THOUGHTS AT THE CLOSE OF SUMMER

The summer season is closing, and the great American public has only a few weeks comforts away from home 2—Sleep on a mattress stuffed with anthracite coal in a bed that more in which to:

1-Get its dis-is a souvenir of the metal industry at its worst. 3-Become accustomed to mosquitoes in bedrooms, crickets in the closets, hornets in the sun porch, ants in the table linen and spiders all over the premises. 4-Drive from 100 to 500 miles in an overloaded flivver with poor brakes, no sunshield, one defective headlight and a constant aroma of something burning. 5—Spend days at a time in heated arguments over what the road signs mean.

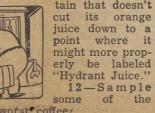

6-Tour through endless miles of hot-dog, gasoline, tourist camp and souvenir doggie-and-doll zones in the insane belief that it all comes under the head of enjoying scenery. 7-Waste hours in country barns displaying "Antiques" signs so the little woman can look at spinning wheels she doesn't want, ox yokes she can't possibly use and early American shaving mugs that don't mean a thing to her.

8—Learn what America's doctors are prescribing for belly-ache this

9-Spend two or three terrible nights in those piano boxes known as tourist camp cottages. 10—Determine how much the human system can endure in the matter of steamed clams, fried clams, clam fritters and clam chowder, not to mention lobsters, crabs, cucumber salads and the strange fish native to stranger communities.

The tea hour may be the time to become utterly feminine, with lazy discussions on the fashions of the day, the latest movie, and even tales of cute sayings of Johnnie and Mary Jane. Or it may be enlarged with masculinity, with the trend of the conversation leaning more toward current events, politics, books and even the arts. A tea party is one of the simplest methods of entertaining, because even though your resources may be limited, you can ask a few friends to drop in for tea. I have a friend who quite often gives teas on Sunday afternoons. They are highly successful, not because of her lovely silverware or china, (because here I must confess that most of her china does not even match); they are successful rather, because her friends gather for the pleasure of chatting with one another. Conversation flies fast and furiously-but the group is held together by one common bond, the tea cup.

The most meager necessities would include a tea tray, on which the tea set and napkins are placed. a table from which to serve the tea, glistening china, and well-polished

If the party is small you may, as hostess, pour the tea, asking the guests to help themselves to cream or lemon and sugar. If it is a larger party and it is necessary for you to constantly greet your guests as they arrive, ask one of your friends to preside at the tea table for you.

The tea that is served must be sugar. good. It not only must be fresh, but must be hot to be palatable and soothing. If the weather is warm you may like to serve both hot and iced tea. Serve the iced tea in tall glasses which have been chilled prior to serving. Sliced lemon and powdered sugar are necessary accessories for iced tea. Place the ice cubes in an attractive ice bucket with the ice tongs near by. As an added bit of color and flavor, garnish the completed beverage with sprigs of fresh, cool mint. Dainty sandwiches, hot buttered toast, thin slivers of cinnamon toast and small English muffins are appropriate to serve with tea. Popular accompaniments to tea are sandwiches made from nut bread, sliced

very thin, and buttered. You may like to use some of the suggested accompaniments for your next tea party, to give you that small pieces of dough and shape in much sought-after distinction as a rolls about 2¼ inches long and a scant discriminating hostess.

Her heirlooms were mostly small things, not spectacularly decorative but exquisite for details—old pieces of needlepoint, porcelain figurines of Staffordshire and Dresden ware, her treasures and at the same time Wedgwood medallions, bits of Steuben glass, some original Audubon prints, vases of antique Delft. Casual Dress That Flatters the Figure

NOTHING is more important during the summer—and every season for that matter-than this type of casual frock, softly tailored and classically simple. This version (Design No. 1962-B) is ideal for women's figures, because it has a high-busted, narrow-hipped line. And that perfection of line is achieved so simplymerely by means of long darts that narrow the waistline and break into soft fullness above and below. Gathers on the shoulders are the only other detailing. The rest is just long, straight seams. You can judge, therefore, how easy this dress is to make.

