

New Wave Swim Team honors own

by Lynda Rae Gannon

The New Wave Swim Team members of the Lake Forest Community Swim Team held their summer League banquet on Saturday, September 7, 1985, at the Viola Ruritan Club from 6:00 - 8:00 p.m.

Welcoming remarks were made by our outgoing president David Wood. He congratulated the swimmers, the coach, and the parents for a very successful swim team program. Ron Draper, the incoming president gave the prayer for the banquet. The dinner was a mixture of delicious dishes provided by the swim team parents and meats and drinks prepared by the officers. Jeanie Wood coordinated the efforts to provide everyone with more than enough food to complement their swimming thoughts which followed the dinner.

David Wood introduced his officers from the 1984-85 swim team seasons and then conducted the election and introduction of the new officers for 1985-86. Ron Draper will take over as president of the parents' organization. His corps of officers will be John Murphy, vice president; Bethel Crockett, secretary; Kathy Monroe, treasurer; Jim Blades, awards, Bonnie Blades, statistician, Bill and Ann Roat, Ways and Means, Lynda Gannon, Public Relations and Bob Bates, Team Representative.

After the short business meeting, the swimmers were presented with certificates of participation by age groups. Jim Blades assisted his wife Bonnie by giving an update on the statistician's results for the summer swims. Jim as awards chairman and Ron Draper then presented trophies to all swimmers who participated in at least two Delmarva Swim Association swim meets. David Dill took pictures of the swimmers with their coach as the trophies were presented.

Dave "Woody" Wood began the wrap-up of the evening's events by giving his final remarks about his two and one-half years of service to the swim team as the president of the parents' organization. He felt that the swim team had grown considerably under the direction of several coaches, dedicated swimmers and parents. He then created the 1985 summer team bundle of dowels to Coach Davis. The swimmers each wrote their names on the individual dowels and then placed them together to represent the strength and unity of the team. This tradition was started at the last winter swim team banquet and is one that the team hopes to add to and to continue in the future.

Coach Dennis Davis gave his comments and thank-yous for the team spirit which he has observed in the short time he has been coaching the team. He said, "We are going to be in this thing together. We want to make this program a solid community effort."

Information for becoming a member of the swim team is now available. The swim program which Coach Davis has provided for the swimmers and for new interested members promises to be challenging and rewarding; a pleasant "Learning experience" for our communities' young people. If you have any questions, please contact Coach Davis at the school, 284-9292 or any of the officers whose names were listed above. We welcome you into this special program.

by Victoria G. Ficks

The famed Harrington dog, Daisy, lost her first round in court Monday as Magistrate Russell T. Rash dismissed an attempt to have the charges dropped against the dog's owner, Pat Maher.

Mrs. Maher's attorney, H. Cabbage Brown, argued a motion in Magistrate Court 7 in Dover to have the "running loose" charges dropped on account of "prosecutorial tactics."

Brown said the dog warden, Donald Aliff is "shopping around" for a judge and a court that will give him a conviction against Maher.

"Last year when Aliff brought charges against Maher in Magistrate Court #6 in Harrington he lost. The law states that a person can choose to bring his case to any court, but I feel that Aliff is still shopping around for a court on his side. If my feelings are correct then Aliff is wrong in doing so," said Brown Wednesday morning.

Last month Maher was charged by dog warden Donald Aliff with leaving her dog unleashed in Harrington last month. Her dog, Daisy, gained her fame by following postman, Frank E. Collins on his mail route for the past two years.

If convicted, Maher could face a fine up to $50 and would have to keep the dog on a leash or penned up.

The case is still scheduled for September 12, but Brown predicted that it will be postponed.

Lightning bolt sets

Milford fire

A bolt of lightning was the apparent cause of a fire that broke out in W. Truitt Webb's barn on Rt. 36 in Milford shortly before 6 a.m. Monday.

The lightning bolt struck at a fungicide which created the blaze and sent out toxic fumes. When inhaled, the fumes affect impulses from the brain and can cause cardiac arrest.

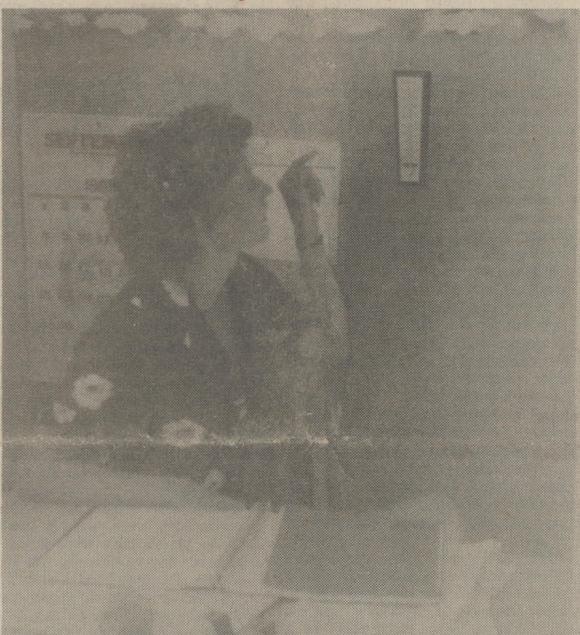

Responding to the blaze were the Milford, Frederica, Houston, South Bowers, and Ellendale fire companies. The Farmington Fire Company was on standby at the Houston Fire Hall. The Felton and Harrington Fire Companies were at the Milford Fire Hall on standby.

Treated and released at the Milford

Memorial Hospital for smoke inhalation were: Nelson E. Ortiz, 44; Robert L. Burlingame, 24 and Joseph William Lawrence, 28, of the Milford Fire Company; and Salvatore Ortiz, 37, of the Houston Fire Company. Nelson E. Ortiz, 44, and David Alan Mick, 28, of the Milford Fire Department were admitted to Milford Memorial Hospital and held for observation.

Milford Fire Chief Jim Bailey said that the barn contained mostly seed and "that there was quite a bit of damage", but he couldn't estimate the amount.

Further details were unavailable as we went to press.

Two bridges temporarily closing

Bridge 388A over Coursey Pond and Bridge 388B over McColley Pond on Route 15 in Kent County was closed to thru traffic on Monday, September 9th and will continue to be closed until June of 1986. The closure is necessary to allow George and Lynch, Inc. of New Castle to replace the deteriorated timber structures, which are located between Canterbury and Milford, at a bid price of $3,292,011.

The official marked detour route throughout the construction period will be Route 15, Road 391, Road 390 across Fork Landing Bridge, Road 35 across Carpenters Bridge and Route 12. Roadway access for local traffic will be maintained on all sides of both bridges during the construction period.

The existing bridges, which were originally constructed in the early 1930's, will be replaced with new composite single-span steel structures each consisting of two 12 foot travel lanes and two 8 foot shoulders. The project will also involve roadway realignment, replacement of the spillways along the bridges, construction of an underground drainage system and replacement of the retaining walls near the bridges' approaches. The new bridges will be capable of supporting the full legal weight limit, including buses, emergency equipment and other heavy vehicles.

Motorists are advised to use alternate routes whenever possible.

Frederica Council considers development plan

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

FREDERICA - Dan Griffith, a former Frederica councilman and chairman of the committee to study possible proposals for a comprehensive development plan for Frederica, presented a proposal by the University of Delaware last Wednesday night at the Frederica Town Council during the regular monthly meeting.

Griffith said the University of Delaware's plan would cost approximately $13,006.00.

According to Griffith the Town of Frederica would be responsible for about 3/4's of the cost. This would amount to approximately $9936. The other 1/4 would be subsidized by a federal grant.

Griffith also added that the University had suggested that the plan could be broken down into several phases for payment.

The phases would be as follows: Phase I - $900, would cover a pre-study program by the University. Phase II would cost approximately $3700 which would be the method of achieving a plan and drawing up the zoning regulations from this. Phase III - $350.00 which would be for the coverage of the expense of public hearings. Phase IV - $488 which would be for the expense of the final draft.

The Town of Frederica has for several years been trying to develop a zoning map for the Town, and other develop-

Felton Council proposes new water bill

by Victoria G. Ficks

The Felton town council met September 2 to discuss a new water payment policy.

The new policy states that all residents must pay their quarterly water bill before or on its due date. If the bill is not paid, residents will have 30 days to pay it. If these requirements are not met, water services will be cut off.

"The new policy will be printed on the next quarterly water bill. This way we are certain that everyone will know about the change in policy. We are just trying to be fair to everyone," said council member John Hopkins.

Hopkins also said that the delinquent Greczkin bill has been paid. The Greczkin said that they didn't pay their bill because their water was unsatisfactory," said Hopkins.

The Greczkin's trash pickup and water bill totaled $183.62.

The Felton town council will meet again on October 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the town hall.

Harrington Council can't meet a quorum

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

HARRINGTON - The regular scheduled monthly meeting of the Harrington Council was cancelled on Monday night due to a lack of a quorum. The meeting was rescheduled for Wednesday night at 8 p.m., but it has been cancelled also for a lack of a quorum.

The lack of quorum is due to Councilman Ray Gagne's resignation, illness of Dan Coleman, and the work schedule of Councilman Donald Jarrell. City Manager George Volenik is busy shuffling times and schedules in an effort to have a meeting.

Volenik said on Tuesday "that the Council needs to appoint a replacement for Gagne right away. This would eliminate the problem that faces the Council at this time."

