

Silicato awarded contract for building new City Hall

by William Robertson
HARRINGTON - All three bidders for the construction of the new city hall awaited the council's decision on who would be awarded the contract.

The three bidders were Nanticoke Homes of Greenwood, Silicato, Inc. of Milford and Conventional Builders of Houston.

Nanticoke Homes submitted a bid of $225,489 and work would be completed in 150 days, Silicato's bid was $189,406 and work would be completed in 104 days and Conventional's bid was $220,200 and work would be completed in 250 days.

The bids did not include the land purchase, parking and paving, and legal, according to city manager George Volenik.

Councilman Jack Wyatt asked all three bidders if they felt the bid process was conducted legally. All three bidders said they felt it was done legally, but a representative of Nanticoke Homes questioned the council's acceptance of Conventional Homes bid since they were late in delivering their bid.

Volenik said he received a legal opinion from the city solicitor, Lester Blades, who said it would be legal to accept Conventional's bid since they were only a few minutes late and the information from the other bidders had not been openly disclosed.

After a brief discussion by council, councilwoman Mrs. Sue Ellen Dennis made a motion to award the building contract for the new city hall to Silicato, Inc. The motion passed five to one with councilman James C. Temple, Jr. voting against.

A question was brought before the council by councilman Wyatt concerning the tilling and planting of crops where the city hall is to be located.

Volenik said he was not aware of the crops planted on the land until about a week or two ago, and that Rev. Reese of St. Bernadette's Church was also unaware of the planting.

Volenik said the crops are not the city's problem, but the church's problem, and the church was going to work something out with the farmer.

Ron Prisco will be preparing the deed for the church to transfer the property over to the city, Volenik said.

At Monday night's special council meeting the status of Barr, Inc., a Tennessee firm which plans to construct a building on the 40 some odd acres of land owned by William Simpson of Houston. Barr, Inc. requested assistance from Harrington City Manager, George Volenik in purchasing a parcel of land at the southeast corner of the Simpson farm. There are 5 property owners on this parcel. Barr, Inc. wanted the parcel to square up their boundary. In doing this Barr agreed to purchase the land and help them to relocate.

Three owners have agreed to sell and relocate. The remaining two owners are the Estates of Nelson Rash and Catherine Coleman, and according to Volenik, negotiations have stalled with them.

The council voted (5-1 with councilman Temple dissenting) to authorize the city solicitor, Lester Blades, to approach the respective attorneys with the idea of trying to assist in negotiating a settlement for these two properties.

Mayor Farrow and councilman Temple suggested and argued respectively that Blades should be given strict guidelines to follow since the land in question was outside city limits.

The Mayor suggested that even though the city was in favor of helping new businesses to relocate in the city, Blades should work in this matter in a guarded position. "We do not want any liability attaching if it comes to that by virtue of being outside our jurisdiction", said the Mayor, which was echoed by councilman Temple.

In the discussion it was learned that not only had Volenik had dealings with

Overgrown lots becoming a Harrington eyesore

by William Robertson
HARRINGTON - Weeds, and plenty of them are growing out of control and starting to take over lots throughout Harrington from as far south as East Milby Street to as far north as Gordon Street. Councilman Jack Wyatt said he wants something to be done about the overgrown lots.

Many of the properties where the grass and weeds have taken over have grown anywhere from a foot to three feet high and some even higher. Many of the lots are either owned by the city or by people who live outside of the city and just have not taken the time to come in town and cut them.

Wyatt said he has been reminding the city manager, George Volenik, about the growing problem for two months. Wyatt said, "George keeps saying he is going to get some one in cut the lots, but the only time he does is when a councilman gets on him and even then it may not get done."

Wyatt stated that keeping the grass under control within the city this year has been poorly handled and it is out of hand right now. "If this had been controlled early in the spring it would have cut down on the mosquito problem we have now," Wyatt said.

Some of the areas where the grass and weeds need cutting include Gordon Street, East Milby, Peck Avenue and along a number of sidewalks.

Wyatt contends that the city should cut the lots after proper notice to the land owners, and then immediately charge the owner. "I hope this is being done," Wyatt added. Wyatt said the town charges about $35 to cut a lot in town.

On Friday there was a worker at the water tower cutting the grass following Wyatt's complaints at a previous council meeting.

Wendi Richter

"Caged Madness" and more at State Fair '87

HARRINGTON, DE. Officials at the Delaware State Fair, have received word of three NWF (National Wrestling Federation) Championships to be held during it's wrestling card on Sunday, July 19.

The NWF World Ladies Championship Title match, will feature champion Wendi Richter against the challenger Flamboyant Heidi Lee Morgan. Since holding the championship belt Richter has been chased by some of the best the NWF has to offer. "I won this belt in the toughest tournament I have ever been in and plan to defend it with more honor than any other champion in lady's championship history," said Richter about her upcoming bout at the Delaware State Fair.

Termed a perfect "Jeckyl and Hyde," D.C. and "Mad Dog" Drake goes through an almost barbaric ritual in the locker room prior to taking the ring before a match. Drake's manager Damien Kane uses football players tactics to prepare the Rikers Island, N.Y. native for a match. Before one match, Kane reportedly chained Drake to a locker and spit in face until D.C. was an uncontrollable maniac. Drake claims he will do anything to win a match. Drake who holds the NWF Heavyweight Championship belt will take on the contender Chief Jules Strongbow.

Described as the "Ambassador of Pain", the main event will pit Abdullah The Butcher against Bruiser Brody for the NWF International Championship in the steel cage. Abdullah seems to favor destruction, chaos and lunacy rather than championship titles and accolades from the crowd. Many managers, wrestlers, fans and arena operators have called for his expulsion from the sport. Abdullah is the heavy favorite and will administer his unique Sudan type pain on Brody.

The tag team action will see four-time NWF Champions, the Wild Samoans against the Beach Boys in a one fall 60 minute time limit match. Other action will see the Tonga Kid vs King Kahlua. Midget wrestling is also slated.

The NWF will televise the championship matches for the weekly television show that is seen throughout the country via the Heritage Cable Network. Heritage is one of the largest cable systems in the country. Don't miss the action on Sunday, July 19 starting at 7:30 p.m. at the Delaware State Fair.

Dirt from alley poses hazard on the highway

by William Robertson
HARRINGTON. The dirt from an alley between the north and southbound lanes of Route 13 may not seem to be a problem for drivers, but it has caught the attention of the Harrington Town Council.

The alley, which is located behind Hardee's, is owned by the City of Harrington. Mr. Donald Steiner of Milford owns the land adjacent to and south of the alley. Steiner was asked to attend Monday night's town council meeting to see if any solutions could be found to eliminate the possible traffic hazard.

At a special council meeting last Thursday night, Mr. Allen Cook, Jr., a supervisor at the State Highway Department, appeared before the council and advised the council that the "dirt, grit and sand" from the parking lot south of Hardee's was creating a possible traffic hazard.

According to Cook, "The highway department has swept the highway for the last time. We just cannot continue sweeping in that area any longer. The council must do something about it, or put those property owners on notice that they should cease from creating this hazard."

Steiner said he has hauled gravel on the lot south of the alley at least 2 or 3 times. "It seems the recent loads were too sandy and they ended up on the highway when trucks pulled out of the alley," Steiner said.

Steiner did say that he is looking at other alternatives to keep the dirt off the highway. Some of the alternatives include black topping, tar and chipping and even hauling more gravel onto the alley.

Hardee's is currently leasing the land from Steiner as a parking lot for trucks, campers and other large vehicles which cannot fit in Hardee's parking lot, according to Steiner.

The council did inform Steiner about the state highway department's remarks, and Steiner told the council he would take care of the problem immediately.

Councilman Jack Wyatt advised the council that the lot being used as a parking lot should comply with the city's zoning for parking lots.

Mayor Farrow advised Steiner that the land was zoned C-2, but the requirements for parking would apply in his case as far as drainage and surfacing.

It was agreed by council that Steiner should present a diagram to the city manager and a zoning request which would be the next steps in solving the problem.

Delaware Statehood Stamp to be issued on July 4

A 22-cent Delaware Statehood stamp, commemorating the Bicentennial of the first state to ratify the U.S. Constitution, will be issued on July 4 in the capital city of Dover, the Postal Service has announced.

The dedication ceremony will be held at 11 a.m. in Legislative Hall, the Delaware statehouse with main speaker Gordon C. Morison, Assistant Postmaster General for Philatelic Affairs.

Delaware, long regarded as the "First State" because of its state convention, the sole such group to cast a unanimous vote, ratified the U.S. Constitution on December 7, 1987, ahead of the other 12 original colonies.

The stamp was designed by Richard Sheaff of Needham Heights, Massachusetts, a design coordinator for the Citizens' Stamp Advisory Committee.

The seal features two Delaware native sons flanking a large red plaque. At the bottom of the plaque, a white ribbon carries the state motto, "Liberty and Independence." The central portion of the plaque depicts an ox, representative of the importance of animal husbandry to the state economy. Just above the ox

Picnic to benefit Harrington Fire Dept. set for July 1

WDSB Radio Station will be sponsoring an Old Fashion Family Picnic at The State Fairgrounds on Wednesday, July 1, from 6:30 p.m. until dusk.

Everyone is invited, so bring a picnic basket and enjoy the fun and games. Drinks will be sold by WDSB and all proceeds from the picnic will go to benefit the Harrington Fire Department.

Museum open to public

The Harrington Historical Society wishes to announce that the museum on Fleming Street will be open to the public from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, July 4th & 5th.

The museum is now air conditioned, so please come in and enjoy.

Harrington to receive funding for water lines

The City of Harrington has applied for a grant amounting to $392,700 for a water line extension system.

The initial grant amounted to $235,000, but last week another application was filed in the amount of $157,700 for a grand total of $392,700.

The money will go to extend water lines from the intersection of East and Clark Streets south to the road which separates Killen Grain and The Delaware State Fairgrounds, and a like one from the intersection of US 13 and Rt. 14 south to the same road between Killen Grain and The Fairgrounds.

