HARVEY BURGESS, EDITOR

1.00 Per Year in State; 1.50 Out of State

Entered as second class matter on May 9, 1913, at the postoffice at Harrington, Delaware, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Articles for publication must be accompanied by the name of the writer to insure publication, but not necessarily for publication.

To insure publication in the current week, all communications should be in this office not later than 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Dollars may be cheaper—but we're not receiving any more of them from our delinquent subscribers.

The dandelion crop has come in for scant attention this season, and we haven't heard the word elderberry mentioned once.

The Wilmington Evening Journal-Every Evening is about as independent as it was before it changed its name.

The male crab of a certain species is carried around under the arm of the female—and he is called a crab. Certain bipeds in breeches loaf while their wives make the living—and they are called men!

To illustrate the vision of the Journal editor, he went off the gold standard several years ago, long before the government had thought of such an idea. And no one has had to guard him against the perils of inflation.

After more than thirty years the government is beginning to think in terms of William Jennings Bryan on the silver question. Bryan was the wisest man of his day in many ways. He offered the only prevention of war: "Before we can declare war, let the people vote on the question, with the understanding that all who vote in favor of war shall bear arms."

Now that the troublesome beer bill is out of the way, the Legislature has but one more difficult hurdle before adjournment—the budget bill. There are many minor bills, many of which will be passed without contest, while others will not see the light of day again. Get the budget bill settled and the boys will soon be "out of the trenches" probably next week.

Wets and dries, in some instances, are hurling the word "hypocrites" about rather recklessly. This is not only a mistake of diplomacy, but we rather doubt the sincerity of the person who denies that anyone opposing his views may be sincere. Some of the brightest and best people in the world believe that the Eighteenth Amendment should stand, while others, equally bright and equally good, believe it should be repealed.

Arthur Brisbane earned his salary last week when he quoted a brief paragraph from another writer. Ek-George Bernard Shaw, back in England, says he is sorry that he visited America; that he knows less about the world now than he did before he made his world tour. Brisbane says "This may be true" and quotes from another writer: "He who would bring information home from his travels must take information with him."

It's a difficult task to pin anything to a politician. Darby creek, in southwest Philadelphia, overflowed recently and many families were marooned. A charge was brought that the walls built to protect that section from floods were not up to standard—and that politicians gave the contracts to their henchmen, who used inferior materials in their construction. The politicians went into a huddle and came out declaring that the walls were weakened by holes dug by muskrats. For once there was no rebuttal from the defendants.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

"Newspaper advertising gets home, but it does not stop there. It is the silent salesmanship that is always speaking for itself.

"Good business is said to advertise itself, but good advertising makes good business better.

"The man who tries to cut down his overhead by reducing his advertising is cutting the ground away from under his own feet.

"The secret of good business is not making a secret of it.

"Newspaper advertising began as an accident, but it has now been developed into a science and an art. Those who study it most carefully are those who discover the most direct approach to the pockets of the public.

"It is the most potent weapon for use in the war on depression because it reaches the man with money to spend when he has time to think about the last way to spend it. Edson R. Waite.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

Our Easter services were largely attended and much enjoyed. 20 persons united with the church.

Our Easter offering for World Service over $20.00.

The services for next Sabbath as follows:

9:30 A. M.—An old-fashioned class meeting, led by A. D. McCabe. Visitors welcome.

9:30 A. M.—The church school will meet in all departments, the superintendent, H. J. Ramsdell, having charge.

Offering next Sunday will be our regular offering for current expenses.

11:00 A. M.—The pastor will deliver the Easter sermon, having for his subject "The Angels' Easter Greeting." Text: "He is not here, for He has risen, as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord Lay."—Matt. 28:56.

The pastor will continue his Easter sermon. The chorus choir will repeat its Easter music.

6:45 P. M.—The Epworth League devotional meeting will be held. Oland Gleason will be the leader.

7:30 P. M.—A special Easter program will be given by two of our church school classes, assisted by the orchestra. It will be held in the new building.

Junior Epworth League at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Miss Virginia LeCompte, superintendent; Mrs. Grace Chason and Mrs. Pride assisting. All children under 14 years of age invited.

