

THE HARRINGTON JOURNAL

NINETEENTH YEAR

HARRINGTON, DELAWARE, FRIDAY, JUNE 2, 1933

NO. 9

DELAWARE VOTES WET ON SATURDAY BY RATIO OF 3 TO 1

Felton Only District in Kent County To Remain in Dry Column; Three Dry in Sussex

ALL NEW CASTLE DISTRICTS WET

The official canvass of the repeal vote in Delaware last Saturday, completed Tuesday in the Superior Court, revealed a State-wide majority of more than 32,000 votes in favor of the 17 delegate candidates favorable to repeal of the 18th Amendment. This majority is approximately the same as that first reported through the press, only slight difference being discovered as a result of the official count.

As there were no contests the canvass was comparatively easy. It now remains for the certificates of election, already certified by the courts, to be forwarded to Governor Buck and the Secretary of State, so that they may stand as a matter of official record. The repeal convention will be held at Dover on June 24.

Chief Justice Pennewill and Resident Judge Reinhardt officiated at the canvass in New Castle county, which started Monday afternoon and was completed Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

Eugene Ennals Berl, Wilmington attorney, and one of the 17 "wet" candidates, received the heaviest vote, polling 45,615 votes. He polled 35,481 votes in New Castle county, 4358 in Kent and 5776 in Sussex. Gamliel Garrison, one of the 17 "dry" candidates, headed the list opposed to repeal, receiving a total of 13,505 votes, of which 8444 came from New Castle county, 2011 from Kent and 3050 from Sussex.

The official canvass was completed by Chancellor Wolcott and Judge Harrington in Kent county and Judges Richards and Rodney in Sussex county.

Mr. Berl received 25,911 votes in Wilmington, while Mr. Garrison, high man on the "dry" ticket, received 5089 in the city.

KENT COUNTY
First Representative District (Duck Creek)
	Wet	Dry
1st—Smyrna House	216	63
2nd—Smyrna	298	134
	514	197
Second Representative District (Little Creek)
	Wet	Dry
1st—Lelpsic	182	66
2nd—Doved	264	174
	446	240
Third Representative District (Kenton)
	Wet	Dry
1st—Clayton	144	67
2nd—Kenton	171	198
	315	198
Fourth Representative District (West Dover)
	Wet	Dry
1st—Hazletville	240	37
Fifth Representative District (East Dover)
	Wet	Dry
1st—Dover	348	217
2nd—Dover	287	64
3rd—Dover	190	65
	825	346
Sixth Representative District (N. & S. Murderkill)
	Wet	Dry
1st—Willow Grove	130	9
2nd—Masten's Corner	75	69
	205	78
Seventh Representative District (North Murderkill)
	Wet	Dry
1st—Camden	169	128
2nd—Woodside	165	55
3rd—Wyoming	233	48
	311	231
Eighth Representative District (South Murderkill)
	Wet	Dry
1st—Felton	96	103
2nd—Frederica	215	107
	311	210
Ninth Representative District (Mispillion)
	Wet	Dry
1st—Harrington	271	227

C. E. Keyes Now Farm Loan Agent

Clarence E. Keyes, of Farmington, has just been appointed Local Correspondent for Kent county by Geo. H. Stevenson, the Farm Loan Commissioner's Agent in charge of operations for the Baltimore Land Bank District under Part 3 of the Emergency Farm Mortgage Act of 1933.

All farmers in this county, who require the type of re-financing authorized under Part 3 of this Act should, where possible, call in person upon Mr. Keyes, who is ready to discuss their individual financial problems and take applications for loans.

Referring to the need for prompt attention to the farmer's pressing financial requirements, Mr. Stevenson has let it be known that he is making every effort to perfect an organization capable of handling all business promptly and efficiently; that in this connection he hopes that all local interests, farmers, bankers and business men, will give full operation to his local correspondent, who shares in the responsibility of making this great credit service of fundamental help to the farmers in the 2nd Land Bank District.

It is pointed out that many farmers because of their involved financial situation will require assistance from both the Federal Land Bank and the Farm Loan Commissioner's Agent, and in order that this may be accomplished with the least possible inconvenience to the prospective borrower, the Agent has selected the Secretary-Treasurer of the Local National Farm Loan Association for his local correspondent. Attention is also called to the fact that the Federal Land Bank and the Office of the Commissioner's Agent are both housed in the Land Bank Building, insuring the closest co-operation in the administration of the farm credit laws under which they operate.

The Objects of Farm Relief

Farmers throughout the nation today are deeply interested in the objects and purposes of the farm relief legislation which was passed recently by Congress, and numerous inquiries are being received at the offices of county agents and at agricultural colleges in regard to the ways by which these relief measures will help agriculture out of its depressed situation.

One of these farm relief measures is the Agricultural Adjustment Act, which relates to the control of production of farm products in accordance with the market demands as a means of raising farm prices. The success of this Act and its administration, however, depends very largely upon the farmers themselves, for without their co-operation and support this relief measure will fail.

In discussing this subject through the press and over the radio, Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, has placed special emphasis upon the fact that participation in this agricultural adjustment program must be voluntary on the part of the farmers, and this fact was made clear in the following statement which has been released for publication:

"The right sort of farm and national relief should encourage and strengthen farmer co-operation. I believe we have in this new law the right sort of stimulus to that end. Unless, as we lift the farm prices, we also unite to control production, this plan will not work for long, and the only way we can effectively control production for the long pull is for you farmers to organize, and stick, and do it yourselves. The Act offers you promise of a balanced abundance, a shared prosperity, and a richer life. It will work if you make it yours and if you will make it work."

Government officials cannot and will not go out and work for private businesses. A farm is a private business, so is a farmer's co-operative, and so are all the great links in the food-distributing chain. Government men cannot and will not go out and plow down old trails for agriculture, nor build for the distributing industries new roads out of the woods. The growers, the processors, the carriers and sellers of food must do that for themselves. This Act is not a hand-out measure. It does provide new Governmental machinery which can be used by all who labor to grow and to bring us food and fabrics, to organize, to put their business in order, and to make their way together out of a wilderness of economic desolation and waste."

To Vote On Local Option Tuesday

Rural New Castle, Kent and Sussex counties will decide next Tuesday at local option elections whether or not they desire license to be permitted within their respective borders.

While sale of 3.2 percent beer is legal only in Wilmington now, beer sale would be permitted in each of the other three political subdivisions that vote in favor of license next Tuesday.

The polls will open between 8 and 9 o'clock a. m., standard time Tuesday and will close at 7 p. m. standard time.

This will mark the first time that Kent and Sussex counties have had a chance to vote on local option since 1907, when both voted dry. At that time rural New Castle county and Wilmington voted wet. At another local option election, held in 1917, Wilmington remained wet, but rural New Castle county joined the dry column.

The repeal election last Saturday marked the first out and out vote in this State since the respective local option elections.

Contrary to the usual custom in this State, it will be impossible to obtain ballots in advance of this election. The ballots will have to be obtained in the respective polling places and marked there.

The ballots, each measuring three inches by six inches, contain two columns, one marked "for license" and the other "against license."

FREDERICA

Commencement exercises of Frederica school will be held in the auditorium of the school on Monday evening, June 5th. The invocation will be delivered by Rev. N. C. Benson, pastor of Frederica M. E. Church. The speaker will be John Shilling of Dover. Valetictorian, Anna Thompson; Salutatorian, Edith Fisher; Class Color, Blue and White; Class Flower, Rose; Class Motto, Going Higher. The class play will be given on Friday evening, June 2nd, in the auditorium of the school, entitled "Raspberry Red." Those taking part are: James Flynn, Edith Fisher, Marian Councilman, Pearl Clendaniel, Francis Rothermel, Niels Jensen, Mary Slaughter, James Webb, William Anderson, Bernice Martin, Willard Betts, Sallie Lofland, and Charles Palmer. Class History, Lillias Moore; Class Poem, James Webb; Class Will; Niels Jensen; Prophecy, Marian Councilman; Copyist, Hilda Moore; Helpers, Helen Grace, Eva Massey, Pearl Clendaniel, Mary Slaughter; Property, Cleora Minner; Furniture, Mary Slaughter, Dorothy Hazel; Music will be furnished by the Milford Boys' Orchestra.

Mrs. Mary A. Boone and Mrs. Edith Melvin entertained at a house party over the week-end, Mrs. Anne Boone, Mrs. Helen Deputy and Miss Mary Melvin, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Thomas Kelly of Moore, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. John Palmer entertained at a house party from Saturday until Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Palmer and Miss Lucille Palmer, of Brooklyn, N. Y., Mr. Boone Palmer and friend, of Wilmington, Buddy Brown, of Philadelphia and Alton Palmer of town.

Mrs. Samuel Bostic was in Wilmington last Saturday. In the afternoon she attended the convention of the W. B. A. Lodge and in the evening a banquet.

Mrs. Bessie E. Stevenson announces the marriage of her daughter, Harriet E. Stevenson to William Earl Thomas of Harrington. They will reside in Harrington.

Mr. and Mrs. James Morris are receiving congratulations on the birth of a little daughter last Friday.

Mr. Samuel Bostic, of Frederica, is manager of the Odd Fellows' baseball team, Milford.

Mr. Snowden, of Plainsfield, N. J., O. M. Preetman and son Billy, of Ridgewood, Conn., Harry C. Harrington, of Elizabeth, N. J., and George Galvin, of Jersey City, N. J., were guests of Mrs. Anna B. Harrington on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wix and Mrs. Charles Knox, of Harrington, were guests of Mrs. Sue Betts on Friday.

Mrs. H. C. Blend and Mr. John Vane, of Vane Greenhouse, of Cheswood, were guests of Mrs. Virginia Spel and the Misses E. Helena and Bertha Case recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Denny Sharp spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. Robert Smith of Canterbury.

Miss Bessie Emerson is the guest of Mrs. Samuel Evans, of Milford.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Wix, of Wilmington spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. William Boyce, of Holly Oak, were recent week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Robbins.

Mr. and Mrs. William Conner and son, of Philadelphia, are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Mitten.

HARRINGTON AND WYOMING DIVIDE HOLIDAY GAMES

Harrington Wins in the Morning by Score of 2 to 0; Wyoming Cops Matinee, 7 to 3

WINTERS TWIRLS FOUR-HIT GAME

Harrington got an even break on the baseball diamond on Decoration Day, winning the morning game, played here, by the score of 2 to 0, and losing the afternoon game, played at Wyoming, by the score of 7 to 3.

In the morning game, Winters, twirling for Harrington, turned in a great performance, holding Wyoming to four hits. He was at his best with men on bases. Vodvarka, for Wyoming, also hurled a very strong game, holding Harrington to six hits.

WYOMING
	ab. r h o a e
Grant, c.	4 0 0 3 0 0
Fifer, 3b.	3 0 1 1 3 0
Hurley, cf.	4 0 1 1 0 0
M. Jackson, ss.	4 0 1 3 1 0
Michaels, 1b.	3 0 1 10 0 0
A. Jackson, rf.	3 0 0 0 0 0
Wilkinson, 2b.	2 0 0 2 5 1
Johnson, lf.	2 0 0 2 0 0
Vodvarka, p.	1 0 0 1 0 0
Totals	29 0 4 24 11 1

HARRINGTON
	ab. r h o a e
Shaw, 2b.	4 0 0 2 3 0
Hall, cf.	3 0 1 2 0 0
Masten, 1b.	4 0 0 12 0 0
Legates, ss.	4 0 1 0 2 0
Holloway, c.	2 1 2 7 1 0
Lord, rf.	3 1 1 2 0 0
Morris, 3b.	3 0 1 0 2 3
Simpson, lf.	3 0 0 1 0 0
Winters, p.	3 0 0 1 4 0
Totals	28 0 2 27 15 3

In the afternoon game, Harrington was engaged in a nurling duel, with Loller having a slight edge. Although the official scorer shows only one error against Harrington, our team was guilty of indifferent playing in the third inning, and several of the boys were demoralized. All of Wyoming's runs were made in this inning. Aside from this one period, Harrington played a good game. The score:

HARRINGTON
	ab. r h o a e
Shaw, 2b.	5 0 2 4 3 0
Hall, cf.	4 1 2 0 0 0
Masten, 1b.	4 0 0 9 0 0
Legates, ss.	4 0 2 1 2 0
Holloway, c.	3 1 0 5 1 0
Lord, rf.	4 0 2 0 2 0
Morris, 3b.	4 0 1 1 1 0
Simpson, lf.	4 0 1 1 0 1
Slalein, p.	3 0 0 1 4 0
Totals	35 3 8 24 11 1

WYOMING
	ab. r h o a e
Grant, c.	4 1 0 12 1 0
Minner, lf.	4 1 0 1 0 0
Hurley, cf.	4 0 1 1 0 0
M. Jackson, ss.	4 1 3 1 6 0
Fifer, 3b.	3 0 1 0 1 1
Loller, p.	3 1 1 0 0 0
A. Jackson, rf.	3 1 1 2 1 0
Willey, 1b.	4 1 1 8 1 0
Wilkinson, 2b.	4 1 0 1 2 0
Michaels, rf.	1 0 1 0 0 0
Totals	34 7 10 27 12 1

GREENWOOD

The Ladies' Aid of St. Johnstown Church will meet at the church on next Thursday evening, June 8th.

Mrs. W. H. Radcliff returned on Saturday from a visit with her son and family in Cleveland, Ohio. While away Mrs. Radcliff attended the missionary meeting held in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Stewart, of Teaneck, N. J., were guests of their mother over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Hollis attended the commencement exercises of the student nurses in Wilmington Hospital, where their daughter, Ethel, graduated recently.

Mrs. Carlos Tatman was taken ill on Tuesday and is recovering in the hospital.

The Home Demonstration Club will meet with Mrs. G. W. Hanks on Friday, June 9th. All members are requested to be present.

Children's Day exercises will be held in the M. P. Church on Sunday evening, June 11th.

The class night exercises will take place in the high school auditorium on Friday evening, June 2. The bacalaureate sermon will be preached at the M. P. Church on Sunday evening, June 4, by Rev. J. W. Parris. The students will furnish the music. Commencement exercises will be held on Monday evening, June 5.

Boy Scout Camps To Open July 3

During the past week all Scouts of the Wilmington Area Council, which includes all of Delaware and the Eastern Shore of Maryland, have received the Camp Folder for the Rodney Scout Camps, the Council Training Camp on the Chesapeake Bay.

