Nazi-Russ Thrust Into Balkans Feared Next Move in Europe; Reich Threatens Low Countries

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) Released by Western Newspaper Union.

THE WAR: Norse Blitzkrieg

... The Reich's government thereby assumes protection of the kingdom of Norway for the duration...

Day before, Britain had planted mine fields along the Norwegian coast, hoping thereby to block Nazi trade lanes through Norway's territorial waters.

Up north along the Norwegian coast the Reich staged a modernized version of the old Trojan horse trick.

Reactions What happened at sea the next two days was at best a guess, for no observer knew how many Nazi, allied and Norwegian ships were locked in the biggest North sea battle since Jutland.

In 48 hours an estimated 27 naval vessels reached Davey Jones' locker, 20 of them German.

Early reports told that British ships had pushed their way into Bergen and other Norwegian Atlantic ports held by the Nazis. They were even reported steaming up Oslo fjord, threatening to bombard the city unless the Germans evacuated.

But such news was premature. Despite fierce fighting, every Norwegian port remained in Nazi hands.

In London, French Premier Paul Reynaud flew to London for conferences at No. 10 Downing street.

ECHOES U. S. and the War

HANDLING U. S. diplomatic problems in Norway is Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, minister to that country the past three years and the second woman envoy in U. S. history.

A RISE in U. S. pork prices was forecast since Great Britain's supply source in Denmark has been cut off.

THE STATE department worried over the plight of 3,300 Americans in Scandinavia, all of whom were reported safe.

ONLY A SMALL part of the $35,000,000 in U. S. credits extended to Denmark, Norway and Sweden by the Export-Import bank have been used.

TWO AMERICAN merchant ships bound for Norway were ordered by their owners to return day before President Roosevelt extended the shipping ban to Scandinavia.

DEATHS-OF-THE-WEEK JEAN CARDINAL VERDIER, Catholic archbishop of Paris since 1929, died there at 76.

WILLIAM FAVERSHAM, 72, last of the old school matinee idols, and former leading man to Maude Adams, died at New York.

MRS. PATRICK CAMPBELL, 75, noted actress, fashion plate of another day, died at Pau, France.

TREND

How the wind is blowing... BUSINESS—The commerce department reported a 43 per cent rise in U. S. exports to Latin America during the first six months of Europe's war.

SCIENCE—Announced by DuPont was a rayon cord tire, claimed to be 3,000 per cent sturdier than cotton, having greater tensile strength than structural steel.

AVIATION—Branniff Airways asked for permission to extend its lines eastward from Kansas City to Washington.

POLITICS: Fourth Try

Trice white-haired, silver-tongued Norman Thomas has run for the presidency on the Socialist ticket. In early April, when his party inaugurated the 1940 national convention season, Socialist Thomas came back again.

At Washington, the convention named as his vice presidential running mate a 34-year-old economics professor from the University of Chicago, Maynard C. Krueger.

THOMAS AND KRUEGER They have a program.

raised, Candidates Thomas and Krueger promised to stomp the country from May until October on a two-point program: (1) complete isolation from the war, and (2) socialization of major U. S. industries.

Other political news: In Illinois, Lieut. Gov. John Stelle, who rebelled against the Kelly-Nash-Horner machine, watched painfully many months while Gov. Henry Horner, ailing badly, let a "regency" run the state.

Lest this look be characterized as too hurried, let me say that the house membership is not entirely guiltless. But credit must be given where credit is due.

House Attempted Reduction In Federal Appropriations To give the house the credit that was its share, however, it must be shown that the house appropriations committee thus far has reduced appropriations submitted by President Roosevelt in the sum of $350-odd million.

AGRICULTURE: Wheat Forecast With Europe's war apparently spreading, the U. S. took stock of its cupboard. Released was a periodic agriculture department forecast on winter wheat production.

MEXICO: Rebuke For almost three years the U. S. has sought vainly to secure a settlement on American-owned oil lands which Mexico expropriated.

