

Councilman Wyatt urges street repair now without bids

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.
HARRINGTON. The longest sitting member of the Harrington City Council on Monday night at the regular monthly meeting urged his fellow council members to begin the resurfacing of Peck Avenue immediately.

Mr. Wyatt presented a set of blue prints which he claimed he had drawn personally listing the specifications and course to take to solve the street problem on Peck Avenue. He also added that he had discussed the project with Tilcon-Warren of Dover, who had done extensive work in Harrington, and they had submitted a contract price.

First Councilman Jarrell challenged the unadvertised bid to resurface Peck Avenue saying the charter required work which exceeds $20,000 to be put out on bids. "What you are doing is piecing it out in phases to stay away from the (compulsory) bidding process", charged Mr. Jarrell.

From that point on barbs were exchanged between Mr. Wyatt and Mr.

Jarrell with Mr. Jarrell throwing out improprieties to Mr. Wyatt and Mr. Wyatt indicating that he would work to defeat Mr. Jarrell in the January election.

Mr. Wyatt is an out going council member while Mr. Jarrell may run for another term. The charter prevents Mr. Wyatt from running again for a council seat. Many have speculated that Mr. Wyatt would run for Mayor, which is also up for election.

Joining in the free-for-all at the council table were Councilman James Dennis, Mr. Temple and Councilwoman Sue Ellen Dennis. Mr. Temple in directing his comments to his fellow councilman Mr. Wyatt said "I believe that we must comply with the charter. If this must be put out on bids then we must put it out on bids. Still...this man (Tilcon-Warren) could be the lowest bidder, and if he is then he should get the job", added Mr. Temple.

In a role call vote, the council voted to put the contract out on bid. Before this happened, Councilwoman Mrs. Sue Ellen Dennis defended Mr. Wyatt's position of drawing up the blueprints for the street resurfacing and refusing to give the plans to other contractors as "...being his choice", she shouted across the council table to Mr. Jarrell.

In response, Mr. Jarrell said as long as he was sitting here (pointing to his chair) "...I will continue to ask where, when, and why". Mr. Wyatt and Mr. Jarrell continued their dialogue through, over, around, and by Councilman Dan Coleman whose seat is between Mr. Wyatt and Mr. Jarrell.

Mr. Wyatt had reasoned no other contractor could do the job for less "...particularly in this short space of time. Most black topping plants close shortly after Thanksgiving. There is just no time to do the job", concluded Mr. Wyatt. "So...to get a contractor who is not familiar with the community as opposed to one who could come in and get the job done before cold weather is what we should consider", said Mr. Wyatt.

Figures of $16,000 for the initial phase which would mean getting a base down to hold over the winter. "They would dress it up from time to time over the winter and then in the spring complete the job", said Mr. Wyatt.

Still Councilmen Temple and Jarrell did not go along with the reasoning.

In other matters, Mr. Volenik reminded everyone that the City will conduct an auction of property on Saturday which includes real estate (the property at the south east corner of Liberty and Dorman Streets at 11:00 a.m. The sale of personalty will begin at 10:00 a.m. This will include items which the police department has picked up but were unclaimed (bikes, guns etc.).

Mr. Volenik also announced that an ad for a police chief for Harrington had been submitted recently to retiring Maryland State Police. "But we have had no takers so therefore we will begin interviewing the four applicants who have already submitted requests for the job", said Mr. Volenik.

The Council refused to act on a request by Simmons Communications to approved the transfer of interest under an agreement between "City" and "Simmons" whereby Simmons wished to transfer their interest in the lease and franchise agreement to their new corporation. Councilmen Temple and Coleman voiced their displeasure in having to respond to the request by Simmons when as Mr. Temple stated "...they can do it under the terms of the agreement. They don't need my vote, because they can do it anyway. What I would like to see happen is for Simmons' attorney contact our attorney (Bill Walls) and tell our attorney why they want us to agree to something that they can do anyway without our consent. I don't understand that. They don't need my vote...so I am not voting".

The council approved Planning & Zoning's recommendation to change the zoning of a parcel of land owned by Baynard Smith heirs lying in the median south of Hardees and above Brown's Branch from C-2 to C-3 so that Colotex (Texaco) may put a service station there. The council also approved to abandon an alley in that same general area.

Mr. Volenik reported that the State is considering putting a traffic light at the intersection of Center and Dorman Streets at the Chipman School. Mr. Volenik also reported that he will be attending a public meeting on economic development on Wednesday (today) in Wilmington for the purpose of "...being available to answer questions concerning the request by the City for $235,000 in grant money for the City's water extension program".

The Planning and Zoning also reported that it was their determination that the request by Mr. Roy Weiss of Harrington Avenue to develop 5 or 6 lots along Harrington Avenue did not fall within the minor sub-division requirements by the City and therefore advised the developer that he should comply with the subdivision requirements of the City.

John Workman, 91 and going strong

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.
HARRINGTON. He was born in Sussex County 91 years ago this past August. John Workman was raised on a farm just outside of Georgetown...near Sand Hill Church.

His father was a farmer and a Civil War veteran. He served on the side of the Union, and was stationed at Ft. Delaware.

John Workman tried farming for awhile. He turned his talents next to being a carpenter, and worked as a finish carpenter for Andrew Murray, a house builder in Georgetown.

He gave all that up and moved to Harrington to work for the Huber Baking Company out of Wilmington, over 40 years ago. They had a plant in Harrington and John Short, the Superintendent of the plant, was John Workman's brother-in-law. Toward the end of his career with Huber, Mr. Workman became the superintendent too.

"When I retired, Mr. Huber came down. I worked for him for 28 years and 11 months. He said at the retirement party for me that I had delivered enough loaves of bread that if they were sliced it would stretch around the world three times. They claimed that I drove 2 million miles during my job with Huber," said Mr. Workman at his home recently.

Although confined to a wheel chair now due to the amputation of his right leg several years ago, he nevertheless doesn't let that slow him down. Over the years he entertained himself by carving out objects from wood. "All the way from wooden watermelon slices to North West Mounted Police," he added. He also made small weather vanes and other objects such as chickens and geese that can be used as lawn ornaments.

Asked if he enjoyed carving and making objects, he responded quick as a wink of the eye "...you had better believe it". He and his son-in-law Oscar Dickerson share the workshop. Until recently Mr. Workman used the band saw and bench saw to cut out his objects from tracings he had made. "We worked from patterns", he said. Now his son-in-law, Oscar Dickerson, will use the saws for Mr. Workman.

What is the secret to long life. It is always a mystery how some can prolong the inevitable. Mr. Workman, when asked, was quick to answer "...hard work and try not to worry about things".

Mr. Workman's wife died in 1972. Mrs. Ryla Mae Waller Workman was also a native Sussex Countian. She was sick most of her life with various heart

Jim Blades named Coach of the Year

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.
Lake Forest's Varsity Cross-Country Coach, Jim Blades, for both boys and girls teams has been named "Girls" Cross Country Coach of the Year in the Henlopen Conference.

