

10,000 WITNESS BIG PARADE HERE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Annual Celebration Draws Huge
Crowd of Merry Makers; Cash
Awards Given

POSTPONED FROM MONDAY NIGHT

Harrington's belated Hallow'e'en parade, postponed from Monday to Wednesday because of the weather, was one of the finest ever held here, and it is estimated that 10,000 people were in attendance.

Corporal Frank O'Neal assembled the parade at Commerce street and Vernon road, and people lined the route of the parade, which was about two miles in length.

The following fire companies were in the parade: Houston, Frederica, Milford and Harrington.

The following prizes were awarded: Best Commercial Float—Cahall's Gas Service; second, Mary Jester's Beauty Shop.

Best decorated automobile—John C. Short.

Best show window—Joe Schwartzman.

Best juvenile impersonator—Jeanette VonGoerres.

Best bicycle—Clyde Tucker.

Best female impersonator—Raymond Dill.

Best male impersonator—Mrs. C. M. Raughley.

Best civic float—Sherwin & Jaller.

Best horseback rider—Lee Carson.

Best comic float—Hobbs' barber shop.

Best band—Harrington; second, Orange Blossom Band, Milford.

Best comic team, "New York or Bust."

The following were judges:

J. C. Messner, Miss Loretta Paskey, W. T. Moore, E. Raughley, C. T. Harrington, R. H. Knox, Vaughn Warren.

Benjamin Emory, Jr., chairman of the finance committee, deserves much credit for the splendid work he did in raising funds for the occasion.

NEW 1940 CAR MODELS CREATE BIG DEMAND

Public demand for the new 1940 Chevrolet, introduced in the company's 8,600 dealerships throughout the country Oct. 14, has hit a record high for immediate post-announcement orders, it was announced at Detroit today by W. E. Holler, general sales manager.

Mr. Holler reported that the new cars have won instant approval of the car-buying public, interest being expressed not only in the offerings as a whole, but in individual models of the most comprehensive line ever introduced by Chevrolet.

"Never before in my experience have I seen such a heavy demand for all models of the new car," Mr. Holler said. "The unusually strong backlog of orders built up during the pre-announcement activities has been further bolstered by purchasers who were simply waiting to get a glimpse of the new car before selecting model and color."

"Ordinarily, of course, we expect liveliest demand for the two-door and four-door sedans. This year, not only are the sedans in great demand, but buyers are asking for many more of the other models than in previous years. Especially popular is the four-passenger coupe, introduced by Chevrolet last year and further refined and made roomier in 1940. Station wagons too have won widespread approval and are in great demand."

Mr. Holler pointed out that "eye appeal" has had much to do with the acceptance of the new 1940 Chevrolet line. "The new cars," he said, "represent a greater improvement in styling and design than Chevrolet has ever previously attempted to make in one year. Numerous mechanical improvements, already acclaimed by drivers of the new Chevrolets, bear out the reports of the engineers that extensive refinements have been made in the 1940 chassis and power plant."

New car orders are being handled as rapidly as possible, Mr. Holler said.

Two To Probe Magistrate's Books

Leroy Wright and John Edwin Curless, of Wilmington, were appointed assistant accountants in the State Auditor's office by State Auditor Benjamin I. Shaw Monday to aid Desmond A. Lyons, special accountant for the Permanent Budget Commission and the State auditor's office, in his investigation of magistrates' accounting systems. Mr. Lyons said they will examine records of fines imposed by magistrates Thursday as filed at headquarters of the State police at State Road. On the same day, Mr. Lyons will start an investigation of the bonds posted by the magistrates. They are on file in the Secretary of State's office in Dover.

MAN WHO ASSAULTED WOMAN FACES TWO MORE CHARGES

Courtesy, Little, colored, of near Cheswold, who was arrested last week charged with assaulting a Dover white woman and lodged in jail, was arraigned again this week before Magistrate Walter S. Cabbage, Dover, on two additional charges.

Little was charged with committing assault and battery on a sixteen year old white girl, near Kenton in September, and also carrying concealed a deadly weapon, this latter charge arising from his possession of a large knife which he attempted to use on patrolman James Collins at the time of his arrest.

The defendant entered pleas of guilty to both charges and Magistrate Cabbage placed him under $1,500 bail for the Court of General Sessions, making a total of $7,500 bail under which the man is held.

FREDERICA

Miss Leona Kelly entertained 19 of her playmates Saturday evening at a masquerade party. The decorations were witches, black cats, pumpkin heads and corn stalks, among which the guests in their various costumes, played games. During the evening delightful refreshments were served by the hostess.

Miss Elizabeth Gerow was her guest for the week-end, Miss Janet Stanton, of Milford.

Mrs. I. W. Betts and Mrs. W. W. Wilson attended a luncheon at the duPont Hotel, Friday afternoon, given to the Red Cross committee.

The 4-H Club Red Wings met at the home of Mr. William Palmer, Monday night. During the business meeting a Hill Billy band was organized. After the business meeting games were played and a double feature movie was presented. The host served delicious refreshments.

The Junior 4-H Red Wings met at the home of Thomas Holliday, Friday night. During the business meeting a committee was elected to the following office at this meeting: Thomas Holliday, president; Jennie Morris, secretary; Betty L. Webb, treasurer.

The Kent 4-H Club dinner will be held at the Frederica School, Friday evening. The speaker of the evening will be Judge Earle D. Willey, of Dover. A program will be presented.

Mr. John Rogers is spending the week-end as guest of Miss Jane Ingram at Orange, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. James Morris and children, Jenny and James, spent part of the past week at Washington, D. C.

Miss Sara Elizabeth Lank gave a delightful dinner party Tuesday afternoon for 11 of her playmates and her school teacher, Miss Elizabeth Walsstrom, in honor of her sixth birthday. The dinner table was beautifully decorated with yellow and black crepe paper, pumpkin heads, candles, black cats and a kitten filled with candy as favors for each guest.

Mrs. Herman Van Hoy entertained the Tuesday evening bridge club this week.

Mrs. Ernest Webb visited her husband at the Brandywine Sanatorium on Friday in honor of their wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Marion Stevenson spent Tuesday on a motor trip to Coatesville, Pa., and Camden, N. J., for a visit with relatives.

Mr. John Anderson suffered a paralytic stroke last week. At this writing he is in a serious condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hudson were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wingate, in Philadelphia, over the week-end.

Mrs. Sallie Hudson is visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Stevens, in Wilmington.

Miss Edyth Fisher was one of the bridesmaids at the wedding of Miss Edna Harberston, of Germantown, Pa., where Miss Fisher is spending the week-end.

CENTURY CLUB NOTES

The Harrington New Century Club held its usual meeting on Tuesday afternoon, October 31st.

The topic for the day was "Art (old prints)". Several interesting articles were read by the members on the committee regarding the Godey prints and the Currier and Ives prints and some very fine illustrations of these prints were on display in the reception room of the club house for the members present to look at. These old-fashioned prints were loaned for display by Mrs. E. S. Richards, of Harrington. The committee in charge of the program was Mrs. John Masten, Mrs. C. F. Montague, Mrs. Fred Mayer and Mrs. R. A. Saulsbury.

The next meeting will be held on November 7th, and the subject will be "Dramatics (motion pictures)". Those in charge are Mrs. Arnold Miller, Mrs. Alex Hannum, Mrs. Harry Boyer, Mrs. M. E. Culver and Mrs. F. B. Smith.

The same evening at 8:00 o'clock, a party will be given at the club house for the teachers and husbands of club members.

Taxi. Local and long distance. Day and night service. Reasonable rates.—Amy Stone's Hotel, Phone 103.

Experienced operators and pressers wanted. Free transportation.—Junior Shirt Company, Greensboro, Md.

AGRICULTURAL CONSERVATION COMMITTEEMEN ELECTED

At the nine community election meetings which were held throughout Kent county on the evening of October 25th farmers elected their committeemen in the Kent county agricultural conservation association for the coming year in accordance with the provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Committeemen for the 1st district include Ernest S. Mattiford, Howard C. Deakye, William T. David, Ernest V. Blend and William H. George, 2nd and 5th districts—R. Harry Wilson, Arthur F. Dawes, James B. Keith, John W. Carey and W. H. Richter, 3rd district—H. Clifford Clark, John Robinson, Gilbert Downs and Edward Urian, 4th district—Henry Williams, J. Frank Smith, Harold Powell and John Korschak, 6th district—Lyndon D. Caulk, Elwood B. Gruwell, Paul B. Hughes, Fred Welch and Fletcher Price, 7th district—Robert A. Garton, A. Bailey Thomas, Homer Reed, Jas. Harris, Byron Frazier and J. C. Melvin, 8th district—Laurence E. Cain, J. R. McIvaine, Ernest F. Killen, Howard Hudson and J. Harold Schabinger, 9th district—Harlan R. Blades Daniel E. Sherwood, Melville Taylor, J. H. Moore and Frank Taylor, 10th district—J. F. Gulick, Howard R. Moore, Paris C. Kirby, Clarence Cabbage and J. P. Simpson.

Ernest S. Mattiford, R. Harry Wilson, John Numbers, J. Seward Dailey, Willard S. Jester, Robert A. Garton, Laurence E. Cain, Odith Brown, and Howard R. Moore, who were elected delegates from their respective districts at these community meetings, met in the county extension office on Monday afternoon of this week for the purpose of electing members of the county committee and officers of the association.

This county meeting resulted in the election of R. Harry Wilson, president; H. Clifford Clark, vice-president; Russell E. Wilson, secretary; and Lyndon D. Caulk, treasurer. In addition to the president and vice-president, the third member of the county committee is Laurence E. Cain. Ernest S. Mattiford was elected as the first alternate member and Howard R. Moore as second alternate member of the county committee.

A meeting of field supervisors was held in the county extension office on Tuesday to discuss plans for checking the wheat acreage which was seeded this fall for harvest in 1940. The discussion was led by R. O. Stelzer, state executive officer for Maryland and Delaware and the meeting was presided over by C. Arthur Taylor, chairman of the state agricultural conservation committee.

Through the cooperation of Rev. Robert E. Green and Rev. Gilbert E. Turner, officials and members of Trinity and Asbury Methodist Churches, Harrington Post No. 7, American Legion, is sponsoring a Community Armistice Day service to be held in Asbury Methodist Church, in Harrington, Delaware, Sunday, November 12th at 7:30 P. M.

Dr. Walter H. Hearn, Department Chaplain of the American Legion, will deliver the address on this occasion. Dr. Hearn's active participation in the World War and his subsequent service to our country well fits him to bring us a worthwhile message on this Armistice Day.

In as much as Armistice Day of this year is of great significance because of world conditions and the threat of another great war and of the grim determination of the United States to remain at peace with the world, all are urged and invited to attend this service.

NORFOLK MAN HELD ON ARSON CHARGE

Two men, under treatment in the Milford Memorial Hospital for severe burns, charged that a third man, with whom they had lived in that town, had robbed them, locked them in their house, and set fire to the building in an attempt to burn them alive.

The two, Albert Stevens, 22 years old, of Milford, and Leroy Angram, 28 years old, of Norfolk, Va., were pulled out of a window of their blazing home at 3 A. M., Sunday by a neighbors, attracted by their screams for help. Stevens and Angram accused Herbert Spencer, 26 years old, also of Norfolk, of stealing $4.50 of their money and starting the fire after locking them in. The three had been living together in a small shack in Milford.

Officers Andrew Kosci and James Holleger of the Milford police, arrested Spencer and placed him in the Milford jail. He was given a hearing before Magistrate Harry B. Thaw on Monday morning and was placed under $5,000 bail on a charge of arson. Unable to furnish bond, Spencer was taken to the Dover jail by the officers.

I wish to take this means of thanking the many friends and relatives for the use of automobiles and the many beautiful floral offerings during the recent death of my husband, Charles Collins.

Mrs. Bessie Collins.

Wanted—White or colored girl for part-time housework. Apply at Journal office.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES IN STATE REPORTED LESS

The number of cases of contagious diseases in Delaware showed a large decrease during the first nine months of the present year in comparison with last year, according to records of the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Board of Health.

According to the records there was a total of 1,016 cases of contagious diseases reported to the bureau during the first nine months of 1939 while during the same period of 1938 there were a total of 1,369 cases reported.

During this same period, however, there was an increase of 29 in the number of deaths caused by contagious diseases. During the first nine months of this year there were a total of 311 deaths caused by contagious diseases, while during the same period of 1938 there were a total of 282 deaths from the same cause.

The records disclose that decreases were made in the cases of diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and influenza. Increases were noted in cases of tuberculosis, whooping cough and pneumonia.

The death records show decreases in the number of deaths caused by typhoid fever, tuberculosis, pneumonia and influenza. Decreases were noted in the number of deaths caused by whooping cough.

The largest number of cases of any disease reported this year was for whooping cough of which there were 308 cases, an increase of four over last year. There were 216 cases of scarlet fever, 173 cases of measles, 141 cases of pneumonia and 120 cases of tuberculosis.

Measles was the cause of most cases last year, there being 479 cases reported while also during the same period last year there were 332 cases of scarlet fever, 113 cases of tuberculosis, 75 cases of pneumonia and 39 cases of diphtheria.

Pneumonia caused the largest number of deaths of any of the diseases thus far this year with 147 deaths being credited to it. This number is just three more than the total for this disease during the same period of last year.

Tuberculosis was the cause of 120 deaths thus far this year and influenza was the cause of 27 deaths. During the same period of last year there were 96 deaths by tuberculosis and 23 by influenza while whooping cough was the cause of 13 deaths as compared with 6 for this year.

HOLLANDSVILLE

Carroll Moore, of Pottstown, Pa., spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Barque and family, of Chester, Pa., have returned from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Welch.

Friends of James Morris are sorry to learn of his illness at Milford Memorial Hospital and wish him a speedy recovery.

Harvest Home Service will be held at Manish Church on Sunday afternoon, November 5th. Everybody is invited to attend.

