

Daisy makes top news in 1985

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

HARRINGTON — The asphalt plant took back seat to the mistreatment of Daisy the most famous dog that ever lived and walked the streets of Harrington.

But her sympathies did not just localize in Harrington and the Lake Forest School District. The most famous dog that ever stalked a postal worker gained a lot of sympathy outside the confines of this State and I guess the nation.

First arrested in 1984 for not being on a leash, she was promptly hauled off to the local magistrate where prudent and common sense Judge Paul Neeman politely tossed the case out of court for lack of evidence.

The old farm boy Neeman certainly saw right through the lopsided weight of compassion in favor of the pooch. Charges went out against our most famous Magistrate, and the next two times Daisy was arrested...in late August and December, the "dog snatcher" elected to summons the dog through another Magistrate.

The second time the State Attorney General took homage against the charge brought against Daisy, and tossed the case out of court. Such things tend to embarrass high ranking state officials... particularly in election years or moments when one yens for yet a higher office.

Not to be down and out, the dog warden arrested Daisy for the third time as though he...the dog warden was seeking an advisory opinion from the court.

He got out this time! Leave Daisy alone...or something like that. She was to be distinguished from an ordinary ruff who gets into our garbage containers and spreads "it" all over the place, from one like Daisy who likes to accompany postal carriers on their route. "As long as she (Daisy) is in the reasonable accompaniment of an adult...that's okay".

So Daisy fans were able to breathe a sigh of relief, and Daisy is happy to go along with a favorite postal carrier.

So for the moment, Daisy is on the back burner. But come next spring when the asphalt plant barks out those loud thumps and smoke fills the sky around Harrington...a new news story will be born for 1986.

Vandals steal Christmas trees from residents yards

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

HARRINGTON - Two families lost evergreen trees from their yards on Saturday, the 21st of December.

Ken and Shirley Allen, who live on County Rd. 429, just east of Harrington, and Carroll and Grace Welch of Welch's Seed Service in Harrington both reported loss of trees from their property some time late Saturday night on the 21st of December.

The Allen tree was taken from their front yard. "We had two trees...both the same size in front of our house," said Mrs. Allen. She explained that each year for the past 8 years, they have decorated the trees with electric lights. "When they cut the tree down and made off with it...they also took the lights that were on the tree," added Mrs. Allen.

Grace Welch's tree was planted on the back side of their property on West Street. "The person or persons who cut the tree...really knew what they were doing. They selected the tree that was the most concealed from the street," said Mrs. Welch. The Welch tree was between 12 and 15 years old, and stood about 7 feet high.

"It was a fir...a real nice tree. Nice size to it. What really hurts me so much is that if the person did not have the money for a Christmas tree...all they had to do was come down to the store where we were selling them...and I would have gladly given them one," said the good-hearted Grace Welch.

Shirley Allen said her tree was a Colorado Blue Spruce. "It will cost $300 to replace it because it will have to be the same size as the other one," said Mrs. Allen. She also added that her insurance policy does not cover it.

Mrs. Allen said she called the state police, but they reported this is a similar complaint each year, and unless you can catch them in the act, it is relatively hard to find a suspect.

Grace Welch said she had never had anything like that happen to her before. "I would say that whoever did it knew the property really well, and also knew what they were doing. I say that because of the way the tree was sawed off at the base of the tree. It was a real clean job and someone knew what they were doing. It really hurt me...but what can you do," said Mrs. Welch.

Accident south of Felton injures three

by Carol Ann Porter

An accident just south of Felton on Sunday morning left a 21-year-old New York woman in critical condition at Kent General Hospital in Dover. Cynthia M. Conlon of Pine Hill, N.Y. was admitted to Kent General Hospital with multiple fractures and injuries. She remains in the intensive care unit and listed in critical condition. Ward W. Conlon, 26, of Nargaretville, N.Y., her brother, was treated and released. Conlon's car was struck head on by Daniel G. Davidson, 46, of Wilmington, who was driving south in the northbound lane of U.S. 13. Davidson was treated for a broken nose and fractured ankle and then released. Davidson who was driving the wrong way on U.S. 13 had apparently been drinking and was charged with driving with a revoked license and two counts of vehicular assault in the first degree.

Felton and Harrington fire companies responded to the accident, and their rescue squads worked for 30 minutes to free the Conlons from their vehicle.

Protect your pipes!!

Winter is here, temperatures fall, more cold predicted. Low temperatures and winds can mean frozen water pipes unless precautions are taken. The public is urged to take reasonable precautions to avoid the cost and inconvenience of frozen pipes.

The Public Works department suggests the following that will help reduce or prevent frozen pipes:

- *Close in crawl spaces and under porch areas where there are exposed pipes to protect the pipes from the cold winds;
- *Insulate pipes in areas likely to go below freezing temperatures;
- *Use heat tapes on pipes that may be exposed to cold winds and below freezing temperatures;

- *Allow a tap to trickle during very cold weather, especially at night when there is no water flow in the building, as moving water is not likely to freeze and the cost to run such a trickle is cheap compared to having a plumber repair broken pipes.
- *If any building is vacant, a request should be made to City Hall to cut off the water and the owner should then drain the system.