But you can't really tell what a distinctive, comfortable, charming fashion it is until you have it on. Then you'll repeat it many times, in silk print, rayon sheers, and street cottons like linen and

Watch Chic Knitwear Go 'Tops' In College Environs This Fall

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

KNITTED apply for triumphs anew for tray the fancy of school-faring girls. Being so versatile and so fetchingly styled as they are, you wear casually and nonchalantly sturdy sweaters with "catchy" detail for active and spectator sports wear through all the hours of the day. Then when the shadows fall you come out radiantly arrayed in a ravishing sweater that is "all dolled up" with glitter and color and touches of hand embroidery (decollette neckline if you so choose) that gives you a bona fide "lady of fashion" look to be envied. It is not to be wondered at, is it, that "knitted" has become a magic word in college circles?

And here's something encouraging

we are telling you—you don't have to "tend to your own knitting" as in days of old if you do not want to, for stores and shops are broadcasting the good news to the fashion world that they are making a feature of handknitted sweaters. What's more, you will be surprised to find taste demands.

So get the sweater habit, Miss College Girl, and take along with you not one sweater but a collection for a whole wardrobe of'em will be none too many. A plaid skirt, a velveteen skirt, a monotone tailored cloth with a pleated skirt thrown in for good measure, to which add one or more

Dramatic Felt Hats Have Large Brims

Your hat must look important this season. The new dashing widebrimmed felts do just that. There is no limit to how nonchalantly the brims turn up in dramatic ways. The brim that dashes high at one side gives you the new profile hat which is a leading fashion this season. To show your pompadour off, many felts flare abruptly off the forehead and to emphasize the movement these hats are worn far back on the head. Soft brims that can be manipulated characterize the newer felts, and to add to their flattery handsome black lace veils are adjusted most spectacularly.

Concentrate Skirt Fullness in Front

Interest focuses on skirts this season. The fact that the new silhouette is slimmer does not mean all fullness is abolished. The basic thought in achieving slimness is to keep the sides flat and the very newest treatment is to concentrate fullness directly in front.

Then too the new to-one-side fastenings make for slenderizing lines, and designers handle the drapes always with an eye to achieve slim-

'Fading' Water Supply.

OUESTION: Please explain the remedy for hot water "fading." It had something to do with the adjusting of the valves. You may be interested to know that we have been able to overcome this somewhat by changing the type of washer in the hot water shower faucet.

Answer: See that all of the shutoff valves in the line, between the storage tank and the fixtures, are opened wide. Clogging at the horizontal pipe joints as well as rust in the pipes may also cause this trouble. Some types of fiber washers have a tendency to soften and expand in hot water. This expansion of the washer naturally cuts down the flow of water. Try replacing the washers in the other faucets.

Finish for Stucco. A correspondent sends me a circular descriptive of a waterproofing finish for stucco, and asks whether it would be satisfactory over magnesite stucco, 11 years old. "There are a few small cracks in the stucco, but otherwise it seems in good con-

Answer: Magnesite stucco has a corrosive effect that destroys metal lath in some 10 to 15 years. No surface treatment will give protection. This type of stucco came into use some years ago, but has since been abandoned because of this difficulty. The only real remedy is to take off the old stucco and what is left of the lath, and to replace with new.

Knotty Pine Finish. Question: A new room is lined with knotty pine. How shall I proceed to give same a light maple Answer: Your local paint dealer will have a color card from which you can select the desired color of stain. The stain is brushed on freely, and time is allowed for its penetration; about two minutes for pine. Wipe the surface clean with cheesecloth. If the color is not dark enough apply a second coat. Over this apply a coat of shellac thinned half-and-half with denatured alcohol. Finish by waxing or varnishing. Be-fore applying the stain try it out on some left-over pieces of pine.

Aluminum Paint. Question: Please give me information on heat-proof aluminum paint for a steel furnace and air-onditioning plant. Answer: All makers of aluminum oaint have varieties intended for high temperatures, which can be had at paint stores. The liquid part is a high quality varnish. When heated, the varnish disappears and the aluminum flakes seem to weld themselves to the metal. In application, the metal must be thoroughly clean and free from paint. It should be gone over with steel wool.

Painting a House. Question: I am thinking of repainting my house, myself. Would you advise a coat of top quality house paint, or a mixture of paint and varnish? I have been told such a finish would stay clean longer and last longer. Answer: In repainting a house use a top quality house paint through-Thin down the first coat ac-again? The difference in cost will be about $12 to $15. Will new brick be worth it? Answer: If the old bricks are not crumbling, and are in good condition, there is no reason why they should not be used again. You will probably need some new brick to replace those that are chipped or broken. Waterproofing a Wall.

