

Lake Forest School Board honors students and adopts budget

by Colleen Lilly

Turnout at Monday night's Lake Forest Board of Education meeting was overwhelming. Over fifty parents and teachers showed up as forty eight of Lake Forest High School's outstanding athletes and Future Farmers of America (FFA) were honored for their overall school participation.

"We have a number of students who perform at a level where teachers and coaches take notice. We're promoting a program where students perform on and off the field," said Lake Forest School Superintendent Dr. James VanSciver.

On-the-field, players took awards for outstanding performance in field hockey, soccer, football and cross country. Off-the-field, members of the Delaware FFA placed first statewide in horticulture, in land judging, and in the computer squad. They also placed second in parliamentary procedure.

Lake Forest Principal Ron Burrows praised the success of the FFA program and the students involved. "They're a neat group of kids," he said.

One of the most noteworthy awards taken by the Lake Forest students was first place in the FFA Creed Speaking Contest. Kim Dannenhauer recited her award winning creed for parents and board members.

"You can see why she was outstanding," said Dr. VanSciver.

After recognizing the students for their performance, the Lake Forest School Board turned its meeting toward the financial end of running the school district by adopting an operating budget of $3,245,635 for the 1987 school year.

The 1987 budget surpasses 1986's by approximately $400,000. The majority of the increase comes from the state's effort to balance out inequities in funding within its three counties.

While Dr. VanSciver notes little has changed in the school district's budget, he said the most significant change was the addition of approximately $2,500 for the professional development of the district's staff.

Outside influences, such as lower fuel rates and lower interest rates, created estimated declines in the budget for 1987. The state anticipates spending approximately $19,000 less in fuel costs, while locally, interest on school funding is expected to drop $20,000.

School district Business Manager Richard Moretti contributed the drop in interest on school funding to the current 5.18 percent money markets.

"We're trying to be extremely frugal with local funds, and to spend them only after expending state funds," Moretti said.

In addition to adopting the 1987 budget, the Lake Forest School Board accepted a resolution to adopt a comprehensive plan for music education from kindergarten through the twelfth grade.

An agreement too, of good faith between the Lake Forest Board of Education and the Felton Little League was also accepted. School Board President H. Earl Roberts explained the agreement as one of "good faith in writing."

The agreement signed between representatives of the little league and the school board allows the Felton Little League to continue using playing fields of North Elementary, providing they care for the grounds. The league has used the elementary school fields for eighteen years.

In the works for the January meeting of the school board is a proposal which would extend the professional benefits of full time teachers to permanent substitutes.

The proposal, if approved and accepted in January, would give benefits to substitutes, providing they work sixty or more consecutive days.

"We would like to compensate these folks on a higher level," explained Dr. VanSciver.

Harrington Council approves way for new City Hall

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

HARRINGTON. On Monday night the Harrington City Council achieved what other councils in recent years were unable to do by voting to begin construction of a new city hall by March 20th of 1987.

The vote was 4 in favor by Mr. Coleman, Mr. Wyatt, Mr. Boyd and Mrs. Dennis. Absent from the meeting was Mr. Jarrell and absent from the voting was Mr. Temple.

The Council met first with the Building Committee prior to the meeting by the Council. During the meeting with the Building Committee certain specifications for the construction of the new city hall were discussed.

The blueprints and floor plan was drawn by Calvin Bonniwell of Harrington, who is employed by Harman Lumber Co. of Dover and Hartly.

The planned building is "T" shaped, measuring 90' across the front and 32' wide, completing a rectangular shape. It is proposed that the administrative offices for the City will be housed on the left side of the 90'x32' rectangle shaped part of the building and the police department on the right side of the rectangular. There will be a center hall leading back to the base of the "T" where the library will be located.

The area for the library will be 40'x32'. Mr. and Mrs. William Manship who live across Liberty Street from the proposed site wanted to know if the decision for a new city hall would be left up to the citizens of the community or would it be a council decision.

"Council has voted to build a new City Hall based on the investigation of the building committee," answered Mayor Mann.

Mr. Volenik answered that the proposed site was not finalized as yet. But following the meeting with the building committee and citizens, the council voted to exercise their option to purchase the lot on Liberty Street for the new city hall.

City Solicitor, William Walls, explained the exercise as being one in which the City would have the property tied up until March 20th. "If the City decides that they like another location better, they can drop this option and get what they want", said Mr. Walls. Explaining further "the City would only be out what they had placed as deposit money which would be $1.00."

The City as reported in other issues of "The Harrington Journal" has obtained a grant from the bi-centennial monies in the amount of $58,128. As of Monday the 15th, they have applied for the supplemental grant of like sum. This would bring the total in grant monies to $116,000 plus. The City must match that figure, which would give the City over $230,000 to work with to construct a new city hall. If this money is not picked up or in the alternative construction is not begun by March 20th, the bi-centennial money will go back to the State.

Mayor Mann has said in recent meetings that this is the first time he can recall when there have been monies available in the form of a grant for a city hall. "It has always been where you wanted to up grade a sewer and water system...but never a city hall" he said. This was echoed by city manager, Mr. Volenik.

When Mr. Manship asked what type of contract would be prepared and how the bids will be taken as well as dealing with a permanent mortgage Mr. Volenik said "the contract will be written based on the specifications which are approved. The competitive bidding will be based on that factor." Mr. Volenik added that the interest a bank would charge should go out on competitive bidding.

Another matter which concerned some at Monday's meeting as well as meetings in the past is will the City government have money to put into the transaction. Mr. Volenik said "...you have to remember that 50% of the purchase price will be coming virtue a grant which we do not have to pay back. So...that is like a down payment".

He added that the Mayor and Council have been working awfully hard in the last two years to bring more business into the community. "We have increased the tax base for the community by bringing in more buildings to tax. Based on this we would not have to increase taxes to pay for the new city hall", he added.

The present rent on City Hall is $4,200.00 a year. "It is estimated that the monthly payment under the new mortgage would be approximately $500 to $600 per month depending on the term of the mortgage," said Mayor Mann.

Mr. Volenik and Mayor Mann stressed the need for the City to own their own building as opposed to paying rent. "The City has paid enough rent over the life of their organization as a municipality to have built and paid for a new city hall. It is time the City owned their own home", said Mr. Volenik.

This sentiment was echoed by former Mayor Arthur B. "Buck" Cahall, III who said he felt it would be a savings to own their own city hall.

Mr. Phillip Price a citizen who lives on the west end of Commerce Street wanted to know if $200,000 would be sufficient to build the new city hall. The new city

Local police officers honored by MADD

Fifty-three police officers from around the State were honored at a Special Awards Ceremony Tuesday, December 16th at 7:00 p.m. at Buena Vista sponsored by Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD). The fifty-three police officers were selected from seventeen police departments.

The officers who received awards were selected by their police chiefs on the basis of quality of arrests, skills in DUI prosecution and overall high motivation toward getting the drunk driver off the road.

Each officer received a framed certificate and pins from Mothers Against Drunk Driving and a special thanks from MADD for all of their efforts. The speaker for the evening was Attorney General Charles M. Oberly, III.

Swain said that MADD recognized the important role of the police in the success of Delaware's DUI Program and felt that those officers who made significant contributions to that success deserved a special note of thanks and recognition. The police provide the first line of defense against the drunk driver and MADD thanked the officers for maintaining their high level of motivation. Some of the officers are here receiving awards for the third and

First recipients of U of D Carvel State Scholarships

Anne-Marie Menzel of 10 Karen Court, New Castle, and Barry D. Chaffinch of R.D. 3, Harrington--the first recipients of the University of Delaware's Carvel State Scholarships--are completing their first semester in the University's College of Agricultural Sciences.

Ms. Menzel, a 1986 graduate of William Penn High School, is majoring in agricultural business management, and Mr. Chaffinch, a 1986 graduate of Lake Forest High School, is studying agricultural engineering technology, both under the $5,000 scholarship awards, which are renewable for three additional years.

