this retirement ceremony. However, railroaders and train lovers of all ages gathered last Saturday morning to watch a fading piece of American and Railroad history, a caboose, come to the end of its line at the Harrington Railroad yard.

Walter "Shorty" Ratledge laid the track for the caboose adjacent to the Railroad Museum. It was appropriate that "Shorty", a railroader for 40 years, prepared the end of the line for the latest acquisition of the Harrington Historical Society. Co-chairman of the society, Donnie Jester, went to Reading, PA to pick out the caboose. It was the oldest one available, manufactured in December, 1926, for the Pennsylvania Railroad and reportedly worked the Delmarva Peninsula. Further research on its history is being conducted.

According to Jester, "It was the Cadillac There were no bands or speeches at of its day." One of the first metal cabooses, it provided a home away from home for the crew of five.

The caboose was donated by Conrail along with the crew that manuvered it into place. Ernie McCarter planned and directed the lifting of the 24 ton caboose. McCarter, a veteran of numerous derailments, decided to break the caboose down into three pieces. Gerald Shanks operated the 65 ton crane that lifted all the pieces into place. The use of the crane was donated by John Mervine of Nanticoke Homes. "The caboose will be sandblasted and repainted the original Pennsylvania Railroad colors," according to Jerry Hayman, Co-chairman of the Harrington Historical Society. It will then be opened to the public. Funding for the restoratin will come from private donations.

The Harrington Historical Society wishes to recognize the following railroad crew who directed the operations of installing the caboose on the museum grounds. They are, left to right, Ernie McCarter, chief of the project; Ron Muncey, Dave Kennedy, Gerald Shank, Donnie Jester, of the Harrington Historical Society and Jerry Hayman, also of the Society. The latter two coordinated the efforts to get the

A Contraction

John Curtis of Harrington has been constructed a new raised-deck, remodeling one of his two farrowing houses to include sloped farrowing marketed on a grade-and-yield basis. Curtis has experimented with using milo in their feed. In addition to pigs, he raised 150 acres of barley, 300 acres of soybeans.

Curtis serves on the boards of directors of the Delaware Pork Producers Association and the Delaware Crop Improvement Association. He is chairman of Brown Branch Tax Ditch, a member of the Delaware Farm Bureau and a committeeman for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Paul Neeman, second from right, was honored again Saturday night by the Harrington Volunteer Fire Company of which he is a lifetime member, with "A Certificate of Appreciation" in which he was named Chief Emeritus of the Harrington Fire Company. Neeman first joined the fire company in 1943, was president of the Harrington Fire Company seven different times, president of the State Association twice and Secretary of the State Association since 1963. Referendum Advisory Committee

doing survey

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

The Lake Forest Advisory Committee for the 'proposed referendum' tentaively planned for May is presently doing a telephone survey gathering answers relative to the 'planned referendum in Mav'

The answers will be published next Tuesday at the regular meeting of the Advisory Committee.

For the referendum to be legal it must be held no less than six months from the last referendum. Under the state statute If held, a special dispensation would have to be granted by the State Department of Education. Discussion on the topic has left some suggestions that "no referendum be held in May" to holding separate referenda on the equalization money and the construction project. It is also possible to use the money the district has as a result of the funds from debt service being retired, the settlement from the construction company on the roof, and monies from minor caps. This amounts to about $450,000. To use this money, a referendum would have to be put to the people.

Over The Backyard Fence

Gab Fest by Pat Hatfield

With the temperature hovering around 15, it's a good time to sit by the fire and read. Our local paper carries a little item where people send in stories about their pets. It is truly amazing to learn about the things they do. Our little brown "Ladybug" received a Christmas gift from her doggie friend, 'Precious'', owned by Alice McIlvaine. It was a box of small doggie biscuits that look like waffles. These were new to her and she loved them. One day as she went out the door into her yard, I noticed she took one of these and carefully buried it for a snack later. One other day when I was making up the guest room bed I found a little biscuit under the pillow sham!

In the evening when Dad and I are having a TV snack, she goes out to her bowl and brings in a small cruncher, one at a time, and sits on the rug by our feet munching away. This is a social time, and she will share it, looking hopefully for a choice tidbit from our bowl, also.

January is half gone. This is a cold, gray day and it looks and feels like snow...a good day to "putter." Don't you love a day like this when you can catch up on odds and ends? I have polished all the countertops and the canisters and filled the sugar and flour jars and the salt and peppers and vinegar on the breakfast bar. I cleaned up around the potted plants and watered them and shoved a vitamin stick down their necks and refiled some recipes that were used recently and left out. All small things, but getting them done is kind of soul-satisfying. Then I relaxed and did some mending for my granddaughter, Hilary. Grandmothers are so needed.

