

Dennis introduces ordinance concerning legal advertising

by William Robertson

HARRINGTON - It was the shortest term for a city solicitor. Lester Blades, who was appointed as the city solicitor for Harrington during a special meeting, had to resign because a charter provision specifies that the city solicitor must have practiced law in the State of Delaware for at least three years.

Blades, who had not served for three years, gave that as his reason for his resignation. Upon his resignation, the council decided to change the charter provision and drop the amount of years from three to none.

Until this change is approved, which should be by the end of the month, Blades will serve as a peaceable attorney for the City of Harrington.

The Harrington Town Council is also attempting to adopt a classified ordinance submitted by councilwoman Sue Ellen Dennis relating to not using The Harrington Journal as the primary source for legal classifications for the city.

At the end of Monday night's meeting under new business, councilwoman Dennis introduced the first reading of an ordinance designed to forbid The Harrington Journal as the primary source for legal advertising for the city.

Under the terms of the ordinance, Dennis proposed that the primary source for legal advertising for the City of Harrington be The Milford Chronicle.

Councilwoman Anne Minner, whose family used to own and operate The Milford Chronicle, backed Dennis to have ordinance approved.

Councilman James Temple was strongly against the ordinance. Temple stated that the citizens of Harrington pay the town officials through their taxes and the citizens have a right to know what the city government is doing.

Councilwoman Dennis refused to comment on whether or not her submission of the ordinance was due to any personal reasons she had against the newspaper, and she refused to comment on whether or not she was trying to keep city government information from the citizens of Harrington.

After Dennis' first reading of the ordinance, councilmembers Anne Minner, Jack Wyatt, Daniel Coleman and Watson Brown voted to approve the first reading.

The second reading will take place at the next regularly scheduled meeting on July 13 at 7:30 p.m.

Harrington City Manager, George Volenik, was confronted with approximately 25 complaints councilman Wyatt had received pertaining to everything from grass cutting to painting curbs.

Wyatt wanted to know when these complaints would be worked on and why it's taking town employees so long to get to them. Volenik said many of the complaints either are or would be worked on soon and that others are scheduled to be worked on within this year.

Temple asked the city manager why a certificate of occupancy was issued to the owners of a double-wide on Vernon Road while a moratorium was in effect? Volenik said the moratorium did not specify that a certificate of occupancy could not be issued.

Both Temple and Wyatt agreed that the intent of the moratorium was that nothing would be done until a determination was made by the city solicitor. Volenik stated he did not get that impression when the motion for the moratorium was made.

Temple also brought up the matter of a letter that all the councilmembers received last week pertaining to a microwave antenna to be installed on a piece of property located on Route 14.

The letter was dated May 7, and the council had held a meeting on May 11, but the letter was not issued to them prior to the meeting. Instead it was given to councilmembers almost a month after the city manager received it.

Temple wanted to know from Volenik, what is going on in city hall, why was the letter given to councilmembers almost a month later, and he wanted an explanation.

Volenik told Temple that he did not see why he needed to give an explanation.

It was also noted at the council meeting that the Harrington Fire Co., Inc. is looking for a part-time person to help with the ambulance runs. In 1986, the Fire Company Ambulance responded to 231 calls between June 1 and August 31 which equals out to 2.5 calls per day.

This extra person would be used during the time span listed above and must be a certified ambulance attendant. Hal Blades, ambulance captain, asked the council for its assistance in the matter.

Sewer backup has local resident fed up

by William Robertson

HARRINGTON — Fourteen years and counting. That's how long Mrs. Pat Maher of Fleming Street has been putting up with sewer problems plaguing her family's home.

Mrs. Maher said she first encountered the sewer problems when she first moved in the home. Maher had to hire a man to clean out the sewer line. After having the line cleaned, Bob Hassett, former foreman for the streets of Harrington said, the next time there were any problems to go to city hall and the town would take care of it, Maher said.

Since the lines have been cleaned 14 years ago, Maher has been calling the town at least once every year to have them pumped. If they are not pumped then the lines get backed up. Within the last two years, Maher said she has had the lines pumped continuously and the problems have worsened.

According to Maher, she contacted city manager, George Volenik, and told him about the problems she was experiencing with the sewer lines. Volenik told Maher that the problems lied in her line and it wasn't the town's problem.

Maher's son and a neighbor dug up the sewer line in her yard, but they were unable to find any problems.

It wasn't until the day of her daughter's wedding reception that the sewer became a noticeable problem to Mrs. Maher and everyone who attended.

While her daughter was holding her reception in the backyard, a sewer pipe underneath the Maher's home backed up and ruptured. Sewage from the pipe flowed underneath the home, across the backyard, and soaked the ground and the feet of all the guests at the reception.

The town then responded to the problem by replacing a small section of bad piping instead of replacing the entire pipe, Maher said.

After the installation of the new section of piping, Maher was still having problems, so the town inspected its lines and found them clogged with roots.

Asked if the sewer problems have been successfully corrected, Volenik said no.

Maher also wants to know who's responsible for the mess under her home and who's going to clean it up? "It's disgusting outside for both us and our neighbors, and I'm sure the health department would like to come and see this mess," Maher said.

As far as who's responsible for the mess, Volenik said the matter would have to be brought before the council.

When asked if the clogged city lines caused the ruptured pipe under Maher's home, Volenik said, "I can't answer that."

Now Maher is waiting to see what happens next to the sewer and how much longer it will take for the city to correct the problems.

Frederica residents fight to preserve their homes from sludge

by William Robertson

FREDERICA — When news reached local residents who live around the Pennel tract that 408 tons of sludge would be spread on the land over the next three years, Raquel B. Coverdale, 50, who lives across from the Pennel tract, has taken a stand to fight back the spreading.

Coverdale went before the local officials at the June 2 meeting of the Kent County Levy Court protesting the spread of the sludge near her property, stating, "We're fighting for our lives. We bought a place and we'd like to stay there."

Coverdale is not alone in her fight. Jack Peterman and Dr. A. Robert Masten, two local residents active with Citizens for Clean Air, a local group founded several months ago to fight odors from the county sewage treatment plant are supporting Coverdale in her cause.

The group currently consists of five members, and it has started a petition which has 16 signatures so far. The group has another 27 people waiting to sign, Coverdale said.

Coverdale's complaints focus mainly around the smell. Coverdale said county workers last week were spreading sludge on the land and the odor was so bad she was unable to hang her clothes out to dry. "I couldn't even invite some of my friends over to sit on the porch," Coverdale said.

The sludge the workers were spreading is known as cake sludge which smells worse than liquid sludge because it is dumped on the ground and then slung through the air by a centrifugal spreader before it is plowed under.

Liquid sludge is injected directly under the ground when it is applied, which decreases the amount of odor released in the air.

State officials have taken the county to Magistrate Court three times in recent weeks over sludge odors.

A case scheduled to be heard May 27 in Magistrate Court was transferred to the Court of Common Pleas heard on June 5.

Carper calls for negotiations in Nicaragua

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

Delaware Congressman Tom Carper visited The Harrington Journal on Friday while on a routine visit to Harrington.

Mr. Carper indicated that he approved of some immunity for Col. North, "...because there has been too much time spent on this matter as well as too much money now". He indicated that what Congress needs to know is whether or not laws have been broken and by whom. "I think we need to treat this as a lesson so that in the future we may be able to repair our foreign policy or know what to do or not to do in matters such as this".

"There are big problems facing our country today such as the big budget, the trade deficit and the fact that 80 million people in this country cannot read or write."

Asked for a solution to the situation in Nicaragua he suggested the following:

Kent County food distribution set for June 18

The next quarterly distribution of surplus foods will take place on Thursday, June 18 in Kent County. The State Division of Purchasing, which administers the program, will again be assisted by fire companies, their ladies auxiliaries, Jaycees, State Granges and other volunteers.

Delaware residents who receive food stamps, general assistance, or AFDC will be mailed food vouchers from the Division of Purchasing which entitles them to USDA donated food commodities. The June vouchers will be mailed several days prior to the date of distribution. The person to whom the voucher is addressed or a representative authorized by that person must take the voucher to the location nearest them in exchange for the food.

Persons on the above listed public assistance programs may no longer receive surplus food at these distributions by presenting their assistance identification cards. They must have a voucher.

Local Kent County residents may go to the following fire companies to pick up their food: Bowers Beach, Camden-Wyoming, Frederica, Harrington and the Millford Armory from 5:30 to 7 p.m.

Ginger Peachy negotiating for locations in Harrington

by William Robertson

HARRINGTON - The City of Harrington will be receiving a boost in its local economy if a New York based firm known as Ginger Peachy, which manufactures girl's blouses and sportswear, relocates its sewing factory here.

Jim Mancini of Farrow Realty, has been trying to help the company find a suitable place to establish their sewing company. The building that Ginger Peachy is negotiating for is located at 45 Clark Street which is locally known as the old L & M Fashions Building.

All the partners of Ginger Peachy have looked at the building, and last week they were preparing an offer to the owner.

The company plans on hiring approximately 20 people and by the end of its first year, they plan to have 40 working. As time progresses, the company hopes to have as many as 100 people employed.

Ginger Peachy expects to gross $1 million in the first year and about $300,000 will go to employee's salaries while another $300,000 goes toward overhead, Mancini said.

The reason Ginger Peachy chose the City of Harrington was because of its considerable work force of seamstresses. Mancini said. Ginger Peachy has already received approximately 60 applications for the new jobs.

L & M Fashions, Clark St. is the proposed location of a new sewing factory.

Delaware State Fair Attractions

World's largest country music contest returns to Harrington

The True-Value Hardware Country Music Showdown is billed as the largest country music contest in the world and rightfully so. Over $50,000 dollars in cash, prizes and a one year recording contract are up for grabs.

