

Does this man belong in jail?

by William T. Ficks

Blane L. Warfle, 28, of Laurel, sits in a jail cell at Sussex Correctional Institution near Georgetown because of a comedy of errors.

He'll probably never again believe in the "due process of law." He'll probably turn a deaf ear to all talk about "having your day in court." Because that is precisely what Warfle failed to receive - due process of law or his day in court.

The major blunder was apparently committed on May 10 when Warfle was scheduled to appear in Magistrate Court No. 3 in Georgetown for a 60 day extension hearing.

According to Magistrate Court records Warfle did in fact appear on that date.

But according to Warden John Ellingsworth the records at the Sussex Correctional Institution show that Warfle never left the prison on May 10.

"I was never brought to court on May 10," said Warfle. "I don't know who they brought in but it wasn't me."

Finally, at a habeus corpus hearing on Oct. 3 in Superior Court in Georgetown, the State conceded Warfle had never been brought to court on May 10. Karl Haller, assistant public defender, who is defending Warfle, was given this information five minutes before the hearing began.

"The defendant's hearing turned out to be no hearing at all," said Haller.

"It's a shame you didn't all communicate better," said Judge Claud Tease. Questioned about the identity of the man who appeared before her on May 10, Judge Abigail Truitt said, "All I can say is someone answered to that name in court."

In a letter to Warfle, Haller wrote, "She (Judge Truitt) said that somebody answered to your name when it was called on May 10 who was sitting out in the vestibule. She could not say whether prison officials brought the person in. She could not say whether this was you or not. She later said that the commitment was apparently signed in blank and typed up later."

Warfle was originally committed to Sussex Correctional Institution on Feb. 13 on Delaware charges of burglary and theft. A detainer from Georgia was also lodged against him for violation of parole. He had left Georgia without permission when his mother in Laurel was under-going surgery. He had served more than three years in a Georgia jail on burglary and auto theft charges.

On April 12 in Magistrate Court No. 3 the Delaware charges were dropped after it was discovered that Warfle was out of state at the time of the alleged burglary and theft. He was then arrested on the fugitive warrant.

It is Haller's contention that the State should have acted on the detainer promptly instead of waiting 56 days. This, along with the State's failure to bring Warfle to court on May 10 amounts to a "manipulation of the justice process," Haller said.

"There was no bond set at the first hearing and there was no bond set at the second hearing," he said.

Perspective

"The more I hear, the more it seems a conspiracy to keep him in prison," Haller said at the habeus corpus hearing.

In a letter from Judge Truitt to Haller dated June 15, Truitt said, "According to our records, Blane Warfle has waived extradition when he appeared before Judge Booth. Copies of the waivers should be available from the

S.C.I. records department."

No such copies are on file at S.C.I., according to Warden Ellingsworth.

Judge Truitt later conceded that she was mistaken concerning the waiver of extradition.

A governor's extradition warrant from Georgia was filed on May 4 and a governor's extradition warrant from Delaware was executed on May 25.

On June 10 Warfle was released on bond and rearrested on July 9 by Delaware State Police on the governor's warrant.

Condition's of bail were: "If Georgia has not appeared on or before July 9, 1984 to transport defendant to Georgia, he is released from bond and does not need to make any further court appearances."

"I was out on bond on that. How can they arrest me on the same charge for which I'm out on bail?" asked Warfle. "Besides, if Georgia didn't pick me up by the ninth, I was supposed to go free."

Warfle was returned to S.C.I. where he has remained to this day.

Warfle's defense contends that the Uniform Criminal Extradition Act requires extradition to take place within 90 days. When the Delaware governor's warrant was executed on May 25, it was already 12 days past the time allowed. To hold otherwise would be to strip the 90 day requirement of all meaning.

Warfle filed a writ of habeus corpus on July 10 and the hearing was held on Oct. 3, almost three months later.

At the Oct. 3 hearing Judge Claud Tease denied the habeus corpus, saying, "The defendant shall be in court at every stage of the proceeding. I think that this serious step of taking his liberty away for sixty days surely

Halloween Safety Program for children

The children of Lake Forest North Elementary School are being provided with an extra measure of safety this Halloween. Each child will be given a special Super Safety Trick-or-Treat Bag which has been provided through Sampling Corporation of America for Campbell's Juice Works, a company interested in safety for children. The Plastic Bag includes SAFETY RULES and is printed on both sides with a special fluorescent ink. A child carrying this bag would be highly visible to motorists because of the bright reflection of the color. This is especially important at dusk, which is a time of day when visibility is generally poor. Also, each child will get a large "Safety Patch," with similar coloring and adhesive, to be worn on the back of their outer garments or costumes for additional visibility to motorists.

Other materials given to each child as part of the program include Halloween "fun" stickers, a safety bumper sticker for the family automobile, a refrigerator magnet and a free can of Juice Works natural fruit juice as a refreshment for their school's Halloween parties. Schoolrooms receive posters that serve as a further reminder of the need to be extra cautious during these few days. Schools also receive a publicity kit with media public service announcements to help broaden com-

Short takes on area news

Pagans appeals denied

The Delaware Supreme Court had denied the appeals of three Pagans motorcycle club members imprisoned for first-degree rape and conspiracy.

The three men, Paul R. "Quiet" Hamilton, 32, James T. "Spider" Burke, 29, and Paul C. "Tango" Morris, 29, are serving sentences of life imprisonment plus 10 years in the Delaware Correctional Center for the April 1982 rape.

Defense attorney William N. Nicholas had asked the court to reverse the verdict, stating that the memory loss the state's chief witness suffered prevented them from conducting a proper cross-examination. But a three-member panel found no prejudice or error in the verdict and denied the appeal.

According to June 1983 testimony, on April 25, 1983, the rape victim had attended a gathering of Pagans the night of the rape. She was suspected of being a "narc" and ordered to leave. Later that night the three men entered her apartment, raped her, burned her hair with cigarettes, urinated on her, and sexually abused her with a beer bottle.

Scott gets 2 life sentences for rape

Lemuel Scott, 36, of Harrington, was sentenced to two life terms last Wednesday for the February rape and kidnaping of a woman who had stopped her car to help him.

Scott admitted having sexual intercourse with the woman but insisted she was a willing partner.

The woman, who is a "born again" Christian, said she felt safe in stopping because of a "Jesus" sticker of Scott's car. She said she agreed to drive Scott to get jumper cables for his apparently disabled car.

After driving around Harrington they stopped at an abandoned farmhouse. It was here that the rape took place in the back seat of the car, according to the woman.

Scott said the woman willingly consented to sexual relations in return for a $180 car payment.

Superior Court Judge William G. Bush imposed two mandatory life sentences.

Scott, who showed no emotion at the sentencing, will be eligible for parole in 31 years.

Burriss for arms reduction, against freeze

John Burriss, Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, has outlined a Four Point Plan in "a realistic approach to arms control."

The Burriss plan is keyed to four cornerstones: substantial arms reduction; stability; balance; and verification.

Burriss suggested that each side must know that the other is in compliance. He said this is especially important in light of the rampant Soviet violations of the past.

"While the freeze idea enjoys much public support, most of that support quickly turns to opposition if we cannot verify a freeze-which we cannot - or if it would be more advantageous to the Soviets - which it would," Burriss said. He quoted President Carter's National Security Advisor, who admitted, "The nuclear freeze is a hoax. It's not achievable. It's not verifiable."

Burriss quoted figures supplied by the U.S. Department of Defense which show the U.S. has 1,040 land-based missiles and the USSR has 1,398; the U.S. has 592 sea-based missiles and the USSR has 981; the U.S. has 35 nuclear missile submarines and USSR has 68; the U.S. has zero heavy missiles and USSR has 308; the U.S. has 7,500 missile warheads and the USSR has 8,000; the U.S. has zero ABM missiles and the USSR has 32; the U.S. has zero surface-to-air missiles and the USSR has 10,000; the U.S. has 264 strategic bombers and the USSR has 375.

Drunk Driving Conference to be held in Dover

Delaware's Division of Alcoholism, Drug Abuse and Mental Health is sponsoring a one day conference on October 31 on Delaware's Driving Under the Influence system. The purpose of the day is to increase the level of efficiency with which D.U.I. cases are handled by those agencies involved. Representatives of the various agencies will be making presentations explaining how their agencies work with D.U.I. offenders their policies and procedures, etc.

Among the presenters will be Lt. Gov. Mike Castle, Chairman of the Governor's Task Force on Drunk Driving, who will speak on the work of the task force and recommendations for further development of the D.U.I. system.

The conference will be held at the Sheraton Inn in Dover from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Minner makes bid for second term

by William T. Ficks

When 18th District Sen Ruth Ann Minner was a member of the House a reporter once described her as "The Iron Lady of the House."

He must have had her iron constitution in mind while coining that apt sobriquet.

Undaunted by a car accident last year that kept her from driving for nine months, Minner has bounced back and is now a bundle of energy as she conducts her campaign bid for reelection to the State Senate.

Attempting to unseat Minner is Republican Tom Barnett, of Georgetown, a lawyer and a Kent County assistant Public Defender.

It's the second time around for Minner and Barnett who squared off in the 1982 state senatorial race. In that contest Minner came home the winner with 5,884 votes to Barnett's 3,183.

State senators are normally elected to four-year terms, but because of the 1982 reapportionment Minner is required to run again.

The sprawling 18th District is one of the largest geographical districts in the state. It straddles two counties and runs roughly from Barratts Chapel to Lewes and Angola, encompassing Harrington, Milford, Houston, Milton and many small communities.

The district has 6,193 Democrats, 4,589 Republicans, and 2,576 Independents.

Minner, of Milford, is known as a woman with the courage of her convictions who won't back down from a Senate floor fight for or against any bill that affects her district.

