

School Board attempts to clean up old matters

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.
LAKE FOREST HIGH SCHOOL LIBRARY. The school board on Thursday night attempted to clean up some old matters that have been hanging fire for some time...and are still hanging fire following Thursday's meeting.

The matter of the Superintendent using the district vehicle remains a split on the decision as to what to do about it. Apparently the underlying factor is whether to pay the superintendent mileage or furnish a car. This then, when it applies to school administrators, apparently takes on a different flavor as opposed to those state employees who were driving state vehicles back and forth to their jobs.

The board was to act on whether to purchase a 1979 vehicle for the superintendent at Thursday's meeting.

The price was $1,900. The matter was already to go, but at the last minute, new discussion surrounding whether they should buy a newer model arose. It was therefore tabled again.

A vote of 2-2 by the board to charge 45 cents per copy for use of the office copier leaves that matter deadlocked. The matter first arose when the Concerned Citizens group asked for copies of matters dealing with the district office in certain expenditures or debts. The group was charged 45 cents per copy.

One of the matters discussed about the charge, which some feel was excessive... particularly when it is taxpayers money that put the copier there in the first place, was the district was apparently acting on an earlier ruling which took into account the cost of having one of the district's office employees stand at the copier and operate it. "There were two hundred and some odd copies to be made at one point...which let's face it, takes some time to do. It means taking an office employee off a district job to run the copier. The costs were figured in according by previous people," said board president, Roberta O'Neal.

The board approved transferring $60,000 to a proper account to fix the roof over the band room. They are looking at mid-April for completion date.

The board is studying the need for a traffic light in Frederica near the school. The matter will be referred to the proper people at the State Highway Department for their consideration.

Frank Young, principal at Lake Forest North Elementary School gave a report on the Early Childhood Development Center. There are 55 students enrolled in the center who range in age from 3 and 1/2 to 7 years. The students are taught language development, gross motor skills development, tested, promote table manners and etiquette when the students are having lunch or snack time and there is a period set aside for the sharing of thoughts and responding to ideas of others. The center and the program are receiving high praises and high marks for this kind of early childhood development.

The policy manual is approved by the Board. It is expected at the next school board meeting.

William Dannenhauer, who heads the committee for improvement of the curriculum, gave his report at the board meeting on Thursday. Dannenhauer, who is employed by the Department of Public Instruction in Dover, lives in the school district. There is a meeting set for this Thursday night at Dr. Arthur Gilbert's office at the W.T. Chipman School.

The referendum advisory committee made their recommendations on Thursday night. The committee feels the teachers and the school board should educate the community on teacher shortages in the district and also explain how equalization will benefit the community. "Essentially what we are talking about here is how increases to salaries will keep good teachers and

Decision on Sara Williams held secret

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.
HARRINGTON. The Lake Forest Board of Education allegedly has reached a decision on Sara Williams in the matter of a grievance brought against Mrs. Williams by Lynda Rae Gannon, a teacher in the Lake Forest School District, who claimed Mrs. Williams criticized her in public, which violates the teachers' contract with the district.

Mrs. Williams has denied the charge.

At the first meeting by the board with Mrs. Gannon, Mrs. Williams was not present apparently of her own choosing. She has been at home with a

Dr. Ralph Brinster gains world recognition in gene transplanting

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.
PHILADELPHIA, PA — Dr. Ralph L. Brinster, whose parents Joseph and Doris of near McColley's Pond, is involved in microbiology at the University of Pennsylvania Veterinary Medical School laboratory. The technique is transplanting fertilized eggs into another uterus. Mice are used in the experimentation.

The fetus grows into a fetus in 21 days. The mouse pup grows to twice normal size, because its cells carry many copies of the genes for human growth.

It was through the creation of the "supermouse" that brought to the scientific world's attention the gene transplantation technique known as microinjection.

The technique is practiced more at the University of Pennsylvania Veterinary Medicine laboratory than anywhere else in the world. It is headed by Dr. Brinster.

Dr. Brinster has made thousands of transplants over the years in larger animals some of which show signs of passing onto the next generation.

Dr. Brinster has developed special gene varieties used in animals to resist diseases or to produce valuable substances such as blood factor 9 vital to blood clotting. Also through this scientific method of gene use they can predict where a protein will be produced. The gene microinjections are done under the microscope. Even though it sounds complicated...which it is...one veteran lab technician boasts fertilizing over 300 ova a day.

Through gene transplantations in mice, the scientists are finding clues to the riddle of cancer's origin within cells and learning new ways to manipulate the immune defense system to prevent or cure disease.

As a practical matter, the microinjection technique is seldom successful in more than 2 percent to 5 percent of injected egg cells, an acceptable proportion for animal research, but far too low to be practical in humans.

Nevertheless, Dr. Brinster and his associates think the identification of special pieces of the injections that serve as signals to activate genes in particular

Harrington Police Department to get a clerk

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.
HARRINGTON — Councilman and Harrington Police Commissioner, James Temple, proposed at a workshop meeting on Monday night that the Council approve the use of a clerk borrowed from the main office in City Hall. Temple asked that the work schedule be supervised and regulated by City Manager George Volenik.

Temple said that he had been "spending a great deal of time" at the Police Department. "...and I feel that I know what is wrong. It is a mess. The filing is not up to date, and they are behind in their paperwork." Temple went on to explain that the patrolmen cannot be out on the street and complete their paperwork as well. Councilman Jarrell said "...the real problem is with the person who is running the department. If you get that problem straightened out then I think you will solve the problem."

Councilwoman Sue Ellen Dennis said "...I would like some answers to questions such as how much is typing...how much is filing and does the present budget allow for such measure, and I feel it should be on a demand basis."

City Manager, George Volenik said he would like to handle it "so that he works it right in with the rest of the business that must be completed." He added that "...this way I can see just what needs to be done...and do it as well as complete the other work in the office."

Lekites makes settlement proposal

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.
HARRINGTON — At the workshop on Monday night with City Council of Harrington, Walter G. Lekites, 3rd, through his attorney H. Cabbage Brown Jr. proposed to do certain things to a rental property he owns at the northwest corner of Fleming and Liberty streets in Harrington if the lawsuit against him by the City is terminated.

The house burned approximately eight months ago and damages were contained to the rear of the dwelling. The damaged portion of the dwelling has been torn down and the debris has been hauled away.

Acting on advice of their attorney, William J. Walls Jr. of Harrington, the City through the Mayor refused to issue a statement at Monday's workshop meeting regarding the details of the

Four candidates file for Frederica town elections

FREDERICA — The Town of Frederica will hold an election for three seats on the Town Council.

The four that have filed for the three vacancies, which are for a two year term are Karen Wilmore, Leonard Benson, the incumbent, Wilbur Jones, and David Forbes.

There are five seats on the Council. The other two seats are occupied by Rebecca Zullo and Charles Irons. Their two seats will be up for election next year.

The election will be held on Monday, March 3rd at the Town Office between 5 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Senior Center plans addition

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.
HARRINGTON — The Harrington Senior Center is planning an addition to the present building on Fleming Street.

The new addition will contain 2,300 square feet of floor space and will be primarily a dining hall. According to Gene Price, the executive director, the room will be a multi-purpose room. Mr. Price said the additional space was necessary to take care of the members and their needs.

The bid will be opened on March 11 at 7:45 in the Levy Court room in the Kent County Courthouse. After the contract is awarded and construction begins, the structure must be completed within 120 days.

The money to finance comes through a grant from the Community Development Block grant program. Mr. Price indicated that the members formed a square foot club where you could donate $50 toward a square foot. The square foot club and other fund raisers netted the Center over $32,000.00.

Felton to hold town elections

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.
FELTON — The Felton town election will be held on Monday, March 3rd at the Town Hall (former Felton Railroad Station) from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Six candidates have filed for three vacant seats on the council with each carrying a two year term.

Incumbents Mayor Bill Myers, Councilman John Hopkins and Jim O'Conner have filed. They are being challenged by Jim Sluter, Bill Brittingham, and Patricia Rawding.

The Mayor is selected by the council following each election.

The Town has a newly formed Planning and Zoning Commission. A great deal of new construction has taken place around Felton in recent times. Bob Smith is building six new homes near the ballpark, and Bill Myers Jr. is making an addition to his present apartment complex.

Felton will have a new bank building next month. Work is supposed to be completed by the end of March or early part of April. When the bank building is complete the old building will be demolished. The new bank building is located just to the rear of the old bank on Main Street.

The other two Council members who are currently serving are George Egler and Clarence Hurd. Elections for those two seats will be next year.

Heritage Day Committee Meeting!

There will be a meeting of the Heritage Day Committee on March 4, 1986, at 7:00 p.m. at the Harrington Senior Center. Anyone interested in helping with this year's Heritage Day is welcome.

Harrington Police Department now has two squad cars. The one on the left, which is a 1980 Impala Chevrolet was purchased a couple of weeks ago. The one on the right is the newest addition which is a Ford LTD "Police Package Type Vehicle." Harrington Police Department has a chief and four patrolmen. ### Lekites makes settlement proposal

Lekites proposal. In a brief statement from Lekites' attorney, Brown said the proposal was simply that things had been done to the house to improve the looks around the property as well as "...close it (dwelling in)".

Asked what was meant by "closing in", Brown defined it as being those things related to the structure which is to be added to the rear of the property. This means putting a roof on and the sides enclosed "...as well as the placement of all windows."

Brown said Mr. Lekites works in Wilmington every day "...and he gets home late in the evenings," which may explain the lack of communication with the City Council. Brown said there might have been a break down in communications between his client and the Council.

Councilman Temple repeatedly asked

Lekites when he would have the work done completely. The answer always was when the contractor could give a date. Brown said they would have the contractor at City Hall tomorrow night (Tuesday)...as the Harrington Journal goes to press.

Councilman Temple said the council wants the matter completed as soon as possible "...and faster than that, for as far as I am concerned the Council should waive taxes on all properties around your (Lekites) property until the matter is completed. It looks horrible, and you would not want to live around there either the way it has been left."

Councilman Jarrell directed the City Manager to inform the building inspector to report to him about three days before each time the Council meets to render a progress report on the subject property.

Lake Forest students to participate in Close-Up Program

The Close-Up Foundation, the nation's largest government studies program, has once again invited Lake Forest High School to participate in a week long series of seminars in Washington, D.C. Lake Forest students will participate with several hundred other students and teachers from Delaware and other states across the country during the week of March 16. This is the second year Lake Forest has been invited to attend the program, according to Gary Sparks, the Close-Up teacher at Lake Forest who will accompany the students to the nation's capital. While in Washington during the weeklong nonpartisan government program, the nation's capital becomes the student's classroom.

Sparks says that while the students are in Washington, D.C. they will meet

Brinster gains world recognition

tissues could prove valuable to doctors if they can be adapted for use in somatic cell gene therapy, in which the new genes would not be passed on to future generations.

By transplanting individual oncogenes into mouse eggs together with the right genetic signals, the scientists have produced mice that always develop cancers of the liver, or the brain or the kidney, depending on the transplants the original ova received. This has produced new varieties of mice that all get particular kinds of cancers in particular tissues...a valuable resource for cancer studies.

"You don't have to develop new breeds," said Dr. Brinster, "...you make what you want, to order."

"Our biggest interest is in how genes are controlled," said Dr. Brinster, who grew up near the town of Cedar Grove, N.J., near Upper Montclair, N.J. He went to high school there "...and he was always interested in poultry where he studied and majored in animal husbandry and poultry science at Rutgers University," said his father, Joseph.