The 1987 Delaware State Fair will once again host the finals for Delaware, New Jersey and Maryland. Bands from the three state area will compete on Thursday, July 16, at 7:30 p.m. at the Fair. Only one band will advance to the regional finals that winner will travel to Nashville for the national finals. Hosting this year's contest will be country music recording star Gene Watson. Since 1974 when he recorded "Love In The Hot Afternoon," that sultry, explicit tune which became the Number 4 song for the entire year, Watson's brand of blue collar country music has consistently been at the top of the charts. He is a master of interpretation who wrings every last drop of emotion out of the lyrics and melody of a country song. This characteristic has earned him the distinction as one of the great country singers of our time.

His music is so durable that many of his past hits continue to receive considerable airplay years after they were first released. A former auto repairman, Watson takes the same pride in his music as he did hammering dents out of fenders.

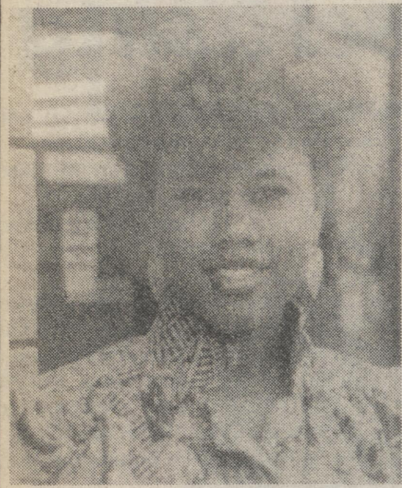

A contributing factor in Watson's recording success is the material he chooses. He has an intuitive knack for picking songs which are right for him. A case in point is "Farewell Party", which was released in 1979 and continues to be his most requested number in concert. He recorded the tune even though both his manager and his wife felt it was not a hit song.

Although Watson is renowned for his ability to sing country ballads, he is just as likely to hit paydirt with an uptempo tune such as "14-Karat Mind", a chart topper for him in 1981. "I love to sing ballads," said Watson. "Some of my most successful records have been medium to uptempo songs." Regardless of the type of song he sings, Watson's style is heavily influenced by the blues he listened to as a boy growing up in east Texas.

Watson credits his audience for much of his success throughout his career. "I've had an extremely consistent track record," said Watson. When all is said and done, Gene Watson's music speaks for itself. Be part of the excitement during the Showdown it will be a night of non-stop country music.

Point of View

Should mandatory testing for AIDS be done for marriage licenses?

Anna Hudson, Harrington
"I think so because if you want to have children, the children could get AIDS and you would want to find out before you decided to get married."

Kimberly Taylor, Harrington
"Yes, I do. All these people are complaining about the problems of AIDS, but they don't want to do anything about it when something should be done."

Fay Passwaters, Houston
"In a way, no, because you've probably already made love to the person your going to marry anyway before you get married. Then again, yes, because there is so much of it going around, some people will want to know."

Loretta Davidson, Felton
"Yes. I just don't think it's right to marry someone and later find out they have AIDS."

Grant may help Greenwood to ease the cost of a new sewer plant

by William Robertson

GREENWOOD— There were more than enough empty seats to go around at Thursday night's Greenwood Town Council meeting when only five of Greenwood's 578 residents turned out to attend.

The meeting focused mainly on a proposal for a sewer plant that will cost $3.2 million. Those citizens that attended were told that a federal grant may be available to help cover a portion of the local cost of the project, said consulting engineer Lee J. Beetschen.

Greenwood citizens are expected to pay about $425 to $550 per household for the new sewer plant, but this price will probably decline, but no one is sure at the present time how much the decline in price will be.

Greenwood citizens already have agreed to build a central sewer system to replace septic tanks that have served homes and businesses in the northwestern Sussex County community.

State officials have been pushing for a central sewer system because some of the town's septic systems are not functioning properly.

The new sewer plant has raised concerns among the elderly and low-income families who are worried about the cost.

Under the latest proposal, the town would be responsible for 15 percent of the sewer system's cost.

Since Greenwood's median income is below the poverty level, the Federal Farmers Home Administration may cover up to 75 percent of the local cost with a grant, Beetschen said.

The town plans on applying for the grant this month, town council president, Robert A. Reynolds Jr. said.

Aydelotte was released on unsecured bail after a magistrate court hearing in Georgetown on Friday night.

Harrington Rotary Club

by Melvin L. Brobst

On Monday, June 15, the annual Harrington Rotary Club awards will be given at the W.T. Chipman Junior School end-of-the-year assembly to two 8th grade students as they bid farewell to the local school and prepare for their years at the Lake Forest High School. The awards are for the student who has made the most improvement, and the other to one for meritorious service. Each will receive a certificate of achievement and a fifty dollar government bond. The names will not be revealed until the morning of the school assembly, when presentation will be made by Dr. Arthur Gilbert, member of Harrington Rotary and Supervisor of Curriculum and Special Programs for the Lake Forest School District.

Dr. Gilbert represented Harrington Rotary at the board of directors' meeting of the Kent-Sussex Industries' 25th anniversary dinner held at the Dover Air Force Officers' Club on June 1, with Mrs. Gilbert accompanying him. During the meeting two staff members were recognized for outstanding service to the organization.

Harrington Rotary is proud to have been a participant in sending three teams of students for the Lake Forest School District to Mt. Pleasant, University of Central Michigan, where they took part in the Odyssey of the Mind programs. Out of the five state representations, the Lake Forest High School team placed 26th, the W.T. Chipman Junior School placing 17th, and the Elementary School North, placing 8th, a remarkable achievement for the entire district. A letter from Harrington Rotary is being sent to the Lake Forest School Board congratulating this endeavor.

For the Heritage Day celebration in September sponsored by the Harrington Historical Society, in addition to manning the information booth as Harrington Rotary members have been doing the past several years, a raffle of several valuable articles will be made during the entire day.

A hot-line has been set up for the convenience of members who are unable to attend a meeting when communication can be made to a member of a committee to this effect. The committee consists of Roger Trice, George Thompson, Art Gilbert, and Dick Moretti. A time schedule when such calls can be made will be available to the club membership.

On Wednesday, June 17, the club goes to Grasonville, MD and the Poseidon Restaurant for the initiation of a new club in the district.

The following day, Thursday, June 18, the annual fishing trip takes place at 7:00 a.m. from Fisherman's Wharf, Lewes, when club members will embark on the Thelma Dale II for a day's fishing in the bay and ocean. Arrangements have been made by Gayle Smith and Dale Parsons of the marina. Harrington Rotary is also hearing from its Rotary Foundation Scholar in Armidale, New South Wales, Australia, Miss Janie Warren, who spent the month of May on an extended trip through central and eastern Australia.

Harrington Rotary is open to all prospective members interested in community affairs as well as international concerns. President Roger Trice and the other members welcome visitors at any time at the Harrington Colony Restaurant any Monday evening at 6:15 p.m.

Annual Camp Barnes Benefit Race set for June 24th

by Charlie Brown
 DELMAR, DE.—Once again, the best in dirt track racing will converge on Delmarva to aid underprivileged youth in the 15th Annual Camp Barnes Benefit Race, Wednesday night, June 24th at the Delaware International Speedway.

Now entering its 39th summer, Camp Barnes provides recreation for more than 1000 deserving youth each year at a cost of approximately $110,000. Funds to maintain and operate the camp are obtained solely from private donations and fund raising projects such as the benefit race.

The Delaware Association of Chiefs of Police formed the camp in 1948 and have continued to maintain and modernize it over the years. The Camp Barnes benefit has been held at various area tracks for nearly three decades and is entering its 15th consecutive year at Delaware International. The tradition and prestige of the event consistently brings out top fields of modified, late model, limited late model and street modified cars and drivers.

Added to this year's benefit will be a three lap "Dash for Cash" for the six top modifieds from the qualifying heats with a guaranteed minimum of $300 going to the winner and a minimum of $50 going to the sixth place finisher. Heat money will be paid to the top three finishers in each late model heat and bonus money has been added to all four divisions.

Gates open at 5:30 p.m. with heat races getting underway at 8:00 p.m. As always at Delaware International, kids 14 and under are free.

Harrington Hurricanes sweep Yanks behind Probst and Kirby

by Mike Dill
 The Harrington Hurricanes, behind the bat of centerfielder Ron Probst and the arm of John Kirby, swept the Milford Yanks 6-3 and 11-1 in Eastern Shore Baseball League action Sunday.

Probst was 2 for 4 with a RBI double in the first game and 3 for 4 with 3 RBI's in the second game to help the Hurricanes raise their record to 2-2.

The 'Canes jumped out to an early 2-0 lead in the first when Don Probst walked and was doubled in by brother Ron. Ron then scored when Tim Stump laced an RBI single. Harrington added another run in the fifth when Jeff Thompson walked, stole second, and scored on Tom Penuel's sacrifice fly.

Milford scored single runs in the second and the fifth and tied the score 3-3 in the bottom of the sixth on a throwing error by catcher Erin Engeninger. But the 'Canes stormed back in the seventh for three runs for win.

Ron Probst singled and was sacrificed to second. Stump then ripped his second RBI single of the game for the game winning RBI. Penuel and Todd Gruwell then followed with RBI's to close the scoring.

John Kirby was outstanding on the hill, striking out eight, while only walking one while allowing just five hits for the win.

In the nightcap, the Hurricanes scored five times in the second, three in the third, and two in the fourth to post an 11-1 victory.

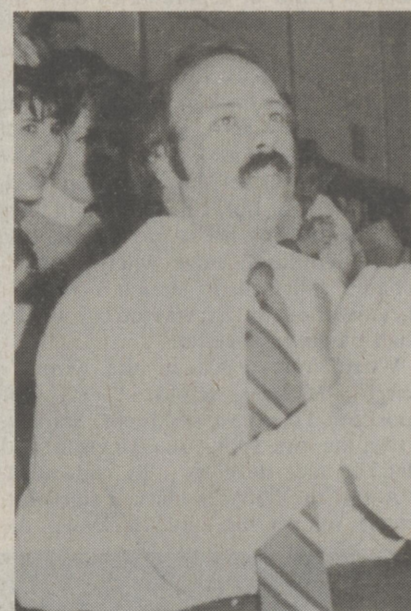

Tom Penuel, Benny Elliott, and Keith McCray combined for a one hitter to shut down the Yanks. Penuel was 3 for 3 and Elliott was 2 for 3 to pace the 'Canes.

