

Town Council discusses work on streets and alleys

by William Robertson
HARRINGTON—A special meeting was called by the council on Wednesday, June 17. During the meeting, a motion was made where the special enforcement unit (SEU) funds would be specifically labeled as such as opposed to having them deposited into a general fund.
Currently, from January through May of this year, there have been a total of $34,927 made from speeding fines. Councilman James Temple asked how many of the fines have been collected. Councilman Temple was told that about 70 percent of the fines have been collected so far.

Councilman Temple also felt that there should be tighter supervision of the bookkeeping and funding.
Bob Brown, consultant for major street improvement for the City of Harrington, discussed the problems existing on Peck Avenue near Diamond Court.
As a result of the construction within the area, there has been various degrees of flooding and Brown offered the council answers to the problems.

Brown recommended replacing certain drain pipes in the area with larger ones, as well as several catch basins to correct the problems.
The construction would result in piping and other alterations to the ditch behind Mr. Harold Moffett's home, Brown said.
It was also suggested to council that a curb be installed from Dickerson Street to Simpson Street on both sides of Peck Avenue.

The estimated cost also included the area between the curb to be covered with four inches of Class-C asphalt. The entire project would cost about $12,000. Once it is completed, the entire Peck Avenue could be resurfaced for about $20,000.
The city manager was absent from the meeting, so the council was unable to get an update on the status of bids for the new city hall and the purchase of the land.

Councilman Jack Wyatt proposed that the alleys being used by the trash trucks in the town to be tarred and chipped. Wyatt also proposed a program where it would be done on a peacemeal basis in the fiscal 1988 budget. In the budget, up to $15,000 would be allocated for the program and other alleys would be included in the following years until they were all completed.
After the meeting, councilman Wyatt said, "I have been trying for 2 years to get an alley improvement program. In the past, money has been wasted by just putting stones on the alleys. Vehicular traffic and snow plows have pushed the stones out, leaving the town the expense of having them restoned again.

"Money would be saved by having them tarred and chipped. This would give the alleys an approximate life span of 7 or 8 years."
Councilman Wyatt's proposal will be considered by the council and discussed at a future meeting.

Council begins discussion for work on Peck Avenue

by William Robertson
HARRINGTON—Mr. N. Watson Brown presented a diagram to the council which described the road work that would be done to correct the flooding on Peck Avenue.
Brown's proposal including installing curbing around the Earl Yoder and Bill Lord properties. It also called for one catch basin to be installed on the north side of the road near Yoder's and Lord's property.
The council has also been instructed to clear the ditch next to Peck Avenue to help with the flow of water after a heavy rain. According to Brown the ditch already has about 25 inches of silt and other debris built up in it.
Councilman Jack Wyatt said that work could begin on Peck Avenue as soon as ten days after tonight's meeting, if all goes as planned.
Alan Cook went before the council and discussed the problem of trucks parking in a dirt alley beside Hardee's. Cook told councilmembers when the trucks leave the parking lot they leave large quantities of sand out on the highway. Cook said that one of these days a car is going to have to stop suddenly for the stoplight and is going to slide on the dirt and sand and cause a major accident.
The council will meet with Hardee's representatives tonight to come up with a possible solution.
John Seymour of Diamond Court presented the council with a diagram of 32 new apartment units he would like to construct next to Diamond Court. The apartment units would consist of eight, one-bedroom apartments and 24, two-bedroom apartments. Seymour also said if his project went through, that he would help with correcting the flooding problem on Peck Avenue by installing a curb and catch basin.

The council also requested that a representative from Conrail be present at the meeting to discuss some of the problems raised by residents about the railroad property.
Councilman Jack Wyatt began asking questions to the representative about the problems and how they seem to go ignored despite what the council says. The representative told councilman Wyatt that he wasn't going to sit before the council and be brow beaten by them.
After making this statement, the representative got up and left after being there for only 30 seconds.
After the representative left, councilman James Temple showed councilmembers photos of the railroad's property that has become overgrown and deteriorated.
The council will discuss later what actions to take to get these areas cleaned up and to get some cooperation from Conrail.
The Harrington Town Council will be holding a workshop meeting tonight at 7 p.m. at city hall.

Carl Hill retires after 35 years of teaching

by William Robertson
HARRINGTON—After 35 years of service in the teaching profession, Mr. Carl Hill of Harrington will be retiring.
Mr. Hill, formerly of Pennsylvania, graduated from Penn State with both his bachelors and masters degree in teaching. He continued his studies at St. David's, The University of Delaware, Delaware State College, and Dickerson.
Mr. Hill said he decided to become a teacher after he met an inspiring teacher while attending college.
Mr. Hill moved to Delaware in 1952 and began teaching at the Greenwood High School and later taught at the Woodbridge High School. Hill said he decided to teach in Delaware because it was the highest paying state back then, and jobs were more plentiful here. He also enjoys the wonderful climate here and the friendly people.
While teaching, Hill said he enjoyed working with the students and helping with the sponsorship of activities in the school system.
During his 35 years of teaching, Hill said, "I have noticed two major changes in the school system from when I started compared to today. One is that teachers today only teach one or two courses when they used to teach them all. Second, students are undisciplined (naturally) because they are not self-motivated and they are being pressured by jobs, cars and romances.
Since becoming a teacher, Hill has been a member of many school oriented organizations including The Delaware State Education Association, The Greenwood Education Association, The Woodbridge Education Association, Past President of The Sussex County Educational Organization, member of The State Social Studies Advisory Committee, Student and Class Advisor and Faculty Activity Coordinator.

Carl Hill

Hill advises anyone interested in entering the teaching profession to be dedicated. "There is an increasing need for teachers and the skill levels are increasing as well, so the teachers must be dedicated."
During his retirement, Hill said he will be doing a little bit of everything including some fishing, gardening, and playing his new piano that his family gave him as a retirement gift.

Lake Forest drops tax rate by $1.00

Members of the Lake Forest School District Board of Education voted unanimously during their June 15 meeting to approve a tax rate of 40.66 per $100 of assessed valuation. That constitutes a drop of $1.00 from the previous rate of $1.40.
The decision by the Board follows a reassessment of property in Kent County which raised the District's assessed property value from approximately $53.6 million to nearly $189 million.
The new rate provides for a 10 per cent revenue increase in fiscal year 1988. State law permits school districts to collect an additional 10 per cent in revenues after reassessment.
No change was made in the capitation rate. It remains at $15.00.
"Lake Forest School District has been hit hard in terms of assessed value recently," explained Superintendent Dr. James H. VanSciver. "The average increase in assessed value between 1978 and 1985 was about 3.2 per cent. In the 1985-86 tax year, approximately $1.1 million in assessed value was removed from the tax roles due to an adjustment for Delmarva Power and Light.
"The increase in assessed value that year was only 14. per cent. In the 86-87 tax year, farmland assessment claimed approximately $2.1 million of assessed valuation. The net result of this was a

Fatal accident claims lives of two Harrington children

by William Robertson
HARRINGTON—A double fatality occurred Tuesday at 10:19 a.m. at the intersection of U.S. Route 13 and Delaware 14.
According to Delaware State Police, John R. Moore, 7, and his brother, Vernon S. Moore, 7 months, both of Harrington, were killed when the 1977 Chevrolet Chevette in which they were passengers was struck in the side by a 1986 Ford tractor-trailer, driven by Freddie Hunter, 41, of King George, Virginia, who was uninjured.
The driver of the Chevette, Sammie L. Perkins, 49, and another passenger, Trinity Moore, 3, were transported to Christiana Hospital for traumatic injuries, police said.
Hunter has been charged with two counts of second-degree vehicular homicide for failing to stop at a stoplight, police said.
Police reported that alcohol was not a factor in the accident and that Vernon S. Moore was the only occupant to be wearing a car restraint.
After the accident, a portion of the southbound lanes of U.S. 13 were closed off to traffic while police conducted their investigation into the cause of the accident.
According to some witnesses at the scene of the accident, they said that the truck was traveling at a fast rate of speed when it struck the car and it continued through the intersection before coming to a stop.

Point of View

What is your opinion of the Goetz decision?

Leroy Johnson, Magnolia
"They should have tied him up and shot him. It says right in the Bible that thou shall not kill."

Linda Durity, Houston
"I thought it was good because if he had not protected himself, he would have been dead. It's a shame he had to go to that extreme, but that's the way it is in some areas."

Gwen Thompson, Greenwood
"I think if his life was threatened then he did what was right, but I hope this doesn't encourage others to do the same thing."