The topics which need the Council's attention are the issues growing out of the demolition of certain properties in the community. The issue of abatement of the tax penalty....which amounts to $979....on the Delmar Packaging property is another matter that needs addressing. There is a re-zoning

Houston Council designated Clean-up Week

The first two weeks in October will be designated as cleanup weeks in Houston, according to Houston Mayor Connie Morgan.

"A newsletter will be sent out to town residents notifying them of the cleanup weeks," she said at the town meeting on September 5.

In other business, the council decided that notices will be sent out to several town residents regarding an overgrowth of grass and weeds. "Children playing in the streets have been a problem," said Morgan.

In an effort to correct this problem, Morgan said parents and special duty police who patrol the area will be notified regarding proper safety procedures.

The Houston town council will meet again on October 3 at 7:30 p.m. in the firehall.

Coast Guard to restore Mispillion Light

The U.S. Coast Guard has agreed to relight the beacon at the Mispillion Lighthouse on the Mispillion River. The light was removed last October by the Coast Guard. It has great value to many Delaware boaters. Every year an estimated 100,000 boaters use the Cedar Creek ramp - the state's busiest - to head out into the bay. Many of them are weekend boaters who depend on the light to help find their way back to shore after a day fishing. Boaters are quickly able to locate their position by making reference to this well established landmark.

The Town has purchased a 1982 former Maryland State Police sedan... Ford LTD for $2400. "It has high mileage, but other than that I think we got a good buy", said Councilperson Rebecca Zullo. The car was licensed on Monday and presumably ready to be activated. The new Chief of Police Bruce W. Tkachuk, has been hired on a 60 day trial basis. It was agreed that the 60 day trial would begin once the car is in complete operation. "Then we would be judging the two things together (the car and the chief) which would give us a better view of the whole situation", said Rebecca Zullo.

In another matter William Jones, who is trying to place a mobile home on a parcel of land in Frederica separated by an easement was told by Council that they would approve his request for a mobile home but they wanted him first to obtain a survey so that all would know exactly where the easement is located. Jones said later he hopes the Town would take action to close up the easement.

The Council was also asked to take action against those who refuse to pay either their taxes or trash bills. The message was directed at absentee landlords who refuse to pay their bills. Council agreed to send demand letters to all who are delinquent in their bills by October 1st. The landlords would have the time prescribed by law to

The Town was asked again to consider the water leak in front of the elementary school. The leak has been there for several years. The school is actually connected to the new 10" line. The Council agreed that the water in that line should be shut off. They are seeking someone to do just that, and who can help them find the water line which is leaking.

Dave Coady, of Greenwood, in 1982 at Wonderboom Military Base, headquarters for 2nd and 5th Signal Regiments, just outside Pretoria, South Africa.

Former "Soldier of Fortune" heads Conservative Caucus

A former "soldier of fortune" who served in the Rhodesian Army, David F. Coady, of Greenwood, is a man who believes in taking action to back up his conservative beliefs.

When the 42-year-old Coady, a former U.S. Marine, heard that the Conservative Caucus of Delaware was interested in organizing a lower Delaware chapter, he immediately took action. He wrote many letters and made numerous phone calls to present and prospective members.

Coady arranged an organizational meeting in Milford on August 17. Elected at the meeting were Coady as the chapter's chairman, William C. Wharton Jr. of Harrington, treasurer, and Helen M. Peters, of Dover, executive secretary. Thomas Crompton, of Frederica, was appointed public relations chairman.

Coady's quick action in forming a lower Delaware chapter of the Conservative Caucus in Delaware is typical of his modus operandi.

A nightshift security supervisor at Perdue, Inc. in Georgetown, Coady is a prolific letter-to-the-editor writer in support of numerous conservative causes.

Coady's interest in conservative causes goes back to Barry Goldwater's unsuccessful bid for the presidency in 1964. During a 30-day leave from the U.S. Marine Corps, he worked for a Citizens for Goldwater committee in Chester, Pa. He has been an ardent drummer for the advancement of conservative principles ever since.

At present his attention is focused on political activity regarding South Africa.

Coady's knowledge of that strife-ridden country was learned firsthand as a communications soldier in the Rhodesian Army. He served from 1975 to 1981 and rose to the rank of sergeant major. He also served in the South African Army from June 1981 to June 1982.

"The African National Congress is using the same tactics in South Africa as all Communist terrorist organizations have used in the past," Coady said.

"They terrorize fellow blacks into supporting their cause with beatings, murders and mutilations. This has been the practice of so-called freedom fighters in Africa since Jomo Kenyatta's Mau Mau in Kenya," he added. In Rhodesia, Coady supervised deployment of both manned and unmanned radio relay stations and provided communications for troop movements and military convoys.

"I visited the scene of the infamous Elim Mission Massacre the day after it happened. I was among the first army troops to arrive," Coady said. "The missionaries who fed and attended to the sick and wounded terrorists were all killed with the exception of one man who managed to hide during the massacre. The women and children, including boys, were raped in front of the men before they were killed. A baby about two months old was lying dead with a crushed head. That's what Communist terrorists call justice in the name of the socialist revolution."

Coady's ire concerning Rhodesia and South Africa was first aroused back in 1967 when President Lyndon Johnson declared an oil embargo against Rhodesia.

"To say that I was outraged by Johnson's action is an understatement. I purchased a quart of oil and wrote a short letter of support and mailed both

Letters to the Editor

Editor:

To those of you who for years talked about needed changes in the Lake Forest School District, now is the time to put some action into your words.

To the senior citizens of our school district: Please help us in our efforts to get our school budget back on track. Another referendum may mean a doubling of your school taxes. Then, as Kent County reassesses, as they are proposing, your school taxes could quadruple in a year.

To the citizens of the Frederica area, please stop and think about the money spent needlessly on legal fees by this district in the past year. The $20-25,000 spent here could have put a much needed classroom on the East Elementary School.

Our board inspected our high school on Monday, Aug. 26, 1985, and found it to be sound. Yet, it is still necessary to place buckets and cans in the halls and classrooms when it rains to try to catch all the leaks.

It has been a few years ago that we were advised that there was more money in the debt service account than was needed. At that time, we transferred a small portion of that money to the account to purchase textbooks. Yet, last year we still had our children trying to use outdated textbooks. We have been told that this year our children will all have new or less-than-5-year-old science books. Please check these books out when your children come home.

Since the notice of the last board meeting was only posted at the high school and not at the rest of our schools, please make a note on your calendar of Sept. 12 for the workshop session at the W.T. Chipman school and Sept. 19 for the monthly board meeting at Lake Forest High School.

Please attend those meetings and make our board and administration accountable to the citizens of this district.

Jerry Falwell is right. We are not getting the truth from our news media.

What is happening in South Africa is the same pattern we saw in Cuba, Vietnam, the Middle East, and the Central American countries. The communists hide behind social problems that don't have quick solutions to stir up the people to promote revolution. The rioters don't represent the vast majority, the news media tries to make it seem like they do.

If the government fails in South Africa, the people there will be equal,

"Moore Comfort" founder welcomed to Comfort, Inc. Management Team

Kenney J. Moore Jr.

BRIDGEVILLE • Kenney J. Moore Jr., founder of Moore Comfort Company in Delmar, joined Comfort Inc. Aug. 28 as manager of the firm's HVAC (heating, ventilation and air conditioning) department.

Moore brings to Comfort Inc. more than 300 customers and nearly 15 years of experience in the heat-air conditioning business on Delmarva. A native of Salisbury, Md., Moore gained his initial HVAC training while serving in the Air Force.

Moore said his decision to join Comfort Inc. was based on his desire to "maintain the integrity and quality of our primary objective — your comfort."

As manager of Comfort's HVAC department, Moore will oversee approximately 35 Comfort employees providing services for residential, industrial and construction customers throughout the tri-state area.

Comfort Inc., which celebrated its 25th anniversary last November, was founded in Bridgeville by John C. Hopkins. Today, the corporation employs more than 250 and provides "comfort" to customers throughout the Delmarva Peninsula and in nearby metropolitan areas. Last year, with 125 Comfort trucks, trailers and vans on the road, the firm's annual volume reached $18 million.

This year the taxpayers win

by Governor Michael N. Castle

On Thursday morning, I signed into law the third major personal income tax cut since 1979, and the fifth piece of tax cut legislation since my administration took office.

The nine percent reduction in personal income tax signed last week, combined with the $200 increase in personal exemptions I signed earlier this year, means that the average citizen's 1986 taxes will be reduced approximately 11 percent.

Adding in the 1979 and 1984 tax cuts, we have cut income taxes by more than 40 percent.

We're proving in Delaware that government spending can be controlled through bipartisan efforts. If only the Federal government could learn from our experiences.

As important as the individual reductions of personal tax burdens, the cuts in the levels of personal income taxes that I have just signed will reduce Delaware's top marginal tax rate to 9.7 percent, a very valuable incentive for business bringing new jobs to Delaware, as well as for business and industry located here.

Between 1959 and 1976, we saw Delaware's top tax rate more than double — from 8 percent to 19.8 percent — and that was a tremendous disincentive to economic development.

We have managed to cut that top rate in half — a positive signal to business. That will mean more jobs, just as tax reductions and greater controls on state spending have helped Delaware create 14,700 new jobs since June, 1984.

I challenge any other state to make the kinds of significant tax reductions Delaware has made over the past five years. I believe the reforms we have enacted this year make 1985 the year that "taxpayers were the winners" — and that's something all Delawareans can be proud of.

to Ian Smith. The first-class air mail cost more than the oil, but at least I had the satisfaction of using the U.S. Postal Service in breaking sanctions," Coady said.

