Former Boardwalk Arcade operator gets 15 years on sodomy conviction

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

DOVER — Michael J. Gerrick, 28, was sentenced to fifteen years for charges of sodomy when he seduced juvenile patrons of his arcade and involved them with him in deviate sexual intercourse. In 1984, Gerrick was indicted by a Kent County Grand Jury on seven counts of first-degree sodomy. At the time of his indictment by a Kent County Grand Jury he was on probation as a result of similar offenses committed in Pennsylvania.

Last June Gerrick pled guilty to two lesser counts of second-degree sodomy in order to spare the juvenile the ordeal of his identification through a trial.

On Friday the victim's mother pleaded with Judge Henry DuPont Ridgely, who has been tough on felons, to impose the maximum sentence which is 15 years. The mother claimed what all parents realize when an offense of this nature is committed "...that he (Gerrick) robbed my child of his childhood, ability to deal with his fellow man, and his innocence."

The mother further testified that he (Gerrick) had caused my child's spirit to be imprisoned...and as long as that is the case then he (Gerrick) should be imprisoned."

The court heard testimony that psychiatrists estimate the boy who was 11 at the time of the offenses, would be in therapy for 15 to 20 years.

Gerrick submitted a letter to the court, but made no statement during the sentencing. John E. O'Brien, a Dover attorney, speaking for Gerrick said Gerrick was sorry for his actions. But as O'Brien pointed out, Gerrick was also a sexual victim at a similar age. O'Brien also added the parents of the boy should bear part of the burden, because they allowed a 26-year-old man to develop a relationship with the boy.

O'Brien argued that Gerrick should be given a long period of probation with the stipulation that he not return to Delaware and also seek therapy.

Deputy Attorney General Jane Brady urged the court to consider Gerrick's threat to society and all children. This was based on the fact that he was on probation on similar charges from the State of Pennsylvania. As Brady indicated "...instead Gerrick had sought out a life of lust rather than seek treatment." Brady asked the court to remove Gerrick from society for an extended period.

As a final edition to the sentencing, Judge Ridgely read aloud a letter from the victim's grandmother before pronouncing sentence.

The sentence was that Gerrick serve 10 years in prison on each of the two charges, with the last five years suspended and on probation for that five year period. The Judge also ordered Gerrick to become involved in the program at the Delaware Correctional Center for sex offenders.

Judge echoed the sentiments of the Attorney General's office by saying "...other young boys must be protected with the treatment for this matter in a custodial setting."

Conservative Caucus backs freedom fighter

A letter expressing the solidarity of The Conservative Caucus of Lower Delaware with that of Dr. Savimbi's UNITA was sent to him at the Conservative Political Action Conference.

Dr. Savimbi is leading a force of Freedom Fighters in Communist Angola. He was a guest at CPAC-86 held January 30, 31 and February 1, 1986, at the Washington Hilton Hotel in Washington, D.C.

The letter denounced the Gulf Oil Corporation's alleged funding of the Communist Government of Angola. It further stated that The Conservative Caucus of Lower Delaware would understand and sympathize with him should Dr. Savimbi consider the facilities of Gulf Oil in Angola a legitimate military target.

"We wish you all the best in your struggle against Communism. May the day arrive that all the peoples of Africa will be free. Until that day arrives, the Conservative Caucus of Lower Delaware stands in solidarity with UNITA. Victory will be ours!" it stated.

The letter was signed by David F. Coacy, of Greenwood, the Caucus Chairman.

Widener's Delaware Law School administers new law clinic

Widener University's Delaware Law School, in conjunction with the Interest on Lawyers' Trust Accounts Programs, administered by the Delaware Bar Foundation, has established the Delaware Post-Conviction Relief Clinic located in the Law School building on the University's Delaware Campus, six miles north of Wilmington on U.S. Route 202.

Six law school students are assisting Professor Lawrence J. Connell, clinic director, in representing incarcerated criminal defendants who seek to withdraw their guilty pleas or to overturn their convictions by post-plea or post-conviction motions. Cases are obtained by appointment from the Delaware Supreme and Superior Courts and the U.S. District Court for Delaware and by selection as time and merit allow.

Kent General Hospital nurses tell "painful" truth about burns

Consistently cold temperatures outside brings the peak of the kerosene and wood fire season indoors.

This painful truth is especially apparent to Janice L. Chance, a Registered Nurse in Kent General's Emergency Department who is helping to spread the prevention message to interested individuals and community groups.

"We know that no matter how hard you try, someone in your family could accidentally get burned," relates Chance, who is quick to offer instructions for on-the-spot action.

"Spend five to ten minutes running cool water over the burned area," she begins, "and follow-up by placing a plastic bag full of ice over the area, covered first by a clean towel."

This first-aid treatment will reduce pain and enhance the victim's chances for successful treatment at an emergency center, considered a necessity for this type of burns.

"Too often, we have seen patients who have tried to treat painful burns with cremes and ointments, or, worse yet, butter," Chance relates. While the home remedy of butter or margarine may have been effective in the past, she explained that today's spreads contain salt, which only adds to the pain. Another dangerous practice is breaking any blisters that may form on burned areas prior to physician treatment.

National Crime Prevention Week

This is National Crime Prevention Week, February 9-15. Ways of avoiding criminals and preventing crimes are as follows:

- keeping alert and promptly reporting suspicious activities to police
- making one's home look occupied when away, by using timing devices to turn lights on and off automatically.
- making sure all house locks work properly, replacing if necessary with deadbolt locks.
- avoiding high crime areas by selecting travel routes that avoid them.
- being especially cautious at night, since many street criminals rely on the cover of darkness.
- parking one's car in well-lighted areas.

Harrington firm offers pet burials

by William T. Ficka

Bill Harvey, of Harrington is expanding his concrete business to include a service that is probably unique in Delaware.

Now you can bury your pet in a fibre glass pet casket.

"We're about the only ones doing this in Delaware that I know of," said Harvey.

Harvey owns the Oak Crest Concrete Products on the Milford-Harrington Road. For the past three years the business has made some 600 concrete vaults each year for human burials. The firm also manufactures pre-cast steps, septic tanks, and patio blocks.

"I supply Nichols, K-Mart and other outlets with patio blocks," said Harvey. One month ago, the 45-year-old Harvey became the sole Delaware distributor for Petco Caskets Inc. of Joppa, Md.

Since Harvey plans an extensive radio, TV and newspaper advertising campaign, you're sure to hear more about his pet burial service.

Pets can be buried in the fibre glass casket alone or in a casket and concrete vault combination.

Caskets come in various styles, sizes and colors. Colors include almond, blue, pink, and gold, with color coordinated interiors.

Harvey and his wife Danilou started the business 17 years ago making lawn ornaments in their basement. Today the firm occupies 13,000 square feet and employs 12 people.

"Once the people find out about it, we should do very well," said Harvey of the unique service he is offering Delaware pet lovers.

Sara Williams cancels her resignation from Board

Harry G. Farrow Jr.

FELTON — Sara Williams, a member of the Lake Forest School Board sent a letter to the board president Roberta O'Neal last week indicating her desire to resign her position on the school board.

Mrs. Williams cited various reasons for her decision but mainly that she had been harassed by various people.

Before the board could act on the first letter, she carried a letter to the District office on Tuesday at mid-day in which the second letter rescinded her letter of resignation. "Despite everything that has happened (to me), I felt in the final analysis that I owed it to the people who elected me to serve out my term," said Mrs. Williams.

The school board was to meet Tuesday night at a special meeting. On the agenda were a review of the policy manual, review and approval of executive session minutes from August 7 through January 16 (there are 12 of those meetings), a meeting of school district administrators, and to approve the purchase of a 1979 Ford car for $1800.

Tracking the sale of Conrail

by Congressman Tom Carper

The U.S. Senate was voted by Congressman Tom Carper voted 54-39 to sell Conrail, the government-sponsored freight rail network that is the primary rail mover in Delaware, to Norfolk Southern Railroad for $1.2 billion.

The sale is supported by the U.S. Department of Transportation. It is opposed by a Morgan Stanley investor group that wants to purchase Conrail for $1.4 billion, leaving the existing Conrail management in control. And, a recent offer has surfaced of $1.6 billion from investors organized by First Boston Corp. and Allen & Co. of New York.

It would appear the financial stakes are looking a little better for America's taxpayers, who invested $7 billion in Conrail in 1976 and 1982, when it began to earn a profit.

Now, the sale must be approved by the Energy and Commerce Committee before it comes to us in the full U.S. House of Representatives for approval. It's likely that action will be sidetracked in Committee for a while, but hopefully not so long as to preclude a sale this year.