Don Probst had 2 RBI's, and Mike Dill and Jeff Thompson both added RBI's for Harrington.

 For the second time in three years, Lake Forest baseball coach Bill Falasco has been recognized as the best coach in the Henlopen Conference. This past season, Falasco guided the Spartans to a 9-2 record and the Southern Division title. Falasco had six players named to the Henlopen Conference's all Southern Division team.

Two key players for the Spartans, Rick Brown and Steve Thompson were named first team All-South pitchers.

Brown, who was a first teamer in 1986, led the conference with a 5-2 record with 59 strikeouts and an ERA of 3.25.

Thompson was undefeated with a 4-0 record with 43 strikeouts and an ERA of 2.68. Thompson also was sixth in the conference with a batting average of .448, had 9 RBI's, 1 home run, 4 doubles, 1 triple, and 8 stolen bases.

Catcher John Swain joined Thompson and Brown on the first team as his defensive play behind the plate and .333 average earned him first team honors.

Wendall Watson was named first team centerfielder for his clutch play this season. Watson hit 4 homeruns, including 2 grand slams, drove in 12 runs, and stole 12 bases.

Second baseman Rob Bates was named to the second team along with left fielder Steve Stipple. Bates, an outstanding fielder, hit .303 and won two games pitching.

Racing Machine overcomes post to win "Battle of the Brandywine"

by Marv Bachrad
 Lightning struck for the second straight week for Racing Machine at Brandywine to highlight a star-studded Battle of the Brandywine night in which millionairess Caressable was retired and 10,000 winner Herve Filion was honored.

The 3-year-old Genghis Khan colt received a carbon copy journey in the $100,000 Battle of the Brandywine Sunday night similar to the trip they enjoyed the week before while winning a $20,000 Battle Prevue.

Starting from the outside nine post proved no obstacle as Webster hustled the David Rovine stable conditioned colt up the outside as first Set The Trap (O'Dwyer), then Automatically duelled for the lead at the start. Eddie Davis finally brushed Automatically into the lead at the quarter with Savage Breeze coming on quickly for Bill O'Donnell to capture the front in front of the grandstand. Webster and Racing Machine were covered up from the start after leaving from the outside and they immediately went into the lead around the clubhouse turn to lead briefly at the half mile pole.

O'Donnell came right out with Savage Breeze and regained command immediately as the field started down the backstretch. Don O'Dwyer then shook-up Set The Trap for an unsuccessful bid for the lead and then Righteous Bucks started an illfated attempt to loop the leaders. "The horse was a little sore," said driver Jack Holseyev, "when we moved three-wide, the horse was not himself." At the three-quarter Savage Breeze had a nose lead, with Set The Trap another nose in front of Righteous Bucks while the inside horses were desperately searching for room to make their assault.

As they turned for home, Set The Trap and Righteous Bucks were shortening strides and all the week before Webster spotted daylight wheeled Racing Machine to the outside and paced past the tiring Savage Breeze. Automatically had plenty left and Eddie Davis finally was able to escape a traffic jam and came flying. "If I'd been able to get clear sooner," Davis, twice national driving champion said, "I would have won it, I just couldn't get clear." At the wire the

The district embraces the State of Delaware and the nine counties on Maryland's Eastern Shore and includes 81 clubs, with about 1,400 members. The district's governor nominee, who will become governor July 1, 1988, is John N. Sparks Jr. of Middletown. He is semi-retired insurance man and has

Person-to-Person

A man and his mission

by Rebecca Moore

Consider the following scenario: The alarm goes off in the morning and you wake up to the realization that your head is splitting, you ache in more places than you can count, and the thermometer informs you that your temperature is 103°. In spite of the fact that you feel like rolling over and dying, you grope you way down the hall, grab the telephone and collapse in the nearest chair. Since your husband is on active duty in the Air Force, you punch those seven numbers which will put you in touch with the notorious appointment desk at the base hospital. Supporting your throbbing head in your shaking hands, you are greeted with the familiar BZZI, BZZI, BZZI of the busy signal rousing you from your fevered stupor. Five minutes later there's a repeat performance. But persistence pays off and after several attempts at contacting that which stands between you and relief from the flu's miseries, there comes Ma Bell's renowned RING! your facial muscles contract into a bit of a smile—it won't be long now!

"Appointment desk—may I help you?" a businesslike voice on the other end questions.

"I need to make an appointment for myself in Primary Care today, please" you manage to croak out.

"I'm sorry, but all our appointments for today are filled. You can try again tomorrow, or go to the Emergency Room. Thank you."

CLICK! Urge to kill!

Now, before you throw the phone through the window or scream something offensive, please consider this: the hospital at Dover Air Force Base is a very busy place. For every one hundred appointment slots available, there's usually twice that many people in need of an appointment. Somehow, it all seems to work out in the end, and over ten thousand patients are seen each month on an outpatient basis.

A large part of this "working out" is due to one man—the hospital administrator. He is tall, and straight as a redwood tree. His gray hair enhances his distinguished appearance. He looks exactly the way you would expect an Air Force officer to look, and his name is Major Richard Chamberlain.

Now ladies, stop swooning. For Richard Chamberlain, a.k.a. Dr. Kildare, is not alive and well in Dover, Delaware. Sorry, but our Richard Chamberlain has a less glamorous, but much more vital occupation than the Richard Chamberlain of Hollywood fame. No, his position is not glamorous, in fact, many would consider it quite undesirable, but he's very good at what he does, and his career proves it.

Major Chamberlain received a master's degree in business administration from Southern Illinois University in 1971, and entered the Air Force shortly thereafter. He arrived in Dover in October of 1986, after spending time at various bases both stateside and overseas. All of his years have been spent in some form of medical administration, including two years of recruiting doctors and dentists in parts of New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania. After sixteen years in various medical fields, he is highly qualified to fill the position of hospital administrator.

Major Chamberlain and his wife, Joan, were married one day after receiving their degrees from SIU. They are the proud parents of Andy, (tall and handsome) Lisa, (with the voice of a nightingale) and Robin (with Shirley Temple curls). Mrs. Chamberlain gave up her teaching career to stay home and devote herself entirely to her family. They both felt the necessity of this, considering the upheaval that is sometimes part of the military family.

Away from the hospital, Major Chamberlain is 100% a family man. What one family member does, all family members do. The entire family is actively involved at Faith Community Church in Camden. They all enjoy hiking, bicycle riding and various sports, all participating together. There's a very obvious closeness in this family.

Back at the hospital, Major Chamberlain is involved with every phase of its operations, including complaints, and knows its workings like the back of his hand. The thirty-year-old facility bears the motto of "Caring People With a Caring Mission", and it was built to handle any wartime task. The peace-time goals of the hospital and its personnel are to provide quality care, courtesy, sensitivity, and accessibility. Sometimes that goal of accessibility is difficult to achieve, because of the overwhelming patient load. Whenever this is the case, patients are given the option to go off base and utilize the military's medical insurance.

The hospital is constantly changing, and these changes are overseen by Major Chamberlain. Studies have shown that patients judge a hospital largely on its appearance. For this reason, the base hospital is constantly being renovated in one way or another. Of course, patient care is the most important factor in a hospital; therefore, changes in equipment are also made as improved upgraded equipment becomes available.

Many Air Force doctors are on active duty because of the Air Force Health Education Scholarship program. This is a program which provides medical school tuition in return for active duty service in the Air Force. Anyone applying to this program must be in the top twenty-five percent of students who have been accepted into medical schools. Not only must an applicant have exceptional academic records, he or she must also be involved in productive extracurricular activities. These high standards are maintained in order to ensure the best medical care in all Air Force medical facilities, and Dover is no exception.

Seems like everyone has a story about the base hospital. I'm continually inundated with comments like "I have a friend and do you know what they did to her at that base hospital?" or "I wouldn't go to that place if my life depended on it!" Well, folks, I've been going to "that place" for fourteen years now, and my good experiences far outweigh my bad experiences. It's a frustrating place from time to time, but this is the case in any hospital, whether it be civilian or military. It's a small hospital that's more like a big, caring family, rather than a cold, impersonal medical center.

Any hospital is only as good as its staff. Despite its problems, the hospital at Dover Air Force Base is an excellent medical facility, and I have complete confidence in it and its staff. Keep up the good work, Major Chamberlain!

Racing Machine overcomes post to win

horses could be separated by only the photo finish camera. The time of the race was 1:59.2. The courageous Righteous Bucks, the only gelding in the fray, came back to finish third. The final money spot went to another Rovine conditioned colt, Hat In The Ring. His driver Herve Filion said, "Believe it or not, I think I could have won it, but my horse was on one line and I couldn't move when I had a chance. Then in the stretch, I couldn't get any room until it was too late, but he had plenty of pace left."

When interviewed in the winner's circle, Webster retold, "With our position I'd say we got lucky. Starting from the nine spot, you go forward and let the race develop." He continued, "About the halfway mark, I started to move up on the outside. Down the stretch, I knew, I had enough horse to take it."

Racing Machine, owned by harness enthusiast James Plate of N.J., has been part of the David Rovine Stable for only two months. "We had trained for Mr. (James) Plate several years ago, but he's been with Mike Gagliardi and has a lot of loyalty to Mike," Rovine went on. "But, Mr. Plate has so many horses now, it's just got to be too much for Mike to handle. So Mr. Plate gave us this horse (Racing Machine) and three others."

The $50 thousand won by Racing Machine in The Battle almost doubled his previous career bankroll in fifteen starts.