A masquerade party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Jester in honor of Misses Janette Fowler and Pauline Jester last Wednesday evening. Games afforded social pastime for the event and much fun was realized. Refreshments consisting of ice cream and saltines was served at a late hour. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Morris, Misses Joanna Denney, Matilda Billings, Harriett Hammond, Frances Rash, Messrs Kenneth McKnatt, Alvin and Norman Brown of Harrington; Russell Blades, of Burryville; Misses Emma and Janice Eloise Blades, Mr. and Mrs. Arley Outten and family, Messrs. Archie Dill, Benjamin Moore, Wilson Hughes and Grant Whalen of this place.

Miss Sarah Carpenter spent Saturday as guest of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kohland, of near Harrington.

Henry Hughes, of Denton, was a recent guest of his brother, Mm. W. M. Hughes and family.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Fletcher Price is on the sick list with a severe cold.

R. W. Ross, of Vernon, visited Hollandsville friends on Saturday.

STATE TO PROBE LACK OF RABBITS

Reasons for the decline of the rabbit population in several of the state game refuges maintained by the Board of Game and Fish Commissioners are being sought by the board.

Edwin M. Barry, educational director of the board, said Wednesday a survey disclosed the rabbits on the refuges are not as numerous as had been expected.

"There should have been a substantial increase in all of the refuges through the summer months, but for some reason this increase has not appeared on some of the refuges examined," Mr. Barry said. "It is a sort of 'haunted house' affair and we are continuing investigations to try to determine the reason."

Mr. Barry said the failure of the expected increase might be due to parasites, ticks, worms, or a liver ailment rabbits are subject to.

SUSSEX CIDER MILLS RUNNING FULL BLAST

Cider mills in many sections of lower Delaware have been busy for the past two or three weeks turning out barrels of apple juice which may or may not be kept until it ages into vinegar. Cider is reckoned a treacherous drink when it gets some age to it. Its palatability is said to be all that could be desired at certain stages and that it has the kick of a mule, especially if a quantity of corn, rye or sugar has been rumped into the barrel. There seems to be little demand for hard liquors when the cider presses begin operations.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this means of thanking the many friends and relatives for the use of automobiles and the many beautiful floral offerings during the recent death of my husband, Charles Collins.

Mrs. Bessie Collins.

Wanted—White or colored girl for part-time housework. Apply at Journal office.

RULING GIVES $600 MORE UNDER APPLE GRADING LAW

The Budget Bill passed by the last Legislature appropriated $2400.00 for apple grading and inspection under the State Board of Agriculture. Recently the Secretary of the State Board addressed a letter to the Permanent Budget Commission calling attention to the fact that the Apple Law provides for a continuing appropriation of $3,000.00 for each year after 1927 and made the claim that, under the said law, the apple inspection fund under the State Board of Agriculture is entitled to $3,000.00 instead of $2400.00.

The Budget Commission referred the matter to Attorney General Morford for a ruling. The Attorney General has ruled that the State Auditor is required to approve and the State Treasurer to pay warrants submitted by the State Board of Agriculture during each year of the present biennium for sums aggregating $600.00 above the $2400.00 allowed in the Board's 1939 budget.

The act creating the Board of Budget Directors, which was passed in 1921, provides that all continuing appropriations except salaries as provided by law are repealed as of July 1, 1923. Mr. Carmine based his contention that $3,000.00 is the proper amount under the Apple Grading and Inspection Law on the fact that the Apple Law was passed subsequent to the passage of the act creating a Board of Budget Directors and repealing continuing appropriations. The Attorney General's opinion sustains the claim of the State Board of Agriculture and provides additional funds for inspection work.

FELTON

The members of Trophy Grange held a Hallow'e'en party Wednesday evening in the Grange Hall. There was a grand march of those masked and prizes were awarded. Skits, readings, games and stunts were presented.

Prof. and Mrs. D. A. Petry and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dill had dinner last Wednesday evening at the Wayside Inn, Smyrna. The occasion was in honor of Mrs. Petry's birthday.

The meeting of the Home Demonstration Club will be held this afternoon November 3, at the home of Mrs. D. A. Petry. The subject of the program will be "Hobbies" and anyone having a hobby is invited to be present and display same, with a short talk.

Mrs. Walter Hughes has been visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Turner in Baltimore. Mrs. Margaret Caldwell has returned to Philadelphia after a visit of several months with her sister, Mrs. N. Lee Sipple and family.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Clifton Roe of East Orange, N. J., were week-end guests of Mrs. Joseph Reeve and Mrs. A. C. Bennett.

Miss Bernice Lyman of Forest Hill, N. Y., and Mrs. Helen Lambson and son Raymond, of Lake Gilman, N. J., spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee Sipple.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. East, of Dover, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. East on Sunday.

Henry Austin and eLon Kent have been in Florida on a business trip.

Mrs. Frank Raughley has been in Wilmington visiting her daughter, Mrs. Harry Miller.

Miss Annabel Garey, a student nurse in the Wilmington General Hospital, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rix Garey.

Miss Nellie Hughes has returned from a visit with her aunt, Mrs. Henry Hughes, in Denton, Md.

Oliver Simpler of Wilmington, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Simpler.

Mr. and Mrs. Barton Wilson were the guests of Mrs. Wilson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Outten, on Sunday.

Mrs. Annie Smith has returned to her home in Philadelphia after spending the summer at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fenn of Wilmington, visited Mrs. Fenn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Kelley, Tuesday.

Mrs. George Hering has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. William Birnbauer and family, in Elmhurst.

Harvest Home will be observed in the Methodist Episcopal Church next Sunday, November 5th.

The business meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was held at the home of Mrs. N. Lee Sipple, Thursday afternoon.

The members of the Methodist Episcopal Sunday School held a Hallow'e'en party in the Community Hall Friday evening.

An art exhibit in observance of National Art Week, was held in the Community Hall, Tuesday afternoon.

FAIR BADGES AVAILABLE FOR TOUR PARTICIPANTS

The Chamber of Commerce of Wilmington has secured a limited number of souvenir badges which were issued in connection with Delaware Day at the New York World's Fair. When the original order for badges was given, what was believed to be a liberal allowance for unexpected additions to registered participants was made, but after the order was placed reservations were received much in excess of the number anticipated. Hence, a number of Delawareans were unable to secure this prize souvenir.

The Chamber announces that if those participating in the tour who did not secure a badge will write for one, it will be furnished without cost as long as the supply lasts. Those who have retained the badge coupon from their tickets should send it with their request for the badge.

JOBLESS PAYMENT DROP SHOWS EMPLOYMENT GAIN

Unemployment compensation benefits struck a new low during the past week when $10,257.50 was paid by the Delaware Unemployment Compensation Commission.

Dr. Charles M. Wharton, executive director of the commission, attributed the decrease in payments to employment gains. The highest total was $26,500 during the week ended March 3. The average weekly amount is $15,000.

Of the 209 claims received during the week, 142 were eligible. A total of 1,223 checks were mailed to claimants during the week. This brings the total for the year to 76,528 checks for $616,020.11.

Charles W. Bush, supervisor of examinations for the Delaware Unemployment Compensation Commission, has announced a merit examination for the position of multithread operator. Application blanks will be mailed on request and must be filed not later than November 22. Applicants must be citizens of the United States and residents of Delaware for at least the past two years.

"PENINSULA" IS NEW CONFERENCE NAME FOR SHORE

Delegates All Swear Allegiance to New Conference And Adjourn sine Die

MEETING WAS HELD ON TUESDAY

The uniting conference of Methodist churches of three former demonstrations gave the name "Peninsula Conference" Tuesday night after a dispute that threatened to deadlock the proceedings.

The new conference actually came into official being just before midnight Tuesday when the entire group of delegates arose, each raised his right hand, and led by Bishop E. H. Hughes, swore allegiance to the new conference. The form of the oath follows: "To the Peninsula Conference thus established we do solemnly declare our allegiance and upon all its life and service we do reverently invoke the blessing of Almighty God. Amen."

The uniting conference adjourned sine die. A new system of four districts was established by the new conference. It comprises:

A Wilmington district which will include all the churches in the city of Wilmington, in New Castle county south to the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal, and all in Cecil county, Md., except those at Galena and Millington.

A Dover district to include all the churches in Sussex and Kent counties and in New Castle county south of the canal.

A new district, to be called the Easton district with headquarters at Easton and including Caroline, Queen Anne's, Talbot, and parts of Dorchester and Kent counties, Md, and the Galena and Millington churches.

A Salisbury district to include Wilcox, Somerset and Worcester counties except Hurluck, Golestown and Williamsburg, which are the parts of Dorchester to be included in the Easton district.

The Rev. Dr. J. R. Bunting, who presented the report of the committee on districts said the purpose was to keep the division within State boundaries as far as possible.

Bishop Hughes, who presided, confirmed the appointment of the Rev. J. Earl Cummings, formerly pastor of Peninsula M. P. Church, Wilmington, as district superintendent of the new Easton District.

The Rev. Walter E. Gunby was confirmed as head of the Wilmington District, the Rev. J. J. Bunting as head of the Salisbury District and the Rev. Walter A. Hearn as head of the Dover District. All three had held similar positions under the old Wilmington M. E. Conference.

The Wilmington district will include 57 charges with pastors, salaries totaling $39,400; the Easton district, 65 charges and total salaries of $83,591; the Dover district, 60 charges and $83,023; the Salisbury district, 56 charges, two missions, and total salaries of $84,500.

Representatives of Centreville, Cambridge and Denton, in the new district made pleas that the district headquarters or superintendent's parsonage, be placed in those towns.

The uniting conference fixed the salary of superintendents at $5,000 a year plus a residence, the salary to cover their expenses. Six per cent of the ministers' salary is to be assessed to meet the salaries of the superintendents.

This provision brought objections from W. L. Overdeer of Wilmington, who held the salary should be fixed at $4,500.

Nevertheless the voting on this resolution and others effecting the district changes was unanimous.

The name "Peninsula Conference" was adopted at the opening of an evening session after dispute on the proposal for the name "Wilmington Methodist Conference" had deadlocked the afternoon session.

The Rev. Lester E. Windsor of Wilmington, who had proposed the Wilmington name, withdrew his resolution to avoid "

THE DIM LANTERN

By TEMPLE BAILEY

© PENN PUBLISHING CO.—WNU SERVICE

CHAPTER VIII—Continued
—13—

"Nothing is too good for you, Jane. I can't say it as I want to say it, but you'll never know what you seemed to me on Sunday as you came through the mist."

Evans' voice shook a little, but he recovered himself in a moment. "Here come the Townes." He rose as Edith entered with her Baldwin.

After that Evans followed Baldy's lead as a dispenser of hospitality. The two of them passed cups, passed thin bread and butter, passed little cakes, passed lemon and cream and sugar, flung conversational balls as light as feathers into the air, were, as Baldy would have expressed it, "the life of the party."

"Something must have gone to Casablanca's head," Frederick Towne remarked to Jane. "Have you ever seen him like this?"

"Years ago. He was tremendously attractive."

"Do you find him attractive now?" with a touch of annoyance.

"I find him—wonderful!"—her tone was defiant—"and I've known him all my life."

"If you had known me all your life would you call me wonderful?" She looked at him from behind her battlements of silver. "How do I know? People have to prove themselves."

Dr. Hallam had driven Mrs. Follette over. He rarely did social stunts, but he liked Jane. And he had been interested enough in Evans to want to glimpse him in his new role.

Strolling up to the tea-table, he was aware at once of a situation which might make for comedy, or indeed for tragedy. It was evident that Towne was much attracted to little Jane Barnes. If Jane reciprocated, what of young Follette?

"I saw Mrs. Laramore yesterday," he said, abruptly, "lovely as ever."

"Yes, of course," Towne wished that Hallam wouldn't talk about Adelaide. He wished that all of the others would go away and leave him alone with Jane.

"Mrs. Laramore," said Jane unexpectedly, "makes me think of the lady of Shallott. I don't know why. But I do. I have really never seen such a beautiful woman. But she doesn't seem real. I have a feeling that if anything hit her, she'd break like china."

They laughed at her, and Edith said, "Adelaide will never break. She'll melt. She's as soft as wax." Then pigeonholing Mrs. Laramore for more vital matters. "Uncle Fred, I am going out to Baldy's studio; he's painting Jane."

Frederick was at once interested. "Her portrait?"

"No. A sketch for a magazine competition," Baldy explained. "May I see it?"

Baldy, yearning for solitude and Edith, gave reluctant consent. "Come on, everybody."

So everybody, including Dr. Hallam and Mrs. Follette, made their way to the garage.

Edith and young Baldwin arrived first. "And this is where you work," she said, softly.

"Yes. Look here, will you sit here so that I can feast my eyes on you? I've dreamed of you in that chair—in classic costume. Do you know that you were made for a goddess?"

"I know that you are a romantic boy."

"How old are you?" she asked him.

"Twenty-five."

"I don't believe it. I'm twenty-two, and I feel a thousand years older than you."

"You will always be ageless."

She laughed. "How old is Jane?"

"Twenty. Yet people take us for twins."

"She doesn't look it and neither do you."

The others came in and Edith went back to her thoughts. He wasn't too young. She was glad of that.

The sketch of Jane was on an easel. There she stood, a slender figure in her lilac frock—bobbed black hair, lighted-up eyes—the lifted basket with its burden of gold and purple and green!

Towne stood back and looked at it. Jane at his side said, "That's some of the fruit you sent."

"Really?" Frederick had no eyes for anything but Jane, in her lilac frock. Jove, but the boy had caught the spirit of her!

He turned to Baldy. "It is most unusual. And I want it."

"Sorry," said Baldy, crisply. "I am sending it off tomorrow."

"How much is the prize?"

"Two thousand dollars."

"I will write a check for that amount if you will let me have this."

"I am afraid I can't, Mr. Towne."

"Why not?"

"Well, I feel this way about it. It isn't worth two thousand dollars. But if I win the prize it may be worth that to the magazine—the advertising and all that."

"Isn't that splitting hairs?"

"Perhaps, but it's the way I feel."

"But if you don't win the prize you won't have anything."

"No."

"And you'll be out two thousand dollars." The lion in the Zoo was snarling.

And above him, breathing an upper air, was this young eagle. "I'll be glad to give the sketch to you if it comes back," said Baldy, coolly, "but I rather think it will stick."

It was, in a way, a dreadful moment for Towne. There was young Baldwin sitting on the edge of the table, swinging a leg, debonair, defiant. And Edith laughing in her sleeve. Frederick knew that she was laughing. He was as red as a turkey cock.