Minner, a self-styled conservative, considers her greatest achievements to be Farm Land Assessment and Landlord Tenant Act, and legislation on environmental issues and hazardous materials and transportation of same.

Right now her top priority is a Highway Preventive Maintenance Plan.

"Our roads are a mess. It's a crisis situation. We never spend a nickel to study them. We let potholes go so long it takes thousands to repair them and hundreds of thousands for resurfacing. We wait until a bridge has to be closed and then we fix it," Minner said.

According to Minner it's not only the main highways that need repairing but the neighborhood roads as well.

"We worry about the beach traffic but not the back roads and the neighborhood roads," she added.

Minner said we can raise money for long-term highway improvement either by earmarking more of the state's 11-cent a gallon gasoline tax for highway construction, or by rewriting the law that limits new bond issues to 75 percent of retiring bonds.

Minner doesn't hesitate to register an unpopular vote if she thinks it is in the best interests of her constituents. She was one of two to vote against the Blue Collar Jobs Bill.

"It makes no sense. Each job would cost $185,000 and would bring in only $834 in tax revenue. We have excellent Vo-Tech schools but their enrollments are declining. Let's use those schools. Why give new businesses tax breaks so they can compete with existing businesses? Give that money to the schools. Think of the equipment they could buy," Minner said.

Minner also voted against the original Driving Under the Influence (DUI) bill

Diamond gets top Fire Policeman award

By William T. Ficks

George A. Diamond, president of the Magnolia Volunteer Fire Company, received the award as the outstanding Fire Policeman of Kent County at the recent Delaware State Firemen's Convention held at Rehoboth Beach.

The award ceremony was the culmination of a 22-year firefighting career that began in 1962 when Diamond joined the Camden-Wyoming Fire Company.

Diamond received a certificate of appreciation and a pin along with a three-foot trophy from the Kent County Fire Police Association.

Diamond is employed by the Chesapeake Gas Company.

"I got a call from them asking me if I would work for them. I said I'd try it out. I'm still there after 25 years," laughed Diamond.

Diamond moved from Augusta, Maine to Delaware in 1959.

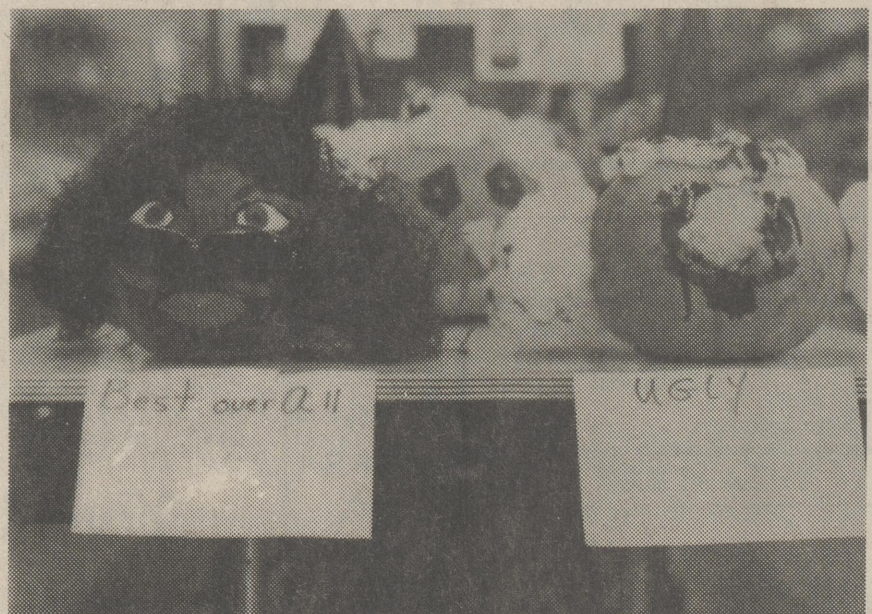

"I feel like a native," he said. Diamond has a son and a daughter.

His son, William, is running for re-election as a state senator in Maine. A fire police officer guards the property and controls traffic at the site of a fire.

Diamond has been a fire policeman for 14 years. In 1979 he was elected to the office of President of the Kent County Fire Police Association and served two terms. He was twice elected as Presi-requires his personal appearance no matter how burdened we all are with too much work to do and how little time. I don't believe there is much question about that in my mind that he should have been taken personally to the Justice of the Peace Court for the extension hearing provided by 2517.

Be that as it may, I am forced, under the State laws which I perceive to be in Delaware at the present time, to reluctantly conclude that he must be held and the habeas corpus must be denied for reason that the Governor's warrant was properly executed and none of it defective. There were abusive processes that may have been present in this case and several instances—and I say may have been.

Aside from that I believe the Governor's warrant is properly executed and requires he be returned over to Georgia. What assurance do you have and when Georgia wants him, I don't know. I would be really upset if they are sitting down there saying we really don't want him."

On Oct. 12 Justice John J. McNeilly, Supreme Court of Delaware, granted a stay pending an appeal.

Haller noted a State memorandum that said the appeal lacked any merit. "This is certainly amazing that the State takes this position. The Code required a 'hearing' before the Magistrate Court...Not only was the defendant not present at the hearing, but the police officer was not either! The whole thing was done by phone between the police officer and the magistrate. This is the sort of legal proceeding that the Attorney General's office chooses to say is perfectly all right," Haller responded.

Meanwhile, Blane L. Warfle languishes in a jail cell, knowing only too well the meaning of the legal maxim that tells us "Justice delayed is justice denied."

because she thought parts of it were unconstitutional.

"We had to write another bill to correct it. But we passed a more forceful DUI law. People came up to me later and told me I was right," Minner said.

She said she has heard reports that the opposition is claiming she introduced a bill to allow the bars to stay open on election day.

"I've never introduced such a bill," Minner said, "I introduced a bill to allow package stores to stay open during city elections. It makes no sense to keep the package stores in Milford closed if you can ride a mile out of town and get all the alcohol you want."

Minner was recently awarded funds from the Democratic National Commitee's Eleanor Roosevelt Fund for her work at state and national levels on the transportation of toxic materials.

She chairs the Community Affairs Committee, and is a member of the Bond Bill, Highways and Transportation, and Natural Resources Committee.

Before becoming a state senator, the 49-year-old Minner served as a state representative from 1974 to 1982. She is married to Roger Minner, owner of Roger Minner Wrecking Service of Milford, and is the mother of three grown sons.

Known as one of the top Democratic vote getters, Minner is not taking anything for granted.

"You always worry until it's all over," she laughed as she headed for Harrington for some more campaigning.

Fancy Crown rolls to victory in Breeders Crown

by Joe Asher

ROSECROFT RACEWAY, OXON HILL, MD. Two champions are at their best at Rosecroft Raceway on Friday night, and once again, they proved to be a great team. Harness Racing's leading driver, Bill O'Donnell, guided World Champion Fancy Crown to an easy win in the $365,000 three-year-old filly twisting leg of the Breeders Crown in a new track record 1:59.2.

Fancy Crown leaving from Post 6 on the half-mile track, marched up on the outside to take the lead from Head Hunter near the quarter pole, and coasted through fractions of :29.4, 1:00.3, and 1:30.4 before shifting into high gear as the final turn throwing a :28.3 final quarter at her six rivals to coast home three and a half lengths in front of Petrolina, her main foe and part of a three-horse Ulf Moberg - owned, Jan Johnson - trained entry.

Selena Lobell finished a game third despite being parked out for the entire mile while Head Hunter tired to fourth with Maiden Yankee finishing fifth. Nevele Amanda and Harmony Lobell broke stride and were not factors. Moshannon Finesse was scratched lame with a quarter crack, and her owners had to forfeit the $10,000 entry fee.

"She's without doubt the best trotting filly I have ever driven", said Bill O'Donnell. "I left with her and kept her running for the front. She wasn't really pressured, and when I spoke to her, she reacted well".

Installed as the one-to-two choice by the crowd of 7,522 to become the first favorite to win of the six legs of The Breeders Crown contested thus far. Fancy Crown left her opponents with munity safety awareness. As an additional bonus for those students and schools who save labels for school equipment in The Campbell Soup Company's "Labels for Educational program." Juice Works is giving out 3 for 1 value-added certificates to students.

The program is being distributed, "not to encourage trick-or-treating," rather it acknowledges that this practice, for the most part, already exists and children would benefit from an effort to make their celebration experiences safer! In many communities the program provides a basis for alternative school activities, such as parades, parties, etc., all designed to make Halloween a safer, more fun experience.

Political Tidbits - Commentary

by William T. Ficka

Believe it or not, Senator Joe Biden has been accused of "coddling criminals" by The Review of the News, a John Birch Society publication. No one who is sane and sober will believe this nonsense for a moment.

The Birchers are far off base on this one. As both liberals and conservatives agree, Biden is strictly bad news to the criminal element.

Accusing Biden of coddling the criminals is like accusing Simon Legree of coddling the slaves.

The polls show Reagan running ahead of Mondale by anywhere from 10 to 25 percentage points.

In other words, we're right back where we were before the Great Debates. The debates proved one thing-which is, not many people change their minds because of these schoolboy debates.

If we wanted a debating champion as president, we would have to declare William F. Buckley president by acclamation.

Geraldine Ferraro told a pro-abortion group that if her daughter were pregnant and didn't want the baby, she would say, "Here's the money. Please go see a doctor."