The Wednesday night prayer and praise service will meet at 7:30, led by the pastor.

Next Wednesday and Thursday a special picture will be shown at the Reese Theatre for the benefit of the Harrington Fire Company. In addition to the picture, a special vaudeville program will be presented.

M. P. CHURCH NOTES

The ladies and girls put on a wonderful finish to the contest last week. They fought determinedly to win to the last. With the aid of 30 points they received more than the men and boys by reason of their having more to attend the 12 weeks of the contest, they were able to cut into that 23 point lead that the men had amassed the week before. They were able to chip away eight from this lead and the men are content to call themselves the victors by 15 points.

But that is only half of the story. The women over a hundred strong and the men a hundred and fifty strong aided by the younger men and women and smaller children set an attendance record for Sunday School that will probably last as long as the church stands. No one will ever know just how many were present at Sunday School. The secretaries reported an attendance of 428 but another check up reveals that we had 439 and it is certain that we missed even some others. About 270 were present at the morning service. In the evening another congregation numbering about 200 saw the children bring the Easter message in story and song. It was a day that will live long in the memory of those who were present.

But now that the contest is over we hope that those who have been started on the right road will continue thereon. You are as welcome as the flowers in May. It is hoped that some good news will be forthcoming soon in regard to the treat.

This Sunday evening we are glad to announce that the Greensboro, Md., M. E. choir will be with us and furnish us with an evening of music. You remember the visit they made last year. This year's visit will probably be just as profitable.

The Ladies Aid Society will hold a chicken and waffle supper Thursday evening, April 27th. Tickets will be 50 cents and will include dessert. Buy a ticket and come out and enjoy a good supper.

FARMINGTON CHURCH NOTES

Dr. William C. Habbort, our district Superintendent, will preach in Farmington next Sunday morning. Come out and hear a message that will stir your very soul. Revival services begin Sunday evening in Farmington M. E. Church. It is earnestly hoped that our friends in the neighboring churches will cooperate with us in this evangelistic effort. We are expecting great things of God in these meetings. Let us work and pray for a real revival of religion.

Easter programs were presented last Sunday at Todd's, Epworth and Farmington. Nine children were baptized and ten persons received into preparatory membership at Todd's and Epworth. The singing of the choir was a special feature of the evening service at Farmington. The pastor wishes to thank all who helped in anyway to make Easter a day of triumph on Farmington charge.

Church Calendar—Sunday April

23. Farmington M. E. Church, 10.00 A. M. Sunday School, 11.00 A. M. Morning Worship, Dr. Habbart will preach, 7.30 P. M. Revival Service, special music, sermon by pastor. Prospect M. E. Church, 2.00 P. M. Sunday School, 3.00 P. M. Preaching.

THIEVES "DOPE" HENS THEN STEAL 'EM

The great god of sleep, Morpheus, has nothing on the chickens of Sussex county. They've taken to sleeping powders.

But the nocturnal potion has been forebly administered by alleged chicken thieves who recently snatched around 100 snoring foyls from their perches at night without a single squawk.

Chicken owners around Lewes, Del. believe this method is being used on their flocks, as they are steadily diminishing overnight, with never a cackle of protest. The farmers say the thieves entering the hen houses quietly, scatter a few handfuls of the sleep-producing powder which puts the chickens to sleep. A few minutes later they are bagged and carried off in the darkness without causing any disturbance.

TOMATO PRICES LOW

Canning factory owners in several sections of lower Delaware are ready to make contracts with the farmers to grow tomatoes for them this year. The price being offered by some of them is said to be so low that farmers cannot afford to purchase commercial fertilizer and till the crop and make a profit. On an average there are 60 five-eighths baskets to a ton, and all that is being offered by some of the packers, it is said, is ten cents per basket. The fruit even at this price is required to be fully ripe, measuring about two inches across and free from cracks.

Next Wednesday and Thursday a special picture will be shown at the Reese Theatre for the benefit of the Harrington Fire Company. In addition to the picture, a special vaudeville program will be presented.

LEAFY GREENS AND THE LOW COST DIET

Spring is here and there are many leafy greens that people may have just for the trouble of gathering, says Miss Pearl McDonald, Extension Service, University of Delaware. "But why should one use leafy greens? some one asks.

