

Extension of utilities, taxes and other expenses discussed in Harrington Council Workshop

HARRINGTON. At the workshop meeting of the Harrington Council on Monday night various topics were discussed relating to extension of services and taxes.

The City proposes to extend a 10 inch water line in the eastern right-of-way line along the northbound lane of US 13 from a fire hydrant approximately in front of Callis Thompson north about 100 feet north of the concrete bridge in that same area.

The new line extension will cost approximately $20,000. The new line will also be used by the City to run a lateral line back to the Waste Water Treatment Plant so as to increase the water capacity for that installation. The new line will also enable Ben Hughes to run a lateral off this main line for his new processing plant.

Councilman Wyatt asked the Council to consider raising water and sewer fees to those households which are receiving this service but are residing outside the corporate limits of the City. Currently those residents are paying one and one half times what users in the City are paying. "We discussed this some time back about raising those fees because our costs are going up and nothing was done". The final formula will be passed upon at the regular meeting in November (Nov. 9th).

The discussion also took on another dimension about extending services beyond the corporate limits of the City. It was felt that no more of this should be done unless the residents who are receiving this agree to come into the City limits proper. It was suggested that fees could reach a level where it would be financially to the interests of those effected to come in the City.

It was also discussed that a policy be adopted by the Council concerning extending the services beyond City limits, and asked for an opinion of the City Solicitor whether a residence not adjacent and contiguous to the City's property is eligible to come into the City...or whether it must be adjacent to the City's property.

As for taxes, a transfer tax on the sale or transfer of real estate in the City be considered on the basis of 1% of the selling price. The capitation tax for everyone in the City was discussed on the merits of how to enforce a 100% collection. It was suggested that a questionnaire be sent out to all households and unless correct information was forwarded to the City concerning the number of people in the household a "heavy fine would be imposed", which might cause more responsive reporting. Both points were raised by Councilman Coleman. Councilman Wyatt felt the capitation tax was unconstitutional, and asked for an opinion on that matter.

The Council heard from Sgt. Jeffrey Cook of the Harrington Police Department concerning the disposing of weapons which have been taken during arrests. The weapons for the most part are illegal, and the Council suggested that they be destroyed. Sgt.

Cook informed the City Council that a law which will go into effect the first of the year requires all municipalities to use police officers who are fully certified by the State Police Academy.

"You will not be able to use part-timers who are not fully certified. This means taking names from the well who are full-timers", said Sgt. Cook.

Sgt. Cook asked the Council to take part in the state fleet bid price for a new police car which would enable the City to purchase a "full package police car" for $12,135.91. It will be a 1988 Chevrolet Caprice.

The ancient Red Oak tree in the front yard of Gardner and Grace Kersey was dedicated as Kent County's "Constitution Tree" (1787) — meaning it was here when the U.S. Constitution was signed. Actually, the tree measures 16' 2" in circumference, meaning it is close to 300 years old — a Wm. Penn tree (1682). The tree was so dedicated by Delaware Chapter of the Children of the American Revolution. It is part of the year-long celebration of the signing of the U.S. Constitution — the Bicentennial celebration. The top of the tree was destroyed several years ago when the gypsy moths invaded it. Public Hearing for Referendum draws large number of citizens

HARRINGTON. A crowd of 30 some odd citizens came to City Hall on Thursday night in order to offer dialogue on whether to hold a referendum on the proposed new city hall.

The open forum was for the purpose of gathering information surrounding the proposed new city hall. Following the close of the hearing, a special meeting was necessary to vote on holding a referendum with the time, date and location spelled out. The special meeting or formal meeting was not held but was agreed to hold that type of meeting in the near future. The citizens had asked for information which would prepare the citizens for the vote. It was suggested and agreed that a meeting in the near future would be held to provide the citizens with more definite figures concerning the cost of the proposed new city hall.

New food store to open in Harrington

HARRINGTON — Ron and Carol Anderson of Elkton, Maryland will be the new food store owners in the Quillen Shopping Center in Harrington. The store, which was formerly Harrington Food Rite closed its doors in September.

The new store, which will be called Ron's Market, will open officially this coming Friday, October 30th. Mr. Anderson will operate as an independent food store retailer.

Mr. Anderson is a native of Elkton, Maryland. He attended public schools there and graduated in 1965. His wife is a native of West Virginia. They have three children, Kimberly (21) who is employed at A.I. duPont Institute and attends Goldey Beacom College majoring in Business Administration; Ron, Jr. (2); and Valerie (17) a senior at St. Mark's High School in Wilmington. Valerie plans to enter Salisbury State College next fall. "I plan to use all of my children in the store on a part-time effort. It will be a family run store," said Mr. Anderson.

Some of the employees will be re-hired who had worked previously in the Food Rite Store.

Some of the incentives for shopping in the new store... will be discounts to senior citizens, many specials, for we will be offering a tremendous variety of foods and a special deli section which will sell sandwiches as well as meats".

Wetherhold to perform free recital

The University of Delaware will present Kathy Miller Wetherhold in a Senior Vocal Recital on Saturday, November 7, 1987, 8 p.m., in Loudis Performance Hall, Amy E. DuPont Music Center, Newark, Delaware.

Ms. Wetherhold's recital will include works by Handel, Strauss, Poulenc, Saint-Saens, DuParc, and Quilter. The recital is free and open to the public.

Ms. Wetherhold is a Dean's List student at the University, as well as a member of Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society. She is a former resident of Harrington and the daughter of Rev. & Mrs. William H. Miller. Ms. Wetherhold, her husband, Chris, and son Jeffrey reside in Dover.

Law enforcement survivors pitch safety belts

It was a simple act. Trooper Robert Schleifer of the Delaware State Police Department reached out and buckled a safety belt. It was a life-saving move. Shortly afterward, Schleifer was responding to an emergency call with his vehicle's emergency lights flashing when a drunk driver crashed into him on U.S. 13, totalling his car. His injuries included bruised ribs, a sore right leg and a welt from the safety belt that held him in place during the crash. The unbelted driver of the other car broke his neck.

On Thursday, October 15, 1987 at 9:30 a.m. fifty-one police officers from across the nation — each wearing their hometown uniform — posed for a group poster promoting safety-belt use.

Trooper Robert Schleifer, 28, of Cheswold, with the Delaware State Police Department in Woodside, Troop

3, was among them. Every officer in the poster photo has survived a serious auto accident because he or she was wearing a safety belt.

Schleifer and the other officers were in Georgetown Waterfront Park, Washington, D.C., at the invitation of the American Coalition for Traffic Safety (ACTS). ACTS is an organization dedicated to the support and promotion of safety-belt-use laws across the country. The law enforcement officers were honored by ACTS because they proved the value of safety-belt use by wearing their belts and surviving serious accidents.

The poster will be distributed nationwide by ACTS.

After the poster photo session the officers went to Capitol Hill for a luncheon with their Senators and Representatives.

Felton Historical Society makes changes and receives gifts

by Lola O'Day
The newly formed Felton Historical Society held their meeting on Wednesday, October 21st at the Felton Railroad Station with 12 persons attending. Mrs. Edie Hemphill, Chairman of the Board of Directors presented a Constitution, By-laws and statement of purpose which was approved by these members present.

The Board recommended the name of the organization be changed to "Felton Community Historical Society". This change was unanimously approved.

In order to avoid a conflict of interest by some members, it was decided to change the date of the regular meeting to the 3rd Monday of each month. Betty Myers was elected to the Board of Directors to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of her brother, William Myers, Jr.

The Society received several gifts on Wednesday evening. Musetta Hausler gave the four drawer filing cabinet she promised and greatly appreciated providing our needed storage space. Thelma Gerardi gave four copies of

The Felton Standard Newspaper and loaned the Society a large notebook filled with clippings about Felton citizens and events. Edie Hemphill gave Maude Jester's Felton High School Diploma which was an original gift from Mary Jester Opdyke. Other gifts from Mrs. Hemphill were a Bicentennial Certificate, political poster and newspaper clippings. She also presented the Society with several post cards.

Felton Community Historical Society showing scenes in Felton and Woodside were given in memory of Jinks Harrington, Estella Brittingham and Mariam Moore.

