager, F. Gary Simpson, would like to see the event upgraded to grandstand status next year. Because of a lack of contestants, two of the three women bodybuilder competitions had to be dropped from the schedule. Simpson hopes this year's contest will spark added interest among bodybuilders for next year's contest.

The winners of the contest were: Teenage Boys, Eric Buckson, of Camden; Novice Men, Mickey Rider, of Dover; Novice Women, Jan DeJohn, of Wilmington; Men's Open Heavyweight Division, Richard Clark, of Wilmington; Men's Open Lightweight Division, Mickey Rider, of Dover; Over-all winner, Mickey Rider.

Crime Stoppers

In Wilmington, a woman was raped at her home in the 2000 block of West 7th Street. It was Tuesday, March 12, 1985, at approximately 8:15 p.m. A black male, 5'7", 155 pounds, between the age of 20 and 30 is the suspect. He was wearing a dark nylon jacket, a brown ski hat, black "parachute" pants and basketball sneakers. The suspect entered through the front door, forced the victim into the kitchen, blindfolded her, and raped her.

If you have any information on this or any other crime please call 1-800-TIP-3333, Monday through Friday between the hours of 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Up to $1,000 reward for publicized or unpublicized felonies. You do not have to reveal your name.

Fair Manager Simpson recalls his 4-H days

by Linda Osborne

State Fair time! It's something many of us look forward to each summer, maybe 4-H members most of all. It's also a time of nostalgia for 4-H alumni who look back fondly on their own early fair days. But former 4-H'er Gary Simpson, general manager of the Delaware State Fair, Inc., not only lives with the excitement all year, he makes it happen for the rest of us.

Simpson moved up to general manager last January, having been with the fair since 1974 as assistant manager. In addition to planning the fair itself, he's busy all year managing the Harrington Raceway and coordinating the many events outside groups scheduled at the fairgrounds.

According to Simpson, "There's something going on every weekend from May through August, and sometimes several things over August weekends. 'We've got everything from livestock shows to tractor pulls and combine demolition derbies. Then from September 'til November there's harness racing, and even in the winter we're boarding about 600 horses in training for the races.'

While his position is most often as a liaison, sometimes he gets his hands dirty, too. Recently he pitched in to help the Delaware Swine Producers Association build a new show ring. "We got it up in a day!" he says proudly.

Did his involvement in the Houston Cardinals, the first 4-H Club established in Delaware, influence his career choice? Simpson's answer is a resounding "YES!" His 10 years in 4-H included projects and activities in dairy, livestock, swine, dog, poultry, health, safety, demonstration contests, public speaking, dairy and livestock judging, and junior council. He also attended National 4-H Congress.

That range of projects clearly reflects the demands of Simpson's daily duties: a broad knowledge of the interests represented in fair activities, and people-skills for management and communications.

Simpson points out that he never lived on a farm. His family owned about 1 1/2 acres, the site for his own livestock operation as a 4-H'er. A typical year might have found him tending a cow or two, or maybe a couple of pigs, or up to a dozen chickens.

"Through these projects," he says, "I developed a love for animals, and eventually realized my career would revolve around livestock. So my major in animal science at the University of Delaware was established. Then I got my master's in agricultural economics, so I had the background I needed for my future career at the fair. And of course," he adds, "the fair was always a highlight of my summer each year."

But as much as he enjoyed his backyard husbandry experience, 4-H provided other, even more valuable training. Through public speaking and demonstration competitions, as well as presenting his evaluations in dairy and livestock judging, he feels he learned to think on his feet and express himself well.

"It's a valuable skill for anyone to have," Simpson says. "I'm grateful for it not only as fair manager, but also in my work on the board of directors of the Milford Hospital and in my church."

Simpson's favorite aspect of 4-H was the contacts with people. "The best thing about each event was the chance to meet and make new friends—friends I've remained in contact with to this day. 4-H also provided me with countless positive role models who gave me inspiration, encouragement and insights needed to succeed in later life. What a success I now enjoy, I credit to these individuals."

Simpson concludes: "Children need 4-H today even more than in the past. It's one of the greatest molders of character that I know. The role models are still there. The leaders are tremendous people. And the values developed through 4-H are, unfortunately, not stressed enough in other places any more."

When asked if he's still raising hogs and chickens at home, Simpson laughs. "No, it's just me and my wife, three kids and a dog. I'm afraid our Milford zoning precludes more than that for now. But we're looking forward to a time of backyard farming again."

Other 4-H alumni living in Delaware are invited to register at 4-H exhibits at the Delaware State Fair, Harrington, and the University of Delaware's Farm and Home Field Day, (Aug. 14), at the Georgetown Substation. Delaware's "Salute to Excellence" campaign, funded by a national grant, seeks to identify alumni living in the state in order to publicize local 4-H youth programs and lay the groundwork for Delaware's 75th 4-H anniversary in 1990.

Dana Irving holds Annual Benefit Fair

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

WEST GROVE, PA. Each year, usually following our own Fair in Harrington, Dana Irving holds the annual Oxford Lions County Fair at his farm along the Baltimore Pike (Rt. 1) right off the Jennersville Exit near West Grove, PA. It is held on a Sunday. This past Sunday.

The Fair usually attracts a good size crowd. The proceeds from the Fair are for the most part donated to the Wills Eye Hospital and the Shriners Children's Hospital.

This year the Fair attracted a record crowd. The place was mobbed by horse lovers, who came largely to see matinee harness racing at its best. There were 9 races on the card. The purses feature breeding rights to some of the best stallions around. Max Hempt of Mechanicsburg, PA, always well known in harness horse circles donated breeding to Its Fritz (1:56.1).

There were two fast miles on Sunday. The 7th race won by Sovereign Star A paced the mile in 2:04.2 for Forrest Gerry, III. In the 8th race the time was 2:04 flat, for a new track record, which had been set in the 7th race.

George Dennis, son of J.D. and Nellie Dennis, drove in two races. He finished fast in the 5th race with JC's Don Kee...coming down the stretch flying, and almost won it all.

In the "Battle of the Sexes"...or what was at least billed as such...Sherri Miller driving Witsends Jargon nosed out Patricia MacDonald driving Peacefuls Charm.

It was also "Del Miller Day" "Delvin Miller Day" to honor the great one who has done so much for the harness horse breed. It was Miller who stood Adios, and who naturally accounted for the modern day breed for the most part.

CLARIFICATION

Peninsula Conference Council on Ministries has forwarded a letter to the President of the Kent County Levy Court concerning two matters related to matters at Barratt's Chapel.

The first point concerns the position of Mr. G. Wallace Caulk. Mr. Caulk is the Chairperson of the Barratt's Chapel Cemetery Trustees, and not Barratt's

Chapel and Barratt's Chapel Museum.

The second point concerns a letter presented by Mr. Allen Clark who is the curator of Barratt's Chapel Museum. Mr. Clark speaks as a "private" citizen and does not speak for the Commission on Archives and History on the new proposed mobile home park called Riverbend.

Youth fishing tourney to be held

The Division of Parks and Recreation will be giving away a 10 speed bicycle as the grand prize in an expanded youth fishing tourney to be held July 25, 26 and 27.

The contest, for youths 15 and under, will be held simultaneously, on all three days, at Lums Pond, Trap Pond, and Killens Pond state parks, from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. each day. Youngsters can register until noon each day at one of the three parks' boathouses. There is no registration fee, but the park user fee will be in effect.