It was Jane who saved him from apoplexy. She was really inordinately proud of Baldy, but she knew the dangers of his mood. And she had her duties as hostess.

"Baldy wants to see himself on the news stands," she said, soothingly; "don't deprive him of that pleasure, Mr. Towne."

"Nothing of the kind, Jane," exclaimed her brother.

"Baldy, I won't quarrel with you before people. We must reserve that pleasure until we are alone."

"I'm not quarrelling."

Jane held up a protesting hand. "Oh, let's run away from him, Mr. Towne. When he begins like that, there's no end to it."

She carried Frederick back to the house, and Evans, looking after them, said vindictively to Hallam, "Old Midas got his that time."

Dr. Hallam chuckled. "You don't hate him, do you? Evans, don't let him have Jane. He isn't worth it."

"Neither am I," said Evans. "But I would know better how to make her happy."

Back once more in the bright little living-room, Towne said to Jane, "May I have another cup of tea?"

"It's cold."

"I don't care. I like to see you pour it with your lovely hands."

She spread her hands out on the shining mahogany of the tea-table. "Are they lovely? Nobody ever told me."

His hand went over hers. "The loveliest in the world."

She sat there in a moment's breathless silence. Then she drew her hands away. Touched a little bell. "I'll have Sophy bring us some hot water."

Sophy came and went. Jane poured hot tea with flushed cheeks. He took the cup when she handed it to him. "Dear child, you're not offended?"

"I'm not a child, Mr. Towne." Her lashes were lowered, her cheeks flushed.

He put his cup down and leaned towards her. "You are more than a child to me—a beloved woman. Jane, you needn't be afraid of me. . . . I want you for my wife!"

Her astonished eyes met his. "But we haven't known each other a week."

"I couldn't love you more if I had known you a thousand years."

"Mr. Towne—please." He was very close to her.

"Kiss me, Jane."

She held her slender figure away from him. "You must not."

"I must."

"No, really. . . . Please," she was breathing quickly. "Please."

She was on her feet, the tea-table between them.

He saw his mistake. "Forgive me."

Her candid eyes met his. "Mr. Towne, would you have acted like this. . . . with Edith's friends?"

Edith's friends! The child's innocence! Adelaide's kisses went for a song. Eloise frankly offered hers. Edith was saved by only some inner grace.

"Jane, they are not worth your little finger. I put you above all. On a pedestal. Honestly. And I want you to marry me."

"But I don't love you."

"I'll make you. I have everything to give you."

Had he? What of Robin Hood and Galahad? What of youth and youth's audacity, high resolves, flaming dreams?

She felt something of this subconsciously. But she would not have been a feminine creature had she not felt the flattery of his pursuit.

"Jane, I'll make life a fairy tale. We'll travel everywhere. Sail strange seas. Wouldn't you love it—all those countries you have never seen—and just the two of us? And all the places you have read about? And when we come home I'll build you a house—wherever you say—with a great garden."

He was eloquent, and the things he promised were woven into the woof of all her girlish imaginings.

"I ought not to listen," she said, tremulously.

But he knew that she had listened. He was wise enough to leave it there.

He rose as he heard the others coming back. "Will you ride with me tomorrow afternoon? Don't be afraid of me. I'll promise to be good."

"Sorry. I'm to have tea in town with Evans."

"Can't you break the engagement?"

"I don't break engagements." The cock of her head was like Baldy's.

She saw him presently standing beside Baldy on the station platform.

She saw him presently standing beside Baldy on the station platform.

He took her hand and held it. "Is there anything else I can do for you? Everything I have is yours, you know—if you want it."

He had to leave her then, with a final close clasp of the hand. She saw him presently standing beside Baldy on the station platform—the center of the eyes of everybody—the great Frederick Towne!

As the city slipped away and she leaned her head against the cushions and looked out at the flying fields—it seemed a stupendous thing that a man like Towne should have laid his fortune at her feet. Yet she had no sense of exhilaration. She liked the things he had to offer—yearned for them—but she did not want him at her side.

In her sorrow her heart turned to the boy who had stumbled over the words, "If my blundering prayers will help you—"

She found herself sobbing—the first tears she had shed since the arrival of the telegram.

When she reached Chicago, her brother-in-law, Bob Heming, met her. "Judy's holding her own," he said, as he kissed her. "It was no end good of you to come, Janey."

"Have you a nurse?"

"Two. Day nurse and night nurse. And a maid. Judy is nearly frantic about the expense. It isn't good for her, either, to worry. That's half the trouble. I tried to make her get help, but she wouldn't. But I blame myself that I didn't insist."

"Don't blame yourself, Bob. Judy wouldn't. She told me she could get along. And when Judy decides a thing, no one can change her."

"Well, times have been hard. And business bad. And Judy knew it. She's such a good sport."

They were in a taxi, so when tears came into Heming's eyes, he made no effort to conceal them.

"I'm just about all in. You can't understand how much it means to me to have you here."

"And now that I am here," said Jane, with a gallantry born of his need of her, "things are going to be better."

The apartment was simply furnished and bore the stamp of Judy's good taste. A friend had taken the children out to ride, so the rooms were very quiet as Jane went through them.

Judy in bed was white and thin, and Jane wanted to weep over her, but she didn't. "You blessed old girl," she said, "you're going to get well right away."

"The doctor thinks I may have to have an operation. That's why I felt I must wire you." Judy was anxious. "I couldn't leave the babies with strangers. And it was so important that Bob should be at his work."

"Of course," said Jane; "do you think anything would have made me stay away?"

Judy gave a quick sigh of relief. How heavenly to have Janey! And what a dear she was with her air of conquering the world. Jane had always been like that—with that conquering air. It cheered one just to look at her.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

CHAPTER IX

"Jane—!"

"Yes, Baldy." Jane sat up in bed, dreams still in her eyes. She had been late in getting to sleep. There had been so much to think of—Frederick Towne's proposal—the startling change in Evans—

"It's a telegram. Open the door, dear."

She caught up her dressing-gown and wrapped it around her. "A telegram?" She was with him now in the hall. "Baldy, is it Judy?"

"Yes. She's ill. Asks if you can come on and look after the kiddies."

"Of course." She swayed a little.

"Hold on to me a minute, Baldy. It takes my breath away."

"You mustn't be scared, old girl."

"I'll be right in. . . . a minute."

His arms were tight about her. "It seems as if I should go, too, Janey."

"But you can't. I'll get things ready and ride in with you in the morning. I'll pack my trunk if you'll bring it down from the attic. I can sleep on the train tomorrow."

The next morning Baldy went to bring his car around, and Evans stood with his hand on the back of Jane's chair, looking down at her. "You'll write to me, Jane?"

"Oh, of course."

He shifted his hand from the chair back to her shoulder. "Dear little girl, if my blundering prayers will help you any—you'll have them."

She turned in her chair and looked up at him. She could not speak. Their eyes met, and once more Jane had that breathless sense of fluttering wings within her that lifted to the sun.

Then Baldy was back, and the bags were ready, and there was just that last hand-clasp. "God bless you, Jane. . . ."

Frederick Towne was at the train. He had been dismayed at the news of Jane's departure. "Do you mean that you are going to stay indefinitely?" he had asked over the wire.

"I shall stay as long as Judy needs me."

Frederick had flowers for her, books and a big box of sweets. People in the Pullman stared at Jane in the midst of all her magnificence. They stared too, at Towne, and at Briggs, who rushed in at the last moment with more books from Brentano.

Edith and Baldy were on the platform. Edith had come down with Towne. So Frederick, alone with Jane, said, "I want you to remember the things we talked about yesterday."

"Please, not now. Oh, I'm afraid—"

"Of me? You mustn't be."

"Not of you—of everything—Life."

He took her hand and held it. "Is there anything else I can do for you? Everything I have is yours, you know—if you want it."

He had to leave her then, with a final close clasp of the hand. She saw him presently standing beside Baldy on the station platform—the center of the eyes of everybody—the great Frederick Towne!

As the city slipped away and she leaned her head against the cushions and looked out at the flying fields—it seemed a stupendous thing that a man like Towne should have laid his fortune at her feet. Yet she had no sense of exhilaration. She liked the things he had to offer—yearned for them—but she did not want him at her side.

In her sorrow her heart turned to the boy who had stumbled over the words, "If my blundering prayers will help you—"

She found herself sobbing—the first tears she had shed since the arrival of the telegram.

When she reached Chicago, her brother-in-law, Bob Heming, met her. "Judy's holding her own," he said, as he kissed her. "It was no end good of you to come, Janey."

"Have you a nurse?"

"Two. Day nurse and night nurse. And a maid. Judy is nearly frantic about the expense. It isn't good for her, either, to worry. That's half the trouble. I tried to make her get help, but she wouldn't. But I blame myself that I didn't insist."

"Don't blame yourself, Bob. Judy wouldn't. She told me she could get along. And when Judy decides a thing, no one can change her."

"Well, times have been hard. And business bad. And Judy knew it. She's such a good sport."

They were in a taxi, so when tears came into Heming's eyes, he made no effort to conceal them.

"I'm just about all in. You can't understand how much it means to me to have you here."

"And now that I am here," said Jane, with a gallantry born of his need of her, "things are going to be better."

The apartment was simply furnished and bore the stamp of Judy's good taste. A friend had taken the children out to ride, so the rooms were very quiet as Jane went through them.

Judy in bed was white and thin, and Jane wanted to weep over her, but she didn't. "You blessed old girl," she said, "you're going to get well right away."

"The doctor thinks I may have to have an operation. That's why I felt I must wire you." Judy was anxious. "I couldn't leave the babies with strangers. And it was so important that Bob should be at his work."

"Of course," said Jane; "do you think anything would have made me stay away?"

Judy gave a quick sigh of relief. How heavenly to have Janey! And what a dear she was with her air of conquering the world. Jane had always been like that—with that conquering air. It cheered one just to look at her.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Then Baldy was back, and the bags were ready, and there was just that last hand-clasp. "God bless you, Jane. . . ."

Frederick Towne was at the train. He had been dismayed at the news of Jane's departure. "Do you mean that you are going to stay indefinitely?" he had asked over the wire.

"I shall stay as long as Judy needs me."

Frederick had flowers for her, books and a big box of sweets. People in the Pullman stared at Jane in the midst of all her magnificence. They stared too, at Towne, and at Briggs, who rushed in at the last moment with more books from Brentano.

Edith and Baldy were on the platform. Edith had come down with Towne. So Frederick, alone with Jane, said, "I want you to remember the things we talked about yesterday."

"Please, not now. Oh, I'm afraid—"

"Of me? You mustn't be."

"Not of you—of everything—Life."

He took her hand and held it. "Is there anything else I can do for you? Everything I have is yours, you know—if you want it."

He had to leave her then, with a final close clasp of the hand. She saw him presently standing beside Baldy on the station platform—the center of the eyes of everybody—the great Frederick Towne!

As the city slipped away and she leaned her head against the cushions and looked out at the flying fields—it seemed a stupendous thing that a man like Towne should have laid his fortune at her feet. Yet she had no sense of exhilaration. She liked the things he had to offer—yearned for them—but she did not want him at her side.

In her sorrow her heart turned to the boy who had stumbled over the words, "If my blundering prayers will help you—"

She found herself sobbing—the first tears she had shed since the arrival of the telegram.

When she reached Chicago, her brother-in-law, Bob Heming, met her. "Judy's holding her own," he said, as he kissed her. "It was no end good of you to come, Janey."

"Have you a nurse?"

"Two. Day nurse and night nurse. And a maid. Judy is nearly frantic about the expense. It isn't good for her, either, to worry. That's half the trouble. I tried to make her get help, but she wouldn't. But I blame myself that I didn't insist."

"Don't blame yourself, Bob. Judy wouldn't. She told me she could get along. And when Judy decides a thing, no one can change her."

"Well, times have been hard. And business bad. And Judy knew it. She's such a good sport."

They were in a taxi, so when tears came into Heming's eyes, he made no effort to conceal them.

"I'm just about all in. You can't understand how much it means to me to have you here."

"And now that I am here," said Jane, with a gallantry born of his need of her, "things are going to be better."

The apartment was simply furnished and bore the stamp of Judy's good taste. A friend had taken the children out to ride, so the rooms were very quiet as Jane went through them.

Judy in bed was white and thin, and Jane wanted to weep over her, but she didn't. "You blessed old girl," she said, "you're going to get well right away."

"The doctor thinks I may have to have an operation. That's why I felt I must wire you." Judy was anxious. "I couldn't leave the babies with strangers. And it was so important that Bob should be at his work."

"Of course," said Jane; "do you think anything would have made me stay away?"

Judy gave a quick sigh of relief. How heavenly to have Janey! And what a dear she was with her air of conquering the world. Jane had always been like that—with that conquering air. It cheered one just to look at her.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Then Baldy was back, and the bags were ready, and there was just that last hand-clasp. "God bless you, Jane. . . ."

Frederick Towne was at the train. He had been dismayed at the news of Jane's departure. "Do you mean that you are going to stay indefinitely?" he had asked over the wire.

"I shall stay as long as Judy needs me."

Frederick had flowers for her, books and a big box of sweets. People in the Pullman stared at Jane in the midst of all her magnificence. They stared too, at Towne, and at Briggs, who rushed in at the last moment with more books from Brentano.

Edith and Baldy were on the platform. Edith had come down with Towne. So Frederick, alone with Jane, said, "I want you to remember the things we talked about yesterday."

"Please, not now. Oh, I'm afraid—"

"Of me? You mustn't be."

"Not of you—of everything—Life."

He took her hand and held it. "Is there anything else I can do for you? Everything I have is yours, you know—if you want it."

He had to leave her then, with a final close clasp of the hand. She saw him presently standing beside Baldy on the station platform—the center of the eyes of everybody—the great Frederick Towne!

As the city slipped away and she leaned her head against the cushions and looked out at the flying fields—it seemed a stupendous thing that a man like Towne should have laid his fortune at her feet. Yet she had no sense of exhilaration. She liked the things he had to offer—yearned for them—but she did not want him at her side.

In her sorrow her heart turned to the boy who had stumbled over the words, "If my blundering prayers will help you—"

She found herself sobbing—the first tears she had shed since the arrival of the telegram.

