Barratt's Chapel holds annual Anniversary Service

The annual Anniversary Service at Barratt's Chapel was held on Sunday, November 8. A half-hour of congregational singing preceded the service held at 3 p.m. at which the Rev. Dr. Joseph H. Yeakel, Bishop of the Washington Area of the United Methodist Church, was the guest speaker.

Held annually in early November, the service emphasizes the significance of Barratt's Chapel in the history of United Methodism. Built in 1780 and one of the denomination's historic shrines, the early meeting house is located on Route 113 near Frederica, south of Dover.

It was 203 years ago on November 14th that the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was first administered in America by ordained Methodist clergy. The place was Barratt's Chapel where on the same day Bishop Thomas Coke, fresh from England, met with Francis Asbury who had been carrying the gospel up and down East Coast America since 1771.

The choir of the Felton United Methodist Church presented special music for the gathering. Conference historian George L. Caley of Smyrna was the song leader and Starr Fioca of Milford, the organist.

The featured speaker, Bishop Yeakel, was elected a bishop of the United Methodist Church in 1972 and served the New York West Area until 1984 when he received his present assignment. Among the many capacities he has filled in the General Church are the presidency of the General Board of Church and Society as well as that of the General Council on Finance and Administration.

Reared in Pottsville, Pa., Dr. Yeakel has pastored churches in Pennsylvania and Maryland and was executive secretary of the Evangelical United Brethren Board of Evangelism. Named the general secretary of the United Methodist Board of Evangelism in 1968, he continued in that position until his election to the episcopacy.

The museum adjoining Barratt's Chapel was open before and after the service. The buildings are open to the public on Saturday and Sunday afternoons from 1:30 until 4:30 p.m. and at other times by appointment.

Activities at the chapel and museum are overseen by the Peninsula Conference's Commission on Archives and History. The Rev. Gary L. Moore of Kingswood United Methodist Church, Newark, is the commission president.

Churches forming the Peninsula Conference are made aware in advance of each year's anniversary service of the on-going need of funds to promote the program carried on at the complex. Those who wished to share in the financial aspect made contributions, through their local Methodist church or by placing a contribution in the plate at the anniversary service.

Lake Forest residents to vote on referendum Tuesday

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

Voters in the Lake Forest School District will be drawn to the polls on Tuesday (today November 10th) to vote on the school referendum.

The questions to be voted on will be in two parts. The first part deals with the buildings and accessory improvements thereto which is estimated to be $2 million. It is broken down as follows: $1.7 million from the local taxpayers and $2.5 million from the statewide taxpayers or at large.

The second question the taxpayers are asked to vote on deals with salaries throughout the district in every category, which is also funded under the formula of "equalization". The formula being for every $1.00 raised at the local level, the State will match in the form of $1.09. The last time the referendum was called, with both questions, the formula was for every $1.00 raised at the local level, the State would match with $2.00. That has been lost, and the present danger is that if this part of the referendum fails, it might be lost forever.

What are the basic issues? According to the district spokesman, Dr. James VanSciver, District Superintendent, and according to polls taken of taxpayers it is a need versus more or higher taxes.

"Property taxes to fund referenda is not the fairest way, because poorer tax districts like Lake Forest certainly suffer", said Dr. VanSciver last week. "We would like to propose other plans involving taxes through equalization, but this means a long and drawn out fight at the legislative level", Dr. VanSciver added.

The initial question is always asked "...how come all of a sudden everything is in a state of disrepair." The answer goes back almost 10 years ago when Edward Powell was hired to replace retiring Albert "Baldy" Adams. Dr. Powell was on the right track and probably would have easily pushed through what was being called for, simply a building revitalization plan referendum.

The high school's roof was in deplorable condition, but it is repaired now and there is a guarantee that it will hold for the next 10 years", said Dr. VanSciver.

Dr. Powell was convicted on incidents when he was employed at the Capital School District and the years that followed that situation have almost been set to music to the tune of "...the Lake Forest roller coaster". Instead of pulling together the district was torn apart, with both teachers, administrators and citizens thrown asunder and polarized.

From a do nothing type of administration to one of cloak and dagger, the district wavered in the balance. Everything done was always suspicious and circumspect. During one administration, there was a total loss of trust and disrespect.

Following the failure of the last referendum, repairs were started and in some cases finished through the use of minor caps. The roof at the high school was repaired through minor caps plus the $100,000 which the state legislature received through an out of court settlement with the contractor who built the high school.

The problem, simply stated, is that repairs and work that was called into being for the past 10 years has progressed to the point where the problems have simply gotten worse.

The additional revenues needed to fund a referendum through new businesses coming and people receiving higher salaries to meet their tax bills has not happened...gotten worse and deepened. There are more senior citizens living in the district today than 10 years ago too.

One of the facts that has caused some problems since the building programs were proposed 10 years ago were the need to remove asbestos from the school buildings. "This has cost the district about $250,000...plus, which we never figured on", said Dr. VanSciver.

"There has always been an overcrowding of classrooms, and the cheapest way...we believe to cope with this is to build an administrative building at the high school which will free up classroom space in the present district complex in Harrington", added Dr. VanSciver. He indicated that by doing this, the district would gain 4 to 5 new classrooms.

"People ask me what if the referendum fails (to pass). I say we are still in business facing the crisis of our underground tanks which could erupt at any time...to whether we can hire teachers or not to prevent dropping programs which are vitally needed in our curriculum", said Dr. VanSciver.

"I am also asked about teachers salaries. They are too much, is the frequent comment. But let me tell you, teachers come from a different labor pot, and these people are in a measure free agents. They move to the best deals" added Dr. VanSciver.

As Dr. VanSciver points out there is a teacher shortage and unless the market comes up to their demands they will go elsewhere. Dr. VanSciver indicated "we...this school district is in competition, salary wise with the bottom 5 school districts right now. If the referendum passes (for salaries) we will be right up there in competition with Woodbridge (which is smaller than Lake Forest), Laurel, Delmar, and Kent VoTech School", he said.

"The district lost hundreds of thousands of dollars when the salary equalization failed previously. This money which was ours if the referendum had passed went to other school districts...even the more wealthy ones which did not need it per se", he commented.

"We need to take care of the little things now before they become big things and this should have been done years ago", said Dr. VanSciver. "I am concerned that our kids and teachers who come to school each day cannot keep warm because of faulty heating systems", he continued.

Dr. VanSciver has outlined certain beneficial points with the passing of the referendum. Some of them are as follows: improve the heating systems, improve the wiring in certain buildings, correct certain problems to allow for more energy efficient buildings, provide more elementary classrooms, improve lighting in classrooms ("...you plug in something in one room and lights go dim in another area", said Dr. VanSciver), replace underground storage tanks that could create a big liability if they leak, repair roofs at South and Chipman and provide for more competitive salaries.

The voting will begin in the district at high noon...12:00 o'clock and remain open to 9:00 p.m. The voting places are North Elementary in Felton, East Elementary at Frederica, and South Elementary and W.T. Chipman or District Office complex (usually in the cafeteria).

Don't forget to cast your vote!

Point of View

In light of the recent Supreme Court nominee admitting to marijuana use, do you think a candidate for a court appointment or high office such as President of U.S. should be disqualified because of illegal drug use?

Ron Hughes, Harrington
"I feel no more so than being caught speeding by a judge as a candidate. We are not dealing with saints. The distinction seems to be experimental use as a young person during a certain period in this country versus continually using it as an adult—which would disqualify a person."

Joe Brinster, Harrington
"The voters will decide that one. It does set a bad example, because there is no way you can portray yourself as a role model like that."

Dr. Art Gilbert, Chairman of Curriculum, L.F. School District
"Breaking the law is breaking the law whether it is in your youth or as an adult—experimental or otherwise. It is simply against the law."

Frank Soriano, Harrington
"I think you must make a distinction between use as a youth, when youth will experiment versus using it as an adult, when you are in a responsible position."