Terry Bennett, Felton
"I thought he should have gotten off because he was trying to defend himself."

Carper, United States House of Representatives; and the Honorable Jane R. Roth, United States District Court.

The 22-cent Delaware Statehood stamp features a rendition of the 19th century Delaware State Seal on the upper two-thirds of the vertically oriented stamp. The seal features two Delawareans flanking a large red plaque. At the bottom of the plaque, a white ribbon carries the state motto, "Liberty and Independence." The central portion of the plaque depicts an ox, representative of the importance of animal husbandry to the state's economy. Just above the ox is a broad strip of blue which symbolizes the Delaware River, for many years a mainstay of commerce and transportation in the state. A sheaf of wheat and a stalk of corn rest near the top of the plaque as examples of major Delaware agricultural products. The colonial farmer at the left of the plaque cradles a scythe in his right hand and holds aloft in his left a model of a sailing ship as a tribute to the early shipbuilding industry and coastal commerce of Delaware. A Revolutionary militiaman with rifle at hand at the left of the plaque represents the maintenance of American liberties.

At the left underneath the State Seal in black type is the date "Dec. 7, 1787," the actual date Delawareans signed the ratification of the Constitution. On the same line is "USA" in black type at the right. "Delaware" appears in red type at the bottom left of the stamp, with "22" in black type at the right on the same line.

On December 7 this year, the Postal Service will have a pictorial cancellation which will recognize the Bicentennial anniversary date of Delaware's ratification of the Constitution. Stamps may be purchased at Legislative Hall one hour before and one hour after the ceremony. Delaware-cancelled first day covers will be available after the ceremony. There will be two different cachets on 6 3/4 size off-white envelopes: one illustrated with the Delaware Heritage Commission's blue and yellow logo, and another with a reproduction in black of the 1787 Delaware State Seal. Members of the Dover Stamp Club will be on hand to assist with the distribution of these first day covers.

Local doctor retains membership in AAFP

KANSAS CITY, MO—Dr. Zosimo A. Buendia of Harrington, DE has completed continuing education requirements to retain active membership in the American Academy of Family Physicians, the national association of family doctors. The Academy formerly was called the American Academy of General Practice. The requirements call for the members to complete a minimum of 150 hours of accredited continuing medical study every three years. Members become eligible for re-election at the end of the third year following their election to membership. The Academy, the country's second largest national medical association, was the first national medical group to require members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education.

The Academy, founded in 1947 and headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., was instrumental in the establishment of a new primary specialty in family practice in 1969. The new specialty is expected to increase the numbers of family physicians available to serve the public in the future. The Academy's continuing education program is the foundation of eligibility for the family doctors now in practice who apply for certification in the new specialty.

 F.L.A.G. students of Lake Forest School District, 3rd through 8th grades, enjoyed a day of sightseeing in New York City, "The Big Apple", on Friday, June 12, 1987. Sponsored by F.L.A.G. Raisers, along with teachers Pam Reisinger and Sharon Lynch, the group traveled by Dawson Bus. They visited the Statue of Liberty, where the elevator was inoperable, but did not mind walking twelve flights of stairs. Although it rained most of the morning and the park was very crowded, they still had fun.

Rather than touring the World Trade Center, where visibility was nil, it was decided to go to South Port, at New York Harbor instead. There they walked on cobblestone streets and visited the Fulton Fish Market and many outdoor cafes and shops. The students were impressed by such stores as Albercrombie & Fitch and Laura Ashley.

Lake Forest administrators complete training

Officials at Lake Forest School District report that all thirteen administrators responsible for management of Instruction have qualified for the initial 30-hour certificate as part of a 90-hour program mandated by the Department of Public Instruction.

The initial 30 hours covers evaluation as a process and experience in identifying and promoting the elements of effective instruction. An additional 60 hours is required for administrators in developing additional managerial skills.

"We have one last administrator who needs to complete those 60 hours," said Dr. Arthur Gilbert. "And that will take place this school year."

"I believe it is important to note that all of our administrators, who are responsible for instruction, have this experience. That is critical in promoting a solid educational program."

Administrators involved include individuals from assistant principals through the superintendent. The program is co-sponsored by DPI and the University of Delaware.

Our appreciation to Robin Moxley for bringing us her special message in song at the Sunday morning Worship Service. Miss Moxley comes from the Newark area and we were so happy to have Robin and her family visit us.

The Cathedral Choir appreciates all those who helped to make the Mother's Day and Father's Day dedications such a huge success. Our prayer is that our message in song will bring each and everyone of you and us closer to God.

Vacation Bible School was a big success too. Our gratitude to the teachers, helpers, Youth Group and student's who had a hand in this event. Of special mention is Gale Vogelien, who served refreshments and the EverReady Class for providing the funds.

ASBURY VISITOR - Will be put out in August. Anyone wishing to place an article or any information in the Visitor is asked to have them in the Church office by August 2nd. Don't forget, you will have to plan for the months ahead, so if you are planning anything for the fall, this is the time to do your thing.

Starting on July 11, there will be a SATURDAY AFTERNOON MOVIE for Kindergarten through sixth grade. The time will be from 2-4 p.m. and the place will be Collins Hall. This is sponsored by the Church Sunday School.

During Sunday mornings service, we had a number of visitors and each Sunday we look forward to all visitors. One visitor stood out this past Sunday because she brought a breath of fresh air with her, and the love of God as well. When she gave her name, she stated that she was on her way to Seaford Church and was running late and said, I must stop at the first Church and it happened to be Asbury. Upon leaving she told a number of our parishers that she felt the warmth in our Church and the welcoming spirit. Could the Lord have been reaching outside from within???

Serving the Lord this Sunday will be Acolyte: Mark Breeding, Bell Ringer: Robin McCarter, Nursery: Bev Bert, Ann Minner and Teresa Taylor.

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale said, "the greatest thing that can happen in your life is a spiritual experience. You cannot make it happen. It is Jesus Christ who effects the change in you." As your journeys this summer take you through many interesting & enjoyable experiences, as you see and share God's glory in all things, may you experience HIM in some new and fresh way. May HE reveal Himself to your waiting hearts. While at home worship with us on the Lord's Day. When away find a House of God and worship where you are. May your pathways be filled with the Spirit of the Living Christ who brings to you always the presence of His love and hope.

Rev. Wm. Dore

Can it really be a year since Rev. and Mrs. Dore have come to our Family of God here at Asbury. How truly blessed we have been since their arrival and we are continually uplifted, not only by fine sermons but just by their presence. Let us give thanks for God's intervention, and may He see fit to give us many years together.

"Lord, help me to keep in mind that people I meet today are only strangers if I treat them that way."

Harrington Baptist Church

Pastor Watson will be teaching the book of Revelation during the Sunday School hour (9:45-10:45) for the next three months (July-September). He invites all who are interested in this free study to come and investigate the Book's message.

Revelation tells of the world conditions preceding the Second Coming of Jesus as King, the history of Christianity up to His return, the end of this creation, and what the new creation will be like. All serious Bible students ought to study this book even though it's filled with mysterious symbols and types.

Come and claim God's promise: "Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein: for the time is at hand" (Rev. 1:3).

Harrington United Methodist Church

In His Footsteps

When someone does a kindness It always seems to me That's the way God up in heaven Would like us all to be... For when we bring some pleasure To another human heart, We have followed in His footsteps And we've had a little part In serving Him who loves us For I am very sure it's true That in serving those around us We serve and please Him, too.

Father's Day weekend brings in crowd at Brandywine

by Tammy Poore
 Father's Day Sunday brought in over 5500 people for the twelve race card at Brandywine Raceway to highlight an exciting week of racing. Many gifts were given away between races and the fans were treated to competitive action. The feature event came in the fifth race of the evening when General Arbuttle dominated the $5500 Winner's over class in a quick 1:57.3. The five year old son of General Star took command of the race early for driver-trainer, Presely Moore, Jr. of Smyrna. Moore guided the horse through fractions of 29.3, 1:00.1, and 1:28.4 before opening up in the stretch to grab the cash with a 28.4 last quarter. General Arbuttle now stands with six wins for the season, and will be looking for his third straight victory next week. Nova Scotia owned Oyster B B with Ken McNutt aboard finished second, holding off Crave and Joe Hundertfund Jr. to third. In Sunday's $15,000-$20,000 claiming handicap, Smyrna's Eddie Davis captured his second of three wins for the evening as he brushed by local favorite, Suitcase and Bob Shahan, to gain control of the $4500 event. Davis' catch drive, Capo, was making his first start at Brandywine after a recent qualifier and he also turned in the fastest time for the week in a brisk 1:57.1, a new lifetime mark.

