HARRINGTON. The 58 year old Harrington Rotary Club earlier this month voted Rev. Joseph Brame, Pastor of St. Paul's AME Church in Harrington, to full membership in the club. Rev. Brame has been the Pastor at the Harrington Church for the past seven years.

Rev. Brame was one of five children, who grew up in Bedford County, Tennessee, but at the age of three he and his family moved to St. Louis, Missouri. He attended public schools in St. Louis before joining the US Air Force which took him over a large part of the world seeing action in the Korean War.

Following his term in the Air Force, he moved to Montclair, N.J. where he was employed in the trucking and moving business. Later he was to move to Philadelphia where he opened his own business in the produce and seafood lines.

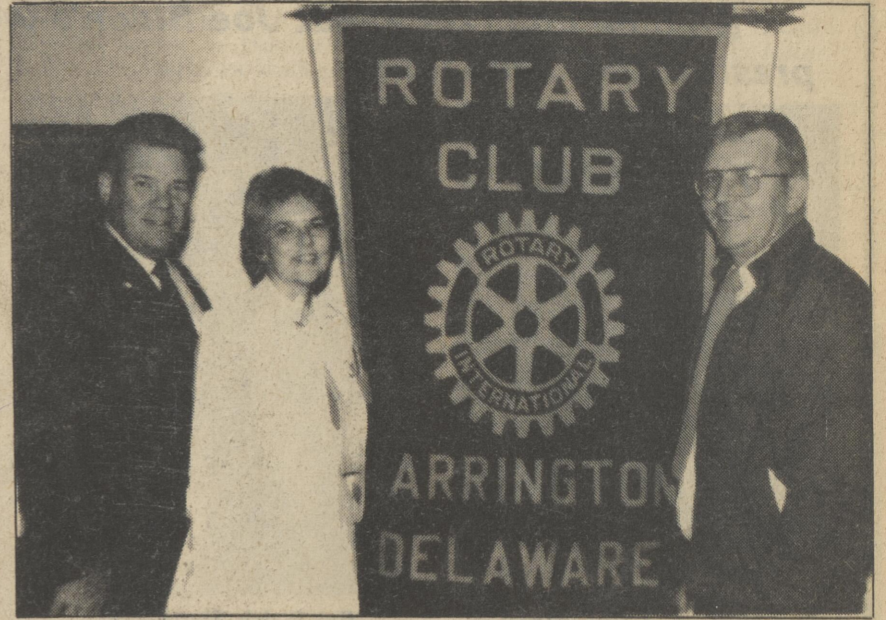

Following his first wife's death due to "Myasphenia gravis" (a disease of the muscles) in 1971, he began a pursuit of the ministry. He married again to his present wife and in 1974 he entered the Philadelphia College of Bible and the AME Institute in Philadelphia. Rev.

Brame received his ordination in 1977. Following his ordination he served a church in Bensalem, Pa. for 2 years. "It was a real nice church in Bucks County, Pennsylvania, and we liked it very much", said Rev. Brame. Following that pastoral service, he took a church in Chatham, N.Y. He said "...I enjoy pastoral ministry, but it can be extremely difficult at times".

He selected membership to Rotary because as he put it "...I think they are involved in worthy causes, and when Dr. Arthur Gilbert (director of curriculum in the Lake Forest School District) asked me to consider membership I consented. It (Harrington Rotary Club) is fast becoming an active club, and I was most interested in participating".

Rev. Brame cites as accomplishments at the church the addition to the church's central heating system last year new restrooms, a large Sunday School class, as well as building the congregation. "The goals are all pointed to membership and calling the sick and infirm", added Rev. Brame.

Rev. Brame is a former member of the Chaplain's staff at Milford Memorial Hospital.

Harrington Rotary Club was visited on Thursday at their regular weekly meeting by District Governor John Culver and his wife Barbara. With the Culvers is Harrington Rotary President Roger Trice, Governor and Mrs. Culver make their home in Salisbury where he is self-employed. Mr. Culver reminded Harrington Rotarians that the international convention of Rotary Clubs from around the world will convene next May in Philadelphia. He urged that they participate in that convention. Photo by HGF

District prepares for upcoming referendum

November 10 is a very important date for the Lake Forest School District. On that day the district will be holding a two-part referendum for the schools.

The first part of the referendum will concern major capital improvements which will cost the district approximately $4.2 million. The cost is based upon architects estimates plus inflationary adjustment. The specifications were drafted by a committee comprised of staff members, community members and Board of Education members. The capital improvements part of the referendum is a top priority at the state level.

The local funding of the capital improvements will be $1.7 million or 40 percent. The state share will be $2.5 million or 60 percent.

If approved, the school would benefit by improving heating systems in schools, reduce annual energy costs, provide additional elementary classrooms, provide for handicapped accessibility, make buildings safer, improve lighting in classrooms to meet recommended footcandle levels, increase power distribution to schools, replace underground storage tanks and avoid possible environmental pollution, provide for an energy cost efficient heating system since new systems will allow for conversion to oil or gas depending upon the cost, make buildings more secure and to allow the school system to dedicate minor capital improvement funds to minor capital improvements.

This program will add approximately 6.5 cents property tax and $5 capitation tax to the tax bill.

The second part of the referendum concerns equalization. The cost to the taxpayer would be 17 cents per $100 assessed valuation to fully fund after three years.

The local funding would be approximately $320 and the state funding would be approximately $350.

The rationale for the funding is as follows: The Lake Forest staff is the lowest paid in the state, recruiting staff is difficult (18 candidates turned down job offers this summer for higher salaries elsewhere), retaining staff is important (staff members left Lake Forest this past school year for higher salaries elsewhere), also a teacher shortage is expected in the state and the growing teacher shortage will add to Lake Forest's inability to recruit and retain staff.

The district would benefit from the equalization by being able to elevate Lake Forest from the status of the lowest paying district in the state and one of the lowest paying in the region, it would improve Lake Forest's ability to attract and retain staff, it would help to promote quality education for the district's youth, it would promote the district's area to those looking for a place to relocate, equalization would promote a higher standard of living in the communities, and the state pays the greater share of the cost (for every $1 of local monies, Lake Forest will receive approximately $1.09 from the state).

This program will be phased in over a three-year period. One half of the cost (9.5 cents per $100 of assessed valuation

Woodbridge School District referendum

The initial meeting of the Woodbridge School District's Referendum Steering Committee was held September 22, 1987 at the high school. Mrs. Janet Durig, President of the Woodbridge Board of Education and Mr. J. Alan Ferner, Superintendent of Schools, presented the district's plan for a capital improvement project.

The Woodbridge District filed a major capital improvement plan application with the State Board of Education in June, 1987. The project description includes the construction of a high school to be located at the Educational Park purchased by the District in 1969, and renovations to existing buildings. Upon the opening of the new 9-12 high school, it is anticipated that the elementary school in Greenwood would become a Pre-K - 5 facility and the current Woodbridge Jr./Sr. High School would become a middle school housing grades 6-8.

The estimated cost for a new high school is 8.6 million dollars. Local school districts only pay 40% of a capital improvement project. The State of Delaware pays the remaining 60%. Therefore, the state share of a new high school would be 5.2 million dollars, leaving 3.4 as the local share to be raised through property taxation. This would raise the tax rate by approximately 94.8 cents in Sussex County, and 89.7 cents in Kent County.

An open meeting to inform the community about the referendum will be held October 12, 1987 at 7 p.m. in the Woodbridge High School cafeteria. Present at this meeting will be Dr. Jack Nichols, State Director of Finance and School Management, and Mr. Pat Ryan from the architectural firm of French and Ryan.

Additional community meetings are scheduled for 7 p.m. on October 13 at the Woodbridge Early Childhood Education Center, and October 15 at the Elementary School in Greenwood.

Woodbridge Board of Education members Mrs. Janet Durig, Mr. William Mervine, Mr. Ronald Webb, Mr. Andrew Cannon, and Mr. Ronald Hatfield, have formed committees which will work toward informing the community about the referendum vote on November 10, 1987. Parents and community members interested in working on the referendum campaign are asked to contact a board member or may call the district office at 837-8296.

Blades honored for cross country at Lake Forest

Members of the Lake Forest Board of Education recognized the accomplishments of cross country coach Jim Blades at their September 21 meeting.

Blades was presented with a certificate from the Board, as well as a certificate and letter from the National High School Athletic Coaches Association.

"You and your colleagues who do such a great job in your sports area are richly deserving of national and regional recognition," wrote Carey E. McDonald, NHSACA Executive Director. "Your fellow and state coaches association deemed your career record in high school athletics as being worthy of special attention. Your school and community have reaped great benefits from your work with their youth."

Blades, who coached for three years at W.T. Chipman Junior High School, has since 1972 guided the Spartan runners from the high school. His career record of 107-20 is as impressive as his six state championships. His charges have also garnered five conference titles and have emerged as state runner-ups once.

His colleagues have recognized his powers honoring him with Henlopen Conference "Coach of the Year" awards five times. He was named Lower Delaware Gridiron "Coach of the Year" in 1984.

Blades has piloted the girls' cross country team since 1981 garnering 21 wins and just one loss with three conference championships and five conference "Coach of the Year" honors.

A former President of the Henlopen Conference Cross Country and Track and Field Association, he has served in various positions in the cross country and track and field associations and committees.

Lake Forest High School Principal Ron Burrows and District Superintendent Dr. James H. VanSciver joined in making the nomination.

"Jim Blades has an impressive list of credentials," said VanSciver, "which, on their own, should merit full consideration of his application. What the application does not reveal is the patient and positive manner in which he interacts with his runners."

"He consistently promotes their best interests through cross country. He projects a philosophy that the sport is not an end in itself but rather a means to an end. In short, he cares about his kids."

Blades completed last spring's sports season by being named Henlopen Conference Boys' Track Coach of the Year and State Track Coach of the Year. Lake Forest's thinclads were Henlopen Conference Champions and State Division II Champions. They finished the year undefeated.

