ELECTRIFICATION MEETINGS TO BE HELD NEXT WEEK

Those farm families in Kent and Sussex counties who are now receiving electric service from the rural electrification project, as well as those who are located in areas which have been surveyed for the construction of power lines, will be interested to know that a series of community educational meetings will be held next week for the purpose of discussing the wiring and lighting of homes and farm buildings.

Meetings in Sussex county will be held at Millsboro on Tuesday evening, July 11, and at Milton on Wednesday evening, July 12, at 7:30 o'clock. In Kent county a meeting will be held in Canterbury community hall on Thursday evening, July 13, and in the public school building in Hartly on Friday evening, July 14th, at the same hour. These meetings will be conducted by Walter P. Cooper, utility representative, and Mrs. Elva Bohannon, home electrification specialist, from the Washington office of the Rural Electrification Administration.

Cooperation in planning these educational meetings in Kent county is being extended by Miss Hazel H. Darrell, county home demonstration agent, and Russell E. Wilson, county agricultural agent, and a special invitation is being given to 4-H club members to attend and hear these important subjects discussed.

In addition to a discussion relative to the proper methods of wiring houses and other buildings on the farm for adequate electric service and protection, other subjects including water systems and the use of electrical equipment and appliances in the home and on the farm will be discussed by these rural electrification specialists. New lines are now under construction in Sussex county southeast of Laurel, and within the next two weeks construction will start in Kent county in those areas which have completed their surveys and in which right-of-ways have been secured for setting the poles. For those farm families who are not in a position financially to have their homes and farm buildings wired for electricity in this project, a cooperative finance plan will be available through the Rural Electrification Administration, according to a recent announcement by the federal government.

DEATH DODGERS TO BE AT LOCAL FAIR MONDAY, 24TH

Two hours of thrill-packed entertainment, featuring the greatest aggregation of humans ever assembled, will be in order when Jimmie Lynch's Death Dodgers offer their unusual feats of skill and daring with stock automobiles at the Kent and Sussex Fair on Monday night July 24th, it was announced by Secretary Ernest Raughley.

More than half a score of daring young men have been trained under the personal supervision of Jimmie Lynch on his famous speed oval at the New York World's Fair in the art of handling stock automobiles in a series of amazing maneuvers. These dare-devils are prepared to offer the ultimate in automotive thrillers, stunts that will include the shattering of huge blazing barriers, a leap far over a two-ton truck and a deliberate crash roll of a stock sedan in addition to a series of intricate exhibitions of daring driving skill.

Lynch has gained an international reputation as a thrill driver and his ability to impart his knowledge to others was recognized when he was selected to stage the automobile thrillers at the New York World's Fair. He and his agents combed the nation for young men with the courage and skill necessary for such hazardous work, and from a field of more than 400 candidates selected a group he feels certain will provide thrill seekers at the Kent and Sussex Fair a real two-hour circus of death.

Throughout the long winter months Lynch taught these youngsters the proper method of handling the machine while it is racing along on two wheels at 60 miles an hour, the lower running board digging into the dirt each time it is tilted from a series of three high ramps. He showed these young men how to control an automobile soaring through the air like a gigantic bird for more than 100 feet; he taught them how to protect themselves while performing his sensational snap roll, twisting the car end over end and side over side down the track, and he drilled them in completely demolishing stock sedans in head-on collisions, automobile battle-royals, Roman ski jumping and other breath-taking feats that will complete this program.

The Death Dodgers have been engaged for the majority of the leading state, sectional and county fairs in the United States and Canada, and everywhere arrangements are being made to handle record breaking throngs for this internationally famous organization.

EARLY APPLES STARTING TO MOVE TO MARKET NOW

Early apples in Delaware started to go to market last week and shipments have been increasing steadily ever since. The high peak of the shipments are expected to come during the latter part of this week.

According to records in the office of J. Leonard Soper, director of the Bureau of Markets, a total of 8,794 bushels of transparent and early ripe were shipped out of this State during the last week in June.

Shipments during the present week will greatly exceed this number according to reports already received. As has been the custom in recent years, most of the apples are being shipped by trucks.

Thus far the bulk of the Kent county shipments have been from Wyoming and Woodside, where the Bureau of Markets maintains inspection operations, although inspectors are also available for use at the packing house of the large growers.

Reports reaching Mr. Soper's office indicate that the apples, which have been shipped according to inspection are in great demand. These reports also indicate that the crop of early apples this year is very good as to quality and size, in some instances the crop being reported as being high above the average.

Following the shipping of transparent and early ripe, there will be a lull in the apple shipments until the Williams Early Red start being marketed.

KENT COUNTY TO WAR ON JAPANESE BEETLES

With war talk all over the world, a local war is starting this week in upper Kent County and lower New Castle County against a hoard of foreign invaders—the Japanese beetles.

While much has been heard in this area during the past years about the Japanese beetle, it has not been present in sufficient numbers until this year to cause much damage but, according to John M. Amos, Assistant Extension Entomologist at the University of Delaware, the beetle has been progressing steadily southward and this year noticeable damage may be extended as far south in Delaware as Smyrna.

"The Japanese," Amos said, "feeds on a large number of plants. It has a marked preference for the fruit and foliage of apple, peach, plum, quince, raspberry and blueberry and the foliage of grapes. Among the shade trees, it is especially fond of linden, chestnut, horse chestnut and elm."

The beetle is also likely to injure such ornamentals as flowering cherry, flowering quince, flowering peach, spirea, hawthorne, shrub-althea, rose, hollyhock, dahlia, zinnia, hibiscus, Virginia creeper. In the vegetable garden, it has a marked preference for the silk of corn and feeds on the foliage of beans.

The Entomology Department at the University of Delaware has issued an instruction sheet listing four spray combinations which may be used to decrease the damage which may be caused by the beetles. These sprays according to Amos, should be applied as soon as possible after the beetles appear and before they become established on the plants a second application should be made seven to ten days after the first and the third application should be made just before the height of the beetle season. These optional spray combinations are as follows:

1. Hydrated lime, 20 pounds, aluminum sulphate, 3 pounds.

2. Lead arsenate, 6 pounds, wheat flour, 4 pounds, or fish oil, 1 1/2 pints.

3. Derris (4 per cent Rotenone), 4 pounds, Rosin Residue Emulsion, 4 pounds.

4. DuPont Japanese Beetle Spray 5 pounds, Rosin Residue Emulsion, 1 pint.

Amos said that the beetle season started last week and that the beetle population can be expected to increase until the middle of July when the peak of the beetle emergence will be here. After that time they will gradually subside until late in August when they will practically disappear.

The sprays recommended by the Delaware Extension Service act as repellents rather than poisoning the beetles. Amos urged the fruit growers, particularly in the new area of the heavy infestation, to apply the sprays as directed in the information sheet in order to reduce damage which otherwise will occur this year.

These information sheets will be sent without cost to those requesting them from the University of Delaware Entomology Department, Newark, Del.

KENT COUNTY TAX BILLS NOW BEING PREPARED

The clerical staff in the office of Receiver of Taxes and County Treasurer Enoch H. Johnson is now busily engaged in preparing the tax bills for the 1939 county and district school taxes.

It was stated at the office this week that the first taxbills would be placed in the mailbox Monday and that more bills would be sent out each day until all of the districts in the county have been covered.

Mr. Johnson plans to start his visits to the various parts of the county next week. During these visits he will go into every section of the county for the purpose of receiving tax money.

The 1939 taxes, both county and school, are now due and payable. Under the laws governing tax collections, a penalty will be added to the taxes that are not paid before the end of September.

Mr. Johnson was elected to his present office at the general election last fall but did not enter upon the duties of the office until after June first.