The water line loop will be a 10 inch line.

The theory is that the line will enable the Fairgrounds to tie into the system which will improve their water system.

Last year at the start of the Fair a well failed and the Fair was without water. It presented a very serious situation, but the Fair was able to continue to its completion. But there was the threat.

The reverse theory is also true if perchance the City should lose its water it would be able to tie into the system at The Fair. So it will be good for both parties with each improving its water supply.

Neal Hitchens

Delaware author publishes book on Monroe

Sydney Hitchens can hardly wait. In July, the Georgetown Superior Court chief bailiff will be flying to Hollywood with her husband, C. Donald Hitchens, for a party celebrating the publication of her son's new book.

Neal Hitchens, a 1975 Georgetown High School graduate, has written an encyclopedia of trivia dealing with the late Marilyn Monroe. Hitchens, 30, wrote "The Unabridged Marilyn: Her Life From A to Z" with Randall Riese.

The July 7 party at the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel also will be the first public display of collected Monroe memorabilia, said Mrs. Hitchens.

"I find it interesting," she said of the book which she received as a Mother's Day present. "But this should end all the books on her. No one should ever have to write another."

Mrs. Hitchens said her son comes by his interest in Monroe naturally. Years ago, she was a big fan of the actress.

Nor is she surprised that her son is writing. "Neal has always been interested in everything," she said.

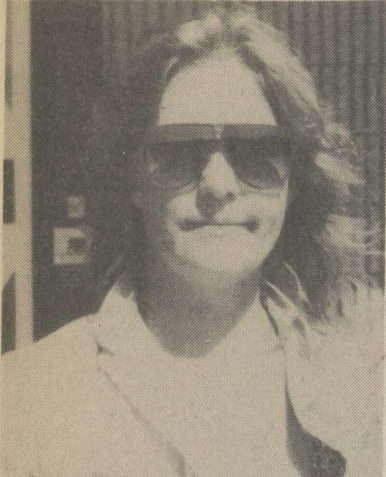

After graduating from a business administration course at Delaware Technical and Community College in Georgetown, he was a model in Hawaii and Japan. He has done work as an actor and had minor roles in movies and television, she said. For a time he studied journalism.

Most recently, her son has designed a line of greeting cards and table linens.

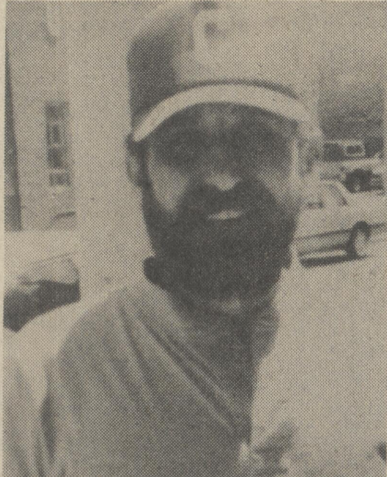

Neal Hitchens is also the grandson of the late L. John Fleming and Mrs. Nita Fleming of Harrington.

Point of View

How do you plan on celebrating the 4th of July?

Debbie Smith, Harrington
"I plan on celebrating it with my husband and children down at the beach. We'll probably have a picnic and go swimming."

Jim Mancini, Harrington
"I'll probably just stay home and have a family picnic."

Debbie Dixon, Felton
"I plan on celebrating my birthday on the fourth of July and I will probably have a family picnic."

Susan Hrupsa, Felton

these property owners so had councilmen Temple and Coleman. The latter 2 it was learned had been invited there. In other business, the Peck Avenue improvements contract was awarded to Coker Contracting Inc., of Cheswold. The project will include installing curbing around Bill Lord and Earl Yoder's properties to prevent flooding from heavy rains. It will also include the installation of a catch basin on the north side of Peck Avenue. The total cost when completed will be $12,840. The council also changed the charter concerning how long a lawyer must practice in the State of Delaware before serving on the town council. The charter read that a lawyer must have practiced for three years. Now with the change the charter reads that the lawyer only practice in the State of Delaware. This change eliminates the number of years he must practice in the state completely.

The next regular town council meeting is scheduled for Monday, July 13, at 7:30 p.m. at City Hall.

Bridgeville woman charged with making false reports

BRIDGEVILLE—Elizabeth Fassett, 69, of Bridgeville was jailed last Wednesday for making false ambulance calls for herself, according to Bridgeville City Police.

Fassett was held in the Women's Correctional Institution in Claymont after she was unable to post $1,000 bond. Fassett appeared in Alderman Court 32 in Bridgeville Friday where she faced charges of making a false report.

Bridgeville Ambulance Service Captain, David E. Winski said, Fassett called the ambulance service several times with similar complaints, but Winski could not specify what her complaints were.

The ambulance service transported her to Nanticoke Memorial Hospital in Seaford several times, but hospital officials at Nanticoke informed the ambulance crew that there was nothing wrong with Fassett, Winski said.

The ambulance crew feels a problem does exist with Fassett, because sometime they may really be needed for someone who has been seriously injured.

Whatever the Reason, Whatever the Season.

Farming today is not just the growing season. It's a year-round, full-time occupation. In fact, before and after the season can be the busiest time for a lot of farmers. That's when decisions about repairs, new equipment and heavy maintenance usually take place. Unfortunately, income during this down time is not always at its highest. That's where we come in. We can advance you the money with a farm loan and arrange a repayment schedule to coincide with your harvest times.

Now, doesn't that sound good for you, and our town too!

Teen experience making laws at Girl's State

by David Dill

Last week girls from all over the state came to Dover to take part in the 45th annual Girls' State.

Monday the girls registered and jumped right into the job of learning how our state government works.

On Tuesday they elected the offices of Governor and Lt. Governor, etc.

Wednesday brings on the job of state officers. For the first time they are seated in the House and Senate chairs, a great experience that the girls will never forget.

The girls took part in the passage of such bills as the "pardon bill", "seat belt bills as the "pardon bill", and the "seat belt bill. Discussion was a great part of their learning experience.

Thursday more Senate and House bills were discussed and then they had their first free time of the busy week.

Parents were invited Thursday night to Wesley College to take part in the girls banquet, where the Girls' State Chorus entertained and some awards were given.

As the girls departed on Friday, they left with new friendships and a new understanding of how the state government works.

Parts of the girls lives were left in Dover as the experience of Girls State was remembered.

Lake Forest plans drug program

Officials at Lake Forest School District report that staff, students and community members will have an opportunity to benefit from a comprehensive drug and alcohol program beginning in September.

Plans are being made to incorporate components of the Here's Looking At You 2,000 program as well as the Just Say No model.

The Here's Looking At You 2,000 model provides components of instruction on decision making, self concept and peer pressure which may be inserted into our existing curriculum beginning in kindergarten and running through high school," said District Superintendent Dr. James H. VanSclver. "There are a variety of instructional activities which are appropriate for each grade level."

The Just Say No thrust will include parent groups as well as teachers and students.

"Again," said VanSclver, "there is something here for everyone. We hope to gain the support of the PTA's in making this program available to community members as well as teachers and students."

"We view this program as a community-wide effort. We need both the interest and the support of the community if we are to have an impact."

VanSclver expressed appreciation to the Office of Highway Safety which provided monies to support the program. Additional funds were secured from the Department of Public Instruction through the federal drug and alcohol program.

Dr. Arthur Gilbert, District Supervisor of Curriculum and Carol Lampher, Supervisor of Federal Programs, will coordinate the activities.

Lake Forest announces "I Dare You" award winners

Paige Parker and Mark Tozer had been awarded the national I DARE YOU LEADERSHIP AWARD at Lake Forest High School. The award is made in recognition of excellence in character and well-balanced personal development as well as leadership potential.

The I DARE YOU AWARD is made available each year by a special committee of the American Youth Foundation in cooperation with high schools across the country. The Award program has been in existence since 1941, and recognizes thousands of outstanding young people representing every state.

In addition to the national recognition, the Award provides recipients with a copy of William H. Danforth's well known book, I DARE You, and a personalized certificate. Mr. Danforth, founder of Ralston Purina Company of St. Louis, was one of the founders of the American Youth Foundation. He dedicated much of his time and philanthropy to youth and community service, and challenged his readers to aspire to their highest potential, to attain constructive lives of service and citizenship and to commit themselves to excellence.

High school youth receiving the I DARE YOU AWARD also have the opportunity to apply for scholarships to attend the two-week National Leadership Conferences of the American Youth Foundation which emphasizes personal growth and leadership.

The American Youth Foundation, founded in 1924 as a not-for-profit private sector organization, provides summer camps and conferences that encourage youth in the discovery and enhancement of leadership skills and the promotion of balanced growth and development.

McGinnis - Gay attend national convention

Richard McGinnis and Andrew Gay, seniors at Lake Forest High School, are two of 1,750 student council leaders and faculty attending the 51st National Association of Student Councils (NASC), June 28 - July 2, 1987, in Buffalo, New York.

With a theme of "Student Leadership: Great Flames Follow a Tiny Spark," the conference program will present workshop sessions on leadership skills, effective student government projects, and student activity program development. Delegates representing every state, the District of Columbia, U.S. territories, and sixteen foreign countries will discuss social, educational, and political issues and will take part in an exchange of ideas.

While at Lake Forest High School, Richard McGinnis was Sgt.-at-Arms last year and is next year's Student Government president. He has been active in the SGA for three years. Andrew Gay is involved in soccer and the SGA. Next year he will be the SGA Fall-Winter Concession Manager.

NASC is sponsored by the National Association of Secondary School Principals (NASSP), a 38,000-member professional educational association based in Reston, Virginia, just outside the nation's capital.

Gussett - Hensley to attend Governor's School

Rachel Gussett and John Hensley have been selected to represent Lake Forest High School at the 1987 Governor's School for Excellence. The school will be held at the University of Delaware from July 19-25.

The School will bring together 100 academically and artistically talented students from Delaware high schools to share a unique educational experience. There is no charge to the students for the program, lodging or meals. The program is state-funded.

