Glamorous Skirts For Dressing Table

Pattern 6459

THE glamour of a dressing ta-ble can easily be yours. Clear directions for four different dressing table skirts-economical yardages-directions for adapting any table are all in this practical pattern. Pattern 6459 contains instructions for making four dressing tables; materials needed; pattern of scallops and rounded edge.

To obtain this pattern send 15 cents in coins to The Sewing Circle Household Arts Dept., 259 W. 14th St., New York, N. Y.

Sew several thicknesses of old turkish towel together for hot dish or pot holders.

Carving lamb roasts is much easier if they have been boned and tied before cooking. Tarnished egg spoons can be quickly cleaned by washing with a rag dipped in salt. French fried potatoes will be more crisp if allowed to stand in cold water for half an hour before frying.

Felt hats can be cleaned by rubbing with a not too fresh or too stale piece of bread.

Threading curtains on to their rods again after washing is difficult—and if they are thin the blunt end of the rod may tear them. Avoid this by fitting a smooth thimble over the end of the rod before threading.

To clean a clock, saturate a piece of absorbent cotton about as large as a hen's egg with kerosene oil and place it in the bottom. Close the door and let the cotton remain for three or four days. Then take it out and swing the pendulum. Unless something is broken, the clock will go all right, as the fumes from the oil cleans the works.

Kitchens should be cheerful and comfortable as well as convenient. A high stool is an aid to comfort in preparing vegetables or mixing ingredients. An attractive corner where the homemaker can sit and read over a new recipe, make out her order list of groceries or wait for a dish to finish cooking adds considerably to a comfortable kitchen.

THE RADIO AND EDUCATION Homework by radio is the latest in education. We may presently hear of the little boy who got "E" in radio.

A child's education may ultimately depend on good reception and whether there was much static in his formative years.

"Little Nell was cut out to be bright," some fond parent may explain in days to come, "but her outside aerial fell down at a crucial period in her education."

It has remained for the New York city board of education to introduce homework by radio. Teachers discuss subjects over the air 15 minutes at night, and the pupils report the next morning. Little Willie's excuse, "But, teacher, popper was using our set to get Bennie Goodman" will presumably not be acceptable.

We can imagine the conversation between mommer and her boy in many a home:

Mother-Now, Milton, don't you want to listen to the radio now? Milton—No.

Mother—But your homework is on Milton-That's why I don't wanna lissen to the radio! Mother-If you don't listen to the radio you'll grow up and be ignorant, and what happens to boys who grow up ignorant? Milton—They get radio jobs at $5,000 a night.

Mother-Everything. When I was a little girl I had no radio to listen to and get my homework. Milton—Those were the days!

Mother-Think of it! Just sitting in a chair by a radio and having your teacher come to you by air.

Milton—I get enough of her in school. Besides, it's not so easy. Last night I had an important lesson and I got my teacher, two shipwrecks, a mystery drama, a British war and the United States marine band all at the same time.

Tom and Jerry

TAKE some egg whites, egg yolks, powdered sugar, brandy, rum and whiskey, mix it all up, and you have a Tom and Jerry. Take the name of America's greatest bartender, Jerry Thomas, mix that up, and you again have Tom and Jerry. Yes, it was Jerry Thomas, head bartender of the old Metropolitan hotel at Broadway and Prince street in New York city who concocted the drink that im-mortalizes his name. Because his parents wanted him to become a minister and because he was the author of a book -the famous "Bartender's Guide''-he was called Professor Thomas. That was not such a

Jerry Thomas was born in New Haven, Conn., in 1825. His parents, sent him to college so he could be a preacher. But, at the age of 20, he quit school to carry on an experiment to determine whether college men could imbibe alcoholic liquors in unlimited quantities. His conclusions were in the negative but he stayed close to the subject he loved by becoming principal bartender in a New Haven saloon. In later years he became head bartender at the famous El Dorado in San Francisco where he invented the Blue Blazer, then he went to St. Louis where he invented the Tom and Jerry. He tended bar all over the United States, Central America and parts of Europe, startling the Europeans especially with his $4,000 worth of silver bar utensils and his unlimited repertoire of mixed drinks.

Butterick Patterns

L ITERALLY hundreds of millions of Butterick patterns have been used all over the world. They have been a boon to hundreds of thousands of mothers in making clothes at home for their families. Now whom do they have to thank-Miss Butterick? Mrs. Butterick? No, neither. The inventor of this home dressmaking aid was a man, Ebenezer Butterick. After some experiments he cut patterns June 16, patterns were folded by members of his family. In September he had to take extra rooms in a building nearby and five girls were hired to do E. Butterick the folding — but Ebenezer still managed to keep his beard out of the way and kept on with the cutting.

The business moved to New York and continued to grow to the point where single cutting machines cut out thousands of patterns of each size at a single stroke. The word "Butterick" in electric lights on the top of the 15-story Butterick building, completed in 1904, was then the largest electric sign in the world. But the building was not finished until a year after Ebenezer Butterick died.

