According to Fran Giacoma, a civil engineer with Conrail, weather conditions can play havoc with the electronics that activate crossing gates and signals. Snow and excessive rain can be the cause of malfunctions in the system, said Mr. Giacoma.

parked too close to switches. This occurs while work is being done on the tracks, during switching operations, they said. Since the city is a rail hub, it was agreed that some inconvenience is inevitable, and the price that must be paid to be a railroad town.

While bus drivers seemed to understand this well, they were nevertheless requesting help to minimize the occurrence of closed crossings during heavy busing pe-

"We've asked for help. We need help," pleaded Joseph Gleason, until recently Lake Forest Supervisor of Transportation.

Mr. Gleason said drivers are not permitted by law to cross railroad tracks when signals are flashing, whether the gates are malfunctioning or not.

When they do proceed, it is after a long wait and knowing they are in violation of the law, said Mr. Gleason. "They are thinking of the children left waiting at subsequent stops in cold, snow or rain.'

According to Conrail, police officials and Conrail employees are the only persons authorized to wave traffic through a closed cross-

A possible remedy was offered by Mr. Gleason, that of maintaining a window of time when crossings would be kept clear.

He suggested times from 7:45 to 8:15 a.m. and from 2:50 to 3:20 p.m. each weekday.

According to Mr. Gleason's count, this would allow school bus traffic to proceed without delay throughout the district where there are 18 separate railroad crossings.

Drivers were also asked by Conrail to identify the most problematic crossings. They cited the Fair-grounds Road and Road 286 as those most often closed without an apparently good reason.

Leroy Calhoun, a longtime bus driver, said box cars parked near the fairgrounds trip gates for long periods of time while additional closings are the result of switching

Mr. Giacoma said one solution could be changing the electronic circuitry so that train speed would determine when signals are activat-

It was felt that trains were being parked and left by workers who are not aware they are within the signal activation zone.

Harrington Train Master, John Melvin, promised to remind his workers by memo to observe the requested "window" of time; to park trains outside the activation switch and to be sure crossings are open before leaving a parked train or box

Mr. Melvin also asked to be called at 398-8533 with reports of problem crossings as they are encountered.

It was agreed by the group that a follow-up meeting would be helpful in one month when progress could be assessed.

Also taking part in the dis-cussion were Douglas Andrews, train specialist with the Delaware Transit Corporation, a branch of DART, the Delaware Authority for Regional Transportation; Leonard Coryell, City Manager of Harrington; Harrington Police Chief Frank Melvin; and severl regional Conrail

Civil War weekend brings history to life

By E. Elaine Watson

On Saturday and Sunday, March 30-31, history came alive at Brecknock Park in Camden, as Civil War re-enacters held their annual 'School of the Soldier." Sponsored by the Living History Society of Delaware, the event was open to the public this year. Spectators gathered both days to watch the Federal and Confederate troops drill, march and have mock skirmishes. My sister and I were some of the first to arrive on Saturday

Captain Robert Abraham, Company A, 7th Tennessee, welcomed us into the Confederate camp. A resident in real-life of Verga, NJ, Capt. Abraham has been a re-enactor for seven years and originally put Company A together. He liked history in high school and eventually got involved in a living history group. He does both Union and Southern re-enacting, and on this day was portraying a private because they were short of troops.

Then I asked him the question I ask every re-enactor I meet, "Were you in the movie "Get-tysburg?" And he was. Capt. Abraham was a part of the Pickett's Charge scene in the movie which was shot on and around the actual Gettysburg battlefield three years

Other troops in camp were from Company E, 12th Virginia. Art Bergmann of nearby Wyoming, said this company was formed last year and they now have 15 to 18 men in the field. A retired IBM employee, Mr. Bergmann has been a re-enactor for five years.

As we headed over to visit the Union camp of the 2nd Delaware Volunteers, we met Lt. Monte McGinnis who lives in Dover and is a member of the 3rd Delaware Battery, an artillery unit. A former industrial maintenance mechanic, Lt. McGinnis has been involved in re-inacting for 10 years. He always liked history and wanted his children to like it, so he started taking them to see re-enactments. It wasn't long before he decided to join a Twice during the weekend, the soldiers held a mock battle for the spectators. Both sides went into the woods and we soon heard the sound of gunfire. As we watched, we saw the Confederate troops slowly being pushed back out of the woods into the open. Then the Federals charged and in a few minutes it was all over.