The Society and our goals are working out just beautiful: opening our bank account and just think how proud, Barbara Jacobs, has the Society Incorporated as of Friday, October 23, 1987.

Lake Forest celebrates National School Lunch Week

Delaware celebrates National School Lunch Week by having special days throughout the entire month. October 21 was "Delaware Day". Schools throughout Delaware were promoting good nutrition to their students.

At Lake Forest North Elementary, the Delaware Blue Hen paid a visit to help the food service staff celebrate. Our Blue Hen (Karen Wilmore) helped Mrs. Freese and her staff by handing out book markers with nutrition information printed on them. The Blue Hen also visited the kindergarten classrooms to share the importance of good nutrition.

Harrington Fire Co. starts fund drive

The Harrington Volunteer Fire Company started their 1987 Fund Drive, Monday, October 26th.

This year's fund drive goal is $50,000. Fund drive chairman Randy Ferguson said "to achieve this goal every household within our district would have to give twenty dollars." Those who donate thirty dollars will receive a Harrington Booster hat.

The prime reason for the $50,000 goal is to replace funds spent purchasing a 1987 Peirce Super-Tanker, which cost the Fire Company over $200,000. The biggest benefactors of the new truck are residents living outside of the city limits and businesses of Harrington. Everyone benefits in more than one way. Mr. Ferguson said "the addition of the tanker should mean lowering insurance rates." Lower insurance rates can be an effective way to attract new businesses and also keep existing businesses.

Over the next few years the Fire Company will be renovating their existing building or possibly replacing it with a new one. Board member Harold Brode said "the fire service stays one step ahead of community growth". In the time of emergency you don't get time to catch up. Brode also said "You may not use a piece of equipment for a while, but the day it saves someone's life it's paid for!"

The Harrington Fire Company is a solely volunteer organization, funded primarily through community support. For a community to be strong and grow, the fire company must be strong, well equipped and community supported.

Mr. Ferguson said, "If everyone in our community supports us we will have a successful fund drive."

New food store opens in Harrington added Mr. Anderson. He also pointed out that because he is offering a tremendous variety of foods, "...there will be no need to shop anywhere else. It will be right here," he concluded.

Mr. Anderson stressed the fact that the new store will not be a convenience store, "it will be a variety store where many, many items will be carried."

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson have had many years in the food retail business. "I worked at Chrysler Parts Depot in Newark for 14 years. I also worked the assembly line in the trim section," continued Mr. Anderson. "I worked on the side in Acme Market in Newark as a clerk. It was just a part-time job. One day a guy called & offered me a full time job at Shop N Bag. I quit my job the next day to work in that grocery store," he said. "My wife and I like this kind of work. Once it gets in your blood it has got you," he added.

Mr. Anderson worked as assistant manager at Shop N Bag for 8 years, and the last 5 years at Shop N Save, where he was the manager. It was located in Brandywine "...behind Sears on Philadelphia Pike. It was a big volume store!"

Mr. Anderson said he could not believe the prices of food in this area. "You can't believe how cheap it is down in this area. In the city the prices are through the roof...but you have so much more shopping and that sort of thing in the city, and this drives the price of goods up," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson as a team bring many years of experience in the food retail business. Mrs. Anderson who presently is a bookkeeper with a construction company in New Castle County has worked both part-time and full time in the office with bookkeeping duties as well.

The Andersons bring a vital element to the economy of the Quillen Shopping Center.

Rotary International Exchange program

Once again, an all expense tour which no travel agent could book, is available to young business and professional men.

It's known as Group Study Exchange, financed by Rotary International with support from local Rotary clubs. The trip next Spring will be to Sweden. At the same time, a team from Sweden will come to the Eastern Shore and Delaware. The trip lasts for five weeks.

There are five members on an exchange team. They must be between the ages of 25 and 35. They can not be related to a Rotary member. At the time of the application, they must have been employed for two years in a business or profession.

Applications for team members must be filed by November 15 with presidents of any of the 31 Rotary clubs in the district. The trip will begin about April 8 next Spring, with return from Sweden about May 14. In roughly the same time period, the Swedish team from District 239 will come to District 763.

Host Rotary families in each country will care for the travelers. They'll see local industry, business, educational and cultural institutions. And, they'll be one-on-one with host families.

Anyone wishing to apply should seek out the president of the Rotary Club in his area and obtain an application. Applications will be reviewed by the district exchange committee and final choices selected.

Robert E. Davis of Wilmington (302-475-4242) is chairman of the district's exchange committee. He is a veteran of the exchange program, having served as a leader in an exchange to India about 10 years ago.

The team leader, who must be a Rotary Club member, is now being chosen by the committee.

The applicants unable to locate a Rotary club president, information can be obtained by telephoning Davis or anyone of the following:

Commission Chairman Loren H. Frye told Mayor Fulton J. Downing the commission was disturbed because no one commented on the plans until the town was in default. "I think that's a poor way to do things", Frye said. "I agree with you," replied Downing, who said he understood Town Engineer Dudley L. Willis had informed the commission the deadline could not be met.

Some of our electricity today is coming from the new Indian River Power Station. The first giant electric generator at the plant came to life with a hum this month. And now kilowatts from it flow over wires from one end of Delmarva to the other, providing electric power for people in their homes, farms and industries. The plant produces power equivalent to the work of 100,000 horses...or 75,000 kilowatts.

Possible misrepresentation by salesman posing as Medicare representative

According to Tom Tobin, District Manager of the Social Security Office in Dover, a number of people in Kent County have reported that they have been contacted by a person who indicates that they are a "Medicare Expert" or a "Medicare Representative". Tobin said that the person attempts to gain admission to homes in an effort to sell health insurance policies that they infer are endorsed or approved by Medicare.

Tobin indicated that these sales people are not representatives of "Medicare" or the Social Security Administration. Social Security provides free information regarding the Medicare program and does not endorse or approve health private insurance policies. Tobin said that people can contact Social Security by calling 674-3610 (Kent County) or 856-6301 (Sussex County).

Hall of Fame of Delaware Women nominations sought

To be eligible for nomination, women must be native born Delawareans or currently residing in the State for at least ten years. They may be living or deceased, and their contributions should have had significant and lasting impact at the local, national or international level. Prospect United Methodist Church

Prospect UMC Homecoming

Prospect United Methodist Church, near Vernon, will hold its annual Homecoming Service, Sunday, November 1st at 2 p.m., celebrating 152 years of continuous service to the community.

Rev. Joseph Holliday, Jr. will bring the message. Special music will be provided, which includes Linda Collins of Harrington.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church

All Saints' Day is November 1st. The Church, from its very beginning, understood the Body of Christ to encompass all baptized persons, both living and dead. All were united in a mystical communion of saints by virtue of baptism (1 Cor. 6:11). The term saint was used by Paul to designate all baptized Christians, even the unruly Corinthians (1 Cor. 1:2).

From the beginning, the early Church especially honored martyrs, those who had died for their faith. Local churches kept a record of their local martyrs and each year celebrated their "birthdays", the dates of the martyrdom. By the fourth century, many parts of the Church had set a day of observance for their martyrs, confessors (those who had been punished for their faith but did not die), and virgins, all of those known by name and unknown. In the East this Feast was, and still is, celebrated on the first Sunday after Pentecost. In the West it was celebrated during Eastertide, connecting the witness of the saints with the victory of Christ over death. As the Western Church spread into Northern Europe, it encountered pagan festivals held in late autumn to propitiate the evil spirits associated with the first killing frosts and the coming of winter, darkness, and death. Echoes of such feasts survive in Halloween customs (Halloween - All Hallows, i.e. Saints' Eve). To make a Christian response, the Church transferred the celebration of the saints to November 1 and called it All Saints' Day. It then developed as a day for the remembrance of all the faithful departed, incorporating what had been called All Souls' Day. Both on the feast days of the saints and on All Saints' Day, we are called not to worship the saints but to honor and imitate them.

All Saints' Day is one of the four days suggested as especially appropriate for baptisms, the act by which new members are incorporated into the family of saints. This All Saints' Day, Joshua Alan Hearn, son of Scot and Beth Hearn, will be baptized into the Body of Christ. Members of the Church will renew the promises made at their own baptism.