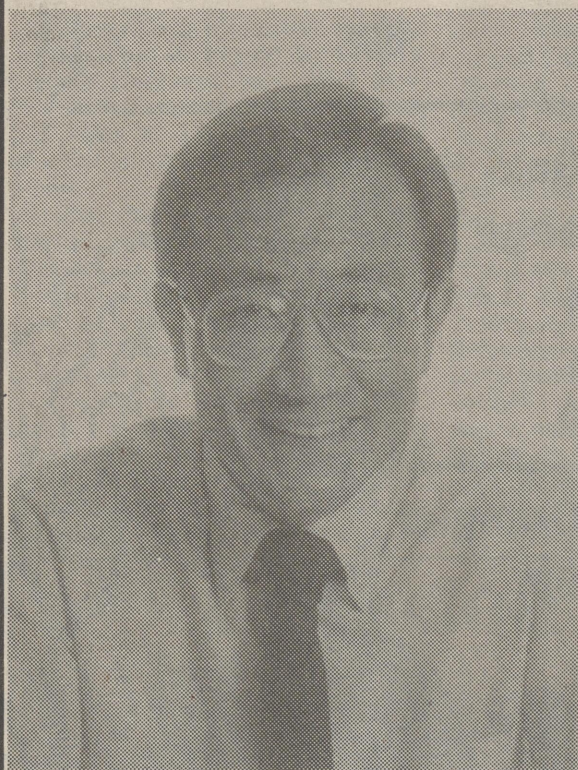

Out of one side of her mouth, she tells us she would pay to abort her own grandchild and out of the other she tells us she is "personally opposed" to abortion.

The conservative Elise duPont is hauling out the big guns for a last-week assault on the liberal Tom Carper.

President Reagan backs Elise in radio commercials and her husband, Gov. Pete du Pont, supports her in TV spots. Vice President Bush comes to Wilmington Friday to offer his support in what looks like a cliff-hanger.

Elise also has a hard-hitting radio commercial in which she lambasts Carper for his vote against the strong anti-crime bill introduced by Delaware's Joe Biden.

Smile! Prosperity is a great teacher, adversity is a greater.

The Bazaar grows closer and closer. November 2, 1984. Bring your friends. Lots of goodies in all departments! The dolls in Arts and Crafts are cute as buttons. The deer and chicken-go-rounds in paradise are showing up all over the place, in books and ads as well as at the Center.

Lunch time is a grand time to share with a friend at the Bazaar Nov. 2, 1984.

Reverend Kyle Smith of Asbury and Houston United Methodist church was leader of bible study Monday morning, Oct. 22, 1984. Sylvia Meredith did the honors at the piano. Hymns and prayer and the study was Philippians, chapter 4, verse 1-14. The folk enjoying the delightful hour was Marion Brown, Clara Jody, Tony Perrone, Mildred Vincent, Lillie McBride, Mamie Adams, Anna Mae Short, Ethel Holden, Amy Poynter, Jo Burke, Ola Tilden, Virginia Smith, Sylvia Meredith, Cecil Meredith, Thelma Legates, Elwood Morris, Louise Jones, Gladys Hill, Frances Wright, Catherine Donovan, Mary Sapp, Louis Grardo and Etzel McCready. Reverend Smith closed with a prayer.

"Senior Sounds" practice Wednesday morning. Sylvia directing, Virginia at the piano and really making the music flow through even - Keith Burgess, Russell Legates, Tony Perrone, Louis Gerardi, Marion Brown, Cecil Meredith, Frances Wright, Mildred Vincent, Catherine Stevens, Louise Jones, Mary Sapp, Gladys Elwood, Mamie, Amy, Thelma, Oleta, Ola and Etzel. Keith Burgess sang a solo "To God Be The Glory". Russel Legates solo, "Have Thine Own Way Lord". Russell, Keith, Marion and Sylvia sang a quartet - "Silent Night". Virginia was at the piano.

Tuesday the Center was so busy - crafts everywhere, band practice, ceramics, pool. You name it we had it. We thank everyone for everything! Doers and givers alike.

Jolly Timers performed as usual in their most sweet, endearing sounds Tuesday morning. Come in and listen.

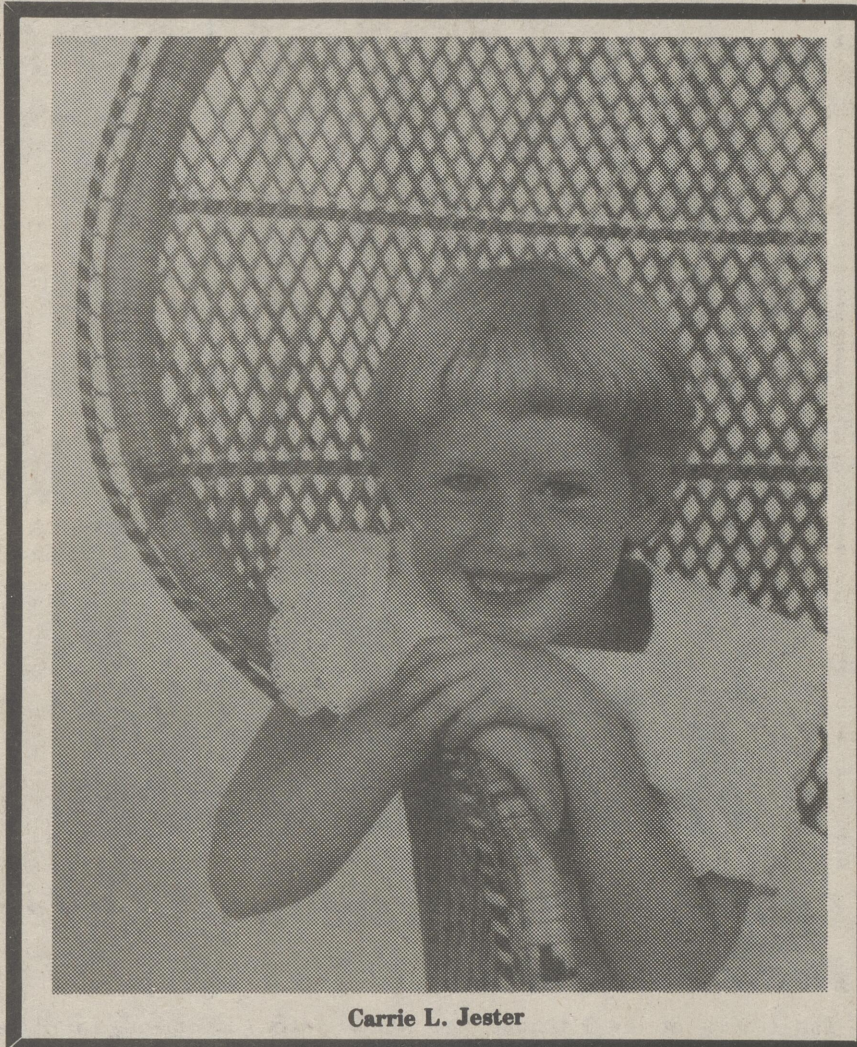

Wednesday was card day for me, we had a gloriously good time at Hazel Langrell's. Refreshments were delicious. Scores horrible. Hazel, can you believe, was high scorer. Anyway, Alta Harrington, Ethel Rapp, Ruth Powell, Virginia Willey, Kathryn Smith, Mildred Wagner and I had a fun time together!

Thursday some city employees of Milford were here for lunch and to observe our Center. They were a very nice group of folk. Arts and crafts and ceramics were busily engaged in doing and making goodies for the Bazaar Nov. 2. They were observing for United Way to see how your money is spent.

Gladys Hill, Anna Mae Short and Ruth Bradley completed their comforter. It was sold pronto to J. McClain. They put the money in the Building Fund.

Anna Mae Short shared her birthday cake Thursday morning with us at the Center. She was pleasantly surprised Wednesday night by her granddaughters Teresa, Paula, Pat and Kathy and friend Peg, also her great granddaughters, Shannon and Christine, at a dinner at Roma's Restaurant, Dover, DE. After a toast, tasty meal, gifts and flowers, the cake was brought

Gab Fest

by Pat Hatfield

Today I am doing cauliflower for the freezer. Yesterday I did broccoli.

Now, when the turnip greens are in, I shall "Fold my tent like the Arabs and silently steal away", as the poem goes.

The past few weeks here have been pretty unsettling. Just about the time you think you have command of the situation, it falls apart. I looked back over the summer and the autumn and felt good about it. The food supply was well assured with the shelves full and the freezer full. We had our friend, Bill Handley, with his exterminating service come and spray the place against mice, cricket, fleas, and such and we were ready for winter in that area.

No termites were found, and we breathed easier, but they discovered that we had some kind of beetle making sawdust of our foundation, so today we are getting sprayed for that.

This has been a good day for me. I have managed to skip around and take care of multiple jobs. If you remember, I've told you that I have a one-track mind and do not move readily from one chore to another. If I get up in a sewing mood, I will mend and darn and repair all day, but I do not care what we eat. If I get up in a cooking mood, I will happily stir and mix and bake, but the clothes can fall off for lack of buttons, and I could care less. So I shall never be the perfect housekeeper.

Today, though, I have outdone myself. After the cauliflower was tucked away, I started to write this column and remembered that I must do a wash. Then I realized there was no dessert in the house. Dad has been asking why we do not have applesauce cake, but then I remembered that all my applesauce is frozen and since I do not have a microwave oven to thaw quickly, that was out. I settled for gingerbread and lemon sauce. Now I'm back at the column. I'll bet all of you manage much better than I do. Now I may just sit here and gaze at the roses in the little brown jug for at least ten minutes.

Dad has finally finished up cleaning his glad bulbs for winter storage. He has over a thousand bulbs beside the tiny bulbets. This is getting a bit out of hand but he enjoys it. The deep purple ones were much admired this summer, so we are planning on more of those.

All flowers are lovely, but I wish someone in the family liked daisies the way I do. All the daisy types are my favorites. Of course I love roses, but there is nothing much prettier than a bunch of yellow sunflowers in an old brown jug - or field daisies in a woven basket.