Coach Blades is a 1965 graduate of Felton High School...the home of the Green Devils...and a 1969 graduate of West Chester State College.

He began his teaching career at Lake Forest in 1969. "I was teaching elementary physical education at East 3 days a week and health 2 days a week at the high school".

"These are repeat awards for Coach Blades who has instilled pride, school spirit, and confidence in his students. "This makes the 3rd or 4th time I have won this award for both boys and girls. It is an award I cherish", added Coach Blades.

For Coach Blades, his real role model in the field of teaching and coaching was the respected Coach Joe Kerns at Felton High School. "He was a real role model for me and had a direct influence on the direction I took in education and coaching", added Coach Blades.

"Coach Kerns taught us honesty...fairness in play...team concept and everyone's importance to the team. He was a motivator by example", concluded Coach Blades.

Coach Blades had high praise for his girls' cross-country team. They were 5-0. "And really no one counted us in like that. The girls worked real hard", he said.

Melanie Pelton and Lorraine Lake were hold overs and became the team leaders. "We got more out of both teams than was expected. Most felt we might be one or two meets above 500", he said.

Along with Misses Lake and Pelton were Misses Julie Betts and Tara Dixon. "I felt Julie would come through because I remembered her from track.

Native son Bill McCabe home for Veterans Memorial Services

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.
HARRINGTON. Bill McCabe, a native son of Harrington, returned here Sunday for memorial services for veterans of foreign war, American Legion Post #7 Callaway, Kemp, Raughley, Tee in Harrington again held the memorial services at the Honor Roll Board on Commerce Street.

Mr. McCabe retired from the U.S. Navy in 1953 after 20 years in the service. The former machinist and ship's engineer reflected on his narrow escape while serving on the USS Panay on the Yangze River in China.

On December 12, 1937 Japanese airplanes sank the Panay, which was a flat bottom gun boat. "We were there to protect oil interests of the United States, England, Italy and France", he explained. In addition to the Panay a Standard Oil boat was also sunk by the Japanese planes. "On July 7th, 1937...the Japanese started firing and bombing all foreign shipping," said Mr. McCabe. "They caught up with me on the 12th", he said.

Mr. McCabe was 22 years old at the time. He had been in the Navy for 4 years, having enlisted in 1933.

"I am one of four of a crew of 54 left from the Panay", said Mr. McCabe.

When he had the Panay shot from under him, he went ashore on a sanpan. Three days following the attack, he was rescued by the American forces and taken to Shanghai, a Chinese port.

Mr. McCabe said he had been informed by the Navy Department that a Pacific Memorial was planned in the Washington area. "They contacted me regarding my service on board the Panay. I have sent them a few things from the Panay and some other Navy items too", explained Mr. McCabe.

Miss Hrupsa was eligible for the contest because she won the pie making contest at this year's Delaware State Fair. 49 other competitors joined Miss Hrupsa at the convention. The entrant from California won the event. The winning pie was a lemon meringue. "It had an unusual meringue, with candy drops in it," she said.

Miss Hrupsa said it was one of the most exciting moments of her life. "I was so excited that when Loretta Lynn came down the line to greet all of us I forgot to tell her that she was my problems. His daughter, Mrs. Oscar Dickerson, with whom he lives, said her father had been a hard working person during his working days. "I know many times after putting in a hard day at work he would return home and stay up all night at my mother's side. There were times when she was just so sick", added Mrs. Dickerson. "He never let anything bother him. He always had the same good natured outlook even when things looked bleak", said Mr. Dickerson, his son-in-law.

Mr. Workman has made his home in Harrington for over 40 years, where he is a member of Asbury United Methodist Church and The Harrington Senior Center. Although he is proud of his native birth in Sussex County he has found peace in Harrington...and Harrington is just a little better off with people like John H. Workman.

After all the money you've invested in your home, Mellon Bank has come up with a great way for your home to pay you back at an astonishing rate.

It's the Mellon Home Equity Personal Credit Line at a mere 5.9 Annual Percentage Rate. This rate will be guaranteed for 90 days from the date your account is opened.

The equity in your home can still shelter you from some taxes.

The interest on home equity credit lines, or at least a portion of it, will be one of the few deductions remaining under the new tax law. Which makes our wonder rate even more wonderful.

With our 5.9% wonder-rate home equity personal credit line, you can write loans when you need them just by writing checks on your credit line account.

You can even use your low-rate credit line to consolidate all your other loans and then make one low payment instead of many. But whatever you use your credit line for, you only pay interest on the amount you borrow. But don't wait. This offer is good for a limited time only.

To take advantage of this special offer or for more information, visit any Mellon office, call Mellon at 1-800-323-7105 or mail in the coupon.

With a Mellon Personal Credit Line you spend less time borrowing money and more time enjoying it. That, after all, is what quality banking is all about.

Guide for parents on teens and drug/alcohol use

The leading cause of death among 15-24 year olds is drinking and driving. One fourth of Delaware's 6th graders admit to having tried alcohol, and by 11th grade almost seventy percent drink regularly. Marijuana has been used by almost half of our high school students. The use of cocaine and its derivative "crack" is on the rise in all of our counties, according to Delaware law enforcement and treatment agencies.

Parents concerned about preventing drug and alcohol abuse by their children, or coping with existing problems, can now get help from a booklet, LET'S FACE THE FACTS, recently published by The YMCA Resource Center and Delaware First.

favorite. I just couldn't believe it", said Miss Hrupsa. After the baking took place there was a luncheon with Miss Lynn.

Miss Hrupsa said "...the people were so warm and friendly". The Hrupsas stayed in the Opryland Hotel and on Wednesday evening they attended the taping of the show "Nashville Now".

The baking was done in the Opryland Pavilion "...which to me was very strange because the floor was dirt and we were working under a tent. That kind of surrounding was strange to me. I am used to my kitchen and stove", she said.

All contestants received a sterling pie server, which had inscribed on it the name of the convention and the state where you lived. Miss Hrupsa also received several other gifts like a Loretta Lynn shirt, baking gifts, cook books and notebook containing the biographies of the contestants.

Mrs. Frank Hrupsa, who accompanied her daughter said she was impressed with a pie made by a Florida contestant. "It did not win, but it was a really unusual pie made of limes. It was called the "Key Lime" and it was just beautiful. It was green naturally...but it was very nice looking and looked delicious", said Mrs. Hrupsa.

Miss Hrupsa said her favorite pie did not win either. It was made by a Georgia contestant who like Miss Deborah Hrupsa made a peach pie. "Her pie crust was made to look like a giant peach. It looked almost like a peach buried in the crust," she said.

Gab Fest

by Pat Hatfield

We are still fighting the battle of the mice. Did I tell you that our little brown dog, "Ladybug" catches them for us? She sits for hours, like a cat, near the places she hears them stirring, and if one pokes his wee head out in the open she nabs him, works him over and leaves him on the floor, very dead, and then goes around looking very smug about the whole thing.