MILFORD FARMER HURT WHEN HORSES BOLT

Walter Yearsley who lives on the Clde Knotts farm near Milford is recovering from injuries suffered while harvesting wheat.

His horses bolted and ran away while hitched to a binder and threw Yearsley off the seat. In an attempt to stop the horses, he was thrown on the cutting bar and suffered severe cuts on both legs.

Cordrey Minner, his helper, leaped on the binder and pulled Yearsley away from the knives. The injured man was treated at Milford Memorial Hospital.

PRICES OF CUCUMBERS BOON TO FARMERS

Encouraging to farmers in this vicinity is the price of cucumbers, averaging $2.50 per bushel at the Laurel auction block Friday and Saturday, on Saturday fancy bushels went as high as $3.20, though to be a record top price for cucumbers. The high price was due to the heavy demand, with only a small supply.

Squashes over the week-end brought about 40 cents per bushel and the huckleberries sold for five

OBLIGING

The woman in the top-floor flat signaled for a sack of coal, and the coalman toiled laboriously up many flights of stairs with his burden. "Since you are going down empty," she said, "perhaps you would take down my dustbin," a suggestion to which the coalman gave an unwilling assent. "And there's a big box here full of rubbish, too. Perhaps you wouldn't mind—" "Not at all, missus," intervened the coalman. "I was wonderin', too, if you had a brush with a long handle which I could tie to my waist, and I'd brush your stairs for you as well on my way down."

Proof Positive

To the surprise of the magistrates, and especially of the official concerned, the prisoner in the dock called the police superintendent as his witness as to character. "But I don't even know the man," complained the "super" indignantly. "And that," returned the prisoner, smiling at the Bench, "is my proof of respectability. I've lived in this 'one-horse' town for five years and the police don't even know me."

GEOGRAPHY LESSON

Teacher—Now, Johnny, since you do nothing with Japan, what do you make of China? Pupil—Dishes, ma'am.

Too Bad!

"This is the fourth morning you've overslept, Susan," said the mistress. "Where is the clock I gave you?" "In my room, ma'am." "Don't you wind it up?" "Yes, ma'am, I wind it up." "And do you set the alarm?" "Oh, yes, ma'am!" "And don't you hear the alarm in the morning?" "No, ma'am. You see, the thing always goes off while I'm asleep."

Poor Crop of Oats

"Do you know," said the young student of the agricultural college to an old farmer, "your methods of cultivation are 100 years behind the times? Why," he went on, looking around him, "I'd be surprised if you made $50 out of the oats in that field." "So would I," said the farmer, "seem' as how it's barley."

Wanted to Make Sure

First Hunter—Oh, Bill! Yoo hoo, Bill! Second Hunter—What do you want? First Hunter—Are you all right? Second Hunter—Sure! First Hunter—Then I just shot a bear.

In a Restaurant

She—I think it is a shame the poor cattle must die to give us this steak. He—Yes, it is tough.

WANTED, AN INTRODUCTION

"So you've fully decided to marry old Vanderrocks?" "Yes. All I'm waiting for now is an introduction to him."

Spilled Milk

Jimmy—Boo-hoo, I spilled the ink. Uncle—Never mind, don't you know you shouldn't cry over spilled milk? Jimmy—If it was milk I could lick it up, but this is ink and it's me who will get licked.

Two of a Kind

Sophomore—Why is a crack in a chair like a traffic policeman? Freshman—I give up. Why? Sophomore—Because they'll both pinch you if you don't park right.

Forgetful Grammy

Old Man—What is the matter, little boy? Are you lost? Little Boy—Yes, I am. I might have known better than to come out with grandma. She's always losing something.

—But the Wrong Pew

John—I just congratulated Dr. Smiley on marrying one of his patients, and he seemed rather angry. Mary—That isn't Dr. Smiley, silly. That's Dr. French, the lunacy expert.

Other Side Up

Minister—I suppose you have learned the difference between right and wrong at your mother's knee. Little Willie—No, sir, it was across my father's knee.

★ Ingenious Quiz Program
By Virginia Vale

IT BEGINS to look as if those girls who made "Four Daughters" what it was (with the aid of John Garfield), have a life-time job. They appear again in the new "Daughters Courageous" with him, and will shortly make "Four Wives." The studio had intended to have them do "Four Mothers" as the next of the series, but now the wives will come first. Of course, they could go on forever, becoming grandmothers, widows, and then possibly "Four Second Wives." Just see what you, the public, started when you acclaimed the three Lane sisters and Gale Page in that first picture!

In case you're interested in that picture Samuel Goldwyn has been making, bringing Jascha Heifetz to the screen, the title has been changed again. "Music School" has been abandoned in favor of "They Shall Have Music," which is going to be a bit harder on the men who fit the names of pictures into theater marquees.

When you see Brian Aherne in "Juarez"—if you haven't already seen him—you might pretend that you're a movie mogul and study his performance with the idea of offering him the role of "Christopher Columbus" in the movie version of that famous Italian's life. That's what Edward Small did.

On second thought, maybe you'd better not bother. For it would be a shame to do anything that would take your mind off the grand picture that Aherne, Paul Muni and Bette Davis made together. "Juarez" deserves all your attention.

For a long time it seemed likely that Rudy Vallee would be remembered as the man who started the "crooner" wave that swept over the country. Now it seems far more likely that he'll be famous as the fellow who discovered and developed more celebrities than anybody else.

Tommy Riggs, Edgar Bergen, Bob Burns—they're just three out of a list of more than one hundred radio celebrities who owe their fame to the chance that he gave them.

Those quiz programs, in one form or another, seem likely to go on forever, which is bad news for all the singers whom they have crowded off the airways.

One of the newest and most ingenious is that presided over by the two writers of mystery stories who sign their output "Ellery Queen." It's known as "The Adventures of Ellery Queen." Each week a mystery story is dramatized, with Mr. Queen and four guest detectives listening. As soon as Queen knows who the murderer is he stops the play, and each guest is asked to give his solution of the mystery. Then the dramatization is resumed and the author's solution given. It's lots of fun to follow from your own arm chair.

One of the radio singers for whom quiz programs hold no threats is Felix Knight, who's just had another renewal of his contract on that half-hour preceding the Vallee show. He appeared on it for one guest appearance, something like 84 weeks ago, and has been a regular ever since.

Lum and Abner are going back to their old home in Arkansas this summer, partly for a vacation, partly to make sure that they haven't lost their accents (as if they could!) and the home folks are beginning now to prepare a proper celebration.

ODDS AND ENDS—"Tarzan Finds a Son," with little Johnny Sheffield as the fellow who discovered and developed more celebrities than anybody else. "The Birth of a Nation," who plays "Tarzan's" mate, was celebrating the birth of her first baby. Metro has once more temporarily postponed filming "It Can't Happen Here." Now it's Benjamin Franklin whose life is to be screened. Joan Blondell gives her usual expert performance in "Good Girls Go to Paris, Too." Whatever you do, don't miss Jack Benny and his valet, Rochester, in "Man About Town." (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Glass Rolled Like a Rug Newest improvement in the popular laminated safety glass is to incorporate, into its bonding layers, material which has rubberlike characteristics. Thus glass can be rolled up like a rug and molded into a variety of shapes.

Tuna Liver Oil Rich in Vitamins Tuna liver oil has almost 50,000 times the vitamin D content of butter and two million times that of milk, according to chemists of the bureau of fisheries.

HOW TO SEW

by Ruth Wyeth Spears

Oilecloth Folders for Your Cooking Booklets.

EVERY efficient kitchen has a book shelf. The paper back booklets that all homemakers love to collect may be placed in bright oil cloth folders so that they will make a brave show along with the bound cook books.