"Because," replies Miss McDonald "they supplement milk, eggs and cheese in assuring a supply of the different vitamins and the various minerals that are needed for good nutrition. They are also a valuable source of roughage which aids in good bowel regulation.

The leaves are really the chemical laboratory of the plant where food materials such as starch and sugar are manufactured and this is one reason why they are rich in these valuable food elements.

Nutrition authorities recommend leafy greens 3 or 4 times a week. To provide variety in the diet it is desirable to use many kinds of greens.

Turnip greens may be available throughout the year, if attention is given to successive plantings. Winter cress or land cress is abundant in this section in the late winter and spring.

Of the early greens, dandelions and poke are especially good.

Next Wednesday and Thursday a special picture will be shown at the Reese Theatre for the benefit of the Harrington Fire Company. In addition to the picture, a special vaudeville program will be presented.

LIFE'S LITTLE JESTS

A STRANGE SOUND

The two young lovers met at their usual trysting-place in the country lane. He was obviously excited about something. "Tell me, darling, tell me! Did you break the news of our engagement to your father?" She nodded. "Yes," she said; "I told him over the telephone this morning."

PRACTICAL, YES INDEED

"Has your son's education been along practical lines?" "I should say so. Three ball teams him to sign for the season."

Wrong Donkey. She had just accepted him, and they were blissfully discussing the "might-have-beens." "Darling," he inquired in the confident tone of one who knows what the answer will be, "why didn't you accept that little donkey, Jones?" "Because," she answered, dreamily, "I loved another." -Tit-Bits Magazine.

POULTRY

BALANCED FEED IS GOOD FOR TURKEYS

Well-Selected Ration Means Hatchable Eggs.

Turkey growers are learning that to insure fertile, hatchable eggs during hatching season, the turkey breeding flock should receive a well-balanced ration a month to six weeks before eggs are saved for hatching. Turkey raisers are coming to realize that there is very little difference in the mechanics of production between the turkey and chicken hen; they both need the same nutrients for good egg production.

A well-balanced ration causes to be stored up in the bodies of the breeders the necessary elements needed for the production of eggs that will hatch and poult that will live. Such a ration should consist of grain, a mash mixture of ground grains, animal food in the form of meat scraps or milk, green feed, minerals and plenty of fresh water.

Growers should feed a grain mixture composed of one or more grains, such as corn, wheat, oats or barley, morning and evening. Keep a mash mixture before the flock all the time. A commonly used mixture consists of equal parts of finely ground corn, bran, shorts, ground oats or barley, and meat meal or meat scraps. Ground wheat may be substituted for the bran and shorts, and milk may be entirely or partly substituted for the meat products when an adequate supply of the feed is available.

It may be necessary to supply some green feed early in the season. Alfalfa is an excellent form. Minerals such as bone meal and oyster shell are most important and should always be available. Don't neglect the drinking water!

Causes Leading to and How to Stop Egg-Eating

There are many causes which may lead to the egg-eating habit in poultry and the chief of these is the accidental breaking of an egg, for once the fowls have tasted "hen fruit," they will proceed to break the eggs themselves until they are made to stop it, and this is not altogether an easy matter. Very often the want of proper shell-forming material is the cause of an egg's breaking in the first place and the natural desire for lime will lead the birds to eat its shell as well as its contents. Hence the importance of keeping shell-forming material before laying hens at all times. A good remedy for the egg-eating habits is to make the nests as dark as possible, so that the hens are unable to see the eggs after they are laid; soft hay placed in the nest will cause the eggs to sink out of sight after they are laid. Another remedy is to take an ordinary egg, remove its contents, and fill it with mustard and pepper; although the fowl may tackle one of the first time, fill another one and you will find she has had enough. Another plan is to fill an egg with ammonia. -Los Angeles Times.

Germinated Oats, Barley Makes Good Green Feed

Germinated oats or barley makes a good green feed for poultry. It is usually fed when the sprouts are half an inch long, being put in the mash hoppers on top of the mash. The germinated grain can be very convenient, ly fed the first thing in the morning. The amount varies from two to four pounds per 100 birds, depending upon appetite and production. As production increases, the amount of germinated grain is increased. A good grade of oats should be used. The same rule applies to barley. One pound of dry oats makes one and three-fourths pounds of germinated oats. Grain can be successfully germinated by laying it on the ground and covering it with a gunnysack that is kept moist. -Los Angeles Times.