Yesterday, our dear friend, Dawn, was here helping me with chores and she took time to get two traps ready. I have found through the years that one bait which usually works is a bit of absorbent cotton, soaked in bacon fat and tied to the trap securely with a bit of sewing thread. They like the cotton for their nests and they have to tug hard enough to throw the trap.

This morning when I came into the kitchen, one trap had been thrown, but no mouse. The other trap was still intact. But, on the kitchen floor was a very dead mouse that our little dog had left for us. This is the fifth one she has caught in about two weeks.

Now, I can believe in Autumn. Yesterday, Dad brought home a jug of delicious apple cider from Smith's and a bag of big, red, Delicious apples. I must get them washed and polished and arranged in my old wooden trencher. For my personal enjoyment, I shall like them best when they get softer and mellow. I know most people like them crisp and juicy, but I've always been an oddball!!!

Other signs of Autumn are all around us. The leaves are turning and falling and we are waiting to get out the mower and chop them up, leaving them for compost on the good earth.

Dad is out today, grabbing the last of the lima beans before the Frost King comes. The garden is preparing for its winter nap. It has not fared too well in some areas. The field mice have eaten up the turnips and kale, and some invader has destroyed the broccoli and cauliflower. But the rhubarb and strawberry beds are great, and we are already awaiting the spring. We end the season with grateful hearts for the bounty we have received.

This morning I enjoyed pancakes with butter and honey, and I pondered on the reading material that is being circulated now, saying that honey is dangerous for small children, and they must not be given any. It's a good thing we did not know this when I was a child, or I would have never lived to grow up. I spent a lot of time in my grandfather's home, and he was a beekeeper. He raised seven healthy children, who all ate honey, and so did the grandchildren when we came along. If we had sore throats, grandmother would administer a big spoonful of honey to heal and soothe.

Why has it suddenly become dangerous for small children? Have the bees changed their recipe? Or is it the chemicals that are sprayed on the blossoms?

Episcopal Bishop of Delaware consecrated

In a ceremony full of color, magnificent music and great dignity, Calvin Cabell Tennis was consecrated ninth Bishop of Delaware. The consecration liturgy took place on Saturday, November 8, at St. Helena's Roman Catholic Church in Wilmington.

Bishop Tennis, a native of Hampton, Virginia, was practicing lawyer before he entered Virginia Theological Seminary in Arlington, from which he received the Master of Divinity degree in 1964. After serving churches in Portsmouth, Virginia and Buffalo, New York, he became Dean of St. Mark's Cathedral in Seattle, Washington. Tennis is elected Bishop of Delaware at a special diocesan convention in June of 1986.

Bishop Tennis is married to the former Hyde Southhall Jones. The couple has four children.

At the consecration liturgy on Saturday, the Rt. Rev'd. Arthur Heath Light, Bishop of the Diocese of Southwestern Virginia and President of Province III of the Episcopal Church, served as consecrating bishop. The Presiding Bishop of the Episcopal Church, the Most Rev'd. Edmond Browning, was unable to attend because of illness. More than twelve bishops of the Episcopal Church, including retired bishops of Delaware J. Brooke Mosley and William H. Clark, participated in the laying-on-of-hands of the new bishop.

After the ordination of the new bishop, symbolic gifts were presented. Bishop Tennis received the tradition gifts of a Bible, a cross, the episcopal ring, the bishop's crozier and a crosier of oil. In addition to these gifts, the new bishop was given a plumbline, as in the Book of the Prophet Amos, with these words:

"Receive this plumbline as an ancient sign of prophecy. Be faithful and courageous in opposing evil and oppression." After the presentation of the gifts, the congregation of clergy and laity of the Diocese of Delaware joined with the new bishop in renewing their faith and commitment to Jesus Christ.

The Rev'd. Susan Mills, Vicar of St. Stephen's Church, Harrington, and Diocesan Liturgical Officer, served as liturgical deacon for the rite. She read the gospel, prepared the table for Holy Communion and gave the dismissal.

The Very Rev'd. Alan Jones, Dean of Grace Cathedral, San Francisco, was preacher. Dean Jones is author of several books on Christian spirituality, including Journey into Christ and Living in the Spirit.

Several members of St. Stephen's Church in Harrington participated in the liturgy. Helen and Robert McNally, Barbara Mangel, Viva Poore, Theresa Walters, Joan Winkler, Virginia Schweiger, Anne Reeve, and Margaret McGinnis sang in the diocesan-wide choir. Ellen Perry served as usher, Linda Poore served as acolyte and Karen Crouse carried St. Stephen's banner in procession.

On Sunday, November 9th, James Fleming and Richard Seely, Wardens of St. Stephen's Church, represented the parish at the Installation of the Ninth Bishop of Delaware at the Cathedral Church of St. John in Wilmington. During the installation service, representatives of the churches of the diocese presented to the new bishop gifts symbolizing the life of their parishes.

The people of the Episcopal Diocese of Delaware look forward to the long and fruitful tenure of their ninth Bishop, the Rt. Rev'd. C. Cabell Tennis.

Spartan boys, girls are second in Conference run

by Keith S. Burgess

Mark Tozer recorded a 17 second win over Milford's Chris Ayres, as Jim Blades' Lake Forest cross-country team ran perhaps its' best meet of the season, November 5, at Killen's Pond State Park.

Tozer's 16.52 for 5,000 meters led his team to a strong, second-place finish, against a powerful Caesar Rodney team, in the ten-team Henlopen Conference Championship Run.

Tozer's six teammates each set new, personal records. Mike Eck was sensational, with a great 17.54 clocking, 34 seconds faster than he had ever run here. This earned him all-Henlopen Conference honors. Also he rose to No. 4 on the 1984-5-6 ranking chart, that is displayed in the Lake Forest lobby. Of all the harriers, at Lake Forest, for the last three autumns and there have been some good ones, Eck trails only Mark Tozer, and the graduated Mike Melvin and Danny Haines, in home course clockings and he's only a sophomore, in his first cross-country season Mike was seventh in the Henlopen meet.

Seniors Eric Payne and William Deputy finished 12th and 13th, respectively, with solid outings in 18.22 (Payne) and 18.24. Deputy is also a first-year harrier. Steve Clute was 13 seconds faster than before in 18th place.

Steve is not blessed with the natural talent of some of his teammates, but is one of the hardest workers on the squad and gets good results. He will be one of the key returners, for 1987.

No. 6 and No. 7 Spartans, Alvin Hudson and Jon Kane ran 30th and 31st. Hudson is a senior, who will be missed. Kane a sophomore has had some good outings and can move up in the team rankings, next season with the graduations of Payne, Deputy and Hudson.

Tozer ran the second fastest clocking at Killen's Pond, this fall. He also owns the fastest (16.43) done in the one-sided dual meet win over Milford, on October 7. Mark won this meet also, in 1985.

Lake Forest was able to break-up the five man Caesar Rodney pack, as the duo of Payne and Deputy beat the No. 5 man. C.R.'s score was 35 points, with the Spartans getting 51. Milford was a distant third, with Woodbridge, who beat Milford in their dual meet, a close fourth.