It isn't that we in the House don't think that Conrail should be sold. The President makes a sound argument that the federal government shouldn't be in the freight railroad business, and I agree. For my part, however — and I believe this is a sentiment shared by many members in the House — I want to be sure that we get the best possible return on the taxpayers' substantial

Harrington will go with scrap assessment on time

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

HARRINGTON — The City Council of Harrington voted on Monday night to proceed with the scrap assessment which is due by March 1st.

What this means is that any property, business or residential, which has had alterations to it during the past tax year will be reviewed.

There are approximately 16 such properties according to City Manager George Volenik. The Council voted 4 in favor one against (Temple) and Councilman Dan Coleman abstaining, Councilman Sue Ellen Dennis voted to engage Appraisals Associates, Inc. of Wilmington to render the appraisals of the subject properties. Last year the same firm completed the scrap assessments, which again totalled about 16. The fee was $1600.

Councilman Temple violently opposed the use of the same appraiser saying "...they must have rode through the town at 60 miles an hour and kept going. I am an appraiser too...and if I had made appraisals such as they did the people would tar and feather me, run me out of town dragging me behind a car." Temple said after the meeting that he opposes what amounts to $100 a property. "That is too much...and besides that there are too many realtors in this area...and particularly in Harrington that could do a better job. I don't like it, and I will continue to oppose it."

Councilman Jarrell attempted to calm Temple by saying "...it makes no difference Jimmy, because if the people are not satisfied with the new assessments...they can appeal before the council for reductions." "I know that was what was said last time...and the people appealed to the appraiser and he told them he did not have time for that," added Temple.

Last year there was a total $399,587 of assessed properties in Harrington.

The scrap assessment must be made according to charter by March 1st "in order to allow the citizens to have time to appeal," said City Solicitor Bill Walls, which must be completed by

Councilman Temple's Format for Police Department

TO: Council and Mayor
 FROM: James Temple
 RE: Police Department Procedure Format

1. Consideration be given to impose supervisory duties to the Chief of Police as opposed to purely administrator duties. It shall be the responsibility of the Chief to supervise the department under directions of Council.

2. Consideration be given to placing the Police Department administration under the control of Council through some procedure of accountability.

3. Consideration be given to police protection coverage in relationship to number of police officers with development towards 24 hour coverage. Inability to cover by police officers would be handled by the Chief of Police having a shift or partial shift:

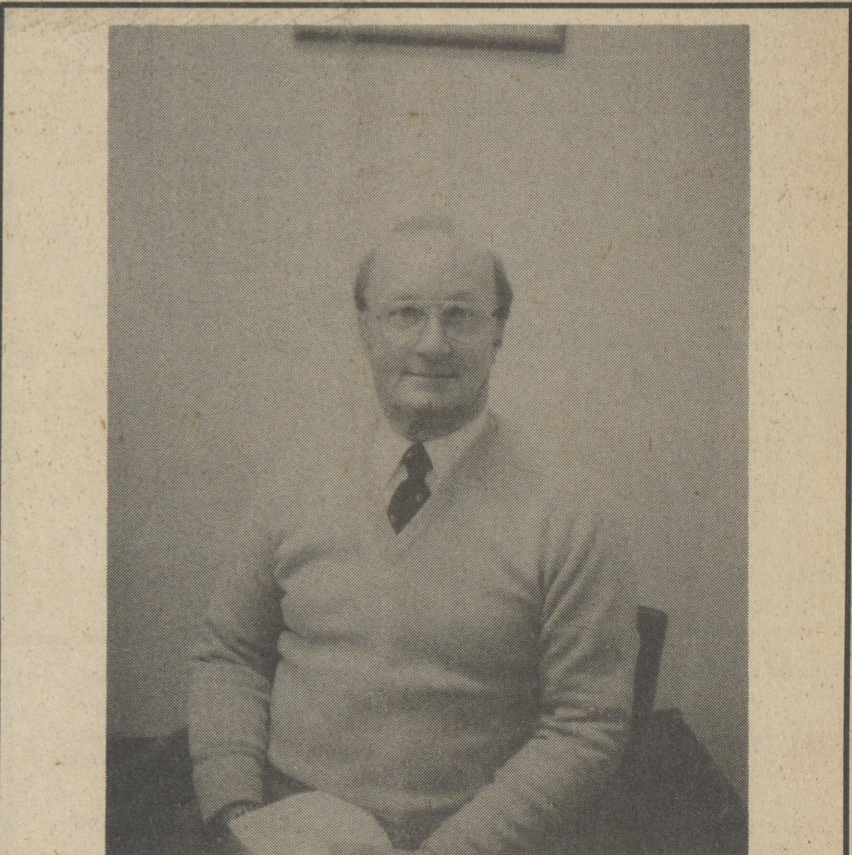

- For Example:
- 2 men — 8 hours
- 3 men — 16 hours
- 4 men — 18 hours

5 men — 24 hours

4. Chief of Police to be responsible for maintenance of the police vehicles and equipment. A maintenance service record should be adopted which includes at least periodic maintenance of each police vehicles. Maintenance service reports to be presented at each Council meeting.

5. A procedure or system should be designed and implemented for the processing and filing of police paperwork and records. To this end all outstanding warrants should be processed and followed through completion without undue delay.

6. Daily work logs to be prepared on each member of the department including the Chief of Police. Logs to include work performed and time spent in considerable detail in order to determine the particular areas of work performed. Such reports shall be presented to Council at each Council meeting.

Clarence Billings, a foreman in Delmarva Power & Light Company's forestry department in Harrington, has recently received a 40-year service award from the company. Billings lives in Harrington with his wife, Audrey.

April 1st. "You have never paid much attention to the demand by the charter. There have been times when it was August before you got around to hearing the appeals. It is not what the charter says...but you usually do what you want," added Walls.

NEWS BRIEFS FROM THE CITY
Employees being offered opportunity to join the Dover Federal Credit Union. Ernest Gallo, Harrington Building Inspector, being given a salary increase bringing his salary to $100 per month.

Council seeks new lights at Reed and Peck Avenue.
City to get new street lights which will give more illumination and a reduced charge per month per pole of $7.45 down to $7.02.

A letter has been sent to the owner of the house at 110 Hanley Street, Lester Hobbs, asking that the tenants comply with the zoning ordinance allowing a single family to live there. If found in violation of the building code, owner could face a fine of $100 per day until corrected.

Council voted to allow Historical Society Museum 1 year free water, sewer and trash pick-up, and one half charge on water and sewer and hook-up.

Burt Satterfield has resigned as Chairman of Harrington's Planning and Zoning Commission. Tom Englehart was appointed to the commission at Monday's meeting. The Mayor requested City Manager to call a reorganization meeting.

Councilman Wyatt requested a delinquent tax, water, sewer and trash delinquency list.

Councilman Wyatt also asked that abandoned cars be removed from the streets.

U.L. Harman has asked for a building permit to erect mini storage sheds on their property at Hanley and Mispillion. The sheds will be erected on the west side of their property along the alley on the north side of the property. The remainder is still for sale.

Councilman Dennis asked for updated schedules of the police shifts be kept in City Hall under the protection of the City Manager "but available to all councilman".

Councilman Temple asked Council to dispose of the "...3 bad police cars. One is wrecked...one motor blew up...and one won't start. What are we going to do...take them home...set fire to them, give them away...let's do something...if we can find them. We don't even know where they are." Temple also asked Council to send a letter of appreciation to Town of Greenwood for allowing Harrington the use of one of their police cars. Councilman Jarrell added "maybe we could send along one Chief (of Police)."

Councilman Temple presented "...a new format" for the Police Department (that format printed elsewhere in this paper). Temple asked for a clarification of the title given to the head of the Police Department. Councilman Coleman said "...it makes no difference what we call him...administrator, chief, supervisor...whatever. We have been over this and over this to the point where I am sick of it. What we call him is not the important element in running the department, but what we designate his duties are the most important thing. To my knowledge we have never done this." Temple "...I know it and since I have been on there (council) and the police commissioner I have been trying to get something nailed down and explained in detail." Solicitor said "...this is all so much blankety blank. You tell the Chief what you expect...that's all. No one has ever done this." Temple said he would like to see the Police Department come under the control of City Manager. Mayor said "...can't do this without a charter change." Temple "...but this way we can have a report directly to the City Council then." Jarrell asked for 18 hours of coverage (4+1 men). Temple also introduced a vehicular log for the police department. "this will be required of every shift...sign reading on speedometer, coming on and signing off. And anything wrong with the cars should be repaired.

Community Volunteer Receives Friend of Extension Award — Dr. Richard E. Fowler, director of the Delaware Cooperative Extension Service, presents Friend of Extension award to community volunteer Kay Powell (Dover) in recognition of her many efforts in support of extension programs at the state, local and national level.