While at Rutgers he was a member of the Air Force R.O.T.C. and served on active duty in Korea. He came back to Rutgers and earned a masters degree in science and then off to the University of Pennsylvania Veterinary School where he is today in research.

"Dr. Brinster worked on his parent's goat farm when he was growing up. "We had the largest goat farm in New Jersey and probably the third largest goat farm on the east coast," added Mr. Brinster.

It was on the farm he gained an interest in veterinary medicine.

"Ralph was always a hard worker, gifted and intelligent. He studied real hard in school and got good grades. Needless to say Doris and I are very proud of him," said Mr. Brinster.

The road to success...which has gained him worldwide recognition in the field of gene study, started with Dr. Brinster being a molecular biologist who created hybrid genes consisting of a gene and a signal sequence called a promoter.

He has worked in collaboration with Dr. Ronald Evans of the Salk Institute in La Jolla, Calif.

Dr. Brinster says "...I spend a lot of time here in my laboratory." He believes the success of the research over the years has been greatly aided by good luck. He has no intention of letting any of that good luck go to waste. "I have been very lucky with my research, and I intend to spend a lot of time here, because you don't get this lucky very often."

Editor's Note: Dr. Brinster will be giving a lecture on new biotechnologies techniques on Wednesday, March 12th at 8 p.m. at the John M. Clayton Hall, University of Delaware, Newark Campus. Other lectures are scheduled on April 9 and May 14th, same times and locations.

Crime Stoppers

Two similar robberies occurred in Dover on Saturday, November 23, 1985. The first was at the A&P in the Dover Mart, about 9:15 p.m. The suspect hid in the store, then at gunpoint forced employees to turn over the day's receipts. The money was carried in a shopping bag. In the second robbery, the Safeway on State Street was robbed. The suspect also hid until closing time. In both robberies, the suspect forced employees to open a safe, forced them into a walk-in cooler before fleeing, and stole cash. He is a white male, around 30 years old, 5'6", with dark eyes. He had a brown mustache, wore blue jeans and a black leather jacket and tennis shoes.

If you have any information on this or any other crime please call 1-800-TIP-3333, Monday through Friday between the hours of 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Up to $1,000 reward for publicized or unpublicized felonies. You do not have to reveal your name.

Feminists flipflop on love, marriage, family

By William T. Ficka
The feminists have finally seen the light. Their leading advocates from the 60's and 70's have made a 180-degree turn in their swing to traditional beliefs.

Betty Friedan, Germaine Greer and Susan Brownmiller have recanted the bawdy beliefs of their Women's Lib days and now stand foursquare behind love, marriage and family.

The sexual revolution "has turned women into objects of recreation, into playthings" said Rache McNair. In other words, the feminists brought about the very thing they were bellowing against.

No-fault divorce laws also backfired on the libbers. A study shows that easy divorce laws resulted in an immediate 73 percent drop in the wife's standard of living, while her male chauvinist husband's rose by 42 percent.

Another notion that boomeranged was government aid to unwed mothers. A generation ago the man may have married the girl or at least supported the child. Today, he all too often shirks his responsibility, and passes it off to Uncle Sam. Since 1965 the number of female-headed black families has doubled.

In a way, it is too bad. The feminists did have some worthy goals. But the movement was soon taken over by a bevy of loudmouthed harriers who had as much femininity and sex appeal as a hot water bottle.

Perhaps they can regroup and saner heads will prevail.

Delaware students ranked fourth among the 22 states that gave Scholastic Aptitude Tests (SAT) in 1985. Schools throughout the nation showed a general improvement.

Nevertheless, many educators are viewing the statistics with a critical eye. Dr. William B. Keene, Delaware state superintendent of public instruction, said "...there is no commonality throughout the states in the way the data is collected."

Let's look at the bright side. Maybe the "back to basics" movement is bearing fruit.

In connection with the above, and regardless of the SAT scores, there are still a great many people who can't read. And the Delaware Division of Libraries is doing something about it.

The division has a reading project which provides tutors to work on a one-on-one basis with those who need to improve their reading skills. Two training sessions per week are arranged to suit the student and the tutor at a location convenient to both. For more information call 1-800-282-8696.

While they're at it, they should try to help the person who can read but won't. A wise man once told us that "The man who won't read is no better than the man who can't read."

Milford High School now has a chapter of Students Against Drunk Drivers (SADD) with some 50 members who meet weekly to discuss programs to stop the number one killer of American teenagers. A few years ago many students in our high schools were reluctant to join SADD for fear of being labeled a wimp by their peers. But an estimated 8,500 teenage deaths and 40,000 disfigurements in alcohol related accidents each year apparently changed a lot of minds. There are few students who haven't had a relative or friend seriously injured in alcohol related accidents.

"Spook" Jacobs, former major league baseball player and present owner of Mister Donut in Milford, also owns the Diamond State Baseball Card Shop in Milford. Spook knows a good thing when he sees it. Collecting baseball cards is a hobby that has swept the country. It's a rage that has caught the fancy of both young and old. And it's no wonder when you consider the value of the cards. Many of the scarcer cards go for $25 to $50. Some are valued in the hundreds. The most valuable of all is the Honus Wagner card, which goes for $1,500. It was issued in 1910 and inserted in Sweet Caporal cigarette packs. Wagner, a nonsmoker, demanded that they be withdrawn from distribution. Of the 96 that got into circulation, 30 still exist.

All right now, all you over-50 baseball fans who threw away those old cards, line up against the wall and start kicking each other.

"...THE CHURCH is a great ship of state...and a true road to democracy..."

The 20-year reign of President Ferdinand E. Marcos came to an end this week. What had begun 20 years earlier as rule by a benevolent dictator ended in distress and the Philippine nation on the brink of civil war.

His rule had gone from good for all to martial law in 1973...which was never lifted, to killings of his own people and other crimes to the direct connection to the death of Mr. Aquino, and on and on and on.

Near the end he still wanted to fight...fight his own people to the last. When did his downfall begin? Nineteen years ago...well maybe. What caused it...well let's look at it.

In truth the elections might have started the ball rolling. He was pushed into holding the elections by the United States. Clever as Marcos was he thought he could still get out of it whole, for he almost predicted that there would be some cheating on Mrs. Aquino's side...as well as on his side too. He then could declare the elections off due to the fraud.

That backfired on him mainly because the fraud was so wide spread on his side. It is estimated now that her margin of victory was over 60 percent.

All of these facts totalled up and multiplied together and added again cannot come close to the real reason. It was when he turned against the church. He did what he knew or should have known was a sacred violation.

The Filipino people are devoutly religious. There are many religions present in that nation. But most of all it is a strong catholic nation. The Bishop of the Philippines came out against President Marcos following the election as did the Pope.

His days were numbered not in months but in hours.

The salvation of the soul and preservation of the soul to the Filipinos are more sacred than money or power. This is for the true Filipino, and they outnumbered the Marcos' supporters 9-1. They would do anything to preserve that religious state. When President Marcos invaded that province of mind...which in truth was all that many of the persecuted had left, his date with destiny was one of doom.

Madam President Aquino said the exit of Marcos was a victory for all Filipinos, for the United States, and for free people everywhere. It was to me a victory for Christianity, for it was the faith in the One which in the end prevailed overall.

One final parallel before I get out of the pulpit. When the Nazis occupied Poland, they killed priests right and left, but they could not stop the movement. After the war and the Russians came to occupy Poland and the other countries now in the east block, they executed priests on a wholesale level. They allowed only a few to enter the seminary. They tried to stomp out religion and Christianity.

Today...today there are more priests in Poland and being trained for Poland than ever before. It is something like three to five times the number during the Nazi reign.

Now...we hope the Philippines and the Filipino people can return to a way of life they can have under a free democracy.

Ferdinand Edralin Marcos (1965-1986) may God have mercy on his soul.

with and question policymakers, lawmakers and behind-the-scenes members of the federal bureaucracy. The students will also participate in seminars with experts in the legislative, executive and judicial processes of the Federal government, as well as lobbyists and members of the news media.

In addition Lake Forest students will participate in a number of cultural activities while in the city.

This year's participants from Lake Forest include seniors Kathy Carlson and Candice McAllister and juniors Todd Kramer, Tom Dula and Mike Butler. Kathy was last year's representative from Lake Forest and she enjoyed the experience so much that she agreed to participate again this year.

To allow students from a variety of economic to take part in the program, the Close-Up Foundation provides fellowship funds for low to moderate income students from each participating school. The Lake Forest group has been contacting many local civic and business organizations in an effort to defray the costs of the program. All contributions are tax-deductible and are very much appreciated by the students.

Additional information about Lake Forest's Close-Up experience can be obtained by contacting Gary Sparks at Lake Forest High School.

C. FRED GRAEF
OCEAN VIEW — C. Fred Graef, a teacher, coach and administrator in Delaware public schools for 41 years, who was tagged the "father of the Henlopen Conference," died of heart failure Sunday, February 23, 1986, in Beebe Hospital, Lewes. He was 76.

Mr. Graef, of Daisey Ave., began his career in 1931 at Delmar High School, where he taught business and coached baseball, football and basketball. He retired as an administrative assistant of the Woodbridge School District in 1971.

Mr. Graef initiated the Henlopen Conference and became its first president in 1959. This year's Henlopen Conference playoffs will be dedicated to Graef.

He was a teacher and coach at Conrad High School and at Alexis I. du Pont High School. He also served as principal and started the first basketball program at A. I. du Pont.

He earned his master's degree from New York University in 1947 and moved to southeastern Sussex County, where he was superintendent of the Lord Baltimore School District for 17 years. While at Lord Baltimore, he started teams in field hockey, soccer and track and also coached the first southern Delaware team to win the Peninsula Relays which were held in New Castle County.

He became superintendent of the Greenwood School District in 1964. He became the administrative assistant of the Woodbridge School District in 1967 when the Bridgeville and Greenwood districts consolidated. He earned his bachelor's degree at Rider College in New Jersey.

He was also active in the Little League in Sussex County and had formerly served as chairman of the Delaware Interscholastic Athletic Association.

He was formerly chairman of the administrative board at Mariner's Bethel Methodist Church in Ocean View. He was a past president of the Lord Baltimore and Greenwood Lions Club and former cabinet treasurer of the District 22 Lions Club.

He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth T.; two daughters, Linda G. Hudson of Millville and Patricia G. McCabe of Ocean View; and four grandchildren.

Services are today at 2 p.m. in Mariner's Bethel Methodist Church, Ocean View, where friends may call from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Burial will be in the adjoining church cemetery.

Instead of flowers, the family suggests contributions to Mariner's Bethel Methodist Church, Central and Atlantic avenues, Ocean View 19970.

Letters to the Editor

February 21, 1986

Editor
Harrington Journal

Dear Editor:

As a resident and taxpayer in the Lake Forest School District, I attended the School Board Meeting Thursday night, February 20, 1986. I couldn't believe my eyes or ears.

The School Board members are elected officials, and as such, should try to represent the people of the District. The feeling I got was that they don't care what the citizens think.

They also seemed unable to understand some of the simplest matters. They ask the same questions over and over and still don't come to a decision. It's almost as if they're stalling, hoping the audience will get tired and go home.

The meeting was 40 minutes late getting started, and was still going on when I left at 11:35 p.m.