The Hambletonian Society, sponsor of the $5 million Breeders Crown, has named the prestigious crystal trophy, presented to the victorious owners in each of the twelve races in this year's championship series, to honor the memory of William R. Haughton.

The William R. Haughton Memorial Trophy, designed by the internationally renowned Orrefors Galsbruk of Sweden, is a crystal block, 9 1/2 inches by 8 inches by 4 inches, weighing approximately forty pounds, and engraved with the Breeders Crown logo by Orrefors' world-famous artisans. Smaller versions of the Haughton Trophy will be presented to the winning trainers, the winning drivers, and the breeders, who nominated the sire of each Crown champion.

The Haughton Stable, now under the command of Tommy Haughton, has been among the most productive of Breeders Crown participants, starting fifteen horses in the three editions of the championship series. Two of them, Caressable and the brilliant Nihilator, captured Breeders Crown championships in 1985, and are responsible for the majority of the approximately $1.5 million the stable has earned in Crown competition.

Trainer/drivers Keith Waples and Jimmy Cruise, racing official William Connors, and owner/breeder Theodore J. Zornow will be inducted into harness racing's Living Hall of Fame on Sunday, July 5. At the same time, Stanley F. Bergstein and James C. Harrison will take their places in the Writer's Corner of the Hall of Fame of the Trotter at the annual installation dinner held in Goshen, New York - home of the shrine.

Waples has won more than 3,000 races, including the first 2:00 mile in Canadian history, behind Mighty Dudley at Parc Richelieu in 1959.

Cruise is also no stranger to the winner's circle, having registered over 1,700 victories. His top horse, was the $650,000 winner, Kash Minbar. Cruise also reeled-off six straight wins on a single Roosevelt Raceway car in 1958.

Connors is best known as a top race secretary, a field in which he has been since first becoming an assistant secretary at Maywood Park in 1946.

Zornow was a long-time director of the U.S. Trotting Association, and was president of the organization from 1969 to 1978. He was also instrumental in establishing the New York Sire Stakes, one of the top state-bred racing programs in America.

Bergstein is known as a race secretary, auctioneer, race announcer, TV host, magazine editor, USTA publicist, columnist, and now, executive vice president of Harness Tracks of America.

Harrison is best known for his landmark book, The Care and Training of the Trotter and Pacer, the definitive work which has sold in excess of 100,000 copies. He is a former USTA staffer, who went on to serve as assistant to the president at Hanover Shoe Farms, and general manager of Lana Lobell Farms.

Harrington Hurricanes split with Pepsi

by Mike Dill

The Harrington Hurricanes, with a chance to take over sole possession of first place, split a doubleheader with the league leading Dover Comets in Eastern Shore Baseball League action Sunday.

The Hurricanes earned the split in the second game by erupting for five runs in the sixth inning to put the game away.

The 'Canes jumped out to a quick 1-0 lead in the nightcap when Todd Gruwell drew a two out walk, stole second, and scored on hot hitting catcher Erin Ergenzinger's RBI single to center.

Dover then answered back in the third with three runs on four consecutive singles to put the Comets on top. The Comets then added a fourth run on Brian Shuba's sacrifice fly for what appeared to be an apparent sweep.

But in the sixth, the Hurricanes stormed from behind to earn the victory. Jeff Greenly started the rally with a walk, and Tim Stump lined a double to put runners on second and third. Pinch hitter Benny Elliott then nailed a two run double to right center to bring the 'Canes within one.

Mike Dill singled to right and Ron Probst followed with another single before brother Don Probst delivered a two run single.

Starting pitcher John Kirby, now 2-1 struggled early, but came to life with the offensive support. Kirby pitched a gutty game in going the distance in the extreme heat and humidity. Kirby gave up six hits, three walks and fanned four in the victory.

Upcoming Games:

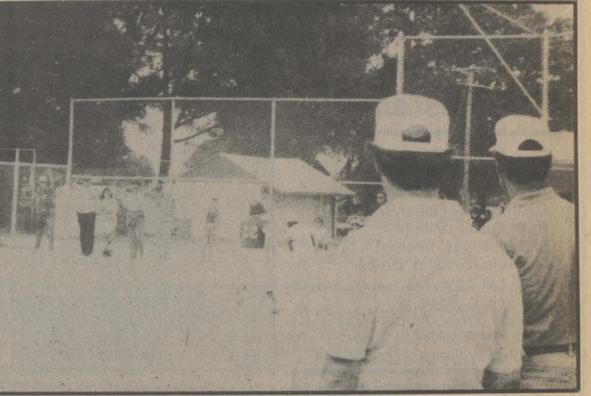

Thursday, June 25—vs. Frederick Ford (Seaford) 9 p.m. at Wicomico County Athletic Complex.

Monday, June 29—vs. Ocean City 9 p.m. at Wicomico County Athletic Complex.

and handle - the sport seemed to be at a low ebb.

But trotters and pacers may be back in the Philadelphia and Minneapolis-St. Paul markets.

At Garden State, where a record 21,000 turned out last November 14 to witness the Breeders Crown, the Standardbred Breeders and Owners Association of New Jersey has suggested the possibility of staging another meet this fall. To help the track defray costs, horsemen might pay "stall rent" for backstretch space that is almost universally cost-free at other tracks.

In Minnesota, while horsemen may not be returning to Canterbury Downs, the state legislature saw the wisdom of having harness racing and passed a bill allowing for the construction of a new track in the Twin Cities-area.

Canterbury shunned harness dates for '87, saying they lost nearly $8 million during 1986 (combined, for harness, quarter horse, and running meets), but did not oppose the law which would give them a competitor in the seven county area which had been their private preserve.

The Board of Directors of the United States Trotting Association will be welcoming their first-ever distaff member when they convene for their next meeting.

Barbara P. Samberg, President of Batavia Downs in Hamburg, New York, has been selected by her peers to fill the vacancy which occurred when David Morris resigned following the sale of Saratoga Raceway.

Samberg is not the only woman serving as top-kick at a harness track.

Marj Everett is the C.E.O. at Los Alamitos; Nan Slavin is president of Jackson Raceway; and LaVerne Hill is president of the Mid-America Racing Association meet at Scioto Downs (where husband Charles presides over the Scioto session).

"Q: What's that horse doing in the lake?"

A: The backstroke.
After only three trips postward, we've determined two important things about the 2-year-old filly City Kitty: She appears to be a nice one, and she can swim.

At Brandywine Raceway, on May 23, the daughter of Albatross won a qualifying mile easily in 2:01. One week later, as the result of a four horse accident, she fell over the rail and ended up in the infield lake - not the kind of lesson any young race horse should be learning.

In her pari-mutuel debut, June 10, driver (or is that helmsman) Gary Mosher was right in not rigging her with water wings. She didn't need them, staying high and dry in going wire-to-wire to break her maiden.

Florida's 'Galaxy' racing bill, which clears the way for a major thoroughbred simulcasting facility in Ocala and substantially increases the number of live racing days and nights available to racing facilities other than the runners, became law last week when Gov. Bob Martinez decided against vetoing the measure which had rested on his desk since decisive passage in both houses of the Florida legislature. As a result of the new legislation Pompano Park president John Cashman Jr. announced that his track will add 50 nights to its 1987-88 racing season and embellish the new 175-night session with the most ambitious stakes and feature program in Pompano history.

The meeting, if approved, will be the longest in the 24-year history of Pompano Park, which enjoyed its most successful season ever during its 125-day span that ended April 11. Pompano, which had never averaged more than $500,000 a night in any season, would up with a $553,000 nightly average this year, up 11% in handle and 1.8% in attendance. Tentative dates for the fall-winter-spring session, subject to approval by the Florida Division of Pari-Mutuel Wagering, are Oct. 1-April 30, with Sunday racing to be introduced for the first time. Pompano plans dark Mondays from Oct. until Jan. 1 - football season and then will race Mondays, when the running tracks are dark, and forego racing on Tuesday nights. During a 10-week period from Oct. 22 to Dec. 13 Pompano will offer at least one $50,000 stakes or feature race each week. This line-up includes four Breeders Crown events, eight divisions of Grand Circuit Matron Stakes for 2- and 3-year-old trotters and pacers, two legs of Pompano's World Cup Invitational Trot series, and two Florida Breeder's Stakes.