Question: I am told that the only way to waterproof the outside of a cellar wall is to apply hot tar, then a layer of tar paper, and another coat of tar. Will liquid asphalt do the job just as well?

Answer: Liquid asphalt can be used in that way, with roofing felt instead of tar paper. Another material that is coming into wide use is very thin copper sheet backed by felt. A third method is a heavy coat of dense concrete combined with a waterproofer. Faded Awnings.

Question: My awnings are three years old and in good condition, but badly faded. Is there some kind of paint that can be used to improve the appearance? Answer: They can be painted with a good brand of house paint thinned with one-fourth as much turpentine. Apply the paint in a thin coat and brush into the fibers; a thick coat will cause sticking. Paint should be thoroughly dry before folding the Re-Covering a Roof. Question: In re-covering a roof that now has asphalt shingles on it, would it be better to lay new shingles on the roof as it is, or lay the new shingles after removing the old Answer: It is not necessary to remove the old shingles. The additional thickness will provide greater resistance to the weather as well as I have sketched the whole story here of how one homemaker keeps her linen shelves in order. She likes to keep things in sets identified with colored bands and thinks it is more efficient to roll many pieces than to fold them. The best napkins may be banded in blue and white, luncheon mats may be rolled on a red stick with a red band and green may be used for the bridge table cloth. Linen holders like these would make attractive gifts, too. And speaking of shelves and drawers; girls adore the stocking case in Book 3, and the drawer pads in Book 4; and they make dainty gifts for any one. Banking in Tomorrow's World

The trend of banking has been toward more complete financial services for the individual. In part this trend is due to the desire of banks to be of maximum helpfulness, and in part to the growing complexity of modern life, which accents the importance of individual financial management. This trend will continue, we believe, into the world of tomorrow. This bank, for one, will continue to study the needs of the average individual and to provide new or improved banking services whenever necessary.

We invite you to open an account at this bank and to become acquainted with our service.

King Carol II of Rumania Abdicates As Fascist Iron Guard Effects Coup; House Votes 60-Day Volunteer Plan Before Launching of Peacetime Draft

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

BALKANS:

Coup Shots fired at the palace of King Carol of Rumania followed anxious days in the Balkans, during which Rumania accepted a Berlin-Rome dictated agreement transferring part of Transylvania to Hungary. Included in the agreement was a guarantee to Rumania by Germany that its shrunken borders would be guaranteed against further demands by anyone. With a "Who, me?" expression, Soviet Russia looked over the fence from Bessarabia and Northern Bukovina, which it earlier had seized from Rumania.

Even this did not satisfy the king's enemies. Two days later King Carol II announced the appointment of Gen. Ion Antonescu as the new military dictator of the country. Carol retained only a few unimportant governmental tasks.

But still crowds of angry rioters shouted in the public square around the Rumanian palace and the politi-cal "outs" clamored for more changes. Finally it was announced that King Carol had abdicated. Stepping down from the throne he was succeeded by his son Michael, 18 years of age, who once before ruled his nation as "the boy king" when his father renounced the right to the throne in 1925.

The coup against Carol was by Fascists who sought to take over Rumania at once and liquidate the | HISTORY: entire situation.

M-DAY:

Effects of the war will be brought to hundreds of thousands of American homes this month. For the first time in U. S. peace time history young men will be called from their jobs and schools to serve at least one year in the nation's military

First is the National Guard, 60,500 officers and men from 26 states being the initial cadre going on active service beginning September 16. Later more will be called until 250,-000 are in the field.

Meanwhile 11,000,000 will have registered under the conscription measure. Once set up, the draft machinery will turn fast. First call will be for a gradual enlistment of 400,000. An additional 500,000 will follow before spring.

A few days after the senate had approved the Burke-Wadsworth bill which would call up these first U. S. peacetime conscripts, the house of representatives tacked an amend-

Sixteen camps were built during the World war. Most of these have been dismantled but the government still owns the land. If the same sites are selected, new barracks will be built at Camp Devens at Ayer, Mass.; Camp Upton, Yaphank, L. I.; Camp Dix, Wrightson, N. J.; Camp Meade, Annapolis Junction, Md.; Camp Lee, Petersburg, Va.; Camp Jackson, Columbia, S. C.; Camp Gordon, Atlanta; Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Ohio; Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky.; Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Mich.; Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill.; Camp Pike, Little Rock, Ark.; Camp Dodge, Des Moines, Iowa; Camp Funston Fort Riley, Kan.; Camp Travis, Fort Sam Houston, Texas; and Camp Lewis, American Lake, Wash.

