Something to cheer about Kristy Litten picked as Blue-Gold cheerleader

By Carol Ann Porter,
 Editor
 (302) 398-3206

Seventeen-year-old Kristy Litten's dreams almost came to an end in November of 1996 while practicing for a cheerleading competition. While attempting a jump, Kristy came down on her leg wrong and underwent surgery to repair her anterior cruciate ligament.

The doctors told her she might never be able to do the physical things she had once lived for such as cheerleading and gymnastics. In fact, he told her she may never walk normally again.

But after ten months of rigorous physical therapy and training, Kristy has been selected to represent the Lake Forest cheerleaders at this year's Blue-Gold Football Game in June.

Her coach, Nikki Ferguson says that she is performing her flips and jumps better than she ever has. "She's probably one of the best flippers on the squad," said Ms. Ferguson.

And flipping's not all she's good at. "She's good at whatever she tries," said Ms. Ferguson. "And to add to that, she's so responsible. Any time I need something done, she's there to help."

It seems that responsibility should be Kristy's middle name. A senior at Lake Forest High School, Kristy rises every morning at 5:30 to finish off her homework and then attend school. After school, there's cheerleading practice from 4:30 to 6 p.m. Then it's off to her job at G&B Sub Shop in Felton.

When she finally gets home at night, it's time to crack the books. But she does a little more than crack them. Kristy recently received the Athletic Scholar All-Conference award for maintaining a 4.0 GPA. She received a varsity letter from the National Honor Society, is a member of the Student Government Association, Business Professionals of America, French Club, Drama Club, Varsity Club, a representative-at-large for the senior class and a member of the P.I.T.C.H. Club.

"I don't know what drives her, but she never stops."

Kristy has been a cheerleader since she was in the second grade and has taken gymnastics since kindergarten. She has won several gymnastic competitions and trains at Gymnastics Unlimited in Dover. Her room is filled with trophies from both cheerleading and gymnastics.

She is an honor roll student, with her grades this year never dropping below a 97. Mom, Marge Litten, says she doesn't know where Kristy gets it from. "I don't know what drives her, but she never stops," said her mother proudly.

Her dad, Greg, is very proud of her also. "He tries to help me as much as he can," said Kristy. "But sometimes, I think he wishes I would just slow down."

You might say that Kristy is not an ordinary teen-ager. Besides her energetic spirit, she has to deal with hypoglycemia every day of her life. She must eat six small meals a day and have a snack several times a day to keep her blood sugar level where it should be. She also has to take iron pills for anemia.

But that doesn't stop her says her mother. She's practicing right now for the Boscov's cheerleading competition, the Blue-Gold football game and also plans to attend a competition in Tampa, Fla. in March where her boyfriend, Stephen Garton, plans to compete right beside her on the same team. "He's also an over-achiever," said Kristy Litten has a lot to cheer about. She has been selected to represent Lake Forest at this year's Blue-Gold Game.

Kristy's mom. He's captain of the football team at Lake Forest and made All-Conference this year.

Kristy has been accepted at Wesley College and plans to study elementary education and maybe come back to the Lake Forest School District to teach. "I would love to be a professional cheerleader, and I definitely want to come back and help coach the high school cheerleading squad," said Kristy. "That way, I can stay in shape in case I do become a profes-

Dr. Carol Ann McNally Owens

By Carol Ann Porter,

She was born on Oct. 18, 1945 in Pittsburgh, Pa., but the harness horse industry soon brought her father, Bob McNally, to the Harrington area to practice his blacksmithing trade.

Besides his daughter, Carol Ann, Mr. McNally brought his wife, Helen, and son, Chuck, with him, and they settled on a farm just west of Harrington. The youngsters would eventually enroll at the Harrington Special School District and ride the bus to school each day. Now married and living in Seaford with a family of her own,

"Delaware is a great place to raise kids."

Dr. Carol Owens

Carol Ann McNally Owens is now a pediatrician.

She recalls riding the school bus every day until she graduated from Harrington High School in 1963. Laurabelle Wilson was her driver and Dr. Owens said she was like a mother hen to the students on the bus.

"She was such a nice lady," said Dr. Owens. "When I was in the first grade, she just took us under her wing and worried about us, and that was so important back then."