This folder announces the 1933 camp season, which will open on Monday, July 3rd, and will run for six weeks, ending on August 14th. An invitation is extended to all Scouts to take advantage of this wonderful opportunity for fun, adventure, thrills, and real Scout training in such activities as bird hikes, nature "treks", pageants, "circus", swimming, Bull Mountain Trail hikes, craftwork, campfires, stunts and stories, treasure hunts, Scoutcraft, night games, overnight hikes, and cruises, rowboating and canoeing.

The folder also answers a number of questions that boys will want to know about Camp, as well as a number that parents usually ask regarding water safety, program, and the conduct of the Camp in general.

The Rodney Scout Camps are located on the Chesapeake Bay near Northeast, Maryland, and the Camp Reservation includes a thousand acres of fine woodland. The camping facilities, equipment and leadership are of the very best.

The camp rates have been lowered this year and in view of the shorter camp season it is expected that the camp will be filled to its capacity of 150 Scouts for all of the six weeks.

During the 1932 season fifteen from the troops of the General Torbert District attended the Rodney Scout Camps. These included four from the Harrington Troop, three from Milford Troop No. 1, five from the Milton Troop. It is expected that these troops will have an even greater enrollment this year and that the new troops at Lincoln, Elendale and Frederica will have wonderful camping opportunity.

Strawberry Field Meet To Be Held

Strawberry growers throughout the entire eastern section of the United States will be interested in attending the annual field day, which will be held on June 3 at Glendale, Md., which is the plant field station of the Bureau of Plant Industry of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The program will start at 10 o'clock in the morning with the growers assembling at the office of the Division of Foreign Plant Introduction Station, after which a brief inspection will be made of the strawberry seedlings in the propagating houses. Among the many interesting and educational features of this field day which will be called to the attention of the visitors will include an inspection of the leaf-topping tests and the species collection, in addition to visiting the variety, selection and seedling fields on the grounds of the District of Columbia hospital.

The growers will also have the opportunity to see the Blakemore, Bellmore, Redheart, Southland, Dorsett, Fairfax and Narcissian varieties, which have been introduced recently by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. These tests also include over 100 named varieties, both American and European, in addition to about 100 selections of wild species, 700 selections from previous plant breeding work, and about 30,000 seedlings which are fruiting this year for the first time.

This Plant Introduction Station is located one mile north of the Washington and Annapolis highway, which is known as U. S. 50, about 8 miles from the Peace Cross at Bladenburg, and about 20 miles from Annapolis. Signs on the U. S. 50 route indicate the location of this plant station for the benefit of motorists.

A lunch consisting of sandwiches, coffee and ice cream can be purchased on the grounds at a nominal cost, or visitors may bring their own lunches if they so desire.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank my friends for their kindness during the death of my mother, and for the use of automobiles and the gifts of flowers.—Drexel Bullock.

Felton Divides With Frederica

Felton and Frederica renewed their baseball feud by splitting their twin bills Tuesday. Felton won easily in the morning, 10 to 0. Frederica took the afternoon contest, 5 to 4. The score:

FELTON
	ab. r h o a e
East, 1b.	4 0 0 4 0 0
Killen, cf.	3 1 0 1 0 0
Bradley, c.	3 2 1 3 1 0
Johnson, 2b.	5 0 1 3 3 0
Slater, lf.	4 2 2 1 0 0
Ralph, 3b.	0 1 0 0 1 0
Minner, ss.	2 1 0 1 1 0
Walls, rf.	4 2 3 0 0 1
Truitt, p.	3 1 2 1 7 0
Thelander, 1b.	1 0 0 7 0 0
Totals	29 19 9 21 13 1

FREDERICA
	ab. r h o a e
Connelly, 2b.	2 0 0 2 1 0
Link, lf.	3 0 0 1 0 0
Faulkner, ss-p.	3 0 1 2 4 0
Wagner, c.	3 0 1 8 0 2
E. Taylor, 3b.	3 0 0 2 0 0
Postles, rf.	3 0 0 3 0 0
Hutchinson, 1b.	2 0 1 2 1 1
M. Taylor, lf.	2 0 0 2 0 0
Buckalew, p.	1 0 0 1 0 0
Lane, p.	0 0 0 0 0 0
Day, ss.	1 0 0 0 1 1
Totals	33 5 7 27 9 2

FREDERICA
	ab. r h o a e
Connelly, 2b.	5 0 0 0 1 1
Link, lf.	2 1 0 0 0 0
Faulkner, ss.	4 3 4 1 1 0
J. Wagner, c.	3 1 0 8 0 1
Hutchinson, 1b.	3 0 1 9 0 0
M. Taylor, cf.	4 0 0 3 0 0
Day, rf.	4 0 2 3 0 0
Davidson, p.	1 0 0 0 0 0
N. Wagner, p.	3 0 0 1 2 0
Garbutt, lf.	0 0 0 2 0 0
Totals	33 5 7 27 9 2

FELTON
	ab. r h o a e
Thelander, 1b-p.	4 0 0 10 1 1
Killen, cf.	4 0 0 2 0 1
Bradley, c.	4 1 1 2 2 0
Johnson, 2b.	4 0 2 5 5 0
Slater, lf.	2 2 1 0 0 0
Ralph, 3b.	4 0 0 0 0 1
Minner, ss.	4 1 1 4 5 0
Walls, rf.	3 0 1 1 0 0
East, p-1b.	3 0 1 3 0 1
Truitt, cf.	1 0 0 0 0 0
Totals	33 4 6 27 13 3

Phone Company's Change of Rate

The Diamond State Telephone Company has announced a new rate schedule for hand telephones. The new schedule stipulates that following the first billing date after February 5, 1935, the additional monthly charge of 25 cents will be discontinued for hand telephones which have been in service for a period of two years. For example, on February 15, 1935, the hand hand set charge will cease for those subscribers who have had hand sets in service since any date prior to February 15, 1935.

Although the new schedule is not to become effective until June 1, the Diamond State Company decided to give its hand set subscribers the advantage of an arrangement under which the two-year period will be calculated from February 15 of this year, instead of June 1.

It was explained by George K. Erb, Manager of the Company, that the additional monthly charge of 25 cents will continue to apply after February 15, 1935, in all cases where a subscriber has had a hand set for less than two years, the charge continuing in each case until a two-year service life has been reached. For example, on March 1, 1935, the hand set charge will cease for those subscribers who have had hand sets since March 1, 1933.

When a hand set is installed after February 15, 1935, either to replace a desk type telephone or in connection with new service, the additional monthly charge for a hand set will apply for two years only from the date of installation.

The new rate is similar to the one placed in effect in Pennsylvania upon order of the Public Service Commission of that State in February. While officials of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania expressed some disappointment with the ruling of the Pennsylvania Commission, the Diamond State Company has decided to make local hand set rates conform to those in effect in Pennsylvania.

N. A. Day has been visiting at Georgetown. Mr. and Mrs. William Boyce and Mr. and Mrs. George Culver and children, of Wilmington, have been visiting Harrington relatives.

HARRINGTON HIGH COMMENCEMENT ON JUNE SEVENTH

Graduating Class This Year Unusually Large, and Girls, as Usual, Outnumber The Boys

NO SPEAKER HAS BEEN ENGAGED

The commencement exercises of the Harrington Special School District are an innovation. No commencement speaker has been engaged, but in lieu thereof the Senior Class will present a pageant entitled "America Goes Forward." Democracy characterized, as the Spirit of Democracy is confronted by representatives from her realm. Some endeavor to destroy her principles and her organization; others are constructively helpful. Information concerning attendant situations is the determining factor in her well being. The pageant is concluded by ten tableaux.

A home room situation in charge of Miss Gladys Souders will conclude the program.

Miss Madalyn Tharp will deliver the salutatory and Miss Dorothy Markert the valedictory. The band will be under the direction of Paul Well and Miss Charlotte Kraybill will conduct the choruses.

The class consists of the following:

Ida Louise Bland, Houston, Delaware; Russell Caleb Bowdle, Berline Deborah Callaway, Harriet Callaway, Viola Reta Clendaniel, Pauline Pearl Cohen, Helen Decker, Eleanor Ada Frankhouser, Charles E. Greenhaugh, Louise Layton, Virginia M. LeCompte, Dorothy E. Markert, Virginia Louise Martin, Marguerite McCready, Clifford Outten, ten, Benjamin K. Rash, Abbie Marie Sanderson, William F. Smith, Joseph Welton Sullivan, Madalyn Tharp, Irene Janette Turner, Samuel Welch, all of Harrington, and Gladys E. Souders, of Farmington.

HOUSTON

On Monday night, June 5th, the commencement exercises of the Houston Junior High School will be held in the M. E. Church with the following program:

Music—Morning Song, Canoe Song, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Vinyard.

Invocation, Rev. J. C. Hanby. "Luther Burbank," Sara Simpson. "It Couldn't Be Done," Kathleen Pearson.

"Louis Pasteur," Johnson Coulbourne. Music, "Fleecy Clouds," "Sing Again, Nightingale."

Address, "What Do You Have to Offer in Market," Supt. W. H. Jump. Presentation of diplomas, Benton Counselman.

Music, "Auld Lang Syne." Benediction, Rev. J. C. Hanby. Mrs. Thomas Doyle made a short visit to Philadelphia and New York last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Phillips, of Salisbury, Md., were the guests of Miss Frances Coulbourne on Sunday.

Quick Hitchup of Big-Team Outfits

Average of One Minute Total Time Required in Plowing Contests.

By E. T. Robbins, Livestock Extension Specialist, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.—WNU Service.

Any farmer who can spare a minute has all the time he needs for hitching and unhitching a horse in a big-team outfit. These big-team outfits will be used more than ever in getting cheap and economical power out of Illinois' $68,000 horses and mules this season, but some inexperienced drivers have worried that it would take a lot of time to hitch up and unhitch the teams.

An average of a minute was all the total time it took to hitch up and unhitch a horse in big-team outfits entered in two plowing contests. There were 17 teams ranging in size from five to eight horses and including a total of 110 horses. The average time of hitching to the plows was 38 seconds a horse and the average time of unhitching was 22 seconds a horse.

Time was counted from the time the driver started to drive his team into position at the plow until he started plowing. At the close of the contest, time was counted from the time the driver stopped the plow until he started away from the plow with his team ready to go to the barn.

Five-horse teams were hitched up in two to three minutes, six-horse teams in from three to five minutes, and eight-horse teams in from four to seven minutes for the team. The teams were unhitched at the rate of one to three minutes for six-horse teams, and two minutes, 20 seconds, to four minutes for eight-horse teams. The remarkable uniformity of speed attained by the 17 men indicates that most drivers could do as well.

Big-team users have repeatedly said that the time of hitching and unhitching does not worry them at all. The larger the number of horses in their teams, the more work they can get done in a day.

Too Fine Grinding of Feed Eats Up Profits

Feeding costs of live stock can be cut and the margin of net return widened if the many farmers who grind their feed do not grind it too fine, it is pointed out by Ralph C. Hay, of the agricultural engineering department, college of agriculture, University of Illinois.

As much as eight cents may be saved on each 100 pounds of feed by grinding coarse rather than fine when electrical power is costing six cents a kilowatt hour, he said. Experiments at several stations show that from three to eight times as much power is required for fine grinding as for coarse grinding either of grain or roughage. "This rapid increase in power consumption takes place with increased fineness of grinding of grain or roughage in both hammer and burr type mills. However, hammer mills have some advantages in fine grinding.

"In addition to being cheaper, coarse grinding substantially increases the capacity of the mill and decreases wear.

"Some feeders object to feed ground excessively fine on the ground that there is more waste than in feeding coarser feeds and also that the mill dust makes finely ground feed less palatable. Feeding tests have shown less net return from cattle fed finely ground feed than from other lots fed coarse and medium ground feed."

Distribution of Silage

To obtain an even distribution of silage an Illinois farmer has hit upon a simple but effective device. An ordinary pitchfork is bound alongside the down pipe of the silo filler, the tines pointing downward and extending perhaps a foot or sixteen inches below the end of the spout. Just above the tines a pole is attached to the fork by means of a snap, ring, wire, clevis, or other convenient means. This pole extends to the removable doors of the silo, from which one man directs the stream of fodder about as necessary. The resulting silage has been as good as that tramped by as many as five men. Similar results are reported from time to time by other farmers.

Many Farmers Lose Land

There are about 6,300,000 farms in the United States. Of this number 2,520,000 carry mortgages. The "casualties" among farmers are high, especially in the last few years. It is estimated that 220,500 farm owners become renters yearly, and today one of every six farmers has been demoted to the rank of renter. The average farm measures 160 acres, and the average mortgage on a farm is about $7 an acre. With an increase in the price of farm produce the gap between ownership and tenantry will be bridged for many farmers.

Fighting Hop Disease

Oregon hop growers, who have found their crops attacked for the last three years by the devastating plant disease, downy mildew, expect that the disease will be brought under control by the work of plant breeders who are developing varieties resistant to the disease, and by control methods such as spraying and dusting, now being worked out. The work against the disease is being done jointly by the United States Department of Agriculture and the Oregon state agricultural college.

Stage Pest Hunt

Eighteen counties in western Ohio reported recently the extermination of 100,000 rats in a simultaneous drive made by more than 6,000 farmers in a pest hunt and poison campaign. Red squill was the poison used to kill off the rodents, and at each farm it was mixed with meat, fish and mash. This powder is made from a bulb and is poisonous to rodents but harmless to domestic and farm animals. The damage done by a rat is estimated at about $1 a year.—Ohio Farmer.

OUR COMIC SECTION

Events in the Lives of Little Men

ETUDE

FINNEY OF THE FORCE

Western Newspaper Union

Law in the Lead

THE FEATHERHEADS

Western Newspaper Union

Hair Raising Stuff

NO ALARM CLOCK

somnia?"
"I should say so. If I were to sleep two hours on a stretch I would think that I was a regular Rip Van Winkle."
Not So Ignorant
Small Boy—I don't think the gentleman next door knows much about music.
Mother—Why?
Small Boy—Well, he told me this morning to cut my drum open and see what was inside it.—Gazette (Birmingham, Eng.).

Not Fair
Mabel—Why did Belle break the engagement?
Edith—He was so untrustworthy. She found he was engaged to four other girls and he had only told her of two.—Brooklyn Daily Eagle.
Foot in It
Mr. B.—What delightful manners your daughter has.
Mrs. W. (proudly)—Yes, you see she has been away from home so much.—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

POULTRY

CHICK MASHES CAN BE MIXED AT HOME

Good Results if Properly Ground and Mixed.

By H. H. Alp, Poultry Extension Specialist, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.—WNU Service.

Many poultry flock owners who wonder about using their own farm grains for chick-starting feeds can do so with good results if they carefully select, grind and mix the ingredients.

Flock owners of the state were raising more than 38,000,000 chickens annually in the last census, so that economy of feeding is a big item.