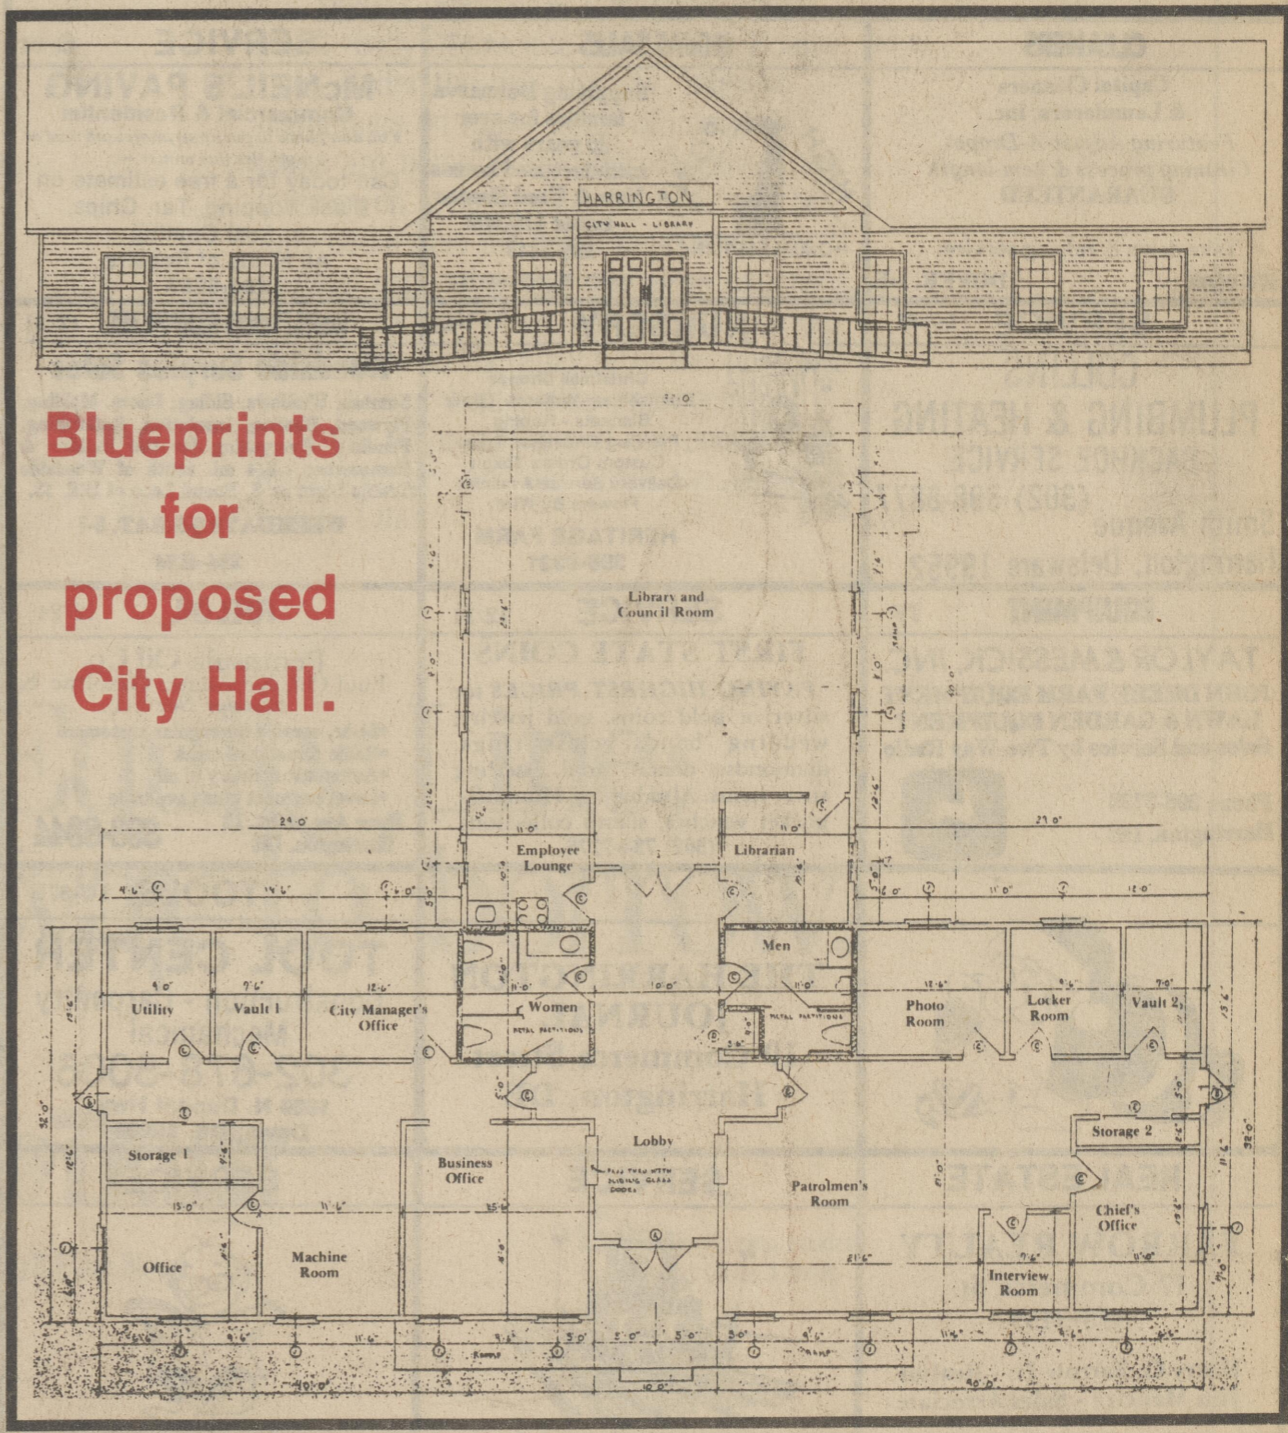

Named in honor of former Delaware Governor Elbert N. Carvel, a leading Delawarean and member of the University's Board of Trustees for 40 years, the new Carvel State Scholarships are designed to attract undergraduates with outstanding potential to the study of agricultural sciences.

"The future of agriculture in this country depends on attracting bright young people of the caliber of Ms. Menzel and Mr. Chaffinch to the biological, economic and engineering

Anderson's rape trial enters second week

by William T. Ficka
 The rape trial of Andrew T. Anderson, former W.T. Chipman Junior High School industrial arts teacher, on six counts of second-degree rape entered its second week in Kent County Superior Court on Monday.

Anderson, 36, of 37 Meadow Wood Lane, Harrington, is charged with the rapes of two under-age Lake Forest School District students.

The alleged rapes occurred between April 1985 and March 1986. At the time of the alleged sexual encounters, both girls were under the age of 16, which is the age of legal consent in Delaware.

Anderson was arrested March 19 on the first two counts, and in May on the other four counts. He resigned his teaching position on August 31. Anderson, who was also assistant girls basketball coach at Lake Forest High School, had been a teacher for 15 years in Kent and Sussex counties.

Testifying last week were both girls, the mother of one girl, Gerald S. Lysik, former Lake Forest School District superintendent, and Cpl. David Henderson, state police juvenile officer at Troop 3 in Camden.

Last Wednesday, Public Defenders Duane D. Werb and Joseph Gabay, defense attorneys for Anderson, raised the issue of racial prejudice. The girls are white and Anderson is black. Although Deputy Attorney General M. Jane Brady objected, Werb was allowed to ask the mother of the first girl how many times she had called Anderson a "nigger."

"I never once said it to his face," she answered, adding that she had used the term in heated disputes with her daughter at home.

The mother said she confronted Anderson in an attempt to have him break off the relationship.

"I told him he was the adult. He could have done something to keep her away," she said.

Former school superintendent Gerald S. Lysik testified last Wednesday that Anderson had sought his advice after the confrontation with the mother. Lysik said he had warned Anderson to stay away from the student to avoid giving the wrong impression in the community.

After talking to Anderson, the mother went twice to the school superintendent to register complaints. She said she then decided to go to the state police to seek help in ending the relationship between Anderson and her daughter.

At Troop 3 Cpl. Henderson taped two telephone conversations between the girl and Anderson. In the conversations Anderson and the girl discussed the mother's opposition.

At one point Anderson said, "don't push the panic button yet," and at another, "don't take any unnecessary chances."

On Friday Judge William G. Bush III ruled that jurors would be allowed to hear testimony regarding an alleged abortion. Gabay had argued that such testimony would prejudice the jury's verdict on the rape charges.

On Monday the second girl underwent sharp cross-examination by Public Defender Werb. His strong questioning managed to elicit inconsistencies and contradictions in the girl's testimony, which mainly pertained to days, dates, places and time frames.

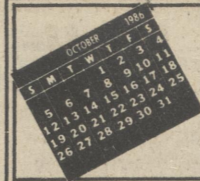

At one point Werb asked, "What is the truth?"

"You're confusing me—that's the truth," the girl answered.

Regarding one inconsistency, the girl said, "I didn't lie. It was wrong. I may have been confused."

Apparently determined to complete the trial by the end of this week, Judge Bush said evening sessions and a Saturday session may be held.

If convicted, Anderson faces a sentence of 3 to 30 years on each of the six charges, according to Prosecutor M. Jane Brady.

ADVERTISERS IN THE 1986 JOURNAL

Harrington new City Hall

hall has an estimated floor area of 4100 square feet. The exterior maintenance free building would have to come in under $50 per square foot exclusive of the purchase price for the land, grading and black topping of the parking lot.

Mr. Price also asked why a new building was selected rather than an existing site "perhaps in the down town area". Mr. Volenik said "...the building committee had looked into several sites in the down town area, but decided that the cost of up dating those properties including the one the City presently occupies would cost as much if not more than starting from scratch."

Mr. Price suggested that there should be a surplus of money when revenue sharing was returned to the City this past year again. "I thought the taxes were raised from 32¢ to 64¢ to take care of the possibility of not getting the revenue sharing when in fact we did receive it. So...under those circumstances we should have a surplus", suggested Mr. Price.

Mayor Mann said the city did not have a surplus. "There is no hidden bank account somewhere with money of the City's in it. Just does not exist", he said.

Mr. Calvin Bonniwell, who drew up the plans for Mr. Volenik said "...the construction costs could be held to a price in the high 30's ($30 per square foot) if they keep it simple as I have designed. You have a lot of flexibility", he said.

Outstanding Young Men Awards

The Board of Advisors for the Outstanding Young Men of America awards program announced recently that John Franklin Wilkins, Frederica; John Kenneth Ryder, Felton; John Robert Wyatt, Harrington; Carroll Brice Jester, Houston; and Raymond Anthony Blanchette, Harrington have been selected for inclusion in the 1986 edition of OUTSTANDING YOUNG MEN OF AMERICA.

Now in its 24th year, the OYMA program is designed to honor and encourage exceptional young men between the ages of 21 and 36 who have distinguished themselves in many fields of endeavor, such as service to community, professional leadership, academic achievement, business advancement, cultural accomplishments, and civic and political participation. Achievements in these areas are the result of dedication, responsibility, and a drive for excellence — qualities which deserve to be recognized and remembered.