When she reached Chicago, her brother-in-law, Bob Heming, met her. "Judy's holding her own," he said, as he kissed her. "It was no end good of you to come, Janey."

"Have you a nurse?"

"Two. Day nurse and night nurse. And a maid. Judy is nearly frantic about the expense. It isn't good for her, either, to worry. That's half the trouble. I tried to make her get help, but she wouldn't. But I blame myself that I didn't insist."

"Don't blame yourself, Bob. Judy wouldn't. She told me she could get along. And when Judy decides a thing, no one can change her."

"Well, times have been hard. And business bad. And Judy knew it. She's such a good sport."

They were in a taxi, so when tears came into Heming's eyes, he made no effort to conceal them.

"I'm just about all in. You can't understand how much it means to me to have you here."

"And now that I am here," said Jane, with a gallantry born of his need of her, "things are going to be better."

The apartment was simply furnished and bore the stamp of Judy's good taste. A friend had taken the children out to ride, so the rooms were very quiet as Jane went through them.

Judy in bed was white and thin, and Jane wanted to weep over her, but she didn't. "You blessed old girl," she said, "you're going to get well right away."

"The doctor thinks I may have to have an operation. That's why I felt I must wire you." Judy was anxious. "I couldn't leave the babies with strangers. And it was so important that Bob should be at his work."

"Of course," said Jane; "do you think anything would have made me stay away?"

Judy gave a quick sigh of relief. How heavenly to have Janey! And what a dear she was with her air of conquering the world. Jane had always been like that—with that conquering air. It cheered one just to look at her.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Then Baldy was back, and the bags were ready, and there was just that last hand-clasp. "God bless you, Jane. . . ."

Frederick Towne was at the train. He had been dismayed at the news of Jane's departure. "Do you mean that you are going to stay indefinitely?" he had asked over the wire.

"I shall stay as long as Judy needs me."

Frederick had flowers for her, books and a big box of sweets. People in the Pullman stared at Jane in the midst of all her magnificence. They stared too, at Towne, and at Briggs, who rushed in at the last moment with more books from Brentano.

Edith and Baldy were on the platform. Edith had come down with Towne. So Frederick, alone with Jane, said, "I want you to remember the things we talked about yesterday."

"Please, not now. Oh, I'm afraid—"

"Of me? You mustn't be."

"Not of you—of everything—Life."

He took her hand and held it. "Is there anything else I can do for you? Everything I have is yours, you know—if you want it."

He had to leave her then, with a final close clasp of the hand. She saw him presently standing beside Baldy on the station platform—the center of the eyes of everybody—the great Frederick Towne!

As the city slipped away and she leaned her head against the cushions and looked out at the flying fields—it seemed a stupendous thing that a man like Towne should have laid his fortune at her feet. Yet she had no sense of exhilaration. She liked the things he had to offer—yearned for them—but she did not want him at her side.

In her sorrow her heart turned to the boy who had stumbled over the words, "If my blundering prayers will help you—"

She found herself sobbing—the first tears she had shed since the arrival of the telegram.

When she reached Chicago, her brother-in-law, Bob Heming, met her. "Judy's holding her own," he said, as he kissed her. "It was no end good of you to come, Janey."

"Have you a nurse?"

"Two. Day nurse and night nurse. And a maid. Judy is nearly frantic about the expense. It isn't good for her, either, to worry. That's half the trouble. I tried to make her get help, but she wouldn't. But I blame myself that I didn't insist."

"Don't blame yourself, Bob. Judy wouldn't. She told me she could get along. And when Judy decides a thing, no one can change her."

"Well, times have been hard. And business bad. And Judy knew it. She's such a good sport."

They were in a taxi, so when tears came into Heming's eyes, he made no effort to conceal them.

"I'm just about all in. You can't understand how much it means to me to have you here."

"And now that I am here," said Jane, with a gallantry born of his need of her, "things are going to be better."

The apartment was simply furnished and bore the stamp of Judy's good taste. A friend had taken the children out to ride, so the rooms were very quiet as Jane went through them.

Judy in bed was white and thin, and Jane wanted to weep over her, but she didn't. "You blessed old girl," she said, "you're going to get well right away."

"The doctor thinks I may have to have an operation. That's why I felt I must wire you." Judy was anxious. "I couldn't leave the babies with strangers. And it was so important that Bob should be at his work."

"Of course," said Jane; "do you think anything would have made me stay away?"

Judy gave a quick sigh of relief. How heavenly to have Janey! And what a dear she was with her air of conquering the world. Jane had always been like that—with that conquering air. It cheered one just to look at her.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

—C'EST LA GUERRE! Uncle Sam Seeks New Blood For Enlarged Armed Forces

Until Europe's war began, the U. S. planned an average army of 179,000 men this fiscal year. President Roosevelt's "limited emergency" boosted it to 227,000. Thus, throughout the nation, recruiting officers are trying to raise their quotas, anxious for enrollees yet particular whom they take. These quotas show what a recruit may expect. Above: An officer, having cornered two prospects, takes them back to the office for further discussion. "Strong back" soldiers are no longer wanted; the army needs intelligent men in this day of mechanization.

Recruits are given forms to fill out. If over 21, parents' consent is not needed. Applicants between 18 and 21 must have their parents' consent. From all, the army demands character references. Physical examinations come next, and after enlistment medical officers are constantly looking after the soldier's health.

Our enrollees find at their first meal that the army hardly offers a "Hollywood reducing diet." U. S. soldiers are the best fed in the world. Also the best clothed, getting new clothes "from the skin out." Civilian clothes can be worn when on pass.

Neatness and orderliness is stressed. Even the trunk lockers are packed uniformly. This is one way of inculcating discipline, which army officers insist never hurt anyone.

Rifle drill and other recruit instruction, fundamentals of military service, are taught every enrollee no matter what branch he eventually enters. Even quartermaster corps men learn first to be soldiers before starting their special training. Within a few months these raw recruits will be seasoned soldiers, ready to choose their career in the army which Uncle Sam hopes will be one of peace.

Native 'Doctors' Union. Native "doctors" of South Africa have formed a union to gain official recognition and regulate their work. At a hearing in Pretoria, Charlie Dlamini, assistant secretary of the association, testified that the plan was to protect the members in the courts and to revive ancient native practices. One of the exhibits at the trial was a book of rules "governing Bantu doctors," which fixed the charge "for throwing bones" at 62 cents.

Scroll of Peace. The Scroll of All Nations or the Scroll of Peace is an illuminated document, included in a leather case, which the Flying Hutchinsons (Lieut. Col. George R. Hutchinson, Mrs. Hutchinson and their two daughters) are carrying on a flight around the world to obtain the signatures of all the rulers to a pact of peace. They have already secured the signatures of President Roosevelt and the Latin American presidents.

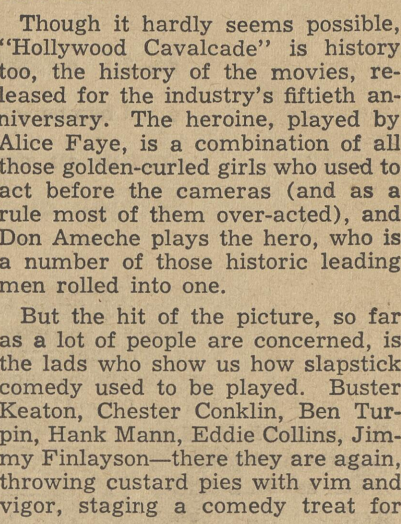

Star Dust

★ Way Back in Movies
★ War Cramps Hughes
★ Thomas in Screen Debut
—By Virginia Vale—

IF THE current crop of young Americans doesn't know all about American history it won't be the fault of the movies. Producers are fairly falling over each other in the scramble to stake a claim to a slice of it; hardly a day passes that another historical picture isn't announced.

Though it hardly seems possible, "Hollywood Cavalcade" is history too, the history of the movies, released for the industry's fiftieth anniversary. The heroine, played by Alice Faye, is a combination of all those golden-curlled girls who used to act before the cameras (and as a rule most of them over-acted), and Don Ameche plays the hero, who is a number of those historic leading men rolled into one.

But the hit of the picture, so far as a lot of people are concerned, is the lads who show us how slapstick comedy used to be played. Buster Keaton, Chester Conklin, Ben Turpin, Hank Mann, Eddie Collins, Jimmy Finlayson—there they are again, throwing custard pies with vim and vigor, staging a comedy treat for the old-timers who used to laugh at them and the new generation who never saw them before. All hail the Keystone cops!

ALICE FAYE

And be it said for Alice Faye that she can take a custard pie in the face and come right up for more.

Howard Hughes is returning to the picture business, since the war has cramped his style where round-the-world flights are concerned. And he wants a new boy and girl team. He has shown that he's a genius when it comes to discovering and developing talent; he launched Jean Harlow in "Hell's Angels," you'll remember, and made Paul Muni a motion picture star overnight in "Scarface."

He's shown, too, that he knows how to make pictures. During the long stretch when "Hell's Angels" was considered just a rich man's folly, people who had served their time at picture-making predicted that he'd never get back one-tenth of the money that he was pouring into it. It's still being shown and still making money.

John Charles Thomas is going into the movies. Remember the little difference of opinion he had concerning his radio appearances, because he wouldn't sing if he couldn't conclude with "Good night, Mother"? He will sing in the picture in which he makes his screen debut, "Kingdom Come," whose story deals with American folk music. It will be made by Producers Corporation of America, a new motion-picture company.

It's going to seem strange to have Nelson Eddy permanently off that Sunday night radio program; a lot of his admirers will never be reconciled to his departure. But he feels that, what with concerts, recordings and work in the movies, he hasn't time for regular radio work.

Edward G. Robinson is all in favor of realism on the radio and in his pictures, but it was almost too much for him at one of his broadcasts not long ago. The script called for the sound effect of a man being hit over the head with a chair. The sound effects man was to smash the chair against the wall (try it sometime and see if it sounds like the real thing). The chair slipped, hit an actor over the head, and put him in the Hollywood emergency hospital.

ODDS AND ENDS—After having it on and off the schedule since 1936, Metro has finally put "Not Too Narrow, Not Too Deep" into production, with Joan Crawford and Clark Gable. . . . Paramount is offering the public a new romantic team in "Moon Over Burma"—they're Patricia Morrison and Robert Preston. . . . "Vera Vague," of the Charlie McCarthy program, is played by Barbara Jo Allen, whom you hear as "Beth Holly" on "One Man's Family." . . . Watch for more and better (we hope) comedies on the screen from now on; motion picture producers are on the hunt for stories that will help the public to forget the war.

Army Food Rations. Army rations prescribe that even in wartime every soldier shall have approximately 5½ pounds of food daily. When it is impossible to serve hot food the "b," or reserve, ration of canned meat and bread is issued.

"Cloud Factory" Set Up. A French rainmaker has designed a "cloud factory" and declares that within a quarter of an hour he can hide all Paris under a blanket of clouds one mile thick.

HOUSEHOLD QUESTIONS

Fitting Candles.—A candle may be made to fit any candlestick if dipped for a moment into very hot water. This will soften the wax and it can then be easily pushed in.

Care of Lamp Shades.—Silk and parchment lamp shades should be dusted frequently with a soft brush or the vacuum cleaner.

Blending Fruit Juices.—Grapefruit juice blends well with pineapple and raspberries. This combination is good served as a cocktail or partially frozen for dessert.

Shoes That Pinch.—If a patent shoe pinches any part of the foot, a rag well soaked in boiling water should be placed over the part. If this is done while the foot is in the shoe, the leather will soften to the shape of the foot.

Improving Veal Roast.—Veal roasts are improved by rubbing them with powdered ginger, black pepper and onion salt before cooking.

Let Beds Air.—In order to give the bedding and mattress time to air out, homemaking experts recommend delaying bed-making until just before noon or after all the other regular morning household tasks have been performed.

When Baking Apple Pies.—To prevent the juice from running out of the pie, mix the apples and sugar and let them stand covered for five minutes, then drain off the juice from the apple slices.

What's in a Name?

IN CHINA, the more distinguished a man is, the shorter is his title. One might wonder how Mr. Burionagonator-ecagaezocoecha (it's his real surname, believe it or not) would rate in that far-off land. But then Mr. Burionagonator-etc., etc., is not a Chinaman, but a Spaniard of Madrid. Wonder what he was called for short at school.

Mr. Konstantinow Georgin Kallochriactiankis, a Greek immigrant of Spokane, Wash., found the burden unbearable, so he recently obtained permission to change his name to Gus Elf. Well, that lightens the load considerably.

Both Strengthened. He that aids another, strengthens more than one.—Lucy Larcom.

How To Relieve Bronchitis

Bronchitis, acute or chronic, is an inflammatory condition of the mucous membranes lining the bronchial tubes. Creomulsion goes right to the seat of the trouble to loosen germ laden phlegm, increase secretion and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding that you are to like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

CREOMULSION

for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

Both Strengthened. He that aids another, strengthens more than one.—Lucy Larcom.

CONSTIPATED?

Here is Amazing Relief of Conditions Due to Sluggish Bowels

Nature's Remedy. If you think all laxatives act alike, just try this one. It's natural, gentle, refreshing, invigorating. Dependable relief from sick headaches, bilious spells, tired feeling when associated with constipation. Without Risk. Get a 25c box of NR from your druggist. Make the test when you're not satisfied, return the box to us. We will refund the purchase price. That's fair. Get NR Tablets today.

J. HARVEY BURGESS, EDITOR

$1.00 Per Year in State; $1.50 Per Year Out of State.

Published Every Friday.

Entered as second class matter on May 9, 1913, at the postoffice at Harrington, Delaware, under the Act of October 3, 1879.

Articles for publication must be accompanied by the name of the writer or insure publication, but not necessarily for publication.

To insure publication in the current week, all communications should be in this office not later than 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

CCC BOYS PLACED ON MANY NEW JOBS

The number of enrollees of the Delaware CCC camps who have received jobs in private industry this month is equal to the number who got employment during the first six months of this year.

Of the three CCC camps in Delaware twenty-two boys have found employment during October an average of almost one a day, stated Wentworth Deverell, supervisor of enrollment for the Delaware CCC.