When ground wheat is used in place of wheat bran and wheat middlings, a starting mash can be made from 50 pounds ground yellow corn, 15 pounds ground wheat, 10 pounds finely ground oats, 10 pounds dried skim milk or dried buttermilk, 10 pounds meat scrap, 4 pounds alfalfa leaf meal and 1 pound salt.

When soybean oil meal is available, the formula is 50 pounds ground yellow corn, 10 pounds soybean oil meal, 10 pounds finely ground oats, 10 pounds dried skim milk or dried buttermilk, 4 pounds alfalfa leaf meal, 10 pounds ground wheat, 3 pounds bone meal, 2 pounds ground oyster shell and 1 pound salt.

When wheat bran and wheat middlings are used in place of ground wheat, the formula is 50 pounds ground yellow corn, 4 pounds alfalfa leaf meal, 10 pounds wheat flour middlings, 10 pounds dried skim milk or dried buttermilk, 10 pounds meat scrap, 15 pounds bran and 1 pound salt.

When the chicks can be given milk to drink instead of water, a mash can be made from 55 pounds ground yellow corn, 5 pounds alfalfa leaf meal, 15 pounds finely ground oats, 2 pounds ground oyster shell, 15 pounds ground wheat, 2 pounds bone meal, 5 pounds meat scrap and 1 pound salt.

A mash mixture which has given satisfactory results when fed to chicks confined to batteries can be made from 40 pounds ground yellow corn, 20 pounds wheat bran, 20 pounds wheat flour middlings, 4 pounds alfalfa leaf meal, 3 pounds dried milk, 10 pounds meat scrap, 1 pint of cod liver oil and 1 pound salt.

Massachusetts Poultry About Free of Disease

A total of 180 poultry flocks in Massachusetts were completely tested and found free of pullorum disease last year, according to a report issued by the Massachusetts experiment station. Pullorum disease, also known as bacillary white diarrhea, is perhaps the most destructive disease with which poultrymen have had to contend in past years. The department of veterinary science at the Massachusetts State college has conducted tests of birds and conducted experiments in the disease for a number of years. Last year Massachusetts led all other states in the total number of flocks free from pullorum disease.

Since pullorum disease is transmitted from one generation to the next, most progressive poultrymen make an effort to buy hatching eggs or baby chicks only from flocks which have been tested and found free of the disease. The experiment station report shows that disease free flocks are found in every county in the state.

Feed Potatoes to Hens

Feeding of cooked potatoes to hens improves the ration by providing variety and palatability. They encourage consumption of feed and thus increase egg production. Unmarketable potatoes can be used advantageously for poultry. Raw potatoes are not satisfactory for hens. A good way to feed the potatoes is in a hot potato mash. By steaming or boiling potatoes until they mash freely, they can be mashed and mixed with equal portions of laying mash and fed to the hens while warm. Six to 10 pounds of potatoes for each 100 hens will be sufficient for one feeding a day, which can be either at noon or night.—Prairie Farmer.

Poultry Facts

China, which has long supplied quantities of frozen eggs to Great Britain, now has a rival in the market since Australia is shipping eggs to Britain, too.

The department of veterinary science of the Massachusetts State college, reports that 180 poultry flocks in Massachusetts were completely tested last year and found free of pullorum disease, one of the most serious poultry diseases.

Pullets must have substance and size in order to stand up under the strain required in heavy egg production.

To secure a good fall and winter egg production, the pullets must be the kind that mature early and come into production early.

When it comes to calories, one medium-sized egg, weighing about two and a half ounces in the shell, supplies 25 calories of protein and 45 of fat, making a total of 70 calories.

Khaki-Campbell ducks are popular for both laying and flesh production. They are very hardy and are wonderful layers.

It is no longer considered necessary to wait until the chicks are 48 hours old before feeding them. Chicks are now fed as soon as they care to eat.

One egg in September, October, November, and December is usually worth two in April or May. The profitable eggs are laid by early-hatched pullets.

Milks for Use in the Kitchen

Research Work Has Shown Food Values to Be Much Alike.

"I have noticed that you have some times used evaporated milk when giving inexpensive menus. Is evaporated milk as good as sweet milk and can it be used instead of it in any recipe? I always thought that some of the food value was taken out of it?"

This paragraph is quoted from a letter to a dietetic expert, who comments as follows:

We have changed our attitude in regard to evaporated milk in the last ten years, since much research work has been done in the nutrition laboratories and in the baby hospitals. It has been found that both evaporated and dried milk change very little in food value, and also that the process of preparing them makes the "curd" which develops as soon as milk reaches the stomach, so much smaller, that the processed milks are more easily digested than fresh milk. Pediatricians are ordering these milks, or boiled fresh milk—some of them even use freshly soured milk for infant feeding.

Those of us who have been brought up on fresh milk, do not usually care for the flavor of evaporated milk for drinking. Dr. Lydia Roberts of the University of Chicago, in an experiment with children, finds that after a short time they will take evaporated milk cheerfully. If used in the preparation of the market orders of the relief association at however, including an equal amount of fresh and canned milk, the latter for use in cooking.

In cooking, not so much difference is noticed, and in some dishes the flavor of evaporated milk is considered an improvement. I know a college girl who after years of making cocoa with evaporated milk, prefers it to sweet milk, and practically every one likes it as well. With caramel or chocolate flavor, it is always as good, or better. In a highly seasoned dish it seems to give little difference to the flavor. The fact that it can be whipped makes it an inexpensive substitute for cream in dessert. I have found that if a tiny bit of gelatine is added according to directions given, the time of whipping can be cut down to about three minutes.

The point in all diets of low cost or high cost that is important is to see that plenty of milk is used, because it is practically impossible to fulfill the requirements of nutrition without it. It makes no difference whether milk is drunk as a beverage, or whether it is eaten in soups, cream dishes, or desserts.

Once upon a time, before we knew so much about vitamins and minerals, milk was called the "perfect food." Now that term is modified to the "most nearly perfect" food. Children depend upon it for protein, calcium, phosphorus and a goodly share of the vitamin supply. Adults get their protein supply from other foods, but it is difficult for them to obtain the calcium they need from a milkless diet. It makes the question of vitamin less difficult.

While adults are not building new bone or teeth, they need the calcium to replace the breaking down of hard substances of the body, which is constantly going on. The other day a business man who has not believed that grownups need milk, asked a famous nutritionist his opinion—the answer was true and to the point, "Milk is an essential during the whole learning period."

Fish Chowder.

1/4 pound salt pork, cut in small pieces.
2 onions, sliced
2 pounds fish, cut in small pieces (cod, halibut or haddock)
1 cup boiling water
3 cups potato cubes
1 quart milk, or 2 cups evaporated milk and 2 cups water
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 tablespoon butter
Pilot biscuit
Fry salt pork in a deep kettle until crisp. Cook onion in fat five minutes. Add fish and potatoes. Cover with the boiling water and simmer until potatoes are soft. Pour in the milk slowly. Cook five minutes longer. Add seasoning and butter. Pour over pilot biscuit.

© 1933, Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original little liver pills put up 60 years ago. They regulate liver and bowels.—Adv.

Time Better Spent
Gossip is short lived in towns where business is rushing.

BOY! WHAT A GETAWAY

Watch how the big new Dodge "Six" shoots ahead in traffic its always in front and gets you there quicker

It's fun to drive a car that's so far ahead of others—in performance, style, beauty!... And it's more fun to own it—when you know how little more it costs than the lowest-priced cars!... See it—drive it—and thrill!

Sensational "SHOW-DOWN" PLAN Wins Thousands Overnight!

Imagine a car that sells itself—and doubles its sales almost overnight in city after city. That's what the new Dodge is doing... laying its cards on the table... then asking any other car near its price to match it on the open road, in traffic and up hills. Go to your nearest Dodge dealer today and ask for the sensational "Show-Down" score card. Then make your own "Show-Down" test against any other car.

DODGE "6"

with Floating Power engine wheelbase 115-INCH WHEELBASE $595 AND UP
Dodge Eight $1115 to $1395. All prices f. o. b. factory, Detroit.

NEW HOTEL EDISON 47th ST. NEW YORK JUST WEST OF B'WAY
1000 ROOMS EACH WITH BATH AND SHOWER
Circulating Ice Water... Radio... Large Closets... Full Length Mirrors
OTHER UNUSUAL FEATURES SUN-RAY HEALTH LAMPS Roof Solarium... Air-Cooled Restaurant ROOMS $250 SUITES $600 from from
IN THE HEART OF TIMES SQUARE

BEACH HOUSE (On the Ocean) SIASCONSET ('SCONSET) Nantucket Island, Mass.
Every facility for rest and recreation... golf, riding, dancing, tennis... and the safest bathing on the Atlantic. Dressing permitted in your room. No hay fever, malaria or influenza. Average temperature 70 degrees
1933 Rates From $5.00 Per Person Per Day INCLUDING MEALS
WRITE FOR FREE BOOKLETS

Entered as second class matter on May 9, 1913, at the postoffice at Harrington, Delaware, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Articles for publication must be accompanied by the name of the writer to insure publication, but not necessarily for publication.

To insure publication in the current week, all communications should be in this office not later than 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Much publicity has been given the fact that during the U. S. Senate's inquiry into the affairs of J. Pierpont Morgan, a circus midget climbed into Morgan's lap. It may not have been a midget after all. It may have been one of the exposed "preferred" list who felt that small.

Democratic America professes to look with scorn upon foreign titles, such as are bestowed upon the so-called nobility of the older countries, and in professing to scorn these titles, we are again proving to be hypocrites. To be frank, we are the biggest suckers on earth when it comes to falling for foreign titles. The most insignificant title holder, something about on the par with a fence-viewer, from the most insignificant country, may come here and he becomes the center of attraction. Social functions are arranged in his honor by dowagers whose fortunes were made in the glue or soap business. Europeans themselves know that their titles are of no importance; so can we blame them for being amused at our idiocy in attaching so much importance to them?

Barbara Hutton, the wealthiest heiress in America, who inherited the Woolworth millions, is to be married to one of the Midvani brothers. This will be his second matrimonial venture, he having been married to another American heiress, who divorced him, after arranged the inevitable "settlement"—that is, giving him money, much after the form of alimony—which idea is repugnant to any man worthy of the name. His two brothers, likewise, married wealthy American women—one of them married two wealthy women. The Midvani brothers have attained distinction in no line. They have not done anything worth-while, and in addition, they are as poor as Charley Mitchell or Harriman. Then why their success in landing foolish American heiresses? Here is the answer: Each one has the title of "Prince", a reminder of the days when a little moth-eaten country named Georgia existed in the Balkans. Georgia was absorbed by Russia, but being prince of nothing means more than an honest-to-goodness gentleman to most American heiresses. Next to the war debt, America has lost more money to fortune hunters than in any other way.

"BE HONEST WITH OURSELVES"

A plea to "be honest with ourselves" is voiced by Hendrik Willem Van Loon, author and historian, in the June issue of the Rotarian Magazine. Discussing conditions in other lands where "the firing squad has taken the place of 'argument' and 'imprisonment without trial' disposes of all those who fail to share the prejudices of the majority," he points out that this is no time for Americans to sit on the scornful seat.

"It is better," he suggests, "to bow our heads in humility and say 'There but for the grace of God, go we ourselves.'"

The depression, he continues, has brought to light a failure of Americans to realize what James Truslow Adams has called the Great American Dream—"to make the United States a country where people should not only make a better living than anywhere else, but should also be able to devote themselves to a higher mode of living with a greater freedom." But that has not been realized.

"A few of our neighbors have grown immensely wealthy. But many millions have joined the disinherited. The Middle Class is now fighting for its existence with its back against a fast-crumbing wall, and its case seems well-nigh hopeless.

"How did this come about? The reason is apparent to anyone with sufficient courage to face the facts. We sold our spiritual birthright for a couple of tickets in the Golden Calf Sweepstakes. We turned our back deliberately upon the old place of worship where we were taught the uncomfortable doctrine that the Gods will give us everything in return for a certain amount of honest sweat. In a perfunctory fashion we still told our children that virtue has its own reward. But none of us practiced what we preached for 'we lived but once' and 'you know how it is' and even if we ourselves rushed after the grab-bag-well, we could always placate our conscience with the thought that we did it for the sake of the wife and the kiddies."

To all of which Van Loon sounds an about-face. Paraphrasing a toast in the movie "Cavalcade," he offers this as a new war-cry, suited to the times: Greatness, Peace, Nobility.

"We will have to find the way out among the simpler realities of life."

REGISTER'S ORDER

Register's Office
Kent County, Del., May 1, 1933.
Upon the application of J. Frank Graham, of Harrington, Delaware, Administrator C. T. A., of Mary Porter Jones, late of Mispillion Hundred, in said county, deceased, it is ordered and directed by the Register that the Administrator C. T. A. aforesaid give notice of granting of letters Administration upon the estate of the deceased, with the date of granting thereof, by causing advertisements to be posted within forty days from the date of such Letters in six of the most public places of the county of Kent, requiring all persons having demands against the estate to present the same, or abide by an Act of Assembly in such case made and provided; and also cause the same to be inserted within the same period in the Harrington Journal, a newspaper published in Harrington, Del., and to continue therein three weeks.

Given under the hand and Seal of office of the Register aforesaid, at Dover, in Kent County aforesaid, the day and year above written.
GARRETT D. PARADEE, Register

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that letters of Administration were in due form of law granted unto the undersigned, on the first day of May, A. D. 1933, and that all persons having claims against the estate of the deceased must present the same, duly attested to the said J. Frank Graham on or before the first day of May, 1934, or abide the Act of Assembly in such case made and provided.

J. FRANK GRAHAM.

Address:
Harrington, Delaware.

NOTICE

STATE LICENSES

All State license fees should be paid at the Clerk of the Peace's Office during the month of June. There will be a 5 per cent fine added in July; 15 per cent in August and 25 per cent in September.

ERNEST C. MACKLIN,

Clerk of the Peace.

In and for Kent County

Dover, Delaware

TOMATO PLANTS

MAULE'S EARLIEST OF ALL
BREAK OF DAY

20 cents per dozen in boxes
50 cents per hundred loose

Quality Poultry Farm

W. D. SCOTT, Prop.

HARRINGTON, DELAWARE

LE GRANDE FOOD STORES

are owned and operated by the man behind the counter.—We serve and save for you.

LE GRANDE FOOD STORES

PRACTICE ECONOMY and QUALITY at the LE GRANDE FOOD STORES

"SEASONABLE ITEMS"

Can be found at your LeGrande Food Store. During the warm weather do not worry about what to eat. Simply look at our advertisements or consult us.