The men listed, along with fellow Outstanding Young Men throughout North America, were selected after 150,000 nominations were received from political leaders, University and College officials, clergymen, business leaders, as well as from various civic groups and community organizations. Each young man will be represented by his biographical entry in this prestigious annual awards publication.

Our Board of Advisors and Editors salute all those honored as Outstanding Young Men of America. We take great pride in bringing their accomplishment to the attention of the American public.

Satterfield appointed DPI Executive Assistant

Otto K. Lange, president of the Delmarva Poultry Industry, Inc. (DPI), announced the appointment of J. William Satterfield of Dover, DE to the position of executive assistant effective January 1, 1987. The vacancy will be created when the present executive assistant, Gerald B. Truitt, Jr., moves up to executive director on that date.

Satterfield has been in the communications field since 1975. Just prior to joining the DPI staff, he was farm news director for radio station WSBY/WQHQ in Salisbury, MD. Before joining these stations, he was associated with WKEN radio in Dover, DE, where he supervised the news department, handled advertising sales and programming. During this period he was also Delaware news reporter for WCAU radio in Philadelphia, PA. He has worked in banking in Dover, De while attending college and was part owner and manager of Tastee Freez of Dover.

Satterfield is a graduate of Dover High School and received a B.A. degree from Wake Forest University. He has been active in the Rotary Club of Salisbury, the Salisbury Area Chamber of Commerce, the Delmarva Press Club, Friends of Old Dover Committee and Dover Heritage Trail.

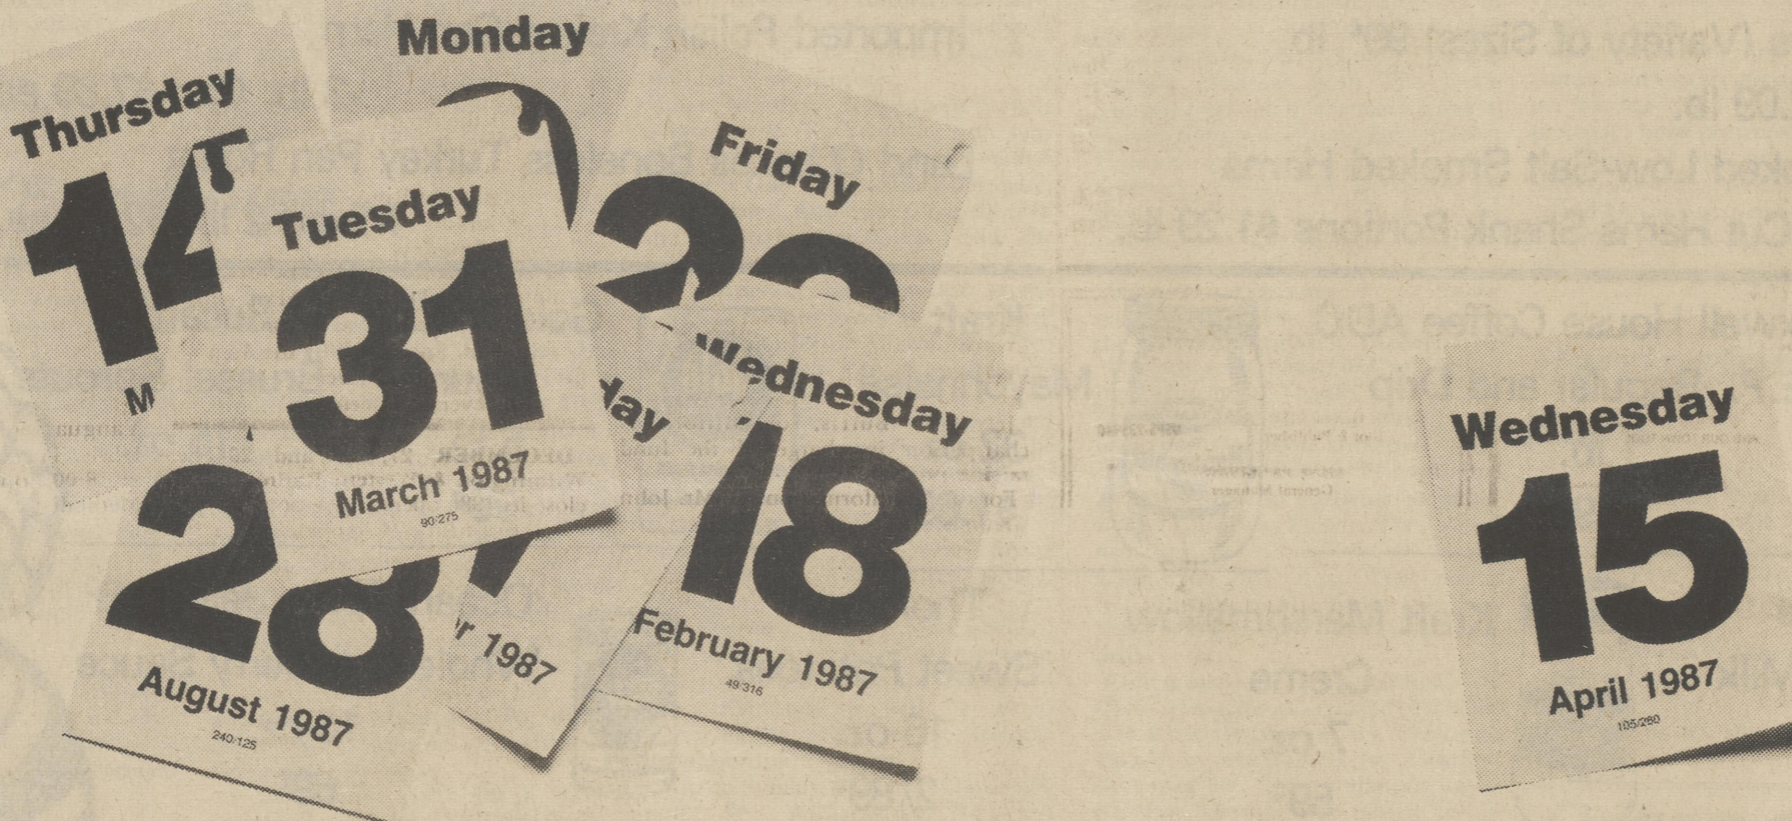

In announcing the appointment,

J. William Satterfield

Lange stressed the importance of communications and public relations to DPI. He said that Satterfield's background in these fields plus his personal contacts with all phases of Delmarva agriculture as well as the agencies and elected officials associated with it were major consideration in selecting him to fill the position.

Sunday worship service at Houston United Methodist Church 9:30 a.m. Sunday School for all ages immediately following the service 10:30 a.m. Rev. William Dore, Minister.

Last Sunday, Communion was administered. The Minister's message was "How Joy Begins, It Begins With A Vision of God." The Senior Choir sang, "His Name". Kim Fisher, a member of the Confirmation Class read the Scripture.

A poinsettia was presented to the Glory of God in loving memory of the birthday of J. Willis Clifton by Evelyn McClymnts, Mr. Clifton would have been 92 years old.

Last week, Rev. Dore baptised and admitted to the membership of the church, Mr. Melvin Jones who is quite ill. We welcome him as a member of the Houston United Methodist Church. Birthdays last week were Jayme Arthurs, Margaret Towers and William Gallagher.

On December 21st, the Sunday School will present their Christmas program at 2:00 p.m. Please note the change in time. Refreshments will be served following the service. All are welcome to support our children.

Also on Sunday, December 21st at 5:00 p.m., The Williamsville Historical Society invites everyone to join in an old-fashioned country church Christmas celebration at Historic 19th Century Griffith's Chapel in Williamsville.

On December 24th, Christmas Eve, at 11:00 p.m., The Houston Church will hold their annual Candlelighting Christmas program. What a wonderful way to welcome Our Savior's Birthday. All are invited to attend.

Last Sunday the Houston Fire Co. held Open House along with all fire companies in Delaware to commemorate Delaware Day. The day Delaware ratified the Constitution. President of the company, Harold Appt was Master of Ceremonies, Mayor Connie Morgan brought greetings from The Town Council followed by the main speaker, Walton Simpson. Walton grew up near Houston and a few years ago was Secretary of State for Delaware. He spoke of events that led up to the ratification. The Ladies Auxiliary served refreshments.

John C. Eisenbrey is at home recuperating after being a patient in the Milford Memorial Hospital. He has several beautifully decorated homes in town. Thanks to all of you who have taken the time and effort to make our town more attractive.

On Saturday, Bonnie Mitchell and daughter Roberta participated in the Laurel Christmas Parade. They joined members of A.B.A.T.E. of Sussex County on their float. They placed second in the parade. Afterwards there was a Christmas party and Santa Claus made a visit.

Congratulations to the Cardinal 4-H Club of Houston who placed first in the 4-H Club Division in the Christmas Parade in Harrington on Saturday, December 6th. Congratulations too to Rosanna Messick, who placed first in the individual division.

A CHRISTMAS WISH
 There's a gentleness of friendship in the Christmas cards that come. There's a gladness in each message as we read them, one by one.

We see Christmas settings in the colors bright and gay. We can feel a bond of friendship come our way on Christmas Day. I'd like to see old friends today, So Merry Christmas, now I send As down memory's lane, I wander And dream of you, dear Friends.