Poultry Squibs

Only strong vigorous cockerels that are typical of their breed and that have been bred from high producing large egg dams should be retained, from which to select the breeders that are worth while.

Hens must have shell forming materials in their rations, otherwise they cannot put shells on the eggs. Lime in some form is necessary and oyster shell is recommended as very economical.

Although the price difference in cents for quality in eggs is less than two years ago, the difference in per cent is greater.

Catawba county, N. C., poultry growers have sold one shipment of capons to eastern markets this season for 2 1/2 cents a pound.

By the act of handling each bird the owner will learn much about his flock. No piece of work conducted on the farm will show results as quickly as systematic, continuous culling.

W. A. Billings, Minnesota University farm, advises turkey growers against expansion for 1933.

A truck loaded with eggs burst into flames in London recently, but after the fire was extinguished it was found that not a single egg had been broken.

Experienced growers are of one opinion that constant heavy feeding of well balanced rations is the most profitable method of growing and finishing turkeys.

CAVERN IN HEART OF CORAL ROCKS

Barbados Has One of World's Most Beautiful Caves.

Although there is much to attract the attention of the visitor to the balmy island of Barbados, which is frequently termed "Little England," the principal aim of the souvenir hunter who goes there is to secure the rainbow-hued amonoes from the floor of Animal Flower cave, one of nature's curiosities. A short distance from Bridgetown, Animal Flower cave is not a usual haunt of the tourist. Because access to the cave is somewhat difficult hunters for the souvenirs it contains are about the only people to venture through its opening.

It is but one of numerous caverns hollowed out of the coral rocks by the snow-crested billows that thunder against the pitted shores of Barbados. These waves are constantly urged on by the ever-blowing tradewinds, which give the air the salubrious effect of eternal June.

The roof of the cavern is hung with stalactites, from which clear water drips continually. As the floor of the cave is covered with salt water no stalactites are formed.

This cave is generally considered to be a sublime spectacle. The long Atlantic roll approaches the headland in great unbroken waves until it comes in contact with the cliffs, when it dashes against them with a deafening roar, filling the opening of the cave with a watery curtain, the effect of which is peculiarly grand. At the commencement, when the masses of water are thick and compact, almost total darkness prevails within the cave. The air then changes to a brownish hue, which melts into a yellow glare until the wave has retreated, when a bright light breaks through the opening, lighting up the cave, again to be darkened by the next oncoming wave.

3 RULES big help to BOWELS

What a joy to have the bowels move like clockwork, every day! It's easy, if you mind these simple rules of a famous old doctor:

- 1. Drink a big tumblerful of water before breakfast, and several times a day. 2. Get plenty of outdoor exercise without unduly fatiguing yourself. 3. Try for a bowel movement at exactly the same hour every day.

Everyone's bowels need help at times, but the thing to use is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You'll get a thorough cleaning-out, and it won't leave your insides weak and watery. This family doctor's prescription is just fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin, and other helpful ingredients that couldn't hurt a child. But how it wakes up those lazy bowels! How good you feel with your system rid of all that poisonous waste matter.

Howe About:

America Wisdom Thrift a Blessing

I HAVE been reading Hendrik Van Loon's new geography in which oceans seem only magnified big creeks...

Nothing is lacking. Climate and soil the best; the rivers, mountains and plains happened to fall into the best possible arrangement...

There are all sorts of opinions about me. O. O. McIntyre even goes so far as to say: "His publication is filled with tolerance and wisdom and not with indignation."

I'm not very indignant; I've finally discovered that whatever is happening has happened before, and was intended to happen.

What is the object of saving? Nearly always to provide for sickness, old age; to educate children; to provide the comforts of life; to build better homes, business houses, schools and roads.

Most writers claim only a few men are intelligent, but I have never been of that opinion; if men did not have a good deal of intelligence, they would walk into the fire, into the river, and be destroyed.