Davis rounded out his evening with a surprise victory for Harrington owner, Clinton Leon Brown. Rattlenwind, trained by Mike Coverdale, had drawn an extreme outside post and got away last from the start. Odds on favorite Race Power, owned by Melvin L. Joseph of Georgetown, commanded the race until the stretch for driver-trainer John Boone, turning in fractions of 59.2 and 128.4, before tiring. At the top of the lane, Davis guided Rattlenwind through a wall of horses to reach the wire in 1:58.3, a new lifetime record by almost two seconds.

The four year old Cool Wind gelding had taken a new lifetime mark at Brandywine earlier in the season for Clinton Leon Brown. He has been very competitive all meet, finishing in the top three, seven of ten times. Rattlenwind captured a $4000 leg of the First State Bicentennial Series for three and four year olds back in May. He also finished a close third in the 1,200 final of the series under the guidance of Harrington's Eddie Dennis.

On Saturday evening, the father-son driving/training duo of Joe Dugan Jr. & Sr. of Smyrna had back-to-back winners in the third and fourth races. Prince March, driven by Dugan, Jr. dominated the field from wire-to-wire as posted his first lifetime pari mutuel win with a time of 2:02.3. Sandra's Brat (Al Sleve, Sr.) was second and Harrington's Leavit To Olin, driven by Jeff Cameron and trained by veteran Olin Davis, finished third.

In the second half of Dugan's Daily Double, Male Chauvinist overtook the field of $2500 Claimers to add another victory to his career with a time of 2:02, which is a new seasonal mark for the seven year old Warm Breeze gelding. Joe Dugan Jr. was at the reins again and his father, Joe Dugan Sr. did honors at trainer.

On Thursday's card, Milford's John Marsh guided his trotters, Ole Pond, to the winner's circle in the $1700 event for $3000 Claimers. The 5 year old son of the Illinois stallion Tar Heel Boy came from behind to inch out Windswept and Don Milby for the victory in 2:04.4 Wednesday evening action caught Contiguous pounding the rivals onto the ground. The seven year old Romano Hanover stallion bounced to the front and never looked back as he opened up a seven and one half length lead on the stretch for driver/trainer George Teague, Jr. Contiguous, owned by Steve M. Johnson of Felton and George Teague, Jr. of Harrington, passed under the wire in 2:02.3, his first victory of the season.

On Tuesday, driver Eddie Davis, Jr. made two trips to the winner's circle for the evening. His first victory came when he guided his own Haze Collins to over a seven length victory in a time of 2:01.2. This victory was a new lifetime mark for the twelve year old veteran mare by Lieutenant Gray.

Davis, Jr. also drove J M Vito to his first victory of the season. J.M. Vito, owned and trained by Milford attorney Bill Chasanov, crossed under the finish line nine and one quarter lengths ahead of the field in 2:00.3.

Also on Tuesday, one of Brandywine's up and coming young drivers, Eddie Dennis of Harrington, added another victory to his successful career at The Bib B this season by bringing home a winner in a Claiming Handicap trot. Charlie Newton, owned by Robert and Patricia Bailey of Dagsboro, came from behind to parade by the field in 2:02.2. The five year old Florida Pro stallion was making his first start of 1987 and equalled his lifetime mark in that effort.

Delaware Park celebrates 50th birthday

STANTON, DE — Picturesque Delaware Park, which first opened its doors for the sport of thoroughbred racing in 1937, will celebrate its 50th anniversary Sunday, June 28, by throwing a birthday party.

There will be free grandstand admission, and a giant birthday cake. Everyone will receive a slice of cake and ice cream.

A commemorative poster, illustrating racing highlights over the decades will be given away free to everyone.

There will also be drawings for special gifts throughout the day.

There will be free pony rides for the kids, and all children will receive a free coloring book designed by Pierre Bellocq (PEB), cartoonist and caricaturist for the Daily Racing Form, entitled "A Day In The Life Of A Horse Of A Different Color."

"It's just like being invited to a birthday party," said Public Relations Director, Vincent Francia. "Delaware Park will turn 50 only once, so we want to celebrate in a fine party atmosphere." A time capsule will also be planted in the infield, and patrons are encouraged to bring any memorabilia they would want included in the capsule.

"We'll all get together 50 years from now to unearth the capsule," said Francia. "That should make for a great 100th birthday party."

Racing will be highlighted by the $40,000 New Castle Handicap, (plus $20,000 Breeders Cup Premium Awards), for fillies and mares, at one and one-sixteenth miles on the turf.

Do You Remember?

The wedding cake was beautiful and delicious—the watermelon basket of fruit was refreshing and tasty. Everyone participating had flowers. Charles ("Pete") Callaway's sons Micheal and Steven stood up with their father. Debra and Cheryl with their mother. Micheal's wife, Nancy took care of the gifts. Doris-Pat-Dela-Mickey-Al-Philip-Carolyn and Beverly-all helped with the details. Dr. John escorted Gracie up the aisle. Dela's daughter played the music. (Sorry, I didn't get her name). The newlyweds appreciated the favor! Gracie's sisters were on hand to help in the celebration (Gena & Penny). Lester Sr., Penny Sue and son David and Debra son-Aaron as well as a host of others. Every face seemed to have a pleasant look—Best wishes abounded! Several ladies from the Fellowship Bible Church gave the couple a surprise miscellaneous shower. A grand time was had by all.

As I write—Cheryl, Debra and Aaron are winging back to San Antonio, TX. Gracie and Pete are waiting in a hotel near Phila. Airport, their flight to Hawaii. They leave Friday morning for their honeymoon. "Pete" works in Dover and they will live in Dover. Glad it is not too far away, for I miss her very much too already. Gracie heard from brother George, nephews—Lester Hobbs Jr., Richie, Todd and Troy Dennis and wives.

We all wish Gracie and Pete a happy 2nd marriage. They should know by now all the things that make each other contented. Gracie and Pete it was those who attended along with you that made it a very nice wedding and I'm glad I could be present. Mother and Mother-in-law, Dorothy.

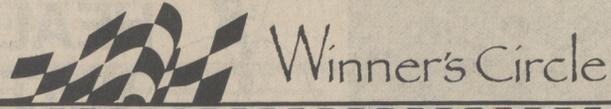

Now listen, do you really remember your wedding day? Do you know I thought my wedding day was Oct. 8, 1931 and find out by going thru my papers that it was Oct. 7, 1931.

Honestly, I chalk it up to youth, for I was only 17. Can you imagine? Honestly life does get complicated!!

What color dress, hat, suit did you wear—who was your preacher? In what house, chapel or church were you married? What model car were you driving? Say, listen Honey, you might have been driving a horse and buggy. And if you were, God Bless you!! What song comes quickly to mind from your courting days? Mine is "Happy Days Are Here Again" and I heard my mother sing—Put on your old "Gray Bonnet with the Blue Ribbon on it." Do you remember? Until next time—take care and be kind to each other and those of you who still have your spouse, no matter if he didn't remember your anniversary, birthday, Mother's Day, Valentine's Day and any other day. Give him or her a BIG, BIG kiss and a gentle hug. Just be happy you still have each other.

Coverdale and Wise battle it out at Middleford

by Bonnie Algier-Mitchell

Friday night's racing action was close on the rough track at Middleford Speedway. The Micro feature was a field of 13 cars to start. The first caution came early in the race when the #48 of Bucky McNatt spun. Racing resumed for only a couple laps when the #30 of Mark Maloney spun and was hit by Butch Elzey (#31). When the green fell again Greg Coverdale in his Suzuki powered Micro took the lead and battled it out with Harrington's Todd Wise (X), who was looking for his third win in the MacKenzie/Welch/Wise car. But Wise had to settle for 2nd as Coverdale took the checkered.

Lightweight Karts started with a good field of 5 Karts, but bad luck set in right at the start. As the green dropped local driver, Shane Larimore (#9-Andrewsville) went out with a broken throttle cable. This young man, who has been doing some fine driving, finishing 2nd and 3rd recently, was done for the night. When racing resumed the #75 of Mike Ellerbusch spun and was hit by Jean Metzner (#14), who also has been finishing in the top 3 lately. Wm. Lindale of Milford managed to get by without being involved and brought the M1 Kart into 2nd. Mike Bloom (#8) took the win.

ATV-250 action saw Rob Gygyryuk, Harrington lead #73 Dean Ivory by half the track. Rob brought the #1 into the winner's circle again.