During the Prayer of the People, names of the faithful departed will be read. Members wishing to have their departed loved ones remembered at the All Saints' Day celebration should call the parish office before Friday, October 30th.

CANON BRYAN GREEN TO OFFER PREACHING MISSION: Members of St. Stephen's are encouraged to attend Canon Green's Anglican priest will speak at Christ Church, Dover, on October 29, at 7:30 p.m. Please call the parish office if you would like a ride.

Chipman loses game in final four minutes

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.
MILFORD. With four minutes remaining in the game on Thursday with Milford, the Chipman Spartans, who were leading at that point 8-6, had 14 points scored on them to lose 20-8. "Well...Milford finally got smart near the end of the game, and started dripping passes over the heads of our short guys on the right side", said Coach Steve VanSant.

"The boys played real hard and we kept moving kids in and out all during the game. Everyone got a chance to play. We did not keep the starting team in there", Coach VanSant added. Behind the strong young arm of Rodney Bell, who went 4 for 6, the Spartans from W.T. Chipman were able to hang in there for most of the game. "Kenny Bailey and Eric Moses ran the ball real well" commented Coach VanSant. Bailey scored on a counterplay good for 15 yards and a touchdown. Ron Johnson had his 2nd interception of the year. Coach VanSant is known for his razzle-dazzle form of play which usually includes a few surprises.

"I feel sick because we lost...but everyone played well and there were no injuries, thank God...because they (Milford) were sort of on the big side compared to our kids", added Coach VanSant.

The Chipman Spartans go 1-2-1 record: "We face Dover this Thursday who will be a tough opponent. Depending on how we come out of that game will tell the story in the next 3 games, which will be on the road. We should be real competitive in the last three games", concluded Coach VanSant.

LF Spartans lose to Caesar Rodney in soccer

The Spartan booters lost to northern division Caesar Rodney on Tuesday 4-1. "CR had been averaging 6 to 7 goals a game so we didn't do too badly. The defense did a nice job," stated Head Coach Dave Buck.

"We showed just one senior (Kevin Wik)...for everyone else was injured", added Coach Buck. Danny Shaw came up from the JV to play the goal position. "Gay and Hensley were injured...so I had no other choice", said Coach Buck.

Caesar Rodney is now 8-2 and Lake Forest was 5-6 after the Tuesday game. "All of our losses are to northern division teams", added Coach Buck.

Coach Buck also added that Jerry Howerin, one of his mainstays, is also on the injured list.

On Thursday the Spartans tied Cape Henlopen (1-1), which is another northern division team. "In the first half we were just flat, and Cape was in our end of the field most of the time. We spent the better part of that half just dodging the bullets", added Coach Buck. Cape had more shots than the Spartans in the first half and they scored with barely a minute and a half left in the half.

In the second half the Spartans were in Cape's end of the field most of the time. "We played more aggressively too", said Coach Buck. He also said that "...we out played them, out shot them too". "This was true for both overtimes...but even though we had the young team in there, due to so many injuries, our players were in much better condition", said Coach Buck.

Greg Reed scored almost with time running out on an assist from Scott Talley.

Coach Buck still feels the team will make the state tournament. "The tournament picture still looks good for us", said Coach Buck whose team goes on the road for the next few games.

Chipman hockey game ends in tie

Monday nights game matched Chipman Girls field hockey up against Laurels lady Bulldogs.

Each side had some very exciting moments. Both teams had a tight defense.

The only score for Chipman was fired in by Tammy Motter for a final score of Chipman 1, Laurel 1. Good going girls!

Spartan hockey team crush Woodbridge & Seaford

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.
The Lake Forest Varsity Hockey team picked up two victories this past week and moved their record to 7-1 in the conference and 8-1 overall. The well coached Spartans under the tutorage of Coach Pat Dyal Borowski knocked off Woodbridge 3-1 and Seaford 2-0.

"It took us about 10 minutes into the Woodbridge game to really get loosened up and get rolling. After that they (Woodbridge) were never in the game", said Coach Borowski.

Kelly Adams scored 2 goals...one in each half and Jenni Crouch got a goal in the first half. "The score was 2-0 at the end of the first half", said Coach Borowski. "Everyone got a chance to play at least a full half. This was good experience for the players. They (Woodbridge) scored against the 2nd team.

"The Seaford game was a sweet win for us. We had not beaten Seaford in 15 years, and it marked the first win for me against them too, which made me feel pretty good", added Coach Borowski. "Both goals were scored on penalty strokes in the second half. One with 5 minutes left in the second half and the other with just less than a minute left in the game", said Coach Borowski.

This was a big upset because Lake Forest Spartans were unranked and Seaford was second in the State in pre-season picks. "We probably will get a ranking after this week," added Coach Borowski. "Our girls just played excellent ball. I could not have asked for more," said Coach Borowski. "The defense was just unbelievable... nothing got through the defense. Amy McClements was playing sweeper position...which is the last defense before the goalie. None got through her...she was just outstanding. It was her game so far this season", added Coach Borowski.

"Lisa Milligan, playing halfback, turned in an outstanding game as well. She shut down Seaford's leading scorer who was very frustrated toward the end of the game. It was her best performance so far this season too", said Coach Borowski.

The scoring leaders now are Paige Parker with 7 goals, Joanne Outten and Jenni Crouch with 5 apiece.

The Spartans still trail Laurel in the conference, who the Spartans lost to early in the season. "We can still make a good showing in the state tournament which will start on the 14th of November", said Coach Borowski.

Lake Forest Spartans blank Blue Jays

Mark Tozer ricocheted off a tree, at Seaford's Williams Park cross-country course Monday afternoon. The gutsy Lake Forest senior standout continued to run, massaging a scraped and bruised shoulder as he did so. Mark was running far ahead of the pack sans competition as usual.

He eventually set a new course record of 13:21 erasing the old mark of 13:22 from the record books. It was an excellent performance, especially so, when all facets of the outing are considered.

The former standout was set by Joey O'Donnell, a great Seaford harrier and has withstood the assault of five runners for several years. Joey ran that course many times; Tozer only once before. Mark was injured, had no competition after the first thirty seconds and still broke a great competitor's mark on an unfamiliar course.

Mike Eck often runs alone, also. The No. 2 Spartan is usually in a vacuum behind Tozer, yet well ahead of any

Chipman soccer improving with each game

HARRINGTON. The W.T. Chipman in its first year of soccer play dropped two games...one to Caesar Rodney (5-0) and Monday to Cape Henlopen (3-0). Both games were played on the road.

According to Coaches Kathlene Regan and James Dennis "...the play is inconsistent, but this is what you expect from a young and inexperienced team like we have".

Chipman players are riddled with injuries and sickness. "Some of the injuries are causing some to be out for the rest of the season", which is almost at an end as it is.

The Coaches have reported that each game is an improvement over the previous one. "We have gone from kick and run after it, to pass and shoot". The Coaches also added that there is a need for better communication on the field.

#88 Bobby Reed breaks up pass play in Friday night game against Indian River. Photo by David Dill

The defense shines for Spartan gridgers

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.
LAKE FOREST HIGH SCHOOL. A usually formidable opponent for the Lake Forest Spartan varsity football team is the Indian River Indians who invaded the High School sports complex on Friday and came away a winner once again.

That Spartan defense kept the offense in the game for the most part. The trouble is the defense for the most part also goes the direction of the offense too. By game's end the Spartans are usually down right tired.

The Spartans held their own through most of the first half despite an early score by Indian River in the first quarter. The extra point conversion try failed. The final score came for IR in the fourth quarter on a pass. The one mistake the defense made all night came with a fake run and pass to the open man in the end zone. The defense just got crossed up.

For the most part however, the defense really shined once again...a trademark for head coach Jim Fleming. These are some of the individual stats on tackling...John Scott 7 solo tackles and 7 assists, Marvin Hicks 10 solo tackles and 2 assists, Carl Young 6 solo tackles and 4 assists, Bobby Reed 7 solos and 2 assists and Robbie Reed 3 solos and 7 assists.

It reads like pro-stat sheet. "We are getting better each week", Coach Fleming told his kids following the game. "I am proud of you...and you made yourself proud tonight with your play", he chanted to his players in the dressing room following the game.