Several weeks later Coady received a letter of thanks from Ian Smith's principal private secretary. He then obtained literature from the Rhodesian Information Office in Washington, D.C. and the Friends of Rhodesia committee.

Armed with this information, Coady bombarded the state's newspapers with "letters to the editor" and also wrote various senators and congressmen in an effort to change America's Rhodesian policy.

In 1975, after Coady's application for enlistment in the Rhodesian Army had been accepted, an incident in Harrington sent him back to his typewriter.

While Coady was waiting to report for duty in the Rhodesian Army, two black Rhodesians were arrested at Peoples Restaurant in Harrington and charged with public drunkenness and resisting arrest. The two claimed diplomatic immunity as Zimbabwe representatives to the United Nations. Both were members of the Zimbabwe African National Union, which Coady said was a Communist organization according to its own literature. The two were traveling by bus from New York City to a civil rights meeting in Norfolk, Va.

The news media gave the arrests routine coverage, but the story soon developed into a major controversy.

"It looked as if they would get off with only a warning. I went to the authorities in Dover and asked what passports the two accused were carrying. I was shocked to learn that no one knew for sure. The two men had told the police that their passports were in their luggage, which had been left on the bus," Coady said. "The Attorney General held a news conference and the incident not only made the national press but the world press as well," he added.

Coady went on to tell how correspondents from the wire services and television networks descended on Dover along with demonstrators from New York, Washington, D.C., Philadelphia and Baltimore.

During the trial Coady handed out booklets obtained from the Rhodesian Information Office.

"Dover hadn't seen anything like it in years. But justice prevailed through it all. One Zanu member was convicted on both charges and the other for being drunk in public. Oh, yes, both had their British passports with them," Coady said.

Coady, who is divorced, spends his spare time pounding his typewriter. His one-year stint as a reporter for The Harrington Journal stands him in good stead in his letter-writing efforts. In addition to his many letters to newspapers, he grinds out news releases for the Conservative Caucus and American Legion Post 7 in Harrington, which he serves as publicity chairman. He is also a member of the National Rifle Association and the Rhodesian Veterans Association, a California-based organization of Americans who served in the Rhodesian Armed Forces.

Coady's immediate goal is to expand the membership of the lower Delaware Conservative Caucus.

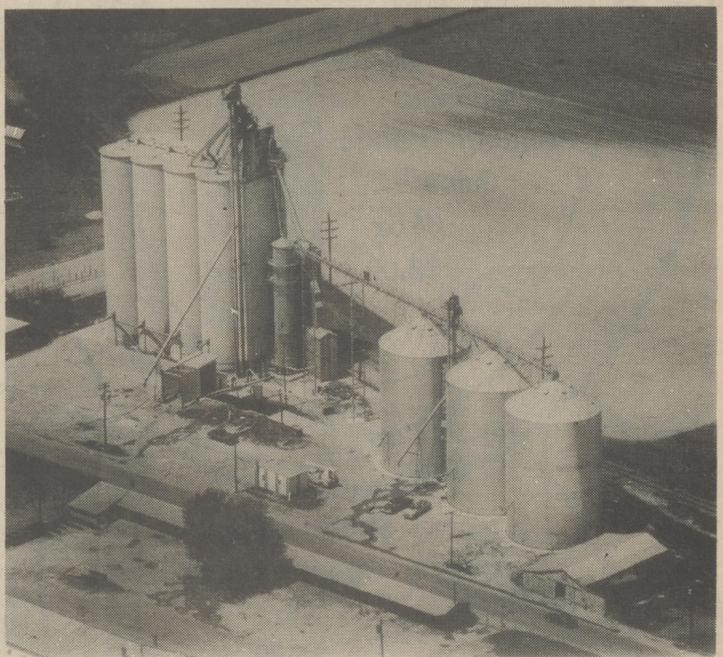

"The Caucus was founded over three years ago in the Wilmington area and has grown to nearly 200 members statewide. It was time for the down-state members to spin off and form our own organization. I hope that some day we'll have a caucus in each county," Coady said.

Meanwhile, Coady plans to continue his barrage of letters in his efforts to secure converts to conservatism.

Over The Backyard Fence

Gab Fest

by Pat Hatfield

August has left us, but September brings its own work. I am finishing up the grapes, both jam and juice. I am reminded of a little story about my Ellen that I told you all many years ago. She was about three, it was a hot, humid day, and she had been chasing a baby killdeer across the field trying to restore it to its mother. She came in with her red curls plastered across her forehead and her little face streaked with dust. She sat down on the bottom stairstep and I said, "Darling, you are tired, aren't you?" She gave me a withering look out of those bright eyes. "Tired?" she said.... "I, 'xhausted, 'at what I is!" So now you know, "At what I is, right now." But I recuperate swiftly.

I will try to answer some questions while we gab away today. So many of our Readers ask me for the recipe for the old-time way of cooking lima beans. I don't think there is any real recipe. It's like the Slippery Dumplings. Every mother taught her daughter, and there are slightly different versions, but basically much the same.

Here's how we do it at Trail's End. Of course the things you add are based on the amount of beans. We never cook less than two quarts. If they are left over they go into the freezer, cooked and ready for a quick lunch.

I put the beans in a large kettle and more than cover with water. I add a nice chunk of salt pork or side meat or whatever you call it. Our grandmothers referred to it as "A strek o'lean and a streak o'fat." Definitely not sow belly. Again, we are Down-staters and we grew up with salted and sugar-cured meat from our home butchering. We have never developed much taste for smoked meat. Next I add a stick of butter or margarine. In the olden days, it was good country butter, freshly churned. I add a bit more salt.....not much at our house, because I cannot abide things salty. I add a large cooking spoon of sugar. I throw in a large onion and half a green pepper. (The green pepper is my own idea for flavor). I do not chop these because I need to fish them out when done. Himself cannot tolerate boiled onion or cooked green pepper. he likes the flavor. I chop up a couple of raw tomatoes and add. Bring to a boil and simmer for at least an hour. In the meantime, make up a little batch slippery dumpling dough and roll out. Cut into wee dumplings and add to the boiling broth about twenty minutes before you turn off the heat.

You see, most Delawareans, especially Down-staters eat the broth. We often smile remembering a dear friend of ours in Pennsylvania. He married a Delaware girl, and she served the lima beans in bowls with broth. He did not eat the broth, so he carefully ate his beans with a fork one by one.

We are still eating peaches, because we stuffed both refrigerators full when the last Hales came off the trees. We do this every year and extend our enjoyment.

Himself is demanding fried tomatoes with milk gravy. I confess I had forgotten this treat. Maybe because I hate doing them! And we must have hot biscuits with them. In this heat?

The mockingbird yells to me from outside the window. He tells me it's "sweeter, sweeter, sweeter!" And I yell right back. "You're losing your mind. It's hotter, hotter, hotter!"

Senior Center

Our apologies for not having a column in the Journal last week, but a group of our members and their guests were on our way to Nova Scotia for a wonderful nine-day trip. Many cities and attractions were visited. But now for what's happening a little closer to home here is the news for the center for the next week. On Thursday, our crafts department will be hard at work for our upcoming annual Fall Bazaar in November. Also, we are sponsoring a trip to Park City Mall that same day. That group will be enjoying a great family style dinner at Good N' Plenty Restaurant in Lancaster, Pa. That evening, at 7:30 p.m. will be our monthly Board of Directors meeting. On Friday, September 18th, we will be having a representative from the Elderly Health Screening Program (Jeri Burris) to inform everyone of the program that is available to Senior Citizens. We have spotlighted this program in earlier editions of the Journal. In the afternoon we will be having Bridge Games. We are still trying to get enough 'players' together to have a fun afternoon. If you would be willing to become involved in this card club, please call the center or get in touch with Phyllis Greenhaugh, so she can plan on the number of people attending.

On Monday, 16th, we will have our morning Bible Study Program with Rev. Carol Beyer. After our lunch of BBQ Chicken, Potato Salad, Carrot/Raisin Salad, and Hostess Snowball for dessert; we will have another of our Penny Parties. A Penny Party, you might remember, is where we ask everyone to bring in a couple of items that they would like to get rid of, flea market type items, and we have an auction here at the center. The auction is done for very large amounts....all bids being in pennies. The lowest previous bid was just that...one penny, the highest was just over $1.00. So here's your chance to get rid of a few items as well as picking up some good bargains. This will begin at 1 p.m. On Tuesday, 17th, The Band will be practicing in the morning. It is getting closer and closer to their next public appearance.....HERITAGE DAY, september 21st. More on this later, next week. In the afternoon we will be having our Birthday Party for all of our September Birthdays. A very important reminder: YOU MUST BE PRESENT AT OUR PARTY TO RECEIVE ONE OF THE CENTER'S BIRTHDAY GIFTS.

At 7:30 that evening (17th) we will be sponsoring a travelog on Alaska, please read about this at the end of our article today.

On Wednesday, 18th, The Choirs will be practicing for their performance on Heritage Day also. In the afternoon we will be having coupon bingo. So, that about does it for the next week. Some of our upcoming trips include: Dover Mall on September 25th, Members $3.00; Non-members $6.00; Lady Christina Cruise, October 15th; Atlantic City, October 24th; Encore Theater and Restaurant, November 20th; You may call the Center for details on these trips and their costs. Remember, our trips are open to non-members after they have been offered to our membership. WE STILL HAVE ONE CABIN LEFT ON OUR CARIBBEAN CRUISE, THE RATE WOULD BE $1085.00 PER PERSON, INCLUSIVE. (The value is approximately $1600.00).