Besides the grand prize, which will be given to the boy or girl who catches the heaviest fish during the three-day tourney, three prizes (fishing equipment) will be given each day, at each park. Participants may register for one, two or all three days, but must provide their own fishing equipment.

Lee Greenwood to appear at Seaford High School

Like the countdown for the launching of a space shuttle, preparations for Nanticoke Memorial Hospital's "Celebration with Lee Greenwood" proceeds at a steady pace. According to Dave Oscarson, Director of Marketing for the hospital, ticket sales are going well. Mr. Oscarson noted that good seating is still available for both the 7:30 and 10:00 p.m. shows.

"Truly a major event in the life of our community, the appearance of one of the biggest names in country-pop music is a happening folks will not want to miss!" said Mr. Oscarson. Lee Greenwood continues to gain popularity among music lovers of both country and pop song styling. Again voted Male Vocalist of the Year by the Country Music Association, Lee has also been awarded the coveted Entertainer of the Year award, an annual award presented by the Music City News and also received special recognition for his song "God Bless the USA".

Lee's appearance at the Madden

Auditorium of Seaford High School on Thursday, August 1 has been planned as a community event designed to bring the hospital and community together in celebration of the completion of the building and renovation program and to express appreciation for community support of the hospital throughout its 33-year history.

Tickets, priced at $12.50, $15.50 and $50.00 may be purchased through the hospital personnel department. Telephone orders may be made by calling the presence of Nanticoke Memorial Hospital in our community and at the night of the concert though Mr. Oscarson recommends buying them in advance in order to avoid last-minute rush.

"What a great way to celebrate the presence of Nanticoke Memorial Hospital in our community and at the same time enjoy a very special evening of entertainment right here at home with superstar Lee Greenwood", concluded Mr. Oscarson.

Harrington Public Library announces donation

The Harrington Public Library is pleased to announce the generous donation of a set of U.S.T.A. Registers of Sires and Dams from 1959 thru 1982. These books were graciously given to the library by Mr. & Mrs. Ken Walls of Harrington. The books will be very useful to anyone interested in horse breeding and racing.

Tastee-Freez Dog Show held

The Delaware State Fair had its annual Tastee Freez Youth Dog Show on July 22.

The dog show, which began at 3:00 p.m., had 15 entries.

Trophies were awarded to all first place winners.

Ginger Hastings, Bridgeville, won a trophy for her poodle for being the best groomed dog.

The largest dog and best behaved dog was the Rottweiler, owned by Greg Brendel of Seaford.

The best leash dog and costume class for mixed-breeds was won by Cameron Carlisle of Seaford.

Belinda Schryver, Greenwood, took first place in the conformation class and novice obedience class.

Jennifer Rumsey, Clayton, came in first place in the costume class for purebreeds.

Novice showmanship was taken by Tanya MacKeand, Greenville.

Southern States Annual Membership Meeting to be held in Harrington

Election of local Advisory Board members, Farm Home Advisory Committee members, as well as operations reports, will be among the highlights of the Southern States Cooperative annual membership meeting for Harrington, Delaware on Wed., July 31, 1985 at Harrington Fairgrounds Restaurant. The meeting will be held at 7:00 p.m.

The theme of the meeting will be, "Teamwork: always in season."

Mr. Leroy Betts of Felton, DE will serve as chairman of the local meeting.

Mr. Wayne Argo of Seaford, DE, a member of the Southern States Cooperative's regional staff, will report on Southern States supply and marketing operations for the 1984-85 fiscal year. The report will also include a slide/tape presentation entitled "Teamwork: always in season."

Local operations and services rendered to agriculture in the community will be discussed by Mr. W. Roger Hudson, manager of Hudson Farm Supply Co., Inc.

There will be a special recognition ceremony for local Board and Farm Home Advisory Committee members who retire this year.

Nominees for the local board are: Mr. Arthur Kaufman and Mr. Robert Mason of Harrington, DE and Mr. Charles Pitts and Mr. Kevin Robbins of Felton, DE.

Women nominated for the Farm Home Advisory Committee are: Mrs. Leroy Betts of Felton, Mrs. William D. Simpson of Houston, and Mrs. Arthur Kaufman and Mrs. William G. Jester of Harrington.

Another feature of the meeting will be a "Share-A-Craft" display arranged by the Farm Home Advisory Committee. Members are being urged to bring their handmade crafts for display.

Committee chairmen assisting with the meeting are: Mr. William D. Winkler, Chairman of the Greeting and Ribbons Committee and Mrs. Franklin Hanson, Chairman of the Decorating Committee.

CORRECTION

An error was made in the July 17 issue of The Harrington Journal. The error was in the article "Harrington man charged with raping a 13 yr. old girl". The incident was reported on July 11, not June 11.

Over The Backyard Fence

Local Interest by Donna Breeding 398-4474

Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Smith flew to Fort Lauderdale, Florida this past Friday, to attend a wedding and returned a couple of days later.

Leah Anthony of Whitleysburg Road is a patient in Milford Memorial Hospital. Hope you'll soon be back home Leah.

Miss Mary Kay Taylor has been a patient in Milford Memorial Hospital, for tests. That's no way to spend the summer Mary Kay.

Audrey and Bill Kates spent a day in Virginia this past week.

Get Well wishes continue to go out to Libby Ann Hitchens who's still a patient in a Maryland Hospital.

Mr. & Mrs. James Boyd and family visited friends in Sterling, VA last weekend.

Mr. & Mrs. Richard Brobst from Allentown, PA were guests of Mr. & Mrs. Melvin Brobst last week.

Frederica (Ricki) McGaha of Elsmere was guest of honor at a surprise birthday Bar-b-que party on Sunday, at the home of her parents, Fred and Joyce Coppock of Clark St. Happy Birthday Ricki and many more.

Mrs. Betty Remington entertained at a birthday dinner for her son, Mr. Wayne Pleasanton. Those attending were her new "Mr." and son Ronnie Wooters with Shelly Calhoun.

William Lee Walker of Seaford, spent the weekend with his grandmother, Jeanie Walker. They went to Ocean City and enjoyed Playland and the Jolly Rogers Amusement Park. They also visited the Go-Kart and Dune Buggy tracks.

I had the pleasure of talking to Mr. William Gray of Florida while working at the Journal stand. Mr. Gray is in Harrington visiting the Fair and friends. He is staying with his son, Bill.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Franci Weldon visited Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Brown this past week.

Miss Kellie Draper and Miss Shawn Caulk from Harrington won 1st place for the Vocal Duet in the Youth Talent Show at the Fair, Thursday night.

They sang I'm Almost Over You. Kellie Draper has had a very exciting week. Besides winning her award, she got her drivers license and also got a pre-engagement ring from Mr. Rob Stevens. I guess she wasn't singing I'm Almost Over You to Rob. Good Luck Kellie, Rob and Shawn.

Mr. and Mrs. Winston Linton and Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Kates spent a day last week in Wilmington shopping and enjoyed dinner at Denny's.

My grandson Raymond celebrated his second birthday on the 19th. We went to Wilmington to see him, and he just about wore his old Mom-Mom out playing. When I finally left, I was singing "Where has all my energy gone?"

Irving and Leona Hopkins attended a family reunion in Milford on Sunday.