If pipes should burst, the main valve or plumbing system should be turned off immediately. If there is no main valve for the plumbing system, the City should be called to shut off the water from the main. Call 302-398-3530 from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

charged with allegedly committing two of the eight burglaries. An acquaintance, John R. Schroeder, Jr., 20, of R.D. 2, Box 287, Milton, has been charged with allegedly committing five of the eight burglaries.

Jewelry, money, one car and guns were taken in the burglaries. Of the approximately $55,000 worth of property reported stolen, detectives at Troop 4 have recovered approximately $25,000 worth.

Dover man arrested in scuffle with troopers

Floyd G. Reynolds, Jr. of 128 Kentwoods Mobile Estates has been charged with assault 2nd degree, resisting arrest, disorderly conduct, criminal trespass 1st degree, and reckless endangering 2nd degree. Trooper Michael J. Jordan and Trooper Ronald W. Rhoades responded to Kentwoods Mobile Estates to investigate a report of a suspicious person. Upon arrival, troopers learned that the suspect, identified as Mr. Reynolds, had entered another residence within the Mobile Estates and was seen entering his own residence at Lot 128. When the troopers contacted Mr. Reynolds at his residence, he became disorderly and threw two cookware pans at the officers. As the officers tried to subdue Mr. Reynolds, a scuffle ensued. Trooper Jordan was struck in the face by Mr. Reynolds and was treated at Kent General Hospital for a contusion to the forehead and released.

Dewey beach residents arrested on drug charges

Sherra M. Lipshitz, 30, and Ana M. Rosario, 25, both of 7 Daisy Road, Dewey Beach, have been arrested on charges of possession of heroin with intent to deliver, possession of marijuana, conspiracy 2nd degree, possession of hyperdermic needles and maintaining a dwelling for drugs.

Forty-five packets of heroin valued at $1450 was seized along with a small quantity of marijuana, hyperdermic needles and approximately $400 in U.S. currency.

Arrest made in residential burglaries identified as having been stolen in Kent County. Detectives also recovered property taken in several burglaries that occurred in Sussex County and Maryland. Kirby has been committed to the Delaware Correctional Center in default of bond.

EPA issues new registration standards

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency issued registration standards which, in effect, changed the classification of eight granular soil insecticides to "RESTRICTED USE". These newly classified compounds are sold under the trade names Furadan, Di-Syston, Mocap, Temik, Dasanit, Dyfonate, Thimet, and Counter. Certain formulations of the herbicide Simazine have also been restricted and the herbicide Bladex will be restricted in September of 1986.

It is important for farmers to know that they must be certified if they plan to continue to purchase and use these materials. Anyone purchasing or using any RESTRICTED USE pesticide without a valid applicator certification card will be in direct violation of State and Federal pesticide laws and subject to criminal and/or civil penalties.

Soybean growers are eligible for price support

All producers of 1985-crop soybeans will be eligible for price support loans and purchases. However, soybeans are not eligible for the grain reserve program or for storage payments.

The loan and purchase rate for Kent County's 1985 soybean crop is $5.06 per bushel, the same as last year. The loan rate is based on the national average loan level and applies to soybeans graded No. 2 or better.

Large supplies and lagging use could cause soybean prices on a national average to range between $5.05 and $5.35 a bushel. The USDA forecasts this year's soybean crop at 2.06 billion bushels, 11 percent above last year.

The 19th edition of Who's Who, published in ten regional volumes, features over 424,000 students, or 6 percent of the nation's 6,500,000 high school juniors and seniors. They represent 18,000 of the 22,000 public, private and parochial high schools in the country.

Silent Night, Sober Night

"Silent Night, Sober Night" is the theme being used by the Delaware Motor Club, AAA in this year's campaign to help curb drinking and driving over the Christmas-New Year's Holiday.

The 53,000 member organization has a few suggestions for hosts and hostesses to help keep the holiday a safe and sober one for their guests:

- *Always serve food when you're serving alcoholic drinks.
- *Don't force drinks on your guests and always have non-alcoholic drinks available.
- *If you serve an alcoholic punch, make it with a non-carbonated base, because alcohol is absorbed much faster when combined with carbonated mixers such as gingerale.
- *Stop serving alcoholic beverages about an hour before the party is to end. Remember beverages such as coffee do not sober a person up...only time can do it.

*Make the suggestion to your guest that you drive him home.

*Suggest that the person stay overnight.

*Attempt to take the car keys away if he insists on driving.

*Call a cab and have him taken home. Offer to pay the fare.