Open Pro bikes had some exciting action. As 'Reedy' gave the green to the eight anxious riders. Into the first turn Mark Miller, Milford took a bad spill as he hooked up with #55 "Hurricane" Harold Dorsey. The spill took Miller out for the night but he did escape serious injury. On the restart Roy Collings #27-Harley-Davidson jumped out for the lead and drove hard for the win again Friday night.

#85 Larry Hughes of Felton leads runner-up John Perry to the checkered in the 250 Quad 2nd moto.

Second generation Bunting wins career first at D.I.S.

DELMAR, DE--Harold "H.J." Bunting III went wire-to-wire to record his first career feature win in the first 20 lap modified main Saturday night at Delaware International Speedway. John Pinter recorded his first win of the '87 season in the second 20 lapper and then returned to repeat in the final 20 lap event in the Taylor & Messick sponsored program.

In the first feature event, H.J. Bunting shot from his third starting spot into the lead in the second turn. At that point, no one anticipated that the seventeen year old, second generation driver in only his third modified feature start would be able to hold off the quality field for the victory.

John Pinter quickly moved into the second spot with Mike Filipkowski in third. Pete Visconti dropped Filipkowski to fourth just prior to half-way. The caution came out one lap later when Eddie Brown slowed on the track. This put Pinter and Toreky right on the bumper of Bunting on the restart.

H.J. held off the challenges of Pinter on the green and controlled the final nine laps under the green. At the checker, it was Bunting in the D&D

Dismantling modified first followed by Pinter, Visconti, Wilkins, and Kenny Brightbill in the top five.

In the second 20 lapper, Capie grabbed the lead followed by Kenny Brightbill and Pinter. Several yellows in the first half kept the field packed tightly together. Pinter worked his way past Capie on lap eight as Bob Toreky moved into the top three.

The remainder of the race was a super three car battle between Pinter, Toreky and Brightbill who had returned to the top three. Brightbill and Toreky swapped the runner-up spot several times but at the checker it was Pinter in the Parks Towing modified first, Toreky second, Brightbill, Wilkins and Capie.

Feature number three found Gary Trice jumping on top. Paul Weaver and Eddie Brown latched to Trice's bumper in the early stages. Brown worked into the second spot as Pinter charged through the field into third. Pinter moved into second and at the half-way mark took the lead. Trice battled his way back in front on the next lap but two laps later, Pinter went back on top to stay. Brightbill moved by Trice for

Fitzcharles presses assault on Kelly's Del. sprint throne

by Don Allen

GEORGETOWN—In the years that the URC super sprints have competed in Delaware under the sponsorship of Taylor and Messick Farm Equipment of Harrington, DE, the "technician of speed", Mr. Dave Kelly, has been the dominant force for the open wheel, winged rockets. His "Delaware Kingdom" has been challenged in the past by the driving skills of Kramer Williamson and Bob Wilkins, but not with the determination and consistency that genial dirt track veteran Glenn Fitzcharles is exhibiting in the 1987 edition of the Delaware State Sprint Car Champ Series.

Fitzcharles rolled into the Georgetown Speedway Friday night, enjoying a comfortable lead in the champ series with two wins to Kelly's one. Glenn has definitely "had his act together" all season and Friday night added yet another laurel to his sterling season to date by leading the top five cars of Midge Miller, Dave Kelly, Brian Seidel, in the Andy Anderson prepared, Houston, De based #18, Bruce Thompson and the rest of the strong field under flagman Ed Vale's checkered.

The second trip around the "fast half-mile", the 20 lap URC feature saw Fitzcharles glide over the three-four turn banking, losing several spots to the hot field of sprinters. "From lap one we had no brakes", Glenn recounted later in victory lane "Fitz" stayed on the throttle through the slide, regained the racing surface and began marching to the front.

Kelly's luck wasn't quite as good as three laps later he spun off at the same spot and came to a stop forcing his #17 to the rear of the field.

Two circuits later the red light came on as the cars of Wayne Rice, Billy Ellis and Buck Buckley tangled in a duel for third. The three went for a wild ride off of turn one and the resulting damage eliminated them from the race.

Bill Smith had been setting the pace for these early laps in the #63. Shortly after the restart, Fitzcharles closed in on Smith's bumper and started picking his spot for the pass. Two laps later, just after the half-way mark, he made it right in front of the grandstands.

Fitzcharles turned up the wick with a clear track before him and opened a healthy lead. With just five laps to go that lead stopped growing when Midge Miller broke into the second spot. Had the Trenton, N.J. native been lucky enough to have caught a caution, he may have been able to mount a convincing challenge to Fitzcharles' romp, but that was not in the cards.

The brakeless "Fitz" thundered into the winner's circle with a big smile. Top five - Glenn Fitzcharles, Midge Miller, Dave Kelly, Brian Seidel and Bruce Thompson.

Head of Maryland Thrifts calls for FSLIC-FDIC merger

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. VA. - William F. Brooks, Jr., outgoing Chairman of the Maryland League of Financial Institutions, today called for merger of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation (FSLIC) and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC). Speaking before delegates at the annual convention of the Maryland League at The Greenbrier in White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, Brooks said:

"Our experience in the MSSIC crisis teaches us that timely, corrective government action can work. In the present crisis we should act now by supporting the merger of FSLIC and FDIC. Public confidence needs to be restored and merger will promote that goal. We must overcome the operational and territorial objections raised by our industry and look to the larger issue of a healthier more efficient insurance system." The FSLIC-FDIC merger proposal comes in a week when Congress will consider a $7.5 billion recapitalization plan for FSLIC. The Head of the Federal Home Loan Bank of San Francisco, James Cirona, recently called merger of the two funds "unavoidable".

Brooks said the Maryland League would consider merger proposal later in the week. As Chief Operating Officer of Second National Federal Savings Bank, headquartered in Salisbury, Maryland, Brooks oversees the operations of a 25 branch network in Maryland and Delaware with assets in excess of $750 million.

Lake Forest drops tax rate by $1.00

0.8 per cent decrease in assessed value in the District. If we extrapolate the average (3.2%) to the 1987-88 tax year (FY '88), the current expense revenue is approximately $644,000. The current expense tax proposed with the 10 per cent increase is approximately $648,000. Thus, by taking the 10 per cent, we are simply staying where the averages dictate we should be.

"The Farmland Assessment Act will be impacting upon the District in future fiscal years. By taking the additional current expense revenue at this time, we will be allowing for this impact in future years. The total impact could be severe if all farmland were removed from the district's tax rolls. This would result in an approximate 15 - 20 per cent decrease in assessed value. "All additional taxation in the current expense tax category will impact very favorably in Division III (Equalization). Previous calculations have indicated that the "return" on every district $1.00 is approximately $2.30 in state funds. Thus, by taking advantage of the full 1-per cent allowable, we can take advantage of the additional funding provided to us by equalization. "Our teaching staff is the lowest paid in the state. By contract, 75 per cent of new current expense revenues (after adjustments as specified in the contract) will go toward salaries or fringe benefits. Taking the allowable 10 per cent increase will increase the amount of current expense money available for salaries. This does not mean, however, that our teachers' ranking in the state will be improved. We will still be the lowest paid in the state."

VanSciver pointed out that funding for Lake Forest School District will always be a problem if the current method of funding schools isn't changed. "Look at what is happening to us," he said. "Much of our land is farmland or underdeveloped. We have a very low tax base. Some people tell me 'all you have to do is pass a referendum and you'll be all right'. That simply isn't true. For us to become competitive in terms of school funding with other districts in Delaware, we would have to tax our citizens beyond reasonable allowances. "We are asking people to take a whole different look at the way schools are funded. If the school tax is the most important one, why is it the only one which has to pass through the referendum process? People vote against it, not because they are unhappy with the schools but because it is the only one they can vote on. "Possible alternatives to the school funding issue would be a statewide teacher salary scale or funding schools through either an income tax or a wage tax.

"Anything would be better than what we have now. We have discussed these matters with people in Dover and some are beginning to take a look at it." The Farmland Assessment Act and the Kent County Comprehensive Development Plan haven't helped. "We have talked to a lot of people about both of these programs," VanSciver continued. "Both have the potential to have devastating impact on our schools. "With the Farmland Assessment Act, not only do we lose the actual dollars as a result of farmer participation, but we also lose potential for growth of our tax base. If farmers aren't going to have this land developed, houses won't be built; businesses won't locate; our tax base will be destined to be low.