He also coached the girls track team to The Henlopen Conference Southern Division title and a second place finish in the State Division II championship.

Harrington Fire Co. receives numerous awards at Convention

During last weeks Delaware State Firemen's Convention in Laurel the Harrington Fire Company received three outstanding awards. The first went to Henry "Smokey" White. The Delaware State Fire Police Assoc. awarded Smokey the Kent County Fire Policeman of the Year.

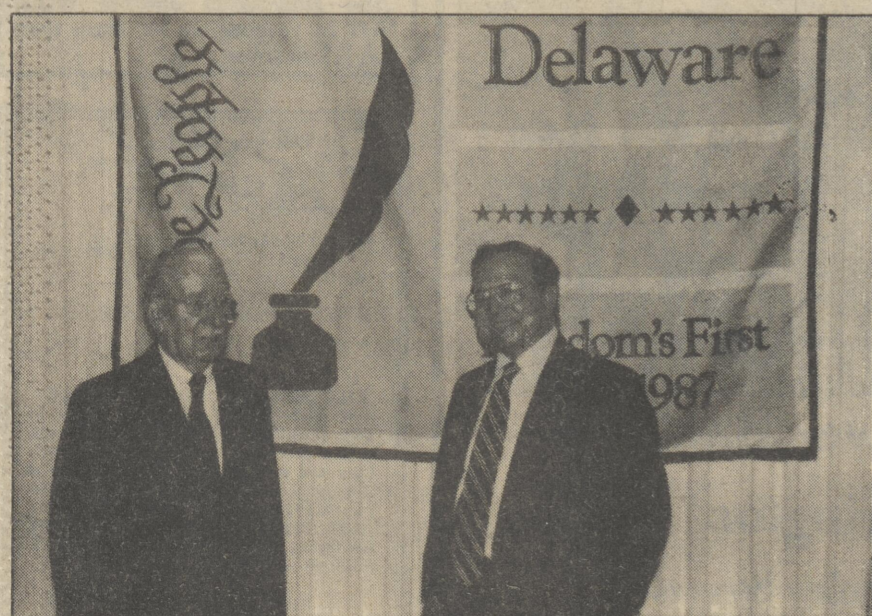

Smokey is a forty year resident of Harrington and a 34 year veteran of the fire service. Two years ago he was certified by the Delaware State Police as a Fire Policeman. When asked about Smokey's contributions to the fire company Chief Raymond Blanchette said "Now that Smokey is retired from D.P. & L. he has the time to equal his ambition. Not only does he make almost every alarm we have, he has gone as far as Smyrna and Georgetown to assist neighboring companies."

A Fire Policeman's job covers a large number of areas including crowd control and traffic control. Smokey stated "You just about have to have a two county road map in your head, to be able to re-direct traffic."

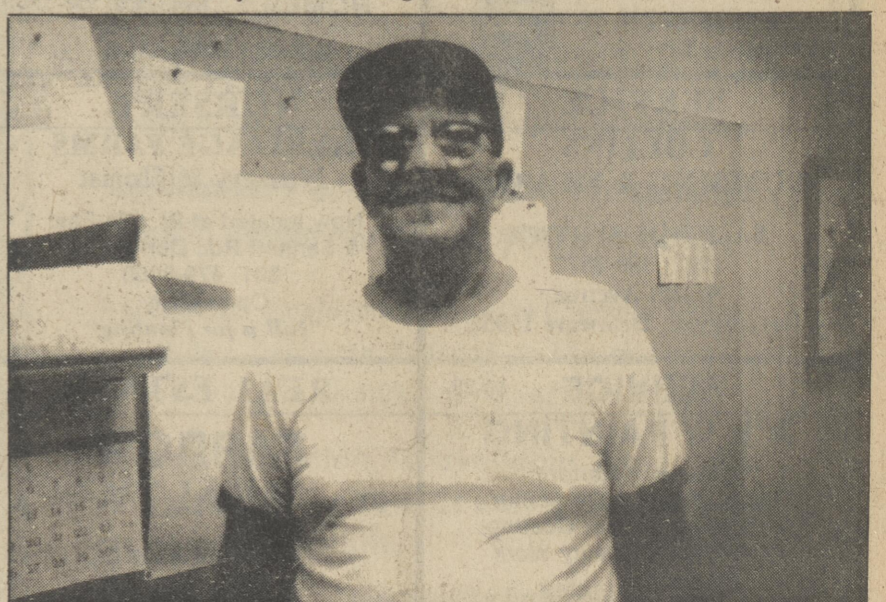

The second award won by Harrington was in the form of an $800 scholarship presented to Darin Simpson. Simpson, a 1986 graduate from Lake Forest High School, was presented the scholarship to further his studies in areas of emergency services.

The third award was presented to the entire fire company, for the Best Tanker in the state of Delaware. Assistant Chief Harold Brode, Parade Director for the fire company, said "A lot of hard work and effort went into preparing for the state convention parade, and that was proven by 50-2." (Harrington's 1987 Peirce-Lance Tanker.)

Professor of Political Science at the University of Delaware, James Soles, right, gave a "one-man" skit of James Madison and the drafting of the constitution at the annual banquet of

will be added to tax bills for fiscal year 1989, another thirty percent of the cost (4.5 cents per $100 of assessed valuation) will be added to tax bills for fiscal year 1990, and the remaining twenty percent of the cost (3 cents per $100 of assessed valuation) will be added to tax bills for fiscal year 1991.

The referendum will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 10, 1987 from noon until 9 p.m. at Lake Forest Elementary School, Lake Forest North Elementary School and at the Lake Forest South Elementary/W.T. Chipman Complex.

The referendum will consist of two separate questions: The first question will state "For the bond issue/Against the bond issue."

This question will determine whether the Lake Forest School District can issue bonds in the amount of $1,682,245 to finance the local share of the major capital improvement program. If the local share is approved, the State will supply an additional $2,523,364 as its share. The total amount of $4,205,609 is broken down by schools as follows:

Lake Forest East Elementary School - Planning, constructing, and equipping the Lake Forest East Elementary School to include roof repair, upgrading of mechanical, electrical, and lighting systems and the provision of six additional classrooms and related spaces for supportive instruction at approximately 7,700 square feet.

Cost: State=$521,216 - Local=$347,478 - Total=$868,694

Lake Forest North Elementary School - Planning, constructing, and equipping of the Lake Forest North Elementary School to include roof repair and upgrading of mechanical, electrical, and lighting systems.

Cost: State=$623,426 - Local=$415,618 - Total=$1,039,044

Lake Forest South A Elementary School - Planning, constructing, and equipping of the Lake Forest South A Elementary School to include roof repair and upgrading of mechanical, electrical, and lighting systems.

Cost: State=$416,624 - Local=$277,750 - Total=$694,374

Lake Forest South B Elementary School - Planning, constructing, and equipping of the Lake Forest South B Elementary School to include roof repair and insulation.

Cost: State=$46,334 - Local=$30,890 - Total=$77,224

W.T. Chipman Junior High School - Planning, constructing, and equipping of the W.T. Chipman Junior High School to include roof repair and upgrading of mechanical, electrical, and lighting systems.

Cost: State=$422,423 - Local=$281,615 - Total=$704,038

Lake Forest High School - Planning, constructing, and equipping the replacement of roof-top HVAC units.

Cost: State=$216,417 - Local=$144,278 - Total=$360,695

Administrative Building - Planning, constructing, and equipping an administrative office building to be housed on the grounds of the Lake Forest High School.

Cost: State=$276,924 - Local=$184,616 - Total=$461,540

The second question will state "For additional tax/Against additional tax"

This question will determine whether the Lake Forest School District will receive full benefit from the State Equalization Formula. To accomplish this, the District must raise its current expense taxes by 17 cents per $100 of assessed valuation. This increase in taxes will generate approximately $320,000 locally and will cause an increase in State funds of approximately $350,000. Thus, a local investment of $1.00 will generate an additional contribution of approximately $1.09 by the State.

As part of current expense revenue, the monies derived from this increase in taxes will be used to improve salary schedules for all staff.

QUESTION #1: It is estimated that the money necessary to fund the repayment of the local bond obligation for the building renovation and expansion program can be provided by an increase in the capitation tax of $5.00, plus an additional property tax of 6.5 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

QUESTION #2: In order to receive full funding of the State Equalization Formula, the Lake Forest School District must increase its current expense tax rate by 17 cents per $100 of assessed valuation over a three year period.

Selective Service Registration required for USPS employment

The federal government's largest employer - the Postal Service - recently announced Selective Service registration requirements for employment. Under the new guidelines, a young man must prove that he has registered with Selective Service before being eligible for appointment to a position in the Postal Service.

This requirement follows the Thurmond/Montgomery Amendment to the Fiscal Year 1986 Department of Defense Authorization Act. The Amendment prohibits a young man who is required to register from being appointed to a position in an executive agency of the federal government unless he has registered.

As of mid-August, all young men who are 18 through 25 years of age must show proof of registration before being considered for a position with the Postal Service. Those young men who do not reach 18 until after appointment will be asked to submit proof of within 30 days of their 18th birthday. Men who fail to provide proof of registration will be considered "not available" and will receive no further consideration for employment.

Along with federal employment, Selective Service registration has been linked to federal student aid and job training benefits. Many states also require registration as a prerequisite for state student aid, entrance into a state supported college or university and state employment.

All young men must register with Selective Service at any local post office within 30 days of their 18th birthday. Failure to register is a felony punishable by up to 5 years in prison and/or up to a $250,000 fine.

Outreach to Clark's Corner

Representatives from the Delaware Department of Labor and Delaware Tech, Terry Campus visited Clark's Corner recently to speak with community residents about job opportunities, job training, education and financial aid.

Betty L. Swift of the Department of Labor talked to residents about qualifying for help through the Job Training Partnership Act. Rita Chait, from the campus' Industrial Training Division, spoke of the free training programs available such as Nurse's Aide Training, Office Skills Training, and New Directions. Terry Campus Admissions Coordinator, Debra Roberts told residents about the diploma, certificate and associates degree programs at the campus and also about the available scholarships and financial aid.