Gab Fest

by Pat Hatfield

This will have to be a rather short little Gab Fest, because I'm still recovering from the gall bladder attack and it is not easy, nor is it fun. And I'm sure most of you have your dear heads in piles of ribbon and tissue paper and shopping lists and probably too busy to read much either. I hope you are all listening to the carols.

It seems you can get sick so quick and it takes forever to get well. I think I've reached the stage of the old actor, Tim Moore, who at 79 said, "All I want to do is sit on my porch, do nothing, and do it slowly!"

Most of our thoughts are centered on gifts at this holy time. And I want to share my favorite Christmas poem with you. It was written by a woman named Mary H. Dwyer. I do not know if she ever wrote anything else, but she did not need to. It concerns the writers question of a gift for the Christ Child. She calls it:

THE GIFT

*"What gifts to please a little Boy
 Who has the whole world for His toy?
 Through Him, with Him, and in Him, live
 The lovely playthings I would give--
 Black branches traced on after-glow,
 Blue moonlight on the wind-glazed snow,
 Music, and singing words--but these
 Were always His. Upon my knees
 I cannot ask a King to take
 The stars he watched His Father make.
 Here on the clean straw of His Throne
 Lay the only things I own--
 A battered will, a raveled mind,
 A broken dream I cannot wind.
 If I had come to Him before,
 And laid them on the stable floor,
 Not scratched and finger-marked with sin,
 How new and gay they would have been!
 Yet strange things catch a Baby's eyes--
 There in His hand my frayed heart lies."*

Victory is sweet for Saccharum as November Horse of the Month

COLUMBUS, OH--Saccharum, the filly with the hard to pronounce name (it's taken from the botanical name for sugarcane), found sweet victory in being named November Horse of the Month by the United States Trotting Association.

The 4 year-old daughter of Sugar Tree-I'm A Sweets made four starts at Yonkers during the past month, and began November on a sour note by finishing second to Stardrift Hanover in the first leg of the Clare Pacing Series at Yonkers. In her next two starts, she swept to victory in the second leg and $100,000 final of the Clare, on both occasions beating "Stardrift" and 1986 Breeders Crown champion Samshu Bluegrass.

Her efforts in the Clare earned her a spot in the $250,000 final of the William Haughton Memorial -- an event open to both males and females alike. The boys found out she wasn't made of sugar and spice, as she posted a 1:57-4/5 win over such tough competition as Armbro Dallas, Broadway Express, Robust Hanover, and Dignatarian.

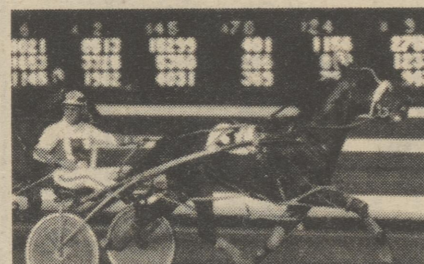

Major League Standardbreds -- a stable which includes sports stars Phil Rizzuto and Dave Debuschere among its members -- owns the 1985 Ohio Horse of the Year. Saccharum (sah-kah-rem) has won nine of 31 starts and $234,643 this year for trainer Jerry Silverman. Richie Silverman has been her regular driver. In all, a sweet month for Saccharum.

Forrest Skipper named Harness Horse of the Year

COLUMBUS, OH--Forrest Skipper, the brilliant speedster who was the dominant force among aged pacers throughout 1986, has been named Harness Horse of the Year in the vote conducted by The U.S. Trotting Association and The U.S. Harness Writers Association. He out-poled the unbeaten freshman sensation Jate Lobell by a 155-90 margin.

Forrest Skipper

The humbly-bred pacer grabbed the sport's center stage on June 13, racing against the clock in a time trial effort of 1:53-3/5 at the time, equalling the third-fastest mile (only Niatross and Nihilator were quicker) in harness racing history.

Speed and versatility were the hallmarks of a perfect 15-for-15 season. Twelve of his victories were timed in 1:54 or better; his average win time of 1:53-1/5 equalled Nihilator's (1985 Horse of the Year) remarkable feat of a year ago. Along the way, track records were claimed at Freehold Raceway, Rosecroft Raceway, Canterbury Downs and Dover Downs, and a mark equalled at Roosevelt Raceway.

Forrest Skipper swept three of the most important series for aged pacers -- the Graduate, at The Meadowlands, Freehold, and Rosecroft; the Driscoll at The Meadowlands; and the rugged U.S. Pacing Championship, at The Meadowlands, Roosevelt Raceway, and Sportsman's Park.

Perhaps the most intriguing race of 1986 was the first leg of the U.S. Pacing Championship. Falcon Seelster and Forrest Skipper vied for leadership in the aged pacing ranks and so scared the opposition that theirs were the only names dropped into The Meadowlands entry box prior to the August 2 race. Fontaine boldly raced eye-to-eye with Falcon Seelster and Tom Harmer until the latter fell back at the half.

From that point in the season, only a coronation awaited the king. The crown -- The Breeders Crown -- was claimed at Los Alamitos on October 10.

Bred by Elwyn P. Leary, of Camden, NC, and owned by Forrest Bartlett, of Shiloh, North Carolina, Forrest Skipper takes his name from Bartlett, who midwived the foal.

Early in the season, stallion syndicator Lou Guida announced that Forrest Skipper would join the stallion ranks at Fair Winds Farm -- the result of a deal placing his value at a reported $5 million.

Spartans crush North Caroline

by Mike Dill
The Lake Forest girls basketball team started the season the right way by crushing North Caroline 50-36 in their non-conference opening game.

The Spartans dominated at both ends of the floor by ripping 58 rebounds to North Caroline's 20. Leading the way on the boards was sophomore forward Tara Dixon, who had 11 rebounds and 10 points.

Melanie Pelton paced the Spartans by hitting for 18 points. Arlene May and Africa Bell added nine and seven points respectively.

The 1-0 Spartans will now play in the Lake Forest Invitational later this week.

NC tops Spartans

by Mike Dill
The Lake Forest boys basketball team opened its season with a non-conference loss to North Caroline 62-53.

The Spartans, who do not have a starter taller than 6'2", were continually beaten on the boards by the North Caroline front line.

The bright spot for the Spartans was the play of senior Chuck Bell who scored 13 points. James Hicks added nine points, James Tiggs added seven, and Steve Sipple and Mike Bleen both added six points apiece.

The Spartans, now 0-1, face arch-rival Milford this week before traveling to Dover for the Holiday Tournament on the 28th.

Massachusetts man dies in hunting accident

A 50 year old Massachusetts man visiting Delaware with his two sons, ages 26 and 27, was killed in a hunting mishap off county Route 85 about one mile north of Leipsic on December 8 at about 9:15 a.m.

The victim, H. Alfred Colby, 50, of Marblehead, Massachusetts, was in a goose blind with his two sons, an uncle and a guide. The guide called the four out due to game approaching. The victim, with his uncle to his left, shot one bird. As the game moved to the victim's right, the uncle, a 71 year old Laurel resident, followed the birds to the right. The uncle fired one shot from a shotgun and struck the victim in the back of the head.

The victim was transported to the Kent General Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival at 11:35 a.m. The victim's body was turned over to the Medical Examiner's office to determine the cause of death.

The investigation is continuing. The uncle's name is being withheld at this time due to medical reasons.

Surf fishing permit costs increase

When 1987 surf fishing tags go on sale January 5, the cost will be $40 for Delaware registered vehicles, up $10 from last year, and $80 for those licensed out of state, a $20 rise. This is the first increase since 1982 according to the state Division of Parks and Recreation and a necessity to cover ever-increasing park operating expenses.

Also being raised for the coming year are fees for resident youth camping and for rental of the Officer's Club hall, both at Cape Henlopen. Other park fees, such as those for daily entrance and camping, were increased last year.

"Even with the increases, we think our park fees are a great deal," said Division Director William J. Hopkins. "Surf fishermen have year-round access to the ocean at Cape Henlopen, Fenwick Island and Delaware Seashore state parks with their permits. And other park users can visit any of the parks all summer and enjoy activities ranging from swimming and sunbathing to canoeing, fishing, horseback riding or tennis. We think we have something for everyone."

Beginning next year, surf fishing vehicle permits will be honored only at Cape Henlopen, Fenwick Island and Delaware Seashore state parks. For entrance at any of the other eight state parks, these vehicles will require either an annual entrance permit or a daily permit. However, an annual permit may be purchased at half price by those registering a surf fishing vehicle.

After the first of the year, park users wishing to have annual entrance permits for more than one vehicle may purchase a second permit for half price.

Surf fishing vehicle permits will be sold at the Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Control's Dover offices, 89 Kings Highway, and at the offices of Brandywine Creek, Bellevue, Lums Pond, Cape Henlopen and Delaware Seashore state parks. Annual park permits can also be purchased by mail or by calling 736-3420. This year, for the first time, park users can charge their permits or other fees to VISA or Mastercard. This service already is available at the Dover office and will be available in park offices after January 1.

The length of reading time is determined by grade level. Participants for November will be treated to a skating party in Milford December 20 from 5:15 to 7:15 p.m.

