More than 200 people attended the fun and festivities at Abbotts Mill Nature Center on Sunday.

The annual Autumn at Abbotts Mill offered nature walks, craft booths, canoe rides, and tours of the historic grist mill.

The craft booths attracted many interested spectators who purchased hand-crafted items made by local craftsmen.

Jeanne Brown, of Frederica, displayed her handmade wreaths at the festival. From Felton came William Hammond to demonstrate the art of broommaking. Other booths displayed country crafts, ship models, dolls and ceramics.

Leaf rubbing and face painting were available for the kids.

Tours of the grist mill were $1 per person and began at noon. Abbotts Mill was built in the 1880's and is still intact. The mill, which is located on Rt. 820 near Milford, is the same as it was the day miller Ainsworth Abbott left it in 1960. The mill was taken over by the state in 1963 and is managed by Robert McKim, who lives in the old miller's house located on the grounds. McKim conducts the tours and is responsible for the mill itself.

Abbotts Mill was placed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1976 and was leased by the Delaware Nature Education Society (DNES) as a center for environmental activities in 1981.

Entertaining at the festivities were two country bands, "Wildwood Country" and "Just Dominion".

Refreshments were available for those who worked up an appetite.

Brandywine enters into agreement to sell

Brandywine Sports Inc. traded as an over-the-counter stock announced that its wholly owned subsidiary, Brandywine Raceway Association, Inc. has entered into a conditional sales agreement with respect to 100 acres of land owned by Raceway for $12.5 Million and that another wholly owned subsidiary, Brandywine Realty and Development, Inc. agreed to be the limited partner in a partnership which will build and operate a retail shopping complex and convenience center on the 100 acre site.

Realty has entered into a Limited Partnership Agreement with Brandywine Mall Joint Venture to be known as Brandywine Center Associates Limited Partnership. Brandywine Mall Joint Venture, the general partner and holder of a 75% interest in Associates, is a joint venture between the principals of Kravco Company, a King of Prussia, Pennsylvania based major real estate developer specializing in shopping centers, and The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States. Realty is the limited partner and the holder of a 25% interest in Associates. Raceway has entered into an Agreement of Sale with Associates covering the sale of 100 acres for $12.5 Million. The Agreement is contingent on, among other things, Raceway obtaining a change in the zoning of the property which will permit the development of a regional shopping complex and convenience center on the 100 acre site and certain highway and sewer improvements. The purchase price consists of $6,500,000 in cash and a $6,000,000 purchase money mortgage and note. The agreement provides for settlement to be held within 60 days after Raceway obtains the necessary re-zoning approvals and certain highway and sewer conditions are met. The note will bear interest at an annual rate of 12% of which 5% is payable quarterly in arrears and the remaining 7% deferred until construction of the shopping complex is started. The principal amount of the note is payable in full when construction of the shopping complex commences or in 4 years, whichever comes first. The land covered by the agreement is located in the northeastern section of Raceway's property with frontage on Naamans Road.

The Delaware Harness Racing Commission has awarded Raceway dates for a 1986 race meeting from March 23 through August 17. Raceway plans to conduct the 1986 race meeting. Racing beyond 1986 will be contingent on factors relating to re-zoning and construction.

Raceway and Realty will file an amended Preliminary Zoning Application with the New Castle County Department of Planning today. The requested change in zoning would permit in addition to the shopping complex, the development of an office park and other commercial sites on approximately 100 other acres owned by Raceway and Realty.

Walking for American Pride

by Ken Hutchins

Beginning on November 13, 1984, Emir Bjelajac started on the longest journey of his life. His goal is to walk through all of the 50 states in 5 years. Already he has traveled through 8 states, this being his ninth, covering 4,000 miles in 11 months. Emir jokingly added to this, "I have also gone through six pairs of shoes, and I am ready for another."

Emir Bjelajac, 30, is Yugoslavian born, coming to the United States when he was nine years old. Emir lived with his mother until he was 14, when his mother got remarried, and he could not get along with his stepfather. "It was like living with Hitler." He then managed to work his way through Swissville High School, in Pittsburg, Pennsylvania. After high school, he went into marketing until 1982. At this time he went back to his homeland to visit. There he saw a big difference in life style. When he came back to the states, he made his decision to embark upon this incredible journey. "The way the country was run over there, it was so restricted; this made me realize how lucky I was to be living in the U.S.A." Two weeks later he set off on his walk across America. When someone questions why he would want to do something like this, he has three basic statements with which to answer: 1) "to raise pride in ourselves as Americans," 2) "to thank the people who helped in getting America the way it is today," and 3) "to keep making this a better country to live in."

Every day when he walks he wears a shirt saying, STAND UP FOR AMERICA, and he also carries a life-sized American flag. Emir says the hardest part is not the walking or carrying the flag, because his pride keeps him going. The hard part he says, is "being by yourself all the time, not having anyone to talk to." Besides doing the walk for America, Emir has also served four years in the Air Force. When asked why he did not continue in the service, he just answered, "I wanted to take another path in life. There are many other things in life to do, the Air Force was one, now it is this walk." Emir talked about all the people he has met, including a family he met in Hot Coffee, Mississippi. "This family," Emir says, "...we adopted each other through our hearts, and now they are my family, and I am part of theirs." Emir says he calls them every Sunday, and at Christmas he will take two weeks off to go and visit them.

While in Harrington this past Sunday, Emir said he had a great time and met some great people. Among these people was Terry Owens, manager of Colony Inns, who gave Emir a complimentary room. Along with the good, there is the bad. During his travel, Emir was once put into jail for two days, for carrying the flag down the street. One time the flag was taken away from Emir by the local police. Emir said, "the only way the police said I could get it back was if I showed them a receipt." Finally, he got up with the Mayor of the city, and his flag was returned in 15 minutes.

Some may wonder if this man is crazy, or if he is just looking for publicity and free room and meals. When asked of this, Emir said, "I would like to see them walk for 11 months, having people laugh at them along the way." Also Emir added, "Some places are not as nice as Harrington is, and sometimes I sleep outside and do not eat for a few days. I would like to see someone do that."

When asked what he would do after finishing his journey, and if he would get married, he answered, "I will probably go back into marketing. As for the marriage part, that will come when I feel I am responsible enough. In leaving, Emir said, "I want people to have pride in themselves, because that is what America is." As he walked off, starting on another day of his long journey, we wonder if he is going to make it, who knows, all we can do is wish him good luck.

Attorney General frees Daisy

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

HARRINGTON — The case of the State of Delaware vs. Daisy did not get beyond the State's Attorney General, Charles M. Oberly III. The AG dropped charges against Daisy on Wednesday of last week.

The charges were stemming from an interpretation that the dog was "running loose" in the Town of Harrington which has an ordinance against that sort of thing. Oberly determined that Daisy...who likes to follow mail carriers around town was, "...always under reasonable control." Oberly also sent out the message that the State's highest law enforcement office will not prosecute cases of this nature. Oberly was quoted as saying that the case generates too much negative publicity for the State and also a dog is not a suitable defendant who can plea bargain in such a case or who cannot offer her side of the story.

Daisy was back on the route Thursday showing up early at the Post Office ready for work. One postal clerk at Harrington was heard to say that "comparing a dog's age to a human's, Daisy probably has enough time in now to retire from the Postal Service." Let's not push that at this time!

Daisy is owned by Ed and Pat Maher of Fleming St. in Harrington. She began her daily travels with the postal carriers when she first followed Lewis Wrotten as a pup. When Wrotten went on sick leaves due to bone spurs in his feet, Daisy joined up with Frank Collins. They have become inseparable over the years.

Pat Maher said from her home recently that, "she (Daisy) has created a lot of attention across the United States. The most touching was a letter signed by some 60 odd Milford Elementary students who sent along not only words of encouragement but a special request to sit on the jury that was to try Daisy." I guess we know how that would come out.

The issue has split the community of Harrington in one sense as well as pull it together in another. For some it was not clear why Daisy was arrested a second time within a year when other dogs were permitted to run loose in the Town. Others on the other hand felt no exceptions should be made. But in Daisy's case she was a special pooch who won the hearts of everyone at one time or another.

Thanks a Million

I would like to express my sincere thanks to the people of Harrington for the concern and support they showed to "Daisy" and to me, during the past two months with the petitions you signed and donations you made and the "Daisy" shirts that you purchased.

Believe me, it was appreciated very much and extremely heart-warming.

I may be the licensed owner of "Daisy", but I consider the people of Harrington to be her family.

Sincerely,
Pat Maher

The force of Hurricane Gloria passes at sea

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

For the most part, the hurricane called Gloria...regarded by meteorologists as being the strongest one of the century, for the most part passed by us while at sea.

It was a blessing as many realized, for if the force of the 130mph winds had whipped inland, it would have caused destruction like we have never seen before. Fortunately, we were spared... this time.

At this writing, another hurricane is building off the coast of Bermuda.

For the most part in the Lake Forest School District area, the damage was slightly more than high winds in a bad rain storm. Power in only a couple parts of the District was out for a couple of hours. In some remote area, Delmarva Power was longer restoring power to homes.

People took shelter in the Red Cross facility set up at the Lake Forest High School. These were mostly mobile home residents.

Adequate warning and preparation was given to residents of the Delmarva Peninsula. For the most part the people were ready for the hurricane if it did hit this area.