According to Pauline Riley, housing specialist for the Delaware Housing Authority, the visit was the first time such an outreach program had been conducted with the residents.

She said, "We hope that our residents might take advantage of the education and training available so that they will be able to work out in the community and become independent."

Riley hoped that as more people moved into the family residential site, Delaware Tech, Terry Campus and the Department of Labor would plan regular visits.

The representatives also visited the Delaware Housing Authority community of Mifflin Meadows on Thursday, September 24, 1987.

For more information about the workshops or other programs offered at Delaware Tech, Terry Campus, contact Rita Chait at (302) 736-5428.

Lake Forest joins National School Lunch celebration

Activities surrounding National School Lunch Week will be extended throughout the month of October at Lake Forest School District according to District Food Service Supervisor Janice Hinzman.

This year's theme is "School Meals Make A World Of Difference."

Four special menus presented throughout the month will emphasize various cultures of the world. They will feature ethnic foods which are generally accepted as "American Cuisine". "As with all meals served in Lake Forest schools, each menu will emphasize choice," Hinzman pointed out.

"The food service staff will send a special invitation to parents," she continued. "Visit the school of your choice, make your food selections from the variety provided and see how your children eat in Lake Forest's schools."

Among the activities planned is a bag lunch packed in a "Just Say No" lunch bag, a Spartan Extravaganza at the high school to promote participation, and the introduction of a new Middle Eastern menu item, "Gyros" pronounced yeeros.

Each of the school's managers observe activities according to their ability to handle the additional meals and work load. They have been provided with a variety of posters and supplies to highlight the various cultures emphasized.

An Equal Opportunity Employer

Fry named Kent Vo-Tech Teacher of the Year

On September 14, 1987, Mr. Donald W. Fry was named Kent County Vo-Tech School District's Teacher of the Year. Mr. Fry is an instructor of Auto Mechanics.

Mr. Fry has been teaching Auto Mechanics with the school district for ten years. He graduated from Harrington High School in 1967 and then attended the University of Delaware for two years. In 1969, Mr. Fry entered the U.S. Navy and while in the service increased his technical training. He also participated in a program which allowed him to experience teaching.

Mr. Fry said "There are two factors that influenced him to seek a teaching position. First, and probably most important was his mother, who also taught. He respected the influence and knowledge that she was able to give her students, followed by the internal rewards she received. Second, Mr. Fry's teaching experience in the Navy made him want to continue in the occupation.

In 1984 Mr. Fry incorporated Automative Service Excellence in his Auto Mechanics class. A list of high priority tasks were received from A.S.E. and divided into eight sections. A student would cover one area per marking period. The Shop was certified in 1985 and at that time there were only 28 schools nationwide that had a master certification.

An interesting note to this story is that Mr. Fry's brother, Barry Fry of Millford High School, has this year been named Agricultural Teacher of the Year for the state of Delaware. Parents of the Fry brothers presently reside in Harrington.

"For the man who uses well what he is given shall be given more, and he shall have abundance." -Matthew 25:29

Sunday's service was a treat to the eyes as well as the ears. Entering the sanctuary, you couldn't miss the beautiful new carpeting that's been installed. All four choirs sang, and the Cherub's new robes were dedicated to the music ministry of God's "little lambs." Pastor Dore spoke on a portion of the 23rd Psalm -- that only through Jesus Christ will our innermost wants ever be fully satisfied.

Next Sunday, the Harrington Fire Company will attend our service as a group and there will be a baptism.

Mark your calendars now! The annual Beef 'n Dumpling dinner has been set for November 14.

Today, Wednesday, is "Spruce up Asbury" day. Come between 5:30 and 7:30 p.m. and lend a hand.

In the Pocket

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

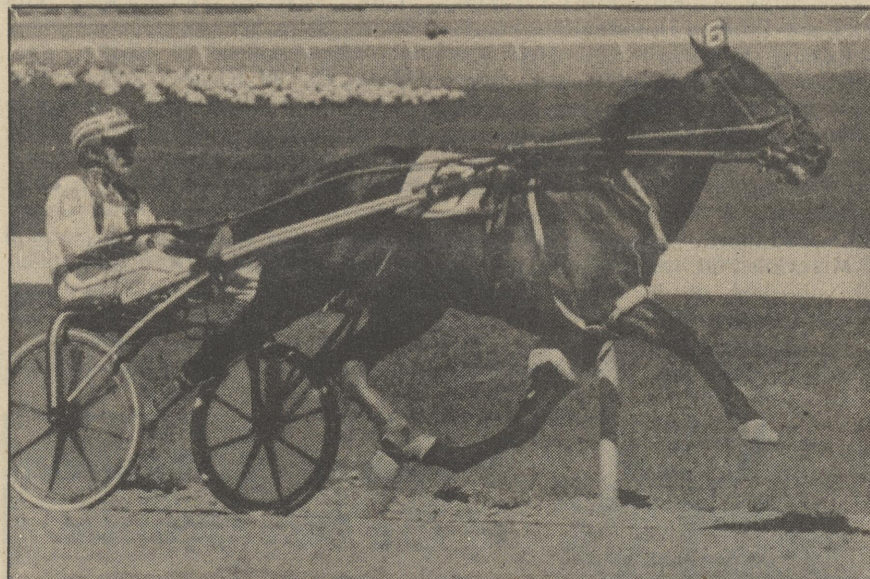

Frank Perdue, the "Chicken King" of the eastern United States, has turned his attention from pullets to pacers, purchasing the good race mare Believe In Magic.

Since purchasing the speedy daughter of Oil Burner for a reported $130,000, the 4-year-old mare has won once in two outings.

Perdue is widely recognized as a marketing genius in his chosen field. One unique sales technique, making his chicken different than all others, is got his current name for a popular Canadian television commercial which tells the tale of an ugly duckling who is always picked last when the neighborhood kids get up a game of hockey.

"Albert," the above-described boy, true to the hackneyed Hollywood plot, grew up to be an NHL star, scoring the winning goal to the cheers of the crowd - "Albert, Albert, Albert..." In 1987, the name Albert Albert has meant double trouble for his foes.

feeding the young birds marigold petals - giving the product a golden color, helping spur sales beyond that of his closest competitor.

So far, trainer Paige West has yet to place Believe In Magic on the same diet. "Please note the following equipment change..."

After Mack Lobell made breaks in both heats of the $501,870 World Trotting Derby at Du Quoin, trainer Chuck Sylvester made a change in equipment - and the change apparently made a winning difference in his next start.

Racing through most of this year without the elbow boots Mack wore at age two, the "Mack Attack" had been perfect until Du Quoin. Sylvester put them back on and Mack trotted without problems in winning the $76,845 Old Oaken Bucket.

Elbow Boots are used on trotters with a "high" front action - which describes the son of Mystic Park perfectly. Without them, his hooves hit the underside of his belly, and can cause a break.

With the "boots on," Mack trotted to a 1:57-4/5 win in the Bucket, which would have equalled the world record he set in winning the Yonkers Trot - had it not been for Sir Taurus' 1:57-2/5 effort a couple of weeks later. Mack's effort in the Bucket was even more impressive given the cool temperatures and a stiff head-wind hitting him in the face as he turned for home.

That prep, and the change in equipment, spell trouble for any colt thinking of keeping him from winning the triple crown at Lexington's Red Mile on October 2.

Sub-1:52-1/5 pacers - who have gone faster than Mack Lobell's all-age world record on the trot are Jate Lobell and Dragon's Lair, who paced a 1:51-3/5 mile at Vernon.

That brings the list to eight pacers who have gone faster than 1:52-1/5 - still a rather remarkably small number. "A horse so nice, they name him twice."

Albert Albert, who has recently swept to victories in the $572,340 Kentucky Pacing Derby and $98,855 Standard-bred, was not so named because his owner or breeder had a stuttering problem.

He began life named Lisconore, but

Lake Forest gridders suffer second lose

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

LAKE FOREST HIGH SCHOOL - The final score was 35-6 in favor of visiting Sussex Central Golden Knights, but the score did not tell the whole story of a young football team which is destined for top honors in the Conference in the next two years.

An outweighed and out numbered Spartan squad fought the Golden Knight's of Sussex Central for four quarters...and battled the visitors right up until the final buzzer. This football team of Coach Jim Fleming's is composed mainly of sophomores. The nearly all sophomore backfield tried vainly to run the ball against a wall of tacklers all night, but it was to no avail Friday night.

With roughly two and a half minutes into the first quarter, defensive end John Swain fell on a fumbled football in the Golden Knight's end zone to score the first TD of the season for the Lake Forest Spartans...but to also give the young Spartan team the lead...which quickly vanished when Sussex Central got their big gun rolling...in half back Doug Reed, who rushed for over 100 yards on the night. One of the carries was a 25 yarder for a TD.

Except for two quick touchdowns right before the half came to a close, the Spartans played the Knights down for down. "I think we gave them two and maybe three touchdowns", said Coach Fleming in a more somber note. "I think over all this young team looked better than expected", added Coach Fleming. "If this team tightens up and eliminates their mistakes we will win some ballgames as well as giving some real good teams the real scare," was the way Coach Fleming put it.

The Spartans gave the Knights a real good pass rush with linebacker Tony Noble in on several tackles and sacks plus one fumble in the second half, which stopped an advance by the Knights.

In the second half Lake Forest began to show some offense when quarterback John Scott hit Steve Thompson, Bobby Reed, and Carl Young for deep yardage. All three made some spectacular catches despite good single and double coverages.

One play which seemed to confuse the Spartan defense was the counter play which the Knights ran three different times successfully. "It was something I think we had trouble adapting to. It took us a couple plays to get onto the play", said linebacker Tony Noble.

The penalties by Sussex Central kept the Spartans in the game as they rolled up nearly 100 yards in penalties as opposed to sixty some for the Spartans. "Penalties killed the drives for us...and I think it helped us contain them (Sussex Central) as they committed error on error", added Coach Fleming.