"We have a lot of injuries...but these kids are after the ball carrier, the ball, everything. I am proud of them", he recanted to his coaches and media present in his office. "We had of all things, a lot of kids out sick. I just can't believe it. We might have won tonight with a full hand.

LF Spartan girl harriers win twice

by Keith S. Burgess
Lake Forest's distaff harriers, paced by the stellar running of Melanie Pelton, outpaced Seaford 24-37 and Smyrna 23-35 in a double-dual meet held at Williams Park, Seaford, Monday afternoon.

Tisha Milligan of Seaford is a talented natural athlete who has been state champion, on the track, in the hurdles and the high jump. She also has great sprinter's speed. Tisha, running cross-country for the first time, has proven that some sprinters can also do very well in long distance races.

We would like to have a dollar for everytime some kid has declared "I am good in a short race, but no good at long distances." 99 times out of 100, they have never tried the longer runs, except perhaps briefly, and then in a most perfunctory manner.

Milligan took an early lead. Later, the harriers came into view, with Pelton 20 yards back. Passing the finish line for the second time, Melanie was a close second. Smyrna's No. 1 Sharon Davis, a fine runner, was the only other athlete visible on Lap One. On Lap Two, no one else was in sight. When Milligan and Pelton came into view, the last time, the gap was about 15 yards. But both runners had exhibited such determination, over 2 1/2 miles, that neither could muster a final kick. Two, very tired athletes coasted across the finish. To show how hard they worked, Milligan was clocked in a new, Seaford mark of 17:30, breaking the mark of Maricel Santos, now at Swathmore who was present.

Melanie, meanwhile was right behind in 17:33 and broke the Lake Forest record for this course. This mark of 17:35 was set by Kelli Pelton, Melanie's sister, who ran her mark when she too was a senior.

The defense shines

"It might have looked confusing out there tonight but we practiced certain techniques all week which required moving people on and off the field. I am sure it looked like we were in a lot of traffic by that plan. It would have worked except that we lost a lot of the players due to sickness who had practiced those techniques. I think it had Indian River somewhat confused. It would have worked", concluded Coach Fleming.

Pete Davis was 4 for 12 and 54 yards. "Our offense is just not what it should be...but the kids are developing a whole lot faster than what I had contemplated.", added Coach Fleming. Bobby Reed had one of his strongest games yet. "The kid is just not backing off the tackles at this point in the season like he might have at the beginning. I am proud of him...he is hitting harder and harder each game and he is emerging as a leader as others are. In support I think of Marvin (Hicks) who I think the kids look to as the leader on the field", added Coach Fleming. "The tackle Bobby made of #40 (Mumford) right near the end of the game was a daring...bold hit. I guarantee #40 knew he had been hit", said Coach Fleming.

Bobby Reed also punted four times for...36, 43, 48 and 51 yards for an average of 44 per kick. "Now you have to consider...and don't forget this kid doesn't get a chance to practice on the side lines like he would if he were in college play just kicking. He doesn't get a chance to practice and yet hits a ball 48 and 51 yards. Now that should tell you what kind of a football player he is. His stats are just incredible", said Coach Fleming.

Coach Fleming paid attention to the heroics of Carl Young who moved like a "night train" on two kick offs averaging about 40 yards each return. "Carl just did an outstanding job as an outside linebacker as well as running the ball", added Coach Fleming.

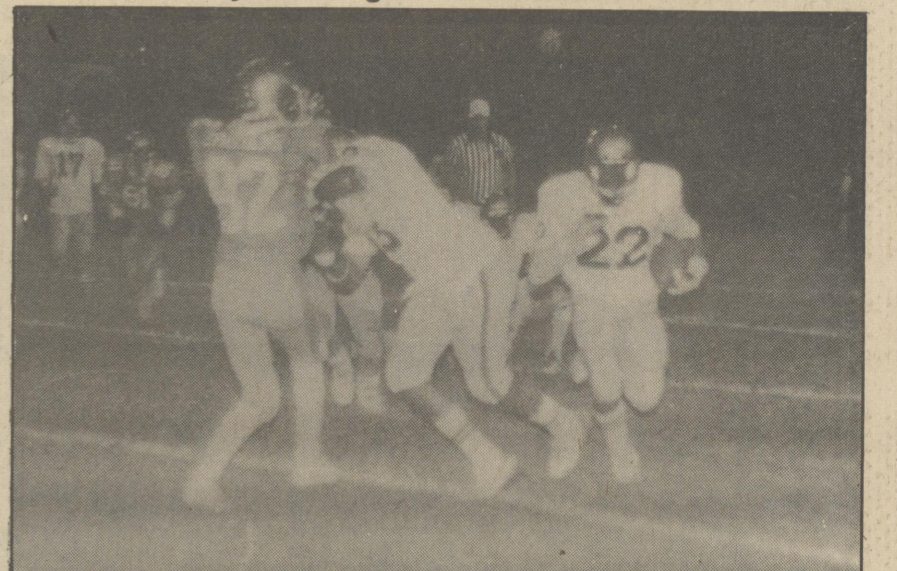

"We just found ways to lose...but it is a young team. They did not cover the alleyways like they should, and we missed on that TD pass. Our kids just got lax...they did not think pass. You can't do that...you must play for the big play", added Coach Fleming.

What Coach Fleming failed to say was that the Spartans should have had the ball first and 10 deep in their own territory. The referee called "too many players on the field. It would have been fourth and four and no first down for the Indians. Instead they got the penalty and first down which led to the score", added Assist. Coach Eisenbrey. It was a close call from the sidelines. It was a close play.

Coach Fleming said on the big pass play in the first quarter with the Spartans driving "...it might have been a different ball game right there if on the next play we could have found Bobby Reed. It might have been a touchdown and we could have been off to the races".

The Spartans travel to Smyrna Friday night, hungry for a win.

Indian River moved their record to 3-0 in conference play and 5-1 overall. The Spartans are now 1-2 in the conference and 1-5 overall. "I told you and I told the press at the beginning of the season that we would go .500 for the season", Coach Fleming said after the game. "Well let me tell you right now you have played that way for me so far this season...and I still think we have a chance", concluded Coach Fleming.

enemy runner. Eck did another excellent job Monday.

Steve Clute, the muscular No. 3 Spartan is Lake Forest's second senior with the remainder of the top ten locals, all underclassmen. Steve had a great outing at Seaford and was clocked in 15.13.

Lake Forest won the meet 15-50, which constitutes a perfect score. This is brought about by finishing the first seven runners. For insurance, the Spartans kept the Sussex County athletes shut out until a Blue Jay finally crossed in tenth place.

The best "pack" effort of the season occurred when Scott Pierce, Mike Sanders, Tim Fisher, Terry Donovan, and Roger Collison finished in a span of only 13 seconds.

Previously we had written that Terry Donovan was going to turn some heads when he put all the components together. He may have arrived!

Donovan was running in third or fourth place for much of the race and eventually came in seventh. But he was only seven seconds out of fourth place.

Tim Fisher, like Donovan, is another athlete who reported late. Both are getting in shape and continue to improve. Scott Pierce 4th (15.35) and Mike Sanders 5th (15.36) are tough every time out and are only sophomores.

As previously written this victory assured, the Spartans of a 30th winning season in thirty autumns.

Spartan girl harriers win twice

It should be noted that Kelli Pelton was a state champion in track and as a senior won the Spingarn Invitational in Washington, D.C.

For Melanie to do so well two factors had to be present. First she had to hang tough all the way. Second, she had to have an athlete of equal ability, present to give her the competition needed. Neither girl could have approached these record clockings without the other.

Against Seaford, Julie Betts, Elaine Zeider, Jill Blades, Amy Draper and

Stephanie Allen were, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, and 8th.

Against Smyrna, this quintet was: Julie 3rd, Elaine 4th, Jill 7th, Amy 8th, and Stephanie 9th.

Dawn Kane, plagued by shin splints most of the fall, started well, but eventually fell back. This is a shame, for Kane, when healthy, is a fine runner. She's only a freshman. We hope she recovers fully.

Sherri Coburn and Barbara Dill ran well for Lake Forest.