The prettiest folders of this sort that I have seen were made in green and yellow to match the kitchen color scheme. The diagrams given here show exactly how they were made. It is generally best to sort the booklets according to subjects rather than size.

The folders are stiffened with cardboard so they hold booklets of different sizes neatly. The cardboard should be cut the size of the largest booklet in the group. The fabric side of both pieces of oilecloth should be entirely covered with paste to make it stick smoothly to the cardboard. Letter or write the general subject of the booklets on a label and paste it on the back. Place the folder flat under something heavy until it is dry.

NOTE: Book 1—SEWING, for the Home Decorator, and No. 2, Gifts, Novelties, and Embroideries, are now 15 cents each, or both books for 25 cents. Readers who have not secured their copies of these two books should send in their orders at once, as no more copies will be available when the present stock is sold. Your choice of the QUILT LEAFLET illustrating 36 authentic patchwork stitches; or the RAG RUG LEAFLET, will be included with orders for both books for the present, but the offer may be withdrawn at any time. Leaflets are 6 cents each when ordered without books. Everyone should have copies of these two books containing 96 HOW TO SEW articles by Mrs. Spears, that have not appeared in the paper. Send your order at once to Mrs. Spears, 210 S. Desplaines St., Chicago, Ill.

'America,' Largest U. S. Boat, Is Launched at Newport News

JULY 15 is the proudest day in American maritime history. On that day the 'America,' new flagship for the United States lines and largest liner to be built in this country, slides down the ways at Newport News.

Above: Blading the low pressure turbines. Some 15,000 of these delicate metal blades are required for the turbine casing shown here, arranged in semi-circular parallel rows.

Finally, the christening and launching of the finished vessel. Scheduled to enter service next spring, the 'America' is 723 feet long, 93 feet in the beam and 75 feet deep from the promenade deck.

Nova Scotia in Old Scotia When in Edinburgh visitors are surprised to learn that the Esplanade in front of the castle is legally Nova Scotia, having been so made three centuries ago so that newly appointed barons of Nova Scotia might take possession of their lands without crossing the ocean.

CLEAN UP YOUR OWN FRONT YARD FIRST
(From the Rotarian Magazine)

"The only way in which we can ever hope to bring about a happier state of human affairs is by doing so first of all within our own backyards," Hendrik Willem van Loon, genial philosopher-historian, cautions would-be reformers in the current Rotarian Magazine.

"Our present world is nothing to be proud of," he admits, "and is sadly in need of a complete overhauling." But how best to change this gloomy picture?

In answering this question, Van Loon asks that he not be suspected of any undue optimism. "Both by nature and by training," he explains, "I am rather a follower of the doctrine which holds out mighty small hope for the future of the human race. But if I am entirely honest with myself, then I must confess that, given just one per cent of one per cent of a chance, the average man is not quite so bad as we sometime depict him in all his sorrowful cussedness and greed. And I have discovered that on the whole he will function best of all if we appeal to his sense of duty as a good neighbor, rather than if we go after him with Acts of Congress or orders issued by the board of selectmen.

"These are necessary, too, for the more serious aspects of life, and Heaven forbid that we should try (for the next few million years at least) to do without the policemen on the beat. But for all ordinary, everyday efforts to make our world a little pleasanter and a little more livable, I would on the whole prefer to rely upon individual action rather than upon any sort of mass action.

"If," he continues, "you want to reduce the particular point of view in which I see some hope to a short and elegant sentence which might well become a world-wide slogan, suppose I give it to you:

"If each one of us will take care of his own particular front yard, then we shall have a pleasant village in which to live, and a world of pleasant villages would, I think, be a pretty decent one for most everybody."

ONLY 3 OF 100 SEE THEMSELVES AS OTHERS DO
(From the Rotarian Magazine)

Only three out of 100 persons see themselves as others see them in business. Eighty-two rate themselves higher than their friends rate them; 15 rate themselves lower. So says William Moulton Marston in the current Rotarian Magazine, reporting on a survey in which he asked more than 10,000 people to score themselves on qualities which personnel experts deem essential for success in business.

"The tendency of the average person is, naturally, to think more highly of himself than anybody else does," the psychologist writes, "and, consequently, to follow his own dictates rather than those of his superior. "But," he adds, "until the ambitious worker learns somehow or other to evaluate himself through the mind of his shier, he is likely to be more boisterous than those of his superior. "But," he adds, "until the ambitious worker learns somehow or other to evaluate himself through the mind of his shier, he is likely to be more boisterous than those of his superior."

"A successful business career," according to Marston, "boils down to this: the worker must master his own job thoroughly in such a way as to please his business superiors. He must compete aggressively and courageously with his rivals, but at the same time he must cooperate with them to turn out a maximum group product. "To keep from landing in jail, or at least from being fired," he continues, "an ambitious worker must develop his social control traits before turning loose his self-seeking drive. Submission to superiors is and always will be the first business trait which everyone must acquire. Submission by no means implies servility, a boot-licking attitude, or a 'yer-man' technique, but it does mean the ability to understand the boss's point of view and the willingness to be governed by it."

The average person, he believes, is unable to understand other peoples' opinions of him because of a "deep-seated determination to assert himself over others and never permit them to exert control over you. In short, there exists a widespread delusion that success is attained by leading others; never by following somebody else. The truth is quite otherwise. The world needs many more followers than leaders and, consequently, yields its rewards more readily to those who know how to take orders. Moreover, willingness and ability to follow furnish one of the best possible and most practical preparations for future leadership—but the average individual, unfortunately, refuses to be led, and therefore never gets an opportunity to lead."

- HYDRAULIC BRAKES—Smooth, fast, easy-acting. Built to strict Ford standards of safety.
- TRIPLE-CUSHIONED COMFORT—Softer seats, flexible springs, four big hydraulic shock absorbers.
- SCIENTIFIC SOUNDPROOFING—Noises hushed, vibration reduced by careful research.

THERE are good reasons why so many folks are talking about the 1939 Ford V-8!

One obvious reason is the fact that it provides so much car for so little money. Actually, it costs less than a Ford car of the same size and power sold for last year! And its low price includes many items of desirable equipment.

The Ford V-8 has all the room and all the basic features of the De Luxe Ford. Some of them are listed at the left!

But riding is better than reading. Out on the road, you'll soon understand America's enthusiasm for the car that is big in everything but price!

"MAIDEN EFFORT"

SAMUEL HOPKINS ADAMS, the man who wrote this hit parade of popular fiction, scores again with "Maiden Effort," a story with all the appeal of its tremendously successful predecessors.

If you haven't read the earlier books by Samuel Hopkins Adams, you almost certainly saw the motion picture version of "It Happened One Night." The most popular photoplay of recent years, it introduced to millions of Americans the inimitable humor of its author.

"Maiden Effort" has the same originality of plot and sparkles with the sprightly dialog that delighted you in "It Happened One Night." Not to read it would be to miss one of the year's best treats in the field of light fiction.

State Gets $300,000 From Races

The third annual race meet at Delaware Park which closed Tuesday is expected to net the State through taxation an unofficial total of approximately $300,000 or about the same as last year. The State's share of the total amount wagered which has been estimated at $8,634,577, is unofficially set at $259,037.31 and its share from admissions is estimated at $29,000. This does not include however, the taxes on passes which is expected to raise the total income for the State to about $300,000. The average daily paid admittance was estimated at 4,800.