Stan and Vera Jackimek and a group from Playtex have just returned from a one week cruise on the S.S. Oceanic. The boat has 8 decks and is 782 ft. long. They cruised to Bermuda, Nassau, Bahamas and Paradise Island. They're still on cloud nine and Stan had a hard time getting back into the groove on Monday.

I hope you all have a good time at the Fair and maybe I'll see you at The Harrington Journal stand.

Here's my thought for the week: They might not need me; but they might, I'll let my head be just in sight. A smile as small as mine might be precisely their necessity.

Brian McCann [left] and Barry Morgan [right], gang leaders in "West Side Story", the Summer Theatre of America at Wesley College's second production, begin work on the set for "West Side Story". "West Side Story" opens on July 26, 27, 28, August 2, 3, and 4th with matinee at 2:00 on Sunday's the 26th and 4th. Tickets are $5.00 and ticket information is available by calling 736-2484.

Gab Fest by Pat Hatfield

"Business before pleasure", they always say. And, as Andy Rooney says, "Who are THEY?" So many of you have asked me if I could find out if there would be Lawrence Welk programs this year. One of our Readers has given us this information. "There will be no more Welk programs. The Music Maker is now a Senior Citizen himself. He is 82. He taped his last TV show in 1982 and plans to limit his time now to concert tours."

Now here is another request from a Seaford Reader. Does anyone know of the book, "The Royal Path of Life" by T.L. Haines and L.W. Yaggy? She is anxious to get a copy of an excerpt from this book. The paragraphs she desires are entitled, "When the Children Leave."

After the thunderstorms and the rain we expected a nice, cool morning but such is not the case. The humidity is pressing and there is no east wind to cheer the heart.

This is a very hectic week with us here at Trail's End, and Murphy's Law is in full effect... "If anything can go wrong, it will and at the worst possible time."

It started off well. My checkup at the doctor's was fine, blood pressure in great shape and chances are I'll be around for a bit longer.

Lady Bug had to go to her doctor also, get her shots, toenails clipped, renew her medicine for heart worms and the whole bit.

Then the electric pump ran on and on and wouldn't stop. The good plumber came. He repaired the leak. It soon developed that there were more leaks and he had to come back. After that the hot water heater started leaking on the kitchen floor. After two days of plumbing and gas men visits we find that we must buy a new water heater. I never did like July and August.

I took my turn at minding the store and Dad picked all the potatoes, parsley, green peppers, tomatoes, and potatoes. When the day was over we just sat under our big shade trees and watched the fireflies. There are so many and they are so lovely, making our old back yard like Fairyland, like hundreds of stars fallen out of the sky.

When I was growing up, the teenagers of my years had an answer to their frustrations. We used to laugh and say, "Mom told me there would be days like this!" True, but she didn't tell us how many.

Senior Center

Before we start with the upcoming events I'd like to tell you a little bit about last Friday, our annual Grandparents Day. The day began at 10 with a registration time. Then we had Bingo games (for coupons) with both the grandparents and kids. Next our game room was opened. We had clown-face painting, ring toss, lollipop pull, and floating numbers game. The kids were issued coupons when they won. These coupons would later be exchanged for gifts. A special lunch of hot dogs and chips was served to the grandchildren. After lunch the game room opened to a "double coupon" time. Next, the coupons were exchanged and to top the day off, ice cream cones for everyone! Special thanks to Jeanette Legates and Kathryn Smith for volunteering their time. Over 90 grandchildren were in attendance.

Now, for those events upcoming. We are offering transportation from the center to the Fair on Thursday, (25th). We will be leaving at 10 a.m. approximately.

On Friday (26th) we will be having blood pressure monitoring at 10 a.m. and in the afternoon we will be having a program with Mr. Ben Enlows about "Life Line". This is the device, you may have seen on T.V., that you carry with you and if you should fall you just push the button on the device that summons local help. A worthwhile program for persons who live alone. Also on that afternoon we will be having Bridge games. Please contact the Center or Phyllis Greenbough if you plan to attend the Bridge Games.

After Bible Study, Monday (29th) with Rev. Miller, we will have a lunch of Ham with fruit sauce, Macaroni and Cheese, Cole Slaw, and Swiss Cake Rolls. In the afternoon we will be playing Lollipop Bingo. What's Lollipop Bingo?--you'll have to stop by and see! We are sure it will be a lot of fun!

Tuesday morning has the Band practicing for Heritage Day (Sept. 21). I understand they have some surprises in store for that day, as does the Chorus (which practices on Wednesday mornings). Ina Hughes of Felton (and Florida) will be leading the Band for Heritage Day and Sylvia Meredith will be heading up the Chorus.

Tuesday afternoon Ms. Debbie Waldman will be giving a program about "Audiology".

Wednesday afternoon we will have Mrs. Black representing Mary Kay Cosmetics for facials and make-up demonstrations.

And that wraps up July, but there's plenty more in August.

Now our Information Tip for this week "Support Groups" -- "More often, we find our children and grandchildren assuming a major role in caring for an older relative. This sometimes turns into a role reversal between the parent and the children. This can often become extremely frustrating." The purpose of this group is to assist the care provider in meeting this challenge. We will be utilizing professionals from various fields to present informative and beneficial programs about such issues as: In Home Health Care, Alzheimers and Related Disorders, Legal Issues, Nursing Home Questions, Respite Care (where someone would come into the home to give the care provider a needed "break") and many others.

If you are presently caring for an older relative you know that no matter how much you love that person, through no intent of theirs, they can become demanding or even hard to care for. The care provider tries to maintain a level of care that can take its toll on them and possibly the entire family.

Statistics show more and more persons caring for older relatives in their homes. Also, the average length of that "stay" is nine years, definitely not a short term situation.

Our main objective with this type of group would be to support, in every way we can, those care providers by lending a listening ear and group sharing. As the name of the group implies, "You're Not Alone". We don't profess to have all the answers but we are willing to listen and to give help when we can. We are hoping that we can also learn by exchanging ideas

With a new 4,000 seat grandstand completed at a cost of $350,000 and two new buildings ready to house displays, the Kent-Sussex Fair at Harrington, is all set for its big week beginning July 25.

Mr. & Mrs. Elwood Shultie announce the marriage of their daughter, Deanne, in Newbury, England, on June 25 to Pvt. Wallace E. Ryan, son of Mr. & Mrs. Elver Ryan of Harrington. The couple will reside in England until July 1966.

Donald T. Rose, son of Mrs. Florence M. Rose, Rt. 2 Bridgeville, recently was promoted to Corporal in Korea, where he is a member of the 7th Infantry Division.

James M. Webb, electrician's mate 3rd class, USA, son of Walter J. Webb, Rt. 1, Harrington is serving aboard the support craft carrier USS Leyte which returned here in June from a six week cruise to Lisbon, Portugal.

The Junior and Senior Bands of the Harrington Public Schools will give a concert this Saturday evening, July 23, in front of the Harrington Post Office, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Featured at Reese Theatre: "Soldier of Fortune", Clark Gable & Susan Hayward.

Harry Rice graduated from a Navy radar school last Thursday in Norfolk and is spending 10 days with his mother, Mrs. Lillian Rice, awaiting assignment.

"The Righteous Brothers", Singers par excellence, will head the grandstand show Saturday evening, July 31, at Delaware State Fair here.

