by Harry G. Farrow Jr.
HARRINGTON - A $500,000 "strip center" shopping center for Harrington may soon become a reality.
A grant made possible through a federal government program called UDAG (Urban Development Action Grant) will enable Dover developer Phil McGinnis to construct an 8,000 sq. ft. shopping center directly behind Hardees fast food restaurant. The site contains approximately 2.1 acres of land. The proposed center will have as its "anchor tenant" a convenience store. Joining the convenience store will be a pizza shop. There will be 4 to 5 other stores in the center.

The UDAG grant will come to $124,659. After consulting and administrative fees, the developer will get approximately $116,000. The balance of the nearly $500,000 will come from state revenue bonds.
Through this grant, the City of Harrington should realize big dividends. First under the UDAG grant, the money is directed to the City of Harrington from the Federal Government...."free of charge". The $116,000 becomes the City's in total plus an annual interest rate of 4%. "This money can be further used for economic expansion for the community," said George Volenik, Harrington's City Manager.

According to Phil McGinnis, the developer, the Town will participate in the cash flow after the developer has realized a 15% return on investment. "We will be putting 10% into the project, and the federal government has allowed us a 15% return....then Harrington and our corporation will begin sharing of the cash flow of 20% to the Town and 80% to us", said McGinnis. The term of the mortgage will be 20 payout with a balloon payment at the end of 15 years.
The center will be placed between the southbound and northbound lanes of U.S. 13. Access to the center will be from Porter Street, which is the pavement south of Hardees Restaurant which connects the two highways. The center will face to the west.

The center will be called "Crossroads Plaza". It will be faced with brick and glass and be a concrete block building. It will have an A-frame roof with a 5 ft. overhang supported by columns.

Construction will begin by the end of this month or the first part of September.
"We think Harrington is a strong site, and for us it looked like strong prospects for that community", said Phil McGinnis.

Write-ins win Bowers election

by Cathy Hickman
BOWERS BEACH, DE - two write-in candidates won the election held in Bowers Beach on Saturday. One, an incumbent had not been a candidate for re-election.
This reported according to recently appointed Mayor, John F. W. King.
Mayor King announced that Jane Boone, the incumbent, had received 37 votes and Elizabeth Banks had received 66 votes.
The two announced candidates, Anna Oldham and Hunter J. Feague received 9 and 32 votes respectively. Their names had appeared on the ballot.

According to Mayor King, the voters next year will get a chance to vote 3 new members to the Town Board. The new concept which will be introduced at that time will be a selection of a President of the Council from the Council members. That person selected will be regarded as the Mayor.
King said he will not seek the office of Mayor which he held once before. He was recently selected to fill the unexpired term of Frederick Eubanks. Boone and Banks will serve two year terms.

Short Takes on Area News Clayton girl missing

Linda Faye Short, of Clayton, has been missing since July 27. According to her mother, Ella Short, Linda, 15, was last seen at about 10 p.m. Saturday at the Delaware State Fair in Harrington.
Short is 5'8" tall, weighing about 120 pounds. She has brown hair and eyes and was last seen wearing blue jeans, pink, striped blouse and gray shoes.
Anyone with any information on Short's whereabouts should contact Delaware State Police Troop 3 in Woodside.

Summer an excellent time to apply for private educational aid

High School and college students should use the summer months to investigate and apply for private financial aid, according to The Scholarship Bank.
The Scholarship Bank will send students a print-out of private financial aid for which they appear specifically qualified; according to the computer entry form, there are over 30 areas of specific information that the computer uses to search for aid. Areas such as major, occupational goals, religion, geographic preferences, year in school, sports, ethnic and parents' union, employer or memberships may all qualify students for aid. Each student is guaranteed a print out of at least 50 sources.
Students wishing to use this service should send a business size, stamped, self-addressed envelope to The Scholarship Bank 4626 N. Grand, Covina, CA 91724. There is a special two for one offer now in effect, making the cost less than $25.

Tornadoes hit Harrington

Two tornadoes swept through portions of Harrington and Ellendale Wednesday night, leaving about 7,500 Delmarva Power and Light Co. customers without power and injuring two Ellendale residents.
Martin Messick, 76, and his wife Daisy, 82, of Ellendale, were injured when they were lifted and thrown from the bedroom of their mobile home. Martin Messick was treated for a concussion and cuts on his face and back. Daisy Messick was treated for a broken left arm and left leg. Both were reported in fair condition at Milford Memorial Hospital Thursday.
Delaware received about 3.02 inches of rain in many areas. The total rainfall for July came to an average of 6.91 inches in the state.
According to Paul C. Fike, a meteorologist with the National Severe Storm Forecast Center in Kansas City, Mo., July is the month for tornado activity in Delaware.

Harrington to get a shopping center behind Colony Inn

Another shopping center is planned for Harrington with construction to begin the latter part of this month or the first part of September.
It will contain approximately 25,000 sq. feet of space. It will be called "Liberty Plaza" with the developers being Francis (Frank) and Dennis Silicato of Milford.
Currently there are three tenants either close to signing leases or have signed them. They are Edgell, Mealand, Inc., and a pizza shop.
The project will be funded through revenue bonds through the State Development office.

Council to meet on Monday

The July meeting of the Harrington Council was postponed to August, and it will be held on Monday night at 7:30. The trash contract will be awarded to Eastern Disposal, Inc. the present trash collectors.
A second reading on ordinances governing certain aspects of construction and building design will be heard. This according to BOCA (Building Official Code Association) where changes have come about at the national level which means an updating of our ordinances or code.
There will also be a public hearing on the demolition of the house at the southwest corner of Liberty and Fleming streets.
The City Manager has also asked for approval to "give the go ahead" on sidewalk repairs where the amount does not exceed $1,000. These situations are where the property owner pays 50% and the City pays 50%.
City Manager has asked for a ruling on "alleys" in Harrington regarding encroachments and maintenance.
There will be a report on the housing rehabilitation program set for the City. Certain houses on Milby and Mispillion west of West Street are the targeted areas. Already 6 of the 7 proposed homes have responded. The amount of this grant is $70,000. There is a $10,000 limit on each house. Basically the money is to go to correct code deficiencies regarding plumbing, heating, electrical, roof repair and possibly siding.

Local banker returns from National Conference

by Victoria G. Fick
David G. Jones, president of JCPenney National Bank of Harrington, returned Monday from a four day conference last week in Seattle, Washington. The conference was held by the American Bankers Association on governmental relations. Jones serves on the ABA Governmental Relations Committee.
Jones was joined by Jack Porter, president of Delaware Trust, as the two members who represented the Delaware banking community.
The purpose of the meeting was to discuss governmental issues facing the banking industry and to arrive at recommended positions for the Board of Directors of the American Bankers Association (ABA) to act upon. Positions such as this are referred to the banking lobby before congress.
Some of the key issues taken up at the conference dealt with the federal budget and tax proposals.
The hottest issue debated in the last three years that I have witnessed, as a member of this committee, was the one dealing with interstate banking," said Jones.
Interstate Banking is one of the growing concepts in banking today. This form of banking allows banks to geographically expand their banking operation far beyond their home office by going into other states. The states do not have to be near their stat's.