The pre-Battle Prevue favorite Laag made up for his setback and failure to make the big race with a powerful 1:55.4

victory in a $5,500 sub-feature with O'Donnell at the controls. They rolled out of the five post and finally made the lead after a lackluster 30 first quarter. After that, it was no contest, Laag crushed his six rivals with a 27.2 final panel. Shannon Supreme was second for Campbell with Raven Thriller and Webster, third.

Earlier in the gala program, the fourth female pacer to win in excess of a million dollars in her career, the Niatross 4-year-old, Caressable, was retired in a winner's circle ceremony following her final race. Bob Shahan drove her to a gritty third in a Nellie Rocklin 1:57 victory - one of three on the night for Eddie Davis - in a $6,000 Fillies and Mares Open Pace. Owner Ed Mullen, trainer Mark Mullen, farm manager Frank Ives and members of the Fair Winds Farm family were on hand as blacksmith Jim Whelan removed her racing shoes in the winner's circle.

Late in the night, all-time Brandywine favorite Herve Filion was honored. He and the horse on which he won his 10,000th victory, Commander Bond drove down the stretch. Track president Hap Hansen then presented Filion a plaque engraved with his achievement. Owners of the 2-year-old colt with which the Hall of Famer made the historic event, the 007 Stable, trainer Del Manges and caretaker Ronnie Teague were given mementos as well. Each fan received a photo package of that win as they entered the track.

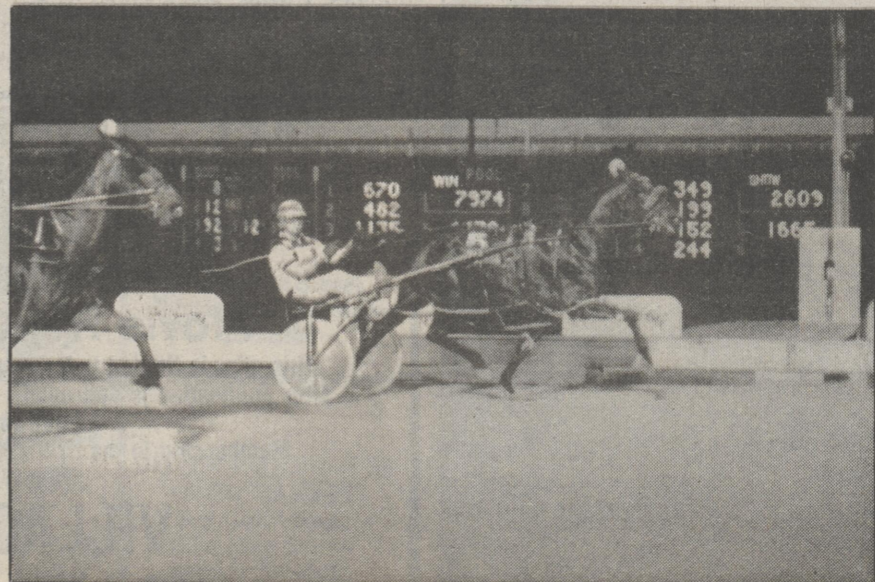

Davis engineer the biggest surprise of the program directing Ironstone Hello to a 1:56.3 triumph in the $8,000 Invitational-Handicap Pace. The two race favorites, Natchez Gambler and Shannon Can, went off stride just before the start. John Campbell got Natchez Gambler back into contention and finished second with Kevin Hankins and Oxford Derby third. Other fast wins were turned in by Jolly Blue Chip, a 1:58.3 upset winner for John D'Iorio and Filion guided Stargell Lobell to a wire-to-wire 1:58.2 win. The rages-to-riches story of Suitcase continued. The Meadow Skipper 5-year-old-gelding won his fifth race of the meet and fourth in-a-row for owner-trainer-driver Bob Shahan advancing from the $7,000 to $20,000 claiming ranks. He won his fastest of the season, a lifetime best 1:56.2 record pulling away from six foes.

Early in the week, J B Surge came from seventh in the stretch to win the $6,000 Open-Handicap Trot with former Big B driving champ, Forrest Gery, III handling the lines. Nemo Hanover (Dick Macomber) finished second and Donovan Hanover (Ken McNutt) third, in the Friday feature. Larry Manges used similar strategy taking the Saturday feature behind Listen To Paul for a 2:00 win, his fourth win of the meet.

Special Love pulls a surprise winning $10,000 Starlet Series Final Friday, May 22 at Brandywine. Walt Ross, Jr. steered the 4-year-old Tyler B

Winner's Circle

Coverdale cleans house at Middleford and Collings does it again

by Mark Miller & Bonnie Mitchell
Greg Coverdale of Milford put the #17 Coverdale Insurance/Suzuki powered Micro in the winners circle for the fourth time in four events.

Coverdale, who swept the "Eastern Petroleum Series" the week before, again took the lions share of the purse.

Rookie driver Chris Walls (16) showed he's a driver to watch in the future as he took second over Gene Smith in the #33 G&S TV/Suzuki special.

Rapid Rick Krebel put his #69 Yamaha into fourth over Jersey's Larry Winchell, with Hi-Grade/Tony Kibler rounding out the top six.

In Karting action Mike Bloom #3 increased his points lead by winning the Lightweight division with the #9 of Shane Larimore of Andrewsville, taking second on his first time out this season, and Jean Metzner running a close third.

It was a 'Blooming' good time for Karts as Buddy Bloom followed brother Mike's lead as he won the heavyweight division.

In ATV action Rob Gygyrnyk, Harrington, did some exciting riding, coming on for the win and remained undefeated in the 250cc class with a win over Scott Jestice, who had already captured the 200cc class over Honda East's Keith Harris.

The cycle classes saw familiar faces in the winners circle. Mark Miller took the heat win, but Roy Collings turned things around in the final, and took the 500cc class, with Howard Chelton and Miller (Milford) rounding out the top three.

The Senior Class was all Rennie Dail as he remained undefeated on the R-M Racing/Mark Miller Yamaha. Second place went to Glenn Logan in his very first race, aboard a very clean Bultaco 360.

Roy Collings, of Salisbury, made it two in a row as he led heat winner Howard Chelton to the checkered. Collings pulled out a few lengths over Chelton and Miller who were battling over second. Chelton held a tight line as Miller tried to find an opening to get by, but to no avail. Collings took the win as Chelton and Miller crossed the checkered a bike length apart.

Capie takes second Georgetown checkered

by Don Allen
GEORGETOWN, DE— "I can't believe how things have turned around for us this season. The car feels strong and it will go anywhere I want it to on the track. It looks like we're on a roll and it feels great!" That was the immediate reaction of Tom Capie, driver of the Jones Machine Racing Products, Petrocon #53 after picking up his second season win in the thirty lap Modified feature at the Georgetown Speedway, Friday night, June 5th. "Maybe we've finally kicked our Delaware jinx and boy it feels good!" Capie was too fast for that "jinx" or any of his fellow competitors to catch Friday night as he handily led the top five cars of Freddy Brightbill, Bob Toreky, Norman Short Jr. and Charlie Decker under the checkered.

The event started with Tom Daggett

Jr. and Ron Keys on the front row and Capie back in ninth just ahead of Brightbill. Daggett's Rose Bowl Delaware #98 had been very strong in his qualifying heat as had Keys and when the green fell the pair began to distance the field. Keys took the lead off of two and turned up the wick on the J. Earl Keys Trucking #39.

For the next 20 laps Keys dominated as Daggett and the field tried to chase him down. On lap 20 the deck got a reshuffle as the front five exited turn three. Keys still had a comfortable lead, but Tom Daggett lost power steering in the turn and his momentary loss of control boxed in Toreky and allowed Capie and Brightbill to zip into the second and third spot.

Capie "stood on it" for the remaining eight laps using every racing groove on the broad half-mile of clay to cover the challenges of Brightbill. The #53 was the strongest in lap traffic as Capie was able to change his line at will through the turns and still maintain his margin over Brightbill's Rusty Rudder Restaurant machine.

RESULTS: 1ST HEAT—Toreky, F. Brightbill, Daggett, Jeff Clifton, Bob Wilkins. 2ND HEAT—Keys, Dan Baker, Capie, Charlie Phillips, Short Toreky, Short, Charlie Decker, Clifton, Phillips, Keys, Daggett, John Pinter, Wilkins, Baker, Hal Browning.

FROM THE FIFTH TURN: Fate dealt rising star Ricky Elliott a rotten card during heat action when the engine in his "U.S. Express" #64 blew. This couldn't have come at a worse time, just as he and his team were mounting a strong assault on the shore's Modified points championships.

Key's blown powerplant will put Ron's younger brother, Jimmy, to the test. Jimmy was back at the shop putting together his first motor for the team and they pulled out of the pits as soon as they could load up so they could get the mill installed for the rest of the weekend's race action.

It never ceases to amaze the chances that spectators take when they attend a motorsports event. Stock car racing is a dangerous sport, that is part of its attraction. With this in mind Georgetown Speedway, like all professional racing facilities, is designed with maximum spectator safety in mind. The grandstands are located behind strong, high catch fences and barriers and are positioned around the track at spots where the unexpected is the likely to happen.

Friday night a family of fans was seen sitting atop their vehicle outside of the track's security fence off of turn one. Though they had paid their admission, they had elected to not sit in the grandstands for what reason God only knows. The turns on a race track are the most dangerous place for it a racer looses control or, worst of all, a wheel, it usually happens there as the laws of physics send the debris to the outside of the track. At tracks where there is seating in the turns, the fencing is doubled, sometimes tripled for the equipment that we provide that will insure everyone's enjoyment of the fast paced action that Georgetown proudly presents.

Bob Toreky wins fifth of season, Saturday night at Delaware International

by Charlie Brown
DELMAR, DE—Bob Toreky held off Paul Weaver and Bobby Wilkins to win the 25 lap modified feature Saturday night at the Delaware International Speedway. It was Toreky's 24th career win at D.I.S., tying him with Eddie Pettyjohn and Jack Sapp for the sixth spot in career modified wins at the speedway.

took control on the restart with Wilkins in second and Weaver third.