Larry Hooper, the genial pianist and deep-voiced singer on Lawrence Welk's television program, will join Boylon and Burgess (also of the Welk's TV show) in the grandstand show at the 1965 Delaware State Fair on Friday night, July 30.

Specials at Harrington Acme Market: Sirloin steaks 98 cents a lb.; Ivory Bar soap 12 for 79 cents; Crabmeat 99 cents lb.; Shrimp 69 cents a lb.

Capt. Wm. Wix of the Army, spent a day recently with his parents.

Mr. & Mrs. Pat Dotson of Frederica announce the birth of their first child, a girl born Friday, July 16, at the Dover AFB Hospital. Mrs. Dotson will be remembered as the former Miss Cid Kirwon.

Mr. & Mrs. Luther Hatfield and son, Marshall, visited the Worlds Fair last weekend.

Nancy Blades spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. & Mrs. Russell Blades. The family of Louis Gerardi held their annual family reunion on Sunday in the Parish Hall of St. Bernadette's Church.

Jacobs store is advertising a 20% going out of business sale.

10 Years Ago

Mr. Michael Mitchell, son of Mr. & Mrs. Lester J. Mitchell of Greenwood, graduated as Valedictorian of his class from the School of Radiologic Technology Friday night, June 28. It was announced that he has been the only one to graduate from that particular school with a perfect score of 100 percent on his national boards.

Robert Collins, Sr. of near Harrington was already a busy man before the fair, tilling 1,000 acres of land near here and keeping an eye on 64,000 broiler chickens wasn't enough to occupy this area resident, who also does a little carpentry occasionally. Last year he and his wife became owners of the Hires Root Beer stand at the Delaware State Fair. The Collins couple purchases the 50 year old stand from the George Faulkner of Collinswood, New Jersey, and are operating the stand themselves this year.

Curt Powell, Felton's 240 pound pro football prospect has been rejected by the Dallas Cowboys. The former Lake Forest and Del State standout might well be advised to try and land a spot with Ron Waller's Philadelphia Bells of the WFL after a couple of years experience. Then he might find it much easier to crack the NFL, if he still wished to.

The United Methodist Men of the Church have Bibles which members of the congregation have purchased to give to anyone who does not have a Bible. If anyone would like to have one or knows anyone who does not have a Bible, please give the name to any Methodist Man of Houston.

Sincere sympathy is extended to the family of Mrs. Mamie P. Warrington of near Houston, who passed away Monday, July 15, in the Milford Memorial Hospital.

Mr. & Mrs. Harry Towers entertained at dinner on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Harvey A. Blood of Hockessin, Mr. and Mrs. H. Arthur Blood and sons, Tommy and Adam of Brandywine Springs, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Morris of Hockessin, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Warren of Felton and Dr. and Mrs. H. Wesley Towers and daughter of Harrington.

Miss Barbara Sockrider returned home on Monday from her three week trip to England. It was an enjoyable trip and one she will long remember.

Mr. and Mrs. James Calvert entertained on Wednesday evening at a party for their son, Keith, who celebrated his 3rd birthday. His grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Tebbins and Mrs. Catherine Calvert along with several cousins attended. The cousins enjoyed swimming in the pool.

Mrs. Dorothy Silbereisen and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Silbereisen and family attended a surprise birthday party held for Mrs. Fannie Melvin at the home of her son, Herbert Melvin of Lincoln. Mrs. Melvin was 82 years old and very much surprised and pleased to see so many relatives and friends. About 50 attended.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gallagher enjoyed a trip on the Lewes-Cape May Ferry on Monday. They were met at Cape May by friends, Mr. and Mrs. James McMann of Cape May and spent the day with them. They returned home on the 7:00 p.m. ferry.

Miss Amy Prettyman of Seaford visited her Grandmother, Helen Prettyman, on Saturday. They visited Miss Ann Clifton of Milford. Mr. Dallas Clifton of Wilmington, brother of Ann and Helen is spending a few days with Ann.

Greenwood by Pat Hatfield 349-4255

Greenwood Day was observed on July 13. The Country Brewers furnished the music for the street dancing in the evening and received many favorable comments.

Mrs. Bonnie Gardner and Miss Hilary Keith of Seaford were Sunday visitors at Trail's End.

Mrs. Lucille Smith and Mr. & Mrs. George Matthews were recent callers at the Jacob Hatfields. They were also delighted with a short visit from Mr. & Mrs. George Childs of Laurel.

Miss Garith Bollinger of Bridgeville spent the day with her grandmother, Mrs. Jacob Hatfield. Garith has just returned from spending some time with Bollinger grandparents in Lewisburg, PA.

Calvary Wesleyan Church News

Summer activities are fully upon us this week as we look forward to Denton Camp services. Dr. Clarence Bence will speak each day at 10:15 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. R.S. Shelton will speak at 7:30 each evening (at 7:00 p.m. on July 28th and at 8:30 p.m. on August 4th). Sunday morning services will be held as usual at Calvary Wesleyan but there will be no evening services on July 28th and August 4th.

An exciting week of VBS and Teen Time Together is scheduled for August 12-16 from 6:15-8:00 p.m. Pre-school will follow the program, "In the Footsteps of Jesus", grades 1-6 will study "The Wordless Book." Mrs. Mabel Jean Donovan, VBS director, and a full staff look forward to sharing with you.

Full-color commemorative church plates are still available. The cost is $15.00. This is a Youth sponsored project. For more details, call 398-3618 Mon., Wed., or Fri. from 9:00 a.m. til 12:00 p.m.

Six CYC'ers returned from a week of CYC Camp at Denton, MD. Those who participated were Laura Wamsley, Dana Moyer, Melanie Moffett, Michelle VanNess, Amy Nicole Wheatley, and Amy Holloway. They will share some of their camp experiences during Opening Exercises this week.

Sunday School will start at 9:30 a.m. This is the 7th week of our "Beat the Summer Slump Campaign." Rev. Miller will speak at 10:40 a.m. Birthdays greetings this week go to Raymond Brown, Angela Brown, Gard-Old Sherwood, Carlton Goodhand, Andy Culotta and Anna Krumm.

These classes please call the Rectory, 422-5123.

Big Brothers and Big Sisters Program is big on one-to-one friendship...between adult volunteers and children from single-parent families. It's a volunteer program guided by a professional service agency staff. The professional staff of Big Brothers/Big Sisters matches men and women volunteers with boys and girls between the ages of 7 and 17 who need a supportive relationship with another adult outside their home.

If you would like to find out more about the Big Brothers/Big Sisters program in Delaware please call 856-2918.

Luther Towers: The Lutheran parishes of Sussex County are sponsoring the erection of Luther Towers, a senior citizen residence in Seaford or Millsboro. This is excellent housing and would be federally subsidized for those individuals whose income is under $11,400 or couples under $14,500 a year. Others would pay full rent. If interested in getting on the waiting list please call Father Charlie or leave your name at the Church Office, 422-5123.

Thinking about what to do with your life? Maybe a life of service to God and others in the answer. If you want this life, be a priest.

Anniversary Cookbook orders are still being taken. The Anniversary Cookbook is expected to be delivered later this summer.

St. Bernadette's Hall Rental: Please call 398-3270.

