Scouts participate in Pinewood Derby

by Dave Dill
This past week was a very busy one for Cub Scouts from Troops 141 and 200 at the C.R. Center, west of Felton. On Friday night, the cubs had their annual Pinewood Derby with around 50 scout competitions. Each scout had to make his own entry with kits provided by the pack. Saturday, State Forester John Schwam talked to the scouts about nature and with the helping hands of scouts, planted 800 new trees. The Dover-Camden Model Airplane Club gave the boys a show with remote control planes. As night fell, the campfires burned and songs filled the air. The Felton Fire Company presented a demonstration on first aid, and the Delaware State Police had a demonstration of their helicopter. The cub scouts came home Sunday tired, but with many fond memories.

Lake Forest students explore Europe

by Jim Boyd

On Wednesday evening, March 26th, fifteen excited Lake Forest High School French students left John F. Kennedy Airport in New York for a week of touring in Europe. They were accompanied by their French teacher, Mr. James Boyd and his wife, Mrs. Victoria Boyd. The students were: Roger Collison, David Brock, Greg Chalmers, Tom Chambers, Curt Jackson, Tanya Kemp, Rachel Gussett, Brandy Markland, Michele Ryder, Paula Smith, Christine Swafford, Jenny Fiblekorn, Darla Hendricks, Dana Hicks and Tina Kalousek. Also on the trip were Mrs. Jill Fiblekorn and Mrs. Charlotte Stayton. The first stop on their journey was Rome where glorious weather met the Lake Forest group. While in Rome, the group visited the Vatican and the ancient Roman ruins. They left Rome one afternoon to visit the famous Tivoli Fountains. Assisi was the next city on the tour. There, they visited the tomb of St. Francis and explored the medieval town where he lived seven centuries ago. Easter Sunday was spent in Florence, the hometown of Michaelangelo. The afternoon took them on to Pisa to see the famous Leaning Tower. A night sleeping-berth train took them from Pisa to Paris. The 14-hour trip went quickly as everyone figured out how to transform their seats into sleeping berths. The train crew distributed sheets and pillows — and most even managed to get some sleep. Two full days were spent in Paris. They visited the Eiffel Tower, Notre Dame Cathedral, the Arch of Triumph, and the Louvre. They even got to do some shopping in a large Paris department store one afternoon. The group also took a bus trip to Loire Valley to visit the famous Renaissance Castles of Chenonceau and Amboise. On this trip, the 12th century Cathedral of Chartres with its famous stain glass was also visited. On the last day of the journey, the group took a four hour bus ride to Brussels, Belgium to catch the plane home. There was a short stop in Amsterdam; but before long, 19 tired, American tourists were back in Delaware. The trip was unforgettable for each and everyone of the group. The students tried out their foreign language skills all along the way — and were usually successful! In short, everyone returned home with many happy memories of France, Italy, and of each other — enough to last for a long, long time.

"Music Man" has many merits, few faults

by William T. Ficka

Some 400 people gave a standing ovation to the Singing Players' production of Meredith Willson's "The Music Man," on opening night last Thursday at Dover Central Middle School Auditorium.

The "Music Man" was a top Broadway musical and later a Hollywood movie hit starring Robert Preston. The happy musical presents a slice of Americana that is gone forever. It depicts the con man shenanigans of "Professor" Harold Hill as he attempts to sell musical instruments for a boys band to the good citizens of River City, Iowa, in those bygone innocent days of 1912. Although Jim Hartzell, who plays Harold Hill, doesn't possess the vocal authority to do justice to the bouncy song numbers, his portrayal of the unscrupulous huckster was excellent. He caught every nuance of the born snake oil pitchman and shell game operator. Connie Jamieson, as Marian, the female lead, was near perfection. The 1980 winner of the national auditions for the Festival School of Opera and former member of the Utah Opera Company has a rich, full voice with a vibrancy and purity of tone not often heard on Delaware stages. Her voice and grace of artistic expression were especially effective on "My White Knight," "Will I Ever Tell You," and the beautiful love ballad "Till There Was You."

played Winthrop. His rendition of "Gary, Indiana" brought down the house. String is a fifth grader at the Lake Forest North Elementary School in the gifted student program.

An outstanding performance was also given to Jerry Hobbs as Mayor Shinn. Hobbs doesn't miss a beat in his portrayal of this born Bannitt and town boomer. Hobbs is also active in the Felton United Methodist Choir.

Nita Gary is perfection personified as the Irishwoman Mrs. Paroo. Her Irish brogue couldn't have been better if she had just stepped off the boat from County Cork.

The rousing dance numbers by Wesley Boozer, Julie Boswell, Sam Candelaria, Heidi Joyner, Kimberly Kelly, and Alison McKnight did choreographer Penny Gilmore short proud.

Director Margaret S. Storey and Charles McCloskey are to be commended for their casting acumen.

Lost and Found, the barbershop quartet from Seaford was a particular delight. Dale Palmer, R.C. Thompson, Jack Swing, and Robert Thau who form the quartet gave rousing renditions of "Goodnight Ladies" and "Lida Rose."