Gussett and Hensley were invited, along with a small group of academically talented sophomores, to compete for the honor of representing their high school. The competition included an application, three recommendations, and an essay written extemporaneously.

The essay portion of the competition was graded by two members of the English Department.

A faculty committee studied all the applicants to determine who would represent Lake Forest at the Governor's School for Excellence.

As Time Goes By...

Chit-Chat with Bonnie

by Bonnie Algier-Mitchell
 I had a nice response to my column and met two lovely ladies through our phone conversations. Hope I'll be hearing from more of you, so please 'buzz-me' at 398-8551 Wednesday thru Saturday 8 a.m.-1 p.m.

On Sunday, June 14th Mrs. Amelia D. McSweeney of near Harrington joined family and friends at a celebration for her nephew, Jeffrey M. Donovan. The celebration was held at the W.L. Gore & Assoc. Picnic Pavilion, Newark and honored Jeffrey's graduation from Christiana High School.

Jeffrey is the son of John A. 'Tony' and Learis Donovan and the grandson of John Alford and Sarah Donovan and Albert and Bev Leach.
 Everyone enjoyed volleyball, basketball and horseshoes. A delicious meal was served along with music in the pavillion.

This family and several friends are members of Ebenezer United Methodist Church near Newark. When they found out Mrs. McSweeney was from Harrington they started asking for Rev. Dore and family, he was their minister before transferring to Asbury a year ago. They sure asked the right person because Mrs. McSweeney thinks there is no place like Harrington...she told them about the friendly, good people and the active community, and she extended an invitation to the Delaware State Fair in July and Heritage Day, September 19th.

It will be interesting to many that several 'young ladies' that studied, and graduated from the Milford Hospital Training School for Nurses (1923), had their annual dinner party on June 18th in the banquet room of the Bonanza Restaurant in Milford. The group was from classes 1925 thru 1943.

In those years the teachers were local doctors, among those who will be remembered were—W.T. Chipman, O.V. James, Dr. Bringhurst, and also Roscoe Elliott of Laurel.
 It was so nice to hear that these 'gals' have been friends and kept in touch for 45-55 years. This year at the dinner one of the 1st nurse graduates of the 3 year program once at Milford was present—Mrs. Lucy Bender Beachy (known to many as Mrs. Schrock).

Harrington Rotary Club

by Melvin L. Brobst

Harrington Rotary presented its annual awards at the recent W.T. Chipman Junior School promotion exercises assembly on Monday morning, June 15, when Dr. Arthur Gilbert, Supervisor of Curriculum and Special Programs for the Lake Forest School District presented a certificate and fifty-dollar government bond each to Diane Wilson for making the most improved during her final year at Chipman, and to Elaine Zeitler for outstanding service to the school during her 8th year. Both these young people deserve the plaudits of the entire community for their contribution as do all students of the schools of the Lake Forest School District.

A correction must be made of a former Rotary Club announcement which stated that three teams of students from the school district participated in the Odyssey of the Mind program held at the University of Central Michigan in which "five states" participated. This statement should have read "in which all fifty states were represented" with the Lake Forest High School placing 26th, and the W.T. Chipman Junior School placing 17th, and with the Elementary School North placing 8th. This error was caused by the editorial contributor and not by the editorial staff of the Harrington Journal.

Looking forward to Heritage Day scheduled for Saturday, September 19, the Harrington Rotary Club, with a committee composed of Dr. Arthur Gilbert, Mr. Richard D. Moretti, and Mr. J. Frank Soriano, will sponsor a raffle during the festivities. Each hour, on the hour, drawings will be held to Aaron and Winona Brown Rosander of Pensacola, Fla. are responsible for getting these things together. The dinners are held in June. Six that returned were school nurses in this area. One such was Vivian Richards, who once was the Felton School nurse, now residing in Florida.

This year the Class of 1937 celebrated their 50th Anniversary. All three graduates were present. They are: Mildred Smith Rosa, Dorothy Littleton Marvel and Virginia Atkins Vines. All are active in the community.
 Everyone appreciated Mrs. McSweeney's part in getting things together and making the 1987 occasion special.

Also a special remembrance to Mrs. Legitha Farrow, Harrington, (unable to attend) who is loved by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Anthony of Sandtown, celebrated their 'Golden Anniversary' (50th) recently with a family picnic.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony have enjoyed having their granddaughter, Heather Melvin, as a recent house guest.

Saturday, June 27th Mr. and Mrs. Don Mitchell and Roberta joined other friends and family of John Butler and Penny Cooper of Andrewsville in the celebration of their marriage.

The lovely wedding took place at the Calvary Wesleyan Church with Rev. William Miller performing the ceremony.
 Having known most in the wedding party, I enjoyed seeing how stunning they all looked. Penny made a beautiful bride and Johnny was quite handsome in black tails. The bridesmaids in their red satin gowns and groomsmen in gray tails completed the picture.

The reception was held at the Farmington Fire Hall where the Ladies Auxiliary served a delicious meal, which was followed by dancing.
 John and Penny's parents are Roger and Faye Bulter of Andrewsville and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver T. Cooper Sr. of Ellendale.

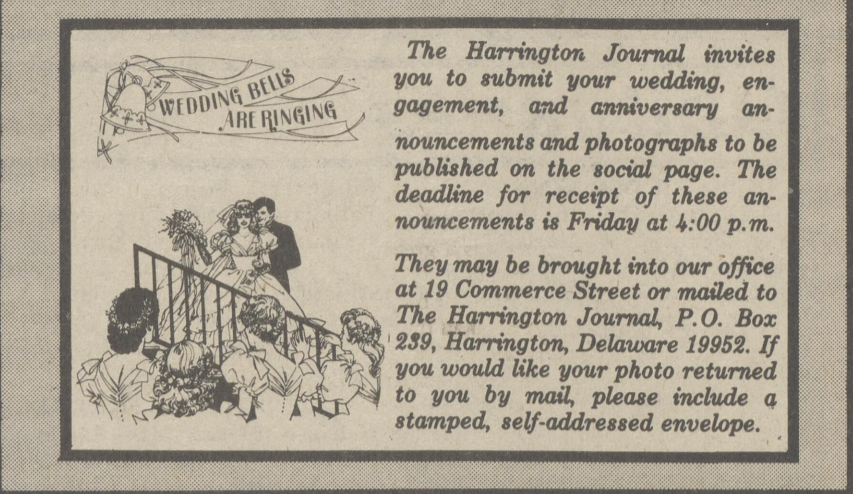

Best Wishes Johnny & Penny!!

Mrs. Hazel Ellers near Harrington spent an enjoyable week with her son the Rev. and Mrs. Roger Ellers and family of Crooksville, Ohio. The occasion for the visit was to attend the beautiful wedding of the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Ellers.
 Mrs. Ellers flew by airplane and then returned home by car with Mr. and Mrs. Reese Dorey from Millsboro and Mrs. Ellers daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lane Jr. from Magnolia, DE.

holders of the lucky tickets, with the drawings announced from the Rotary table tentatively planned to be placed in the parking lot by the JCPenney Bank. Tickets will be sold during the day at various locations and can also be obtained from the club membership any time after August 16. Prizes will range from dinner tickets, carvings, to valuable articles provided by business members of the community.
 The annual fishing trip, arranged by Gayle Smith, took place from the Fisherman's pier in Lewes on Thursday, June 18, with the first catch made by Tom Helm when he brought in a large "blue", and George Thompson reeling in the largest catch later in the day. Over 150 fish were caught, and a jolly time was had by all.

Miss Elva "Janie" Warren, spending the year "down under" being sponsored by Harrington Rotary under the Rotary Foundation Scholarship program, made her periodic report to the club received by George Thompson, chairman of the local committee, in which she outlined her activities from Robb College, University of New England, Armidale, New South Wales, Australia. The University is so named from the locality being settled by immigrants from the New England area.

President Roger Trice, together with the entire membership of Harrington Rotary welcome visitors and prospective members at any of its meetings held weekly each Thursday evening, at the Harrington Colony Inn Restaurant at 6:15 p.m.

Harrington New Century

The Harrington New Century Club was given several awards at the State Convention in Wilmington.

The Club took second place in photography under the category of "Human Interest." The picture was of State Representative George Robert Quillen presenting a new Delaware State Flag to our Club President Mrs. Gardner Kersey in celebration of the Bicentennial, also given was the Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation Award under the Delaware Leadership Seminar. This award was given for contributing to the Young Outstanding Youth Foundation.

A very special award was given to the Club for conservation. The theme "Keep America Beautiful." Chairwomen were Mrs. Daniel McSweeney and Mrs. Harry Chasanov. Under the General Federation of Women's Club, The Harrington New Century Club had the good fortune of being a part of the Miss Liberty Tour. Several ladies were hostesses for the Governor of Delaware and Mr. John Crist. Mr. Crist is from the Church of England. He was traveling with The Magna Carta while it was on tour through Delaware. The ladies were dressed in their colonial gowns for the occasion.

Don't forget we will be serving lunch at the club house on Heritage Day and showing slides of Harrington.

Avon Club of Felton keeps busy

The Avon Club of Felton, DSFWC, recently sponsored the Cancer Drive in the Felton area. Team Captain was Salena Sherwood, assisted by Chery Gladden, Lenora Stephens, Margaret Kates, Mystle Brittingham and Thelma Gerardi.

The club also assisted with the "Magna Carta to the Constitution" at the Legislative Hall parking lot in Dover on June 9, 1987. Those members who participated were Lois Faircloth, president; Judy Parrott, director; Salena Sherwood, CIP chairman; Chery Gladden, Arts chairman; and Betty Tomlinson, International Affairs chairman.

On Memorial Day, the club participated in the Felton Community Park Improvement project. Arts chairman Chery Gladden posted posters made by the LD Class of W.T. Chipman School in Harrington.

Our club has volunteered to work at the Delaware State Fair in the Cancer booth in July. Those planning to volunteer are: Chery Gladden, Alice Brittingham, Thelma Werner, and Lois Faircloth.

