by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

DOVER - Kent County Levy Court Commissioners wasted little time on Tuesday in rejecting a bid by Tunnell Companies L.P. of Millsboro, DE to have the farmland known as the Jester Gray lands adjacent to Barratt's Chapel Cemetery zoned from Agricultural Conservation (A/C) to zoning for a mobile home park.

The Commissioners voted 5-2 against the request.

Tunnell Companies, L.P. of Millsboro is a family-owned land investment and management company. Robert Tunnell Sr. and Robert (Rob) Tunnell Jr. were the ones who made the presentation to the Kent County Planning and Zoning Commission and the Kent County Levy Court.

The Tunnells have an outstanding record for developing mobile home-recreation oriented parks in Sussex County. Some citizens who showed for the Tuesday night meeting complained that the density caused by the proposed park would create problems with the already plagued sewer treatment plant at near Thompsonville which is near the proposed development of Riverbend.

Some of the successful developments in Sussex County are Pot Nets, Pot Nets North, Indian Landing, Indian Landing North, and Fishermen's Park. All lots are rentals, but you own your own home...is their concept. Another positive point about their developments is that even though they are mobile home parks, they are clean, sophisticated, recreational for all ages, and are properly managed with top security.

This is their reputation.

The arguments used against the proposed development were mostly in the vein of using mobile home housing on valuable farmland, a significant noise factor caused by low flying aircraft at Dover Air Force Base... which would disturb residents of the proposed development, and arguments by ecologist and other environmentalist regarding the destruction of trees...some of which were estimated to be over 300 years old as well as possible loss of unique wildlife.

In both the Planning and Zoning and the meeting with the Levy Court, the Air Base came well fortified which presented a huge lobby against the proposal which was overwhelming to both the Commissioners and others in attendance. As a result, other agencies or groups present "tagged along" with their theories against the development.

The safety theory and the "significant noise disturbance" were factors presented by the Air Base as basically the reasons for rejecting the zoning request.

With the Air Force opposing the plan, the Tunnells tried valiantly to ward off the decision by the Commissioners which would in effect invoke the "inverse condemnation", which simply means that it would work a condemnation of the land without compensation". By rejecting the land for a housing project, which appears to be the highest and best use, it did in fact curtail the potential for gain to the landowners. There would be no way the landowners might sell the land for farmland and get the price which the developers had offered.

The farmland owners are restricted by the action of the Levy Court Commissioners in that the land can only be sold for anything but a development.

Previous to the Tunnells appearing on the scene, the land had been on the market for over 3 years. The offer by the Tunnells was for $1.125 million. As Robert Tunnell Sr. indicated the land now might be worth $300,000 (if that).

The problem of auto traffic congestion was another factor which was considered in the decision. Robert Tunnell Jr. explained that "what we proposed

Governor's Day highlights State Fair

by William T. Ficks

The combined Governor's Day, Senior Citizen's Day and Hardee's Day held Thursday at the Delaware State Fair provided fun and entertainment for all members of the family, both young and old.

The Joseph A. Ferko String Band, of Philadelphia, winner of 18 first-place awards in Philadelphia's world-famous New Year's Day Mummies Parade, entertained the older set with rousing renditions of old-time favorites.

Hardee's distributed free tickets to the string band grandstand show and complimentary coupons enabling youngsters to go on as many rides as they liked for $6.

Senior citizens were treated to free admission to the fair. Those over 65 were eligible to register for free tickets to the grandstand show.

Gov. Michael N. Castle, who put in an 11-hour day at the fair, proved one thing — a politician has to be a good sport. After coming up a loser in both the nail-driving and egg toss contests, and tying for last place in the "Whac-a-Mole" midway game, the smiling, never-say-die governor entered the winners circle when he propelled a rubber frog onto a lily pad in the "Frog-Bog" game.

Castle was also on hand at the ceremony preceding the grandstand show to introduce state officials and present awards to the oldest man and woman attending the fair.

Walking off with these awards were 89-year-old Edith H. White of Salisbury, Md., and Paris C. Kirby, 98, of Milford.

"I thank the good Lord for letting me live this long," said Kirby.

Winning a silver cup for the longest marriage were George and Frances Jackson, of Hartly, who said "I do" 63 years ago.

"It's not easy," replied Frances Jackson when Castle asked her the secret for staying married 63 years.

Not one to disagree with his wife after 63 years, George Jackson assented, "It's hard, boy, it's hard."

The Ferko String Band took over the stage just before 9 p.m. and showed why they have been Mummies Parade favorites since 1922. In addition to the 16 first-place awards, they have garnered 16 seconds and 15 thirds.

The group opened with "Hello, Hello, Hello," and went on to many toe-tapping and sing-along favorites such as "Opus One," "Carolina in the Morning," "Four Leaf Clover" and "Baby Face."

The traditional Homemade Ice Cream Making Contest, held in mid-afternoon, saw Pat Strahle and Joan Smith of Milford take the first-place award in the plain flavor division, and George and Doris Payne of Wilmington take first-place honors in the fruit flavor division.

Intermittent showers which started about 6 p.m. didn't appreciably diminish the crowd, which is always large on Governor's Day, a traditional highlight of the nine-day state fair.

Although the rain came down rather hard just as the Ferko String Band went on stage, the grandstand held a near-capacity audience.

A special time for Delaware

by Governor Michael N. Castle

There is a special event which occurs each summer in Delaware.

Located in "The Hub of Delaware," the State Fair combines everything that is special about Delaware into a whirlwind of fun and excitement for young and old alike.

Each July the population of Harrington swells with the sounds and smells of hundreds and thousands of visitors — people and animals.

Farm tractors and business displays fill the grounds and salesmen hawk products near and dear to Delaware. Cows are milked, pigs are washed and

LF School Board meets Tuesday and Thursday

The Lake Forest School Board met Tuesday and Thursday to discuss the school's curriculum and the use of state-licensed vehicles by school officials.

Tuesday's meeting dealt with the district Superintendent Gerald S. Lysik's use of a school-owned pickup truck to travel on personal business in January to Syracuse, N.Y.

Lysik, who received a doctorate from Syracuse University this year, declined to comment on the allegation Tuesday night.

Lysik did say that the board had permitted him use of a district station wagon for school business and travel to and from his home. The benefit was not spelled out in his contract.

Board President Roberta W. O'Neal was unaware that the district owned a pickup truck, but the board allowed Lysik's regular use of the station wagon. State Auditor Dennis E. Greenhouse was made aware of the situation through a tipster who made a call to the state Fraud and Abuse Hotline.

On Saturday, Lysik confirmed that he did drive a school pickup truck to Syracuse in January, but also said that there was nothing wrong with his use of the truck. He said that he did not ask the board about the pickup because he did not think it was necessary. He said that he did not take the station wagon to Syracuse because the weather was bad and the car was not in good repair. He did not use his own car because he did not want to leave his family without a car. Lysik said that he paid for all the expenses of the trip, including gasoline.

In commenting on any studies made regarding how the academic level can be improved in the school district, Earl Roberts, a board member, said that he feels teachers should write the curriculum.

I must compliment the exhibitors, the amusement owners, the volunteers, the fair committee -- everyone involved -- on another successful State Fair. While I was there, so many people commented on what a good time they were having.

A tremendous amount of work is spent planning and executing the State Fair. The success of this year's fair is a fitting tribute to the efforts of hundreds of volunteers who are already beginning the planning for the next year's events.

It may only be the week after the 1985 State Fair, but I'm already looking forward to next year's fair. If you missed the activities this year, make sure you save a day next July to experience the Delaware State Fair in Harrington.

Underneath the dust, the noise, and the smells, there is an excitement, a glow about the fair and its people that draws thousands to the heartland of Delaware each summer.

Senator Biden holds a Farmer's Conference

by Victoria Fleka

U.S. Senator Joseph Biden held a breakfast conference with 75 Delaware farmers on July 24 in the Smith Family Museum, which is located on the Harrington Fairgrounds.

Senator Biden said that farmers should get subsidies, but they should only aid competent farmers to help keep them in business.

Senator Biden said that many of the farmers wanted a new farm bill passed and they want it passed as soon as possible. If the bill is passed soon, farmers will know what to expect next farming season.

Senator Biden feels that a drastic reduction of the budget would help the farmers.

"The first thing I would do to help the farmer is reduce the federal budget. I think a freeze should be put on federal spending," said Senator Biden.

During a press conference that followed the farmers conference, Senator Biden talked of such important issues as terrorism, the crime bill, the auto industry, and the Matzenly-Biden Bill.

Senator Biden said that the U.S. is not doing enough to stop terrorism. He feels that terrorism can be greatly diminished if America could get "all the civilized nations of the world to act in unison to ostracize any nation that acts in a hostile way."