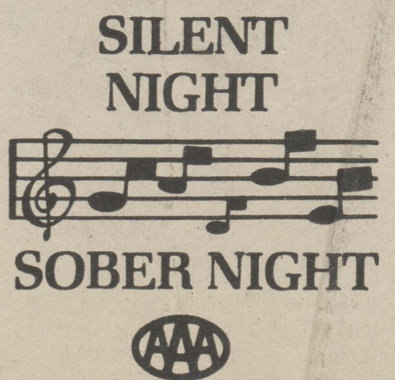

*If all else fails, call the police to prevent him from driving.

It may sound drastic, but it may save his life as well as others on the highway.

These are a few suggestions from AAA to help keep the holidays safe and sober.

While the supply lasts, the Delaware Motor Club will give away a special "Silent Night, Sober Night" label sticker to any person who requests one at either the Club's Stanton, Dover or Wilmington Office.

If, in spite of your efforts, one of your guests becomes intoxicated, you should consider taking one of the following steps:

Over The Backyard Fence

Gab Fest by Pat Hatfield

Our holiday deadline is pushing us all a bit to get our columns in on time, but we shall make it because we take pride in doing our job right.

As far as preparations here at home, we are winding down on the homestretch now; and, as usual, we will end up getting it all together!

I have just finished baking six and one half dozen mashed potato yeast rolls for our Christmas Eve party. This afternoon I will make the pumpkin pies. Then, I shall sit down and give thanks for the strength that has been granted unto me to be a part of the holiday festivities.

I must remember to make a casserole of creamed onions. I like these with my turkey, but the rest of the family ignore them.

On Friday, December 20, we had our first snow of the season, about two or three inches. Pretty, but a bit early for Christmas. A lot of folk had to adjust their plans in order to cope. The Graham A.M.E. Church here in Greenwood had planned to have their Annual Christmas dinner for members and friends, so they postponed it until the next night. It is such a lovely affair, and we always look forward to being honored guests. It is a time of caring and sharing with these dear people, and we truly receive a blessing from their love and fellowship.

So many Readers have told me that they love the new Christmas slogan they see around this year...."Jesus is the Reason for the Season!" How very true. May we hold this always in our hearts. My prayer is that He may give to each of you your heart's desire.

Mt. Lebanon gets the call

While being chosen is a Biblical concept with which Christians are familiar, few modern Christians experience the act of being chosen. The people of Mt. Lebanon United Methodist Church, 850 Mt. Lebanon Road, Wilmington, should identify well with this concept for they have been chosen Bishop Roy C. Nichols, in a search for churches engaged in vital ministry, has selected Mt. Lebanon as one of the model churches to be featured in his study of United Methodist Churches.

Bishop Nichols has identified seven areas that must be improved to revitalize a church. They are: Children & Youth Ministries, Worship, preaching, small group fellowship, congregational care, special ministries to various segments of the congregation and community, and counseling. Mt. Lebanon Church has demonstrated effective and revitalized ministry in each of these areas.

Founded in 1834, along the Brandywine Creek in an area known as Rockland, the church's life has spanned 150 years of American and Delawarean history. Typically Methodist in origin, the church land was formed from religious services held in private homes until land was given for a church building in 1834. From this beginning the church, served by a long line of faithful pastors ministered to the community around itself.

Three years ago, Mt. Lebanon was a small church with a dwindling membership and a worship attendance of about 30 people. Their sanctuary was in need of much repair and they could not support a full-time pastor. They were a small church in a city with many large churches already offering strong programs. Their future seemed to be inevitably set. Yet today Mt. Lebanon is a growing, vital church actively involved in witnessing to the community in which the church exists. An average Sunday morning will find 100-150 persons in attendance at Worship; the membership rolls have swelled to 308 members through the reception of 150 new members in the last three years. They have recently installed a new chancel organ in their newly repaired sanctuary. Their church also displays a Charles Parks sculpture, "A Dream of Israel" and a picture of the church by artist Carolyn Blush.

How does a small, and essentially dying, congregation move in three years time to become such a vital church that it is considered a model for others? The pastor of the church, the Reverend Dr. Marlene Walters, answered this question in this way: "A church should patiently try to work in the community being God's Word not only to the church but to the community as well. The church should try to see what the needs are in the community. When the church is on the cutting edge of that, you can bring new programs and people to the church." Under the leadership of Dr. Walters, that's exactly what Mt. Lebanon has done.

programs to meet needs in the community. A suicide prevention program reaches out to those in deepest despair offering hope and practical help. The program offers counseling to teens, adults, Families of Suicide To Enable Recovery (FOSTER), to apprentices of troubled youths, and works with an interagency council. The Best Foot Forward program ministers to women in prison offering exercise, rehabilitation and skill development. A Clowen Ministry visits at nursing homes and institutions in the area sharing the joy of faith. A nursing home ministry takes seriously the call to care for the sick and shut-in.