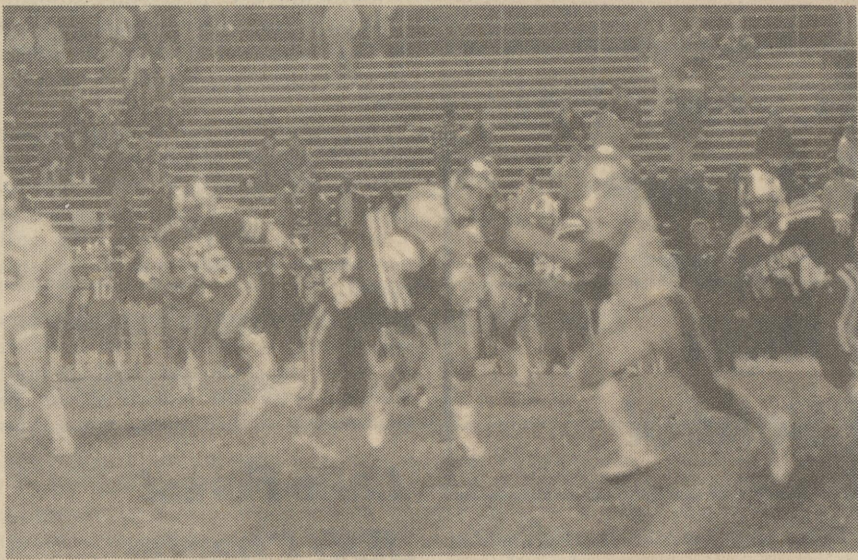

In the girl's meet, Lake Forest received solid performances and finished second to Cape Henlopen.

The Spartan's had an unbeaten dual meet season, so Cape's win on November 5 means the Spartans and Vikings will share Henlopen distaff honors. Cape had 32 points, Lake Forest 41, with Caesar Rodney third with 75 points.

Lorraine Lake and Melanie Pelton were fourth and fifth, behind super Cape runners, Chris Snarsky and Sonja Friend and C.R. standout, Jill Riblett. Both Spartan girls were within a few seconds of their personal bests.

Tara Dixon, in eighth, had the top performance for her team, in the race, clocking 23.16 compared to her previous best of 24.39. Freshman Stephanie Allen, 10th in 23.41, missed her mark by only 4 seconds.

Finally, sophomore Julie Betts, was under a doctor's care and could have stayed out of the race. But Julie is made of stern stuff. She knew her team needed her so the ailing Betts turned in her fastest clocking of 19.86, coming in 14th. All the Spartans ran well. They were beaten only because Cape had first and second sewed up and Mock, Campo and Moore of Cape Henlopen improved drastically in the one week interval since the Spartans beat the Vikings, to end an unbeaten dual-meet season.

Dover storms past Spartans 26 - 0

by Mike Dill

A rejuvenated Dover High School football team, rebounding from a four game losing streak, used a well-balanced running and passing to defeat the Lake Forest Spartans 26-0.

Dover was led by the backfield of quarterback Willie Moore and running backs Sylvester Wilson and Rodney Organ.

Moore was eight out of ten passing with 113 yards and Wilson and Organ gained 85 and 123 yards on the ground apiece.

The Spartans were not as well off offensively as turnovers and bad field position plagued the team.

After both teams muddled through a rainy first quarter and most of the second, Dover struck first on a 30 yard Moore touchdown pass to end Tim Rosello with 2:14 left in the first half.

On the ensuing kickoff the Spartans could not gain a first down to run out the clock and they had to punt. Bobby Reed's punt was short and Dover took over on the Spartan's 46 yard line.

From there, Dover drove to the Spartan two yard line where Wilson scored just before the end of the half to make the score 13-0 Dover.

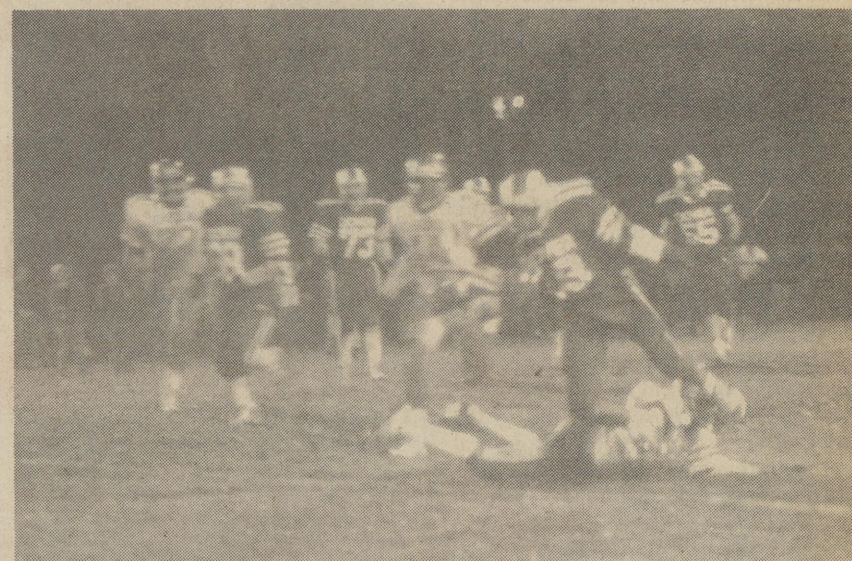

The final Dover touchdown at the end of the half seemed to take the life out of the Spartans. Dover took the opening kickoff of the second half and drove 54 yards and scored on an one yard touchdown by Organ.

Dover added their final touchdown in the fourth quarter on a one yard touchdown by Dover tailback James Oxford.

The loss puts the Spartans' overall record at 1-6-1 and divisional record at 1-2-1, good for third place in the Southern Division. The Spartans have two games remaining, one with division foe Laurel and arch-rival Milford.

Chipman downs Milford 18 - 8

by Mike Dill

The W.T. Chipman football team jumped out to a 12-0 halftime lead and coasted to a 18-8 win over the Milford Blue Devils.

The team was well rested and ready for Milford after a two week layoff. The win was especially sweet as the team defeated their arch-rivals to the West.

"I was really happy we didn't have a penalty all day", said Spartan line coach Mike Gygyrnuk.

"We prepared for two weeks (having an opening on October 30) for Milford and we were ready."

"Milford had problems moving the ball, and their penalties and fumbles helped us out," added Gygyrnuk.

Chipman got first half touchdowns from quarterback Greg Porter and running back Mike Smith and a second half TD by running back Herman Moseley.

"We are 2-3 and we are headed to Dover on the 13th of November for our season finale. I really hope we can end our season on a winning note and finish .500."

Ward exhibit at Museum of Natural History

The Ward Foundation will present a major exhibit of wildfowl sculptures at the National Museum of Natural History in Washington, D.C. from January through May 1987.

The history of decoy carving began when hunters cut crude duck figures from wood and used them to lure game birds toward their blinds. Later, as the limits and restrictions on wildfowl hunting increased, miniature decoys became both a souvenir of a successful hunting trip and an extra source of cash for the hunters.