Baptism: In keeping with our Baptism policy, the next preparation classes will be held in August and September with the Sacrament of Baptism to be celebrated in October. To register for these classes please call the Rectory, 422-5123.

In The Pocket

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

In the Tom Hal Pace at Brandywine on Saturday night for 2-year-old colts, the winners were Cheer Power (John Gilmour) in 2:00.1., Play the Palace for Bill Lewis in 1:58.4, and Smartest Remark with Eddie Davis behind the reins in 1:57.2... a new track record for 2-year-olds. Friday at The Meadowslands in the $1 million Meadowslands Pace it was Lou Guida's team... gang picking up most of the marbles. His prize Nihilator got up for the time of 1:50.3, which ties the record held by Colt Fortysix as being the fastest ever raced Mile. His Chairmanoftheboard was second, and Dignatarian third.

On Saturday night at Roosevelt in the $100,000 American Trotting Championship it was Sandy Bowl getting the win in 1:58.4 for John Campbell over Fancy Crown. Both represent the United States in the Roosevelt International this Saturday against the world's best trotters.

Saturday at The Meadowslands in the $155,000 Founders Gold Cup for 3-year-old trotters, it was Fraxas getting the final leg for Ron Waples in 1:56, a track record for all ages.

At Brandywine on Sunday in the $9,000 Invitational Pace it was Flying Rick getting the win in 1:57.4 for Abe Stoltzfus.

On Sunday at Liberty Bell in the $12,000 Pa. sires stake an open event it was Mister Larucee in 1:57 for R. L. Farrington.

Sunday at Freestate in the $25,000 final of the Baltimorian Pacing Series for 2-year-olds, it was Shannon Motoring winning in 1:57.3 for Ted Wing. Wing has developed into a very consistent driver. In the $12,600 pace at Freestate it was Rookery and Dagsboro's David Banks getting the win by blistering the track surface in 1:55.4.

On Sunday at Roosevelt in the 1st leg of the U.S. Pacing Championship, On The Road Again wins it in 1:55.3 for Buddy Gilmour over Mr. Dalrae, and George S.

Leading dash winners for the nation are Mike Lachance with 802, John Campbell (260), Bill O'Donnell (257), and EDDIE DAVIS tied at 21st with 134.

Leading money won individuals are O'Donnell with $3.8 million, over John Campbell with $3.1 million and Lachance. EDDIE DAVIS is 9th in money won with $1.3 million.

William O'Donnell, the leading money-winning driver in North America this season, drove the winners, Nihilator and Pershing Square in two of the three divisions of the Meadowslands Pace eliminations Friday night, July 12. Immediately following the races he offered these comments about the leading contenders for this Friday's $1 million Meadowslands Pace, which was won by Nihilator in record fast time.

"Nihilator is the best of the three-year-old pacers this year, but there are five or six horses that have a chance to win the Meadowslands Pace."

NIHLATOR - "He has been wearing a Murphy blind this year. That kept him from seeing Anxious Robby until he pulled up alongside in the stretch. Nihilator showed that he's a great horse by digging in and drawing off by more than a length. He wasn't wearing the Murphy blind Saturday night."

MARAUDER - "He went a real big mile tonight. He really didn't threaten Nihilator when they raced last week, but Marauder hadn't raced for a couple of weeks. With another start under his belt, he was much sharper tonight. Marauder is the horse I was concerned about Saturday night."

PERSHING SQUARE - "He developed a pus pocket in his foot a couple of days ago, but he was perfect tonight. He had a tough trip, but he still won in 1:52.3. Pershing Square is getting better all of the time and I think he is right up there with Nihilator. He is also showing that he can win on the lead or from off the pace. I will be driving Nihilator in the final; I don't know who will drive Pershing Square (John Campbell)."

ANXIOUS ROBBY - "I was worried when he pulled up alongside Nihilator in the stretch, but I wasn't surprised. He is a good horse. Carmine (Abbatello) made a quick move with him, but once Nihilator saw him, my colt began to pull away."

Frankly Speaking

History makes harness racing fun

History is what makes harness racing so much fun. In the years that have gone by we have all seen champions that we think their feats will never be bettered by another horse. There once was a time when 2:10 was the magic mile. That went to the barn of history many a year ago. We all know that a yearling doesn't have to be fashionably bred to be a winner, but the odds are better if he or she is. Without a Sire Stake program we have no way of making big money with our young stock, but of course that's another story. History tells us that through efforts of horsemen like yourselves, they have had to fight for every improvement that has come along in the sport that we make a living at or should I say attempt to make a living at. From the mobil starting gate to the high purses at The Meadowslands, there has been a horseman sitting in the bike driving for the final win. Whenever horsemen have stood together in a common cause their voices have been heard. Although some tracks use the ploy that they will close the doors of the track never to open again, I have yet to see it happen due to horsemen's demands. History also tells us that we need more participation by the public, but what do the tracks do to help themselves out. They all say that the interest in harness racing is fading. I say that's a lot of hog wash! In an attempt at a get rich quick promotion they have made it harder for the bettor to cash a ticket. Maybe the tracks should drop parking and admissions to better their handle. The two dollar bettor could care less what type of horse is on the track. I recently asked the U.S.T.A. why they did not have a booth at the Delaware State Fair and was told that they were only concentrating on the mid west states. Now the way I see it, they should be out promoting harness racing more than anyone, where is a better place then a State Fair to talk about racing. Why can't we the horseman of today learn from history how to make changes? Some sports editors in this and other states do not consider harness racing news worthy enough to grace their papers sports page. Let's try to change that. TV and radio could do more, another problem that needs to be faced. Again let's try to do something about that. We as horsemen can make or break ourselves, by not joining together and facing these problems as a whole united group with a common goal.

I may live in the past, but I'm always looking to the future, someday this sport will come back bigger than it has ever been, but only with the help of the internal workings, you and I.

If you have something to say about our sport please contact me at this paper, and we'll see what we can do. This is an open plea to anyone who reads this column to voice your opinion whether it be pro or con about the harness racing industry. Talk to you next week.

Mark Tozer qualifies for National Junior Olympics

by Keith Burgess

In 1960 and 1961 Bob Smith, a Harrington High School distance runner, won Junior Olympic runs, in Wilmington and Philadelphia, to qualify for the National Junior Olympic Championship, held in Chicago. Smith did not make the trip to Chicago, which in those days would have to be done at the contestant's expense.

Later the format was changed and for a long period of time, corporate sponsors such as Sears and Quaker Oats picked up the tab for all qualifiers in the National finals.

Another change required athletes to do very well in the Delaware meet, the Middle Atlantic meet, held in the Philadelphia area; and the Eastern Regionals, held in the Baltimore or Washington D.C. area. By now the survivors would have finished first or second against all competitors, from something like seven of eight states.

Chris Wetherhold was a close second, at the Middle Atlantic level, in the 14 to 15 age group. Ron Mosley was also a close second at the Eastern Regional Level, narrowly getting a bid to the Nationals. Mosley, a 1.58.2 half-miler, was boxed in at the start and lost the age 16 to 17 test by a step, in 2:01.8. Wetherhold and Mosley competed in years, when only winners went to the nationals.

Mark Tozer, at age 14, may one day be the best distance runner, ever to don the tights in this area. After an excellent freshman season, at Lake Forest High, during which he picked up a school record or two. Mark won the Junior Olympic 5000 meters (3+ miles) in 17.11 in the Delaware meet. In the Middle Atlantic test, in Philadelphia, Tozer was second in 17.34. At Maryland's Harford State College, Mark was second in 17.03, to a Niagara Falls, New York runner, who was two years older and 56 seconds faster.