Toreky started to open an advantage while Wilkins and Weaver swapped the second spot back and forth. Weaver finally moved back into the runner-up spot on lap nineteen as Toreky went on to the checkered. Wilkins finished in third with John Pinter fourth and Bunting III in fifth. Sixth through tenth were Kevin Lear, Tom Capie, Gary Trice, Keys, and Tommy Long. Heat races were won by Toreky over Pinter and Brightbill over Wilkins.

This Saturday night will be High School Graduation Night with graduates being admitted for free if they present their diplomas. As a bonus, the first 500 spectators will receive admission to the reserved grandstand at no extra cost. A special $500 winner take all match race will be run by the top six cars in the modified heats.

Win streaks fall in Georgetown limiteds and streets

by Don Allen
GEORGETOWN--Limited Late Model and Street Modified action at the Georgetown Speedway Friday night was the swan song for the three week long win streaks on Limited pilot Oscar Fields and Street ace Kenny Pettyjohn. Two time G'town Limited Late Champ, Jeff Turpin, was Fields' nemesis in their 20 lap feature. Turpin took the lead on the first lap with his Smith's Used Cars, Weller's Tire Service Camaro. Fields was in the middle of his trek up from the rear of the field when on lap three a rear axle left his #5 and put him out for the night.

Turpin lengthened his lead as the cars of Bunky White and Ryan Bloom, making an impressive showing in his first year out in the LLM's, staged a heated battle for second.

Bloom and White ran wheel to wheel for more than six laps before a miscue by the pair coming out of turn two dropped Bloom to third. White maintained second with his Miller American Monte Carlo until lap nine when something went wrong in the engine house and he pulled to the infield.

For the last five circuits Turpin nursed his mount as the oil pressure began to drop but the problem wasn't evident to the crowd and he roared under starter Bill Lawson's checkered for his first win of 1987.

FEATURE RESULTS--(Top Five) Turpin, Bloom, Donald Robinson, Buddy Messick and Will Hudson.

The Street Modified event produced ten laps of the hottest side-by-side racing to date at Georgetown. Richard White Jr., Kenny Pettyjohn and eventual winner Elwood Driscoll mounted a three car assault on the lead for the entire race.

Driscoll was the last car to arrive at the speedway Friday night, pulling in too late even to make hot laps. His "phantom" Monte Carlo was fresh out of the shop and hadn't even been lettered. The Street veteran started scratch on the field and as Pettyjohn and White dueled for the early laps, Elwood went to the outside and marched to the front. By lap three he was in the top five and as White took the point from Pettyjohn on lap four, Driscoll moved into third.

For the final six laps it was anybody's guess who would snare the win. On the last turn of the last lap with White still leading, Driscoll broke away from the two wide battle with Pettyjohn and nosed under White to take his first season win by no more than a bumper at the start/finish line.

Heartbeats program to be held

June 16 at MMH

Mrs. Pat Frey, hospital dietician at Milford Memorial, will speak at the next session of Heartbeats on Tuesday, June 16 at 7:30 p.m. in Room 214 of the hospital's Grier Administration Building.

This month's Heartbeats topic is "Fat Reduction--The First Step." Mrs. Frey will discuss how to reduce the fat content of your regular diet and will provide useful tips for healthier eating habits. A low-fat, low-cholesterol diet can actually lessen the chance of heart attack for those who suffer heart disease, as well as decreasing the possibility of developing heart problems for those who don't yet have them. Following discussion, free blood pressure checks and information from the American Heart Association will be available, and refreshments will be offered.

Heartbeats is a free program presented monthly and is open to members of the community who are interested in learning more about healthier life styles as well as to sufferers of heart disease and their families. Remember, heart attacks can be prevented.

Heartbeats is co-sponsored by Milford Memorial Hospital's Cardiovascular Rehabilitation program and the American Heart Association of Delaware. For more information, contact the Hospital at 422-3311 or 856-9444.

Calio named chairman of board at

Nanticoke Memorial Hospital

Mr. Frank B. Calio of Laurel, Delaware was recently named Chairman of the Board for Nanticoke Memorial Hospital. Calio was elected by a unanimous vote of the Board. Calio is replacing the late Mr. Ross Kennedy as Chairman.

A member on the Board of Directors at the Hospital since 1979, Calio has served as Chairman of the Finance Committee. In 1981 he became Treasurer of the Board, where he remained until his recent appointment. Calio's work on the Finance Committee has greatly helped the Hospital grow to where it is today.

Mr. Calio is very pleased with the progress made at Nanticoke Memorial Hospital in recent years. He is very proud that the Hospital provides top quality, low-cost health care to the community and can be considered a leader in health care services. According to Calio, physician recruitment efforts, which have enhanced the staff of physicians and specialists at the Hospital, and the creation of new services have been major factors in Nanticoke growing to be the Hospital it is today.

One of Calio's goals for the Hospital in the future is to keep abreast of advanced technology yet maintaining Nanticoke's sense of "Old-Fashioned Caring". A priority concern is to continue to offer top quality services at moderate costs.

Frank and his wife, Carolyn, operate Calio's Fashion Outlet, a retail store in Laurel where Calio also performs his craft of shoe repair.

Frank has a long history of volunteer work in the community. Serving as President of his Laurel High School Class of 1956 was the beginning of many years of continuous community service. Frank served as Chairman of the Budget Committee during his years on Laurel's Town Council and also once served as President of the Laurel Jaycees. He was a County Chairman for the Democratic party and an Administration Assistant in the Department of Public Safety under Governor Tribbett in the early 1970's.

Many in the area know Calio from his newspaper column "Frankly Speaking". His love for writing started in high school when he wrote sports stories and has continued to present day.

Frank has lived his entire life in Laurel. He and his wife have five children and one grandchild.

Battering during pregnancy a public health problem

The battering of pregnant women occurs in far greater number than has been recognized. The most tragic part of this problem: there isn't just one victim...there are two.

A study supported by the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation reveals that one out of 12 pregnant women receiving routine prenatal care in Houston, TX-area clinics was beaten. Battered pregnant women are more likely to have miscarriages and babies of low birthweight. Low birthweight babies are more likely to have birth defects and are 40 times more likely to die during the first month of life.

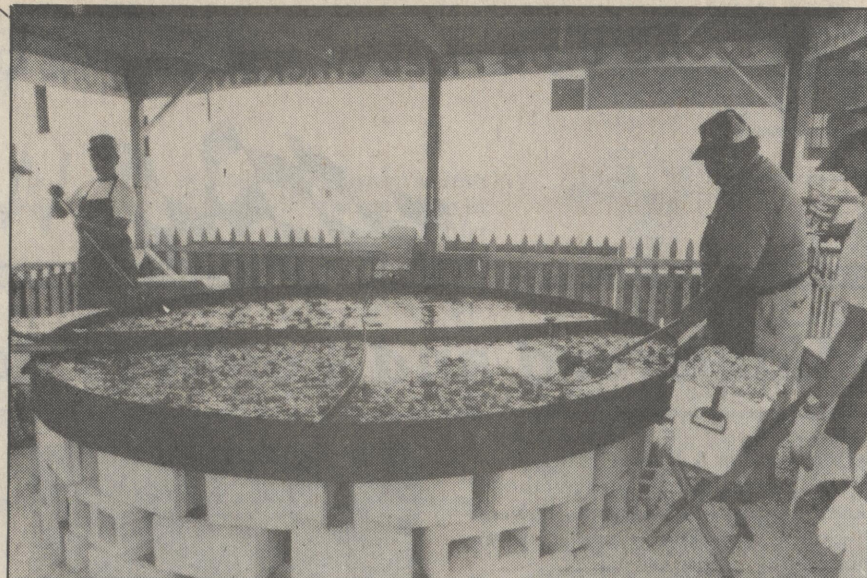

U.S. Surgeon General C. Everett Koop recently spoke out on the issue of battering during pregnancy in a statement to the March of Dimes. Koop says it is "a public health problem that is too frequently overlooked or ignored by even the best-trained health care personnel."

"A pregnant woman who has been physically abused presents a double challenge to health care professionals--first to provide for the woman's health needs and second to do whatever we can to protect her unborn infant from further harm," Koop added.

Koop made his remarks while introducing a videotape "Crime Against the Future," being produced by the March of Dimes, as part of a new professional education program for health professionals. The program will provide health care practitioners with the recent findings on the problem, help them recognize signs of abuse among their pregnant patients, and assist them in seeking counseling.

A study examining the prevalence of battering during pregnancy was conducted by Ann Helton, R.N., at Texas Woman's University in Houston. Helton is currently working under a March of Dimes Professional Education Grant, "Prevention of Battering During Pregnancy." The grant is directed by Drs. Judith McFarlane and Elizabeth Anderson at Texas Woman's University.

Anyone interested in receiving information regarding "Prevention of Battering During Pregnancy" may contact the March of Dimes at (302) 737-1310. The information will be forwarded as it is received.

COOKIN' AGAIN

Delmarva's giant fry pan, a landmark of Chicken Festivals since 1950, will be ready for action when the 39th event gets underway on Saturday, June 13. Measuring 10 feet in diameter, the 650 pound pan made of hot rolled steel will be filled with 180 gallons of corn oil and fired by about 60 gallons of LP gas. During the two-day festival, the pan will cook an estimated 10,000 chicken quarters -- that's about 7500 pounds of chicken or 3 1/2 tons!

Chicken Festival promises fun-filled agenda

The Delmarva Chicken Festival, an annual salute to Delmarva's billion dollar poultry industry, will make its 39th appearance this weekend, June 13 and 14, in Milford, Delaware. All activities will be staged at the Milford Senior High School located at 10th and North Walnut Streets.

Expected to draw an estimated 25,000 visitors, the event will offer attractions ranging from tempting fried chicken to toe-tapping music and a special children's show featuring Ronald McDonald.