"I've raised chickens for another poultry company. Now I'm growing with Townsend. In my book, they're the best."

"Growing chickens for Townsend is an important part of our family. With four houses and 100,000 birds, you can tell that we're big believers in the growth potential of our industry here on Delmarva.

I don't think anything compares to the satisfaction of doing a good job and getting a good return on your investment. And I don't think any company compares to Townsend. For one thing, they give you a lot better chick. For another, their servicemen are tops. They'll work with you to keep your operation at peak efficiency.

And I'll give you the bottom line. I can make more money with Townsend. I'm tickled with the new rates.

I honestly hope my sons continue with me. Right now, Allen helps out with his electrical background, and Gerald is involved with building chicken houses. It's a good life. And growing with Townsend is a great way to earn a good living."

Georgie Price triples at Middleford Raceway

by Mark Miller

New Jersey's Georgie Price picked up three feature wins for the second time this year. Price made short work of the 250 cycle class as he led every lap over Camel Pro National #76 Bob Sweeten, who is also Price's uncle.

Guy "Smilie" Stuart, Gene Kaczka, and Price's father, George Sr., rounded out the top five.

Price picked up win #2 in the Open Pro final. Mark Miller led a tightly bunched pack of riders into turn one, as they exited down the backstraight, Price moved into the lead.

By lap four Price had opened up some breathing room, while track favorite, Roy Collings on his #27 Harley, had moved into second and Miller was now trying to hold off Sweeten.

The order remained the same until the checkered. Price's final win was hard fought. Miller again grabbed the lead and this time held it, as he took the low line into turn three while Price worked the high groove.

Price finally made the outside work and went by Miller on lap four, as Bartlett moved in on Miller.

At the checkered Price had his third win while Miller kept Bartlett at bay to take a fine second.

Mike Bloom continued his winning ways as he took the win in the Super Stock Kart class, after breaking down in the lightweight division. Bloom passed Phil Metzner on lap three and never looked back.

Buddy Bozman captured the lightweight kart final over Jean Metzner by leading every lap of the feature on the way to victory. John Webb of Greenwood, Jay Baker and Alan Claycomb rounded out the top five.

WYUS 930AM will broadcast the following race: November 1, Winn Dixie 500 from Martinsville Speedway from 1 to 4:30 p.m.

Sprints, Late Models in Fall Classic at Hagerstown

It has been called the best entertainment buy in professional auto racing, its been called the greatest show on dirt, whatever you call it, it is the Big Fall Classic, one of the most popular shows ever presented by Promoter Frank Plessinger and you can see it only at the Hagerstown Speedway on Sunday afternoon, November 1st at 2 p.m. Once again, race fans will get the chance to see the two most popular divisions of professional auto racing in the East competing in Twin 25-lap features in each class.

The Big Fall Classic will present not one, not two, not three, but four 25-lap features, two for the super sprints and two for the late models. If that is not enough to attract the top drivers in each division, a $1,000 bonus has been added if a driver can win two features, $5,000 bonus for three features and a record $10,000 bonus if a driver can win all four. By winning all four, a driver can walk away with $18,000 for four feature wins.

If past shows are any indication, the total purse of more than $25,000 will attract the top cars in both divisions filling the pits with most of the best drivers in racing.

Only one driver has been able to pick up any of the bonus money and that was Rodney Franklin who won two late-model features two years ago for $5,000.

With Hagerstown the only track still running in the area, the entry list will look like a who's who in dirt track racing. Sprint stars like Keith Kauffman, Bobby Allen, Van May, Steve Smith, Donnie Krietz Jr., Bobby Fletcher, Jerry Stone, and Steve Siegel will be joined by the best in late models including Gary Stuhler, Denny Bonebrake, Jeff Robinson, Buddy Arnel, Tom Peck, Lynn Geisler, Ed Ferree and more.

For the late model drivers the Fall Classic will be the final tune-up for the richest Hub City 150 ever to be run at Hagerstown the following week on November 7-8.

Hagerstown prepares for Hub-City Nationals

The stage is set for the most challenging race of the season as a record purse is on the line for the 12th Annual Hub-City Nationals at the Hagerstown Speedway on November 7th and 8th.

For the first time in the history of the Hub-City Classic, a special race for track champions will be held on Saturday afternoon. The 25-lap event will pay $1,000-to-win and give race fans the opportunity to see the best from late model speedways throughout the country in action.

In addition to area tracks sending their champions, 12 speedways will be sending drivers who won Hub-City qualifiers at their track to Hagerstown as guaranteed starters.

A record field of cars are expected for the 150 lap race that has become one of the most challenging to man and car on the late model circuit.

The Hub-City 150 will be run in three fifty lap segments with stops for fuel on the 50th and 100th lap. The winner can receive up to $12,000 in winnings and lap money.

The two-day show will have time trials, qualifying heats and the Race of Track Champions on Saturday with feature events on Sunday for all four divisions highlighted by the running of the 150 lapper for late models.

The Hub-City 150 is the fifth and final race of the 40th Anniversary $160,000 Super Series, the most celebrated and successful late model series of 1987. To help celebrate the 40th anniversary of stock car racing at Hagerstown, a car will be given away to some lucky fan.

On Saturday night, a free Barn Dance with live music will be held at the large exhibition hall adjacent to the track. Free camping and parking will be available on the speedway grounds. Gates will open both days at 10 a.m. with racing at 2 p.m.

For additional information, call the speedway office at 301-582-0640.

Another wire-to-wire win for Walls

by Bonnie Algier-Mitchell

MIDDLEFORD—The crisp, cool night air didn't seem to have any effect on young "hot shoe" Scott Walls or the #16 Eastern Petroleum Services mount. Walls brought the #16 into victory lane for another of his many victories.

The field included drivers from Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, but none of them could compete with young Walls who has come to know this track quite well.

As the regular Friday night micro feature got the green, Walls immediately jumped out front with the #16X of teammate Rick Krebel in pursuit. Lady driver Mares Stellfox had the three spot with Donnie Ennis in fourth.

Stellfox's third was short lived as she went high and Ennis and Tony Kibler came up to capture third and fourth respectively.

Racing stayed pretty much the same until lap eighteen when Krebel met up with "Lady Luck" or should I say "Lady Bad Luck" and went out with a busted motor. This was a welcomed mishap for Harrington's Todd Wise in his "X" mount as he took over second spot.

Walls increased his point lead with this win and has things pretty well sewn up.

Todd Wise took second, Ennis third, Tony Kibler and Mares Stellfox rounding out the top five.

Friday night will see the last regular racing of the season at Middleford Speedway. Sunday afternoon will feature the Race of Champions with gates opening at 12 Noon.

Harvest time at Ag Museum

Delaware State Arts Council, Dover High School Act I Players, the craft demonstrators and the Museum's volunteers.

For the first-time visitor it was quite interesting to see so much of Delaware's agricultural heritage preserved. And, for frequent visitors and members it was a weekend of visiting with friends and remembering when things weren't so "modern".

Upon entering the museum Sunday there was the sound of "downhome" music by the bluegrass band, "Skyline Drive." Throughout the day milling, blacksmithing, wheat threshing, woodstove cooking and apple butter making demonstrations took place.

I was informed that to make one of my breakfast favorites, apple butter, took about 8 hours of cooking. This cooking was done out of doors, in a large pot, over an open fire. The cider, apples and spices were stirred with something that resembled a large wooden rake. The aroma made my mouth water, but with my busy, modern-day schedule I'll have to settle for store bought!

On display in the main building were several lovely handmade quilts made by Eddie Mae Cooper of Harrington. Mrs. Cooper was on hand to demonstrate her quilting. Earl and Carol Abbott were there demonstrating Dulcimer making. The instruments were not only music to the ear but also appealing to the eye. It was interesting to see how a piece of wood was crafted into a beautiful instrument.

Of course, no day at the farm or "farm museum" would be complete without a farm wagon ride. So with "little one" in tow, I hopped aboard the wagon, one just like my great-granddaddy had, for a trip past the blacksmith shop, the mill and the one-room school, all a part of Delaware history.

HAPPY HALLOWEEN!