During a recess, one man told me that the citizens are making fools of themselves by questioning every little thing that comes up. From my point of view, the people have been provoked by the Board and Dr. Lysik, into nitpicking. This is one of the few ways of letting the Board Members and Dr. Lysik know that they are being carefully watched in all they do; And we don't like what we see!

It's a shame that things have deteriorated to this point and I think a good housecleaning is needed to set things right.

In the matter of the resignation of a Board Member, I think that the remaining members of the Board should carefully consider their responsibility. If they allow Dr. Lysik to tell them what to do, they are violating their own code of ethics.

The Board's action or non-action on this matter will affect the outcome of any referendum they might try to have in the future.

The people of this District are becoming more and more aware, concerned and distressed at what is going on. We will not forget what has been done.

I encourage all citizens to come out to meetings and work sessions to let the Board and Dr. Lysik know that we are watching.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Teresa Thompson

The Harrington Journal
P.O. Box 239
Harrington, DE 19952

Dear Editor:

Congratulations on your Editorial Page, "Angles" which appeared this date.

I have always felt that any Editorial Page is the "soul" of a newspaper and one without a soul is not alive. "Abraham Lincoln, Equality and the Constitution," by Harry V. Jaffa, was most informative and well-written, as was "Privi-What-Ization?" by Edwin Feulner of The Heritage Foundation.

Your "Publisher's Choice" was very courageous indeed. The Lake Forest School Board and the District, itself, has been much in the news. For the publisher of the local weekly paper to take a stand on the controversy surrounding the resignation and the subsequent withdrawal of the same, is to be highly commended.

"Biden and duPont do Delaware Proud", by William T. Ficka was interesting to say the least. It is true that duPont and Biden have some differences, but if Mr. Ficka would go back and check duPont's record as a Congressman, he would find a very liberal Republican. Both duPont and Biden are nice enough personally, but I hope and pray that neither one succeed in their current endeavors to become president.

I trust that "Angles" will be a regular part of The Harrington Journal.

Sincerely,
David F. Coody

News from Rotary International

Youths between the ages of 14 and 18 are invited to take part in a world-wide "Letters For Peace" Contest, sponsored by Rotary International.

There's a grand prize of $10,000 for the winner, along with an all-expense trip for two to Epcot Center in Orlando, Florida.

In addition, winners in each of the six global regions of Rotary International will receive $1,500. The cash prizes will be used for educational purposes.

Closer to home, most Rotary Clubs in District 763, comprising 30 clubs in the State of Delaware and on Maryland's Eastern Shore, are participating. The District is offering a $500 prize to the District winner. Each club will submit the letters to the District competition.

The rules are simple: Write a letter to any recognized world leader in politics, cultural or religious life. Share with him or her your ideas for furthering world peace.

Letters should contain specific suggestions about how peace can be strengthened. Ideas may apply to humanitarian efforts, politics, economics, religion, the arts, or any other area of action.

Information on how to enter the Contest may be obtained from the presidents of Rotary Clubs in the District, along with applications and further directions. Entrants must be 14 to 18 years of age as of December 31, 1985. Letters, 450 to 600 words in length, should be addressed to a world leader, in typewritten form on one side of 8 1/2 x 11 inch paper.

School teachers who wish to conduct Letters For Peace as a class activity may do so, selecting the best two letters in their judgement and submitting them to a local Rotary Club. Letters written in a class should not have any markings or grading on them.

The District 763 Contest is headed by William G. Kerbin, Jr., of Snow Hill, a Past District Governor. Entries must be in the hands of local clubs by March 25th. The District's winning letter will be forwarded to Rotary International.

Donald E. Osburn of Easton, Governor of District 763, is arranging for his personal area representatives to direct applicants to the names of local club presidents and their telephone numbers to obtain entry forms. They are:

Camden-Wyoming, Dover, Dover Capital City, Middletown-Odessa, Smyrna-Clayton - Gary Patterson, Dover (302) 734-7455.

Denton, Federalsburg, Georgetown-Millsboro, Harrington, Lewes-Rehoboth, Milford - W. Wade Brown, Milford (301) 479-0702.

Sunday worship service at Houston United Methodist Church, 9:30 a.m. Sunday School for all ages following the service. Rev. Kyle N. Smith, Minister.

On February 11, Michael Abbate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Abbate celebrated his 8th birthday. Michael, his parents and Mrs. Doris Wagner of Milford were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Rose. On Saturday, several of Michael's friends joined him at a skating party.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Towers who celebrated their 45th Wedding Anniversary on Saturday, February 15th.

Mrs. Ann Abbate recently returned from a 10 day bus trip to Florida. While there, the group of 41 visited Disney World, Epcot Center, Sea World and other places of interest. The weather was warm and it was good to get away from the snow.

Mrs. Pauline Morgan has returned home after spending several days last week with her sister, Dorothy Minner, of Camden, who was recuperating from surgery.

Phone Forum

Editor's note: In this issue we introduce Phone Forum, a new feature in which we will conduct interviews by phone on a topic of current interest.

Question: "Do you think Sara Williams should be allowed to regain her seat on the Lake Forest School Board?"

Mrs. Vivian Lewis, Frederica: "I don't have any children in school, but it seems to me that if she resigned she should not get it back."

Mrs. Catherine Coleman, Harrington: "No, I don't think so. The only thing I know is what I read in the papers and I don't think so."

Mrs. Lynn Gay, Canterbury: "Yes, I do. I just don't think she got a good deal. I think they've been close-minded about the whole thing."

Mrs. Pat Bailey, Harrington: "No, I don't think so."

Mrs. Josephine Chandler, Harrington:

"I don't really know that much about it, but I think she should get her seat back."

Mrs. Betty Cornell, Felton: "Yes, I think she should be allowed to get her seat back."

Mr. James Jefferson, Felton: "I'm sorry she resigned her seat, but I don't think she should get it back. I think she was doing a real good job. If she resigned under pressure and they give her seat back, what will happen if something comes up again with pressure?"

Another 15 people either refused to comment or said they didn't know enough about the issue to offer comment.

One man said, "Yeah, I'll answer. I don't think any woman should be allowed to be on anything."

We tried to verify his name, but he had already hung up.

lure good teachers from elsewhere." The committee also reported on the conditions of the buildings in the district. "We found them to be clean and well maintained. All the repairs that have been noted have been identified by the committee as being needed. The roofs are definitely of a high priority," said committee chairman David Pryor. The committee also directed the board to come back with information on how the building roofs could be repaired without a tax increase for the district.

Decision on Sara Williams held secret

Since that point in time, Mrs. Williams sent a letter dated February 6th to president of the school board, Roberta O'Neal, announcing her resignation from the school board.

In a statement by Dr. Gerald Lysik, district superintendent, the letter of resignation speaks as of the date "...which is February 6th"...of the letter. Since that date, Mrs. Williams cancelled her resignation, but has not been permitted to take her seat.

The results of the Tuesday night meeting on the grievance from Mrs. Gannon has not been announced by the board to Mrs. Williams. In a statement issued by Dr. Lysik, he informed the media that Mrs. Williams was not privileged to know what went on in private meetings by the board, and their decisions from the private meetings.

The board acting under advice from its attorney, Harry M. Fisher, III, indicated that the grievance hearing results are exempt from the provisions of the Delaware Freedom of Information Act. That position is contrary to that held by a State Senator who sponsored the bill covering the state's freedom of information law, which in effect says there are no exceptions to the law where public bodies vote, they must vote in public. Any votes or decisions rendered in private "executive sessions" based on voting are illegal. "Even the so-called straw votes are illegal."

Over The Backyard Fence

Gab Fest by Pat Hatfield

In some ways, February 17 has been a fine day. When the temperature gets up to 55 and 60, I come alive and get with it. After the morning chores were done today I glued myself to the typewriter and worked on the book. After lunch I put in several hems and darned a few pairs of Pappy's socks. Then I hunted up a recipe for Rhubarb Pie. I promised a dear friend and neighbor I would make him rhubarb pie this week. And of course Himself has ordered one also. When pies are being made around this house, one must have his name on it! I do not make rhubarb pie often enough to remember the recipe, so I selected one from a favorite cookbook. The first one I read over called for 8 cups of chopped rhubarb. This has got to be a misprint. By the time you added eggs and sugar to that much fruit, it would never fit into a nine-inch pan.

My friend, "Mike" tells me the crocuses are up in her yard. That spells spring. My friend, Tess, called me this morning to tell me a story that she said, "Would just make my day." It did. She was watching a fat robin strutting around the yard and suddenly he reached down and pulled out a long worm...in his life a breakfast fit for a king. Later she called me back to say that a whole flock of robins were feeding on the lawn across the street from her. And, they are singing. She is reveling in their cheery song early in the mornings. We agreed that there is something really special about the robin song. It is not as hauntingly beautiful as that of the mockingbird, or as dainty and sweet as the little song sparrow, or as piercingly thrilling as the cardinal, but when the robins sing at dawn, it gives us a lift, it thrills us with hope.

Another sign of spring, says Husband, is that now when our little brown dog, "Ladybug" gets her daily grooming, the comb is filled with loose hair. She is beginning to shed her winter coat. Nature has gotten the message.

Who will be the first to hear the Little Peepers? We are now having a February thaw. That should waken them. My neighbor reminds me, with a twinkle in his eye, that they have to freeze up three times before they stay awake!

We have been dwelling on beauty in our chat today. I would like to share a favorite bit of reading from the great naturalist, Edwin Way Teale. He said: "If, among the delights of the open world, I were to choose the sights, the sounds and the fragrances, I most want to see and hear and smell on a final day on earth, I think I would choose these:

the clear, ethereal song of a white-throated sparrow singing at dawn;
the smell of pine trees in the room;
the lonely calling of Canada geese;
the sight of a dragonfly glinting in the sunshine;
the voice of a hermit thrush far in a darkening woods at evening;
and...most spirited and moving of sights...the white cathedral of a cumulus cloud floating serenely in the blue of the sky."

Senior Center News

This Monday morning, I heard a couple of ladies at the Center talking about this article in the Harrington Journal. I have to thank them as it reminded me that I hadn't written this week's article. So, thanks Myrtle Calhoun and Margaret Hopkins. Thursday, the 27th, will hear the wonderful sounds of the Greenwood Mennonite School. The program with Musical Director Chris Wellley will begin at 1 p.m. This is the first visit by these students and we are so looking forward to it. The music continues on Friday, the 28th with Lolita Krings with a gospel music program. ## Outten and Fleming Henlopen Conference wrestling champs

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

SEAFORD — Ken Outten and Scott Fleming wrestled their way to the top of the heap in the finals of the Henlopen Conference Wrestling Tournament on Saturday.

Outten who was a standout all year in the 126 pound class finished the regular season with a 9-1-1. He got a bye in the preliminaries then won the quarterfinals, semifinals and finals in his class. He pinned Dalious from Milford in the first period beat Fisher from CR (10-1) in the semifinals and beat Leager (Smyrna) 6-3. He wrestled Leager to a tie in the regular season.

Fleming on the other hand handled all of his opponents pinning two and drawing a forfeit in the finals. Fleming finished the regular season play undefeated with a 11-0 record. Most of his wins came with pins where he either got a pin right away or wore his opponent down to almost submission.

The results of the Conference tournament showed the Spartans with outside Outten and Fleming, one second (Marvin Hicks), one third (Mike Gygrynuk) two in sixth (Dill, Chery) and one seventh (Wendell Watson), for a total of 7 going to the State tournament this Friday and Saturday at Delaware State College.