* * * Sandwich

TOHN MONTAGU, fourth earl of Sandwich, English politician, gambler and sportsman, born in 1718, was English ambassador to Madrid and lord commissioner of the admiralty—but his only contribution to posterity was the invention of the sandwich. His private life was a very immoral one and he was so intent upon sports and gambling that he disliked to take time off from them long enough to be served a meal. He ordered one of his servants to slice meat, and put it between two pieces of bread, follow him with several of them and hand one to him when he was hungry. John, Earl of Sandwich That's how the sandwich came into being and where it got its name. And it practically makes the earl of Sandwich the father of the American picnic.

He was a very contemptible person, hated more by the English people than any other nobleman of the Eighteenth century. Among other things, he was guilty of murdering his mistress—an even greater crime than inventing the thing that has made picnics possible - but not much greater.

Smart Sports Frock With Useful Pockets

DOCKET frocks are very smart, especially sports and resort types like this (1889-B), which gives pointed importance to the pockets that Paris is newly sponsoring as both decorative and useful. This charming design is really everything you want in a new dress for sports and daytime. It's young and casual. It buttons down the front so that it's easy to put on. The wide, inset belt and the shoulder portions, cut in one with the sleeves, make it flattering to the figure. It has a slight blouse at the waistline, which makes it feel comfortable and look engagingly nonchalant. You'll enjoy adding this to your midwinter wardrobe right now-in bright wool or flat crepe if you're staying on the job, in pastel silk or cotton if you're flitting South.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1889-B is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Corresponding bust measurements 30, 32, 34, 36 and 38. HE new radio program sponsored by Westinghouse is one of the most interesting and significant on the air. It is broadcast from Pittsburgh every Thursday from 8:00 to 8:30 p. m., Eastern standard time, on 97 stations of NBC's blue network. It is beamed to Europe, South America and other foreign lands.

Its aim is an important one. When Kenneth Watt, who produces and di-rects it, was asked to make up "Mu-sical Americana," he had three things to remember. Primarily, he was to give American music to his audiences. He was to try to please all musical tastes; to win over those who look down on popular music, and inspire a sharper appreciation of serious music in those who think they can't understand it. And he was to give young American musi-

So, on "Musical Americana," Deems Taylor is commentator. Raymond Paige conducts the orchestra of 102 men, from the Pittsburgh Symphony; it is the largest orchestra on any sponsored broadcast. And each week a solo musician of exceptional talent is featured. The principal music schools of the country have been asked to recommend their star graduate students for these appearances.

Deems Taylor, Raymond Paige and Kenneth Watt are top men in their fields; Westinghouse has spared neither time nor effort to give us a superb program, made up of the music of our own country. Thursday should be "Musical Americana night" in all our homes.

"Musical Americana" may play no small part in international relaof New York feels that it is tremendously significant that the program is broadcast to South America in Portuguese and Spanish. So Stuart Erwin went home and talked it over with his mother. She whipped out a pair of scissors, put a towel around his neck, and went to work.

The trained nurses of America have felt that some Hollywood producers had a lot to learn about nurses, judging by some of the pictures in which they have appeared. So they formed a committee to judge all moving pictures having nurse roles. The first picture to win their approval is RKO's "Vigil in the Night"; Carole Lombard and Anne Shirley are the actresses, who, according to the American Nurses' association, really look and behave as they ought to.

Do you want to take a free trip to New York? Every week about 3,000 people who do, write to Dave Elman, of "Hobby Lobby," and about 3,000 more write to "We the People." If you believe that you'd fit into either of those broadcasts, here's your chance.

During 1939 Elman brought some 250 people to New York, an average of five for each "Hobby Lobby" program. An average of $150 was spent on each guest.

ODDS AND ENDS-Hugh Herbert will play six roles in Universal's "La Conga Nights"—he will play himself, four sis-ters and a mother . . . Elvia Allman and Blanche Stewart, whom you've heard as "Brenda" and "Cobina" on Bob Hope's radio show, have been signed by Para-mount for "Night at Earl Carroll's" . . . Phyllis Newman, five, who recently appeared on a Major Bowes Amateur Hour, now has a part in "The Goldbergs."

Billy Gould, sound effects man on the Al Pearce radio program, believes in carrying realism to its peak of perfection. To secure the effect of "low-pressure" salesman Al Pearce being thrown or kicked down a flight of stairs, he uses props consisting of a number of strawberry boxes and a small flight of steps. When the script calls for Pearce to be thrown out of a house, Gould does a jitterbug step down the stairs and climaxes the procedure with a swan dive into the berry boxes. The audience loves it.

FARM

USE OF POWER AIDS FARMERS

Electrical Energy Provides Cheap Chore Boy.

By I. P. BLAUSER Farm boys who reluctantly turn a fanning mill to clean grain probably will feel no better about that task when they hear that tests by agri-cultural engineers at Ohio State uni-versity indicate that five cents worth of electrical power will operate a mill long enough to clean 100 bushels of grain.