Munitions

In some lines of equipment, where sufficient material cannot be constructed by existing industry, the government will build its own factories or lend money to private firms

With an eye to safety, however, none of these new facilities will be erected within 250 miles of an ocean or foreign border. This may develop a shift in the nation's industrial life.

To Britain goes:

Fifty old-age destroyers, of which we have 123. From a strategic and financial standpoint it was an excellent deal for the United States. The smallest base, at Antigua, one of the Leeward islands in the Caribbean, is considered worth more than the entire cost of the destroyers. Total worth of the bases is estimated at about half the cost of the entire United States navy. From the naval view, the trade gives America a line of fortifications unparalleled in protecting the Panama canal, the Gulf and the Atlantic coasts. Dependence of the British navy means America's one-ocean navy can be

More important than the material aspects are those of prestige. The trade served notice on the world that America will not see Great Britain go down under the blows of a dictator. TREND ... how the wind is blowing . . .

Business-New York will inherit from Amsterdam the title of world's diamond market, said Sir Ernest Oppenheimer, chairman of two corporations which control 95 per cent of the world's production.

Canada—If Britain is forced to evacuate London as its capital, the government will move to Toronto, not Ottawa. Quarters already have been selected for the royal family.

Banks—Treasury officials alarmed at an increase in hoarding among individuals, are urging banks to prohibit large withdrawals where the need for the money is not clear.

POLITICS:

Issues Appear

Whether the government shall be given power to seize industries where owners refuse contracts for national defense production may turn into one of the major issues of the campaign. A clause to that effect, introduced by Senator Russell (D., Ga.) was included in the conscription bill before it passed the senate. Opposition developed in the house which has a less drastic idea. Final decision may be reached by Wendell L. Willkie, G. O. P. presidential nominee, denounced the Russell amendment less than 24 hours after its enactment. He said it was a move to "socialize and sovietize" industry. "If our enterprises and assets are to be taken over by the government," he asked, "what are we to defend?"

He also called upon the President to name a co-ordinator of national defense with full executive power to handle the nation's $11,000,000 arms program. Such a move, he said, was advocated in the 1939 report of the national resources board.

Answer came quickly in the senate, where it was pointed out that 10 Republicans were among the 69 senators who favored "industrial draft." Senator Russell said Willkie was willing to conscript lives and careers of young men but not wealth.

WHEAT:

The bureau of agricultural economics said indications are that about the same wheat acreage will oe planted for 1941 harvest as was seeded for the 1940 harvest. There were 62,000,000 acres allotted for seeding for the 1941 crop under the Agricultural Adjustment act, the same as for the 1940 crop.

The bureau estimated that 1941 production will total about 750,000 .-000 bushels and leave about 50,000,-000 bushels for export or addition to carry over. The total carryover would accordingly be about 300,000,-000 bushels at the close of the 1941-

World acreage, exclusive of Soviet Russia and China, the bureau said, is expected to remain approximately the 275,000,000 acres harvested in 1939. The bureau said that world wheat supplies, exclusive of Soviet Russia and China, for the year beginning July 1, 1940, may be about 100,000,000 to 150,000,000 bushels smaller than a year ago when they totaled 5,445,000,000 bushels, the

When David was 21, his father had tried to fill some inside straights, without any luck and the young man had a one-dollar bill, with which to start his career, plus some schooling in movie-making and his old man's yen for taking a

He saw possibilities in Luis Angel Firpo for a profitable quickie. He pencilled out a plot, borrowed $2,000 from a friend, paid Firpo $1,000, took a few shorts of the Wild Bull of the Pampas and within three days took a profit of $875 on his film. He went on from there to his gallery of the classics, including "The Tale of Two Cities," "David Copperfield," "Little Lord Fauntleroy," "The Prisoner of Zenda," and "Tom Sawyer."

In Russia, the family name was Zeleznick. Zeleznick pere left home at 12, met disillusionment as a harddriven factory hand in England, and found his slice of the American dream waiting for him when he landed here, as a jeweler, banker, promoter and film-producer. All this, and his own venturesome career, has made the younger Sels-nick eager to film America only as a going concern. Six feet, one, muscular and energetic, he has a placid face rarely caught in a frown—un-less somebody tells him that "Rebecca" was a better film than "Wind." That burns him up.