On the issue of the crime bill, which was recently passed and is now a law, Senator Biden said that he "was glad to see it passed."

"It allows the law to be much tougher on drug pushers and users," he said.

The Senator also said that he thinks the American auto industry is in "relatively good shape."

"If the economy picks up the auto industry should be in even better shape," said Senator Biden.

Recently, Senator Biden co-sponsored the Matzenly-Biden Bill, which was not passed. Biden said that he will continue to try to pass the bill and if the bill is passed it will be in effect for two years and then must be voted back into effect after the two years is up.

With the passing of this bill, the President could not veto a whole bill -- just the part or parts he disagrees with.

is an "English T" plus a traffic light which would completely alleviate the possible problem brought about by more traffic." This would cost approximately $500,000. When the argument was used that to eliminate the possible traffic congestion at the entrance to Riverbend on U.S. 118 it would need something like a thoroughfare, Tunnell Jr. said "...I don't think the State of Delaware would go to the unnecessary extremes of constructing something as elaborate as this to alleviate beach traffic 10 or 12 times a year...in the summer".

The Riverbend development calls for the developing of 252 acres with 1150 mobile homes which would be developed over a period of years. The plans call for 4.5 mobile homes per acre.

The development calls for 2 lakes, 6 tennis courts, 2 swimming pools, a boat ramp and docks as well as 62 acres devoted to recreation.

The Tunnells indicated that they would not disturb the Barratt House located on the property. They offered to donate it to a historical preservation group.

Letters had been sent to people in Frederica and High Point and soliciting opinions of people who lived in the area. There was not that much opposition according to the speakers at the hearing, from that source.

The Air Force presented their case to be one of the 2nd largest industry in the State with one of the heaviest payrolls for military, civilian retired personnel and dependents. A development like this near the flight pattern could cause the base to be moved. "Had it not been for the position taken by the Air Force, I feel the Levy Court would have approved it", said Rob Tunnell.

The Tunnells hired consultants from Iowa because of their reputation and for their independence of opinion in the matter. After many, many thousands of dollars spent for this kind of research, Robert Tunnell Sr. said "...there is a real need for a development like Riverbend in Kent County. Ask any of these mobile home parks around and see if you can find any vacancies. At High Point which is in or near one of the flight patterns, there is a waiting list", said Tunnell. High Point is located closer than Riverbend would be.

If in the final analysis it comes down to whether or not you are bothered by low flying noisy aircraft in approving or disapproving the project...it is possible that those who would flock to this very attractive development if it were approved would be military personnel.

Dig deep for Heritage Day

The Heritage Day Committee is asking all merchants and interested persons who have not donated to the Heritage Day Fund to please dig deep and help make it a day to remember. We have many new surprises for this year. However, it takes money to promote and carry out these ideas. There are 30 some craftspersons in addition to a full-sized flea market. People are needed to help monitor the setting-up of the flea market. If you can help, see Gene Price at the Senior Center (398-4224).

We also need hostesses with colonial type costumes to hostess open houses. If you can help in this area, call Barbara Page at 398-8684. Help is needed in many areas, so please donate 2 or 3 hours of your time and make the day a community affair. There will be antique cars as well as a group re-enacting the Civil War. But don't forget it takes help as well as money. The next meeting is August 12 at 7:30 at the Senior Center. Please come and help.

Hawaiian shaved ice hit at Fair

by Cathy Hickman

Have you ever wanted a giant snow cone with plenty of flavor but have never been able to find one? When Richard Heyd, who was born and raised in Hawaii, first came to the United States, he attempted to find a snow cone like the famous Hawaiian Kimo Shaved Ice Cones, but was unsuccessful. The Shaved Ice Cones are really large snow cones, but the ice is finely shaven and you are able to get up to three flavors. Richard and his wife, Karen, decided to bring a shaved ice booth to the fair last year. He ordered a machine from Japan that is specifically used for shaving the ice finely and opened up his booth, Kimo's Hawaiian Shaved Ice. "The flavor is held in by the finely shaven ice, and their much larger than regular snow cones," stated Heyd. Karen Heyd said that the name usually attracts people and then they keep coming back. The Heyd's felt that they were much busier this year than last. They also plan on continuing to attend the fair with their booth. The Heyd's are both Woodbridge school teachers, and they reside in Bridgeville, Delaware.

Local girls attend Governor's School for Excellence

by Cathy Hickman

Becky Williams and Teresa Wood recently attended the Governor's School for Excellence at the University of Delaware from July 14-20. Before being accepted the girls had to obtain two teachers' recommendations, a general letter of recommendation from a member of the community and write a 500 word essay on a topic selected by the Governor's School Committee. Students also had to be entering the eleventh grade the next fall. All expenses for room, board, tuition and meals was provided by the State of Delaware. The girls needed only transportation to the University and money for personal expenses. One hundred and nine academically and artistically talented students from Delaware high schools attended the conference. The students attended lectures, social activities, and conferences. They also met Governor Mike Castle.

The University of Delaware's Farm and Home Field Day, August 14 at the Georgetown substation will have a strong safety emphasis this year. According to extension safety specialist Ron Jester, experts will be on hand throughout the day to demonstrate new safety equipment and instruct visitors on many aspects of farm and home safety. Field day will start at 8:30 a.m. and end at 8 p.m. As in the past, visitors can tour corn, soybean and vegetable plots at the research farm, located on Route 9 just west of Georgetown. They can also participate in consumer and safety programs. A fried chicken lunch will be served at noon by members of the Delaware Poultry Improvement Association and Sussex County 4-H leaders. (Lunch tickets will cost $3.25 for adults and $2.50 for children under 12.) And from 5 p.m. to 6 p.m. there will be a roast pork supper co-sponsored by the Delaware Fork Producers and the Delaware Vegetable Growers associations. (Supper will cost $4.50 for adults, $3.50 for children.) For more information call (302) 451-1125.

Miss Teen of America sponsors special event for the March of Dimes

Miss Teen of America contestants from all over Delaware showed their support for the March of Dimes by sponsoring a Scavenger Hunt fund raising event. Donations collected by Miss Teen of America participants totalled $530,000 and will go to the March of Dimes to help in the fight against birth defects. The Miss Teen of America Pageant is a scholarship and recognition program for outstanding young women ages 14-18. The program is not a "beauty contest". The winner of this year's Pageant, held July 19-21 at the Sheraton-Newark, was Natalie Nye of Milford. First runner-up and winner of the Scavenger Hunt was Donna Phillips of Wilmington.

Roth calls for death penalty for spies

"The rising problem with espionage in this country must be death firmly, but not hysterically," Senator William V. Roth Jr., R-Del., said July 24 in reference to legislation he introduced to provide for a death penalty during peacetime and a mandatory minimum 20-year sentence for conviction for espionage. The Roth bill would make the death penalty an option in the sentencing of persons convicted of releasing information concerning defense strategy and capabilities, nuclear weapons, military spacecraft, satellite and communication technology, and intelligence and counterintelligence operations. "In addition to a death penalty," Roth said, "my legislation mandates at the very minimum a sentence for espionage conviction is a 20 year prison mandatory sentence, with no chance for probation or parole. I would hope that in most cases the courts will impose a more severe sentence."

State Fair ends without breaking attendance record

by Victoria G. Ficks
Although the 1985 Delaware State Fair was not record-breaking, it was one of the best in years. According to W. Gary Simpson, fair manager, this year's attendance figures did not break the record-setting 1983 fair. The fair's nine-day run brought in 192,351 thousand visitors. "We were heading toward a record-breaking year until it rained on Thursday. Thursday is usually the biggest day of the year, but the tornado watch probably kept some people away," said Simpson. Many of the 24,000 people who attended the fair Saturday enjoyed a country-and-western concert, featuring singer George Jones. Jones brought in the largest crowd to attend a grandstand performance this year. Ronnie Milsap, threetime winner of the "Male Vocalist of the Year" award, brought in the second largest crowd. Simpson thought the fair went very well. "It was a very successful fair in terms of profitability and overall cooperation between fair employees and visitors. I am very pleased with the way things went," said Simpson.

Press Freedom Day

August 4, 1985, marks the 250th anniversary of the basic free-press decision in the case of the Governor of New York against John Peter Zenger, publisher of a weekly journal, in which Zenger was exonerated from a charge of libel. This year, August 4 has been designated Press Freedom Day in a resolution of the Congress of the United States. This is in keeping with the principle that the public press should be able to work free of government or any other form of censorship. The commitment was written into our nation's Bill of Rights. Press freedom was looked at then, and now, as "one of the great bulwarks of liberty."

Days of Our Years

The local spotting station of the Ground Observers Corps spotted 186 airplanes last week in 66 hours of spotting.

Mrs. Alice Thompson and Wayne Collison are on the sick list. There are two young people from Houston Church School who are going to attend the conference Camp Pe-Co-Meth. They are Sara Lee Webb and Elisa Capehart.