Sussex Central had 236 yards rushing and 51 yards through the air for a total of 287 yards, and the Spartans had 43 yards rushing and 69 yards passing for 112 total yards according to Coach Fleming.

John Scott was 8 for 16 in the passing category with 3 interceptions. "John (Scott) just lacks experience. When he realizes he can go with the best of them, he is going to look a whole lot better out there...believe me," said Coach Fleming. Scott tossed 4 screen passes to Carl Young in the second half that seemed to be the right combination.

Some of the more spectacular plays included a 51 yard pass from Scott to Bobby Reed in the first half which was called back due to a clipping penalty. "That was a beautiful play," said Coach Fleming. "It showed both that Scott can wing the ball and it also demonstrated that Reed could catch the ball", said Coach Fleming.

Rodney Parker did most of the punt returning. He followed the wall set up for him which, each time, went up the middle. He was not able to get loose to show a large home crowd that he can sprint down field if given the chance. On one punt return a wall was beginning to set up for him on the sidelines, but he missed that and darted up the middle for not many yards.

Coach Fleming said following the game that he was extremely proud of his players. "We are very young...but they showed me a lot out there tonight. I think we demonstrated on those two long drives in the second half that we have the potential. The fellows have to believe in themselves. They are just short of turning this program around right now in this young season," concluded Coach Fleming.

On Friday night the Spartans invade Woodbridge. The Raiders have a very good football team. But Coach Fleming told his young team following the game last Friday night that they could win their game against Woodbridge if they don't make mistakes.

In dropping their second game of the season, the Spartans gained stature which will carry them to respectability in the coming season.

LF booters lose two

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

Before the start of this season, it appeared that the Lake Forest Soccer team particularly the defense would come through with spectacular performances.

It hasn't happened that way so far this season after three games. The Spartans sport a record of 1-2. "I would not have believed we would have given up 9 goals at this stage of the early season", said a frustrated Spartan head coach Dave Buck.

In the games last week beginning with Sussex Central on Tuesday which was played at home, the Spartans according to Coach Buck "...were less than aggressive". "Not only was the ball in our territory for most of the game, we were not aggressive and very sluggish", added Coach Buck.

Scott Tally was the bright spot in the losing Spartan effort as he scored both goals against Sussex Central. Greg Reed got an assist in this game, "...but we gave up 6 goals which really hurt. We probably gave them three of those 6 goals", said a dejected Coach Buck.

Coach Buck conceded that the Sussex Central game was more physical by the Golden Knights, "...but it really came down to the fact that they just out played us. They had 19 shots on goal to

Spartans edge Woodbridge 25 - 30

by Keith S. Burgess

At one point, late this summer, it appeared that 1987 might be the year, in which Lake Forest's cross-country team would post its first ever losing season. But it doesn't pay to sell short Coach Jim Blades and his Spartans. With three veterans running strongly and several young prospects doing very well early in the season, Lake Forest won it's own invitational, in a big upset. A couple of Blades' best young hopefuls have only been running cross-country a few weeks. It now appears that any team, on the Spartans dual-meet schedule is within reach with Caesar Rodney a possible exception. The Riders return five veterans. Ironically two of them, the Torgeson twins, got their starts in cross-country at Lake Forest.

After Lake Forest edged Woodbridge in the Lake Forest Invitational, with 12 teams competing, it was discovered that Woodbridge would have nosed the Spartans by a couple of points, if the Blue Raiders and Spartans had finished in the same positions in a dual meet. Since Woodbridge was the first team, on the locals dual meet schedule, Coach Blades hoped to get his charges "up" for the encounter, particularly the underclassmen, who actually held the

Harrington Rotary Club

News

by Melvin L. Brobst

A major event for local Rotarians took place on September 3rd when a tour was taken to the Scott Paper Company plant in Dover. The facility manufactures premoistened wipes for infants (Baby Fresh and Wash-A-Bye Baby wipes) and adult use (Sofkins wipes). The tour was organized by Rotary member Thomas Helm, who is the plant Quality Manager. The Rotary was greeted by the Scott plant's General Manager, Chuck Taylor, and the tour was conducted by employees of the plant. Operations at each manufacturing and packaging step were explained by the employee who actually performs the job. The facility is located on 80 acres of land west of Dover and is currently undergoing a major expansion which will increase the machine capacity and enlarge the manufacturing and warehouse area. The Dover plant manufactures the towels and lotion used to moisten the towels. Automated lines cut, fold, moisten, place wipes in tubs, seal and label them. Of particular interest to the Rotarians was the "Webline", a huge machine which converts wood pulp and polyester fibers into the large rolls of the air-lay paper which is used in the towels. After the two hour tour, the Scott Paper Company hosted dinner for the Rotary Club at the Colony Inn in Harrington. Much appreciation to Tom Helm for arranging this outstanding tour.

On Sunday morning, Harry G. Farrow addressed the Asbury U.M. Men's breakfast, at which time he paid tribute to Howard Wagner, late member of Asbury Church. Howard was a member of Harrington Rotary for many years, during which time he served as its treasurer. His life was an inspiration to church, club and community.

District Governor John Culver, Jr., for District #763 paid a visit during a recent meeting, accompanied by his wife, Barbara. He spoke on the contribution Rotary makes to community life and congratulated Harrington Rotary on its progress and service. He called attention to the annual meeting of Rotary International scheduled for Philadelphia in April, which is a rare opportunity for Rotarians to meet fellow members from around the world. Accompanying the Culvers was Robert Kennedy of the Milford club. During the executive session that preceded the meeting, Mrs. Culver enjoyed a tour of the community with Melvin and Charlotte Brobst, making stops at the Harrington Fairgrounds where she was impressed with the clubhouse facilities in the grandstand. Also included was a stop at Lake Forest High school where a look-in was made of the auditorium and swimming pool with explanation provided by Dennis Davis, swimming coach and pool manager. A drive was also made through Killen State Park and a return to town where various landmarks were pointed out such as public buildings, churches and residences.

A new member was received in the club recently in the person of the Rev. Joseph Brame, Pastor of St. Pauls A.M.E. Church, Harrington.

Leslie Wix of the Dover Club was a September visitor and is welcome at any time as are all visitors to the club's meetings held each Thursday evening at the Colony Inn, Harrington, beginning at 6:15 p.m., Roger Trice, President.

This week's meeting will welcome Mr. and Mrs. Albert Warren of Felton, parents of Elva Jane Warren who is enjoying a year's study at Robb College, Armidale, New South Wales, Australia, where her mother was a recent visitor. Mrs. Warren will fill us in on all of Janie's activities. Janie will be returning from her year's study under the Rotary Foundation Scholarship program in February when local Rotary will host a grand welcome-home night at which time area Rotary Clubs will be invited to send representatives as was done last year on the occasion of Janie's departure when she was given a send-off dinner.

On October 8, Leon Porter will be presenting a program featuring a talk by Carlton Goodhand of Nanticoke Homes who will outline some of the features of that organization. On the 15th, Dr. VanSciver, Superintendent of the Lake Forest School District will be on hand to explain the future and expansion plans for the district.

A 12-month subscription of the Large-Type Edition of Reader's Digest has been entered as a gift from the club to the Harrington Senior Center which should be in circulation at this time.

"Balancing Act", a one-act play depicting an incident in the life of John Dickinson, a Delaware signer of the U.S. Constitution, will be presented by the Possum Point Players of Georgetown. Presentation is scheduled for Thursday evening, November 12, at 7:30 p.m., at the Lake Forest High School auditorium. A small admission will be charged to be taken at the door, where children under twelve will be admitted free. This is a family show and should be of interest to all, and will be under the auspices of Harrington Rotary.

Carolling on the Green plans underway

Delaware First, the sponsor of Carolling on the Green, is working to develop plans for this year's carolling event and food drive. Carolling on the Green will be held on Wednesday, December 16th at 7 p.m. on Legislative Mall in Dover.

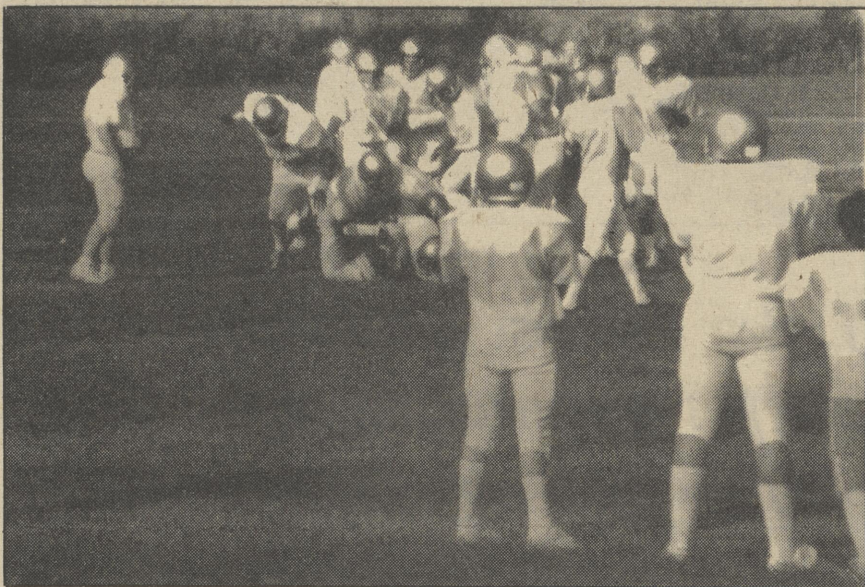

The underlying theme of Carolling is caring and sharing. Delaware First is requesting suggestions for guest conductors in all three counties. Elaine Singleton, director of Delaware First commented, "Our guest conductors are very special people. They're involved, concerned and have made so many contributions which benefit local communities. The holiday season comes and goes so quickly but the giving continues."