Boy-power on the fanning mill would be worth only a fraction of a cent an hour when compared with the expense of electrical energy. Rural homemakers also would fall into the low-wage class when doing the family washing because another five cents worth of electricity will turn out a big washing.

Father places himself in the coolie class every time he milks the cows, because five cents worth of electricity will operate a milker while milking 20 cows. That would make the farmer milk four cows by hand for a cent. Most farmers would concede two or three cents an hour is a rather low wage for effort expended after a hard day in the fields. The servant that rides the power wires also will do other onerous farm tasks for five cents. Included in the nickel class are such jobs as turning a grind stone three hours, mixing two tons of feed, grinding 100 to 1,000 pounds of grain, shearing 75 sheep, pumping 1,000 gallons of water, churning 100 pounds of butter, or washing 2,000 milk bottles. All these tasks can be done with power delivered through electric motors, as well as an additional 190 jobs which may cost more for

Motors, ranging in size from onesixtieth to seven and one-half horsepower are adapted for farm uses. Most power companies forbid the use of larger motors on rural lines. Prices on quarter-horse power motors may range from $6 to $18, depending on the type.

The size of the motor to use, of course, depends on the size of the task to be done. Household tasks and many farm chores fall within the province of the small inexpensive motors. Real work such as running a silage cutter requires sizes toward the upper limit permitted on rural lines.

Land, Labor Are Saved

By Good Farm Layout Labor efficiency has always been the keynote of American agriculture. American farmers have wasted land, but they have harvested a larger yield to the worker, or to the unit-of-labor, than any other this afternoon, Sid?" asked the farmers in the world. They have first lad as he met an old schooleconomized in labor, which was scarce, and have wasted land, which was plentiful.

The future problems of American farmers include a better use of land, a greater intensity of cultivation, and, at the same time, the maintenance of a high productivity of the individual worker.

A well-planned farm layout offers one means of saving land and labor. A good farm layout should provide not only an efficient field arrangement, but also a well-planned farmstead, economical fences, convenient lanes and driveways, and the most profitable use of land.

These are statements of Prof. W. I. Myers, head of the department of agricultural economics at Cornell university. Many New York farms of today need rearranging, he says, because of changes in agricultural conditions, the use of more machinery, the need for larger and less irregular fields, and similar require-part about being married was having space for a shoe shining box. Till then, he'd lived in a suitcase with never room for more than a can of blacking and a brush. Now, with gusto, he hoists his shoes on a very professional stand and pops his rag till he can see himself in his black brogues.

That's just one item of the goodgrooming equipment that every home should have. Another is a steam pressing electric iron for setting in a snappy crease. Mr. Hoover outlines ten points necessary to restore this country to prosperity. Robert Taft comes out with a six-point program, and Glenn Frank emerges with eleven points—making twenty-seven points in all. Who will be the next?

Wilbert Rawley, who has been on the Board of Game and Fish Commissioners only EIGHTEEN years, has been appointed by Governor Mc-Mullen as a member of the Unemployment Commission, at a salary of something like $4,000 per year. One thing about this governor of our, bless his trusting heart, he doesn't like to appoint anyone to office who doesn't already have a good job.

What happens to the sycophants, the "Me, Too" boys, who fawn at the feet of those temporarily in power, expecting to garner a modicum of reflected glory? By the way, what has become of Konrad Henlein? It's been a long time since we've heard anything about the leader of the Sudeton Germans, he who fomented revolution in the then Bohemia and who was to be Adroit Adolph's right hand man! Germany "liquidated" Bohemia -and maybe Konrad!

We do not claim the story to be true, but a reader informs us that during the recent heavy snows, when school buses were running irregularly or not at all, a bunch of school children had gathered on the highway near Vernon, waiting for the bus. One of the kids looked up the road and remarked, "Don't see Roosevelt coming yet." Another asked: "Why do you call the school bus Roosevelt?' "'Cause," answered the first kid, "we don't konw whether it's going to run "Distance lends enchantment to the view and robes the mountains with their purple hue," said the Scottish poet, Thomas Campbell. This may explain why a few damphule residents of the United States are lauding the system of Stalin. Only this week, the secretary of the communist party in America was sentenced to prison for passport frauds. He was born in Russia, and came to this country nineteen years ago, but since he has never been naturalized. he's still a citizen, or whatever they call a citizen over there, of Russia. He had been praising Russia, but when the trial judge offered to suspend sentence if the Russian would return to Russia, the communist screamed: "No! Not that! Don't send me back to Russia!" That striped little animal, the skunk, is beautiful—at a dis-

By LEMUEL F. PARTON

NEW YORK.—It is pleasant, indeed, to get something on Horatio Alger. Here's a boy who won his way to eminence by watching Of Clock Watcher was 38 years Gets a Setback old and had been just a clock-puncher instead of a watcher before this hair-pin turn in his career routed him to fame. We cite Dr. Frank Conrad, the "father of radio broadcasting," recently awarded the gold medal of the American institute for his "guiding genius in developing the world's genius in developing the world's first radio broadcasting system."