The Spartans under the guidance of head coach Tom Shaffer and assistant Coach Mike Smith sent 11 people to the Henlopen Conference tournament this past weekend.

Mike Popivchak in the 98 lb. class was pinned in the preliminaries and lost again in the consolation quarter finals when he was pinned again.

Steve Porter who wrestled very well during the first part of the season tailed off toward the end of the season, drew a bye in the preliminaries. He was beaten by a Milford wrestler 14-12 in the quarter finals. "He was ahead but lost a couple of points at the end," said Shaffer. He lost in the consolation quarter finals 10-2.

Derek Dill got a bye in the preliminaries but lost in the quarter finals when he was pinned. In the consolation quarter finals Dill pinned Clark of Milford. In the consolation semi-finals he was pinned by Evans of Dover which was good enough for a sixth place finish.

Darryl Chery won the preliminary round by outpointing his Woodbridge opponent 15-7. In the quarter finals he was pinned by Leager of Smyrna. In the consolation preliminary he decided Evans from Laurel 11-5. In the consolation quarter finals he decided Ratcliffe of Sussex 11-5. He lost the consolation semi finals 7-0 to Will of CR.

Pat Sullivan in the 138 pound class lost in the preliminaries 9-1 to Weston of Woodbridge. In the consolation preliminaries he lost to Blizzard of Milford 11-8.

Greg Gillie (145 lb.) was pinned in the preliminary and lost in the consolation preliminaries.

In the 155 lb. class Wendell Watson did his best performance all season. In the preliminary he pinned his opponent from CR in 5:58, "...but he was ahead at the time," said Shaffer. In the quarter finals he lost to Graham of Seaford by a technical fall, but came back in the consolation preliminaries to beat Evans from Sussex Central 2-1 in a very close match. "Again Wendell was ahead all the way," added Shaffer. In the consolation quarter finals he lost to Sharp from Milford 10-4. He was able to wrestle as an alternative for a berth in the State and he beat Bailey from Woodbridge 21-10 in a very high scoring match. "This was a wild match with two real strong guys throwing each other everywhere," said Shaffer.

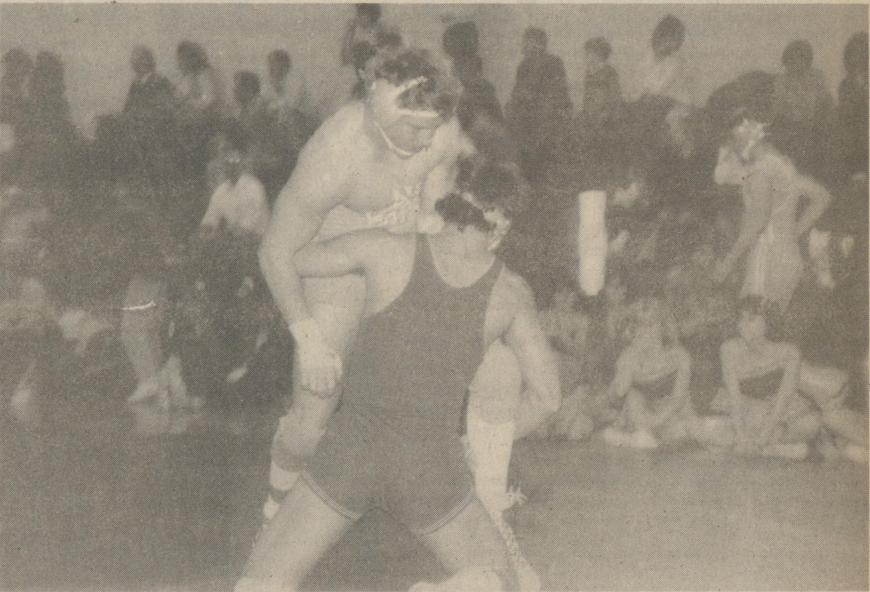

Mike Gygrynuk drew a bye in the preliminary in the 167 lb. class. "Sometimes Mike starts slow...as he did here. He lost the quarter finals...but went all the way through the consolation rounds to finish wrestling third in the Conference. He got a pin in the finals to go out real strong," said Shaffer.

In the heavyweight class Marvin Hicks again made a real good showing. "Marvin has been wrestling all year for us real good. He came through for us in this class. Unfortunately he wrestled the defending state champ in the final and lost to the big man (Rigby) by a pin. We are still proud of Marvin as well as the rest of the team. We had a good season," added Shaffer. Hicks finished second in the conference.

Now...on to the State Tournament.

Basketball round up

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

Girls varsity basketball team poured in 63 points to Smyrna's 22. One of the best performances of the season by this young and inconsistent team. All season they have shown signs of brightness, and this past Tuesday night they blew the doors off the Smyrna five. Teresa Taylor held a hot hand scoring 22 points hitting 10 from the floor and 2 for 4 at the charity stripe. Arlene May joined Taylor in double figures by scoring 10 points...4 from the floor and 2 of 3 from the foul line.

Dixon and Melanie Pelton had 8 each. The Spartans led in all four quarters.

The Spartans came right back on Thursday night and went flat losing to Indian River 36-35. The loss put the Spartans' record at 7-0 in conference play and 9-11 overall. Again Melanie Pelton led all scorers with 16 points...hitting on 7 from the field and 2 for 2 at the foul line. The Spartans led in the first three quarters but were outscored 12 to 6 in the final quarter to cost them this win.

In boys varsity basketball play on Tuesday night, Smyrna took it to the floundering Spartans 79 to 46. As James Tiggs shared the scoring with 12 points he had 6 from the floor. Lionel Dixon mixed good ball handling with sharp shooting to score 12 points also. He tossed in 5 from the floor and 2 of 3 from the free throw line. Chuck Bell cooled to 8 points with one from the floor and 6 of 8 from the foul line.

On Thursday night the Spartans lost to Indian River 74 to 62 with Chuck Bell throwing in 17 points...7 field goals and 3 for 3 at the foul line. James Tiggs threw in 15 points with 7 field goal and one for 3 at the foul line. James Hicks had 13, Dixon 8, Hammond with 3, and Mosley with 6. The Spartans again had a good starting first quarter outscoring the Indian River Indians 20 to 15 but fell to a 9-27 deficit in the second quarter. They outscored the Indians 17 to 13 but fell to a 19 to 16 advantage by Indian River in the final frame. The Spartans ended the season 2 for 13 and 3 for 17 overall.

Bodine talks Winston million

JULIAN, N.C. — Will the next seven months change Geoff Bodine's life as much as the same period of time in 1985 changed Bill Elliott's?

The 500 is the first of the four crown jewels of the NASCAR Winston Cup Series run each year, and the winner of that race automatically takes one giant step toward earning the million dollars that Winston will pay to any driver who wins three of the four races.

The other three races are the Winston 500, the Coca-Cola 600 and the Southern 500.

"What Bill Elliott did last year was certainly good for the sport," adds Bodine. Continuing, the driver of the Levi Garrett-Exxon Chevrolet Monte Carlo said, "I know it will change a lot of things. I know I will have very little time to myself. I know I will be traveling all over the country talking about the Winston Million, and that means I will be gone even more than I already am. But the reason I decided to go NASCAR racing was because I thought it was the place to be for the future, and I want to help that future come true."

"I know Bill's life changed between February and September last year because of the Winston Million," says Bodine. "He no longer had any time of his own."

"But I have gone through a lot of heartaches to get to this point in my career," says the 36-year-old, "and I hope I am in the same position as Bill was following Talladega (the Winston 500 on May 4)."

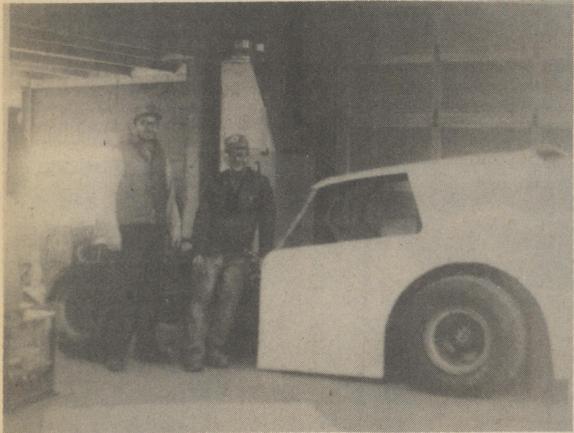

Bodine began the season with only three Winston Cup wins to his credit, but the transplanted North Carolinian has high hopes that, like Elliott, he will win more races in 1986 than he had in his previous four years on the circuit.

Charlie Moore gets ready for Delmar and Georgetown

by William T. Ficka

Charlie Moore is a racing car driver. He's been one for 10 years. And he'll be racing again this year come the second week in April, when U.S. Speedway 13 in Delmar opens.

Moore, who lives in Seaford and works at Dover Automotive, also has his sights set on this year's record-setting $15,000 points fund at Georgetown Speedway which opens May 9.

The 33-year-old Moore will be shooting for the whopping $2,500 which is earmarked for the Modified points champion. It goes without saying, that $1,500 would be like manna from heaven for Moore, who builds his own dirt-modifieds.

Moore, whose funds are limited, will be going against top cars that cost between $50,000 and $75,000. But Charlie is one of that rare breed which doesn't know the meaning of the word quit.

Perhaps it was best summed up by Burt White, of Bridgeville, longtime racing fan who said, "Charlie is one boy who never gives up. He really hangs in there."

Moore set a track record while winning an 8-lap heat race last year at Georgetown.

"It didn't hold up too long," laughed Charlie, "but it was nice to know we broke the record." He also took a fourth place in a feature at Delmar last year.

Moore was born and raised in Dover and is the father of 13-year-old Charlie and 6-year-old April.

Moore's consistency should be a big asset in the run for the Georgetown points fund championship. Consistency will be a crucial factor in point accumulation.

Moore and his pit crew put every spare minute they have into priming their car for the start of the 1986 season. In the pit crew are Bill Richards, Bobby Lare, and Moore's wife Donna, and his brothers Allen and Bruce.

Moore figures his experience will go a long way in offsetting the advantages of the high-priced new cars.

"We think we have a little know-how and good old American ingenuity," said Moore.

"Then, of course, you hope they're a little off and you're on," he added.

Moore's driving ability, consistency and determination have drawn the sponsorship of Koski's Trucking Co. in Federalsburg, which paid for the sheet metal for the body, John Voshell who owns JWV Auto and Truck Repair in Dover, and Tom Parker, a private individual from Dover.

Any sponsor, big or small, would go a long way before finding a conscientious competitor like Charlie to represent him.

Some men love to drink. Some men love to gamble. Some men love to play around with women. Charlie Moore loves to drive racing cars.

"It gets in your blood," laughed Charlie.

But Charlie knows that, in auto racing, like in horse racing, you need something good under you. The best jockey in the world will never outrun Secretariat while riding a plowhorse.

So he spends his nights and weekends in the garage putting the finishing touches on his dirt-modified car.

And he's looking forward to the Delmar opening like a football fan looking forward to Superbowl Sunday.

Horton caps off banner week

Jimmy Horton put a successful cap on the DIRT Modified Florida Tour Saturday night, February 15th, as he won the 50 lap finale and the CLM Lubricants Point Fund to pocket $6,000 in cash, an Ithaca Shotgun and an Automotive Cooling Products Radiator, plus numerous other prizes.