NOW ABOUT OUR ALASKAN NITE: As I said earlier, we will be sponsoring a travelog at the Center on Tuesday evening, September 17th at 7:30 p.m. entitled Spectacular Alaska. We will be showing a film sponsored by the Holland America Cruise Lines. The travelog is open to the public and we will be introducing an Alaskan Cruise for next August. We will be having door prizes and refreshments. Laurelee Fox of Laurelee Fox Travel in Dover will be here to present the travelog and to answer any questions about the trip. If you feel you might be interested in traveling to Alaska or if you just would like to see the spectacular scenery it has to offer, if only on film, please try to stop by for our travelog. The center will be sponsoring periodic travelogs for the community in the future. By the way the Cruise to Alaska will be in August of 1986, from the 21st thru the 28th. The cost and all details will be available that evening. There are only a few cabins offered at our group rate, so don't delay. You may call the Center for more details; THAT IS IT, for this week, hope everyone is enjoying the last few days of summer weather, but please be careful with the heat, don't overdo it! See you next week!

Father Quay Rice still functioning in Georgia by Harry G. Farrow Jr. AUGUSTA, GA - Father Quay D. Rice Sr. (72) has come out of retirement and found his niche helping the poor and needy in Augusta, Ga.

Father Rice, who served as the Vicar at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Harrington for 15 years, now serves as head of the Downtown Cooperative Church Ministry in Augusta, Ga. He served in Harrington from 1968 through the early '70s.

He retired from St. Bartholomew Episcopal Church in North Augusta, S.C. 5 years ago. But he just retired from that charge, because for the next 2 years, he accepted a post at All Saints Episcopal Church in Hilton Head, S.C. He has become a one-man show trying to answer "...all the needs of those" who have been put out of their homes to those who need food and medicine.

The son of a Methodist minister who was lured into the ministry during an enlistment in the U.S. Army during WW II when a Chaplain offered him an assistant's position. It was enough for him to receive the call to the ministry.

The Downtown Cooperative Church Ministry in Augusta, Ga. is for the down-trodden, who Father Rice cares for as though they were his own. The Ministry is supported by 12 churches in Augusta, Ga.

From the wing to shots on goal

Lake Forest booters tie Carvel

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

In a scrimmage game last Thursday, Lake Forest soccer team scrimmaged a strong and already seasoned Carvel Academy team from New Castle County. The final score was a 1-1 tie.

Lake Forest goal came on wing, Derek Dill's pass to Bobby Bassett for the score.

According to Coach Dave Buck, "...we had a lot of opportunities....and we should have had more goals....but play will come especially with this team. I just have that feeling that the team is going to continue to get better," he added.

Buck also added that he got good team play from Kyle Kelley, forward and Jay Green, the other wing. "Tate" (Garey) also played a very good game on defense constantly breaking up plays. He has a lot of hustle and he broke up a lot of plays", added Buck. Dana Wainwright who plays the sweeper position broke up a lot of plays and made a good transition from defense to offense", added Buck.

Lake Forest had 9 to 6 shots on goal. This was Carvel's third outing of the young season in scrimmages. "They had beaten Glasgow 3-0 and also Glen Mills, (Pa.) This was their 3rd scrimmage.

Buck said that he saw a lot of positive things today. I really did not know exactly what to expect...but they all played well, and that's all that I ask," said Buck.

The Spartans open their 1985 season playing Christiana away on Thursday.

Lake Forest downs Wilmington

Spartan gridders scrimmaged Wilmington High School on Saturday, and the Spartans scored 5 times against Wilmington, while Wilmington scored once. The score by Wilmington High was against the Spartans' second team. This Friday at 3:00 the Spartans will scrimmage Cape Henlopen. They will open against Sussex Central next Friday....the 20th.

Coach Fleming said about the workout "...there were a couple things which pleased me. The first unit did a good job blocking and the younger people came around to help in the positions where we had lost depth. This made me happy."

The defense played well with one interception by Lionel Dixon. Tight ends like Mike Wingo and Chucky Bell came through for us and did a real good job both blocking and catching several passes apiece.

Coach Fleming remains high on his tackle Eric Warren. The big guy anchors the entire side of the line where he plays. Fleming said at the first practice "...I believe Eric is the best in the state at his position. No question about it."

Fleming also praised his linebacker for doing a great job on Saturday. "Scotty (Fleming) and Mike (Gygyrnyuk) are stronger this year and their play thus far indicates that they will do us a real good job at those linebacking positions", said Fleming.

Dickinson scores first & shares "Twin 20" show with Bunting

by Don Allen

The "Twin 20's" returned to U.S. 13 Saturday night and produced a first career win for 20-year-old Modified pilot Jerry Dickinson. He took the first half of the "Twin 20 program in style, holding off the racers of Bob Toreky, Ron Keys, Bob Wilkins and Oscar Fields at the stripe.

In the second 20 lapper Bobby Wilkins snared the lead from Gary Trice on lap three and led all but the last circuit. On the last lap Bunting threw caution to the wind and pointed the #19D at the low groove coming off of four for the close win by inches.

PIT NOTES - Freddy Brightbill, third in points at the start of the night, broke a lifter in the engine house during his heat and made it impossible to make either of the features. The points battle fell to Bunting, Trice and Keys. Only seven points had separated the four before the first twenty-lapper. With Bunting unable to finish the first feature but winning the second and Keys finishing ahead of Trice in both events, the current points standing for the top five slots is as follows: Bunting in first with 1190 pts., Keys with 1186 pts., Trice with 1178 pts., Brightbill with 1094 pts., and Wilkins with 1071 pts.

Next week will be the final race for points at U.S. 13. The United Racing Club Sprint Cars will be making their final appearance of the '85 season. This will not only be the final battle for the Delaware State Sprint Car Championship crown, sponsored by Taylor & Messick Farm Equipment of Harrington, DE, but it will also be the final points race of URSC's 1985 season. Gates will open at 5:00 p.m. and the first heat will roll to the grid at 7:30.

Oscar Fields lead the first ten laps. When he encountered lap traffic Wilkins, now in second, was able to close in. The #30 car snared the lead. Lap nineteen was the first caution. Just one lap before, Bunting's #19D had moved around the second place car of John Pinter and challenged Wilkins' lead. The two racers made contact coming off the two turns causing Wilkins' right front tire to blow and the #30 faded to the rear. The green stayed on and the B&F Towing #28 attempted to snare the lead from Bunting. Pinter moved under Bunting going into one and the pair exited two side-by-side. Just as Pinter poured on the coal a right rear wheel left the car causing him to turn into Bunting. The unavoidable accident that resulted put both racers out of the event and Pinter out for the night.

Pit Chatter

DOVER, DE - Rising NASCAR Grand National stock driver Bobby Hillin Jr. may not win the Delaware 500, September 15, at Dover Downs International Speedway, but it won't be due to a lack of desire.

A fiery man named Pat Culpepper, then head football coach at Midland (Texas) Senior High School, awakened Hillin's fiercely competitive spirit.

Hillin played both offensive guard and defensive tackle for Midland. Selected as a team co-captain in his senior year, he also was named to the all-district all-star team.

No doubt Hillin will call on his "desire to win" at Dover, a track that has given him all that he bargained for. His first appearance at the high-banked one-mile oval was at the 1983 Delaware 500. After starting 21st, Hillin drove conservatively to finish 11th and become the race's top rookie.

Hillin's next Dover start was the 1984 Budweiser 500 where he made a fine qualifying run to start 13th. Racing near the top 10 with slightly more than 60 miles to go, he crashed heavily and finished 25th.

After he wrecked in qualifying for the Budweiser 500 earlier this season, Hillin's teammates rebuilt his car not only to start, but to complete the entire 500-lap grind. Hillin brought the Stavola Bros. Racing Chevrolet home 12th to cap a stirring team effort and capture the Timex Timelast Move award.

Dave Kelly won the URC feature increasing his points as Tom Capie won the Modified and his second win of the season. Craig VonDohren got his first win at Bridgeport this season. Craig Von Dohren worked his way through traffic dicing with Andy Belmont and Gary Bruckler on his way to his first checker of the season here at Bridgeport. Tom Capie won his heat in fine form and worked his way up to the lead in the feature by the 7th lap. Numerous cautions and lapped cars made the going tough for the leaders. The win was the second of the year for Capie. Ronnie Tobias took second, Doug Hoffman third, Bill Brennan fourth and Karl Freyer fifth. In the Racer's Warehouse "Dash for Cash" Doug Hoffman, Tom Capie and Bob Becker were all winners.

Dale Singleton killed in plane crash

WESTERVILLE, Ohio — Two-time Daytona 200 winner Dale Singleton, the pig farmer from Georgia, was killed on Sunday, September 1, in an airplane crash near Winnsboro, South Carolina. Singleton, 30, was piloting the private craft when turbulence apparently caused structural damage leading to the crash. Singleton and his three passengers died in the tragic accident. One of the most flamboyant and popular AMA road racers ever, Singleton's biggest victories came in the 1979 and 1981 Daytona 200 Milers at Daytona International Speedway. His 1981 Daytona win helped him to earn that season's U.S. Road Racing Championship.

Singleton was also a veteran of grand prix road racing in Europe. His professional motorcycle racing career began in 1974 and he retired following the 1982 season. Since that time, he frequently competed in NASCAR late model sportsman division events.

Funeral services for Singleton were scheduled in his hometown of Dalton, Georgia, on September 4.