Felton water problem comes to a boil

by Cathy Hickman
FELTON - An iron-plagued water system in Felton came to a real boiling point at Monday night's council meeting as Alex and Theresa Greczkin challenged Mayor William Myers' authority to shut off their town water supply.
The Greczkins have not paid their water bill or trash bill in a year and a half. They stopped paying the bills in June of 1984 following a load of clothes being damaged by brownish water from the Town's water supply. She implied at Monday's meeting that she became so furious over the damage to the clothes that she decided to stop paying the bills until the problem was corrected.
She estimates that in the six years they have lived in Felton her family has lost a total of at least $500 in damaged clothes. She wants the water problem corrected and to be reimbursed for damages to her clothes.
In the meantime, the Greczkins have been getting water from their neighbors and from her mother's house in Camden. She said at Monday night's meeting, when the Mayor suggested how she was getting along without the water "...that you (Myers) do not know either. But we are getting along, don't worry about that".
The notice of the delinquent bill reached Myers sometime at the end of June or first part of July. Mrs. Greczkin sent a water bill back with a nasty note to the Mayor saying she would not pay the bill until the iron problem was corrected and someone reimbursed her for the damaged clothes. The Mayor followed this with a phone call whereby an angry exchange was had between her and the Mayor. Myers then followed this with a certified letter to her demanding payment of the bill.....which amounted to $137.50 or the water would be turned off. On July 15, having received no payment for the delinquent bill, Myers shut off her water without any notice to fellow council members.

James Jefferson who resides on Church St. began the discussion at the meeting by calling the Greczkins "freeloaders" for not paying their bills owed to the Town. "I feel that I have to pay for my bills and theirs too. I had the same problem, but I got a water softening and filtering system," added Jefferson, "which solved the problem."
Theresa Greczkin shot back that she was not a freeloader. "I have this problem and I think the Town should correct it", she said.
Mayor Myers said the own has always been lenient for those who have a hardship and could not pay their bills. But Theresa Greczkin shot back at the Mayor by saying "...that the Town is discriminating against those who are hard working people who do pay their bills under normal circumstances".
One of the big issues which was brought out in Monday night's meeting was that the Town has no policy when a delinquent bill must be paid. The notice that the water would be shut off was an act of the Mayor's doing. It was not clear whether all council members

County residents complain of odor at sewage plant

by Cathy Hickman
THOMPSONVILLE - Residents along County Road 120 have a lot to complain about these days. The once peaceful and clean air area has all changed since the county sewer plant was constructed there several years ago.
The plant according to residents who live near the plant say the plant is either overworked or not functioning properly. The constant odor of sewage and chemicals is quite disturbing to the residents there.
Last week maintenance workers and plant operators decided to do something about it. They added hydrogen peroxide and other chemicals to the water in an effort to do away with the odor.
At the recent County Planning and Zoning Commission meeting and the Levy Court hearing on the proposed mobile home park called "Riverbend" the matter of the county sewer plant was brought up for discussion. It was pointed out at both of those meetings that there was a problem at the County Sewer Plant.
Last week a contingent of legislators and county officials along with approximately 25 residents of the area toured the plant last Friday. The residents came away from the tour feeling nothing was gained. What they found is what they already knew. What the residents want is a serious effort to solve the problem.
The aroma comes from giant "digesters" which are huge rectangular concrete vats where the sludge is dissolved. In one of these vats the aerator is not functioning. According to one plant attendant this aerator has been missing parts for quite some time. It is not operative.
Some residents say that the odor has been worse this summer than at any time in the past. Residents say the smell is so unbearable that they have to close all doors and windows and turn on the air conditioners.
William C. Henry who is presently the County Engineer says he hopes to correct the problem through the use of hydrogen peroxide. Henry has held similar jobs in New Castle and Sussex Counties.

State Rep. G. Wallace Caulk, Jr. issued a statement that the State could conceivably step in with regulations of their own which would be legally enforceable.
The odor is not the only problem facing the County. State Sen. Ruth Ann Minner stated the treated sewage is ruining the salt-water marsh and the Murderkill River.
The treated water....not the sludge... overflows into the marsh and River which then creates the problem. Henry defended by telling the people present that the treated water has little salt in it. He admitted that it has some, but to try to equalize that water with the water in the river and marshes would be a major expensive process.
Walter E. Simpson Jr. of Harrington was heard to say that he has noticed two fish dead in the water in the past year. He also noticed more than the usual amount of scum coating the boats at Bowers Beach.
But according to Senator Minner the standards that govern the Kent County plants are national standards and that altering these standards would affect sewage plants in other parts of the country.

Harrington girl missing since July 29

Linda Marie Anderson, a 16-year-old Harrington girl, has been missing from her home since July 29.
Anderson was last seen by her family in the Harrington area and was wearing a red blouse and white cutoff slacks. She is 5 feet 5 inches tall, weighing 120 pounds, with black hair and dark brown eyes.
Anyone with any information on Anderson's whereabouts should contact the Delaware State Police at Troop 3 in Woodside.

Supreme Court overturns Deputy murder conviction

by Victoria G. Ficka

The Delaware Supreme Court overturned two of four murder convictions against Andre S. Deputy on Wednesday. The Supreme Court said the convictions were based on a confession which was obtained unconstitutionally. The court did uphold two murder convictions against Deputy.

Deputy was convicted of four counts of murder for his alleged participation in the deaths of Alberta and Byard Smith, of Harrington, in 1979. The Smiths were stabbed a total of 145 times with a 10-inch bayonet and a small kitchen knife when their home was robbed.

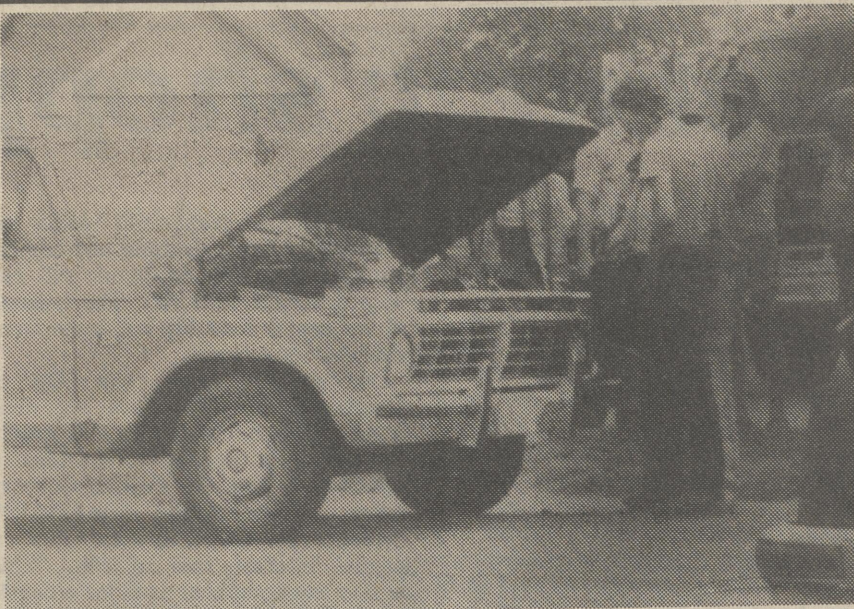

In a separate trial in 1980, William Henry Flamer was also convicted of four counts of murder which stemmed from the same incident.

The court decision dismissed two intentional murder convictions, but upheld two felony murder convictions against Deputy.