The needs of the congregation have not been neglected as the people reached out into the community. Walters says, "You have to nourish the people who are there for their patience in waiting." The "Backbones" assumed the responsibility for raising funds to refurbish the sanctuary and care for the maintenance of the building. The influx of new members is a vivid statement that the congregation's needs are also being met in worship and in programming.

Wilmington District Superintendent, Dr. C. Edwin Lasbury, was the one who recommended Mt. Lebanon to Bishop Nichols. He stated, "There is no question that there has been new life, vitality and a sense of mission at the church since Dr. Walters was appointed there. She has worked primarily through small groups reaching out to persons of need. We are, indeed, pleased that Mt. Lebanon has been chosen as a model church."

Among the seven areas of vital ministry, Bishop Nichols searches for churches that have a balance between lay and clergy involvement, Christ-centered and Bible-based ministry, serious engagement in ministries of social justice, and have attendance which exceeds the denominational average in relation to membership. Some would say this is an impossible combination. They would say those churches involved in ministries of social justice, compassion and peace will not grow in membership; and those growing in membership will not be involved in social issues. Mt. Lebanon is a model church doing both saying, "It can be done!"

Mt. Lebanon is a part of the United Methodist Church which was considered the most American of denominations because it came into being with the nation and adopted an organization that is similar to the Federal Government, including executive, legislative and judicial branches. The Peninsula is considered the "Cradle of Methodism" because early growth centered her wit the work of circuit riders like Francis Asbury and Freeborn Garrettson. Today Mt. Lebanon is a part of the Peninsula Annual Conference which is over 90,000 strong and linked through United Methodism's Connectional System to people and churches all over the nation and world.

Dill, Outten, Fleming, Gygrynk reach finals in Seaford Tournament

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.
SEAFORD - The holiday wrestling tournament held at Seaford on Saturday produced a real good showing for Lake Forest candidates.
Scott Fleming was the champion in the 187 lb. class. "Fleming surely must have been the runner-up in the tournament for the outstanding wrestler with his record of two pins and a decision of 12-5 in the final," said Tom Shaffer, head coach.
"I think the final was a true test of Scott's ability as a wrestler in this class," said Shaffer. Fleming made a mistake in the opening moments of the first round and got down immediately 0-5 to Truitt of Glasgow. "From there Scott wrestled Truitt 12-0. He came back, shut out Truitt and won the championship. To me that was a real victory and certainly ranked as one of the best efforts of the day," added Shaffer.
Mike Gygrynk won the first round of the 167 lb. class with a pin of Jeff Ritter in 1:17. He won the next match but was pinned in the finals with 10 seconds left by Tony West. "I think Mike did a great job against one of the very best wrestlers in the State," said Shaffer.
Kenny Outten won his first two matches, demonstrating real wrestling skills. This was the 128 lb. class. Outten was pinned by John Fraim who was voted the best wrestler in the tournament.
Derik Dill turned in two real good performances with pins in his first two rounds of wrestling. The second pin came after one minute of the first round. Dill lost in the final match.
Greg Gillie got a bye in the first round, and was pinned in the second round by Jim Marvel of Glasgow in 1:26 of the first period.
The tournament was a double elimination...so each wrestler got to wrestle at least twice. Mike Popivchak in the 100 lb. class lost both times in the first round as did Wendell Watson. "Year...with Mike he is going to have it rough this year. He weighs about 94 lbs. and most of the people he will wrestle are weighed down to 100 lbs. So even though he is a tough kid...he has his problems with that class and the extra strength that is needed here to win," said Shaffer.

Darryl Cherry (134 lbs.) and Pat Sullivan (140 lbs.) both were pinned in their first matches...but came back and won their first round wrestlebacks with Cherry out-dueling his opponent 15-7 and Sullivan winning 12-8. Sullivan wrestled a grueling match which came down to strength. Sullivan overpowered his opponent several times. "Several times it looked like Pat's opponent was going for the pin. But Pat is very strong...and he broke the holds and out-pointed his opponent. He did a good job," added Shaffer.
In the heavyweight class, Marvin Hicks pinned Scott Layfield of Sussex Central in the opening round of his class, by just overpowering Layfield with 5:45 into the third and final round. "Marvin did a good job in pinning the outstanding football player for Laurel in Brenden Puckham. It was a good confidence builder for Marvin," added Shaffer.
Hicks lost to Sam Messick in the semi-finals 8-9. "This was a close match...and I really thought Marvin would prevail," said Shaffer.
Lake Forest overall finished 5th in the tournament. "There were several teams bunched up that a point either way could have gotten us 3rd or better," said Shaffer.
Shaffer said for the season which will get into full swing following the holidays, "there are several teams in the conference that will wrestle close. There should be many close matches. One or two calls or one or two points either way will make the difference in the season."