Horton had been running a steady 2nd behind Danny Johnson when Danny's engine let go with a lap to go and Horton coasted home the winner. Doug Hoffman of Westosville, PA was in his usual 3rd spot but moved to 2nd when Johnson broke with Bobby Wilkins of Milford, Delaware 3rd, Kenny Tremont, 4th, and Maynard Forrette, 5th.

It was a tough race for many drivers as early leader Bob McCreadie and Jack Johnson tangled in lapped traffic off the 3rd turn. McCreadie flipped and was out of action while Jack returned to the race to finish 9th.

Heat wins in qualifying went to Danny Johnson, Marcel LaFrance of St. Albert, Ontario and "Barefoot" Bob McCreadie of Watertown while Don McGinnis of Ransomville took the Consi. Bob Wilkins was 2nd in the first heat.

FLORIDA NOTES: "Barefoot" Bob McCreadie just couldn't find "Lady Luck" on the Florida Tour...Leading Friday and looking like a sure winner when a tap in the rear on a restart sent him spinning in front of the pack, and again Saturday he was in front when he and Jack Johnson tangled...Danny Johnson also couldn't buy any luck as his power plant let go on the last lap costing him the $5,000 top prize.

Nascar penalizes Earnhardt

Dale Earnhardt has been fined and placed on probation by NASCAR for reckless driving in Sunday's Miller 400 at Richmond, Va.

"There is a fine line between hard racing and reckless driving, and Earnhardt clearly stepped over that line," said Bill Gazaway, vice president for competition in the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing.

Earnhardt was given a $5,000 fine, put under a $10,000 bond and placed on probation for the 27 races remaining in the 1986 season.

NASCAR spokesman Andy Hall said Monday that $10,000 is "subject to refund" if Earnhardt conforms to the conditions of his probation. Hall said

"Jumpin" Jack Johnson wins again at Volusia

BARBERVILLE, FL... "Jumpin" Jack Johnson became the first double winner of The Florida Tour for the DIRT Modifieds as he took the 30 lap feature at Volusia County Speedway on Friday night, February 14th.

Johnson took the lead from Marcel LaFrance just one lap after a restart that saw leader Bob McCreadie spin in front of the pack. Bob's car escaped any damage and he went to the rear and managed to get back to 8th spot at the checker.

Donnie Wetmore, who ran in the top five all night held on for second with Doug Hoffman taking third for the fourth night in a row. Wednesday night's winner, Jimmy Horton took fourth, with Tuesday night's winner, Alan Johnson rounding out the top five.

Trail-Way Coca Cola Opener

Hanover, PA. Trail-Way Speedway opens its outdoor 1986 racing season with the 2nd Annual Coca Cola Motorcycle Motocross Championship on Sunday, March 2nd at 11:30 a.m. Rain or Shine. Pit Gate, Signup and Admissions open at 7:00 a.m. Practice at Earnhardt could be suspended if he violates his probation.

Earnhardt has appealed the decision, and Hall said a hearing would be set soon.

NASCAR officials said Earnhardt made an irresponsible move when he hit race leader Darrell Waltrip with 2½ laps remaining.

The accident damaged cars driven by Earnhardt, Waltrip, Joe Ruttman and Geoff Bodine. Kyle Petty won the race.

"It was my fault," said Earnhardt, 33, of Mooresville, N.C.

"But I don't think I should get fined when I'm admitting my guilt. It was an accident."

Heat wins went to Marcel LaFrance, Donnie Wetmore and Danny Johnson, while Dave Wenger took the Consi.

FLORIDA NOTES: Talk about consistency—Doug Hoffman third in the feature four nights in a row...Pole siter Marcel LaFrance led 12 laps and faded to sixth at the checker...Gene DeWitt, owner of Jack's 12A on hand again tonight to see Gene's Machine cop its second feature...29 cars started the 30 lap main. Lou Lazzaro, winner of the first modified feature ever run at Volusia in 1978, back tonight after blowing an engine Monday night...The Thursday night win moved Jack Johnson into a tie for second in the point standings with Doug Hoffman while Horton retains an 18 point lead in the CLM Lubricants point chase.

9:00 a.m. First Qualifier starts at 11:30 a.m. and Feature races start at 2:30 p.m. Sunday afternoon.

You can call the Speedway 8:30 to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday (717) 359-4310.

Earnhardt accepts blame

Dale Earnhardt says he's just a racer, not the "one tough customer" his image projects in stock car racing.

"I'm a pretty competitive driver," said Earnhardt. "Everybody thinks I go out and crash people, but that ain't the way it is."

A NASCAR spokesman said Earnhardt had been fined after the 1983 Busch Clash when he failed to obey a black flag. That fine was $10,000, but was reduced to $5,000.

With 2½ laps left in Sunday's race, Earnhardt hit Waltrip while trying to regain a lead he had lost moments earlier.

The left front of Earnhardt's car hit the right rear of Waltrip's. Both cars spun, creating a crash that blocked the track. Drivers Geoff Bodine and Joe Ruttman wrecked, trying to avoid them.

Kyle Petty, who was fifth at the time, won the race. Earnhardt finished third, Waltrip finished fifth, unable to complete the final two laps.

"I was going to dive right across the back of Darrell's car and drive under him going into the fourth turn," said Earnhardt. "I didn't clear him. I misjudged the distance. That was my fault."

NASCAR said admission of guilt was not enough. It said the move was irresponsible and could not be condoned.

Earnhardt and car owner Richard Childress will appeal the decision. "NASCAR needs to talk to all parties involved instead of looking at a film," said Childress. "If we were going to park somebody we sure wouldn't have done it with 2½ laps to go."

Waltrip, who suffered a minor neck injury in the accident said, "I applaud NASCAR for taking the action."

Kyle Petty captures Miller 400

RICHMOND, VA — Kyle Petty said

"there were fenders and sheet metal and water and oil everywhere" as he edged his car through a crash that wiped the leaders on lap 397 and won the Miller 400 NASCAR race Sunday at the Richmond Fairgrounds Raceway.

"...I just tried to pick my way through it," Petty said.

The late-lap collision on the .542-mile oval started when the second-place car of Darrell Waltrip, defending NASCAR champion, moved inside leader Dale Earnhardt on the back stretch. Waltrip appeared to edge ahead before the two collided in turn three.

Joe Ruttman, in third place, tore into the tangle and spun onto the infield. Geoff Bodine, in fourth place, ended up in the wall.

Petty, at 25 the youngest racing member of the famous racing family, found a clear path through and drove to his first victory in NASCAR's top division after five full seasons on the tour.

Pepsi endorses

Georgetown's 1986 season

GEORGETOWN — It was announced this week that the Pepsi Cola Bottling Co. and their Salisbury, Md. distributors are supporting the 1986 stock car racing season at the Georgetown Speedway. Pepsi Bottling of Salisbury's vice-president in charge of sales, Tony Brocato, stated that the "dedication and enthusiasm of the

His car owner, Junior Johnson, said Sunday that Earnhardt intentionally wrecked Waltrip.

Saying, "I'm sorry," is just a copout," said Johnson. "That shows how little a man he is. He's trying to crawl in a hole and hide his head."

Johnson says Earnhardt started incidents with his drivers — Waltrip and Neil Bonnett — in four races last year, but he said none were as severe as the last one with Waltrip.

"He didn't try to wreck Darrell Waltrip," said Johnson. "He tried to kill him."

Johnson said the wreck cost his team $30,000 in purses and $30,000 more in a crashed car.

"I drove a race car that cost as much as his," said Earnhardt. "I've got two sponsors too and an owner who has millions of dollars invested in this team. If I'd stopped and backed off, let Darrell go on, none of this would have happened, but that isn't racing."

Earnhardt said Waltrip was involved in accidents throughout the race — one in the early laps that involved 11 cars and another at the end when he hit Earnhardt after their accident.

He said Waltrip also bumped him from behind for five laps before passing him.

Earnhardt and Waltrip expect to race again Sunday at Rockingham, N.C. Earnhardt says he has sore ribs from the accident, but Waltrip says the experience did him more emotional than physical damage.

"The car just jumped like it wanted to go airborne," he said. "I hit the guard rail as hard as any wreck I've ever had. It gives me cold chills to see a TV replay of the wreck."

IRON MAN PETTY

Sunday's Miller 400 at Richmond, VA was Richard Petty's 425th consecutive NASCAR Grand National start, the longest in auto racing.

Georgetown staff and the fact that motorsports is fast becoming one of the most popular family pastimes nationally, convinced us that this investment of advertising dollars would be a wise one. Pepsi is a family oriented company and we feel that our association with Georgetown will be a fruitful one." Brocato said.

beginning at 10:15 a.m. In the afternoon we will be having free Vision Testing with Dr. Quillen, beginning at 1 p.m. Also we will be having a beauty course with Kathryn Smith in the afternoon. On Tuesday, the 4th, we will be having a representative from Prudential Insurance Company to discuss the AARP Medical Insurance policies they offer. Many people have asked us about this supplemental insurance so here is your chance to ask your questions direct to the company that underwrites that insurance. This will begin at 1 p.m.

Wednesday will be a day of fun, in the afternoon we will be having our Resolution Check. You see, at our New Year's party, January 2nd, we asked those in attendance to write down their resolution for the new year. Now for the test, we have kept those cards with the resolutions and we will be asking everyone how they are doing. I know a couple of resolutions were broken before the New Year's Party was even over. Well, it should be a lot of fun.

A lot of people have been asking us when we are going to be taking more trips. Well, we tried to take a couple of trips over the winter months, but we could never get enough of a group to finally take the trips. Well, in hoping the weather will be taking turn for the better we will again start our travel season in March with a couple of short local trips, but in April we will again be starting to take some of our longer distance one day trips. So, if you are a member at the Center, watch your newsletter for details. If you are 60 and not a member, you should stop by for all the details on the trips available and also all the other many benefits and services that are offered by the local senior center.

Now, I would like to close by asking for some of that community support that this area is famous for. The Center membership is trying something new with their Bazaar this year. They are having their Annual Spring Bazaar on Saturday, March 22nd. There were many pros and cons to having the bazaar on Friday or Saturday, but it was voted on to try Saturday. We are hoping that everyone will be able to stop by and see the offerings this year. A lot of people had complained that because they worked, they didn't have an opportunity to attend our bazaars, well, here is your chance. The success of this trial effort will determine if the Saturday date will stay in effect for future events or if they will return to a Friday. So, come on Harrington, Felton, Farmington and all the areas...tell your relatives, friends, neighbors, etc. that our Bazaar will be Saturday, March 22nd. Here is a chance to purchase a lovely handmade Easter item in both arts and crafts and ceramics; baked goods; and of course a white elephant section. The luncheon also will be taking a few changes as far as the menu is concerned. We will be releasing the information on that at a later date. So we hope to have a successful event, but we need all of your support, so mark your calendar now.

Well, that's it for this week...see you next week with more Harrington Senior Center News!

Air Force 2nd Lt. Martin E. Ellingsworth

Air Force 2nd Lt. Martin E. Ellingsworth, stepson of Peggy Ellingsworth of 236 S. Market St., Frederica, Del., has been chosen as company grade officer of the quarter for the Air Force Human Resources Laboratory.

Ellingsworth was selected in competition among contemporaries for exemplary duty performance and military professionalism.

Selection was based on job knowledge, leadership abilities and management of resources. Also considered were military standards of dress, appearance and conduct, self-improvement in furthering education, and involvement in community programs.

The lieutenant is a personnel operations research analyst at Brooks Air Force Base, Texas.

His brother, Millard Ellingsworth III, resides at 714 Guilford Court Silver Springs, Md.