Community volunteer receives Friend of Extension Award

Kay Powell, a medical research technologist at Kent General Hospital, has received the Delaware Cooperative Extension Service's prestigious Friend of Extension award. Delaware extension director Dr. Richard E. Fowler presented the award to her during the recent annual extension conference at the Sheraton Inn in Dover.

A native of Virginia, Powell grew up closely associated with extension and has continued that association since moving to Delaware a number of years ago. She is currently president of the Kent County Extension Advisory Council and vice chairman of the National Extension Advisory Council, as well as a member of the national Council for Agricultural Research, Extension and Teaching (CARET). In addition, she is past president of the Delaware 4-H Advisory Council and the Extension Homemakers Council.

"Kay's special strengths lie in her organizational skills, and her knowledge of and concern for extension programming," says one extension professional who has worked with her. "She has a thorough understanding of the many facets of the extension service and their relationships. She has represented us well on many occasions."

A volunteer 4-H leader for 20 years, Powell and her family—husband Jim and their four children—have hosted international 4-H youth exchange students in their Dover home.

Two extension professionals—Kent

County agricultural agent Robert C. Hochmuth and agricultural engineer Thomas H. Williams—also were recognized at the conference.

Williams received the Outstanding Program Accomplishment award for his long term efforts to develop economical irrigation systems for Delaware farmers, including designs for both above- and below-ground water delivery to crops. With his help, the number of irrigated acres in Delaware has rapidly increased over the past 10 years. Corn farmers, in particular, have benefited from this program.

Hochmuth, who joined the Kent County extension staff in 1982, received the Outstanding New Extension Agent award for his accomplishments in working with different clientele, including Delaware vegetable producers, grain farmers, the local nursery industry, and home gardeners. He has become a key resource person for area potato growers in their attempts to control the Colorado potato beetle, and has been instrumental in introducing a highly successful alfalfa pest management program in his county.

At the conference it is also customary to recognize an employee who provides essential support services for extension professionals. This year the Outstanding Staff award went to Sussex County secretary Edna Marvil.

The awards program is sponsored by the Delaware chapter of Epsilon Sigma Phi, the national honorary extension fraternity.

investment.
Equally vital, I want to ensure that Delaware's long-term rail service needs are met, from our industrial giants like DuPont to our smaller, rural shippers to potential future rail users at a developed Port of Wilmington. With efficient freight rail service throughout Delaware, we can better move ahead with ambitious plans for economic development that is necessary to create jobs and sustain economic growth.

So far, I don't believe any bidder has made a compelling case on either front. I have met with Conrail Chairman Stanley Crane to discuss the significant progress Conrail has made in upgrading the condition of it tacked on the Delmarva Peninsula, where only a few years ago, derailments occurred when trains weren't even moving. I also conveyed to him my concerns about the recent reduction of jobs and services at the Edgemoor Yard, as well as the loss of rail business in Delaware. I have written to and will meet soon with Robert Clayton, head of Norfolk Southern, to determine his firm's plans and goals for service in our state.

My ultimate concern is that Delawareans have some direct voice in the ultimate selection of the rail system that they believe best meets their needs and plans for future economic growth.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation for featuring the four Lake Forest School District nurses in your January 29, 1986 issue. The job of these four fine ladies is too often a thankless one. They perform tasks which are essential to the proper functioning of a school. The dedicated hours are long and on numerous occasions much beyond the call of duty. In a way, you could call them the unsung heroines of a school system. In this day and age when too often only the negatives find their way into the news media, it was certainly refreshing to see an accentuation of the positive. I commend both you and your staff.

Sincerely,
Dr. Arthur R. Gilbert
Supervisor of Curriculum and Special Programs

"Gay Bill of Rights" should be thrown out

by William T. Ficka

If you don't believe that truth is stranger than fiction, you should read the "Gay Bill of Rights" that was introduced in the U.S. House of Representatives on January 3, 1985.

In a nationwide mailing, Dr. Murray Norris, president of Christian Family Renewal in Stafford, Va., sent us a letter a few days ago outlining the contents of this incredible bill.

The bill was introduced by Congressman Ted Weiss, D-NY, and 45 co-sponsors. It was referred jointly to the Committees on Education and Labor and the Judiciary, where it is currently under review.

Formally known as Congressional Bill HR-230, it is commonly referred to as the "Gay Bill of Rights." If you keep reading you will see why.

To give you an idea of what this kooky bill calls for, we quote from Dr. Norris' letter. "It will:

Some 50 cities and the state of Wisconsin have various gay rights bills, and a few states have already repealed their sodomy laws.

This bill would simply enforce many gay rights on a national level, and what is even worse, open the door to more off-the-wall legislation in the future.

We are not only being asked to tolerate these moral outrages, but are also being asked to pay for them.

The Internal Revenue Service, under the Carter administration, recognized gay groups as "charitable" organizations for tax purposes.

According to Dr. Norris, the gross annual income of such groups is estimated to be $245,625,000. Now, brace yourself, Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer — $107,092,500. of that amount comes from your local, state and federal tax dollars.

Along with his letter, Dr. Norris also sent facsimiles of three checks which he said "represent only a handful of grants and contracts approved by government agencies and handed over to lesbian/homosexual special interest and allied groups."

COMMENTARY

*Legalize homosexuality and lesbianism.

*Criminally prosecute all churches, schools, business, and local, state, and federal agencies for refusing to hire homosexuals for any reason.

*Criminally prosecute any individual—you or me—who refuses housing accommodations to homosexual/lesbian couples.

*Set a precedent by which the homosexual/lesbian sub-culture can legally:

1—repeal all sodomy laws and laws governing the age of consent, so as to lower the age for children to legally participate in perverted sex acts;

2—allow the legal marriage of homosexual/lesbian couples and their adoption of children;

3—require all public schools to create sex education courses taught by homosexuals to show their lifestyle is a moral, healthy, and normal alternative to heterosexuality."

Executive Director of Delaware Art Museum named

Mrs. Charles F. Richards Jr., President of the Board of Trustees of the Delaware Art Museum, has announced the appointment of Stephen T. Bruni as executive director of the Delaware Art Museum. Mr. Bruni, 36, was formerly deputy director for administration at the Museum, and has been serving as acting director since August 1985. He replaces Robert H. Frankel who left the Museum in July to assume the directorship of the Dade County Center for the Fine Arts in Miami, Florida.

Delaware Symphony Orchestra gives outstanding performance

by Melvin L. Brobst

Accolades are in order for one of the finest concerts of symphonic music to be given in the area when the Delaware Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of its music director Stephen Gunzenhauser presented three works of outstanding merit last Sunday afternoon in the Milford High School auditorium.

The opening work on the program was the Celebration for Orchestra by the modern American composer, Ellen Taaffe Zwilich, which was commissioned by the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra, and was written to celebrate any joyous occasion.

The second, and featured selection on the afternoon program was the violin concerto by the Chinese modern-day composer, Du Ming-xin, who was in the audience and received the standing ovation of his audience at its conclusion. The soloist, one of Japan's finest violinists, was Takako Nishizaki, beautifully gowned for the occasion and with a superb mastery of her instrument. The concerto was in the traditional framework with Larghetto, Largo, and Allegro movements and easy to listen to. The hauntingly texture of the middle movement, the Largo, will be remembered for a long time to come, and in itself was well worth coming to hear, with the entire work receiving a vibrant ovation from the large and very enthusiastic audience.

The third and final work was the symphony No. 3 in C minor, opus 78, by the French composer, Camille Saint-Saens, commonly referred to as the Organ Symphony. This number is a universal favorite of all who are familiar with the French repertoire of symphonic music. The fine organ playing was accomplished by William Owen, who is organist and choirmaster at Christ Church Christiana Hundred, Wilmington.

The orchestra will be traveling to Washington this Sunday where it will include the violin concerto of Du Ming-xin on its program, with Takako Nishizaki again the featured soloist, at the Kennedy Center concert hall.

The next, and final concert by the Delaware Symphony in its Milford series will take place on Sunday afternoon, April 13, at 3:00 p.m., when a concert version of Bernstein's "West Side Story" will be performed. Tickets and information for which can be secured by calling 422-9010 or 335-5892.

Del State

First U.S. Army Jazz Ensemble in concert at Del. State

The First U.S. Army Jazz Ensemble of Fort Meade, Maryland will appear in concert, Thursday, February 13, Education Humanities Theatre, Delaware State College, 7:30 p.m.

Since its inception in 1861, the First United States Army Band has garnered a reputation for producing musical entertainment for American troops at home and abroad, in peace and in war. Members of the First United States Army Band have entertained troops in military encounters such as the Civil War in 1861 and the Indian Wars in 1898. In 1917, the band was one of the first units sent overseas to serve American troops in Soissons, Cantigny, St. Mihiel, and Argonne in World War I.