Most of those hired, said Mr. Deverell, have gotten jobs giving good pay, in the heavy industries. This includes both colored and white boys.

Mr. Deverell is of the belief that a part of their success in getting jobs is the result of training in skills received by these boys while in the camps. He points out that 40 per cent of the boys who got jobs have never been employed before joining the camps.

ASBURY METHODIST CHURCH OF HARRINGTON

Robert E. Green, Minister

Church School 9:45 A. M.

"No other book is more intensely realistic than the Word of God. It teaches us to honor life, men, society, occupation and the homely virtues which have their sphere in the secular duties." The Bible instructs mankind how to find the Eternal Pathway which leads to God through Christ. Bible instruction taught by competent teachers will be given for every age group Plan to study and sing with the orchestra this Sunday.

Morning Worship 11:00 A. M. Vested Junior Choir will sing anthem. Sermon by the minister.

Junior League 6:30 P. M., in the Collins' Building.

Intermediate League at 7:30 P. M. in the Collins' Building.

Youth Service at 6:30 P. M., in the Collins' Building.

Evening Service 7:30 o'clock. Chorus Choir will sing. Selections by trio, solo also will be sung. Evangelistic message by the minister. Helpful Gospel

Hymn Sing by the Congregation. We welcome you to worship with us.

Tuesday evening, 6:45 o'clock, Church School Board meeting in the Collins' Building.

Tuesday evening, 7:15 o'clock, Official Board meeting in the Collins' Building.

Wednesday evening, 7:30 o'clock, Orchestra rehearsal.

Thursday evening, 7:00 o'clock, Junior Choir rehearsal.

Thursday evening, 8:00 o'clock, Senior Choir rehearsal.

Friday evening, 7:30 o'clock, Union Prayer Service at the Trinity Methodist Church.

A beautiful spirit was manifested by members and friends of the Church in response to the call made by the Official Board and Minister to balance the Church budget by last Sunday, the last day the Church would worship as a Methodist Episcopal congregation. The budget was met and the minister and official board are grateful to all who cooperated. Many contributions of canned goods and vegetables were brought to the church for the Harvest Home Service last Sunday. The Church was attractively decorated by the flower committee for the Harvest Home celebration.

For sale—Electric Light Plant—Kohler 1500 Watt, 110 Volt D. C. Automatic with 60 gallon fuel tank. Used very little. Perfect condition. Half Price.—C. E. Keyes, Farmington. Telephone Harrington 195.

I draw up wills and deeds and do all kinds of legal work.—Joshua Smith, Notary Public and Justice of the Peace, Harrington, Del.

"Chevrolet's First Again!"

FIRST AGAIN in modern features . . . first again in beauty and luxury . . . first again in performance with economy . . . first again in driving ease, riding ease and safety . . . first again in high quality at low cost among all cars in its price range!

- NEW ROYAL CLIPPER STYLING
- NEW FULL-VISION BODIES BY FISHER
- BIGGER INSIDE AND OUTSIDE
- NEW SEALED BEAM HEADLIGHTS WITH SEPARATE PARKING LIGHTS
- THE RIDE ROYAL

Eye it!
 Try it!
 Buy it!

85-H.P. VALVE-IN-HEAD SIX
$659

- NEW EXCLUSIVE VACUUM-POWER SHIFT
- SUPER-SILENT VALVE-IN-HEAD ENGINE
- PERFECTED HYDRAULIC BRAKES
- LARGER TIPTOE-MATIC CLUTCH
- CHEVROLET HAS MORE THAN 175 IMPORTANT MODERN FEATURES

New 1940 CHEVROLET HARRINGTON MOTOR COMPANY HARRINGTON, DEL.

The New Universities WEBSTER DICTIONARY

Free!

WITH YOUR NEW OR RENEWAL SUBSCRIPTION TO THE HARRINGTON JOURNAL AT ONLY $1.00 per year

HERE is the most sensational subscription offer you have ever seen! This big 900-page New Universities Webster Dictionary is yours—ABSOLUTELY FREE—with your new or renewal subscription to this paper at the regular rate of $1.00 PER YEAR. YOU MUST ACT QUICKLY! This amazing SPECIAL SUBSCRIPTION OFFER is limited. Mail your subscription NOW!

ACT TODAY!

USE THIS FREE DICTIONARY COUPON MAIL TO

The Harrington Journal Harrington, Del.

USE THIS COUPON

THE HARRINGTON JOURNAL Harrington, Delaware

Please send me FREE New Universities Webster Dictionary.

I am enclosing for my subscription.

NAME, R. F. D. or ST., CITY, STATE

Glass AUTO - PLATE Window - Mirrors STORE FRONTS INSTALLED Dover Plate Glass Company Phone 1099

September 16th

I will begin operating a bus between Bridgeville and Wilmington and will make trips each Saturday.

Schedule Lv. Bridgeville Post Office 7:00 a. m. Lv. Greenwood Hotel 7:15 a. m. Lv. Harrington, Stone's Hotel 7:30 a. m. Return trip leave Wilmington at 4:00 o'clock p. m. CLARENCE LOFLAND Harrington, Del.

WHERE TO BUY

Nationally Known Products and Specialized Services

Auto Accessories

Save at your Western Auto Associate Store W. C. Fergusson, Owner 217 Lockerman St. Dover

Automobile Dealer

PLYMOUTH and CHRYSLER Sales & Service MILTON DILL Milford Phone 453

SALES SERVICE

Authorized Dealer BOLAN MOTORS Forrest & Lincoln Sts., Dover 881

Willys

SALES AND SERVICE Special Offer—1938 Willys At a Reduced Price MILFORD MOTOR COMPANY Railroad Ave. Milford 224

PONTIAC

Sales - Service Specialists on Carburetors, Brakes & Ignition WRIGHT'S GARAGE Milford - Phone 177

Auto Body Work

Auto Painting Wax, Polishing Body & Fender Straightening "No Job Too Large or Too Small" Cookie's Auto Body & Fender Shop 38 SO. NEW ST. - DOVER 945

Auto Body Shop

Axles & Frames Straightened Cold on Car Body & Fender Work Auto Glass ELLIS BROTHERS 309 So. Governors Ave., Dover 314

Auto Elec. Service

Authorized Service Station UNITED MOTOR SERVICE Auto-Lite & Delco Remy Parts Generators - Ignition - Starter MAGNETO REPAIRS AUTO BATTERY SERVICE CO. 119 North St. - Dover - Phone 254

Auto Service

SERVICE SPECIALIST Complete Auto Elec. Service Ignition - Lubrication - Brakes BITER'S AUTO SERVICE 307 So. Governor Ave. Dover 814

Auto Tires

Goodrich TIRES DOZZIE ROBERTSON Jct. Route 13 & 14, Harrington

GOOD YEAR TIRES Radios - Auto Accessories USE OUR EASY PAY PLAN 307 So. State St. - Dover 49

FIRESTONE Tires - Tubes Amaco Gas - Oils Lubrication GEORGE PASKET, PROP. PEOPLES SERVICE STATION At the Cross-Roads - Harrington

G. E. Oil Furnace

No More Heating Worries World's Finest Oil Furnace Costs Less to Own "No more Looking After my furnace!" JAMES A. DOWNES Plumbing & Heating - Dover 1064

Auto Loans

Cars Financed - Late Models Re-finance Loans Arranged For A Nice Selection of Used and Re-possessed Cars to be Sold K & I FINANCE CORP. E. V. Ingram E. V. Keith S. Gov. Ave. & Bank St. Keith Bldg. Phone 955 DOVER Phone 940

Awnings

UPHOLSTERING ANTIQUES RESTORED Feather Beds Made into Mattresses Inner-Spring Mattresses Re-built Slip Covers - Window Shades GEO. G. RICHARDSON 127 So. Governors Ave. - Dover 649

Beauty Shop

We Specialize in - Frederic and Machineless Permanent CATHERINE'S BEAUTY SHOPPE 214 So. State - Dover 135

Beauty Salon

Eugene Frederic and Machineless Permanent CAMEO BEAUTY SALON All Forms of Beauty Culture Priscilla Bldg., State St. - Dover 674

Dept. Store

PENNEY'S J. C. PENNEY'S CO., INC. No. Walnut & E. Front St. - Milford 128-130 Lockerman St. - Dover

Dry Cleaning

75c SUITS DRESSES (plain) COATS Deliveries Monday & Thursday CAPITOL CLEANERS 140 So. Gov. Ave. - Dover - Phone 300

Electrical Appliances

The New WESTINGHOUSE "Pacemaker" Sets The Pace In Complete Modern Refrigeration "ITS KITCHEN PROVED" SWAIN'S 208 Lockerman St. - Dover 515

Farm Machinery

ALLIS-CHALMERS Sales & Service DELIVERED PRICES Model "B" $525.00 Model "R. C." $810.00 Model "W C" Starter & Lights $995.00 Implements For Same WM. FLEISCHAUER Farmington, Phone Harrington 79 R 22

MASSEY HARRIS

TRACTORS Farm Equipment & Supplies EVERETT WARRINGTON 2 Mi. So. of Harrington, Phone 88R12

Feed & Seed

FARMERS AND FEEDERS SERVICE, INC. ESHELMAN RED ROSE FEEDS For Dairy and Poultry Seed - Fertilizer - Supplies Forrest Street, Near the Railroad For Service - Phone DOVER 424

CONSULT THIS COLUMN WEEKLY

Furniture

Authorized Dealer For HOT POINT Electric Appliances SELLERS Breakfast Sets & Cabinets ALEXANDER-SMITH Rugs GOLD SEAL CONGOLEUM NAP AND SPENCE 409 Lockerman St. Dover

Health Service

FLOYD BROUGHER, D. C. CHIROPRACTOR Office hrs. 9-12 a. m., 2-5 & 6-8 p. m. Neurologometer and X Ray Service 158 So. Bradford St. - Dover 565

Millinery

All The Newest Styles In Spring Millinery ANNE B. JUMP LOCKERMAN ST. - DOVER

Music

Everything Musical SHEET MUSIC RECORDS Expert Repairs Instruction On All Instruments LYRIC MUSIC SHOP 5 East Front St. - Milford

Monuments

A MEMORIAL FOR EVERY PURPOSE At a Fair Price A. J. COUHG So. Governors Ave., Dover 1057W

Optometrist

A COMPLETE OPTICAL SERVICE Examination Making Office hrs. 9-12, 2-6 Eve. Appointments SAMUEL C. EVANS 8 South Walnut St. - Milford

Photo Supplies

Films All Sizes KODAKS Developing Enlarging Finished The Professional Way SCHWARTZ STUDIO Dover, Del.

Plumbing & Heating

Machine and Foundry Work Heating - Plumbing - Lighting "CENTURY OIL BURNERS" E. L. Jones & Co., Inc. DOVER, DEL. - PHONE 2

Refrigeration

Authorized Norge Dealer Zenith Radios Williams Oil-O-Matic OIL BURNERS Heating & Electrical Contractor EARL W. HUMPHREY 158 So. Bradford St. - Dover 422

Upholstering

WALTER O. QUILLEN - AWNINGS - WALL PAPER - LINOLEUM Venetian Blinds - Slip Covers 212 LOCKERMAN ST. - DOVER

Used Cars

1938 Ford DeLux Htr. Looks New 1937 Chev. Sedan. R & G Good Rubber 1936 Buick Special Sedan 1936 Ford Sedan - Bargain $325.00 BAYARD V. WHARTON Ford - Mercury - Lincoln Zephyr MILFORD - PHONE 100

Wheel Alignment

STOP That Shimmy, Wandering, Hard Steering, Abusive Tire Wear CAMPER'S SERVICE STATION Harrington - Phone 87

Of Local Interest

Mrs. Charles Hopkins visited her sister in Camden, N. J., this week.

AUTO LOANS at lowest rates, arranged promptly for Delaware, or Maryland owners of 1936, 1937, 1938, or 1939 cars, even if a balance is owing to a Finance Company. Charles F. Broughan, 106 Cannon St. (ground floor) Seaford, Delaware.

Mr. and Mrs. Hasty Cain spent Sunday in Dover as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Behen.

For sale—Nancy Hall and Porto Rico sweet potatoes. One mile east of Harrington, on Frederica road.—B. L. Griffith.

Mrs. Willie Fleming spent Wednesday in Dover.

Mrs. Mary Hitch, of Farmington, called on Mrs. Annie Calloway Thursday.

Garage for rent.—Apply to Mrs. Geneva Hurd.

William McCabe, of the U. S. Navy, spent the week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William McCabe.

WANTED—Opportunity for intelligent and refined woman desirous of having an exclusive business in own home catering to women customers. Small cash bond required. Write details of yourself, and address to The Harrington Journal.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Creadick and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Black of Virginia, are on a motor trip to Nebraska and Missouri.

Wanted—Woman to do housework. Laundry sent out.—Mrs. C. E. Keyes, Farmington. Phone Harrington 195.

Mrs. A. C. Creadick spent last Wednesday in Greensboro, Md.

Mrs. Vertie Cahall spent Saturday in Dover.

The preparations are about complete for the Crusade for Christ campaign to be conducted by the Methodist Churches of Harrington from November 19th to December 3rd. The Rev. and Mrs. Albert Turkington will be the evangelists. Rev. Mr. Turkington was born in Ireland. He has traveled extensively and conducted campaigns in a number of large cities in the United States.

Wanted—Children to care for. Day-time only. From one year up.—Mrs. George Cleandaniel, Wolcott St., Harrington, Del.

The ladies of Masten's Corner will hold a chicken salad, ham and oyster supper at the home of James Kates, 1/2 mile north of Masten's toward Burnite's Mill, on Tuesday evening, November 7th. Children 25 cents, adults 50 cents.

Mr. and Mrs. John Truitt have moved into the property of Mrs. J. Scott Purse, on Hanley Street.

For Sale—Household furniture at private sale.—Mrs. A. J. Grimes, Clark Avenue or 304 Lake Avenue, Milford.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Truitt, Elva Truitt, Grace Terry, Martin Cain and Patty Dineen, of Philadelphia, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Boyer.

For Sale—Male Rat Terrier puppy. Excellent pet for children.—Harry C. Tee.

Mrs. Grace Lynch, of Wilmington, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Norris Adams.