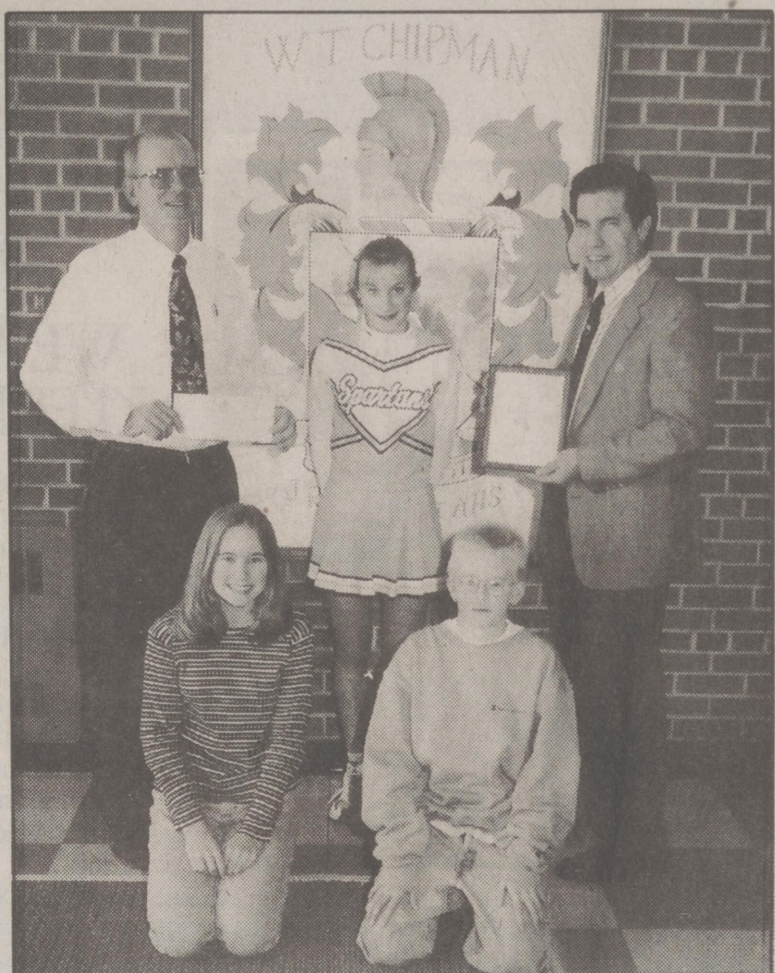

Dr. Owens remembers that her mother was a housewife until she and her brother were in high school. "Then she went to work at Kirby & Holloway in Harrington

Houston woman honored for her excellence in fire safety education

By Carol Ann Porter,
 Editor
 (302) 398-3206

The DuPont Hotel was the scene recently for the annual awards presentation of the Delaware Children's Fire Safety Foundation. Annamaria Jester of Houston, was among four honorees recognized for their excellence in fire safety education during the event.

Mrs. Jester, 40, a member of the Houston Fire Department and its auxiliary, has headed the annual fire prevention day in Houston since 1981. This special day involves working with approximately 100 agencies. Mrs. Jester

"I love helping people. And I especially love helping children."

works closely with these agencies as well as day care centers to provide fire safety for children.

She has brought the TOT finder sticker program to the Houston community and serves as a resource person for many fire companies.

"I love helping people," said Mrs. Jester. "And I especially love helping children. I want them to know that there's someone there for them," she said.

Mrs. Jester has been a member of the fire company since 1982 and is constantly striving to educate the community on fire prevention.

She said that even though her daughter is only 4 years old, she is already quite aware of what fire prevention is. "She can tell you everything about the fire company and fire prevention," said her mother. "She knows about 911, she knows the escape plan in case of a fire, and she's even been with me when I've taken CPR courses."

Mrs. Jester said that the first stop when bringing their newborn daughter home from the hospital was at Houston's fire house. "I guess she has a right to know a lot about the fire company," smiled Mrs. Jester.

Devoting a lot of her time to working with the Houston Fire Company in fire prevention, Mrs.

Jester also helps with the relief program when families are burned out. She also plans to initiate a new program within the Houston Fire Company. She said that the new program would call for children's names to be posted on the dashboard of the family vehicle so that if they are ever in an automobile accident, emergency personnel can call them by their names.