As the "dead" on the field got up and rejoined their units, the crowd applauded the efforts of the troops, both north and south.

And for a weekend on a little field in Dover, history came alive.

His wife, Lynn, is also involved. Usually she is dressed in the long skirts of the era, but sometimes when there is a shortage of troops, she coubles as a soldier.

Lt. McGinnis said it's a lot of fun, but he also has to do his "homework" reading and studying artillery tactics to keep ahead of As we stood on the field watching his unit go through their drills in preparation for the actual firing of the cannon, Lt. McGinnis remarked that the reason for what they are doing "is a matter of history," not a moral or political statement...."both sides in the war fought for what they believed!" Just then, we were interrupted as General U.S. Grant (Pete Shoemaker of New London, PA) rode up to us. Sitting up there on that big horse, wearing a Yankee uniform, a big cigar in his mouth, there was no doubt in my mind that he was truly Gen. Grant. He told Lt. McGinnis that "Forest had just crossed the river with several gunboats, but the Federal troops would be able to handle him." (Oops! Hope this wasn't a military secret.)

Passenger rail service could be alive and well again in Delaware if Doug Andrews has his way. Doug, who is a member of the Delmarva Rail Passenger Association, is also the Rail Specialist with the Delmarva Transit Corporation, a branch of DART First State.

The association was founded in 1982 to return SEPTA service to Delaware. This was accomplished in 1989 with passenger service originating in Wilmington and Claymont. Today, 2000 passenger trips a day are logged on this run.

Doug is also the coordinator of "Rail to the Fair" which is in its fifth, year of service. This year the train, which has modern air conditioned passenger cars, will travel from Wilmington to the fair, then on to Frankfort. At the end of the run, it will reverse the trip. Passengers can stay on the train, enjoying a 3 1/2 hour-round trip excursion through Delaware. Or they can opt, as most do, to visit the fair for 1 1/2 hours, before returning to Wilmington.

Eventually, Doug hopes to develop a plan that will offer round trip service through the state from end to end. A possibility is to market a train/ferry excursion with stops along the way where train stations still exist. This would be a terrific boost for Harrington where the station is downtown and attractive business and service development could result. Incidentally, Conrail and Amtrak own most of the rail lines in your list. Here are some tips to help keep you from being injured as you landscape, paint, and clean up around your home or business.

Delmarva Power offers safety tips for Spring spruce-up

If you're planning home improvement projects for the spring, Delmarva Power encour-

Balloons can be a threat to shorebirds and marine life

It's Spring again. That means weddings, graduations, parties, Memorial Day, Fourth of July, sporting events, and a host of other outdoor celebrations. Decorations for these festivities often include colorful latex and mylar balloons filled with helium. They're great for decorations, but they pose serious problems for shorebirds and marine life many miles away if they are released into the air.

Along our eastern seaboard, balloons can travel up to 100 miles away and drift down into bays and eventually the ocean. Bill Muir, a national expert in marine pollution at the Region III office of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency in Philadelphia, cautions:

"Be careful -- these balloons often end up in our rivers and estuaries and in the ocean where they are deadly to turtles, fish, dolphins, and many shorebirds.'

In the natural environment, these marine animals depend on floating sources of food, such as jellyfish and other floating organisms. As the balloons slowly lose their helium and become less buoyant in air, they drift onto the surface of the water and mimic the appearance of jellyfish and other natural food sources. Once the balloons are ingested, the animals can choke, smother, become entangled and even starve to death.

"It's sad to see dead turtles that have washed up on the beach with balloons hanging out of their mouths. And it isn't just smaller animals that are at risk. Large animals, such as whales, have been known to ingest pounds of plastics and balloons causing them to starve to death, too," says Muir.

So let's all practice safe celebrations. Enjoy balloons, but avoid releasing them into the air.

By following these simple safety tips you can help keep yourself and your family safe while sprucing up for spring. Remember, THINK SAFETY FIRST!!