Two students from Harrington were among the 156 members of the graduating class of Goldey Beacom School of Business at the mid-year graduation exercises held two weeks ago. They are: Pat Holloway Keeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T.B. Holloway, and N. Leon Minner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Minner.

It's back to work for Movie Center employees. Closed for five days during the fair, everyone is keyed-up for the grand re-opening of one of Delaware and Maryland's favorite theatres.

William Albert Hochstedler, 71, husband of Elizabeth Hochstedler, died Wednesday, July 20, at his home near Owens Station. He was a farmer. He was a member of the Brethren Church of Farmington.

Thirteen young people were admitted to the membership of the Felton Methodist Church on Sunday morning, July 24. Those admitted were: Gene Carlisle, Marie Carlisle, Doris Gruwell, Alan Haldeman, Dorsey Hammond, Dale Hammond, Marlene Hughes, Johnny Kates, Nancy Ludlow, Elmer O'Day Jr., Terry Turner, Billy Wood and Bobby Wood. These boys and girls had completed a two month's period of instruction by Rev. Carl Henn before being admitted into the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Trotta and little son Michael of Harrington and J. C. Fountain spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Messick.

For the first time in its long history, the Delaware State Fair will present two complete grandstand shows on the final night this Saturday. Star attraction of the 90-minute grandstand show on Saturday night will be the Righteous Brothers, stars of the television program, Shindig. In the relatively short period of two years, these two young fellows have zoomed right to the top of the entertainment field.

Recent guest of Mrs. Kathleen Montague was her daughter, Mrs. William Davies of Savannah, GA., who is en route to California.

The past week or so has been quite eventful for Mr. and Mrs. George Graham Sr. on July 17, Mr. Graham celebrated his birthday and was honored by his co-workers at a luncheon at the Hub Restaurant. On the 19th their daughter, Gene, now Mrs. Lester Hobbs, made them the proud grandparents of a new baby boy, named Leland Lester, Jr. Birthdays just seem to be happening there because they received word that on July 22 they became grandparents again when their son, Mr. and Mrs. George Graham Jr. became the proud parents of a baby girl, Tonni Marie, in San Jose, Calif. To finish the week out with birthdays, Mrs. Graham celebrated her birthday on July 25. Last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Graham were honored at a dinner at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Robert Faulkner in Camden.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brode and family spent Sunday in Washington D.C. and Arlington, Va.

Miss Christine Taylor, presently of Wahington D.C. spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Paul Outten visited the World's Fair at New York.

The weather held for the 56th fair, but the crowds of previous years failed to materialize as slightly over 140,000 persons attended the nine day annual event that concluded here Saturday night.

Jean (Mrs. J. Bernard) Coffman, of Greenwood, has been recently appointed senior secretary of the Greenwood school, after 16 years within the district.

Delaware Governor Sherman W. Tribbitt crowns Miss Connie Swierczewski, 18, of Smyrna, a member of the Chestnut Grove 4H Club and a sophomore majoring in animal science, Dairy Princess at the Delaware State Fair. Other local contestants in the selection for a princess were Teresa Martin of Viola and Terri L. Draper of Harrington.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Gallo, Mr. and Mrs. William Veale and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Cannon had dinner in Rehoboth Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert O'Bier and daughters gave a dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. William Veale who recently returned from overseas. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. James Cannon and children, Robin and Kim, and Mr. and Mrs. James Jopp.

The needlework entries of the fair were dominated by two area residents. Mrs. Elwood Jester of near Harrington took first or second places in nearly 50 classes of that department, receiving recognition in the form of an award for her work. In the children's department of needlework, Deborah Wyatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wyatt of Harrington, won the Nellie Hughes award for capturing over 16 ribbons in the department.

Gab Fest

Well, we finally coped with our frustrations successfully, even though they extended over into this week. It always seems that no matter what happens around here it gets complicated before it gets solved. It reminds me of the tale of the horseshoe nail... "For want of a nail the shoe was lost, for want of a shoe the horse lost, for want of a horse the rider was lost" and so on, and "all for the want of a horseshoe nail."

It all started with one little leak in the electric pump line. We could see the leak and so could our good plumber. So he fixed it. Fine. But the electric pump kept right on running, indicating something was still wrong. This is all Greek to me, but I think the air bag had a rip in it. Anyhow, it was all fixed. Somehow the water system had backed up into the hot water system. This is another world to me. I'm a much better pie-baker than a plumber. The upshot of it all was that our old fifteen year old water heater had given up trying, and was leaking on the kitchen floor from somewhere in its innards. No electrician could come before Monday. Our faithful plumber had planned to take his family to a Family Reunion for the weekend and this meant a great deal to them. We are caring folk, and we did not want them to miss this fellowship. So, we girded our loins so to speak. We packed the leak with thick towels and we mopped and squeezed for a few days. On Monday the work forces moved in and we are now basking in plenty of hot water and no leaks anywhere.

A few things were on the plus side as the days went by. My six month's medical checkup came out fine and blood pressure and weight were satisfactory.

Also, after not being able to stand looking at my hair in the mirror, I emptied the old sugar bowl so to speak and took off for Brenda's Hair Fashions and came out looking several years younger (I think).

When I came home my yard chairs were filled with lovely company awaiting my return. My cousins from Delmar and their son and family with Local teen to visit France

Miss Jenifer Anstine of Williamsville, Delaware has been selected as one of the 45 New Jersey and Delaware participants in the Summer Discovery Program sponsored by Nacel Cultural Exchanges. As a participant in this program, Jenifer will spend four weeks, from July 25 to August 23 living with a French family to experience first hand the French language and culture.

Nacel Cultural Exchanges is a national non-profit organization specializing in four week summer homestay visits between the United States and Europe (France, Spain, and Germany).

Camels can go without drinking for as much as eight weeks in cool weather. After such abstinence, they can consume as much as a hundred quarts in ten minutes.

their twin sons from Florida were a joy and we caught up on all the family news. Then we all enjoyed dinner together at The Town and Country.

On Sunday we had a lovely afternoon with our friends at Graham A.M.E. Church. The service was beautiful and the dinner following also. I do not think I have ever seen a more beautiful table filled with beautiful food. I understand my friend, Catherine Matthews was the arranger. She is so talented and has such a gift for decor.

During this time, the water pump on our old beat-up Chrysler decided to leak. We just managed to get home from church to enjoy a visit with our Ron and Peggy who were down from Newark. And they helped us solve another problem. Both granddaughters were here and very unhappy because they wanted transportation to Seaford. So, Ron piled us all in his car and we visited while doing this.

At this point, I'm like the story that Johnny Carson likes to tell about the hippopotamus in the hot, humid jungle. I feel like saying, "I just can't believe it's Tuesday!"

arises (a fall, chest pains, etc.), the individual need only press a button on the device, and this signals the telephone to dial Kent General Hospital. The Lifeline telephone at the hospital is manned 24 hours a day. The Lifeline operator in turn calls the appropriate responders. Statewide, the Med-Alert system is available. This system is similar to the Lifeline system. The individual wears a Med-Alert pendant, squeezes it in case of emergency, and the pendant signals the telephone to call a central monitoring station. A person manning the central monitoring station then makes the appropriate calls. Additional services are also available through the Med-Alert system. As stated earlier, there will be a program on the Lifeline System at 1 p.m. on August 6th. For additional information on the Med-Alert system, please call the center.

That is it for this week, as always, if you have a problem, question, or comment please call the center at 398-4224, we are here to help! See you next week.

Members of Boy Scout Troop 141, Felton, and members of Cub Scout Pack 200, Andrews Lake, joined together for a family fun of tubing, (inner rubber tube) on the Brandywine. The group of 23, including members and families left Friday eve from Felton and were camped at Walter S. Carpenter State Park. The group of sports departed from the Brandywine Museum and floated for 3 hours reaching their destination to Thompson's bridge. After the rain on Friday evening gave them all a much more favorable current, as the same tubing under condition not so favorable would normally take nearly 6 hours of tubing. Everyone had a very good time.

A note of cheer to Rawlins Minner of Wilmington, Delaware, who fell at church on a waxed floor and broke his collar bone and 2 ribs. He was hospitalized for a few days, but is now home. May everything good come your way in the future.

Well, it's hard to believe that August is already here! August calendar at the Center has a varied schedule. On Thursday (1) we are planning another Penny Party in the afternoon. Last month's party was very successful and a lot of fun. Anyone interested in participating should bring in a couple of white elephant type items and 1 pocket full of change. The bids are all on change. On Friday (2nd) we will be having games of Charades in the afternoon. All afternoon programs start at 1 p.m.