The days of corporate sponsorship are past. Tozer has wisely decided to forego the trip to Seattle, Washington, which could cost some $850 for the runner and a chaperone, until he won't have to give away two years in age to rivals. Also the next championship could very well be much closer to Delaware.

Mark has a job and has eased off in his training. Yet he's still tough in the Great Wyoming Buffalo Stampede, 850 entries, Mark ran 6 1/4 miles, in 37.24 to finish 35th and received the third award in the 19 and under group. That's a terrific performance on a very humid day, for a 14-year-old, who is already one of Delaware's best prospects.

Harness Horse Sport Quiz

The winner of the sports quiz will be announced next week in this paper. Please send all answers c/o this paper, please include a phone number. Deadline for answers is this Mondays mail. A repeat of the question is: Who drove Adios Butler in his world record of 1:54.3 mile at Lexington; Clint Hodgins, Paige West, or Eddie Cobb? Prizes are-3 stalls for one month at Victoria Stables for that month and 1 yr. subscription to Hub Rail Magazine.

Bunting, Pettyjohn & Robinson capture Fair wins

DELAWARE STATE FAIR. Harold Bunting won the modified feature at the Delaware State Fair on Wednesday night while Eddie Pettyjohn won the Late Model feature, Mel Joseph, Jr. won the Limited Late Model feature, and C.R. Robinson who dazzled the field and the crowd to weave his way to victory lane in the Street Modified feature.

Unofficially, Bunting has probably won more Fair races than any other driver past or present. And for that matter, has reigned more times as The Official Delaware State Modified Champion than any other driver.

Those like Bunting, Pettyjohn and Joseph who have the right set up at the Delaware State Fair oval continue to dominate the fields and the track. They know that down on the low groove is the best spot, because once you get up in the loose stuff, there is more spinning of wheels and sliding than anything else.

Bunting held Bobby Wilkins at bay while Pettyjohn did the same with David Hill. With Joseph, there was no one in the field who could catch Joseph once he got by the front two cars. With Bunting he moved to the inside of the racetrack when Bill Towers went out with a flat tire. When Towers came back on the track following the caution he started in the rear. After three laps, he was back up to fourth, but a broken axle or drive line forced him to the pits to stay.

It was Bunting outdueling Wilkins the rest of the way. Wilkins showed a lot of power and finesse, but on that track there was no way anyone would drop under Bunting or get by him on the outside.

There was one bad pile up on the first turn in the Street Modified event, and Frank Griffith was sent to the hospital. He was examined in the infield by the Harrington Fire Company Ambulance crew and sent by Carlisle Fire Co. to the hospital for treatment. He was released.

The final of the two night of stock car racing will be Wednesday night, when the championship will be decided. Eddie Pettyjohn has a leg up already having driven in two features on Friday night. He has a win and a fifth (modified).

France, Jr. speaker at Fair Motor Sports luncheon

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr. DELAWARE STATE FAIR, HGTN. Bill France, Jr. was the featured guest of honor at the annual Motor Sports Luncheon sponsored by the Fair and Kent County Motor Sales Co. which honors the champion of the Delaware State Fair for the previous year. "It is the worst kept secret ever", said Jack Whitby who originated the award. Whitby was the President of Kent County Motor Sales. He announced at the meeting that his son, John, is the new president.

"we expect that it will hit speeds of 180 to 190 mph at most of the tracks and 202 at Daytona", concluded France.

This type of racing will carry Winston Cup Points and a winner will be eligible for the Winner's Circle of Champions.

Following the conclusion of the luncheon France answered individual questions from members of the press corps relating to the episodes of the "Red Fox" from Dawsonville, GA. France said the two technical bulletins released recently were not intended to hurt Elliott's chances of winning a NASCAR race. "We raised the cars a half inch for the Fords and lowered the other cars. Actually we were just taking back a part of what we had given them", said France. Some skeptics said that the "stock" version of the Ford was 1" lower than the Chevys anyway. The matter of the restrictor on the carburetor was designed to slow the speeds down. Neither have stopped Elliott from winning. France said Elliott was good for the sport...the gate.

Friday Brightbill wins the MODCAR event at Georgetown Speedway.

Elliott wins Pocono Summer 500

"The Red Fox" from the hills of north Georgia...Bill Elliott made it the 8th win of the year and increased his lead in the Grand National points standings by winning at Pocono International Speedway on Sunday.

Elliott had problems most of the day...or at least he seemed to think so...the rest of the field did not quite agree with him...made up a disastrous pit stop to snap the lead from Bodine and Waltrip and go on to win another 500 miler.

Waltrip and Bodine dove low on the racetrack like a dive bomber...but Elliott dove even lower to grab the lead. Once in front, he tore away from the second and third place cars. At one point before the end of the race he was so far ahead that the second and third place cars believed they were on the wrong road...or racetrack.

The circuit moves to Talladega for Sunday's race. The effort to catch Elliott heats up as he continues to win races week after week. In most cases when this happens, everyone...the drivers, owners, and track people as well as the fans can easily get down on a fellow. Elliott continues to get high marks with the press and his peers. Everyone seems to be pulling for him.

Grand National Point Standings through Sunday, July 21st were: Elliott 2486, Waltrip 2375, Bodine 2286, Bonnett 2240, Rudd 2231, Labonte 2223, K. Petty 2197, Gant 2184, B. Allison 2180, Speed 1983.

Butch Harrington scores double win

by Darlene Dill

Although the entries were down at the Piney Neck Speedway due to many drivers travelling to Ohio for a national event, spectators still saw some fine racing.

Stock Light action saw Butch Harrington pick up the win after moving up from 5th starting position in the heat. At the drop of the green flag in the feature it was Harrington, Mitchell, Tawnas running bumper to bumper. While Harrington was able to gain breathing room a good battle developed between Mitchell and Tawnas for second. Walt Tawnas constantly challenged Mitchell but was unsuccessful. At the finish it was Harrington taking first, Mitchell, second and Walt Tawnas, third.

Junior Box Stock was next in line to take the speedway. Chad Marvel won the heat but it was clear to see that Greg Reed was coming up fast from the back of the pack to finish second. In the feature, Reed jumped out front but coming on strong was Andy Hurly who passed Reed to take first. Hurly led the remainder of the race leaving Greg Reed to settle for second, Chad Marvel finished third.

The powerful Limited Modifieds were next on the grid. Kart #263 was out front and gone on the start with Butch Harrington in second followed by Kevin Darling in third. About midway, Kart #263 struck a lap kart allowing Harrington and Darling to move into the #1 & #2 slots. Kart #263 recovered and came back for a second place finish behind Harrington. However, a protest was filed at the close of the race and Kart #263 was found illegal and disqualified. Therefore, the finishing order was Harrington, 1st, Darling 2nd, and Kenny Marvel, 3rd.