HALLOWEEN AT THE LIBRARY

On Tuesday, October 27, Librarian, Mrs. Betty Ann Van Vessen, hosted a Halloween pre-school storytime. Seven little ones came to hear stories and each received a small pumpkin to decorate and take home as their very own jack-o-lantern. Pumpkin shaped cookies were their treat.

On Friday, October 30, Mrs. Van Vessen hosted a party for older children. Twenty-five children and eight parents crowded into the library for an hour of Halloween tales and jokes. The children also enjoyed two guessing games. Mrs. Van Vessen had saved and roasted the seeds from the library's jack-o-lantern. After guessing how many seeds there were, everyone enjoyed them as a special treat. Yzonya Maul was the winner and received a pumpkin as her prize. In the second contest the children had to guess the weight of a large pumpkin. There was a tie, and David Miller and Jerome Maul each took home a pumpkin! Cupcakes and punch were served, and everyone took home a toosie pop disguised as a ghost.

And what you probably need most to get started is money! At this time of year, every home needs a little T.L.C.—tender loving care in the form of home improvements. If your house is showing the wear and tear from previous seasons, here are some things you should do:
•First, take inventory of your home and decide what improvements you would like to make. It's the perfect time for a new furnace, storm windows, insulation or even a fireplace. Also make a list of things that need repair.

•Next, get an estimate from a carpenter or building supply store.
•When that is done, come and see us about a home improvement loan!

We'll arrange a payment schedule to fit your needs so you can get your house ready for the upcoming winter months. As you spend more time indoors, you'll appreciate these home improvements that were made with a People's Bank of Harrington loan. You'll also like the way these improvements increase the market value of your home.
Stop in to discuss your plans for a home improvement loan with our professional staff. If you qualify, we'll loan you the legal tender you need to give your house the tender loving care it deserves.

At Sussex Trust, better banking comes from better listening.

Our Solo Account

Come to Sussex Trust and you will find people who are eager to listen to you. We consider it our job to find out what you need, and to help you achieve it.

One way we do that is by helping you choose from the wide variety of products and services that Sussex Trust offers. For instance, if you're looking for a checking account, you might find the Solo account is just what you need.

Solo makes banking easier by combining three accounts into one. It lets you write checks like a checking account, earn interest like a savings account, even reap the benefits of a solid investment account — because the more money you put into Solo, the higher your interest rates go. And you can do all this knowing you have the security of FDIC insurance.

Ask for our Club Solo account, and you get all the advantages of a Solo account plus extra benefits like savings on services inside the bank, travel discounts outside the bank, and more. If you want better banking, come to the bank that listens to what you need. Come to Sussex Trust.

There's more to banking than money.

New smoking policy at Kent General

Kent General Hospital has implemented a new smoking policy for patients, visitors and staff. The policy ask visitors and outpatients to refrain from smoking in all Hospital areas except the Junior Board Hospitality Shoppe.

Ambulatory inpatients are not permitted to smoke in their room, but may smoke in the designated smoking area on their floor. Patients confined to bed are being discouraged from smoking, but, if the patient insists, a responsible adult must be present. Smoking is not allowed in a semi-private room unless both patients agree.

"It is felt that both visitors and outpatients are in the Hospital for a limited time only, and can comfortably refrain from smoking until they leave," said Hospital President Dennis E. Klima.

For smokers who would like to quit, Kent General's patient Education Department has a list of smoking cessation classes offered in the area, as well as brochures and other information about the dangers of smoking. A special display of this literature will be set up in the Hospital's main lobby.

Kent General's new policy reflects society's changing attitude toward smoking. According to the National Center for Health Statistics, only 33% of men and 28% of women still smoke, and most of those have tried to quit at least once. It also recognizes the inherent health and safety risks of smoking.

Research shows that those who smoke increase their chance of lung cancer 10 times, and their risk of dying from coronary heart disease by 70%. The ill effects of secondary smoke has also been documented. In addition, smoking is the leading cause of fire related injury and death.

Education

Meteorologist visits South Elementary

Jeff Donald, meteorologist at WMDT-TV in Salisbury, visited Lake Forest South Elementary School on November 9 from 10:30-11:15 a.m.

He spoke to fifth grade students in Debra Waschull's class about various aspects of weather: causes, manifestations, and phenomena such as rainbows, sundogs, aurora borealis, storms, etc. To facilitate the presentation, he used slides, presented handouts to students and gave folders containing weather information to the teachers. These assisted students in reinforcing what they had learned.

"Lake Forest South Elementary sincerely thanks WMDT-TV Channel 47 for sharing Jeff Donald with our students. Special thanks to Mr. Donald for providing this interesting and informative program," said Mr. Griffin Principal.

David Welch wins local Century III Award

David Welch, a senior at Lake Forest High School, has been named the school's top Century III Leader according to Ronald L. Burrows, principal.

David Welch

The seventeen year-old is now eligible to compete with other local winners from around the State for one of two $1,500 scholarships and an all-expense paid trip to the national Century III Leaders Conference, slated for March 18-21, 1988 in Colonial Williamsburg, Va. State winners will compete for the national winner's prize of an additional $10,000 scholarship.

The Century III Leaders program is designed to bring together and recognize student leaders who show both strong leadership abilities and an interest in the future of America. Welch was judged on the basis of leadership skills, school and community involvement and a current events examination. He also wrote a short essay on a particular issue that challenges America in its third century.

This is the thirteenth year of Century III Leaders program, which awards a total of $218,500 in scholarships to 204 young leaders.

Century III is sponsored and administered by the National Association of Secondary School Principals and founded by the Shell Oil Company.

Welch is the son of Mrs. Nancy Welch and the late David L. Welch, Sr. of Harrington. He is Editor-in-Chief of the yearbook and President of the Lake Forest Chapter of the National Honor Society.

Marching Spartans place second

The Lake Forest Marching Spartans participated in the Milford Bicentennial Halloween Parade on October 28, 1987. Lake Forest came in second in Group 2 behind Crisfield, Md. The Spartans were also awarded two specialty trophies from Sussex County Council and Delaware Firemen's Association. Specialty trophies were awarded by various sponsors and individuals to the participating bands. There was no set criteria for awarding specialty trophies and an attempt was made toward these trophies evenly to all participating bands.

The parade was shown on local cable TV. The band traveled to Delaware State College Homecoming Parade on November 7, in Dover.

Lake Forest history department plans trip

Members of the Lake Forest High School History Department have mapped out an ambitious schedule for their students this school year.

On October 16, the 128th anniversary of John Brown's raid, 75 students and chaperones visited Harpers Ferry, West Virginia. Park rangers at Harpers Ferry conducted a tour of the historic sites and the confluence of the Shenandoah and Potomac Rivers. Students had time to participate in walking tours of the town.

Chaperones were: Ronald Gumienny,

Gary Sparks, Eileen Redden and Mark Donnelly (Lake Forest High School) and Martha Tribbett, Kathleen Browne, Gail Sparks and John Fair.

Future trips planned by the school's History Department staff include a December 10 trip to Philadelphia to attend a play and tour the Constitutional National Historical park and a February trip to Baltimore to visit the B & O Railroad Museum, Fort McHenry, the U.S.S. Constellation and the Inner Harbor.

Bell first "Spartan Extravaganza" winner

In order to promote better use of meal tickets at Lake Forest High School, Lake Forest School District's Food Service Department has instituted a "Spartan Extravaganza."

Students who fully expend meal tickets may deposit them in a "fish bowl." On a selected day each month through May, a winning ticket will be drawn from the "fish bowl." The winner may select from 1 of the following prizes: personal-size TV, 35MM camera, skateboard, portable phone or AM FM radio-cassette player.

Lake Forest senior Africia Bell was the school's first winner. Thrilled by her selection, Bell picked the AM FM radio-cassette player and remarked, "Just what I wanted. Mine is broken." The next drawing is scheduled for November 25.

