With two cars not running properly and the "K" Car totalled as a result of a wreck when Patrolman Horseman was responding to a distress call, the Harrington Police Department was without transportation. A couple of weeks ago the Department borrowed

Callaway, Gemmill, Hobbs and Moffett honored

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

Last Wednesday was recognized by the Governor of the State of Delaware as "School Nurse Day". The "Day" of recognition is a reminder to parents of the many contributions made throughout the school year by the 'school nurse" to their children in the way of health services.

For the most part the school nurse wears many hats. to those nurses who wear these hats, the variety adds to the career of being a school nurse. There are times when the school nurse must be mother, social worker, to one who really cars who will make you well, being a resource person...and finally a nurse

To Jeannie Callaway, the school nurse at North Elementary, "it is to many, one of taking temperatures or putting a bandaid on a finger." In truth as Mrs. Callaway readily admits as well as the other school nurses, "...it is more like screening students to determine the problems....treating the immediate needs.

Jeannie Callaway came to the District by way of 5 years at Milford Memorial Hospital. She has been employed in the District for 9 years. For Jeannie Callaway, being a school nurse is like doing something different each day. "There is always something new, and that is what I like," said Mrs. Callaway. Beverly Gemmill is the school nurse at East Elementary in Frederica. She is a graduate of Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston. She worked in the operating room at Massachusetts General, and later in the operating room at Kent General Hospital.

She did a short term in public health and from there came to the Lake Forest School District as a school nurse. "The public health work really prepped me for the school nurse career," said Mrs. Gemmill. She is working into her 14th year in the District. For Mrs. Gemmill, school nurse is one who does the screening of students and refers them to the proper agencies or places of care. 'Some may need attention to their eyes or teeth, and we can refer them to places where they can get this help where they cannot afford it otherwise," said Mrs. Gemmill.

Currently Mrs. Gemmill and Judy Paul, a counselor at best, are developing a program dealing with child abuse problems. "The situation is where the child comes home after school and there is no one at home. We teach them what to say over the phone if they are alone ... or how to go home safely," added Mrs. Gemmill.

Mrs. Gemmill is a past president of the State Nurses Association. She also enrolled in the Wesley College Nursing curriculum working toward a B.S. in Nursing. "For me...I enjoy the education part of the nursing program," added Mrs. Gemmill, who feels health education is needed in the school "to show the benefits of exercise, good eating and sleeping habits.'

Angie Hobbs lives in Harrington. She is the nurse at W.T. Chipman, South A and South B Elementary in Harrington. A native of Sudlersville, Md., who got her nursing degree at Delaware Hospital where she trained in the operating room, she later worked for a surgeon. From working as a private duty nurse to working in hospitals "... I worked at the Chestertown Hospital where you did everything." She eventually became involved in the occupational nursing career at Dover's International Playtex.

It was through that program that she became ideally suited for being a school nurse. "Occupational nursing is very similar to school nursing. When you get into this line (school nursing) you see everything from soup to nuts.

Probst found guilty in Hartly shooting

by William T. Ficka

DOVER - Ruth Ann Probst, of Hartly, was found guilty in Superior Court Monday of the April 4, 1985 shooting of Frank J. Walla of Hartly. Probst, 43, was convicted on one count of second-degree assault and one count of possession of a deadly weapon during the commission of a felony. The latter charge carries a mandatory minimum sentence of five years, not to run concurrently with any other $1,700. sentence.

Walla, 54, the victim of a 12-gauge shotgun blast, was struck by 23 pellets. Nineteen of the pellets penetrated the skin and four grazed his buttocks. Four pellets were removed and 15 remain imbedded in his stomach, right hand and both legs.

A 10-woman, 2-man jury deliberated 50 minutes before bringing in the guilty verdict.

"Now I can relax, something I haven't done since this whole thing started," said Walla.

Before Monday's court session, the seventh day of the triai, Walla had said, anyone having any old pictures which "I'm going to consult a neurosurgeon as soon as this is over.