Anyone may propose a guest conductor by calling Delaware First at 678-9220 before October 21st.

our 17, but the chief thing was they really intimidated our team...which can be bad from the standpoint of the potential of injuries in those situations", said Coach Buck.

Coach Buck also added that the Golden Knights were 5 to 4 on corner shots.

In the Cape game, played on the road, the Spartans took a 1-0 lead at the end of the first half, on a shot by Billy Christensen assisted again by Greg Reed. "Andy Gay, who was playing halfback at the time, threw the ball in from an out of bounds play to Greg Reed who passed to Billy", said Coach

Buck.

"I thought we would have come out fighting Cape in the second half instead of just protecting the 1-0 lead. But our guys, who are in a state of not being aggressive right now, laid back and Cape won the game 2-1", said Coach Buck.

The Spartans go against Seaford at home on Thursday and at Dover next Tuesday. "Our guys can beat Seaford 5-0 but it depends on two things...how we come out of the Milford game on Tuesday and our attitude. I think this team can stick it to Seaford. We will see", said Coach Buck.

key to the final result. At the start of the race Mark Tozer, the Spartan star, who was the individual winner in the Lake Forest Invitational, took the early lead. Woodbridge ace Kyle Daugherty, 5th in the Invitational, Spartans Mike Eck, who was 6 in that race and Steve Clute, who was 11th, shadowed Daugherty. Further back behind Clute, came six Woodbridge runners. Coach Blades had impressed on his younger Spartans the necessity of getting a couple of the Blue and Gold carriers ahead of the Blue and White's sixth and seventh men. At two miles Clute, Daugherty and Eck were together, all running much slower, than in the Invitational.

Clute and Eck were closely watching the visiting rival and hoping to move him back to at least third place. At three miles, Daugherty was a distant fourth and Lake Forest was a shoo-in since a team with the first three runners in cannot lose, in a dual meet, provided that two more runners finish, no matter how far back.

Later, it was discovered that Daugherty was ailing. He finished 5000 meters (3 1/2 miles) in 19.13, compared to the 17.55 he had done, a few days earlier, on the same course. Eck and Clute also ran slower since they were watching Daugherty and did not have to push all the way. For the second straight outing Tozer had no competition but posted an excellent 17.03, down just two seconds from the Invitational.

Billy Propes, the improving Andrewville Antelope, clocked a very good 19.17 in fifth for Woodbridge, followed by Worthy, an unidentified Blue Raider and Camper, giving the visitors five straight finishers.

Running farther back, in the wooded area, the younger Spartans had no way of knowing that Daugherty's illness had eliminated the necessity of two of them, knocking off Veasey and Faison, two capable Raiders, who were occupying ninth and tenth places. Scott Pierce, a sophomore standout, clocked another sub-20 performance and moved into ninth place. Mike Sanders, a sophomore tyro, learned from his only previous cross-country start, dropped from 20.21 to 19.56 and took over tenth. David Elder, a freshman, proved his great debut, at the Invitational, was not a fluke, finished in virtually the same clocking as before to get 11th. The bottom line here is, had Daugherty been 100 percent and gotten second, Lake Forest would have won by one point anyway by the excellent finishes of any two of the trio of Pierce, Sanders and Elder. Coach Blades told them what they had to do and they came through for him and for Lake Forest.

After Veasey and Faison came Darren A. Lawson and Jon Kane, who unleashed great kicks to both clock 20.20. Coach Blades could soon have ten carriers under 20 minutes, on this course.

Bill Reeve was 16th, followed by Taylor of Woodbridge, Collision of Lake Forest with Webb and Smith of Woodbridge completing the top twenty.

Other locals to do well were: Tim Fisher, Billy Walters, Chris Masten, who improved by 13 seconds, Czar Bloom, Darrell Allen and Mike Cawby. Lake Forest had seventeen athletes in the meet. Rusty Bean of Woodbridge had molded a strong team, despite Woodbridge's small, student population. The Blue Raiders were second, in the state meet last year and were state champs a few years back. Five good runners can take a team a long way. This should attract more small schools to try this sport, it says here.

Series in celebration of the Bicentennial offered

A new "Let's Talk About It" series in celebration of the Bicentennial of the Ratification of the United States Constitution is being presented currently at the Seaford District Library. The five-part series began on September 21 with Thomas Erskine, Salisbury State College, lecturing on the Autobiography of Benjamin Franklin and leading participants in a discussion of the work. Franklin was the first in a long line of American authors who have advised their readers on how to prepare themselves for a competitive struggle to succeed.

On October 5, Nayland Page, Historian from Salisbury State College, will lead participants in a comparison of the views of those who supported ratification and those who opposed the new federal constitution. Professor Page and the group will use selections from The Federalist and a 1955 essay by Historian Cecelia Kenyon, "Men of Little Faith: The Anti-Federalists on the Nature of Representative Government," as the basis for their discussion.

In Madison and Jefferson: The Great Collaboration, Adrienne Koch explores how the unique friendship and exchange of ideas between these two men shaped the constitution and the early decades of the United States. The book will be read and discussed on October 19 with Donald Whaley of Salisbury State College leading the session.

The fourth reading for the series, Washington, The Indispensable Man by James Thomas Flexner, demonstrates the valuable contribution of our first president to the establishment of the United States as a sovereign nation and the initial implementation of its constitution. David Heidler, Salisbury State College, will lecture on Washington and lead a discussion of the Flexner Book on November 2.

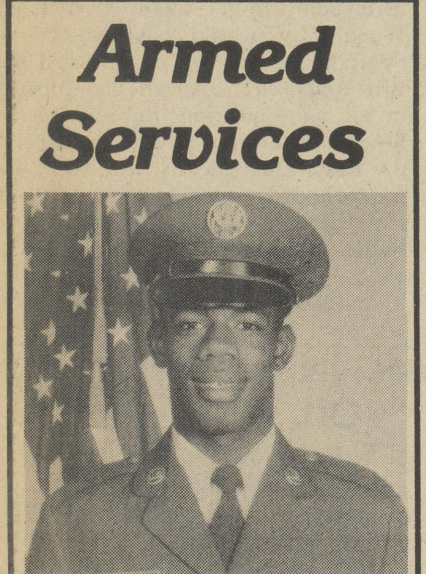

At the final session on November 16, James Magee from the University of Delaware Political Science Department will lecture on the World of the Constitutional Era from the perspective of a non-participant. Through Lynne Withey's biography, Dearest Friend: A Life of Abigail Adams, participants will become more familiar with a time when women, young males, servants, and slaves were not allowed to vote but were supposed to be represented by the male head of household.

These programs, partially funded by the Delaware Humanities Forum, are open to members of the public at no charge. Call the Seaford District Library, (302) 629-2524, to register and receive the books, or to inquire about the series.

Smith captures second/Larimore 1st win at Middleford

by Bonnie Algier-Mitchell & Mark Miller

Gene Smith captured his second feature event of the season in the G&S TV/Chicken Man Suzuki powered Micro. Smith in only his first season of racing displayed some excellent driving skills, as he held off the advances of "Rapid Rick" Kregel who was in the Eastern Petroleum Services/Ed Walls recently built back-up car.

holding off Alan Garey while Scott Walls, and Wayne Dutton argued over fifth. On lap seventeen Walls pushed the other EPS car into fourth. Three laps later Smith took the win over Kregel who was driving this car for the first time, while McMahon, Walls, Garey and Dutton rounding out the top six.

The Karts saw Shane Larimore of Andrewville take his first win of the year in his BJ Racing Team kart as he pulled out a commanding lead he would not relinquish. Larimore, who has been plagued all year by bad luck, proved when things go right, he can really fly. Larimore was followed home by Jean Metzner.

Camel Pro national rider #71 David Miller put on quite a show for spectators at Middleford as he took both the 250 and Open Pro class finals. Miller, from St. Petersburg, Florida, led every lap of the 250cc class over Mike Varnes, held off Eddie Hidden and Gene Kaczka for second.

Miller then led track favorite, Roy Collings to the checkered in the Open Pro finals while Mark Miller put the E.J. Wilson Welding/Dover Cycles/Bill Sharp Yamaha in front of the 500/Senior combined class, and easily outdistanced Tom Kisielnicki on the Flat Down Yamaha.

Walls/Miller victors on short track Friday night

by Bonnie Algier-Mitchell

Millford's Scott Walls piloted the Eastern Petroleum Services car to its second straight win at Middleford Speedway Friday night. Walls had the pressure put on him early on from G&S TV's Gene Smith until lap seven when Smith was displaced by Greg Coverdale in the Coverdale Insurance/Bud's Auto Body #17 car. Alan Garey was busy holding down fourth over another Harrington hot shoe Todd Wise, and Dan McMahon. Lap ten saw Garey move into third, while Tony Kibler dropped McMahon to seventh. Things stayed the same until the checkered as Walls took another well deserved win, and closes in on point leader Todd Wise, who has been having a bit of hard luck lately.

Coverdale finished in the second spot with Garey, Smith, Wise and Kibler rounding out the top six.

In Karting action the Bloom brother's were in victory lane again, as Mike won the lightweight class by leading every lap over Buddy Bozman and Jean Metzner. Brother Buddy did the same in the heavyweight class with Donnie Donovan and Charles Ellerbusch rounding out the field.

The Super-Sport Kart class was a controversial one. At the end of twenty laps Ted Johnson led Phil Metzner, and Dale Blades across the finish line. The race was then protested which, as this writer sees it, has been called for in both karting classes on several occasions. Johnson's motor was protested as illegal, and a subsequent tear down proved that it was illegal. Johnson was then disqualified, and Metzner declared the winner.

In cycle action season points leaders Roy Collings, and Mark Miller were nearly knocked out of the evenings competition when the two collided with each other in turns three/four. Even though they were bruised and shaken, both escaped injury and came back to race in the finals.