GEORGETOWN YOUTHS HELD FOR CAR THEFT

Martin B. Graham and Lester Hitchens, Georgetown youths, were arrested near Harrisburg, Pa., Tuesday on a charge of stealing a 1938 Dodge sedan from H. J. Conaway & Son early that morning, waived extradition and were returned to Georgetown Wednesday afternoon in custody of Highway officers Harry A. Pusey and Russell D. Jones. They were lodged in the Sussex County jail. A card case allegedly belonging to Graham, containing his photograph, driver's license and name cards, found on the used car parking lot near the place where the sedan had been parked led to a search for the two youths.

License plates from another car belonging to Hall Reed of Milton, which was parked behind the Conaway store had been wired on the stolen sedan. A broadcast of these clues led to the apprehension of the boys in the Pennsylvania town.

When questioned, Graham is alleged to have told the Pennsylvania officials the whole story, which was reduced to writing. Hitchens, it is said, refused to talk.

The young men are expected to be given a hearing this week. It is understood several charges will be preferred against the pair.

INLET IDEAL BASE FOR DEEP SEA FISHING

Many Delaware anglers believe the combination of facilities at Indian River Inlet and bay, now being improved by the U. S. Engineering Corps by construction of the jetties and deepening of the channel to Indian River Bay, will furnish an ideal base for deep-sea fishing cruisers of the type which travel from 20 to 35 miles out in the ocean to the gulf stream. It has long been maintained by many that the best marlin fishing, which has enhanced the reputation of Ocean City, Md., as a fishing center, is done north of Ocean City, at points opposite the Delaware shore line.

THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA An Independent Nation

Thanks to a strong Constitution, the tiny republic born July 4th, 1776, has grown to a strong, if somewhat difficult maturity.

We in the United States today still enjoy liberty, security, and independence in far greater measure than are given to the people of any other nation—in spite of the insidious attacks of those, within and without, who would take from us the freedom won through the bloody sacrifice of our forefathers.

July 4th, therefore, should be a day of inspiration and renewed determination for you and for every American citizen who is striving for personal security and independence.

CHEVROLET
World's Largest Builder of Cars and Trucks

The world knows Chevrolet passenger cars and trucks are first in value, and that's why the world has placed them first in sales!

Important to every motor car buyer is the fact that Chevrolet, first in passenger car sales, is also first in motor truck sales, because truck buyers select the trucks that pay the greatest returns.

The same qualities that distinguish Chevrolet trucks exist in equal degree in Chevrolet passenger cars. You may choose your Chevrolet solely for its beauty, comfort, or performance—but you will get in addition that all-important extra value.

BALANCE

In Bank Management

DEPOSITORS RIGHTLY EXPECT THEIR BANK TO BE CONSERVATIVE, FOR THE SAKE OF SAFETY. BORROWERS NATURALLY DESIRE LIBERAL POLICIES WHICH WILL ENABLE THEM TO SECURE FUNDS READILY.

MANAGEMENT MUST STRIKE A BALANCE BETWEEN THESE TWO POINTS OF VIEW. THE DEGREE OF SUCCESS IT ACHIEVES WILL DETERMINE THE BANK'S VALUE TO ITS COMMUNITY.

THE MANAGEMENT OF THIS BANK WILL CONTINUE TO CONSIDER THE BEST INTERESTS OF ALL—DEPOSITORS, BORROWERS AND THE COMMUNITY—IN GUIDING OUR SERVICES INTO CHANNELS OF MAXIMUM USEFULNESS.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON

NEW YORK.—Filming of Kipling's "The Light That Failed" on the New Mexico desert, near Santa Fe, was delayed the other day when a sandstorm...

He was the flying partner of Tommy Hitchcock, the polo player, in the Lafayette Escadrille in the World war, and revealed an instinct for showmanship by playing tunes on German tower bells with a machine gun as he zipped around the belfry...

In aviation films, he has employed effectively both his histrionic talents and his training in air acrobatics. His film, "Wings," of 1928, touched off his expanding fame.

He was known at times, around Hollywood, as "Screwball Bill," but has simmered down considerably since he married Dorothy Connon, finding a desert sandstorm only mildly diverting, considering his rough-and-tumble past.

He is, however, as Irish as ever, and his famous serial fight with an unknown Paris antagonist probably will continue. On leave in Paris, he found it necessary to rebuke an offensive stranger by knocking him stiff as a plank.

With Capra, La Cava and Hitchcock, he is achieving a sharp characterization and finished technique, as the movies get into long pants and offer adult entertainment. He grew up in Brookline, Mass., tried to sell chocolates and woolen goods, but didn't, went to the war with an ambulance unit and won the Croix de Guerre.

He is 43, slender, whippy, with a touch of gray in his curly brown hair, and is apt to sock anybody in an argument and then affectionately buy him a drink.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS BY JOSEPH W. LaBINE New Government Lending Plan Will Hit Trouble, Say Experts; Strikes Spending Key for 1940

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

POLITICS: Looking to 1940

A year ago when the President sent his $4,500,000,000 lend-spend message to congress, I said it was like putting a shin plaster on a cancer.

What looks like a shin plaster to North Carolina's Sen. Josiah W. Bailey looks to dubious U. S. business men as a timely reiteration of the politico-economic philosophy President Roosevelt expounded before congress last January 4, namely, that "government investment" in U. S. financial stability should not merely be an emergency stop gap, but a long-range standard policy.

Government agencies would issue extra-budgetary federal-guaranteed securities for financing self-liquidating projects. Special U. S. authorities point out that the new lending plan provides $870,000,000 to be spent next year, with FHA's new lending power ($800,000,000), with the emergency relief appropriation ($1,735,000,000) and record agricultural subsidies ($1,000,000,000) the coming fiscal year will bring expenditures of $4,405,000,000 as a prelude to the campaign and election.

Finance. Fears of orthodox U. S. financiers went unnoticed in the deluge of political comment. Among the fears: It was recalled that even Brain-truster Adolf Berle Jr., assistant secretary of state, recently said such lending methods must eventually lead to government absorption of the country's most productive plants.

Loans to municipalities will be blocked in many cases by local laws and state regulations covering municipal indebtedness. Most large cities, moreover, have already reached their debt limit.

Since the Johnson act forbids new loans to nations already indebted to the U. S., only South America and Scandinavian countries could use the $500,000,000 trade-boosting loan. Financiers fear a loss here, since there is no method to force collection short of war.

Leasing of equipment to railroads would, it is alleged, be an unsatisfactory substitute for the remedial legislation necessary to place U. S. carriers back on their feet. Restoration of rail prosperity is regarded as far preferable.

FRANCE: Lesson When French Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet signed a mutual assistance pact with Turkish Ambassador Suad Davaz, the Italian-German aggression into the eastern Mediterranean seemed effectively stymied. Moreover, for Signor Benito Mussolini it was an object lesson in gentlemanly behavior.

Key is wooed away from the Rome-Berlin axis; (2) Anglo-French wartime control of the strategic Dardanelles makes German invasion of the Balkans less likely; (3) pro-Nazi Bulgaria is isolated; (4) Turkey's big neighbor, Russia, should now be more willing to enter a military agreement with Britain.

Mussolini's object lesson was that Turkey won the strategic Republic of Hatay (Syrian Alexandretta) in return. Though the transfer was probably illegal in League of Nations eyes, under whose mandate France ruled it, Turkey nevertheless gained by negotiation what Italy has been unable to gain by threat.

Stubbhorn Frenchmen still refuse to bow before Mussolini's demands for Suez canal rights, the Addeh Ababeh Djibouti railroad and Italian minority rights in Tunisia.

NAVY: Speed-Up Fiscal year's start July 1 means new funds for new work in most U. S. government departments. Biggest appropriations for the 1939-40 fiscal year cover rearmament, and before July has passed into history the navy will be well under way with three new jobs: Bases. Costing $95,000,000 are 12 plane and submarine bases for which congress has appropriated $31,621,000 to handle the first year's work.