Lake Forest Promotes Halloween Safety

Children in kindergarten and grades one and two at Lake Forest School District's elementary schools are being provided with an extra measure of safety this Halloween. Each child will be given a special Super Safety Trick-Or-Treat Bag which has been provided through Sampling Corporation of America in cooperation with the National Safety Council and sponsored by Kraft Handi Snacks; Campbell's Spaghetti O's; Kachoo's Children's Facial Tissues; Del Monte Fruit Cup; Triaminic Cough Syrup; Kool Aid Soft Drink Mix; Karo Corn Syrup; Minute Maid In-The-Box; and ACT Fluoride Rinse. These companies are interested in safety for children. The plastic bag includes SAFETY TIPS and is printed on both sides with a special fluorescent ink. A child carrying this bag would be highly visible to motorists because of the bright reflection of the colors. This is especially important at dusk, which is a time of day when visibility is generally poor. Also, each child will get a large, self-adhesive "Safety Patch," with similar coloring, to be worn on the back of outer garments or costumes for additional visibility to motorists. Each child also receives a Free treat of Kraft Handi Snacks Bacon Cheez'n Crackers to enjoy and a special parent safety booklet containing additional safety tips and suggestions on creating a successful at-home Halloween party, costume and makeup ideas and party recipes. Participating organizations receive posters which serve as further reminders of the need to be extra cautious during these few days.

The program is being distributed, "not to encourage trick-or-treating," but to acknowledge that this practice, for the most part, already exists and children would benefit from an effort to make their celebration experiences safer! In many communities the program provides a basis for alternative activities, such as parades, parties, etc., all designed to make Halloween a safe and positive experience.

Witches, black cats, goblins too! They'll all be out just to scare you. Give a treat, don't get a trick. Then watch'em go merrily down the street.

HALLOWEEN SAFETY TIPS

COSTUMES

- Keep costumes simple. Long and fancy ones could cause children to trip. Costumes should also be fireproof (see formula below).
- Costumes should be made of white or light-colored material, to be easily seen at night. Reflective patches or strips can also be added to the costume.
- Regular street shoes should be worn, as opposed to fancy "clown", or "pirate" shoes, etc.
- Props, such as guns or swords, should be made of styrofoam or cardboard.
- If jack-o-lanterns are carried, a flashlight should be inside, instead of a candle.
- At least one person in each group should carry a flashlight.

FIREPROOFING RECIPE

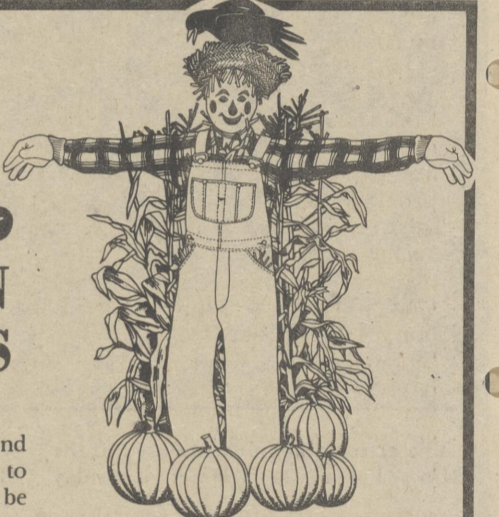

- MIX:
- 9 oz. Boric Acid
 - 4 oz. Borax
 - 1 qt. Hot Water
- Saturate fabric and allow to dry. Washing will remove fireproofing, but process may be repeated after washing.

MASKS

- Instead of wearing masks, paint faces with make-up.
- Apply a thin coat of cold cream before applying the make-up (make-up will come off easier).

TREATS

- Never eat anything until after you are home, and the treats have been examined.

- Cut and wash fruit before eating.
- Throw away anything unwrapped.
- Check the wrappers of commercial treats for signs of tampering.
- Notify the police if harmful items are found.

PARENTS

- To avoid encouraging children to enter a stranger's house, never invite trick-or-treaters into your home.
- Give wrapped, homemade treats only to children you know, and wrapped commercial treats to others.
- Be certain that your children are accompanied by an adult or a responsible teenager.
- Know which friends your children will be with.
- Do not leave your home unattended on Halloween Night.
- Leave your porch light on, so children will know it's okay to visit your home.
- Keep your pets inside (house, garage, or shed) on Halloween Night.
- Younger children may enjoy attending a party organized by concerned parents in the area, instead of going trick-or-treating.
- Some game suggestions are:
 - Apple Bob
 - Spook House
 - Ghostly Dance
 - Costume Contest

PUBLIC FORUM

Senatorial Report

by Senator Ruth Ann Minner

It was a beautiful day on Oct. 10 when an estimated 700 volunteers participated in the "Get the Drift and Bag It" beach cleanup project at Delaware's beaches. It's too bad a handful of State employees working the dredge at Broadkill Beach had to spoil it with their thoughtlessness.

I'm very upset that the volunteers and I had to witness the trash left on the beach by workers from the State Soil and Water Conservation Division. Not only did they leave their own meal debris but made no effort to pick up black plastic shavings strewn the beach from trimming the plastic pipe that is put together on the beach and connected to the dredge.

I've let John A. Hughes, division director, know there was no excuse for this, especially on the day before a state beach cleanup effort that was reported in all of the media. I've been promised that there will be some severe reprimands handed out and I hope the incident is not repeated.

Otherwise, it was a grand day and the effort was a huge success. An estimated 1,700 huge trash bags were filled with a total weight of 1 1/2 tons of trash.

Although most of the trash consisted of plastic containers, there was a wide variety of unusual items picked up ranging from a 300-pound anchor at Broadkill to a woman's bra found by Rep. Tom Carper at Cape Henlopen. We also found such items as a refrigerator door, a bedspring, and a car battery. One wonders how such articles can be washed up on a beach.

The state will tabulate the cards filled out by all the volunteers and eventually list all the items found, where they were found, and who found them.

Before the tabulation is complete, however, I can tell you from personal observation that about 7 bags were filled at Fowlers Beach, another 10 at Slaughter Beach, 20 at Broadkill, and scores at Lewes and Prime Hook.

Every citizen who uses our parks and beaches should be his own volunteer every visit. Only that way can we really protect the beauty of our shoreline.

Give Thanks for Freedom

by Bettina Bien Greaves

The Pilgrims are usually credited with having celebrated the first Thanksgiving in this hemisphere. And rightly so. However, the custom of giving thanks became nationwide only much later.

Our first President, George Washington, was grateful for the Constitution. In his view, it offered an opportunity for the new nation to start afresh. On October 3, 1789, he proclaimed one day nationwide, Thursday, November 26, for "acknowledging with great hearts the many and signal favors of Almighty God, especially by affording them an opportunity peaceably to establish a form of government for their safety and happiness." In Washington's view, the new Constitution limited the power of government, leaving the people free "to perform our several and relative duties properly and punctually." He gave special thanks also "for the civil and religious liberty with which we are blessed."

Ever since Civil War time, beginning with Abraham Lincoln, our Presidents have issued a similar Proclamation each year, setting aside one special day for giving thanks. Thanksgiving Day has become a national holiday, celebrated by some in prayer, by some in sports and parades, and by others with feasts.

We in this country enjoy economic prosperity on an unprecedented scale. We pride ourselves on our "American way of life." We truly have a great deal to be thankful for. However, as we count our blessings this November, let us give some thought and thanks to the freedom on which these many blessings rest.

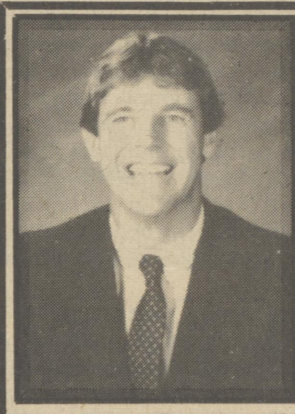

It is commonplace to say that the colonies were settled, the West explored, the nation developed, and the country populated by individualists who wanted to be independent. The tired, the poor, the huddled masses who yearned to be free came to our shores. They sought the opportunity to speak, to write, to work, to worship, and to live where and as they chose. The Statue of Liberty now symbolizes their desire to escape oppressive government and to seek opportunity in this land of the free.