The master clock which ticked off his higher destiny hung in the plant of the Westinghouse company in Pittsburgh. It was a highly reputable old clock, but Mr. Conrad didn't altogether trust it. He and another employee made a bet as to which had the more accurate watch, through a week of time-keeping. Mr. Conrad refused to accept the decision of the office clock. In an unused garage near his home at Wilkinsburg, he rigged a crude receiving apparatus to catch time signals from the naval station at Arlington, Va. He caught them, but he also caught some added starters which he could not at first explain. Employing a primitive direction-finding device, he located them as apparently springing from a slag heap about a block away. He didn't find the source there, but he did find it a few steps farther on with one John Coleman, among the lonely impresarios of the first feeble birth cries That was in 1912. Mr. Conrad incidentally won the bet on his $5 watch against its $40 rival, but he forgot all about mere time signals. He and Coleman teamed their researches and began filtering ghostly phonograph recordings through the intervening slag heap. The rest is an old story—the historic KDKA Harding broadcast, Dr. Coleman's 200 radio patents, his honorary doctorate from the University of Pittsburgh and his award of the Lieb- over 27 to enter the Finnish camman, Edison, John Scott, and Lamme medals.

The little, brown, diligent head-man of Santo Domingo is unpredictable. Since he took power 10 years ago, the junta of exiles here has been stacking him up as another Hitler. But just now, he signs a contract admitting 500 families of exiles from Germany and Poland, donates them 24,000 acres of land and says provision will be made for 100,000 additional settlers in the future. The contract grants citizenship to the newcomers and pledges their freedom from "molestation, discrimination or persecution."

He was a farm boy who learned fighting and ball-playing with the marines, during an eight-year period, ending in 1924 with the end of occupation. He's a fast shortstop. In the Dominican army he romped up through grades from private to general

In 1930, he tipped over old President Velasquez and took the country. In the framework of a democracy, he made himself a 100 per cent dictator and his enemies admit that he has made a tidy little nation out of a jungle. He put the opposition in jail.

He has the cleanest of the Latin-American countries and boasts that there is neither crime nor unemployment in Santo Domingo. He decreed that all automobiles should have lettered on their license plates, "Viva Trujillo!" He also had congress officially proclaim him, "benefactor of the fatherland."

He has a beautiful residential estate, patrolled night and day by the army, and three country estates, where meals are served on schedule, as he has implanted the tradition that he is apt to appear anywhere, any time-and he really is.

Every citizen carries a police card and is under the all-seeing eye of an omniscient police service. Nine high-powered automobiles, two ocean-going ships and a 145-foot mahogany-decked yacht keep the general on the move. He builds roads, bridges and factories, dredges swamps and reclaims land and builds up a dazzling wardrobe of uniform and diplomatic apparel, with duplicates for any of his palaces.

He got a bad press in connection with the wholesale killings on the ready answer and he's still the boss. and sat down.

Congress meanwhile began its sixth week with members of the American Youth Congress hissing from the house gallery at everything in sight. Still unsolved were such major problems as economy, foreign relations and the reciprocal trade act, indicating another long session. But plenty of legislation was in the mill:

Neutrality. Passed by the senate 49 to 27 was a bill to boost the Export-Import bank's working capital by $100,000,000, paving the way for non-military loans to Finland cy thus shifted to the house, where the G. O. P. expected to fight against loans to belligerents. Meanwhile the senate foreign relations committee kept postponing action on the proposed embargo against Japan. Congress watched with interest while Secretary of State Cordell Hull laid at Britain's door the responsibility for a German threat to torpedo U.S. ships in the war zone. Reason: Britain has detained U. S. vessels and taken them to contraband ports in the war zone.

Defense. Less than 24 hours after it had okayed a $966,772,878 navy supply bill (cut $111,700,000 under budget estimates), the house naval committee repented and approved a $655,000,000 fleet expansion program. The latter bill would only authorize new construction; actual funds must come from separate legislation. Primarily concerned about the big supply bill, the house expected to restore part of the cut.

Agriculture. The house agriculture committee okayed a $350,000,000 bill to expand scope of the farm tenancy act, insuring mortgages of tenants who want to buy their own farms.

Labor. Chairman J. Warren Madden of NLRB told the house labor board committee that Reconstruction Finance corporation has agreed withhold loans from firms found Allies in Finland. France and by NLRB to be violators of the Wagner act. This created a rumpus.