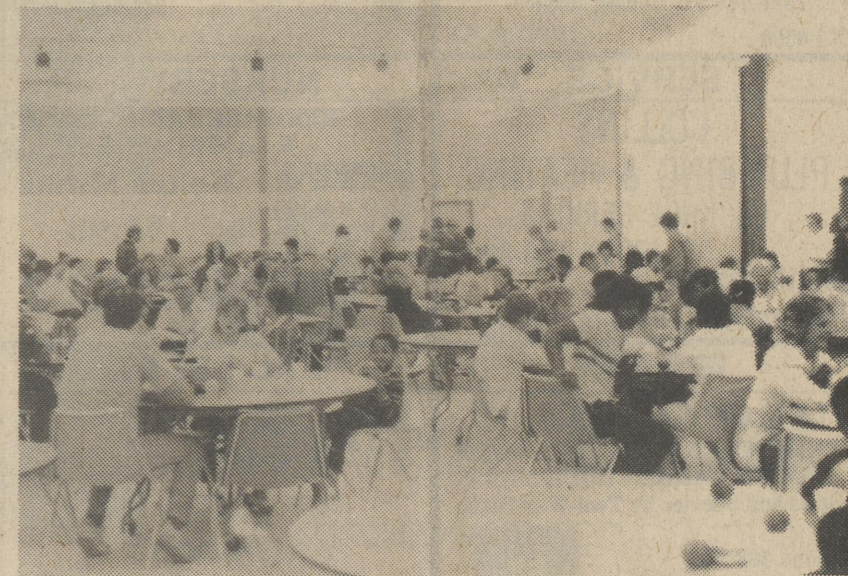

The storm battered the coastline from Cape Hatteras...damaging the boardwalk at Ocean City, Md. to the point where it will have to be replaced. Authorities had planned to replace the boardwalk before the next season. The boardwalk at Rehoboth was slightly damaged.

The storm hit along the New Jersey shore doing similar damage that it had done in Delaware. The real force of the storm was finally felt as it crossed over Long Island. Power outages in some areas on Long Island are still not restored.

The storm finally lost its force when it ducked inland and went up the Vermont area.

While some sat safely at home during the storm, 560 local residents took shelter from Hurricane Gloria at Lake Forest High School. Photo by Dave Dill

The Moose - America's leading fraternal service organization

The Loyal Order of Moose has earned public recognition as America's leading fraternal service organization by compiling an outstanding record of community service.

Moose civic affairs activities are designed for the public good and every one of the more than 2,000 lodges in the Moose Domain is encouraged to sponsor community service projects which will make their communities a better place to live and rear children.

Dedicated to the betterment of humanity, the Moose Fraternity actively supports national health battles. These include the March of Dimes, work in behalf of the crippled children, Muscular Dystrophy, Heart Fund, Cancer Crusade, Cerebral Palsy, CARE, Inc., Epilepsy Foundation and others.

In connection with most of these fund raising projects, the Moose Protectors plan is a unique method by which the lodges provide protection for volunteer workers while they solicit contributions.

"Youth Honor Day", recognized in most of the states either by executive or legislative action, has played an important role in the elimination of acts of vandalism at Halloween. "Operation Santa Claus" in which the lodges collect toys and distribute them to needy children has been responsible for providing many a child with a "Toyful" Christmas. It is estimated that more than a million toys are distributed each year.

Moose Lodges are active in the field of traffic safety. A great number have sponsored the Moose Child Safety Crusade, sponsored automobile safety check lanes, the Moose bicycle safety plan and have erected "Protect our Children" signs on the nation's Highways. Special emphasis is placed on community services activities for children. Junior athletics is extremely popular and include such projects as the various organized baseball leagues, junior bowling, football, basketball, swimming and hockey.

Moose support of the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts continues to grow with Moose Lodges sponsoring more and more troops each year. Moose-sponsored teenage clubs have also experienced a substantial growth. Authorities have enthusiastically approved these projects as effective weapons in combating juvenile delinquency.

New and very effective projects are constantly being added to the Moose Community Service program. "Project Identification" recently added to the program is a means of inscribing all personal effects, either for the automobile or the home, with the various police departments. The idea is established as a deterrent to break-ins of homes and automobiles.

Other Moose-sponsored civic affairs projects include Golden Age Clubs for those in the twilight years of their lives, work in behalf of hospitals, blood banks, cooperation with civil defense agencies and fire prevention and safety to mention a few. In addition, almost every lodge sponsors individual projects geared to fit the needs of the area in which it is located.

Lodges throughout the Moose Domain are making substantial contributions to the welfare of their respective communities by providing the initiative, organization and manpower for worthwhile civic affairs program.

New addition to MMH dedicated to Fischer and Burton

by Victoria G. Fleka

The much needed new addition to Milford Memorial Hospital was dedicated to Robert Fischer Sr. and Irwin G. Burton, the leaders of the fund-raising campaign for the new addition.

Virginia Clendaniel, vice-president of the hospital's board of directors, began the September 28 ceremony by welcoming some 200 area residents to the celebration.

Following the National Anthem, played by the Milford High School band, Father Charlie Brown, representing the MMH Ministerium, gave the invocation.

Milford Mayor Ronnie Rogers then thanked the Milford community for their contributions.

"This is a dream come true. The new addition to the hospital shows what a caring community Milford is. I'm very proud to be a part of this dedication," said Mayor Rogers.

Governor Michael Castle was on hand to discuss the hospital and to participate in the ceremonial ribbon cutting.

Refreshments and tours of the new addition were offered following the formal ceremony.

The new addition to Milford Memorial Hospital is completed and ready to serve patients. The addition, known as the Burton-Fischer wing, houses a new emergency room, radiology department, central admissions area, main lobby, gift shop and chapel.

The expansion brought four additional beds to the emergency department, bringing the total to 12. Two of the new beds are being reserved for trauma patients and the other two are being used for private examinations.

To ensure patient privacy, the original seven beds have walls between them where curtains once hung.

Additional improvements have been made in the waiting room of the hospital. A smoking area and separate restrooms have been installed.

The entrance to the new departments is located on Polk Avenue between Kings' Highway and Clarke Avenue. One door is reserved for emergency vehicles and the other for walk-in patients and out-patients. Visitors and discharged patients will use the old emergency room entrance.

The visitor parking lot is adjacent to the old emergency room. The emergency parking lot is at the front of the new emergency room.

"Every car is like your first car."

There's more than money to a Mellon auto loan.

To this Mellon Banker it's sharing the excitement of people buying a new car. Because whether it's their first or their tenth, the thrill is never gone.

That's the spirit you'll find with Mellon's loan officers. Involved.

Whether you've got your eye on a second-hand "classic" or the latest in aerodynamic engineering, we can make it happen for you.

We'll give you prompt approvals. And with Mellon's Telephone Loan Service you don't even have to come into the bank. In Delaware just call toll free (800) 323-7105.

You'll get low, competitive loan rates. If you pay your loan with automatic payments from your Mellon Checking Account your rate will even be 1/4% lower. And with Mellon's fixed rate you know exactly what your monthly payments will be.

Come to a bank that wants to lend you money. Come to Mellon.

Rev. and Mrs. Miller will be participating in a Pastor's retreat to be held at Sandy Cove Bible Conference, near North East, Md. on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Special events were enjoyed this past Sunday as the entire church celebrated Pastor Appreciation Sunday. Guest speakers such as the Honorable Alfred Mann and Mrs. Mann, Major Charles Venables, and Mr. Aubrey Brown joined us for the Morning Worship Hour to honor Rev. and Mrs. William H. Miller for 33 years of faithful service to this church and community. Well over 200 friends and members joined together for dinner in the Fellowship Hall following the church service.

Birthday Greetings this week to William H. Mervine, Rachel Griffin, Sherman Mayle III, Staci Maris, Ethel Sherwood, Julie Murray, Michelle Hill, Jack Carpenter and Mark Bennett.

information in the Church Office for the Finance Committee, by October 6.

The Food Pantry, sponsored by the Lake Forest Ministerium, is LOW on food. Let us bring in a supply of food at the Morning Worship Hour on the first Sunday in October.

OUR CLOTHING PANTRY will be open October 5, from 10 to 2. Come find a bargain and proceeds will go to help other in need.

Our deepest sympathy to the Larimore Family on their great loss. You are not alone, He is always by your side, for He said "I will always be with you."

Prayer is the greatest power known to man. Practice praying until it becomes a habit. Prayer puts you in contact with God. With His power working in you, you can become greater than you believe you can.

Healings In The Gospel - A Bible Study at Asbury

The regularly scheduled Wednesday evening Bible Study at Asbury United Methodist Church, 200 Weiner Avenue, Harrington, will make a very important change beginning with the session scheduled for October 9. The Bible Study Class will continue to meet at 7:30 p.m. each Wednesday. However, a well-known preacher and Bible teacher has been called upon to teach the class for a while. The Rev. Frank O. Baynard, retired United Methodist Minister now living in Milford, Delaware will begin his first Bible course at the session on October 9. The first course to be offered will be "Healings in the Gospels".

Anyone wishing to study the Bible under the guidance of one qualified to render this service should simply be present for the first session on October 9. The Rev. Baynard does expect that anyone registering for Bible Study do so with the intention of attending all sessions scheduled for the course. Enrollment will be limited so that everyone will have an opportunity to participate in the class sessions.

Prayer Vigil Week proclaimed by Governor Castle

October 13 to 20 has been proclaimed Prayer Vigil Week in the State of Delaware by Governor Michael N. Castle. The Delaware Chapter of the American Mothers Committee urges everyone to spend extra time each day with their families and friends in prayer.

A Prayer Vigil Luncheon will culminate the observance on Tuesday, October 15 at 12 Noon in the Dinner Bell Inn in Dover. Delaware's Mother of the Year, Zenobia La Dage, will preside over the services and program. Her Co-Chairman will be Dr. Judith Tobin, 1984 Mother of the Year from Delaware. The speaker will be the Reverend James Birney, retired Episcopal minister from Delaware.

All denominations are most welcome. Deadline for reservations is October 7th. For reservations call Mrs. Vincent Theisen at 1-652-8006 or Dr. Judith Tobin at 1-629-9275 or Mrs. Millard Biddle at 1-736-1570 or Mrs. Archie Brittingham at 1-645-9162.

Avenue United Methodist Church

The artist for the month of October, in the Holzmueller Gallery of Avenue United Methodist Church is Kay Wood Bailey.

"My art reflects my diverse interest in forms, colors, and textures. My style is ever-evolving through the inspiration of my faith in God; creatively responding to the Bible and my desire to be totally aware of the changing environment around us."

The display will include art deco paper weights, marble window lights, sculpture of Adam, watercolors, sculptured gemstones, and a few surprises.

The public is cordially invited to view this unique exhibit weekdays from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and Sunday from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. For further information call 697-1025.