In 1949, the band which up to this point had undergone several name changes was designated at the First United States Army Band. It was at this time that the First United States Army Jazz Ensemble was formed. Over the past thirty years, the jazz ensemble has become quite popular and is very much in demand along the northeastern seaboard of the United States.

Medicine

Kuhn joins Kent General staff

Dr. Walter F. Kuhn III, a nationally certified Emergency Physician with more than 11 years of U.S. and international experience, has joined the Emergency Department at Kent General Hospital.

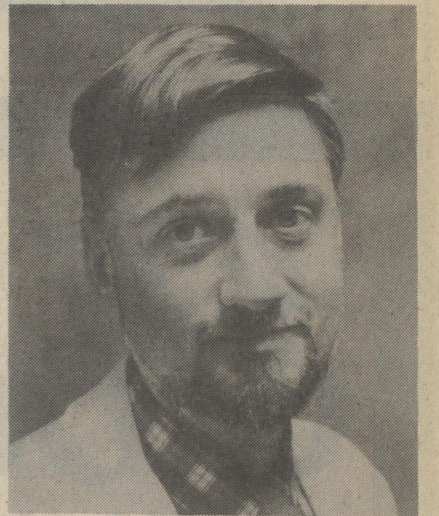

His appointment brings to nine the number of physicians serving in this 24-hour department, now treating over 100 patients daily.

Following his graduation from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, Dr. Kuhn entered Pennsylvania State University of Medicine, where he earned his medical doctor degree in 1974. He began a Family Practice residency at the Hersey Medical Center Department of Family and Community Medicine, which he completed in 1977.

Dr. Kuhn and his wife Sharon, also a physician, left the United States in 1977 to serve with the Bangladesh Baptist Union. While there, Dr. Kuhn served as a medical missionary, the medical director of the Christian Health and Agriculture Project-Ahlabipur, (CHAPA) Hospital and Community Health Project; and was the organization's liaison to the government of Bangladesh.

In 1981 the Kuhns returned to the United States, where Dr. Kuhn completed an Emergency Medicine residency at the Hersey Medical Center at Pennsylvania State University. While completing this residency, Dr. Kuhn also served as the Chief Resident and Instructor in Emergency Medicine at Hershey Medical Center.

At various times over the next two years, Dr. Kuhn served as the Assistant Director of Emergency Medicine Residency; Assistant Director of the Capital Area Poison Center and as a Residency Liaison to hospitals affiliated with Hersey. Also during these years he was an Assistant Professor of Medicine at the Pennsylvania State University.

Dr. Walter F. Kuhn III

In January of 1985 Dr. Kuhn returned with his family to Bangladesh, where he served as Medical Director for the Christian Mission Hospital and Nursing School, a 120-bed general hospital located in the western part of the country.

A member of the American College of Emergency Physicians, Dr. Kuhn has attended the Walter Reed Army Institute of Research in Washington, D.C. where he earned his "Tropical Medicine" diploma, and the Oriental Institute of Linguistics.

The Kuhns have two preschool aged children.

Teacher salary rated No. 1 issue in keeping and attracting teachers

To begin the effort of making Delaware competitive again in attracting and retaining teachers, DSEA recommends that the General Assembly and Governor adopt, through the budgetary process, the state salary schedule which represents a $2,308 across-the-board and a 4% increase to the 1984-85 teacher salary schedule, in addition to increments (SB 352).

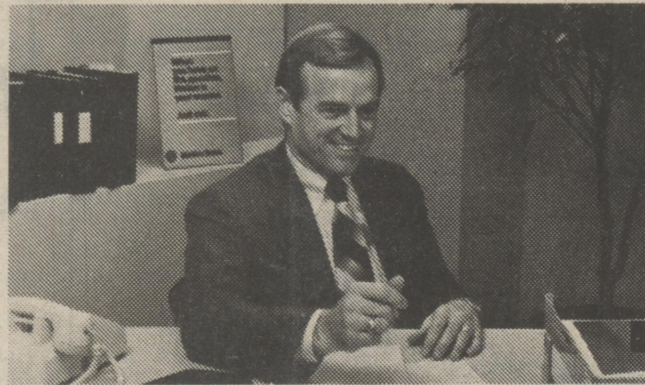

If this proposed salary scale were in effect today, Delaware's average starting salary would trail the regional average by one $14, with a ranking in the 31st percentile. At the advanced salary levels of bachelors/25 years experience, masters/25 years experience, and masters plus 30 credits, the average Delaware salary ranking at these levels would have been at the 46th, 50th, and 62nd percentiles respectively.

"While these rankings are below our goal of having all salary levels approaching the 70th percentile, such an increase is not realistic in one year. However, during the past year, Delaware lost significant ground to surrounding states with the failure to adopt significant increases advocated by DSEA last year. Delaware cannot afford to fall farther behind in competitive teacher salaries, when we are as far behind as we are now," DSEA official statement.

Over The Backyard Fence

Gab Fest by Pat Hatfield

Greenwood is a small town, but many of its young citizens have made us proud of them. One of these is Rose Handloser who grew up as my next-door neighbor just down the road. Many times she has written to me of her life and work, but this letter today was handed to me by another Greenwood person, who suggested that I might like to share it with my readers. I am glad to do this. Rose has spent many years in missionary work in South Africa and we are thankful to know her. I quote her letter:

"RAIN! As I look out my office window, I see the thunderheads gathering height and ferocity in preparation for our regular afternoon storm. This has been a most fantastic rainy season so far, in answer to your prayers and ours — but it's not time yet to stop praying. It will take several such seasons to bring your water table and storage dams up to a safe level, and to restore agricultural productivity to normal. There are still hungry people all around us.

SUN! How blessed we are in South Africa with sunshine nearly every day of the year, even during the rainy season — bringing health and healing and joy.

SHELTER! After a year and a half of anticipation my new all-electric home became a reality last October. While the bedroom and kitchen are "just barely big enough," the living-dining area is spacious enough for the dinners I enjoy cooking for a dozen or so guests at a time — and that area is extended by a patio and pocket-sized garden and braai (barbecue) area. At last I have roses again — three prolific bushes so far — and other shrubs and flowers; a birdbath which my feathered friends use regularly, and let me know if it's empty; and even a good crop of tomatoes. Not bad for four months! Even my Christmas cactus is celebrating with very unseasonal blossoms all over it. (July is its season in the southern hemisphere.)

A PLACE TO SERVE! Well, perhaps I should say, "A few places to serve." Some of you who hear from me more regularly may have kept up with developments in my assignments, but most of you have probably lost track by now. (Here is the list:) Mission Director for Africa Communications Council since 1983; Administrator of Education for children, an educational assistance program for African Pastor's children, since 1980; and now Regional Hostess, involving plenty of travel to and from the airport and frequent welcomes and farewells, since mid 1985. These are all "fun jobs", allowing me the flexibility of schedule to fit in teaching young adults at Horizon Church and a few other assignments from the Board of CLASS. The latest of these is planning a Junior Missions Retreat for standard 4th and 5th grade, grade 6 and 7 boys and girls, which will take place in March.

FRIENDS! So many of you in so many world areas and all over Africa, Christian friends who encourage each other in the faith. You birthday greetings last September and your Christmas greetings came in a veritable deluge, expressing your love in an unending variety of ways. Thank you for expressing your concern for Africa in general and for me in particular.

Many of you ask about prayer requests. You will soon see an African Region prayer calendar World Mission, which I composed from requests all over the region. In praying for me in particular, please remember each of my assignments and the people affected by them, that will allow our Lord to do His work and live His life through me." (Rose's address: ROSE, Box 214, 1710 Florida R.S.A.)

Perfect Valentines forever — Clarence (Chudy) Jarrell and his wife Ruth F. were married November 29, 1923. They recently celebrated their 62nd anniversary together as "newlyweds". They raised 9 children, and have 30 grandchildren and 21 great-grandchildren.

On Wednesday, John Deere/Taylor & Messick's Frontiers night was held. It was well attended. Next year will be John Deere's 150th birthday. To celebrate Frontiers night they started off by showing two films, the movies promoted items from toys to the latest in tractors and accessories. The movie went on to explain some of the new ideas about second crops. It also talked of financial options, increasing yields, new method of making pigs grow, irrigation, alternative foods for livestock, new methods of livestock handling, and advanced feeding systems and even three comedy segments. After the films they had door prizes and refreshments. Next year is Farming Frontiers 50th anniversary.