Calvert Int. Preserves 2 lb. jar 19c	Libby's Tomato Juice 2 cans 17c	Fly Ribbons 3 Rolls 7c	CASH SPECIALS! Friday, June 2, to Thursday, June 8	Paper Napkins Pkg. 10c	Phillip's Pork and Beans Can 5c	Red Salmon Can 17c
Sliced PEACHES 2 No. 1 cans 19c	Sealock MILK 3 tall cans 16c	LeGrande No. 2 Tomatoes, 3 cans 25c LeGrande Sweet Potatoes . . can 10c White House Apple Sauce, 2 cans 19c Ice Cream Salt, 10 lb. bags, 2 bags 35c Oval Sardines, Del Monte, 2 cans 19c		Swan Matches 6 boxes 25c	Pabst MALT Can 35c
NOW! ZEE FREEZ No stirring! No Ice Flakes! Each Package Serves Six. Four Minutes to Prepare!		SUGAR 10-lb. bag 43c <small>FRIDAY AND SATURDAY ONLY</small>		MAJESTIC Select-Delicious MAYONNAISE Half pint Glass top, pint 10c 21c Sandwich Spread 1/2 pint 10c
Campfire MARSHMALLOWS 2 1/2-lb. pkgs. 19c	ASTOR TEA 1 3/4 oz. pkg. 5c 1/4 lb. 10c	Unceda Bakers Soda Crackers, 1 lb. pkg. 17c Old Va. Vanilla Wafers, 2 lbs. . 25c Grape Juice, Widmer's, pints . . 15c Grape Juice, Widmer's, 10 oz. 2 bots. 19c High Rock Orange, Ginger Ale, Lime & Lithia Sarsaparilla, Root Beer, bot. 10c <small>(Plus Bottle Deposit)</small>		FLY-DED SPRAY 2 small cans 2 half pints pints 19c 25c 23c
RED FLASH coffee 1 lb. 19c	Mokay Coffee 1 lb. 27c	BUTTER 1-lb. rolls 25c <small>LAND O'LAKE SWEET CREAM FRIDAY AND SATURDAY ONLY</small>		Softasilk CAKE FLOUR Pkg. 25c <small>Strawberry Shortcake Taste</small>
Libby's PINEAPPLE Large can 19c	DeLuxe Coffee 1 lb. 23c	Jar Rings, pkg. . . . . 5c Jar Tops, dozen . . . . . 25c Quart Sour Pickles, jar . . . . 15c Quart Sweet Pickles, jar . . . . 25c Majestic Mustard, 2 jars . . . . 17c		3 loaves 19c <small>Same Size — Same Quality — Same Olive Oil Content — Same Satisfying Composition</small>
		Del Monte FRUITS FOR SALAD Large can 27c		Libby's PEACHES Large can 17c

Fresh Fruits and Vegetables

READY TO HELP YOU SHOP AND SAVE

E. C. RAMSDELL
W. E. BILLINGS
HARRINGTON, DELAWARE
EMERSON G. LANGFORD
FARMINGTON, DELAWARE
LeGrande Food Store Member

Quality Meat Headquarters

A RECORD OF SERVICE AND PROTECTION FOR 28 YEARS

One fact alone proves the strength and good management of this bank, the fact that it has held steadily year after year to one unchanging course of safety in spite of all the changes that have taken place in these years.

This has not been due to superior wisdom upon the part of anyone in this bank. We have simply been guided by certain fixed principles of sound banking from which we have never deviated.

We do not speak of these things in a boastful spirit, but rather in a thankful spirit. We thank our depositors for their splendid loyalty and cooperation. We thank all of our friends in this community for the confidence placed in us.

More than ever, we wish to make the services of this bank an aid to the financial success and security of every depositor. With this thought, we extend to you our best wishes for the future.

THE PEOPLES BANK OF HARRINGTON
Harrington, Del.

ORDER A TRIAL TON

LET 'BLUE COAL' RESULTS SPEAK FOR THEMSELVES

You'll never know how good 'blue coal' is until you've tried it. . . burned it. . . compared it. We'll stack it up against any fuel you've ever used. Order a trial ton on our recommendation. Phone today

Better heat for less money

I. D. Short Lbr. Company
Harrington, Delaware

Porch Rockers REDUCED

It will pay you to see us before you buy.

WILBUR E. JACOBS
HARRINGTON, DEL.
OPPOSITE POST OFFICE

OF LOCAL INTEREST

Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Black and daughter, Margie, spent the week-end in Philadelphia.

Wanted—Colored girl or woman for general housework. Apply at Journal office.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Brown and little son, of Newark, N. J., spent several days this week with Harrington relatives.

Mrs. Anna Gordon and Mrs. Grace Chason spent Monday at Rehoboth.

Mr. and Mrs. William Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Tharp Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. H. Shears and Brook Simmons, of Philadelphia, spent the week-end with Mrs. Noah Cain.

Edward Clayton, Miss Thelma Briggs and Miss Powell, of Langdale, Pa., have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Potter.

Mrs. Anna Walker, of Wilmington, has been spending the week with her daughter, Mrs. W. R. Massey.

Dr. R. J. Emory spent the week-end with friends in Baltimore.

Mrs. Anna Gordon has been entertaining Mrs. Harry Webb, of Millford.

Mrs. J. W. Richards, of Wilmington, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Powell.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Robinson, of Germantown, Pa., spent Sunday with Mrs. Thomas G. Hurd.

James Calvin Smith, of Greensboro, Md., has been visiting his brother, W. S. Smith.

Mrs. E. B. Harrington is spending several days with relatives at Cannon.

Mrs. J. L. Harmstead visited her son, Lawrence, in Philadelphia, on Thursday. The latter is in the Wills Eye Hospital, where he recently underwent an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Decker and children spent Sunday in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Mollie Dunnon and Joseph Tracks, both of Easton, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Selby and children, of Camden, N. J., and Mrs. John LeCompte, of Lincoln, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Plummer.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Tee, of Middletown, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Tee, of Wilmington, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tee.

Miss Nila Graff, of Lancaster, Pa., visited Joseph Pepper and daughter on Sunday.

Carlton Neal, of Carney's Point, N. J., spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. J. E. Warren.

William Sneath, Mrs. Benjamin Knox and Joseph H. Pepper visited the latter's sister, Mrs. Alex Dill, of Wilmington, Saturday.

Miss Mollie Warren recently entertained Mr. and Mrs. Al Denny and daughter, Ruth, and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Harrington and daughter, Florence, all of Millford, and Mrs. Robert Smith, of Denton.

W. P. Phillips, of Wilmington, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Goslee.

Mrs. Leslie P. Gardner and children, of New Orleans, La., are spending the summer with Mrs. Gardner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Finch.

Mrs. C. W. Wharton, of Rutherford, N. J., is visiting Mrs. E. W. Dean.

Mrs. William Moore, of Wilmington, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Nimrod Minner.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moore, of Washington, D. C., were guests of the latter's mother, Mrs. Anna Price, on Tuesday.

Mrs. A. S. Pollitt, of Girdletree, Md., and Harry E. Smith, of Paton, California, are visiting their mother, Mrs. Theodore Smith.

Miss Marguerite Sterling, a student at Delaware College, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Sharp.

Miss Dorothy Tharp, who is teaching at Richardson Park, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Tharp.

Mrs. W. B. Montgomery, of near Wilmington, spent a few days this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. White.

Mrs. W. E. Palmer has been the guest of Mrs. Laura Stevenson, at Dover.

Mrs. A. V. Satterfield, who has been visiting her daughter in Philadelphia, returned home Monday.

For Sale—Two dumpbodies, one steel and one wood.—Amos Layton.

Emmett Raughley, who has been undergoing treatment in a Philadelphia hospital, has returned home, very much improved.

Mrs. Anna Minner has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. George Melson, at Delmar.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pitlick spent the week-end in Wilmington with Mr. and Mrs. William Way.

Lost—A fox hound puppy, blue with black spots. Finder return to Brownie Billings, Harrington, Del.

Miss Barbara Masten and Miss Charlotte Beauchamp, who have been attending Hood College, Frederick, Md., have returned home for the summer.

Mrs. Fred Bailey spent Saturday in Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Callaway and son, Robert, of Chester, Pa., have been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Ryan.

Mr. and Mrs. Lollis Welch and Mrs. William Soper, of Chester, Pa., spent the week-end with Mrs. Nora Tibbitt.

For Sale—Sand and gravel. Apply to C. B. Morris, Greensboro, Md., phone 47.

Ezekiel Fleming, aged 60, died Saturday, the result of a paralytic stroke. Funeral services were held from his residence Wednesday afternoon. He is survived by his wife and the following brothers and sisters: William and Thomas Fleming, of Harrington; Henry Fleming, of Wilmington; Mrs. Joseph Holt, of Wilmington; the Misses Annie and Laura Fleming, of Harrington.

Dinners at Swain's Hotel 50c each week day; 75c Sundays.

Mr. and Mrs. William Nace, of Philadelphia, visited Mrs. Emma Harrington on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Lenderman, Miss Helen E. Lenderman, Watson Lenderman, Miss Ruth V. Clark and Emery Raymond, of Wilmington, spent Decoration Day with Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Day.

For rent or sale—8-room house, bath, lights, water, screened porch, double garage; one 7-room bungalow.—C. N. Grant.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Otwell, Mr. and Mrs. Friedel and daughter, Betty, of Philadelphia, and Miss Myrtle Otwell, of Wilmington, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Otwell.

Ronald Morrow, of Philadelphia, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Spicer.

BRICKS—When building use good Bricks. For Quality and Service, call Milton Brick Co., Inc., Milton, Del. Phone Milton 91.

Mrs. David Hampton, of Wilmington, is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Rose.

George Short, who has been attending Washington & Lee University, at Lexington, Va., is home for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Warren, of Ellendale, have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Spicer.

Dr. James D. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Irving Smith, of Camden, N. J., were guests of Harrington relatives on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patterson and children, of Brooklyn, N. Y., have been guests of Mrs. Patterson's brother, Joe Kirkaby, for a few days.

Berkshire pigs for sale.—Norman Outten, Route 5, Harrington, Del.

Mrs. Kenneth Meredith, who has been spending several weeks with her sister, Mrs. Clyta Wilson, in Wilmington, has returned home.

Miss Verta Sapp, who has been visiting Mrs. Henry Otwell for several days, has returned to her home in Wilmington.

Mrs. Betty Cunningham, of Elsmere, visited her mother, Mrs. Tucker, on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Hoey and daughter, Charlotte Ann, of Wilmington, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Fleming.

Mrs. Harry Hudson, of Philadelphia, is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Tharp.

Mrs. Agnes Ottini, of Wilmington, was the guest of Mrs. Brown Smith over the week-end.

Miss Lucille Tharp entertained Miss Mary DeHan, of Wilmington, over the week-end.

Alton Downes is giving the Chicago World's Fair the "once over" this week.

You will find a harness and collar mender located down T. Lane Adams' driveway. Work that will satisfy. Gather up all your old broken traces and hames.

J. R. Powell, of Wilmington, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Powell.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Wroten, of Wilmington, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Wroten this week.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Abbott, of Pottstown, Pa., have moved to Harrington and occupy the Eggert residence on Wiener avenue.

When you buy a battery for your farm lighting plant, consult the one who knows.—Satterfield & Ryan, Delco Authorized Sales & Service.

Miss Janette Tharp, who has been attending the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Va., is home for the summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wright, Joshua Smith and Miss Mattie Smith spent Sunday at Valley Forge.

Mrs. Mabel Bradford, of Wilmington, spent Tuesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Derrickson.

Dr. Lawrence L. Fitchett, of Wisconsin, a graduate of University of Pennsylvania Graduate Hospital, will locate in Harrington on or about the middle of July, occupying a suite of rooms in the Reese Theatre building.

Arthur Kildare, of Conshohocken, Pa., has been visiting Harrington relatives the past week.

George Callaway, of Wilmington, has been the guest of his sisters here.

The Miami Beach Bloomer Girls Baseball Team, of South Philadelphia, played the Harrington baseball team here Saturday. The game was a farce, Harrington, with a patched-up line-up, scoring at will. The "Miami Beach Baseball Girls' Baseball Team" is not exactly a misnomer, with these exceptions: It's almost a certainty that they have never seen Miami or any other beach, and judging from the way had never seen a baseball ball until that day.

ANNOUNCEMENT

V. LAY PHILLIPS
OPTOMETRIST

HARRINGTON, DELAWARE

Wishes to announce that he will not be in his office during the week of June 5th.

He will be attending a Post-Graduate course covering some new developments for the better care of the human eye, as perfected in the famous eye clinics of The Pennsylvania State College of Optometry, located in Philadelphia, Pa.

His absences from his office on these occasions are always made in the interests of his patients and are in keeping with the best traditions of the professional man who sincerely wishes to render the very best professional service.

Henry Ford
Dearborn, Mich.

May 22, 1933

I suppose that I may claim to be the first Ford Dealer. I not only made cars, but sold them and frequently delivered them myself. The "drive away" is not new; often I have driven cars from Detroit to towns in Ohio or Indiana or Michigan to make delivery. There were no good roads in those days, and the people where I drove had never seen a motor car before.

My first really enthusiastic customers were Country Doctors. They were the first to realize the value of dependable transportation to a widely scattered practice.

Even today I occasionally hear from some of those first Ford users. We had to teach local mechanics how to care for the cars. That is how Ford Service began, which is now found everywhere in the world.

We believed from the beginning that a sale does not complete our transaction with our customer — it creates upon us an obligation to see that our customer's car gives him service. Ford Dealers know their duty to the public in this respect.

I can say of Ford Dealers generally that they have been and are men of character and standing in their communities. Most of them have been with us many years, which indicates that we agree on basic business principles. The Company provides that the methods used to sell the Ford car are consistent with the self-respect of the Dealers who handle it.

The present Ford V-8 is the peak of our 30 years experience. We have never made a better car. Its eight-cylinder engine is powerful and smooth running. The car is admittedly very good looking and has comfortable riding qualities. It is economical in operation because of advanced engine design and low car weight. It is the fastest, roomiest and most powerful car we have ever built.

Henry Ford

FUNERAL SERVICE

We render the highest type of funeral service at moderate cost.

Years of experience in serving representative families.

F. W. HARRINGTON
Harrington, Del.
Telephone 26

PERSONAL SERVICE

Ours is not a large organization, but a small personal one, designed to render friendly, helpful, personal service. We supervise every service rendered—act as a friend and advisor in time of sorrow. Our aim at all times is to be helpful in every possible way.

K. W. Boyer

Funeral Director and Embalmer
Phone 74 Harrington, Del.