From the 10 a.m. opening on Saturday, June 13, festival visitors will enjoy a home and trade show, an exhibit depicting the story of chicken, clowns and entertainment by the Banjo Dusters, Crystal Creek, Don Del Enterprises, Flip Richards and others. A parade will focus on Delaware's bicentennial celebration and Chicken Capers will bring laughs as competitors test their skill in an egg toss, chicken scratch, spoon race and rooster crowing contest.

A program of consumer interest, "Chicken - The Healthy Choice," will run throughout the day on Saturday, June 13. Martin Yan, renown chef of the PBS television series, Yan Can Cook, will be the featured guest. In addition to Yan's entertaining presentations, there will be food exhibits, demonstrations, tasting samples and free publications.

Delmarva's Giant Fry Pan, manned by members of the Milford Lion's Club will turn out mouth-watering fried chicken throughout the festival weekend. Other food treats will include the Milford Jaycee's barbecued chicken, chicken franks, funnel cakes, cold drinks, sno cones and french fried potatoes.

As an added attraction, there will be a display of live Blue Hens on loan to the festival from the University of Delaware. The Blue Hen chicken gained renown throughout Delaware history and, in 1939, was designated as Delaware's official state bird. Since these birds of blue plumage are in scarce supply, few people, even Delawareans, have seen an actual Blue Hen.

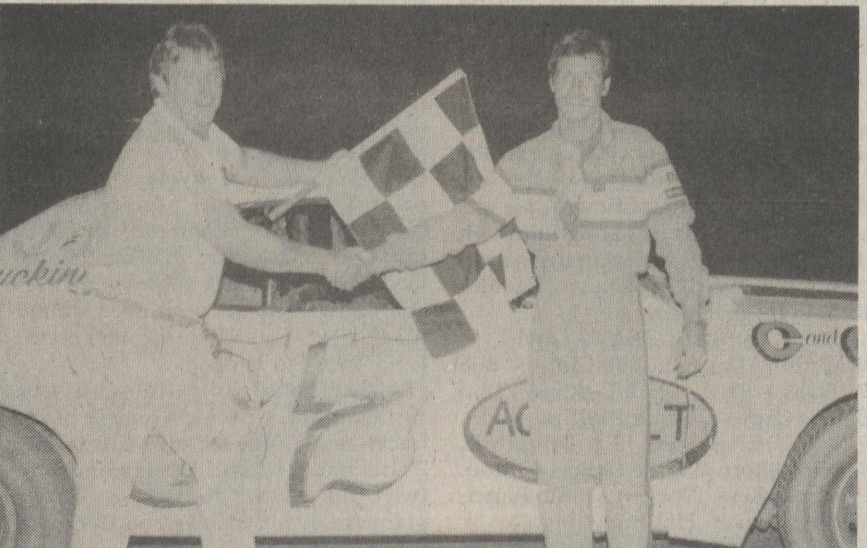

The Delmarva Chicken Festival is sponsored by Delmarva Poultry Industry, Inc. and is coordinated this year by the Chamber of Commerce of Milford. The event is open to the public; admission and parking are free.

For further information, contact Delmarva Poultry Industry, at (302) 856-9037 or Milford Chamber of Commerce, at 800-345-4200 (in Delaware) or 800-345-4444 (out of Delaware).

Steve Hill & Eddie Pettyjohn split late model mains at Delmar

by Charlie Brown

DELMAR, DE--Steve Hill recorded his 1st win of 1987 and Eddie Pettyjohn picked up his third in the twin 15 lap late model features Saturday night at the Delaware International Speedway. Bunky White notched win number one in the limited lates and Dale Bounds collected win number three in the street modifieds.

Eddie Pettyjohn and Alex Beaumont tangled to bring out the yellow at the start of the first late model main sending both cars to the rear of the field.

On the restart, Steve Hill took the top spot with J.C. Webster second and Mike Tauber third.

Tauber worked into the second spot but could not close on Hill. The remainder of the event went non-stop with Hill taking the win. Pettyjohn came on strong to finish in the second spot with Tauber third, Webster fourth and Joey Carey fifth.

Alex Beaumont started on the pole in the second feature but coasted to a stop at the drop of the green. On the restart, Lou Johnson took control with Carey second and Tauber third.

Tauber moved into second as Steve Hill spun to bring out the yellow. On the restart, Pettyjohn powered into second and one lap later took the lead. Tauber brought out the next yellow when he stopped on lap five.

On the restart, Pettyjohn and Beaumont locked into a duel for the lead and Beaumont went on top. Pettyjohn battled back on top on lap ten and held on for the win. Beaumont finished in second with Hill third, Johnson fourth and Carey fifth.

Bill Penuel went on top at the start of the limited late model feature. Oscar Fields moved into second with Bunky White third. On the second lap, Penuel spun and was hit by Fields. Bunky White took the lead on the restart and survived three more cautions for the win. John Hudson had his best performance finishing in second with Keith Harbaugh third. Ernie Lowe fourth and Preston Beach fifth.

Dixie VanMeter took the lead on the 1st lap of the street modified main. Dale Bounds took control on lap two and went on for his third win of the season. Kenny Pettyjohn finished in second with Tommy Elliott third, C.R. Robinson fourth and Elwood Driscoll fifth.

Waste not, want not

by Senator Joseph R. Biden and Congressman Tom Carper
EDITOR'S NOTE: This week's column from Washington is written jointly by Senator Joe Biden and Congressman Tom Carper.

Just about everybody agrees that the best way to tackle the threat posed by hazardous waste in Delaware and throughout the country is simply to produce less of it. Producing less hazardous waste is environmentally sound and economically viable. The challenge we face is to make it a more commonplace practice in American factories.

In an effort to meet that challenge, last week we introduced "The Waste Reduction Clearinghouse Act of 1987" in both the U.S. Senate and the House of Representatives.

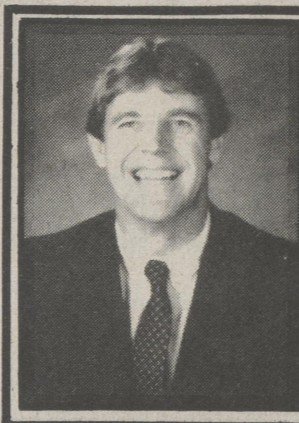

The Biden-Carper legislation will establish an Office of Waste Reduction within the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency to act as a Waste Reduction Clearinghouse. The Clearinghouse will promote the exchange of state-of-the-art waste reduction technologies, while minimizing the regulatory burden on industry. And it will accomplish both at virtually no cost to the American taxpayer.

The Waste Reduction Clearinghouse would be funded through fees assessed on large generators of hazardous waste. Any business which produces more than 1000 kilograms when it's shipped out for treatment, storage or disposal.

Hazardous waste management has quickly developed into one of the most critical, and one of the most controversial, environmental issues facing our country. It is estimated that for every man, woman and child in America, 2000 pounds of hazardous waste is produced each year. But while the production of hazardous waste is on the increase, the options for managing that waste are dwindling.

Our country must begin to develop a comprehensive national hazardous waste management strategy. That's going to take the cooperation of business, government, and the environmental community. The Clearinghouse is a first step in creating that important partnership.

"Imagination"

Dr. Donald Mogavero, Assistant Professor in the Department of Communication and 1986 recipient of the University of Delaware's Excellence-In-Teaching Award, believes in imagination.

In the December 1986 issue of the Blue Hen Messenger, Mogavero recalls how he found this statement in a Chinese Fortune Cookie, "Imagination is more important than knowledge."

The Chinese have oft been given credit for the derivation of profound philosophies regarding life. This is no exemption.

Educators must be very careful that they don't, in the interest of promoting "back to basics," limit our youth to the mindless experience of the regular regurgitation of information in our classrooms. There is a need, for those who have it, to pass along to those who don't, a basic foundation of knowledge in order that our youth may deal with life on more than a superficial level. Students, on the other hand, have a responsibility to question, to explore, to enter into a stimulating and invigorating experience with the information with which they will be impacted.

To receive information is not to learn.

To understand how to categorize it, manipulate it, to use it as a springboard for further investigation; that is the true meaning of education.

Further investigation takes one into the unknown; to places, times and experiences not yet possible. The potential for transforming that unknown into reality is limited only by the enthusiasm with which the investigation takes place...and imagination.

Imagination has been the benchmark of the great explorers of our history. Whether they explored the great unknowns of the earth or the great unknowns of the mind, these travelers through time had one common trait...they had imagination.

Sounds like the makings of yet one more fortune cookie. Mogavero would love it.

"Imagination...don't leave school without it."

Preserving Delaware for future generations

by Governor Michael N. Castle

June is always a busy month in Dover, and legislators will have a lot of decisions to make. But there's reason to think these measures can be considered and passed this year, if only because every legislator must be aware of the problems caused by unmanaged growth in Delaware. Moreover, the future of our state deserves to be made a top priority in the General Assembly.

Delaware is special. Our natural resources, the pace of life, the sense of community and absence of problems that afflict large metropolitan areas set our state apart. But there are parts of Delaware where travel has become difficult and where development has begun to erode our quality of life.

No area has been exempt from these problems. We see them along Naamans Road, which has seen tremendous re-development in recent years, in Metroform with its new development, in Dover's heavy traffic problems, and in the strip development along Route 1 in Rehoboth.

Last week I asked the General Assembly to take some important steps to make sure that we preserve the quality of life in Delaware. I want the legislature to put teeth in local zoning laws, and make sure that development doesn't outstrip our ability to cope with it.

I also asked the General Assembly to require developers to pay their fair share of the cost of development. Any new development, whether it is a shopping center or a housing complex, will mean heavier use for our transportation system, and those who profit from the development should help pay for the roads.

I asked the General Assembly to create a Transportation Trust Fund, so that when we pay transportation-related taxes and fees, we know that money is being used for our roads. In the long run, this fund will assure us better roads throughout the state. As part of that package, I have proposed a three penny-a-gallon increase in the gas tax to build up the fund for new highway projects.