We still pay lip service to freedom. But many have forgotten our ancestors' fear of oppressive government. Many have come to rely on government privileges or protection. We no longer understand how such piecemeal interventions, regulations, and controls can gradually erode our independence. We no longer realize what a big debt we owe to freedom and to the freedom of others.

Practically everything we have today has stemmed from the ideas, initiative, and efforts of free men and women, working and producing together. The food, clothing, shelter, and luxuries we now enjoy represent the output of men and women working, planning, and producing in voluntary cooperation with one another. Countless individuals have labored without being coaxed or coerced by government, to till the soil, harvest the grains, build the skyscrapers, erect the churches and synagogues, manufacture the automobiles, trains, and planes, weave the textiles, develop the radio, moving pictures, television, computers, appliances, and other conveniences, produce the medicines, write the books, print the newspapers, compose the music, produce the plays and films, and so on, that all of us now use and enjoy. We are apt to forget that this entire process of voluntary social cooperation could disintegrate if government obstructions are permitted to expand and to proliferate.

Countless individuals, each with his or her own particular aptitudes, talents, and interests, have contributed to the good life we now enjoy. In giving thanks this year, therefore, let's count our blessings. But let's do more than that. Let's not forget the debt we owe to free men and women everywhere, whose ideas, initiative, innovativeness, energy, and efforts contribute to our well-being. In all humility, therefore, let's give thanks also to the freedom that makes our blessings possible.

"A Fine Investment"

In looking at the upcoming referendum from a purely investment point of view, it's hard to beat.

First, there is the major capital improvement portion. With a price tag of $4.2 million dollars, the local share is only $1.7 million or forty percent. The state will provide the other sixty percent ($2.5 million).

That, in itself, is an investment many brokers on Wall Street would like to have at their fingertips.

But, throw in another $186,000 from the Exxon overcharge fund and add the $100,000 forgiven for the high school roof and you have an excellent return on your money.

The current expense part of the referendum package is likewise attractive from an investment perspective. For every $1 we raise locally, the state, through the equalization formula, will put in another $1.09. We have to raise less than half the monies to fund the needed increase in staff salaries.

Aside from being an investment in our future, an investment in our communities, the referendum is certainly a fine investment for our local tax dollar.

Roth hoses down counterfeit parts contractors

by Senator Bill Roth

Imagine that you spent a great deal of money on one of the supposedly best made smoke detectors and installed it in your house only to learn during a family fire drill that the device didn't work due to inferior parts. You would probably be angry not only because you felt cheated out of your hard earned money but also because this faulty device could have potentially risked the lives of you and your family in the event of a fire.

My reaction was similar while listening to testimony before the Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations in regard to the illegal substitution of inferior quality "counterfeit" parts supplied by certain contractors to the Department of Defense (DOD). The findings of the subcommittee in the area of product substitution are very alarming. Defense contractors who pass off inferior products to the federal government are not only bilking the American taxpayers out of millions of dollars, they are putting our military men and women in very real danger. The last thing on the minds of our fighting men during combat should be whether their own equipment has been booby-trapped by a few irresponsible contractors.

During the investigation of this problem, we learned of numerous examples which were uncovered by DOD's Inspector General, a position who's creation I pushed for as Chairman of the Governmental Affairs Committee. In one case we learned that a contractor used inferior materials on the nozzles used on ships to put out fires. The DOD contracted to buy 3,500 of these nozzles for use on our ships around the world. As the Navy later found out, 70 percent of the nozzles fail on the first use. In the course of the investigation, we found one of the defective nozzles on the USS Nassau, a ship that carries helicopters and amphibious assault vessels as well as Marines.

The nozzle contractor was indicted by a grand jury three years ago. However, this example brought other alarming questions to mind -- How could almost 3,500 nozzles have passed through DOD's quality assurance program? And, how is that after three years, the Navy now admits that not all of the nozzles have been removed from our ships? Clearly, it is an enormous task to account for so many goods. But, it is a task which must be completed successfully because the lives of our servicemen and women depend on it.

The investigation and resulting hearings conducted by subcommittee shed much light on the problem of product substitution. During testimony, Rear Admiral Able, Deputy Commander of Naval Supply, acknowledged mistakes in handling the defective nozzle retrieval and also said that due to our investigation, intensive effort is being made by the Navy to recover all nozzles still in use or inventory. I am urging the Department of Defense to strengthen regulations to assure a quality product. I believe such action is imperative for the sake of the taxpayer and especially for the sake of servicemen in the field.

Letter to the Editor

To The Editor:

I wish those coon hunters, pigeon shooters, greased pig chasers, etc.—all would re-channel their time and effort away from that of seeking gratification of baser instincts, and instead, toward goals such as finding out why some whales beach themselves or why the dolphins got sick. This research—if successful—would make them real heroes.

Dear Editor:

We wish to thank Jack Wyatt, our Councilman and the members of the city council of Harrington for the street light given to our people in this area. Also, it was a wonderful job you did on the tar and chip road for the people in this ward. It is used alot for walking and traveling.

We also appreciate the cleanliness of the lots in back of and between Clark and Peck Avenue. We thank you again.

Leonard Masten

Dear Editor:

The Harrington Volunteer Fire Company demonstrates commitment in our community in many ways. Their work to promote safety extends in varied directions. One excellent example is cited here: Thursday, October 22, members of the fire company participated in a regular fire drill at South Elementary/W.T. Chipman schools. These volunteers observed the drill, reviewed our procedures, and offered timely suggestions. Many positive comments were shared regarding the evacuation plan, student conduct, and school concern for safety.

A sincere thanks goes to the Harrington Fire Company members for taking time to help our schools do the best possible job with fire safety procedures.

The Bork nomination

by U.S. Senator Bill Roth

The controversial nomination of Judge Robert Bork to the Supreme Court captured the attention of all Americans. And, it was a subject of much concern for many people.

During the last months, I became concerned by the attempts of some outside groups to politicize the confirmation process and to misrepresent the record of the nominee, Judge Bork. While the distortions and misrepresentations surrounding the Bork nomination were deplorable, I was even more concerned by the approach the Senate took in reviewing the nomination.

It greatly concerns me that some Senators sought to exact promises from Judge Bork which he had to give under oath as to how he would rule on specific cases. It greatly concerns me that some Senators, while acknowledging his superior qualifications, voted against him because he refused to share their own view on some specific issue. How shortsighted! That specific issue might never come before the next Justice while thousands of others will. But even worse, Senators seeking to exact such commitments are trying to control how the Supreme Court decides cases. This attacks the independence of the judiciary -- a fundamental value in our form of government.

The Bork nomination was controversial but the controversy was not really about Robert Bork. It was about the role of the Supreme Court in our democracy. Over the last few decades the Supreme Court has shown a tendency to inject its own policies into law, rather than maintain its role as an interpreter of the law. Such judicial activism is equally wrong whether it favors the left or right side of the political aisle.

When judges, who are not elected by the people, begin to make law, it encroaches on the role of the legislative branch. In essence, when judges act like politicians, we all lose. Judge Bork is not such a judge. In fact, he has dedicated his talents to correcting this drift into judicial activism.

Virtually everyone who knows Robert Bork -- friend or foe alike -- testified to his brilliance, his scholarship, his competence, and his integrity. Bork served with distinction as Solicitor General and as an appellate judge. He has been a leading champion of judicial restraint -- the right of self government. While one might not necessarily agree with every position of Judge Bork, his total record clearly shows he is qualified to serve as a Supreme Court Justice. He is an exceptionally well-qualified person who would have made a difference on the Supreme Court -- That's why others opposed him and I supported him.

A laff a day...

by William T. Ficka

No wonder the Arabs have all the oil. They all ride on camels.

A man came home drunk every night. His wife was at wits end. She had tried everything to get him to stop, but nothing worked. A friend advised her to try a "little loving kindness." The wife decided to follow the friend's advice.

That night, as usual, her husband came home drunk. The wife gave him a big kiss, got out his slippers, give him his pipe, sat him in his easy chair, and turned on his favorite TV program. "Now, can I get you a little drink?" she asked.

"You may just as well," he said. "I'm going to get beaten black and blue when I get home."

"Are you married?" asked the census taker.

"I was married for one week," answered the woman. "But my husband left home five years ago and hasn't been back since."