Prospect United Methodist Women

The United Methodist Women of Prospect Church met at the Church on September 29th at 1:00 p.m. for the first meeting of the fall.

Virginia Smith was in charge of devotions and used "Labor of Love" and "Labor Day" as her theme. Mrs. Smith's Scripture reading was Chapter 13 of 1st Corinthians. She read about the beginnings of Labor Day. Virginia read a story about Squeaky and her Piglets and a poem by Helen Steiner Rice. Jean Miller gave a reading "God Loves Me; God Needs Me, God Works Through Me."

Phoebe Anthony opened the meeting. Thirteen members answered roll call with a verse of Scripture. The secretary, Jean Miller read the minutes and Mary Lou Wright gave the treasurer's report in the absence of our treasurer. Vivian Dill reported on the Sunshine Fund and a motion was made to transfer funds to the Sunshine Fund.

It was decided to keep our pledges to the UMW District Treasury and Neighborhood House the same as last year.

Julia Camper reported on the cookbooks. They have now arrived and are available for the sale for $4.25.

A bill for service to the copier was presented and ok'd for payment. Mary Lou Wright reported on the September visit to Haven Hill. Vivian Dill and Anna Webb are the volunteers for the October visit.

It was decided to have a Rummage Sale at Spence's Bazaar on October 11, 1985. Donations are needed for the sale. It was voted to have Nellie Walls as a honorary member and a card was signed by all members to be sent to Mrs. Walls.

The meeting was adjourned. Mary Lou Wright served refreshments of cupcakes, cake, tea and coffee. Her table was delightfully decorated.

Spartans led to victory by Lionel Dixon

by Ken Hutchins

When Chester Scott, one of the assistant coaches, was asked before the game if he thought the Spartans would win, he just answered with a very confident, "Yes sir."

And win they did, beating head coach Terry McCormick's Middletown team 34-6. The Spartans were led by the outstanding play of Lionel Dixon, who rushed for 155 yards and 4 touchdowns. Looking at the score and reviewing the first half stats however, you would have never known it was the same team.

The Spartan team started out with Donnie Bell recovering a fumble on the kick-off. Lionel Dixon cranked up and scored his first touchdown of the night. Erick Warren made the extra point and the Spartans lead 7-0 in the first two minutes of the game.

The rest of the first half was plagued with mistakes....fumbles, interceptions, and penalties. But it was Lionel Dixon who came through scoring his second TD with only one minute left in the first half. Warren with the extra point built the Spartans' lead at halftime to 14-0.

In the second half the Spartans came out playing their game, with Lionel Dixon coming out fresh and running 68 yards on the first play from scrimmage for his third touchdown of the night. Middletown was now hurting 21-0 early in the third quarter and about to be humiliated. To add to their hurting, Senior Linebacker Scott Fleming intercepted a pass. (This was his first TD ever as a varsity player). With the extra point it was now 27-0. With this in mind, Middletown drove to score with eight minutes left in the game but failed on their pass conversion making it 27-6. It was a very close and controversial call as to whether they scored.

Once again it was the mighty Spartans turn. With an almost sure victory in sight the Spartans nevertheless did not give up. With two minutes left in the game Dixon once again showed his talent by a 9-yard plunge for his fourth touchdown of the night. Erick Warren added the final point to make it 34-6.

Following the game, Senior Linebacker Scott Fleming said, "We just did not play a real good first half." Quarterback Ricky Brown was asked why they played a better second half and he said, "Coach Fleming said we had to settle down and watch out for them to come back. That's how Middletown has won their previous games. Also we had to work on our offense, and that is just what we did." As for defense, senior Mike Gyrgynick added, "We just kept hitting them harder and harder all night."

Feelings might have been mixed about the game, but one thing for sure is when asked how they would do this year, Coach Fleming summed it up for every player on the team. "We take one game at a time. Right now we are just looking at the "Smyrna Eagles". The Spartans will take on Smyrna Friday night at 8:00 p.m. at Smyrna.

Soccer team loses to Dover

Hurricane Gloria allowed a mixture of sporting events last week. The Lake Forest soccer team bowed to Dover 4-0. "It was just one of those crazy games where we came out of the short end even though we played a heck of a game," said head coach Dave Buck.

The Spartans had the ball in Dover's territory for most of the first half. "Just the one time Dover brings the ball down in our territory and their first shot on our goal....it went in. It was that kind of a day", said Buck.

Outstanding play by the mid-fielders like Jeff Dixon, Jimmy Olsen, and Ken Outten provided the much needed ball control to ensure under normal situations a win. "We were very aggressive and we demonstrated excellent ball control", said Buck.

Division Street upsets On The Road Again

by Joe Asher

It was supposed to be a great race between seven of the top aged pacers in the world, and it was.

The first ever Breeders Crown Pace for four-year-olds and upward was contested for $309,553 at Freestate Raceway in Laurel, Maryland, Friday night, and when the star-studded field had finished displaying their magic, Division Street destroyed the existing track and world record with a 1:52.3 upset over third place finisher and 1-2 favorite On The Road Again.

With a picture-perfect drive from Michel Lachance, Division Street was able to capitalize on On The Road Again's misfortunes to post a 4 1/2 length win over 50-1 shot Armbro Cadet with On The Road Again gamely nosing out Butler B.G. for show honors.

Butler B.G. grabbed the lead as expected for Ted Wing from post two while Division Street also left quickly from the rail to secure the two-hole. Armbro Cadet left well to tuck in third, ahead of On The Road Again, who started from post five.

The first of On The Road Again misfortunes came midway on the first turn when, according to driver Buddy Gilmour, "he stepped on a piece of paper." The popular pacer took several bad steps and made a small break as Gilmour looked down with nervous eyes to make sure there was no damage to either equipment or horse.

Butler B.G. whizzed by the quarter pole in :27.1 before Gilmour was forced to pull On The Road Again to the outside before being boxed in. Bill O'Donnell alertly followed the live cover with Guts as Butler B.G. took the field to the half in :56 as On The Road Again moved up alongside of pocket-sitting Division Street.

Butler B.G. flew down the backside in :27.4 to reach the three-quarters in 1:23.4 and take the sting out of On The Road Again.

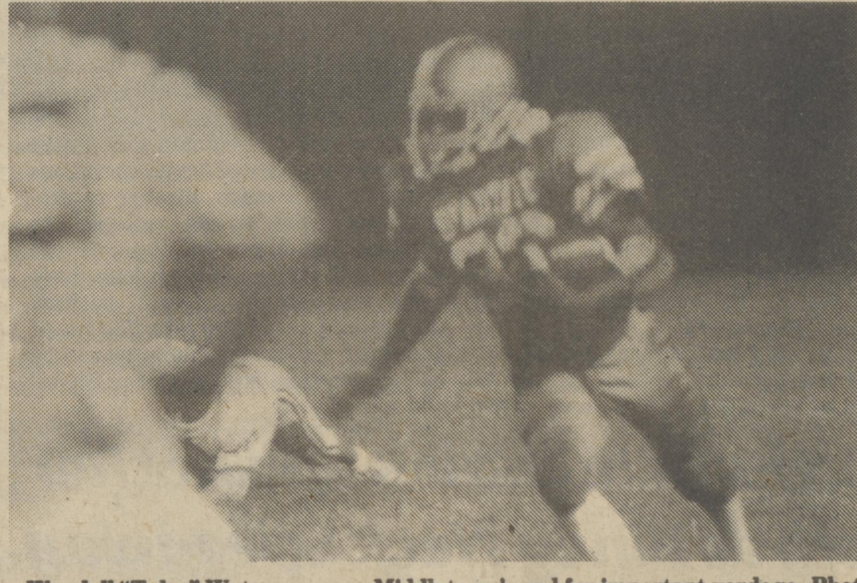

At the head of the lane, Lachance moved Division Street off the rail and fresh from a dream trip, he waltzed away from the field as Armbro Cadet closed well for the place. Despite being parked out on a :56.3 final half, On The Road Again saved the show spot with strong determination.

Butler B.G. was fourth, ahead of Tuff Choice, who was never a threat, American Freedom, who also lacked an excuse, and Guts, who finished last despite a perfect trip in a disappointing performance.

Division Street's flashy clocking broke On The Road Again's two-week-

Milford downs Spartan hockey team

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

MILFORD - "We were even for most of the game. We were never out of it. They (Milford) pulled one off," said Teresa Taylor who plays on the forward line of Lake Forest.

What Taylor was describing was a broken heart loss to Milford team which was not that superior. "We were down 2 to 0 at the end of the half, but we bounced back. Paige (Parker) tied the score (2-2) with about 6 minutes in the game", added Taylor.

Teresa Taylor was also feeling rather dejected because she had a perfect shot

Frankly Speaking

The Mane of the Game

by Mike Harker

At one time I thought that racing was the best type of entertainment that a body could find. Oh the racing has not changed that much in the twenty-some years that I have watched them, but the tracks where we watch them sure has. It is no wonder that the interest has fallen off in harness racing. I know that if I wanted to take some friends out, the last place that I would choose would be a race track. The tracks have become dirty and run down to the point where they drive people away, leaving only the hard core better. When will race track owners realize this important fact. When you have to compete with the flies at the hog dog stand in order to have a hot dog, well, I think you see what I mean. The tracks cry the blues to anyone who will listen, but there are only a handful who are doing something to bring back the people. When I hear them say that what the sport needs is better horses to attract new interests, I almost choke on my Wheaties. What the sport needs is race track owners who know how to promote the type of horses that they have at their tracks. When push comes to shove all races are the same. The horses go around the track twice on a half mile track, some just do it quicker than others. Although the news media is a great way to get the message across to the public about your activities, there is nothing like the word of mouth for advertising purposes. If a fan has a good time, he tells another, and so on. Racing has a lot to offer the fans, but the tracks have very little. A better can go away from the track a loser, but if he had a good time while losing, he'll be back. There is nothing to hold the fans' attention between races, except boredom. This is a time when there is a lot of competition for the entertainment dollar, and he who has the best promotion will win.