And, finally, I am creating a new public/private group to help us make good land-use planning decisions.

To often, our land-use problems are the result of not having enough information and not communicating with each other. This group, which will bring together people from throughout the state, will function in the same way the state's financial advisors do, by meeting and agreeing on where Delaware stands and how future decisions will impact our quality of life. In the process they will help us find solutions. June is always a busy month in Dover, and legislators will have a lot of decisions to make. But there's reason to think these measures can be considered and passed this year, if only because every legislator must be aware of the problems caused by unmanaged growth in Delaware. Moreover, the future of our state deserves to be made a top priority in the General Assembly.

Senator Minner's column

by Senator Ruth Ann Minner

The life of a professional truck driver is no bed of roses, especially in view of the volumes of federal and state laws which he has to comply with.

In an effort to eliminate some of the red tape and confusion which presently exists with respect to intrastate trucking, last week I introduced legislation (SB 181) to exempt all vehicles weighing 26,000 pounds or less from the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Regulations in Delaware, except for those carrying hazardous wastes.

I want to emphasize that the bill will in no way affect safety equipment presently required under State law.

The bill also exempts all farm vehicles operating intrastate from the record-keeping requirements of the federal regulations.

In another effort to help both intrastate and interstate truckers through the maze of Delaware trucking laws, the Department of Public Safety has published a new publication entitled "Trucking Through the First State."

The booklet of questions and answers is meant to be user-friendly--clear, short and to the point--without sacrificing accuracy.

The Department hopes to promote highway safety by making truckers aware of safety regulations that can save and protect truckers' and motorists' lives and those of others.

When the General Assembly adopted the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Regulations of the Federal Department of Transportation last year, most members were unaware of the fact that the regulations covered intrastate as well as interstate trucking and imposed a lengthy series of additional record-keeping and regulations on all vehicles 10,000 pounds or over.

My legislation exempts from these additional requirements all vehicles 26,000 pounds or less, except hazardous vehicle trucks and vehicles carrying more than 15 passengers.

With passage of my legislation and the availability of the new truckers' guide, truckers operating exclusively in Delaware will have to cope with less red tape without sacrificing safety.

A Roth prescription for deadbeat doctors

Student loans allow many deserving students the opportunity to achieve educational goals that might otherwise be financially impossible. On the whole, most students are responsible in repaying their loans and therefore putting money back into the system for other needy students. But, there are always those who selfishly attempt to beat the system and take the easy way out.

Such is the problem with some doctors who have received National Health Service Corps (NHSC) scholarships and have in turn defaulted on these loans. The problem is not just that these doctors are being paid millions of dollars by the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) provided under the Medicare and Medicaid programs. These same doctors, in breach of contract and in default of payment on their student loans continue to supplement their income with federal dollars. I can hardly imagine that any of us, in managing our business or personal finances would continue to pay services of an individual or company that owes us money.

To correct this problem, I have introduced legislation to strengthen the power of the Department of Health and Human Services to collect from doctors who have defaulted on their NHSC loans. Specifically, my legislation would provide an offset of the doctor's Medicare and Medicaid payment and offer an alternative means of repaying the defaulted loan. If the doctor does not agree to the offset or if it does not provide necessary repayment, the doctor could be excluded from the Medicare and Medicaid programs and face further civil collection actions. These provisions would also be included in future NHSC loans.

Specifically, my legislation would provide an offset of the doctor's Medicare and Medicaid payment and offer an alternative means of repaying the defaulted loan. If the doctor does not agree to the offset or if it does not provide necessary repayment, the doctor could be excluded from the Medicare and Medicaid programs and face further civil collection actions. These provisions would also be included in future NHSC scholarship agreements to help deter future defaults.

This legislation is necessary to ensure the recovery of millions of dollars owed the government by doctors who have decided not to live up to the terms of the NHSC scholarship fund. An April, 1985 Inspector General's report for HHS indicated that 1,813 NHSC scholarship recipients had breached their agreements thus defaulting on $61.3 million worth of loans as of December, 1983.

While most of those who have participated in the NHSC scholarship program have met their obligations, there are a significant number who have not. This proposed legislation provides a simple, common sense solution to this important problem. It will assist the Department of Health and Human Services in making doctors who have received government money for their medical education repay the taxpayer with the earning power made possible by these loans.

In these times of deep concern about government spending and deficits, all programs are being scrutinized for further means of economizing. I legislation is an example of a creative cost saving proposal which enhances program efficiency and effectiveness but does not reduce services and benefits.

Shelling the Stark--Questions on U.S. Policy in the Gulf

The shelling of the US Stark in the Persian Gulf has caused to be released two major planes of debate.

Basically, they are, why didn't the command of the Stark fire on the oncoming missile or do something to prevent a direct hit on the ship and also the basic idea of what is our foreign policy in the Persian Gulf?

It is presumed that our anti-missile launchers were not in the ready position. Why even travelling in a so called "war zone" was this the case? It should have been and no prudent mind would reason to the contrary...despite the theory of "we must not fire first".

There is such a thing as defending yourself. The Captain of the Stark will have to live with that decision.

But the other issue is what is our policy over there? When you stop to think about it, has anyone in the administration ever given a clear cut policy in the Persian Gulf? Two areas which are affected are the uninterrupted flow of oil and the political setting of those countries in that oil region.

There can be more, because we've let it be known that we are also there to help negotiate a peaceful end to the war between Iran and Iraq...which has been going on for almost a decade. By dispatching our ships to that region and also reflagging the Kuwaiti tankers with our flag, this too, is all designed to bring Iran to the "bargaining table"...if possible.

So it appears that we are using the "Kuwaiti tankers" and protection there of as an excuse for being there. We have justification for working with Kuwaiti or in the alternative of protecting them in that we can do indirectly what we should not do directly. That is we should not openly go to Iraq's aid because this would be openly taking sides. But we can indirectly because Kuwait is a strong ally of Iraq, opposed to Iran and will fight them, and is a moderate Arab camp.

We need to smooth over things with the Arabs as more and more points unfold concerning the Iran-Contra hearings. If smooth over is not the proper term, then maybe seize the first opportunity to have a show of good faith.

Of course Kuwaiti forced the hand of the US by going to the Soviets for similar help. So now both powers are there and it makes for an interesting mix.

To say we are there strictly for allowing the free passage of oil is not telling it like it is, because we are not interested in protecting Iran's free passage of oil.

So the chief mission there is to promote peace and bring an end to that war. I wonder if that is the case with the Soviets? Can it be concluded that theirs is a parallel mission. It may be, but the chief difference is that the Soviets have their guns on the ready.

FEDERAL MATCHING FUNDS FOR PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES

The Federal Election Commission recently rejected Mr. Gary Hart's request for federal matching funds. The reason as simply put by the Commission was that Mr. Hart was no longer a candidate when he applied for the funds.

I feel the Election Commission erred in this decision. Mr. Hart like all other presidential candidates from the beginning of this year to the present time had been out beating the bushes raising money for his presidential campaign.

Mr. Hart suffered irreparable damages to his political career when he became linked sexually with a young woman, who was not his wife. In Mr. Hart's defense, the fact that this set of facts applies to Mr. Hart, there is no difference between that and if Mr. Hart had died or suffered some other set back.

It is fact that Mr. Hart applied for the funds about a week following his withdrawal from the presidential race. The fact of the matter is that he had raised enough money prior to his resignation to qualify for the funds, and the Election Commission should review their decision in order to find in favor of Mr. Hart.

Bair legislation would designate fourth Monday as Memorial Day

Senator Myrna L. Bair has introduced legislation to designate the fourth Monday in May as the legal state holiday for Memorial Day to coincide with the holiday observed by public schools and businesses throughout the state. The bill also encourages the Delaware Commission of Veterans Affairs to hold Memorial Day Services at appropriate sites of its choice in each of the three counties on May 30th.

Senator Bair said:

"It is time to make a decision that will put an end to the annual controversy and confusion that results from 'juggling' the Memorial Day holiday, and it makes sense to have it coincide with the date observed by most schools, businesses and the federal government.

"This year, the situation was absurd. On May 25, when state employees were required to be on the job, public transportation was not operating, many day care centers and other facilities were closed, and children were out of school and many spouses on holiday from work. State employees were not able to share the holiday with other members of their families.

"On May 29, state employees have a holiday while their children are in school and their spouses are at work. Those state employees whose work interfaces with businesses, schools or the federal government must work on May 29th, incurring overtime costs to the state.

"Organizations and families need reasonable notice to be able to plan their annual calendars. We ought to set a predictable state holiday and stick with it.

"The confusion and inconvenience of dual holidays that keeps families apart does not serve the memory of those we honor. The meaning of Memorial Day is lost when Delawareans cannot celebrate together as families."

DOUBLE DEPENDENCE

By Edwin Feulner

Under the powerful guiding hand of former President Lyndon Johnson, the United States crafted a social "safety net" program during the mid-'60s known as the Great Society.

Intended to lift the poor out of poverty, put the jobless to work, provide housing for the homeless, and food for the undernourished, the far-reaching program has resulted in the expenditure of billions and billions of dollars. But all of the problems it was supposed to solve are still with us.

In fact, what we have seen in the intervening quarter of a century is the emergence of a new set of problems that illustrate "double-dependence."

Double-dependence is this: the dependence of millions of poor people almost entirely on the government to take care of their ordinary daily needs, and the dependence of tens of thousands of welfare workers on the continuation of poverty to keep them in jobs.

Only recently have many of the Great Society old guard come to realize just how perversely the system works. They need not look any further than a couple of recent controversies involving District of Columbia Mayor Marion Barry.

The first controversy involved a statement by hizzonor saying that people in certain D.C. neighborhoods were abusing the District's "911" emergency rooms for routine medical treatment. Because a full 40 percent of the callers do not need emergency treatment, the mayor said, the system has been crippled by overuse.