SHOW CARS SCHEDULE

The Budweiser show cars of Darrell Waltrip and Neil Bonnett will be at Taylor & Messick on Friday, September 13th from 11:30 to 1:15 p.m. The show car of Bill Elliott will be at Preston Ford in Preston, MD on Friday morning at 10:00 a.m. through Saturday night. NASCAR super star Bill Elliott will be at Preston Ford on Friday night from 8:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.

Lingo continues winning streak

by Darlene Dill

Between the weather and the track's condition, the Milford Kart Club couldn't have had it any better to get racing underway at Piney Neck Saturday evening. Some real fine racing was seen by all.

The first class was Boys and Girls Box Stock. Chris Mason added another win to his record. Chucky Hudson finished second.

Senior Box Stock Light was next in line. Greg Mitchell, starting outside pole, took the early lead with three contenders, Dale Elben, Bobby Comstock, and Butch Harrington in hot pursuit. Elben challenged Mitchell the entire race but in a last chance attempt to pass, took a turn for the worse and instead lost a position allowing Comstock to move up. Mitchell finished 1st, Comstock 2nd, Elben 3rd, and Harrington 4th.

Next on the field was the Super Stockers. Jim Boone was out front on the start and led the entire 20 laps. Mark VanVorst finished second.

In the Junior Box Stock Class, Greg Reed looked to be in great shape for the feature after coming out with a win in the heat. When the flat went down, Cindy Hurly managed to get a good jump on Reed. Hurly led from flag to flag with Reed finishing close behind. Finishing third was Chris Davis and fourth went to Craig Anderson.

The largest class of the evening was the Sr. Box Stock Heavy. This was definitely an exciting race to watch. Donald Lingo who started 7th in the heat not only won but went on to capture the checkered in the feature also. Mel Miller who started last due to mechanical trouble in the heat came back to score an impressive 2nd place finish. Butch Warrington took 3rd and Mike Passwaters 4th.

The Limited Modified class had 10 entries on hand. Pole sitter, Marty Fleetwood came through with a victory in the heat. Rick Elliott starting 6th, finished second. In the feature it was Fleetwood out front with Elliott breathing down his neck. In early laps Elliott took the lead and it appeared to be easy street for him, but then the caution waved and called for a restart. At the restart Elliott again reopened with the lead, however, Butch Harrington who worked his way through the pack overtook the second place runner and continued to close the gap on Elliott. With only a few laps remaining, Harrington attempted to pass Elliott on the outside coming out of the #2 turn and hit wheels causing him to lose ground. Fleetwood, who was running third regained second leaving Harrington to settle for a third place finish.

Last but not least was the 2 cycle class. C.R. Phillips pulled out the win in the heat and was out to score another win in the feature, however, with approximately 3 laps left to go, Phillips tangled with a lap Kart sending him to the back for the restart. Coverdale who moved up to 1st place for the restart went on to claim victory. Larry Bunting finished 2nd; Buddy Timmons 3rd and C.R. Phillips 4th.

Regular racing will be this Saturday at 8:00 p.m.

Pettyjohn gets fifth in squeaker over Hill

by Don Allen

Current Late Model points leader at U.S. 13 Speedway, David Hill, who has seven wins to his credit to date, is nearly recovered from a serious shoulder separation. Pettyjohn bailed his Delmarva Venture #880 through the turns as the handling deteriorated. Hill finished second followed by Lou Johnson, Mike Tauber and Alex Beaumont.

Glen Wilson, who finished sixth, was the eye opener of the night. Glen is a veteran of several seasons on the Southern Delaware ovals and has turned in many fine performances. Saturday night Glen showed the fans that he still had it when in his heat, he gave the Bullitt chassied #100 a strong run in the heat to finish a close second after leading some of the laps. In the feature, Wilson would lead the first two circuits. When Pettyjohn moved in to challenge on lap three, he found he needed more power to circle Wilson. Glen slipped back to sixth when tire wear became a big problem.

The Limited Late Model feature saw Todd Richardson score his 20th career feature win and his fifth win of the '85 season. Jeff Patilla's #14 car was on the move from mid-pack and he got the lead from Bunky White's Wareheim Air Brakes #16 on lap two. Patilla set the pace for one circuit before Richardson took over. Patilla and Kenney engaged in a duel for second for those last five circuits, giving Richardson the opportunity to pull away. At the stripe it was Patilla for second, Kenny in third, Bunky White fourth and Bill Penuel in fifth.

It was the Mopars one, two and three as Phil Murray led Timmy White and John Franz across the finish line in the ten lap Street Modified event. Murray inherited the lead from Kenny Pettyjohn when his #38 special broke on lap four. For the remaining six laps he held on to win his first Street Mod at U.S. 13 this year.

Pinter, D. Robinson & K. Pettyjohn win at Georgetown

John Pinter survived a rash of caution periods to collect his second feature win Friday night at the Georgetown Speedway. Duck Robinson went from third to first on the last lap to win his second limited late model feature and Kenny Pettyjohn took the lead coming to the checker flag to win his first feature at Georgetown in the street modifieds.

In the modified feature, Clifford Todd led lap one. The red flag flew before the completion of the second lap when Harold Bunting jumped a wheel and barrel rolled 7 times off the first turn.

Todd took the lead on restart but next lap Eron Rust spun bringing out the yellow. Bobby Wilkins took over on the restart and Todd faded. A double spin on lap seven slowed the field. On the restart Pinter moved outside of Wilkins for the lead. Two more cautions at the mid point tightened the field with Pinter leading over Wilkins, Gollub, Eddie Pettyjohn and Pete Visconti. Gollub moved to second and stopped on lap 19, bringing out the yellow for the final time on lap 22. On the restart Toreky moved by Wilkins for second. At the checker it was Pinter, Toreky, Wilkins, Charlie Phillips and Richie Pratt. Sixth through tenth were Nelson James, Curt Slaughter, Pettyjohn, Visconti and Tony Domato.

In the limited late model, Morris Tucker led the first two laps. By lap three turpin had moved from 17th to the lead. John Kenney went two laps down early in the feature but a series of yellows amazingly got him back on the lead lap with three to go. Mechanical problems had slowed Turpin early on and Bill Penuel was the new leader. With two to go Kenney moved into second and was challenging Penuel for the lead. The two tangled in the final turn and Duck Robinson was the first under the checker and yellow. Chuck Graves finished in second followed by Leon Johnson, Dave Beach and Alan Reed.

Bill Holloway sought his first feature win in the Street modifieds leading nine out of the ten laps in the feature. Holloway went high in traffic coming to the checker and second generation driver, Kenny Pettyjohn took the lead a few feet from the finish. Holloway got second followed by Phillip Murray, Ronnie Robinson and Tony Steele. MODCAR will be featured on Friday night.

Frankly Speaking

The changing of a world

by Mike Harker

As most children's stories start out with the line Once upon a time, so does the history of harness racing. Once upon a time if you had a two minute horse in your barn, you could make a very good living, racing in the free for all ranks. Once upon a time you could buy the best race bike that money could buy for under five hundred dollars. Once upon a time you could train a horse for as little as two hundred dollars a month, a figure that you can't touch today if you want to make any profit.

Today in the 1980's there isn't much call for a two minute pacer. In other words the race tracks are not calling you up asking you to bring your horses to them. They have all the 4,000 claimers that they need. That five hundred dollar race bike has somehow turned into a $1,300 bike, and you are pressed very hard to find a trainer who will train a horse for less than $750 a month. Of course we can not say that racing was better in years gone past, but it sure was easier to survive. To say that every horseman and owner made money back then would not be the truth. The one thing that would be the truth is that if you wanted to get out of the business you didn't lose as much money on your investment. I know what you're thinking, that with the difference in dollar values that you lost the same amount. Well, that's not necessarily so. If we take into consideration that most tracks offered a trainer a place to race a cheap horse, then these horses were still in demand, and still brought a decent price for the same time period. Most equipment held its value, and could be sold at a fair price. To prove my point try to buy a pair of leather anything and see what it will cost. Old leather still commands a good price.

It's true that at most tracks there is more money to be raced for, like I said most tracks, some due to economics still offer purses that are based on 1960 standards. So be it, that seems to be the one thing that will never change. As I've said before, everything else goes up, and I don't care what it is, if it has anything to do with harness racing, the cost has gone up in some cases as much as two hundred percent in the last ten years. There is but one exception, and that may be the price of a cheap horse. Just go to any horse sale and watch all the horses sell.

Enough of the negative aspects of the sport you say, okay, let's look at the positive for awhile. Lou Guida has been calling the shots for his horse Nihilator, having him race only where he knows his horse can pace a mile in the neighborhood of 1:50, depriving the public at most tracks the privilege of seeing him in action. We all know this is positive thinking. Attendance has been dropping at most tracks in the past few years, but only track management sees this as a problem. Breeders are taking a beating at the yearling sales, most of the time their offerings are not bringing stud fees. Farms are closing their doors, for the lack of business on the breeding level. You now can buy yearlings for less than you can raise them. The price of hay grain and straw has risen to alarming heights, good for the farmer, bad for the horseman.

Yes, there are many positive things in the world of harness racing, unfortunately you as a horseman, the men and women who put on the show are not getting a fair share. Harness racing is a great sport, but it is also a business that needs help. The state, track and horseman must work together on this very important issue. If not, say goodbye to a world unlike any other in the business world. Horseman on all levels must speak out. Now is the time to head off the problem at the pass, not next year or the next week, but now. Racing needs your input, your expertise in racing, and your ideas on how to change. Of course maybe you don't want to change, but you could let the state and track management know that too. Write a letter to the U.S.T.A. and let them know how you feel. Who knows, it might help. Those fellows up there aren't all worthless.