Doris Moffett, the high school nurse, is a native of Harrington, and a graduate of Milford Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Moffett has worked in the district for 19 years being first employed at East for 3 years and the last 16 years at the high school.

Like Mrs. Hobbs, Mrs. Moffett worked for several years at General Foods as a nurse where she gained valuable experience as an occupational nurse. For the most part the school nurse does not have to work with very extreme injuries. On the other hand, Mrs.

Moffett has witnessed shop injuries where one child lost a finger...another nearly lost a hand. But I also had to deal with a teacher who had a heart attack in the classroom." For Mrs. Moffett, the basic rewards of being a school nurse "...are being around the students. The variety of things to do as a school nurse are also important to me in my career. It helps to keep the interest up," added Mrs. Moffett. "You never know what is coming through that door. Every day is different," said Mrs. Moffett.

Walla said the boundary dispute was of secondary importance. "I've continually been threatened and stolen from," said Walla.

The shooting occurred on a moonlit night when Walla saw a pickup truck parked near his pig pen, which was used for storage.

In the truck were Probst, Probst's brother, James C. Miller Sr., and a friend, Kathryn L. Rickley.

"Because of the threats, I armed myself with a .22 caliber pistol. When I hollered 'Hey, 'what's going on back investigation.

there,' they opened fire," said Walla. Although he was struck by 23 pellets, Walla managed to return fire. Rickley suffered a bullet wound in her right calf. She was treated at Kent General Hospital and later released.

Miller was originally charged with one count of reckless endangering, but the charge was dropped and he testified for the prosecution, headed by Deputy Attorney General Walter Speakman Jr.

Donnell Calhoun, owner and operator of Shawnee Wood Farm in Milford, was named one of six recipients of the prestigious award at a ceremony in Camp Hill, Pennsylvania recently. He is only the second Delaware farmer to receive the award since 1931.

Shawnee Wood Farms is a corporation between Donnell Calhoun, his wife Ruth and their two sons Donnell Jr. and Curtiss. The Calhouns raise 63,000 broilers a year, and till over 1600 acres of year Shawnee Wood Farms grew 140 acres of peas, 210 acres of sweet corn, 350 acres barley, 160 acres lima beans, 400 acres corn, and 1050 acres soybeans. 700 of the soybean acres are double-cropped after barley and peas, giving them efficient use of the land.

Calhoun started farming in 1947, "right out of high school". "My dad and I tilled 300 acres. We also ran a dairy until 1954. In 1958, I added 10,000 broilers," he said.

In addition to his farming successes, Calhoun is also active off the farm. He is chairman of the Delaware Association of the Federal Land Bank and a charter member of the Milford Grain Company, a co-op of 54 area farmers.

Selection is based on the individual's own personal financial progress plus their farming skills (60%), ag community involvement (30%) and other civic accomplishments (10%).

The Master Farmer program is sponsored annually by Pennsylvania Farmer magazine and the Cooperative Extension Services of Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia. CROP Stop-Hunger march slated

by Keith S. Burgess

A 10K (6¹/₄ miles) CROP stop-hunger walk will be held in this area on May 4th. Eleanor Wilchynski, CROP's Middle Atlantic Director of Columbia, MD chaired an organizational meeting at: St. Bernadette's, Harrington, last week. Harrington and Felton people present representing several churches were: Hazel Smith, Jim Fleming, Keith Burgess, Rev. Susan Mills, Doris Bostick, Vonna Hobbs, Jeanette Minner and Francis Benson.

Walkers will obtain sponsors, who will subsidize the walkers at a mutuallyagreed-upon sum per kilometer. Events of this type have been conducted in this area for quite a few years.

Proceeds will go to Church World Service, which has provided emergency assistance in more than 70 countries. This assistance has included food, medical supplies, public health materials, tents, clothing, blankets and transportation in many sizes and shapes from trucks to bicycles.

This aid has totalled more than 700 million dollars.

Twenty-five percent of the total raised in this area will stay here for the use of local charitable organizations. Please mark this date on your calendar. This walk will be fun and will benefit the needy in many countries.