The great number of the race proves that men know enough, and once a man has life, it is only a question of improving it.

Intelligence is no more than the cunning exhibited by a fox; knowledge inherited and acquired from long experience.

When I visit a theater I do not care for scenes from maternity wards or other gross incidents in the story of love.

Usually I hate the men; all I claim is they are better than women say they are.

The average American more than half believes he cannot be an entirely good man until he becomes a Y. M. C. A. worker (or other form of half-preacher), fully accepts some form of radicalism and engages professionally in Public Welfare work.

This belief is one of our worst American mistakes. The best and most useful citizens are the capable workers who do a little good as regular incidents in otherwise decent and busy lives.

Our best citizens do not take their own part. They are brave and capable in attacking the physical problems of life, but cowardly and inefficient in presence of the dangerous emotionalism we have steadily built up from the founding of the republic.

THE HOME GOING OF JOHNNY CHUCK

JOHNNY CHUCK had made up his mind to go back to his old home in the far corner of the Old Orchard. Yes, sir, Johnny was no longer obstinate. He didn't care what Polly Chuck might say.

So Johnny Chuck had made up his mind to go back home. The one trouble was that he couldn't decide when to start. You see, it was a long, long way back home.

It's safer than any other time," reported Sammy. "You know, or ought to know, that Teddy and Mrs. Fox and Old Man Coyote usually are resting then."

Now, though he didn't know it, Sammy Jay was watching to see if he would go and Sammy followed along behind, taking care not to show himself.

But no danger did appear, and slowly Johnny Chuck made his way toward the far corner of the Old Orchard. As he drew near he began to wonder what Polly Chuck would say.

A New Deal

The Dance

By JOHN GRAY

IT WAS the day before the all-important Junior ball at Tilton college. On the "spare room" bed in the Denby farmhouse lay the pink chiffon frock that Bertha had bought for the big event.

The whole house was in an air of expectancy and even the cows and chickens in the barnyard and pasture must have suspected that something was in the air from the happy, preoccupied air of Bill Denby, gruff and usually indifferent as he went about his daily chores.

Then George Fulton came with the news that changed all this air of pleasurable expectation to one of gloom and dejection.

"I've done the thing that seems most honorable," he announced. "It means that I can't take you to the ball." And with much faltering and many hesitations he proceeded.

It was not till George had gone and Bertha had gone to nurse her grief in sight of the pink frock, laid out so neatly that she permitted tears to flow. Bill Denby, who had looked in vain for his sister downstairs, found her there in the spare room. Bertha explained.

"I don't care so much about going with him," she fibbed, "but I wanted to wear the dress. I never had such a pretty dress before."

"See here," said Bill, shaking a defiant finger in her face, "you said this George is the boss of the dance. I'll show him I'm no outsider this time. I'm going and he's going to let me in. That's the least he can do."

What followed made Bertha feel as if she had suddenly been swept off her feet. The girl, beautiful, stately and brunette, but certainly older than George, took both Bill's hands in hers.

"What a wonderful surprise," she said. "I was going to get in touch with you tomorrow, but I didn't expect to meet you at the dance."

They danced for a few minutes and then drifted toward two chairs which they utilized for a conversation.

And that night when Helen and her new-found friend, Bertha Denby, whom she had seen once before as a little girl, said good night, Helen whispered to Bertha that she was engaged to Bill again.

BEER BILL PASSES HOUSE

for the bill would have been much larger as many of those opposing it favor beer but wanted to legalize its sale all over the State instead of confining it to Wilmington.

The act specifies that it shall be lawful to manufacture and sell ale, beer, lager, porter and wines having an alcoholic content not greater than 3.2 per cent. It gives the State School Tax Commissioner, who is Pierre S. duPont authority to issue licenses. A brewer will have to pay an annual license of $500 and in addition 3 cents on every gallon he makes. A distributor must pay a license of $250 and an additional tax of 3 cents on every gallon he distributes. Retailers will be taxed $100. They may sell by the bottle but the beverage must be consumed on the premises. They cannot sell to any one person more than 23 pint bottles at any one time.