More Show For Your Money

REESE THEATRE

By Popular Request we are returning "Smiling Thru" one day, June 7. Your last chance to see the most beautiful picture ever made.

Fri.-Sat., June 2-3.
Engagement Extraordinary
Robt. Montgomery, Walter Huston and Madge Evans in "HELL BELOW"

Mon.-Tues., June 5-6.
Engagement Extraordinary
JOHN BARRYMORE in
"REUNION IN VIENNA"

Wed., June 7, One Day Only
Returned by popular request
NORMA SHEARER and LESLIE HOWARD in
"SMILING THRU"
Your last chance to see it

Thurs., June 8, One Day Only
JAMES DUNN in
"HELLO SISTER"

Fri.-Sat., June 9-10—2 days
Another Big Week-end Show
Plus
SYLVIA SIDNEY and GEORGE RAFT in
"PICK UP"

STRONG!!

We are proud to hold prestige in this community.
Proud that our bank is strong in the character of its resources—in its management—in its ability to serve.
This bank enjoys strength worthy of those it serves.

For this reason we invite your business.

PROSPER IN 1933

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF HARRINGTON
Member Federal Reserve Bank System
Harrington, Delaware

HOW MARGE WON

Your drug or department store is now featuring Outdoor Girl Face Powder, as well as the other Outdoor Girl Beauty Products, in generous 10c and 25c sizes in addition to the $1 package. If you would rather test five of the Outdoor Girl Olive Oil Beauty Products first, send the coupon below for the Beauty Kit.

OUTDOOR GIRL
Olive Oil
BEAUTY PRODUCTS

CRYSTAL CORPORATION, 130 Willis Avenue, New York Dept. H2
I enclose 10c to cover mailing costs. Please send me liberal trial sizes of your five famous aids to loveliness.

NAME _____
ADDRESS _____
CITY _____ STATE _____
MADE IN AMERICA FOR MISS AMERICA

Washington Digest

National Topics Interpreted by William Bruckart

Washington.—The country has just witnessed the move by President Roosevelt to gather People Trust to himself another Roosevelt armful of authority in his broad program to put the nation's business back on its feet. In the legislation to encourage national recovery and provide for construction of public works as a stimulant to the economic machinery, the President asked for authority to use in his discretion second in amount only to that accorded him in the inflation provisions of the farm relief program.

It might be assumed that the delegation of so much power to the President would create a distrust among the people of the nation, and that probably would be the result in any country save our own. Here, however, it appears that the great masses of the people would rather have that power vested in Mr. Roosevelt than in the 500-odd representatives of their own selection who sit in the two houses of congress. I find in my rounds in Washington that the opinion of observers is virtually unanimous. Their information comes largely from "back home," as the politicians say, and so everybody seems to believe the President is more capable of doing things in this crisis than congress, except congress. I might add parenthetically the reason congress has granted so much is because individual-ly and collectively it is afraid to go against the wishes of a man who has caught the imagination of the electorate as President Roosevelt has done.

Although the legislation accords the President the sweeping powers only for two years, his rights during that time to form a partnership with commerce and industry are almost limitless, albeit they depend upon voluntary co-operation by commerce and industry to a certain extent. But by the system of licensing which is set up, it is made to appear without much analysis that business had better cooperate or else.

In the first instance, all the long-standing antitrust laws are abrogated, kicked out of the window, so to speak. Upon the application of any association that is representative of a trade or group or business, the President is empowered to arrange with that organization and its individual members for a code of rules governing its competition. In other words, he is empowered to say in substance that prices may be set high enough to afford all of them a reasonable return of profit. It is obvious, of course, if there is a fair return factories will open and normal channels of trade will begin to flow. That means employment, and employment means credit of buying power. But the agreement must be within the bounds of reason or the President will not accept it.

There are only two restrictions to the President's power in this direction. Let me quote them: "The President may agree to those codes of competition if he finds (1) that such associations or groups impose no inequitable restrictions on admission to membership and are truly representative of such trades or industries or subdivisions thereof, and (2) that such code or codes are not designed to promote monopolies or to eliminate or oppress small enterprises and will not operate to discriminate against them." It is the plain purpose of that provision to see that such things as chain stores do not swallow up the corner grocery and that a great corporation may not drive lesser ones out of business.

Thus, we see the government fostering a program that is designed to assure for business a living wage and in providing that, it is the hope of the President that there will be a living wage for workers, too. To see that his policies are carried out and that the code is observed, the President has the right to revoke licenses which he has given with his approval of the competition agreements or codes.

But the program is not all a bed of roses for business. The President may, as a condition of his approval of the codes, "impose such conditions (including requirements for the making of reports and the keeping of accounts) for the protection of consumers, competitors, employees and others" as he may deem necessary in the public interest. That provision is a touchy spot. In effect, of course, the President will take little part in administration of the law. It will be done by those to whom he has given the administrative duty. And it never has been and probably never will be that any group of government officials see things the same way. Consequently, one hears many predictions that commerce and industry will be making reports in such detail and in such numbers, and investigations will be going on to such an extent that industry will be engaged in going over its books in one way or another about all of the time.

Further, it never has been popular among American business men to have all of the facts about their affairs disclosed. It is predicted now that this condition, developed highly by the federal trade commission, will be very much worse and that one factory will probably know all about its competitor, including the so-called manufacturing secrets. From these has come the progress of modern manufacturing and distribution. The only way out for such a corporation, therefore, is to stay out of the agreement. The President's advisors, the corps of professors who hereabouts are denominated as the "brain trust," contend, however, that no corporation can afford to remain outside of the trade program.

The public works section of the bill is of a less imaginative character. Outright and with HopetoSpeed no exceptions, it Recovery makes provision for the expenditure of three billion three hundred million dollars for public construction. It proposes the expenditure of these funds over a period of two years, or so much of it as may be necessary, to provide employment. The construction work, of course, will cause all of the lines of business making or selling material for building to speed up. It ought to expand pay rolls in a hundred-odd lines as well as give the railroads some business. It appears to be a gigantic effort to increase the momentum of recovery which most everyone believes to be well under way. If it succeeds, no one will question the cost. It holds out that hope anyway, according to the President.

Mr. Roosevelt has not drafted the program of construction, nor did he offer to congress the plan of taxation to raise funds for the interest on the bonds for financing the work. He left the tax matter to congress and thus avoided causing trouble for himself, for he can say thereafter that the taxes were laid by the wisdom of congress.

After a lapse of twenty years, the senate of the United States again has performed the functions of a court of trial on articles of impeachment. It has just concluded this task on charges of impeachment adopted in the house of representatives against Harold Louderback, a federal judge in the northern district of California, marking the tenth time in our history that the senate has organized as a court of trial.

Even bias Washington is not acquainted with the procedure because it occurs so seldom, and the trial drew to the galleries crowds of the proportion attracted by the most extraordinary murder case. They were, for the most part, curiosity seekers. The thing was new. Of course, there were some serious witnesses in the galleries, awaiting call, but there were enough others desiring to see the trial that the places of the witnesses would have been taken instantly had they stayed away.

It will be recalled readily that one President, Andrew Johnson, was impeached and tried, but he was acquitted of the charges by a single vote. W. W. Belknap, a secretary of war, also was tried and acquitted, and a senator, William Blount, of Tennessee, was also tried but the charges against him were finally dismissed for lack of jurisdiction. Federal judges were defendants in the six other instances. Judge Pickens was the first federal judge impeached. He was convicted of malfeasance and drunkenness in 1804. Judge West H. Humphreys was convicted in 1862 on charges that he upheld the secession movement, and Judge Robert W. Archbald was convicted in 1913 for corrupt collusion with coal mine owners and railroad officials. The other judges were acquitted.

Because the senate sits as a court so seldom, it might be worth while to recall what the procedure is. In general, the federal constitution prescribes the work to be done and how it shall be performed. The house of representatives sits as a grand jury, hearing accusations or charges brought against a federal official. The charge originally is one of "high crimes and misdemeanors" followed by a statement of a house member that "I, therefore, impeach" the individual named.

The next step is performed by a house committee to which is referred a resolution of impeachment and that committee determines whether it will recommend a formal vote of impeachment by the house itself. Thus, when the matter is placed before the house it votes for or against impeachment, which to all intents and purposes is like an indictment by a grand jury.

On March 4, just a few hours before the old congress adjourned, a senate attack appeared in the middle aisle of the chamber and addressed Vice President Curtis, announcing the arrival of a committee of the house. Their arrival having been duly noted, the Vice President inquired their mission.

"To present articles of impeachment against Harold Louderback," replied Representative Summers, of Texas, the chief manager on the part of the house.

"They will be received," replied Mr. Curtis, without emotion. Then the senate sergeant at arms arose in his place.

"Hear ye! Hear ye! Hear ye!" cried the sergeant at arms. "All persons are commanded to keep silent on pain of imprisonment while the house of representatives is exhibiting to the senate of the United States articles of impeachment against Harold Louderback."

ODD THINGS AND NEW—By Lane Bode

ELECTRIC BOLTS!
THUNDERBOLTS HAVE AN AVERAGE LIGHTNING FLASH FORCE OF 100,000,000 VOLTS.

TROPIC PARASITES!
95% OF ALL PERSONS IN THE TROPICS ENGAGED IN AGRICULTURE ARE INFECTED BY THE HOOKWORM PARASITE.

HYBRID-RADISHES
HAVE BEEN CROSSED WITH CABBAGES, GIVING A PLANT AS THOUGH RADISH LEAVES GREW ON CABBAGE STALKS.

WNU Service

Ideal Life Sought for Men in Forestry Army

Sports Will Help Keep Up Morale of Workers.

Washington.—Work in the new reforestation camps—and there will be plenty of it—is to be well balanced with play. No one knows better than army officers, old hands at training large bodies of men, the valuable truth of the old adage, "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy."

Since President Roosevelt ordered the army to take charge of the men while they are in camp, Maj. Gen. Hugh A. Drum, deputy chief of staff, and his aides, have been busy drafting a recreation program for the new army of labor.

Specific hours for play will be set aside and it will not interfere with the schedule of work. Rather, officials believe, it will add tremendously to the efficiency of the workers.

Baseball Heads List.
Baseball will, of course, head the list of sports for the quarter million unemployed city dwellers who are to be given jobs in the healthy outdoors. Each of the camps is to have 200 men in it, under tentative plans. Officials hope to develop a spirit of rivalry between camps located within a reasonable distance of each other to build up keen competition.

Camps will be located near a stream wherever possible, and this will provide another much loved sport—swimming.

GABBY GERTIE

"Women often add to a man's lighter burdens."

there will be indoor games of all sorts, and movies. Cards will be provided, and there will be checkers, dominoes and the inevitable jigsaw puzzles.

Secretary Dern has had a number of offers from college heads throughout the country, and as a result there may be instituted in the camps educational courses designed to prove highly valuable to the recruit when he leaves the conservation corps and goes back into the life he came from.

Living conditions for the men will be similar to those of the army.

The food will be just as good as army rations. Often it will be better. Forces working in the forests will be able to procure more fresh food than the dough boys.

Personnel will be under army supervision demanding a clean camp, regularity of habits and a high morale. The men will not be expected to maintain a schedule as rigid and tiring as the army demands. Because the army is the only force qualified to carry the burden of personal supervision of the forestry workers, their mode of life will be formulated somewhat along army lines.

Another thing. Neither the army, which is supervising the work camps, nor the forest service, which will supervise the actual work in the woods, wants shirkers.

Free Medical Service.
Medical reserve corps officers will be stationed at the camps. Field medical kits will provide everything necessary for treatment of injuries except those of a major nature. In such cases, arrangements will be worked out to provide speedy removal of all patients to a medical center.

Vacationists who take to the woods when the mercury climbs into the upper brackets will find the 161,000,000 acres of national forest even more pleasant than usual this year.

New forest trails and roads, public camp improvements and a limited amount of tree planting are only a few of the additions to the vacationer's pleasure that President Roosevelt's civilian conservation corps will bring.

In the field of safety from fires there will be new telephone lines strung, new landing fields set out for airplanes, new fire breaks, lookout towers and observatories, and range water development. Also, the reforestation army will tackle the job of insect and tree disease control, and other range and forest work.

Tap Dancing in College.
Boston.—A course in tap dancing is compulsory for all freshmen at Tufts college.

Father Sage Says:
The man who is proud of the way he orders a dinner when dining with others should be allowed to do it. Then he has to pay for it.

HOLD ON

by LEONARD A. BARRETT

From his library window the writer sees a robin nesting in a cedar tree. High winds blow and the rain dashes against the tree, but the little robin holds on. Only occasionally will she leave the nest for a bit of food, soon to return to the four blue eggs. Urged by a maternal instinct the robin just holds on and will continue to hold on until the baby robins reward her for her long-suffering patience and work.

This matter of "holding on" is a very important consideration these days. The tendency on the part of a large number of persons is to grow discouraged with present conditions and lose heart. They can see no possible future in the economic order of today, and consequently are inclined to give up the ship in the midst of the storm. Such persons should learn a lesson from the robin nesting in the cedar tree. There would be no little family of robins if she refused to hold on. There certainly can be no future to any person who refuses to fight and easily gives himself a prey to the forces which are hurled against him. The easiest way out may be to succumb to fate, but that is not the way of the soldier. We are engaged in a war for the preservation of the social order. Every war costs. The late World War cost not only money but also the lives of many young men. These men paid for the war in blood, we are paying for it in the anguish of the soul. In this war there is no room for either the quitter or the coward; the soldier alone will fight, for he has learned how to "Hold On."

"Holding On" required a firm and unswerving trust in the fundamental principles of government. A republic will stand so long as its citizens are loyal and true. "Holding On" to the principles upon which our nation is founded and our Constitution adopted is a basic necessity. The momentous command of George Washington should be remembered by every true American, "Place None But Americans on Guard Tonight."

"Holding On" also calls for faith in the future of our economic order. Panics have come and gone. Depressions have existed before. From these we emerged, stronger than before. Patience, hope and courage will open up the way before us. The indications of recovery are already visible—"HOLD ON."

© 1933, Western Newspaper Union.

Hat of Crepe Paper

A new kind of hat for the crochet lovers, and even the crochet novices! Most novel, and yet most practical, simple, and smart, for these new crocheted hats are made in the newest of new spring styles.

The hat shown costs all of fifteen cents, or the price of one fold of crepe paper! It is made perfectly simple in a straight band and afterward shaped and draped as you like. Remember there are 48 colors in crepe paper, so you can have one for each of your pet costumes.

Here are the directions for making this sand colored hat, using one fold of sand crepe paper. Cut it across the grain into one-half inch strips, stretch and twist your strips loosely, and begin to crochet with a number 2 hook.