THE Nizam of Hyderabad is said I to be the richest man in the world, but he gets his shoes halfsoled three or four times and wears Nizam Is World's patched clothing. Hence, Richest Man, Yet his gift of Paragon of Thrift $400,000 to the British to buy American planes is a gesture somewhat like that of the late Hetty Green suddenly buying somebody a drink-and she never drank. his fortune is rated around $2,000.-000,000, the gift represents a similar strain on his resources.

The Nizam, a pale, bent, nervous little man, worried and watchful, lives in splendor, but his sometimes fabulous expenditures are for requirements of state. Although he has 400 up-to-date automobiles, he rides in a 26-year-old car and frequently walks quite a distance to save gas. For ceremonial journeys he keeps a train steamed up, with 22 pullmans needed to accommodate his entourage.

This writer never could get it quite straight as to how many men the Nizam could bury in diamonds. Estimates vary from four to seven. At any rate, there are always "men working" signs around his palace, as his diamonds, emeralds, rubies and gold-pieces are being shoveled this way and that. He fusses a lot about just where and how his treasure is stored, and is always adding it up and shifting it somewhere else.

In 1926, the British were worried about signs of unrest among the Mohammedan potentate's 15,000,000 subjects. There were reports that he was becoming autocratic, and if anyone drove up in a car he liked, he might add it to his collection. The viceroy interfered and certain controls were set up which seemed to settle everything nicely.

The thrifty Nizam has a playboy son, Prince Nawab Azam Jah, who thinks his father makes a mistake, like old Fafnir, in just sitting on his gold. He is firm in the belief that his pater's wealth ought to be out

In the World war, the Nizam was supposed to be a laggard in empire co-operation at first, but at the time of the U-boat crisis suddenly made generous contributions to defense. He has 50 palaces, a splendid seraglio, and is reported to have about 100 sons and daughters.

WE FIND great relief in the news that Roberto M. Ortiz will stay on as president of Argentina. At the Lima conference of December, 1938, President Ortiz was co-operative and friendly toward the U. S. A., having taken office in February of that year. Subsequently, he has given indications of going more than a block or two with this country, and has disclosed a quite positive dislike, if not hatred, of the Nazis. His political survival seems important in the matter of hemisphere defense. He is a rich lawyer.

T WON'T be long now until some volunteer poet will be adding another couplet to that famous bit of doggerel called "The Presidents in Rhyme." Perhaps it has been a long, long time since you recited it in history class or on some Friday afternoon when everyone in school was asked to "speak a piece." If you've forgotten how it goes, here's one version of it, brought down to date:

First stands the lofty Washington,
That noble, great, immortal one.
The elder Adams next we see,
And Jefferson comes number three.
The fourth is Madison, you know,
The fifth on the list, Monroe.
The sixth an Adams comes again,
And Jackson seventh in the train.
Van Buren eighth upon the line,
And Harrison counts number nine.
The tenth is Tyler, in his turn,
And Polk the eleventh, as we learn.
The twelfth is Taylor that appears,
The thirteenth Fillmore fills his years.
Then Pierce comes fourteenth into view;
Buchanan is the fifteenth due.
Now Lincoln comes two terms to fill,
But God o'errules the people's will,
And Johnson fills the appointed time
Cut short by an assassin's crime.
Next Grant assumes the lofty seat,
The man who never knew defeat.
Two terms to him; then Hayes succeeds,
And quietly the nation leads. And quietly the nation leads.

Garfield comes next, the people's choice But soon ascends a mourning voice From every hamlet in the land. A brutal wretch with murderous hand Strikes down the country's chosen chief, And anxious millions mourn in grief.

Then came the "Man of Destiny," Honest and strong in policy, Grover Cleveland, whose first term Made the politicians squirm. But when election day rolled round Harrison was more popular found—

Which made the number twenty-one

A man of intellectual mold, In action cautious, manner cold. So when his single term was over There followed four years more of Grover. McKinley then, the well-beloved, A most efficient pilot proved. A crazed assassin laid him low— Again the nation voiced its woe.

To fill the interrupted term,
"Our Teddy" followed, staunch and firm,
A fighting statesman, forceful, true,
And brilliant as a scholar, too.
He taught the nation strenuous life,
Yet kept it from internal strife.
Next Taft, the jurist, reached the goal,
Four quiet years he held control.