Now on Monday (5th) we will be having Bible Study in the morning with Rev. Watson of the Baptist Church in Harrington and in the afternoon we will be having a violin recital with the Hofstetter boys from Greenwood. Their mother, Bonnie, is the Visiting Nurse for our area. Many of you know her as the nurse who takes the Blood Pressures at the Center each month. The boys were scheduled last month but were unable to be here, so they've rescheduled for this date. Please try to be here for this wonderful musical program by these young boys. On Tuesday (6th) the Jolly Timers Band will be practicing in the morning and in the afternoon we will have a speaker from Kent General Hospital about the LIFELINE program. We will have an elaboration of this program later in this article as our tip for the week. On Wednesday (7th) we will have the Senior Sounds Chorus practicing in the morning. I have heard that they have many surprises in store for their performance at Heritage Day (September 21st). In the afternoon there will be a speaker here to discuss Medicare Supplement Insurances. Now for our information tip for this week: LIFELINE/MED-ALERT. This program is for persons who live alone or spend a great deal of time alone and have a disabling condition which may cause concern or prevent them from living alone, there are two home alert systems available in Delaware. The Lifeline system, available only in Kent County, operates through a small mechanical device (like a beeper) which the individual wears. If an emergency

NOTES FROM CHARLIE BROWN - Your wandering Pastor has returned home refreshed and relaxed to tackle the problems of the world - or at least the parish. I understand everyone behaved themselves and stayed healthy. Spain is a beautiful country with much history and tradition. The food was excellent and the 16 people on our tour group very friendly and relaxed. Fr. John Hopkins and I had a great time. My concern now is that the programs for the coming school year be organized and in place so that as a parish community we can grow spiritually, intellectually, and communally. We are all Church and each of us is responsible for its mission. One of our prime responsibilities is the passing on of the faith to our children. To know Jesus Christ is to live. Our catechetical mission thru our religious education program provides an opportunity for us as adults to share our faith with the children and we are in need of committed Christians to shoulder this responsibility. Please pray for the Lord for the grace to accept this mission or, if this is not your gift, that others in the parish will respond. We are very fortunate to have Mary Lou as our Director of Religious Education to guide and support the catechetical staff so that they may grow in their faith as they share with the children. The need is great. Please respond.

NORBERTINE MISSION APPEAL: Next weekend, Fr. Justin Diny, O.Praem. will preach at all the Masses asking your prayers and financial assistance in support of the Norbertine Missions in Peru. By the end of the present century it is predicted that one-half of the world's Catholics will be in Latin America.

Won't you join your effort with theirs to make the Church more real and more meaningful to the Peruvian people?

Mark Tozer is 2nd in Farm Fitness Run

by Keith Burgess
 The 2nd Annual Farm Fitness Run, held Saturday, as part of the Delaware State Fair was held at the fairgrounds Saturday.
 The 5 kilometer (3 1/8 miles) run was held in ideal weather. The first two finishers were unusual athletes, for a race of this type, which was essentially a road race, although the start and finish were in front of the grandstand.
 Craig Dayton of Rehoboth was the winner in 16:40. Dayton is unusual in that he did not run track or cross country in either high school or college. He is strictly a road racer and is a member of the Time Out Sports Club. He is 24 and is a very strong, natural runner, who now regrets not having competed at the scholastic and inter-collegiate levels. Good as he is, he would be much better if he had started at say age 12, as did Tozer.

Mark Tozer ran two years at W.T. Chipman School under Coach Baxter Smith and recently finished a stellar freshman year at Lake Forest High under Coach Jim Blades.
 Tozer set school records at Lake Forest and has been a winner, in age group competition, this year qualifying for the Junior Olympic National Championship at Seattle, Washington. To do this, Tozer had to defeat runners up to two years older, from New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia.
 Tozer is unusual because he is so good, at such an early age (14). Mark stayed close to Dayton, for much of the race and finished in 17:08, a terrific effort. Both Dayton and Mike Bellone, the third place finisher were startled to hear that Mark was so young. We remain convinced that there are students both male and female, walking halls of Lake Forest and any high school, in the country, who have natural running ability, which they will never know they possess, because for one reason or another, they will never give the running sports a try. Suppose Carl Lewis and Mary Decker had felt this way. Look at what they would have missed. Jack Powell and 57-year-old Bill O'Connor of Dover were other age group winners on Saturday.

 Amy Gootee of Laurel was the ladies winner, for the second straight year. We know a couple of Lake Forest girls, who would have had a good chance at the first place prestige if they had entered, since Gootee only competes in lacrosse and hockey at Salisbury State. Laura Paynter of Seaford, Karen Cohee Hutchinson, a Lake Forest grad and Judy Rigby of Dover were other ladies to win an age group division.

Frankly Speaking

The Forgotten Hero

by Mike Harker
 The Groom, a forgotten hero.....
 Whenever there is a problem in the barn, who do we turn to? If we have a sick horse that needs to be sat up with, who gets that job? After we finish up the track with a horse in the tenth race, who gets to stay at the track until the wee hours of morning to cool the horse out? If our horse develops some sort of strange swelling that cannot be explained by the vets, who gets the final blame?
 If you have answered your wife, you may be right in some cases, but more than likely, it will be the person that no barn can do without.....the groom. Of course, we all know that there is not any person in the whole world who is lower than the groom. They sometimes work from five in the morning until one the next morning, caring for their charges, making sure all is right. Not to mention the sub-standard housing that they must live in. If you are in a check-out line in your favorite store on a hot day, and one of these vile creatures is in front of you, you will have no problem telling what profession that person is in, but then it is hard to keep the odors of the stable off of you when you carry a muck basket on your hip that is over full.

 We all know that every groom has a bottle of booze in his or back pocket for medicinal purposes only. Maybe that's where the old saying, "a drunken groom and a rainy day makes the best horse" came from. All breeds of horses need grooms who do the hard work, the things that no one else wants to do. Even though you know that if your horse's groom would have jogged him five miles, like you told him to, instead of three, he would have won that last race.
 Any good trainer knows he can't survive without good grooms. We have come a long way in making life a little better for these people who are devoted to their horse....whether it be a stake or a claiming horse. Back in the early sixties, it was not uncommon to see one groom caring for nine horses for fifty dollars a week. Today at the Meadowlands, a groom can make one hundred twenty five dollars a week per horse. Caring for three horses, that's three hundred and seventy-five dollars a week, plus fifty dollar paddocks. That sure does change the image of grooms, but alas, that is a dream world up there. Every trainer and driver has been in the stall doing the leg work. Although there are schools out there that make instant trainers from text books, there is no knowledge better gained than in the stall with this smelly stuff stuck to your shoes.

 Grooms coming into the sport looking for glamour and an easy life need not apply. Hard work and long hours is all you have to look forward to. Trainers who do not recognize the fact that a groom can make or break you are only kidding themselves. Grooms are more than someone you have to pay each week. They are vital to the sport that treats them like second-class citizens. Without them, a lot of trainers would not know what is wrong with their horses. I know a lot of grooms who will readily give advice on a horse. Talk to you next week.

Bunting, Miller, Joseph and Driscoll win at Fair

DELAWARE STATE FAIR HARRINGTON - Harold Bunting driving the 19D D&D Dismantling stock car, drove to victory on Wednesday at the Delaware State Fair.

As it has been so many times in the past with Bunting, a win at the Fair was made to look at lot tougher than it was in actuality. While most of the other drivers went to their regular tires, Bunting slipped on four Good-Year Eagles, which he felt paved the way for his victory.

On the start, Billy Towers, in the #30 car for the Blue Hen Racing sitting outside pole, spun his wheel as he reached for the power. As a result of the spinning Towers, Bunting and Toreky took off in a cloud of dust. Toreky besting Bunting keeping him on the outside in the "loose stuff" for about 20 laps. Bunting tried the challenge several times before he made his big move allowing him to slip past the Pennsylvania hot shoe and pick up the vital win.

For most of the race Bunting stayed glued to the 14 car's rear bumper. Each time bunting tried a passing shot Toreky pushed down on the pedal. All this was wearing the tires on the 14 car. When Bunting moved by Toreky, the Pa. #14 car quickly slipped back in the field. In the end, Towers who had raced hard, made his way to the second spot.

The car loss in the race was due mainly to tires which included the star-studded field of Delaware hot-shoes. In that bunch including Towers, were Toreky, Bobby Wilkins (flat tire), Gallub also with tire problems, Ron Keys with a flat tire, and Eddie Pettyjohn who could not get his 888 to handle properly.

The patience of Harold Bunting may have also been a big factor in his win. Staying on the 14 car's rear bumper for 20 laps held the pressure on Toreky and Bunting knew from past experience that there was time remaining to do the job.

Once Bunting got the lead the end was not far from reach. Following Bunting over the finish line were Towers,

Short Notes

Cale wins first of year at Talladega
Cale Yarborough drove his Ford Thunderbird into victory lane on Sunday in the Talladega 500. He broke the draft and pulled away from second place finisher Neil Bonnett to prevent the slingshot on the last lap.