LABOR: Republic Loses For "unfair labor practices" resulting in the Little Steel strike of 1937, the Republic Steel corporation was handed a labor board order.

ASIA: Closing Door As Wang Ching-wei's puppet Chinese government got under way, Washington observers forecast that he, more than anyone else, is apt to bring about a U. S. embargo on war supplies for Japan.

Congress Avoids Vital Problems And Seeks Early Adjournment

Curtailment of Expenditures and New Tax Program Are Neglected by Legislators Because of 1940 National Elections.

By WILLIAM BRUCKART WNU Service, National Press Bldg., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON.—When the third session of the Seventy-sixth congress—the current session—convened last January, two great national questions confronted the legislators. Two affirmative actions were crying to be taken.

Almost four months of the session have wasted away, after the manner of passing time. The two problems of January and February and March and April remain as the problems of May.

A hurried look-around, a re-examination of what has transpired, seems to show where the blame should be placed. It should be plumped in the laps of some demagogues who wear titles of senators of the United States.

Lest this look be characterized as too hurried, let me say that the house membership is not entirely guiltless. But credit must be given where credit is due.

House Attempted Reduction In Federal Appropriations To give the house the credit that was its share, however, it must be shown that the house appropriations committee thus far has reduced appropriations submitted by President Roosevelt in the sum of $350-odd million.

'DO-NOTHING' CONGRESS? William Bruckart says that the current session of congress, which he predicts will adjourn early in June, has stamped itself as a "do-nothing" session.

Modern War Goes Streamlined But Pigeon Still Holds a Place

Far from outmoded by mechanized warfare, the trusty homer pigeon is taking his place as an important servant on the Western front. Photos above show how pigeons are released at the front lines, important messages placed in aluminum containers strapped to their legs. Arriving at their mobile cart behind lines, the pigeons give their message to French poilus who telephone messages back to headquarters.

U. S. ARMY ALSO USES PIGEONS!

Mindful of the pigeon's place in warfare, the U. S. army has 10,000 of these birds, many at Fort Monmouth, N. J. Not only do they carry messages, but many are also trained to carry small cameras which take pictures automatically.

Carefully trained, U. S. army pigeons develop gradually into first-class carriers. They are taught that food is available only at home.

Mechanization comes to the pigeon corps. Birds are trained to "home" to a mobile loft. Although food is an important element in the birds' work, their remarkable homing ability is attributed partly to their sharp eyes and ears.

We hear so many conflicting reports of the war in Europe that we believe they are sent out by the U. S. Weather Bureau.

George Jessel, alleged comedian, was married in Detroit this week to a show girl who became sixteen only a few days ago. The bride was given away by Jimmy Cromwell, who is supposed to represent the United States in Canada. Jessel gave himself away. As for Cromwell, he gave himself away when he made that non-neutrality speech in Canada a few weeks ago.

"NEWSPAPERS MOST IMPOSED UPON INSTITUTION."—RUNYON

Damon Runyon, famous as a sports columnist and short story writer, does not publish a newspaper, but from the sidelines he has observed quite a lot, all of which, from experience, we know to be true. He recently had the following in a column syndicated by King Features:

Newspaper Owner Pays

"If the owner of a newspaper goes to a restaurant for a meal, or to a hotel for sleeping accommodations, he pays for the same right on the nail. If he enters a store and orders merchandise, he is supposed to pay for that, too.

"If he attends a concert, a baseball game or a prize fight, he usually settles with the box office or his pet scalper for the ticket. Occasionally he may get passes, but not often. The owner is not the favored fellow on the paper when it comes to passes.

"The newspaper owner is supposed to pay as he goes through life, the same as any other consumer. He expects to pay, and is glad if he is able to pay.