In other words, many city residents have become so dependent on the government they are either unwilling or unable to fend for themselves.

The second controversy involved some harsh words the mayor had for a 35-year-old mother of 14 children. She had complained to the mayor that the housing the city was providing her family at a cost of $10,000 per month was inadequate. When Barry asked why she didn't stop having babies, the woman replied, "The Lord didn't intend me not to have babies." The woman said she had no intention of messing up her body with birth control. To her the social contract had been reduced to the following: she produces babies; the government produces better housing and a larger welfare check.

Is this what the Great Society was all about?

Urban economist Stuart M. Butler, a colleague of mine, believes the Great Society went haywire because the notion of individual responsibility fell by the wayside. People have become dependent on government hand-outs because they have been told they are entitled to them. But nobody has told them what is expected in return: responsible behavior and a sincere effort to take care of themselves before turning to government as a last resort.

Washington Post columnist William Raspberry notes one experimental program that reverses the incentive system. In Houston, public-housing tenants who want a better place to live must demonstrate to the satisfaction of local housing officials "some ambition, some pride in their (present) housing, part-time jobs—something that says they're trying to better themselves."

The United States has turned the fight against drug and alcohol addiction into a national crusade. It's time for a similar crusade against handout addiction. Able-bodied people who can't think or act for themselves are no better than zombies. A society that encourages such people doesn't deserve to call itself a Great Society, or even a Good Society.

(Feulner is president of The Heritage Foundation, a Washington-based public policy research institute.)

Lake Forest junior to represent Delaware Electric Co-op in Washington

Lake Forest High School junior, Kelly Snow Jones has been selected to represent the Delaware Electric Cooperative of Greenwood as a Delegate on the 1987 Rural Electric Washington Youth Tour. Kelly will be joining approximately 1,000 other talented youth from 35 states in a four-day visit of the nation's capital.

Jones competed against juniors from nine other area high schools. Her selection was based on academic achievement, an interview, an essay and on the basis that her parents were receiving service from the Delaware Electric Cooperative, Inc.

Included on the tentative schedule for the program is an appointment with Governor Mike Castle and Lt. Governor S.B. Woo. Once in Washington, the students will visit the White House, Capitol Hill, the Capitol Building, the Supreme Court Building, and the Smithsonian Institute. There is also an appointment with Senator Bill Roth and a visit to Senator Joe Biden's office. Several seminars will be presented on topics such as cooperatives, rural electrification structure and electricity.

Jones was one of two delegates selected from Kent and Sussex Counties and will represent Delaware on the tour. Additionally, Liesel Kittlitz of Seaford will serve on the Youth Consulting Board.

Lake Forest teacher is Sallie Mae Teacher Award winner

Officials at Lake Forest School District report that Nancy Cera has been selected as a recipient of a Sallie Mae Teacher Award.

"The selection was based on the evaluation of her credentials as well as the judgement of a panel of experts assembled by The American Association of School Administrators on Sallie Mae's behalf," wrote Beth Van Houten, Vice President of Communications and Investor Relations.

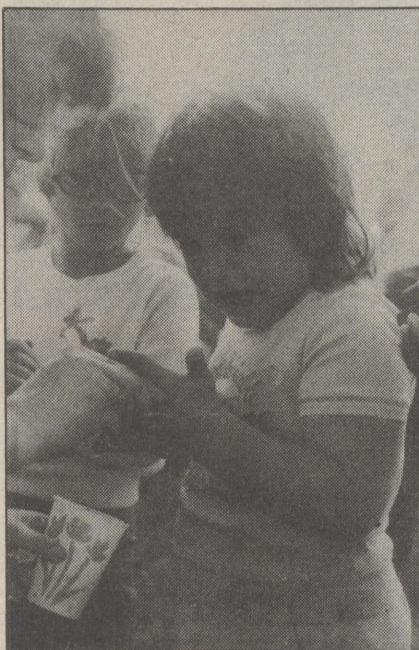

"As a corporation engaged exclusively in financing education, Sallie Mae is especially committed to the nation's higher education system. In presenting awards to outstanding first-year elementary and secondary school teachers across the country, we salute the entire teaching profession.

"In addition to highlighting the individuals' contributions to excellence in education, it is our hope that these announcements will bring recognition to their school systems and their profession as a whole."

A S.A.D.D. year at Lake Forest

It's been a S.A.D.D. year for students at Lake Forest High School.

An indication of the group's success in promoting "don't drink and drive" attitudes among staff and students was the fact that Delaware's M.A.D.D. recently awarded a Certificate of Appreciation to advisor Steve VanSant. Past President Pam Voshell will receive a $100 savings bond from the Delaware Drunk Driving Program, Inc. in recognition of the Lake Forest's S.A.D.D. members efforts to reduce the number of accidents involving drunk drivers.

"In the past two years we have attempted many projects," said VanSant. "We have tried to keep one goal in mind. We are not here to judge or condemn our peers but to make them aware of the dangers of drugs and alcohol when driving."

Attempts to promote this awareness have taken many forms. Students have manned information booths at football and basketball games, at school plays, at Open House programs and at PTA meetings. A four-page promotion was included in The Lancer, the school paper, for graduation and prom time. Ghost outs have called attention to one death every 23 minutes because of alcohol.

A seat belt assembly was scheduled and another with Emergency Room Nurses. Chapter members participated in a candlelight vigil in Elkton, MD, and in rallies at Dover's Legislative Hall concerning seat belts, the open container law and mandatory sentencing in cases of drunk drivers causing fatalities.

Students have also attended conferences and workshops and have displayed cars which were involved in accidents. They have mounted pledge drives to encourage students and staff to not drink and drive.

"We have also reached out to the media," VanSant continued, "with numerous radio spots and articles. We have found the media to be very supportive in our efforts."

The chapter was organized in the 1985-86 school year through the efforts of VanSant and Michelle Stevens, Michelle Bass, Billie Shaffer and Jim Hogsten.

Lake Forest Future Homemakers honored

Coppock; Food Service, Tony Bray, Stephen Coppock and Bobby Hill; Sewing project selection, Candy Gamido, Cindy Gamido and Tina Potter; Chapter banner went to Lake Forest who placed second.

Vo-Tech names Students of the Month

Kent County Vocational-Technical School District recently released the following names of those students chosen for the month of May as Students of the Month.

Those chosen for carpentry were Robert Carroll, Lake Forest and John

Glasco, Milford; Career Exploration, Phil Dunbar, Milford; Diesel Mechanics, Billy Laramore, Milford

Electrical Construction, Byron Warren, Milford; Child Care, Margaret Hazard, and Alan Garey, Lake Forest; Data Processing, Angel Rodriguez, Lake Forest and Jenean Smith, Lake Forest;

Lake Forest North Student Government has successful year

The newly-formed student government of the Lake Forest North Elementary School had a very successful year during 1986-87. The Student Government was represented by one student from each homeroom in Grades 3 through 6.

Meetings were held weekly with a formal agenda and roll call was taken at each weekly meeting. The students were taught how to conduct a business meeting and were using Robert Rules of Order in reference to parliamentary procedures. The President, Jeff Trzpacz chaired each student government meeting.

The student government assisted in a school dance, a menu selection for the Green Devils' Day, a school project for School Spirit Week, Dress Up Day, and Odd Day. They helped to formulate policies for the betterment of the school by a very close association with Mr. Young and Mr. Davidson. They also assisted with the annual Talent Show. They now have a treasury as a result of the school T-shirt sale which they sponsored.

South Elementary shares with Arizona

What do Lake Forest School District's South Elementary School and Pima Elementary School in Scottsdale, Arizona have in common? Both are participating in a Bicentennial Project by sharing information regarding their schools and communities. Betty Myers' fifth graders at South Elementary are writing to their counterparts in Arizona. They have already received letters from Pima students. "The Arizona school wrote to our fifth graders wanting to correspond with children from one of the 'original 13 colonies,'" explained Myers. "They also requested a cup of Delaware soil to be included with soil from the other twelve colonies to plant a 'Bicentennial' aleppo pine tree. The tree will serve as a living memorial to the Constitution." A packet of letters, brochures and other information about Delaware, as well as the cup of soil, is on its way to Arizona. "We hope to receive seeds from the unfamiliar aleppo pine tree from Pima Elementary School," Myers concluded.

County day camps in Lake Forest area

Kent County Levy Court through its Parks & Recreation Department will be offering Day Camps at 3 different locations throughout the Lake Forest School District area this summer. Each day camp will also take two field trips to Killen's Pond for swimming in a pool. The Day Camp hours at each site will be 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. Playgrounds are open to all children 7 to 13 years old. Children will bring a bag lunch each day. A staff member will make a trip to a local store each day for children who wish to purchase drinks. Registration forms and information about costs are available in the schools or call the Recreation Office at 736-2090 to receive a brochure in the mail. Below are dates and locations: June 22-July 2, Lake Forest North Elementary; July 6-July 17, Lake Forest East Elementary; and July 20-July 31, W.T. Chipman School.

Summer of Challenge at Lake Forest

Lake Forest School District will once again host the Summer of Challenge this year. The program is set to run from June 22 through July 9 at Lake Forest High School. This special summer program is in its third year. Registration from children from the fifth grade through the ninth grade (1987-88 school year) will be accepted. Summer of Challenge is a three-week program for children interested in visual and dramatic arts. Four artists will participate in this year's activities: John Ranney (Mime and Theater Arts), Elaine Ippolito (Visual Artist), Sandra Michel-Seaton (Journalist and Writer) and Lewis Tidball (Video Artist). The program meets Monday through Thursday for the three weeks. For more information call Dr. Arthur R. Gilbert (398-3244) or Lynda Rae Cannon (284-4405 after 6:00 p.m.). Registration may be made over the telephone. The registration fee for the program should be sent to Dr. Gilbert's office. This special arts program is open to any student in the state. Registration deadline is June 19.