Are you all enjoying Indian Summer? How nice it is to sit out in the yard chairs in the last days of October and listen to the mockingbird. And at night, the Full Winter's Moon hangs high. The night is filled with the buzzing and humming and murmuring of the tiny creatures; the air is filled with the aroma of leaf mold, and harvest and wood smoke. We do not burn our own leaves. We run the lawnmower through them and reduce them to compost.

How many of you have your Christmas shopping all done? Not me, but I have a good start. Any day now I shall start making my Christmas cards. I am definitely a head-of-time planner. I can cope with emergencies if I am confronted with them, but I like everything planned days ahead or at least hours ahead. If I'm planning on hot muffins for breakfast, I will sift the flour, spray the pans and collect everything at hand to be ready on the night before. Of course, now, if somebody called me and said, "Can you be ready to leave for California in twenty minutes", I would meet them at the door! It's a family joke that if you say, "Go" to Mother, she's got her foot in the car. I'm a going person, and I enjoy life.

Levinson proposes plan to protect insurance customers and taxpayers

David Levinson
Democratic Candidate For Insurance Commissioner
Paid for by Levinson
for Delaware Committee

Insolvencies Threaten Delaware

David N. Levinson, Democratic candidate for Insurance Commissioner, said this week that he would "introduce proper financial oversight of Delaware's Insurance Industry to protect insurance customers and taxpayers" from unstable insurance companies operating here. Speaking before a candidates forum sponsored by the League of Women Voters in Dover, Levinson pointed out that "the taxpayers of Delaware are ultimately responsible under our laws for the failures of insurance companies located in Delaware. Additional insurance company insolvencies could be disastrous for our state."

During the last year, three Delaware insurance companies, two of which were recently given permission to operate in Delaware by Insurance Commissioner David H. Elliott, were declared insolvent.

"Delaware's average family spends more on insurance premiums than state and local taxes. And we're entitled to get what we pay for," said Levinson. He later pointed out that "some unstable insurance companies have recently been permitted to locate in Delaware, sell policies to the public, and then go broke. That never happened before in Delaware's history, and it's not right. As Insurance Commissioner, I'll put a stop to that."

Levinson previously had committed himself to the introduction of proper management practices to the Insurance Department to "protect against waste, safeguard taxpayers' funds, and respond faster to consumer problems and insurance company attempts to increase rates."

Levinson was recently endorsed for the office of Insurance Commissioner by Delaware's daily newspapers, who said that "Levinson could regain for Delaware respect in the insurance field."

Asbury U.M. Church

On Sunday, October 28, the 20th Sunday after Pentecost, the Church School was at a record high. The 1st and 2nd grade class, under Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Hendricks guidance, and the 5th and 6th grade class, under Mrs. Kenneth P. Outten's Guidance, had perfect attendance. An inspiring worship service heard Rev. Kyle N. Smith's topic "Love That Is Different". His text was taken from Exodus 22:21-27 and Matthew 22:34-46. The Cherub, Chancel and Cathedral Choirs each brought a message in song. At 7 p.m. till 9 p.m., the Builders Class sponsored a "Halloween Party" in Collins Hall. With approximately 130 in attendance, everyone joined in the games, fellowship, prizes, refreshments, and most surprising "costumes" for the occasion. An enjoyable evening for the family was observed by all.

Next Sunday, Nov. 4, the United Methodist Men will meet for breakfast and a program at 7:30 a.m. All Asbury men are cordially invited. At 9:45 a.m. all classes of the Church School will gather in Collins Hall for Birthday Penny Sunday and then adjourn to their classes at 10 a.m. at the 11 a.m. worship service, Rev. Smith's text will be taken from Psalm 131, Malachi 1:4b-2:1, I Thessalonians 2:7-13, 17-20 and Matthew 23:1-12 with the topic entitled "Why I Am A Christian" during the service 3 trustees will be elected.

Asbury's annual Beef-N-Dumplin Dinner will be held on Nov. 10 at 6:30 p.m. in Collins Hall with one setting. The Cathedral Choir will have a hand-craft table and the Mary's Circle will auction off an Afghan. For tickets, call Franklin Hendricks or Doug Mills.

We have classes in Church School for everyone and four coirs where your talents can be heard. Everyone is welcome anytime.

St. Bernadette's Catholic Church

ST. BERNADETTE'S SPAGHETTI DINNER: Everyone is invited to our Annual Spaghetti Dinner on Sunday, November 11 serving from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. in St. Bernadette's Hall. Tickets may be purchased at the door. Mark your calendars and please help make this the best dinner yet! Please contact Joyce Anthony (398-4376) or Libby Knox (398-3523) if you can volunteer in any way. We are in need of the following items for the Dinner. Please mark the packages for St. Bernadette's Spaghetti Dinner and drop off at either the Rectory or either Church: pot holders, pot mittens, pot scrapers (wire type), dish detergent, bleach, dish cloths and towels, paper towels, large rubber spatulas, paring knives, salt, sugar, large cans of black pepper, eggs, paper bags for take outs, large and small plastic trash bags.

FIRST ANNUAL "APPLE DAY": Next weekend the CYO will sponsor the First Annual "APPLE DAY". At this time the CYO will be selling apples and baked goods made from the apples that they have picked. The sale will be after each Mass at St. John's.

VICTORY SUNDAY - NOV. 4: November is the month especially dedicated to the honor of those of our beloved relatives and friends who have died and risen to new life in Christ. The belief that the victory which Christ gained over death by rising on Easter is our guarantee of eternal life has always been a cornerstone of our Faith.

Therefore, at St. John's and St. Bernadette's, we will celebrate this central belief in a special way by setting aside November 4 as Victory Sunday - a Sunday to begin our month-long commemoration of the dead whom we finally believe now enjoy everlasting happiness with Christ.

Liturgy Workshop for Music Ministers - On Saturday morning, November 3 from 9:00 a.m. to 12 noon at St. John's Hall a Liturgy Workshop for Music Ministers will be held. Father David Fedor from St. Helena's in Wilmington will speak about the role of music in the Catholic Liturgy. Choir, folk group members, and any parishioner interested are encouraged to attend. Please call Dorothy Whalen at 697-9220 if you plan to attend.

Happy Anniversary to Mary E. and Earl Nelson on 41 years together today (Wed.).

"And another angel came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should offer it with the prayers of all Saints upon the golden altar which was before the throne." Rev. 8:3.

The prayer of a person who is in right relationship with God has a powerful effect. The prayers of the saints are strengthening and encouraging to all for whom the prayers are offered. We should be careful not to overlook opportunity to pray and never belittle the effect of prayer on behalf of another.

Fancy Crown rolls to victory

no excuses. Head Hunter's driver, Hakin Wallner, said, "I got a perfect trip. I have no complaints. I couldn't park her because she is the best."

Those sentiments were echoed by John Campbell. The driver of Selena Lobell said, "She leaves so well. She's the best filly."

The triumph was the 12th in twenty tries this year for Fancy Crown, who has earned the Fancy Crown Stables $688,472 in 1984 and $793,058 in her 37 career starts. Earlier in the season, the Ted Andrews trained filly captured the prestigious Hambletonian Oaks, and defeated the nation's top colts in the final jewel in the trotting Triple Crown, the Kentucky Futurity.

Fancy Crown became the co-fastest trotter in history with a 1:53.4 triumph in the Review Futurity over the mile oval in Springfield, Ill. and a 1:57.1 clocking at Delaware, Ohio set a new standard for females over a half-mile track.

The daughter of Speedy Crown out of Fancy Donut will race at Pompano Park, Fla. This fall in an attempt to complete her sweep by setting a new world record for a 5/8's mile racing strip.

For the 36 year old O'Donnell whose charges have won an unprecedented $8.5 million this year, the win wasn't the only reason for him to be proud. His wife, Barbara, gave birth to their first child, Christopher William, the day before the race. "I don't think I would have come (to Rosecroft) if the baby hadn't been born yet", said

O'Donnell.

Trotting On - Campbell was a late substitute for Selena Lobell's regular driver Mickey McNichol, whose mother passed away. Campbell was scheduled to pilot Nevele Amanda, who was then handled by her trainer, Per Eriksson...the Breeder's Crown continues to be a huge success as a near record $780,249 was wagered on the 11 race program...the Breeder's Crown continues this Friday with the $464,875 three-year-old filly pace at Liberty Bell Park. ## Harry P. Marsh, Sr. dies

LEWES - Harry P. Marsh Sr., 440 Country Club Road, Rehoboth Beach, died Saturday, Oct. 27, 1984, at Beebe Memorial Hospital, of cancer. He was 61.

Mr. Marsh retired in 1983 as a meat-cutter for the Safeway store in Rehoboth Beach where he worked since 1971. He also worked for Acme Markets for 28 years. He was an Army veteran of World War II and was a member of the Disabled American Veterans.

Mr. Marsh, a member of the U.S. Trotting association since 1951, owned and operated the Harry P. Marsh Stables, where he raised and trained standardbred harness horses. He was also a shop steward for the Baltimore branch of the AFL-CIO.

He is survived by his wife, Geraldine Marsh; one son, Harry P. Marsh Jr.; three daughters, Marilyn A. Marsh and Betty J. Marsh, both of Rehoboth Beach, and Susan C. Lehman, Lewes; his mother, Hettie Paynter, Rehoboth Beach; one brother, Charles E. Marsh, Rehoboth Beach; one sister, Esther Baker, Millsboro; and five grandchildren.

Graveside services were at 11 a.m. today in the Marsh Family Cemetery, Del. 1, Rehoboth Beach. Friends called from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesday at Parsell Atkins & Lodge Funeral Home, Del. 1, Midway.

Sports Quiz

by William T. Ficka

No one will be eligible to win more than one prize in any month, nor will anyone be eligible to win more than two consecutive prizes.