The court ruled that Deputy should have had a counsel present when he confessed to the murder. Deputy's detailed confession was obtained unconstitutionally after he had been taken before a magistrate and arraigned. The magistrate ordered the Delaware State Police to take Deputy to the Sussex Correctional Institution, but the police took Deputy back to Troop 5 for further questioning. Deputy then made a taped confession, which was thrown out by the Supreme Court. The police violated Deputy's Sixth Amendment right to counsel when they took him back to their police troop for more questioning.

Ironically, Dana C. Reed, a former deputy attorney general and the prosecutor in the 1982 case, died on the same day the Supreme Court overturned the two murder convictions. Reed was killed in an automobile crash Wednesday night at about 7:50 p.m. Reed attempted to pass another automobile on College Road in Dover. He lost control of his car and skidded 50 feet before hitting a cherry tree. Reed was examined, and it was ruled that he died of massive head injuries.

The motor on this pickup caught fire last Thursday at the light in the intersection of Rt. 14 and U.S. 13 in Harrington. The fire was extinguished by Leroy Calhoun of Harrington who was at the scene. Photo by HGF

New family business in town

Bill and Jackie Wroten sell furniture at their store in Harrington. Their store, Harrington Furniture and Appliances, is located in the old L&M Fashions buildings.

The store, which has been in business since March 1985, sells both used and new furniture and appliances. The store has a layaway plan for 60 days and also has a monthly financing plan. Catalogs are available for customers to order from if the product is not available. The Wroten's, from Milford, began their furniture business when Bill Wroten's stepfather's store, which is in Bridgeville, went out of business.

According to Mrs. Wroten, business is slow, but is expected to pick up around Christmas.

The store hours are Tuesday thru Friday 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Saturdays 9:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

lacked the notice that the Greczkin's water would be shut off.

Five years ago Mrs. Greczkin threatened to withhold payment of a water bill because the water was bad then. Myers threatened her then that if she did that he would cut off her water. "I decided to pay the bill then because I had two small children, and I couldn't make it without water", she said.

Mrs. Greczkin also said the Mayor told her when she moved in her present home that the fire hydrant in front of her house would be flushed every two weeks. "I know of only three times that this has been done in those six years", she said.

She also contends that the Mayor broke ".....something in my front yard when he cut off the water." The Mayor said "I did not. You caused it when you borrowed water from your neighbors and flushed it out". "You all heard that in this room. When they cut the water back on, the water flooding problem in my front yard will stop," she said.

Authorities from the State according to Mrs. Greczkin said five years ago that a water purification system could be put on the water tower which would correct the entire problem without too much expense. "The Mayor has ignored these suggestions", she said.

H. Joseph Gannon Jr., a chemist and who operates his own water testing system.....and an unsuccessful candidate for the Town Council has been studying the water system in Felton for several years. He has made it a prime theme for years that something needs to be done about the water supply system in the Town. Gannon admitted in Monday night's meeting that he just recently paid his water bill" in the last week or so which was delinquent for over a year". Gannon said he decided to pay the bill when the Mayor agreed to institute a new chemical additive at a cost of $1,400 which is believed to be able to do the job and clear up the water. This new chemical is supposed to break up the huge iron chunks that appears in the water.

The iron in the water will cause damages to appliances and according to Mrs. Greczkin "that already her dishwasher and hot water heater have been damaged. They will have to be replaced too", she said. She also said, ".....the Council should have let the residents know about the chemical additive.... then maybe more bills would get paid". She admitted that she opposed Mayor Myers remaining in office. "I think that you should get out (of office).... and let someone else run things". She also asked the community members to stick together and that she was not asking for anything that she did not deserve.

The Mayor concluded the discussion by saying, ".....she will have water in the morning if she comes in and pays her bill". The Mayor also indicated that a meeting would be held in the next two weeks in which the Council will take up the policy of when a delinquent bill will have to be paid before the Town takes action.

There was a feeling at the meeting that there were more than the two at the meeting with delinquent water and sewer bills.

"Why would banks want to do this particularly the big ones (banks) when they appear to be very prosperous and solvent?", pondered Jones. "Well banking today is very competitive.

Maybe we don't see it as much here on the local scale as in the big cities or elsewhere in the country, but banks today by and large....are required to be more competitive", he said. "They are constantly asked to provide more and more services. And by and large banks try to respond to this challenge," he added.

Jones also said that he along with other colleagues in the banking field realize "...you can't be everything to everybody....". Meaning that one bank can't possibly offer more than it can afford.

In addition to the competitiveness aspect of the geographical expansion he said ".....I suppose many feel the political pressures as well". "More profits mean more for the stockholders", he said. All of these and many more are "dominant factors depending on the bank and its philosophy."

Interstate banking is not as easy as it comes by as the name indicates. "There have been several restrictions placed on this concept," said Jones. He explained that there is an "element of reciprocity....between states". "If a state allows a bank from another state

Woodbridge F.F.A. members placed well in all judging contests at the Delaware State Fair. With eighteen (18) chapters eligible to participate, Woodbridge placed first in Horse Judging with Belinda Schryver, Jeff Allen, Matt Peak, and Mike Pratt as team members. The Dairy Team of Glenn Bailey, Jeff Allen, Jimmy Tucker, and Robert Tull placed second. Belinda Schryver, Keith Pettit, and Jeff Allen led the Poultry Team to a second-place finish. The Livestock Judging Team of Jeff Beauchamp, Donnie Beauchamp, and Keith Tull took third place. The agronomic Crops

Team placed second with Jeff Beauchamp, Russell Carlisle, Glenn Bailey, and Shelley Tucker. The Vegetable Judging Team placed fifth with Andrea Malfitano, Gloria Mansfield, Ed McDowell, and Pam Vonville as team members. Jeff Beauchamp and Russell Carlisle placed fifth in the Small Engines Contest. Jeff Beauchamp and Jimmy Tucker placed seventh and eighth, respectively, in the Tractor Driving Contest. The Woodbridge F.F.A. members also selected the cream of their crops for exhibit in the F.F.A. building, bringing home over forty (40) ribbons.

Georgetown cook hatches a winner!

A Georgetown woman who says she's never before entered a cooking contest has walked off with the top prize in the Delaware Egg Cooking Contest.

Bettye Arnold's "Eggs La Lunch" has earned her $300 in cash from the Delaware Egg Producers and a trip for two to the National Contest in Atlanta, Georgia courtesy of the American Egg Board.

Arnold says the recipe for Eggs La Lunch, a salad type dish made from items including chopped hard-cooked eggs, peas, diced ham, cheese, onion and celery, resulted from her dislike of boring leftovers and waste. One day she went to the refrigerator, pulled out the leftover ingredients and Eggs La Lunch was created.

"Everybody really liked the concoction", Arnold says, "so I continued to make it. When I heard about the contest, everybody encouraged me to enter it."

So Arnold traveled to Betts Egg Farm in Milton for some fresh eggs, wrote down the recipe for the first time, and nervously entered the contest. The results shocked her.

"I was absolutely shocked", she said after hearing the news. And, although she's never entered a cooking contest before, Arnold has already decided to enter them in the future. "I already have an egg recipe for next year's contest!" she says.

Arnold and her husband live on a farm south of Georgetown. They raise chickens for Paramount Poultry.

The 51-year-old Baltimore, MD native is a former actress and singer, and until three years ago she owned Arnold Furniture in Rehoboth Beach, a business her family started 28 years ago.