> WHITE HOUSE: 'Missy' in Trouble

Several days after President Roosevelt appointed State Undersecretary Sumner Welles to make a European peace junket, arch-Republican papers like the Chicago Tribune published a juicy story. Its

The peace mission was conceived by Welles himself, who slipped in through the White House back door one day and outlined his idea in glowing terms before Marguerite Parity for '40 'Missy" LeHand, the presidential secretary "who is rated to have more influence in the throne room than anyone else." > Apprised of the gossip, Secretary of State Cordell Hull and White House Secretary Steve Early took pains to deny any rift. Said Mr. Hull: "I do not think a more capable person could be sent upon the European mission."

3 Decisions

In Washington the U.S. Supreme court made news by three decisions: On Lincoln's birthday, it saved four Florida Negroes from death, ruling that murder confessions were obtained by "secret, inquisitorial" police methods after five days of continuous grilling which violated the Negroes' constitutional rights. ¶ It created a furore by ruling that federal courts have no right to change National Labor Relations Board decisions on questions of disputed facts in labor controversies. It enjoined Arkansas from imposing a tax on gasoline (in excess of 20 gallons) carried in fuel tanks of interstate busses when the gasoine is intended for use in other states. Three justices (Frankfurter. Black and Douglas) dissented claiming the trade barrier question is a matter for congressional action.

AGRICULTURE:

While the farm bloc was busy trying to wheedle $200,000,000 for 1941 parity payments out of an economybent congress, the agriculture department began using the $225,000,-000 authorized (but not provided for) last year. Payments would be made this year, it was ruled by the last congress, if 1939 average farm prices were less than 75 per cent of parity-which is the 1909-14 average as related to farm purchasing power. Since prices were below parity, the agriculture department announced 1940 payments of 1.55 cents ($96,000,000) per pound on cotton; 10 cents ($57,100,000) a bushel on wheat; five cents ($48,600,000) a bushel on corn, and 1.7 cents ($300,-000) a hundredweight on rice.

AVIATION:

Boom

When Europe went to war, and especially when cash-and-carry neutrality took effect, everyone knew the U.S. aviation industry was in for boom times. After six months of war the boom had surpassed expectations. In southern California alone there was a backlog of some $200,000,000 in orders for the U.S. and foreign powers. But within 30 days, a survey indicated, mass delivery will begin on thousands of

Already filled since the boom began last summer have been orders for 1,450 combat planes; still uncompleted are 7,700 more. Major foreign sales have been to France and Britain, which ordered 5,000 ships. But only about 350 craft have been delivered of the 4,450 ordered by the U.S. army and navy.

Meanwhile, however, the U.S. is profiting on more recent designs, hence will get the best of the new ships. Typical is the army's new four-motor bomber. Carrying four tons of bombs and a nine-man crew at 300 m. p. h., the ship will give any enemy a run for its money.

At Albany, N. Y., 8,000 taxpayers protested, apparently with success, a proposed $15,000,000 personal income tax boost, also demanding reduction in the pending $396,700,000 budget.

At Washington the maritime commission announced plans for two giant trans-Pacific liners capable of conversion into aircraft carriers. Dimensions: 759 feet long with waterline beam of 98.2 feet. Speed: 24 knots. Accommodations: 1,000 passengers and 500 crewmen.

WASHINGTON. — Congress soon will have completed the second month of its 1940 meeting and the most significant thing to come out of the session is a situation containing all of the elements necessary for another good battle between the legislative and executive branches of the government.

It is much too early to enter a forecast that President Roosevelt and his opponents-Democrats and Republicans—will come to grips. But a slip of even small caliber on the President's part would throw him into the path of a substantial section of the congressional membership. That is exactly what some of the opponents hope will happen. It is, conceivably, a thing which Mr. Roosevelt and the New Dealers hope will be avoided.

The condition stems from Mr. Roosevelt's budget message. As I reported to you early in January, the President's budget declarations sounded real. A good many folks suggested, however, that these pronouncements had come at the very beginning of the session and predicted a change in the scenery before the end. Those observers appeared Roosevelt to feel that the President was playing a bit of politics with the general subject of economy—spending. But congress, generally, decided to take the President at his word. 'If," they appeared to be saying, "the President really wants economy; if he wants to reduce government spending, boy, oh! boy, we will be with him in a big way. So it has come to pass that the President's own proposal conceivably can throw him into a place where plainly he does not wish to be, at least from a political standpoint. Heretofore, it will be recalled, there have been frequent declarations for reduction in government spending and each time it has been overcome by backdoor operations of New Dealers.

Economy-Minded Legislators

Dominate Scene

As far as the play has progressed nation further into debt. Nothing on the open stage, the economy- was left, therefore, but the program minded members of the house and that would reduce available funds the senate appear to dominate the They have cut deeply into several of the President's pet projects. They have cut, or have proposed to cut, deeply into the President's program for national defense for which Mr. Roosevelt had ideas costing billions as against former years when the cost of army and navy development was measured in hundreds of millions. Moreover, the legislators have shown courage in nicking agricultural spending for a good many millions, and that hurt Secretary Wallace and his crew.