"But now here comes a very curious situation. The newspaper owner also has something to sell, which is advertising space in his newspaper. The proprietors of the hotels and restaurants or the vendors of merchandise would probably think the newspaper owner little better than a burglar if he sent around to them asking them that they supply him with their commodities free of charge, yet some of them think nothing of cadging free advertising space from him. Common Practice

"It is common practice nowadays for business enterprises of all kinds to employ publicity men, or press agents, for the sole purpose of getting all the publicity possible in the newspapers free of charge. As against this free publicity, some of the enterprises may buy advertising space, but often the extent of their buy does not measure up to what they ask for nothing.

"We are not criticising the press agents. Sometimes it is almost an art. We are merely citing their occupation as a thumb-nail illustration of a theory of ours that the newspaper is the most imposed upon institution in the United States—that it is called on to give, and does give, more for nothing than any other agency, public or private.

"This is in no sense a complaint on behalf of the newspaper. The newspaper never complains of its giving. He should certainly love the newspaper, for it gives gratis of its space with amazing cheerfulness, which is perhaps one reason why it is so greatly imposed upon. We doubt that the average person realizes the extent of the imposition. Sometimes we wonder if the newspaper itself realizes it.

"It would be difficult to estimate in dollars and cents the value of the space wangled out of the newspaper every year free of charge by private enterprises designed strictly for private profit. It would probably run into millions. Of course, the newspaper is not usually deceived as to the purpose of the enterprises, and it generally has not the wholly uncommercial idea that perhaps there is sufficient reader interest in the enterprise to warrant the free space, reader interest being the first concern of the newspaper.

"It is reader interest that causes the newspaper to give free of charge columns of space to the church and to charity and to civic affairs. However, this free giving does not come under the head of imposition. It comes under the head of community obligation, of which the newspaper has the deepest sense. If every community reciprocated in proportion, the newspaper would be a rich institution, indeed."

Thurman Brown and family, of Newark, N. J., have been visiting the former's father, John D. Brown.

Mrs. George Topplin, of Rehoboth, has been the guest of Mrs. Chas. Hopkins.

Mrs. W. W. Sharp, Mrs. L. T. Jones, Mrs. C. F. Wilson and Mrs. J. W. Sheldrake attended the Methodist Women's Provisional Conference at Dover Monday afternoon.

Mrs. C. W. Wharton, of Rutherford, N. J., returned to her home on Wednesday, after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Dean.

Mrs. Fred Bailey was hostess to a number of her friends at a bridge luncheon on Wednesday afternoon.

A car owned by Lyman Billings, skidded on the ice between Baltimore and Washington last Sunday morning, turning over several times. The car was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Billings and Mr. and Mrs. Ormond Hobbs and family, all of Harrington. While most of the occupants received bruises and lacerations, only Mrs. Hobbs was seriously hurt. She sustained broken ribs and body bruises, but expects to be out within a few days.

The Harrington High School baseball team defeated the Milford High School team here this week by the score of 3 to 2.

DISTRICT GOVERNOR VISITS ROTARY CLUB

At Tuesday evening's meeting of the Harrington Rotary Club, District Governor William Matthews and Bill Johnson, of Rotary International, were guests. The latter was the speaker of the evening—and a good one. Mr. Johnson stressed the fact since 1934, only six Rotary Clubs in the United States and Canada have been discontinued, and several of these were in ghost towns. The average attendance of all the Rotary Clubs is about 86 percent of its membership. Vaughan Warren, baritone, favored the club with a solo, with Al Gottlieb performing miracles on the piano to keep in time with Vaughn, whose tempo was mercurial. The two had not performed together since their days—and nights—in Paris. Vaughn received an ovation at the conclusion of his solo.

Harry Bostic, a former member of the Harrington Club, now of the Smyrna Club, was a guest.

Many of the members will attend the District Convention in Wilmington next week. The Governor's Ball will be held Monday evening. Many interesting speakers will appear during the session of three days.

The club will also join the Milford Club in a dinner to be given at the latter place next week for the benefit of the Milford Emergency Hospital.