· No matter what type of work you'll be doing, make sure you have the proper safety equipment for the job, including safety glasses and gloves. Use proper lifting techniques when moving or storing heavy items. Lift with your knees and not your back. Inspect your tools. Repair or replace any that are damaged. Check extension cords too, throw away cords that are cut, frayed, or don't have a proper grounding plug. While you're working outside, use outlets equipped with Ground Fault Circuit Interrupters (GFCI). GFCIs can prevent serious electrical shock if a tool malfunctions.

• For outdoor projects that require digging, make sure you call Miss Utility at 1-800-282-8555 in Delaware or 1-800-441-8355 in Maryland first, at least two days before you dig. If you scrape or puncture gas or electric lines with digging tools you could be seriously injured. Miss Utility is a free service that identifies the location of underground utilities. When you call Miss Utility someone will come out to your residence and place markers indicating the location of underground utilities. Do not dig within two feet of the markers. Calling Miss Utility can save you time, trouble, and money.

· It's a good idea to avoid planting trees directly beneath power lines too. Leave enough clearance for the tree to grow and move with the wind and not become entangled in the lines. Also, try to place landscaping four to six feet away from the green transformer boxes on your lawn.

· If you're working with ladders, tree saws, or pool cleaning equipment, carry them parallel to the ground. Before you raise anything into the air, look up first to be sure you're clear of any power lines. Never allow yourself or your tools or equipment to come into contact with power lines, this could cause serious injury or even death. If you need to make repairs around the lines connected to your home, call the Delmarva Power customer service department at 454-0300 in Delaware or 1-800-375-7117. A service person will come to your house and cover the wires with special equipment. This service is free of charge and allows you to work safely. Try to call at least three days before you need to do the work.

Curriculum supervisors begin work

By Dr. James H. VanSciver District Superintendent

Beginning March 11, Lake Forest administrators James Boyd and Glenn Davidson began new jobs. Boyd, our former principal at W.T. Chipman Middle School, is now our supervisor of secondary curriculum and Davidson, our former principal at Lake Forest North Elementary School, is now our supervisor of elementary curriculum.

A look at the vision for our new curriculum department and the fact that the members of our board of education have committed these resources to the realization of this vision make teaching and learning high priorities in our school sys-

The mission statements are further developed into performance targets which specifically detail work to be accomplished.

It has taken numerous meetings with staff and members of our. board of education to develop these plans. They have now been set in motion.

If there is one single message arising from this process, it is that teaching will be very important for our staff, and learning will be very important for both our staff and our students. Let no one miss that Gout is a disease that affects millions of people in the United States today. It is one form of arthritis and can be quite disabling when untreated. In those patients afflicted with gout, the pain and disability can be extreme.

The basic cause of gout is a lack of a specific enzyme in the body responsible for the breakdown and excretion of certain food by-products. With the loss or absence of this enzyme the specific byproduct increases in the body's blood system and eventually filters into the various joints of the body. Once the joint fluid of the body gets saturated with the by-product, there is a crystallization process that occurs and the patient experiences sudden severe pain. While originally known as the "rich man's disease" during the days of Benjamin Franklin, who incidentally had gout, it is well accepted now as a condition that can afflict anyone.

The traditional presentation of gout is pain, redness, and swelling at the base of the big toe. While this is the most common joint afflicted with gout, it is by no means the only joint. Other joints that are affected by gout include the wrist and the knee joints. The initial appearance can often be confused with infection and is certainly something that has to be excluded when thinking of gout.

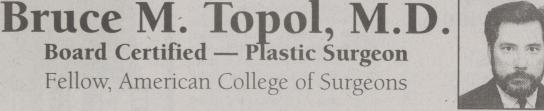

Fortunately, the treatment of gout, when diagnosed early, includes oral medication. The success rate of oral medication for the treatment of gout is highly successful and surgery is rarely indicated. Of course, untreated gout and neglected gout can be more difficult to treat and, on occasion, requires a surgical approach. If you would like a copy of the list of foods to avoid which have a tendency to increase a gout attack, please call or write our office. For further information or to schedule an appointment at our Dover, Milford, Seaford or Smyrna office, please call 678-8447, 424-0690 or 628-7702. Fellow, American College of Surgeons

Cosmetic Surgery

Plastic Surgeons are most commonly known for cosmetic surgery. Cosmetic surgery includes two broad categories:

1. Cosmetic Surgery of the Face

2. Body Contour Surgery

Cosmetic surgery of the face involves surgery on just about every structure on the face. This would include not only surgery for baldness or thinning hair, but also cosmetic removal of excess eyelid fat and skin (blepharoplasty) of either the upper or lower eyelids or both, forehead lift to remove forehead wrinkling and elevate droopy eyebrows, face lift which is done primarily to tighten the skin of the neck and improve wrinkles and jowls, surgery to improve the appearance of the chin, surgery to improve the appearance of the nose, and especially in children, surgery to improve very prominent or protruding ears.

Cosmetic body surgery includes both liposuction whereby fat is removed from the body through a small suction tube, or the surgical excision of both skin and fat when both are in excess normally in the abdomen but occasionally the trunk, arms, or legs.

Most of these procedures are done as an out-patient in the hospital. All of these procedures can be done very nicely here locally with no need to travel long distances to have this surgery performed. This surgery is best performed by a Board Certified Plastic Surgeon with expertise and interest in this type of delicate surgery.

Sunday worship service at Houston United Methodist Church is 9:30 a.m. Sunday School for all ages immediately follows the service at 10:30 a.m. Rev. Dr. James VanDerWall is the Minister. All are welcome.

Last Sunday, Easter, the Sunrise Service had to be changed and held at the church instead of Blair's Pond due to the rain. The congregation was small but the service was good. Rev. VanDerWall gave the message, and Bill Fisher sang a song he had written, "Halleluia, He's Alive"

The 9:30 service was well attended. Rev. VanDerWall told about the Easter of Christ rising from the dead. Mrs. VanDerWall spoke to the children about trees. The Senior Choir sang "I Know That My Redeemer Lives"

Bill Fisher sang the song he had written and sung at the early service. Greeters were Mrs. Hilda Donovan and Anna May Rothermel. Ushers were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Parvis. Acolyte was Richard

Brinster wins March of Dimes development award

Two scientists whose discoveries opened a new frontier in developmental biology and helped spark the recent explosive growth of research into the genetic origins of birth defects, cancer, and other diseases were awarded the first annual March of Dimes Prize in Developmental Biology.

Beatrice Mintz, Ph.D., Senior Member of the Institute for Cancer Research, Fox Chase Cancer Center in Philadelphia, and Ralph L. Brinster, V.M.D., Ph.D., Richard King Mellon Professor of Reproductive Physiology at the University of Pennsylvania School of Veterinary Medicine, were jointly honored for developing the transgenic mouse. Dr. Mintz and Dr. Brinster shared the $100,000 prize check, which was presented at an awards ceremony held in New

Dr. Brinster is the son of local residents, Doris and Joseph Brinster of Harrington.

The March of Dimes Prize will be awarded annually to investigators who have made a seminal discovery in developmental biology, one that has revealed a new principle of relevance to birth defects, and who have not previously received a major prize for their work. The prize recipients will also deliver a public lecture.

We still don't know enough about the normal processes of biological development and how they sometimes go awry," said Dr. Jennifer L. Howse, president of the March of Dimes. "Basic research is essential to understanding these processes. It is laying the foundation we need to discover the origins of birth defects, and it gives us hope that one day we will be able to prevent many disabling and fatal disorders. We are delighted to recognize Dr. Mintz and Dr. Brinster for their major contributions to basic research.'

Biologists sought for many years to custom-design mice that could provide clues to the mysteries of major diseases. Using the concepts and techniques pioneered independently by Dr. Mintz and Dr. Brinster, it is now possible to add a particular piece of DNA to a mouse's genes or to remove a small piece. This will result in a new characteristic in the mouse or create a mutation. Because the genes and physiology of mice and humans are remarkably similar, the gene often behaves in the modified or "transgenic" mouse in the same way it would in a human.

Transgenic mice are invaluable research tools in the search for answers to some of the most important biological questions of our age. Many scientists believe that the ability to experimentally alter the genes of animals and plants will be regarded by history as one of the great accomplish-ments in biology of the 20th Cen-

Transgenic mice are currently being used to:

· Discover how genes are "turned on" and "turned off" in specific tissues at specific times

Ralph L. Brinster during the course of normal and abnormal embryonic development. · Produce models for many human disorders, including birth defects, cancer, and heart disease. Transgenic mice serve as surrogates for humans in studies of the disease processes and in tests of possible treatments, such as drug therapies and vaccines.