Now all of this has been going on when the "inner circle" of New Dealers still are clamoring for continuation of the fun they have been having in spending taxpayers' There is some doubt, too. that Mr. Roosevelt has changed over completely.

Attention might be called in this connection to the fact that, in the national budget itself, Mr. Roosevelt left numerous avenues of escape from what appeared to be a definite commitment towards retrenchment as stated in the budget message. Secretary Wallace touched off the match on one of these. Mr. Roosevelt said the agriculture appropriations had been squeezed down by the budget bureau to the very limit. If the funds were sufficient, according to the President, there had to be a continuation of good business. A good many of the folks in the department of agriculture have been saying both publicly and privately that the volume of business is going to slide off during the late winter and spring. Thus, more money will

A passenger on the Nord-Express, with Ostend as his immediate destination, Dr. David Jebb is bound for America. Accompanying him is five-year-old Cynthia Thatcher, his charming temporary ward. On the train they meet Bill Gaines, former classmate of David's. He tells Gaines of his mission, and tells him of his one terrible vice—an overwhelming desire for liquor. Jebb feels the urge coming to him again, and wants to safeguard the child, whose father is dead and whose mother is in America. During a stop, Gaines leaves the train for a minute. The train starts up without him. Then Jebb is painfully injured in a minor accident. A fellow-passenger revives him with a drink, which makes his desire for liquor all the stronger. At the next stop David and Cynthia leave the train. David begins drinking. The next thing he is conscious of is a strange sort of chanting. He looks around, dazed and sick. A door opens, and in walks a strange-looking Negro.

Leaving his slippers outside the door, the fellow padded over to Jebb and with soft, fat hands adjusted the pillow under his head.

"He wants me to die comforta-' sighed Jebb helplessly. Then the man shuffled back to the corridor and lugged in a brazier full of glowing charcoal. Squatting about it, he began to brew an ebon syrup. The voluminous aroma floating to Jebb announced it to him as "Poisoned, no doubt," thought Jebb. But he was so sick that he did not much care.

"Where am I? How did I get here? What country is this? Who are

But the answer was a falsetto gibberish in which Jebb, who was something of a linguist, could find no kinship to any language of his acquaintance.

Jebb noticed now that he was clothed neither in his street-suit, nor in his pyjamas, but in a garment he could not recognize. His hands, remembering a habit he had ac-quired and lost, went convulsively to his waist. His money belt was gone, his ten thousand dollars had evaporated—and the belt with it.

"Where are my clothes?" he demanded, and again in bad German, "Wo sind mein Kleider?" and in tourist French, "Ou sont mes hab-

But the black only gibbered.
Then the fellow backed out as from a presence with many a long bow. Left alone to meditation, Jebb glanced idly down and noted that his thumb wore a deep scar. His experienced eye showed him what sort of cicatrice it was. He remembered the accident on the train. But who had lanced his thumb? And when? Where? Why? The wound had already healed. It must have been days ago.

And on the little finger of his left | him to the cushions. hand was a ring, a curious ring, with a dark and cloudy stone of his brow with cool palms and was to a pasha and to be really a wife. alongside a diamond, also large and of evident price.

He took the ring off and stared at it. On the inner rim was the legend "C. to J." "J." was plainly for Jebb, but who was "C"? — certainly not Cynthia. Who, then? It might be a love-token—but whose?

There was a sound of colloquy in the hall outside, of angry argument. He recognized the uncanny treble of the slave, and another voice, lower, but a woman's voice.

The door opened wide and the slave paused on the sill. His face was as livid as the ashes in the charcoal brazier and his eyes flashed and roved in their sockets. But he made reluctant way for a figure that floated rather than walked, and floated straight from the pages of the "Thousand Night and One Nights."

Her costume was one great black cloud from which none of her transpired, not even the half-sheltered eyes of the Orient.

The slave oozed through the door and closed it, but as if he would cling to the other side.

The Veil bent and billowed in low curtsies and through it came these English words, with long pauses and

'The effendi has sleeped long, Allah be thanked, and I do hope he sleeped well also."

Instinctively, hoping to make himself better understood, he spoke very loudly and in a foolish dialect:

"May me ask where me have pleasure to be?" "The effendi is in Uskub."

"Uskub!" he gasped. "I never heard of Uskub. Where, please, "It is in the vilayet of Kossovo. It

"But the child I had with me?" "The child?" she echoed blankly.

But when the Padishah present him me, he is afraid to refuse. He thank the Padishah one thousand times; he makes me free woman, and he marries me, but he does not lift my veil."

Suddenly there was the sound as of a little child wailing. Jebb's heart lurched. Had his lost been found? The door burst open and Jaffar rushed into the room. It was Jaffar who was crying, hysterically, with words which even his mistress could not understand.

"He's had an accident," said 'Tell me why I brought you and Jebb, and rose at once to go to him, but his knees cautioned him to remain. "Bring him here." have talked with you, he would keel was the voice of authority. him if he didn't slip and fall."