Among other things the club donated to the Street Fair of Felton and plans for a Prayer Breakfast in the Fall.

Several members are participating in the Read-Aloud Program, namely, Bonnie Poynter, Elva Warren, Salena Sherwood and Chery Gladden.

The club meets first Wednesday of each month. Anyone interested in becoming a member can contact any member of the club or call Mrs. Robert L. Sherwood at 284-9734.

KSI celebrates 25 years of success

Kent-Sussex Industries (KSI) celebrated its 25th Anniversary with an Honors to the Flag ceremony on June 18. KSI opened its doors as the Golden Opportunity Center, Inc. (GOCI) on June 18, 1962.

The ceremony included a key note address by Lieutenant Governor S.B. Woo, and presentation of colors by the Dover AFB Honor Guard. The flagpole was presented by the Milford Elks.

When KSI began in 1962, six clients were enrolled in the program. Today KSI offers training and sheltered employment to over 300 severely disabled residents of Kent and Sussex Counties. During the past 25 years, KSI has served over 2100 clients who have earned about $5,000,000 in piece-rate wages.

Many other disabled people in Kent and Sussex are in need of sheltered workshop training and employment. KSI recognizes this need, and would like to ultimately expand to a daily service level of 400 persons. KSI would also like to provide more regular work for its present clients and to improve its training programs.

To achieve these goals, even greater community support is needed. KSI's success over the past 25 years is due to the strong community support generated by Kent and Sussex Counties. As KSI continues to celebrate its 25th Anniversary, it extends an open invitation to the public to visit the facility located at 301 Rehoboth Boulevard in Milford.

"I am continually with thee: thou hast holden me by my right hand."

Delaware Park celebrates 50th birthday

STANTON, DE...The seedling oaks, elms and sycamores planted June 26, 1937 in the walking ring at Delaware Park are now just like the track itself - turning fifty years-old.

Delaware Park, where great horses have competed on their way to becoming champions, and where champions have tasted the sting of defeat, celebrated its 50th birthday Sunday, June 28.

blueprint plans for the track came from a brochure DuPont had authored entitled, "How To Build A Track - Plans For A Flat Track."

The actual racing surface DuPont had in mind for a flat track was one based on nature - the beach, after the tide had gone out, when the sand was well-packed, resilient and firm - was the ideal surface DuPont incorporated into the DelPark's one mile racing oval.

There were stockholders in the track, but no dividends were ever paid. The president, treasurer, the executive committee and directors received no salaries.

The track first opened its doors Saturday, June 26, 1937. A crowd, estimated at over 10,000, wagered $410,803 on a eight race card. The first race was won by Legal Light, with R. Merritt aboard, & paid $19.60 for a $2.00 win wager. The opening day feature was the $10,000 Kent Handicap, won by Mrs. Oliver Iselin's Strabo ($8.00). Other winning owners that day were George D. Widener, Mrs. R.H. Heighe and Victor Emmanuel.

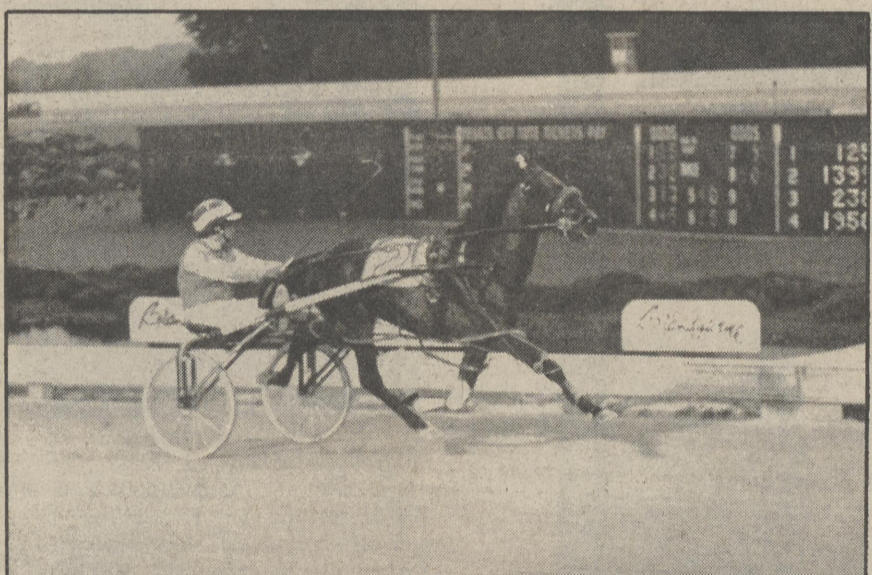

The track got its start in 1935, and 1936 when a group of Delawareans headed by the late William DuPont, Jr., formulated a plan for racing, based on sportsmanship and revenue to the State. Legislation was passed legalizing pari-mutuel wagering, and construction on the track was initiated. A grandstand and clubhouse were built at a cost of a little more than $1 million dollars.

DuPont was a hands on type of promoter. In fact, the construction and

The only competition Delaware Park had during the early years was from New York, and Havre de Grace. There was, at that time, a circuit that went from Aqueduct to Hialeah to Delaware Park, and then on to Saratoga. Patrons, as well as horses, arrived by train via the B & O railroad, from New York, Baltimore and Philadelphia. The times, of course have changed and Delaware Park now finds itself in the California Cuties to play exhibition game

The world-famed California Cuties are scheduled to appear in Greenwood on July 8 at the Greenwood Little League Field. The game will benefit the Woodbridge Little League and will begin at 7:30. The host team will be the W.B.O.C. Channel 16 All-Stars. Door prizes will be awarded. Admission will be charged.

We guarantee that you will be amazed at the Cuties, and their wild combination softball game and show, for years to come. Their show is a legend among sports fans who have had the opportunity to see them since their beginning in 1946. With the team using only 4 players, pitcher, catcher, shortstop and first baseman, you know they must all be top athletes. Dressed in women's garments, they feature Fifi the fireball pitcher. Incidentally, the team's record in 1986 was 102 won and 8 lost. Not Bad!!!

So come on out to the Greenwood Little League for an evening of great fun!!!

Harrington Hurricanes drop a pair

by Mike Dill

The Harrington Hurricanes, despite pounding out 12 runs in two games, dropped a 8-7 game to Perdue and a 9-5 decision to Frederick Ford. The offensive output could not overshadow the pitching woes the team encountered.

Tom Penuel took the mound for the 'Canes against Perdue, and was coasting along with a 7-1 lead entering the bottom of the fifth. But Perdue slammed four hits and used two walks to cut the lead to 7-5.

Penuel then surrendered two more runs before giving way to Mike Dill. Dill got Malone and Warwick on groundouts and struck out Harry Johnson to end the inning.

With the score knotted at 7-7, the 'Canes could not score as Perdue came to bat in the bottom of the seventh.

After Jeff Smoot drew a walk, Sykes singled to right and was followed by Jim Lewis' bunt to load the bases. Jeff Bozman then ended the game by ripping Dill's 0-2 curveball for the game winner.

Tim Stump led the offense with a three run double and Penuel and catcher Erin Ergenzinger had RBI doubles to lead the Hurricanes.

The pitching woes continued the next night against Frederick Ford of Seaford. Hurricane starting pitcher John Kirby gave up six runs in only 1 1/3 innings by issuing six walks, giving up three hits and throwing seven wild pitches.

Hurricane stopper Jim Moss, with an ERA of 2.28, came in to slam the door on Frederick Ford the rest of the game, but it was a little too late.

Jeff Thompson led the 'Canes by going 2 for 3 with 2 RBI's and Todd Gruwell and Benny Elliott added an RBI apiece.

Shahan scores consecutive driving triple at Brandywine

by Price Kellar

Harrington's own Bob Shahan took K Acres Barabbas three wide at the 3/4 pole then shook off a challenge in the last turn to win Thursday's (June 25) feature. The 1:59 victory completed a consecutive driving triple him at Brandywine Raceway.

Shahan took the third race trot in 2:05.4 with Frosty's Heart for his owners Carol & Joseph Hollandsworth of New Castle, DE. In the fourth race it was Subject Matter in the winner's circle after pacing home in 2:02.3 for Maureen Flynn and Mary Siegle of Townsend, DE. K Acres Barabbas completed the hat check and got a check for owners Shahan and C.E. West of Georgetown, DE.

It was the fifth time this season that Shahan connected for three more wins on one card. The 33 year-old horseman is Brandywine's leading dash winner with 56 scores from 276 starts.

The fastest mile of the week came in Sunday (June 28) night's Open division for winner's over $10,000. Warm Gem, with Merle Parker in the sulky, fired out of the 2-hole and french fried the field by going an exceptionally fast 1:25.4 to the 1/4 pole. The last quarter of 31.1 was still enough to win by 2 1/2 lengths in 1:57. Stargell Lobell passed five horses in the last quarter to take second money, while Shawn raced evenly to show. It was the first start at Brandywine for the Warm Breeze-sired 6-year-old horse. Gem's earnings went to $33,565 on the campaign.

Banshee Almahurst won a conditioned event on Sunday very impressively and looks like the one to watch. This time the 3-year-old son of Niatross went wire-to-wire in a new lifetime best 1:57.3. It was his fifth win in six career starts for owner Helen Schreiber of Lititz, PA. The colt was driven by Walter Callahan. Banshee Almahurst is half brother to World Champion B G's Bunny.

Brand New Dream came off the rail at the half to challenge, then held off late race heroics to win Saturday's (June 27) $6,000 Filly and Mare Open. Dream sat behind Glow Softly until at the 59.4 half when reinsman Jeff Cameron pulled out to challenge and Glow Softly was collared by the time a 1:28.4 third panel was posted. The 5-year-old Direct Scooter-sired mare came home in 29 seconds to post a powerful 1:57.4 victory. Marland Mandy was a hard charging neck back in second, while Rita Rocklin took the show spot. It was Brand New Dream's sixth win in 17 seasonal starts. Cameron drove the horse for his parents Warren and Elaine Cameron of Deleon Springs, FL. to boost for 1987 earnings to $28,220.