Crochet a chain about 2 inches longer than head size. Make loop by crocheting into first stitch. An attractive ribbed effect will be secured if the hook is placed through the back half of the stitches. Continue to crochet, never adding stitches, until band is 6 1/2 inches high. It will be found that the extra 2 inches in length will be lost in the crocheting so that the band when finished will be just head size.

You can see how the straight band can be draped, folded, sewed, and tacked to effect this shape, or any other shape that may suit your own style or fancy.

Colombia Honors a Dead Hero

Scene in Bogota, capital of Colombia, when thousands gathered for the official funeral of Corporal Candido Leguizamo, Minister of War Carlos Uribe Gaviria, addressing the throng, told how Leguizamo, ambushed and mortally wounded by 27 Peruvian bullets, killed 6 and routed the remainder of a Peruvian patrol on the Putumayo river. Leguizamo, at his own insistence, was supported by two nurses and died "standing on his feet as a Colombian soldier should."

The Household

By LYDIA LE BARON WALKER

One thing which a woman who wishes to look young must avoid is putting her hand to her face. It is an old gesture, this caressing the face. Children never do it. Young folk seldom do it. Old folk often do it. Just why, remains for a psychologist to determine. It is not in the province of this article to do more than advise women who are past the meridian of life to refrain from the gesture. Otherwise they must expect to be classed with those who are acquiring the habits of old folk. While advancing years do not, in themselves, detract from a woman's charm, the follies and eccentricities of age tend to mar the attractiveness. One of these ways is smoothing the skin of either the face or neck with the hands.

The attitude of a thinker was supposed to be one in which the face rested in the crotch of hand and thumb, or in which the cheek was supported by the curved digits. The arm was propped at the elbow on some table, chair arm, or other support. Here again one won-shaped and draped as you like. Remember there are 48 colors in crepe paper, so you can have one for each of your pet costumes. Here are the directions for making this sand colored hat, using one fold of sand crepe paper. Cut it across the grain into one-half inch strips, stretch and twist your strips loosely, and begin to crochet with a number 2 hook.

Crochet a chain about 2 inches longer than head size. Make loop by crocheting into first stitch. An attractive ribbed effect will be secured if the hook is placed through the back half of the stitches. Continue to crochet, never adding stitches, until band is 6 1/2 inches high. It will be found that the extra 2 inches in length will be lost in the crocheting so that the band when finished will be just head size.

You can see how the straight band can be draped, folded, sewed, and tacked to effect this shape, or any other shape that may suit your own style or fancy.

Gesture of Thought.

Shading the eyes with the cupped hand is another old attitude. Young persons do this only when sunlight is so strong that it is dazzling, and the shade which the hand affords is welcome. Aged persons frequently assume the posture when they are trying to concentrate. It shuts out distracting sights which disturb the mind as too strong sunlight dims the physical vision. As a matter of fact, merely closing the eyes has the same advantage. So let this gesture of shading the eyes with the hand be scrapped for the sake of youthfulness.

There are so many delightful things which maturity alone can supply, that adults should give themselves the benefit of them, without letting gestures of age betray their advancing years.

A Spring Paean.
One finds it difficult to be grouchy when there is paean of thanksgiving ringing in the heart. It quells depressing and disagreeable thoughts. The sight of spring flowers, the fragrance of blossom-filled shrubs, the sound of singing birds, even the patter of gentle raindrops which revive the earth and its gardens, all conspire to make one grateful. It is a time of happiness.

There is a natural affinity between happiness and gratitude. When a person is happy, the mind is grateful instinctively, and this attitude finds its reflection in a happy countenance. Such an expression sends a glow through the heart of those who see it. It is a friendly look the happy person gives, and it is a happy look which it invariably gets in response.

There is a glorious infection about fine things just as there is a miserable infection about disease-carrying germs. The germs of gratitude and thanksgiving are contagious. They are among the fine things of life. We pass good feelings along by happy expressions. They are inviting just as sour expressions are repelling.

© 1933, Bell Syndicate—WNU Service.

Learns to Write at 83.
Oregon City, Ore.—It's never too late to learn, declares Mrs. S. M. Basham, who celebrated her eighty-third birthday by starting to learn to write.

SUCH IS LIFE—Questions and Answers

AND SO METHUSELAH LIVED 900 YEARS

GEE, WHAT BECAME OF ALL HIS XMAS GIFTS IN BIRTHDAY PRESENTS

POP, WHAT IS A GENTLEMAN FARMER?

A MAN WHO IS SO WELL FIXED THAT HE DOES HIS CUSSING AT A GOLF BALL INSTEAD OF A MULE!

Camera Can Snap Cannon Ball

New Apparatus Takes 2,500 Pictures a Second.

New York.—A portable super-speed camera, which takes 2,500 pictures a second and can photograph objects moving with the rapidity of a cannon projectile, has been demonstrated here.

The camera, operating at 125 times the speed of a normal motion picture camera, has no shutter and the film runs continuously instead of being stopped for each "frame." One hundred feet of film, which usually runs in four minutes, speeds through this camera in the space of two and a half seconds.

Farm Administrator

Motion pictures taken with the new development prove conclusively that the eye is faster than the hand. They showed the hand is not removed from a burning cigarette until 28-100ths of a second after the cigarette begins to burn, whereas the eye is closed 13-100th of a second after a brilliant light is flashed before it.

They showed also that a wink requires 11-100th of a second.

POTPOURRI

Tallow From Trees
A tree, originally from China but now grown in Georgia and the Carolinas, produces a substance that is used like tallow for candle making. It is called the Tallow tree. In the fall, capsule-like bodies containing the tallow form among the leaves. These are crushed, boiled, and refined for the purposes needed.

© 1933, Western Newspaper Union.

Spider Feasts on Birds

From the American tropics, the New York zoological park has acquired a spider that hunts and eats small birds.

George Peek of Moline, Ill., was selected by the President to be chief

The MAY DAY MYSTERY

by OCTAVUS ROY COHEN

Copyright by Octavus Roy Cohen.

WNU Service.

CHAPTER IX—Continued

"Why?"
"He wouldn't tell me. There's always been a lot of mean talk around the campus about Pat. He was better than the rest of them and they all hated him for being more of a man. And Larry knew of it. I never made any secret about it."
"They why did he suddenly come and speak to you day before yesterday?"

Again her cheeks turned white. "Somebody had told him something."
"Yes. I remember. He was infinitely patient. 'Who?'"
"Antoinette Peyton."

"I see. . . . And how did Miss Peyton happen to pick that particular day to tell him?"

"Because—well, it happened this way, Mr. Hanvey." She walked to the window and motioned him to join her. "You see, all the college buildings are on a hill here. Way over yonder on that big hill is the women's dormitory. When you walk over there you go down the hill beyond the Bowl and pass through a pretty little patch of woods. There's a place down there all kind of closed in—everybody knows it. It's called the Tower and couples go there lots of times. It's a sort of college rule never to go in there when someone else is there. I mean not to go in when you hear somebody."
"Tony Peyton was coming from the dormitory and Pat and I were in there. Tony Peyton eavesdropped and then busted right in on us. She—she gave Pat the devil."

"I see. . . . But what business was it of hers?"
"The face which Ivy lifted to Hanvey was a study in bewilderment."
"I don't know!"
"Didn't she say?"
"No. Of course I could tell that there was something between Tony and Pat; or, anyway, there had been. Tony was awful sore, and Pat was mad. He told Tony to mind her own business and that if she butted in on him she'd be starting something she couldn't stop. Tony said he ought to be ashamed of himself because I was such a kid, and he said he'd do what—what he d—n pleased."

"And you?"
"I just stood there. It seemed like I was an outsider. I hadn't even seen Pat mad, and I never thought Tony could get so sore."

"It was a real fuss?"
"Yes, sir. I think Tony must be crazy about him, and she was jealous. Anyway, I mean she acted just like that."

"You didn't get any hint—from either Pat or Miss Peyton—that there was, or had been, between them?"
"No, sir."
"And you think Miss Peyton told your brother that he ought to do something about it?"

"Yes. . . . Larry is crazy about her. He didn't act nice. He said I'd have to quit going with Pat. I said I wouldn't, and he said he'd see that I did."

Jim's eyes were half closed. His voice came in a slow, disinterested drawl.

"And then he told you he was going over to see Thayer, didn't he?"
"Yes, sir."
"That was about half past one?"
"I think so."
"He was real sore when he left you, wasn't he?"

She seemed startled. "Not so sore enough to kill anybody, Mr. Hanvey. Don't you understand? Larry isn't that kind at all. Maybe he could have quarreled with Pat and had a fight, although I never have known Larry even to do that. But anyway, he could have beat Pat. He never would have used a knife."

"Do you know if he and Miss Peyton are engaged?"
"I don't think so. I mean, I think Larry would like to be, but I'm sure Tony was crazy about Pat Thayer."

"Mmm! Did you tell your brother that you and Pat were engaged?"
"Sure I did."

"Did you mention that Thayer was wearing your diamond ring?"
"No. I just didn't remember. I wasn't scared to tell him, though."

"I don't believe you were. . . . Tell me: Would Larry have been likely to recognize that ring? Did he know it pretty well?"

"Yes, sir. It was my mother's."
"Larry went to see him to make him stay away from you. He was mad when he went. Yet you think he didn't kill Thayer?"

"I'm sure of it, Mr. Hanvey. Larry couldn't stab a man. Anyone would tell you that."

"They have," admitted Jim. "And they've told me the same thing about Miss Peyton and Max Vernon." He rose ponderously. "I'm much obliged, Miss Welch. You've been a darn good sport and you've helped me a heap."

She rose and faced him, and for a second a womanly dignity seemed to have settled upon her.

"Will you tell me the truth about one thing, Mr. Hanvey? Have I helped my brother or hurt him?"
Jim smiled a broad, lazy smile.

"You've helped him, Ivy. I give you my word on that. You see, for the first time I got a little of the truth."

He watched her as she opened the door. He saw her give a start, and her slim figure stiffened.

"You!" she cried sharply.
"Yes, it's me," answered Reagan from the hallway.

"You've been listening!"
"No, I haven't. Honest. I've just been waiting for Jim Hanvey."

Ivy withered him with a glance and stalked off down the hall. Reagan entered the room grinning.

"Any luck, Jim?"
"Plenty."
"Got any hunches?"
"Yeah."

"Against who?"
Hanvey chuckled. "Everybody," he answered. Then: "Did you see Vernon?"
"I did."
"Show him the knife?"
"Yep."
"What did he say?"
"He said," answered Reagan, "that the knife is his!"

CHAPTER X

They spoke briefly to the dean and left the building together. Below them was the Bowl; long concrete stand on either side, cinder path circling the diamond; men in track suits looping easily around the oval or practicing field sports; the regulars indulging in a practice game against the freshman baseball team. Under the trees were a half hundred cars; some empty, some occupied by youthful couples; the stands held perhaps a hundred students and through the woods one could glimpse couples—usually of mixed gender—walking slowly and talking earnestly.

"Mm-m! Did You Tell Your Brother That You and Pat Were Engaged?"

It was a quiet, peaceful scene; a scene which made a profound impression on the Brooding Hanvey. He was fascinated by the informality of it. His idea of college had been so different; earnest, spectacled young men and women studying aggressively; a general air of stiffness and studiousness. But this. . . . why, they actually seemed to like it. He gazed upon the young folk with real envy and there was a feeling that he had missed something in life—something which he would like to go back and take. He expressed all this haltingly to his companion and Reagan looked at him in amazement.

"What the h—l would you do with a college education, Jim?"
"I dunno. . . . It ain't the education, John. But when I look at this sort of thing I get a hunch it ain't what's written in books that these kids take away with 'em. Maybe I'm wrong, but it seems I'd sort of like to look back on four years of this kind of stuff."

"Yeah! and all they're thinking about is finishing up."
"Praps. I ain't saying they ain't. But, by golly! a few years from now they'll look back on this. . . . Oh, h—l! there I go getting mushy again. Fine big stiff I am to yearn for an education at this late date."

"You said it!" muttered Reagan. "Me, I never have thought college amounted to much."
"No—I reckon maybe it wouldn't—for you. I'm just a softy."

They slowly descended the hill toward the Psi Tau Theta fraternity house where Reagan's car was parked. Students eyed them curiously and buzzed with conjecture. Hanvey was relaxed. He was thinking—and Reagan was bitterly disappointed because he didn't seem more excited about his disclosure regarding the ownership of the knife which had been used to kill Paterson Thayer. He was even a trifle hurt, though he wouldn't say so. He attempted to elicit a comment from Hanvey—and went at his task circuitously.

"You and the kid seemed to get along fine, Jim."
"Ivy Welch? Say, she's a regular, John."

"Darn little cat if you ask me. Did everything but scratch my eyes out."
"You don't say. I reckon she must have a weak spot for a poor old fat feller like me."

"Ten to one she didn't tell you anything."
"Gimme the ten, John. She told me plenty."

"What?" Doubtfully.
"We-ell, she said that she and Pat Thayer were engaged. Thayer and Max Vernon quarreled just before Thayer was killed. Thayer and Miss Peyton had a run-in because he was shinin' up to Ivy Welch. Then Ivy and her brother had a row, and he left her with the intention of seeing Thayer and ordering him to lay off."

"She knew we had all that dope already."
"Maybe she did, John—and then, again, maybe she didn't. Anyway, it was refreshing to get it from somebody who ain't accused of this killing. Allowing for the fact that she'd maybe try to shield her brother, I don't think she's got a thought in the world except to help us catch the person who really killed Thayer." His eyes closed slowly. "She sure was in love with the guy."

"Kid stuff!"
Hanvey turned slowly and regarded Reagan for a minute.

"I think that's the same mistake everybody made when they thought of her in connection with Thayer. All they said was: Kid stuff."

Reagan's eyes narrowed.
"What you driving at, Jim?"
"Nothin' special. Just ramblin' in my speech, as usual. Only remember this John—when a girl of seventeen falls in love, it ain't kid stuff to her, no matter what it seems like to other folks. I think maybe everybody would have done better to realize that Ivy Welch was a woman grown. Get me?"
"No!" exploded Reagan. "I don't. What do you mean?"

Hanvey shrugged. "Durned if I know," he confessed.
Then: "So Max Vernon admitted that was his knife, eh, John?"
"Yes."

"Did he see the blood on it before he made that admission?"
"E—l, no, Chief. I ain't that dumb. I had the blade covered when I showed it to him. I asked him if he'd ever seen it before and he said, sure, it was his. I said: 'You couldn't be mistaken about that, could you?' and he said he certainly could not. Then I told him he'd put his foot in right, because that was the knife that killed Pat Thayer, and I showed him the bloody blade."