People come up to me everyday, telling me about the problems in harness racing, and everyone of them have a solution. It's too bad that the track owners cannot have as much imagination as some of these fans. It was once thought that harness racing could survive anything. Well, that kind of thinking went out with the single shaft sulky. Instead of always trying to make a buck, maybe these owners should spend a little to make a little more. When people say that there are not enough people in a given area to support a track, I have to disagree. The right kind of promotion will draw from a fifty mile area. The ideas that are used today are old and tired. We need new and fresh leaders to come forth.

One cannot help but think that at the present rate of decline in popularity, that the death of harness racing as we know it is just around the corner. People both young and old is what the sport needs now more than ever. They have to be entertained and treated like human beings not like second class citizens, who all that we want them for is to get their money through the betting windows. Do the tracks think that they are the only ones who have an investment to protect. The horsemen have thousands of dollars invested in the form of livestock just to attempt to make some money. Quite honestly, it is becoming a joke to think that we as horsemen can make money anymore.

The way that I see it, the average fan wants to be entertained, be in clean surroundings, be able to get a good meal and have fun. There is not one thing just mentioned that is hard to do. Racing will survive, that I am quite sure of. The Meadowlands and tracks like her will be all that's left of a once down-home sport. That will be tragic for all.

Talk to you next week.....

Harrington Raceway

HARRINGTON - Harrington Raceway in cooperation with the Delaware State College, Department of Business Administration and Economics will be conducting a marketing survey. The survey will be conducted over a ten-day period starting October 1st. It will cover a broad spectrum of topics, including various pari-mutuel wagering systems to physical plant facilities. This survey will help track management in identifying strengths and problem areas in the operation. Marketing trends and complete demographic information will also be made available to the Raceway as a result of the survey.

Harrington Raceway patrons will be selected and asked to complete the survey, then return it in exchange for a free parking pass - coupon good for one night thru November 9, 1985.

Gant wins North Wilkesboro

Waltrip takes over lead

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

NORTH WILKESBORO, N.C. — Harry Gant made an interesting event out of a not so interesting race when he won for the first time at the track which is located not far from his home in Taylorsville, N.C.

Darrell Waltrip with a 14th place finish forged into the rich and coveted NASCAR points lead. The lowly finish coupled with a 30th place finish for pre-race leader Bill Elliott allowed Waltrip to push ahead of Elliott for the first time this year by a score of 3,626 to Elliott's 3,596. There are four races remaining on the circuit.

Waltrip suffered with distributor problems and ran most of the race on 7 cylinders. He was the one to beat in the early going of the Holly Farms 400. Elliott again suffered mechanical problems which was mainly a broken fly wheel.

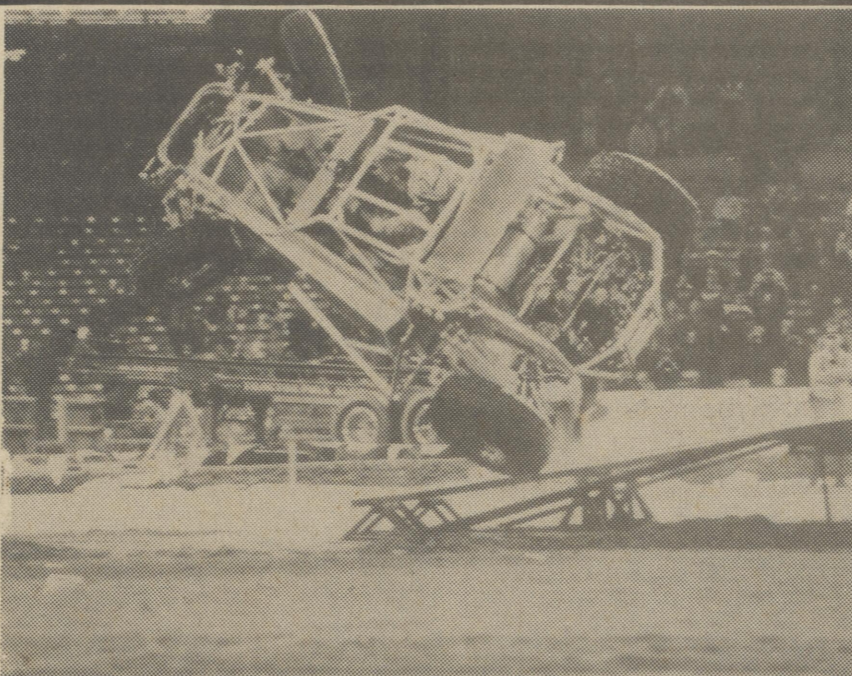

Gant with the win trails Waltrip by 171 points. Watch out for Mr. Gant. He wants the title worse than anyone...if that is possible.

A year ago Elliott caught Waltrip in the last four races. His luck and preparation carried him over into 1985 where he has won 10 races thus far.

Gant grabbed the lead in Sunday's race with 128 laps to go, and finished 3/4's of a length ahead of hard charging Geoff Bodine. The latter had sat on the pole for the race.

Gant averaged 95.087 mph which was slowed by six cautions. Gant picked up $32,025 for his efforts. It was his third victory of the year.

The first four cars were Chevrolets. The other two being Terry Labonte third and Dale Earnhardt fourth. Rickie Rudd who has been consistent all season got fifth.

World Record Holder [107] Chuck Strange at the end of one of his less successful ramp-to-ramp jumps in his "Star Probe III" dune buggy. Strange will attempt to do better when he highlights "Fearless Freddy's Night of Destruction" at the US 13 Speedway on October 5th.

"Strange" feat highlights "Fearless Freddy's Night of Destruction" at U.S. 13

by Don Allen

World record, ramp to ramp auto jumper Chuck Strange will highlight "Fearless Freddy's Night of Destruction", one of the most unusual and spine-tingling shows ever presented at the U.S. 13 Speedway complex in Delmar, DE. Strange, whose chilling aerial antics have gained him not only national fame but also an injury record that would make an emergency room physician cringe, will be on hand with his $40,000, modified Dune Buggy, "Sky Probe III", to attempt a 100 foot plus, ramp to ramp flight across the infield of the speedway, Saturday night, October 5th.

In his nine-year career, the 35-year-old Strange has thrilled crowds all across the nation and on many occasions had ended his act on an ambulance stretcher. His worst "brush with death" to date came on Friday, January the 13th, 1978 in the 12th Annual AstroDome Thrill Show, in Houston, Texas. Coming in too low for a landing, Chuck's rig nosed under the landing ramp at full speed. The resulting injuries required four weeks of hospitalization and seven operations to repair the damage. Strange returned from this "minor setback" to continue his quest to disprove the Laws of Gravity. His exploits have been featured in several national publications such as Sports Illustrated and Stock Car Racing Magazine and he has appeared on NBC's "Today Show" and ABC Sports.

Georgetown Speedway

Georgetown Speedway survived Hurricane Gloria and a full moon to record their final point show of 1985 Saturday night. Bob Toreky collected win number three and John Kozak his first in the twin 20 lap features for the modifieds. Jeff Patilla won his third limited late model feature and Tom Elliott became a two time winner in the street modifieds.

Clifford Todd's night started out great as he jumped into the lead at the start of the first 20. Todd's luck started to change on the restart of lap 4. Bob Toreky had just grabbed the lead when Todd made contact with another car and flipped off the second turn. Clifford was uninjured, but the car was badly damaged. Doug Hoffman quickly worked his way into second, but Toreky was clearly the fastest car on the track. With two to go Hoffman started to fade with engine problems. Toreky rim rode to his third victory of the season with John Kozak second, John Pinter third, Hoffman fourth, and Richie Pratt fifth. Six through ten were John Bennett, Bill Towers, Dave Schamp, Gary Trice and Tony Damato.

Gary Trice shot past Ron Keys at the start of the second 20 with Pinter third and Towers fourth. Toreky quickly moved through the field into second by the sixth lap but pitted on the next lap when the yellow came out for Bennett. As he returned to the speedway the right rear wheel and axle came off and Toreky was done for the night. Trice kept the lead until lap 12 when the exact same thing at the same spot happened to the Old Mill #33. Just as the caution was falling, the steering on Curt Slaughter's car broke sending him full bore into the wall. Curt was dazed but fortunate to walk away as the 212 was shortened more than three feet. Pinter took the lead and held off Keys and Kozak until five to go when Kozak blasted into the front spot. Pinter held on for second spot with Keys third, Pratt fourth, and Eddie Pettyjohn in fifth. Six through ten were Damato, Steve Downs, Trice, Norman Short and Slaughter. Only seven of the seventeen starters finished the race.

John Kenney led the first seven go rounds of the limited late model feature. Richard White led on the restart of lap eight but quickly surrendered the lead to Jeff Turpin. Bill Penuel took the point on lap 14 and went wheel to wheel with Turpin for the next five laps. With two to go something let go on Penuel's car, and it locked up in turn four leaving Turpin no place to go. The two tangled bringing out the yellow. This allowed Jeff Patilla to make up a lap he had lost with a flat tire early in the race and put Lee Joines in the number one spot. On the green, Patilla shot through the field into the lead with one to go and held on for the win. Joines finished second followed by Bill Holloway, Turpin and Penuel was credited with fifth. Turpin's finish clenched the track point title for him over Chuck Graves.

Tom Elliott took the lead coming off the fourth turn on the last lap to win the street modified feature. Charles Littleton finished third after leading nine of the ten laps with Phil Murray in second at the wire. Taylor & Messick John Deere presented the first, third and fifth place finishers in all three divisions with bonus paychecks.

Hendrickson captures first of season at Wall

WALL STADIUM — Robert Hendrickson drove a superb race Saturday night to capture the thirty-five lap modified feature at Wall. The victory was Hendrickson's first of the season and his second career victory at the speedway.

Taking the lead from his outside pole position at the start of the race, Hendrickson quickly proved to his fellow competitors that he was going to be the one to beat. Rick Sendzik moved to second as Harry Reed got third. With no caution flags through the first half of the race, Hendrickson set a torrid pace as the first yellow came out on lap nineteen as Jerry Cranmer spun coming out of turn four due to moisture on the speedway.