There was no winner in the Oct. 17 quiz which means the Oct. 24 quiz is now worth $25.

Send a letter or postcard with your answers to Sports Editor, Harrington Journal, P.O. Box 239, Harrington, DE, 19952.

Only those entries we receive in the mail will be eligible. The correct answers will be placed in a container and the first one drawn will be declared the winner. This week's entries will be drawn on Nov. 9 and announced in the Nov. 14 issue. If there is no winner, $5 will be added to next week's prize.

Tough Spartans battle Blue Jays

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

Despite holding off a tough Blue Jay team for the first quarter and scoring in the first five seconds of the game, the Lake Forest Spartan football team fell 8-21 Friday night.

The Seaford player who received Eric Warren's kick-off in the end zone was tackled by Mike Gygyryuk and Mike Wingo to put two points on the board for Lake Forest. There was no more scoring for the rest of the first quarter as both defenses effectively stopped the offensive drives of the other team.

In the second quarter Seaford exploded for two touchdowns and kicked both extra points. Lake Forest failed to score and at halftime the Spartans were trailing by 12 points.

Ricky Brown made his first start as quarterback Friday, and William Scott started at halfback. Early in the third quarter, however, Scott went back to his normal position as quarterback and moved the Spartan team down the field for its first and only touchdown, making the score 8-14. Later in the same quarter Lake Forest got down to the Seaford 2 yard line but failed to score when a Blue Jay player intercepted Scott's pass in the end zone. On its next possession, Seaford ran the ball 75 yards for a touchdown which clinched the game.

Neither team scored in the fourth quarter, leaving the Spartans on the short end of a 8-21 score.

Harriers end 8-1 season

by Keith S. Burgess

Lake Forest's cross-country team recorded one-sided victories, at the expense of Seaford, 22-36 and Caesar Rodney, 21-34, to end their 27th straight winning season.

Coach Jim Blades has a glittering 99-19 mark, just one victory short of qualifying for the prestigious "Bike" award, given by the sporting goods company of the same name, for coaches who reach the coveted century mark in victories. Coach Harold McDonald, the only other local coach involved in the 27-year history of the Harrier sport here, received the "Bike" award, shortly after Lake Forest came into existence.

Seaford's talented Craig Porter was individual winner, in 17:54, for 3.1 miles, with Mike Melvin right on his heels. Mark Tozar, Eric Payne (personal best of 18:33), Mark Whidden, were next. After Conaway and Hall of Seaford, came Mike Mosley and Kevin Pelton of Lake Forest, with Beebe of Seaford completing the top ten. Spartan Alvin Hudson was 11th and garnered his first-ever top-seven finish on the Spartan team. For the Spartan senior boys, their four-year dual meet mark is a stellar 29 wins and seven losses.

Lake Forest's girls beat Seaford 22-36 and Smyrna 15-40. They finish the dual meet season 7-0 and now have a three-year winning streak of 17 straight wins.

Kelli Pelton of Lake Forest ran 3.1 miles in 22:16, with Seaford's Laura Painter next. Tara Gladden, a much-improved runner of late was third.

Debbie Jester was fifth, followed by teammates Shirlaine Goodman, Melanie Pelton and Maria Kaclauskas, trailed by Seaford's final four runners.

A major surprise occurred at Caesar Rodney. The surprise was not the Spartan victory, although the Riders had outrun the locals, in a practice scrimmage, at the same site in Sept. The Riders' talented Chris Cronis had outpaced the whole Spartan squad, on two or three occasions this fall. It was not likely that any Spartan would beat him, in Camden, on a course that seems to pad the normal, home-course advantage. The first runner to burst out of the woods was Spartan freshman sensation, Mark Tozar. After a longer-than-expected interval, Cronis finally emerged, but he had company, in the person of tough Spartan veteran, Mike Melvin. Tozar was "off and pacing" as they say hereabout, but Cronis and Melvin duelled for two or three minutes, before Mike pulled away to finish second by thirty yards. Meanwhile, the 14-year-old Tozer posted a sparkling 17.11, the fastest time, on the rough C.R. course, this autumn. Melvin crossed in 17.38 with Cronis, in 17.41. After Hawk of C.R., came Eric Payne, Mark Whidden, and Danny Haines, to wrap things up. Kevin Pelton was 11th, with Mike Mosley 13th. Mosley is a member of a family, that has supplied at least five distance runners to Lake Forest, some of whom have been or are in the Spartan record books. Mike was eighth on the squad, earlier, but season-long, hardwork and dedication have moved him up a notch to where he will get to run in the state meet. Also doing well at C.R. were: Alvin Hudson, Ken Foy, Scott Torgerson, Dave Dix, Pat Caskey, Mike McCloskey, John Magrew, Jeff Hodgson, Todd Kramer.

Kelli Pelton (21:38) won the girls' race, Tara Gladden was second with Debbie Jester 4th. Melanie Pelton and Shirlaine Goodman were next to sew up no win. Maria Kazlauskas was eighth, to put the icing on the cake.

Chipman harriers are doing well

by Keith Burgess

Baxter Smith, who handles boys' and girls' track and cross-country, at W. T. Chipman (Seventh and eighth grade) School continues to send fine athletes to Lake Forest High.

But it's getting harder. Woodbridge and Milton Junior Highs dropped cross-country after last fall, so only Chipman and Lewes are left. It's no coincidence then that Cape Henlopen and Lake Forest High Schools are consistently at the top of the Henlopen Cross-Country Conference.

After three meets between Chipman-Lewes, the Chipman boys and girls are each 3-0.

Smith apparently is a good motivator. Mark Tozar, a 1983 Chipman standout, has been running in the top two places, at the high school, as a freshman. John Kane, No. 2 at Chipman last year, is now No. 1 and has won both of his starts. Steve Coppock also a returnee has two seconds and a third, thus far. Brad Turner, another veteran, is currently No. 3 at Chipman.

Brian Vincent and Scott Talley are consistently close to the front, with Doug Thompson and Greg Whidden, usually close behind them. Paul Schaffer, according to our analysis, the first three meets is the No. 8 Spartan boy. Bill Reeve is No. 9, Scott Pierce is No. 10 with a lad named Griffith next, whose first name we don't have. Mike VanNess is No. 12. Others doing well are: Pershion Abrams, Tim Barner, ? Tubbs.

Tara Dixon and Carol Koning were first and second in the first Lewes meet with Renee Johnson, Connie Johnson and Kim Williams finishing 4, 5, 6 in a meet won by Chipman 18-37. Chipman won the 2nd test 23-32, with Dixon first, Koning third, Williams fourth and the Johnson twins, 7th and 8th.

Carol Koning and newcomer Sharon Wyatt ran strongly in the third Chipman victory, to finish first and second, in 9.13 and 9.14. Renee Johnson, Kim Williams and Connie Johnson ran well to clinch the win.

NASCAR Pit Stops Part of High-Performance Testing

CHARLOTTE, NC--DiGard and the Miller High Life Racing Team, the 1983 national championship team, will carry a Buick nameplate for the fourth consecutive year in 1985.

Gardner also said that Miller High Life and Quaker State would be back with DiGard in 1985.

Watch the pits carefully just after one of the NASCAR Grand National stock cars roars back onto the track. Often, you'll be able to spot a white-shirted tire engineer moving in quickly to examine the surface of each used tire for both temperature and wear.

Top crew chiefs like Waddell Wilson, leader of the Hardee's Racing Team, will immediately use the engineer's findings to make his next decision about chassis adjusting or tire changing. But the data from that stop and thousands of others is also combined with information from special track tests to produce far-reaching changes in tire and rubber technology.

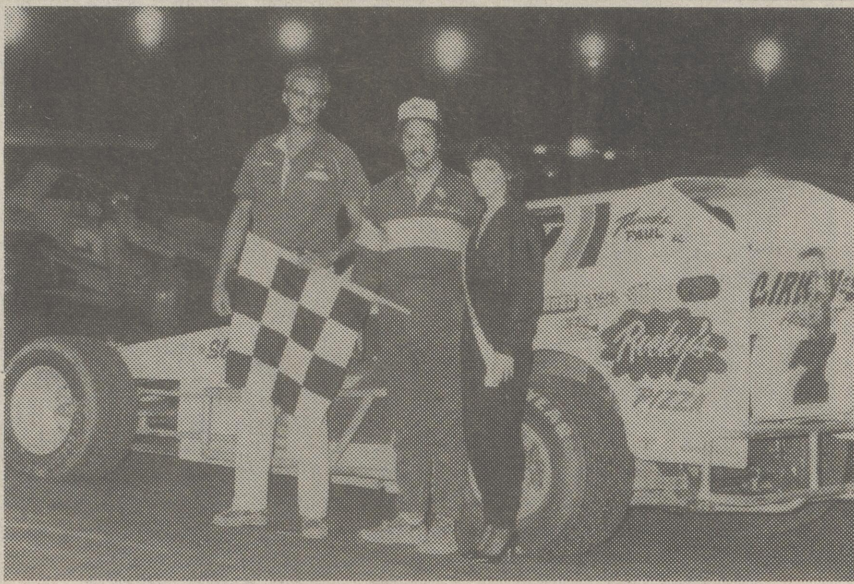

Ingersoll-Rand's 1984 contingency program awards prize money and tools to crew chiefs of the first-, fifth- and tenth-place cars, as well as to the chief of the car with the most-improved finishing position. The 1984 Ingersoll-Rand National Pit crew Championship, conducted at ten major Winston Cup events, rewards the competing crews whose cars finish the race with the least total time on pit road. The competition uses a point system to determine the season's top crew which collects $30,000 from the total of $75,000 prize money.