Arnold is an officer for the Pomona Grange and has been active in the Republican Party.

to do business in its state....that bank's state must do the same for the receiving bank. It is a reciprocal agreement". Jones went on to state that "....doing business....means geographical expansion....through acquisition. And this latter term is important because it distinguishes from opening a branch as opposed to actually acquiring a bank through a sale or purchase."

The issue of interstate banking being law was hotly debated according to Jones. The conference became stalemated over this issue, and Jones said he participated in the debate at this point in an effort to break the stalemate. From this it was resolved that interstate banking would become law when 34 states including the District of Columbia agreed to it which would include the reciprocity element, "....but it would still not be the law until 1991. So we still have six more years," Jones concluded.

At this point in time there are 11 states who have agreed in principal to the concept. Up until this time the use of automatic teller machines (ATMs) were the most effective and least expensive ways of expanding banking into other states.

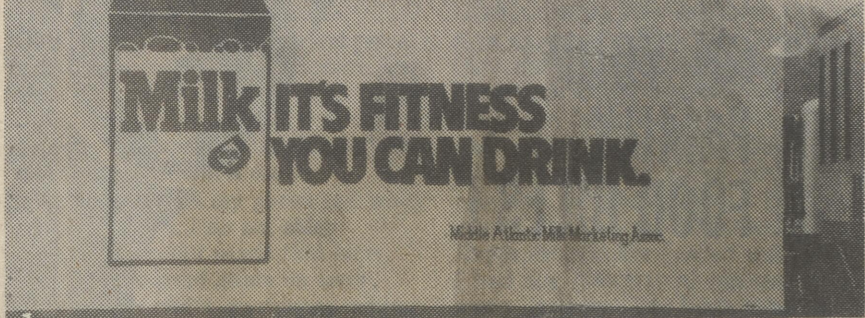

Letter to the Editor

Dear Mr. Farrow,

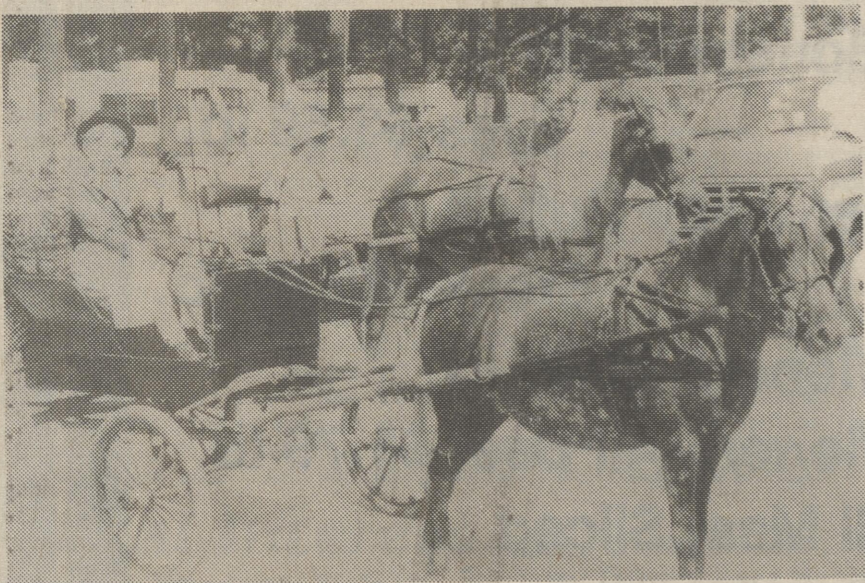

Your participation as a judge in the State Dairy Princess Contest was very much appreciated. We know that you had a tough decision to make, however, we're sure you made the best choice possible. Thank you for your time and patience. Hopefully, we can work together again in the future.

Sincerely,
Martha Cook, Chairperson and the Delaware Dairy Princess

Gab Fest

by Pat Hatfield

This is really the last day of July, but we awakened to an August world this morning. The fog hung heavy and the window screens were wet. Everything was "drippy" and the pattering of moisture on the leaves made it difficult to believe it was not raining.

Today was my mother's birthday. She left us at 52 years of age, just two days before that birthday, and never got to enjoy the card shower we planned for her. To have to read those cards alone and thank the senders was perhaps the hardest thing I ever had to do.

But her gift to me was beyond price. I read again this morning Robert Heburn's beautiful poem entitled, "I Am Not There." It comforted me as always. Perhaps if I share it now it may speak to your hearts also.

"Do not stand at my grave and weep; I am not there. I do not sleep. I am a thousand winds that blow, I am the diamond glints on snow, I am the sunlight on ripened grain, I am the gentle autumn's rain. When you awaken in the morning's hush, I am the swift uplifting rush Of quiet birds in circled flight. I am the soft stars that shine at night. Do not stand at my grave and cry. I am not there. I did not die. I seem to have been baking all during this hot weather, but I get an early start. And after all, you can't let two bananas slowly die, facing you accusingly, when you can turn them into nourishing Banana Bread.

And Ellen wanted a raisin pie; and, as I was making it I said to myself, "You must be losing your mind, baking with the temperature hovering around 90!" But I remembered the famous story, which I am sure you all know, when someone protested to a young man, saying, "Why do you carry that heavy child on your back?" And the young man replied, "He ain't heavy, Mister, he's my brother!" So I said to myself, "It ain't hot, she's my daughter!"

The Greatest Teacher of all said, Remember these, Faith, Hope and Love; but the greatest of these is Love. And Love works Miracles.

Dad expressed his love in his happiness in growing vegetables, glads and roses and in his joy of sharing them with others. We always give away more than we sell and that is our pleasure.

Dad is picking lima beans for the first time this year. They fill first around the bottom, and he is crawling on his hands and knees. I cannot help at this stage, but I can when they are filled so I can pick in a standing position.

We are going to throw out another request for information. My dear cousin and fellow columnist, Serena Hayes, from Milford called and asked if I had any information concerning the moon. It seems that there are two full moons this month which does not usually occur. Like me, she is always interested in the wonders of our great Universe. I have looked through the old copies of my collection of old almanacs. I have one for the following years: 1853, 1872, 1876, 1900, 1902 and 1904. This phenomenon does not occur in any of these years.

Speaking of frustrations, which I related to you in exasperated detail, last week, the jinx or whatever, is still with us. The sweeper gave out and quit while I was doing the floors on Monday morning, and on Monday afternoon, the dryer stopped while my granddaughter and her girlfriend were using it. The sweeper is still all apart, but the dryer is fixed. I am grateful we did not have to buy a new dryer. About the only thing left to quit now is the washer, the toaster and the coffee maker. I am eyeing them fearfully!

Mr. and Mrs. James Boyd and children, accompanied by Mr. Tate Garey, visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dominy on Shelter Island in Long Island, New York last week. They enjoyed water skiing, fishing and swimming.

Audrey and Bill Kates were in Atlantic City, New Jersey last Wednesday with a group from the Senior Center. They enjoyed one of the shows at the Casino.

Mrs. Edward Harcum and daughter Marilyn Eilers and children are visiting Mrs. Harcum's son Weldon, in Rindge, New Hampshire for ten days.

Get well wishes go out to Mr. Calvin Hill of Delaware Avenue, who was hurt while at work. He's in Christiansa Hospital near Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Brobst spent last week in Richmond, Virginia visiting with son David and family.

Rick and Liz Schroeter spent Saturday in Kings Dominion.