"And what did he say?"
Reagan shook his head. "He said he didn't give a d—n if it had killed Thayer or not, he'd have anything to do with it. He's a darn fresh kid, Jim—and he hasn't told the truth about anything since I first stuck him in the hoosegaw. Let's go over and have a talk with him. What say?"
"Not yet, John. Let's go to the undertaker who's got Thayer's body. I want to take a look at it."

"Come ahead." Reagan stepped into his car and Jim crawled in on the other side.
"Any of Thayer's family down here?" asked Hanvey.
"A sister. Seems to be a pretty nice sort, but she won't talk much. I got a hunch that he was always a sort of bad egg, Jim. Ain't of course, a feller can't press that kind of an investigation too strong with a man's sister when he's lying dead in the next room."

"Gosh, no." They turned into Maryland road and sped along under the spreading shade trees which lined the paving on both sides. "John," asked Hanvey suddenly, "when you searched Thayer's room did you find any jewelry?"
"Nothing but a watch and chain."
"No diamond ring?"
"Sure not. What gave you the idea? Just because I over-looked a Max Vernon's knife you haven't got any right to think I'd miss that sort of stuff everywhere."

"Aw, now, John—don't you go gettin' peeved at me. I just asked you a question friendly-like, and—"
"I ain't peeved, Jim. But dog-gone it! You seem to have more ideas and less words than anybody I ever saw."
Jim chuckled. "Don't mind me, kid. I'm just dumb, and the less I say the smaller chance there is of anyone finding it out."

John Reagan laughed.
"Kid yourself, Jim—if you want to," he said. "But don't try to kid me."
At their destination, the undertaker conducted them into the cubicle where Thayer's body was being held under police orders. Hanvey was frankly frightened by the sight of death, and didn't even look at the body as Reagan gave a clinical dissertation on the killing.

". . . right in the neck," he was saying and the voice came to Hanvey as though from a distance. "The doc says it severed the jugular vein which is why there was so much blood. I asked him would it need to have been struck by a person with any strength and he said no, in that spot the slightest shove of a keen knife would do the work. I asked him if a woman could have done it, and he said, sure, a child could have. Then I asked the doc—"
"Tell me that later," suggested Hanvey hastily. "I want to get out of this place quick."

"Good Lord, Jim—if you didn't want to look things over, what did you come here for?"
"To find that diamond ring. You see, John—at the time Pat Thayer was killed, he was wearing a diamond ring which Ivy Welch had given him. I want to see if he's still wearing it."
Reagan bent over the body. When he straightened his expression was one of complete bewilderment.
"You sure you got your dope straight, Jim?"
"Yeah."
"Then there's something darn funny—because Thayer ain't got anything on his fingers except a signet ring with some foreign letters on it."
Hanvey turned reluctant eyes on the body.
"It's gone all right, John."
"I'll say it has." Reagan's forehead was creased with intensive thought. Suddenly he smashed his right fist into the palm of his other hand. "And you know what it means, Jim—that diamond ring being gone?"
"What does it mean, John?"
(TO BE CONTINUED.)

How I Broke Into The Movies

Copyright by Bill C. Herman

By BILLIE DOVE

A MATEUR theatricals, physical culture and dancing, were the avenues by which I reached the screen. I was born in New York, where I was educated. In one of the schools I attended, physical culture was taught religiously and I became very proficient, partly because I enjoyed the exercises. From this it was an easy step to dancing.

Then it was discovered that I "screened well." That means, in movie parlance, that one has a face that registers favorably before the camera. Not always is this the case and sometimes a very beautiful face will not photograph satisfactorily. It seems to be something for which there is no real explanation, you either screen well or you don't. I was fortunate. I studied and took part in amateur theatricals in my high school days.

It took me just four and a half years, however, to reach any eminence in the films. My first role was with Constance Talmadge in "Polly of the Folles." To Lois Weber, I owe much of my success in attaining what we are pleased to term "stardom."

My greatest chances came with two of her films, "The Sensation Seekers" and "The Marriage Clause." Then I had a marvelous opportunity when I played the feminine lead with Douglas Fairbanks in "The Black Pirate."

"The Lone Wolf Returns" gave me another opportunity and finally came my contract with First National pictures. At first I was featured—later came stardom. I was featured—later came stardom. I was featured—later came stardom.

The initial picture under this contract was "An Affair of the Folles." Then came "The Tender Hour" and with "The Stolen Bride," I was starred. I have since made "American Beauty" and "The Love" nine frocks are as whimsical as a passing summer breeze. They are, almost without exception, short and they are either puffed or ruffled or lace-adorned or stiffened to stand out as sprightly as a ballet dancer's skirt. Sometimes the cunning puffs are ensnared by a neat band which makes them look demure.

Necklines, too, contribute in no small way to the prettiness and becomingness of these fascinating summer frocks. The gay and debonair gown posed to the right in the illustration, for this winsome model is a dowered starched sheer cotton. The embroidered dots are green. The belt is green velvet. The white organdie flowers which outline the neckline in lei fashion are repeated on the skirt, for the newest gesture among designers is to feature attractive back views.

The keynote of the frock on the seated figure is its simplicity—sophisticated simplicity, if you please, for the durable embroidered white organdie which fashions it is a last word in fabric lore. Nothing could be prettier for graduate wear. Later this same frock could be posed over a pastel taffeta when it goes to parties and to dances.

© 1933, Western Newspaper Union.

Sheer, Lovely Cottons for Summer

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

SHEER cottons are triumphant in the mode. Of all the fluttery-ruffly seasons the coming summer promises to be the fluttest-ruffiest one we have known for years. With all the dainty crisp organdies, filmy mousselines, dotted nets, swisses and similar airy-fairy cottons which the vogue calls for, it is inevitable that our summer raiment will go alluringly feminine, which it does to the point of enchantment.

Commencement frocks especially yield to feminine persuasion this season. They are all that any fair one might dream of in the way of beguiling effects which myriads of little ruffles and "oodles" of tiny lace edgings unfurlingly bespeak.

The prettiness of these frocks, made of plain or embroidered organdies or sheer mousselines and the like, is simply devastating. Their full long skirts (usually ending above the ankle) have a picturesque grace about them as they fairly revel in a troupe of ruffles and ruchings and such. If not ruffles and frills and decorative treatments, then adroitly cut ample flares and circular movements, such as distinguish the winsome frocks pictured, accomplish the coveted fullness for the new skirts.

Let no one assume, however, that the presence of wide hemlines means that slender silhouettes are to be sacrificed. Not for one moment! The new "lines" call for slim fitted hips, and not until a point is reached between the hips and knees is the skirt allowed to spout out into whirling, swirling masses of little ruffles or develop widening flares.

The sleeves of these prettily feminine frocks are as whimsical as a passing summer breeze. They are, almost without exception, short and they are either puffed or ruffled or lace-adorned or stiffened to stand out as sprightly as a ballet dancer's skirt. Sometimes the cunning puffs are ensnared by a neat band which makes them look demure.

Necklines, too, contribute in no small way to the prettiness and becomingness of these fascinating summer frocks. The gay and debonair gown posed to the right in the illustration, for this winsome model is a dowered starched sheer cotton. The embroidered dots are green. The belt is green velvet. The white organdie flowers which outline the neckline in lei fashion are repeated on the skirt, for the newest gesture among designers is to feature attractive back views.

The keynote of the frock on the seated figure is its simplicity—sophisticated simplicity, if you please, for the durable embroidered white organdie which fashions it is a last word in fabric lore. Nothing could be prettier for graduate wear. Later this same frock could be posed over a pastel taffeta when it goes to parties and to dances.

© 1933, Western Newspaper Union.

Billie Dove.

Mar." The latter is a George Fitzmaurice production and a beautiful story of old New Orleans. More recently I starred in "The Night Watch," "Yellow Lily," "Adoration" and such talking picture as "Careers" and "Her Private Life."

What shall I say to the thousands of girls who seek a career in pictures? Must it be "Don't?"

I hate to say that, in a way, because I hate to discourage ambition, and yet, as I look back over even my brief career, think of the innumerable disappointments, the difficult work, the innumerable problems, I wonder if I would be justified in advising anyone to try it. Of course, I have been treated with consideration by the producers, directors and associate players. I have no complaints to offer in that respect. It is merely that the work is exacting and that the competition is very keen. All one's fortitude and courage are needed in the long months and years that must precede any sort of success. And then, of course, not many do succeed. I don't put that down to any wonderful talent or other qualification on my part—I think it is mainly hard work and the fact that I did screen well.

The compensations are great. I am very happy now. But I, too, might have failed and turned to other walks of life disillusioned and discouraged. It's a good deal a matter of Fate, I expect. Anyway, I am grateful, exceedingly grateful to all who have helped me on the road.

WNU Service

Unwise Investments Sent John Halliday to Stage

Back in his younger days John Halliday was a gold prospector and did well at it. He joined the army of gold hunters in the bleak Nevada deserts. That adventure brought him close to half-million, which he duly lost in the Sacramento stock market.

Stranded in that city, he joined Nat Goodwin's repertory company and a few years later played the lead in a world tour with T. Daniel Frawley. Back on Broadway, he played with John Drew, in "The Circle" and later appeared prominently in "The Whip," "Sour Grapes," "The Spider," "Jealousy" and other plays. Mr. Halliday began his screen career with "Scarlet Pages" and then appeared in "Captain Applejack" and "Fifty Million Frenchmen." He was placed under contract to RKO-Radio Pictures and since then has been seen in, among other pictures, "Smart Women," "Consolation Marriage," "Transatlantic," "The Ruling Voice," "Men of Chance," "Bird of Paradise" and "The Age of Consent."

"Too Much Talk" "Too much talk, in motion pictures, is like too much condiment on food. A little will pep it up—an overdose will ruin it. What good is a good steak if you can't taste it for the cestershire?"

These are the views of Jo Swerling, one of Columbia's ace writers, delivered in a short speech over the radio.

"My cardinal principle in screen writing is this—never tell with the microphone what the camera can tell. Pictures are always more eloquent than words."

GOWNS BEING MADE FOR SUNDAY NIGHT

The importance of "Sunday night" is stressed by one Paris house, for it has designed probably the majority of its spring and summer costumes with this particular evening in mind.

When you think of it, it is quite an inspiration, for Sunday night is a time for relaxation, informality and congenial intimacy. Hence ensembles that fit in with these feelings must be very lovely and restful, provocative of delightful conversation, restful to the eye and refreshing in every detail. And that is just what they are.

The black crepe frocks have graceful sleeves with much fullness about the elbow, often of white diamante tulle or in a heavier surah silk are made up in youthful overblouses, belted at the waistline, with cap sleeves, and huge scarf bows tied under the chin. Linen, with drawwork of stripes or checks, in butter yellow, brick red or old blue, is being made up in simple blouses for wear with tailored jacket suits.

There is practically no limit to the variety in more dressed-up blouses, for town wear, and for bridge, luncheon or tea.

More and Better Blouses Fashion Slogan of Spring

You may wear the frillest of Victorian creations—or you may go in for a simple Fascist shirt. But blouses you must have, for this is pre-eminently a suit season.

For informal wear, candy-striped shirting, made up in severe mannish style with a collar which may be worn open or closed, is a favorite type. Gay plaid taffeta, or checked surah silk are made up in youthful overblouses, belted at the waistline, with cap sleeves, and huge scarf bows tied under the chin. Linen, with drawwork of stripes or checks, in butter yellow, brick red or old blue, is being made up in simple blouses for wear with tailored jacket suits.

There is practically no limit to the variety in more dressed-up blouses, for town wear, and for bridge, luncheon or tea.

Stripes Woven in Just as You Want Them to Appear

You will like the new use for old stripes. Instead of turning and twisting the material to make the stripes run like you want them to, there is forthcoming a new material with the stripes already woven into it just the way you want them to go. And in the grandest assortment of colors! You're asking if they would make your mouth water? Wait till you see 'em!

Novelty Organdies

Very springlike are the flowers of the new gay crisp organdie blouses. Some of the very newest ones are of crinkly organdie with stripes like seersucker. Others are of blistered organdies. Still others are of the sheer starched organdies.

Color successes include: rose beige and yellow. Yellow is a color in promotion for little folk's apparel. Beiges and gray are the important colors of the moment.

An attractive scarf will give a festive air to the plain dress. Cotton coats with frills of fur around the collar are a specialtie de la Maison Molyneux.

Bandage sleeves are something new. The white hat is a big favorite for spring. Outstanding among new summer silks are stripes. Lingerie is the foundation of all success in dressing. New streamline coats without a single touch of fur are featured. Very evident in the new millinery is the trend toward higher crowns.

Color successes include: rose beige and yellow. Yellow is a color in promotion for little folk's apparel. Beiges and gray are the important colors of the moment.

An attractive scarf will give a festive air to the plain dress. Cotton coats with frills of fur around the collar are a specialtie de la Maison Molyneux.

Bandage sleeves are something new. The white hat is a big favorite for spring. Outstanding among new summer silks are stripes. Lingerie is the foundation of all success in dressing. New streamline coats without a single touch of fur are featured. Very evident in the new millinery is the trend toward higher crowns.

CHIC LINEN SUIT

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Those who know fashions are all enthusiasm over the idea of linen as a medium for the new jacket suits. The new tweed weave linens are as soft as fine woolen and the beauty of them is that they crush little, if at all. Smart Parisiennes have started the vogue of the dark blouse with the natural colored linen suit, brown or navy organdie being especially sponsored for these blouses. The young woman in the picture has chosen to wear a navy and white striped blouse with a soft-tied navy scarf with her attractive noncrushable tweed linen suit.

Home Body

Lady (engaging new maid)—And what denomination are you?
Maid—Well, mum, mother goes to the Baptist church and father to the Methodist, but speaking for myself, I'm wireless.—Boston Transcript.

Vanished

"That chap is one of those fellows who will promise anything."
"But does he keep his promises?"
"He must, nobody sees or hears anything of them afterward."—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

Impetuous Young Man

Plutoocrat (to young man asking for his daughter's hand)—And have you said anything about this to my daughter?
World-Be-Sultor—Not yet, sir. You see it was only last night that I heard you had a daughter.—London Opinion.

Explained

Tutor (sternly)—This essay on "Our Dog" is word for word the same as your brother's!
Puppl—Yes sir—same dog.—London Opinion.

Under New Control

Diner—You advertised that this restaurant is under new management, but I see the same manager is still here.
Waiter—Yes, sir, but he got married yesterday.—Amsterdam Noter-traker.