Wilson reports that his team alone will use an average of six complete sets of tires on a Winston Cup racing weekend. He also points out that, on a particularly tough day at Charlotte's 1980 World 600, the Wood Brothers' team was forced to use 13 sets trying to keep their car in contention.

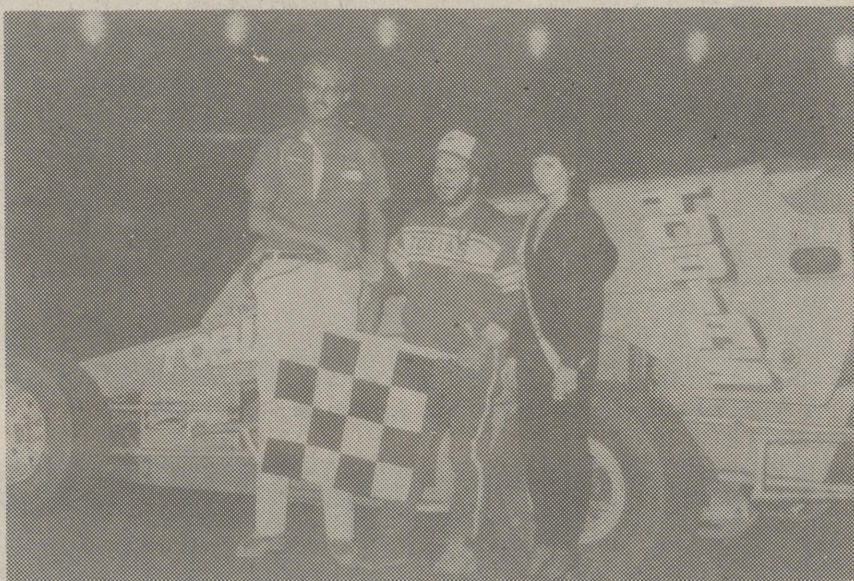

In the course of a 30-race season, a major NASCAR team can expect to consume about 700 tires, worth more than $106,000. A typical Grand National field uses about 500 tires each weekend or more than $2.2 million worth during a single season.

Considering the additional technical input from speedway testing sessions, it's easy to see how so many passenger tire innovations evolve from racing. According to Goodyear Racing Director Leo Mehl, his company can trace a long list of passenger car tire developments to in-race testing.

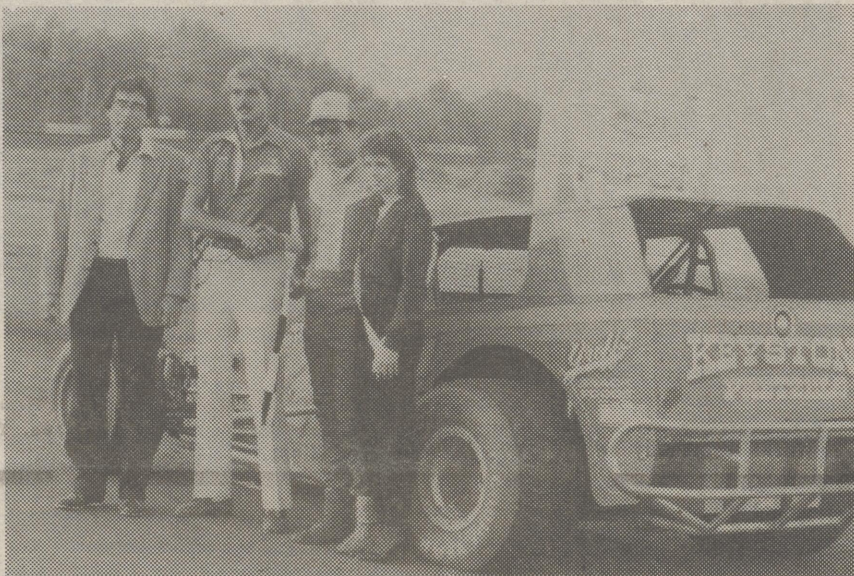

While the enthusiast who buys a new Corvette may be aware of the racing technology behind the tread design of his car's tires, and the professional mechanic probably knows the racing heritage of his Ingersoll-Rand power tools, runners nationwide also have something to thank racing for.

NASCAR flyies into final two races

BY Harry G. Farrow, Jr.
DAYTONA BEACH, FLA. NASCAR winds down the 1984 season with a race this weekend at Atlanta and the final race at Riverside on Nov. 18th.

With just two races remaining it appears that Terry Labonte of Corpus Christie, Texas has all but won his first NASCAR title. For the young man who dreamed of being a star on NASCAR certainly his dreams are more than he could have imagined. Labonte holds a slim 49 point lead over Harry Gant (4260-4211) while the hottest driver on the circuit, Bill Elliott is a distant third with 4042 points. Elliott is followed by Darrell Waltrip with 4009, Dale Earnhardt with 3995, and Bobby Allison, the 1983 champ, with 3778.

If Labonte finishes third in the remaining two races, he will wrap up the crown. In order for Elliott to win the crown, he would have to win the remaining two races and also have Labonte and Gant finish no higher than 33rd. Both of those drivers would have to be two of the first cars out of the race.

A driver gets 175 points for winning an event plus 5 points if he leads at least one lap.

The Winston Cup Point Fund this year will be worth approximately $250,000 to the winning driver or team depending on the type of contract between the driver and team. That figure includes contingencies.

PIT RUMORS: The Levi Garrett sponsorship which has been plastered on the 98 car for several seasons will join forces with Geoff Bodine for 1985. Northwestern Security Life, which has been the primary sponsor for the Bodine team will remain as the secondary sponsor. Buddy Baker will leave the Wood Brothers race team in 1985, and according to Buddy...he will start his own team. Speculation has it that Buddy and Maurice Petty will team up together. The sponsor is believed to be Valvoline.

Turkey Derby set at Wall Stadium

Wall Township - Wall Stadium's eleventh running of the Turkey Derby promises to be the biggest yet in the history of the November Classic. The event will not only cover two days, but will include close to twenty-eight races. Six different divisions will see action over the two day affair which will offer a total purse in excess of $25,000.

On Friday, November 23rd, the pit gates will swing open at 8:30 a.m. as from 9:00 a.m. to 12 noon will serve as a warmup/practice session for all divisions. Beginning at 12:30 p.m., the first of several qualifying heats will be run. Among the divisions participating will be the sportsman, modern stocks, strictly street stocks, and the T.Q. midgets. In addition to the heat races, the mini modifieds and T.Q. midgets will participate in twenty-five lap features. After all events have been run on Friday, a special modified practice session will be held beginning approximately at 4:00 p.m.

Then on Sunday, November 24th, the big day of racing will begin as the pit gates open at 7:00 a.m. A practice session for all divisions will promptly begin at 7:30 a.m. and end 9:30 a.m. At 9:30 the sportsman and modern stock consolation races will be run with the first of five modified heat races beginning at 10:00 a.m. The strictly street stock feature will then follow as the two modified consys will conclude all qualifying for the features.

The Ms. Wall Stadium contest judging will be held at 12 noon as the first ever modified non-qualifiers 35 lap feature will follow. Driver introduction and the official intermission period will be next on the schedule with Turkey Derby XI for the modifieds beginning at 2 p.m. Closing out the Derby will be the modern stock and sportsman features.

Senior Center

in, some eaten and then divided. Anna Mae had a festive once-in-a-life-time birthday party. She deserved it, that's for sure. When any of you Senior Citizens have a party it would be nice of you to share it with us.

Mr. Phillips was here Friday with a film on "Stress". Heard two or three say it really hit home and they were very glad they had looked and listened to the film. Makes it all worthwhile when you see someone REALLY interested! They were!

We are neck deep in ceramics - every conceivable thing - trees, green and white; small boots, large boot; Santa asleep in bed; cookies or candy jar (cute as a button); several Mr. & Mrs. Snow Folk; pilgrims; pumpkins - Oh me, I could go on and on. Just get yourself in gear and be sure and make your appearance at Harrington Senior Center Bazaar Nov. 2 - that is November 2, 1984. Have lunch with a friend, chat awhile, buy what you like and please stop by and say hello to "Miss Piggy". They are putting her on display and hope you are lucky! Arts and crafts have the most beautiful wreaths. Well, honey I just can't tell you all the beautiful, cute and useful things that are going to be available at the Bazaar. Come see for yourself! Its the only way!

As always at the Center friendliness is the most important ingredient! Meals are tasty, nourishing and when eaten with good company just naturally everything taste better. During the week there is Bible study, band, chorus (Senior Sounds), bowling at Milford Lanes, pool, bingo, checkers, crafts of every description including ceramics. We get off on some very interesting subjects, one this week was "Beaten Biscuits". Hazel Riley and Myra Haugrove brought me some from the pottery trip. They were delicious and I truly appreciated them. I shared only one with my son George. He ate ice cream when I ate the others! I remember beating them for Mrs. Martha Knox when I was a kid. It was fun to beat the dough until blisters came out all over the place. Goodness me, you take two or three beaten biscuits and chicken salad and a tall glass of ice tea with a twist of lemon, Oh me, Oh my! Another lady in town who used to make delicious beaten biscuits was Mrs. Beauchamp - Mrs. Charlotte Harrington, another! They were always just exactly the right size, color, texture and taste. I better stop this or I'll have to call Martha Knox Smith and ask for her mothers recipe or Charlotte B. Harrington and ask for her mothers recipe. Wonder if they ever make any?

Don't forget the Bazaar Nov. 2. See you at the Bazaar. Thanks to ALL volunteers so very much! Best wishes to all! Be kind to each other. Love, Prayers and Faith.

Swags of greens decorate the Montmorenci stairs and pots of Jerusalem Cherries, popular in America from the Eighteenth Century on, march up the staircase. Gathering and decorating with evergreens at holiday time is a custom dating back to the ancient Romans, who brought green branches to friends as a good luck token in the New Year. The Montmorenci stair hall is arranged for a late afternoon or evening musicale, popular entertainment during the Federal and Empire periods.