Margaret Wicks had as guests during fair week: Merritt Laws of Honolulu, Hawaii, Mr. and Mrs. John Wakely of Montreal, Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Williams of Staten Island, New York and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hayes of Wilmington. Mr. Laws is a former resident of Harrington and visits the fair every year. He visited several friends and relatives during his visit.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Brown this week have been: Mr. and Mrs. Francis Weldon, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Brown, Mrs. Catherine Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Frances Bradley and grandson.

Mr. and Mrs. Winston Linton visited Mrs. Linton's aunt, Mrs. Pearl Kimmey Monday at Argo's Nursing Home, then spent Tuesday in New Jersey visiting Mr. Linton's mother and sister.

Bessie Butler also visited Atlantic City with the Senior Center Trip.

Frank and I had as visitors this week: Beverly Timmons and Betty Miller of Dover, Tara and Dallas James, Fredda and Mike Richards, Phyllis Marvel and my kids Ray, Donna and Sharon. Tara, Dallas, Sharon and mother enjoyed the Bentley Circus out to the fairgrounds on Sunday.

Esther Crisp slid and fell on the ferry and banged her head up. That was a bad storm to be out in the ocean.

Joan Hamstead entertained her father Richard Ratledge and brother Steven for dinner on Monday.

Libby Ann Hitchens is back in the hospital this week. I wish her the best of luck.

My thoughts for this week: Some folks in looks take so much pride They don't think much of what's inside. Well, as for me, I know my face, can never be made a thing of grace. And so I rather think I'll see, How I can fix the inside of me. So folks'll say, "She looks like sin, But ain't she beautiful within!"

Rotary Club News

Rotary Governor of District 763, Don Osbourne, of Denton, Maryland, visited the local club last Monday and gave a report of the progress in the district and the part each club plays in its continued advancement.

At a recent weekly meeting, the club entertained William Hill and Rachel Gussett together with their parents in recognition of their honor as recipients of the annual Harrington Rotary Club awards given to worthy 8th graders, and was granted them at the awards assembly at W.T. Chipman Junior School in June. Dick Johnson was in charge of the program.

Members of the local club are planning to attend the annual picnic sponsored by the Delaware Cooperative Extension Service when it is held at the Delaware Technical and Community College in Georgetown on Tuesday, August 13.

At last week's meeting, Mel Luff gave a graphic account of his trip with his two sons on a boating trip from St. Thomas to Miami, stopping at many of the islands in between.

This summer's outing will take place on Wednesday, August 21, when a trip is planned to include a visit to the Zwanendael Museum at Lewes, to be followed by dinner at the Fisherman's Wharf Restaurant, and then a boat ride from the marina.

The club is planning to man the information booth during the Heritage Day activities on Saturday, September 21.

Harrington Rotary meets each Monday throughout the year at the Harrington Restaurant and Newstand on Delaware Avenue. Bill Smith, president welcomes visitors as well as new members.

Local foursome in "Shenandoah"

by Keith S. Burgess

Earlier this year, area people interested in Broadway musicals went to Georgetown's Del Tech College Theater, to see ex-Harringtonians Mary Ellen Grinolds, Aleta Mason and Bill Thompson, in "Annie Get Your Gun".

Close to 50 people from Harrington have acted in such stage plays, during the last 15 years or so including Mayor Alfred Mann. Others have performed at the high school level. Pat Robinson recently had a leading role in "Naughty Marietta."

Mason was Annie Oakley, and Thompson was Buffalo Bill at Georgetown. Ironically, when "Annie Get Your Gun" was last done, in this area, in Dover in 1976, both the leading man and leading lady were from Harrington. Brenda Collison, in her first of three leading roles in Annie Oakley. Her performance caused tough, Wilmington critic, Otto Dekom to state "She's the best amateur I have seen in Delaware. Matt Burgess was another leading man, Frank Butler. Several other Harrington people were in that show. Aleta Mason was also an excellent Annie Oakley, while Thompson was very good also.

The beat goes on. Four Harrington people are in Don Dean Productions "Shenandoah". Dean is from Woodside. Dale Jarrell is one of Charlie Anderson's six sons in the play. Dale has been in several shows and is improving as a singer, dancer and actor. Jim Olson, last seen as Lt. Buzz Adams in "South Pacific" is a Union Army Lieutenant this time. Keith Burgess is Tinkham, a horse trader, who has been known to purloin an equine or two, on occasion. Jim Callaway, a local singer and band leader, last seen in "My Fair Lady" is a murderous marauder. All four Harringtonians will be doing quite a bit of singing.

"Shenandoah" is a departure from the usual musical comedy fare, in that it is new (1975) and hasn't been done in the Dover area, in fact it has been done anywhere in Delaware. The well-known musicals keep popping up every few years, sometimes being performed as often as three times in ten years. Shenandoah's music is beautiful. Only one song "Freedom" is at all familiar, to this writer and that is because the Burgess trio were all in the 100 voice Bicentennial Chorus which sang in Dover, Wilmington and Philadelphia in 1976. "Freedom" was one of the most delightful numbers, in our program, which consisted of many times covering the first two hundred years of this country's history.

"Shenandoah" is the story of Charlie Anderson, a strong, earthy, Virginia farmer and his struggle to keep his family of six sons and a daughter out of the Civil War. Charlie is played by Dave Joyner, who lives on a farm near Woodside. Dave is an experienced actor, with a robust, bass voice. The success of this play depends to a large extent on Joyner. He's been working hard for several months. We have complete confidence in Dave and feel we have a very special show coming up on September 27th and 28th plus a matinee Sunday, the 29th.

Tickets are $5 each, for all seats. Tickets are available here from any of the four locals in the show.

Frankly Speaking

Look to the future

by Mike Harker

A time to think about the future of harness racing is upon us. Gone are the days of racing a horse for the sheer fun of it. Today we must go for every cent we can get at whatever the cost, just to stay competitive. When we go to post, our horse must be sharp and fit and ready to give it's all. Some tracks make it almost impossible to do this. We all know that a horse must stay race fit by racing at least once a week and no more than ten days between races. At some tracks getting in every two weeks is a trick in itself. Take for example my filly. If we are lucky enough to get in every two weeks, we are indeed lucky. That luxury seems to evade us once in a while too. It seems that she was also eligible one week, and then was also eligible the following week. Can someone tell me what one has to do to get a race around here? Where's my U.S.T.A. rule book? The future of racing seems to be headed towards the big tracks, the big boys and the big horses. The fantastic Nihilator brings the crowds to the races but without the little horses, it would be nothing more than a one horse show. Harness racing is at its finest when a field of horses finish together not all spread out for the length of the track. Have you ever listened to the crowds cheering their choice on, it can be amazing what you hear. People use the races to vent their anger from the days frustrations. Many a driver and horse has felt the wrath of a bettor who lost money on them, only to win their praise in the next race.

I have heard the question many a time, what can we do to help the sport return to the days of yesteryear. We as horsemen are doing just about enough, but the tracks are not doing half enough. We need more publicity, more fan involvement, instead of crying that they are losing money because of the lack of attendance. Maybe they should try to bring the public back to the track. I don't believe that exotic wagering is the answer. Why did the daily double bite the dust? Sure the state lottery has taken some of the betting dollars away from harness racing, but there is still a lot left out there. Dover Downs can make more money from car races than it can from horse racing, so you can see the handwriting on the wall where that track is concerned. Brandywine has made its stand perfectly clear in that it wants to sell, so that only leaves good old Harrington Raceway to carry the banner in this state. One must wonder what would happen there if the state fair was not held here. Racetracks have come and gone in the past years, but harness racing is here to stay.