Delaware scholastic art show winners announced

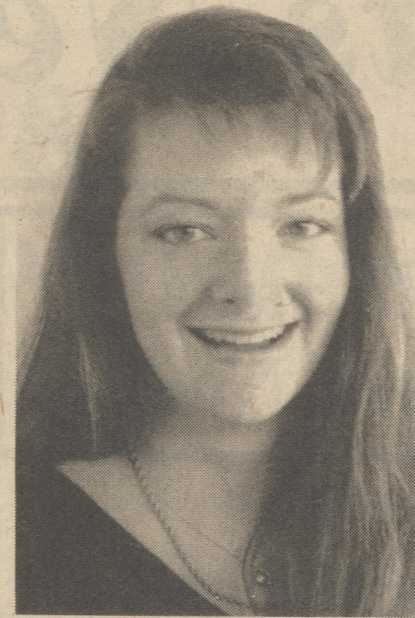

Eighteen first-place, blue ribbon finalist awards and 23 second-place, gold-key awards were presented on Sunday, December 14, to talented Delaware high school and junior school students at a public reception for the state's fifth "Scholastic Art Awards Exhibition," at the University of Delaware's Clayton Hall in Newark. Fourteen high schools and eight junior schools from around the state have more than 100 works on display in the show.

The national Scholastic Art Awards program, now in its 60th year, is sponsored by the Eastman Kodak, Hallmark Cards and Strathmore Paper companies. Students whose work is accepted at state, regional and national exhibitions are eligible for national gold medals, cash awards and scholarships to the country's leading collegiate art schools.

Blue-ribbon finalists in this year's Delaware show are eligible to compete in the "Delaware Valley Tri-State Regional Exhibition," scheduled January 19-February 7, at the Philadelphia College of Art.

This year's Delaware jurors were Donald Parks, assistant professor of art at Delaware State College, and Dr. Norman Sasowsky, professor of art at the University of Delaware. All Delaware schools, grades 7 to 12, were eligible to enter the Clayton show, which is sponsored by the Office of the Art/Music Supervisor of Delaware's Department of Public Instruction and the University's Division of Continuing Education.

The judges' official statement posted at the exhibit site praised the exceptionally high quality of work submitted from Delaware this year, evidence of sharpened commitment to teaching visual arts in Delaware schools and an increased number of portfolios accepted and junior high school work entered.

Michelle Stevens

In this season's Delaware show, 14 students captured 16 first-place, blue-ribbon awards on the high school level (grades 10-12):

From Lake Forest High School, Michelle Stevens, Artwork Title-Abandoned, Medium-India Ink.

Second-place, gold key awards on the high school level (grades 10-12):

From Caesar Rodney High School, Shirl Gaskins (2 awards), Artwork Title-By Any Other Name, Medium-

Charcoal, and Ode deToilette, done in Charcoal/chalk.

From Lake Forest High School, Walter Lekites, Artwork Title-Perrier, Medium-Colored Pencil.

Among students with scholarship portfolios accepted at the state level included Michelle Stevens of Lake Forest High School.

The Delaware Scholastic Art Exhibition will remain on free public display at the University's Clayton Hall through January 2. Hours are 8 a.m. to 8:30 p.m., Mondays through Thursdays, and 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Fridays. For variable weekend hours or to determine the best time to bring groups, call 451-2214.

Kent North Vo-Tech spreads holiday cheer

During the holiday season individuals and organizations all over the country participate in various types of activities in order to help their fellow man.

Students in Data Processing, Child Care, and Medical Assisting classes at Kent North Vo-Tech are currently conducting three different types of Christmas Programs.

Data Processing students are sponsoring a family through the Adopt-A-Family Agency. This is the tenth consecutive year that the department has participated in the program. Students have collected food, clothing, toys and household articles for the family.

Child Care students, accompanied by pre-school children enrolled in the Child Care program, will be visiting Courtland Manor nursing home to sing Christmas songs to the residents. The students are also making Christmas ornaments and will present them to the residents.

Students in the Medical Assisting program are contributing $100 from their class account to the Mental Health Association in Delaware for the Operation Reindeer program. Operation Reindeer distributes funds to various agencies such as the Delaware State Hospital and Governor Bacon Health Center so that staff can find gifts which are needed and appropriate for their patients.

Students and staff at Kent North Vo-Tech are very proud of their humanitarian efforts and wish everyone a happy and joyous holiday season.

W.T. Chipman Christmas Dance

Dresses of blues and greens and red and whites, ribbons, bows and earrings that would delight. Shoes were shined, hair was combed as the young men left from home.

The music beeped, bopped, banged and boomed as they all danced in the center of the room. Pretzels, chips, Pepsi and Coke as mothers served refreshments without missing a stroke.

It was the Christmas dance at Chipman, as 10 O'clock drew near; it wasn't long ago they all still believed in those tiny Reindeer.

In the Pocket

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

The World Cup Trot worth $100,000 over a mile and a quarter on Friday night went to Dividia Hanover in 2:29.4, a record. The fractions were :29.3; 58.3; 1:30; 1:58.4. The record is over a 1/2 mile. The win by a half length over Grades Singing and Hallon Brun. Whip It Wood was 4th.

At Rosecroft on Friday in the $5,000 1st Division of the Medley Pacing Series was won by One on the Aisle with Eddie Davis, Jr. in the bike. The time was 1:30.1 for 3/4 of a mile. Mr. Davis won two races on the card that night.

Saturday at Yonkers in the $30,000 Open Pace it was Rambling Storm with Micheal Lachance getting the win in 1:58.4 over Broadway Express and It's Courtin.

At Pompano on Saturday night in the 3 year old colt pace Finale finished 5th. He was the odds on favorite after a brilliant season. Particular won the race with Peter Blood driving in 1:55.1, a track record for 4 year old pacing geldings. Armbr Abbott and Flying Rich of Brandywine fame finished 3rd.

Saturday at Rosecroft in the $10,000 pace it was Ab Skip winning in 1:59.4 for Jimmy Morand over Northern Escape and JE's Romanero.

Bryce Truitt won a $6,000 feature with Cool Martha in 1:59.4.

Leading dash winners are 1. Mike Lachance (738), 2. Bill Gale (450), 3. Herve Filion (449); 4. John Campbell with 400 and Doug Snyder with 390. In 1974 Herve Filion set the modern day record for most wins in a single season when he posted 637. That record was broken by Lachance this year.

Royal Prestige

Royal Prestige heads list of top trotters in '86

COLUMBUS, OH --- Royal Prestige failed to win a leg of the trotting triple crown, but voters found plenty else to like about the colt they named Trotter of the Year and 3-year-old Trotting Colt of the Year in the poll conducted by The United States Trotting Association and U.S. Harness Writers Association.

Royal Prestige never finished worse than third in 19 starts, winning on 12 occasions and leading the sophomore division in earnings with $1,052,114. He took his mark of 1:55.1 in winning the World Trotting Derby at Du Quin -- a race in which he avenged his Hambletonian defeat at the hands of Nuclear Kosmos.

Other divisional winners included Mack Lobell, top 2-year-old colt trotter; Super Flora, best among freshman fillies; JEF's Spice, winner among 3-year-old trotting fillies; Nearly Perfect, best older male trotter; and Grades Singing, top trotting mare.

Mack Lobell counted the Breeders Crown among his ten wins this year. He became a world champion on a mile track at Lexington, and on a half-mile track at Delaware, OH. "Mack" is campaigning by the One More Time Stable of New Jersey.

Super Flora won the most closely-contested divisional vote, beating Armbr Fling by only six votes. Though only third richest and third fastest in her division, her Breeders Crown win came at the expense of the other two fillies (Armbr Fling and Crown Starlet).

JEF's Spice won races from June through October, and her consistency won her honors as top 3-year-old trotting filly. Another of the Breeders Crown champs to earn divisional honors.

Grades Singing raced and won on both sides of the Atlantic and beat the boys on several occasions during 1986 to win honors as top trotting mare. Her $484,260 in earnings is a new single-season mark in that division.

When Manfred Hanover fell to an injury, Nearly Perfect stepped in and took center stage, and the balloting as top older male trotter. His 1:54 mile at The Meadowslands on July 7 was the fastest ever by an aged performer.

Top pacers of 1986 selected

COLUMBUS, OH --- Forrest Skipper, 1986 Harness Horse of the Year, also collected the laurels as Aged Pacer of the Year and Pacer of the Year in the U.S. Trotting Association/U.S. Harness Writers balloting.

Forrest Skipper, who equaled the third-fastest mile of all time with his 1:50-3/5 time trial.

Other division winners included Jate Lobell, 2-year-old pacing colt; Halcyon, 2-year-old pacing filly; Amity Chef, 3-year-old colt pacer; Annicrombie, 3-year-old pacing filly; and Samsu Bluegrass, voted best among aged pacing mares.

Jate Lobell, runner-up in Horse of the Year voting, went undefeated in 15 starts. His most shining effort came in the rain, as he toured the Red Mile oval in 1:53 -- amazing considering the conditions.

Halcyon swept to a victory among 2-year-old pacing fillies off the strength of 13 wins in 17 starts and a division-leading $734,370 in earnings.

Amity Chef, who denied Barberry Spur's triple crown bid with a win in the Messenger Stakes, got the nod as top 3-year-old pacing colt. He is the richest ($1.24 million) and fastest (1:51.1) sophomore of the year.

Annicrombie won 20 of 23 on her way to honors at top 3-year-old pacing filly. The Review, Hayes Memorial, Tattersalls, Tarport Hap, and American-National were important stakes wins for the filly.

Samsu Bluegrass topped the poll among aged pacing mares. She had 14 wins from 33 starts and topped the divisional money list with $388,165. Much of that came in winning her Breeders Crown race.

December is Delaware Drunk &

Citizens urged to have a safe holiday season

Governor Mike Castle has declared December as Delaware Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Month.

To open Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Month activities, the Delaware Office of Highway Safety held Press Conferences in Dover at the Bank of Delaware on Tuesday December 2 and in Seaford at the Seaford Village Shopping Center on Wednesday, December 3.