Donovan Hanover proved again that different horses like different courses when he took his fifth Open class win from Brandywine's trotters on Friday (June 26). No other trotter has scored five wins here. The 5-year-old Super Bowl-sired horse sat behind Avon Dazzler until the head of the stretch where driver Ken McNutt came out and waged for a 1 1/4 length victory in 2:01. Meadowland's invader Witsends Speedy got by for second. Avon Dazzler tired to third. Donovan Hanover has been in the winner's circle 8 times in 20 starts and has banked $39,645 this season for Brently I. Watkins of Pocomoke, MD.

Double Strike fought off constant challenge and emerged a winner in Brandywine's feature for 2-year-old pacers Tuesday (June 23). Double Strike's 2:00 victory was his first in four lifetime starts and only the second magic mile by a freshman here this season. Larry MacDonald put his Striking Image colt on top as the gate folded then cruised through the early fractions. Time Leader came from behind the leader's cover at the 3/4 pole and tried to speed by, but Double Strike was best by a neck at the wire.

Fine 2-year-old performances should highlight this week's racing at Brandywine. Raging Glory and Double Strike head a field of nine 2-year-old pacers in Tuesday's (June 30) feature race, the opening leg of the New Star Series. Chosen and B Happy Banker have been established as early favorites in the second division of the series.

Wednesday (July 1) will begin an identical series for 2-year-old filly pacers. This Wednesday is ladies' night and all ladies will be admitted free.

The Series will be contested in four $2500 weekly legs, culminating July 28th with a $10,000 final. In past seasons, such notable World Champions as Hero, Silk Stockings and French Chef have launched their 2-year-old campaigns at The BIG B.

Raceweek

Wise, Coverdale, Walls battle it out at 1st state classic

by Bonnie Algier-Mitchell

After rain cancelled racing Friday night, the drivers were ready to race the 1st State Classic Saturday night at Middleford Speedway.

With the big purse dangling in front of them Harrington's Todd Wise and Scott Walls (Milford) did battle for the Micro win in Saturday night's feature. The battle for the 3/4 spots was between (69) Richard Krebel and (19) Bud Coverdale.

The #30 came up to challenge for position, but was lost in the shuffle when a caution came out. On the restart the action was still the 1/2 cars of Wise (X) and Walls (16). But in a late charge, the #19 car of Bud Coverdale came on to overtake Scott Walls for second, and Todd Wise brought the Welch/Wise car to victory lane for the 3rd straight week.

In 250cc-ATV action Rob Gygrnyuk #1, of Harrington chalked up another win over #82 of Jack Mitchell and the #220 Robert Yeagley took the 200cc class feature.

500cc Cycles saw a good battle between #27 H-D of Roy Collings, #2 Yamaha of Mark Miller and the #38 Mike Owens. As Reedy dropped the green, the race was close between Collings and Miller but by lap 3 Collings had a good lead and Owens pushed his bike but could not overtake the hard charging Miller as he held on to 2nd.

Eleven Karts came to the line in the Lwt. feature, the best line-up seen in this class. There was alot of action in this event, as the green fell...Mark Hill in his #17 Kart got the lead and kept it. A caution came out when the #3 Mike Bloom hit #21 Martin Fleetwood and caused a spin-out.

On the restart the battle was between #17 Hill, #75 Mike Ellerbusch and #3 Mike Bloom. Although Bloom has been the one to beat recently at Middleford, he just didn't have it Saturday night as Mark Hill brought his sharp lookin' Kart in to take the checkered.

Middleford Speedway will be running a full schedule Friday and Saturday nights. Gates open at 6 p.m. with practice at 6:30 p.m.

Wilkins captures Camp Barnes benefit at the Delaware International Speedway

by Charlie Brown

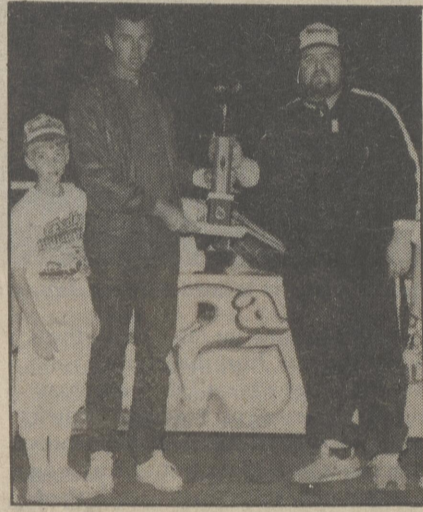

DELMAR, DE--Bobby Wilkins in the Sierra Stoves modified took the lead when Kenny Brightbill dropped out with mechanical problems and went on to win the Camp Barnes Benefit, Wednesday night at the Delaware International Speedway. Lou Johnson ended a four year drought to win the late model main. Oscar Fields captured his sixth limited late model main and Dale Bounds won the Street Modified. Kenny Brightbill grabbed the lead from H.J. Bunting on lap one. Jeff Patilla quickly moved into the runner-up spot with Wilkins moving into third. Brightbill had started to pull away from the field when the one and only caution came on lap seven when Jeff Brown slowed.

Brightbill again pulled away on the restart and by half-way Wilkins had worked his way by Patilla for second. On lap fourteen Brightbill slowed in the three-four turns and pulled to the infield. Wilkins was now on top and remained unchallenged to the checker. Patilla recorded his best modified in second with Paul Weaver third, Bob Toreky fourth and Elvin Felty fifth.

J.C. Webster held off Alex Beaumont at the start of the late model main. Beaumont took the top spot on lap three and Lou Johnson moved into the second spot. Three laps later, Johnson went to the top side of turn two and took the lead. The yellow flew on lap eight when Eddie Pettyjohn slowed off of turn four and was hit by Webster and Jimmy Skinner. All three cars were out for the night.

Johnson controlled the restart with Hal Browning moving into second. Mike Tauber and Steve Hill closed in on the leaders to make it's super four car battle. Johnson kept command with Browning, Tauber, and Hill swapping the next three spots. Hill slowed with five to go and Tauber backed off the pace with two to go. Johnson went on to his first win since 1983 with Browning second. Following in the top ten were Tauber, Carey, Hill, Beaumont, Tucker, Pettyjohn, Skinner and Webster.

Oscar Fields took the lead from Bill Penuel on the third lap and survived several cautions to win the limited late model main. It was his sixth win of the season with Bunky White finishing second, Penuel third, Jeff Turpin fourth and John Hudson fifth.

Dale Bounds took the lead from Darren Wroten on the third lap and went on to win his fifth street modified of the season. Tommy Elliott finished in second followed by C.R. Robinson, Richard White Jr., Dizzy Sockriter.

by Charlie Brown

DELMAR, DE--Dave Kelly charged to his second victory this season at the Delaware International Speedway Saturday night in the 20 lap United Racing Club sprint feature. John Pinter recorded his third win in two weeks when he won the 25 lap modified main.

URC victory of the season. Kelly also closed slightly on Fitzcharles in the Taylor & Messick Delaware State Sprint Car Championship points.

Gollub finished in second with Fitzcharles, Clarke and Wayne Rice rounding out the top five.

Barry Burkhart took charge at the start of the 25 lap modified main. H.J. Bunting quickly worked into second and Jeff Patilla took third. Burkhart pulled to the infield on lap four and Bunting took command. Pinter moved by Patilla for second.

Bill Smith took the lead at the drop of the green in the URC sprint feature. 1986 Rookie of the Year, Glen Clarke moved into the runner-up spot with Ed Wylie in third. On lap four, Wylie spun and was tagged by Brian Seidel. Seidel went end over end bringing out the red. Seidel was shaken but not injured.

The restart found Dave Kelly riding in the third spot. Kelly worked by Clarke into second when the yellow came out for Bruce Buffinton and Tom Swavely who tangled in turn two. On the restart, Kelly shot by Smith into the lead. Garry Gollub quickly moved through the top five into second and started challenging Kelly as Clarke took third.

The order stayed the same until the only yellow flew on lap 16 for Visconti. On the restart, Bunting went high in the second turn and Pinter along with Paul Weaver moved by. The order stayed the same to the checker with Pinter in his machine taking his third win in two weeks. Second went to Weaver with Bunting, Toreky and Wilkins rounding out the top five.

Sprint heats were won by Dave Kelly and Glen Clarke with the modified heats being taken by Jeff Patilla and John Pinter. This Saturday night will feature the "Firecracker 50" for modifieds sponsored by Richard Y. Johnson and Sons.

"Glen Fitzcharles moved into the battle with five to go. One lap later, the yellow came out for Smith and Jerry Dinnen in turn two. Kelly held off Gollub on the restart and went on to record his 8th

Grotto Pizza twin twenty-fives roll at Georgetown

LEWES, DE--Delaware's Independence Day weekend will get off to a roaring start with the running of the "Grotto Pizza Twin 25's" for Modifieds at the Georgetown Speedway Friday night, July 3rd. The two 25 lap contests for the open wheel stallions will offer $1,000 to the winner of each and carry a total purse of nearly $10,000.

On "Grotto Pizza Night" each person through the gate will receive a coupon good for twenty-five percent off any one of their delicious pizzas at either of their two locations on Rehoboth Avenue in Rehoboth Beach, De. or at Reed Street and Highway one in Dewey Beach, De.

Joining the "Grotto Pizza Twin 25's" on the evening's racecard will be a 20 lap feature for the sleek Limited Late Models and a 10 lap contest for the Street Modifieds. Gates will open at 6:00 p.m. and racing will get underway at 8:30 p.m.

Dragin' . . in the dirt

by Bonnie Algier-Mitchell

The third round of the Delmarva Dirt Drags was held at Middleford Speedway on Sunday afternoon, June 29th.

Even though the turn out was slim, riders and spectators didn't lack enthusiasm as the machines came to the line.