Lake Forest educator unique in state

Nancy Cera

Nancy Cera is a speech pathologist who works at Lake Forest School District. She spends most of her time at North Elementary School in Felton.

What makes Cera unique in the state is that she was the lone Delaware educator selected to receive a Sallie Mae Teacher Award this year.

Recipients each receive a $1,000 award. Their school also receives a certificate.

Candidates must be first year teachers, "be nominated by their superintendent, have done academically well in college, have demonstrated leadership and volunteer qualities and have performed outstandingly during their initial year of teaching."

"Nancy Cera is a model for educators," said Lake Forest Superintendent Dr. James H. VanSiver. "She exudes patience and enthusiasm."

"It is our good fortune to have her working here. Our students and our communities are the benefactors of her efforts."

Collins-Brittingham wed

Becky Collins and Donald B. Brittingham were united in marriage Saturday, August 29, at 5 p.m. in Asbury United Methodist Church in Harrington. The brides parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Collins of Harrington. The groom's parents are Donald B. Brittingham and Praela Rohlman, both of Georgetown. The Rev. William Dore performed the double-ring ceremony. Escorted by her father and given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a lovely long white satin gown featuring a Queen Ann neckline and puffed top long sleeves. Venise lace, pearls, and sequines adorned the bodice and front of the gown. The attached chapel train formed a magnificent waterfall of multi-tiered ruffles. A white satin hat trimmed with Venise lace and pearls was chosen as the bridal headpiece. The bride's bouquet was a cascade of pink sweetheart and bridal pink roses. The bridesmaids were Sue Angstadt, friend of the bride, Cheryl Mitchell, friend of the bride, Robin Achenbach, friend of the bride, Wendy Moore, friend of the bride and groom, and Melanie Glover, friend of the bride and groom. The bridesmaids wore floor-length gowns of pink satin and lace featuring short puff sleeves and a bustle effect in back with a small lace train. Long lace gauntlets were also worn. The bridesmaids carried long stem pink and white roses. Todd Sizemore, friend of the groom served as best man. Ushers were Jaye Brown, friend of the groom, Jack West, friend of the groom, Ben Short, friend of the groom and Wayne Moore, friend of the bride and groom. The groom wore white tails with matching tie and vest. The ushers wore grey tails with matching tie and vest. Brittany Moore, friend of the bride and groom served as miniature bride and Tommy Williams, friend of the groom served as miniature groom. Dawn Bryan, sister of the groom served as guest book attendant. Shelly Collins and Patty Collins, cousins of the bride served as attendants. Music was provided by Gail Dill at the piano with solo's by Brenda Collins, aunt of the bride. A reception followed the ceremony at the Felton Fire Hall. After a honeymoon in the Poconos, the couple are residing in Snellville, Georgia.

NOVEMBER 15, 1957
City Manager Norris C. Adams told the Journal Tuesday there was a $25 fine for burning leaves on City streets. The warning was issued after Mr. Adams and a state highway official had noticed several fires on blacktop streets in the community. Mr. Adams quoted the state official as saying that, where fires had been built on blacktop streets, there would be a hole next spring. He added that the law would be enforced.
The installation of Christmas street lighting began this week, with the current to be turned on Thanksgiving evening, it was decided at the November meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at The Wonder R Tuesday.

A Patriotic Creed
To serve my country day by day
At any humble post I may;
To honor and respect her flag,
To live the traits of which I brag;
To be American in deed
As well as in my printed creed.
To do my best and play my part,
American in mind and heart;
To serve the flag and bravely stand
To guard the glory of my land;
To be American in deed
God grant me strength to keep this creed.
May this be a creed for all Americans as we celebrate Veteran's Day, Nov. 11.

Lake Forest varsity hockey team wins Conference and Southern Division titles

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

HIGH SCHOOL FIELD. The Lake Forest Varsity Hockey team came through in true form Friday when they downed a strong Cape Henlopen team 2-1 in overtime.

It has been a typical season for the team well coached by Mrs. Pat Dyal-Borowski. It was a team well coached through the implementation of basic skills to the sport, emphasizing hard work, dedication, team spirit as well as wanting to play for this coach.

It is typical of the team Mrs. Borowski coaches. "The kids like her. They want to play for her, and it goes without saying they respect her", said a fellow coach.

She is a winner and her players know that! Cape Henlopen has been tough all season. They were undefeated coming into this contest, which was a non-conference game. The Spartans were just too good this day and for that matter all season.

"Their play was just super. They deserved to win the ball game", said a beaming Coach Borowski. "They peaked today. They wanted this win, and they got it, because they deserved it. They were simply the best team out there. Their play was super. They passed the ball well, and the defense was great", continued Coach Borowski.

Tracey Hughes was called on by Coach Borowski to shut down Cape's left wing who is one of the best hockey players in either division. "Tracey shut her down, and she (Cape's left wing) was extremely frustrated by the end of the game. I am proud of Tracey...as well as the rest of the team", added Coach Borowski.

What makes this team so very, very good? This is a team which Coach Borowski called the best team she has ever coached. "It was a real pleasure to work with this team. They were just great. They were so good because they played together as a family. They are very close", said Coach Borowski.

This team has not only been together since August "...but they have played together on the same team and they have attended hockey camps together. They molded themselves into a team.

Coach Borowski said they took things they learned from the practice field to the playing field "...which is the way it is supposed to be done. You could actually see them work the plays that they had worked so many times in camp or on the practice fields."

LF Community Swim team begins winter season

The coaches and officers of the Lake Forest Community Swim Team announce the beginning of the teams' 1987-1988 winter competitive season. The Lake Forest team consists of swimmers of all age groups from five and six year olds to high school age swimmers from Kent and Sussex Counties. The team is truly representative of southern Delaware with members from Lewes, Georgetown, Seaford, Bridgeville, Milford, Dover and Camden as well as from within the Lake Forest School District. For the second year, Lake Forest will be in the Pioneer Swim League competing against strong teams from northern Delaware and southeastern Pennsylvania. The competition is challenging as the league is one of the top rated in the region. In its first year in the league Lake Forest finished in fourth place in a field of eight teams.

Coach Dennis Davis is excited about the coming season. "The number of swimmers (116) this season is impressive. This will give the team a lot of flexibility and a wide range of experience for the swimmers. The team will be entering the season with the strength and depth needed to do well in the Pioneer League." The goal for 1987-1988 is to finish in the top three teams in the league and to have an impressive showing in the league championship meet at Widener University in Chester Pennsylvania at the end of January.

The goal of the Lake Forest competitive swim program is to develop the team members confidence in themselves as well as in their swimming abilities. For further information about the competitive swim program at Lake Forest call 284-9816.

LF boys, girls run 2nd in Loop harrier meets

by Keith S. Burgess

Lake Forest's Spartan cross-country team finished second in the Henlopen Conference Meet, held at Killen's Pond State Park on Wednesday.

In twelve previous starts, the locals had run well every time out of the starting gate. But perhaps the law of averages finally caught up with Lake Forest.

Caesar Rodney placed four runners in the first seven and won the eight-team meet with a low of 37 points, with Lake Forest next with 73. Three of the four Riders probably posted their fastest times here, on a course they have competed on many times. Their fifth and final scorer also was significantly faster, here, this time.

Meanwhile, the Spartans, who had an unbeaten dual meet season, saw all seven runners post slower clockings, than heretofore, despite the importance of the meet and the caliber of the competition. In four previous meets in which both C.R. and Lake Forest were entered, the two teams turned in virtually identical efforts. But Wednesday the Riders were "up" and caught the Spartans on an off day.

Mark Tozer, who stands head and shoulders above the rest of the downstate runners can easily beat the competition even when he isn't feeling the greatest. Tozer won this meet for the third straight year. Mark also is unbeaten in his last 25 dual meet starts.