"Children are much calmer if they are called by their names," said Mrs. Jester. "Can you imagine how devastating it is for children in

BPW/Delaware and BPW/USA offer scholarships to area students

The Business and Professional Women's Foundation of Delaware, Inc., and BPW/USA Foundation announce their annual scholarship program. These scholarships are available to women of all ages from high school seniors who will be going on to college, to women making career changes or re-entering the work force. In recent years, BPW Delaware has awarded Foundation Scholarships totaling $2,000 annually to women in Delaware. BPW/USA makes a number of specific scholarships available in individual amounts from $500 to $2000 to women across the country. Each year these national awards total nearly $200,000.

In addition to the state and national programs, local chapters of Business and Professional Women in each of Delaware's three counties make scholarships available.

Loretta Wootten, CEO of BPW/Delaware Foundation, Inc., and Pauline McCloskey, Delaware Chair for BPW/USA Foundation, urge women in Delaware who are seeking higher education to make the most of this opportunity for financial support. The application process is underway, with deadlines approaching in March and April.

Prospect U.M. Church

"And as the people were in expectation, and all men mused in their hearts, of John, whether he were the Christ or not." (Luke 3:15)

Rev. James Carmean Jr. is the minister at Prospect Church which is located five miles west of Harrington on Route 14 in Vernon, DE. We invite you to worship with us. We have Sunday School for all ages at 8:45 a.m. and the Worship Service is at 9:45 a.m. Mary Lou Wright is the pianist and Vivian Newman was organist.

Sunday, Jan. 11, was Attendance Awards day during Sunday School. We are very pleased to have these and all children who attend Prospect Church. The Kindergarten class is taught by Gayle Melvin. J.T. Robbins received his 4th year bar. Elizabeth Layton and Dustany Taylor received pins. The Primary class is taught by Vikkie Masten. Eric Layton and Justin Byler received pins. Dianna Woodward teaches the Intermediate class. Gweyn Byler received a pin. Maureen Haldeman teaches the Junior High class. Melvin Wyatt received a pin. The Senior High class is taught by Herman Zietler. Cameron Freeman received his 7th year bar, Jonny Woodward received his 11th year bar, and Marcus Woodward received his 11th year bar. Jonny and Marcus Woodward both had perfect attendance this year and received a gift for that.

Grace Jester was greeter and Jean Miller was acolyte. The anthem by the choir was "heaven Came Down and Glory Filled my Soul". Doris Fry prayed the offertory prayer, and Ellen Shultie-Hart and Harold Fry were ushers.

Rev. Carmean read scripture from Luke 3:15-18. His sermon title was "That Unveiling and that Bringing Forth". This scripture is talking about John. It is a wonderful time of year as we look forward to the time of Epiphany. It is a time of excitement and expectation. A man down in the Jordan River section was preaching a strong message and baptizing people in the river. This was an event the people had been waiting for, for over 900 years. He was asking people to repent of their sins. The people thought he was the one they had looked for, but when they went and heard John's message that he was not the one. He said that he baptized with water, but Jesus would baptize with water and with fire that the world would never be the same. And God is still in charge of the world.

Congratulations to Kim and Kevin Robbins on the birth of a new daughter, Mary Elizabeth.

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM
PUBLIC PARTICIPATION MEETING

The Council on Transportation, the Dover Kent Metropolitan Planning Organization (MPO) and the Wilmington Metropolitan Planning Organization (WILMAPCO) are jointly sponsoring meetings to solicit public participation and review the MPO's transportation projects and DelDOT's proposed Capital Improvement Program (CIP) for Fiscal Years 1999-2004.

Interested citizens are invited and encouraged to attend this meeting and to provide their suggestions on shaping Delaware's future transportation program. This meeting will provide a variety of opportunities to review the process by which the MPO and DelDOT set priorities in the selection of major transportation projects and to discuss proposed Capital Improvement Projects, and the MPO's Transportation projects.

Each meeting will have an informal workshop session at the start, followed by an auditorium session. A court reporter will be available during both sessions to record formal comments. Interested persons are also invited to submit written comments during the public meeting process and these also will be included in the formal record of the CIP meetings. Copies of the draft FY1999 - 2004 CIP document are available by contacting DelDOT at 739-4893 or at the address and/or phone number listed below.