Before my big mouth gets me into trouble, let me say this. Racing has been a part of my life for over 20 years. I have seen good times and bad. There have been a lot of changes made in that 20 years, and it looks like it's time for some more. I'd hate to think of a world without harness racing. Future generations that will not have the chance to see their favorite horse charge down the stretch, never knowing that thrill.

Or a father with his child sitting on his knee, beginning a story with Once upon a time there was a thing called harness racing. Talk to you next week.

Do You Remember?

by Dorothy Graham

Baseball, soccer, hockey, dodge ball, volleyball were played with great gusto at Harrington Public School. We thought we were the cat's meow in our blue gym suits. Remember when the school nurse only came once a month, gave you a little talk, checked your eyes and ears and checked your HEAD for you-know-what! Do you remember the assembly room when the programs and exams and study hall was held. Each month a different grade had to give an assembly program. There were some very good ones! Do you remember the long Declamations, Pauline Cohen was great at this. Pauline also taught a lot of us to dance. (She married a tall, handsome man and they have retired to Florida I'm told.) I remember the first diamond ring I saw on a young girl's hand. Ida Bland came to school one day telling us that her sister Margaret was engaged. Well a few days later we were all at the movies (Reese's) and we all clamored to see Margaret's diamond. We exclaimed how beautiful it was and right away most of us thought how lucky she was, to be getting married. She and her husband Granville Hill still live in Harrington. Do you remember it Margaret? Some teachers I remember from my school days and some from children's school days and a few others have told me that taught in Harrington Schools - Miss Laura Belle Kennerly, Miss Edith Smith, Mrs. Mary L. Brown, Miss Mae Jones (Sheldrake), Miss Oda Baker, Mrs. Minnie P. Slaughter, Miss Sally Winfrey, Mrs. Mary H. Dolby, Miss "Bobby" Roberts, Mr. George (Dutch) Swain, Mr. "Bill" McWilliams, Miss Virginia Swain, Miss Helen K. Deputy (Eatin) Miss Drum, Mrs. Eddie Welch, Miss Jenny Armstrong, Miss Agnes Butterworth, Mr. Staley, Miss Margaret Cooper, Mr. "Bill" Murray, Miss Margaret Sherwood Wagner, Mr. Feagan, Miss Leona Dickrager (Gruwell), (Math and Chemistry), Miss Alice Wix, Mrs. Hamstead, Mr. Millard Fitzgerald, Miss Nixie Brown (Currey) was a school secretary. Mr. Tee was janitor, a small wiry man who not only cleaned the school, he also witnessed the chastizements that were dealt out in the basement of the school by the principal or Prof. The deal when I went to school (also my children) was, "if you get a "licking" in school you get another one when you reach home." Miss Edith Smith paddled my hand for passing a pickle to the next desk (I never did like her anyway). There is usually one teacher you do not especially like in your school days. She was the one and only one for me. To continue on with the teachers that at one time, some still do, teach at Harrington and Lake Forest Schools, (A consolidation of Harrington, Felton and Frederica Schools), Mr. Comer (Drama teacher and an excellent one he was), wanted to be sure to get him in this column, so now will continue with the teachers as stated. Frank Witchey, Mrs. Mary Short (Cahall), Ms. Ellis, Mr. James Darby, Mrs. Grace Souders (Moore), Mrs. Mrs. Miriam Kinard, Mrs. Amanda Rash Quillen, Mrs. Lucy H. Jerread Miss Florence Long, Mrs. Roberta O'Neil, Mrs. Charlotte Joseph Brobst, Mr. Melvin Brobst (music teacher and choir director of Asbury Church), Margaret Dickerson, Mrs. Todd, Miss Charlotte Kraybill, music, Mr. Hawk, Mr. and Mrs. Bausell (Neill), Mrs. Ruth Moore Grant, Miss Marie Hollenger, Mrs. Emma Hopkins (hynson), Miss Jennie Morris, math teacher, Mrs. Pollitt, Mrs. Loretta Paskey, Purnell, Mr. Miller, Mr. Cotter (French teacher), Mrs. Miller, Mr. James McDonald, Mrs. McDonald was an excellent nurse at Milford Memorial Hospital. She would bring me a cool drink of water or apricot juice when I was a cancer patient in Milford Memorial Hospital. Believe me her smiling face and gentle hand helped me greatly in the wee hours of night. On with the teachers, Mrs. Goodwill, Mr. Powell, Mr. John Curtis (I hear he gave a very good lesson in agriculture.) Mr. Hiram Draper Williams (art teacher, is well renowned in the art circle. His paintings command a fabulous fee). The night Donald Sapp and George Graham Jr. went with him to Wilmington to compete in an art show, he won first prize on "The Wrestlers" - Richard Pitman recognized his ability and bought several of his works that night. He (R.P.) said later in an article, "he couldn't afford even one of doodles now" - on and on Mrs. Lucille T. Mann, Mrs. Grace Howard, Mrs. Phyllis Greenhaugh, Mrs. Nellie Luff, Mrs. Esther Moore Bader, Mrs. Mary E. Cooper Nelson, Mrs. Ann Minner, Mrs. Hazel Smith, Mr. Wm. Smith, Mr. Knaub, Mrs. M. Shaw, Mr. Wm. Shaw, Miss Violet Testerman, Mr. Testerman, Ms. Dixon, Mrs. Powell, Mr. Nassar, Mrs. Drane, Mrs. Clara West, Mrs. Purse, Mr. "Bill" Kramedas, Mrs. S. S. Webb, Mr. A. Rudgele, Mr. Young, Mr. Donovan, Mr. Fox, Mr. Boyd, Mr. Gleason, Mrs. Perry. Goodness how did I almost forget Ethel A. Tharp. I can't spell her maiden name, but the "kids" that had her loved her southern drawl. She and her husband Frank still live near Vernon. Do you remember the teachers at "Little Masten" School? Ethel Clarkson (Raughley). Do you remember these teachers at "Powell's School" - Mary Greenly was there before she came to Harrington then there was Mr. "Bob" Jones and Mr. James Wilbur Powell. Do you remember as teachers in Harrington - Ann Trice, Miss Stone, Miss Catterson, Mrs. Ada Wilson, Pearl Owens, Mrs. L. R. Smith, Mr. John Brittingham, Mr. W. Jump, Miss Anna Langrel (Asst. Principal), Miss Patterson, Mrs. Arta Masten.

I'm remembering Mr. Tee, Mr. Shockley, Mr. Kliments, Mr. H. Porter, Mr. C. Welch, Mr. Stubbs, Mr. R. Kemp, Mrs. Graham, Mr. Shultie (who did a job not always pleasant, but kept the school in good repair). Then there was the cafeteria group. My they did turn out some tasty meals. The children liked the subs, pizza, peanut butter and jelly, cheese and ham sandwich and the chocolate milk. Some in there I remember were Miss Hazel and Lydia Johnson, Mrs. Arta Masten, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Eilers, Mrs. B. Billings Mrs. D. Graham, Mrs. E. Raughley, Teacher's aide Evelyn Lare, Marlene R. Jarrell, Mrs. Dorothy Graham (study hall), Ms. Jane Everline, Martha Porter, Elva Price, Lena V. Paskey, Mrs. Janice W. Farrow, Ms. Angie Hobbs, Mrs. Farrow was a long and faithful nurse. Many will remember her with a great fondness. Speech - Mrs. Gloria Dill, Principals Hoff, Kline, Mrs. L.P. Purnell, Markowitz, Professors Adams and Messener.

So many more will catch them in my catch-up column if you let me know. How many do you remember? Hope you can remember something nice or amusing about each of your teachers. A good teacher is worth so much in our lives.

Best wishes to ALL. Be kind to each other! Thanks so much for everything. Happy birthday September folk Happy school day, memories, faith!

The Foal

A Semi-true Story by Mike Harker

It was January, cold and snowy. There were already eight inches of snow on the ground and more to come. There was no reason to think this night would be different from any other foaling night. Perhaps there would be two, maybe three, new foals in the barn by morning.

Bob, the farm manager, made his first set of rounds at eight o'clock in the evening to check the mares for signs of foaling. Stopping by each stall, talking to each mare, looking for those telltale signs—the running of milk, the heavy wax build up, the nervousness—all the things his years of experience had taught him to look for. Bob was a big man, but very gentle and soft-spoken, and because of this the mares were at ease with him. They seemed to know he would be there should they need him to help bring their babies into this world.

Checking each mare and foal from previous nights, and trying to make friends with the new ones, was always a joy to him. Watching these foals taking their first steps on wobbling legs and later growing up in the fields to be yearlings made him feel good all over.

This night Bob knew there would be two new ones, but not for a couple of hours. It was shaping up to be a long night. Pulling his hat down and bringing his coat collar closer to his ears in preparation for the cold outside, he left for his house. Upon arriving, his wife, Mary, asked him if he would like a hot cup of coffee, which he gladly accepted, for he was chilled to the bone. While Bob sat drinking his coffee he thought back on the day's work; he swore to himself this would be his last season of breeding and foaling mares.

At nine o'clock Bob went back to the barn to see how the mares were doing and found one getting ready to foal. She was sweating and restless and running milk, all good signs that a foal would soon come. So he waited.