Planes. Effective immediately the "speed-up" policy will be applied to 500 new airships, whose completion during the 1939-40 fiscal year will bring the navy's total to 2,132.

Through previous decrees German agriculture already has assumed reduced rates for electric power. This "electrification" of farms, it is announced, is designed to mitigate the chronic shortage of farm labor and, incidentally, enhance agricultural productivity generally. It is also intended, says the official announcement, to relieve farmers' wives from excess manual labor as the free electrical equipment can also be diverted to domestic and household purposes.

How It Works

ANGLO-U. S. BARTER PACT Most nations are deficient in some natural resources and have too much of others. In wartime, inability to export non-essentials and import essentials would be a military handicap.

COTTON, such as Britain needs for shells like these. It will come from 11,300,000 bales held by the U. S. as security for loans to farmers, thereby relieving pressure on the domestic market.

RUBBER, such as the army would need in wartime for purposes like tires for the above anti-tank gun. Britain will buy the rubber on open market. Each nation will hold the reserves for seven years as war stocks.

AGRICULTURE: Strange Feeling

America's "dust bowl" lies roughly in the Panhandles of Texas and Oklahoma, eastern New Mexico and Colorado, and western Kansas. In 1936, at the drought's depth, some 16,000,000 acres of once-valuable grain and grazing land lost part of its topsoil under ferocious winds that brought no moisture.

Reclamation followed, featured chiefly by conservation of rainfall and "fastening down" of the soil with hardy vegetation. Thousands of square miles were terraced and cultivated in contour furrows that held the moisture and stopped erosion.

As wind-weary farmers began harvesting the summer's crop, they could look back on a prodigious job well done. Whereas 1935 yielded a wheat crop of only 4,000,000 bushels, the dust bowl's elevator men expect from 15,000,000 to 25,000,000 bushels when this season's grain is threshed.

Smiling, likewise, were drought-ridden farmers of northern plains states (Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Wyoming, Montana). Though their land was still quite dry and this year's prospects none too good, they have felt something unusual this summer—rain.

TRANSPORTATION: Pedestrians

"He has been sadly neglected and has had to shift for himself. He has evolved the simple philosophy that his job is to cross the street as best he can. He joins with other pedestrians in mass violation of traffic lights. In rural areas he walks on the pavement, on the wrong side of the road, and wears dark clothing at night."

This said the National Safety Council's Leslie J. Sorenson, in the plight of U. S. pedestrians who in 1938 accounted for three out of every five persons killed in traffic accidents. What made the situation more startling were figures showing two-thirds of pedestrians killed were violating a traffic ordinance or committing an unsafe act.

Suggested cure: Make pedestrians obey stop signals and other traffic regulations just as automobile drivers must do; build sidewalks in the country.

Mixed Reaction Created by Huge Money Lending Program

Some Legislators Shout Halleluiahs, Others Are Bitter in Opposition to What They See as Another Gigantic Flop; Government Credit Menaced!

By WILLIAM BRUCKART WNU Service, National Press Bldg., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON.—President Roosevelt has asked congress for approval of another gigantic money lending program. He wants to put out $3,860,000,000 as a "stimulant to business."

The President is not proposing government spending, as distinguished from government lending. That is important. While it has been shown by the experiences of the last half dozen years that this spending idea is just as successful as trying to pull one's self up by one's boot straps, those who favor the lending program say this method of bringing about recovery has not yet been fully tested.

Arrival of the President's letter at the Capitol created quite a mixed reaction. Some members shouted their halleluiahs of more manna for the spawning ground for votes. Others expressed approval of parts of the gigantic outpouring of cash and objected to other items of the program.

It was recalled that even Brain-truster Adolf Berle Jr., assistant secretary of state, recently said such lending methods must eventually lead to government absorption of the country's most productive plants.

Loans to municipalities will be blocked in many cases by local laws and state regulations covering municipal indebtedness. Most large cities, moreover, have already reached their debt limit.

Since the Johnson act forbids new loans to nations already indebted to the U. S., only South America and Scandinavian countries could use the $500,000,000 trade-boosting loan. Financiers fear a loss here, since there is no method to force collection short of war.

Leasing of equipment to railroads would, it is alleged, be an unsatisfactory substitute for the remedial legislation necessary to place U. S. carriers back on their feet. Restoration of rail prosperity is regarded as far preferable.

FRANCE: Lesson When French Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet signed a mutual assistance pact with Turkish Ambassador Suad Davaz, the Italian-German aggression into the eastern Mediterranean seemed effectively stymied.

Moreover, for Signor Benito Mussolini it was an object lesson in gentlemanly behavior. Results: (1) Turkey is wooed away from the Rome-Berlin axis; (2) Anglo-French wartime control of the strategic Dardanelles makes German invasion of the Balkans less likely; (3) pro-Nazi Bulgaria is isolated; (4) Turkey's big neighbor, Russia, should now be more willing to enter a military agreement with Britain.

Mussolini's object lesson was that Turkey won the strategic Republic of Hatay (Syrian Alexandretta) in return. Though the transfer was probably illegal in League of Nations eyes, under whose mandate France ruled it, Turkey nevertheless gained by negotiation what Italy has been unable to gain by threat.

Stubbhorn Frenchmen still refuse to bow before Mussolini's demands for Suez canal rights, the Addeh Ababeh Djibouti railroad and Italian minority rights in Tunisia.

NAVY: Speed-Up Fiscal year's start July 1 means new funds for new work in most U. S. government departments. Biggest appropriations for the 1939-40 fiscal year cover rearmament, and before July has passed into history the navy will be well under way with three new jobs: Bases. Costing $95,000,000 are 12 plane and submarine bases for which congress has appropriated $31,621,000 to handle the first year's work.

Planes. Effective immediately the "speed-up" policy will be applied to 500 new airships, whose completion during the 1939-40 fiscal year will bring the navy's total to 2,132.

ation, and I think it is equally true in the Roosevelt administration. But I want to go deeper into this problem. There is something more that we ought to think about, and it makes me shudder to talk about the possibilities inherent in moves of this kind by a democracy.

Mr. Roosevelt says that, without a doubt, all of this money that he proposes to lend will be paid back. He said in his message on the subject that there would be no loans approved unless there was assurance that the sums would be repaid. Which is all very well and good. But experience of banking institutions and other lending agencies indicates that a certain per cent of the loans go bad.

Personal Political Element Is the Most Disturbing If we can dismiss the doubt, however, there yet remains the factor, the potentiality of the program that makes me jittery. Frankly, it is the personal political element that disturbs me most.

Let me illustrate. When Senator Norris, of Nebraska, began fighting a number of years ago for what turned out to be the TVA, he and all other sponsors of that socialistic government-owned power project shouted denials all over the place when it was charged they intended to put the government deeper into the field of private business.

What happened? The answer is pretty well known. TVA began competing with private companies wherever it could get in the field against them. Its means of competition were of the rottenest type.

On top of that came the operations of Secretary Ickes, and his public works administration. Mr. Ickes wanted to see more and better publicly owned power plants. He tried, and is still trying, to make power plants grow where power plants never grew before—all from money loaned by the government.

It was Mr. Hoover, too, who sponsored "self-liquidating projects" for which federal cash would be loaned—the idea being that a self-liquidating project would earn enough money to pay off the government loan.

Well, the Hoover administration promoted loans for self-liquidating projects in a big way. As a stimulant of business, the plan was a magnificent flop. The current program, being modeled exactly as Herbert Hoover designed the first one, also will be a glorious flop.

Whether this government lending idea is sponsored by Republicans or Democrats, the result is bound to be the same as far as accomplishing anything toward business revival. By its very nature, government lending creates a doubt in the minds of every one whether they recognize it just that way or not.