Delaware is the "first state", but they have been beat out by Maryland and New Jersey in seeing that they can compete with the state lottery. The casinos in Atlantic City offer their patrons all types of comcoons to get their business. Think if you will about what a harness horse bettor has to look forward to. One dollar to park, two dollars for admission, one dollar for a tip sheet, one dollar and twenty-five cents for a program, one dollar and fifty cents for a hot dog, one dollar for a coke. That's over seven dollars, if my math is correct, and he has not even made a bet. Now horses like Nihilator hit the track, and the bettors go bananas. They will bet on a horse that will only pay $2.40, $2.20, $2.20. Then the tracks tell you that the desire to bet at the races has dropped to the point that they can't make money.

The future of harness racing is going to the big tracks and maybe we have all seen the end of the beginning. When you look at all the county fairs throughout the nation where the harness races are the biggest attraction, one gets the feeling that all is not lost yet.

Talk to you next week.....

Bunting, Joseph and Phillips conquer Georgetown Speedway

Harold Bunting picked up his first modified feature of '85 at Georgetown and in doing so, became a preferred starter for the Schaefer 200. Defending track champion, Mel Joseph, Jr. won his first limited late model feature this season and Bill Phillips collected his first career win in the street modifieds. Clifford Todd took the lead on lap one of the 35 lap Schaefer qualifier and set a blistering pace until the sixth lap when John Malcolm came to a stop on the front straight. On the restart, Norman Short got into the wall and the leader Todd's engine let go. John Pinter inherited the lead with Tom Capie and Hal Browning challenging. Capie made his move into first on lap 15 but could not pull away from Pinter, Browning and Bunting. Steve Downs spun on lap 24 bringing out the caution once again. Bunting had now moved into third with Bob Toreky fourth and Freddy Brightbill fifth. Three laps later Bunting moved by Pinter into second. A fuel injection belt broke on the leaders car on lap 28 and Bunting inherited the lead. At the checker it was Bunting the winner with Pinter second, Toreky third, Brightbill fourth, and Doug Hoffman rounding out the top five. Mel Joseph, Jr., won his first limited late model feature going wire to wire but being constantly challenged. On lap seven, Landy Adams lost an engine causing Lee Joines and Keith Jerman to tangle in turn three. On the restart, Jeff Turpin took the lead going into one but was unable to hold off Joseph down the backstraight. John Kenney moved in to make it a three-way battle for the lead with the yellow coming out again on lap 12 for Buddy Messick with a blown engine. Joseph was slow to get going on the restart and Kenney moved by both Turpin and Joseph into the lead. Once again Mel fought back into first down the back chute and on to the checker. Kenney finished in second followed by Chuck Graves, Duck Robinson, and Preston Beach. The street modified action was so tight that winner Bill Phillips thought he had finished second. Ira Hitchens led until lap four when Stanley Pete took the advantage. Pete was able to pull away from the six car battle for second, but with three to go pulled into the infield unnoticed by Phillips. Tim White was second followed by C.R. Robinson.

Ricky Rudd [right] current President of the Union/Darlington Record Club points out some "rookie" facts about the Southern 500 September 1 at Darlington Raceway to four-time Indianapolis 500 winner A.J. Foyt. The legendary Foyt, who has entered the Southern 500, will be wearing rookie stripes for the event, meaning Foyt must take the Union/Darlington Rookie test before he can qualify. Foyt, who has also won the Daytona 500, elected to waive the rookie test exemption which is offered to champions from another sanction body. "Why should I be different than any other rookie," Foyt said. "I'm looking forward to coming to Darlington."

Bunting squeaks by Pinter to win 75th at U.S. 13

by Don Allen

Another chapter was added to the 1985 book of hair-breadth victories at the U.S. 13 Speedway Saturday night when Milford, DE's Harold Bunting snared the checkered by inches over the hard charging B&F Towing #28 piloted by Bordentown, N.J. native John Pinter. Pinter had tasted victory earlier in the evening when he captured the King of Kings match race for Modified feature winners and though he led twenty of the twenty-five laps of the feature, lap traffic and a burst of speed from the #19D of Bunting at the stripe proved to be his downfall. Pinter was scored in second followed by Billy Towers, Hal Browning and the fifth place car of Gary Trice.

Towers' and Browning's duel for third was more of a wheel-to-wheel contest and as the laps wound down that plot thickened when Ron Keys, in the Dean Price Racing Engines #89 began to challenge from fifth.

Pinter and Bunting held the spotlight though and as the white flag was displayed by starter Bill Lawson they turned up the wick another notch. The event's final caution had flown on lap 19 and with just one to go, the front runners were starting to encounter lap traffic. One of the back markers was directly in front of Pinter as he entered the third and he was forced to back out of the throttle and move to the high side. This gave Bunting his chance. Pinter entered the front chute just inches from the wall. Bunting punched the throttle the #19D and threaded the needle between Pinter and the lap car to lead by a bumper at the stripe, forcing the scorers to refer to the video tape of the race to determine the winner. Both drivers waited patiently in victory lane but as they congratulated each other on a fine race, the call came down from the tower that Bunting had scored his 75th career win at the Delmar, DE speed plant.

Gary Trice's confiscation of the fifth spot from Keys on the final lap regained him his Modified season points lead from Freddy Brightbill who ended his night in the pits after breaking on lap two. Gary will enjoy an eleven point lead coming into next Wednesday night's "Diamond State Fifty" 50 lapper for Modifieds.

Five of the eight cars eligible for the "King of Kings" match race answered the call for that five lap, winner-take-all skirmish. Pinter was outstanding in that battle as he took the point from second and convincingly led every lap. At the checkered it was Pinter, Bob Toreky, Bunting, Norman Short and Bobby Wilkins. Wilkins had dropped a motor in his J. Robert West Contractors #69 the previous night at Georgetown Speedway and Eugene Mills and the Blue Hen Racing Team had graciously offered him the use of their #30H Troyer car for the match race as well as the feature so that he could preserve his sixth place points race standing.

Feature Results: Bunting, Pinter, Towers, Browning, Trice, Keys, Charlie Langenstein, Dickinson, David Trice, Norman Short Jr., Decker, Eddie Brown Jr., Daggett, Steve Downs, Toreky, Wilkins, Brightbill.

Browning romps to seventh season win in U.S. 13 Late Models

by Don Allen

Georgetown, DE's Hal Browning brought the Joe's Paint and Body Shop #100 to the winner's circle for the seventh time this season Saturday night at U.S. 13 following a hard-fought battle with two-time Late Model Champion Lou Johnson and the cream of Lower Delaware Late Models. Johnson, who led the first seven circuits of the event in his Cropper's Pest Control #96, forced Browning to use everything in his bag of tricks to capture the checkered flag giving the fans some fine wheel-to-wheel racing in the process. Johnson claimed the second slot followed by season points leader David Hill, Vernon Harris and fifth place finisher Harlan Williams.

Johnson blasted from fifth to lead the first lap over pole sitter John Broussard in the Canupp Racing #007. Broussard had scored a convincing win in his heat race but as the green flew to start the feature, something seemed to fail on the car and on lap five John retired dejectedly to the pits. Browning came from twelfth on the starting grid to challenge Johnson's lead on lap four. Three caution periods in rapid succession on laps three, four and five prevented Lou from opening any kind of a lead and on the restart to begin lap six, he and Browning began a confrontation that brought the fans to the edge of their seats. The two buzzed the half-mile side-by-side for the next two circuits with the #96 keeping the #100 to the outside. Browning bided time and coming off the fourth, he pointed the #100 to the low groove and pulled Johnson across the stripe.