Mike Eck was ninth in a field of 56 starters. Steve Clute was 18th, with Scott Pierce in 21st and Mike Sanders, in 24th.

Lake Forest will attempt to regain the form they have displayed all year when they run in the Kent County Meet, at Millford, 3 p.m., Saturday afternoon.

Lake Forest's girls were second to perennial distaff power Cape Henlopen. But a couple of Frederica-area girls provided proof that Lake Forest's girls are getting steadily better and with a little more support from the student body, could turn into a dynasty, like the boys.

By support we mean 20 girls out for cross-country instead of 10. Julie Betts continues to look like the Betts of 1985.

HIGH SCHOOL FIELD. It was a cold, damp night, and more dampness was provided by the invaders from the north, the Dover Senators.

Dover has been an up and down team all season, but they got it together on Friday night against the Spartans as their offensive line man-handled our defense.

"Our defense was just not up to par tonight", said Coach Jim Fleming, who usually produces a strong defensive unit. That is one of his trade-marks. "We must remember that this is still a young team. I don't want to make any alibis, because Dover played a good football game tonight, but it was just simply not there for us tonight with the defense and particularly our line-backers as it was last week", said Coach Fleming.

Last week, the Spartans won big against a strong Smyrna eleven, and time and time again the Spartans came back when being down in the score.

"We did show a few sparks out there tonight. And I am still proud of my kids. They are young, and don't forget that", added Coach Fleming. "The score was 14-0 with time running out in the first half...and it looked very much like this football game was going to get out of hand and out of reach for us early on. But these kids fought back as they have in all of the games and it was highlighted in the Smyrna game. But then Petie (Davis) hit Bobby (Reed) with two quick completions...and all of a sudden something was clicking. Then he found Steve (Thompson) in the end zone wide open...and I was hoping on hope he would hang onto the ball...which he did for the TD. Now the score was 14-6 and we were back in the ball game", said Coach Fleming.

"But Dover came right back for the score...in the type of game we played last week (Smyrna) to go up 21-6 with time running out. Actually I thought time had run out, but I guess there were just a few seconds left on the time clock", said Coach Fleming.

"The pep talk must have done some good, because these kids came right back to start the second half with the idea that they were going to win this football game", added Coach Fleming. "The Spartans drove 47 yards for the touchdown with the last 36 yards through the air...Davis to John Swain". "Again I was praying that John (Swain) would hold onto the ball...which he did, and he made a good catch of it despite the cold", added Coach Fleming.

The score now read 21-14 and the Spartans were pumped up. "There was a lot of hard hitting despite the fact that our defense let us down. There were a lot of missed tackles out there.", said Coach Fleming. Dover's running back, Rodney Organ who carried the ball 25 times for over 200 yards, fumbled away the football. Bobby Reed, who has COLUMBUS, OHIO--He has never raced on the Grand Circuit and he will never make it to The Meadowslands. He's not too rich and he's not too fast, but he has the right idea because he keeps on winning.

Niffit, the pacer local fans call "The Iron Horse", has been pumping out victories for owner/trainer Austin Young since 1979 in Newfoundland. The 12-year-old gelding's career wins have reached 128-tying Rambling Willie's modern-day world record.

With the racing season over for the year at Avalon Raceway in St. John's Newfoundland, Young hopes to give Niffit a chance to break the world record next season, his last eligible year for racing.

Niffit's lifetime career earnings, $28,161, are barely more than Marvel earned finishing fourth in the final of the Cane Pace this year. "At St. John's they think that the sport is important; so, the purses stay low and the sport is kept pure," Young laughed.

With a lifetime mark of 2:05-1/5, Niffit, at almost 13 years, is still a sound race horse, Young said. "Since I've owned him, he's never been sick."

Sold for $800 as a yearling in the Old Glory Sale, Niffit's history would not suggest a potential record-setting horse. His dam, Moondale, was out of Toy Moon, a thoroughbred mare, said Frank Ives III of Far Winds Farm.

The sire of Niffit is Tiffin (Niffit spelled backwards, if you didn't guess). Tiffin raced and was later used as a "teaser," a second class sire who courts many mares, but breeds few.

"They had been looking forward to this situation for the past 2 years. Today was the time and moment that everything came together for them, and for them and the good things that go with winning, I am very happy for them", said Coach Borowski.

Paige Parker scored both goals on Friday. Cape had scored 10 minutes into the second half, and Lake Forest came back with 14 minutes into the second half to tie the score at one-all. "Paige's first shot was a ball that just rolled around in front of the goal. She jumped on it and drove it in", added Coach Borowski. Paige got an assist from Jennie Crouch.

Paige got the goal in the overtime giving the Spartans the win they so richly deserved. "The mid-field play all day spelled the difference, because we dominated play at that point.", said Coach Borowski. Cape had 21 shots on goal which was 7 more than the Spartans had. "...but we had it when it counted, and that was the difference", said Coach Borowski.

Robin Moreau had 9 saves for the day. This marks the third time Lake Forest has been in tournament play. The first time was as Henlopen Conference Champs. The second time as Southern Division Champs and now as Conference and Division Champs.

State tournament play begins this Saturday and Lake Forest will be seeded #1. All first place teams in their progressed with good play since the first game, pounced on the pigskin at the Lake Forest 34 yard line.

It looked like a different ball game at this point, because the Spartans were fired up.

Bobby Rood then fumbled the ball away in Lake Forest territory, and the Senators took the ball in to score making it 28-14. That was all the scoring in the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter, Dover scored twice to put the game out of reach. "I think our kids were just mentally and physically fatigued in the fourth quarter said Coach Fleming.

SPARTAN STATS: Davis had an interception (fourth quarter). He was 5 for 14 for 106 yards. We had a total of 35 yards rushing when you take out the penalties. James Boling was a standout again this week with 52 yards rushing. Boling runs the ball real good, picks his way through the secondary when there wasn't much blocking for him, and he carries the ball well. Although the defense let down they weren't that bad through three quarters. They made two magnificent goal line stands...both in the first half.

It is possible they did not believe they would win the game. "We did not stop them early on which was the first indicator of this. It was just a bunch of sophomores and juniors who got physically beat. We also lined up in the wrong spots and the one set pattern...a couple of times...but that is par for the course with a young team. What impressed me in this game was the fact these kids got scored on right before the half ended...and that is demoralizing...yet they came right back at the start of the second half. That tells me something about these kids and the two remaining games. We have a good shot at them (Laurel and Milford)", said Coach Fleming.

Waterfowl, deer hunting season opens

Sportsmen are reminded that when Delaware's waterfowl hunting season opens they'll have to abide by several new regulations.

Ducks may be hunted Nov. 24-Nov. 28 and Dec. 5-Jan. 2 with a four-bird bag limit, except where the following laws pertain:

*Hunters are reminded that the canvasback hunting season is closed statewide;

*That pintails have a bag restriction of one daily; and

*That hunters are requested to avoid taking black ducks in order to try to reverse their population decline. The black duck season Nov. 24-Nov. 28 and Dec. 5-Jan. 2 (there is a one daily bag limit).

*For additional restrictions, refer to the 1987-88 Delaware Waterfowl Season Summary, available at state sporting good stores.

The Canada goose season runs through Nov. 28 with a daily bag limit of two, and then from Dec. 5-Jan. 23 with a daily bag limit of three. The Snow Goose hunting season also runs during the same period with a four-bird bag limit in the early season.

The Delaware Division of Fish and Wildlife also reminds hunters that steel shot zones now cover all of Kent and New Castle counties for harvesting waterfowl.

Delaware's deer season runs through Nov. 14. Hunters are reminded of the state's requirements for them to wear Hunter Orange; and to check all deer at an established deer checking station. Delaware's 1987-88 Hunting and Trapping Guide is available free of charge at the DNREC building at 89 Kings Hwy., Dover.