Then, give consideration to the fact that the current lending proposal contemplates expanding the original Hoover-initiated program into fields of loaning not hitherto occupied by a government agency. Self-liquidating highways, toll bridges, purchase of railway equipment, construction of more electric lines, to name only a few, are fields where the sloven hand of governmental bureaucracy will retard and handicap private initiative.

Harry Hopkins Reports Rise in Alien Investments in U. S. WASHINGTON.—Foreign investments in United States rose $847,000,000 in 1938 to a total of $7,883,000,000, according to a report made public by Harry L. Hopkins, secretary of commerce.

Of the total, $5,690,000,000 represented long-term investments while $2,193,000,000 represented foreign-owned balances and other short-term banking items. Of the long-term investments, $1,685,000,000 were direct; $2,250,000,000 were common stocks; $425,000,000 preferred stocks; $560,000,000 bonds; $750,000,000 miscellaneous investments.

Lincoln the Only President Ever Under Enemy's Fire While Holding Office of Chief Executive; It Happened at Fort Stevens Just 75 Years Ago

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

SEVENTY-FIVE years ago this month a President of the United States stood on the parapets of a fort and heard the bullets of enemy soldiers whistling about his ears—the only case on record of a Chief Executive having that experience during his term of office. The President was Abraham Lincoln and the scene of his narrow escape from death was Fort Stevens on the outskirts of Washington on July 12, 1864. It came about in this way:

In June of that year Grant began his famous "hammering" campaign against Richmond which drove Lee back upon Petersburg. By the first of July it seemed certain that Petersburg was doomed and when it fell the door to the capital of the Confederacy would be opened.

Realizing that Grant was not to be beaten off by direct assault, Lee decided to make a threatening gesture toward Washington.

He sent Gen. Jubal A. Early and 30,000 picked men to the Shenandoah valley to sweep down upon Washington from the north. Early had reached Martinsburg, W. Va., before Grant became aware of what was taking place. Immediately the Union commander ordered small detachments of cavalry into the valley to harass Early and delay him until he could bring the Sixth Army Corps to the rescue of the capital. Next he ordered Gen. Lew Wallace, who was at Annapolis with 8,000 "hundred-day men" to intercept Early at Frederick.

Sweeping up the Shenandoah, Early crushed a small Union force commanded by Gen. Franz Sigel, swung off to Maryland Heights and bottled up another force led by General Weber. On July 5 he crossed the Potomac and the next day captured both Hagerstown and Frederick. On July 8 he met Wallace's green troops on the banks of the Monocacy and, although he defeated them decisively and scattered them, Wallace partially accomplished his purpose of delaying the invaders for a little while. Then Early began making forced marches. July 10 found him at Rockville and the morning of the eleventh his cavalry reached Silver Spring, on the outskirts of Washington, with the main column close behind.

Washington was protected by 29 forts and 11 batteries on the south; 12 forts in Anacostia; two at Chain Bridge and 19 forts and 23 heavy batteries on the north. All of these fortifications were connected by deep rifle pits and had heavy guns, but Maj. Gen. Horatio G. Wright, commander of the Washington defenses, had fewer than 3,000 men in his garisons. A skeleton regiment of 400 men of the Twenty-fifth New York dismounted cavalry, commanded by Captain Chamberlain, which had just arrived from Baltimore, where it was being remounted and reorganized after being cut to pieces during the fighting in Virginia, filed into the rifle pits. Suddenly they leaped out, and, yelling like demons, charged through the picket line, drove back the Confederate skirmishers and recaptured the stone houses where the Gray sharpshooters were hiding. Acting as though Grant's "Invincible Sixth Corps" were backing them up, instead of a few thousand ineffective troops, they completely fooled the invaders and stopped their advance.

Early hesitated—and let slip his golden opportunity to capture Washington and perhaps end the war. As the forts increased their fire he began to withdraw his troops. A few hours later Grant's veterans of the Wilderness marched into the capital. Washington was saved!

That night there was heavy skirmishing in what is now Rock Creek park and Brightwood with the guns of Fort Stevens and Fort De Russey still roaring defiance at the invaders. During the night Early learned from his spies how he had been fooled and, filled with rage at the thought of his lost opportunity, he resolved to renew the attack despite the arrival of the Union reinforcements.

On the morning of July 12 he again advanced to the attack, after sending his sharpshooters forward to open fire on the defenders of the forts. During the morning President Lincoln arrived on the scene in his carriage, accompanied by Mrs. Lincoln. As General Wright advanced to greet him, the President extended his hand, saying, "General, I am very glad to see you. This looks as though we were going to do something."

"Mr. President," replied the general, pointing toward Fort Stevens, "if you'll just come along down there with me, I'll show you one of the prettiest little fights you could wish to see." Years later, General Wright told of the historic incident thus:

"No sooner were the words out of my mouth than I deeply regretted having uttered them. I fully realized that the President's life was far too valuable to be brought into danger by any careless words of mine. But it was too late. He not only accepted my invitation but insisted upon accompanying me, notwithstanding all I could say to prevent him. He sent his wife back and when I mounted the parapet, there he was beside me, looking out upon the scene with a great deal of interest. The enemy's sharpshooters were firing pretty closely, and I explained to him that the place was entirely too dangerous for him.

"It is not more dangerous for me than it is for you," he replied coolly. "But it is my duty to be here while it is your duty not to expose yourself. Your position requires this, and I particularly request you to remember it."

"Just then a sharpshooter's bullet struck a surgeon who was standing near the President and I became really alarmed for his safety and I have no doubt, a little excited, as I said freely.

"Mr. President, you must really get down from this exposed position. I cannot allow you to remain here longer and if you refuse I shall deem it my duty to have you removed under guard."

"I suppose the absurdity of my threatening to put the President of the United States under arrest amused him, for he smiled, looked at me quizzically and got down behind the parapet, where I provided him with an ammunition box for a seat, but he wouldn't sit still a minute at a time and was constantly stretching up his long form to see what was going on, thereby exposing fully half of himself to danger in spite of all I could do; and thus he continued to bob up and down until the action was over, when he cheered lustily along with the rest and bidding us good night, got into his carriage and rode away home."

Soon afterwards the whole Confederate line moved forward but counter-attacks from Fort De Russey drove the flanks in toward Fort Stevens. Despite the hot fire poured into the Confederates, they advanced to within a short distance of the rifle pits before their lines broke and retreated. Under the cover of darkness, General Early withdrew his forces and crossed over into Virginia at White's Ford into Loudoun county. His retreat was a masterly one and accomplished with such skill that the Union forces were not aware of his withdrawal until he was too far away to be overtaken.

In recent years a reproduction of old Fort Stevens, whose valiant defenders saved the nation's capital 75 years ago, was constructed by CCC workers and today a granite monument marks the spot upon which Lincoln stood as he watched the fighting. A bronze tablet on the monument reproduces the historic scene of July 12, 1864—the only time an American President was under combat fire while in office.

One of General Wright's aides at Fort Stevens was a young captain of the Twentieth Massachusetts Volunteers. At that time he was bearing the scars of three wounds received in action, one of them at the Battle of Antietam which resulted in the writing of a classic in American literature—"The Hunt for My Captain," by Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr., destined to be a justice of the Supreme court of the United States.

Rhode Island troops camped at Brightwood, near Washington, D. C., during the Civil War.

GEN. HORATIO G. WRIGHT

This bronze tablet was executed from a sketch made by James E. Kelly, a famous sculptor and artist of Civil War scenes. Early in 1896 Kelly was in Washington while his model submitted in competition for the proposed equestrian monument of Gen. W. T. Sherman was on display in the war department. At that time Wright, who had been retired from the army was in the capital. Kelly had known Wright while both were living in New York during the seventies and had made a medallion portrait of him.