He is a 1984 graduate of the U.S. Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs, Colo.

Navy Seaman Apprentice Troy G. Dennis

Navy Seaman Apprentice Troy G. Dennis, whose wife, Lisa, is the daughter of Fay Freese of Felton, DE and son of Gwendolyn S. Dennis of 215 Center Street, Harrington, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command, Orlando, FL.

During Dennis's eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

Dennis's studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in Physical Education and Hygiene.

A 1984 graduate of Lake Forest High School, Felton, he joined the Navy in October 1985.

Airman Kenneth J. Fowler

Airman Kenneth J. Fowler, son of Judith F. and Kevin A. Eames of Rural Route 3, Felton, Del., has graduated from the aircraft armament systems specialist course at Lowry Air Force Base, Colo.

The course provides instruction for students to load nuclear and non-nuclear munitions, explosives and propellant devices on aircraft.

During the 15-week course, students were also instructed to maintain, install, modify and repair aircraft bombs and rockets.

Fowler is scheduled to serve with the 379th Munitions Maintenance Squadron at Wurtsmith Air Force Base, Mich.

He is a 1985 graduate of Lake Forest High School, Felton.

"You'll Never Be Out Of Chickens With Perdue."

"Everybody works together to Put More Bucks in the Producer's Pocket." Lee Joseph, Perdue Serviceman.

"Get-rich-quick schemes don't hold a candle to the security of a consistently good income and a stable life for your family. Growing for Perdue means never lacking for flocks, personal service, and the most innovative developments in the breeder industry. All which means the Perdue breeder-producer is making more money every year."

"Perdue's Innovations Mean More Money For You" New egg racks are a big help. Our breeder-producer collects eggs on plastic flats, places the flats into the racks, dates them and rolls the racks into the cooling room. That's it.

Perdue's pickup men using new trucks with better egg storage facilities, come to the farm and handle the lifting and loading without producer assistance. Less egg handling increases hatchability meaning more eggs get where they are going and more money goes into the pocket of the producer. EGGS=MONEY!

"Perdue Breeder-Producers Never Clean A Slat!" We feel our producers need as much time off between flocks as possible—so we clean their houses. Our crew cleans the slats and disinfects the house. This service gives our producers more time to relax, rest or get away from the farm.

"When It Comes To Services—No One Touches Perdue!" "The relationship of the producer and serviceman is where we part company with other poultry companies. Perdue Servicemen, as a group, are experienced poultry professionals. We know the birds, what Perdue can do for you, and what to do if a problem arises. We stay on top of things working with producers on a daily basis, on call 24 hours. We advise, counsel and work with you to grow better chickens, produce more eggs and achieve success. The bottom line for breeder-producers is egg production, and Perdue is constantly testing new ideas like developing a new line of hens and roosters; an electronic scale that lets hens weigh themselves while accurately recording growth rate, but will not weigh roosters and many other ideas still on the drawing board."

"Perdue Breeder-Producers Achieve Financial Security". The need for more breeder-producers is growing with the increased demand for our chickens in the marketplace. In addition to the operational improvements, Perdue offers you payments that are consistent and secure, financial assistance and the peace of mind of working with a bluechip company. Return the coupon or call 301-543-3000. Talk to a Perdue representative or me, Lee Joseph, about the many benefits of coming with Perdue.

I'd like to know more about growing with Perdue.

Social Security Looks Ahead

The year 1985 was a time for reflection as Social Security celebrated its 50th anniversary.

Since 1940, when the first benefits were paid, we find that some 115 million people have received about $1.8 trillion in monthly benefits. Social Security has provided an important financial base upon which to build with other protection such as savings and pensions.

About 125 million working people now pay into Social Security system. Still, many do not realize that Social Security is much more than a retirement program. Over 37 million individuals of all ages receive benefits. They include retirees 62 or older, disabled people under 65 who have been unable to work for at least a year, unmarried children who are under 18 or disabled, wives and husbands, widows and widowers and surviving dependent parents. Also, most people 65 and older and many long-term disabled beneficiaries have Medicare as well.

A recent survey indicates Americans of all ages continue to strongly support Social Security. Well over 90 percent of people 25 and over feel it is a basic, well managed and successful program.

Social Security has served the American public well for five decades and will continue to do so for the next 50 years and beyond.

Today, Social Security is an American institution — the very foundation of most retirement plans in the United States.

Retired Self-Employed Entitled To A Tax Break

Retired persons whose livelihood was based on self-employment should note that they may exclude from their gross earnings for a taxable year all or any part of self-employment income received which is not attributable to any services performed after the month they become entitled to benefits.

The rule applies only to self-employment income received in a year after the first year of entitlement to Social Security benefits. This is the year a person files for benefits and meets all conditions of eligibility.

Examples of people who benefit from the changes are self-employed insurance agents who receive renewal commissions after they retire, retired farmers whose leftover crops are sold in a year after they

Representative Fees Must Be Approved By SSA

Persons dealing with the Social Security Administration (SSA) do not have to be represented by an attorney or anyone else, however, some people may feel more comfortable if they are represented.

The representative may be an attorney or any other qualified person and may be entitled to a fee even if the claim is denied, however, any fee charged must be approved by SSA. Even a contract between the claimant and his or her representative for payment of a specified fee is not binding.

Any fee due the representative is usually paid from money due the claimant when a claim is approved. If this amount is insufficient to cover the fee, the claimant is responsible for paying the balance. Representatives use a special form to file for a fee. If he or she is an attorney and wishes to collect the fee from money due the claimant, the form must be filed within 60 days of the date of notification that the claim was approved. The claimant is sent a copy of the form and has an opportunity to challenge any fee if the representative's statements before a fee is set.

The claimant is notified by SSA of the amount of the fee due the representative. If either the claimant or the representative is dissatisfied with the amount set by SSA, he or she may request a review. The request must be in writing and made within 30 days of the date of the notice. The review is conducted by someone who did not participate in the original decision and is final.

"How Much Will I Get?"

"How much will I get?" That's probably the most common question asked by people applying for Social Security checks.

Before I answer this, let me explain Social Security's role in meeting income needs. From the beginning, Social Security has provided basic protection for most working people and their families. It partially replaces income that is reduced or lost due to retirement, disability, or death. Social Security never was intended to do the entire job. If it met all financial needs, the cost would skyrocket.

What this means is that you should try during working years to build supplemental forms of protection: savings; pensions; insurance; investments; and so on. If you are among the growing number of Americans who can expect a pension, chances are your employer will use Social Security as a base when figuring the pension.

Study Shows How Home Equity May Become Retirement Income

A Social Security study indicates that a variety of financial mechanisms are currently being developed to convert home equity, the most common asset of the aged, into retirement income. The study discusses the potential roles these plans may have in providing income for the aged.

In general, home equity plans are divided into loan plans and split-equity plans. In the loan plans, the aged homeowner accumulates a debt to be paid off at some future time. In the split-equity plans, the aged person sells the house and retains a life estate.

Loan plans can be divided into those that guarantee lifetime tenure and those that do not. The former involves a nonrepayable debt — that is, the debt does not have to be repaid until the aged person dies or sells the house. The latter involves a repayable debt — that is, the debt is repaid over a given term. Both loan and split-equity plans may involve public subsidies.

The report discusses the advantages and disadvantages of each type of plan according to the income it provides to the aged person and what the aged person has to give up in return. It is published in the September issue of the Social Security Bulletin. Single copies of the article may be obtained from the Social Security Administration, Office of Research, Statistics, and International Policy, Room 921, 1975 Connecticut Ave., NW, Washington, D.C. 20009 (202-673-5580).

Small Employers Should Check Wage Reports

Although all employers should check the wage reports they submit to the Social Security Administration, employers who have only a few workers should be especially careful. Social Security records show that small employers are more likely to show incorrect names and Social Security numbers on their annual wage and tax reports.

The annual wage and tax reports must be sent to the Social Security Administration by the end of February 1986.

To insure correct wage reporting, employers are urged to ask to see each new employee's Social Security card and to record the name and Social Security number exactly as shown on the card at the time they are hired. Don't rely on the employee's memory.

If the employer has never had a Social Security card or if the card has been lost, he or she should be told to contact the Social Security office to apply for a card or a replacement card. Likewise, if the employee's name has changed and is different from the name on the card, a replacement card showing the new name but with the same Social Security number will be issued by the Social Security Administration.

Beneficiaries To Receive Statement For Tax Purposes

People who received Social Security benefits in 1985 will get a benefit statement in the mail sometime in January. The benefit statement — Form SSA-1099 — is for the purpose of enabling people to determine if any of their Social Security benefits may be subject to Federal income tax.

This is the second year the statements have been mailed out, the result of a 1983 law which provides for taxing up to half the Social Security benefits of people whose earnings are above a base amount. The base amount is $25,000 for people who file as single taxpayers, $32,000 if the person is married and the couple files a joint return, or $0 if the person is married and lived with his or her spouse at any time during the year and files separate tax returns, and $25,000 if the person is married and filing a separate return and did not live with his or her spouse at any time during the year.

If one's countable income does not exceed the base amount, then his or her Social Security benefits will not be taxable. If countable income does exceed the base amount, the amount of benefits subject to tax will be the smaller of:

- one-half a person's Social Security benefits, or
- one-half of the amount by which pensions, wages, interest and other taxable income, plus tax exempt interest, plus one-half of the Social Security benefits, exceed the base amount.

At least 9 out of 10 of those who receive the statement will not have to pay taxes on their Social Security benefits because their total income is too low. If a person receives a Social Security check as his or her only source of income, he or she is unlikely to have to pay income taxes on the benefits.

An Internal Revenue Service worksheet — IRS Notice 703 — comes with the benefit statement. The worksheet shows a beneficiary how to figure if his or her Social Security benefits are subject to tax. If, after completing the worksheet, a person believes that he or she has to pay taxes on the Social Security benefits and still has questions on how to file the income tax return, he or she has to pay taxes on the Social Security benefits and still has questions on how to file the income tax return, he or she should call the nearest IRS or Social Security office and ask for Publication 915. The IRS telephone number is shown on the back of IRS Notice 703.

Since both Social Security and IRS are involved in implementing the taxation of Social Security benefits, people who need information should be sure to direct their questions to the proper agency to assure faster service.

Generally, any questions concerning the Social Security benefits or the benefit statement should be directed to the nearest Social Security office. The IRS office will answer any questions related to tax returns and the worksheet which accompanies the benefit statement. People also may call any Social Security office for the leaflet, Part of your benefits may be taxable, a brief, general discussion of the taxation provision.

Self-Employed People Get Social Security Coverage

Almost all self-employment is covered by Social Security, a Social Security manager said recently.

A self-employed person pays Social Security taxes if his or her net earnings amount to at least $400 a year. Even a person with annual earnings of less than $400 may report earnings by using an optional reporting method. Net earnings for Social Security purposes are the gross earnings, less allowable business deductions.

Earnings from self-employment are reported on Form 1040 (U.S. Individual Income Tax Return) and Schedule C (or Schedule F) (Profit or Loss from Business or Profession). The amount of Social Security tax can be obtained at the telephone directory.

People Getting SSI Should Report Changes In Increase

Supplemental security income (SSI) payments are based in part on financial need; therefore, any person getting SSI whose income changes should notify Social Security without delay, a Social Security manager said recently.