Sheerest Black Lace Is Used In Unique and Fetching Ways

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

INTO the story of modern costume design the black magic of exquisitely sheer lace is writing a chapter of fascinating interest. The latest discovery about black lace is that instead of being "oldish" looking, as we were once led to believe, it really is as flattering to the debutante as it is to the woman who registers in the "life-begins-at-for-

Note how artfully handsome black lace is introduced in the fashions pictured. If you are invited to an important function you could not make a more suitable choice than a gown of shimmering, crisp yellow taffeta jacketed with a basque of fine black lace beautifully fashioned and daintily transparent, as shown in the illustration, to the left. A flattering lace jacket of this type is a grand possession, for you can wear it with various costumes. Being high necked and having three-quarter sleeves, it is not too formal for your "at home" receptions nor too informal for an important party elsewhere. The quaint use of wide black lace to border the yards and yards around hemline adds infinite-also wears two white diamond bracelets and a yellow diamond ring. Each season certain jewelry vogues stand out pre-eminently in the mode and the immediate style message is diamonds, a single fine jewelry unit rather than a bizarre showing of costume jewelry.

A most attractive use of black lace is that of a yoke that gives flattering transparency to an afternoon gown of sheer wool crepe or whatever the fabric of your dressy black frock. See the idea illustrated to the right in the group. Ladies, take notice if your clothes allowance is limited and you like to sew here is a grand suggestion for fixing over a dress that calls for restyling. Give it a dainty lace yoke. The brimmed turban that tops this charming laceyoked dress is one of a collection of lovely white hats that are high fashion. It is made of white silk jersey draped softly over the brow to give the appearance of a brim. The quaint silhouette of the 1890s distinguishes the attractive dinner gown centered in the illustration. This stunning dress of black Rodier wool fits slimly to the figure, flaring only toward the floor where it ends in a lace flounce. A bustle illustration is achieved by a black velvet bow securing folds of the material. Black and yellow braid in a scroll patterning has been used in a bolero fashion on an afternoon dress of teal blue sheer wool as pictured at the top. A broad girdle of self fabric forms the wide corselet. Her black hat has a blue snood at the back. A smart version of the separate blouse and skirt for informal evenings is shown below. Embroidery and quilting on the white crepe blouse, the outline stitch done in gold thread is very effective. This two-piece is practical because either piece may be worn with another mate. This cular skirt and a bodice styled like blouse would look well with a street a basque sweater. The bodice is length skirt for less formal occasion. Braiding, embroidery and othflourish in the spring mode.

Flower Jewelry Is Harbinger of Spring

If you want to feel the exuberance of spring tingle through your veins and if you want to cause others to feel just like that at sight of you, be one of the first to brighten your costume with an ensemble of enamel flower jewelry. One of the prettiest designs is a bib necklace made of yellow-centered white enamel daisies. And here's good news-you can get bracelet and clips to match. With the new pastel frock you are wearing under your coat, a necklace of pearl material blown up into featherweight colorful flowers will be delectable. These perfectly charming flower gadgets do wonders for black or navy frocks. And do these gaily colorful jewelry flowerets flatter! Well, just look in the mirror and see.

Spring Fabric-Call For Twill Effects

"I will take so many yards of repp," that's the way our grand-mamas used to say it when they were buying material for the new suit or dress and the prospects are we are going to be saying just that as the spring season comes on. Repp is one of the worsteds that is being heralded as ever so fashionable for the coming months.

In fact the trend is decidedly toward twill effects. There is every indication that navy will be competing with black. So look for a season of handsome suits, coats and street one-piece dresses fashioned of some one or other of the new twilled

Amber Toned Frock Has Strong Appeal

A delicate sheer fabric and heavy silk jersey, both in a creamy amber tone, are combined in a romantic evening gown designed by Edith Head. The dress itself is made of sheer silk, cut with a swirling cira basque sweater. The bodice is embroidered in ropelike bands of gold threads and the whole creaer ornate surface work continues to | tion is worn over a slip of matching silk jersey.

There Were Two Irishmen—

By J. Y. BARBER (McClure Syndicate—WNU Service.)

SEUMAS GAVAN was Number One man and the only Irishman in the fourth ward—and there wasn't the whisper of a doubt about that.
On Monday he lamented the need of hiring a dago to tend bar for him in his South street speakeasy, but by Saturday he was glad of it. Irishmen aren't temperamentally suited for co-operative occupations; they won't do as they're told. He was glad his blue-eyed Kathleen never argued with her father.

'Way back in the ancestry there may have been some weak strain that accounted for her passivity. It made Seumas more conscious than ever that he was the only Irishman in the ward. The only man of intellect and discernment, he'd almost say, except for that scaven-ger of the streets, Adolphus Gonwerz, whose insufferable exposes appeared now and again between the scrofulous lines of the local paper.