In the Open Knobby it was Rennie Dail doin' it up again over tough competitor, Bill Burge-4 on his #33 Triumph. There is some good competition in this class and when they all get it together, who knows who will come out on top.

Open Street action saw Mark Miller #2 Yamaha shut down the XT-Harley-Davidson of "Fat Tommy" Stevens of Camden.

If your into cycles, ATV's, the sun and a 'laid back' good time -- come on down and join us! The next round in the dirt drag series at Middleford will run this Sunday, July 5th starting at 1 p.m. For more information call Mark Miller at 422-4914.

Person-to-Person

For Jenny--My first teacher

by Rebecca Moore

I watched apprehensively as the bus began to unload its precious cargo. From its open doors came a procession of wheelchairs, crutches and metal leg braces. My heart softened a little as I watched so many things I take for granted. I saw legs that would never run the bases, hands that would never pluck a wild flower and place it in a mommy's outstretched hand, and I heard voices that would never say "I love you".

"A mistake", some would say--"cruel twist of fate". Ah, but no! For those same hands that fail to move as directed can reach out and encircle you in the tightest hug; that voice so void of pronunciation can burst forth into such laughter as to melt the coldest heart; and those contorted legs, though slow to move can march right into your heart and produce a love such as knows no bounds.

These small people, with their wheel chairs and braces were to become my teachers. No, there was no classroom here. There was no need for a classroom; for lessons in life and love are rarely taught within the confines of four walls.

Memories of my first day at Camp Lenape, three years ago, will remain with me forever. I was terrified. My license to practice nursing was tucked away in a safe place, and in my abilities I was secure. But my experience with handicapped children was limited to one beautiful little girl named Jenny Cox. She was my first teacher, and although she couldn't speak to me, she began my lessons in life and love. And it was love I wanted to show these children; but somehow, I felt so inadequate. In reality, I was being terribly foolish, and by the end of that first day, my fears and apprehensions had totally changed into an outpouring of love from a source deep within me.

Camp Lenape is a small plot of ground located on Route 12, between Felton and Frederica. A large vinyl-sided building sits up front near the road. Behind it are the pool and three redwood-stained pavilions. Off to one side of the grounds is a large asphalt play area, complete with a baseball diamond. There are swings, lots of grass and trees, and a totem pole with its grinning animals welcoming you to this special place. Sure, the grounds are nice, and the pool is terrific, but that's not what makes this place so special. Just wait until the busses arrive. Then you begin to understand why Camp Lenape is such a special place.

From four busses, (two from Kent County and two from Sussex County) descend fifty-five teachers in a variety of shapes and sizes. They answer to names like Natalie, Kirk, David and such, and they all have one thing in common--they're here to have a good time! Within the first half hour of their arrival, you've been hugged so many times, you feel limp, your face is wet with kisses, your ego could easily fill Veteran's Stadium, and this is just the beginning. Already, the lessons they teach in life and love have begun!

If you were a camper, your days would be a whirlwind of activity. Getting off your bus at 9:00, you'd be met by some grinning staff member who would whisk you off to the center of camp for the flag raising and a couple of rousing songs. You'd be part of a group of other campers who are the same age as you, and your group would have an Indian name. About every fifty minutes, you'd go to a different activity. You'd race around the baseball diamond in sports, or sing at the top of your lungs in music, or be creative in art, or learn about your incredible world in your nature class. Of course, everyone's favorite activity is swimming, especially on those hot July days! At 12:00, you'd settle down for that appetizing lunch you brought from home, and then you'd have a bit of supervised free time when you could ride a seesaw, or shoot some baskets, or just relax and catch up on all the latest news.

You'd really like the people at camp, too. Like the volunteers, who are so important; Bob Siemanowski, the director (he's a counselor/teacher at Del Tech), Bonnie Gladu, the assistant director (she just graduated fourth in her class from Delaware State College, with a degree in psychology), the activity directors, and the counselors and assistant counselors. All these people have one common goal--to give you, as a camper, the best summer of your life.

All too soon, 2:30 would arrive and you'd be back on the bus, heading home. This would be the only down side of camp, because you wouldn't want to leave. But you'd smile real big and wave, realizing that you'll be back again tomorrow for more good times and more lessons to teach at camp...that is, until the last Friday in July. That's when you'd have to say goodbye for the last time, and that's never easy. There's always lots of Kleenex available on the last day of camp, for blowing noses and drying weeping eyes.

Another summer of Camp Lenape will begin in just a few days, and I'm all ready with open arms and an open heart to learn whatever my teachers have for me this year. These little teachers are no different from anyone else. Tickle them and they giggle, hurt their feelings and they cry. They have all the same basic needs as the rest of us. Sure, maybe their legs refuse to cooperate, and their words come out a little slow, but who among us is without flaws? Society calls them "handicapped"; I call them teachers, and what they teach can't be learned from any book. They have taught me the incredible value of every precious human life, and they've taught me a deeper, richer meaning of love. My experiences at Camp Lenape could fill volumes, but the outstretched arms and brilliant smile of one little teacher would say more than all the world's volumes ever could! From Jenny Cox, to those who teach me so much each summer--I'm so grateful for the opportunity to learn from each one of them!

PUBLIC FORUM

by Harry G.
Farrow, Jr.

From The Mayor's Desk

At Monday night's special meeting of the Harrington council, the council made probably the biggest decision since I was elected Mayor.

The council voted 5 in favor and one opposed to the construction of the new city hall complex which will include the police department and library.

The voting was consistent with the position of the council or at least the council seats.

As a member of the city government, I have no vote—some say, but council is not bound by what I have to say.

There has been a great deal of discussion on the proposed city hall, and I was one who favored a city hall in the so called "downtown business district" as opposed to the Liberty St. location.

As I reflect on it now, I think what should have been done was rate the priorities differently for the community. Rather than build a new city hall anywhere, I feel more concentration should have been placed on delivering services to the community and reducing our debt.

It is a well known fact now that the city is in dire need of a rebuilt water and sewer system. This kind of service should have been rendered to the public before engaging in more debt for the city. I have stated this before during the past 5 months. So my position is nothing new.

Currently with the debt caused by the new city hall, there is approximately $500 worth of debt on each taxpayer's head in the City.

Councilman Temple had stated that the council should have avoided the cost of a new city hall, cut taxes for the coming year, and then set about setting their priorities to render better service in the water and sewer systems of the city.

True, there does appear to be new businesses coming to Harrington, but also to be recognized are local businesses who are expanding. Hi-Grade Dairy plans to construct a $750,000 building for manufacturing of petroleum based containers. There are others who will bring revenues into the city.

With new businesses and people moving to our community there will be more demands for better water and sewer systems however.

I wish the council success in the construction of their new city hall. They wanted it—they have the green light.

They would have been money-in, to have stayed where they are on Center St. at $300 a month, and Mr. and Mrs. Musser had indicated they would renegotiate the rent down possibly to $250 if council had approached them.

This would have been money in the bank, and I will tell you why.

In 1977, The Harrington Journal was renting the space it occupied at $100 a month. I decided to buy the present location. My monthly payments went from $100 a month to something just under $600 a month.

When Carrington Burgess, who had sold me The Harrington Journal found out about the transaction, he did not waste any time making a point to see me. He didn't pick up the phone and call—he came straight down to the office to quickly point out the ill-advised wisdom in my decision.

"Sometimes...sometimes renting is more economical than buying", he finally concluded. Had I followed his lead I could have put aside $500 a month which would have meant another $60,000 saved.

The council now has elected to follow my lead 10 years ago. Hopefully it will work out to the city's benefit.

As city hall begins the exit of its present location to the new site on Liberty St., I would like to personally thank Mr. and Mrs. Musser for allowing the city to occupy their property as City Hall. Their cooperation as a landlord and the expert upkeep by Mr. Musser will be missed.

Senator Minner's column

by Sen. Ruth Ann Minner, 18th District
The House of Representatives has passed and sent to the Senate eight bills in Governor Castle's "Quality of Life" package.

The bills deal with county comprehensive plans, zoning, and highway and educational planning. They are broad in scope, touch the lives of every Delawarean, and weren't presented to the General Assembly until three weeks before the session was scheduled to end.

As a result, the Senate majority caucus, of which I'm a member, decided that there was not enough time to analyze the bills, get citizen and expert input, and fully debate them.

Instead, the Senate will hold public hearings during the summer and deal with the bills in a special session, probably in September.

With Delaware's economic development boom and the way some areas of the state are growing, planning and zoning has become the number one issue for a large number of citizens. The governor's plan, basically, attempts to force counties to stick to comprehensive growth and development plan and make it a more difficult process to get zoning changes which conflict with such plans.

Some of the bills which the Senate will be considering:

HB 359, to require each county to adopt a comprehensive plan within 3 years, to modify it the first time in 5 years, and update it every 10 years thereafter.

HB 285, to require a three-fourths vote of county governments to approve rezonings.

HB 287, to require counties to consider all technical information from state and local agencies before approving zoning or subdivision proposals and to explain why in writing if they deviate from such technical recommendations.

HB 289, to force developers to pay the cost of Highway Division traffic consultants hired to provide traffic data for developments.

HB 290, to make counties notify school districts at least seven days before any zoning or subdivision change.

HB 296, to provide state agency assistance to counties and municipalities involved in zoning, subdivision, or land use reviews.

Still to come at this writing is a bill to tax developers for the costs of roads, schools, and other facilities needed as a result of development.

As you can see, it's a complicated batch of bills which could have a lasting effect on the quality of life enjoyed by all of us. There is no need to consider it in haste.

colored pencil drawing entitled "Beyond The Looking Glass." The exhibit, located in a corridor leading to the Capitol building, will also include the winning artworks from competitions held in over 250 other congressional districts nationwide.