The progressive banker of today thinks of his community as a farmer does of his field. He sees around him natural resources, human and material, which he must help develop.

Without a bank, cultivation would go forward slowly as in the days when men ploughed with a forked stick. With a bank there is provided all the modern financial machinery which makes progress more rapid.

Money becomes a new form of motive power, working like steam, gasoline, and electricity, to help men to accomplish more with less time and effort. Your interests and your bank's interests are the same.

NOVEL BUT GOOD IS THIS ORANGE VEAL ALMOND SALAD
(See Recipes Below)

Household News

Spring Salads for Spring Tonics

Time was when we needed sulphur and molasses, or its equivalent, as a spring tonic to repair the damages of a winter diet which was quite likely to be lacking in fresh fruit and vegetables. Nowadays spring tonics are unnecessary nuisances, for most of us, because even through the long winter months, a plentiful supply of fruits and vegetables is available.

But somehow this season creates an appetite for "something right out of the garden," and it's now that we find salads of fresh fruits and vegetables as refreshing as the first spring breeze.

Serving a salad is such a simple means of making sure that the day's quota of fresh vegetables or fruits is included in the diet.

Salads look so cool and inviting, and properly prepared they do such a lot toward perk up one's appetite. But they must be inviting to look at, cool and crisp, and well seasoned.

Wash salad greens carefully, then soak in cold water to make them very crisp. Remove all brown or wilted spots. Dry carefully on a towel or place cleaned salad greens in a clean sugar sack and shake or swirl vigorously to remove the drops of moisture that cling to the greens. Chill thoroughly.

Simple salads, in general, are the smartest—and if they're to serve their purpose as spring tonics, they're the best. Salads which are too rich, too elaborately garnished, or decked out with whipped cream, defeat their own purpose, and I have a feeling that it's one reason most men dislike salads, because too often they've had served to them in the name of salad, some queer, sticky concoction, with so many ingredients, so badly mangled, and so much garnish, that there's scarcely a salad green to be seen or recognized. Men do like good salads, though, and you'll find recipes for the kind they enjoy, in my booklet, "Feeding Father."

When you're planning your spring tonic salads, don't overlook the raw vegetable—slices of pared, raw beets, slivers of carrot, and the tender young leaves of spinach, raw cauliflower, broken into flowerettes—is an excellent addition to a vegetable salad, and don't forget that just a suspicion of garlic in a vegetable salad is as important as the dressing! Mince green onion tops or chives will serve as a substitute, if your family doesn't approve of garlic.

Orange Veal Almond Salad.
(Serves 6-8)
Novel but good is this orange veal almond salad. The orange blends with and brings out the flavors of the other ingredients. This is an especially excellent buffet salad.

2 cups orange half slices
2 cups cooked veal (diced)
2 cups celery (diced)
½ cup lemon french dressing
Lettuce
Watercress
¾ cup toasted almonds

Blend orange, veal, celery and french dressing. Put in salad bowl, lined with lettuce and watercress. Top with the toasted almonds. Chicken may be substituted for veal.

Pawnee Salad.
Take halves grapefruit and remove every other grapefruit segment, leaving membrane intact.

Prepare cherry-flavored gelatin and fill empty grapefruit sections with gelatin. When gelatin has stiffened, arrange each grapefruit half on bed of lettuce. Place mayonnaise in center of grapefruit and top with chopped green maraschino cherries.

Spicy Summer Salad.
1 cup vinegar
½ teaspoon whole cloves
1 teaspoon stick cinnamon
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups fresh spinach leaves
1 large carrot
1 stalk celery

Boil vinegar, spices and salt together for 10 minutes. Strain vinegar and chill. Scrape carrot. Chop all of the fresh vegetables together until they are fairly fine. Dress with the vinegar mixture and serve at once.

Lemon French Dressing.
¼ cup lemon juice
¼ cup salad oil
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon paprika
1 tablespoon sugar or honey
Stir or shake thoroughly before serving. Lemon juice is particularly good to bring out flavors in a dressing for a meat salad. (makes ½ cup.)