Since returning from his try at running the Championship cars at Toreky, Ron Keys, Charlie Decker, Pettyjohn, Charlie Lagenstein, and Joey Carey.

In the Late Model feature, the small number of cars and early outs allowed some of the more consistent running cars to hang in there at the end. But it was Jimmy Miller driving one of his smoothest races as well as one of his most important career wins. Alex Beaumont the Glen Burnie, Md. speedster had his Camaro on the pole and ran away from the rest of the field for the first few laps. Suddenly without warning Beaumont slowed to a crawl on the backstretch and coasted into the pits never to return to this race. Just prior to this the 296 car of Duane Russ spun in the 2nd turn bringing out the caution. As cars poured on the gas ignoring the yellow being waved frantically by Bruce Webb, most of the field went sliding into the first turn into some of the stalled cars which had brought out the yellow. In this caution, Jimmy Miller ran up on the left rear quarter panel of Eddie Pettyjohn, who had also poured on the gas. Miller gave the 888 a tap.

Apparently Pettyjohn was experiencing tire problems because his car began to lose power. Miller quickly picked up on the problem and passed Pettyjohn and dashed for the leader.... Alex Beaumont. When Beaumont went out on lap 10 young Miller inherited the lead and raced out of sight.

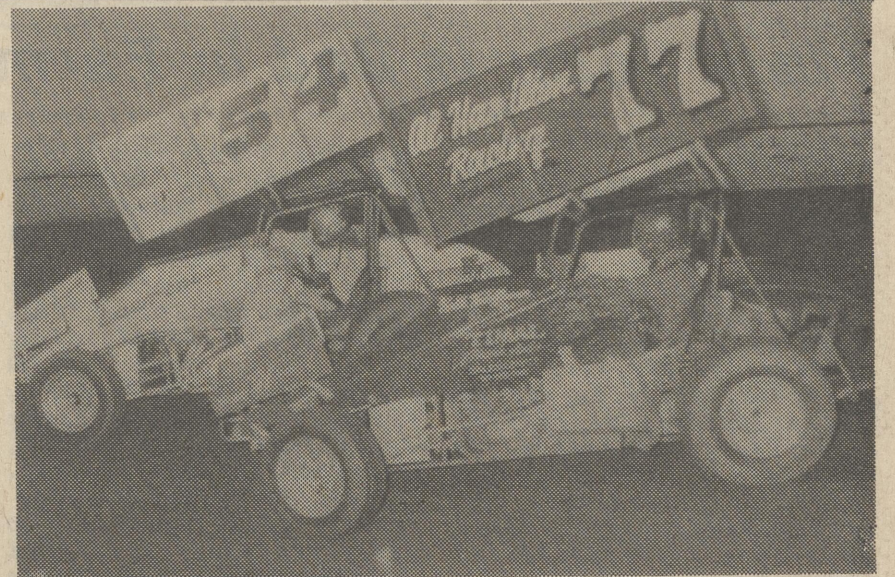

Following Miller over the line were Pettyjohn, Lou Johnson, J. Russard, B. Givens, Webb (101), Duane Russ, and Joey Carey.

In the Limited Late Model event it was awesome Mel Joseph Jr. of Georgetown going wire to wire for the victory. It was Joseph's second win of features in as many events. Lee Joines followed Joseph to the checkered.

In the Street Modified event, Elwood Driscoll started on the pole and outlasted a wreck marred event which saw over half of the field either out of the race or off the grounds. C. R. Robinson who won on Friday night managed to weave through the field and finish second.

Indianapolis, Yarborough has always managed to win at least two races a year. This first victory of the year comes in the second half of the season. The one big race Cale wants is the September race at Darlington.

The point standings among the leaders remains unchanged with Bill Elliott still on top.

Miller and Elliott dominate at Piney Neck Speedway

by Darlene Dill

The seatherman frowned a little on Piney Neck Speedway Saturday with afternoon showers. However, with fine efforts from the ground crew, races were able to kick off as scheduled at 8:00 p.m. The evening's program was part 3 of the Delaware Dirt Series. The track was somewhat slower than usual and passing was limited because the second groove just wasn't there.

The first class of the evening was Boys and Girls Box Stock with Kevin Colborn taking the win and was able to hold off a very determined Chris Mason, who had to settle for second.

Next on the program was the Sr. Box Stock Light class. Dale Elben started third in the heat and took control of the race in the first lap and continued to put distance between him and the rest of the field. At feature time when the flag dropped it was Elben all the way for an easy victory. Finishing second was Bobby Comstock, Greg Mitchell, third, and Walt Tawnas, fourth. However, Tawnas was later disqualified during engine tech and Millie Bunting was moved up to fourth place position.

The Junior Box Stock class proved to be a competitive event. In the heat, polesitter, Keith Hall managed to pull out the win, but Doug Henry wheeled his way from sixth place starting position to prove he would definitely have to be considered for the feature.

In the feature, Hall and Henry ran side by side with Henry coming out on top. Greg Reed running in the third place position was keeping pressure on both of the front runners. After several attempts to pass, Reed locked bumpers with Keith Hall in turns one and two causing Reed to fall to the back of the pack. Keith Hall was able to regain second place behind Doug Henry at the checkered flag. Allan Darling finished third and Danny Swafford, fourth.

The largest class of the evening was Sr. Box Stock Heavy with 17 entries. Because of the amount of karts, this class ran double heats. Allan Anderson won the first half of the heat coming from third and Melvin Miller won the second half, moving all the way up from 8th. When the green flag waved in the feature it was Allan Anderson taking the lead, but for only a short time as Melvin Miller had both the power and driving skill to pass Anderson and continue to dominate through out the race with a very convincing lead. Kart #77 driven by Donald Lingo managed to overcome Allan Anderson for second, leaving Anderson to take 3rd place finish and Mike Mason, fourth.

The Limited Modifieds class displayed some super fast action as Rick Elliott powered his way to take first in the heat. Elliott continued to prove he had everything in control as he went on to dominate in the feature event. Also, finishing second, with a sizeable lead, was Kart #4X, driven by Jim Boone. Kevin Darling, #99 took third and Butch Harrington #8, fourth.

The final class of the evening was Stock Yamaha. In the early part of the race, Andy Kiker and Donnie Stevens ran side by side with Kiker pulling into the #1 slot and continued to open the gap on the rest of the field. Donnie Stevens on Kart #1 finished second followed by Larry Bunting #90, in third.

Regular racing continues this Saturday at 8:00 p.m.

Chitwoods thrill Fairgoers

by Victoria G. Ficks

The Joie Chitwood Thrill Show, held on July 23 at the Delaware State Fair, lived up to its name. The show was a "thriller."

The Chitwoods have been doing these daredevil shows for 42 years. The show had the spectators glued to their seats as the stunt drivers performed their suspenseful, death-defying routines.

The courageous stuntmen performed precision driving, reverse spins, two wheel driving, wheelies, slides, leaps, and crashes.

A new stunt was included in this year's show - the "leap for life" stunt. Courage, coordination, determination, and split second timing are essential in performing this stunt, in which a car is driven through a platform where a stuntman is standing. The stuntman has to "leap for his life" and land on his feet.

Jerry Allen, the hilarious clown, had the spectators roaring at his clown coat gag and world's strongest man act. This was Allen's first year with the Chitwoods, and the fairgoers loved every minute of his routine.

The 1985 show marked Bob Grems' 11th anniversary as an announcer for the show. Grems, 38, was hired by Joie Jr. after he was heard announcing at the Boonville-Oneida County Fair in New York. Grems was formerly a school teacher in New York, where he taught secondary level social studies. "When Joie Jr. hired me, I thought it was just for one summer - it wasn't. I've enjoyed my stay with the Chitwoods," said Grems.

Todd Seeley returned for his 3rd season with the Chitwood's to amaze fairgoers with his spectacular riding abilities. Seeley, 23, of New Concord, Ohio, performed in the motorcycle freewall stunt and his Todd Seeley Wheelie Show where he performed a motorcycle jump off a moving ramp truck. Seeley, who began riding motorcycles when he was nine, did all the bike work in "Heavenly Kid," a movie soon to make its debut.

Joie Chitwood Jr., the most recognized auto stunt driver in the nation, got the show off to a speedy start in his presentation of two-car precision driving. Joie Jr. has been doing stunts in the show since 1943. In the winter months, he was busy performing for the NBC series, Miami Vice. When away from the hectic stunt-driving world, he enjoys spending time with his wife, Noreen, and two children, Allyson Ann and Joie, III.

Joie, III, 16, began his driving career when he was five. He plans to continue the tradition begun by his grandfather. Joie still plans to complete high school and continue his education at the University of Florida, where he will study business administration.