Johnson refused to give up and it wasn't until the final five laps that Browning was able to open some breathing space between the two cars. Third spot was hotly contested throughout the event also. Ron Wilson in his Rumpstitch Machine #15 had maintained the slot since the early laps holding off the challenges of Hill and Joey Carey. Wilson was on his way to another of his fine finishes but mechanical problems sidelined him with just five to go leaving Hill, Carey and now Vernon Harris to vie for third.

The "mechanical gremlin" would bite Carey on lap eighteen causing him to finish a disheartening eleventh and Hill preserved over Harris at the checkered.

FEATURE RESULTS: Browning, Johnson, Hill, Harris, Williams, John Swift, Charles Wilkerson, Dick Bartlett, Sammy Lowe, Ed Pettyjohn, Joey Carey, Ronald Wilson, Alex Beaumont, Jim Wilkins, Broussard, Wayne Nallor, Duane Rust, Jim Hassett.

Browning was presented a handsome trophy in victory lane by Gerald Banks representing the Banks Co. Inc. the sponsor for the evening's events. Next week I.G. Burton Chevy, Olds, AMC will sponsor a full night of racing action highlighted by the appearance of some racers from the early days of dirt track racing.

Boone goes undefeated

by Darlene Dill

It was truly an evening of thrills and spills at the Piney Neck Speedway Saturday. Spectators saw plenty of action as karters were battling wheel-to-wheel and bumper-to-bumper.

Boys and Girls Box Stock was the first to get underway. Kevin (Spark Plug) Colborn again took home with his first place honors. Finishing second was Chris Mason and Chucky Hudson, third.

Second on the grid was the Sr. Box Stock Light Class with fifteen entries. Butch Harrington came from the third starting position and captured the win in the heat. Walt Tawnes finished second followed by Dale Elben, who moved up from the 10th starting position. This suggested to the competition to beware come feature time. In the main event, Harrington pulled out the win and was able to hold off Dale Elben who was a real threat for the entire 20 laps. Walt Tawnes finished third and Lin Martin, fourth.

As always the Junior Box Stock Class put on a real show. Cindy Hurly who had lead most of the race dropped out due to mechanical problems just a few feet before the checkered leaving the win to Danny Swafford. The finishing order is as follows: 2nd Alan Darling; 3rd Craig Anderson; and 4th Alan Garey.

Sr. Box Stock Heavy was next to take the track. Donald Lingo made a clean sweep in both the heat and the feature. Placing 2nd was Eddie Cain; 3rd Kart #191; 4th Alan Anderson.

Next in line was the Super Stock class who saw Jim Boone chalk up another victory followed by Mark Bell in second and Mark VanVorst in third. Are there any Super Stockers out there that can break this string of victories?

In the Limited Modified Class, Tim Welch pulled off an easy win in the heat. At feature time things got wild and crazy, with a few pile-ups in the first two laps. This put several competitors out for the night. Rick Elliott moved into the #1 slot and secured a sizeable lead over the rest of the field. Finishing second was Marty Fleetwood, 3rd Tim Welch and 4th Butch Harrington.

C.R. Phillips had a solo victory in the Yamaha Class as Cliff Coverdale experienced kart problems and kart #7 weighed in light.

Regular racing will continue this Saturday at 8:00 p.m. CORRECTION: Last week Alan Darling finished 2nd in the Junior Box Stock class instead of 3rd.

Kenney roars to the checkered in Banks Co. sponsored Limited Late Model event at U.S. 13

by Don Allen

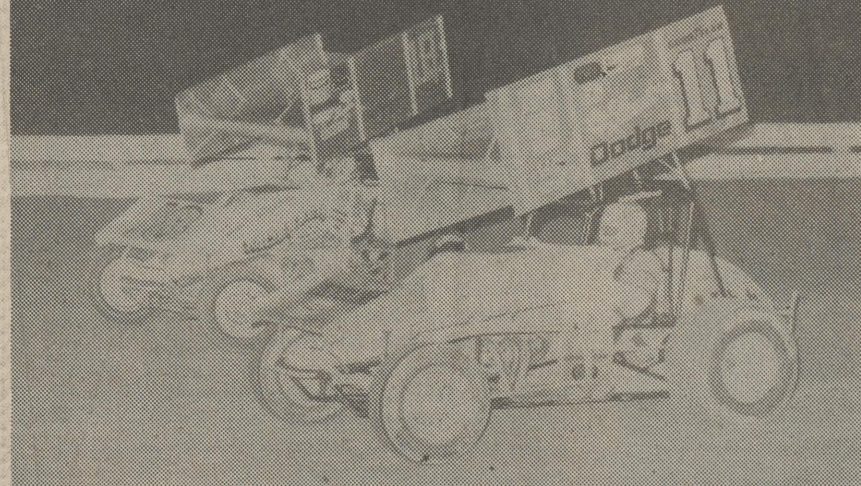

The CRW, Wicomico Heating and Air Conditioning #2 piloted by Salisbury, MD's John Kenney, scored another "cool" victory in the 15 lap Limited Late Model event sponsored by the Banks, Co. Inc. of Frankford, DE at U.S. 13 Speedway Saturday night. This was John's seventh visit to victory lane this season and this record has given him a commanding lead in the season points standings. The win was not an easy one as Kenney had some very stiff competition in the early going from the mounts of Jeff Patilla and Phil Wells.

Patilla led the first four laps of the show in his Coors Light Monte Carlo. The mount began to trail vapor and fade on his final lead circuit giving the now second place Wells in his J.V. Wells #41W a shot at the point. Wells looked unbeatable as he stretched his lead but on lap eight Kenney moved around Patilla for second and closed swiftly on the rear bumper of the #41W. Wells was holding off the #2 handily but Lady Luck took a hand. As Wells powered off the fourth turn to a complete lap twelve, his right rear tire gave up and Kenney snared the lead.

Todd Richardson was Kenney's final threat but John smoothly motored away and bested him by several car-lengths at the finish. Richardson finished second followed by C.R. Robinson, Preston Beach and Morris Tucker.

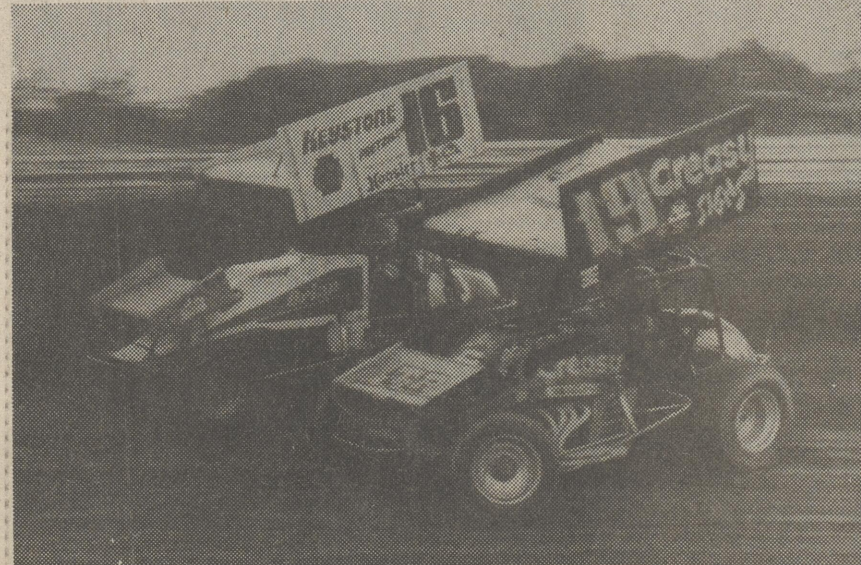

A new winner basked in the spotlight for the Street Modified feature. Tom Elliott of Delmar, DE motored into victory lane after a heated battle with a full field of the full bodied stockers. Finishing second was Jeff Bush and third place was captured by Reese Conley III.