In the Pocket

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

A perfect performance by Prakas along with stellar efforts by Nihilator, On The Road Again and May Wine provided the Meadowlands with a stunning Hambletonian Day, the highlight of the 1985 standardbred season.
The first Saturday in August was sunny and clear, a comfortable 78 degrees, but the action on the track was blistering. A crowd of 37,562, who wagered $4,412,057, watched as nearly every winner on a 14-race program took a record. May Wine paced a 1:52.3 for a world record by an aged mare and On The Road Again won the United States Pacing Championship in 1:51.4 for a world record by a four-year-old.
Prakas, a straight heat winner in the Hambletonian, clipped two ticks off of the stakes record shared by Speedy Somolli and Florida Pro when he trotted in 1:54.3 in the final heat.
But the piece de resistance, the heart stopper, was in the ninth race of the day, a seven-horse invitational for three and four-year-olds. Nihilator sat back as Shannon Majority provided a fast pace and a first quarter in 26.2. Then Bill O'Donnell unfurled the big colt's sails and clicked off a half in 53.4 and a three-quarters in 1:21.2.
Then it was, as track announcer Tom Durkin noted, a race against the clock. Nihilator paced the final quarter in 28.1 for a final time of 1:49.3. It was the fastest mile ever recorded in a race and just two-fifths of a second shy of Niatross' time trial mark.
Hambletonian Day was just the icing on the 190-date season that drew 2,782,500 fans who wagered more than $445 million.
In the Meadowlands Pace, which produced numerous betting records, Nihilator accomplished a feat only his sire, Niatross could previously claim — a sweep of the Woodrow Wilson as a two-year-old and the Meadowlands Pace as a three-year-old. The colt covered the mile in 1:50.3, a stakes record.

Express Ride was just a tick slower in the $1 million Peter Haughton Memorial as George Sholty posted a 1:57.4 clocking with the two-year-old colt.
In the companion event to the Hambletonian, Conch was a straight heat winner for Hakan Wallner in the $401,000 Hambletonian Oaks.
The $1,344,000 Woodrow Wilson for two-year-old pacing colts produced an upset as Ray Remmen guided 49-1 shot Grade One to victory. The Lee Broglio trained colt covered the distance in 1:54.3.
The newest addition to the stakes program produced two of the most exciting trotting races of the year-end and two world records. The inaugural Statue of Liberty Trot was raced on June 17 and 24.
Meadow Road, trained and driven by Torbjorn Jansson, swept both legs. In the mile and half opening contest for a purse of $135,000, Meadow Road scored a three-length victory over Mon Tourbillon in 2:57.3, a world record for the distance.
The following week, Meadow Road was even more impressive, winning the one-mile event with its purse of $185,000 in 1:54.2, a world record for an aged trotter. He finished four and three quarter lengths ahead of Sandy Bowl.
When the meet concluded more than $37 million in purse money had been distributed and 93 percent of the races (1,927) had been contested in two minutes or faster.
Saturday at Roosevelt in the $30,000 Open Handicap Pace it was Hoosier Hotshot winning in 1:59.1, which was one of five wins Saturday for Rejean Daigneault.
At Garden State on Saturday in the $15,000 Pace it was Tuff Choice winning in 1:55.1 for John Campbell.
At Pompano Park on Saturday in the $10,000 Invitational Pace it was the 4th straight for Flying Rich in 1:59 for Axe Stoltzfus over a sloppy track.
Graduate Boy wins his 30th race of 1986 at Sackville Downs, Canada on Sunday. This is tops among all North American horses. It was also Graduate Boy's last career race as he is 14 and must retire at the end of the year.
Bobby Shahan had three winners on Sunday at Dover Downs. He won with Billie Cropper in the $2,000 pace for Jim Brittingham in 2:01 on a cold wintry day.
Carmine Abbatiello and Jim Nynch were elected to the Living Hall of Fame.
In the leading dash winners it was Lachance with 574 wins; Campbell with 462; Bill Gale with 459 and O'Donnell with 415. The leading money winners are O'Donnell with $10 million, Campbell with $9.5 million and Lachance with $5.7 million.
On Saturday the 21st at Rosecroft, Harrington's own George Dennis drifted Wave Ore Perm to a second place finish in the North American Junior Driving Championship which is sponsored by the Harness tracks of America. Dennis and Wave ore Perm were beaten by a nose. Dennis was awarded second place in the amateur driving championship. He was a representative of Brandywine Raceway. Dennis is the son of J.D. and Nellie Dennis of Harrington.

A LOOK BACK — The first Saturday in August was sunny and clear, a comfortable 78 degrees, but the action on the track was blistering. The piece de resistance, the heart stopper of the day was in the ninth race of the day, a seven-horse invitational for three and four-year-olds. Nihilator paced the final quarter of this race in 28.1 for a final time of 1:49.3, the fastest mile ever recorded in a race and just two-fifths of a second shy of Niatross' time trial mark. (Nihilator is driven by Bill O'Donnell who is one of the leading dash winners with 415 for the year.)