Delaware State Fair Odds & Ends

by Victoria G. Ficks

Ted and Doris Hicks were newcomers to the Delaware State Fair this year. The Hicks', from Luthersville, MD sold jewelry and belt buckles at their booth called T&D Enterprises, which was located near the front entrance.

Many of the pieces of jewelry had turquoise stones, which came from New Mexico.

The Hicks' were surprised at the volume of business they received.

"For such a small state, the fair was wonderful. We were very surprised at the business. We liked it so much we'll probably be returning to the fair next year," said Mrs. Hicks.

The Wilmington Piano Company returned to the Delaware State Fair for its 30th year.

The company, which is located in Wilmington, sells pianos and organs. Manager Charlie Ross and salesman Michael A. Burke and Brian Edmiston demonstrated the musical instruments to prospective customers during the fair week.

Business was slow for the piano company this year.

"We've only sold 15 so far this year. Last year we sold 50 organs and pianos. We all hope the business picks up," said Mr. Ross Thursday afternoon.

Owner Sidney Kohen said he remembered the days when "the booth was on a dirt floor." The company's booth was located under the grandstand this year.

The company has been in business since 1867.

Trade Winds made its debut at the Delaware State Fair this year.

Trade Winds, a jewelry company located in Rochester, N.Y. sold jewelry made from starfish, shells, sea horses, pine cones, sand dollars, lettuce and leaves.

Each piece of jewelry was individually crafted and required three to five days to complete. The jewelry was a natural object which had been hand-selected, pressed and covered in 24 Karat gold.

Tracy Walker, from Trade Winds, said that "business has been so-so."

Each piece of the jewelry is different because as Trade Winds says, "Each object in nature is unique."

The country music legend George Jones, came to the Delaware State Fair on Saturday.

Jones opened the show with "They Call me No-Show Jones," and went on with many country favorites such as "Chicken Real," and "He Stopped Loving Her Today"

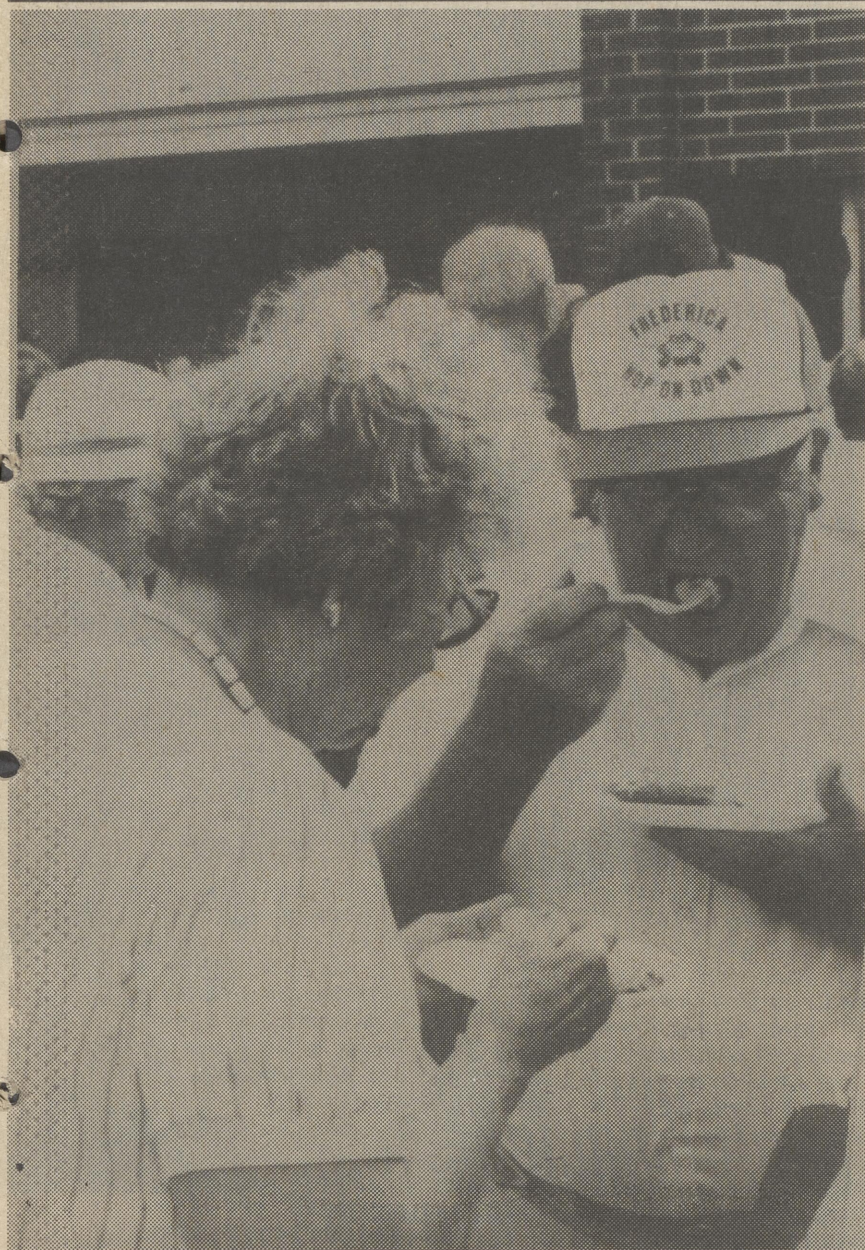

George Jones was born on September 12, 1931, near Saratoga, Texas, in a rural region known as the "Big Thicket." His father was a jack-of-all trades and his mother played the piano in church on Sundays.

Jones' first single was released in 1954 and his first album was released in 1956.

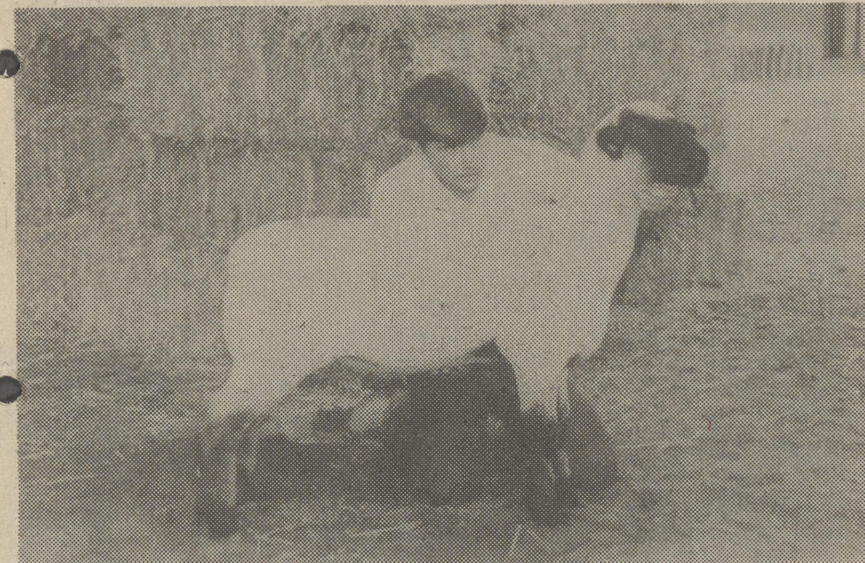

During 1956 he was named "Most Promising Artist of the Year" by several of the major music trade publications.

Since then Jones was named country music's leading male vocalist by the national trade magazines.

The grandstand was nearly full for both of the Saturday night shows.

The Delaware State Fair is nothing new to Robert Collins (he is an area resident). Collins has worked with the fair for 34 years. 25 of those years have been as the "ice man" and (the last) nine have been as a member of the "Hires family". Collins is the owner of the Collins Hires Root Beer stand. The root beer is made at the booth with the two Hires Kegs that can be seen there. The first keg produces carbonated water and is run through a tube into the second keg. This keg has corals (the main ingredient of root beer) in it. The carbonated water and the corals are mixed together in this keg to produce Hires Root Beer.

Billy Ray Collison, an area farmer, raises Belgian horses as a hobby. Belgian horses are one of the gentlest and strongest breeds of horses. Because of their strength and gentleness they are considered draft horses and are ideal for riding (they are often the choice of women.). Collison uses his horses for several things. He uses them

Lisa Anne Patrick, known to many as Miss Delaware 1985, attended the Delaware State Fair on Thursday. Patrick, 24, resides in Newark and was crowned Miss Delaware on June 14.

This was Patrick's first time ever attending the fair, but she joyfully stated, "It's great and I'll be back next year."

She attended the fair with her chaperone, Merle Balis.

Beth Collison's sheep was named the Grand Champion Market Lamb at the fair on Thursday. This is Collison's second year entering sheep. Last year her sheep was named Reserved Champion Market Lamb and she made a profit of $450 at the fair. This year she made a profit of $1350.

to sometimes plant corn, sells the colts and shows them. On Wednesday, the horses were at the fair for the pulling contest held that afternoon.