Things are starting to cook for the Harrington Sunshine 4-H club

At the February meeting of the Harrington Sunshine 4-H Club, 13 people attended. Mrs. Everline gave us a little quiz on foods, to get us ready for the Favorite Foods Judging held March 1st. It added an educational start to our meeting. Karen Taylor, our president, called the meeting to order. Pledges, Bible reading and poems were read. Old topics were Mini Read's Foods, Club event where members planning to attend Favorite Foods gets a chance to practice cooking their food and setting the table for their dish. Another old topic was International Foods. This is when you cook a foreign dish and take it to a meeting place for other members to taste. New coming events are: Foods Judging Training, Woodworking, and Photography Training, Consumer Education Judging and Favorite Foods. After the meeting we had a little training on Consumer Education that also will be held on March 1st. We would also like to thank Mrs. Dill for sending us a card, in which we support a food pantry.

Senior Center News

Well, we keep telling ourselves that Spring is right around the corner, this is sometimes hard to believe when you see the ice and snow around us. Thursday, the 13th, we are having a lunch that will warm you up no matter what the weather. Roast beef w/ gravy, fried rice, creamed peas, and cake for dessert. (Our meals are supplied by the Manna program).

The Crafts Department will be busy all day on Thursday in preparation for the upcoming Spring Bazaar in March.

On Friday, the 14th, we are having a very nice Valentine's lunch at the Center. Roast turkey w/ stuffing, cranberry sauce, and sweet potato pie for dessert. In the afternoon after lunch we will be having a Valentine Party and will be naming our Mr. and Mrs.

Sweetheart for the next year. We will also have some games and refreshments. Everyone in attendance will get a Valentine treat. That evening at the Colony Inn we will be having our Second Annual Sweetheart Dinner. Proceeds from the dinner (after the Colony Inn is paid, naturally) will be going to the Building Fund at the Center. Susan Welch, Tammy Warren, Heidi Wilson Gene Price will be the waiters/esses for that evening. Linda Gray was supposed to be with us that evening, but Linda is in Milford

Six hundred or more United Methodist ministers from all over Maryland, the District of Columbia, Delaware and Maryland's Eastern Shore are expected to gather at Kent Island United Methodist Church, Chester, Md., on February 13 from 9:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. The gathering is called "A Day Apart" and is provided by Bishop Joseph H. Yeakel, presiding bishop of the Washington Area of the United Methodist Church as a time of spiritual reflection for the ministers as they begin the season of Lent.

Beginning on Ash Wednesday (February 12) the season of Lent is perhaps the most intense of the liturgical seasons of the year for Christians. It is a time of preparation for the joyous season of Easter when Christians celebrate the resurrection of Jesus Christ. Lent, therefore, involves the practice of spiritual disciplines such as prayer, meditation, fasting, Bible study and includes for many United Methodists additional worship services for the six weeks (40 days not including Sundays) before Easter Sunday.

Basketball round up

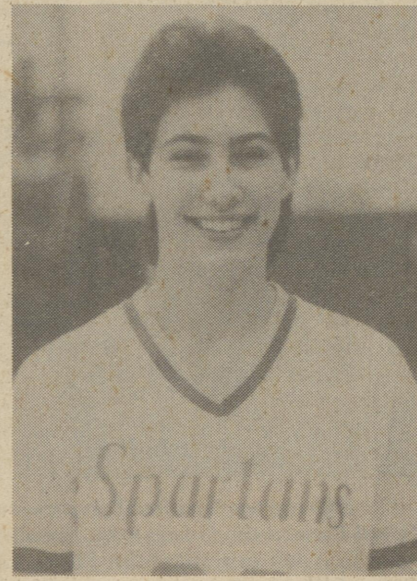

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

Teresa Taylor led the Spartan girls team in a losing effort on Tuesday night against Sussex Central. The Golden Knights dominated play and held Taylor to just three points through the first half of the game. She ended the game with 11 points to lead all Spartan scorers.

The Knights won 41-22.

On Friday night Taylor bounded back with a fury scoring a season high and game high of 28 points as the Spartans edged Woodbridge 42-38. It was a revenge win for the Spartans who lost a heartbreaker the week before at Woodbridge.

With Taylor scoring at will, she managed to get into double figures off the boards. She hauled down 10 rebounds. The Spartans in true Pat Dyal-Browski coached teams kept the pressure on. They were trailing the Raiders 32-24 at the start of the 4th quarter, but 9 straight points by Taylor sparked the team to victory.

Taylor got support from Arlene May (six points) and Melanie Pelton who carded 4 points and big 15 rebounds.

The Spartan girls are now 6-5 in the conference and 8-8 overall.

The Boys team lost to Sussex Central 57-36 on Tuesday. In Kevin Benson's last game, he scored 10 points. Darren Hammond also scored 10 for the Spartans. Again the Spartans need to shoot more and take the ball to the basket.

The Spartans lost to Woodbridge on Friday night 57-51. Chuck Bell led the Spartans with 13 points. Lionel Dixon followed with 10 points. The Spartans were 9 out of 12 from the stripe, which is an improvement over the first part of the season.

The Spartans are now 1-9 in the Conference and 2-13 overall.

Outten, Gillie, Gygrynk and Fleming get double wins in mat play

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

The Spartan matmen lowered their record to 7-3 with losses this past week against Cape Henlopen and Sussex Central. "Lack of pins early in the matches really hurt us, which has been our problem all year. Fortunately for us the pins have been there until this week," said head coach Tom Shaffer.

Shaffer said "...I think if we had wrestled Cape before Smyrna, the two losses (Cape and Sussex) would have gone our way. Shaffer was referring to the lopsided loss to Smyrna which was actually closer in individual match play than the score indicated. "I think we were flat following the Smyrna match, and effect of it all worked against us," said Shaffer. Again he was referring to the "snow-out" on Tuesday with Cape with the rescheduling of the match on Monday of last week. "The snow-out which looked like it could have worked an advantage for us in turn backfired. I would have preferred to have wrestled the team on the scheduled date," said Shaffer. The Cape match was February 8rd.

In the Cape match Ken Outten won with a pin pushing his record to 8-1-1. With Cherry losing a close match the team was longing points. "But Pat (Sullivan) came through for us in the 138 lb. class winning a fairly close match. Pat used a combination of moves and muscle to beat his opponent," said Shaffer.

"From here we picked up with a win from Gillie, Mike Gygrynk...who won by regular defeat. But Scott (Fleming) came through as he has all season with a 10-0 win. It put us in the lead...and it came down to Marvin (Hicks)". Hicks was undefeated to this point. "Marvin was wrestling a kid he could beat. He tried to throw the kid to the canvas...slipped himself...landed on the bottom. He wasn't able to get up and got pinned in the meantime." Shaffer said it is hard for a heavyweight to get up once another heavyweight is on top. "There is around 250 lbs. that you are playing with...so it is hard. Marvin gave his best." There was a dispute over the call. The time had actually run out according to witnesses there. The referee could not hear the buzzer...but why didn't they throw the towel...and counted Hicks out after the buzzer. "The noise was so loud in the Cape gym that no one could hear the buzzer," said Shaffer.

In the Sussex match, the Spartans lost

32-31. "They (Sussex) were strongest in the lower class...and by the time the match with Derik (Dill) came around we were already down 18 points," said Shaffer. Dill got a pin in the first period. "That seemed to turn things around for us. Ken got a major decision, Cherry tied and Joe Brown who eliminated Pat (Sullivan) during the week got pinned...but Greg (Gillie) bounced back and we were in the thick of things," said Shaffer. Giddens wrestling in place of Wendell Watson got a regular decision. "Mike (Gygrynk) got a first period pin as did Scott (Fleming)," added Shaffer. "It all came down to Marvin (Hicks) again. We needed a pin...even though Marvin won by a decision we still came up short by one point. A pin would have done it for us...but as I have told the guys all season that the match will come down to 1 or 2 points," said Shaffer.

In the last two matches for the Spartans, the difference has been a total of four points. "That is how close things have been for us all season," said Shaffer.

The Spartans will conclude their season on Wednesday with an away match with Dover.

Soccer league seeks teams

OGDENSBURG — The United Football (Soccer) League is seeking teams for its three Divisions — Adults, 18 and under and 16 and under, to start playing by March 20, 1986. The League is sanctioned by the United States

Football (Soccer) Association, Inc. (USFA).

Champions and Runners-up of the league may go to the State Tournament, where the State Champion will go to the National Tournament, where the

M.V.P.'s may have a chance to try out for a South American Professional Team.

Anyone interested in fielding a team or learning more about the USFA should call (201) 827-0718.

Bald Eagle recovered, to be released at Bombay Hook

The ailing female bald eagle which had been taken into captivity January 11 at Bombay Hook National Wildlife Refuge has recovered and will be released back to the wild on February 10, 1985. Refuge Manager Paul Daly announced today. The eagle, which had become sick after ingesting what is still an unknown toxin, was rehabilitated at Tri-State Bird Rescue in Wilmington, Delaware after having been captured off an ice floe on Bombay Hook by refuge personnel.