"The same thing is true for the comprehensive development plan. It earmarked much of our land as either farmland or construction land. When a businessman looks at that, do you think he feels that our District is the place to locate. Surely not. He'll go where he sees the county backing development. "We are not interested in uncontrolled development. It is just that all these factors contribute to our inability to adequately fund our schools. It isn't fair to our staff, to our students, to our communities to be in a position where our programs and services suffer because of this. It is just not equitable." VanSciver said District officials plan to continue to press these points through every avenue available across the state.

If there was no simulcasting during the period in question, no income would be generated to anyone. Nor would there be any racing activity of any kind at Philadelphia Park. No competent evidence has been presented that the failure to approve the proproposed agreement would in any way be beneficial to the racing industry." As to HBPA's contention that simulcasting would reduce or replace live racing, the judge said Pennsylvania statutory requirements that the two tracks involved had to schedule 95% of the racing days scheduled in 1986 and 90% of the average number of live races per day in 1985 "adequately addresses this problem."

The Bucks County Common Pleas Court decision -- now under appeal by the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association -- said the HBPA must agree to permit Philadelphia Park to conduct intrastate simulcasting because not to do so "would be detrimental to the Pennsylvania racing industry."

Judge Kenneth G. Biehn's decision -- thought to be the first court test of horsemen's right to block simulcasting -- said the horsemen had used the simulcasting issue as leverage to obtain other goals and such action was not in the best interest of the state's racing program. Here is some of the key language:

"It is clear that initially the sole reason HBPA refused to consent to simulcasting was to provide economic pressure on Philadelphia Park to reopen its stables and other facilities to HBPA members during the days when there are no live races...it was equally clear that HBPA would consent to simulcasting if it received a larger percentage of the profits. In a letter delivered to Philadelphia Park...HBPA offered to

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

First of all, I would like to say that I enjoy reading the Harrington Journal — especially the editorial page which I always look to for a good chuckle, and I'm rarely disappointed. Lately, however, the letters to the editor have been amusing or informative and have become down right ugly! I'm referring, of course, to the letters concerning our town's public officials and their actions.

Judging from the tone and content of these letters, it seems to me that the writers assume they are speaking for the majority of us when it is more likely that the only opinions they have solicited are from those they know will agree with them. We all need to get the facts before we spout off on a subject, and these facts need to come from more than one source (you can't believe everything you read). We need to take the time to really consider both sides with an open mind and give a new idea a chance. Change is not always a bad thing.

I would like to see constructive letters to the editor for a change! The worst part about the letters we've seen so often lately is that they not only attack a particular issue but make a vicious personal attack on the public official who raised the issue. And that is just not right! We elected these people, and I believe we should accord them the same respect we would any other Harringtonian, whether in person or in print.

Sincerely,
Donna Miller

Dear Editor:

I am a high school student from Jyväskylä, Finland. I came to Felton last August as an exchange student. I am writing to thank everyone for making my American year special to me. It has been a pleasure to be a part of your community. By living here for the past ten months, I've come to understand a lot about America.

I've been going to Lake Forest High School, where my friends and teachers have made my year successful. They have been really friendly and helpful, helping me to learn about American life and customs, some of which are so different than ours in Finland. I have really enjoyed my classes, especially American History, and "after school-activities" since we do not have them in my country. I have had a great time on the cross-country and track teams. I also liked the football games, pep rallies, the Prom and Homecoming a lot. All of you have been really nice to me, and it's going to be very hard to say goodbye in a few weeks.

Most of all, I would like to thank my host family, Yvonne and Ralph Armstrong, my host brother Scott and my host sister Monica. I have enjoyed sharing their home and being a part of their family and I am going to miss them a lot when I leave for Finland at the end of June.

Thank you again for all of your help. I will never forget you and my super year at Lake Forest High School!

Yours,
Eve Hetekivi

Dear Editor:

My name is Anna Basteras from Skovde, Sweden, visiting the United States as an exchange student.

I've been living with the Semans family — Henry, Bonnie, Sharon and Amy — for the past 10 months. The Semans are very caring and have been my main support this year.

I'm a senior this year at Lake Forest High School and I've enjoyed many different things throughout the year, such as: going to football games, homecoming, cheerleading, the prom, the school-spirit, and many other events that are different from my country. The teachers have been very friendly and helpful. I must not forget all my friends who have helped me learn about Americans and their way of life. I'm sure I gave them alot of laughs when there were words I couldn't pronounce or understand!

I want to thank my host grandparents, Bob and Virginia Semans from Houston. Jim and Frida MacFarland from Frederica, my brother Curt and his wife Marsha from Sandtown and all the uncles, aunts and cousins. They have really made me feel like I am one of them, truly.

Thanks again to my family, teachers and friends for the warm welcome and true feeling of friendships that I've had during this year.

I'll take home many memories of this fantastic year that I'll cherish the rest of my life. I'll never forget you.

I love you all,
Anna Basteras

Dear Editor:

I have a matter that I feel needs to be shared with the public that reads your paper, and I would appreciate the opportunity to share that concern with you.

A few weeks ago, my two teenaged daughters and I were in Ohio to attend a national rabbit raisers meeting. We stayed at a lovely motel outside of the fairgrounds where the meeting was held. The facilities of this motel were excellent, and we appreciated them very much, especially the outdoor pool.

But there was one thing that bothered me greatly. As we entered the lobby of the motel to pay for our rooms upon arriving, I noticed that they had on display in a very visible location copies of both Penthouse and Playboy magazines, uncovered. As a result, I wrote a letter to the owners of the motel registering my displeasure with their involvement in pornographic literature. I told them in a friendly manner that in spite of the lovely facilities, we could never again stay there while these materials are on sale there.

But I became even more concerned when I shared my concern over this matter with others in attendance at the meeting. There were a few persons who agreed with me that the situation called for positive witness like I was advocating. But there were other reactions which were very distressing to me; indeed, these other reactions ranged from "Let's ignore the situation, maybe it will go away!", to "Let's not make waves!", to outright anger that anyone would even suggest that they should take a public stand against anything like this!!

I just want to go on record as an American citizen, as a Christian, as a father of two teenaged daughters, and as a minister of the Gospel of Jesus Christ that WE MUST TAKE A STAND ON THIS ISSUE OF PORNOGRAPHY AND ITS INSIDIOUS INFLUENCE IN OUR LIVES BEFORE THE MORAL DECAY AROUND US DESTROYS WHAT IS LEFT OF OUR FAMILIES AND OUR NATION!!!

Thank you for allowing me to share this concern with you.

Dear Editor:

The "Oh Shut Up Award" goes to our councilwoman, Sue Ellen Dennis, for trying to impress upon our community that we should put our news in the Milford Chronicle.

May I ask when you became so gifted in journalism? What is it that you wish to hide?

I recall in the not-to-distant past, when you wrote letters to the editor about passing a school referendum so that your little darlings could have a better education. That's all well and good, but I seem to recall reading your letter in the Harrington Journal, not the Milford Chronicle. Why is it okay for you to do this, and not okay to have the city's news printed in our paper?

Tell me, Mrs. Dennis, how can you have the nerve to have your children pass out flyers, and have them put them in people's mailboxes? Is this not against the law?

To you other council members, what's the matter with you? Why are you putting up with this misguided person?

I see right through you Mrs. Dennis, you are eating this up and living on everything and every word that's written about you. For that, I feel sorry for you, because you are obviously very insecure and very, very unhappy as a person.

The best thing I think you could do for our community is to take a back seat and stay out of the city's business because you are not that well informed on what you are doing. You do not have to be heard to be good. Most of the time the people that say the least can do the most. Actions speak louder than words.

As vice-mayor, you are working on becoming mayor. Now wouldn't you look cute sitting up there banging your gavel? If this should happen, can I have a microwave oven?

I am just one person out of hundreds that would like to say just what I've said, but just will not come forward and be heard. Go to the meetings and support your community.

Dear Mr. Farrow:

It has just come to my attention that you are not on our mailing list for Track Topics, HTA's weekly newsletter, even though Harrington Raceway has been a long time member of HTA.

I can't think of anyone who gives the sport more publicity than you do and I apologize for the omission. The last month's editions are enclosed and you will receive the newsletter from here on out.

"Anonymous Vandals"

Few developments can be as perplexing for educators...for society as the wanton destruction caused by vandals.

They leave their mark in the dead of the night. They choose to lash out at society using paint, bottles, bricks or saws.