Some of the catchy song lyrics in the production numbers were difficult to understand. This could have been due to the acoustics, a defective sound system, or faulty projection. But it was a minor drawback in a generally excellent production of a musical that has already taken its place among the American classics.

Chicken Festival returns to Georgetown

The Delmarva Chicken Festival, an annual celebration honoring the Delmarva Peninsula's well-known bird, made its first appearance in 1948 in Georgetown, Delaware. This year, the 38th festival returns to the county seat of Sussex with activities scheduled for June 6 and 7 at Delaware Technical and Community College, Southern Campus.

Expected to draw an estimated 20,000 visitors, the event will offer attractions ranging from tempting fried chicken to toe-tapping music and thrilling children's rides. From the 12 noon opening ceremonies on Friday, June 6, festival goers will enjoy an antiques, arts and crafts and flea market; commercial exhibits; an exhibit depicting the poultry industry, past and present; carnival games and rides; and, entertainment by the Banjo Dusters, Choralairs and Bunky Eye and The Inmates.

Food, and plenty of it, will abound throughout the two-day event. Delmarva's Giant Fry Pan, filled with Mazola Corn Oil, will turn out mouth-watering fried chicken as it has since 1950. Other food treats will include barbecued chicken, chicken franks, snow cones, funnel cakes, cold drinks and potato items.

The Delmarva Chicken Cooking Contest will launch activities on Saturday, June 7. Cooks from 12 northeastern states and the District of Columbia will prepare their prize-winning entries in competition for a 10-day Hawaiian vacation for two, $1,000, a Frigidaire microwave oven, LP gas grill and gifts from Sunbeam, Wear-Ever and McCormick/Schilling Spice Co. The public is invited to watch the contest in progress between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Other attractions will include surrey rides; an antique auto display; Ronald McDonald's magic show; and Chicken Capers, a light-hearted series of competitions including an egg toss, chicken scratch and chicken plucking contest.

The Delmarva Chicken Festival is sponsored by the Delmarva Poultry Industry, Inc. and is hosted this year by Delaware Technical and Community College and the citizens of Georgetown. For a complete schedule of events, contact Delmarva Poultry, R.D. 2, Box 47, Georgetown, DE 19947; (302) 856-9037.

Funeral set for "Baby Choice"

MILFORD, DE — The Kent County Coalition for Life, a chapter of Delaware Right to Life, has announced that a special funeral and burial service for "Baby Choice", an 18-20 week old, saline-aborted baby girl, will be held at Slaughter Neck United Methodist Church on Saturday, May 3, at 1:00 p.m.

By handing out a specially-printed handbill promoting the services. "We are expecting a 'packed-out' service," Coalition President George W. Contant stated. "We hope that this service will help to awaken the local area to the reality of abortion."

"Baby Choice" has been the traveling companion of Pastor Norman Stone, of Americans Against Abortion, as he walked 3,000 miles across America to protest abortion-on-demand. The baby has been the subject of national controversy as special rallies and public viewings have been held in many cities on Stone's route.

After the service Stone will go to Slaughter Beach and plunge into the Atlantic Ocean to officially end his trek on behalf of the pre-born. Crane testifies regarding Conrail

PHILADELPHIA — If Norfolk Southern Corp. (NS) acquired Consolidated Rail Corporation today, NS would receive nearly $1.3 billion in Conrail cash, $100 million more than it would pay the federal government for the railroad's stock, L. Stanley Crane, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Conrail, told Senate Subcommittee today.

Crane urged Congress to return Conrail to the private sector as an independent corporation.

In testimony on the railroad's 1985 financial performance prepared for delivery before the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on Transportation, Crane said Conrail's cash balance was $939 million at the end of the March 1986. In addition, as of March 31, the railroad's pension plan was overfunded by $360 million.

Crane told the Subcommittee that Conrail reported net income of $442 million for 1985, compared to $500 million the previous year. However, Conrail employees' wages were restored to industry scale July 1, 1984 so that if the railroad had paid industry scale wages for all of 1984, net income that year would have been about $435 million.

Crane, noting that Conrail was celebrating its tenth anniversary this month. With the benefit of the Staggers Rail Act of 1980, the Northeast Rail Service Act of 1981, and cooperation from labor that has been unprecedented in the railroad industry, has collectively solved the Northeast Rail Crisis. This has created an asset of continuing value to the Northeast-Midwest economy and to the nation as a whole.

The railroad, which serves the northeastern United States, includes a north-south route through Delaware. It has been 85 percent owned by the federal government for ten years. In 1981, the Reagan administration returned Conrail to the public sector. Bids to purchase the government's stock interest were accepted until June, 1984. Norfolk Southern Corporation's bid of $1.2 billion was initially matched by Morgan Stanley & Co., Inc.

Local Conrail employees have expressed concern for the future survival of small fertilizer and grain lines and potential layoffs. J. Donlan Piedmont, Norfolk and Southern spokesman recently confirmed that estimated layoffs were 1,200, indicating that the layoffs would take place in both companies and not just Conrail. He said that those off would receive a six year earnings guarantee, moving expenses and any other labor protection available.