On January 17, 1896, the artist accompanied the general to the site of Fort Stevens near Brightwood, D. C., and there, under Wright's direction, he sketched the picture of Lincoln standing on the parapet of Fort Stevens, exposed to the fire of General Early's sharpshooters. That picture, signed and dated by Wright, is now in the possession of Dr. George Hope Ryder of New York City, owner of the Kelly collection of Civil War sketches.

Later this sketch was made into a finished drawing which was used for the tablet erected on the spot and dedicated on July 12, 1911. This finished drawing was first reproduced in the United States Army Recruiting News, by whose courtesy it is reproduced with this article.

When Lincoln stood on the parapets of Fort Stevens and watched the fighting, he little realized that a fellow-Kentuckian, who was an old political opponent of his, was watching the battle from the other side. Yet such was the case, for two of Early's divisions were commanded by Maj. Gen. John C. Breckinridge, one of the Democratic candidates whom Lincoln had defeated in the presidential election of 1860.

During the attack on Washington, Early and Breckinridge made their headquarters at Silver Spring in the home of Francis P. Blair, famous as a member of Andrew Jackson's "Kitchen Cabinet" and editor of the Washington Globe, which was established at Jackson's request as the official administration newspaper. Blair and Breckinridge were cousins and before the war Breckinridge had often visited in the Blair mansion at Silver Spring.

GEN. J. C. BRECKINRIDGE

So he saw to it that Early's soldiers did not molest Blair's private correspondence, consisting of letters from Jackson, Henry Clay and other notables, which had been left in the house. He even had Blair's silver plate transferred to another house for safekeeping and sent a note to Blair telling him what he had done. However, the home of Blair's son, Montgomery Blair, postmaster general in Lincoln's cabinet, did not escape so easily. It was burned to the ground by Early's soldiers.

There is an amusing story of how they captured two gamecocks owned by the Washington correspondent of Horace Greeley's New York Tribune. Although gamecocks are not the most toothsome kind of chicken, the Grayjackets are said to have taken unusual delight in killing and eating the two which had been owned by "Old Horace's" representative!

After Early's departure a volume of Lord Byron's poems was found in which a Confederate soldier had written this message to the President: "Near Washington, July 12, 1864. Now, Uncle Abe, you had better be quiet during the balance of your administration. We only came near your town this time to show you what we could do, but in you go in your mad career, we will come again soon, and you had better stand firm under. Yours respectfully, The Worst Rebel You Ever Saw. Fifty-eighth Virginia Infantry."

One of General Wright's aides at Fort Stevens was a young captain of the Twentieth Massachusetts Volunteers. At that time he was bearing the scars of three wounds received in action, one of them at the Battle of Antietam which resulted in the writing of a classic in American literature—"The Hunt for My Captain," by Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr., destined to be a justice of the Supreme court of the United States.

Meals That Are Different

A slice of golden-yellow cheese with a time-mellowed sharpness of flavor is the perfect accompaniment for a piece of rich, juicy, apple pie—but all too often we forget that its usefulness doesn't stop there. There are so many varieties of cheese, and so many uses for each, that meat making with this versatile food is fun.

There are rich, full-flavored cheeses, cheeses with a tempting sharpness of flavor, and delicate, mild cheeses—cheeses to suit every taste, and for every use, from appetizer to dessert.

Because cheese is high in food value and comparatively low in cost, meals built around it are nutritious and economical, too. And if you're feeding a family that won't drink milk, remember that serving cheese is an excellent way of getting more milk into the diet, for most cheese is concentrated whole milk (or milk which has been partially skimmed).

This group of cheese recipes, which I've found temptingly delicious, will help you to plan meals that are different and very good to eat.

Baked Eggs in Ham Nests.
Baked or boiled ham
Eggs
English muffins
American cheese (grated)
Line custard cups with thin slices of baked or boiled ham. Drop a raw egg into each cup, and bake them in a moderate oven, 325 degrees Fahrenheit, 15 to 20 minutes, or until the eggs are done.

Split the muffins, toast them, then sprinkle each half generously with grated cheese. Return to a moderate oven, 325 degrees Fahrenheit, to melt the cheese. Remove the egg and ham nests from the custard cups and place one on each muffin half. Serve immediately.

Hot Cheese Dreams.
(Serves 4-5)
6 slices bread
6 slices American cheese
½ cup chili sauce
6 slices bacon

Remove crusts from bread. Toast one side of each slice. On the untoasted side place a slice of cheese and a tablespoon of chili sauce. Cut bacon slices in halves and arrange two strips of the bacon on each sandwich. Broil until the bacon is crisp and brown. Serve with small sweet pickles.

Cheese Souffle.
(Serves 5)
1½ cups milk
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1 tablespoon butter
½ pound American cheese (sliced thin)
4 eggs (separated)
½ teaspoon paprika
2 drops tabasco sauce
¾ teaspoon salt

Combine milk, bread crumbs, and butter in the upper part of a double boiler and heat. Add the cheese, and stir until the cheese is melted. Beat egg yolks until very light, add paprika, and tabasco sauce, and gradually stir in the cheese mixture. Add salt to egg whites, beat until stiff, and fold into a hot cheese mixture. Pour into greased baking dish and bake in a slow oven (300 degrees Fahrenheit) for 1 hour and 15 minutes. Serve immediately.

Macaroni and Cheese.
1 cup macaroni (uncooked)
½ cup grated cheese
1 teaspoon salt
Black pepper
2 tablespoons butter
¼ teaspoon paprika
1 cup milk
2 teaspoons prepared mustard

Break macaroni in short lengths, cover with boiling salted water, and cook until soft (25-30 minutes). Drain thoroughly, and place layers of the macaroni, grated cheese, salt and pepper in a baking dish. Dot with butter. Garnish with paprika. Mix the milk and prepared mustard together and pour over the macaroni. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) about one-half hour.

Swiss Cheese French Toast.
8 slices bread
¼ cup butter
4 square slices Swiss cheese (½-inch thick)
3 eggs
2 tablespoons milk
½ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
Dash paprika
¼ cup butter

Remove crusts from bread. Spread one side of each slice of bread with creamed butter. Make sandwiches of cheese and bread, firmly pressing edges together. Beat eggs and add milk, salt, pepper and paprika. Melt remaining butter in a skillet. Dip sandwiches in egg mixture and fry in hot butter. When golden brown on both sides, remove from pan and serve very hot.

Tomato Jelly Salad With Cottage Cheese.
4 cups canned tomatoes
¾ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1 bay leaf
½ cup celery (chopped)
1 tablespoon onion (chopped)
4 whole cloves
2 tablespoons gelatin
¾ cup water
¼ cup Worcestershire sauce

Combine the tomatoes, salt, pepper, bay leaf, celery, onion and cloves. Cook gently for 10 minutes and strain. Soak gelatin in cold water and add to the hot tomato mixture, together with Worcestershire sauce, stirring well. Chill until set.

Man-Made Products vs. Nature's Version

By BETTY WELLS
REALLY, this modern age is enough to mix up even a very sophisticated bride embarking on her housekeeping adventure. She, like all the generations of homemakers before her, was brought up to respect guarantees of "genuine," "pure," "solid," and so on, and to snub "artificial," "imitation," "synthetic."

Yet, here she is in a world in which many man-made products have been developed to the point where they are actually better than nature's version.