Varsity basketball team gets first win

DOVER - The Spartans won the consolation game in the Dover Holiday tournament on Saturday for their first win of the season.
The score was 79-73 over Caesar Rodney who has yet to win this season.
With the big man for the Spartans, Kevin Benson, turning in a good night, the Spartans were able to hold the Riders at bay. The Spartans outscored the Riders in the first two periods and played them even in the second half.
The Riders without their big man, Anthony Jones in the lineup due to a severely sprained ankle in Friday's loss, were not able to contain Benson whose height (6'8") provided several points from under the basket. But Benson was weak on the charity stripe missing 9 from that spot. Benson turned in 21 points and many rebounds for the Spartan's victory.
According to head coach Bill Falasco, it will take an effort such as this in each game in order for the Spartans to play close. He said his team was not playing up to its true potential. Adding that Benson is capable of scoring more points particularly if he picks up on the free throwing shooting.
The Spartans were 9 for 29 from the free throw line.
On Friday night, the Spartans lost to a very powerful Dover team 64-58. The Spartans gave the Dover team a slight

A stolen ball and two free throws in the closing seconds of Friday's game sealed the victory for the undefeated Dover Senators. At the time the Senators were leading by just four points. Time and time again, the Spartans came back in the game. They were down 6-0 in the opening minutes, but came back to tie early on 8-8. Each time the Spartans came back, Dover would run off several points. The Senators opened up leads of 8 and 12 points in the first half, but the Spartans came back at the buzzer in the first half to close to within 6 points...which was the final margin of victory.
In the third quarter the Senators opened up 14 points...but again the Spartans came right back to within 6 points.
In the winning effort on Saturday night, the Spartans leading scorers behind Benson were Chuck Bell with 19, Derron Hammond with 8, Lionel Dixon with 9, Bruce Mosley with 4, and Hicks with 6.
The Spartans next play this Friday night at Laurel.

Foyt fastest in Houston

HOUSTON - It's 7 a.m. and A.J. Foyt Jr. flashes a big smile just before tackling Houston's notorious rush-hour traffic in the Association for Retarded Citizens 610 Challenge. Ready to wave the green flag is Karen Buchan, executive director of the ARC's Houston Metro Council.

One hour, 43 minutes and 54 seconds later Foyt was right back where he started — Houston's Anheuser-Busch Brewery — after an approximate 75-mile lap of the city.

Foyt's task was simple: find out how long it would take to loop Houston — obeying all traffic laws.

Budweiser and Houston's KKBBQ radio presented the event Dec. 6. Budweiser donated $5,000 to the ARC, plus $6.10 for each elapsed minute of Foyt's drive, a total of $5,634.

Houston-area residents were invited to guess Foyt's time in advance with the author of the best guess winning the 1986 IROC Z Camaro he drove. Estimates ranged from 30 minutes to more than eight hours. Two entrants hit it right down to the second, and Mac McCoy of Webster, Texas, won in a recent drawing.

The event was named for Interstate 610 that circles Houston and which comprised about one-third of the course.

D.I.R.T. Street Claimer changes

The DIRT Street Stock division will see a change in the claimer price in the 1986 and 1987 seasons. The changes were made at the recent DIRT promoters meeting.

The claiming price for the DIRT Circuit in 1986 will go up to $1,500 from its current price of $1,000. This will be enforced at all DIRT tracks running Amateur Street Stocks with the exception of Orange County and Accord Speedways. The claiming price at these two tracks will be $3,000 in 1986. In 1987, the claimer rule will be uniform throughout the entire DIRT Circuit at a price of $2,000.

To claim a Street Stock you must put your money down before the races on that night. The driver of the car that you put a claimer on will not be notified until the races are over. At that time he must turn the car over to the claimer. The driver is entitled to take the wheels, tires, seatbelts and fuel cell out of the car before he gives it up.

The complete 1986 DIRT Rule Book is available at DIRT Headquarters. There is a charge for the book.

Martinsville looks to '86

Ten races, spread over four weekends, will be run. Joining the list of the track's race sponsors is the Performance Pontiac Dealers Association of Virginia, which will sponsor the Pontiac 150, a 150-lap NASCAR National Championship Modified race on Saturday, April 26.

The speedway will open its 39th year of racing on Sunday, March 23 with the Miller 500 Classic, a NASCAR triple-header with 100 laps for Late Model Stock cars, 200 laps for Grand Nationals and 200 laps for Modifieds.

Last season, Curtis Markham won the Late Model Stock car race, Charlie Jarzombek the Modified and Brett Bodine the Grand National.

Jarzombek's victory started him on a streak that saw him take three of the four Modified events run during the season.

The Pontiac 150, called the Azalea 150 last year and won by Jarzombek, is set for Saturday, April 26 while the Winston Cup cars will be in action in the Sovran Bank 500 on Sunday, April 27.

The Nationwide 150, a 150-lap NASCAR Modified race that Jarzombek took last year, will be run on Saturday, September 20 with the Goody's 500 Winston Cup Series battle going the next day on Sunday, September 21.