In for third was Hammonton's Tony Siscone as Lenny Boyd of Farmingdale was fourth, and Kevin Eyres of Colts Neck was fifth.

AAA presents Safety Citation Awards

Milford, Rehoboth Beach and Seaford were presented with the American Automobile Association's Safety Citation Awards for achievement in the prevention of pedestrian fatalities and injuries by the Delaware Motor Club.

More than 2,500 cities and 30 states participated in the 46th annual Pedestrian Protection survey which evaluates and recognizes the outstanding pedestrian safety achievements of participating communities made during the previous calendar year.

The one-of-a-kind program focuses national attention on pedestrian safety needs by recognizing cities, counties and states that have demonstrated successful pedestrian safety programs. Since 1937, when AAA began the Pedestrian Safety Program, pedestrian fatalities have declined 48 percent while motor vehicle registrations increased 481 percent and the nation's population grew by 84 percent.

Communities participating in the AAA program are judged with others of comparable size and characteristics. Program areas evaluated include safety legislation, enforcement, traffic engineering, school traffic safety campaigns and public information and education programs.

Established in 1927, the Delaware Motor Club is affiliated with the American Automobile Association and has offices in Dover, Wilmington and Stanton.

AAA PEDESTRIAN SAFETY AWARDS — [L-R] Milford Mayor Ronald J. Rogers; J. Allen Frear, Jr. Delaware Motor Club Vice President for Kent County; Elbert N. Carvel, Delaware Motor Club Vice President for Sussex County; Seaford Assistant City Manager, Ron Breeding; J. Caleb Boggs, Delaware Motor Club Vice President for New Castle County and Cpl. Division Street upsets On The Road Again

old track record by 1 1/5 seconds and bettered the world record for an aged gelding shared by Arion Lobell, Holridge Joe, and Rambling Willie by 1 3/5 seconds.

The 5-year-old son of Most Happy Fella, purchased for a record $340,000 at auction last year, raised his 1986 earnings to $510,926 with his 19th win in 34 starts.

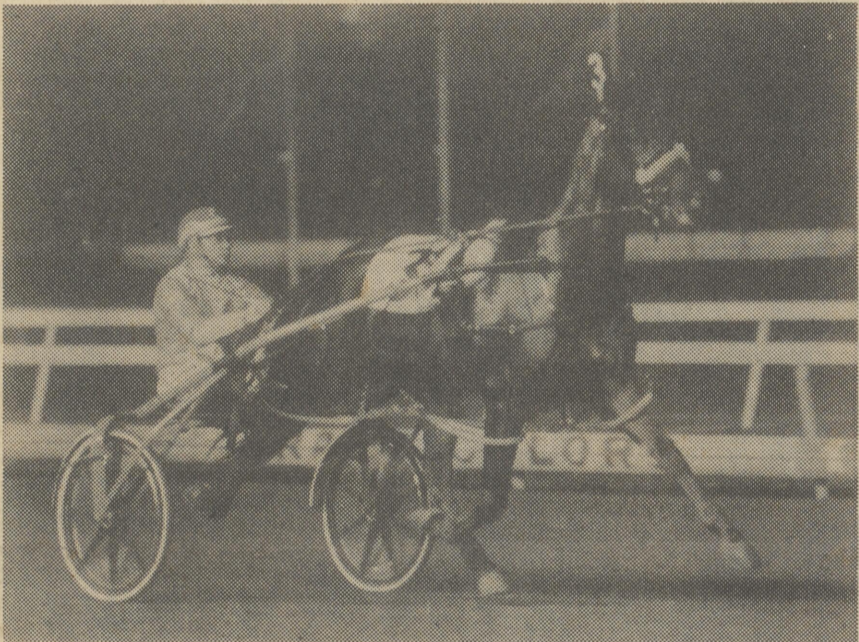

Owned by MEK, KLR and Denim Stables, Division Street had raced exclusively on half-mile tracks before conquering Freestate's five-eighths mile oval.

"He did all I asked," said Lachance, who, like Division Street, races almost Gilmour was stunned at On The Road Again's first ever break. "He's never done anything like that before. He just stepped on a piece of paper and that messed him up. After that, we had to come first-over and he gave it all, but just had too much to overcome. He went an awesome mile as he usually does. He is just a special horse."

Trainer Harry Poulton was also shocked. "I thought he broke something. I was scared. I'm just thankful he's OK. He ran his heart out again so we can't be upset. He's a great horse."

The third place finish earned the 4-year-old son of Happy Motoring $37,146 and raised his career total to exclusively on the Yonkers-Roosevelt circuit. "We had a perfect trip tonight, and he was very strong at the end. I had expected to get away third, behind Butler B.G. and On The Road Again, but we wound up in the two-hole. Going down the backstretch, Butler B.G. was well off the rail, and I thought we might be able to come up the inside in the lane, but I had a lot of horse and won with something left.

"He's real good right now," added Lachance, the winningest driver in the nation this year. "When we first got him, he had an attitude problem. He just wouldn't try. Now he wants to win. He'll fight to win now and that's the big difference."

Although this was the second straight time Division Street beat On The Road Again, Lachance would not say he had the better horse. "When we beat him at Freehold, we had a two-hole trip. Tonight he had no luck and everything went our way. On The Road Again has won twice as much money in fewer starts, and he is a great horse and it's a thrill to beat him, but I just can't compare the two. It's just a great matchup when they meet."

$2,492,852 for owners Blue Chip Partners, The Road Group and Gordon and Illa Rumpel. His gallant effort, even though it ended in defeat, showed his greatness and just why he is so popular. He does not give up.

His popularity and ability were evident as someone plunked down $25,000 to show on him, an investment which earned $1,250 the hard way, by a nose. O'Donnell had no excuse for Guts' poor race. "We were second-over behind On The Road Again and finished last. What's there to say?"

Ben Webster, American Freedom's driver, said "He was just no good tonight, but they broke the world record, so he didn't disgrace himself. He missed a week and wasn't up to that kind of mile."

The richest race ever for aged pacers was won by one of the two 5-year-olds entered (American Freedom was the other) but On The Road Again was the winner in many fans' minds. Even in defeat, On The Road Again was superb and his connections just can't wait to get "on the road again."

In The Pocket

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

The Grand Circuit moved to Lexington last Friday. In the $57,250 Transylvania 3-year-old trotting colt final, Nearly Perfect with Mickey McNichol getting the win in 1:57.1 over Prakas. Nearly Perfect also beat Prakas in their elimination.

Also on Friday at Freestate the $309,553 Breeders Crown was won by Division Street.....see related story by Joe Asher.

On Saturday at Lexington in the $192,700 Tattersalls for 3-year-old pacing colts it was Nihilator in straight heats for Bill O'Donnell in 1:53 flat and 1:51.2. The latter was the fastest race mile ever at Lexington combined time of 3:44.2 which was the fastest two heats ever. Nihilator now is the richest pacer of all time with earnings of $2,560,005. Also on Saturday at Lexington, Falcon Seelster paced in 1:52.4 for Tom Harmer in the $80,150 Castleton Cup for 2-year-old trotting colts. The final went to Royal Prestige with Hakan Walker in the bike in 1:57.2 over Express Ride. Those two colts are favored in the Breeder's Crown race at The Meadows.

On the same card at Lexington, Seven O'Clock wins it for Ed Ryan in 1:54.2 which is the fastest mile ever by an amateur driver.

The most wins for the season through Sunday are Lachance with 434, Campbell with 370, O'Donnell with 345, and EDDIE DAVIS ties at 29th with 176.

The most money won for the season are O'Donnell with $7.4 million, Campbell with $7.2 million, Lachance with $4.3 million and EDDIE DAVIS at 16th with $1.6 million.

on goal, hit it perfectly but deflected off the leg of one of the Milford players. "I bet she felt that for several hours later, I really drilled that ball," said Taylor.

The Spartans were in the game all the way. The team played well together and were aggressive on the ball. Through last week the Spartan team is 0-2 in the division and 1-2 overall. This is the same Spartan team which lost so many seniors to graduation, and was not supposed to be that tough. They have demonstrated they can play together and control the ball to win some ball games this year. Coach Dyal missed the play of JoAnn Outten who was out sick.

This week the Spartans meet Indian River at home and Smyrna away. The game washed out by hurricane Gloria will be rescheduled for play on October 8th with Worcester County, which is a non-conference game.

"The Rivals": Both horses and men 1884-1984 the past one hundred years

by Mike Harker

As a young man growing up in the sixties, all the talk was on horses such as Adios Butler, Nevele Pride, and Bret Hanover and drivers like Stanley Dancer, Bill Haughton, and Frank Ervin — all great rivals in the very competitive sport of harness racing.

This story will attempt to take you back to the beginning of it all. From the memories of history, may I present for your enjoyment.

"THE RIVALS"

RIVAL COUNTY

Joe Dancy and his son were getting ready to take the family to church one morning when Joe's son mentioned that their neighbor had just bought a new road horse and it was supposed to be pretty quick. Joe, with a half smile says that he would soon find out just how fast that horse was. Joe's mare was the talk of the county. She had a big heart and lungs that were powerful. Not one horse in the county could out trot her. The ten year old mare that he affectionately called Rose was the fastest of them all, and he knew it. As Joe was slipping the bridle over the mare's ears, he whispered something to her, and she seemed to understand what he was saying. Rose began to tense up, seemed to be anxious to begin the trip knowing that it would not be just another easy trip to church.

Joe and his family were off at a leisurely jog. The sun was warm and a slight breeze was shaking the leaves on the tall oak trees that lined the dusty highway. Rose, in her usual manner, was calm as she jogged along, but she seemed to be thinking about what Joe had whispered to her back at the barn. Her ears were moving back and forth in anticipation of a command from her beloved owner, Joe. As they came to the turnout to town, there stood surrounded by a small crowd of farmers the most magnificent animal that Joe and Rose had ever seen. He was midnight black, strong and sleek, with a small hole in the middle of his nose put there by a colt, or so legend has it.