Money issues top Rep. Quillen's agenda as lawmakers head back to work

Dear Editor: As I and the state's other 61 lawmakers head back to work in the General Assembly this week, I foresee several issues that will be getting special attention from me in 1998.

SOUND OFF

Sound Off provides a forum for readers who wish to express opinions about public issues but not give their names. To Sound Off to The Harrington Journal, call 629-2050 (Sussex County) or 678-8255 (Kent County) any time, day or night. Keep your message brief. The Harrington Journal will edit calls for clarity, accuracy, brevity and libel. Not all Sound Off calls are printed. Comments are selected for publication based on their timeliness and relevance to local issues.

'His sudden ability to kill somebody'

Apparently the person who called into Sound Off saying that we shouldn't dump guns in the ocean for the fish because people kill people, guns don't is unaware of the remote control nature of a gun and the fact that it makes a coward feel empowered because of his sudden ability to kill somebody with nothing more than the pull of a trigger. The caller says that if they didn't have guns they'd use baseball bats or knives or some other weapon. It's really an untrue statement in that it's a much more pronounced act and takes much more rage and actually physical resolve and even to some degree bravery to beat, bludgeon or stab somebody to death than it does to shoot them with a gun from 50 feet away or across a crowded parking lot when merely shouting at them won't quite do. I'm not all for everybody having guns. I'm not for everybody having their guns taken away but it's certainly true that the easy accessibility of guns does in some way contribute to the huge numbers of people killed every year by guns.

'I won't argue the nutritive value'

Just got in from the local convenience store and making my mid-night milk run. I'm just real thrilled that the person ahead of me bought four two-liter bottles of soda pop and four giant bags of potato chips and then paid for it with food stamps. I asked the clerk if it's okay to purchase soda pop with food stamps and by golly it is. I want to know which congressman is going to be helping me out with this one because this shouldn't be permitted I won't argue the nutritive value of a potato chip, but by golly, I have yet to see what purpose soda pop has to do with the American diet.

'Do they come under JJ's law?'

Terry Spence and Delaware Safety Council want to have a law passed to have Delaware bars and restaurants liable for personal injury and property damage. If they serve alcohol to someone who is intoxicated. What about all gambling casinos in Delaware that serves drinks? Will they come under the JJ's law as well? Most of the VFWs, the American Legion, the volunteer fire departments and all the organizations have parties with all you can drink. Do they come under JJ's law? Think about it before you vote.

'Know how much money you've got'

I would like to see you print this to the used car dealers in the state of Delaware. My grandson and I went car shopping today. For the ones that had the price on the windshield, it was a pleasure to walk in and check the cars out. You could glance across the parking lot and you know what to look at. You know how much money you've got to spend. Why waste your time over in a $10,000 car when it's not in your range? I think every used car dealer in Delaware should be forced to post a price right on the windshield just like they do the new ones. The new ones post theirs right on the door. They should be forced to put the price on the car there somewhere, preferably on the windshield.

Mrs. Jester said that if there are any day cares, senior centers or churches that need someone to come and talk to them about fire prevention, they can call her at (302) 422-4808 and she will arrange for a fire prevention presentation.

Other people recognized during the awards presentation were Ms. Connie Carpenter of the Selbyville Fire Company, Kevin L. Wilson, deputy chief of the Clayton Fire Company and John H. Farrell, deputy chief of the Newark Fire Department.

But right now, she has a lot of other things to concentrate on... so many irons in the fire. Her mother said her daughter is really hard on herself. "If she brings home a "B" she gets so upset. But I'm happy

Several other awards were presented at the program. The Wilmington Flower Market received an award for its continued support of the foundation's programs and mission.

Two members of the board of directors, Mac Morgan and Richard Cell, were presented with awards for dedicated service to the foundation.

and worked there for the next 30 years," said Dr. Owens.

She said growing up on a farm and raising chickens kept the family busy with daily chores. It also kept them from getting into town very often. "We lived so far out, that it was really a hassle to get back into town for extracurricular activities," said Dr. Owens.