The last 1987 Hunter Safety Course is offered Nov. 17-19 at the Sussex Vo-tech in Georgetown. Classes begin at 6:40 p.m. and run until 10 p.m. each night. Students must attend each of the three instructions to receive their hunter safety cards. For more information, call DNREC's Hunter Safety Office at 736-3448.

Freshman Jill Blades in her final start of the year, at home, was tenth, in 24.13. Blades literally exploded, as she chopped a whopping 44 seconds off her previous best mark. Senior Melanie Pelton was next in 24.14. Another fine, freshman prospect, Elaine Zeitler, was 15th with Stephanie Allen, in 16th, Dawn Kane a talented distance runner, ran a strong race, in the opening Lake Forest Invitational. Dawn was only 10 seconds behind Lake Forest's leading runner and it looked like a great season for the freshman. But Dawn has been drastically slowed by shin splints most of the time, since that impressive debut. She has missed some meets, limped courageously around in others and is probably finished for this season after struggling to a 19th place, Wednesday. We hope she can solve this problem and be healthy for the rest of her running career.

Coach Blades loses only one senior and next years team should do even better. Most of this seasons second-place team consists of freshmen and sophomores.

Dover Downs to again feature Twin Trifecta

DOVER — Twin Trifecta wagering, which produced nine jackpot winners including one payoff of over $160,000 last year, will again be featured on each race program during the 1987-88 harness racing season at Dover Downs. The track opens Sunday, November 15, for a 74-date season that continues through March 26.

To win the Twin Trifecta, a bettor must select the top three finishers in each of two consecutive designated races. Holders of winning tickets in the first of the two races divide one-half the amount wagered into the Twin Trifecta pool that day, and are given the chance to pick the top three in the second half of the "Twin". If no one succeeds, the remaining half of the Twin Trifecta pool is added to the jackpot, which builds day by day until it is won.

Last year, the Twin Trifecta jackpot was hit nine times, an average of once every two weeks.

Opening day, Sunday, November 15 will feature 13 races, with free general admission and parking. Post time is 1 p.m. Racing will continue Tuesday, Friday, and Saturday at the new post time of 7:30 p.m. and Sunday at 1:00 p.m. throughout the season.

District Dialog

by Dr. James H. VanSciver

"Yes"

Voters will go to the polls on November 10 to decide a two-part referendum for Lake Forest School District.

One part will decide whether voters support a proposed major capital improvement program. In the second, voters will decide whether the District will increase its current expense tax rate.

There are good reasons why voters should not vote "no."

Don't vote "no" because it's the only tax increase on which you can vote. Federal and state taxes may weigh heavily on your wallet but our children, our future, our communities are important.

Don't vote "no" because you think schools don't benefit you. Schools, quality schools, are important drawing cards for communities. They attract people who live, work, play and get involved in our communities. These people contribute to the tax base. They help raise the standard of living for all of us.

Where are the community leaders who will shape the direction for Harrington, Felton, Frederica, Bowers, Canterbury and Viola in the next 15 years? Chances are, they are now sitting in a freshman or junior English or science class at Lake Forest High School. They need to have the best experiences possible in order that they develop the necessary skills needed to provide leadership which will enhance our standard of living as we journey into the next century.

Don't vote "no" because you know of a member of the school system who may be experiencing difficulty understanding the expectations or who is exhibiting behavior not destined to reach them. All students and staff suffer. The majority of staff are making important contributions to the District. Those who are not are targeted for support or eventual dismissal in the event they are either unwilling or incapable of reaching and exceeding the identified expectations.

Don't vote "no" because of a past experience which may have caused you some irritation. Lake Forest, under the direction of a unified and progressive Board of Education, is rapidly gaining throughout Delaware, a reputation as a district whose educators make decisions with students in mind, a district which is "leading the way" with regard to important issues in education, a district in which a strong commitment is held with regard to contributing to a high standard of living in its communities.

Don't vote "no." Vote "yes."

Share and care on November 10.

Wrong medicine for a serious problem

by U.S. Senator Bill Roth

If anyone you know has ever suffered through a long and costly hospital stay, you can appreciate the need for some type of medical coverage to defray the high cost. I think there is a real need to address the problem of such catastrophic health insurance, especially for our senior citizens.

In my opinion, the Medicare Catastrophic Loss Prevention Act of 1987 which recently passed the Senate is not the answer to this problem. However, despite my strong belief that this legislation is ill-advised from both a substance and timing standpoint, my decision to vote against it was not an easy one. In fact, it was one of the most difficult votes I ever cast in the United States Senate as I am deeply concerned about the impact of health care costs on older Americans.

This bill is designed to provide protection for Medicare beneficiaries by limiting annual out-of-pocket expenses to $1,850. The catastrophic benefits will be financed by a split premium. First, the monthly Part B premiums will increase by at least $1 and second, for every $150 a beneficiary pays in federal tax liability this second part will increase by $12 up to a maximum of $800 per year.

My concerns with this legislation were numerous. To begin with, by raising the premium for many senior citizens for "new" coverage the legislation actually duplicates existing coverage provided by the private sector. In fact, my office took a survey of the 25 largest employers in Delaware and found that the vast majority provide coverage for catastrophic illness for retirees. In addition, projections indicate the premiums will continue to rise substantially over the next five years. In my view, the unfortunate effect will be to put a real financial burden on many of the people we are supposedly helping.

In looking further at the long term impact, it is certainly predictable that the combined effect of ever increasing premiums for duplicative coverage will cause beneficiaries to opt out of Medicare Part B. Such reduction in participation makes the future fiscal soundness of the program questionable at best. This new program could well turn out to be the most expensive entitlement program enacted by the Congress during the last fifteen years.

Many Delawareans share my concerns about this legislation. During the last few months, I have received letters and phone calls from hundreds of senior citizens in Delaware urging me to oppose the bill. In addition, I have heard from some of the local chapters of the American Association of Retired Persons expressing opposition to this legislation.

The timing of this legislation was also of concern to me. I find it particularly ironic that we take this action during a time of troubling events in the world's financial markets -- events that many experts attribute to the inability of Congress to deal with budgetary problems and the federal deficit. I felt this legislation sent the wrong signal to the stock market.

The intentions behind this bill were obviously good. However, the product, which would duplicate existing coverage, balloon costs for our senior citizens and place our financial stability in further jeopardy, was something I could not support. Catastrophic health protection is a need that should be addressed in a financially responsible way.

A laff a day...

by William T. Ficka

The woman took her dog Paddy to the animal hospital. "Paddy is a very sick dog," said the vet. "But after a week or two here at the hospital, he'll be OK."

The woman didn't know how to explain it to her 10-year-old son. Paddy and the boy were inseparable. When the boy came home from school, she said, "Son, Paddy was very sick and will have to stay at the hospital for a while."

"Oh," said the boy as we went out to play. When he came back he asked for Paddy. The mother explained it again and the boy started crying hysterically. "When you came home from school, I told you about Paddy," said the mother.

"I thought you said Daddy."

I leave you with these words: If you're driving tonight, drive carefully. Please remember our children -- they're lousy drivers.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Farrow:

In order that people who live in the Lake Forest School District have sufficient information to participate in our referendum on November 10, I feel it most important to address several points made by Mrs. Doris Draper in a letter to your paper last week.

She asks, "If the crunch in our elementary schools is so great then why are there no plans in this package for additional classrooms at North Elementary nor renovations of offices to classrooms at the South Elementary?"

The answer to that question is that we do hope to have sufficient space at North Elementary School to accommodate projected enrollments. That was made possible last year when the members of the Board of Education approved the move of the Frederica attendance area sixth graders back to East Elementary School. I might add that this move provided the District with space at North Elementary School with almost no cost to the taxpayers of the District. Also, the construction of the administration building at the high school is our plan for renovating offices to classrooms at South Elementary. I add again that this is the least expensive way to get that additional classroom space at South Elementary.