Joe Dancy looked concerned and thought that maybe, just maybe, he wouldn't tackle this one — at least not at this time. But Rose had other thoughts. She trotted up to the black knowing that she was Queen of the County, and no outsider was going to take her down from her throne. She looked him in the eye, shook her head in a challenge that was unmistakable, and everyone knew there was going to be a race that very day.

Joe gathered up the reins and Rose responded with a quick jerk, very unlike her. "Whoa," said Joe as he climbed down from the wagon and walked over to the black horse standing before him. To his neighbor and proud owner of the black, he says, "Looks like you have a fast one there. Do you think he can take my mare Rose?" His neighbor says that he knows Rose is the best, but would like to try her anyway. A small cheer went up from the crowd as they overheard the conversation between the two men. The Race was on, and it would be one to remember because both men were rivals.

Now Rose hadn't raced any for about six months, and she was a little soft. The Black, on the other hand, looked like he just stepped off the train from an exhibition somewhere — all tight and hard and fit. But Rose loved to race and wasn't bothered by the black at all.

The course was set. To the church and back, a distance of two miles. Joe knew that his mare was feeling good. But could she go the distance? The black had a slight edge, Joe felt, because he was younger and fitter than Rose.

The small crowd that had gathered felt that Joe was making a mistake talking on the black, but the race was on. Rose, pulling the family wagon, while the black was pulling one of those new touring carts much lighter in weight.

A line was scratched in the soft dirt of the highway, and both horses were driven to the line and stood there waiting for the signal to start. Joe whispered something to the mare from the seat of the wagon, and Rose responded by tossing her head in the air. The black, sensing a race was about to begin, was excited and pulling at the bit in his mouth. Every muscle in his body tense and straining to the limit with anticipation, the whites of his eyes plainly visible for all to see. Rose, like the Queen she was, had hardly any signs of anxiety, just a look of determination and confidence.

Then it was time. The signal had come. The Race had begun. The mare was not prepared for what had happened. The black was trotting at a very fast clip almost two full wagons ahead at the start. Rose was trotting hard, but the black's lead was ever-increasing, now by three wagons; and the black showed no signs of tiring in the near future. Joe was starting to believe that maybe he had made a mistake. Maybe he should not have taken on the black.

As they approached a big elm tree which was about a quarter of the course, the black was not in sight anymore but the dust was still in the air. Joe knew he had to ask the mare for just a little more, so he began to tap her with the reins and began talking to her. On she trotted, a man and his horse going together like one. Soon the dust was thicker as the black came in sight again. Rose with her ears pinned down, Joe talking and tapping. On they came, not missing a step. As they rounded the churchyard they were side by side. The black looking like a demon, the mare a queen, manes and tails flowing, drivers yelling, crowds cheering. The race was on. Down the dusty road they charged.

Rose was beginning to feel the strain of the charge she was just asked to give, muscles aching, pain in the ankle which she caught in a fence last year causing a tear in her tendon, but on she came. Then it happened — a dog ran out of the woods and into the black sending the black to the highway and into a tree. Joe pulled Rose to a stop to render any help that he could when suddenly the black got up and charged down the highway leaving all behind.

Rose stood there quietly while Joe picked up his rival and placed him in the back of the wagon to be taken to the town doctor five miles away. Rose took every step with grace and ease knowing a sudden jerk could mean the end for the man in the back of her wagon. The race days for Rose were over, for her tendon gave way on the trip to the doctor's. The man was saved though the doctor said if he would have been brought to him at a fast trot, he would be dead, because his neck was broken and a fast trip would have caused too much vibration.

Rose lived to be twenty-five years old, and everyone called her The Queen of Rival County. Joe could be heard whispering in the mare's ear, from time to time, "You are my Queen — loving you always," and Rose would toss her head and whinny.

Brandywine enters into agreement

racetrack in the Delaware Valley, has maintained a position of leadership among racing facilities in the sport. Most of the great horses and horsemen in the sport have been stabled or have raced at Brandywine.

During its early years, Brandywine Raceway saw its business grow dramatically. In its first year, 1953, nightly attendance and wagering averaged 8,977 and $312,294, respectively. By the 1960's these averages had climbed to the 11,000 - 12,000 range in attendance and $500,000 - plus in wagering. Business remained strong through the early 1970's.

In the early 1980's, Pennsylvania passed legislation to permit harness racing and thoroughbred racing. By the mid 1970's, all the mid Atlantic states from New York to Maryland conducted harness and thoroughbred racing and the number of racing facilities increased dramatically. This situation resulted in racing seasons overlapping in all sections, up and down the region. In this extremely competitive environment, Brandywine Raceway's business, as well as that of most area racetracks, started to decline. At first the declines were moderate, but as the number of facilities increased along with lengthening of racing seasons, the declines became more dramatic.

In addition, competition increased for the gambling dollar. Casinos were established in nearby Atlantic City and state lotteries were introduced into Delaware and adjacent states, neither of which were around in the 1960's and early 1970's.

By 1984, Brandywine's nightly average attendance and wagering plummeted to all time lows of 3,600 and $305,989 respectively.

Furthermore, in 1985, the new Garden State Park - only a 45 minute ride from Brandywine - was rebuilt. Racing commenced on April 1, with a thoroughbred meet of 100 nights through mid July followed by a 100 night harness meet which began in late August. The effects of this additional competition on Brandywine, as well as other area tracks, was immediate and costly, resulting in Brandywine's 1985 season showing the lowest average attendance and wagering in its 33 year history, 3,237 and $264,587 respectively.

Recent years found the state of Delaware attempting to aid its racing industry with much needed reductions in the state's tax of monies wagered at the track. While reduction in taxes paid was a great help, it eventually was not enough to offset the current decline in attendance and wagering.

Brandywine saw earnings reduced from a 1974 high of approximately $2 million to losing years in 1982, 1983 and 1984. The net losses in those years were: 1982 - $345,000; 1983 - $1,866,000 and 1984 - $1,495,000 for a total of $3,106,000. Although the 1985 race meeting is completed, the Company's fiscal year will not end until September 30, however, Brandywine will report another substantial loss in 1985.

The entire Brandywine Raceway property consists of 188 acres of which 100 acres is involved in the just announced transaction. Plans for the remaining acreage are being formulated.

There are real opportunities for new friendships, awards and an all-around good time. George Simpson, Reporter.

The Houston Cardinal was the first 4-H Club to be started in the state, and it was very active and successful. I am very glad it is being reorganized. I hope many children in the community will attend and join. It is a very worthwhile organization for children.

Thought for the week - When you ask God for a gift, be thankful if He sends. Not diamonds, pearls or riches, but the love of real, true friends.

Gab Fest

by Pat Hatfield

Monday morning, and the calendar tells us that Autumn is here. It smells like autumn. The drippy fog carries with it the pungent odor of leaf mold. Last night the red crescent of the September moon was the color of a flaming sunset. The cricket chorus has about ended now, although the little creatures are still leaping about and hiding in the baskets of lima beans and thus into the house.

The gentle rain is still falling this morning. This will spur the lima beans on to fill. I picked a few on Saturday to finish up my own freezer supply. I spent three hours out there after making five sweet potato pies and putting four quarts of shelled ones in the freezer. So by the time I crept into the house and got under a hot shower, I was lowman on the totem pole!

It is glorious to be out of doors and there was a good breeze going. I stayed under the shadow of the bean vines so the hot sun did not bother me. The ladybugs have arrived. Well, I think they are always here, but they get very active in the fall. And they are so friendly. They creep over my face and neck. One very funny thing happened. I reached down to examine an unusual blossom on a weed, while I was picking beans, and a very surprised bumblebee came staggering out. I think he had registered with Mother Nature and cozied himself down into the heart of that flower to spend the weekend. He was so astonished at the very idea of this strange human daring to invade his territory that he evidently forgot he carried a weapon to use against me. So, he just went bumbling and grumbling down the bean row, while I had a good laugh.

This week the Woolly Bears are with us and busily doing their thing whatever that is. The first one I saw was a very dark brown fellow crossing the front yard. Then, when I came in the kitchen door, there was one crawling up the side of the house. This one was a sort of medium gray in color, which was new to me. I could not resist touching him lightly, and he immediately responded by curling himself up into a very tight ball and awaited developments.

All of this chitchat reminds me that I must get my house plants in on the windowsills once again. It seems only yesterday that I was putting them out. A card from our vacationing Ron and Peggy. They say that the New England scene reminds them of Scotland. I haven't been privileged to visit Scotland, but two special memories I have about my trip to the New England states. The silver birches and the neat white churches over the countryside with their tall spires reaching to the sky. Of course the foliage...but the autumn foliage is spectacular anywhere...even in little Delaware.

My friend, Alice, has a mockingbird that comes to her beautiful yard each evening to talk with her. She whistles to him and he answers. Usually they do not sing when the weather turns colder, but I found this item in my column some years ago. I am now working on getting the 25 years ready for typing into the book, and I see that one winter we heard the mockingbird sing. How could I have forgotten such a lovely thing? Some years ago, my friend, Gladys Taber, wrote me before she died that she had a bird nesting in the barn in winter. She urged me to get the columns into a book. I'm so sorry that she left us before she could have enjoyed the gift copy that would certainly have been hers.

Local Interest

On Wednesday, September 25th, sixteen women met at the Colony Inn for lunch and a lot of good reminiscing. These ladies are past students and graduates of Harrington High School.

The occasion was to honor Barbara Austin Calloway from Phoenix, Arizona, who has been visiting her friends and relatives in Harrington and other parts of Delaware. Renewing old friendships and spanning the years gave them all a pleasant trip down memory lane. The past forty years have been good to them all, even if they weren't quite sure for a minute who some were.

Elwood Wyatt is now recuperating at home after being in Milford Memorial Hospital for a month.

Rob and Mary Kay Taylor celebrated their 12th birthday on Thursday.

Bessie Butler camped at Callaway's Campground on Saturday with her three brothers. A good time was had by all. Later on Sunday, she attended a barbecue at her niece's in Denton, Maryland.