May Basket Salad.
Take the desired number of firm uniform tomatoes, cut out stems and hollow out the center slightly. Slice rings of green pepper about ¼ inch thick, cut in half and fasten on tomato with toothpicks to form handle of basket. Place hearts of lettuce and radish roses (using toothpicks for stems) in the basket. Place basket on lettuce leaves. Garnish with mayonnaise.

Gardener's Salad.
(Serves 8-10)
1 sliver of peeled garlic
1 head crisp lettuce (shredded)
4 tomatoes (peeled and cut in wedges)
1 cucumber (peeled and sliced)
3 young onions (sliced thin)
4 radishes (sliced thin)
1 green pepper (cut in rings)
2 carrots (sliced)
6 slices bacon (fried crisp, and crumbled)
1 cup french dressing

Be sure the vegetables are washed, wiped dry, and very cold and crisp before starting to mix the salad. Sprinkle the inside of a large salad bowl with salt. With a fork, rub the garlic well in the salt. Remove garlic. Put in the shredded lettuce, the vegetables and bacon, then the french dressing. Mix well, so that all the ingredients are completely coated with dressing. Serve immediately.

Would You Like to Please Father?
If you want to please father, serve him foods he really likes—simple green salads, beef roast with rich brown gravy, and the plain "family-style" desserts his mother used to make. You'll find plenty of practical recipes and menus for men in Eleanor Howe's cook book "Feeding Father." Send 10 cents in coin to "Feeding Father," care Eleanor Howe, 919 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, and get a copy of "Feeding Father" for your kitchen library. ### Color Is Least Expensive Ingredient

By ELIZABETH MACRAE BOYKIN
COLOR is a magic organ for the lady who has the same putty color in a textural broadloom. The curtains are taffeta in this same subtle shade, and several incidental pieces of furniture are upholstered in needle point with a putty colored ground. The sofa in a dramatic broad-striped fabric, with emerald green as the predominant color, and two barrel chairs in emerald green velvet provide interesting color accent. There are pictures in old gold frames, and over the mantel a group of seven gilt wall brackets, which hold green flowering plants.

The furniture is Eighteenth century English but in a more discriminating assortment than is usual. A break-front cabinet of noble mien dominates an important wall, while a large half-round coffee table, copied after an old hunting breakfast table, has a copper lined trough for growing plants. A large drum table with Chippendale chairs drawn up is always ready for tea or bridge. (Consolidated Features—WNU Service.)

HOME, SWEET HOME
"There's the doorbell."
"What! Again?"
"You'd better answer it."
"Why?"
"It might be somebody who ISN'T looking for any information."
"Optimist! You answer the bell. I answered it last time."
"No, you didn't."
"Yes, I did. I remember distinctly. It was one of those Gallup poll fellows."
"Well, I answered the Gallup poll before that one. It was the one where he wanted to know whether I favored public officers with or without whisksers."
"He's still ringing. Are you going to sit there and let him ring forever?"
"I'm standing on my rights."

"What rights?"
"Fifteen minutes between rings."
"After all, why so obstinate?"
"I'm sick of answering questions. A man's house is his castle, not a quiz program."
"Suppose it's the letter man?"
"Let him leave the mail and go away. I'm taking no chances on him asking me any questions, either. I answered a knock on the door from the milkman yesterday. And what do you think he wanted?"
"What?"
"He wanted to know the height of Mount McKinley and the name of the inventor of the buttonhook. It seems he was going on a radio program."
"There's the bell again. Please answer. It might be somebody WITH NO QUESTIONS TO ASK."
"WANNA BET?"