'Twas a black day indeed when Kathleen met Adolphus Gonwerz in the bar where Kathleen had no business at all. And a curse on the day when she came to her kind old father, him that was nearly killed with worry over trying to get a respectable liquor license, to ask his good will to their marriage.

"He's not the man," Seumas said abruptly. "How, not the man?" Kathleen said, too quietly even for her. "He's the sort," said Seumas, "who writes about people that have died of murder. And it's insulting, he is, when he blackguards some worthy citizen in public life."

Seumas knew he would have no trouble with gentle Kathleen. She would not, she said, let him alone. She said why she wouldn't and it took her five minutes to say

"Bu-but, he's a drinking man, he is," Seumas said with appeal. "He drinks like a fish and he be no good

"Aye," said Kathleen, "and that coming from you! May God have mercy on your soul for the narrowness of your heart. You've little to do to speak of that when it's your own grog he drinks. And it isn't true that he's no good. He's the best newspaper man in the town. And I like him. I love him!"

The debate had reached a point where Seumas realized he would have to assert himself. He leaned forward in his chair. He hissed softly. "I could break him. You know my power when I want to use it. Frame him! How would you like

But Kathleen never moved. She looked at her father boldly. "Aye," she said. "Well, two can play at that game—if it's a fight you're looking for!" And with that she ran out of the room and out of the house and he didn't see her for days. The shame of it!

"I want to see her just try and marry that spalpeen," Seumas said to himself all day on Friday. Customers heard him as he whispered under his breath. They thought he was reciting the list of witnesses who would appear when he came up for his license hearing on the morrow and they let him concen-

But Seumas had forgotten all about the hearing until his attorney came down and took him to court. His reception there lulled him to contentment. Mr. Gavan was well thought of up town in certain circles. Not for long, however, did he smile benignly this way and that. His bright green eyes froze to the witness box. For there in the middle of everything sat Adolphus Gon-

Not being familiar with the expediencies of the newspaper business Seumas didn't know that Adolphus had merely wandered in there in the course of his routine and that in ten minutes he would be discovered by a court attache and thrown out on his neck. Seumas' pain was so great that he beat himself upon the chest. Could Kathleen have been so angry then to put this notorious exposer onto him?

"I'm going home," he said to his attorney. "I'm sick now. No, I don't care about the license; to hell with it." And so Mr. Gavan went home feeling the power ooze out of him with every step of the way.

Evening came to Seumas Gavan in the little office that he maintained upstairs. He sat sullenly beside the speaking tube that connected his office with the bar and he wished that he had anticipated Kathleen being at least half an Irishman. That was bitter, bitter! It made him very sorry. So absorbed was he that he failed to hear the buzzer until its third buzz. The bartender's voice floated dimly to him through the tube:

"Kathleen's come home!" "Aye," Seumas said noncommittally. He was abruptly the old Seumas and he had the look of a hawk over a calf. It would be now! and he would be brief but annihilating. The bartender took up a familiar refrain:

"Adolphus Gonwerz wants to know if he's good for your daughter-and he wants to congratulate you on getting your license today, sir!' It was incredible!

"Ha—have I got it?" "You have!"

Beauty Treatment For an Old Chair

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

HERE is proof of what a beauty treatment and a new costume will do for an out-of-date chair. Its new dress is very chic. The material is a soft old red cotton crash with seam cordings and binding for the scalloped skirt in dove gray.

An inch was cut from the back legs to tilt the chair for greater comfort. The carving at the top and the upholstery on the back and arms were left in place, but the lines of the chair were completely changed by padding with cotton batting. Unbleached muslin was then stretched over the padding to make all perfectly

NOTE: Mrs. Spears has prepared four booklets for our readers containing a total of 128 thrifty homemaking ideas; with step-bystep illustrated directions. Largest Open-Air Theater

The Roman theater at Vienne, France, is said to be the largest open-air theater in the world. Built some 2,000 years ago, it was unknown to the present generation until a railroad wreck dis-lodged some earth and revealed the upper tier of seats. Archeologists excavated and the ancient theater was uncovered.

It has now been restored and has a seating capacity of 9,000

A VEILED LADY...

Brings comfort and returning courage to Dr. David Jebb, famed surgeon, when he wakes to find himself alone in a strange land, his memory of preceding events a complete blank.

Cursed with an overpowering desire for drink, David Jebb knows he has shirked a grave responsiblity in succumbing to temptation. A little girl, placed temporarily in his charge, has disappeared. All because he could not regist the lure he knew would sooner or later wreck his life.

Help comes to him at an opportune time. The veiled lady, gentle and kind, looks after him, restoring his health and aiding him in his search for his missing charge.

David grows to love his mysterious benefactor, but knows he will again fall victim to his desires. There is only one way out-he must leave the veiled lady, knowing that to remain would cause only unhappiness.

He finds, however, that he is powerless to shape the course of his destiny. A stronger force prevails, and David Jebb finds happiness and contentment.

You'll like "The Gift Wife." It's one of Rupert Hughes' greatest stories!