In the Open Pro heat Miller jumped in front of Junior Pro rider Scott Mohan, who was making his first start since crashing at Syracuse, New York at speeds over 100 mph. The spill left him in a coma for a week but seems to be coming back to form. On lap two, Miller low sided in turn three, Mohan missed the downed rider, but Collings tired everything to miss Miller, but just couldn't avoid him. As he went down, his bike struck Miller in the back, leaving both riders pinned under their machines. After untangling, the riders were restarted without Collings or Miller.

When the riders came out for finals, Collings had banged out his flattened exhaust, and taped a swollen knee and then put the 1st State Cycles/Mark Hake-Harley-Davidson in front and in a style all his own, Collings kept it there and took his well earned win, with Mohan on his rear wheel for second.

After Mike Erving won his fourth straight 250cc feature, Miller, some sore ribs, and a broken frame on his Yamaha, jumped in front of the 500/750 combined class and led every lap over Collings who brought out his 750cc Yamaha twin. Tom Beale held down third on his Yamaha while Chuck Hudson rounded out the top four.

Middleford Speedway located near Seaford, Delaware will see two action pack nights of racing this weekend. Friday night will see the regular program with racing beginning at 8 p.m. and more action at 8 on Saturday night. See ya there!!

Winners galore in marathon Georgetown race action

by Don Allen

GEORGETOWN, DE—Townsend Farms of Dagsboro, De. and B&F Towing of New Castle, De. in conjunction with First State Promotions, Inc. put together a night of racing at the Georgetown Speedway Saturday night, September 26th, that will live in the memory of Delmarva race fans for a very long time. Though it turned into a "marathon night", with starter Bill Lawson not throwing the final checkered til well after midnight, the stock car action had a bit of everything.

The unique racecard offered the first "triple twin" program ever staged at the "fast half-mile".

Visiting Victory Lane in the twin twenty lap Modified features were Ron Keys and Tom Capie with Bob Toreky picking up the "best overall" bonus for his two second place finishes. It was a sweep for Oscar Fields in the Limited Late Models. Fields took both fifteen lap features, the division bonus and locked in the 1987 Georgetown Limited Late Championship in the process. Dale Bounds, C.R. Robinson shared victory laurels for the Street Modified twin ten features. C.R. picked up the best overall bonus finishing third to Bounds' win and scoring a first himself. The first Street feature was that division's final 1987 points race and with his fourth place finish in that race, Richard White Jr. picked up his first career track championship.

Georgetown's pit area swelled with 34 modified teams Saturday night. Three qualifying heats and consolation race produced a full field for both of the 20 lap feature events. "Young Lion" Ron Keys, started outside front row in the first event and piloted his speedster to the front to lead every lap and pick up his second career Georgetown win.

From lap six on Keys had the T&T Racing, C.P. Townsend Farms #14 of 1987 Georgetown Modified Champ Bob Toreky in close pursuit. Four caution periods slowed the contest but the final nine laps ran under the green flag and the Keys racer was awesome, taking a smooth line through the turns and increasing its lead on every straightaway until the checkered flag.

Toreky came home in second followed by the Philco TV #3 of Bobby Wilkins in third, John Pinter's machine in fourth and the brand new mount piloted by the legendary Eddie Pettyjohn rounded out the top five.

Broken machinery in the rear end of Keys' mount put him out just past halfway in the second feature while running fifth, but it is doubtful if the "hard chargin'" driver could have even come close to the Petrocon machine of the "Trevoise Comet" Tom Capie. Things just didn't get on Capie's mount in the first contest, leaving him with a distant twelfth place finish and put him near the front on the starting grid for the second feature.

At the completion of lap one Capie commandeered a lead that would last for the entire race, but in the closing laps it was not a comfortable one. In the early laps Capie opened a strong lead over Garry Gollub's #21, in second. Back-to-back cautions on lap twelve and thirteen brought Gollub back to Capie's bumper along with Freddy Brightbill, Toreky and the rest of the field.

Toreky took his best shot on the restart, took second from Brightbill and began to close on Capie. For the final laps the pair pulled out all the stops. Toreky came within inches in turn two on the last lap, but Capie blasted into the final two turns and bested the T&T machine by a car length at the checkered.

Finishing in third was Brightbill followed by Deron Rust, who started 19th and was coming on strong in his Towers Electrical Contractors #396. Rounding out the top five was Gollub. Oscar Fields has had a season for the record books with his Bodie's Dairy Markets Camaro in the Limited Late Model division at Georgetown. Oscar continued his winning ways Saturday night and picked up back-to-back wins in the twin fifteen lap features.

Fields led every lap of the second feature that was only slowed by one caution period. He used lap traffic to the max and had opened a healthy lead over Bloo, at the checkered. Finishing in third was John Penuel with Bunky White in fourth and Hilliard scoring another fifth.

The first ten lap Street Mod feature brought Dale Bounds to the winner's circle with his Accubill Chevelle for the fifth time in 1987. Dale didn't have a moments rest for the entire event and inched out Kenny Pettyjohn at the stripe with Robinson, White Jr. and Tommy Elliott in hot pursuit.

Robinson had his chance with his Chicken Shack Monte Carlo in the second event and came from seventh to chase down leader Bill Glenn and take first with just one lap to go. The race was marred by one serious accident in the early laps involving four cars. Caught in the middle was the #44 piloted for this one race by C.R.'s dad, Donald Robinson. The field was red flagged and ambulance crews administered to the elder Robinson. Donald was taken from the car on a backboard and at the latest report was suffering from a back injury.

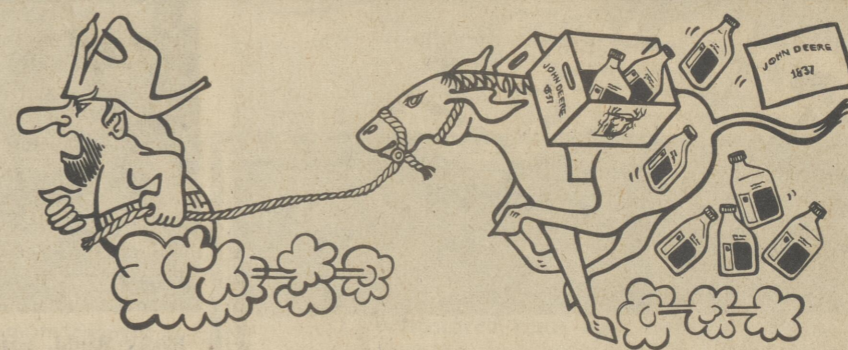

Saturday night, Oct. 3rd, will close out the 1987 season at the Georgetown Speedway. The racecard will feature twin 20's for the Modifieds, 20 laps for the Limited Lates and 10 laps for the Street Mods plus the long awaited five lap challenge for the 1987 Modified feature winners. Eligible for the contest are Toreky, Freddy Brightbill, Pinter, Daggett Jr., Bennett Jr., Patilla, Baker, Weaver, Visconti, Capie and Keys. Gates will open at 5:30 p.m. with Modified heats starting at 7:30 p.m.

Letter to the Editor

Mr. Farrow:
I just finished reading the Harrington Journal that I receive every week (thanks to Anna Lee Derrickson). I just wanted to tell you how much an old hometown boy enjoys reading it. I also enjoy reading the Harrington Heritage paper that was enclosed. It sure did bring back memories of the old hometown. I was born and raised in Harrington on Liberty Street, so I know all about the good old days in Harrington. I was back home in May for my class (1942) 45th Reunion and got to meet a lot of my old friends. I even walked around the town. I can still remember how Main Street used to look. All the people walking and shopping on Friday and Saturday night. I guess the Sport Shop was our place. 5¢ coke, 5¢ jukebox and a good looking girl. What a time we had there. These are the time I remember. I have been gone from Harrington a long time but it will always be my hometown. If it is possible, and you still have a copy of the book, History of Harrington, I would like to have a copy. If there is a charge, please send me the bill. This would make my day.

Thanks for taking time to read this. I still remember all the crazy things you kids used to do. These memories you can't buy.
Thank You.
William E. West (Westy)
P.S. I am one of the West family. Remember us?

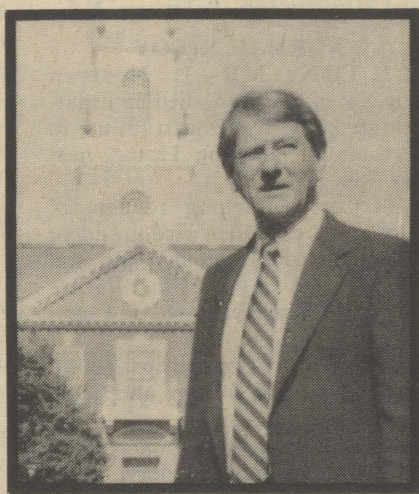

Editor's Note: If Mr. West is referring to "Mispillion Forest, The History of Harrington" Volume 1, it is available by writing a request to: Mrs. Grace Welch, 219 West Street, Harrington, DE 19952 and enclosing your check or money order in the amount of $7.75 ($6.50 for the book and $1.25 for shipping).

Quill in Pen

by G. Robert Quillen
State Representative
30th District

It is my pleasure to announce the railroad crossing at Rt. 316 has now been completed and opened to traffic as of September 18. The total cost of the crossing came in at $223,000, 90 percent of which was picked up by federal funds. The remaining 10 percent came out of the state Bond Bill.
At this writing, the Felton ditch has been dug out, so drainage should be much better. I am working with the Department of Transportation on upgrading Rt. 14 to the Maryland line and investigating ways of re-routing truck traffic on that road, which would alleviate some of the congestion.

Members of the Kent County 4-H program will gather October 17 for an awards banquet at the Nellie Stokes Elementary School cafeteria. About 325 4-H'ers, leaders and donors will be on hand to honor those who participated in state and national projects. The 4-H'ers put heart and soul into their work and should be very proud of their accomplishments.

District Dialog

by Dr. James H. VanSciver
Superintendent

"The Facts"

Voters will go to the polls on November 10 to decide a two-part referendum for Lake Forest School District.

One part will decide whether voters support a proposed major capital improvement program. In the second, voters will decide whether the District will increase its current expense tax rate.