A married person should also report any change in the income of his or her spouse. In addition, if a child under 18 gets SSI and lives with his or her parents, changes in the parents' income must be reported.

stop farming, sales people who receive deferred commissions, and people who continue to receive income from their investment in a business or partnership. If you think this applies to you, contact any Social Security office.

People who earn over the annual earnings limit are required to make an annual earnings report to the Social Security Administration by April 15 each year.

The report should indicate how much they earned the preceding year and how much they expect to earn the current year. Current benefits are adjusted to reflect the earnings reported. Benefits are reduced $1 for each $2 over the annual limit. The limit does not apply to people 70 and over during the entire year.

In 1985, the annual earnings limit was $7,320 for people 65 and over and $5,400 for people under 65. In 1986, the figures are $7,800 and $5,760 respectively.

During the first year of retirement, self-employed people can get a full benefit for any month they don't perform substantial services in self-employment regardless of their earnings before retirement.

Any question about whether income counts as earnings for reporting purposes should be directed to the nearest Social Security office.

Benefits are weighted in favor of those with lower income by replacing a higher percentage of lost earnings. Workers with families also get a higher return.

You should file for Social Security benefits about 3 months before you want your checks to begin.

benefit is reduced $1 for each $2 of earnings above the exempt amount. The annual earnings test does not apply once a person reaches 70.

The amount of annual earnings needed to earn a quarter of coverage—the measure of Social Security work credit—will be $440 for 1986, up from $410 for 1985. In 1986, a worker will earn four quarters of coverage if his or her annual earnings are $1,760 or more.

Now Is The Time To Enroll For Medicare Benefits

It should be noted that people do not have to retire to get Medicare coverage. On approaching 65, people who want the coverage but wish to continue working may sign up at any Social Security office and have their coverage begin with the month they reach 65.

For more information on enrolling in Medicare's medical insurance, call any Social Security office.

Medical insurance helps pay doctor's bills and other medical expenses not covered by hospital insurance. It is funded by individual monthly premiums paid by those who enroll and by Federal general revenues. The basic premium is $15.50 a month for 1986. In general, the basic monthly premium is increased by 10 percent for each year a person could have had medical insurance but did not.

People 65 and over who are not eligible for Social Security or railroad retirement benefits can get Medicare hospital insurance by enrolling and paying a monthly premium. The monthly premium for these people is $214 for 1986. People who buy hospital insurance must also sign up for the medical insurance part of Medicare and pay the monthly premium.

NEW HOSPITAL INSURANCE AMOUNTS
For benefit periods in 1986, the Medicare hospital insurance deductible and daily amounts paid by inpatients will be:

- For the first 60 days in the hospital (hospital insurance deductible) - $492 (up from $400).
- For the 61st through the 90th day in the hospital - $123 a day (up from $100).
- For the 60 hospital reserve days - $246 a day (up from $200).
- For the 21st through the 100th day in a skilled nursing facility - $61.50 a day (up from $50).

Please refer to Your Medicare Handbook for other information about your Medicare protection.

If you have any questions, call, write, or visit any Social Security office. You can find the phone number and address by looking in the telephone directory under "Social Security Administration" or "U.S. Government."

People who failed to sign up for the medical insurance part of Medicare when they were first eligible, or who dropped out, may enroll now through March 31 at any Social Security office. Coverage begins July 1.

Medicare hospital and medical insurance is available to almost everyone at age 65, to disabled people under 65 who have been entitled to Social Security disability benefits for at least 24 months, and to most people with permanent kidney failure. Nine out of 10 eligible people are enrolled.

Medicare's medical insurance supplements Medicare hospital insurance which is funded by part of the Social Security taxes paid by employers, employees, and self-employed people.

Q. Does it matter that I don't have a Social Security card? I lost mine 18 years ago but have remembered my number ever since.

A. For your own convenience and protection, you should get a replacement. If you try to get another job your employer will want to see your card. And there is always the possibility that you have not remembered your correct number. To apply for a replacement you need only visit a Social Security office, taking along proof of your identity.

Q. My mother died when I was 13. My father did not apply for survivor benefits on my behalf. Can I still recoup these benefits? I'm 34 now.

A. Sorry, but you cannot. At age 34 you are no longer eligible for child's survivors benefits. The maximum age for getting these benefits is 18. Child's survivors benefits are payable retroactively for only 6 months before an application for them is filed.

Q. I am a Christian Scientist. Will Medicare pay for my care in a Christian Science sanitarium?

A. Medicare hospital insurance can help pay for inpatient hospital and skilled nursing facility services in a Christian Science sanitarium that participates in Medicare, provided the sanitarium is operated or listed and certified by the First Church of Christ Scientist in Boston. For more information, get in touch with a Social Security office.

Q. I've been waiting several weeks for a copy of my birth certificate to arrive so that I can apply for SSI. Will I still be able to apply if for some reason I never get it?

A. If you believe you may be eligible for SSI, you should contact any Social Security office right away. Do not delay applying if you don't have quite all of the information you need. The people in your Social Security office can help you get whatever information is needed.

Four Steps In Appealing SSI Decisions

Anyone who is informed that he or she is not eligible for supplemental security income (SSI) payments, or that the monthly payments will stop or be reduced, has a right to appeal the decision. The appeal may be handled by the person with help from Social Security, or the person may be represented by someone of his or her choice.

There are four appeal steps that can be followed, and each generally must be taken in order.

The first step in the appeals process, reconsideration, involves a complete review of the case by someone who did not take part in the initial decision. The reconsideration must be requested within 60 days from the date the notice of the decision was received. If the decision involved stopping or reducing the amount of the SSI checks, the recipient may request that payments continue unchanged.

People With Kidney Failure Can Get Medicare Protection

Medicare health insurance, including both hospital and medical insurance, is available to people in the local area who have permanent kidney failure and who need kidney dialysis treatment or a kidney transplant, a Social Security manager said recently.

A person, regardless of his or her age, who needs dialysis or a transplant because of permanent kidney failure is eligible for Medicare if he or she: worked long enough to be insured under Social Security; or already gets Social Security benefits; or is the husband, wife, or dependent child of someone insured or getting benefits.

Medicare coverage for an eligible person generally begins on the first day of the third month after the month the person starts receiving maintenance dialysis treatment.

Medicare coverage can begin the first in such cases, however, the reconsideration must be requested within 10 days.

The next step in the appeals process is a hearing before an administrative law judge. The hearing must be requested within 60 days from the date of notice of the reconsideration. The hearing is usually held in the same city in which the Social Security office handling the case is located.

The third step is a review by the Appeals Council, which is part of the Social Security Administration's Office of Hearings and Appeals. Here, too, the request for review must be filed within 60 days of the notice of the hearing decision.

If the person disagrees with the Appeals Council's decision, suit may be brought in a Federal district court. The complaint must be filed within 60 days after receipt of the Appeals Council's decision.

QUESTIONS&ANSWERS SOCIAL SECURITY

Q. My father needed a great deal of blood during his open heart surgery. Will his Medicare pay for it?

A. Medicare hospital insurance does not cover the cost of the first three pints of whole blood or the equivalent in units of packed red blood cells, but it will cover any other related expenses, such as administration and storage. Your hospital will not charge your father for the three pints if he can arrange to have them replaced. He or someone else may replace the blood or it may be replaced through a blood assurance plan.

Q. I live alone, and my doctor says that after my surgery I'll have to stay in the hospital until I'm well enough to take care of myself. Will Medicare pay for that part of my bill?

A. Medicare cannot pay for custodial care even if it's given in a participating hospital. Care is considered custodial when it's primarily intended to meet personal needs and can be provided by someone without professional skills or training. It consists of help in walking, getting in and out of bed, bathing, dressing, eating, and taking medicine.

Q. I live here and my sister lives in another State. Why is it we don't get the same amount of money from SSI?

A. Under SSI, the Federal Government pays a base amount of money.

disabled and is based on need. To be sure that you're being paid correctly, your case must be reviewed from time to time.

Q. I just started getting SSI, and I am surprised at all the changes and events that I'm supposed to report. Do I have to appear in person every time I have a report to make?

A. No. You may report any change to Social Security by either phone or letter.

States may add to that base amount. So even if their financial and living situations are the same, people in different States can get quite different amounts.

Q. My mother has just become eligible for SSI. She's on a waiting list to enter federally-subsidized housing for the aged. Will the subsidy count as income against her SSI payment?

A. In all probability, no. Almost all housing assistance from Federal housing programs run by State and local subdivisions is not counted in determining the amount of an SSI claimant's income.

If you are discharged from a hospital and then readmitted before the benefit period ends, you do not have to pay the deductible again. A benefit period ends when you have been out of a hospital or skilled nursing facility for 60 days in a row.

Q. My mother does housework for four or five women. How can she be sure that all of them are reporting her wages to Social Security?

A. Have your mother call any Social Security office for an earnings request form that we have for this purpose. She may use the form to obtain a free statement of earnings credited to her Social Security earnings records.

Addicts, Alcoholic Must Accept Treatment For SSI

A person whose disability is aggravated by drug abuse or alcoholism must accept appropriate treatment for the condition in order to be eligible for supplemental security income (SSI) payments, a Social Security manager said recently.

A person who is eligible for payment because of age or blindness is not bound by this restriction.

Drug abuse or alcoholism, itself, is not a basis for a finding of disability under SSI, the manager said. Such a determination must be based on symptoms, signs, and laboratory findings.

Social Security Earnings Base To Increase For 1986

To Increase For 1986

The annual earnings base—the maximum amount of earnings that counts for Social Security—will increase to $42,000 for 1986, up from $39,600, the 1985 base, a Social Security manager said recently.

If drug addiction or alcoholism is found to contribute to a finding of disability, the person will be referred by Social Security to a designated State agency so that appropriate treatment may be arranged. Failure to follow the prescribed course of treatment may result in suspension of payments, the manager said.

More information about SSI payments can be obtained at any Social Security office. The address and telephone number of the nearest Social Security office can be found in the telephone directory.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Q. I have hurt my back pretty bad. Will Medicare pay for my visit to see a chiropractor?

A. Medicare medical insurance helps pay for only one kind of treatment provided by a licensed and Medicare-certified chiropractor. The only treatment that can be covered is manual manipulation of the spine to correct a partial or incomplete dislocation that can be demonstrated by X-ray. Medical insurance does not pay for any other diagnostic or therapeutic services, including X-rays, furnished by a chiropractor.

Q. I am 58 years old. My wife is 65. I'm still working, but she's never worked and doesn't have Social Security coverage. Is it possible for her to get Medicare since she's 65?

A. A wife who is not entitled to Social Security may become eligible for Medicare at 65 even if her husband is younger than she and is still working, provided he is at least 62 and will be entitled to benefits when he retires. Since you are not yet 62, your wife is not eligible for Medicare at this time.

Q. My sister was recently widowed and left with a child to care for. Can she get Social Security?

A. She can get benefits if she is caring for a child who is under 16 or disabled and entitled to Social Security benefits. If her child is eligible for survivors' benefits, they will be payable until the nonreplacement fees charged for the first three pints of whole blood or units of packed red cells.

Q. How can I find out how much I have contributed to SSI?

A. Although the supplemental security income (SSI) program is administered by the Social Security Administration, it is not part of the Social Security program. Social Security works like an insurance program. That is, the benefits you receive depend, in general, on how much you have earned in covered employment. SSI, on the other hand, is an assistance program that is financed from the general revenues of the United States Government. Therefore, in a sense, everyone who pays income tax contributes to the SSI program. To be eligible for SSI you must be blind, aged, or disabled and have a limited income and limited resources.