Outten, Fleming and Hicks get two pins

by Harry G. Farrow Jr. The Spartan matmen won both matches this past week and remain undefeated and increase their record to 7 and 0.

The Spartans defeated Seaford and Woodbridge this past week.

Mike Popivchak got a forfeit in the Seaford match and a pin for him in the Woodbridge match. "Mike got his pin in the first It is again one of those few situations where Mike is evenly matched weight wise and he will beat you....as was the case here," added Coach Shaffer. "His opponent was small like him and this is where Mike will do his best. He is developing into a good wrestler and next year with a little more weight he will be tough," said Shaffer.

Steve Porter picked up two more wins this past week with a pin in the Seaford match. "it was a quick one, but in the Woodbridge match he won 6-0, but he had been sick with the flu: He was weak...but he was in control all during the match. He was just too weak to put his opponent away," said Shaffer.

Derik Dill picked up a win in the Seaford match with a forfeit, but lost his match with Woodbridge when he got pinned. "Derik made a mistake by standing straight up facing his opponent. He took Derik straight to his back. This won't happen many times with Derik. I think it was a good lesson," said Shaffer.

Ken Outten got two pins this week against two tough opponents. "This gives Ken a 6-1 record with 6 pins. Pretty good for Ken...we are all proud of him," said Shaffer. Outten was in control of the Woodbridge match. "He took the kid down 10 seconds into the match, but the kid escaped. He got the kid in a guillotine and that was it," said Shaffer

Darryl Cherry got pinned in the Seaford match. "He wrestled a good wrestler. Darryl wrestled him even until there was about 30 seconds left, and he caught Darryl just right and pinned him. This will happen," added Shaffer. Pat Sullivan lost the Seaford match. "He had the flu and should have passed up the match. But these kids want to wrestle," said Shaffer. He lost due to a technical fall. "Pat had beaten him in match," said Shaffer.

UMPIRES NEEDED! Anyone interested in becoming a baseball/softball umpire this spring is urged to attend a meeting to be held on Sunday, pre-season...he was real sick and should have passed it up," said Shaffer. In the Woodbridge match, Joe Brown wrestled in Sullivan's spot and got a technical fall for the Spartans. "Don't want to take anything away from Joe...he did just what he was supposed to do....but he was wrestling an inexperienced kid. Nevertheless Joe did everything just right," said Shaffer. Greg Gillie split his decision, getting pinned in the Seaford match and pinning his opponent in the Woodbridge match. "In the Seaford match, Greg was wrestling a real good kid. Greg was the 15th consecutive pin for the Seaford kid. I think Greg gained from this match," added Shaffer.

In the 157 pound class last week Wendell Watson lost to Seaford. 'Wendell is one of the hardest working kids we have out. He still is not ready to go six minutes flat out," said Shaffer. In the Woodbridge match Wendell was eliminated at practice by Eric Giddens. He pinned his man "...the kid was up from the JV but Eric did just what he had to do," said Shaffer.

Mike Gygrynuk had an easy week with two forfeits...in the 167 pound class. Scott Fleming got two pins in the 187 pound class last week. He got a first period pin with Seaford. "In the Woodbridge match he got a first period pin. It was real quick. He put the kid right on his back," said Shaffer. Scott now has a 7-0 record with 4 pins, 2 forfeits and 1 decision. Last year Scott recorded 9 pins.

Marvin Hicks got two pins also. In the Seaford match Shaffer said "...Marvin pinned one of the best if not the best heavyweights in the conference," said Shaffer. "Marvin is a sophomore. He learns facts...and is picking up each week. We can't ask any more of Marvin. He gives his all and tries to get better each week which is what it takes. He could be the best in the conference," said Shaffer.

Shaffer's team faces one of its stiffest tests this week with matches with Cape and Smyrna. "Certainly Smyrna is about the best in the Conference. We will have to wrestle real hard not to make any mistakes early on to beat them. It should be a pretty good