The working decoy exhibit will feature the works of many of the early carvers of the lower Eastern Shore. On display will be a Pintail series by Lem and Steve Ward, a Golden Eye by Noah Sterling, and a Teal Pair by Lloyd

Twin Trifecta, new tote coming to Dover Downs

DOVER, DE--Dover Downs is going to have the Twin Trifecta for the first time in history when the track debuts its 1986-87 harness racing season on Sunday, November 16th. Post time on opening day will be 1 p.m. A new United Tote sell-cash computer system will also be operational by opening day.

Dover Downs Mutuel Manager, Frank Wise, has given three weeks of intensive training to mutuel clerks in order to insure the staff will be prepared to handle the large crowd expected for the free parking, free admission first day of racing.

The Twin Trifecta has been very popular at Delaware Park, Brandywine and Harrington raceways recently.

The bet involves selecting the first three horses in two consecutive designated races. Those selecting the first three finishers win a cash amount equal to one-half of the net amount bet in the Twin Trifecta pool that day. Also they may exchange their winning ticket and make an attempt to select the first three finishers in the second half of the Twin Trifecta.

The Twin Trifecta pool builds up whenever no one correctly selects the first three finishers in the second half. Earlier this year at Harrington the Twin Trifecta got up to $60,000 and at Delaware Park this summer the Twin Trifecta pool reached over $500,000.

Following opening day, the 1986-87 harness schedule will have racing each Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Post times are 8 p.m. everyday except for Sunday, which will carry a 1 p.m. post.

Sterling all of Crisfield, Md. Also featured will be a Merganser Pair by Ira Hudson, a Swan by Charles Birch and a Pintail Pair by Dave Watson all of Chincoteague, Va.

The exhibit is free and open to the public. For more information, contact the Ward Foundation, 655 S. Salisbury, Salisbury, Md. 21801. Phone (301) 742-4988.

Dana Hicks wins local Century III award Moves to state competition

Dana Hicks, a senior at Lake Forest High School, has been named the school's top Century III Leader, according to Ronald L. Burrows, Principal.

The seventeen year-old is now eligible to compete with other local winners from the State for one of two $1,500 scholarships and an all-expense paid trip to the national Century III Leaders Conference, slated for March 6-9, 1987, in Colonial Williamsburg, Va. State winners will compete for the national winner's prize of an additional $10,000 scholarship.

The Century III Leaders program is designed to bring together and recognize student leaders who show both strong leadership abilities and an interest in the future of America. Dana was judged on the basis of leadership skills, school and community involvement, and a current events examination. She also wrote a short essay on a particular issue that challenges America in its third century.

This is the twelfth year of the Century III Leaders program, which awards a total of $218,500 in scholarships to 204 young leaders. Century III is sponsored and administered by the National Association of Secondary School

Dana Hicks

Career Fair at Lake Forest High School

Officials at Lake Forest High School report that students and staff will experience a different schedule on the morning of Tuesday, November 25.

The school's guidance department, in cooperation with the Educational Resources Association of Delaware and the Lake Forest High School Student Government Association, is sponsoring a school-wide career fair for the day's first two periods.

Over 35 representatives from a variety of career areas will make presentations. Students have scheduled two different career fields for each of the day's first two periods. They will receive first-hand information from an individual currently working in the area.

The guidance department surveyed students to determine interests. Career representatives were assigned through ERA. The school's SGA is assisting with posters, guides and scheduling.

LF students to participate in D.C. seminars

FELTON-The Close Up Foundation, the nation's largest government studies program, has once again invited Lake Forest High School to participate in a week long series of seminars in Washington, D.C. Lake Forest students will participate with several hundred other students and teachers from other states during the week of February 22, 1987.

This is the second year that Lake Forest High School has been invited to attend the program, according to Amy Reed-Moore, the Close Up teacher at Lake Forest High School, who will accompany the students to the nation's capital.

Close Up, a nonprofit, nonpartisan educational foundation, was founded in 1970 to acquaint high school students with the federal system of government. Since then, more than 180,000 participants from across the country have taken part in the program.

"Close Up takes students out of the traditional classroom and places them in the classroom of Washington, D.C., where lobbyists teach them about lobbying, journalists cover the media, and members of Congress explain the legislative branch and current issues," Reed-Moore said. "In addition, members of the Close Up staff work with the students from early morning to late at night."

The students will participate in several workshops in which they may share their views. In addition, time will be allowed for a tour of the city and for such social activities as a live theater performance and a final banquet and dance.

Mrs. Reed-Moore will participate in a teacher program designed to give her new insight into the actual workings of government, which can be carried back to the classroom once the week is completed.

The Lake Forest students and Reed-Moore may also participate in a national television program produced by CLOSE UP and telecast over the C-SPAN cable network. The programs, divided into several series, are designed for use in high school classrooms and in the home and are funded with grants from the duPont Company and RJR Nabisco, Inc.

CLOSE UP awards limited fellowship funds for a teacher and low-to-moderate income student to each invited school. CLOSE UP seeks matching funds from local corporate, business and philanthropic organizations to make the fellowships available to additional schools.

Blades named Coach of the year

The secret was the emergence of Stephanie Allen, a 9th grader who gave us the 5th girl we could count on...and needed", said an excited Coach Blades. Stephanie Allen was always there from 3rd on up. "She shows a lot of endurance...and the speed might come later. She has a bright future running for Lake Forest", said Coach Blades.

In the last five years coaching girls cross-country teams, Coach Blades has lost only one meet. That means a record of 25-1.

Although the boys cross-country did not win their conference for the 3rd straight year, they were 8-1. "For the past three years we have been bridesmaids going 24-3", added Coach Blades. 1979 was the last undefeated season for the Spartans.

This was a building year for the Spartans. Mark Tozer came through as expected as did Eric Payne, but they were returnees to the squad. Others who held their own and have a good prospect for the future are Steve Clute, Mike Eck, William Deputy, John Kane and Alvin Hudson. "The last two mentioned really solidified us. They are ones we can look to in the future", concluded Coach Blades.

Coach Blades urged Tozer and Payne to take the summer off. "I just thought they had run themselves out last year. You won't even pick up a shoe, I told them...and it looks like that paid off", he added.

For Coach Blades, he appears to be right on top of his game. He too has a bright future as he brings a little sunshine to Lake Forest. But Jim Blades...there is only so much time that you can labor down in the vineyards. There is a different calling, and sooner or later you will realize it too.

The Breeders Crown was raced at Pompano on Friday night. Worth $496,840 for 2 year-old trotting colts, it was Mack Lobell who pulled off the win in 1:59.1 a track record. Huckfinder was 2nd and Nevelle Olympian 3rd.
Sales Girl won on Friday night for Eddie Davis in 1:57. Eddie had 4 wins this night. It looks like he is returning to form and it appears that Sales Girl is starting to peak for the year.
Saturday at Roscroft Redskin won the Presidential Pace for 2 year-old colt pacers in 1:58.1. It was worth $296,406, with Track Robbery second and Dictionary getting the show.