As a member of the Congressional Arts Caucus, I sponsored our state's arts competition along with the Delaware Arts Council, the Department of Public Instruction, and the Bank of Delaware. A total of 58 young Delaware artists competed, representing 21 high schools

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:
As most of your readers know, the controversial mandatory seat belt legislation passed the House of Representatives by a narrow margin. It is now in the Senate, where its future is questionable.
I was one of the legislators who voted against the mandatory seat belt bill. Though I wear seat belts, I do not think the government should tell me to wear them. Ninety-nine per cent of the people in my Thirtieth District feel the same. Deciding to buckle up should be a matter of choice.
The seat belt legislation was one of the most forcefully lobbied bills this year. At least four lobbyists, representing major corporations, spent weeks here trying to get their bills signed into law. They said they were here to help save lives. That is fine, but don't forget, they were here to help the auto industry save money. When enough states have seat belt bills on the books, then it won't be necessary for the auto manufacturers to re-tool for air-bag restraint systems. To my way of thinking that is not a good enough reason to vote for a seat belt bill.

Furthermore, there has been a lot of public education on this matter. I am convinced that people will wear seat belts if they think seat belts are beneficial to their health and well being. If they don't feel that way they won't wear them, regardless of what the law says. I hope the Senate realizes this and defeats the seat belt bill.

George Robert Quillen
State Representative
30th District

Dear Editor:
I'm writing this letter in response to the one submitted by Mrs. Donna Miller in the June 24 edition of The Harrington Journal.
Mrs. Miller put into writing about people making comments concerning the city officials. Well, I personally have never seen Mrs. Miller attend a council meeting, so how does she know what they are doing? I have been to a majority of the town council meetings and I can tell you exactly what's going on.
Everyone of those council members, with the exception of one, doesn't know a single thing about what they are doing on the council. All they are doing down at city hall is sitting on their hands doing everything they can possibly do against the people of Harrington.
When the idea came up for a new city hall, the council stated that it was going to have the city hall on Liberty Street, and I can see they are going to have it one way or another. They didn't say whether it would be by hook or by crook, but that's the way it sounds to me.
Mrs. Sue Ellen Dennis, who wants the city hall because of a new library, now has Mrs. Anne Minner to vote her way with her, and these two along with some other council members are trying to overpower those on the council who are opposed to this new city hall.
Mr. Alexander Vogl, whose family built St. Bernedette's Church by hand, has a lease on the property where the new city hall is to be built, and he even planted crops on the land.

So, how can the church sell the property to the city when it is leased to somebody already? I wish someone could explain that one.

If the church does relinquish that property to the city, then the church is very foolish to do so.

So what do you citizens think of the bunch that is sitting up at city hall now and running the city government?

When I use the word citizens, I'm speaking for about 55 percent of the town's people. I should know how many after I crawled on my hands & knees with a petition which I turned into the council only to have it ignored.

Also, just this year, the council collected $34,000 in police fines or something else and now nobody knows where the money is or if it has ever been used. From what I understand, the council doesn't have any kind of account on the money.

I think the best thing that could happen to this town council is an investigation by the State Attorney General and a top notch accountant to find out what's going on and to give this council a good cleaning up.

So now what do you have to say Mrs. Miller? I think you should start attending these meetings and get the facts and a real picture of the council. Then we'll see what you think of it.

27th Amendment to the Constitution

by Congressman Tom Carper

Last week, over 230 members of the House of Representatives joined me as co-sponsors of a balanced budget amendment to the U.S. Constitution which I co-authored with three of my colleagues. No other balanced budget amendment has ever enjoyed such broad bipartisan support.

Balanced budget amendments have been around Congress for as long as I've been alive. Usually they have enjoyed the support of Republicans and conservative Democrats. Though this is a formidable coalition, it falls well short of the two-thirds vote required for ratification.

The coalition supporting our amendment includes, perhaps for the first time, significant numbers of moderate Democrats like myself. If this amendment, or one similar to it, is ever to become part of the constitution, an even larger bloc of centrist Democrats will be essential.

The balanced budget amendment I introduced last Wednesday is very much like the one I sponsored in the 99th Congress with the support of over 100 of my colleagues. It says simply that beginning in 1991, the president must submit a balanced budget annually. The president and Congress must also agree on projected revenues for the coming year, just as the governor and the General Assembly do here in Delaware. Those revenue forecasts are critical because they will determine how much Congress and the president can spend.

Congress would be prohibited from deficit spending unless three-fifths of both the House and Senate agree to do so on a rollcall vote. No tax increase could be adopted without majority approval in both houses, also on a rollcall vote.

In short, my amendment would make it more difficult to unbalance the budget or to raise taxes. And it will make the president and Congress more accountable for the budgets they produce.

Of course, it's not always a good idea to have a balanced budget. In times of deep recession or other national emergencies such as wars, some budgetary flexibility is necessary. Our amendment provides it.

For some people in Congress and throughout the nation, ratification of this, or any, balanced budget amendment would be a panacea. Adopt one, they think, and deficits will become a thing of the past. They are likely to be disappointed.

To paraphrase H.L. Menken, "For every complex problem, there is a simple solution, and it's usually wrong." Balancing the budget is a complex problem. Most balanced budget amendments are simple solutions. Our amendment isn't simple, but it is only part of the solution to our nation's deficit woes.

The rest of the solution lies in our political will to make the tough choices on spending and on revenues. Without that will, all the balanced budget amendments in the world won't bring us to the goal we seek. A healthy measure of political will, however, coupled with the legal force of the constitution, just may put our goal within reach: a return to fiscal sanity in America.

"Consolidation"

"Researchers clash on relevance of school size" read the headline of the June 5 edition of the Wilmington Morning News.

Much of the "meat" of the article dealt with school finance. It is apparent that the motivation behind the move to consolidate smaller school districts is saving money. While, in the past 50 years, the number of school districts in the U.S. has dropped from 127,000 to slightly fewer than 16,000 according to the writer, debate continues over whether or not each move to consolidate resulted in a savings to those who fund schools.

Rhetoric also flowed on the question of whether or not students attending larger schools demonstrated higher academic performance than those attending smaller schools. Studies designed to ascertain the impact of school size or academic proneness often failed to control other factors which may contribute to differences, namely socio-economic status and IQ.

The authors moved on to the issues of graduation rates. Jonathan P. Sher, a rural education expert, conducted last year a study for the North Carolina School Boards Association which showed that high school graduation rates, another measure of education quality, were higher in states in which school systems tended to be smaller.

Ernest L. Boyer, former U.S. Commissioner of Education, reported that students are more likely to engage in extracurricular activities in small schools. Parental involvement indicated Joanne Martin-Reynolds, an education professor at Bowling Green University in Ohio, tends to be more evident in smaller school systems.

"Everybody buys a piece of the action," said Martin-Reynolds. "The closer you are the more ownership you feel."

She added that community groups also were more likely to use school facilities in smaller school districts.

The authors of this piece neglected to focus on the internal dynamics of school systems and their effectiveness relative to the size factor.

Management systems tend to be more bulky, layers of insulation more evident and accountability more difficult as systems grow larger. Schools and school districts are likely to become less personal as they are enlarged. The people who learn and the people who work in these larger systems are less likely to know personally those who hold important positions in the schools. Parents may find it more difficult to "get an answer" when in communication with the schools.

There are benefits of increasing the size of schools. The opportunities to offer additional programs, increased flexibility in scheduling of staff decisions and the possibility of cost savings are several.

Great care must be taken, however, to consider other points when making decisions of this magnitude.

As was pointed out in the News Journal article, sometimes "good things come in small packages."

Roth bill knuckles down on drug trafficking countries

by U.S. Senator Bill Roth

In recent years, our country has been making great efforts to combat the flow of illegal drugs into our country. But realistically, we can not truly fight this menace and win without the effort and cooperation of other countries. If our so called "friends" look in the other direction while drugs flow out of their country it only increases the proportion of our task.

For this reason, I have introduced legislation to crack down on countries like the Bahamas, which do not cooperate fully with the United States in eliminating international drug trafficking. Specifically, my legislation would permit a reduction in visas, a cutoff of air service and termination of Customs preclearance facilities for such countries. Preclearance facilities allow passengers who are about to enter the United States to clear U.S. Customs and Immigration before they ever leave a country like the Bahamas.

Under current law, the President must certify that certain countries are cooperating fully in drug interdiction efforts or they will be subject to a cutoff in foreign aid. My legislation is necessary to add some meaningful teeth to the sanctions for countries such as the Bahamas who receive very little foreign aid.

While some Bahamian authorities clearly have been very cooperative in joint anti-drug efforts with United States law enforcement agencies, it is also true that Bahamian authorities have failed dismally to deal with widespread drug related corruption at all levels of the Bahamian government and have similarly failed dismally to adequately prosecute drug smugglers in Bahamian courts.

For example, when drug smugglers are caught by U.S. officials at preclearance facilities, because it is Bahamian territory they must be turned over to Bahamian authorities for prosecution. Many of these smugglers who are arrested are allowed to post relatively low bond, are released and then allowed to leave the Bahamas, never to be heard from again. In 47 cases during 1985 and 1986, all involving seizures of cocaine, only a few defendants were sentenced to more than a few months in prison. Many were never brought to trial or were given no prison sentences at all. Unfortunately, the Bahamian government was reelected for up to a five year term in a recent election so my only conclusion can be that problems will continue and that we will have to increase the pressure on the Bahamas and other countries posing similar problems.

While my concern in offering this legislation is aimed primarily at the Bahamas, it applies to all countries which facilitate the international drug trade. The Bahamas is not the only country being singled out. But there is still time for the government of the Bahamas to wake up and take meaningful action against official corruption and against drug smugglers through its own criminal system.

It's unfortunate that this type of legislation is necessary. However, if we are ever to successfully eliminate international drug trafficking we must join together in a united front. No one can afford to look the other way and my legislation will only emphasize that point.

Two Delawareans receive national honors

by Congressman Tom Carper

Last Thursday was a big day for two very special young Delawareans. One an artist, one an inventor, both in Washington to be honored for their hard work, dedication and creativity.