No hunting day or night on my property.—Ernest Vogl, Harrington, Delaware.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Pepper and daughter, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Francis Graham.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Harrington spent three days last week in Philadelphia.

Wanted—White or colored girl for part-time housework. Apply at Journal office.

From this date, Randall H. Knox is an ardent believer in the horoscope. Thursday his horoscope read: "It is possible that you may receive some pleasant gain or gift on Thursday." He had just finished the reading, when he walked his brother, Sergeant Charley Knox, of the State Highway Police, who made him a present of a large jug of Sussex county sorghum.

My home for rent on Hanley Street. All modern conveniences.—Jean L. Purse, Seaford, Delaware.

Mr. F. W. Harrington was in Baltimore the first of the week.

Miss Betty Stroud was a week-end visitor to New York City.

Taxi. Local and long distance. Day and night service. Reasonable rates.—Amy Stone's Hotel, Phone 103.

The Goldey College Soccer team handed the Harrington High team a socking to the tune of 3 to 1 on Thursday night.

Cecil Ryan, of Wilmington, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Ryan.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hersholt, of Dover, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Satterfield.

Mrs. Robert Freidel, of Philadelphia, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Otwell.

Mrs. Anna Wyatt, Mrs. Maude Biddle, Mrs. Wilson Ferguson and Miss Ula Mae Clarkson, of Wilmington, spent the week-end with Mrs. Virginia Clarkson.

Mrs. S. E. Raughley is very ill at her home on Dorman Street.

Mrs. Noah Cain is visiting her daughter in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sylvester attended the breakfast party of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Outten, in Dover, on Sunday.

TRINITY METHODIST CHURCH OF HARRINGTON
Gilbert E. Turner, Pastor

Church School 9:45 A. M. General Superintendent, Elwood Gruwell; Superintendent of Cradle Roll, Alice Wix and Angie Potter; Superintendent of Primary Division, Mae W. Turner; Superintendent of Junior Division, Albert Thistlewood; Superintendent of Young Peoples' Division, Harry C. Tee; Superintendent of Adult Division, Clifford Raughley; Superintendent of Home Department, Sallie Cahall.

Divine Worship 11:00 A. M. Holy Communion. Special music. Meditation by the pastor.

Evening Worship 7:30 o'clock. Evangelistic service. Sermon by the pastor.

Monday, 7:00 P. M., Church Workers' Conference at Dover. Visitors invited.

Monday, 7:30 P. M., Monthly business and social meeting of the Loyal Workers Bible Class in the Sapp Memorial Building. The following committee will provide refreshments and entertainment: Mrs. Annie Gruwell, Mrs. Georgia Jacobs, Mrs. Angie Potter and Mrs. Mae Turner.

Tuesday, 7:30 P. M. The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society will be held in the Sapp Memorial Building. The members of Circle number 3, Mrs. Florence Fleming, chairman, will entertain and serve refreshments.

Thursday, 7:00 P. M. Orchestra rehearsal.

Thursday, 7:30 P. M. Choir rehearsal.

Friday, 7:30 P. M. Union Prayer Service in the Sapp Memorial Building of Trinity Methodist Church.

I issue marriage license.—Squire Joshua Smith.

Saturday, Nov. 4, One Day Only

2—BIG FEATURES—2
No. 1. Peter Lorré in "MR. MOTTO'S VACATION"
No. 2. Bill Elliott in "LAW COMES TO TEXAS"

Mon.-Tues., Nov. 6 & 7

Big Double Feature Program
2—BIG HITS—2
No. 1. Joe Penner in "THE DAY THE BOOKIES WEP"
No. 2. Joel McCrea in "ESPIONAGE AGENT"

Wednesday, Nov. 8, Only

2—BIG HITS—2
No. 1. J. Carrol Nash in "ISLAND OF LOST MEN"
No. 2. Roy Rogers in "I'N OLD CALIENTE"

Thurs., & Friday, Nov. 9 & 10

The Big Hit of 1939
Norma Shearer, Joan Crawford and Rosalind Russell in "THE WOMEN"

Saturday, November 11 Only

2—BIG HITS—2
No. 1. Charles Ruggles and Mary Boland in "NIGHT WORK"
No. 2. George O'Brien in "MARSHALL O'FMESA CITY"

Prices cut on nationally known Pharis tires — The Lowest Priced High-Grade Tires in America! Guaranteed in writing. Amazing new "Heat-Pruf" (Reg. Trade Mark) cord construction. Safer, stronger. Makes tires last much longer. Come in and save on the tires you need NOW!

SAVE MONEY ON TIRES NOW!

Size	List Price	Sale	Size	List Price	Sale
450 x 20	$ 9.40	$ 6.95	550 x 17	14.65	9.50
450 x 21	10.80	7.20	550 x 18	15.20	9.90
475 x 19	11.45	7.45	600 x 16	15.95	10.35
500 x 20	12.40	8.40	600 x 17	16.50	10.75
525 x 17	12.90	8.40	625 x 16	17.95	12.05
525 x 18	13.35	8.65	650 x 16	19.85	12.95
550 x 16	14.15	9.20

TRUCK & BUS BALLOON HEAVY DUTY TRUCK

Size	List Price	Sale	Size	List Price	Sale
600 x 20	$23.65	$15.95	30 x 5	$29.60	$19.95
650 x 20	29.95	19.95	32 x 6-8 ply	37.60	25.95
700 x 20	38.95	26.95	32 x 6-10 ply	50.60	34.40
750 x 20	48.75	32.50	34 x 7-10 ply	69.80	46.95
825 x 20	71.90	47.95

MIDCITY Service Station

CLAYTON KILLEN, Proprietor
General Auto Repairing, Tires, Tubes and Accessories
—Call For And Delivery Service—
Phone 190
Clark Street
HARRINGTON, DELAWARE

AMERICA'S UNBROKEN ARMISTICE

1918-1939

The armistice of November 11, 1918 has endured for the United States for twenty-one years, and it is the hope of every American that it shall remain unbroken.

This nation has no quarrel with any other nation. We have no entangling alliances. Nor are there in the world anywhere any baubles of power or conquest that we are tempted to buy with precious blood.

We give thanks for the armistice of 1918 and a thousand thanks more for the unbroken armistice of 1939.

THE PEOPLES BANK OF HARRINGTON HARRINGTON, DEL.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

I, ENOCH H. JOHNSON, Receiver of Taxes in and for Kent County, do hereby notify the Taxpayers of said county that pursuant to the Provisions of Volume 37, Chapter 105, Section 2 of the Laws of Delaware, and 1935 Revised Code of Delaware No. 1403, Sec. 63, I will sit during the months of July, August, September, October, November and December at the places and on the dates hereinafter named, between the hours of 9:30 A. M. and 3:30 P. M. for the purpose of receiving County and Special School Taxes due in Kent County:

NOVEMBER

KENTON—J. T. BURROW'S STORE MONDAY 6
HARRINGTON—TOWN HALL WEDNESDAY 8
LEIPSIC—WILSON'S STORE THURSDAY 9
MILFORD—CITY OFFICE FRIDAY 10
CLAYTON—R. W. SLAUGHTER'S OFFICE MONDAY 13
WYOMING—FIRST NATIONAL BANK WEDNESDAY 15
SMYRNA—NATIONAL BANK THURSDAY 16
FREDERICA—FIRE HOUSE FRIDAY 17

THERE WILL BE ONE PER CENT PENALTY ADDED EACH MONTH ON ALL TAXES PAID AFTER SEPTEMBER 30TH, 1939.

All capitation taxes not paid before October 1, 1939, will be placed in the hands of a CONSTABLE FOR IMMEDIATE COLLECTION.

Enoch H. Johnson,
RECEIVER OF TAXES

THE BEST OF SERVICE AT ANY PRICE!

We are constantly called upon to furnish funeral services in every range price, the same careful attention is given to every funeral—the best possible service and merchandise are furnished. To those whose means are limited, we have plenty of selections, while those who want and can afford luxuries, we offer the finest that money can buy. Our clients themselves establish their own prices.

BOYER FUNERAL HOME
HARRINGTON, DELAWARE
Phone 74

MESSICK'S ESSO STATION

OPPOSITE PENN. RAILROAD STATION

COMPLETE VERIFIED ESSO LUBRICATION
CARS WASHED A SPECIALTY
TIRES — TUBES — BATTERIES ACCESSORIES

FOR THE BEST OF MERCHANDISE—FOR THE BEST OF SERVICE—TRY US ONCE—WE WILL APPRECIATE YOUR BUSINESS

FINDS TELEPHONE A GREAT COMFORT

"Yes, Bob's getting along fine in the city. I was talking to him over the 'phone only the other day. It does seem sort of strange not having him around, but I don't miss him so much when I can call him every now and then and hear his voice. My telephone certainly is a great comfort to me, all right."

IT PAYS TO HAVE A TELEPHONE
THE DIAMOND STATE TELEPHONE COMPANY

Suggestions For Late House Cleaning

We carry a large variety of sizes in the following floor coverings — Priced to suit everyone.

AXMINSTER FIBRE MATTING LINOLEUM CONGOLEUM

LACE CURTAINS
All styles and prices

WINDOW SHADES
25 cents to $1.00 each

ODD TABLES & CHAIRS
To brighten up the home

BED BLANKETS
All sizes and prices

Wilbur E. Jacobs
HARRINGTON, DELAWARE

Who Creates CREDIT?

THE suggestion has often been made that banks should "create more credit."

The truth is that a bank is only one of the parties necessary to the creation of credit. The other is a worthy borrower, able to employ bank funds profitably and to repay them when due.

This bank has money to lend. It is anxious to make sound loans. If you wish to borrow, we will welcome your application.

The First National Bank OF HARRINGTON
Harrington, Del.
MEMBER OF FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORP.
MEMBER FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

Patterns Practical As Well as Smart

No. 1840. Do you take a large size? Then the beautifully long-line dress (1840) is one that you should make up right away.

With slenderizing panels, it has the high-bosomed, narrow-hipped effect most becoming to you. It's smart for afternoon wear and every day, too.

With Sl'ght Military Air. No. 1839. For juniors, the basque-waisted frock with flaring skirt (1839) is ideal to wear to school and to business. The little-boy collar enables you to keep it always fresh and new-looking, and it's such an easy style to make.

The Patterns. No. 1840 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 50 and 52. Size 38 requires 4 3/4 yards of 39-inch material with long sleeves; 4 3/4 yards with short; 3/4 yard for vestee.

No. 1839 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17 and 19. Size 13 requires 2 1/2 yards of 54-inch material with long sleeves; 2 1/2 yards with short; 1/2 yard for collar in contrast.

Fall Pattern Book. Special extra! Send today for your new Fall Pattern Book with a stunning selection of a hundred perfect patterns for all shapes and sizes.

Send your order to The Sewing Circle Pattern Dept., 247 W. Forty-third street, New York, N. Y. Price of patterns, 15 cents (in coins) each.

(Bell Syndicate—WNU Service.)

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB. I like to ponder on people's ways and how they know just what is right; And why on Sundays they get dressed up and walk around with their shoes too tight.

DRINK these 10 herbs in your daily cup of HOT WATER. Add the juice of GARFIELD TEA's 10 herbs to loosen harmful undigested, clinging wastes.

Life a Pastime. To maintain oneself on this earth is not a hardship but a pastime, if only one will live simply and wisely.—Thoreau.

That Nagging Backache. May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action. Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys.

OUR COMIC SECTION

Events in the Lives of Little Men

(WNU SERVICE) GENIUS

POP. HAVING A CORKING GOOD TIME, POP? NO. AN UNCORKING GOOD TIME! By J. Millar Watt. WNU.

S'MATTER POP. POP, WHEN I GET BIG WILL YA BUY ME ONE OF THESE HORSES? WHAT KIND OF HORSE? LIKE THE ONE IN THE BOOK! I GUESS SO!

NOT IN HIS VOCABULARY. Who For? Father was losing his temper with his son, who, it appeared, was quite incapable of learning anything. AND STEP LIVELY, TOO. On the Trail. Private Detective—As instructed, madam, I have followed your husband.

Household News By Eleanor Howe

SATURDAY NIGHT MEAT PIE

Hurry-Up Meals. What a feeling of satisfaction it creates to be able to confront the family with an attractive and substantial meal, even after a long afternoon of shopping or of bridge.

Hasty Oven Baked Beans. 1 large can baked beans, 1/4 pound bacon, 1/4 cup light brown sugar, 2 tablespoons tomato catsup.

Hasty Noodles. 1 package noodles, 8 slices bacon, 2 eggs (well beaten), 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper.

Corn and Mushroom Omelet. 1 No. 2 can corn, 3 eggs, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon baking powder, 2 tablespoons diced green pepper.

Knit Practical Blouse Over One Week-End

Pattern 6478

For that college girl's wardrobe! You can knit this blouse over a week-end—it's done on huge needles with that popular soft wool that's heavier than candlewick.

Strange Facts

Bath Trains Wound Cash Mouth Prints. As most of the private houses in the towns of Transylvania have no baths, the Rumanian government now runs "bath trains" through this section.

Correct Constipation Before—Not After! An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of emergency relief. Why let yourself suffer those dull lifeless days because of constipation?

Quiet Times. Our quietest times are our growing times.—Anon. A GREAT BARGAIN VESPER TEA PURE ORANGE PEKOE 50 Cups for 10 Cents

Curtain Fashions Still Are Featuring Fish Net. By BETTY WELLS. A fisherman's sweetheart, long ago, draped a length of fish net over her head, found it becoming and thus began a vogue for lace which has continued to this day.

Razing of an Old Chicago Building Recalls Career of Dwight L. Moody, Famous Evangelist of 50 Years Ago

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

THEY have torn down an oldtime building on Chicago's famous "Near Northside" which was a landmark, rich in the religious lore of America. It was the old Moody church building on the northwest corner of La Salle street and Chicago avenue, where a modern business district links a part of the famed "Gold Coast" with a typical city slum.

Erected in 1873 by the world-famous evangelist, Dwight L. Moody, this building was known as the Chicago Avenue church until the death of its founder in 1899. Renamed the Moody church, it finally was outgrown and purchased in the last days of the World War by the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.