Then Woodrow Wilson, Princeton man, Eight fateful years of rule began, For under him our armies brave Went forth a whole world's peace to save. The war was won, but at what cost—The nation soon this leader lost.

In peace was Harding's term begun In peace was Harding's term beguin,
But death claimed him 'ere it was done.
Then Calvin Coolidge, calm and cool,
Gave to our states a cautious rule.
Next Herbert Hoover of Belgian fame
Added to the list the thirtieth name.
And next a Roosevelt we see—
Not Theodore but Franklin D.

Now, the question is: when another couplet is added to that jingle after November 5, what will it say? Will a new name—that of Wendell L. Willkie-appear in the list of our Chief Executives? Or will it remain unchanged, so far as the addition of a new name is concerned?

If the latter, then that will mark a new epoch in American history, because it means that, for the first time, a President has been a successful candidate for a third term. Before Franklin D. Roosevelt upset all precedents by seeking re-election after serving two terms, only two other Presidents had ever tried it.

The first was Ulysses S. Grant, elected in 1868, re-elected in 1872 and an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination in 1880. The second was Theodore Roosevelt, who became President in 1901, when President McKinley died, who was re-elected in 1904, failed to win the Republican nomination in 1912 and was the unsuccessful candidate of the Progressive or "Bull Moose" party in that year.

Even if Roosevelt is defeated in November, he will have had the distinction of being one of the 11 Presidents who have been elected twice. They were: Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, Jackson, Lincoln, Grant, Cleveland, McKinley and Wilson. Nine (if Roosevelt completes his second term) served eight yearsall of the above except Lincoln and McKinley, the victims of assassins' bullets. Grover Clevethen beat Harrison when he was a candidate for re-election and served a second term from 1893 to 1897. William Henry Harrison had the shortest period of service as President, dying after one month in the White House. If the Republican nominee is the successful candidate this land was a two-term President whose record is unique. He served one term, 1885-1889, was defeated by Benjamin Harrison, ing "firsts" to the history of the Presidency. For he will be The first bearing the name of year, he will add several interest

Wendell. James has been the commonest first name of our Presidents, there having been five of them. John and William tie for second with three each and Andrew and Franklin third with two each. There has been one each of the following: George, Thomas, Martin, Zachary, Millard, Abraham, Ulysses, Rutherford, Chester, Grover, Benjamin, Theodore, Woodrow, Warren, Calvin and Herbert. There would have been two Thomases if Thomas Woodrow Wilson hadn't dropped the use of his first name and chosen to be known by the two beginning with the "W." If the Republicans are victorious in November, Willkie will be The first native of Indiana to become President. Virginia still holds the title of "Mother of Presidents" with eight who were born in the Old Dominion. Ohio is a close second with seven, and New York comes next with four. North Carolina has given the nation three Chief Executives, Massachusetts and Vermont two each and New Hampshire, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, New Jersey and Iowa, one

Although Willkie was born in Indiana, his legal residence is New York city. So, his election would add the seventh to the list of Presidents who have gone to the White House from the Empire state. Besides her four native sons, Arthur, born in Vermont, and Cleveland, born in New Jersey, were residents of New York when elected.

If Wendell Willkie wins-He will be the first President of German descent. The majority of our Presidents, 16 in all, have been of English ancestry. They were: Washington, John Adams, John Quincy Adams, Madison, William Harri-son, Tyler, Taylor, Pierce, Lincoln, Johnson, Garfield, Cleveland, Benjamin Harrison, Taft, and Coolidge. Next most numerous-six-were the Scotch-Irish: Jackson, Polk, Buchanan, Arthur, McKinley and Wilson. Four-Van Buren, Hoover and the two Roosevelts-were of Dutch descent; three-Monroe, Grant and Hayes -were Scotch; one, Harding, was Scotch-Dutch; and one, Jefferson, was Welsh.