Roof design which includes the sloped design is very costly. It is simply not possible if we are to stay within the projected costs of our building program. Mrs. Draper raises the point that teachers were required to participate in a telephone tree dealing with the referendum. An open public meeting providing enough classroom space so that class size can be kept to a level most conducive to learning? Can we afford to deprive our children of the best education available by keeping salaries so low that our good teachers leave and others pass our schools by?

Can the community afford the consequences of contaminated drinking water due to ruptured fuel storage tanks? Can the communities afford the consequences of a fire in one of our schools?

Can we, in good conscience, afford to say "no" on November 10? We think not. We hope the residents of the Lake Forest School District will join us November 10 in voting YES for our children and our communities.

Sincerely,
Marc and Patricia Kucek
Felton

Dear Editor:
For weeks I've been hearing about how far the buildings of Lake Forest School District have deteriorated. From leaky roofs and inadequate heating systems to potentially dangerous electrical wiring and outdated underground fuel storage tanks, I've heard enough. Something needs to be done now. We can and should ask how our schools reached this state of disrepair, but we can't afford to postpone the solution. If we don't vote yes on this part of the referendum, it will only cost us more later, or worse, someone could be seriously injured.

When the subject changes to salary increases for our teachers and staff, I think of how much time these people spend with our children, and how much we expect them to give our young people. Some of our experienced teachers have already been hired away not block the sunlight from the room. I have heard that the retina of the eye can be damaged by intense sunlight shining on the page when one is reading or shining in one's eyes while trying to look at the teacher.

We are not asking for air conditioning in all of the schools, which we need, or for a T.V. and V.C.R. in every classroom, which some schools have. We are just asking for the bare necessities. I know a yes vote will directly help every young person in our beautiful Lake Forest School District.

Thank You,
Kathy Schafer

Editor:
Let's do something positive! Let's give our schools in Lake Forest the financial support they need and deserve.

While some will always point out the negative, or use innuendo to cloud the issues before us, we have some positive things to say about our schools and their leadership.

Positive things are happening in our schools. As parents of three children in the Lake Forest Schools, we have seen our children get a good education, and the level of instruction is getting better. These kids are being challenged.

The Lake Forest Schools have good leadership. Our superintendent, Dr. VanSciver has worked very hard to was scheduled and advertised in which interested community members could volunteer their time to make calls. Teachers participated as interested community members. It certainly would have been inappropriate to not allow their voluntary participation. It is my pleasure to report that participation in that effort on the part of community members was very high.

This referendum, by design, was low budget. No advertisements, no brochures, no travel expenses. Our approach was to meet face-to-face with our community, make explanations and answer questions. That is the best way I know to get information out. The only expense incurred was for copying and postage as we felt a need to supply those citizens who were unable to meet with us with the information.

She finally raises the issue of the pizza party which was planned at no expense to the taxpayers. It was announced to be open to any and all who wish to come. Again, we welcome the opportunity to share time with community members in this setting.

I hope this serves to answer any final questions our citizens may have. If not, please do call me at 398-3244.

Finally, this referendum package is critical to the future of Lake Forest School District. I request your support through the casting of two "yes" votes on November 10.

I thank you in advance for your support of our schools.
Sincerely,
James H. VanSciver, Ed. D.

Senatorial Report

by Sen. Ruth Ann Minner
18th Senatorial District

The Senate Corrections Committee last week issued its long-awaited report and recommendations which I hope will lead to legislative actions increasing the security of our prisons and the safety of our citizens.

Recent media reports indicate some measure of the mismanagement of our prison system that are downright scary. The new report pinpoints problems that are downright hair-raising.

Some of the points raised in the Senate report:

---Seven persons have been murdered by supervised custody or work release inmates in the past three years.

---Work release inmates are routinely allowed to consume alcohol before they return to a prison setting after work. The administrators wink at consumption of "a beer or two."

---Inmates on escape status are credited with time served on their prison term while they're at large. If their term expires while they are at large, no effort is made to apprehend them.

---In spite of General Assembly laws prohibiting it, Class A felons and Class B sex offenders were routinely approved for housing outside prison fences or for work release. ---The need to ease prison overcrowding took precedence over the need to protect the public.

Among the recommendations of the Senate Committee are proposals to build guard towers at Delaware Correctional Center, an overhaul of the entire system of deciding which inmates are released on outside programs, more guards on evening and nighttime shifts, and new strict rules and regulations involving work release and supervised custody.

A shiver runs through all communities following a prison escape. Nobody knows where the escapees are headed, how dangerous they are, or what to do besides lock the door. Programs like work release and supervised custody put inmates among the community without the need to escape. Unless greater care is exercised before an inmate is classified to an inmate release program, all citizens are in danger.

It is my desire that the General Assembly, the Governor, and the Commissioner of Corrections work together to implement the key recommendations of the Senate Committee.

I'M 70, Will I lose my SS checks if I go back to work?

ASK MR. BERKO

Dear Mr. Berko: I have been collecting retirement benefits since I was 65. Five years of not working has been boring. I have just started a job as a telemarketer (a fancy name for a telephone salesperson). Will this mean I lose my entire Social Security check? Will it be difficult to reinstate if I quit the job?

---Joe S., Gloucester City, NJ

Dear Joe: Quick arithmetic tells me you are 70 or older. If so, you can earn as much as you are able without any reduction in your SS retirement check.

Dear Mr. Berko: I have a small hardware store that I have given to my son. He pays me a small amount each week. If I retire now, will that amount jeopardize my Social Security retirement benefits?

---Richard W., San Diego, CA

Dear Richard: If the money you receive is earned income, it will affect your SS retirement checks. Earned income is salary, tips or other money earned by working. The money you receive seems to be payment for the business, a profit for your share or a pension. If you have your son (with the advice of his accountant) set up the money you receive as an unearned income, it will not affect your SS benefits. The IRS will consider it wages if they find you are working more than 15 hours a week.

Dear Mr. Berko: Is it better to take my retirement benefits at 62 or to wait until 65?

---Annette B., Bridgewater, MA

Dear Annette: I'll give you the facts and you can make your own decision. If you take benefits at 62, each check for the rest of your life will be 80% of the amount you would have received if you waited until 65 years-of-age. But, of course, you will have received 36 more checks. Quick computation seems to show that at age 80 you will have collected about the same in either case. You must decide if you need money now and are willing to gamble that you will live past 80 and need the 20% larger checks. By the way, it is not necessary to decide only to apply at age 62 or age 65. The percentage of the reduction decreases about 1/2% each month after 62 that you wait to apply.

Dear Mr. Berko: I am covered by Medicare and my doctor told me I need surgery. At my age, 71, I'm leary of being cut open. I'd like a second opinion. Will Medicare pay the doctor I consult?

---May T., Madison Lake, MN

Dear May: Medicare will pay for the second opinion. We suggest you find a doctor that has no connection with the first physician. If possible try to see someone at a teaching hospital that doesn't perform surgery. Medicare has a Second Opinion Referral Center in most areas. They will supply you with some names. Call your local Social Security office for the number.

Mr. Robert L. Berko is editor of the 144 large-page book Consumers Guide to Social Security Benefits including Medicare which explains in easy-to-read language every benefit available for people of every age. Over $200 billion is paid out in Social Security benefits each year and 40% of those collecting are under 30. This valuable book is $5.95 (plus $2 p&h) from ASK MR. BERKO, P.O. Box 336, South Orange, N.J. 07079-0336.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

In last week's edition of The Harrington Journal a letter to the Editor from "Concerned Voices" concerning the building of a new city hall was published.

The idea conveyed is that the "bi-centennial money" is a plumb for us to go forth with a new city hall. This may be true up to a certain extent, but I wish to remind "Concerned Voices" that after over a year and a half the true figure of what it will cost to complete the new building, the grounds, and the cost of maintaining a building of the size which is proposed is still unanswered. Why?