Representatives of government, police agencies, MADD, SADD, the public, and others concerned about death and injury caused by drinking drivers on Delaware highways joined together to encourage fellow citizens to have a safe and happy holiday season.

The Delaware Restaurant Association joined in the festivities by providing non-alcoholic punches and beverage samples which were passed out to the public together with copies of the recipes. Recipes for these non-alcoholic beverages are available from the Office of Highway Safety.

The Delaware Office of Highway Safety displayed party packets that include ideas for planning and holding safe and sober parties, a host bar certificate, "No Thanks I'm Driving" stickers, table tents, and samples of other items available for private, group, or company sponsored holiday gatherings. These party packets can be obtained free of charge by contacting the Office of Highway Safety at 736-4475.

Portable Breath Testers are again being offered for use at private, group or company parties. The breath testers can be obtained free of charge by contacting the Office of Highway Safety at 736-4475.

Based on the theme, "Because we care in Delaware, friends don't let friends drive drunk", special emphasis is being placed on the Designated Driver program this year. A Designated Driver is the person in a group who agrees to remain sober to drive friends home safely.

Traffic deaths this year are running 35% higher than last year and 60% of those deaths involved alcohol.

MADD criminal justice study • Impaired drivers who kill

MADD has released the latest results of its ongoing study of homicide cases involving an impaired driver. The study covers all crashes since 1983 where the impaired driver was charged with homicide. The study shows that 82% of those charged are being convicted of homicide, 81% of those convicted are being sent to jail for an average total sentence of 4.5 years, BUT only an average of 6.5 months is being served in jail of those released. Of those released, 86% have served less than 1 year and 79% have served less than 1/3 of their sentence in jail.

The prison officials in the past have explained the early releases in the past by stating that drunk drivers are overcrowding the prisons and must be released to make room for other "violent offenders". The results of the study clearly show this to be false. There are currently only 11 persons in prison now due to homicide caused by an impaired driver and there has been a total of only 25 persons sent to jail since December 1983 for an average of 8 per year. It is beyond the average person's comprehension how 11 men can be causing such a strain on the prison system.

The second part of the MADD study analyzed the cases by location of the victim who was killed: 1) in a 2nd vehicle; 2) in the impaired driver's car; or 3) a pedestrian or a bicyclist. The homicide conviction rate is 95% if the victim was in a 2nd vehicle, 80% for a pedestrian or bicyclist killed, and only 62% when the victim was in the impaired driver's car. In cases that went to trial the jury returned a guilty of homicide verdict in 100% of cases where victim was in a 2nd car but the jury found the defendant guilty of homicide in only 20% of the other types.

There is an obvious need to educate the public especially in cases where the impaired driver was in the impaired driver's car. The impaired driver has committed a crime by driving impaired and his/her actions caused someone to be killed, yet some people tend to feel that the victim was guilty of some crime. Women who were attacked and raped faced a similar situation in court until only a few years ago. If a woman walked alone at night wearing skimpy clothes the juries used to feel that she was partially at fault in the rape because she was "asking" for it. Neither the passenger of an impaired driver or the woman in skimpy clothes is committing any crime by their actions. It is unwise to ride with an impaired driver or for a woman to walk alone at night in skimpy clothes but it isn't a crime! The public realizes this now in rape cases and they must do the same in homicide cases when an impaired driver kills a passenger.

The MADD study also pointed out while there were plea bargains in 71% of the cases there were homicide convictions in 91% of the cases where a plea was given and only a 67% homicide conviction rate in trial cases. Unfortunately in 76% of the homicide convictions the charge was the lowest possible felony charge of Vehicular Homicide 2 or Criminally Negligent Homicide.

MADD feels that despite the dramatic change in attitude about drinking and driving that has occurred in the last 4 years in Delaware due to the DUI program, there are many who remain unconvinced about how serious the problem is. Impaired drivers have caused the deaths of over 300 people and have injured over 7,000 just since 1982 on Delaware roads and have killed as many or more each year than all other homicides combined! Despite the seriousness of the crime impaired drivers who kill are only serving an average of 6.5 months in jail.

Although most violent crimes are committed under the influence of alcohol or drugs it is only in the case of the impaired driver who kills does one hear the cry to treat the alcohol problem instead of punishment. Why does one homicide offender rate being treated lightly or given rehab to deal with the alcohol problem and the other homicide offender receive only punishment when the crime was committed with a gun? The answer is that since many people drink and most drive they mistakenly think that when they drive after having one drink at dinner they could be in the same shoes as the DUI offender who has committed a homicide. THIS IS TOTALLY WRONG! Only a small percentage of the public drinks enough to be seriously impaired and then drives just as only a small percentage of the public commit

Police Report

12/2/86

HPD investigated an accident which occurred at Liberty St. and Fleming St. A vehicle driven by Vaughn Austin of Felton, allegedly attempted a left turn from Liberty Street to Fleming St. and struck a car driven by Samuel Robinson of Harrington, causing minor damage to both vehicles. Austin was charged with DUI, leaving the scene of an accident and wrong way on a one way and was released pending a future court appearance.

12/3/86

HPD investigated a criminal mischief which occurred on Second Avenue. A pontiac Firebird owned by Roy Bretschneider of Dover was damaged and investigation is continuing.

12/4/86

HPD arrested Scott Short of Houston for DUI and failure to stop for red light. Scott was observed running a red light at U.S. #13 and #14 and was taken into custody, processed and released pending a future court appearance.

12/5/86

HPD arrested William Chatts of Harrington for DUI, fictitious tags, unregistered motor vehicle, driving revocation, and a municipal court capias. Chatts was stopped on Dorman Street after an Officer observed him driving in an erratic manner. Chatts was committed to DCC in default of secured bond.

HPD is investigating a theft from a car on Weiner Ave. An undisclosed amount of property was taken from the unlocked car.

12/6/86

HPD again arrested William Chatts of Harrington stemming from an incident which occurred on 12/4/86. Chatts allegedly shoved Leroy Boyce at 125 Milby Street. Chatts was charged with offensive touching and a variety of traffic charges and committed to DCC in default of bond.

HPD is investigating a late reported hit & run accident. A parked car owned by Freeman Carter of Harrington was struck on Mispillion Street causing $1,400.00 damage.

HPD arrested Sandra Conrad of Harrington for DUI and no valid license. Conrad was observed driving on Center Street in an erratic manner when stopped and was released pending further court appearance.

DSP pushing for tough holiday enforcement

The Delaware State Police announced on Thursday, December 11, that they have implemented a new drunk driving and traffic enforcement program for the upcoming holiday season.

This effort will be fortified by the recent authorization of over one-thousand hours of overtime funds which will be allotted for traffic enforcement by off-duty troopers with the primary focus on drunk driving enforcement. Part of the focus on drunk driving enforcement will be the doubling of the normal number of sobriety checkpoints.

This state and federally funded enforcement action began on December 10 and will continue thru the New Year's holiday weekend.

State public speaking awards given to five 4-H'ers

Two Kent County young people recently took first place in both the junior and senior divisions of the Delaware 4-H public speaking contest. The state finals of the contest were held in Dover at the annual Capital Grange youth night Dec. 2. Five semi-finalists from all three Delaware counties competed.

Bambi Biggs, Felton, won first place in the senior division with her speech, "Farewell To 4-H". Bambi, who was awarded a national 4-H careers scholarship this month on the basis of her public speaking performances, is a member of the Viola Fireflies 4-H Club. The first place winner for the junior division was Beth Sapp, Harrington, who spoke on "A Very Rewarding Career." Beth is a member of the Peach Blossom 4-H Club.

Second place, senior division, went to Janelle Taylor, Seaford, who spoke on "Deaf, But Not Dumb." Sharine Nisar, Newark, won third place, senior division, for her speech on "Aging."

The winner of the second place award, junior division, was Chad Nelson, Newark, with his talk "Getting the Green For Your Club." No award was given for third place junior division.

Judges for the contest were Jane Brady, deputy attorney general of Delaware, and Shirley Jarrell, a teacher at Caesar Rodney Junior High School in Camden-Wyoming.

Prison escape update

The Delaware State Police announced on December 11 that the reward for information leading to the apprehension of the three remaining escapees from the Delaware Correctional Center has been increased to $15,000.

The escapees, Mark Allen McCoy, 25, Larry Dean Nave, 22, and Richard Nelson Irwin, 26, were last seen fleeing northbound on Route 202 from Naamans Road in a 1976 Olds Cutlass Supreme two door, with a dark blue vinyl top over a medium blue body. The rear bumper is missing from the vehicle. The vehicle bears Delaware registration 623531. The vehicle was stolen from a New Castle woman who was abducted by the escapees on December 2, at about 1:30 a.m. The stolen vehicle has not been recovered.

The additional money offered is from the Governor's contingency fund which reflects Governor Castle's commitment to assisting the State Police in apprehending the escapees as soon as possible.

Drugged Driving Awareness Month

PROCLAMATION IN OBSERVANCE OF DELAWARE DRUNK AND DRUGGED DRIVING AWARENESS MONTH

WHEREAS, each year drinking and drugged drivers cause more than half of all fatal traffic crashes in the State of Delaware at considerable economic cost and hardship to Delawareans; and

WHEREAS, these violent traffic deaths far outnumber violent deaths from any other cause in Delaware; and

WHEREAS, Delaware made great strides in reducing alcohol related traffic deaths and injuries during the first three years of its DUI law; and

WHEREAS, Delawareans are outraged that such a slaughter continues to take place on our highways; and

WHEREAS, our anger and frustration are exceeded only by the grief of those who have lost loved ones in such crashes; and

WHEREAS, solving the drunk and drugged driver problem requires an integrated effort by and support from all levels of government and the public; and

WHEREAS, the Holiday period is a particularly appropriate time to again focus the attention of all Delawareans on this critical problem.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, ALFRED G.B. MANN, Mayor of the City of Harrington, Delaware, do hereby proclaim the month of December, 1986 as:

DRUNK AND DRUGGED DRIVER AWARENESS MONTH

and urge all citizens to learn more about the problems associated with the drunk and drugged driver.