Plans are to release the bird in an area of the refuge where there will be little initial disturbance. It is important that the eagle have the opportunity to become re-acclimated to its surroundings without disturbance and for this reason the area where the bird will be released will be closed to the public for a few hours afterwards.

In an effort to track the movements of the eagle after her release, Refuge and Tri-State personnel placed leg bands on the bird on February 7. One of the band is color coded to allow refuge personnel to spot it easily with the use of binoculars and thus distinguish it from other eagles in the area. Two other adult eagles and one immature bird have been seen regularly on the refuge for the past two weeks.

Because refuge personnel were fortunate to be able to approach the sick bird and get it quickly to the Tri-State facility where it received fine care this episode should come to a happy conclusion, and hopefully whatever caused the problem will not reappear to cause harm to our National symbol.

Richard Biscayart named as sports information director at Wesley College

Wesley College has named Richard Biscayart as its new Sports Information Director. Biscayart will succeed Pat Knight who was the director for the past eleven years. Biscayart is currently the Director of the English Institute of Sports Administration (ELISA) at Wesley. The ELISA program is attempting to recruit international students-athletes and sports administrators for an English language and sports oriented program.

Biscayart received a bachelor of arts degree in English Literature in 1970 from the University of Missouri. He obtained his Teaching Certificate in 1978 from the University of Calgary in Canada. While in Calgary, Canada, he taught English as a Second Language. He began his teaching career in 1972 at Soochow University in Taipei, Taiwan, where he taught English as a Second Language and World Literature. From 1974 to 1975, he taught the English language in Spain. He is currently teaching English Composition at Wesley.

He received his high school education in Lausanne, Switzerland; Wiesbaden, Germany; and graduated from Madrid High School in Madrid, Spain in 1966, where he played both football and basketball. Biscayart came from a military family. As a highlight to his athletic career, he was a member of the Mediterranean Area Championship team in 1966. The championship game was played in the Olympic Basketball Coliseum constructed for the 1960 Olympic games in Rome, Italy.

While at Sochow, he played on the university basketball and rugby teams. In 1974, he played semi-professional basketball for the Malaga Sports Club in Malaga, Spain. During the 1984-85 academic year, he coached the Wesley women's basketball team to the Region XIX tournament.

Biscayart is a member of the Delaware State Olympics Committee and the United States Olympic Society. This summer he will attend the United States Olympic Academy, which will be conducted at the U.S. Olympic Complex in Colorado Springs, Colorado, June 10-14. It is his hope to strengthen the Olympic bond with the State of Delaware.

Biscayart is also the manager of Ornamental Trees, Inc., a 20-acre nursery in Camden owned by Steven and Ray Wrede and Kevin Howard. Biscayart lives in Smyrna with his wife and two young daughters.

Wilkins, Turpin, Robinson honored at Georgetown Speedway awards banquet

by Don Allen

A standing room only crowd was in attendance at the Rehoboth Beach Convention Center to see honors bestowed on the top competitors of Georgetown Speedway's 1985 stock car racing season at the annual banquet on January 18th.

Bobby Wilkins, Jeff Turpin and Ronnie Robinson were the kings of the evening taking home the lion's share of the awards for besting the competition in their three respective classes.

Millford native Wilkins earned his crown for his sterling performances in the Modified division. Five feature wins and numerous top five finishes allowed Bobby to outdistance the best of his division to capture his first career track championship in the Modified division. Wilkins finished the season behind the wheel of the Blue Hen Racing #30 after mechanical woes sidelined the Carroll's Used Cars #69, in which he started the season, for a short time at mid-year.

Jeff Turpin of Laurel pilot of the Smith Used Cars, Masten Home Centers #USA-1 was crowned the champion of the Limited Late Model division. Three feature wins highlighted a season for Jeff. Jeff set a new track record on May 25th, the "gremlins" started to show up bringing their mechanical problems with them. Jeff overcame the bad times to snare the first track championship of his career. 1985 marked the debut of the Street Modified Division at Georgetown and Ronnie Robinson laid claim to that first championship crown. Consistency was the word for Ronnie's season. His two feature wins were impressive but add to that the fact that his Heritage Farms #44 scored a five finish in every race of the season, nearly all of them boasting full fields of the full bodied machines, then his championship season really comes into focus.

After the top ten owners and drivers in the three divisions had received their beautiful, handcrafted (Sandrose trophies, sponsored by A.J.'s Custom & Off-Road, Smith Used Cars, Taylor & Messick Farm Equipment and Snookie's Speed Part.

Snookie's Speed Parts, the time came for some special presentations from the speedway and awards of appreciation from some of the drivers and teams.

Walt and Marie Messick received a standing ovation from the capacity crowd when they were given a plaque commemorating their dedicated support of Delmarva Motorsports through the years.

Two-time MODCAR champ, Freddy Brightbill, who finished third in modified standings for '85, was presented with a plaque commemorating his official track speed record of 20.35 seconds set early in the season. The previous record was set by "Rapid" Richard Jarvis several seasons ago before the tire pressure, compound and size restrictions were imposed. "Fast" Freddy and his T&J Racing, Ritter Farms, Rusty Rudder #25 shattered that record by over half of a second under the new rules.

The Hard Luck Award for 1985 went to long-time competitor Clifford Todd. Clifford got off to one of the best starts of his career in the Toddy's Exxon, Lamp Post Restaurant #32, but late in the season, a series of debilitating mechanical failures and a couple of hair-raising flips ended his hopes of a top ten overall finish.

The B&F Towing #28 team and John Pinter presented a plaque to Tony Donofrio and the Speedway Maintenance Team commemorating their '99 & 99/100%" record for track preparation.

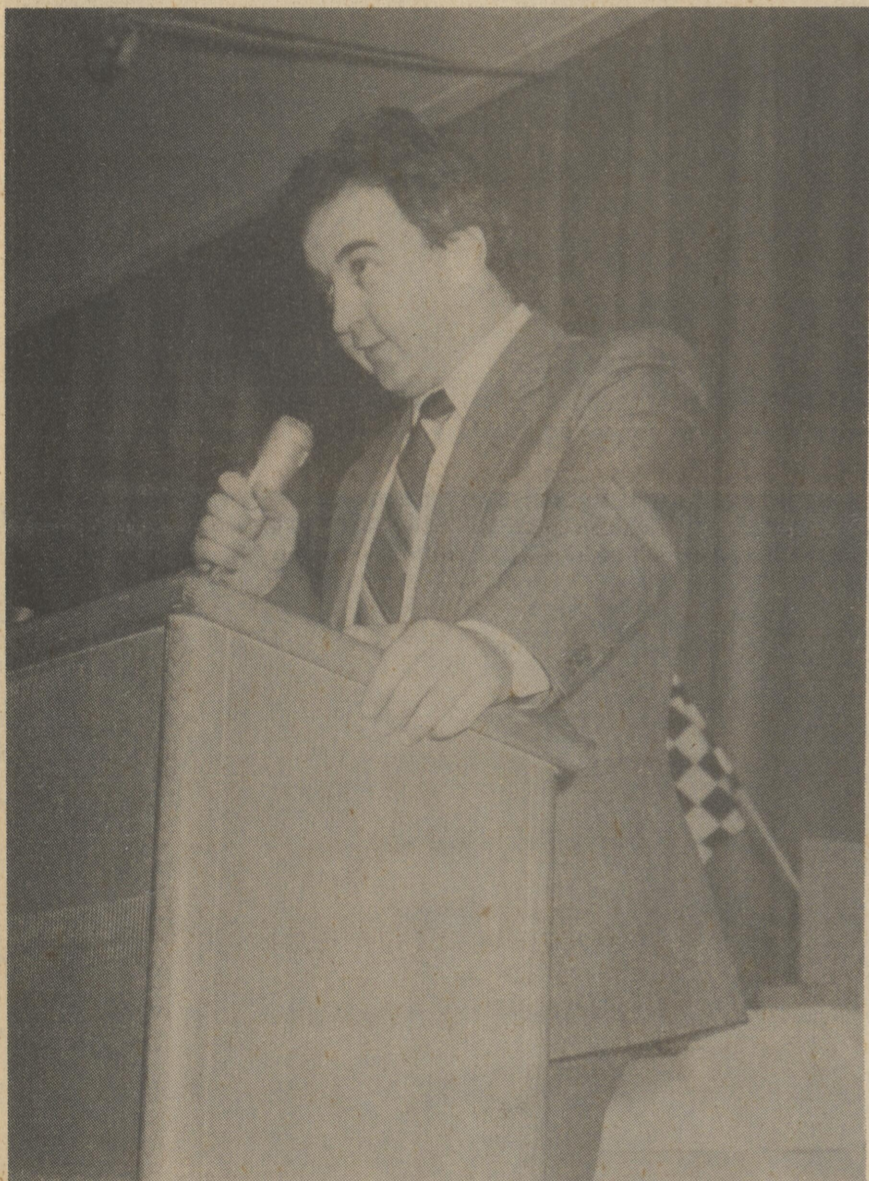

Howard Smith of Speed & Sport Novelties came to the stage to present plaques and beautiful 11 x 14 color photos to the owner and driver point champs. Butch Hilliard who took his Mopar powered Coors, W.D.P. General Contractors sponsored #4 to a fifth place finish in driver's points and a fourth in owner's points, presented

MODCAR and ARDC Midgets return to Georgetown Speedway in '86

Georgetown Speedway's vigorous 1986 schedule of events will represent a 24-week schedule that commences in early May.