Leonard Taylor is home from the hospital recuperating. I talked to him Saturday at the Taylor's Hardware Auction, and he looked very well and was in good spirits. The auction was very nice. Several people attended throughout the day and it was very well done.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Brobst spent the weekend in Allentown, Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Brobst spent the weekend in Allentown, Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold McDonald are home after spending a month in Owl's Head, Maine.

The members of the local Rotary Club and their wives had dinner at the Iron Gate Inn in Dover on Tuesday evening. Sincere sympathy goes out to the family of Mr. Gus Raughley on his passing. Mr. Raughley was a good friend and neighbor to many.

Visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Brown have been Mr. Aubrey Brown and family. Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coverdale and Cara, and Amy Lynn, also Mrs. Norma Jean Bradley.

As far as I've heard, everyone was very lucky after "Gloria", so providing everything goes well, I'll see you next week.

I am going your way, so let us go hand in hand. You help me and I'll help you. We shall not be here forever. One day the wonderful Lord will come and rock us to sleep, so let us help one another while we may.

The Harrington Journal invites you to submit your wedding, engagement, and anniversary announcements and photographs to be published on the social page. The deadline for receipt of these announcements is Friday at 4:00 p.m. They may be brought into our office at 19 Commerce Street or mailed to The Harrington Journal, P.O. Box 239, Harrington, Delaware 19952. If you would like your photo returned to you by mail, please include a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The wedding is planned for October 19 of this year.

Senior Center

October is here and the Center is going to be full of activities and events this month. So, let's get right to it! On Thursday the 3rd, the ladies will be actively working on Crafts in anticipation of our upcoming annual Fall Bazaar, which will be November 1st. They are asking for all the help they can get these last few weeks. In the afternoon, we will be having a sing-along with one of our own members, Charles Sharp. Here is your chance to join in on some good old-fashioned fun. Friday, the 4th, now here's a busy day! In the morning, we will have two health programs, both beginning at 10 am. The Public Health Nurses will be here to give flu shots to those persons who have signed in advance. Also, there will be a nurse from Visiting Nurse Association to do blood pressures. (These were supposed to have been done last week, but because of hurricane Gloria, we had to reschedule.) All day that day, we will be having fuel appointments with a representative of the Catholic Social Services. In the afternoon we will be having Bridge Games with Phyllis Greenhaugh. If you are interested in playing bridge that day, please let Phyllis or the Center know before that day.

Now, after the weekend, on Monday the 7th, we will be having Bible Study in the morning with Rev. Watson. The Ceramics department will also be very busy in preparation of the November 1st Bazaar. Our lunch that day will be: BBQ Pork Chops, Candied Sweet Potatoes, Mixed Vegetables and Suzy Q's for Dessert.

In the afternoon, we will be having a program about Medications and Drug Interaction with Mrs. Lorraine June, this will begin at 1:00 p.m. Also on the day there will be fuel appointments all day long. On Tuesday (8th) The Craft Department will be working this day in the Ceramics/Crafts Room. In the afternoon we will be having a CPR Training Class with Herbert VonGoeres. Mr. VonGoeres was with us last year and its about time for a refresher course. Now on Wednesday, 9th, we are sponsoring a bus to the Annual RSVP luncheon in Dover. The RSVP stands for Retired Senior Volunteer Program. Each year they have a luncheon to honor all the volunteers who had put in more than 50 hours of volunteer service into their local agencies. We have many people at the Harrington Senior Center who volunteer in such areas as Kitchen aides, Band and Chorus Members (they receive volunteer hours for their practice as they volunteer to present musical programs to local nursing homes), Arts and Crafts and Ceramics as they volunteer many hours at the Center and at home to make the beautiful items you see for sale at the Center. The monies from the profits go to the Members fund and many times projects for the center. The members funds have purchased such items as all of the dinner tables at the Center and the very wonderful padded chairs at the Center, just to name a few. Also, many of their hard-earned dollars have been donated to our Building Fund. We also have office Volunteers, and Friendly Visiting. Over 10,000 hours of volunteer service are given to the Center each year...now just multiply that by minimum wage and you'll see the great effect that the volunteers have on the Center and its operation. Now you can see why the RSVP honors the County volunteers. The Luncheon in Dover will be from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m. and the Center furnishes the bus transportation to those volunteers who have received invitations. I would like to personally thank our many volunteers for a job well done! Well, that's another week here at the Center.

Now for some of our upcoming trips from the Center. We will be taking a trip to Atlantic City on October 24th to Caesar's. On November 7th we will be sponsoring our Mystery Trip. On November 20th we will be taking a trip to Encore Theatre for a dinner a show (a impressionist show entitled "Superstars"). On December 7th, we will be sponsoring a trip to Williamsburg to do a little Christmas shopping at the pottery and to see the Williamsburg Christmas Homes Tour. For more information on any of these trips, please call the Center at 398-4224 for more details.

We also have cabins available on our Alaska tour for August 1986. Our Information Tip for this Week is the Best Emergency medical identification system in the world - MEDIC ALERT.

Only Medic alert offers complete lifetime protection. Medic Alert signals 3 ways. 1) The Medic Alert emblem, worn as a bracelet or necklace, is engraved on the back with your special medical condition. It identifies you immediately in an emergency and speaks for you, if you can't. Emergency and health care personnel are trained to look for this emblem. 2) Also engraved on the emblem is a special "call collect" number that provides instant access to your emergency medical records and the names of physicians or relatives to be contacted. This 24 hours emergency answering service is on call 365 days a year. 3) Medic Alert members also carry a wallet identification card that contains additional personal and medical information. This card is re-issued annually. Medic Alert cost $15.00 for a lifetime membership. For more information or an application, please contact the Center. That's it for now, hope to see you all soon at the Harrington Senior Center.

Baking a variety of breads and learning about their nutritional role is the focus of the 4-H breads leader training this Saturday, October 5th from 9:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. in Caesar Rodney High School's Home Economics Room in Camden. For details on registration, call the 4-H office in Dover at 736-1448.

Greenwood

October activities at the library include:

October 9 - Story Hour for Preschool children at 10:00 a.m.

October 10 - Films - Little Toot, Little Engine That Could and Where the Wild Things Are, 4 p.m.

October 15 - Smokey the Bear will be at the VFW Post Home at 10:00 a.m. to greet preschool children. Rain date is October 16.

October 15 - Free Blood Pressure testing, 7:00 p.m.

October 22 - 7:00 p.m. Refunding Group Meeting.

October 23 - Story Hour for preschool children, 10:00 - 2:00 p.m.

October 24 - Films - Tea for 300 and Roller Horn, 4:00 p.m.

On October 14 there will be a Craft Night for children. A small fee will be charged to cover the cost of materials. Please call the library if your child plans to attend.

The statistics report from Greenwood Library indicates an increase in the use of the library by the residents of the area. In the year ending June 30, 1984, the circulation at the small library was 17,503 and 7009 patron visits. In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1985, circulation had increased to 19,162 items and visits to 8221.

It was also noted that in July and August 1983, 2968 circulation, visits 1328; July and August 1984 circulation 3329, visits 1650; July and August 1985 circulation 4514, visits 1694.

The library has large print books available as well as puzzles. (Can always use children's puzzles with all the pieces). A good selection of magazines is available for borrowing, and for library reading, there are Delaware State News, Harrington Journal and the Seaford Leader.

The library tries to have both current best sellers and old favorites for your reading pleasure and current reference materials for schools. Materials will also be borrowed from other libraries for your use.

If you have visited the library recently, you have noticed how crowded things have become. The building is bursting at the seams. The library wishes to thank the local 4-H Club for maintaining the flowers during the summer. Also the use of the VFW Post Home for our many projects.

Mrs. Evelyn Henry has returned home after vacationing in Upper New York State for two and one-half weeks. Her daughter, Miss Regina King entertained several members of their family during her mother's absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Warnick joined Mr. and Mrs. Noalan Warnick of Lincoln for a four-day visit to Cape Hatteras.

Do You Remember?

by Dorothy Graham

Smile!
We met once a month and it was fun. We talked, told a joke and ate a bun. Sold brooms, had sales once or twice a year. Everyone would participate, have no fear.

The dinner near St. Valentine's Day, was a wonderful time, everyone did so.

What I am talking about, my dear, Why "Mothers Auxiliary of Asbury Choirs, just that near.

Miss Kraybill and Mr. Brobst were the directors to begin it all, Now the kids that were singing every fall.

Their children are being the star, As one lady said, Now Dorothy, you are going far.

Back, she meant, that's for sure. But the church is still quite a lure.

The choir's I'm talking about are the "hancel Choir". There were other choirs and they were great! They came before the Chancel Choir, and I only remember hearing them referred to as "The Choir". Mr. Garrett Harrington directed the Choir at one time. Mrs. Ada Wilson (Fred) played the organ at one time, Drexel Bullock used to pump the bellows (or whatever it was so she could play. Do you remember the beautiful "Pipes" that were in Asbury Church? I thought that was a tragedy when they removed them. Trinity Church still have theirs, and they get more beautiful as the years go by. Back to the "Choirs". Some that I remember singing in "The Choir" were Miss Margaret Simpson, soprano - she was just a girl in high school when she began singing with the other folks in the choir, namely, Mrs. Lucy Jones; Mrs. Mae Jones Sheldrake - Mrs. Stella Dean, Mrs. Mary Short, Mrs. Louis Jones (can't remember her given name).

Mrs. Grace Gordon Chason also played the organ as did Mrs. Van Cleef and Imogene Welch. Imogene and Barbara Smith used to sing duets. Their voices sounded well together. They sang on TV several times. My, we in Harrington were so proud of them. Still are! Even though they live out of town. Some others that sang in the choir as I remember - some didn't sing very long - others were with the choir a long time - Lillian Camper was also as was Mildred Wagner. Bessie Wheeler and Bertha Belle Jarrell, Grace Brown, Catherine Hickman, Margaret Simpson and Ruth Jarrell were sopranos. Eurie Morris, bass; Jerry Smith, tenor. Others I remember singing but didn't know what pitch they sang, Howard and Mildred Wagner, Tom and Betty Clarke, Millard and Betty Ann Cooper, Evelyn and Guy Winebrenner, Mark Willey, Horace Quillen, Edith Bryan, Hanah Adams and Virginia Clarkson.