VOICE IN THE DARKNESS
I am a lost cause
I am a forgotten virtue
I am an abandoned tradition
And a forsaken leader
I once ruled all civilized nations...
I held the respect of savages
And was not completely ignored
By the lowest of the barbarians
Men held to me in moments of Mad impulses
I ruled warfare...
Even on the battlefield
Among friend and foe; and in
The fearful heat of carnage
I was not forgotten.
Sorely pressed soldiers,
Grim and bleeding fighters,
Swayed by their patriotisms
And prejudices, paid me tribute...
Generals planning campaigns
Admitted me to their council tables...
"This far we shall go," they said,
"And no farther!"
At their side when swords were drawn
I took their word...
I knew it would never be broken.
Rulers respected me...
War lords took my hand and
Gave me their firm pledges
Before the first cry of "Forward!"
Before the first killing,
And until the last black death.
I saved the innocent millions...
I spared the toiling womenfolks...
I protected the little children...
I saved the unoffending home
From the raider and the torch...
From the unspeakable horror of
High explosive bomb.

I saved the infant from poison gas...
I kept the family from
The pitiful refugee camps...
I made the bombing of orphan asylums,
Hospital, kindergarten and cottage
Impossible and unthinkable
In the heart and mind of Man.
Now I am betrayed and forsaken...
I am excluded from the councils,
The battle plans and
The fields of warfare.
At the side of the warriors
Stand Barbarism, Paganism, Bestiality,
Hatred.
I am in the outer darkness...
But I shall one day rule, emerge...
I shall one day rule again...
For it is not in the heart of
The world to exclude me forever...
I am
Chivalry.

The final was played in a down-pour and the putting was sloppy."
From an account of a golf tournament.
"Maybe the boys were using the slogan, 'Any old putt in a storm.'"
Wallace Cox reports that Ima Dodo bought a copy of Erskine Caldwell's "Trouble in July" because she wanted to get all the news on the Democratic convention in advance.

It's just possible that Mussolini, instead of being for peace, is just another spring holdout.
A friend asked Summer Welles the other day, "Well, how did you like the peace conferences?" And he is said to have replied:
"Boy, what a battle!"

There has been a notable pickup in employment in the barbering trades. Sixteen more men were put to work on one of John Lewis' eyebrows last week.

THAT THIRD TERM Our Founding Fathers Found The Baby on Their Doorsteps

Kept Uncle Samuel in Stew 153 Years—Hamilton Wanted Presidents 'During Good Behavior'—One-Term Bills Pop Up Frequently.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Between now and the summer day when the Democratic party nominates its candidate for President, the third term issue will be one of the most discussed questions of the 1940 campaign.

GEORGE WASHINGTON

SHALL the President of these United States be elected for a certain term of years and thereafter be ineligible? What shall that term be? Six years? Seven years? Twenty years?

Or shall he be permitted to serve "during good behavior"? Those were some of the questions which the Founding Fathers, meeting in Philadelphia 153 years ago, tried to answer as they struggled with their gigantic task of devising a frame of government for the new republic.

Considered Seven-Year Term. On May 29 Gov. Edmund Randolph of Virginia and Charles Pinckney of South Carolina both presented resolutions providing for an executive to be chosen by the national legislature for a term of . . . years and to be ineligible a second time."

"During Good Behavior." Once more the "during good behavior" clause bobbed up but again it failed to pass. There was a suggestion that the Chief Executive be elected for 20 years and another that he be chosen by the legislature with the provision that no person be eligible for more than six years in any 12 years.

Problem Bobbed Up Again. Although the adoption of the Constitution on September 17, 1787, apparently settled this question of presidential tenure satisfactorily, it was a question that was destined to come up again and again in future years—especially in the legislative branch of our government.

Many Resolutions Offered. During Jackson's administration 21 joint resolutions, dealing with a limitation of the presidential term, were introduced in congress but none was acted upon. Some of these recommended a single term of four or six years, others prohibited a third term and still others were against more than two consecutive terms.

Tanks Replace Horse Troops On Battlefield

PARIS.—The strange and "impractical" weapon of war invented by British and French officers in 1915-16 has grown into one of the most effective offensive weapons in World War II.