COLUMBUS, OH --- JEF's Spice, undefeated over four starts in the past month, including a win in the Breeders Crown, has been named Horse of the Month for October by The United States Trotting Association.
The 3 year-old daughter of Super Bowl began the month by winning a modest $2,500 purse at Lexington's Red Mile -- but doing so in the impressive time of 1:55-2/5, beating older males in the process.
After a 13 day layoff, she led at every call to win the $60,441 Lady Suffolk at Roosevelt. The Breeders Crown at Freehold was next. In the Crown, she didn't disappoint. Her 2:01 victory, coming at the expense of Shipp's Dream and Armbr Ermine, sent her into a showdown with Britelite Lobell.
From her spot along the rail, driver William O'Donnell sent her to the top, where she held Britelite at bay every step of the mile before drawing out to a length and one-quarter win in 1:59 -- a new all-age track trotting record. With her win in the $353,138 Crown final, she became the first horse to win the event at both two and three.
Owned by JEF's Standardbred Country Club, of Sacramento, California, and The North Woodland Stables, of Englewood, New Jersey, JEF's Spice pushed her season's bankroll to $632,423. She has won 13 of 21 starts in 1986, finishing worse than third on only one occasion.

At Yonkers on Saturday night in the $100,000 On The Road Again Pace it was Dignitarian getting the win for Buddy Gilmour over Anxious Robby and Energy Burner.
At Sportsman's park on Saturday in the American National for aged trotters, No Devil with Tom Harmer got the win in 2:01 over Master Willie and Lu's Priority got the show.
The Breeders Crown will return to Garden State Park on Friday night. There are 8 races under the Crown...a 3 year-old colt and gelding pace, and trot. A 2 year-old and gelding pace, and a 3 year-old filly pace. Sales Girl will be in one of the events.
Leading dash winners are Mike Lachance with 658, Bill Gale with 409, Herve Filion with 398, John Campbell-391 and Doug Snyder with 358. The leading money winners are John Campbell with $8.7 million, Bill O'Donnell with $7.3 million, Mike Lachance with $5.7, Herve Filion with $3,029 million and Buddy Gilmour with $3,028 million closing in on Herve.

Spartans win ninth State run title, Milford disqualified

by Keith S. Burgess
In 1957 this writer, Keith S. Burgess, then a Harrington High School board member, talked by telephone to Frank Newlin, Wilmington's director of Parks and Recreation. Newlin had started cross-country, in the Wilmington area, in the early fifties. The first state champion, Vic Zwolak of Salesianum, later ran in the 1964 Tokyo Olympic Games.

so we won't make this accusation.
There was a bad taste in sports fans' mouths, Saturday, but it was not caused by anyone being out to get Milford.
The sport is the loser here, along with the Milford kids, who apparently ran one of the best races of the season.
Lake Forest had beaten Milford seven times in as many meetings this fall. None of the meetings was close. The Spartans, three days earlier had all seven men, turn in outstanding performances, in rain, wind and cold. Six had personal bests.
Saturday, the team which is easily the best Group II team, in the state, did not have one runner set a season low, despite the excitement of being in the state meet.
These kids are not machines. They can't be "up" every start. Some may have started too fast, some may have had trouble handling the pressure. There may be almost as many reasons, as there are runners. But seldom would you see every Spartan have an "off" day at the same time.
We will ignore the question of whether or not Milford's tactics, the use of one or two extra people, affected the final scoring.
Milford's Chris Ayres is the state champion, as his 16:34, broke Mark Tozer's course mark of 16:41. Tozer ran second, but actually did not hurt the Spartan's chances too much. The Bucs Rich Stevenson and Klaus Sellman were sixth and seventh, but were 24 and 27 seconds, slower than they had been three days before, when Lake Forest trounced Milford by 29 points, in the Conference meet.
Chris Kenton was a definite key, for Milford, as he ran 18:33 for 12th place, right on the heels of Eric Payne and William Deputy of Lake Forest who did 18:32. Steve Clute and Mike Eck were 20th and 22nd, respectively, to complete Lake Forest's scoring five.
The most talented team, in Group II, today holds another state champion trophy. They may not have been the best team, Saturday. Perhaps they have shown just how good they are, when all seven men could not approach their best performances and still they were outscored, by only four points.
After the disqualification, Lake Forest was the winner with Woodbridge getting the second place trophy. The Blue Raiders with the consistent Kyle Daugherty, in 5th and Vance Callaway, in 13th, Hollis Smack 14th and Pace, Probst, Camper and White, put forth a good effort. Woodbridge was one of three Henlopen teams to beat Milford, in dual meet competition.
Tatnall of Wilmington, Mt. Pleasant, Claymont, Archmere, were next in the 15-team competition.
The Spartans had an excellent season, especially considering that they lost, Haggerty, Mosley, Powell, and the Torgerson twins from the 1985 squad. The Spartans had a 9-1 dual meet season and were second to Oxford, Pa. in the four-state Lake Forest Invitational. The locals were also second, in the Salisbury, Spingarn D.C. Invationals and in the Kent County and Henlopen meets. Next season the locals have a fine nucleus returning as the goal will be a 30th, straight winning season.

We had just seen our first cross-country meet. We thought it was a fine alternative to football for the many people, who really shouldn't play football because of a lack of size or for a myriad of other reasons.
We asked Newlin if he would accept one runner from Harrington High, as an entrant in the upcoming state championship meet. Frank said O.K. but the kid could not be anything but an unofficial entrant. Newlin stated that an official team could have a minimum of five and a maximum of seven runners. He would allow a single Harrington High School runner only because he wanted to see cross-country get started downstate.
In 1957, no one south of Conrad High, a school close to Wilmington had the sport.
The seven runner limit on teams, in the state meet, is never waived. In a very few multi-team meets, the limit is sometimes extended, but that extension is well publicized long before the fact.
Now we have a former Caesar Rodney star runner and veteran coach, Joe McDonald of Milford High, who ran eight or nine runners, in the state meet. His team apparently was the winner, but clearly broke the rules and was disqualified, giving Lake Forest, a ninth state title.
A couple of head coaches and several fans saw the extra runner or runners and a protest was lodged.
The Milford Coach stated that he wanted to give a deserving senior a chance to run in the state meet. Why? The runner would always know he was not really competing, in the state meet because he would be waved off the course and not allowed to finish. This action was done in front of everyone.
Bill Conley of Glasgow High, the meet director, stated that extra runners can effect the scoring. Sometimes an illegal, entrant may have good speed, but not hold up too well, over three miles. He starts out fast, passing some rivals, who are counting jerseys, because their coach may have said to them "You must beat all of those guys but two for us to win". Suddenly the extra man shoots by, early in the race. The legal team's runners breathing, their race perception, the number of kids they are counting in their minds are distorted, when they see that extra jersey go by.
Also, suppose a coach tells his sixth and seventh runners "Both of you must beat at least two of that team's runners, if we are to win today." So you pass two of these rivals, then relax because you have done your job. Then you cross the finish and find the two men you beat were the other team's eighth and ninth runners, who aren't supposed to be there in the first place.
We can think of one other situation, where an extra runner or two could effect the outcome greatly, but we have no proof that this was the case Saturday,

Spartan girls meet bad luck in State Title run

by Keith S. Burgess
Lake Forest's Spartan girls were running in a hard luck situation, Saturday, in the state meet.
The five girls figuring to score well for Lake Forest High School, were short No. 5 runner, Julie Betts, who was ill, Melanie Pelton, who has been No. 1 or No. 2, all season, became ill during the race and finished sixth, on the Spartan team.
Lorraine Lake, who has alternated with Pelton, in the top two spots, on the team, was 20th, in the race, with Stephanie Allen, a fine Freshman prospect, in 27th.