Soon the mare was down in the deep straw giving birth. She needed no help, and before long a big, healthy colt lay on the straw. He had a blaze so big his head looked all white and he had socks on all four legs. This foal was talking for all he was worth and he was already trying to get up on his wobbly legs as Bob tried to dry him off. Bob soon forgot about the snow and the bitter cold outside and began to help the foal, which by now was trying to kick and do everything by himself. He was getting along okay so Bob went to check the other mare that was going to foal and found her to be very nervous.

She was not quite ready; things had to quiet down a bit. For some reason mares like it to be quiet when they foal. Bob patted and talked to her trying to reassure her that everything was all right, and she seemed to calm down. He left her alone again and checked the new foal one more time. Finding both mare and foal doing well, Bob decided to go back to his house for a little while.

At 11:10 p.m. he went back to the barn. The snow had become much deeper—almost 12 inches by then. As he made his way, he wondered if the deep snow was going to cause any problems with the outside horses, but upon entering the barn he forgot all about them. Seeing no problems at the newborn's stall, he moved on and found the other mare ready to foal.

She was lying down and looking back at her flanks, and then jumping up, walking around the stall and going back down. She did this three or four times, and Bob knew there was a problem; this was not going to be an easy delivery. Bob wished a veterinarian was near, but none was. He was trained for this, but every birth was different. His main concern had to be the mare, saving her for another year's breeding.

It was time, and he didn't like what he saw. The mare was standing and giving birth. What he saw was unlike anything he had seen before, and his heart skipped a beat. The foal was coming. The water bag had not broken, no feet were in sight, just one big, red bag. By this time Mary had come to the barn. She quickly took the mare by the head and tried to calm her. The mare seemed to know they were there to help, but she wanted it to be over with and so did they. Suddenly, as if divinely possessed, Bob knew what to do. He gently opened the bag and there it was; a leg, then another—the foal was coming.

The mare gave a big push and there in his blood-drenched arms was a colt, all sixty pounds of him, but no sign of life. Bob's fear had materialized; the colt had drowned in the mare's life-giving fluids. Gently he laid the colt down in the bright straw. Checking for any sign of life, any sign—that's all he wanted to see. Finding none, Bob turned to Mary with tears in his eyes, and she, sensing that there was nothing he could do, felt the sorrow one feels upon losing a foal. Turning their attention back to the mare, and finding her to be in good shape (considering what she'd just gone through), they both sat down in the stall for a short rest. Mary looked at the foal, thinking she saw some movement but wanting to be sure before alerting Bob.

She saw it again and said, "He's alive." Sure enough, there it was—a faint heartbeat could be seen. Bob, knowing that the colt's oxygen-starved brain would probably leave him retarded, still felt that as long as there was life he would try to preserve it. He picked up the colt by the hind legs and shook it up and down to get the water out of its lungs. They gathered up rags to dry the wet foal, to stimulate the blood to flow.

Life was there, very faint, but it was there. There was no color to the gums and the foal was cold to the touch. He was in shock. Bob told Mary to get all the warm blankets she could carry and bring them to the barn. They were going to save this "turkey", no matter what!

Mary returned, all snow covered, with an armload of blankets, and she began to lay them down in a corner of the stall. The mare came over to nuzzle the foal but, getting no response at all, sensed her foal was dead and went back to eating hay.

Laying the foal down on the blankets, and then himself, Bob pulled the colt close to him, and underneath four blankets they lay. Bob suggested that his wife go back to the house to get some sleep; she would have to relieve him in a few hours, if the foal was still alive.

The foal, Bob, and the thermometer were all cold. More than an hour passed before the first real sign of life was seen in the colt. A leg moved; that gave Bob a better feeling. He wondered if he would ever see this colt running across the fields, kicking up his heels, playing with other colts on the farm. He doubted it, but he had hope. The colt seemed warmer than before; breathing had become stronger.

When Mary came out to relieve him, she was surprised to find the foal still alive. They knew they had to keep the colt warm, but, more importantly, they had to feed him. There was no chance of getting Doc Tyson out to help this foal; the snow was about eighteen inches deep and still falling. The mare, thinking her foal to be dead, was resting on the other side of the stall. Mary put her hand next to the foal's mouth, trying to stimulate a sucking reflex, but none was there. But soon he did start to suck on her finger, and she hurried to the house to give her husband the good news.

They shot back to the barn with a feeling of jubilation and stronger determination: they were winning the battle. They got the mare up on her feet and Bob began to milk her in order to get some colostrum into the foal. They put the nipple of the bottle to the colt's mouth but nothing happened; the foal just lay there. Mary tried to stimulate the foal with her finger again. It worked; soon the foal took his first drink of mare's milk, then fell into a deep sleep. He was not out of the woods yet, but was making progress.

Daylight was fast approaching. It had been a long, cold night, but somehow seeing that foal drink some milk made it all worthwhile. When Bob returned to the barn, Mary told him the foal had been stirring, so they gave the little fellow some more milk, which he took this time, then fell back to sleep again.

All that day, the foal slipped in and out of deep sleeps—but he was alive and fighting. That morning Bob sent one of his helpers for Doc Tyson, who arrived around noon. After a careful examination, the Doc shook his head and said, "He won't make it. Let's just put him to sleep and end his misery."

Bob and Mary looked at each other in disbelief. Bob said, "No, this turkey is going to make it. If he was going to die he would do it on his own."

So the vet gave the foal some supportive medicine and said, "I know it's a waste of my time, but I'll check back tomorrow and see how he is doing." And he left in disgust, thinking to himself, "These farm managers, what a breed, know-it-alls." But he was thankful for men and women like them.

As the hours passed the foal got stronger. By the next morning he was nickered and trying to get up, but he was not too successful in his attempts. By this time his mother realized that her foal was alive, and her instincts took control of her. She became very protective of this foal, chasing Bob and Mary right out of the stall.

Doc Tyson could not believe his eyes when he returned to the barn the next day. The foal was not only alive, but was running around and kicking his heels up. After the examination, Doc gave the foal a clean bill of health, shaking his head in amazement. He knew this foal would not be alive without the devotion and determination of two special people.

Bob and Mary left the breeding end of harness racing to pursue other careers, but before they left, they saw that turkey take a 2:07 two-year-old record. That seemed to make all those cold winter nights in the foaling barn well worth it.

RACEWEEK

15th Annual Delaware 500

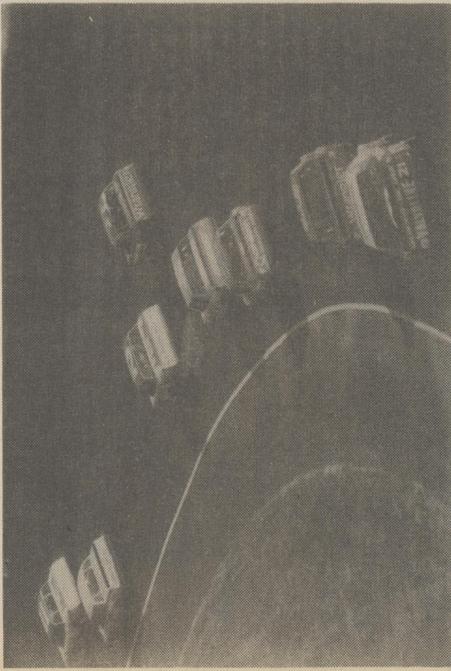

September 15, 1985

This is an aerial view of Dover Downs. The grandstand section is at the left looking at Pit Road. The light colored track in the center is the harness horse track, where they race horses from early November to late March. The water in the background is beautiful Silver Lake. Delaware is noted for its beautiful inland waterways, beautiful ocean beaches, seafood, and NASCAR racing.

Loyal Part-Timers Make a Dover Downs Weekend Work

DOVER, DE—The small (under twenty) permanent staff at Dover Downs International Speedway relies heavily on a seasoned group of volunteers and part time employees to coordinate and execute the hundreds of big and small tasks that make or break the largest sporting events in Delaware — the Budweiser and Delaware 500's.

Everything from camper parking to program sales, ticket taking to switchboard operation, pit note copies to issuance of credentials is directed by Dover Downs management, but most often any track could pull off a successful race weekend without the legions of part time workers who also happen to be race fans. Very few of them really do it for the money—they just want to be a part of NASCAR racing.

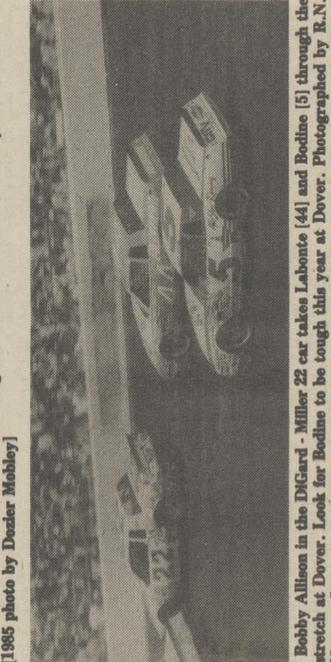

Tickets are going at a record pace for this September 15th's Delaware 500 and the NASCAR North Late Model Championship to be held one day earlier.

New Restrooms for Delaware 500

DOVER, DE—Officials at Dover Downs International Speedway have announced that additional permanent restroom facilities will be constructed in time for the September 15th Delaware 500 NASCAR Winston Cup race weekend. Two separate facilities will be constructed, the first located under the recently completed Winston Media Center at the north end of the outdoor grandstand. The second facility will be located behind the outdoor grandstand near the south (turn 4) end.