ALFRED G.B. MANN, MAYOR

Take time to sober up before driving

--A cup of coffee, a cold shower, or fresh air may seem like ideal ways to sober up after drinking alcoholic beverages but, in truth, the only remedy for intoxication is the passage of time, according to Delaware Safety Council.

The holiday season, a traditional time for parties and celebration, also has a traditionally high rate of alcohol and drug impaired driving.

To remind motorists that drinking before driving can be deadly, President Regan has declared the week of December 14-20 "National Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Week." In observance of the awareness week, Delaware Safety Council offers these safe driving suggestions:

- If you have been drinking alcohol and plan on driving, allow about an hour per drink to eliminate the alcohol. An average drink equals 12 ounces of beer, five ounces of table wine, or one and one-half ounces of liquor.
- Try to finish your last drink at least an hour before you plan on driving, and limit yourself to one drink or less per hour.

- Switch to non-alcoholic drinks.
- Don't drink on an empty stomach. Food can slow down the absorption rate and extend the time it takes alcohol to enter the bloodstream. Certain foods, such as cheese and high-protein snacks, are especially effective.
- Pass up rounds.
- Plan to use the "Designated Driver" approach: One person in a group refrains from drinking alcohol. This person drives the others home. At the next gathering, another person is the designated driver and the responsibility rotates.

Most people's driving skills are impaired well before they reach the legal level of intoxication. The Delaware Safety Council says, reminding motorists that no one can drive skillfully and safely immediately after drinking alcoholic beverages.

all other violent crimes. Most people wouldn't any more drive after having too much to drink than they would consider stabbing or shooting someone after having several drinks. Those that do kill or injure while under the influence must be prepared to accept severe punishment as a result of their actions whether the weapon they use is a gun, a knife, or a car. MADD suggests that all offenders should get treatment for their alcohol or drug problem, but not treatment in lieu of punishment.

The results of the MADD study can be summarized as follows:

- 1) The State is convicting the impaired drivers who kill and most of the judges are giving sentences that are tougher than several years ago, but due to being released early by the prison system the offenders are only serving an average of 6.5 months in jail. THERE IS NO VALID REASON FOR THIS EARLY RELEASE AND THIS SITUATION IS NEGATING THE DETERRANT EFFECT OF THE SENTENCE AS WELL AS GREATLY AFFECTING THE EFFORTS OF THE DUI PROGRAM TO CHANGE PUBLIC ATTITUDES ABOUT THE SERIOUSNESS OF THE CRIME.
- 2) The public and most of those involved in the Criminal Justice system need to adjust their attitudes concerning the impaired driver who kills a passenger or a pedestrian. The impaired driver is committing one crime by driving under the influence and that person commits a second very serious crime when someone is killed. The only evidence that should be a factor in the case is whether the impaired driver's actions and conditions were responsible for the killing of another human being.

3) The State should seriously consider eliminating homicide caused by an impaired driver from being treated as separate and less serious crime. There are as many homicides caused by impaired drivers as there are all other homicides combined. The crime of vehicular homicide doesn't involve the killing of an intended victim but the complete disregard for the public safety demonstrated by the person under the influence who drives and kills is no less serious than most types of homicide. Being under the influence of alcohol or drugs is no excuse for reckless, criminal behavior which causes injury or death whether the weapon is a gun or a knife or a car.

...it is hard to stay on top of it. Like a bad wave in Hawaii".
The present crisis which grips the country concerning the Iranian arms matter and the Iranian money to support the contras...to using money from the sale of the arms to Iran to help support conservatives who sought office this past November.
The whole matter has backfired. The Iranians want most of their money back. Contras claim they never got the money. And all of the conservatives lost.

Now...the interest turns to who, what, when and where. Every day the situation changes. New information is offered. Makes no difference if it is true or false...or well...maybe it came about. Will one special prosecutor be enough to find the answers and bring the criminals to justice.

Question now is can a defendant get a fair trial with all the publicity the matter has gotten.

As things change day by day and hour by hour here in this country regarding this matter, it is even worse in the mid-east. Who can you trust there, and after all of these generations of trying to deal in that area of the world would it not have been plausible to believe that we could not or should not trust anyone in that area?
You can't stay on top of it, and it is worse than a bad wave in Hawaii.

When an issue such as this grips the country I always wonder how close are we or how close did we come to losing our republic. It is slightly frightening.
Will anyone ever be convinced that who was in the position of acting did so for the best interest of the country at the time action was taken.

We have our people held hostage in the mid-east. We have the potential for another Communist regime in the North American hemisphere. Another violation of the Monroe Doctrine. Where is our Congress?

Like a child you tightly restrict, the child will find ways to get around your restriction. So if you catch the child can the punishment be greater than the rewards the child seeks.

When Congress severely restricted our aid program to the Contras what did the President do? He obviously sought other ways to defend the country by getting aid to the Contras. In those situations to those of a higher power right or wrong is not always the answer. It is the results or the consequences, but I guess they must feel the risks are worth it.

So much for that.
I believe the President must continue to open up to the American people and to other world leaders. Continuous disclosure is necessary whether believed or not, it is necessary to open up.

In another matter, which is highly controversial concerning the proposed new city hall for Harrington.

The matter can be broken down into two schools of thought. One, the need for a new city hall and secondly, where to place it.

Neither of the two schools hold an absolute written gospel word on the subject. You can, in either case, get more than two people to agree on either issue back to back. The controversy holds when you start asking citizens through the City.

Whether we should have a city hall comes down to opportunity. In the case at hand the State is willing to pay half the cost toward the construction of a new city hall. This is opportunity, but on the other hand can we make the payments on the other half. The rent plus the maintenance on the present site equal...a slight plus or minus...of what the new payments will be. We are also told that we will not...not ever...have to raise taxes to pay for the city hall.

Now...you have to balance all of these proposals and seek the best equity. If it is true, what we have been given, then it becomes a plum of a fashion. To say the city will not have to raise taxes...on this particular building to pay for it is probably true, but it is not true that taxes will not go up. They will go up regardless of whether we have a new city hall or not.

We can either stand pat and continue to live on bread and water or we can go with the flow, improve our lifestyle and get on another form of bread and water.

You can cut back and cut back til you are so weak that you can't recover without a tremendous expense. The best way to go is pay as you go. But this community has never been in a position to do that. There has never been enough money to answer to that charge. The question always was in this community, do we get the housing first or find jobs for people locally.

What happened? The answer is that all of a sudden everything is moving at once. To some it is a sign of progress. To others it is spending money like a drunken sailor on leave.

Does it become a question of growth or survival. Maybe a little bit of both.
Again it is like a bad wave out of Hawaii. You can't possibly stay on top of it. What it requires however is a constant monitoring of the situation whether it be the matter gripping the country or the situation here in Harrington.

The other side of the issue of city hall is where is the best place to put it. Now there is an area where you will get a different answer, regardless with whom you discuss the matter. Really that is real estate, and there is no perfect "utopia" for the location. Some say downtown for the convenience of the citizens. Many favor the site the town-fathers are studying, which is located on Liberty Street next to Delmarva Power.

There are other sites which some would find acceptable...others would not. But if you would like to get the council members attention and put them to the true limus test, then have someone offer them a free parcel of land.

Whether it is arms-money for the contras, or building city halls in small communities, or riding bad waves in Hawaii, they are all hard to stay on the top side. Regardless of the situation it still takes patience, perseverance, and constant monitoring.

Dear Mr. Farrow:
As the holiday season approaches, I would like to personally express my appreciation to you and your staff for your consideration in helping us promote our staff, students and programs. As a former journalist, I understand the limitations of time and space with which you work.

Your patience and understanding in affording us opportunities to increase our visibility in our communities will serve to enhance our ability to meet the challenges of today. Our immediate goal is to strive to provide opportunities for all of our students and all of our community members in order that they may grow personally and professionally.

Thank you for your support and interest in our behalf. As the old saying goes, "Thanks to you it's working."

Best wishes for a safe and pleasant holiday season.
Sincerely yours,

Regulation of cable TV rates to end on December 30

DOVER--The Public Service Commission will lose the power to supervise the rates charged by cable television companies after December 30, 1986.

A federal law--the Cable Communications Policy Act of 1984--ends all rate regulation by states and municipalities as of that date except in areas where cable TV has no effective competition.

Prior to the Cable Act, states and municipalities could supervise the rates charged for "basic service"--the lowest tier of programming that includes local broadcast signals. Cable TV companies were free to charge what they wished for "premium" cable services such as Home Box Office, tiers of satellite-delivered "superstations" such as WTBS, and cable networks such as Cable News Network and ESPN.

For the first two years after enactment, the Cable Act allowed cable TV companies to increase basic rates by up to 5 percent a year without regulatory approval by states or municipalities.

After December 30, however, all rate regulation will be ended except in rural areas where there is no effective competition from TV signals broadcast over the airwaves. None of Delaware's counties fall into this category. The standards for what constitutes "effective competition" are established by the Federal Communications Commission.