The horses came in 7th place by pulling 7500 pounds. Collison wanted to try for a better placing, but the harness strap broke during the contest. The horses do not have any training for this, but because they are so muscular, they are already in good shape for this type of contest.

C. W. Billman has brought his handwriting analysis to the Delaware State Fair for 38 years. Billman can determine what kind of personality you have by the way you sign your name on an envelope. The envelope is fed into a computer. The analysis is based on how you dot i's, cross t's and make loops. When this is done, and the envelope has come out of the computer, the personality traits which best fit your signature are checked off. Billman goes to 22 fairs during the season and feels that the Delaware State Fair is "by far the nicest."

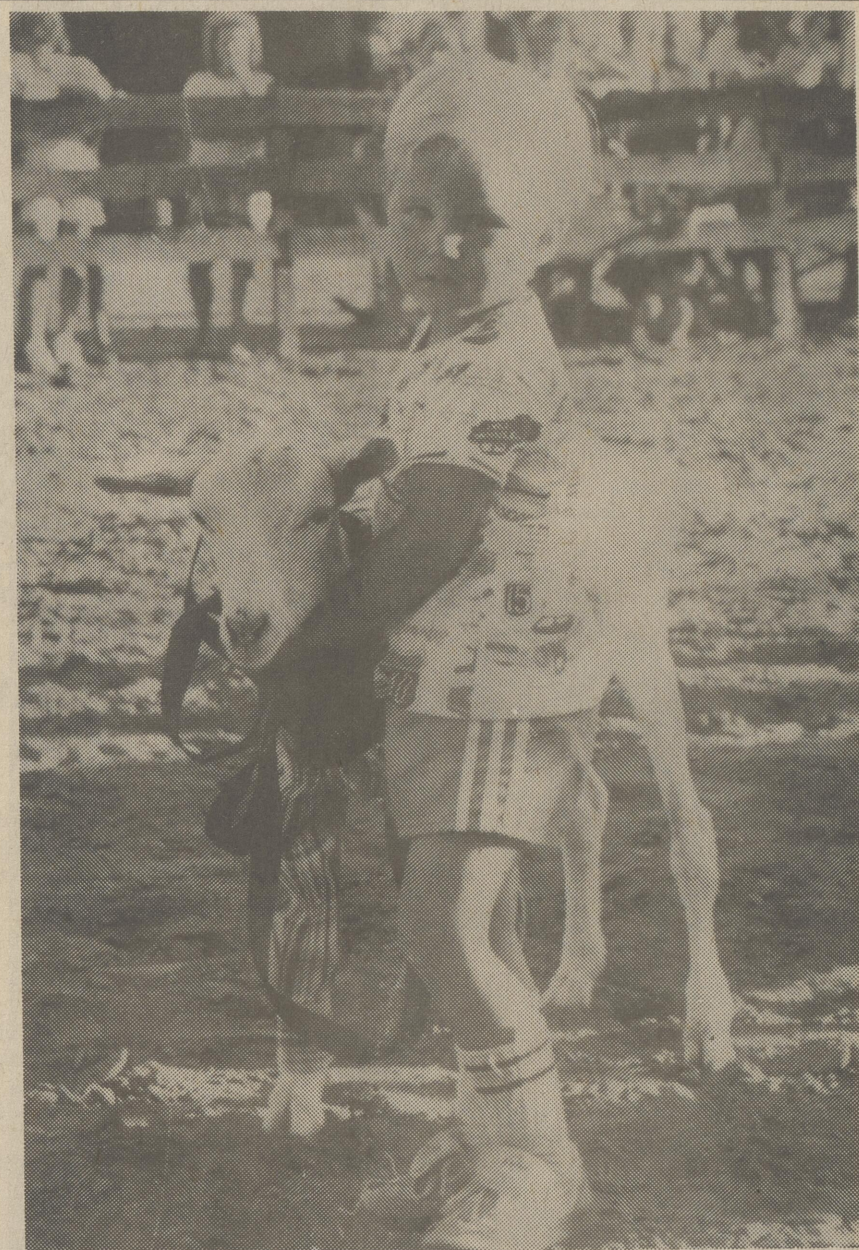

"Sale of Champions": Alan Garey's sheep was named Reserved Champion Market Lamb and was also in the "Sale of Champions" where he made a profit of $600.

A cow owned by C. Delbert Cain, of Harrington, was named Grand Champion Cow at the fair and also won the prize of having the best udder. The cow was shown by Mike Cain.

Mandrell gives dynamite performance at the Fair

by Cathy Hickman

Louise Mandrell gave an excellent performance at the Delaware State Fair on Friday night.

Singing such hits as "Thank God I'm a Country Girl" and "Not Through Loving You Yet", Mandrell was definitely full of energy as she danced her way around the stage.

Mandrell, being a very religious and close-knit family person, dedicated songs to her sisters Erlene and Barbara.

Charlie Turner, of Bear, Delaware, was chosen by her to come on the stage as she sang "Tennessee Hounddog" to him. His response to the show... "She's always been my favorite...she's just utterly fantastic....I'll remember this for the rest of my life."

Several years ago Louise was on the T.V. show "Barbara Mandrell and the Mandrell Sisters." After some convincing by her sister Barbara, she decided it was time to start singing and making a name for herself, which she definitely did. She now has her own band and is on the road quite a bit.

Mandrell is married to the country-music singer and producer R. C. Bannon.

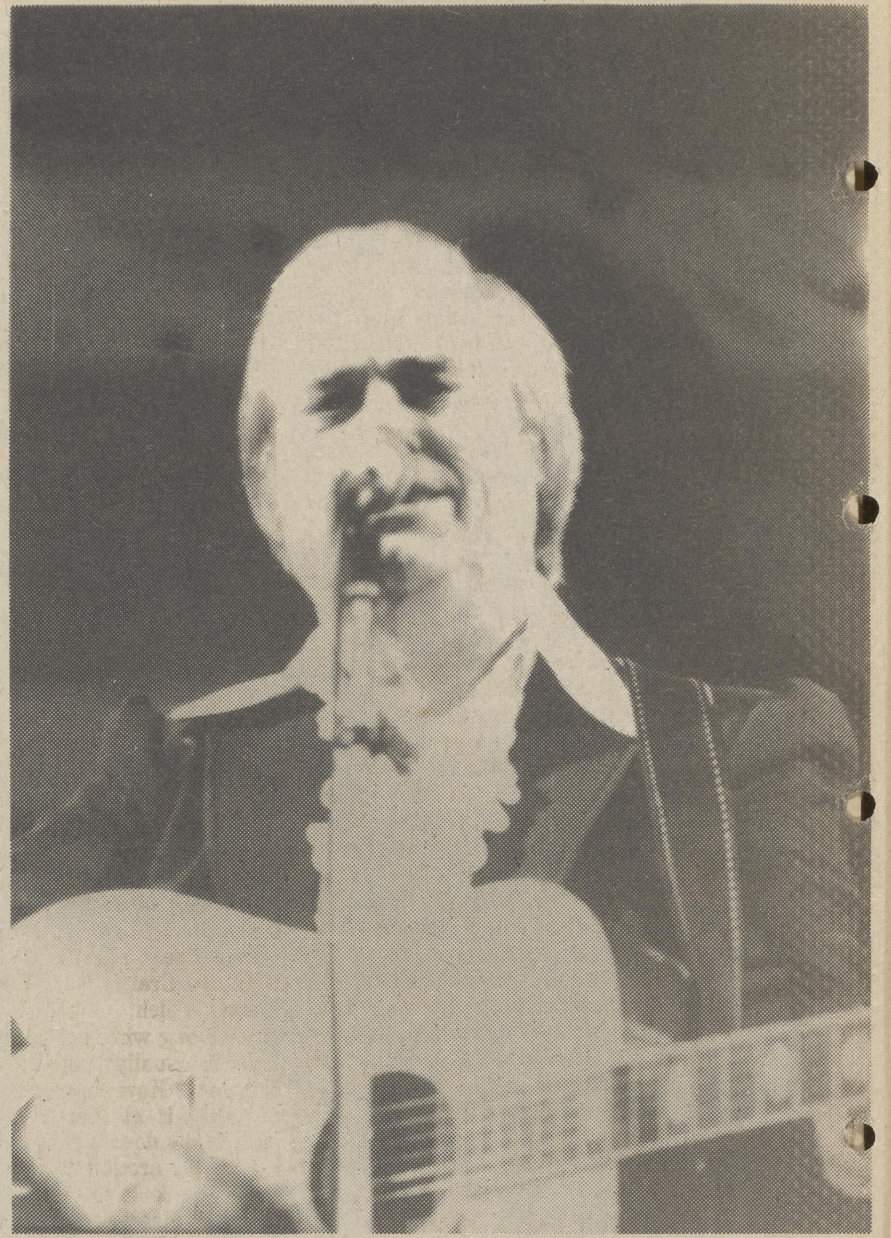

Mandrell states that "I never get tired because the crowds keep me going, and this was definitely one of those crowds!"