· Guide scientists to the locations of genes that control certain traits. For example, using transgenic mice, scientists have found 15 separate genetic sites that in varying degrees contribute toward susceptibility to insulin-dependent

The March of Dimes Prize in Developmental Biology was created as a tribute to Dr. Jonas Salk shortly before his death in 1995. Dr. Salk was working with a research grant from the March of Dimes when he developed the polio vaccine that bears his name. The culmination of that work was the announcement on April 12, 1955, that a nationwide field trial had shown the vaccine to be safe and effective. In Dr. Salk's honor, the March of Dimes prize will be awarded each year on April 12.

The March of Dimes is a national voluntary health agency whose mission is to improve the health of babies by preventing birth defects and infant mortality. Through its Campaign for Healthier Babies, the March of Dimes funds programs of research, community services, education, and advocacy.

Spreading the Word - Rev. James Van Der Wall shouts the "good news"

By Carol Ann Porter

His father was a television repairman, and his mother was a homemaker, eventually earning her claim to fame as reporter for a småll-town newspaper, much like The Harrington Journal.

Maybe that's why he waves The Harrington Journal from his pulpit each Sunday morning, raving about members of his congregation being mentioned within its pages

Who is this very enthusiastic young minister who not only spreads the word from the local newspaper, but most importantly and foremost in his life, spreads

"The Word." He is the 43-year-old minister of the Asbury United Methodist Church in Harrington and the Houston United Methodist Church in Houston, Rev. James Van Der

He was born and raised in Paterson, New Jersey, the middle of five children. Raised in a Christian home, the Van Der Walls were the pillars of the First Baptist Church in Paterson. His parents, both deceased now, were very strong Christians, and when the church doors were open, the family was

"I recall a gigantic snowstorm one Sunday," said Rev. Van Der Wall. "And we were one of the few families there that day," he

His family was by no means wealthy, but neither were they poor. He was raised in a working class family where education was very important. "Dad worked him-

And when he had so said, he self to death as a TV repairman so that he could send us all to college," said Rev. Van Der Wall sadly. "They wanted us all to have good careers, and we were always encouraged to excel." he said.

And for the most part, they did. Most all of us can be categorized as over-achievers," said Rev. Van Der Wall, who attended Ramapo College to get his bachelor's and then on to Drew University to attend seminary and eventually get his doctorate.

His first church was in Ogdensburg, N.Y. "It was a wonderful, large church on the St. Lawrence River," said Rev. Van Der Wall. "But the winters were brutal. I saw 40° below zero many times.'

"I loved the church and the people, but it was so cold," smiled Rev. Van Der Wall. "I prayed for the Lord to get me out of there," he

The Lord did get him out of the cold weather and sent him to Delmar, on the Maryland side. "I loved it there. The winters were milder, and I was closer to home," he said.

The church grew and flourished, and then it was another move. . . a church in Grasonville, Md. After that church took off and started to grow, the conference moved him to

Then he came to Harrington on July 1, 1995. "This is a very active church. . . . wonderful people," he said. "From the day we moved in, they welcomed us with open arms,' a minister of a church presents his 15 or 20 minute sermon on Sunday, and just relaxes the balance of the week. Not so!

Rev. Van Der Wall works on his message every day for his congregation of approximately 160 in Harrington. He helps take care of the Lake Forest Ministerium Food Pantry at the church which helps serve 30 needy families a month.

There's daily visitation to homes, nursing homes, hospitals, etc. He does private counseling when it is needed and attends Bible study on Monday afternoon and Wednesday night.

But that's just the tip of the iceberg. He's also the minister of the Houston United Methodist Church and attends Thursday night Bible study there.

He loves preaching and teaching the Bible study classes, and he loves weddings. "Frankly, I like officiating funerals too," said Rev. Van Der Wall. "It gives me an opportunity to help people through the sad time of a funeral," he said.