But even though the disappearance of this picturesque building removes one of the tangible evidences of the influence which Dwight L. Moody once exerted upon American society, it makes room for what appears to be an even greater monument to the great evangelist.

For with the passing of this historic building has come the launching of a building program by the Bible school founded on adjoining property by Moody more than half a century ago. Already a 12-story administration building—complete with studios of a 5,000-watt radio station, WMBI, located in the tower—casts its shadow over the building site soon to become a grass plot on Moody Bible Institute's downtown campus. Meanwhile, basement of the proposed Torrey-Gray auditorium—named in honor of Dr. R. A. Torrey, first superintendent, and Dr. James M. Gray, late president of the institute has been finished.

Origin of the Moody church is directly traceable to the street urchin Sunday school class organized in Chicago in 1858 by 21-year-old Dwight L. Moody. Moody was born in Northfield, Mass., February 5, 1837. He was brought up on a farm until he was 16 years of age when he left home and went to Boston where he was employed in a store for several years.

Dwight L. Moody, one of the most colorful of American evangelists, in a characteristic pulpit pose.

Clerk in a Shoe Store.
In Boston he became a professor of religion under the preaching of a Dr. Kirk and shortly afterwards emigrated to Chicago where he found employment as a clerk in a large wholesale shoe store. Perhaps it was indicative of his later powers as an evangelist that he soon became one of the most successful salesmen in the place.

While thus engaged he began to spend his evenings doing missionary work among the lowly and destitute of the city. One day he applied for a teaching position in a mission Sunday school but was told that already there were too many teachers. But if he would bring his own class, they told him, he could teach.

Accordingly, the next Sunday the young shoe salesman turned up with a dozen street toughs in tow. Once started, nothing could stop the growth of this unique class. There were fights. One day a careless scholar entered with his cap on. A loyal member spotted him, sent him sprawling with a blow between the eyes and the comment, "I'll teach you not to enter Moody's Sunday school with your hat on." But in spite of such disruptions enrollment soared with mushroom growth and Moody scoured the city for teachers.

Teaching the group of reformed street urchins known as "Moody's Bodyguard."

The Chicago Avenue or "Moody's Church" as it appeared soon after completion in 1876. It has recently been torn down to make room for the new buildings of the Moody Bible Institute which Moody founded in 1886.

When attendance hit 1,500 Moody's Sunday school was known throughout Chicago. And when, one day in 1860 President Lincoln visited the school, its fame spread throughout the Middle West. And no wonder. For in addition to his ability to attract noted persons to his school, Moody's methods of operation were shockingly unconventional.

His plan for disposing of unfit teachers had little to ask in efficiency. Scholars were allowed to transfer from one class to another. Inevitable results were that teachers who failed to interest their scholars were quickly left without classes.

His devices for publicizing his school were as novel as they were successful. He issued stock certificates of the "North Market Sabbath School association," capital, $10,000; 4,000 shares at 25 cents each. These certified the purchase of shares "for the erection of a new building." . . . "For dividends, apply at the school each Sabbath at 3 p. m."

Moody's "Bodyguard."
At another time 13 street arabs were promised new suits at Christmas for regular attendance every Sunday until that time. Their names: Red Eye, Smikes, Madden the Butcher, Indian, Jackey Candles, Giberich, Billy Blucannon, Darby the Cobbler, Butcher Kilroy, Greenhorn, Black Stovepipe, Old Man, Ragbreeches Cadet. All but one fulfilled the conditions and the newly uniformed squad became known as "Moody's bodyguard."

Capitalizing on the incident, Moody made "before and after" photographs. These he hung under the captions "Does It Pay?" and "It Does Pay!" Proof that it did became apparent in many cases.

One day years later a former teacher in the old Sunday school stopped before a railway ticket office. "You don't seem to know me," said the agent.

"No, I don't believe so," replied the traveler.

"You know 'Moody's bodyguard'?"

"Yes, I have a picture of them at home."

"Well," the agent answered, "when you get home, take a good look at the toughest of the lot, and you'll see the chap you're looking at now—and a church member."

A Union Army General.
Others went into the North Market Sunday school as youthful hoodlums and came out respectable citizens. One became postmaster of Chicago, another a general in the Union army. Thus it was inevitable that out of this expanding group should come a permanent organization. Young men and women who had grown up in the school were reluctant to leave. So in 1864 the Illinois Street church was erected—then a strange organization made up of persons from every church denomination and persons outside all denominations.

But the years of Moody's first church building were numbered. On the Sunday night of October 8, 1871, while he was preaching on the text, "What then shall I do with Jesus which is called Christ?" the fire bells sounded. Soon Moody had difficulty in making his voice heard above their clamor. At length he gave up saying, ". . . Take this text home with you and turn it over in your minds during the week. And next Sabbath we will . . . decide what to do with Jesus of Nazareth."

That was the night Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicked over the lantern that started the great Chicago fire. About midnight Illinois Street church was laid low by the flames and Moody never saw his congregation again.

Aided by Wanamaker.
But almost before the fire in Chicago was extinguished Moody was in the East soliciting funds for relief work. Soon with money provided largely by John Wanamaker of Philadelphia, he returned, built a temporary tabernacle where for months destitute families were housed and services were held. Then as his work became wider known contributions were received from all parts of the country. These, together with pennies with which Sunday school children purchased bricks, built the basement and first story of the church at the corner of LaSalle and Chicago avenue. This was housed over and first occupied in 1873.

Meanwhile Moody found himself faced with a real difficulty. The fire had left Chicago in ashes. There were no homes anywhere near his church where he could find people to invite to the services. Not even saloons. So he decided on a trip to England. And while there he was so impressed with the need of people for Christianity that in 1873 he returned with his long leader, Ira D. Sankey, for a three-year evangelistic campaign of the British Isles.

Moody and Sankey Return.
Upon the return of Moody and Sankey to this country, they appeared often in the new Chicago building. At the same time, as ever, Moody attracted to his pulpit some of the most famous men of his time. There probably is no single church in the Middle West in which so many great personages appeared. Roll call of speakers at old Moody church includes Henry Ward Beecher, William Jennings Bryan, "Gen." William Booth, Andrew Murray, George Muller, P. P. Bliss, J. Hudson Taylor, Henry Drummond, John Hay, Thomas Spurgeon, Gen. O. O. Howard and a score of others.

Meanwhile, the reputation of D. L. Moody spread. He conducted evangelistic meetings in virtually all of the large cities in the East. He launched two schools in Massachusetts—a girls' school at Northfield and a boys' school across the Connecticut river at Mt. Hermon, both of which are in existence today. Then in 1886 he founded a Bible school in Chicago later to be renamed Moody Bible Institute.

In November, 1899, Moody began his last evangelistic mission—a week of meetings in Kansas City, Mo. Fifteen thousand people jammed the auditorium the first night to hear him. A thousand more were turned away. Each night it was the same. But Thursday, the sixteenth, Moody suffered a chill, found it difficult to walk and was ordered to bed by a physician. He was taken to his home in Northfield, Mass., and died there on December 22.

Today, 66 years since its foundations were laid, Old Moody church—first institution inspired by a one-time shoe salesman—has been leveled. But the memory of D. L. Moody, one of the most colorful of American evangelists, lives on.

Ira D. Sankey was a native of Pennsylvania, where he was born August 28, 1840. Sent as a delegate from New Castle, Pa., to an international convention of the Y. M. C. A. in Indianapolis in 1870, his singing made such a great impression upon Moody, who was a delegate from Chicago, that the latter invited him to come to Chicago to aid him in his evangelical work. Sankey accepted the invitation and thus the world-famous "Moody and Sankey" combination was formed.

Influence of the Moody-Sankey revival in Britain is a matter of history. Even today in England and Scotland there are hamlets where whole church congregations live in the memory of the American evangelists. In the larger cities audiences of 10 to 15 and even 20 thousand turned out night after night to hear Moody preach and Sankey sing.

Even Englishmen will admit that Sankey's singing revolutionized church music in Great Britain. Heretofore church organs were few—the idea being that musical instruments were an abomination to the Lord. And the only songs used were Psalms which were chanted rather than sung.

Sankey changed all this. With Moody's support he brought in a portable organ, placed it on the pulpit and sang spirited songs. These proved irresistible even to the stolid British. To meet the demand for this type of singing Moody and Sankey got together a collection of their songs and had them printed.

Success of the new song book was instantaneous. First edition was sold in a day. Bookstores were emptied of the second. Then they appeared in drygoods and grocery stores, in meat markets—even the newsboys hawked them until 13,000,000 copies were sold.

Although Moody and Sankey refused to copyright their book, the publishers did and soon royalties had mounted to a considerable figure. Still the evangelists would have none of it. In desperation a committee was formed to decide on the disposition of the funds. One member knew of the unfinished church in Chicago, and as a result $30,000 was sent to add the upper floor and tower of the building in 1876.

Moody's Democratic Ways.
But above all else it undoubtedly was Moody's native and democratic spirit that won Britain. One night in London he was, as was his habit, directing the seating of the audience. As he anxiously watched two bewildered old ladies who were vainly looking for front seats a friend brought upon the platform a distinguished English earl.

"Glad to see you, lord," said Moody. "Won't you please take a couple of chairs to those two old ladies down there?"
He did.

On another occasion it was whispered to him with consider-

An unknown shoe salesman at 24 with hardly a year's schooling, in less than two decades Dwight L. Moody founded two secondary schools and a Bible institute, organized a church and made his name a household word on two continents.

able consternation that an exalted personage had just entered the hall.

"I hope she may be much blessed," Moody whispered back.

During the World's fair of 1893 the Chicago Avenue church, better known as "Moody's church," became headquarters for a city-wide evangelistic campaign.

When fair officials announced open day Sunday, churchmen threw up their hands in holy horror. "Let's outlaw it!" said some. "Boycott the fair!" cried others.

"No," replied Moody good naturedly. "We'll just run them out of Sunday business."

Thus the city was divided up into districts and a church named for each section. Meetings were held nightly, and every means possible employed to attract people. Moody himself plunged into the thick of the fight. He rented Forepaugh circus' largest tent and pitched it on the fair's front doorstep. At first he could get it only for Sunday morning services. Ten thousand persons attended and the circus plugged its afternoon and evening shows with the announcement:

Ha! Ha! Ha!
Three Big Shows!
Moody in the Morning!
Forepaugh in the Afternoon and Evening!

But the idea proved a boomerang. Instead of attending afternoon and evening circus performances people crowded into a neighborhood church which Moody had secured. As a result circus officials abandoned their performances. Then they asked Moody to supply an evangelist to hold meetings Sundays in their tent in other cities at their expense.

DOLLAR MAKERS One Method Of Advancing Is to Retreat

By GEORGE T. EAGER

TONS of rock and dirt must be excavated before a diamond is found. It is just as unusual to find among thousands of salesmen that rarity among those who sell—the man who believes in the selling power of understatement.

A coffee salesman startled the retail grocers of a large city by beginning his sales talk with the statement, "This is the second best brand of coffee on the market." Grocers naturally asked, "Who makes the best brand of coffee?" to which the salesman would reply, "Each of my many competitors makes the best brand and they all will tell you so." Admitting having the second best brand evidently placed him in a position where he was without competition and his sales results proved it.

A large baking company has successfully marketed a brand of bread in markets long held by established competitors. The new bread was well advertised in local newspapers. But under instructions from a president who knew the power of understating, salesmen sold each grocer one or two loaves less than the store's normal demand. Grocers were soon telling late afternoon customers, "I'm sorry we are all sold out of that bread." It was not very long before storekeepers as well as customers unconsciously thought of it as the fastest selling brand and therefore the best bread.

Grocers unconsciously recommended it to customers and customers soon began demanding it of grocers and its success was assured.

UP-TO-DATE
'REVOLUTION'

THERE could be no more convincing way for the historian of the future to point out the high standards of living prevailing in this country than to contrast today's demands of those who want to overthrow our institutions with the demands of the revolutionists of other eras in the world's history. The French masses cried for bread and failing to get it brought on the French revolution. But when a present day advocate of revolution in this country recently made a speech he said: "Why should the citizens—at least 90 per cent of them—be imprisoned behind the cruel bars of want when within their grasp there are plenty of shoes, of clothes, of motor cars, of refrigerators to which they are entitled?"

From this point of view it is the salesmen who sell modern conveniences who are our most important national asset for the prevention of revolutions. We have 7 per cent of the world's population and starting with a wilderness have created and own today more than half of the world's wealth. Intelligent salesmanship and mass production have distributed this wealth so widely that stringent immigration laws are required.

The new industries created and developed in this country in the past 50 years now give employment to 10,000,000 men and women. Each new industry, whether it be automobiles, radio or rayon represents a new idea that has had to be first sold to the American people. It is significant that in this same period foreign countries, that have not developed their newspapers and publications as advertising vehicles for the dissemination of new ideas about things to buy, have not developed a single great new industry. If the United States has reached the point when revolutionists must cry for motor cars and refrigerators to get attention, it would seem that we are well on our way to prosperity.

Now It's Your Turn
W. F. Gentry, a Murray, Ky., carpenter, claims the oldest battery in continuous use in America. He says he has used a five-unit wet cell battery daily for 25 years on a gasoline engine furnishing power for a planer.

Ancient Bath tub
We think of bath tubs as a fairly recent innovation, but a recent excavation proved that King Minos of Crete had a handsome tub in his palace 4,000 years ago.

HOW TO SEW

by Ruth Wyeth Spears

"STURDY and masculine." Also, "Red trimmings, please." That was the order for the bedspread in the combination work-and-play room of a 10-year-old lad. Blue and tan predominated in the room. The clever mother made curtains for the rather large square window; using lunch cloths in these colors—one cloth making a pair of curtains.

Blue denim with red gingham bands is suggested for the spread. The diagram may be used as a guide for cutting and making a spread of any 36-inch material for a bed of any width. The amount of material needed will be three times the full width of the finished spread, plus two inches. Two seams covered by bands run straight across the width of the spread. The two lengthwise bands may be close together or far apart according to the width of the bed. The corners at the foot are cut out as shown. The edges are then pressed to the right side and bands stitched over them.