Another NASCAR triple-header, the Winn-Dixie 500, will wind up the season on Sunday, October 26. That one will include a 100-lap Late Model Stock car race, a 200-lap Modified battle and a 200-lap Grand National event.

WALL TOWNSHIP - The modern stock or six cylinder division at Wall Stadium will undergo some major rule changes for the 1986 season. Of major importance will be the use of stock OEM flywheels and pressure plates, as no aluminum will be allowed. A stock OEM clutch disk - ten inch minimum will be used also.

During the 1985 season, the modern stock class was paid a bonus for using a 9 to 1 compression engine to help reduce the cost of racing within the division. For 1986, all engines must be 9 to 1 compression ratio or less. Wall Stadium's Katech Tester will be used and will be the legal tester in which all engines will be checked.

Season's tickets for the 1986 season are also available at the Stadium office. The price of a general admission season pass will be $300. This will include all stock car racing programs along with demo derbies being presented during the 1986 season.

The annual awards banquet is rapidly approaching as the event will be held on Saturday night, January 25th at the Sheraton Gardens in Freehold.

Wall Stadium's 1986 season will officially begin on Sunday, March 23rd with the annual Open House Practice Session. The season opener is set for Saturday night, April 5th and will feature the modifieds, MAD's, modern stocks, and street stocks.

University of Delaware scientist Leo Cotnoir retired on December 31 after nearly four decades of service as soils lab head and teacher.

U of D Soil Scientist Cotnoir retires

University of Delaware soil scientist Leo J. Cotnoir retired on December 31 after a career spanning nearly four decades. He joined the college of Agricultural Sciences in 1947 as a member of the plant science department faculty and director of the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station's soil testing laboratory.

A Connecticut native, Cotnoir holds a bachelor's degree in chemistry from Assumption College in Worcester, Mass., and a master's degree in soils from the University of Connecticut.

As director of the University of Delaware soil testing program — a post he held until last spring — Cotnoir coordinated the development and updating of fertilizer recommendations for all crops grown in the state — field and vegetable, turf, home garden, ornamental, nursery and greenhouse.

He also collaborated on an effort to standardize soil test recommendations for the mid-Atlantic region. The resulting cooperation among soil specialists at experiment stations in Delaware, New Jersey, Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina is unique in the U.S. It has increased the credibility of the soil test programs in all seven states and has also made it possible to maximize soil research efforts at each experiment station.

As lab director, Cotnoir has watched fertilizer use dramatically increase over the past 38 years in response to higher yielding crop varieties and more information on crop fertility practices.

In the 1960s he played a supporting role in reclassifying the soils in that original survey. "Delaware was the first state to be completely remapped according to contemporary soil standards," Cotnoir recalls. Today, the resulting soil maps serve a number of purposes. As indicators of land productivity, they are used for farmland tax assessment and as management aids for crop farmers. They also provide essential information for soil conservation purposes.

During the late 1970s and early 1980s, he was the guiding force behind a series of soils-related workshops for extension agricultural agents and specialists. Cotnoir played a leading role in assembling research data and updating the university's fertilizer and recommendations in order to help financially hard-pressed farmers reduce production costs.

In recognition of his untiring support of these and other programs, the extension service presented Cotnoir with its Friend of Extension award at its annual conference in 1984.

Much as he enjoyed his soil lab work, Cotnoir — the father of eight — always felt special enthusiasm for his faculty responsibilities.

He likes to follow the careers of former students, many of them now living in other parts of the country. After retiring he says he will probably miss teaching the most.

As for his retirement plans, Cotnoir expects to continue his present involvement with the Longwood Foundation's professional gardener's training program.

Help Your Heart

Beware of cold winter weather

Traditionally, winter is a time to stay warm by the hearth. But for an increasing number of Americans winter has instead become a season of outdoor sports such as Alpine and cross-country skiing. Many people, however, are not conditioned to the physical stress of outdoor activities, and are unaware of the potential dangers of being outdoors in cold weather. When winter sports enthusiasts fail to take certain precautions, the result can be accidental hypothermia.

Hypothermia is a drop in body temperature. It is a potentially fatal condition, and the cause of death in most cases of hypothermia is heart failure.

A large group of Americans, especially the elderly and those with heart disease, are at special risk. As people get older the efficiency of their bodies' thermostats frequently decreases. Elderly people can actually begin to suffer the effects of hypothermia without knowing they are in danger.

People with coronary heart disease frequently suffer attacks of chest pain called "angina pectoris" when they are outside in a snowstorm. Some studies suggest that harsh winter weather may increase a person's risk of heart attack due to overexertion.

At lower temperatures your heart tolerates less exertion because your body reacts to cold by constricting the small arteries. This natural response reduces loss of body heat by keeping more of your warm blood in the major arteries, and away from the skin surface. The net effect of this blood flow restriction is to convert your skin from a radiator that dissipates heat, into a blanket that conserves it. But when this occurs, your heart must work harder to pump blood through the narrowed arteries. The extra load on the heart decreases its capacity to respond to exercise. The small arteries around your heart constrict too, reducing the supply of oxygen-containing blood to your heart muscle.