Georgetown fans will be treated to a trip into the history of racing in May with visits by the Eastern States Midget Racing Association/ARDC Midgets and the Antique Oval Stock Car Racing Club. The Midgets will make their first of three appearances on May 16th. Their other two shows will be on August 22nd and September 20th. The Antique Stockers are sure to rekindle some fond memories of the sport when they bring their '30's era coupes and coaches to duel on the clay on May 25th. MODCAR will present their special brand of racing. The first will be a 40-lap event on July 4th which offers a total purse of nearly $12,000. MODCAR will return on September 12th with a 30 lapper that will pay $1,500 to the winner.

Georgetown will host two qualifiers for the big post-season events. First will be on June 20th offering the winner a guaranteed starting spot for the Flemington 200 to be held at the Flemington Fairgrounds Raceway in the Fall. The second will be a qualifying race for the 200 mile championship event held annually at the Syracuse Fairgrounds. That show will go green on August 8th.

The Modifieds, Limited Late Models and Street Modifieds will return to the half-mile oval on a weekly basis and this year will battle for a piece of a record $15,000 season points fund.

A.I.M.S. turns fast time trials

The most comprehensive, and the fastest, testing sessions at Alabama International Motor Speedway have almost drawn to a close, with the great majority of drivers who tested establishing new personal highs for speed at the World's Fastest Speedway. Looking forward to both the Daytona 500 on February 16th, and the Winston 500 here on May 4th, driver after driver posted the quickest laps of their career, sometimes during less-than-ideal racing conditions.

For instance, it was bitterly cold when Bill Elliott tested his Ford at 207.618 in December, a speed eclipsed only by his NASCAR record 209.398, set in qualifying for the 1985 Winston 500.

Others, such as Buddy Baker (205.054 in an Oldsmobile), Cale Yarborough (206.456 in a Ford), Harry Gant (203.745 in a Chevrolet), Benny Parsons (204.834 in an Oldsmobile), Terry Labonte (203.312 in an Oldsmobile), and Morgan Shepherd (203.659 in a Buick), each posted the fastest laps they had ever run at Talladega.

So did Phil Parsons (203.096 in an Olds), Bobby Allison (201.019 in a Buick), and Dave Marcis (200.806 in a Ford).

Squier/Bolton awarded

Ken Squier of CBS-TV Sports and Clyde Bolton of the Birmingham (AL) News are the 1985 winners of the Miller American Motorsports Award of Excellence in honor of Russ Catlin.

The award was established to honor one member of the print media and one member of the electronic media for outstanding motorsport journalism from the previous year.

Squier's award-winning piece aired on CBS last June. He interviewed members of Bill Elliott's family and featured the television debut of Elliott's beloved "Grandma Reese".

Bolton's winning entry, also on the Elliott family, was entitled, "New Star Shines Over the Foothills of Speedcountry." It appeared in the May 16, 1985 edition of the Birmingham News.

Both Squier and Bolton received one-of-a-kind Steuben leaded crystal sculptures, engraved Rolex watches and a $1,000 scholarship, which can be awarded to the accredited college of their choice.

In addition, an oil painting of both Squier and Bolton will hang in the Charlotte Motor Speedway press box for one year.

Editor's Note: There is nothing slow about Charlotte Motor Speedway — all first class. A lesson is always there for other promoters.

DAYTONA BEACH, FLORIDA — The winning team of Al Holbert, Derek Bell, and Al Unser Jr. were tired but smiling in Victory Lane at Daytona International Speedway after taking the checkered flag in the February 1-2, 1986, running of the SUNBANK 24 HOURS IMSA Camel GT endurance event for prototype cars. Holbert, Bell win Sunbank 24 at Daytona broken throttle spring. After making six pit stops in 68 minutes trying to fix the problem, they lost a six-lap edge and gave the lead up to Holbert. The Lowenbrau team averaged 105.484 mph for 712 laps, a total of 2,534.72 miles. Henn's car ended up second. One lap behind was the third place Porsche 962 of Jim Busby, Derek Warwick, Jochen Mass and Darin Brassfield.

A year ago, Holbert's team led 574 of 703 laps before an electrical problem in the final two hours allowed Preston Henn's team of A.J. Foyt, Thierry Boutsen, Bob Wollek and Al Unser Sr. through to the victory.

The two teams of Winston Cup stock car drivers entered in the SunBank 24 experienced very little luck in the race. The Skoal Bandit Oldsmobile that was to be driven by Harry Gant, Terry Labonte and Phil Parsons completed only three laps before it blew its engine with Labonte at the wheel. The Folger's Motorcraft Ford Mustang driven by Bill Elliott, Ricky Rudd, Ken Schrader and Kyle Petty led the GTO category at various times before it was eliminated in an accident nine hours into the race. Rudd dodged a spinning car at the chicane and hit the wall, driving a suspension piece into the engine block. Before the car was eliminated, Elliott set the race's fastest GTO lap, at an average speed of 111.074 mph.

This time, Unser Jr. had a broken throttle cable on course on lap 423. The car lost 75 minutes in the pits and re-entered the race 35 laps behind.

"We drove as hard as we could for the entire time," said Unser. "There was not one lap there that I backed off or that Derek or Al did either."

Henn's Porsche, driven by Foyt, Danny Sullivan and Arie Luyendyk, spent more than 30 minutes in the pits repairing an oil leak early in the morning.

Finally, with just less than two hours remaining, Sullivan pitted with a

Ward first in supercross

HOUSTON, TEXAS — After failing to make the main event at the Nipponendo Supercross Series opener in Anaheim, Calif., Kawasaki's Jeff Ward came full circle to take the win in round two at the Houston Astrodome on Sunday afternoon (Feb. 2). Ward is defending AMA Supercross and 250cc National champion and brought himself up to seventh place in the current standings with 25 points. Honda's David Bailey is leading the series with 47 points, adding a second at Houston to his Anaheim victory.

Eklund gets first win on schedule

HOUSTON, TEXAS — Former Camel Pro Champion Steve Eklund grabbed the win at the Houston Astrodome Saturday night (Feb. 1) in the Camel Pro season opening short track race. It was Eklund's fifth career short track victory and moved him into a tie with Kenny Roberts for most career wins on the small oval. The feature race started off with a big surprise as rookie expert Aaron Hill opened a commanding lead that he held until the mid-point in the race. Eklund took over at the crossed flag and never looked back.

second getting by Hill when he slid out in turn four. At the finish it was Pearson by less than a bike length as Carr shot inside for a dash to the flag.

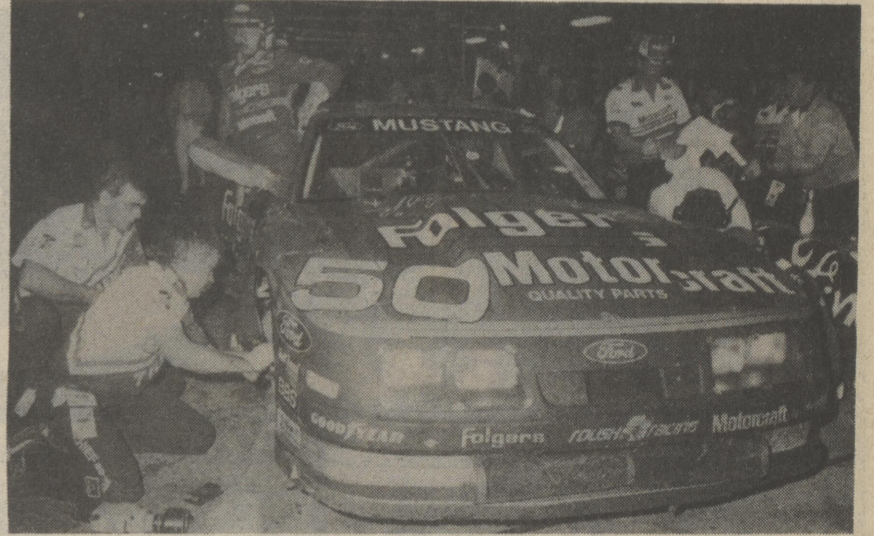

Scott Pearson and 1985 Rookie-of-the-Year, Chris Carr, put on a show as they battled handlebar-to-handlebar for Defending national champion Bubba Shoberg and former champ Jay Springsteen sat out the final event. Both riders suffered crashes in the early going and missed taking the final transfer spot in the Last Chance Qualifier.