The new law leaves the Public Service Commission and municipalities in Delaware with the power to issue cable TV franchises, oversee line extensions, monitor the strength of cable signals and handle subscriber complaints about service.

The commission regulates eight cable television franchises that serve a total of 111,000 subscribers in unincorporated areas of the state. Municipalities have the right to issue their own franchises.

Five companies operate in Delaware: Heritage Communications in northern New Castle County; Del-Mar Cablevision Associates in southern New Castle County; Storer Cable Communications in portions of Kent and Sussex counties; Simmons Communications in the areas around Indian River Bay and Harrington; and United Cable Television of Eastern Shore in the area around Fenwick Island.

Aetna expands in Delaware

Delaware Insurance Commissioner David N. Levinson and Aetna president William O. Bailey have jointly announced Aetna's plans to expand the company's presence in Delaware which will result in the location of several hundred new insurance employees in the state and up to $50 million in job producing investments through the Commissioner's Economic Development Fund, subject to the conditions of the Fund.

The jobs and the $50 million in investments will be phased in over a five year period, according to Levinson and Bailey.

Aetna anticipates over time having some 400 new insurance employees in Delaware working in claims and underwriting administration and other Aetna operations.

The company will open a claims office in Delaware for its employee benefits division in the second quarter of 1987 and expects to employ about 50 people in the state during the first year of operation, according to an Aetna spokesperson.

The office will assume the responsibility for all new business in Delaware and Maryland.

"We think these efforts to expand our operations in Delaware - beyond sales functions - will not only benefit Delaware in terms of job opportunities, but will enable Aetna to expand in a state which has a healthy business climate."

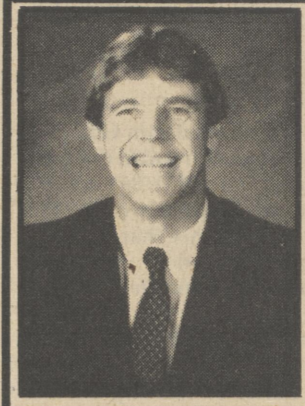

"Commissioner Levinson has created an insurance business and regulatory environment in Delaware that we find quite attractive," Bailey said.

"We are very pleased to welcome Aetna's increased presence in Delaware. They are an important citizen in the insurance industry," Levinson said.

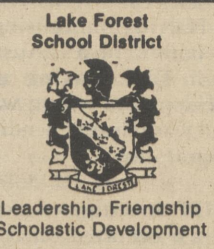

"Aetna's strong reputation as an established and solid insurer will continue to enhance Delaware's efforts to become a major insurance center."

"We look forward to Aetna's participation in the economy of our state and we are pleased to say, 'Aetna, we're glad we met'cha,'" Commissioner Levinson said.

Aetna Life and Casualty Company is one of the largest insurance and financial services operations in the nation with assets of more than $60 billion. It is also the largest insurance company provider of Group Health benefits.

"A Very Private Affair"

Much has been written about what most label the essence of education, that work called teaching.

Upon reflection of that concept, one wonders can anyone really be taught?

Learning is a very private activity. At times, despite the efforts of an outstanding teacher, a multitude of materials and state-of-the-art equipment, people still do not learn.

Why?
They may not be interested; they may be hungry; they may be tired; there may be other, and more pressing matters on their mind.

While it is the daily challenge of every educator to try to reach students each period each day realistically we know that will not happen. We are still obligated to "go the extra mile" with the hope that that magic key will some time be found, the key that opens the door and allows teaching to join learning.

The fact remains that teachers cannot teach. What they can do is provide a stimulating, structured and enthusiastic environment in which learning may take place.

Misnamed, teachers are more often motivators, organizers, disseminators of information. If all those behaviors blend together and a student learns, it may be safe to say that someone has been taught.

Or is it?
May that individual, placed in a stimulating, structured, enthusiastic environment still choose not to learn?

Yes.
Learning is a very private affair.

The Biden Report

by Joseph R. Biden, Jr.
United States Senator

Two weeks ago, I reported with pleasure that some $2 million in federal anti-drug dollars would soon be distributed to local law-enforcement, education and treatment agencies to support their front-line fight against illegal drugs in Delaware.

Just this past week, I learned to my considerable displeasure that the Office of Management and Budget intends to sit on the money meant to fund state and local programs all over the country until the President submits his budget request next year--at which point, it appears, the President will propose formally to curtail these funds, as well as others for various anti-drug, crime and juvenile-justice programs.

In view of the vigorous, well-publicized debate the preceded passage of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act, and especially in view of the Administration's support for that bill, OMB's sleight-of-hand would be surprising, except for one thing--they have played similar games with such programs in earlier years. Now you see it, now you don't.

This year, however, the deception seems especially blatant and heavy-handed. For the past six years, this Administration has regularly made loud noises about stepping up the struggle against the epidemic of illegal drugs that is sweeping the country. The President was apparently enthusiastic in his support for the anti-drug abuse legislation and seemed to be signaling a new commitment of the Administration to anti-drug programs.

But that, of course, was before the election. Now that the votes have been counted, it seems that we can no longer count on this Administration to help combat the rising tide of dangerous drugs.

Now, I have no doubt that Congress will, as it has before, correct this deficiency in the Administration's resolve to resist illegal drugs. I expect Congress to eventually provide full funding for these programs, but a delay at OMB will severely shortchange the state and local agencies who bear the heaviest burden in our battle with the drug traffickers. To paper over a federal budget deficit they have no realistic plans for reducing, OMB is willing to handcuff our anti-drug effort at the very point where vigorous enforcement, education and treatment is most needed--in the streets and schoolyards of our local communities.

To put it bluntly, I think that stinks, and that's what I have told OMB Director James C. Miller.

But don't take my word for it. Talk to any police officer, teacher or health professional you know. Then, when you get their reaction, write to OMB Director Miller yourself and tell him what you think. Your letter will find him at 726 Jackson Place N.W., Washington, D.C. 20503.

And while you're at it, fire off a copy to Ronald Reagan at the White House, 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington 20500--because that, as the saying goes, is where the buck stops.

KGH names new internal auditor

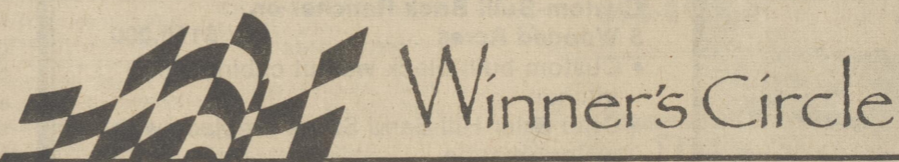

Gary J. Kemske has been appointed Kent General Hospital's new Internal Auditor. In this position, he will help department heads evaluate operations and identify improvement opportunities.

A native of Stanton, Mr. Kemske received a B.S. in Accounting from the University of Delaware, and became a Certified Public Accountant (C.P.A.) in 1985. Before arriving at Kent General, Mr. Kemske was a federal auditor with the Office of the Inspector General in Philadelphia.

Mr. Kemske, his wife and daughter are temporarily living in Bethany Beach, but they are planning a move to Dover in the spring.

Raceweek

Banquet puts perfect end to glowing Georgetown season

by Don Allen

Just like the 1986 season at the Georgetown Speedway, the second annual Georgetown Speedway Awards Banquet held on Saturday night, December 6th, was full of surprises. The Rehoboth Beach Convention Center was once again the sight of the gala.

As the celebrants took their seats, prior to the delicious buffet feast, they were each presented with souvenirs compliments of Phillip Morris U.S.A. and First State Promotions, Inc. Phillip Morris and their representative, Shawn Reed, added to the following awards ceremony by presenting the three points champions with Marlboro coolers and the speedway with a beautiful clock for its concession stand.

The ceremonies commenced with presentations to the top ten owners and drivers in the Modified, Limited Late Model and Street Modified divisions. Accompanying the handsome Sandrose trophy that each owner received was a check representing their portion of the season points fund. The fund had grown to nearly $17,000 by season's end, $2,600 of that was divided among the Street Mods with $500 of that going to champ Kenny Pettyjohn. LLM champ Jeff Turpin netted $800 of that division's $4,075 portion of the fund and Steve Dale, owner of the #19D Modified that Harold Bunting piloted to a season championship, was presented with a check for $1,700. The Modified portion of the payout was $10,100.

The "Sportsman of the Year" award was created this year to honor the individual or group who best represented the spirit of Motorsports with their actions and deeds throughout the season. The first recipient was modified driver Dave Schamp. Over the last two seasons Dave has scored eleventh in driver points at Georgetown and throughout '86 there were very few nights that the #24 Modified was not qualified for the feature.

This year's Media Award was divided into three categories with David Keene, publisher of Dad's Independent Racing Times, honored for his work in the Motorsports Media. Donna Stachecki of the Milford Chronicle won the award for excellence in the daily weekly press for her paper's weekly auto racing results column. In the radio television category Charlie Brown was honored for his "Delmarva Dirt" radio show broadcast every weekday throughout the season on WYUS-AM in Millford.

Ms. Motorsports '86, Tracey Lape, presented the beautiful Checkered Flag Fan Club awards to track champions Harold Bunting and Jeff Turpin.

All three track champions received jackets compliments of Speed & Sport Novelties and desk sets from D&L Photos.

In his closing comments, speedway director Tony Donofrio confirmed that Georgetown would not change its Modified rule book for 1987. He did state that there would be some changes in the LLM and Street Mods rules with an eye toward improving safety and cutting cost in both divisions. An open meeting for the two divisions will be