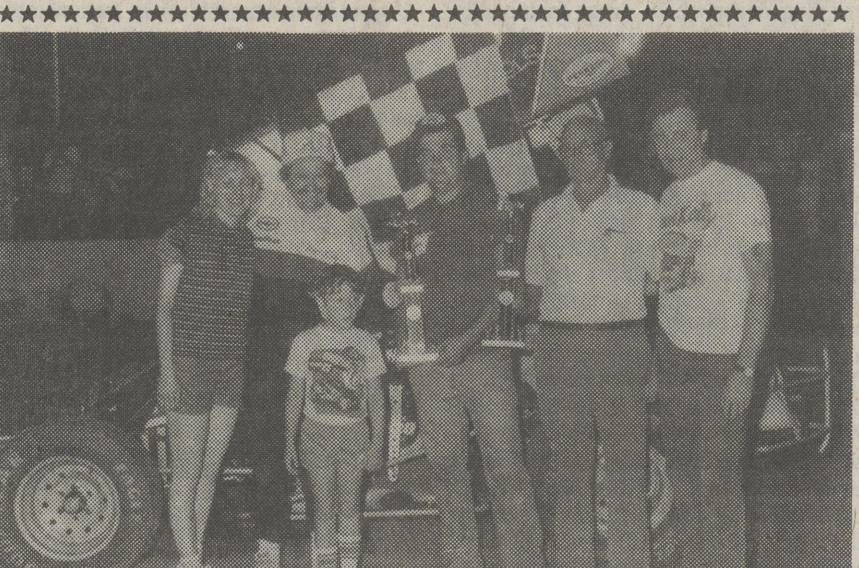

Sr. Box Stock Heavy saw Donald Lingo outrun Melvin Miller. Following Lingo and Miller at the checkered flag was Allan Anderson.

Last, but not least was the Stock Yamaha class. With only three entries, Cliff Coverdale pulled a solo victory as both Larry Bunting and C.R. Phillips dropped out because of engine trouble.

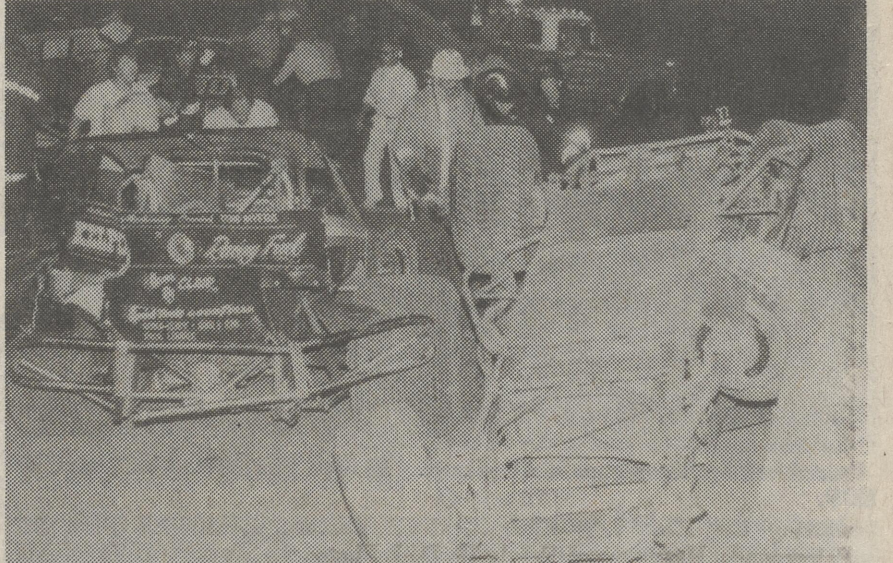

Next week will be the continuation of the Delaware WKA Dirt Series.

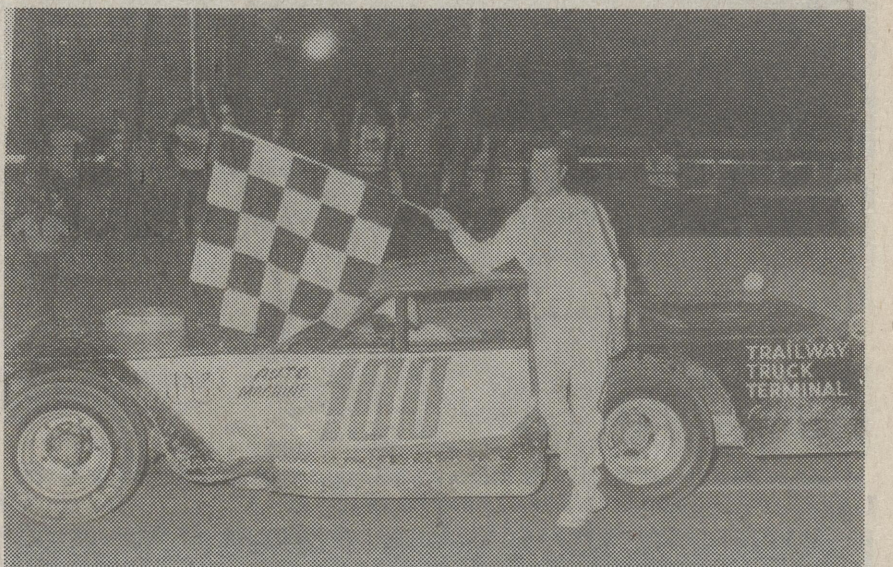

Bill Elliott accepts roses, trophy and congratulations at Pocono win on Sunday.

How to break a yearling to harness

by Mike Harker

The main problem that most people have with breaking yearlings to harness is teaching too much too soon. Always remember that you are dealing with an animal that has no idea what you are asking it to learn. Take your time and don't get in a hurry. Your yearling will break a lot easier and learn a lot faster if you take the time to do the job right.

Now assuming that your yearling has been broken to the halter and knows how to lead, let's teach him what the harness is all about. By following these simple steps, you and your horse will have a better understanding of the breaking process.

Step #1, the bridle: Putting a bridle on a young horse for the first time can be very upsetting to the yearling and dangerous to you. The yearling should not be standing on crossties, but rather on a lead shank snapped in the bottom ring of the halter only. I prefer to use a blind bridle at first and after my horse has learned that nothing will hurt him, I will go to an open bridle. The best bit to use is a leathered covered snaffle with a built in chin strap, called a frisco June, but if you do not have one, any five-inch snaffle will do. Now let's put the bridle on your yearling in a safe and non-frightening way. First take the lead shank and loosely hold it in your left hand, be careful not to wrap it around your hand! Take the bridle and unbuckle the left hand side of the bit from the bridle. This way the bridle can be slipped over the yearling's ear without having to upset him by grabbing and bending his ears. After doing this, simply slip the bit into his mouth and buckle it back to the bridle.

Step #2, putting the harness on: Don't walk up to the yearling with a harness in your hand and expect him to be calm. It just doesn't work that way. Try to remember that a horse's way of defending himself is by flight and kicking, and you certainly do not want to be kicked. Now take the harness that you have and remove the driving lines. We do not want any loose lines dangling to upset your colt! Before you put the harness on his back let him smell it and look it over. Remember, he still has the bridle on and can't see behind him. Gently rub the harness on his body and let him know that it will not hurt him. Slip it gently over his back and fasten the girth loosely. Don't use fast movements or be rough with him.

Del-State's Kappel signed as NFL agent

DOVER. Former Delaware State football standout Franz Kappel signed a free agent contract with the New England Patriots of the National Football League Friday and is expected to report to their training camp at Bryant College in Smithfield, Rhode Island on Saturday.