Take rubber, for instance. There is a specially patented method of making "airfoam" from milk of the rubber tree. This has no odor, is non-heating, is one-half air, repels vermin and moths. . . it is without doubt the coming material for upholstery filling to replace springs, hair, cotton or feathers. It is available in various degrees of softness and doesn't break down or wad up like other upholstery fillings. This is also the coming material for mattresses—in fact, all the beds on the Queen Mary are airfoam.

An out and out artificial rubber product is called neoprene, a chemical development that actually beats rubber for household uses. We saw a demonstration recently in which neoprene gloves and rubber gloves were tested for wear and resistance to acids and oils—and no doubt about it, the man-made product took the honors.

Then there is rayon, which—if it continues at its present rate of progress—will put the silk worm in the horse and buggy class. And that remarkable new paper product, pervel, looks and feels like cloth for sheets and draperies.

Building materials of man-made composition are far better than most natural materials, for wall board, roofing, flooring, insulation. And there are so many new metal alloys that are superior for use to the natural product.

SEVERAL European artists, dressed in divers' suits and using weighted equipment and thick oil colors that do not run when in contact with water, have painted pictures while standing on the bottom of the sea, sometimes 50 feet below the surface.

The world's longest continuous railroad journey today is on the Trans-Siberian Express between Moscow and Vladivostok, Russia. Although the distance is only 5,312 miles, the running time is 8 days and 21 hours.

After 12 centuries, the house-leek, Sempervivum tectorum, a common evergreen plant, still is grown on roofs in many villages of several European countries to protect the houses from thunder.

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.
Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.
Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

These contracts will come under the provisions of the regular Federal Highway Act, as amended. The employment agency for contracts in New Castle County shall be the Delaware State Employment Service at 601 Shipley Street, Wilmington, Delaware; in Kent County, the Delaware State Employment Service at 147 South Governor's Avenue, Dover, Delaware; and in Sussex County, the Delaware State Employment Service on West Market Street, Georgetown, Delaware. The minimum wages paid will be: for New Castle County, skilled labor 80c per hour, intermediate grade labor 50c per hour, and unskilled labor 35c per hour; for Kent and Sussex Counties, skilled labor 70c per hour, intermediate grade labor 40c per hour, and unskilled labor 25c per hour.

Attention is called to the Special Provisions in the proposal, specifications and contract agreement. Attention is also directed to the special provisions covering sub-letting or assigning the contract. Performance of contract shall commence within ten (10) days after execution of the contract and be completed as specified.

Monthly payments will be made for 90 per cent of the construction completed each month. Bidders must submit proposals upon forms provided by the Department. Each proposal must be accompanied by a surety bond, certified check or money to the amount of at least ten (10) per centum of the total amount of the proposal.

The envelope containing the proposal must be marked "Proposal for the construction of State Highway Contract No. ....". The contract will be awarded or rejected within twenty (20) days from the date of opening proposals. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Complete sets of plans and specifications may be obtained after July 5, 1939, upon receipt of two dollars ($2.00) for each contract, which amount will not be refunded. Make checks payable to the State Highway Department.

check over your house now and eliminate the hazards. Look for loose stair treads, broked and cluttered stairs, small loose rugs on polished floors and unlighted stairways. Have a small stepladder around the house to use, so you won't have to stand on a chair or table-top. The time to think of safety is before the accident happens.

Here are some suggestions from the Council on how to avoid being struck by lightning.

During severe electrical storms, remain inside a building, if possible, and near the center of the room. If there is any choice of shelter, choose large metal or metal frame buildings first, buildings protected by independently grounded lightning rods, second, and any large buildings in case either of these are not handy.

Avoid the immediate vicinity of electric light circuits, lightning conductors and downspouts, screened doors and windows—especially if they are open—stoves and fireplaces, telephones and any metal objects which project through the wall or roof. If you are caught out of doors, keep away from isolated trees, wire fences hill-tops, wide open spaces, small sheds and shelters in an exposed position. Try to reach thick timber, a cave, a depression in the ground, a deep valley or canyon, or the vicinity of a steep cliff if any of these are nearby.

SALE OF NEW CARS
CONTINUES STRONG

Chevrolet dealers' retail sales for the first 20 days of June exceeded those for the entire month of June, 1938, according to figures released at company headquarters in Detroit today. Deliveries of new cars and trucks, in the second 10 days of the month, continued at high levels. Sales for the period were 22,458, a gain of 68.3 per cent over those for the second 10 days of June a year ago. They brought the company's deliveries for the month to date to 46,111, which is 65.1 per cent above the corresponding 1938 figures. Truck sales played an important part in the increase, the records reveal. They gained 1,687 units over sales for the same period last year, reaching 4,692, for a 56.1 per cent gain.

Continued steady movement of used cars reflected a balanced operation in the field. Dealers reported the sale of 46,866 used cars in the 10-day period, making 94,108 sold in the first 20 days of June. This is an increase of nearly 20,800 units over the used car sales for the June 1-20 period in 1938.

Combined new and used car sales for the second 10 days were 69,324 units, and for the month to date, through June 29, 140,219, as against 103,420 one year ago, an increase of 35.6 per cent.

SAFETY COUNCIL NOTES
According to the Delaware Safety Council, more Delawareans were killed last year in home accidents than in traffic accidents. 72 people were killed in homes as compared to 70 killed in automobile accidents. The largest single type of accident is the fall—41 of the home fatalities were due to falls—falls from makeshift stepladders, down stairs, on loose rugs, from a thousand and one little things around the house.

Beauty Hints
By Jane Heath.

HOT days—work days—play days are here. What's the news on summer make-up? "As little as possible," answer the beauty experts. "The idea is to look healthy and natural. Let your skin warm to the sun. Let your hair blow free. Discard rouge and powder if you like. But, even if you're rustivating back on the farm, you'll still accent two features—eyes and lips."

Eyebrows should be kept groomed and free of stray hairs at all times. This is quickly done with the convenient tweezers with scissors handle, sketched above. Keep to the natural hairline and avoid any artificial look which is now definitely "dated."

Luxuriant lashes are another beauty aim which may be achieved, as you tend your garden, with care and cultivation. Kurlene, a fine eyelash dressing made of rich, natural oils, will do the trick. Applied with the tip of the finger or an eye beauty brush, it leaves the lashes silky and pliable.

And now comes the final touch, a wide starry-eyed effect, produced with a clever eyelash curler that trains lashes upward with no heat or cosmetics. In selecting a lipstick, choose one with clear, warm blood tones, lighter than you've been using.

Accent your eyes and lips this summer, to look healthy and natural. But the wise girl will use just a bit of art to aid Nature.

ONLY SLOW-MOVING THING ABOUT OLDS!

RECORDS SHOW THAT OLDSMOBILE IS ONE OF THE EASIEST CARS ON GAS!

How's your gas mileage? Does the needle on your gauge seem to hurry from "Full" to "Empty"? If it does, you ought to own an Olds. For here's one car that steps right out—gives you pick-up, pep and brilliant action without penalizing your pocketbook. Olds is an economical car to drive, in every way. You pay a low price to begin with—you get good value when you trade it in. It saves you money every mile on gas and oil—saves on tires and maintenance, too. You can check these facts by talking with Oldsmobile owners. Or you can look at the record—Olds took first place in its class in 1939 in the famous Gilmore-Yosemite Economy Run, averaging 21.4 miles per gallon. Olds is a big car, a luxury car—built to quality standards through and through. Come in and see us today. Drive an Olds. You'll be amazed at the value a low price buys in Olds!

YOU'LL GET A BETTER DEAL FROM OLDSMOBILE!

The car you are driving will never be worth a dollar more than it is today. Why not trade it in while you can get top value, and enjoy all the advantages of a brand new Oldsmobile during the summer season? Come in and we will gladly make an appraisal without obligation on your part.