Willkie's election would mean a new occupation represented in the White House, that of utilities executive. However, since his first training was in the legal profession, he would be the twenty-third who were lawyers before they became President. The list of these lawyer-Presidents - more numerous than any other profession-includes: Adams, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, John Quincy Adams, Jackson, Van Buren, Tyler, Polk, Fillmore, Pierce, Buchanan, Lincoln, Hayes, Garfield, Arthur, Cleveland, Benjamin Harrison, McKinley, Taft, Coolidge and Franklin D. Roosevelt. Incidentally, Willkie would be the first President who had never held public office before going to the White House. In case the Hoosier candidate is successful, another name will be added to the list of our soldier-Presidents for his service as a captain in the field artillery in the World war would place him in the company of Washington. Monroe, Jackson, William Henry Harrison, Taylor, Pierce, Lincoln, Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Benin Harrison, McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt. Whether Roosevelt remains in the White House or Willkie moves in, the religious faith of its occupant will be unchanged for both are Episcopalians. There have been more Chief Executives of that sect than any other-nine.

The Presidents who were Episcopalians were Washington, Madison, Monroe, Harrison, Tyler, Taylor, Pierce, Arthur and Franklin D. Roosevelt. Those claimed as Presbyterians were Jackson, Polk, Buchanan, Lincoln, Cleveland, Harrison and Wilson. The Methodists were Johnson, Grant, Hayes and McKinley, John Quincy Adams, Fillmore and Taft were Unitarians. Van Buren and Roosevelt were of the Reformed Dutch faith. Harding was a Baptist, Garfield a Disciple. Coolidge a Congregationalist and Hoover a Quaker.

Should the voters send Willkie to Washington to be inaugurated in January, he will be one of our "young Presidents," that is, under 50 and well under the average age of all Presidents when inaugurated-54. Willkie is 48, the same age as Franklin Pierce when he was inaugurated. Only three others have been younger-Cleveland, 47; Grant, 46; and Theodore Roosevelt, 42. The oldest President at the time of his inauguration was William Henry Harrison, who was 68. Four others-John Adams, Jackson, Taylor and Buchanan-were over 60. Willkie would also be one of the "tall Presidents." His height of six feet one inch would place him third in the list. Lincoln was the tallest, six feet four inches. Washington was the second, six feet two inches. Madison's five feet four inches made him the shortest President.

Four of our Presidents-Jefferson, Jackson, Van Buren and Arthur-were widowers when they entered the White House and the wives of four others-Tyler, Fillmore, Benjamin Harrison and Wilson-died during the time they were President.

Tyler had the most childrenseven by each of his two marriages. William Henry Harrison was next with 10 and Hayes next with eight. Washington, Madison, Jackson, Polk and Harding were childless. If Willkie is elected, he will be the only President with only one child-a son.

"Life was simple then, maybe,"
Gay said. "You—"

"Fiddlesticks!" Abigail Houghton tossed her head. "It's simple enough to get married. And one male Houghton is not much different from another, I guess. They've all been as proud as Lucifer and as stubborn as mules. Don't you let that fret you. When they love you, they love you for life and that's not a bad fault in a husband. It's talking that complicates things. That, and too much considering other people. I've got the seed-pearl necklace I promised John for his bride sewed into my feather bed. It won't take long to rip out the stitches."

"You're a darling." Gay bent impulsively and kissed the russet cheek as soft as moth wing beneath her lips. "John will bring me. I'll

The old lady went with them to the door opening into the tiny hall.

"Mind you shut the door tight, Debby," she called after them.

"Good-by, Gabriella."

"Good-by." Gay turned to smile at John's grandmother. The quizzi-cal expression still narrowed Abigail Houghton's eyes, but her smile was steadfast and encouraging. Debby opened the outer door.

They went down steps and along a shoveled path to a gate in the picket fence. The harbor lay before them, touched with the last reflection of the sunset. Why was it? Gay thought. A moment came that you knew you would always remember. This— The dove-gray house behind them muffled with snow, the harbor below, stippled with fading pink and gold. Nothing had happened. Why did her throat ache and quick tears sting beneath her eyelids? Why—?

"Granny is a darling, isn't she?"
Debby asked as the gate clicked behind them with a frosty snap and they walked, arms linked, along the cleared pavement between shoveled banks of snow.

'Yes," Gay replied. The ache in her throat was still there. She wanted John desperately, urgently, to be walking here beside her. His grandmother was right. They talked too much, she and John. It was dangerous to hurt each other with words. A lovely thing was spoiled if it was only a little marred. When he came tonight—

"You aren't going tomorrow, are you, Gay?" Debby asked, after a moment. 'I think so. Yes."

"Well, I can't blame you, I suppose." Debby's voice was desolate. 'It's dead enough here, goodness knows. I'll miss you, though, terri-

'Will you?" Gay asked, drawn from introspection by the sincerity in the lovely young voice. "Why, especially, except to be polite?"