Do You Remember?

by Dorothy Graham

Smile! As I wrote "The Delaware State Fair" is drawing to a close. The weather has been fine - hope everything has gone well with it. A lot of nice folks have worked hard and long to bring this once a year affair to our town. As you observed the lovely needlework, the gorgeous pictures done in oil, water color etc, the delectable cakes, pies and all other goodies, see the positively fascinating array of flowers, plants, the eye-satisfying shelves of jellies, jamaes, pickles, etc, and see the animals, poultry, eggs and vegetables, doesn't it make you happy to know that kids and yourself can still see these basics of all living things in one small area. Oh, the machinery improvements are also wonderful and are greatly appreciated, but we still had a Fair when the machinery was a plow or cultivator drawn by horses. "Harrington Fair" was one of the first places I remember going to and kissing my boyfriend, under the caterpillar cover. Wasn't that fun? Now it seems the kids like those brain shattering rides best. Bet they don't even have a ride that slow. But I thought it was a dozer! "The Whip" was for those who dared. I liked that too. The ferris wheel (single) was interesting to watch, but my trips round were few. The Girlie Show and the Minstrels, the half-woman-half-man, the snake-eating woman, do they have such shows now? Fair to me are the people and as stated, the exhibits. Do you remember the Lennon Sisters? They stayed at Anna and Fulton Downing's on Clark Street the year they were at "The Fair". Was Larry Hooper ever here? It runs in my mind that he was. Lillian and Jehu Camper exhibited the Americana carvings of Jehu. Edgar and Lily Graef had carvings of Ducks and Ducks as pins earrings. All beautiful, especially those life-sized ones. It was interesting to watch Mr. Graef work. He and Lilly traveled extensively showing their works. Pauline and Norman Smith were at the Fair with their homemade candies. Is their son Marvin carrying on the business? My, it is delicious candy. I particularly liked the coconut. I believe they called it wheat stacks (forgotten the name, but it sure was good)!!! They were kind, accomodating folk. Alice Tiernan Bare and husband Hanen served the best iced tea at the Fair, as far as I was concerned, the recipe is from her mother Grace Tiernan. Just can't remember Alice and Grace without remembering my friend Clara Richardson, Alice's sister, Grace's daughter. She loved to see the art exhibit, she has some lovely paintings at her sisters, brothers and nieces. I missed sitting at the Arts and Crafts this year, as I broke my ankle a week ago Thursday. Horrors!! Listen, honey, it's not one bit funny, but what can you do, but drag this cast around with the help of a walker and wheel chair and a helpful daughter, Gene and son-in-law Lester. Penny helps when she can. Troy runs errands for me. Friends keep me cheered up with phone calls, cards and visits etc. Every kindness is truly appreciated. Thank you, joyfully for all my 71st birthday cards.

Want to thank those who sent our daughter Gracie cards of sympathy for her husband's passing. She was a Harrington for 19 years and she said she will always be a Delawarean and glad Harrington is Harrington, a very special town to her and us too.

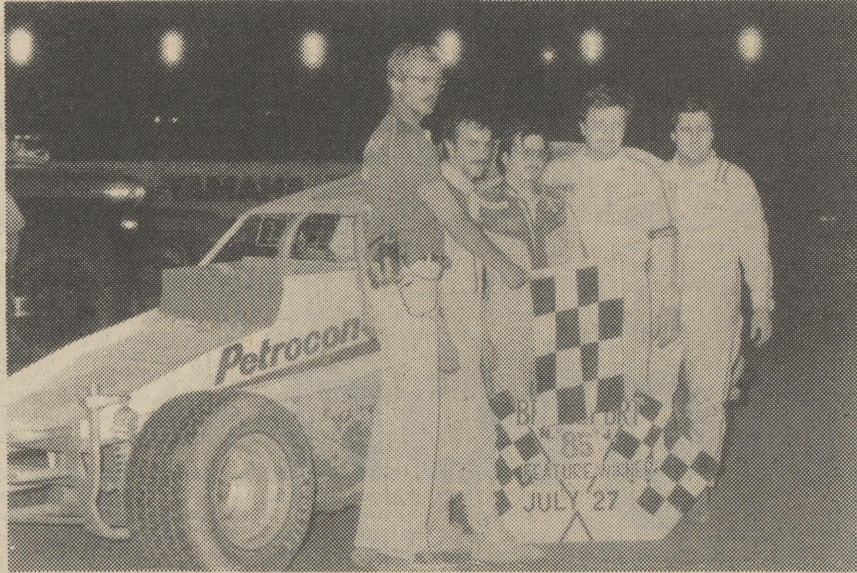

Getting back to the Fair - watching the kids - watch the hatching of the little chicks is truly a fascinating sight. The "Ohs, ahs and "oh mommie, daddy, look, look, another one just broke the shell, look, oh, look, that's just its mouth (beak of course)". The pet farm is something nice too for both young and old.

All enjoyed it immensely. I understand John Curtis started that.

Maybe next year I'll be able to be at Arts and Crafts. Hear Effie Raughley, Irene Welch, Hazel Langrell were there along with lots of others. Evelyn Lare is usually there. Was she there this year? How about Etzel McCready, did she sit at Arts and Crafts?

Bill Walls does a good job maneuvering his car around the crowds you see to deliver folks to the Arts and Crafts building. Hazel saw my sister Nickey - remember her - Miss Delaware 1982. I saw Betty Knox (Fleetwood) last year. She and her daughter were still giving swimming lessons near Denton. It was wonderful seeing and hearing the noises of the Fair. "It's cold, it's ice cold, it's ice cold". Have a drink, have a snack, "Don't walk her to death, treat her." "Pure orange juice from the big, big truck." It's good, just ask a customer, it's ice cold custard, just like you like. "So you want an oyster sandwich, well, honey, here it is. The best you ever sunk your teeth into." "So you like clam fritters, well, step right up, we fry them just right." "So, you've already had two funnel cakes, one more won't hurt." That's the Fair and it's gone for another year.

Best wishes to all, be kind to each other. Hey, how did I almost forget the fireworks!! Wouldn't be the Fair without them! Thanks again to lots and lots of people, exhibitors, planners, food booths, loud speaker system, "The Show". Take care, love you, faith.

Anderson wins Delaware Open

A five-foot bidie putt on the 54th hole of the 20th Delaware Open gave the young at-large pro, Chris Anderson, a one-shot victory over Eric MacCluen.

Anderson held a one-shot lead over MacCluen and defending champion Blaise Giroso at the start of the final round.

The club professionals, Pete Oakley and Larry Jones, began to make people notice at the back of nine, where they entered the round at three under par. Oakley came in third.

Six features, six different winners made an exciting racing card at Bridgeport

A banner crowd was on hand for the first yearly running of the "4 x 12's" for Modifieds. They were treated to one of the finest events this season as six different winners found their way into the winner's circle.

Karl Freyer, a former Flemington driver, took an impressive win in the first feature leading the race from green to checker. He picked up an additional $137 in lap money along with his first feature win at Bridgeport.

Tom Capie, Neal Kumernitsky, Jim Horton and Ronnie Tobias rounded out the top five.

The second feature saw Doug Hoffman best Freddy Brightbill for his seventh feature win. Paul Weaver took third, Jim Horton fifth, and Ronnie Tobias fifth. Hoffman led all but one lap and collected his lap money as well.

Tom Capie took his third career victory at Bridgeport winning the third feature. Capie took the lead on lap three and never looked back. Freyer, Horton, Crouce and Hoffman were close behind him. Ronnie Tobias took sixth and so doing has kept the points race as close as ever.

Action continued in the fourth feature as Paul Weaver won his third of the season leading from the first lap. He held off a stiff challenge from Doug Hoffman right down to the checker. John Pinter, took a third with Ronnie Tobias fourth and Tom Capie fifth. Both Weaver and Capie took home lap money along with their $1,000 first place.

The sportsman feature saw Mike Sonieri capture his first every victory. Gary Bruckler led in the early laps with Mike knocking on his door. Sonieri took the lead on lap 11 and held off a late lap challenge from Frank Mangone. Sonieri, was followed at the checker by Mangone, Bruckler, Heeber and Line-man, second through fifth.

Street Stocks returned after a three week lay off with Dan Rieck picking up his second feature win. His only real competition came from Tom Wills who finished second. Third went to Joe Edwards, fourth Dave Bentley and Adam Schwagel fifth.