He helps people through the sad times of a funeral and the happy times of a wedding. And he also finds time to write. He has had several books published. And the latest in the string of publications is a collection of sermons such as "What's Taking So Long?

Rev. Van Der Wall says that the people in his congregation are just incredible. "There are many young people, lots of music from our four choirs, and the Sunday School is wonderful," he said, adding that added. they average 100 youngsters and adults in Sunday School. "The young people are what makes our church so vibrant," he added.

His love of preaching must shine through to everyone because last year during the annual conference, they selected one minister from the entire conference to preach to more than 1000 people, and they selected Rev. Van Der Wall. "It was quite an honor, and I loved it," he said.

A special Easter Sunrise Service is planned for Sunday, April 7, at 7 a.m. at Blair's Pond. "It's quite a sight to watch the sun rise on Easter morning," said Rev. Van Der Wall. "Because this is when Jesus came out of the tomb, and it gives us an opportunity to remember the resurrection," he said.

Rev. Van Der Wall is married to Marie, who is the Postmaster in Nassau, Del. They have two sons, Jay, 14, and Scott, 9, and two daughters, Valarie, 17, and Nicole,

"Marie is very active in the church, delivering the children's message on Sunday mornings during the service and attending the Bible studies full time also," said Rev. Van Der Wall.

He added that she is very supportive of him and is a very active Christian. "She's given me a new lease on life," he said.

Rev. Van Der Wall says he can't picture himself doing anything except what he's doing right now. This is who I am. This is what I do," he said. "I'll never do anything

Spring Sings the Resurrection Glory They asked me how I know it's true. That the Saviour lived and died,

And if I believe the story, That the Lord was crucified! And I have so many answers, To prove His Holy Being,

Answers that are everywhere. Within the realm of seeing. The leaves that fell at autumn. And were buried in the sod,

Now budding on the tree boughs, To lift their arms to God. The flowers that were covered, And entombed beneath the snow.

Pushing through the "darkness", To bid the Spring "hello" On every side Great Nature, Retells the Easter Story --So who am I to question, The Resurrection Glory.

Pilgrim Chapel

As hard as it is to believe, we are near the end of the second week of April. We have the story of "Christ Crucifixion" behind us and we have thrilled at the story of "Christ Has Risen". They are old stories that I never tire of hearing. Surely hearing them creates a desire for us to attend our Chapel for the 9:30 Sunday School; the Morning Worship at 10:40 a.m., and the Evening Service at 6 p.m. Our education of Christ never ends.

The ladies of Pilgrim Chapel have had their monthly meeting and the growing group made plans and invited ideas for our oncoming Christian days. Scheduled are visitations to our "under the weather friends" and the "people who may need a card or a call'

This Sunday, April 14, at the evening 6 p.m. service we are happy that the Choir will again sing the Easter Cantata. All are welcome to come and listen to this beautiful music -- in fact, we invite you to bring a friend also. Light refreshments will be served following the Cantata, as we enjoy a warm fellowship.

Also, the Pilgrim Men will have had their monthly Men's Breakfast. I understand that we have some super cooks in this department. On Monday, the 15th, the Pilgrim Ladies will have a Bible

Al Govatos talked with the youth about Easter. Easter is the day Jesus arose from the tomb. Then it was not good to be a Christian. Everyone has some doubts sometimes. When Jesus first appeared to the disciples after He had risen, they doubted that He was Jesus. Doubt will come to all of us, but Jesus will overcome it.

Rev. Carmean read John 20:19 & 20 for his scripture. The title of his sermon was "You Can Run, But You Can Not Hide". The disciples had been with Jesus and had seen him perform miracles. Now they watched as He carried His cross up the hill, stumbling and falling. They were afraid as they saw Jesus

We must go out and take the message to a lost and dying world. Death could not conquer Jesus. He came out of the tomb.

Pain may be eliminated

(SPECIAL) -- A new drug has been approved that is exciting researchers in the treatment of pain. This material has been formulated into a new product known as "Arthur Itis " and is being called a "Medical Miracle" by some, in the treatment of debilitating conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, painful muscle aches, joint aches, simple backache, bruises, and more. Although the mechanism of action is unclear, experiments indicate that Arthur Itism relieves pain by first selectively attracting, and then destroying the messenger chemical which carries pain sensations to the brain, thus eliminating pain in the affected area. Arthur Itism is an odorless, greaseless, non-staining cream and is available immediately without a prescription and is guaranteed to work. Use only as directed

Spartans baseball team rebounds to a 16-10 victory over Milford Bucs

By William Falasco,

After an opening season loss to Laurel which saw the Spartan baseball team get only two hits, the young squad rebounded with a 16-10 victory over Milford on Tuesday to even its record to 1-1. Andre Summers was the winning pitcher.