She recalls living next door to Anna Mae Baker Draper who graduated from Harrington in 1961. "Her dad had dairy cows, and we'd go every couple of days and get our clean jars filled with fresh milk," she said. "I've often thought about the fact that it was unpasteurized," smiled Dr. Owens. "It's a wonder we didn't die from drinking it."

She recalls teachers at school like Mr. Melvin Brobst, Miss Dickrager, Mr. Messner and Mr. Feagan. She was in Mrs. Ruth Grant's first-grade class down in the basement of the old school. "Mr. Grant cleaned erasers down there next to the cafeteria, and there was asbestos everywhere," she recalled.

After graduating valedictorian of her class, Dr. Owens began classes at the University of Delaware. Since she had already begun college classes while a senior, she graduated in 3 1/2 years.

While a junior in college, Pan Am Airlines recruited her to become an airline stewardess. She flew for Pan Am the summer before her junior and senior years in college and then after graduating, she flew from January until the fall.

She lived in New York for three months and in San Francisco for 10 months. This was during the Vietnam Conflict, and Dr. Owens recalls flying R&R with the troops every six months to Hawaii.

While Dr. Owens was in college, she worked at the Milford Memorial Hospital lab and she also worked for Dr. Vincent Lobo in Harrington one summer.

"I guess I got really comfortable working in medicine, and I really felt like it was something I could do," said Dr. Owens.

She had already been accepted at the Medical College of Virginia in Richmond. It was there she met her husband, Dr. Louis Owens, now a radiologist. They were wed in 1969.

She got her MD from the college in Virginia and eventually she and her husband joined the Air Force. She went to California and did her pediatric training at the Travis Air Force Base Hospital and also did some training at the University of California. She graduated from medical school in 1974.

Her first job after training was at Dover Air Force Base, but they sent her husband to Thailand. He eventually joined her at Dover.

They have two children, Maryetta, 19, and Chrissy, 16, both in school. Maryetta is a sophomore at Duke, and Chrissy is a senior at Seaford High School.

The Owens moved back to Delaware in 1984, and Dr. Owens has been working for the state of

by Len Coryell,
Harrington City Manager

The weather coming from Mother Nature is treating us just great compared to other parts of the country.

I have received a copy of the Capital Transportation Improvement Program for Fiscal Year's 1999-2004, from the Delaware Department of Transportation. The Harrington By-Pass is on top for study for a truck by-pass around the Harrington area. The study will be complete in program development during the 1998-1999 fiscal year. Design project solutions can begin in fiscal year 2000.

The citizens of Harrington have waited many years for the actual work to begin on the truck by-pass and it looks like finally it will become a reality.

I would like to thank the Levy Court for the appointment to the MPO/PAC Committee which works very hard at giving input to the Department of Transportation concerning projects such as the Harrington By-Pass. I have spent many hours (all volunteer) keeping the need for the by-pass in front of the MPO, Council and Del-DOT. It looks as if my efforts are going to pay off.

Remember to say Hi to your neighbor and watch out for our kids as you travel around our city. Give me a call at 398-3530 if you need help or have a question about or city.

We invite our readers to respond to this column by sending letters to The Harrington Journal, P.O. Box 239, Harrington, DE 19952 or by calling Sound Off at 629-2050 or 678-8255.

n't want me to fly to Vietnam, but everything else I did, they supported me," she smiled.

She said the advantage of growing up in a little town like Harrington is that you have to answer to other people besides your parents because everyone knows you and knows your parents. "Everybody looks out for everyone else," she said. She recalls attending Sunday school at St. Stephen's Church in Harrington when she was young. "Mr. William Thompson was my Sunday school teacher, and he was very instrumental in my becoming a doctor," she said.

"My daughter used to ask me what I did in Harrington growing up," said Dr. Owens. "I told her that we used to go to Reese Theatre on Saturdays where we not only saw movies, but we watched pageants and talent shows."

And Dr. Owens told her daughter about the fundraising bake sales she used to help with on Saturdays. "We would cook the chickens the night before and stay up late and make the chicken salad," she smiled. "She probably can't understand how much fun that was back then."

Dr. Owens added that Delaware is a great place to raise children. "Kids are more stable when they know their neighbors and grandparents are near," she said. "And it seems that in Delaware, there's always someone near who cares about you."