First used in the battle of the Somme almost a quarter century ago, the armored tank is now considered a monster of Mars, capable of spitting death into enemy positions where troops cannot go.

Modern tanks, looking like armored bugs scuttling across hills, fields and trenches, may vary in size from one to one hundred tons. For heavy offensive work they are protected by armor plate two inches or more in thickness.

Some Carry 30 Men. Their armament varies from machine guns to 105 mm. cannon and they can speed along up to 60 miles an hour on their endless-chain tracks. Crews of the earliest tanks numbered not more than two; today, France's giant tanks sometimes carry 30 men. Each has a specific duty as gunner, mechanic, navigator, control operator or radio man. Such monsters are practically a battalion on land.

Tanks may be used either as mechanized cavalry for "opportunistic" offensives or as sheer force weapons for frontal attacks. Some models can swim rivers; others lay their own bridges. Still others carry trailers and lay down smoke screens to shield advancing troops.

When used as cavalry the tanks employ wide, swinging movements around the enemy's flanks. These take the form of excursions into his rear areas, attacks and ripostes. For this work light or medium light tanks are needed, organized in small and compact "armored" divisions.

Heavy tanks are used for the frontal attack where troops are attempting to break through the enemy's lines. It is in this type of warfare that most furious fighting develops. Large numbers of tanks are needed for such attacks; German experts believe they need 50 to 100 tanks per kilometer of front. Light tanks follow up.

Artillery barrages lay the ground-work for such advances, striving to silence enemy batteries, smashing pillboxes and—most important—putting anti-tank guns out of commission. Another defensive weapon is the tank barrier, which consists of spiked obstacles penetrating from the ground. These may be concrete blocks, heavy logs or steel rails.

In Switzerland, where protective measures are being taken, steel anti-tank barriers are arranged to jump out of emplacements in the highway at the touch of an electric button concealed off the road.

When a tank gets stuck atop a barrier it's time to move on, for soon an anti-tank gun will come along. While bullets whine all around, the crew must scramble out and retreat as best it can; a few seconds later an anti-tank bullet will find the fuel tanks and man's metal monster will explode.

Training Firemen Applications to join the Sacramento, Calif., fire department are decreasing. New civil service examinations require as a final test a fast mile lap around the race track at the fair grounds at a pace that would be stiff for a trained athlete.

Atlanta's Changing Name Atlanta, Ga., founded in 1837, first was known as Terminus and later as Marthasville in honor of Martha Lumpkin, daughter of Gov. Wilson Lumpkin.

Star Dust STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO By VIRGINIA VALE

By VIRGINIA VALE (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

"REBECCA" was released at last, a few weeks ago, and people are still arguing about it; the chances are that the arguments will continue for a long, long time. For it's one of those cases of "If you liked the book you probably won't like the picture."

That's unfortunate, because the picture is superb. Hitchcock, the top-notch English director, handled it unusually well. Technically, it could hardly be bettered. The eerie, supernatural feeling that pervaded the book has been admirably brought to the screen.

Joan Fontaine, under Hitchcock's direction, gave such a performance that she has proved her right to being known as an excellent actress in her own right; the time may come when Olivia de Havilland will be known as "Joan Fontaine's sister," instead of vice versa.

Their armament varies from machine guns to 105 mm. cannon and they can speed along up to 60 miles an hour on their endless-chain tracks.

For the first time in recent years the Legion of Decency cracked down on a picture made by a major studio when it stepped on "Strange Cargo," the Joan Crawford-Clark Gable film.

One of the objections was that there were "lustful implications in dialogue and situation."

This picture, incidentally, had already been passed by the Production Code administration.

Barbara Stanwyck is very proud of the gift with which Robert Taylor celebrated their first seven months of wedded bliss—a diamond-studded pin in the shape of a covered wagon.