"That's terrible," said the census taker. "Not really," said the woman. "I think a man needs some time to himself."

Since when is it a crime to turn 18?

Of course turning 18 isn't a crime at all. However, turning 18 without registering with Selective Service is.

That's why we need your help. We need parents to tell their sons to register with Selective Service within a month of turning 18. And we need teachers, friends, employers and others who can influence these young men to reinforce the message.

Why? Because, for one reason, it's the law. But in addition to risking prosecution by not registering, your son or young friend is disqualifying himself from eligibility for federal student loans, federal employment and job training programs.

America's future security depends upon today's young men registering with Selective Service on time. Every young man must register within 30 days of his 18th birthday by completing a simple form at any post office. You can help. Ask a young man, you know if he is registered.

Selective Service Registration.
It's Quick. It's Easy. And it's the Law.
A public service message of this publication and Selective Service System.

October 1987

By Dorcas R. Hardy Commissioner of Social Security

Did you know that on Federal tax returns filed in 1988 and after, you have to list a Social Security number for any person age 5 or above who you wish to claim as a dependent?

The provision requiring Social Security numbers for dependents was contained in the Tax Reform Act of 1986. The purpose is to reduce tax evasion in cases where parents filing separate returns both claim a dependent for tax purposes or in cases where taxpayers claim non-existent dependents. This results in a substantial loss of revenue at the expense of millions of other taxpayers.

About two-thirds of America's young people already have Social Security cards with lifetime numbers. They may have gotten them for bank accounts, part-time jobs, driver's licenses, college entrance examinations, or other purposes.

Because almost all employment and bling our normal workload.

In general, a person can apply for a Social Security number at any Social Security office by mail or in person. Evidence of date of birth, U.S. citizenship or lawful alien status, and identity must be provided. Of course, there is no charge for either a new or replacement Social Security card.

To permit parents to comply with the new law as easily as possible, we are seeking the cooperation of schools, local organizations, businesses, and other government agencies in informing parents about the law's requirements. In many localities, schools are assisting in getting the word out by relaying information and, in some cases, supplying Social Security number applications to parents. In many cases, school records can provide the information needed by parents to apply for the child's number. Local organizations, businesses, other agencies, tax preparers, and others are including brief messages in their newsletters, supplying information in payroll stubs, or informing clients during interviews or through mailings.

If you want more information or need assistance in applying for a Social Security number, please contact your local Social Security office. The telephone number can be found in your phone directory under "Social Security Administration" or "U.S. Government." Remember, don't wait until the last minute; apply now. If you wait until March or April of next year, it may be too late!

Person-to-Person

A perfect October afternoon

by Rebecca Moore

It was one of those incredibly perfect Fall days. The sun was a brilliant orange ball. A touch of zing in the air welcomed a wooley sweater to keep off the goosebumps. The trees rustled their vibrant leaves as though making conversation with each other. "Ah, just let me take a few minutes and breathe in the glory of it all," I thought, "for too soon it is gone, and the frigid barrenness of winter will replace the exquisite beauty of Fall's metamorphosis." Yes, it was an incredibly perfect Fall day, and I spent it in an unexpected place with some unexpected people.

The Delaware Agriculture Museum is located on Route 13 in Dover, just south of Delaware State College. The Museum opened to the public in 1980. It was built to preserve our State's agricultural past and they have certainly succeeded, for visiting the Museum is like going back in time.

With minimal effort on their part, my sixth grader and my third grader had persuaded me to accompany them and their classmates to an afternoon field trip (why have they always been called field trips when you never go anywhere near a field?) and celebrate the Museum's Fall Harvest Festival. This would be a first for me, since I'd never had the pleasure of visiting the Museum, and I was really looking forward to it. The thoughts of over sixty third, fourth, fifth and sixth graders caused me to quake a bit, for my name is not Job and my patience is minimal; but this hesitation I set aside and took the plunge.

Arriving at the back side of the huge red barn, we were ushered into a room where women in Colonial costumes were making the beginnings of clothes. There was no Singer sewing machine or fancy tailor's trappings in this place. Instead, a huge spinning wheel was being operated. It was fascinating to watch fluffy balls of wool change into yarn. The room also contained several looms for weaving. It was a far cry from Boscov's or Leggett's.

The main room in the barn is quite a place. One side houses a huge assortment of antique farm machinery and steam engines. There's even a bi-plane suspended from the ceiling. The other side of the barn, among other things, pays tribute to the pioneers of the poultry business. Of course, everyone had to stop and ooh! and aah! over the fuzzy yellow chicks so intent on the business of growing up. A log home occupies one small part of the main room. Within this tiny cabin an entire family once lived. It's beyond me how a family could have existed in such a tiny space which was no larger than my livingroom, but I guess I'm spoiled.

Back outside, we took a tour of several buildings including a one-room schoolhouse, a mill, a blacksmith's shop, a meathouse, a barn and lastly, a farmhouse. In each of these places, guides were there to explain the building's origins and what it was used for. Each structure held numerous points of interest—the mill with its saws and grindstones, the blacksmith's shop with its anvil and bellows, the meathouse with wooden shelves turned fuzzy from years of salt, the farmhouse with its summer kitchen, even the outhouse complete with a Sears catalog—the predecessor of Charmin.

In a very real sense, I was transported back in time. For two hours, not even the noisy highway was part of my existence. My surroundings were so real and inviting, the twentieth century was forgotten. This was wonderful! No smog or pollution, no car accidents, no deadlines to meet or stockmarket crashes. Wow! Just let me stay and bask in the beauty of a spectacular day and in a simpler, slower time!

My reverie into the past ended abruptly when I pulled my Corsica out on to the highway. Back to 1987 with its smog, accidents, deadlines and stock market crashes. And I began to think.

For starters, I don't have an outhouse and an old Sears catalog; I've got two modern bathrooms and good old Scott paper. My transportation is not a splintery buckboard wagon with no springs, but a shiny red automobile with soft seats and real good shock absorbers. When I bake a cake or a loaf of bread, my flour comes from my canisters after being purchased in five pound sacks at the grocery store. The wheat does not have to be grown in my yard, transported to the mill and ground for me there. My home is centrally heated and air conditioned by electricity. My hubby does not have to chop wood to keep us warm, nor do we have to depend on breezes to cool us off. My house is protected with smoke and fire alarms and dialing 911 on the telephone brings me the fire company in the unfortunate event I should need them. The final version of "Person to Person" is whipped out on a typewriter in half the time longhand would take. I am informed of happenings around the corner and around the world by the mere push of a button on a television. My world is not limited to only what I can see and hear around me, for technology and communications bring everything from the Titanic to space exploration into my livingroom. When my head aches, I take two Tylenol and the aching stops; I don't have to suffer without relief. Thinking back to the people I've met and written about in "Person to Person"—Brian Reardon, Barbara Page, Tom Paine, Diane Phillips—would never have survived to tell their stories, had they lived one hundred years ago. Small pox, influenza, and other illnesses wiped out thousands of people, but today vaccines, medications and medical technology extend life. My kitchen is a Delmarva Power delight, being totally electric with nearly every imaginable doohickey one could want from the rechargeable can opener to the food processor and microwave oven.

1987 is a busy time to live. We run from the minute the alarm goes off in the morning until we fall, exhausted, into bed at night. Pressure is constantly thrown at us to achieve, to succeed, to keep up with the Joneses. The traffic, the noise, the pressure, the rat race that is 1987 America—can't we stop and return to a simpler life? Quite simply, NO! Because that "simpler" time was, perhaps, just as pressured and chaotic as today. No, there was no smog, traffic accidents, deadlines or stock market crashes. But there were also no conveniences or labor-saving devices, no antibiotics or analgesics, no mass communications or fire departments, no central heat, running water or electricity...

What a glorious afternoon I had! The children were delightful, polite and well-behaved. The weather was perfect beyond description. The Museum was far more than I ever expected and it taught me so much! Not just about the history of agriculture in Delaware, but about 1987. For yes, in some ways life was simpler then, but in many ways, it was more complex. I look forward to revisiting the Museum some day soon, for the past is something to cherish. But I'll be glad to return to the 1980's, for life is good in these years and I'm thankful to be part of them.