Dispensers of the beverages will be taxed $100 and all drinks must be consumed on the premises. Sales will be restricted to the hours between 8 o'clock in the morning and 12 o'clock midnight. No one who is not 21 years old will be permitted to purchase the beverages. Licenses will be restricted those who have been residents more than three years. Sales cannot be made on Sunday or election days.

Licenses to dispense the beverage may be issued to any incorporated club or fraternal organization. Retailers, include stores, restaurants, hotels, or any place where food is served. The commissioner will have wide discretionary powers in issuing licenses and may restrict the number in any district where he thinks there are enough licensed stores. Advertising in Newspapers and magazines and by radio is permitted under the act.

The act repeals all sections of the Loose Law which are inconsistent with its provisions which means that the Loose Law is practically void so far as the consumption of beer is concerned anywhere in Delaware.

It is an emergency act to be effective only until a permanent control law can be put into effect. Such a bill has been prepared and may be taken up for consideration by the General Assembly today.

GOVERNOR SETS DATE FOR REPEAL CONVENTION

of the aforesaid act, I would state that the seventeen delegates to be elected at said election shall be citizens and qualified voters of the State of Delaware, and that seven of such delegates shall be residents shall be residents of New Castle county, five of such delegates shall be residents of Kent county, and five of such delegates shall be residents of Sussex county. The nominations for the office of delegate shall be by petition and not otherwise. A single petition may nominate any number of candidates not exceeding the total number of delegates to be elected from each county, and all candidates on any such petition shall be residents of the same county and shall reside in the county which said candidates propose to represent at such convention, and every such petition shall be signed by not less than one hundred voters of the county, wherein such candidate or candidates reside. The nominating petitions shall be filed with the Clerk of the Peace in the county which said candidate proposes to represent. The nomination shall be without party or political designation, but the nominating petitions shall contain a statement as to each nominee to the effect that he favors ratification, or that he opposes ratification, or that he remains uncommitted to either ratification or rejection of the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States, and no nominating petition shall contain the name of any nominee whose position as stated therein is inconsistent with that of the position of any other nominee as stated therein. The sixteenth day before the day fixed for the holding of such election shall be the last day for the filing of nominating petitions with the respective clerks of the peace, and thereafter nominations for the office of delegate to such convention shall be closed."

TEN CHILDREN

KILLED DURING 1932

"With spring weather luring children to play in the streets, a great responsibility is placed upon motorists and parents, and unless both take proper precautions this year, 1933 is likely to see a repetition of the frightful casualty record that marked 1932."

That warning was issued last week by the Delaware Automobile Association, A. M. A., Wilmington, Del., backed by up State statistics showing that ten Delaware children were killed and 302 injured in the streets and highways last year.

"The record shows," said William J. Lackey, President of the Association, "that these accidents occurred while children were playing games on streets and roads heavily traveled by motor vehicles."

"As we see it, responsibility rests first with parents; they cannot be unaware of the danger of unsupervised and unrestricted play in the highways. But failure of parents to keep their children off the streets does not relieve the motorist of the solemn duty to do everything humanly possible to safeguard children thus exposed to traffic perils."

"Our best advice to motorists is to take no chances where children are concerned. The motorists whose record is clean of accidents is the motorist who never assumes that a child is going to keep out of his way. He is prepared for the unexpected, and his cautious operation saves many children from death or injury. Every motorist can enroll in this class of careful drivers. The only qualification is common sense."

BOXING BILL SIGNED, TAKES EFFECT AT ONCE

Governor Buck, Thursday afternoon signed the bill which makes it possible to have ten-round boxing exhibits in this State and which also legalizes holding not more than two 20-round championship bouts in one year. The law becomes operative at once.

Under the former law, boxing bouts were limited to eight rounds, or a total of 30 rounds on any one card. This new law permits 40 rounds on any one card. Only two other States in the Union have laws permitting bouts of more than 15 rounds. In Nevada the limit is 25 rounds and in Louisiana, the limit is 20 rounds.

It is understood the State Athletic Commission will center its immediate attention on the development of amateur exhibitions as this new law gives the commission much wider jurisdiction over such exhibitions than it had previously. Also it is understood, they will try to build up local bouts, which have been hard hit by the depression.

Possibly next year, the members will give their attention to getting a championship bout for Delaware.