For Hornet fans the signing of the four-time all Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference offensive tackle conjures up the possibility of a reunion of sorts between Kappel and the principal recipient of his blocking talents at Delaware State, Gene Lake. Lake reported to the Washington Redskins training camp on Thursday, also as a free agent, and the pair could meet in a controlled scrimmage between the Redskins and the Patriots slated for July 27.

Kappel, a New Castle, Delaware native, started 43 consecutive games over four years for the Hornets and last year was selected to a number of All-America squads as the bulwark of a Delaware State rushing attack that was the best in the nation.

First practice for the 6'3", 230 lb. Kappel is Saturday, with the Patriot veterans scheduled to report to camp on Friday, July 26.

The Patriots (and all other NFL clubs) must reduce their roster to 60 on August 20, 50 one week later and finally to 45 on September 2. Their pre-season schedule opens August 10 against the New Orleans Saints and regular season on September 8 against Green Bay, both in Foxboro, MASS.

Do You Remember?

by Dorothy Graham

Smile! This letter is sent to you, just YOU! Best wishes too, May all your hours and all your days be happy in countless ways.

Do you remember when mothers took their children for a carriage walk? Well honey, what I mean is, the baby was in the carriage and the mother pushed the carriage and if there were two or more children the older was walking along side holding on to the carriage, sometimes if they were only a year apart, both were in the carriage or yes, if they were twins for instance "The Stauffer Twins, The Harding Twins, The Horn Twins, The Needle Twins". Twins in Harrington and vicinity were always a treat for the town. It was nice to see two adorable babies at once. The carriages were usually made of reed with movable hoods. There were some English prams, tho they were few and far between. Then there were some canvas ones that folded up; but they too, were not plentiful around here when my children were infants.

You could always see two or more on parade every day that weather permitted. Sometimes Hazel Longrell and I along with Johnny and Lois (Hazels & Enos Langrells children) and George & my children; George Jr., Gracie, Penny & Genie would chance a summer shower or winter snow flurries to make a trek to see Mim & Joe Kirkby and their children; Rosalie, Helena & George at Reese Ave. From one end of Town to the other. As we walked we chatted, laughed, and sometimes broke out in a song to keep the children amused. As we pushed thru town we stopped along the way to say a few words to other mothers and their children; Kathryn Simpson Derrickson with Shirley & Jimmy, Pauline Barlow, Evelyn K. Harrington, and Elizabeth Breeding to name a few. Elizabeth was Mim (Mariam Sibitzky) sister. Both Joe Kirkby & Willard Breeding worked with Mr. Sibitzky's Bakery in town. Joe's brother was George Kirkby of Houston, an antique dealer. Remember him?

It was nice exchanging greetings to the nice folk of Harrington as they sat on their porches or worked in their garden or tended their lawns & flowers. Some that come to mind are Mrs. Ryan, ("Slim" Ryans mother) Mrs. Satterfield (John & Elizabeths mother) Mr. "Willie" Masten, Mrs. Eva Morris, Mrs. Georgia Jacobs, Mrs. Irene Welch, Mrs. Hattie Smith (she had the most gorgeous Boston fern I've ever seen.). Chrissie & Lewis Clymer (they were our landlords at one time) Mr. & Mrs. Jerread parents of Linford, Charles & Anna & Mrs. Mabel Bailey. Everyone here and many-many more were so kind in their greetings to us and the children. Those that had children often told us of their children and how things had changed since they were bringing their children up. What would they think of the throw away diapers? We and they had Birdseye & Flannel diapers. And honey, how about all that sterilization of bottles and nipples (if you didn't breast feed) now its throw away everything; wipes, kleenex, etc. Those Birdseye & flannel diapers had to be washed, rinsed, boiled and rinsed again and remember, no automatic washers or dryers. Most of us started on the wash board, (a wooden tin or glass ridged contraption that really took knuckle and elbow energy. Then how about having to cook all your own baby food or feed them from the table. Truly hard on the hands and fingernails, also the back. But you know it was a pretty sight to see all those white diapers fluttering in the breeze, not so nice when they took on all designs as they froze on the line.

Do you remember when a doctor came to your home when you or your family was ill, when the Doctor & L.P.N. or Midwife delivered the baby at home. Some Doctors remembered for their great aid, (they were too), our town and vicinity: Dr. Terrance G. Riley, Dr. W.T. Chipman, Dr. H. Smith.

Do you remember Mrs. Sadie Simpson, she tended me twice, she was a sweetie too. And could she cook, my children just loved her dried beef gravy, apple butter and hot chocolate, they ate the greens but really didn't go for them, until they were older, but Mrs. Simpson had a winning way with children. She and Jim had fine children: Merle, Peggy Thelma, Carrol and Lex. Mrs. Anna Wyatt was with me for one, she could bake a delicious and beautiful pie. Mrs. Simpson made the best Fruit Cake I ever ate. Hope the recipe is still around. My mother tended me with one.

Speaking of washing reminds me of Debbie McNatt, she was very young and was around to her Aunt Effie's; several other children were in Effie's living room but Debbie was watching Aunt Effie wash. Well honey, when Effie began to run the clothes thru the wringer, Debbie jumped up and down and said, "Come quick kids, come quick, Aunt Effie's doing her washing and ironing all the same time." And we thought that electric wringer type washer was the cats meow. Who ever dreamed of anything nicer then? Can there be much improvement in our automatic washer and dryers, just doesn't seem possible, but I'm remembering when that wooden tub that had a handle to push back and forth was the ultimate.

Just the other day, a young girl bought a soda in a glass bottle, she looked at it and said, "How do I open this?" The clerk said with the bottle opener; she said, "Well, how do I use this thing?" See, what I mean?

Oh, times have changed since we were young, long, long ago. It's nice remembering but also it's nice appreciating the new things we have lived to see. No more treks out to the little house with the half moon, tho when I was growing up it was a place my cousins Delma, Violet and I used to tell our secrets to each other. And look longingly at Sears. Ha-Ha! You know what I mean? No more frozen hands with our dryers. No more whooping cough, few meals, few chicken pox, no more polio, due to the great strides in medicine.

I'm going to gather my thoughts and remember the people of Harrington and vicinity that I've known. See if I miss any. Remind me if I do.

Several of you have asked for our daughter Gracie and her husband Bob Faulkner. Bob has a fatal disease ALS and only has a short time to live. He is unable to walk, among other things, too touching to even write about. Their address is Mr. & Mrs. Robert L. Faulkner, 625 Dorothy Jo Circle, Uvalde, Texas 78801. If you are in that vicinity drop around to see them.

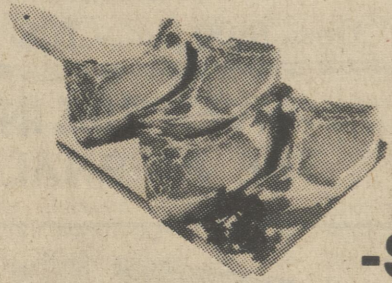

Thanks so much for your kind responses, count the mistakes as tokens of love, appreciate every one. Be kind to each other.

Sorry I missed last week but I had no one to deliver it to The Harrington Journal. Maybe Mr. Farrow would come and get it. Troy was at a camp. Daughters working and didn't like bothering neighbors for something that isn't necessary. They are so kind to me, don't want to impose on them. Love and Prayers. Faith.