You're so beautiful. And I can talk to you. I can't to anybody else Mother or Sarah, and the girls I know are pretty small town. I'm different—" She gave an embarrassed laugh. "I guess all this sounds pretty silly to you." "No, it doesn't. How old are you, Debby?" "Eighteen last month."

"How would you like to go back to New York with me?" Debby stopped, checking Gay's progress, too, looked at Gay, speechess, her dark eyes wide and shin-"Why not?" It had been an impulsive suggestion. But why not?

It would be fun to take her to New York. "Why not?" Gay repeated. Debby exhaled her breath in a sharp explosion. "Gosh!" she exclaimed breathlessly.

"Would you like to go, Debby?"
"Would I?" "Come along." Gay laughed and tugged at her arm. "We're blocking traffic and probably getting frosted ears. There are your courses," she went on consideringly as they resumed progress again. "But you could go to a good business school or have a tutor. I'd like to have you. My mother and step-father are away a great deal, but the apartment is always there.' "Do you know what this means to me?" Debby asked seriously. "I've never been further than Boston in my life."

"I can imagine. Your eyes are popping out of your head. Do you think— Will your mother let you? Would she object?"

"She's got to let me," Debby said passionately. "Nothing as important as this has ever happened to me. Come on!" Clinging to Gay's arm, pulling her forward, Debby took a series of skipping steps along the sidewalk. "Let's hurry home and ask her!"

"That's a taxi from the station," Debby said, checking momentarily a stream of breathlessly eager questions, comments, observations. "Who in heck—? Oh!" she added as a slight man in a heavy overcoat with a brief-case under his arm emerged from the car. "It's Mr. Sewall. He's writing a book about clipper ships and comes out from Portland to see the papers and logs and diaries Mother has. Oh, dear! He'll stay for supper and heaven knows how long afterward and I won't have a chance to talk to Mother."

WASHINGTON.—There is no way of confirming, either in Washington, in Berlin, or in Tokyo, the most interesting report that comes out of China—that Hitler has refused his permission to Japan to grab French Indo-China and the Dutch East In-The general idea of the report is that Hitler is unwilling to permit Japan to seize such a large percentage of the fruits of his victory over France and Holland, in view of the fact that Nippon has contributed so little to the Nazi ef-

The report further states that, some time back, when the Germans approached Japapn about sending her navy to join those of Italy and Germany, with a view to annihilating the British fleet, the Japanese preferred watchful waiting. Now, the report goes on, the Nazis feel that they have victory within their grasp without calling on Japan, and they do not propose to see Japan make the same sort of territorial profit, only on a much larger scale, that she made from the last World war. That time, also, the Germans remember bitterly, Japan paid a very small price in military effort for her gains.

But while the report, for obvious reasons, cannot be confirmed, there is an inclination in official circles here to accept it at almost face value. It is too logical to be utterly

Further, there is another reason | not much of a stunt, and that folks why the Germans might view with alarm Japanese aggression in the Dutch East Indies. They remember the amazement with which the whole world heard the sharp caution of Secretary of State Cordell Hull that this country would be much disturbed at any change in ownership of the Dutch East Indies. Berlin Distrusts U. S.

Defense Preparations

At first blush it might seem that, if the Germans are worried about the possibility of the United States getting into the war, they might welcome a diversion in the Far East calculated to keep Uncle Sam very busy until the war in Europe is over This, of course, might be the German reasoning, but it is not thought here that it is. Berlin is extremely distrustful of every move Washington is making toward preparedness. There are indications that the Nazis do not want the United States on a war basis, entirely aside from any fear that this country might actual ly enter the European war.

The administration in Washington, of course, believes that Hitler intends activities in Latin America after he has won the Battle of Britain, but that he has always calculated that pacifist sentiment in the United States would prevent this country from being able to do anything to stop him before it was too

All of this seems far afield from the Dutch East Indies, but the Nazis know that once in the war, even if it were against Japan alone and not directed primarily at Europe, it would be a very easy step for this country to go all the way.

German Pilots Suffer From Insufficient Training

One of the reasons why the British have been able to bring down such a heavy toll of Nazi fliers in proportion to their own loss of air-

He reports that Carter Glass was irked when Ickes stated that the federal reserve act was passed during the Harding administration. This act is Glass' proudest achievement.