Their message is frustration. Their tactics are to destroy, deface or otherwise draw attention to themselves through some deviant act.

Often, they remain anonymous, hoping that the tracks of evidence do not lead to their door. When confronted with the reality of their actions, they are most likely to deny, pass the blame or claim entrapment.

How much courage does it take to sneak out into the night to commit such acts? From where do these people come?

Certainly, it does no good for those who have information to shelter those who would destroy the environment around us. Are we not all victims of their carnage?

If these vandals truly have a message, are suffering some frustration, is there not another way with which to deal with it? Does not the act of vandalism distort the message in the minds of those who would judge the intent of the messenger?

The night before graduation, vandals struck at Lake Forest High School. They took what was beautiful, what was purposeful and destroyed it.

The seniors had just finished preparing the school billboard for graduation. It was a credit to the graduates, their families and the school. The board was destroyed in the darkness, chainsaws cutting it from its support poles.

There may be a few who find comfort with this deed. But there are many, many students and many staff who feel the sorrow of this act.

Could it have been peers from another district? Could it have been students from our own school?

Someone out there knows. It is now up to those people to take some action. Their inability to do so continues to render us all victims to continued actions of this kind.

The time is coming! Each day there is more and more evidence of the need for drug testing. Those that are opposed to testing don't necessarily have something to hide but may wish the affordability of protection under the law.

It may yet come to pass where the Supreme Court of the U.S. is called to the task of deciding this matter. Therefore, the Reagan Administration and the Congress of the United States should get their heads together to come up with a uniform acceptable plan.

The Reagan plan calls for random drug testing...as I understand it. The plan allows the agency heads the power to decide who will be tested...where why how and all the rest. Maybe I am wrong...but this to me admits a little aggressiveness. Maybe not!

The executive order will not set standards for the labs to be used in this type of program and sets no standards for which drugs are being tested. Medically this may be a problem because in some cases it could amount to harassment.

The Supreme Court will knock these things down just as sure as God made little green apples.

To me the better program would be something like Congress suggests and that is that the Department of Health and Social Services guarantee a "chain of custody" as they call it, over the urine or blood samples. At least some plan that would insure against any mix up. Because the whole theory of being safe here is the same insurance against convicting an innocent person of a crime. The drugs tested for should be specified, and that the lab practices or procedures be strictly enforced by those who know what they are doing.

Maybe there should be a "national testing center" as a means of further assurances that mix-ups will not happen.

It will be vital to protection and to the constitutionality of the law that the head of the Department of Health and Social Services be totally involved in this plan. This head must set the standards and afford the supervision of this testing in order to meet the approval of the courts. If this is not done then you are wasting your time. There should be notices posted or advertised which jobs will be the common type of testing, etc.

There is a real need to get on with this sort of governmental campaign against drugs and the hope of eradicating drugs altogether...but I as one, wish to throw the warning that haste makes waste. Go easy and set the record right!

Thoughts from Washington

Food Stamps for Senators?

by U.S. Senator Bill Roth

How do you feel about using your tax dollars to pay for the campaigns of U.S. Senate candidates? Well, if my recent questionnaire is any indication, a majority of Delawareans are against it. In fact, when asked if they supported public financing of Senate campaigns, 69.3 percent of those who responded said they were against it.

In my opinion, the most distasteful part of running for office is raising money. Today, politics is big business with the cost of campaigns exploding. If this trend continues, only the very wealthy will be able to run for public office. Something must be done to reduce the financial factor in the equation of American politics. We need a strong and affirmative answer that will reduce the costs. What we don't need is public financing of Senate campaigns while costs continue to escalate. Real reforms, not cosmetic changes, are needed to resolve growing costs of political campaign financing.

It is for these reasons and others that I am not supporting legislation currently before the Senate which would set up public financing for Senate Campaigns. Because of the complexity of the bill, I found that very few of my fellow citizens were getting the full story concerning its impact. Few understand that under this bill the burden of multi-million dollar Senate campaigns would be placed on their taxpaying backs. Few understand that this proposal to thwart involvement of political action committees would in reality, allow PACs to remain alive and well. Few understand that this bill would do nothing to combat the real threat of growing campaign costs. And, few understand that this program, which has already been called "food stamps for Senators" will, like all other government entitlement programs, begin small and grow with each and every election cycle as the costs for

by Sen. Ruth Ann Minner

No doubt you've either read or heard of the Senate Majority agenda for the remainder of the current session which ends June 30. As a member of that caucus, I thought readers would be interested in a report about how we arrived at the decisions we did.

First of all, members of the Democratic caucus opposed the Governor's proposal for a 3-cent-a-gallon hike in the state gasoline tax because raising the gas tax would wipe out most of the tax cuts which would result from any general tax reduction.

As an example, the Governor's tax proposals would have eliminated 30,000 of the state's poorest residents from the tax rolls, but saddled them with the extra tax on gasoline. Since the average borderline taxpayer pays only an average of $14 a year, the gas tax hike would have cost those removed from the rolls more than they would have paid in taxes.

The Governor's tax cut package would have given a one-time increase of 15 percent on taxpayer's itemized deductions. The Democratic plan eliminates this provision because most of the benefit would have gone to the well-to-do, 90-99 percent of whom itemize, rather than to the middle income group, less than half of whom itemize.

Our proposal would spend the $7 million or so saved by eliminating this provision on roads.

The Senate Majority proposal on the personal exemption would raise it from the present $1,000 to $1,500, helping middle income and large families the most, while the Governor's plan would not change the exemption.

Our plan on the standard deduction in lieu of itemizing exemptions would raise the present $1,000 to $3,000 for a single taxpayer, $3,500 for married taxpayers filing joint returns, and $1,750 for married taxpayers who file separately. The Governor proposed a hike of only $300 for married taxpayers and $300 for single taxpayers.

We also opposed the Governor's one-time $8 million revenue-sharing plan for the counties and municipalities. Instead, we think the State should give a permanent source of funding to these political subdivisions by allowing them to share in the realty transfer tax on properties within their jurisdictions. This would give them a flow of revenue which they could count on in calculating their financial affairs.

As for using the increased revenue expected in the forecast of the Delaware Economic and Financial Advisory Council (DEFAC) on June 22, we propose that it be used to fund road repairs and rehabilitation.

The Senate Majority does not believe the Governor's proposals are carved in granite, and we have offered alternatives. During the give and take of the final days of the session, we think we can convince the Governor that our agenda is better for all citizens of Delaware than his.

Biden bill encourages partners in crime prevention

by Joseph R. Biden, Jr.,
United States Senator

I have long been of the opinion that with all the partners in crime throughout this country, there ought to be partners in crime prevention throughout our governments.

In the 1984 Crime Control Bill, I worked with others to reorganize certain federal programs and to provide limited federal funds to help establish that partnership with state and local agencies. Together, we have targeted efforts to reduce violent crime, juvenile delinquency, and drug abuse, among other criminal problems.

To sustain and enhance this coordinated effort, I recently introduced the Criminal and Juvenile Justice Partnership Act of 1987. My bill would reauthorize current valuable programs and even increase funding for certain priority block grants, such as family violence prevention. I'm especially pleased to report that four major grant programs in Delaware will receive a total of almost $1.7 million to continue this partnership.

For example, Delaware will receive $900,000 in drug enforcement grants. These funds provide for undercover law enforcement officers, multi-state efforts to thwart drug traffic, and programs to catch top-level syndicate figures.

Approximately $275,000 will help fund Delaware's Juvenile Justice and Runaway Youth programs. A critical part of this program focuses on prevention. I'm a firm believer that a dollar spent now for youth counseling and treatment, for example, will save us millions of dollars in the future, and just might save us a valuable, productive life.

For Delaware's law enforcement program, the legislation provides approximately $300,000 to combat violent and organized crime, as well as bolster special programs designed to reduce crime against the elderly and other targeted categories.

For Delaware's program to compensate victims of crime, my legislation would authorize a match of about $200,000. The beauty of this funding is that it will come from a fine assessed to criminals who commit the felonies, a provision I sponsored within the 1984 Crime Bill.

The Criminal and Juvenile Justice Partnership Act, in my view, represents the federal government's down payment on a long-term comprehensive plan for reducing the incidence of crimes — the 34 million households that were victimized in 1986, for example, and the more than six million individuals who were victims. Consistent with a true partnership, in most cases these programs require that state and local governments match federal funds.