Q. My brother is 23. He's out of school and can't find a job. In fact, he has no money at all. Can he get SSI?

A. To be eligible for SSI, a person must be 65 or older or blind or disabled and have limited income and resources. Unless your brother is blind or disabled he is not eligible. A person 18 or older is considered disabled if a physical or mental impairment prevents him from doing any substantial gainful work and is expected to last for at least 12 months or to result in death.

Q. My children get Social Security benefits on their father's record. He died

4 years ago. I plan to remarry, and my new husband wants to adopt the children. Will that have any effect on their benefits?

A. No. However, you must notify Social Security of the change in your children's names, the date of the adoption decree, and the adopting parent's name and address.

Q. My husband had major surgery recently and has to go to see his doctor next week for a post-operative checkup. I'm worried about his making the trip in our car. Will Medicare pay for an ambulance from our house to the doctor's office?

A. No. Medicare's medical insurance does not pay for ambulance transportation from your house to a doctor's office. Under certain circumstances, medical insurance will help pay for ambulance travel from the scene of an accident to a hospital, from your house to a hospital or skilled nursing facility, between hospitals and skilled nursing facilities, or from a hospital or skilled nursing facility to your house.

Q. I've been getting SSI checks for the past 4 years. Every year my Social Security office has me come in and fill out the same papers with the same information. Is all this really necessary?

A. Yes, it is. SSI is a program for people who are 65 or over, blind, and

Applicants Are Considered For Rehabilitation Services

All applicants for Social Security disability benefits or for supplemental security income payments based on disability are considered for services offered by their State vocational rehabilitation agency, a Social Security manager said recently.

These services may include counseling, medical care, physical therapy, and job training and placement.

The services may be offered to any applicant, whether or not his or her claim is approved. Acceptance of the services will not cause benefits to be denied if the disability claim is approved; on the other hand, payments may be withheld if the person refuses these services without good reason.

Anyone who has ever applied for disability benefits but has not been contacted by the State agency and who is interested in seeing what might be available can get the address and phone number from a Social Security office.

The agency is also listed under the State heading in the local telephone directory.

The address and telephone number of the nearest Social Security office can be found in the telephone directory.

A Persons Social Security Number Is Key To Protection

A person's Social Security number is the key to his or her protection against the loss or reduction of income because of retirement, disability, or death, a Social Security manager said recently.

This is because future Social Security benefits will be based on the record of earnings kept under the number shown on the Social Security card during a person's working lifetime.

Many people have the same name, but each person has his or her own Social Security number which singles out that record from some 200 million others, the manager said.

A person should show his or her Social Security card to each employer and make sure the employer copies the name and number exactly as shown on the card. This will help avoid any mistakes.

The person should keep a record of the number with other important papers. If a person loses his or her Social Security card, he or she can take this record to any Social Security office to apply for a new card which will show the old number. Proof of identity is required when applying.

A person who changes his or her name should also apply for a new card. He or she will need evidence of both the old and new names.

It is against the law to use another person's Social Security number. It is also against the law to use a Social Security number obtained by giving false information on the application. Penalties include a fine of up to $1,000, a jail sentence of up to 1 year, or both.

More information about Social Security numbers and their use can be obtained at any Social Security office. The telephone number of the nearest Social Security office can be found in the telephone directory.

Disabled Workers Should Not Wait

Workers in the local area suffering from a physical or mental impairment which prevents them from working should consider applying for Social Security disability benefits when it appears this condition will last 12 months or more, a Social Security manager said recently.

Social Security disability benefits can be paid to workers under 65, disabled widows and widowers 50 or over, and to unmarried adult children disabled before reaching 22.

Under Social Security, a person is considered disabled if he or she has a condition which prevents him or her from doing any substantial gainful work and is expected to last at least 12 months or result in death.

No payments can be made to a disabled worker, widow, or widower for the first 5 months of the disability. Before a person applies for disability benefits, it will be helpful if he or she gathers certain information. This will help speed the application process, the manager said. This includes:

- The person's Social Security number.
  - Date last worked.
  - Date person became ill or injured.
  - Type of illness or injury.
  - Date returned to work; if no longer disabled.
  - Names, addresses, and telephone numbers of doctors, hospitals, institutions, or clinics that provided treatment for the disability and dates of treatment.
  - Military service serial number and VA claim number, if available.
  - Lists of kinds of jobs performed in past 10 years.
  - Names, Social Security numbers, and dates of birth of spouse and children.
  - Workers compensation number or number of other disability benefit claims, if any.
- A person should not delay applying if all this information is not available. The people at any Social Security office may be able to help and they can give more information about disability benefits. The address and telephone number of the nearest Social Security office can be found in the telephone directory.

Increase Is Set For 1986 In Medicare Cost Sharing

The Medicare hospital insurance deductible, the amount a Medicare patient is responsible for when he or she first receives hospital inpatient services in a benefit period, will increase to $492 in 1986, a Social Security manager said recently. The 1985 deductible was $400.

Also scheduled to increase are the per-day amounts patients are responsible for after specific lengths of stay in a hospital or skilled nursing facility.

After 60 days of inpatient care in a benefit period in 1986, Medicare will pay for all covered costs except $123 a day. The 1985 figure was $100.

For each reserve day, Medicare will pay for all covered costs except $246 a day. The 1985 figure was $200.

After 20 days of care in a skilled nursing facility, Medicare will pay all covered costs except $61.50 per day. The 1985 figure was $50.

The basic monthly premium for Medicare medical insurance will not change from the 1985 rate of $15.50. Some people pay more than this rate because there were periods of time they could have had this protection but did not.

The monthly premium for hospital insurance for those people who are not otherwise eligible for this protection will be $214 in 1986. The premium was $174.

The medical insurance annual deductible will remain $75, unchanged from 1985.

More information about Medicare and Social Security can be obtained at any Social Security office. Free publications which explain about Social Security and Medicare are available. The address and telephone number of the nearest Social Security office can be found in the telephone directory.

When To Retire?

People can retire under Social Security as early as age 62. If they choose to receive benefits at age 62, they will receive permanently reduced benefits, which means about 20% less than they would receive if they waited until age 65 when full, unreduced benefits are payable.

Since this is the case, is it a good idea to retire and start drawing benefits at age 62?

In most cases, if a person chooses to retire at age 62 they should also choose to receive social security benefits as well.

The choice is always up to the individual, and your Social Security Office will be happy to discuss your options.

Like any other insurance decision, the individual is making a choice based on life expectancy odds. Here's an example: If a person wishes to retire at age 65 and their unreduced benefit at age 65 is $600 per month, at age 62 that rate is reduced about 20% to $480 per month. Note too that at age 65, the benefit rate remains at $480 so that the retiree will be losing $120 per month beginning at age 65. This principle holds true regardless of the amounts used.

However, in this example the retiree has received $480 in monthly benefits since age 62 for a total of $17,280. Even if the retiree loses $120 per month from age 65 on, if you divide $17,280 by $120, you will soon learn that the retiree will be about 77 years of age before he or she loses one cent. It is true that beginning with age 77, the retiree will be losing $120 per month from that point on.

The contrary is also true: If a person waits until age 65 to start drawing benefits even though they retired at age 62 or earlier, that person will have to live until age 77 merely to get back what they didn't take in benefits before age 65.

States Provide Services For People Getting SSI

A person who applies for supplemental security income (SSI) payments because of disability or blindness may be eligible for various services offered by the State in which he or she lives, a Social Security manager said recently.

These services may include counseling, learning new work skills, job placement, and training for independent living. In addition, the local health department may be able to meet some of the family's health needs, and the public assistance office may be able to provide additional financial help or other services.

Public schools are required by law to provide educational opportunities for children of school age who are disabled or blind. Special classes or home instruction may be available. Parents should contact their local school district office for information about these educational services.

The address and telephone number of the nearest Social Security office can be found in the telephone directory.

Social Security Questions & Answers

had to see a doctor there. We paid the bill and received a itemized statement of the charges. She has Medicare. How do I find out where to send in the claim for reimbursement?

A. Call your local Social Security office and tell them the county and State where your wife received the treatment. They'll tell you where to send the claim. If you need help in completing the claim forms, they'll be glad to help you.

Q. How can people who receive Social Security benefits also get SSI checks? That doesn't seem fair.

A. When a person or a couple has retirement income that they do not earn—such as Social Security benefits, annuities, rents, or interest—their SSI payment is reduced accordingly. The first $20 of unearned income is excluded, but then the rest is deducted, dollar for dollar, from the SSI payment. So, people who are eligible for both Social Security and SSI do not get the full SSI payment.

Q. Will the size of my company pension have any effect on the amount of my Social Security benefit when I retire?

A. No. Private pensions and annuities do not count as earnings for Social Security purposes.

Q. I was recently in the hospital, having used my Medicare coverage for the first time. I know my benefit period began when I entered the hospital. Did it end when I was discharged?

A. No. A benefit period ends when you have been out of a hospital for other facilities that primarily provides skilled nursing or rehabilitation services) for 60 days in a row, counting the day of your discharge. By the way, there is no limit to the number of benefit periods you may have for hospital or skilled nursing care, though special limited benefit periods apply to hospice care.

Q. My son tells me I should apply for SSI. Will I have to sell my house in order to qualify?

A. No. Regardless of its value, the house where you live and the land adjoining whether you qualify for SSI.

Q. I didn't sign up for Medicare medical insurance when I got Medicare hospital insurance. How can I sign up for it now?

A. You may sign up for it during any "general enrollment period." A "general enrollment period" is held from January 1 through March 31 each year. However, your monthly premium will be 10 percent higher than the basic premium for each 12-month period you could have had medical insurance but were not enrolled. Moreover, your protection will not begin until July 1 of the year you enroll.

Q. I'm supposed to get physical therapy, but I'm not well enough to travel to a hospital. Will Medicare pay for it if I receive the therapy at home?

A. As long as you are confined to your home and a doctor determines that you require physical therapy, Medicare may help pay the expense of care provided by a participating home health agency. For more information, call any Social Security office.

Q. I got out of the hospital last month, and now I've got to go back in for additional treatment. Will I have to pay the $400 hospital insurance deductible again?

A. No. The hospital insurance deductible is charged only for your first admission to a hospital in each benefit period.

People Should Know Times To Contact Social Security

It is important for people in the local area to know the proper times to contact Social Security, a Social Security manager said recently.

Knowing the five times action is needed is too important to take for granted. It can mean greater security for area residents and members of their families.

- A person should contact Social Security:
  - Before he or she gets a first job to apply for a Social Security number so that he or she gets proper credit for earnings. Remember to apply at least 2 weeks before the number will be needed. A person needs evidence of age, citizenship (for immigrant status), and identity.
  - After a death in the family to learn if survivor benefits or a lump-sum death payment are payable.
  - At retirement age, 65 for full rate cash benefits or as early as 62 for reduced payments. Check 2 or 3 months before 65 about Medicare even if there are no retirement plans.

- When somebody is disabled, to find out if disability benefits are payable.
- Whenever a person has a question about Social Security or needs to report a change that will affect monthly benefits.

The people at any Social Security office can tell a person how much work credit is needed to be insured for benefits, who can qualify for benefits, how to replace a lost Social Security or Medicare card, how to get a free statement of his or her earnings record, or what documents are needed when a person applies for benefits.

These and other questions can be answered at any Social Security office. Free publications are available which describe the Social Security programs. The address and telephone number of the nearest Social Security office can be found in the telephone directory.