NOTE: Readers who are now using Sewing Books No. 1, 2 and 3 will be happy to learn that No. 4 is ready for mailing; as well as the 10 cent editions of No. 1, 2 and 3. Mrs. Spears has just made quilt block patterns for three designs selected from her favorite Early American quilts. You may have these patterns FREE with your order for four books. Price of books—10 cents each postpaid. Set of three quilt block patterns without books—10 cents. Send orders to Mrs. Spears, Drawer 10, Bedford Hills, New York.

Smiles
That's Plain
Kindergarten Teacher (explaining difference between stately rose and modest violet)—You see, children, a beautiful, well-dressed woman walks along the street, but she is proud and does not greet anybody—that is the rose. But behind her comes a small creature with bowed head . . . Jackie (interrupting)—Yes, ma'am, I know; that's her husband.

It doesn't cost much to have your car overhauled.—Garage advertisement. That depends on whether it's a traffic policeman who does it.

Then He'll Know
Willie—Say, Dad, why do they call English the "mother tongue"? Dad—Just observe who uses it the most around this house.

Barbaric
Explorer—I have made a remarkable discovery: a tribe of human beings that possess no weapon of warfare.
Listener—Is that so? Didn't think there was any part of the world that uncivilized.

The only things some women can get straight are the seams of their stockings.

Wrong Approach
Wimpus—I grovel here in the dust at your feet . . .
Clara—Dust! Dust! Do you mean to insult me? Why I spent the whole afternoon cleaning this room.

NEW PACK! YOUNG TENDER
JOLLY TIME
POP CORN
GUARANTEED TO CRACK UP YOUR COOKERS

PENNY FOR PENNY YOUR BEST CIGARETTE BUY

By burning 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands tested—slower than any of them—CAMELS give a smoking plus equal to 5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!

CAMELS LONG-BURNING COSTLIER TOBACCO'S

MORE PLEASURE PER PUFF—MORE PUFFS PER PACK

CHEMIST DEVISES METHOD FOR HUNTING SUBMARINES VINEYARD HAVEN, MASS.—A chemical process by which the course and position of submarines could be checked is being considered by the war department, according to Dr. Max Trumper, Philadelphia bio-chemist.

He said that certain gases discharged by a submarine when it rises to the surface to obtain fresh supplies of oxygen and recharge its batteries mingle with the water. A surface ship, by dropping certain chemicals which cause the water to change color on mixing with the gases could check the submarine's position.

CAMELS LONG-BURNING COSTLIER TOBACCO'S

(Continued from page 1)
METHODIST CONFERENCE

of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South also being united.

Their spokesman was the Rev. Dr. J. Leas Green, pastor of Bethesda Church, Salisbury, formerly of the Methodist Protestant Conference.

"I deeply regret," said Dr. Green, "that this matter of finances should be linked here with the tenderest subject that could come before an assembly anywhere. The plain fact is you are not the Wilmington Conference. No court in the world would recognize this body as the Wilmington Conference."

Declaring he, also, had obtained competent legal advice, he insisted the courts would recognize the "intent of the original corporate body as long as there had been no wilful diversion of funds" and added that the general uniting conference in Kansas City last summer had made sufficient revision to care for any legal technicalities.

"If the funds are jeopardized at all, he said, 'you've already jeopardized them far more than any question of a name by your vote this morning to dissolve the Wilmington Conference. You've jeopardized everything you held, unless they are safeguarded already, and I think they are.'

"Why should we go on with these deliberations about a name that to many churches on this shore is offensive?"

The Rev. H. P. Fox, pastor of Asbury Church, Salisbury, formerly of the Wilmington Conference, called upon the conference to keep "faith" with the other conferences and select the name "Peninsula Conference of the Methodist Church."

"If we lose $5,000 let us lose it if we need be," he declared. "If we lose $10,000, let us lose it if need be. But let us go forward unitedly."

"It's very noble to speak of giving up $10,000," Mr. Windsor rejoined, "but who is doing it. Not us, but our conference claimants."

He denied there was any trick intended. Only the unprobated five bequests are involved, he said, not the conference investments.

After the Rev. D. W. Jacobs had made an appeal for retaining the name "Wilmington," the Rev. J. W. Colona of the former Wilmington Conference moved that the name "Peninsula" be adopted tentatively until the next regular conference.

An amendment was offered to adopt the name "Wilmington" tentatively then another amendment was offered to adopt the name "Peninsula" permanently. A vote on a demand to put the previous question was lost and debate offering compromise names such as "Mardela Conference," "Delmarva Conference," and even "Salisbury Conference."

The afternoon session was adjourned abruptly at 6 p. m. in the midst of this discussion.

The conference elected the following ministerial delegates to the general conference: Dr. Bunting, Salisbury; Dr. Hearn, Dover, and the Rev. T. C. Mulligan, Cambridge. The ministerial delegates to the jurisdictional conference of the eastern district elected were these three who serve automatically and the Rev. D. W. Jacobs, Dr. Gunby, Wilmington; the Rev. W. P. Roberts, Chestertown, the Rev. Dr. E. C. Hallman, Laurel, and the Rev. E. P. Thompson.

In a separate meeting the laymen elected the following delegates to the general conference: O. M. Shockley, Showell, Md., Miss Betty S. Brittingham, Salisbury; Senator W. Fell Davis, Federalsburg, Md. The laymen elected these delegates to the jurisdictional conference: Harry B. Wright, Preston, Md.; Fred R. Atkins, Salisbury; Harry E. Walls, Church Hill; Luther Bennett, Goldsboro, Md., and C. N. Satterfield, Chestertown. The general conference delegates also will attend the jurisdictional meeting.

The membership board of ministerial training was elected as follows: The Rev. O. E. Jones, the Rev. Frank Herson, the Rev. L. E. Wimbrow, the Rev. R. S. Hodgson, the Rev. O. A. Bartley, the Rev. Tilghman Smith, the Rev. M. W. Marine, the Rev. E. M. Shockley, the Rev. E. W. Hervey, the Rev. Leonard White, the Rev. O. P. Jefferson, the Rev. M. S. Andrews, the Rev. O. J. Collins, the Rev. J. E. Cummins, the Rev. Leslie Weaver, and the Rev. H. A. Deal.

The trustees of the Peninsula Conference which was adjourned to meet at the call of the bishop were chosen as follows: The Rev. W. A. Hearn, the Rev. Disston W. Jacobs, the Rev. R. T. Thawley, the Rev. M. S. Andrews, the Rev. R. S. Hodgson, the Rev. J. M. Kelso, the Rev. M. E. Wheatley, and the Rev. O. E. Jones.

The board of ministerial qualifications was elected as follows: The Rev. R. C. Jones, the Rev. Tilghman Smith, the Rev. E. P. Thomas, and the Rev. J. E. Cummings, to serve until 1940; the Rev. Frank Herson, the Rev. T. C. Mulligan, and the Rev. L. E. Jackson, to serve until 1941; the Rev. M. W. Marine, the Rev. E. Windsor, the Rev. F. D. Milbury, the Rev. O. J. Collins and the Rev. R. J. Yow, to serve until 1942.

The Rev. J. T. Bailey, pastor of the Milford Calvary Church, was placed on the retired list, at his request, because of failing health.

Bishop Hughes announced that all of the pastors of the former M. E. Church, South, of the Baltimore and Virginia Conference were reappointed to their charges and that all the ministers of the Maryland Conference of the M. P. Church with the exception of Mr. Cummings were reappointed. All ministers of the former Wililmington M. E. Conference were reappointed except the following, who were given these charges:

Milford, the Rev. M. S. Hungerford; Sharptown, the Rev. W. P. Kesmodle; Whaleyville, the Rev. J. P. Adams; Governors Avenue Church, Dover, the Rev. John Howard Link; Whatcoat Church, Snow Hill, the Rev. George Sterling; Claymont, the Rev. J. Earl Bartell; Grove, the Rev. W. E. Lewis.

Bishop Hughes appointed the district superintendents and the Rev. J. B. Pettus and the Rev. M. S. Hungerford as members of the committee on committees. This group was empowered to fill in the membership of all other committees of the conference. A memorial service for the late Rev. William Frazier McDowell, a leading worker in the national movement for unification was a feature of the night session.

Later Bishop Hughes condemned the observance of the eve of All Saints Day by masking, frolicking and general roistering. He pointed out that this showed disrespect for the saints.

The conference passed a motion establishing a Board of Christian Education to comprise 24 members to be elected later by the conference. It will consist of 12 ministers and 12 youths and will be financed by a sum equal to 1/2 of 1 per cent of the salaries of all pastors in the conference, and not deducted from the pastors' salaries, however.

A joint commission ruled that all payments by the conference to individual churches shall remain the same as under the old conference. A total of four churches in Wilmington receive $930, six in Dover receive $465, and six in Salisbury $470.

The Joint Commission on Christian Education reported the following activities maintained by the previous conference districts will be continued: Vacation Bible School, Camps, Youth Assemblies, Leadership and Training Schools, Youth Councils, Mid-Winter Rallies and Epworth Leagues.

The conference adopted a resolution that all money handling of the previous conference will continue in their present functions. Another resolution empowered the conference to retain attorneys in the event of litigations.

Previously the Wilmington Conference had adopted resolutions transferring its property and other interests to the new conference and also transferring the allegiance of its subsidiary organizations.

Previously ac'

PUBLIC SALE

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1939
 At 1:00 O'clock

I will sell at auction, the following livestock and farming implements, on the farm where I now reside, 2 miles east of Harrington, on the Harrington-Frederica road:
 3 HORSES, 8 COWS (T. B. and Blood Tested),
 .2 wheel harrows and walking cultivator, 2 plows, shovels, hoes, forks, milk cans, etc.
LOT OF HAY IN LOFT
 Terms: CASH. Rain or Shine
WILLIAM STUBBS, JR.

A resolution was adopted establishing the Methodist Protestant Recorder as the official newspaper of the conference without any change in name. If the name had been changed it would have meant the loss of $1,000 a month from the Methodist General Board.

A committee of four Baltimore members and three peninsula members is to be named later and will conduct the affairs of the paper as well as of the publishing house which is operated in connection with it. This action was taken in adopting a report of the committee in publications headed by Rev. J. W. Colona. Dr. Richard L. Shipley of Baltimore, the editor, said there are liabilities amounting to $130,000 against the publishing house of which the new conference will have to bear its proportionate share.

The Conference opened officially with the merging of four groups. Dr. Bicking, Crisfield, was selected as permanent secretary of the new conference.

SAFETY COUNCIL NOTES

According to the Delaware Safety Council, motorists do not have enough respect for Mother Nature in her violent moods, during the winter months. As a rule, the motorist depends too much on non-skid tires, chains and abrasives on pavements and too little on common sense.

TO BETTER SERVE OUR CLIENTS

EVERY up-to-date facility. Complete motorized equipment. An unusually beautiful line of caskets in modern designs and types.

Day and night service, holidays, week-ends and Sundays.

F. W. HARRINGTON
 Harrington, Del.
 Telephone 26

Dead Horses, Mules and Cows
 MOVED FROM FARM PROMPTLY
 —CALL—
Eastern Shore Rendering Company
 GREENWOOD, DEL.
 Phone 3861
 Between 8 A. M. and 4 P. M.
 (We Pay Phone Calls)

Skidding is the greatest hazard. Speeds on ice should not exceed 15 to 20 miles an hour, even with tirechains. Chains are a big safety factor, but only if you keep your speed down. And here is a tip—pump your brakes when stopping on ice—never lock the wheels. The second greatest danger is poor visibility. Keep your windows and windshields clear of ice and snow. By driving slowly and thinking ahead you can avoid situations requiring stops and sudden turns.

BOYS AND GIRLS—

Here is a little story from the Council that you should remember:

A girl was riding her bicycle along a busy street. She was carrying another little girl on the handlebar. They wobbled and wobbled along in front of automobiles.

All at once they fell off, right in the middle on an intersection. An automobile driver ran over a ditch and against a fence to keep from hitting them.

The girls weren't scared. They laughed—thought it was funny. But it isn't funny when you get hurt.

A mouse runs from a cat because he hasn't a chance. A bicycle hasn't a chance against an automobile, either. STAY AWAY FROM THEM.

Gunning notices for sale.—The Journal Office.

Farms Wanted: Having inquiries. Full description.—G. Leslie Gooden. Furnished house for rent in exchange for board.—Mrs. Rebecca Tumlin.

For sale—1 110 volt, 1500 watt Kohler plant, nearly new, perfect condition. Also 1 6 volt, 32 watt, Delco plant, perfect condition, nearly new. Cheap to quick buyer.—Satterfield & Ryan, Harrington, Del.

GUNNING NOTICES FOR SALE

PRINTED ON HEAVY RED BOARD THAT WILL STAND THE WEATHER

5 Cents Each or 50 Cents a Dozen.

AT

The Journal Office

Revival Meeting

AT THE

Pilgrim Holiness Church
 Harrington, Delaware

Nov. 5 to 19, '39

Rev. Lawrence Wade & Wife
 INDIANAPOLIS, INDIANA
 EVANGELISTS

SPECIAL SINGERS & MUSICIANS
 MRS. WADE IN CHARGE OF MUSIC

Services Each Night at 7:30

Sunday Services

SUNDAY SCHOOL 1:00 P. M.

PREACHING 2:00 P. M. & 7:00 P. M.

T. E. Phillips
 PASTOR

Everyone Welcome

AGAIN NORGE LEADS with the new 1940
FASTEMP OIL BURNING HOME HEATER

SEE THIS NEW BEAUTIFUL TABLE HEIGHT CONSOLE FASTEMP HOME HEATER AT OUR STORE

With the obvious beauty of this new console heater Norge engineers introduce three exclusive operating features.

Down-Draft Whirlator—New exclusive Fastemp feature feeds oxygen laden air to the center of flame... assures complete burning of all fuel used... more intensive heat from cleaner burning flame.

"L" Type Heat Drum—With 50% more heat delivering surface, this new type heat drum assures maximum heat delivery into the home with a minimum of heat loss out the chimney.

Triple-Action Synchro-Control—The single dial control is scientifically synchronized to control oil flow, air flow and flue draft assuring perfect fuel combustion... increasing efficiency... increasing economy.

NORGE FUEL OIL HEATERS
 as low as $39.95

Cahall's Gas Service
 Phone 105
 HARRINGTON, DELAWARE