Senator Minner's column

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the many citizens who participated in last week's election and expressed their voice in our democratic form of government.

As an elected official, I am extremely sensitive to the fact that many eligible citizens do not participate in the electoral process and, therefore, leave the selection of our representatives in government to a small, but vocal, group of citizens.

In addition, I would like to encourage those who did vote to continue participating in the process by informing officials in all levels of government their views and ideas for addressing future concerns and issues.

Only through the active participation of our citizens can we expect to truly have a government "of the people, by the people and for the people."

The convening of the 134th General Assembly will probably take place before the traditional second Tuesday in January since the Senate will have to return for a Special Session sometime within the next month to consider a judicial nomination and the House of Representatives is reported to return to session in December to work on legislation regarding the "sunsetting" of Optometry.

My efforts for this session will remain similar to the work I have completed in year's past, concentrating on securing bond bill funding for road and highway work needed in our district, pursuing an aggressive role for protecting our environment and maintaining our state's economic stability.

I have, however, begun to work on a few problems I have identified during the recess which will warrant immediate attention during the next session.

I have been meeting with Mr. Robert Voshell, of the Division of Motor Vehicles, to discuss possible solutions to the current problems regarding uninsured motorists. This problem is reaching crisis proportions in our state and Mr. Voshell has committed to work with me and other interested legislators to address this concern as soon as possible.

I will also continue my efforts with ethics and Senate rules reform and better communications with the Department of Transportation concerning local bridge closings and repairs.

With the hunting season upon us, I would like to remind the sportsmen in our community to remember safety rules and bag regulations during the various seasons.

Every year we hear of tragic stories of injury resulting from careless behavior. Please be careful!

Hasenfus: Idealistic Freedom Fighter? CIA Agent? or Greedy Mercenary?

by David F. Coady

On October 6, 1986, a C-123 Transport plane was shot down over Nicaragua. The lone survivor was the Loadmaster, Eugene Hasenfus, of Wisconsin. The plane was carrying arms and ammunition for the Nicaraguan Democratic Force (FDN) which is fighting the Communist Sandinista Government. This act, in itself is either heroic or an aggressive act of war, depending on your political point of view.

Let's analyze it from the perspective that it is good to be fighting Communism. If Eugene Hasenfus, a Marine Veteran of Viet Nam, and former employee of the CIA, operated "Air America", was in fact, working the FDN because he believed in their cause, then he is to be congratulated. He should not, however, expect that the United States Government has any responsibility to assist him.

Since the founding days of this Republic, Americans have always assisted other peoples in their fights for Freedom's cause. From John Paul Jones, commanding the Russian Navy to General Chennault leading the Flying Tigers in China, Americans have answered the call, even when their Government has not.

If, on the other hand, Eugene Hasenfus was a CIA Agent, he knew the consequences of his action: "If captured, we will deny all knowledge of your actions; you will be on your own". If he talks too much, he will, or should be, terminated. End of story.

The third possibility is "Greedy Mercenary". Those that want to cash in on other peoples' misery. They deserve no pity and hopefully, they will get what they deserve.

The question facing the public is: which description best describes Eugene Hasenfus? I, personally, hope that it is "Idealistic Freedom Fighter".

As the adage goes: "Anything is fair in love and war". Anything that young Mr. Hasenfus says to gain his own release, or at least avoid the hangman's noose, is fair. I can assure you, that put in the same situation, I would be doing some fast talking.

Eugene Hasenfus was probably working at the third or fourth level of CIA covert operation. Everyone spoke of someone who knew another person, who knew someone that was a CIA operative. In other words, Hasenfus was not a CIA Agent or Operative. He further claims that he was paid three thousand dollars per month - fairly good money, but by no stretch of the imagination, "big bucks".

For an American Serviceman not to win a war is a very heavy burden, indeed, to carry. There are many Korean and Viet Nam Veterans who proved this point. Until the 1950's, American Servicemen have been used to victory. Go to any VFW or American Legion Post and say that you are a Viet Nam or Korean Vet, and someone will inevitably respond, "Oh? I won my war!"

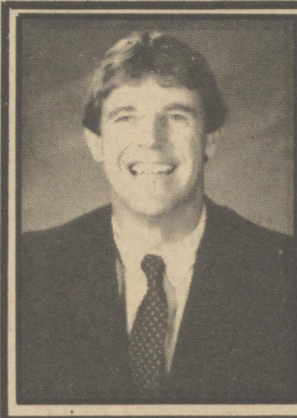

It is with this personal knowledge, that I defend Eugene Hasenfus. After Viet Nam, there were no "welcome home" parades; only rejection, by an uncaring American public. While the "war" was still in progress, many a returning Serviceman was spit upon by someone screaming "baby killer!"

Being a Viet Nam Veteran is something akin to having fought for the Confederacy during the War Between the States, and then moving north to make your living. You are as popular as a "Priest in a brothel".

Feeling rejected, and subsequently dejected, a very disgruntled Eugene Hasenfus searched for a "War to Win". With his background, it was only a matter of time before he was flying war supplies to the FDN. Bad luck, though, still followed him, and his plane was shot down. His only hope now is that the Sandinistas Government, hoping to make "good press" will release him in time for him to be home for Christmas.

If there is anything to be learned from the Hasenfus affair, I can't seem to find it, unless it is: THE NEXT WAR WE FIND OURSELVES IN, LET'S WIN IT!

NOTE: David F. Coady is Chairman of the Conservative Caucus of Lower Delaware, and is a Veteran of the U.S. Marine Corps, the Rhodesian Army and the South African Army.

"Decisions"

Decisions should not be made until sufficient consideration is given to all possible consequences of the settlement.

So it is with the myriad of choices constantly thrust in the direction of those who administer to local school systems.

One approach generally practiced in investigating the possible consequences of a decision is to offer a patient ear to all those who have a vested interest in the results of the decision.

The danger in so doing is the temptation to surrender the responsibility for making the decision to the various interested parties. To do so would be to fail to assume the professional obligation entrusted in the school officials.

Rather, they must feel confident in the decisions they make, comfortable that they have gathered sufficient information, prepared to "take the heat" and ready to communicate to the public. For, like the umpire at a baseball game, it is seldom the case that the decision, when rendered, is to everyone's satisfaction.