Crime, drug trafficking and juvenile delinquency are problems that cannot be addressed by any single unit of government.

The Criminal and Juvenile Justice Partnership Act of 1987 brings the best of our government forces together in finding solutions.

Person-to-Person

"Jenna"

by Rebecca Moore

You know, the lady that writes this newspaper column has written about some pretty interesting people, but she's never written about anybody quite like me. That's because I see things differently from anybody in the other stories. If you just keep reading, you'll find out what I mean.

First, you've got to meet the two neatest people in the whole, wide world. They're my Mommy and Daddy, Charlie and Joan Klees. My Daddy is just the neatest guy. He works real hard in the big post office in downtown Dover, and he loves to work out back in the garden during the summer. My Mommy is real tiny and has blonde hair and she's just beautiful. She's smart, too. She's a student at Delaware State College and she's learning how to teach business to high school students. I'm so proud of both of them!

They were married for about six years when they decided they wanted a family. That's when Jesus took me in His arms and said to me, "OK, Jenna. It's time for you to go and do your special job." So I left all my friends up here and entered a special place inside my Mommy where it was dark, but warm and safe and, oh, so comfortable, and there I stayed for nine months. It was such a nice place, but sometime while I was there, I was "insulted".

I was growing everyday, and I could hear Mommy and Daddy talking about me. They were really excited about me and they were busy getting everything ready for me. Then, sure enough, one day I started getting squeezed and pushed. My safe, comfortable space got real skinny and I was getting squished into a tiny space. Boy, I sure hoped this wouldn't last long! But then, the next thing I know, the darkness turned into brilliant lights, I was being dangled by my feet, then somebody was poking something up my little nose, and I took my first breath. I made it perfectly clear to everyone that I didn't like what was happening to me. There was nothing wrong with my lungs!

My Mommy and Daddy were so happy! There I was—all soft and pink—everything they ever wanted. That made me real happy, 'cause I sure wanted to make them proud!

When I was just a few hours old, I met a real special lady. She was my "pediatrician", (some of these big words are terrible to pronounce!) and she pushed and pulled and lifted and did everything they do to newborn babies to make sure they're put together just right. She was a nice lady with a quiet voice and a warm smile and I liked her right away. I checked out OK, except that when she lifted me by my hands, my head would wobble back, but everybody figured that would go away.

So Mommy and Daddy took me home to the blue house on the hill with our two cats, Henry and Louis. I had my very own room with my own bed made just for babies. Mommy and Daddy and Henry and Louis made me feel right at home--this was where I belonged. I was a real good baby. I never bothered anybody by screaming; I just sort of made cute faces and whimpered. And I didn't eat too much either. Once in a while my body would jump for no reason, and my eyes would quiver. But nobody seemed too worried about that--except for my pediatrician.

I got to go visit my pediatrician more often than most babies my age, 'cause she was a little concerned about me. That's the kind of doctor she is--real caring and concerned. I was still real little--just six weeks old--when she told Mommy and Daddy she wanted me to see a "neurologist" (that's another one of those words!) She didn't like the way my eyes quivered and my body jumped from time to time. That's when Mommy and Daddy started to worry. This was a scary time for them because they had lots of questions and nobody seemed to have any answers.

My neurologist had his office up in Wilmington, and he became my special friend. He started running all kinds of tests and I didn't like them too much, but he made them a little easier, 'cause he was so kind. He found out that when my body jumped I was having what he called "seizures", so he put me on some medicine to help stop the seizures. He decided it would be good, too, for me to start doing exercises, 'cause all my muscles were too tight. He arranged for a nurse, named Helene, to come to my home and teach Mommy and Daddy how to exercise me.

I got to know so many wonderful people, and Helene was one of them. She helped Mommy and Daddy so much and answered so many of their questions, and she was always there when we needed her. She helped take away a lot of the scares. When I was about one-year old, Mommy felt that she needed some help from other people who had children like me. So Helene made some arrangements and a support group was formed called "Parents for the Support of Handicapped Children". Mommy and Daddy were able to get the help they needed from people who really understood.

Mommy and Daddy did so much for me! They exercised me all the time, and my little hands that had been curled up in tight little balls, began to relax. My legs and arms weren't so tight, either. They had to do what was called chest percussions, too. They laid me on a little wedge with my head down, and very carefully clapped my back where my lungs were. This loosened up all the yucky mucous that got stuck in there and made it hard to breathe. When I wasn't busy exercising, sleeping or eating, I had my special times with Mommy and Daddy. Daddy played wonderful, baby games with me, and Mommy sat in the rocking chair and held me real close, and rocked back and forth, telling me how much she loved me and how proud she was of me. I would try so hard to smile, so I could show them how much I loved them, but those muscles just didn't want to work. I could get my eyes to sparkle, though, and that showed them how happy I was!

My neurologist kept finding more problems in my little body. One of my worst problems was with the little muscle at the top of my stomach. It didn't want to open and close just right. Whenever I ate anything, some of it would bubble back up out of my stomach, and end up in my lungs. That was real bad, 'cause sometimes it would make me stop breathing. That's why Mommy and Daddy had to learn that thing called CPR. Everytime I stopped breathing, Mommy and Daddy got scared, but they knew just what to do to get me breathing again. Then I'd go to the hospital in a fast, shiny ambulance. Once, I even got to ride up to Wilmington in a helicopter. And each time I quit breathing, I could almost hear a little voice saying, "Not yet, Jenna, because Mommy and Daddy still need you."

The best thing about my neurologist was his gentleness. Not just with me, but with Mommy and Daddy, too. Seemed like everytime we went to see him, all he had for us was bad news. But he never told Mommy and Daddy more than he thought they could handle at that time. That's what made him so special--his kindness and his gentleness.

Well, that little muscle on top of my stomach kept causing so many troubles, so the doctors decided to put a thing called a naso-gastric tube into my tummy. It had to go in through my nose, then down into my tummy, and it was so nasty, it made me cough and gag and be just plain miserable, and I was so sad. But that nasty old tube really didn't seem to do just what they wanted it to, 'cause I kept getting food into my lungs, anyway. That's when they made a little hole in my side called a gastrostomy, and put a tube through it right into my stomach. No more nasty naso-gastric tube! What a wonderful relief! I started gaining weight, my eyes sparkled more often, and I even started to smile!

One afternoon, my pretty Mommy put my sleeping little body into my bed. It was time for her exercise class downtown. I got to stay home with my Superdaddy. I was sound asleep when that little voice said, "Jenna, it's time now. Your job in the blue house is finished". Then the angels carried me and placed me back in the outstretched arms of Jesus. My twenty-five months with Mommy and Daddy and Henry and Louis were over.

My suffering had ended, but Mommy's and Daddy's had just begun. The blue house was so empty for them! Mommy blamed herself for everything and was so weighed with a terrible sense of guilt. Grief is hard enough to bear without guilt on top of it, and Mommy needed relief so badly. That's when she prayed and asked God to take away her guilt. And that's just what He did--her guilt is all gone. Now Mommy and Daddy understand so much more than they did before I came into their lives. They understand more than ever how precious every human life is. They know that a handicapped person is no different from anyone else. They understand what it's like to be the proud parents of a handicapped child. They're taking their grief and turning it into something useful and productive in their work with Parents for the Support of Handicapped Children. And I'm so proud of them!

You know, someday Mommy and Daddy will be joining me here. But there won't be any more seizures or naso-gastric tubes. I'll run to meet them and tell them how very much I love them. Then Daddy will play wonderful games with me, and I'll laugh and giggle; and Mommy will hold me and rock me and tell me how much she loves me and I'll smile and tell her right back how much I love her. Boy, I just can't wait!

Spence calls for mandatory 30 days for selling booze to minors

Legislation providing a mandatory prison sentence for anyone convicted of buying alcohol for (or selling alcohol to) anyone under the legal drinking age was introduced in the House today, by State Representative Terry R. Spence (R-Stratford).

Specifically the legislation calls for a mandatory thirty day prison sentence for anyone who purchases, buys or gives alcohol to a person under the age of twenty-one. Second offenders would be imprisoned for sixty days.

Spence criticized those who buy alcohol for minors saying, "Whether they do it for profit or do it to encourage drinking among their young friends, they are leading youth astray with their bad example." Asked about the harsh penalties contained in his bill Spence said, "It's meant to be tough. Parents work hard to encourage their children to handle alcohol responsibly only to have some irresponsible person come along and mock their efforts."

Delaware law presently calls for a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500 for first offenders.