Bruce Johnson and Jon Nunez took first and second in the Junior final.

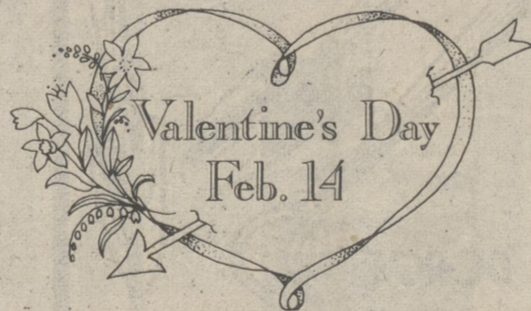

The next event on the AMA's Camel Pro Series schedule will feature the road race stars at Daytona Speed Week scheduled for March 2 through March 9 at Daytona International Speedway.

Elliott, Rudd, K. Petty, Schrader team Ford

DAYTONA BEACH, FLORIDA — During a midnight pitstop for tires, brake shoe replacement, and fuel, Bill Elliott exits from the IMSA Camel GTO class Roush Ford Mustang as teammate Ricky Rudd buckles into the driver's seat during the SUNBANK 24 HOURS at Daytona International Speedway. At one point, the team of NASCAR Winston Cup drivers that included Kyle Petty and Ken Schrader had led the event, and the group was still in contention for a victory when they tangled with another car. The Elliott/Rudd/Petty/Schrader team managed to finish 240 laps in the February 1-2, 1986, round-the-clock endurance event before the accident. Camel GT photo by David Allio.

Southern States News

Members of Southern States Cooperative's local boards and committees, the cooperative's retail managers and agricultural workers will attend a regional board meeting to be held by the cooperative at the Wicomico Youth & Civic Center in Salisbury, Maryland on February 20. Invited to attend from this area are the elected representatives of Mills Supply Company in Greenwood, Delaware.

Also attending the session will be a number of guest young farmers from this area.

A total of 36 of these regional meetings will be held by Southern States over a five-state area. The cooperative serves farmer-members who live in Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, Delaware and Kentucky.

Floyd K. Blessing of Houston, Delaware, a member of the cooperative's 15-man board of directors, will preside at the session. Registration for the meeting will begin at 9:30 a.m.

Harris K. Swann, group vice president - retail & marketing services of the cooperative, will present the financial report for the first 6 months of the co-op's current fiscal year.

Also featured at the session will be a videotape presentation entitled "What if...?" which points out the importance of the cooperative to members in the operation of their farms.

Another major part of the program is entitled "Ag Outlook '86." Swann will take a look at what the future holds for agriculture, while J. Melvin Goad of Seaford, Delaware, a regional manager of the co-op, will discuss Southern States' community operations.

There will also be the presentation of awards to retail managers for their performance in the organization's Operation Image Program.

The meeting will adjourn following lunch provided by the cooperative.

Christine Jernigan is living life in th 4-H fast lane

Christine Jernigan has been very active and successful in the 4-H club program and can now add delegate to the 1986 National 4-H Conference to a long list of 4-H accomplishments. Cris has been chosen as one of four 4-H'ers in Delaware to attend National 4-H Conference which is held in Washington, D.C. in April. Cris is a member of the Sandy Fields 4-H Club of Seaford and was selected for her leadership abilities, 4-H accomplishments and her total commitment and dedication to the 4-H program.

"The selection was a tough one, says Sussex County 4-H Agent Lloydlee Heite. "We have a lot of well qualified older 4-H'ers but Cris stands a little taller than most. Cris is our Jr. Council president which is a very important and prestigious job in the 4-H program." The Jr. Council of Sussex runs most of the county programs and activities and have almost total input as to what goes on in 4-H Sussex. Their Jr. Council treasury makes programs for all 4-H'ers very inexpensive and Cris manages this. Cris's list of accomplishments and involvements is a long one. She attended the 1984 National 4-H Congress in the area of swine and was on the State Livestock Judging Team that competed in Louisville. Cris has held most offices in her local 4-H club, serves on the State 4-H Advisory Committee, the County 4-H Advisory Committee and has been a counselor at State 4-H Camp.

"I guess swine has been one of my favorite 4-H projects," says Cris. "I've taken it ever since I joined 4-H and won premium showmanship at the State Fair one year." Cris lives on her family farm outside of Seaford with her parents, Ron and Carolyn Jernigan, and brother Ron. Most recently Miss Jernigan competed for the title of Delaware Pork Queen, a contest sponsored by the Pork Producers of Delaware, and was chosen as a member of the court. "I enjoyed competing. It was a fun experience, and I learned a lot, even though I didn't win," says Cris. 4-H teaches you it is not always important that you win, but that you try and I guess that's what I like about 4-H."

Christine Jernigan, President of the Sussex County 4-H Junior Council has been chosen to attend National 4-H Conference in Washington, D.C. in April.

When not too busy in 4-H, Cris can be found cruising Seaford in her almost fully restored 1967 Candy Apple Red Mustang Convertible. Cris said her father did most of the work on her car, but she tried to pitch in when there was something she could do.

Cris is attending Salisbury State College where she is majoring in Art. She plans a career in the commercial art field after graduating. For more information about 4-H, call the 4-H Office at 856-7303. It is the policy of the Cooperative Extension Service University of Delaware that no person shall be subjected to discrimination on the grounds of race, color, sex, handicap, age, or national origin.

On Tuesday evening, the Kent County Ladies Auxiliary of the Fire Co. held their meeting at Felton firehall. A delicious fried chicken platter was served. Members from Houston who attended were Connie Morgan, Lillie Elliott, Pauline Morgan, Dorothy Silbereisen, Anna Belle Boone, Mae Williams, Virginia Twilley, Madeline Quillen, Anna May Marvel, Elon Eisenbrey and Elma Minner.

The next meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of Houston will be Monday evening, February 17, at 7:30 at the firehouse.

The Houston Town Council held their regular meeting on Thursday evening at the firehouse. On February 22, filing for Mayor and two councilmen will be held between the hours of 6 and 8 p.m. at the firehouse.

Sunday, February 16, will be the first Sunday in Lent.

A Grace For The First Week In Lent
Let this food, Lord, remind us of the forty days you fasted,
Let these brimming glasses, remind us of the bitter cup You drank,
Let this bread we break together, remind us of your body, broken for us,
And let our grateful hearts be filled with sorrow and with Love.
Amen

Memorial Hospital with a viral pneumonia. ALL OUR BEST TO YOU, LINDA. OUR THOUGHTS ARE WITH YOU. Linda was a little upset that she wouldn't be able to be with us this Valentine's Day, so I told her that maybe we would have a July 4th dinner and she could be Betsy Ross, and I would go as Uncle Sam. If you haven't made reservations for our Dinner that evening, please call the Center now for available seats.

Department and the Ceramic Department have been busy for some time in preparation. The Arts and Crafts Department works on Tuesdays and Thursdays at the Center, Ceramics on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Many, many hours of work both at the Center and at individual homes go into the success of the bazaars season after season.

Now for your Information Tip for this week. Kent County Property Tax Exemptions for Persons Over 65 meeting certain eligibilities. You would be eligible for a county property tax deduction if you are 65 and over and (1) your income, excluding Social Security, is less than $3000.00 for a single person and $6,000.00 for a couple. If this is your case, you should apply for a tax deduction of up to $5,000.00 of assessed value from your property. Example: You are single and over 65. You work part-time and earn $2400.00 a year besides Social Security...you would be eligible for this Kent County Property Tax Deduction.

Now, the deduction would be $5,000.00. So let's say your property is assessed at $10,000.00 Your deduction would be $5,000.00 so you would only pay taxes on the remaining $5,000.00 of your assessment, instead of the $10,000.00. For more information on this, please call the Center at 398-4224.

That's all the news for this week. Remember, the Center is open Monday thru Friday, 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. Membership is open to anyone 60 years of age or older, regardless of race, creed, sex, or handicap. If you would like to receive information on the Center for yourself or someone you know, please call the Center and ask to have one of our monthly newsletters mailed to you. A monthly calendar would highlight all the activities, trips, etc. at the Center for that month, as well as a day-to-day listing of the meals. There is no obligation to join the Center after receiving one of our newsletters or any of our services. Remember, the Center number is 398-4224. See you next week!