Milford jumped out to a 10-2 lead after two innings, but the Spartans rallied time and again, finally taking the lead after five innings by a score of 12-10.

They finished getting four more runs in the sixth to top off a dramatic come-from-behind victory.

Extra base hits were recorded by Summers (HR), Wayne Jester (2B) and Mike Riemann (3B). D.J. Morrison had three hits and three stolen bases. Nate Rust and Summers had two hits each. Rust also had three

This year's Spartans baseball team has a totally new look! After graduating eight seniors, they have to go through some growing pains in order to make a serious run for the Division Championship attained last year.

Gone from last year's team are All Conference players, Jeff Melvin, catcher; Matt Dill and Steve Simpson, both pitchers; Jason Perdue, Garrett Dill, Omar Almodovar and Dion Miller, all outfielders. That's a pretty large group of players to lose in one year especially since Dill and Simpson were both All Conference pitchers.

Players' attitudes now are a pos-itive factor in their quest to rebuild. Returners, Nate Rust, Andre Summers, Randy Robbin s, Wayne Jester, Ryan Hogate and transfer Matt Eakin are sharing the burden of leadership for this year's team. Members moved up from the junior varsity include D.J. Morrison, Wesley Gerardi, Greg Dill, Joe Taylor, Scott Harvey, Coleman Morris, John Mumaw, Mike Riemann, Brandon Dill and Justin Hobbs.

Along with the inexperience of this group, they have also had to deal with one of the wettest preseasons in quite awhile. Nev-ertheless, spirit has been excellent, and this should eventually be a pretty sound squad.

It looks as though team defense is a strong point with fair hitting and adequate pitching. These assessments could change with the work ethic being displayed each

The next game is April 16 at Polytech. On April 18, the Spartans play at home against Dover.

Lake Forest's girls' track team is 3-0 after an easy 95-41 victory over visiting Sussex Central.

Sussex Central's Sommer Chorman was involved in four of the Golden Knights' six wins, but the visitors had little else to worry about, except for Audrey Doughty, the strong distance runner with the Harrington roots.

State champ Sherise Spence took a cold, windy 100 meters in 12.5. Tanitka Smith, an all-around athlete, made an impressive start with a very good 12.8 for second place in an event she usually can't squeeze into her crowded schedule. spence (26.7) and Christina Jones went 1-2 at 200 meters. This duo added Takia Benson and Portia Leggs to take the 800 relay, then replaced Benson with Kelly Waples to win the 400 relay (54.8).

Tanitka Smith (31-3), Benson and Crystal James swept the triple jump. T. Smith (14-9) and James (14-5 1/2) went 1-2 in the long jump. Jones and T. Smith tied for 2nd in the high jump.

Sequoyah Guinn had an excellent toss of 35 feet and 7 inches in the shot put. The Lake Forest record is 39-8 3/4 set by Severa Harris in 1985. Shatanya Smith, 2nd Tuesday, and Guinn are two of Lake Forest's finest ever. Guinn (102-5), Smith (99-5) and Cortress Nichols swept the discus over the Knights. Beverly Mack captured the 400 meters, while Latarra Smith won the 100 hurdles with

Lake Forest boys track team defeats Cape Henlopen 86-60

By Keith S. Burgess

Lake Forest's boys' track team defeated Cape Henlopen 86-60 here on Wednesday afternoon.

Derick Gerardi, Malcolm Hughes, Rusty Melvin and Dan Matta averaged a speedy 2.10 for each leg of the 3200 meter relay.

Melvin later held off Cape's tough Adam Butner to take the 1600 in a very good 4.57.5. Hughes was third.