DOVER - Margaret Ann Hartnett, 84, of 196 Rose Valley Road, died in Courtland Manor Nursing Home Sunday, August 4, 1985, of complications from a stroke.

Mrs. Hartnett was a homemaker and member of Capitol Grange 18.

Her husband, John R. Sr., died in 1974. Surviving are four sons, Charles of Felton, and Herbert, Leo and John F., all of Dover; 14 grandchildren, two step-grandchildren, 24 great-grandchildren, and two step-great-grandchildren.

Services will be Thursday at 3 p.m. in Torbert Funeral Chapel, Reed and Bradford streets, where friends may call tonight from 7 to 9 p.m. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

THERON J. FELTON

LINCOLN - Theron J. "T.J." Felton, 2-month-old son of Paula Felton, of R.D. Box 3617, died Wednesday, July 31, 1985, in Milford Memorial Hospital, Milford. Determination of the cause of the baby's death is pending results of an autopsy.

He is also survived by his grandmother, Patricia Felton, and great-grandmother, Sarah Walls, both of Lincoln.

Services were Monday at 8 p.m. in Young's Funeral Home, Milton, where friends called after 6 p.m. Burial was at 10 a.m. Tuesday in Old Hickory Cemetery, Slaughter Neck.

LASERS

EYE SURGERY

KENT GENERAL, Central Delaware's Hospital and Health Care Center, has expanded its modern facilities and purchased important new equipment for eye surgery.

Highly skilled Ophthalmic Surgeons, and our excellent staff and equipment, combine in a progressive program that features new lasers and precise optical microscopes.

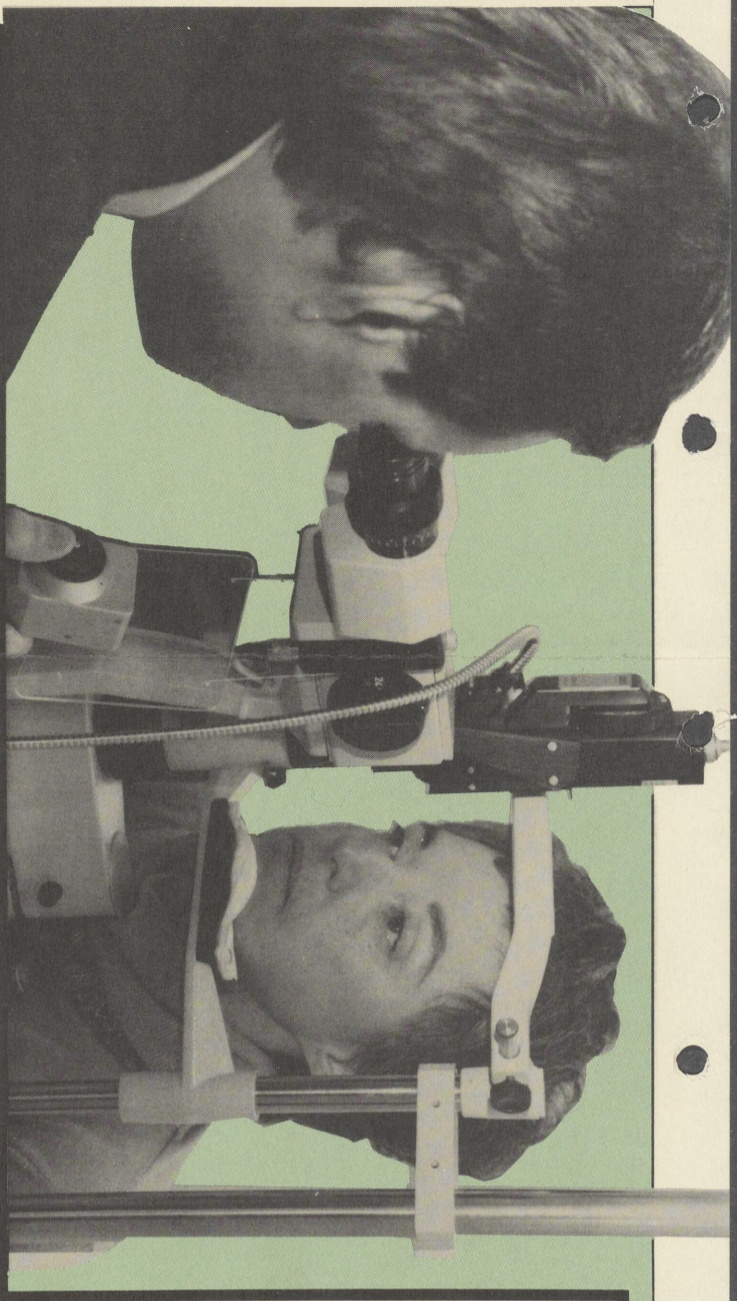

LASERS

Lasers are becoming very important in health care, and our Ophthalmic Surgeons are skilled in their safe and effective use.

LASERS are delicate and precise, and they offer an advantage for patients and doctors.

The laser gives out a narrow beam of high-energy invisible light. When the beam is released in brief pulses of less than a billionth of a second it can seal blood vessels to stop bleeding, make incisions, and be used for many procedures that in the past required extensive surgery.

Now — at KENT GENERAL, Lasers mean shorter recovery time and lower costs for the patient. The Eye Treatment Center is another example of our continuing efforts to bring needed technology to Central Delaware.

ARGON LASER

The ARGON Laser is used to treat Glaucoma and diseases of the retina.

Glaucoma is caused by too much pressure from fluid within the eyeball. The built-up pressure can damage the optic nerve, resulting in loss of vision.

Do you know that Glaucoma is called "the sneak-thief of sight" because so many people don't know they have it? For that reason, it's a good idea to have the doctor make a quick and simple test of the pressure in your eye.

With KENT GENERAL's new ARGON Laser, there is an alternative to surgery for patients who have Glaucoma. The laser is a modern effective technique used by the Ophthalmic Surgeon to focus light on the tissue to increase drainage of fluid through the membranes. This eases pressure on the optic nerve.

YAG LASER

Our YAG Laser is used to treat a condition that can occur after cataract surgery, known as "secondary cataracts."

Cataracts are a common cause of loss of vision. The clear lens of the eye becomes cloudy, and sight begins to fail.

Your Ophthalmic Surgeon at Kent General removes the cloudy lens and implants a plastic lens to correct your vision.

Sometimes the clear membrane that is left to support the new lens becomes cloudy—this is a "secondary cataract."

With KENT GENERAL's new YAG Laser, a simple outpatient procedure restores clear vision—quickly, conveniently, and without pain by using the laser to clear the cloudy membrane. With the laser, there is no need for additional surgery.