The artist is Kerrie Gordon, a senior at Dover High School, and this year's winner of Delaware's 1987 Congressional Arts Competition for high school students. Kerrie, her parents, and her art teacher, Karen MacMurray, attended a reception in their honor at the opening of an exhibit which will feature Kerrie's work, a from all over the state.

Honorable mentions in the Delaware competition went to Laurel High School senior Jamie Foskey, as well as Dan Madinabebitia and Vince LaCava, both students at Archmere Academy.

Each of this year's 58 participants is a winner in his or her own right, and all the entries would have made fine additions to the exhibit in Washington.

The young Delaware inventor honored last week in the nation's capital is Sally Mallison of Wilmington. Sally, an eleven-year-old student at the Wilmington Christian Academy in Hockessin, is the national winner of the 1987 Invent America! Award for the sixth grade level. Sally's invention, a handy "Bag-A-Diap," was selected from among thousands of entries from across the country.

Invent America! is a national educational program developed by the United States Patent Model Foundation to promote creativity, ingenuity, and problem-solving among America's schoolchildren in grades K-8. Students competed at the local, state, and regional levels for special awards and prizes. The nine national winners - one from each grade level - were chosen by a prominent group of judges.

Sally's invention, is designed to make the disposal of dirty diapers cleaner and easier by including a self-contained plastic pocket. Sally will receive a $500 savings bond, a special citation, and an engraved medallion for her winning entry. In addition, Sally's teacher, Elizabeth Ward, will receive a $750 grant for use in her classroom's 1988 Invent America! program from MASTERCARD International. Sally's school and the Delaware Department of Public Instruction will also receive grants.

Delawareans are justifiably proud of Sally, Kerrie, their teachers, and all our state's young artists and inventors. When it comes to the creative talents of our state's youth, Delaware truly is a Small Wonder.

Delaware/Maryland to reciprocate traffic violations

DOVER...Robert J. Voshell, Director of Delaware's Division of Motor Vehicles recently announced that traffic citations issued to Delaware drivers in the State of Maryland will soon be posted to the Delaware driving records. Points will be assigned exactly as if such violations occurred within the State of Delaware.

Voshell stated that Maryland has enacted legislation allowing them to reciprocate with Delaware beginning July 1, 1987. Traffic violations issued to Maryland motorists will also be forwarded to Maryland and will be added to their driving records.

With Maryland being a neighboring state, this new policy should encourage safer driving habits by both states' residents and enable both states to track the problem drivers more effectively.

Gas prices rise two cents in Delaware

Gas prices in Delaware have risen approximately 2 cents per gallon since Memorial Day according to the recent survey conducted by the Delaware AAA. The Delaware AAA survey reports that motorists traveling in the First State over the upcoming July 4 weekend holiday period can expect to pay an average of 98.1 cents for a gallon of gasoline. In comparison, the average per gallon in Delaware over the Independence Day weekend last year was 88-cents.

This year, full service prices average $1.049 for regular grade and $1.111 for unleaded gas. At self-service stations, the average price per gallon is 86.7 cents for regular and 89.7 cents for unleaded. Unleaded premium gas is now averaging $1.098 and diesel fuel is $1.017.

Sixty-five percent of the service stations surveyed indicated that they would be open during normal business hours over the holiday period.

Towers receives Ag Scholarship

David Towers of R.D. 1, Harrington was one of the local recipients of an Ag Scholarship.

He is the son of Mr. & Mrs. H. Wesley Towers, both alumni of the University of Delaware, and grandson of Sarah S. Webb, also an alumna of the University.

Mrs. Webb recently retired as guidance counselor at W.T. Chipman School in Harrington.

Mr. Towers is a graduate of Lake Forest High School, Felton, and has competed in the National Science Olympiad, Math League and Annual Delaware Computer Faire and participated in the University of Delaware summer college program. Enrolled in the University Honors Program, Mr. Towers is planning to major in animal science.

Mr. Towers and other students were honored at the 12th annual Ag Day held April 25th at Townsend Hall, home of the College of Agricultural Sciences.

Stamp to be issued July 4

is a broad strip of blue which symbolizes the Delaware River, for its importance to commerce and transportation in the state. A sheaf of wheat and a stalk of corn rest near the top of the plaque as examples of major Delaware agricultural products.

The man at the left of the plaque, a colonial farmer, cradles a scythe in his right hand and holds aloft in his left a model of a sailing ship as tribute to that type of vessel's importance to early Delaware shipbuilding industry and coastal commerce.

The man at the right of the plaque is a Revolutionary militiaman with rifle at hand who represents the maintenance of American liberties.

At the left underneath the state seal, in a line of black type, is the date "Dec. 7, 1787" -- the date Delaware actually ratified the Constitution and officially joined the Union.

On December 7 this year, the Postal Service also will offer a pictorial cancellation which will recognize the Bicentennial anniversary date of Delaware's ratification of the Constitution.

Delaware, one of the smallest of the colonies, was sorely concerned about being dominated in the future if the Constitution called for legislative representation to be decided solely according to population. Accordingly, the Delaware legislature gave binding instructions to its delegates not to agree to any change in the rules of government that did away with the principle of one state, one vote.

But then the Constitutional Convention comprised, agreeing to have membership in one legislative body (the House of Representatives) based on population and one (the Senate) based on equal representation. With the small states thus given a fighting chance to forestall disagreeable legislation, Delaware delegates George Read, John Dickinson, Gunning Bedford, Jr., Jacob Broom and Richard Bassett accepted the compromise and began pressing for a strong national government. And for many years, Delaware supported the Federalist policies of George Washington, Alexander Hamilton and John Adams.

Procedures for ordering first day cancellations are as follows:

Customers Affixing Stamps: Customers are encouraged to purchase the 22-cent Delaware Statehood stamps and affix them to their envelopes. Envelopes bearing stamps will be given preferential service. Envelopes must be addressed on the right side at least 1/4 of an inch from the bottom. Stamps should be affixed in the upper right hand corner approximately 1/4 inch from the top and right edges. Other uncancelled postage stamps, issued prior to July 4, also may be affixed to the first day envelopes by customers. However, envelopes bearing stamps issued after July 4 will be returned unserved. Requests must be postmarked by August 3 and addressed: Customer-Affixed Envelopes, Delaware Statehood Stamp, Postmaster, Dover, DE 19901-9991. No remittance is required.

Postal Service Affixing Stamps: Except for affixing stamps and addressing orders, follow the procedures above. The price is 22-cents per stamp requested. Personal checks in the exact amount will be accepted up to the limit of 50 envelopes. Do not send cash. Postage stamps are unacceptable as payment. Orders must be postmarked by August 3 and addressed: Delaware Statehood Stamp, Postmaster, Dover, DE 19901-9992.

Delaware Park

most competitive racing market in the country.

A quick glance back at the late '30's will help put the changing decades into perspective. In 1937, coffee was 18 cents a pound. You could get a full course dinner at any respectable restaurant for 65 cents. Tropical suits cost $16.50, and the ever-sporty palm beach suit went for $16.75. Cotton slacks were $1.50 to $3.00 and straw hats (the old sailor type kellees) were $2 and up. And yes, you could buy a good cigar, for just 5 cents.

Interesting to note - Grandstand reserved seating at Delaware Park was $1.65. In 50 years, it has gone up only 35 cents, to the present admission of $2.00.

In 1959 and again in 1963, the track underwent extensive renovations to the clubhouse. Then, with increasing competition from racing in neighboring states, Delaware Park began to feel the squeeze. In 1983, the track didn't operate. Then, in 1984, the track was purchased by its present owner William M. Rickman, a real estate developer and builder from Rockville, Maryland.

Today, the track is run by General Manager John E. Mooney, who has combined his years of racing experience with an aggressive marketing program, to bring Delaware Park back to life.

Although the times have changed - heaven knows, you cannot find a good five-cent cigar - Delaware Park has retained the beautiful atmosphere that was instilled, planned for and insisted upon by its early founders.

As Mr. DuPont was found of saying about the track - let the public sing the praises about the Park.

Delaware Park is still here. And the public is still singing.

Mr. DuPont would have been pleased.

On this day, in 1776, the Continental Congress signed into being our Declaration of Independence from Great Britain. Its opening statement began... "We hold these truths to be self-evident. That all men are created equal. That they are endowed by their creator with certain inalienable rights. Among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." Let us reaffirm those words now, as we celebrate the two hundred and eleventh birthday of our nation, pledging continued faith in this commitment to freedom for all, for the benefit of all.

Dover Plans July 4th Celebration

An expanded show of dazzling, musically-synchronized fireworks, a grand parade and other special events headline the statewide Fourth of July Celebration in Dover this year.

Governor Michael N. Castle, who earlier designated Dover as the official site of the State's bicentennial celebration of the ratification of the constitution, will himself be part of the festivities on the 4th, which will also include brief remarks by some of Delaware's best-known public officials, including former Governor Sherman W. Tribbitt, former Lt. Governor Eugene D. Bookhammer, and Dover's Mayor, Crawford J. Carroll. Following a special day of events on July 3rd at the John Dickinson Mansion, including artisans, musicians, militia, dancing and games from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., the program on the 4th will commence at 5 p.m. with a grand parade through Dover, ending at Legislative Mall in time for the evening celebration.

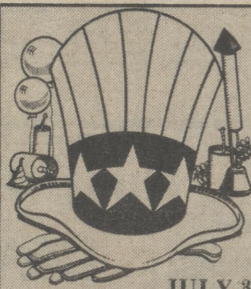

Featured will be Philadelphia's "Greater Overbrook String Band" which will both march in the parade and provide the principal music at the evening show beginning at 7:15 p.m.

At 9:15 p.m., Dover's biggest fireworks show in memory will kick off with a musical fireworks tribute to the bicentennial celebration. There will be ample sound at the mall, and the music will be simulcast by WDOV radio throughout the area, allowing thousands more people to both see and hear the show.

Over 25,000 persons are expected to attend, so plan to pick out your spot at Legislative Mall early. Remember to bring a chair for each person or a blanket so you'll be comfortable for the evening. Sanitary facilities will be provided on the site.