As I think casually of dinner plans, I get the comb and brush and give Ladybug her daily grooming. Shall we eat home or go out to the family restaurant? I could get out the leftover turkey from the freezer and add a can of turkey gravy and make some squash fritters. And pickled beets would be fine with this. Apple salad and for dessert, some of Dad's Christmas fruit cake which was a gift from our friend, Alice. We finally decided to put this menu on hold and enjoy the prime rib at the Town and Country. The conversations and fellowship with dear friends and neighbors give me a real lift and help to make my day.

Someone came in and said, "If you had Aladdin's lamp, what would you wish for this morning?" Without hesitation I replied, "A big bowl of freshly-picked strawberries, still hot with the June sun and a dear friend across the table to share some poetry.

It is now lunchtime, and what is better on a cold winter day than a bowl of hot homemade soup? As I have said before. I have no secret recipes, but I cannot really tell you a recipe for my soups. I just throw in whatever is available. But one thing I do. Whenever I make beef or beef vegetable soup, I always add in the last half hour of cooking, a large jar of spaghetti sauce, Ragu or Prego or whatever. This is in addition to the canned tomatoes that you put in at the start. Nice to throw in a few bullion cubes too.

Porter, Fleming and Hicks remain undefeated in mat play

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

Steve Porter, wrestling at 107 pounds recorded his third and fourth consecutive pin this past week in wins over CR and Milford.

Both Scott Fleming and Marvin Hicks each picked up a win and a pin in their two matches this past week.

The Spartans are now 5-0 for the season.

In the CR match which was away and usually a tough one, the Spartans got off to a flying start with three pins from Steve Porter, Derik Dill (119), and Ken Outten (128). "They looked real good at this level....and we were looking for three pins in the higher classes. We were sure we would get one and maybe. more," said Tom Shaffer.

In the 147 pound class Greg Gillie wrestled a real tough kid (Vrundy) and beat him 9-8. "So we were inching along...but we needed a pin here or there," added Shaffer.

"Scott wrestled one of the top weight classes and won his match 8-0. He had the kid on his back several times...but just could not put him away. The kid really had to fight to stay off his back," said Shaffer.

Then Mike Gygrynuk came through with a pin at 3:15 and Marvin Hicks picked up a 13-9 decision.

In the Milford match on Friday night also away, Porter picked up the first pin with 52 seconds in the first period gone. "We are glad Steve and his family moved back into the District. He has real good skills...a hard worker with a strong desire to be the best," said Shaffer.

Greg Gillie came through with a 9-7 decision. "Greg ... was leading all through the match, but the kid swept the pressure on and kept inching along. It was a close match," said Shaffer. Gillie had wrestled him in the Milford tournament and won there too.

Pat Sullivan lost his match, and Darryl Cherry lost too for the first time this season.

Gygrynuk, Gillie, Outten, Dill, and Cherry each have lost one match this season. Their record is 4-1.

Following the Cherry loss, Wendell Watson lost 10-1 which put Milford in the lead. "But...not for long as Mike (Gygrynuk), got a pin in 51 seconds followed by a Fleming pin in 37 seconds....followed yet by a pin from Marvin (Hicks) in 3:24," said Shaffer. Coach said Marvin had his opponent on his back and pinned 5 or 6 times in the first period but each time they were out of bounds.

Most of the toughest matches are behind the Spartans now. "But...we still face Smyrna, which is about the best in the conference," said Shaffer. This week the Spartans wrestle Seaford (non-conference) and Woodbridge. "Seaford will be tough," said Shaffer.

The Spartans have a record of 5-0 and lead the Conference's Southern division. "We will take the wins any way we can get them...but it would be an advantage if some could be stretched out some. Take Scott (Fleming) he has had tow forfeits, 2 pins of 45 and 40 seconds and one match went the distance. So he has wrestled Derik Dill picked up a pin with 1:18 gone in the first period followed by Ken Outten with another pin with 2:13 gone. "These guys are really coming through for us...if we get the 3 pins down low...it pretty much seals it up for us," said Shaffer.

only 7 minutes out of 5 matches," said Shaffer. JV NOTES - In the JV match with Milford, Mark Tozier recorded a pin as did Craig Reed, Joe Brown and Eric Giddens. William Deputy won his match 12-5.