Sunday morning at 7 a.m., November 4th, the Methodist Men will have their breakfast meeting - welcome mat out to all our men. Start the Homecoming Day with us at Trinity.

Mr. and Mrs. G.S. Marge are visiting her Mother, Mrs. Anna May Sharp and brother Jessie. Mrs. Sharp will return to Augusta, Ga. with them this week, where she plans to spend the winter. Visiting also with her granddaughter and family. Mr. and Mrs. Eric Marrott, Timothy and Rachel. Also with grandson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Marge and children Tony and Mark in Brattenton, Fla. I will miss you but do have a good visit.

Rod and I were judges Saturday evening for the Diamond State Twirlers, Square Dance Club at the Middle School in Milford. Another couple of past dancers were also judges and for the life of me I can't remember their names. All of us enjoyed the evening and what a pleasure to see some of old regulars as well as the new dancers.

The Grand March was out of this world especially when you have a couple for the funniest to be dressed so differently, Bob and Janice Thomas of Milford, No. 1. Bob was dressed as a hawaiian dancer, Janice with a sign around her neck saying she should have stayed up all night. What a couple. No. 2 couple, Sonny Shuttie as the ugliest and his wife so pretty as a gypsy; No. 3 Prettiest couple from the Whirl-A-Way Square Dance Club of Seaford Jimmy and Linda Wilkerson as Dracula and the witch; No. 4 Most Original, Roy and Suzanne Harvey, The Lovable Hobo's; No. 5 Best Overall, Albert and Glenna Stokes as the Great Pumpkins; No. 6 Most Unusual, Graham and Kay Dill of Dagsboro, Treasurers of the Diamond State Twirlers as green money bags.

Caller for the evening with his charming wife Andy Cisma and June from Elkridge, Md.

Refreshments were served by Irv and Carrie Bowman, Hazel Clendaniel and Herb Richardson. Thank you friends for asking to be your judges, we had a wonderful evening.

To all that are ill wherever you might be, our prayers and best wishes. May God Bless.

The Community Singers cast of "ANNIE"

The sun'll come out tomorrow... "ANNIE" comes to Dover

The ever popular Community Singers who brought you "Hello Dolly", "Music Man" and many other great productions now bring you "ANNIE".

Great entertainment for all ages, the show is based on Harold Gray's classic American comic strip "Little Orphan Annie" and predicts the life and trials of a little girl in search of her parents. The setting is New York City during the depression era and tells how "Annie" portrayed by Emily Almond of Dover, is raised in an orphanage run by Miss Hannigan portrayed by Marge Bailey along with fourteen other girls portrayed by Kelly Jones, Tanya Robinson, Jacquie Sedmont, Michele Gale, Molly Clatworthy, Becky Chambers, Bonnie Sedmont, Amy Bickling, Wendy DeLeo, Sara Hagarty, Toni McNair, Kimberly Robinson, Kim Kelly and Cathy Cooke.

The story goes on to tell how Annie meets up with the people of Hooverville, who are trying to survive through the depression, her finding her famous dog "Sandy" as portrayed by Donald Dean. Other leads in the production are Trudy Ruehrmund as Grace, Bob Castro as Rooster, Paul Janiga as Drake, Marsha Raque' Wilson as Lily, David VanderVeen as Bert Healy and Lee Gibson as F.D.R.

The supporting cast are as follows: Bunny Almond, Dolores Blakey, Wesley Boozer, Harold Brown, Dave Chu, Cathy Conner, Cindy David, E. Paige Denny, Lois Divel, Helen Flood, Carol Gance, April Hudson, Ellie Jicha, Neicy Johnson, Dick Woodhall, Sandy Neumann Knight, Cathy Link, Richie Neumann, Robert Porter, Ruth Porter, Carol Scotten, Carl Shulak, Marilyn Woodhall and Nancy Yost.

Under the superb direction of Don Blakey, known for his wonderful work not only as a director, but also as a performer. He directed the Community Singers production "Oliver" in 1980 and many children's theatre productions. Don takes great pride in his work in community theatre as well as being a teacher.

The musical director is Irv Rothenberg, who has been with the Community Singers since 1977 when he appeared as Ambrose Kemper in "Hello Dolly" but his great skill in music gives him credit as a director with the successes of "Oklahoma" and "Brigadoon". He hails from Smyrna where he teaches music.

Accompanist, Karen Bourey, affectionately known as "fingers" by the Singers is in her fifth year with group. She teaches piano and she and her husband own Baldwin Family Music Center in Dover.

Choreographer, Denver Blakey is new to the group but with her talent as a dancer we can't miss! Denver is the daughter of director Don Blakey, is a graduate of Hampton Institute, Va. and danced with the Terpsichorean Co. Acting, dancing, singing and music under the direction of these fine local people has brought out a great production with a cast of 47 local performers. "ANNIE" is for people of all ages, is of good taste for family entertainment, at very reasonable prices.

Performances are as scheduled: Nov. 9 and 10, 16 and 17 at 8:00 p.m. with matinees on Nov. 11 and 17 at 2:00 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased from any cast member or as follows: Boscov's courtesy desk, Hess Apparel, Muriel's Gallery, Karl's TV and the Red Turtle in Dover, Smyrna Hardware, JC Penny National Bank and Taylor's Hardware in Harrington, Lou's Bootery and Milford Pharmacy in Milford. HUGH KELLY
SALISBURY, Md. - Hugh Kelly, 405 Lincoln Avenue, Delmar, died Sunday, Oct. 28, 1984, in the Salisbury Nursing Home, Salisbury, Md., of cancer. He was 77.

A native of Curwensville, Pa., Mr. Kelly came to Delmar as superintendent of schools, after resigning as supervising principal at the Clymer School District, Pennsylvania. He held that post for 10 years, beginning in 1946, after he left the Navy as a lieutenant commander. Among his achievements, he served in the Maryland-Delaware school district for 21 years before his retirement in 1977.

A 1932 graduate of Washington and Jefferson College in Washington, Pa., he briefly considered an offer to play professional football with the Pittsburgh Pirates, which became the Steelers in 1933. Receiving his master's degree in educational administration from the University of Pittsburgh, he did additional graduate work at Western Reserve University, Duquesne University and the University of Delaware. In 1972, Mr. Kelly was awarded the State Superintendent's Trophy for contributing the most to vocational education in DE.

A member of St. Stephen's United Methodist Church of Delmar, the Noble Masonic Lodge 480, F&AM, of Curwensville, Pa., he was also a member of the American Legion Post 26, in Bridgeville and the Kentucky Rifle Association in Carlisle, Pa.

He is survived by his wife, Florence B.; a son, James C. Kelly, Southfield, Mich.; a sister, Louise Muir, Curwensville, Pa.; and two grandsons.

Services will be 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Marvel-Short Funeral Home, 13 E. Grove St., Delmar, where friends called Tues. after 7 p.m.

Burial will be in St. Stephen's Cemetery, Delmar.

Delawareans have a clear choice in 1984...

Tom Carper.

This year, there are two good people running for Congress in the State of Delaware. Only one of them, Congressman Tom Carper, has the first-hand experience, the thoughtful independence, the unquestioned commitment, and the proven record of effectiveness that the people of Delaware want and deserve.

TOM CARPER
Delaware's Congressman

Carper for Congress, P.O. Box 11531, Wilmington, DE 19850 or call: (302) 322-8181.
Paid for by Carper for Congress Committee.