Eight-year-old Johnny Sheffield is a hero, partly as a result of his role as Tarzan's son in a picture made not so long ago. The other day he and Ann Todd, who's a year younger, were working in a scene for RKO's "Little Orvie," when a water main burst, flooding the set knee-deep.

John Farrow, Maureen O'Sullivan's director husband, felt so strongly about getting into the war that he gave up his job and was sworn into the Royal Canadian navy; he's a lieutenant, and off to the wars.

If Edward G. Robinson, of the movies and radio's "Big Town" can arrange his schedules like Edward G. Robinson.

Few people know how much the Hollywood preview of "Primrose Path" meant to Joan Carroll. In it she plays Ginger Rogers' brat sister, and the option on her services was written to run not longer than three days after the picture's official preview.

Probably no showing of a picture ever meant more to a girl. She's done her best, and all she could do was sit and wait—to see if a lot of strangers liked her. When you see it—and it's swell, don't miss it—you can imagine how she felt.

Ken Murray, master of ceremonies of CBS's "Star Theater," says he turned comedian when he was fired from his first stage job, which was not so very long ago. He tried to crash vaudeville, and a comedian who felt sorry for him told him that his jokes were terrible.

ODDS AND ENDS . . . Because he has to knit in several scenes of "North West Mounted Police," Lynne Overman is taking knitting lessons from Madeleine Carroll between scenes. . . The Ray Millands have named their infant son David Daniel.

HOW TO SEW by Ruth Wyeth Spears

HOW to cut a flared dressing table skirt without fullness at the top, is something worth knowing. You may be making a smartly tailored affair of white pique with pink bindings and buttons, like the one shown here; or an under lining for a full skirt of transparent material. The diagram shows how to make a pattern for half of the skirt. The center front may be placed on a fold of the goods in cutting if there is no front opening. Cut the paper by the dimensions in the diagram. Mark point A in 14-inches from the upper left corner. Measure up from the lower right corner a distance equaling the length of the skirt from A to the left edge of the

Items of Interest to the Housewife

Try tinting your ice cubes with vegetable dyes. A spring salad, for instance, is delightful to look at and unusually crisp if it is set in a bowl of green ice cubes. Desserts may be worked out in the same way. . . . . All plants should be sprayed over at least once a week, using clear tepid water. In the ordinary living room there is certain to be considerable dust, no matter how careful the housewife is. . . . . Be careful not to fill baking dishes too full. Escalloped foods, rice puddings and fondues need about two inches of rising space. Foods made with baking powder, soda, cream of tartar or egg whites require at least three inches. . . . . Basting threads may be removed easily by clipping them at six-inch intervals and pulling them out with the blunt ends of scissors. In sewing snaps on garments sew all the halves on one side. Brush them over with chalk. Press against the other side of the garment and the chalk marks will show where each additional half should be attached.

Place a piece of zinc on red-hot coals in the kitchen range or furnace. The vapor that arises while the zinc melts will remove soot from the chimney. . . . . It is better to steam vegetables. Vegetables in boiling lose 30 to 50 per cent of their mineral salts. If steamed only 10 per cent is lost. . . . . Garden makers too often try to sow seeds in the ground just before a rain. This is a mistake for the rain will pack the earth and the moisture will escape. It is far better to plant after a rain and as soon as the ground is dried out sufficiently. Firm the soil over the plants so that the seed will come into close contact with it. . . . . Tack several thicknesses of heavy cloth or paper over the corners of the table before covering it with new oilcloth. The recovering job will then be easier and will look much neater.

"We Doubled Our Sales WITH THE TELEPHONE"

—says one of our farm customers
"Before we had telephone service I used to close the roadside stand and drive ten miles every time supplies ran low. Now I just go to a nearby pay station, call my son, and within a few minutes fresh vegetables are ready for the city folks who drive by."
More and more farmers are installing telephones, not alone for the profits they expect and will get, but because they realize a telephone brings comfort, convenience and protection.