Later, Hughes (2.11.9), Gerardi and Charley Vincent swept the 800. Matt recorded a 55.3 win in the 400. Pat Gleeson (11.38), Sam Forester and J.J. Laskiewicz got the 3200 points, while Chris Grevis (10 ft.), Vincent (10 ft.) and Lance Madden dominated the pole vault. Bruce Morris and Jabari Franklin went 1-2 in the high hur-

Spartan trackmen beat Sussex Central 92-54

By Keith S. Burgess

Lake Forest is 2-1 in boys' track after a 92-54 victory here.

Derick Gerardi, Malcom Hughes, Rusty Melvin and Dan Matta, four cross-country aces, cruised to an easy victory in the opening 3200 meter relay in 9.32

Melvin annexed the 1600 in 5.21, while Hughes (56.5), Ray Scott and Kerry Woodward swept Matta (2.11), Gerardi and Charley Vincent did the same in the 800 meter run. Scott, Matta, Hughes and Richard Alexander ended the romp for Jim Blades' charges by taking the 1600 relay in a relaxed 3.56.

Alexander (46.9), Perry White and Bruce Morris ruled the 300 hurdles. White did it the hard way, as he came out of the slow heat to check the runnerup time.

Jabari Franklin (15.7) and Morris went 1-2 in the 110 hurdles. Franklin also anchored the winning 400 relay unit (47.3) running with Ray Scott, Ken Cartwright and Mike Simpson. Cartwright captured the 100 meters in 11.6, while Simpson and Scott McCarthy were 1-3 in the shot.

Pat Gleeson (12 minutes) and Sam Forester were first and second at 3200 meters. Second places were recorded by McCarthy, discus; Dion Gambles, long jump; Matta, high jump; Vincent, pole vault. Thirds were scored by Daniels, discus; McCarthy, shot; Terrell, triple jump; Woodward, long jump and Grevis, pole vault.

ADVERTISEMENT Pain may be eliminated for millions

(SPECIAL) -- A new drug has been approved that is exciting researchers in the treatment of pain. This material has been formulated into a new product known as "Arthur Itis and is being called a "Medical" Miracle" by some, in the treatment of debilitating conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, painful muscle aches, joint aches, simple backache, bruises, and more. Although the mechanism of action is unclear, experiments indicate that Arthur Itis relieves pain by first selectively attracting, and then destroying the messenger chemical which carries pain sensations to the brain, thus eliminating pain in the affected area. Arthur Itis is an odorless, greaseless, non-staining cream and is available immediately without a prescription and is guaranteed to work. Use only as tery, Dover. FRANK GREEN Frank Green, 78, of Smyrna, died of cancer Sunday, April 7, 1996, in his home.

Mr. Green was born Sept. 19, 1917, in Harrington, the son of the late Augustus and Lillian Porter dent for Chrysler Corp. for 35 years before retiring.

He was a member of VFW Post 8801 in Smyrna, and the David C. Harrison American Legion Post 14

He is survived by his wife, Mary Ware Green; a son, Frank Green Jr.; seven daughters, Susan Smith zinger of Dover, Linda Kurry of Harrington, Barbara Betts of Newark, Kathy Green and Sharon Valdesere, both of Smyrna, and of Clayton, and Gloria Brittingham

Services will be at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday in Faries Funeral Chapel, 29 S. Main St., Smyrna, where friends may call one hour prior to the service.

opportunity for fund raising or just for fun. The festival begins at 10 a.m. at the fairgrounds and lasts all day. Crafters can plan to stay for the Pow-Wow on Sunday at no additional charge for space. The Wild West Planning Committee is also looking for entertainment on Saturday and Sunday. If you sing, dance, play bagpipes, guitar, banjo or accordion, share your talents. Scout groups, 4-H'ers and others are encouraged to join the rodeo parade which begins at the fairgrounds and winds through town.

Wild West Days is a 4-day event, May 9-12, with a Texas Bar-b-Que and Country Dance on Thursday, a Bullride Mania Rodeo on Friday and Saturday night, a Festival all day Saturday, and Pow-Wow with multicultural celebration all day Sunday. Miss Rodeo Delaware will also be chosen and a King of the Cowboys named. This year a carnival adds an additional element of fun to the weekend when Buffalo Amusements comes to town with rides, games and concessions. For information, booth space, or to join the parade, call 398-3898.