It is obvious that the council has not done its homework, because if they had they would not be putting the cart before the horse, which is what they have done. The public is confused with all of this misinformation and part information, and I believe the council is confused too.

As for the rent which the city is paying Mr. and Mrs. Musser, it only takes common sense to figure out that the City officials, back when they entered into the lease with Mr. and Mrs. Musser, should have applied for a waiver on County taxes on the place they occupy. The council was foolish and unprofessional to have done such a thing, and if the City is paying itself sewer, water, and trash rates then that is crazy. Unless of course, they are doing this just to inflate the so-called rent to the Musser's. It doesn't make sense at all.

If the City is worried about Mr. and Mrs. Musser putting the City out, they should end that speculation by making them an offer to purchase their building which the City is occupying. I am sure they would sell the property to the City for $70,000 give or take some. Under the bi-centennial grant the City would only have to come up with $35,000, which would be a great savings to the citizens of this community. I trust the council is interested in saving the taxpayers money.

Now don't try to tell the public that the lot on Liberty Street is the "only" place available at great savings to the taxpayers. No one is going to believe that.

The council should have dealt fairly with the citizens they serve from the very beginning of this mess. It wasn't until some lawyer told the council they had to have a referendum that they consented to do it. Someone had to tell them that, which means that someone outside this community came to the rescue of the citizens of Harrington. That's a fine thing. Down deep in their heart they don't want to have a referendum. It is like the people have no say.

As far as others locations in the Town, there are many, and don't try to admit that there aren't. As far as paying $14,000 for the land on Liberty St. for the City Hall, I want to remind you that that was taxpayers money, and if it wasn't, whose was it? You did not say that in your letter or even hint at it. No humility I say.

I have written letter before to this newspaper, but I will be like you, I will just sign it "Concerned Voices II", and not something like Marie Thorpe or some other non-entity.

ABOUT CAMDEN
CAMDEN, ONCE CALLED PICCADILLY OR MIFFLIN CROSSROADS situated on part of the Brecknock Tract developed by Daniel Mifflin after 1780. By 1820 Camden was a thriving village with eighteen buildings. The Towns Historic District is a fine example of an early nineteenth century, rural Delaware village and is listed in the National Register of Historic Places.

HISTORIC CAMDEN HOUSES NOT ON WALKING TOUR

EDWARD COLE HOUSE
102 South Main Street. Circa 1780. This was the first house built in Daniel Mifflin's "Piccadilly." This private residence is a 5 bay, 2 1/2 story brick dwelling house. The Ashlar* scored stucco facade is complimented by a boxed cornice with modillion block trim.
*Meaning "square cut" to imitate granite block.

THE WILLIAM ELLISON HOUSE
9 North Main Street. Circa 1884. A 3 bay Victorian frame house with an entrance tower and carved bargeboards. The present owners restorations have made the house very nearly the house William Ellison built. They have put back into service the gas lighting system Mr. Ellison installed before electricity.

THE MIFFLIN HOUSE
North Main Street. Circa 1796. A 5 bay center hall brick structure built in a simplified form of middle Georgian style. The facade features a stone belt course and an arched doorway with a fanlight. The house was built by Daniel Mifflin, founder of Camden. South of his home stood his hotel.

39 SOUTH MAIN STREET
Circa 1810. A 2 story frame house with some "Victorian" modernizations. The house frame is made of hand-hewn oak, pegged together. The current owners are not the only occupants - a ghostly lady has been seen. Sometimes with a young boy and sometimes with a cat.

BRECKNOCK
The original house, is thought to have been built between 1685 and 1690. This colonial house had 2-18th century additions and a third constructed in the 1890's. (Not On The Tour).

Services were 2 p.m. Sunday at the Moore Funeral Home, Denton. Friends called Saturday evening from 7 to 9 at the home.

Thursday night in a bitter cold evening, 2-0. "We gave up both goals in the first half...and we again came close to scoring twice in the first half", said Coach Buck. "Tom Grant had an open goal shot and just hooked it. It was close even then", said Coach Buck.

The wind was very strong, and in the first half the Spartans had the wind in their face. "I thought this might be a factor in our behalf in the second half because we had the wind to our back", said Coach Buck. "We did a good job keeping the ball low in the wind during the first half play...but it was just one of those games where we could not get a break", added Coach Buck.

"We were so confident we would come back and win the game in the second half. We out-played them. We had opportunities, but most of our shots were wide", said Coach Buck. Goalie John Hensley made some real good saves in the goal. "We had four good opportunities for goals in the second half, but we just could not score", said Coach Buck.

This was the last game of the season for the Spartans. It was Parents Night at the Lake Forest Sports Complex, and it was the last game for seniors Kevin Wix, and Jerry Howerin who were co-captains, Andy Gay, Terry Freer and Mark Barter.

"We have a real strong nucleus coming up, and we should improve on our record this year", added Coach Buck. The record was 8-7-1 overall and 3-4-1 in the conference. "I thought we would have a winning season, and there were several games that could have gone our way with a break here or there which we should have gotten" said Coach Buck.

Person-to-Person

The addition on the back of the house

by Rebecca Moore

At least once a week I find myself sitting in someone's home, office, or place of business, asking questions and learning more of their fascinating lifestyle. This is surely a tremendous pleasure, and I hope it never changes, for everyone has a story, everyone has a past.

This past Wednesday, I spent two and one half hours in the Fairfield Farms home of Dr. and Mrs. Howard Priestley. Dr. Priestley has been practicing dentistry in Camden for the last fifteen years. "Oh yuck!" You're probably thinking, "Who in their right mind would want to visit a dentist anymore than what's absolutely necessary?" You're right. Visiting a dentist is something few of us actually enjoy. But this was not a professional visit, and if you continue reading, you'll understand what drew me to the Priestley's home.

Growing old in America is not always an easy process. Medical science is prolonging life, but this is creating some overwhelming problems. Most elderly people are on a fixed income and making ends meet can be difficult, especially with rising costs of housing, food and medications. At some point in their lives, many elderly persons lose their independence and can no longer manage on their own. Who do they turn to? Nursing homes are filled to capacity with waiting lists, and they're expensive. With their busy lifestyles and families of their own, how does the younger generation fit aging parents into their everyday routine? Problems...with no easy solutions.

But the Priestleys found solutions to the problem of aging parents and their story is quite remarkable. Come with me and meet the Priestleys and hear a story of incredible faith and love.

First, let me introduce you to the principal characters of the story:

Mr. Albert Priestley: formerly of New Castle County, Delaware; retired from the propane business; a huge man, full of life and energy, with an enormous sense of humor, and always in complete control of his circumstances; fascinated with travel and intensely in love with his beautiful wife, Gertrude; tremendous faith.

Mrs. Gertrude Priestley: extremely intelligent; meticulous in her appearance and in the maintenance of her home; wife of Albert, mother of Howard, Edith and Everett; tremendous faith.

Dr. Howard Priestley: avid fisherman; inherited his father's size, zest for life and sense of humor, his mother's gentleness; height of professionalism at the office; real human being off the job; tremendous faith.

Mrs. Karen Priestley: petite redhead; hubby's right hand man in many ways, including his receptionist; brilliant smile; compassionate; mother of Melinda, Heather and Kent; tremendous faith.

Melinda, Heather, Kent: children of Dr. and Mrs. Priestley; grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Priestley; Melinda is married and teaches special education in Kentucky while her husband attends Asbury Theological Seminary; Heather is a recent graduate of the University of Delaware, presently working at All Seasons Nursery in Dover; Kent is a student at the University of Delaware, majoring in art history.

Although they are not human beings, the last two are definitely principal characters in this story.

Alzheimer's disease: an irreversible disease involving the loss of memory and the deterioration of mental capabilities. The disease becomes progressively worse and may take a few months or many years to complete its destructive course.

Amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS): Lou Gehrig's disease—a degeneration of the motor neurons of the spinal cord.

Symptoms begin in the extremities and gradually work in towards the center of the body, eventually affecting the heart and lungs and bringing about death.

Like so many couples following their retirement, Mr. and Mrs. Priestley succumbed to the temptation of the lush, green world of Florida. The pace of life was slower there, snow never fell from the sky and cold temperatures rarely visited. Life was good. But it was also in Florida that changes began to take place. Mrs. Priestley began to experience loss of memory and disorientation. At first, this was attributed to old age, but it soon became too noticeable to ignore. Visits to the doctor provided a disturbing diagnosis—Alzheimer's disease. Feeling the necessity of being close to family, the Priestleys returned to Delaware and located themselves close to Dr. and Mrs. Priestley.

The progress of Mrs. Priestley's disease was slow. In 1980, they decided to take a trip they had wanted to take for many years. They bought a new car and headed west. All the way across the United States they went, then boarded a steamer on the Pacific coast and sailed to Alaska. While in Ketchikan, Mrs. Priestley fell and broke her hip. Life was never the same. With no hotels in town, Mr. Priestley spent the next month living on a boat belonging to a doctor, while Mrs. Priestley tried to recover from her accident. But the Alzheimer's just in that short time, was getting a tighter grip.

Leaving their new car in Alaska, the Priestleys returned to Delaware by plane. Life became a constant struggle. Not only was Mrs. Priestley losing her long-term memory, but also her short-term memory, and could not remember even the simplest of things. She had to be watched 24 hours a day, because she had a tendency to wander. Taking her out in public was particularly difficult, as she could so easily break away from Mr. Priestley and get lost. When this occurred, Dr. and Mrs. Priestley would be called at the office, the office would be closed down and they would join in the search. Always, there was the fear for her safety, for her very life. Always, there was the constant watching. Always, there was the fear of what was going to happen next, of what capability she would lose next. Imagine watching the woman you love become increasingly childlike, dependent, and finally, completely unable to even recognize you.

In June of 1982, Mrs. Priestley became so completely debilitated, she was placed in a nursing home, Courtland Manor in Dover provided round-the-clock care for her, in addition to giving the entire Priestley family the emotional support they so desperately needed. Recalling the day his mother was taken to Courtland Manor, Dr. Priestley said, "We got her situated there, then I went out to the car and just cried." Was it possible for life to get any harder?

Mr. Priestley's devotion to his wife continued after her admission to Courtland Manor. His visits were frequent, and the staff members were so impressed by his love and patience with her. "He was one of the nicest people I've ever met," the former director of nursing told me. But in June of 1983, Mr. Priestley began to have problems of his own. His right hand became weak for no apparent reason. Being right-handed, the gradually increasing problem required immediate attention. In addition to this, he was also being treated for diabetes. One morning, Mr. Priestley stopped in to visit his son and daughter-in-law. "Well, I've been to the doctor," he told them, "and I've got some good news and some bad news. The good news is that my diabetes is under control. The bad news is that I've got Lou Gehrig's disease. But that's OK." This initial diagnosis was confirmed at Johns Hopkins Hospital over in Baltimore. If you think that this got in Mr. Priestley's way, you're quite wrong. This incredible man, in his late seventies, just learned to improvise a little bit. Bowling became left-handed. Driving had its problems, but that's where grandson, Kent came in real handy. Turning the ignition and changing the gears on the steering column had to be done by the right hand, so Kent merely performed these tasks for him. The bowling, the fishing trips, the visits to Mrs. Priestley—life continued with few changes.

One major change was made—Mr. Priestley's place of residence. When his diagnosis was confirmed that January, the Priestley's began making plans and within a short time, there was a new addition on the back of the house. The addition faced the east where the sun came pouring in every morning, and had a sitting room, a bedroom and a bathroom. This became Mr. Priestley's new home.

The next thirteen months generated much sadness over Mr. Priestley's illness, but much happiness just over his being there. It seemed that each day brought about some change in his condition, and his deterioration was rapid. But the family was always there with him, helping and caring. Kent spent hours with his grandfather and their relationship grew stronger with each passing day. The family's ingenuity was exercised in many ways—like replacing shirt buttons with Velcro when Mr. Priestley's hands refused to cooperate any longer, and providing special utensils so he could continue to feed himself.

During this time, Mr. Priestley was determined to continue his visits with his wife, in spite of the fact that she rarely recognized him and his condition made his visits very difficult. The disease was so progressive in Mr. Priestley that "every day he was worse," Mrs. Priestley told me. Sleeping was never easy because of the continual pressure facing them. One day, Mr. Priestley was able to go out to lunch with Edith, but on their return home, he fell outside. No one else was home, so Edith immediately called Dr. Priestley's office. Racing home, it was all Dr. Priestley could do to get him up and into the house. Even with all the problems, the family was determined to keep Mr. Priestley at home as long as possible.

But in March of 1985, this was no longer possible. Even with Hospice, physical therapists and visiting nurses, Mr. Priestley's care became too involved for this devoted family to handle. Courtland Manor was glad to take him as a patient, and it was there that Mr. Priestley spent his last two weeks of life. Regardless of his physical limitations and her mental limitations, they were together until he left this earth. Mrs. Priestley joined him thirteen months later in April of 1986. Now they are together for eternity with new bodies and minds which will never again hurt or grow old.

Sitting in the addition on the back of the house last Wednesday as the sun poured through east windows, I ran the full gamut of emotions. I laughed at the stories of Mr. Priestley's sense of humor, and I cried as these two incredible people shared their story. All about me were pleasantries—the comfortable furnishings, the stenciled walls—there was no sadness or regrets. Throughout the many years of difficulty, it was an intense faith in God that continually sustained the Priestleys. "I don't know how people make it through situations like this when they have no faith in God," Mrs. Priestley told me.

The Priestley family is an incredible family. In the midst of double-barreled difficulties, they not only survived, but actually rejoiced! Their faith made it possible to see good in the most adverse circumstances. Their story has been a lesson to me and I hope to you, too.

Spartans kick their way to win over Seaford

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

Greg Reed, Scott Tally, and Joe Maull got a goal each and an assist in the game with Seaford won by Lake Forest 3-1. Doug Wood got an assist.

Joe Maull got the Spartans on the scoreboard first when Doug Wood hit one from mid-field. Maull got the ball and drove it home. Seaford tied it before the end of the first half.

There was no scoring in the second half, and the game went into overtime.

Scott Tally and Greg Reed scored in the overtime with Scott getting the winning goal.

"We had 38 shots on goal and their goalie had 20 saves", said Coach Dave Buck. "We hit the cross bar twice...which could have easily gone in for us as staying out", added Coach Buck.

Spartan goalie, John Hensley, had 8 saves.

POSTAL EXAM

ALL POST OFFICES IN THE 197 & 199 Zip Code Areas with Rural Carrier positions will be accepting applications for the Rural Carrier exam November 9 thru December 4.

The starting salary varies depending on the size of the route carried and can go as high as $31,000 per year plus excellent benefits. When positions become available the individuals with the highest scores are hired. You should not miss your chance to fill one of these highly desirable and competitive positions.

STUDY GUIDE by POSTAL EXAM PREPARATION CENTER

The study guide by P.E.P.C. was researched and written by the foremost authority in America on how to gain employment with the Postal Service. The author, Mr. Stephen McNally, has the following qualifications:

- 1) former postal employee
 - 2) currently a Ph. D candidate in education
 - 3) averaged 96 on two of the strictly scored Rural Carrier exams
- Mr. McNally, who averaged 100% on 7 out of 7 of the various Postal exams stated, "The Rural Carrier exam is by far the most difficult of the 5 exams commonly offered to the general public." For this reason, proper preparation is essential to obtaining one's maximum score.

You may purchase this study guide for $15.00 (1st class postage and handling included.) (indicate Rural Carrier on your order)