When the Mothers Auxiliary was organized, Viola Warren was the first Choir Mother. She served about 10 years. The Chancel Choir's first gowns were home made and were we ever proud! Mr. Horace Quillen bought the first (professional) gowns and honey it was a beautiful, soul-satisfying sight. Every face in the choir and congregation beaming from ear to ear.

But make no mistake, whether the mothers attended "Mothers Auxiliary" or not, when you called on them, they responded. Sorry they didn't attend for we had a grand and glorious time at our monthly meetings. We met at some members home and usually had a co-host. Some of the goodies I remember were homemade ice cream, pineapple upside down cake, cherry tarts, pumpkin pie, frozen fruit salad, fresh coconut cake, pecan pie, crescent cookies (remember coffee at Mildred's) Goodness I better stop, getting hungry just remembering. There was devotionals before the meeting. Someone always had a joke or something that had happened during the month or at a picnic, skating party, Rehoboth outing or preparing and cleaning up after the dinner we gave the choirs or maybe it was something that occurred at one of the rummage sales in Cain's Alley (Gaines).

One for instance was when I sold Helen Harrington's sweater. She had gone to dinner, someone got a good bargain. Helen didn't beat me up but honey, everyone really guarded their things when I was around, afraid I'd sell their valuables. Then Mary Greeley was trying to sell a woman a man's coat. We laughed til we hurt, Mary was innocent she realized after a while that the coat was a man's coat, someone had changed the buttons. A man came in, liked it and bought it. The lady laughed too. She said she should have bought it anyway. It was a fine coat. While on the subject of "Mother's Auxiliary, would love to have a reunion of the "Oldies" (said with much love for I am one. Some are deceased but thought and spoke of often. Remembering are the Mrs. Ada Pitlick, Cora Quillen, Mable Kemp, Hazel Hopkins, Blanche McKnatt, Mary Greenly, Kate Peck, Edith McKnatt, Elma Stauffer, Mildred Wagner, Betty Clark, Hazel Langrell, Effie Raughley, Ida Dickerson, Charles Toppin, Iva Banning, Ethel Rapp, Ruth Jarrell, Ethel Hopkins, Evelyn Masten, Ada Graham, Lily Graef, Dorothy Graham, Agnes Vane, Helen Harrington, Dorothy Larimore, Ellen Perry, Ella Mae Hackett.

Some of the "kids" in the choirs at different times of course, "Libby" Ann McKnatt, Mary E. Nelson, Ralph Draper, Anna Lee Derrickson, Irene Ford, Anna Lee Brown, Mary Tatman, Florence Biddle, Cabbage Brown, Eloise Price, Doris Clendaniel, Gertrude Baynard, Betty J. Dill, Thelma Wix, Dorothy Anthony, Dorothy and Betty Harding, Gladys Kemp, Lewis Warren, Elmer West, Betty Ann Clendaniel, Irene and Audrey Downes, Nellie Emory, Emily Welch, Ray Masten, Phyllis and Fred Marvel, Evelyn, Elma, Thelma Stauffer, Gloria Felty, Thelma, Lillian, Betty Ann Short, Jane Price, Clara Kootz, Mabel King, Rosell and Mary Ann Hickman, Donald Kent, Hazel Sharp, Grace Wanda, Bobby Quillen, Verta Ruth, Donald Vane, Lila Chason, Leonard Masten, Sarah McCabe, Emily Ann Brown, Jean Coulbourne, Shirley, Janet Harrington, Gail and Gwen Melvin, Phyllis Warren, Marlene, Sandra Raughley, George, Gracie Gene, Penny Graham, Lois Langrell, Brenda Banning, Charlotte Rapp, Jimmy Smith, Eleanor, Paul Wagner, Marilyn Jarrell, Beth, Zena, Clinton Graham, Elizabeth Ann Greenly, Lois, Lynn Hopkins, "Chuck" Peck, Candice and Kevin Peck, Nancy, Bobby Taylor, Joanne Dickerson, Virginia L. Minner, Peggy and Lee Graef, Delmus Rogers, Ann Toppin, Ann, Louisa Howard, Andrew Simpson, Mary Jo Pitlick, Ellen Pearson, Joyce Hopkins, Audrey Billings, Lois Larimore, Alice Hearn, Barbara Payne, Barbara and Alwilda Smith, Jerrie Reed, Philip Holson, Billy Manship, Betty Moore, Barbara Edwards, Clara Tatman, Joyce Downing, Ann Perry (Ann was the pianist), Joan Collins, Dwight Hackett, and many, many more for sure!

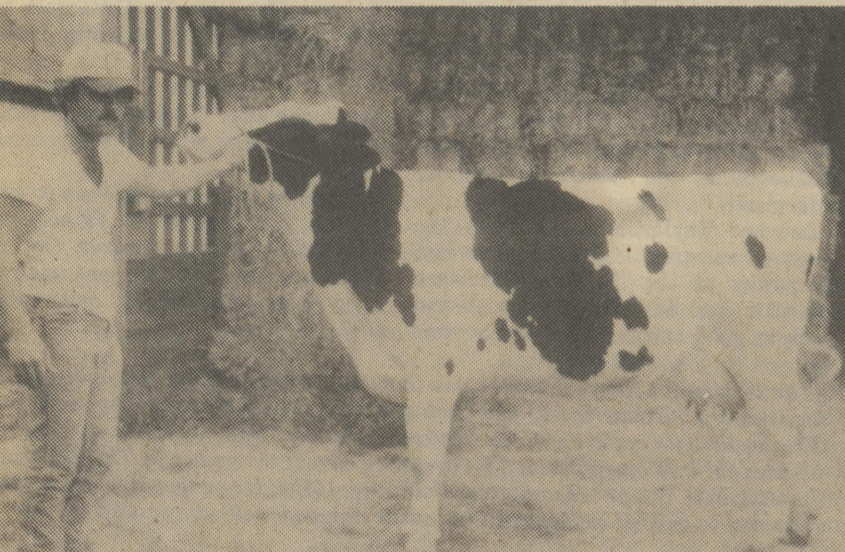

There are four choirs at Asbury "Cathedral", the name chosen when the young adults sang in place of the choir in 1947.

Rev. J. Harry Wright was pastor. Miss Irene Ford directed the first Sunday, Mrs. Lela Chason Cochran was organizer. Mr. Jim Olson, now directs the Chancel Choir organized in 1937 by Rev. J. E. Parker for High School students, first directed by Miss Charlotte Kraybill, followed by Prof. Melvin Brobst. Now directed by Mr. Matt Burgess. The Chancel Choir sang at Evening Worship for many, many years. Matt also directs the "Crusaders" Choir which was organized about 1942 while Rev. Robert E. Green was pastor. Mrs. Green was their first director. It was first known as the Junior Choir. In 1958 Mrs. R.S. Gibson (wife of the pastor), organized and trained the "Cherub" Choir. They looked so very angelic in their white vestments. The Mother's Auxiliary have supported and assisted the Choirs. Rev. E.H. Collins requested that a history of Asbury Methodist Episcopal Church be made. History was begun in 1929. There was a booklet distributed at the 100th anniversary in 1968. Their first meeting was held in an old engine house of Pennsylvania Railroad Co. The booklet is most interesting. Mrs. Agnes Vane loaned hers to me. I see that her son Ridgely Vane Jr. was active in Epworth League for the first service after dedication in the "Christ Chapel" was led by him. Prof. Melvin Brobst was the speaker, this was December 17, 1939. The Epworth League was changed to Methodist Youth Fellowship in 1941. A beautiful cloth was made and presented to the church for the table in the sanctuary by Mrs. Clarence Shockley in memory of her son William who died in 1934.

Some of the pastors I remember - Rev. G.A. Alderson, E.H. Collins, J.E. Parker, Robert Green, Collins building was named in Rev. Collins honor. Conrad Hamer, L.B. Morgan, H.V. Branford, J. Harry Wright, R.S. Gibson, Robert VanCleaf, Shockley, Jones and of course there are others, but right now I cannot remember them. The present pastor is Rev. Kyle Smith.

Speaking of music and all that good stuff, how about Heritage Day when the Jolly Timers of Senior Center was directed by Master Chad Emerson (great nephew of Grace Wanda Quillen, only six and already directed three year's). He is cute as a button, we will hear from him as the year go by. Hope we live so long!

Take care, be kind to each other. Heritage was a huge success. Heard Historical Society sold 900 hot dogs. Say, honey, that's a lot of hot dogs. I like them at an occasion like that. It was a lovely fall day, people, lots of them greeting friends, partaking of the goodies, seeing the crafts, viewing the demonstrations, enjoying the historical aspect of it, the museums etc. Best wishes to all and a special thank you for the calls, cards, letters and especially a letter with no name or address. Thanks so much! I don't know who you are but you do! Thanks to so many for so many for a perfectly happy Harrington Heritage Day. The entertainment was extra special. Love you. Hi Emile, Alice, John, Margaret, Viola, all out-of-town! If all of you want to see something absolutely gorgeous, lovely and soul satisfying, see the Christmas Program at Asbury Church, Weiner Ave. Faith!

Lake Forest concerned citizens to hold organizational meeting

HARRINGTON - An organizational meeting of the group called "Concerned Citizens of the Lake Forest School District" will be held on Wednesday, October 2nd at the Century Club in Harrington. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m.

According to Doris W. Draper, "...the purpose of the meeting is to bring those people together who are interested in defining the problems of the school district and bringing them into focus as well as discussing the upcoming referendum, and discussing the possibility of needed changes." Draper said she feels there are many citizens in the district who are interested in the direction the district is going. "I think many people want the money (in the district) spent more conservatively on the school needs," she added. "We also think a lot of people want more information on the referendum... and is it needed to handle all of the changes proposed by the Administration," she said.

"I think there is a real need for more community input into the policies set by our school board and administration," she said. "The drop-out rate needs to be looked into as well as ways to correct the low (test) scores," she said.