The facts are as follows.

First, regarding the major capital improvement program. The specifications were drafted by a committee comprised of staff members, community members and Board of Education members.

The program would improve heating systems in our schools. During colder periods, we are unable to sufficiently heat our buildings. It would reduce annual energy costs by making improvements in ceilings, windows and heating systems. It would provide for additional elementary classrooms at a time when elementary school enrollment is on an upswing. It would provide for handicapped accessibility to our building and bring us up to standards in that area. It would make our buildings safer and improve lighting in classrooms to state recommended footcandle levels. It would increase power distribution to schools and would replace underground oil storage tanks to avoid possible environmental pollution. It would provide for an energy cost efficient heating system since new systems will allow for conversion to oil or gas depending on the cost. It would make the buildings more secure. It would allow the school system to dedicate minor capital improvement funds to minor capital improvement projects rather than major capital improvement needs. It would allow the District to make major repairs to building roofs. It would provide for improvements above and beyond the cost of the project since matching funds from the Exxon Overcharge program may be applied to improvements in the heating system at Lake Forest High School. The $100,000 bill for repairs to the Lake Forest High school roof have been forgiven Lake Forest School District. These monies may be applied to the major capital improvement program, driving the cost down.

This project has top priority status at the state level. Lake Forest's major capital improvement program is recognized as the number one priority of the State Board of Education.

In order to pay for this program, an approximate 6.5¢ per $100 of assessed valuation property tax and $5 capitation tax would be added to the current tax bill.

The rationale for the requested increase in the District's current expense rate is founded in Lake Forest's inability to recruit and retain the best qualified staff.

With regard to teachers, the Lake Forest teacher salaries are the lowest in the state, 19th out of 19 during the current fiscal year. Indications are that other Delaware districts and districts in surrounding states will be improving their teacher salary schedules. Analysts predict a major teacher shortage in the coming years, further hampering districts with low salary scales as they seek to attract and keep highly qualified staff.

For example, New Jersey Governor Thomas H. Kean, in the December 22, 1986 issue of Insight, said, "By 1991, the teacher supply will be only 63 per cent of demand." The October 30, 1986 issue of the Maryland Department of Education School Times reported, "The teacher supply 'pipeline' this year will fill only eight of 10 vacancies in Maryland classrooms, according to the latest report on teacher supply and demand."

Why? The greying of our teaching force, the increases in student enrollments, the effectiveness of other forms of employment are some reasons for this teacher shortage.

Media accounts of increases in teachers' salary scales have been more frequent. A selection of headlines from tabloids in the area serves as documentation. "8% Pay Boost Negotiated For Teachers in Howard" (February 21, 1987 Baltimore Sun), "Pay Hike For Teachers Pursued" (January 14, 1987 Daily Times), "Teacher Salaries Are Increasing" (November 19, 1986 Daily Times), "Maryland Teachers Propose Project Doubling Salaries" (November 8, 1986 Daily Times) and "Area Schools Focus on '3RS': Raises, Recruits and Respect" (February 22, 1987 Washington Post).

More competitive salaries should enable Lake Forest to be more successful in recruiting and retaining a quality staff. This should result in a more effective experience for students, provide a stronger base from which our communities may attract people to live and work here and help elevate the standard of living for everyone.

Last year six teachers left Lake Forest School District to accept higher salary elsewhere. As District officials attempted to fill vacancies 18 applicants turned down jobs in our District for more money in surrounding school systems.

Cost for the current expense portion of the referendum would be 9.5¢ per $100 of assessed valuation the first year, 4.5¢ the second and 3¢ the third. The total would be 17¢.

The single most important reason for asking voters to vote "yes" for both parts of this referendum package is that it will improve the environment in which our children learn and it will improve the selection of content and the delivery of that content in the classroom.

As it was oft said in that television series of long ago, "Just the facts."

These are the facts.

A laff a day...

by William T. Ficka

A seven-word history of money: Now you see it, now you don't.

When General Douglas MacArthur knew the end was near, he reportedly told an aide to find a decent burial vault.

A week later the aide returned and said, "I've found just the spot. It's on a hill overlooking a military academy. It's a beautiful sight as the sun goes down and taps is played. And it's only a hundred and fifty thousand."
"Isn't there anything cheaper?" asked

MacArthur. "I'll be there only three days."

Telling a kid today about the birds and bees is like giving the birds flying lessons.

I leave you with these words: Persistence pays. Always remember the salesman who called on the druggist for two years and never got an order.

Finally, the druggist gave him an order—for a box of Band-Aids and two boxes of cough drops.

Roth fights to save flight service station

by U.S. Senator Bill Roth

With so many stories in the headlines about airplane accidents and casualties, the importance of air safety has become all the more apparent. One issue of concern to Delmarva residents and related to air safety is the proposed closing of the Flight Service Station at the Salisbury/Wicomico Airport.

People all over the Delmarva Peninsula increasingly rely on the services of the Salisbury/Wicomico Airport. The Flight Service Station there is vitally important to the service and safety of passengers and personnel alike. The station also serves airports in southern Delaware. It provides essential information for pilots and airports on weather and air traffic conditions.

The Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) has proposed closing the Salisbury/Wicomico Airport's station as a consolidation effort to reduce the number of flight service stations. I first learned of the FAA's plans for the closing back in December of 1985. Since that time, I have fought the FAA on this proposal and have written to them several times expressing my opposition to the closing.

I was pleased to visit the flight service station in the spring of 1986. In seeing the facilities and talking with airport officials, the need for the station became even more obvious to me.

I recently received word from the FAA which I considered to be a combination of good and bad. The good news was that the FAA has decided to leave the flight service station open. (It had been scheduled to close October 1.) The bad news was that the FAA will proceed in developing a shared service facility with Leesburg, Virginia Automated Flight Service Station. Once Leesburg has its full complement of capabilities, FAA plans to then schedule the closing of the Salisbury/Wicomico station.

The delay itself is good news for Delmarva residents. However, I hope that this "shared service" concept does not detract from the excellent and very necessary service supplied currently by the Salisbury/Wicomico station. As the details of this new decision come to light, I will certainly take a keen interest in them. And, if nothing else, this delay gives us the opportunity to continue to fight the proposed closing of the Salisbury/Wicomico Airport's flight service station.

by Governor Michael N. Castle

Two hundred years ago, Delaware became the first state to join a nation whose vision was freedom. Today, Delaware again assumes a leadership role in the quest for freedom -- the freedom from the controlling and deadly influences of drugs and alcohol.

Through the Federal Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1986, Delaware will receive approximately $2 million for drug prevention and early intervention efforts. There are some very valuable programs in Delaware to treat drug and alcohol abusers. But, we can no longer afford to put all of our resources into treatment. We must prevent the need for future treatment by educating the younger members of our society, giving them the opportunity to maximize their potential as individuals.

Since I named Jeffrey Garland as my Special Assistant for Drug and Alcohol Abuse programs in April, we have been developing a comprehensive education and information program.

And, today, we are unveiling our year-long campaign to lift Delaware "Above the Influence."

"Above the Influence" is primarily a new way to focus on, and rethink, the problem of chemical abuse. It is a way to inform all Delawareans about the threat, and to help us work together to find solutions, both for our families and for our neighborhoods.

The program consists of many elements:
• Information workshops -- The core of our campaign aimed at training community leaders to work with others interested in learning ways to get out from under the influence. This approach complements current programs, which treat at-risk youth, by bringing adults together with adolescents, to address problems together, as a team, not as adversaries.

• Community organization plan -- "Above the Influence" will provide direction and guidance for community efforts to help children and adults make informed decisions about drugs and alcohol.

• Leadership -- We will take our message to business and industry, community service groups, neighborhood organizations, professional societies, unions and schools. With government's help and support, communities can organize in ways that meet their individual needs, using their own established organizations and their own people as resources.

Drugs and alcohol represent a serious threat to our society, and particularly our children. Today, we are making a firm commitment to a better, drug-free future. Working together, we can take our state in a new direction: "Above the Influence".

What brand of computer should I buy for my child? ASK MR. BERKO

Dear Mr. Berko: We have just moved and my daughter will be starting sixth grade in a new school. Other parents have told me that the school uses computers extensively in their teaching. I would buy one if it is necessary for my daughter. I would use the computer also as a word processor although I am presently getting along alright with my typewriter and the computer in the office. Should I get a computer? If so, what kind? I use an IBM desktop computer at the office and am reasonably familiar with some of the programs, so I could help my daughter learn to use the computer.

—Cindy S., Fanwood, NJ

Dear Cindy: Wait and see if your child becomes very interested in computers and if having a machine at home will help her school work. It may well be that your daughter will use computers at school and have very little need or desire for a home computer. If she is very interested in computers and you have the money to spend, you might consider getting one even if it does not help her in school immediately. Whatever she does, computer-literacy will be important. Computers, like people, speak different languages. If you do get a computer, you should buy one using the same language (and programs) as the one used in school. Most schools have accepted the deep discount offers by Apple Computers and use these machines although 90 percent of offices use machines run in the IBM-compatible DOS language. Thus your experience might not be of much help. However unless you learn to use the new computer, your child may see your lack of interest and lose enthusiasm also. Apple, IBM and some others have arrangements in which computers can be bought at a discount through the school. Even if a discount is offered, check the price against that of discounters and stores in your area.

Dear Mr. Berko: I have just graduated from college and starting to look for a job. How do I find out where the jobs are?

Rita W., Lakeview, MI

Dear Rita: One source is the classified "help wanted" section right in this newspaper. You can also check with all your friends and relatives for openings where they are employed. You may find out about a job before it comes public and get preferred treatment because of the other employee's recommendation. Other sources include your college placement service (if the college is in the area where you want to work), employment agencies (preferably one where the employer pays the fee), yellow pages, professional associations for people in your targeted position and, if you are interested in a job with the Federal government, the U.S. Offices of Personnel Management (formerly Civil Service Commission).