"The addition of these facilities will increase our restroom capacity for men and women by about 300%," said Dover Downs President and General Manager, Denis McGlynn. "The construction of the Winston Media Center and out of the outdoor grandstand area. The one mile Delaware superspeedway hosted 48,000 fans last May's Budweiser 500 and we're very pleased that we are now able to move forward with these projects. From the looks of our crowds, they'll come in handy."

Another crowd related improvement recently announced by Dover Downs was the construction of additional gates to facilitate the movement of fans into and out of the outdoor grandstand area. The one mile Delaware superspeedway hosted 48,000 fans last May's Budweiser 500 and we're very pleased that we are now able to move forward with these projects. From the looks of our

Elliott Says Short Track Win Would Make Season Complete

MARTINSVILLE, VA—The typical news release would be considered as the man to beat. But that's exactly the case when Elliott and his Coors Ford show up at one of the Grand National circuit's four short tracks.

But with the million dollars already in his pocket and the Winston Cup driving championship starting him directly in the face, Elliott would like nothing better than to change his reputation as "just a superspeedway driver" and win a short track event before the season ends. He'll get one opportunity for a short track win and the lion's share of the richest prize in Grand National short track history when the check for one million dollars from Jerry Long, President and Chief Executive officer of R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., during victory lane ceremonies at Darlington Raceway. Elliott won the Winston Million for winning three of the big four. The Daytona 500, Winston 500, and the Southern 500. With Elliott and Long are Miss Winstons Karen Beasley and Kim Ireland. NASCAR Heads to Dover Downs

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., the major sponsor of NASCAR racing announced on December 7, 1984 that they would guarantee the payment of $1 million to the driver who could win three of the "Big races in 1985".

They were the Daytona 500, the Talladega 500, the World 600, and the Southern 500. The first driver won two of the Big 4, would receive $100,000. By winning three, any three, he would be guaranteed the $1 million.

Yarborough and Pearson won three in a season. They were the Daytona 500, the World 600 and the Southern 500. Elliott ranks with them now.

Ruggiero, Bouchard and Spencer at Dover

DOVER DE•The NASCAR North Lake Model Championship 200 to be run on September 14 at Dover Downs International Speedway will feature modified drivers Reggie Ruggiero, Ken Bouchard and Jimmy Spencer. The combination of Late Model, Grand National and Modified drivers in the event should make for some great racing on the high banks of Dover Downs.

"We feel extremely fortunate to be able to showcase the talents of three of the premier drivers in modifieds at our track," says Dennis McDynn, President and General Manager of the room the high banks and wide turns give us. Even if the car isn't set up exactly right, you can still drive it through the turns and make up for some handling problems.

Well known for his hard charges through the pack and for his ability to take the lead and hold it, Jimmy Spencer should provide Dover race fans with some added excitement.

Reggie will be driving a car owned by Henry Shaw in the Dover event. Ken Bouchard has a Gary Quattrone ride and Jimmy Spencer will pilot a Peter Stokanus machine.

Elliott Desires Short Track Win

Elliott and his entire team have been very disappointed thus far in their efforts on the short tracks, with a fifth place finish at Bristol in late August the best outing of the year. This past spring at Martinsville in the Sovran Bank 500, Elliott had a solid eighth place qualifying effort but wound up finishing 18th, seven laps behind race winner Harry Gant.

That win turned out to be Gant's long triumph thus far completed in time trials on Friday while Saturday will be devoted to practice and the running of the National-150 for modified cars.

Elliott Can Break Superspeedway Win Record at Dover

DOVER, DE—If Bill Elliott wins the Delaware 500 at Dover Downs International Speedway September 15, he will break David Pearson's record of most superspeedway wins (10) in a single season. Pearson's record has stood since 1973 and was tied Sunday when Elliott won the Southern 500 and $1,000,000. Elliott will be driving the same car at Dover, that he piloted to the historic Southern 500 win. It is also the same car that won the spring race at Darlington and the May 19 Budweiser 500 at Dover Downs. "We are genuinely pleased that Bill won the million," says Denis McGlynn, President and General Manager of Dover Downs. "The media attention surrounding the event can't help but further expand our fan base in the northeastern markets. We hope that the awareness created by Bills' win will prompt many people—not previously NASCAR fans—to attend the Delaware 500 to watch him attempt to break David Pearson's long standing "superspeedway win record."

The Delaware 500 follows by one day the running of the NASCAR North Late Model Championship 200 to be run at 1:30 p.m. Saturday September 14th.

Bill Elliott's Success Survey

Supplement to The Harrington Journal, September 11, 1985

EDITORS NOTE: This news release was provided by H.P. (Humpy) Wheeler's excellent staff at Charlotte Motor Speedway just prior to the Southern 500 at Darlington, which Bill Elliott won.

Bill Elliott

HARRISBURG, N.C. Two-thirds of the 1985 Winston Cup season is already history, and still the fans, the crew chiefs, and especially the other drivers, are scratching their heads about what makes Bill Elliott superior.

Are the Elliotts legal? Is it the hard work? Or have they stumbled upon a revolutionary idea? And, will it work this Sunday at Darlington, putting the Winston-backed million dollars in his pocket? Charlotte Motor Speedway's Public Relations Department surveyed a dozen top crew chiefs, drivers and other racing experts to seek the answer to these questions and place some light on the mystery surrounding the Elliotts' domination.

A number of interesting theories evolved and include the following:

IT'S ALL IN HIS REAR END—The rear axle gear ratio that Elliott uses is numerically lower than any of the General Motors cars, and even lower than the other Ford Thunderbirds he competes against. This allows Elliott a higher top speed, allowing him to dominate on superspeedways, but not on short tracks.

HIS SUSPENSION IS THE KEY—Bill Elliott has come upon the perfect—and previously thought of impossible—combination of left/right weight bias, NASCAR requires that at least 45% of a car's weight be placed on the right side. If somehow during the race, more weight could be shifted to the car's left side, then back again for the post-race inspection, he would have stumbled onto what others thought couldn't be done.

IT'S WHAT'S UP FRONT THAT COUNTS—Bill Elliott's engine has proven near bullet proof, seemingly having more horses pulling for it than anybody else's engines are powerful and reliable. A combination that NASCAR racing has not seen before with such consistency. Much talk has centered around the cylinder heads, which may be the hottest thing since the famous Chrysler Hennis were prohibited for being too powerful.

DOWN THE TUBES—There is a group of people in the sport that say the lower tubes of Elliott's roll cage may be filled with liquid mercury, a very heavy and dense liquid that would slosh to the car's left side during cornering—counter to centrifugal force—and then level out again when running straight. (Illegal)

BLOWING IN THE WIND—Wind-tunnel tests show that the slippery design of the Ford Thunderbird has a lower coefficient of drag than either the Chevrolet Monte Carlo, Pontiac Grand Prix, Buick Regal or the Oldsmobile Cutlass, in that order. Since lower drag becomes more effective at higher speeds, this could help explain why Elliott dominates on the superspeedways and falls flat on the short tracks. Subtly changing the Thunderbird's bodywork even more, so not to show up during tech inspection, would create a car that nobody could beat.

IT'S A FAMILY AFFAIR—There are those who think that since the Elliotts are out of the Charlotte mainstream where most Winston Cup teams are based, and since the main body of the team is family, that secrets don't get out as easily as they do with other teams. Whenever other teams come across a major breakthrough, it doesn't take long for the rest of the racing community to find out about it. Since the Elliott shop is nestled back in the hills of Dawsonville, Ga., and since the team has not gone through major personnel changes, all of its discoveries and secrets have remained in-house.

DRIVING AMBITION—Bill Elliott may just be the greatest race driver ever. He saves his car, doesn't make silly moves, and he's fast when it counts—at the end. His driving style is vacuum or negative pressure.

pointing finishes for the more than a good engine could get after two years development. It wouldn't surprise me if the Elliotts are experimenting with this, because as long as drivers and mechanics live and breathe, there'll be rule bending."

TIM FLOOK (Twice Grand National Driving Champion)—"When we were winning races—18 in 1985—everybody was pointing the finger at us saying we were not legal. I know things have changed a lot in the past 30 years, but I think when the big secret is finally out on the Elliotts, everyone will be really surprised at what a simple thing it is."

RALPH MOODY (Former Co-Owner of the Famous Holman and Moody Race Team)—Bill Elliott's right foot is worth 50 horsepower. You put that boy in any car, and I think he'll run away. I think the big advantage he has is the fact that he gets under the car himself and sets up his own suspension. He can be more comfortable than the rest of the drivers can with their cars because he has lightened all the bolts himself. He also knows exactly what two turns of the suspension jacks will do for his handling—most other drivers are only guessing."

RAY FOX (Being inducted into the NMPA Hall of Fame this year)—"I think the biggest advantage the Elliotts have is that they can keep a secret. When I was building Junior Johnson's cars, I'd come down to the garage in the middle of the night so no one else—not even the crew—could see the modifications I was making on the race car, because as soon as I'd make a change, all the rest of the teams would have the same thing in the next week. Tucked away in the Georgia woods, and having the same crew stick with them all this time, is their only secret. But if they win the championship, you watch how fast other teams try to snatch those crew guys up. That's when their domination ends."

consistent, seldom does he make daring moves like passing four cars in a turn.

He generally drives smooth and aggressive and fast.

STAK WARS—An aerodynamic engineer was reportedly seen with the Elliotts recently. This opens the question of whether the team has unlocked the mystery of aerodynamics and handling, better known as ground effects. Ground effects is nothing new in Formula One and Indy Car circles, but the term is rarely mentioned in regard to stock car racing. Ground effects is the forming of a vacuum or negative pres-