Citizens have a responsibility to provide for the officials a perspective perhaps unknown to the educators prior to the process. They must be patient and understanding when the final verdict is revealed.

To provide input is essential; to question is critical; to demonstrate support is of paramount importance.

To decide is the obligation of the official responsible for the area of school operations.

The State of the Union 200 years ago

by George Washington

EDITORS' NOTE: As part of our commemoration of the bicentennial of the Constitution, the New Federalist Papers provides the text of a letter written by George Washington 200 years ago assessing the state of the union at that time. The introduction is by the editors.

Two hundred years ago this week, George Washington wrote to his young friend, James Madison, giving his candid assessment of the state of the American Union. He expressed his concern about the possibility that several state governments might vote for "paper emissions," that is, for deliberate inflation of the money supply by means of large quantities of paper money not backed by gold or silver. He was also apprehensive the Shays's Rebellion, which had just broken out in Massachusetts, might spread to other areas of the country. Washington saw one area of hope. The Federal Convention was scheduled to meet in six months. Washington hoped that the convention would provide for an effective federal government and reformation of the "national creed."

THE NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE HUMANITIES PROVIDES MAJOR FUNDING FOR THE NEW FEDERALIST PAPERS.

Mount Vernon
5th November, 1786

My Dear Sir,

The decision of the House (of Burgesses) on the question respecting a paper emission, is portentous I hope, of an auspicious session. It may certainly be classed among the important questions of the present day; and merited the serious consideration of the Assembly. Fain would I hope, that the great and most important of all objects - the federal government -- may be considered with that calm and deliberate attention which the magnitude of it so loudly calls for at this critical moment. Let prejudices, unreasonable jealousies, and local interest yield to reason and liberality. Let us look to our national character, and to things beyond the present period. No more ever dawned more favourable than ours did -- and no day was ever more clouded than the present! Wisdom and good examples are necessary at this time to rescue the political machine for the impending storm. Virginia has now an opportunity to set the latter, and has enough of the former, I hope, to take the lead in promoting this great and arduous work. Without some alteration in our political creed, the superstructure we have been seven years raising at the expense of much blood and treasure, must fall. We are fast verging to anarchy and confusion!

A letter which I have just received from General Knox, who had just returned from Massachusetts (whither he had been sent by Congress consequent of the commotion in that state) is replete with melancholy information of the temper and designs of a considerable part of that people. Among other things he says, "their creed is, that the property of the United States, has been protected from confiscation of Britain by the joint exertions of all, and therefore ought to be the common property of all. And he that attempts opposition to this creed is an enemy to equity and justice, and ought to be swept off the face of the Earth." Again "they are determined to annihilate all debts, public and private, and have agrarian laws, which are easily effected by the means of unfunded paper money which shall be a tender in all cases whatever." He adds, "The numbers of these people amount in Massachusetts to about one fifth part of several populous counties, and to these may be collected people of similar sentiments from the states of Rhode Island, Connecticut and New Hampshire, so as to constitute a body of twelve or fifteen thousand desperate, and unprincipled men. They are chiefly of the young and active part of the community."

How melancholy is the reflection, that in so short a space, we should have made such large strides towards fulfilling the prediction of our transatlantic foe! "Leave them to themselves, and their government will soon dissolve." Will not the wise and good strive hard to avert this evil? Or will their supineness suffer ignorance and the arts of self interested designing disaffected and desperate characters, to involve this rising empire in wretchedness and contempt? What stronger evidence can be given of the want of energy in our governments than these disorders? If there exists not a power to check them, what security has a man of life, liberty, or property?

To you, I am sure I need not add aught on this subject. The consequences of a lax, or inefficient government, are too obvious to be dwelt on. Thirteen sovereignties pulling against each other, and all tugging at the federal head will soon bring ruin on the whole; whereas a liberal, and energetic Constitution, well guarded and closely watched to prevent encroachments, might restore us to that degree of respectability and consequence to which we had a fair claim and the brightest prospect of attaining.

With sentiments of the sincerest esteem and regard I am, Dear Sir, your most obedient and affectionate humble servant,

George Washington

Liberties lost in the balance

by Joseph S. Fulda

One of today's major functions of the Supreme Court is to decide between competing claims based on the fights of the parties to the dispute. In balancing the parties' rights, at least one side and often both sides find their rights circumscribed.

As we shall show by means of several examples, this function of the High Court (and for that matter, lower courts and legislators as well) would be rendered nugatory in a libertarian society. In each case there is some underlying government intervention which forces the conflict between the liberties of the parties and makes a choice between them inevitable.

Consider for example the issue of prayer in the public schools. Proponents say, correctly, that the founders of the Republic never meant to exclude God from the classroom, that prayer has never harmed a soul, that it remains voluntary. Opponents argue, correctly, that students who are "different" and don't pray with the group will be singled out for unpopularity and that a child under such undue pressure has no volition to speak of. They add, correctly, that parents, not schools, should minister to the religious needs and beliefs of children.

And so the issue is left to the Supreme Court to decide. An unending stream of cases: Moments of silence, student-led prayer groups, prayer after school hours but on school property, and the like, is the result. Whatever the court decides, however and no matter how carefully or idiosyncratically it draws the line between the religious liberty and educational freedom of the various constituencies, someone must surrender a piece of his freedom.

When I am asked whether I favor prayer in the public schools, however, the answer is quite a bit simpler: No lines to be drawn, no careful circumscriptions of rights, and no balancing of one man's liberty against that of another. "I do not favor public schools," I reply, "and therefore do not reach your questions."

The key to the controversy is not "prayer" but "public." It is the underlying government intervention of compulsory schooling and tax-financed, government schools which forces the competing claims to a head. Were the schools to be all private, there would be no problem, as each parent selected the school which best meets the interests of his or her child as the parent defines it.

As another example, consider the demonstrations led by neo-Nazis in Jewish areas. Opponents say, correctly, that hatred has no place in a society of refugees, diverse ethnic groups and freedom. They add, correctly, that such "speech" was never intended to be free by the Founders, who made a careful distinction between freedom and license. Proponents say, correctly, that the test of free speech in a free society is only met when that which is spoken is repugnant to the great majority of people. They add, correctly, that truth is best served by an unbridled freedom of expression and that hatred is unlikely to take root in today's benevolent America.

Again, however, someone must surrender his liberty, no matter how the question is decided. Were streets to be private property, as libertarians have proposed, the owners would determine what may or may not take place on their property and the government would not be called on to choose between its citizens. With public ownership of the streets and by-ways of America there is simply no way for the government to accommodate both the claims of those who wish a public forum and those who do not want their sensibilities lacerated by the promulgation of such vicious, vituperative, empty speech.

Most controversies of the day can be reduced to an underlying government intervention. Thus, similar to our first example, we have the furor over sex education, phonics and reading, values clarification, evolution and Creation, and the like. Likewise, public religious groups in public areas are all similar to our second example. In each case the controversy would disappear with privatization, and the rights of all parties would be respected.