The American Heart Association recommends you help your heart! When you are outdoors in cold weather avoid sudden exertion, like lifting a heavy shovel full of snow. Remember that in cold temperatures, even just walking through heavy wet snow or snow drifts can strain your heart.

High winds, snow, rain, and cold temperatures are all factors that can steal your body heat. Wind is especially important because it removes the layer of air your body has heated around you. At 30 degrees Fahrenheit in a 20-mile-per-hour wind, the cooling effect is equivalent to calm air at four degrees.

Proper clothing is vital to keeping you warm. It is best to layer your clothing — this allows air to become trapped between the layers, and the trapped air serves as a sort of insulation.

Also, wear a hat or head scarf. Much of the body's heat can be lost through the head. And ears are especially susceptible to frostbite. Keep your hands and feet warm too. Because hands and feet have more surface area in comparison to their total mass, they tend to lose heat rapidly.

Don't drink alcoholic beverages before going outside or while out in the cold. The initial sensation of warmth from alcohol results from expansion of blood vessels in the skin. This causes needed heat to be drawn away from the body's vital organs.

Most important, have enough sense to come in out of the cold!

Chain saw safety tips

Weekend lumberjacks give their chain saws quite a workout at this time of year. Although kickback is the single biggest cause of chain saw injuries, three-fourths of all accidents with this power tool are caused by other factors involving some kind of operator error.

Whether you're cutting up firewood or cutting down a tree, University of Delaware extension safety specialist Ron Jester recommends taking the following precautions to avoid a chain saw accident.

*Wear protective clothing, including a hard hat, safety goggles, gloves that provide a good grip, hearing protectors, safety shoes and trim-fitting clothes that won't get caught in the chain.

*Before starting, make sure the saw is sharp and in good repair. Clear the work area of debris so the chain will touch only the wood you want to cut.

*Make sure you have the right chain saw for the job. The owner's manual should explain its capabilities.

Don't work alone. An extra pair of hands will make some dangerous situations safer, and if you're injured, the other person can get help.

*Always start the saw according to the operator manual's directions. Carry the saw with the blade pointing backward when not in use, and never carry a saw that is running.

*When cutting, stand to the side of the saw so you won't follow through into your leg. Always be aware of what is in the saw's downward path after the cut.

*Stand on the uphill side of a log so it won't roll into you. Watch for branches that may spring back as you cut.

*Let the saw do the work; don't force it through the cut.

*If you must refuel a gasoline powered saw, let it cool first and clean up any spills. Avoid the hot muffler as you work.

*If the saw is electric, make sure the extension cord is approved for outdoor use, and don't use the saw in a dam environment.

*If you're a weekend lumberjack, don't tackle a cutting job that involves climbing trees. Many horror stories involve amateurs who fell out of trees or had large branches fall on them while using a chain saw. Save the big jobs for professionals.

SCAC Gallery hosts Steven Levine

GEORGETOWN — Invited artist Steven Levine will fill the walls of the Sussex County Arts Council Gallery in DT&CC during the month of January with his Zen inspired mixed media and acrylic paintings.

The "Mandela Image" (circular centrally balanced designs used a meditative icons in India, Tibet, and the Far East) has influenced the artist's bas-relief creations on canvas.

A reception to meet the artist will be held on Tuesday, January 7, in the Gallery. The public is invited.

DC dancers, mimes, actors and a parachute to perform

GEORGETOWN — DC Artists-in-Collaboration and DC Wheel Productions share the stage to provide an evening of dance, storytelling, mime, music and theater for Sussex Countians. The performance will be held at the Del Tech Theater on Saturday evening, January 11 at 8:00 p.m.

"The Fisherman and His Wife" is one of the Grimm Brothers' grand old fairy tales, a timeless story that children and adults often know by heart. Journey into the land of enchantment with DC Artists-in-Collaboration as four actors and a parachute present the tale of the fisherman and his discontented wife through music, mime, dance, mask, and sculpture. Hand-painted costumes and painted faces spur the imagination, and soon tubes become castle towers; parachutes, used as moving sculpture, become a thrashing sea or an emperor's robe. Harp, melodica, bells, and all manner of instruments accompany the players and audience on this adventure for the entire family.

The second half of this Double Dance evening features Perlo Bloom & Company with an hour of original music and modern dance. The performance combines the afro-Latin and Yoruban Music strains of Steve Bloom, and the fluid, dynamic dance style of Carla Perlo into a fascinating percussive display. Fiery, strong and deliberate, Ms. Perlo-Bloom's technique is anchored in classical modern dance — the clean line of Merce Cunningham, the breathiness Jose Limon and the dramatic power of Martha Graham. Call Sussex County Arts Council Office for tickets and reserved seating, 856-5421.