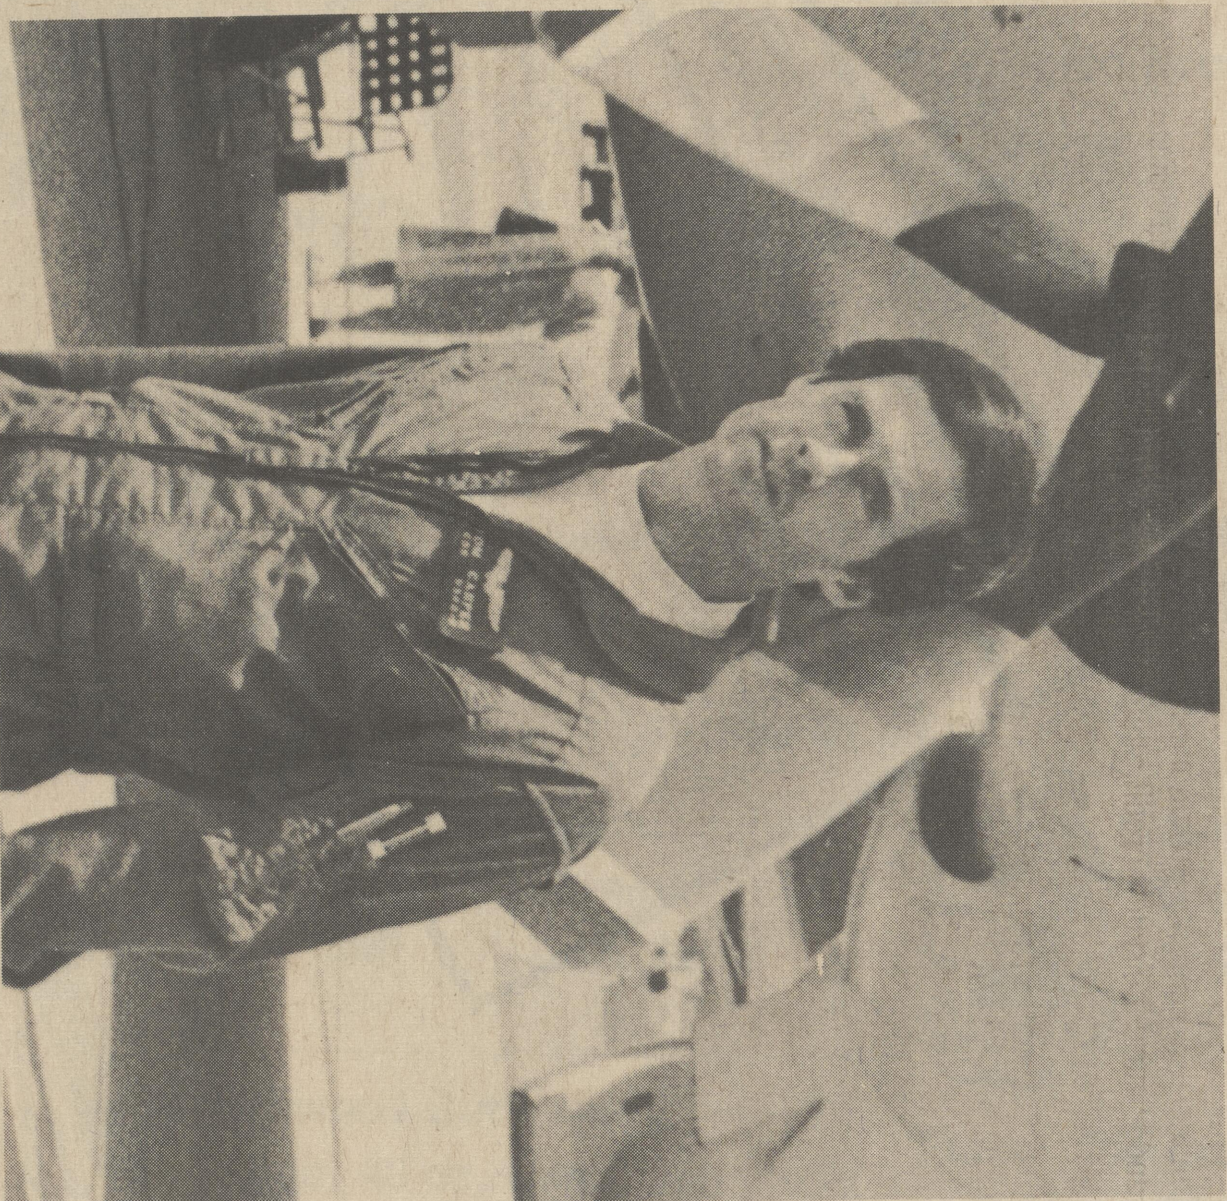

“Powerful House Budget Committee Chairman James R. Jones praised U.S. Rep. Thomas R. Carper for his leadership on fiscal issues Monday. Jones... told the crowd that Delaware has a true treasure in the freshman congressman. ‘One of the leaders in getting our party and our leadership... to come to this (fiscally responsible) position,’ said Jones, ‘is Tom Carper.’”

Wilmington News Journal

“Carper appears to be translating his off-expressed concern over the federal deficit, scheduled to be about $180 billion in fiscal 1985, into substantive action... Carper, for a freshman, has had considerable success during his first term just getting himself heard and his bills considered. The passage of his amendment Tuesday was another success he can count.”

Delaware State News Editorial

It's easy for politicians to make promises; it takes hard work to get results.

Congressman Tom Carper already has a reputation for getting things done for Delaware.

Last spring, the powerful chairman of the House Banking Committee proposed a bill that would have meant the loss of hundreds of jobs in Delaware and the undermining of a major construction project at 4th and King Streets, critical to center-city Wilmington. After a grueling three-hour debate, a coalition of Democrats and Republicans followed Tom Carper's lead and, by a vote of 25 to 23, protected the Delaware jobs.

Congressman Carper has worked hard to protect Delaware's beaches and coastline. A Carper amendment was passed to strengthen the hand of the Coast Guard in dealing with illegal sludge dumpers. Two important Carper proposals are included in the Ocean Dumping Act of 1984, soon to be considered by the entire House. One would ban the dumping of harmful sludge in the ocean, and the other would force sewage sludge dumpers to pay for the cost of monitoring ocean dumping activities, a cost now supported by the taxpayers.

For two years, Congressman Tom Carper has taken on the James Watts, Anne Burfords, and Rita Lawelles of the Reagan Administration. That is why the League of Conservation Voters, the largest environmental group in the country, gives Delaware's Congressman a rating of 93% and hails him as one of the champions in the Congress in the fight for clean water.

Often, being effective means taking care of the day-to-day business. Congressman Tom Carper has one of the highest voting attendance records in the Congress, almost 99%.

EFFECTIVENESS. For eight years Congressman Tom Carper has consistently proven his ability to get things done for the people of Delaware.

Proven Effectiveness

Navy Commander State Treasurer Delaware's Congressman

- Tom Carper served five years active duty as a naval flight officer, serving three tours of duty in Southeast Asia;
- Elected State Treasurer at age 29, Tom Carper spearheaded six years of unparalleled financial reform and progress;
- Tom Carper currently represents Delaware in the U.S. House of Representatives, serving on the Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs and Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committees and as a member of the Women's Issues Caucus, the Viet Nam Veteran's Caucus and the Energy and Environment Coalition;
- Tom Carper continues to serve one weekend a month as a Commander in the U.S. Naval Reserve.
- Tom received his Master's Degree in Business Administration from the University of Delaware in 1975. He lives at 220 Mendell Place in Llangollen Estates in New Castle County.

When the people of Delaware elected Tom Carper to the United States House of Representatives, they elected an experienced public official.

For six years, Tom Carper had served as Delaware's State Treasurer. He set new standards of fiscal restraint and efficiency — even once refusing a $300,000 budget increase for his own office. He worked effectively with Governor duPont and members of both parties in the state legislature to put Delaware back on a sound financial footing. He worked hard to balance budgets and to raise the state's credit rating from the worst in the nation to one of the best.

Congressman Tom Carper has brought this Delaware experience to Washington. He has become a leader in the fight to reduce runaway federal budget deficits. Early in his first year, he helped to organize a group of independent Democratic freshmen into the Democratic Budget Study Group. They and Congressman Carper are committed to the belief that the federal government can control spending without losing its commitment to the needs of people.

Tom Carper also brought 15 years of experience as a naval flight officer to the Congress, including three tours of duty in South East Asia. Today he continues to serve one weekend a month as a Commander in the Naval Reserve, commanding a P-3 aircrew as they track Soviet submarines in the Atlantic.

When Congressman Tom Carper criticizes wasteful military spending, it is an informed criticism. Elise duPont is a strong supporter of the MX missile.

Congressman Carper has consistently opposed it because he believes we should not waste billions of tax dollars on weapons that add little to our National defense. When you spend 15 years in the business of defending the nation, you understand what works and what doesn't.

EXPERIENCE. It is not something you can manufacture. It is something you live and earn. Delaware's Congressman Tom Carper is putting his experience to work every day for the people of Delaware.

First-Hand Experience

An independent voice in the deficit debate

Congressman Carper has also taken on the President for excessive spending. He opposed Administration-supported pork barrel projects like the $9 billion Clinch River Breeder Reactor Project.

He took on the powerful special interests, voting to cut excessive price supports for the tobacco and dairy industries.

And even though Congressman Tom Carper represents the third most populous congressional district in the country, he voted to freeze funding for congressional offices, including his own. When that effort failed, he turned back over $20,000 in staff and office allowances at the end of last year.

It isn't easy to say no to the President. It isn't easy to say no to the powerful special interests. It isn't easy to say no to your party's own leaders. But then solving the deficit crisis isn't going to be easy either. There are no gimmicks, no easy ways to do it. Sure Congressman Tom Carper supports a balanced budget amendment. Unlike the amendment supported by Elise duPont, the Congressman's measure would not only require Congress to pass a balanced budget, but also require the President to submit one in the first place.

On that opening day, the Congress was considering a proposal to increase federal funding for the weatherization program by 160%. Congressman Carper believed the program worthwhile, but he feared that such an increase, supported by his own party's leadership, would send the wrong message to the country and even jeopardize passage of the program. Congressman Carper took the floor and offered his own amendment — aimed at preserving a good program, but eliminating the excessive increases. The Carper amendment passed.

INDEPENDENCE. Congressman Tom Carper knows the real answer lies in independent political leaders willing to make tough decisions. Congressman Tom Carper has made those decisions for years and you can trust him to continue to make them.

Thoughtful Independence

The commitment to listen... to understand... to help

Congressman Tom Carper is able to relate to the everyday concerns of families like yours because he lives and works here. Most Congressmen move to Washington... Tom Carper commutes.

He takes every opportunity to be out in the community. He has held more town meetings in the last 18 months than Delaware's last three Congressmen combined held in 18 years.

But Congressman Carper does more than listen. Over half his staff works here in Delaware helping Delawareans to solve their problems by cutting through bureaucratic red tape. Tom Carper and his staff have come to the aid of more than 1,500 Delaware families.

Congressman Carper worked tirelessly to bring relief to the families living near the toxic waste dump at Tybouts Corner. He helped secure funding for a senior housing complex and for a program to encourage new minority businesses.

Congressman Carper has also fought for the needs of Delawareans in Washington. He has opposed the Administration's efforts to eliminate low cost home mortgages and small business loans. Congressman Carper worked to strengthen education programs and to end discrimination in such programs against women, minorities, and the handicapped.

Because Congressman Carper understands the real problems facing the average Delawarean, he has also opposed Elise duPont's proposal to reduce the $3.35 minimum wage by 25% for workers up to the age of 22. He understands that many younger workers are already supporting families and that many are single mothers struggling to hold their families together.

COMMITMENT. For eight years, Congressman Carper has listened to and worked for the people of Delaware. He is putting his commitment and experience to work for them every day.

Unquestioned Commitment