Dear Mr. Berko: I have just been watching the U.S. Tennis Open. Why do most of the Czech players have names ending in "ova"? Nevratilova, Mandlikova etc. Lendl seems to be the one exception.

—Janet M., Crosby, ND

Dear Janet: The suffix "ova" simply means that the woman is unmarried. Ms. Navratilova's father is Mr. Navratil and Hana's father is Mr. Mandlik. If Ivan Lendl has an unmarried sister her last name is Lendlava.

With the intense competition for jobs, a successful jobhunter must approach the search with all the knowledge and help available. Mr. Berko has edited a 40-page manual which takes the reader through establishing a job goal, writing a resume, finding jobs and how to impress an interviewer that you are the one for the job. The book A Job Hunter's Guide can be obtained by sending $3.50 plus $1.50 p&h to ASK MR BERKO, PO Box 336, South Orange, NJ 07079-0336.

Signing, antiques and left shoes

by Rebecca Moore

Our lives are not always easy. Sometimes events occur which cause difficulty or sadness. How we respond to and handle upsetting events can often influence us for the rest of our lives. I recently met two new additions to the Harrington community. Come with me and meet two fascinating people who experienced a life-changing event—two people who taught me much about self-sacrifice and courage.

Debbie Paine is an attractive, petite blonde with huge eyes and enviably long eyelashes. Many years ago, Debbie's younger brother contracted German measles and pneumonia. This contribution left him with a hearing impairment. As a result of this, Debbie became interested in sign language as a way of communicating with deaf people. Living in Bucks County, Pennsylvania in 1977, Debbie attended Bucks County Community College, majoring in Human Services. From there, she went to Philadelphia Community College, taking Interpretive Education. This was a highly intensive program, and only those with exceptional ability were chosen. It was here that Debbie learned not only the English language version of sign, but also American Sign Language, which is a completely separate language all its own. Debbie did well in her training and eventually ended up at the Pennsylvania School for the Deaf which, at the time, was located in Germantown. Debbie was given the auspicious position of dormitory counselor to six teenage girls.

While Debbie was working with deaf teenagers, Tom Paine was busy beating bodies-of automobiles, that is, Tom and Debbie met at a party, and if it wasn't love at first sight, it was love at second or third sight. But then something happened that would change Tom and Debbie's lives forever. Tom was hit by a truck. The three bones in Tom's left leg were broken in fifteen different places, and protruded through his leg in several places. His foot was backwards. Needless to say, his situation was pretty grim. For an entire year, Tom sat in a hospital outside of Philadelphia. The doctors were able to save his leg, but Tom's suffering was incredible. Because of the constant pain, Tom was continually being medicated. Before too long, it was next to impossible to find an injection site, and before too long, Tom was clinically addicted to controlled substances. He had no control over his medication, and it took months of rehabilitation to help him recover from all that had been literally poured into him.

Throughout this entire experience, Debbie was right there. Adverse circumstances can either make or break a relationship, and in this case, their relationship not only survived, but was actually made stronger.

When Tom was finally able to leave the hospital, it was with a new four-wheeled friend -- his wheelchair. Now Tom was in for a real lesson. Now he was handicapped in a society which had not yet totally accepted handicapped people. He quickly learned what it felt like to be the object of pity and ridicule and to bear the brunt of human insensitivities. Going out in public was like being in a circus side show. People can be so obnoxious sometimes, and Tom learned that being handicapped is no picnic, even with ramps and handicapped facilities of various kinds.

Fortunately, Tom's days in the wheelchair were temporary and he progressed from it to crutches and finally to a cane. He hit a real milestone this summer--for the first time in seven years, he wore both a right and a left shoe. "I have boxes full of brand new left shoes!" Tom chuckled.

Because of the accident, Tom could no longer continue working on cars. Life requires income, but with his occupation no longer possible, how was Tom supposed to support Debbie and himself? The answer came from a friend who introduced Tom and Debbie to the world of antiques, primarily antique glass. Now they spend a large part of their time traveling around the countryside in a great big RV, going to auctions and antique shows, along with their huge black dog, Asia. The antique business allows them to go at their own pace, to travel whenever and wherever they please.

Debbie is currently teaching a signing class at St. Andrews Lutheran Church in Dover. She hopes to continue teaching in the area some time after the first of the year. She is also making plans for a playgroup made up of both hearing and deaf children. She hopes that this will give hearing-impaired children the opportunity to associate with hearing children, but mostly to teach hearing children that deaf children are just like everyone else.

Tom and Debbie's plans will be put on a back burner for several months. Tom will be entering Kent General in November for further surgery which will require several months of recuperation. The RV will sit idly in the front yard; Asia will have to be content with staying in one place; and Debbie will again be there, caring and supporting. Signing classes, antiques and playgroups will be postponed for a while--but that's all right...for a while.

Tom's accident and the year which followed were incredibly difficult for both of them, and yet even out of something so negative, positive changes took place. Tom learned and understood what it's like to be handicapped; they both learned a deeper meaning of their love for each other; and a new fascinating occupation was born. Are there regrets? "I still wish the accident hadn't happened," Tom told me. That's only logical. But the changes are there, and with them, Tom and Debbie Paine are content.

You haven't heard the last of Tom and Debbie. Debbie's plans are still in the making, but as they become a reality, you'll read about them in this column. So if you're interested in learning the beautiful art of sign language, keep your eyes open!

Rev. Scott assumes new pastor role at Harrington Church of the Nazarene

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

HARRINGTON. The name George Scott in some circles might mean something to do with Hollywood, but the George Scott now residing on Mechanic Street in Harrington as well as being the new Pastor of the Church of the Nazarene in Harrington is not the movie actor we all are familiar with. Rev. Scott completed his courses of study at the Bible College in Colorado Springs, Colorado in May, and the Harrington Nazarene Church was his first assignment.

The native of Bend, Oregon started attending the Nazarene Church in 1965. "I was just part of the congregation. I was an attender," said Rev. Scott recently. He later became involved in church work in Bend, Oregon. "From the beginning I have always been involved with the youth in the Church," said Rev. Scott.

Rev. Scott prior to getting the call to serve the church was a dry wall construction worker by trade. While living and working in Salem, Oregon, he became a member of the Keizer Church of the Nazarene where the minister there, Rev. Parker, guided Rev. Scott into the ministry.

"I guess that you could say Rev. Parker was the influence which caused me to enter the ministry. He was always there when I needed him. He offered me great encouragement. While in my late teens, I got away from the church and I think that not only did Rev. Parker help in that area, he guided me in the direction I am going now," added Rev. Scott. While attending the church in Salem, Oregon, Rev. Scott worked with the youth of the church for four years.

He and his family later moved to Colorado Springs where the Bible College is located. He went there originally for construction work and retail sales. Again he became involved in the church in Colorado Springs. While living and working there he became involved in Christian Education. "I entered the college there and during the first quarter of the school year I just enrolled in Christian Education. It was during that period that I got the call to serve my church and the Lord," he said.

Four years later he completed his studies, graduated from the school, and got his first assignment in Harrington. "I see a lot of potential for the church here in Harrington," he said recently.

His wife Gail offers a great deal of support for him and for the church. They both feel there is potential for growth and hope someday to build a new church in Harrington. "There is room in the sanctuary to be sure, but the Sunday School is really crowded. We had a terrific response to the Vacation Bible School this past summer, and the church was very crowded," said Mrs. Scott.

There were 58 in attendance. Recently at the annual conference, the Harrington Church of the Nazarene received an award for growth in the Sunday School, and the "teens section" won the Nazarene Youth International (NYI) banner.

Rev. and Mrs. Scott say they are developing the "Outreach" program in the church, "...which means trying to reach more and more people. We are instituting a calling program for those people who are home bound...or need to be called because they are on the sick list", they said. Although the Scotts readily agree that there are many dedicated adults in the church, they also see the same with their youth. "The strength of the church is with the youth", they said.

The Church of the Nazarene has been in Harrington for 80 years. "It (the church) has had 18 Pastors. I am the 19th", said Rev. Scott. He praised the members of the church recently saying "...they are a real good bunch of people, and they have made us feel right at home", he added. This is the first time that they have ever been on the east coast. "We went to the beaches last summer and just fell in love with them", said Mrs. Scott. She also added that she is very interested in the history of the east coast, and they have no intention of leaving the area.

Aside from their own involvement in the church, they feel that the contribution of Mrs. Trudy Killen through the home study courses in Christian Education for the youth will be a big boost to church development.

Mrs. Scott added that there are many programs being offered to the youth "...such as skating parties, baseball games (they recently attended the Orioles-Yankee game), and pizza parties are beginning to show results". Mrs. Scott is also organizing the "LIFT Program" (Ladies In Fellowship Together) as a means of further developing the church.

Ellis receives certification

MILFORD—Harry F. Ellis has received General Motors certification as "Master Technician" officials at I.G. Burton Chevy/Olds in Milford reported recently.

Harry Ellis joins this year's list of nearly 3000 top GM service technicians nationwide. To become GM Master Technicians, technicians have to demonstrate their expertise through a year long series of training and testing courses that emphasize knowledge and Technical expertise.

"The GM Master Technician program gives us the opportunity to recognize those service professionals who truly excel in both product knowledge and service application", David Burton of I.G. Burton said. "There are more than 100,000 service technicians in GM dealerships today and to be in the top of this group demands that one be constantly up-to-date on product developments and the complexity of today's new cars and trucks."

Approximately 7,000 U.S. automotive technicians have achieved Master Technician status since the program's inception in 1983. To be eligible, technicians must be fully certified in the Automotive Excellence Program, be in good standing with their Division Service Guild, and complete annual training sessions.

Participating technicians are required to successfully complete a written test of automotive service skills. "To ensure the program's objectivity, this examination is developed by an independent college testing service," David Burton said. "The Master Technician program supports GM's efforts to train automotive service technicians to the highest skill level."

Harry Ellis has been employed at I.G. Burton Chevy/Olds for 17 years. This is the 3rd year Harry Ellis has achieved the Master Technician recognition.