Sympathetic Pa

She (as her father turns off the light; at the main as a hint to late-staying suitor)—That's daddy!
He—I say—what a sport!—Shelfield Weekly Telegraph.

Wit and Humor

KNEW HER BIBLE

"So you attend Sunday school regularly?" said the minister to little Eve.
"Oh, yes, sir."
"And you know your Bible?"
"Oh, yes, sir."
"Could you tell me something that is in it?"

"I could tell you everything that's in it."
"Indeed!" and the minister smiled.
"Sister's young man's photograph is in it," said Eve, promptly, "and mother's recipe for face cream is in it, and a lock of my hair cut off when I was a baby is in it, and the ticket for dad's watch is in it."—Tit-Bits Magazine.

LIVES BY HER LAYS

"So your hen's a poet, you think?"
"To be sure she is—doesn't she live by her lays?"

Too Much

As a special treat the vicar provided sausage-rolls at the tea party for the oldest inhabitants of the village. During the meal he walked around among his guests with a plate of rolls. Presently he stopped beside Mrs. O'Malley, who had taken the sausage out of her roll and left the pastry on the side of her plate.

"Don't you like the pastry, Mrs. O'Malley?" he kindly asked.
The old woman looked up and shook her head.
"Nay, vicar," she replied. "I've eaten the dog, but I can't manage the kennel."—Answers Magazine.

Disquieting Thought.

He—Darling, let us keep our engagement a secret!
She—Yes, love—but I must tell Lily. The horrid creature said I should never find a man foolish enough to marry me.—Sie and Er (Zoffingen).

Couldn't Say That Now

Hubby—You didn't have a rag on your back when I married you.
Wife—Anyway, I've plenty of them now.—Stray Stories Magazine.

No Disputes

"You say you never clash with your wife?"
"Never. She goes her way and I go hers."—Tit-Bits Magazine.

In School

Teacher—Now, James, tell me what animal is web-footed.
James—The spider.—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

PERSPICACITY

"Jones is a man who never fails to see his duty clearly."
"True; but usually he sees it in time to avoid it."

Home Body

SHERIFF'S SALE
Of Valuable
REAL ESTATE
By virtue of a writ of Levari Facias to me directed will be exposed to sale by way of public vendue in front of the W. W. Wilson Hardware Store in the Town of Frederica, Kent County and State of Delaware, on SATURDAY, JUNE 3rd, 1933
At 2 O'clock P. M.

The following described Real Estate, to-wit:

All that certain lot, piece or parcel of land situated in the town of Frederica, Kent county and State of Delaware, lying on the West side of Market Street, the metes and bounds, courses and distances according to a survey thereof made by John C. Hopkins on the sixteenth day of October, A. D., 1926, are as follows, to-wit: Beginning at a corner post for lands of Thomas V. Cahall, deceased, and lands of Mrs. Sipple, thence running with the said Sipple land south eight-nine degrees east ninety-nine feet to a corner for the said Sipple land, in the middle of Market Street, thence running with the middle of said Market Street north twenty-eight degrees East thirty-eight feet to a new corner now established in the middle of said street thence running a new line now established separating the lot hereby conveyed from other lands of the said grantors north eighty-nine degrees West one hundred and eighteen feet to a stake set a fence for a new corner now established, where a stone is to be placed, thence running another new line along and in part with the said fence south one and one-half degrees east thirty-six feet to the place of beginning by the contents what they may; it being and including the same lands that were conveyed to the said Claude H. Keith by Deed of the said Isaac W. Betts and wife bearing date September 21, 1926, and recorded in the Recorder's Office at Dover, in Deed Record D Vol. 13, page 47 etc., together also with other lands that the above metes and bounds include. The intent and purpose of this Deed is to cure the incorrect measurements in said recital Deed.

Improvements being a two-story frame and stucco dwelling house, with office, garage and other improvements.

Together with all and singular the buildings and improvements of every kind whatsoever, ways, water, water-courses, rights, liberties, privileges, improvements, hereditaments and appurtenances, whatsoever thereunto belonging or in any wise appertaining.

Seized and taken in execution as the property of CLAUDE H. KEITH and EDNA M. KEITH, his wife, mortgagors, and will be sold by
R. A. SAULSBURY, Sheriff
Sheriff's Office, Dover, Del., May 12, 1933.

SHERIFF'S SALE
Of Valuable
REAL ESTATE

By virtue of a writ of Levari Facias to me directed will be exposed to sale by way of public vendue at the Front Door of the New Windsor Hotel, in the City of Milford, Kent County and State of Delaware, on
SATURDAY, JUNE 3, 1933
At 1:30 O'CLOCK P. M.

The following described Real Estate, to-wit:

All that certain tract, piece and parcel of land situated in the City of Milford, Kent County and State of Delaware, and being on the South West corner of Fourth and Church Streets with a frontage on Church Street of Thirty feet and depth on the South side of Sixty-two feet (62) feet and depth on the north side of Sixty-nine (69) feet and a width of thirty-two (32) feet on the back, adjoining property of Charles Shockley on the south on the west property of Mrs. Elizabeth M. L. Nutter, bounded on the north by Fourth Street, and by Church Street on the East. It being a part of a larger tract of land conveyed to Elizabeth M. Lofland by Deed of Mark H. Barlow and wife bearing date Oct. 20, A. D. 1913 not now of record but to be recorded.

The improvements thereon being a single-story frame house and a garage.

Together with all and singular the buildings and improvements of every kind whatsoever, ways, water, water-courses, rights, liberties, privileges, improvements, hereditaments and appurtenances, whatsoever thereunto belonging or in any wise appertaining.

It is hereby understood and agreed to by parties of second part that this property hereby conveyed is subject to a ground rent of three dollars and thirty-four cents ($3.34) payable annually to Elizabeth M. L. Lofland. This tract of land being same land conveyed by Deed of Elizabeth M. L. Nutter and Clement H. Nutter bearing date from June 16, A. D. 1925, to Frederick D. Billup and Mahala E. Billup, a reference thereto being had it will more fully and at large appear.

Seized and taken in execution as the property of FREDERICK D. BILLUP and MAHALA E. BILLUP, his wife, mortgagors, and will be sold by
R. A. SAULSBURY, Sheriff
Sheriff's Office, Dover, Del., May 12, 1933.

STATE MAY LOSE $500,000
GOVERNMENT HIGHWAY AID

Federal highway aid for Delaware would be trimmed $500,000, clipping the Federal aid to $1,694,000, under the Burnham amendment to the huge public works bill adopted Friday by the House. The Senate has yet to act on the amendment.

While Delaware and several New England States would lose a portion of their Federal aid other northwest and north Atlantic States would gain appropriations.

Under the amendment the fund is to be allotted one-fourth on the basis of mileage, one-fourth on area, and one-half on population. As originally drawn the public works bill provided the allotment one-third for highway mileage, one-third for area, and one-third for population.

PUBLIC SALE
OF

PERSONAL PROPERTY
I will sell my personal property at my residence on Hanley Street, Harrington, Del., at public sale, on
SATURDAY, JUNE 3
At 1:30 O'clock

The following property will be sold:
2 iron beds, 2 wooden beds, 3 bureaus, 2 wash stands, 1 wash bowl and pitcher, 2 mattresses, 4 bed springs, 2 feather beds and pillows, 2 bedroom chairs, three 9x12 rugs, one 8x10 rug, 10 small rugs, 1 carpet, 1 linoleum, 14 window blinds, step ladder, 1 buffalo robe, 1 trunk, 2 hall carpets, 1 sewing machine, 6-piece parlor suit, 1 library table, 2 stands, 1 music rack, 1 Victrola, 1 floor lamp, 2 table lamps, 5 rocking chairs, 1 couch, 1 mirror, Dining room suit, light oak, buffet round table and six chairs to match; 1 large-size hot blast coal stove, lace curtains, dishes and cooking utensils, 1 clothes basket, one 3-burner oil stove, 2 kitchen tables, 1 refrigerator, 1 tin safe, 3 porch chairs.

Terms: Cash.
J. A. WALLS,
T. Lane Adams, Auctioneer.

KENTUCKY
BURLEY TOBACCO

"Direct From Grower To You"
Old Kentucky Burley Tobacco is the cream of the finest crops Kentucky's beautiful soil can produce—ripe, rich leaves, smooth and mellow, with that rare old-fashioned flavor and fragrance that only proper "aging" can produce. We bank on it you have never tasted or smoked a finer flavored, more satisfying tobacco in all your life.

SPECIAL OFFER
Five Pounds
Smoking
Tobacco
$1

Rich, Ripe, Old Fashioned Leaf
Our Old Kentucky Burley is no more like manufactured tobacco than day is like night—guaranteed free from chemicals and all other adulterations that conceal imperfections, delude the sense of taste and undermine the health.

We use the same method our grandfathers used in preparing tobacco for their own use—every trace of harshness leaves it—nothing to "bite" your tongue or "parch" your taste. Thousands of tobacco lovers the world over swear by its inimitable smoking and chewing qualities.

REDUCE YOUR TOBACCO
BILL ONE-HALF

We sell direct from the grower, this eliminates the eighteen cents a pound Revenue Tax—all manufacturer's and middlemen's profit, thereby effecting a saving to you of 50 per cent or more. No fancy packages, no decorations, just quality and lots of it.

MONEY SAVING PRICE
SMOKING 5 lbs. Send us One
OR for Dollar Cash
CHEWING $1.00 P. O. or Express Money

Order (no personal checks) and we will promptly ship you a five-pound package of "Burley Tobacco."

Five pounds of Old Kentucky Burley will make 40 large packages of smoking or 50 twists of chewing. Send 35 cents in silver and we will ship Post-Paid one pound of Burley Tobacco as a trial offer. A trial will convince you.

We have thousands of requests daily for "Samples" our margin of profit is so small we cannot comply with these requests.

We do not ship C. O. D. orders. To do so would require a large staff of clerks. Orders must be in English language.

INDEPENDENT TOBACCO
GROWERS ASSOCIATION
McClure Bldg. Frankfort, Ky.

DELAWARE DAY TO
BE HELD JUNE 27

"Delaware Day" at the World's Fair, which opened at Chicago, on Saturday, will be observed on June 27th. Officials have set aside special days honoring various States, nations and cities. On the days reserved, special programs and events are being arranged for residents of the places honored.

DELAWARE VOTES WET
(Continued From Page One)

2nd—Farmington	182	89
	453	316
Tenth Representative District (Milford)
	Wet	Dry
1st—Milford	183	31
2nd—Milford	290	123
	473	153
Totals	4349	2006
Wet majority	2343

FELTON

Mrs. Margaret Warren is visiting her daughter in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Diefenderfer, of Wilmington, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee Sipple.

T. Thelander is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Bringham.

On the 26th a concert was given by the school in the auditorium under the supervision of Mr. McFaddin, who has charge of the vocal and instrumental department.

An Thursday Miss Loretta Stevenson was a luncheon guest of Mrs. Fred Clark, at Camden.

Morris Simpler, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Simpler, and a member of the High School Junior Class, is quite ill.

Mrs. E. Carney, of Wilmington, is spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Eaton.

Mrs. Lloyd Morrow is entertaining her grand-daughter, Betty Mackrell, of Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Harrington, of Centerville, Md., have been the guests of Thomas Bradley, Mrs. Harrington's father.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Gruwell, of Wilmington, were recent guests of relatives here.

On the 27th, Dr. and Mrs. Bringham, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bringham, Mr. and Mrs. George Bringham and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Cleaves attended the Friends West-town School Alumni Association.

Mrs. N. Lee Sipple has returned from a week's visit to Wilmington.

The program of the activities of the Felton High School Senior Class of twelve girls and nine boys is as follows: Class Day, June 2nd; baccalaureate sermon at the M. E. Church by Rev. Henry Caldwell, June 4th. Commencement, June 5th, address by the President of Washington College, P. Titsworth; Alumni Association meeting, June 3rd.

FREDERICA

Rev. and Mrs. N. C. Benson, Mrs. Joseph Frazier and Mrs. A. W. Carrow spent Friday at Rehoboth.

Mr. and Mrs. George Tiegler, of Philadelphia, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Salevan, of Philadelphia, Pa., were week-end guests of Mrs. Georgeanna Salevan.

Mr. W. J. Simpson, of Felton, spent Sunday with Mrs. C. J. Speer.

Postmaster Mr. Robert Rogers and wife are in Bloomfield, N. J., they will spend several days with Mrs. E. A. Smith.

Mrs. Laura Carrow had as her guests on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. H. Overdore, and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Griffith, of Wilmington.

Miss Emma Monlove entertained over the week-end Miss Mary Waller and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Durborough, of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Laura Spurry of Wilmington, is visiting Captain and Mrs. John Cunningham.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Smith spent Sunday at Houston.

Rev. and Mrs. N. C. Benson has as their guests on Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Malin, Mr. and Mrs. McDonald, of Philadelphia and Millard Benson of Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. Asa Rogers left on Wednesday for Rehoboth, where they will spend two weeks as the guests of Mrs. Edith Phillips.

Miss Margaret Evens and Mr. Richard R. Betts were guests of Senator and Mrs. I. W. Betts on Sunday.

Mrs. Homer Hopkins and Mrs. Henry Purnell were recent guests of relatives in Maryland.

Donald Cook, of Wilmington, spent the week-end with his aunt Mrs. Mr. and Mrs. Ponder Thomas were at Rehoboth over the week-end.

Mr. Ira Garbutt is ill at his home in town.

THEATRE MEN OF STATE ARE PLANNING FOR CONVENTION

The newly organized Independent Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Delaware, will consider plans for a Theatre, Milford, June 14.

E. C. Evans, secretary-treasurer of State-wide convention at a membership meeting to be held at the Plaza the Plaza theatre, Milford, attended a meeting of the committee on by-laws Wednesday at the Park Theatre, Wilmington, of which A. J. DeFlore, the president of the organization is manager.

Reese B. Harrington, another member of the committee attended the meeting and drafted by-laws to be submitted. It is expected that the new organization which includes all independent theatre men of Delaware will hold their convention in August. The place has not been designated.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

The Church School had an attendance of 260 Sunday, with over $20 offering for World Service.

The Memorial Day service was one of our best. W. W. Simmons, of Philadelphia, sang a solo. The Booster Class put on a good program in the evening, with Francis Burgette Short, of Milford, as the speaker of the evening. His subject was from the text "And Abraham went forth not knowing whither he went." The quartette from Lewes supplied several numbers and Miss Margaret Simpson and Ellis Cordrey were heard in a duet.

The services for the coming Sabbath are as follows:

9:30 A. M.—An old-fashioned class meeting, led by A. D. McCabe. Visitors welcome.

9:45 A. M.—The Church School in all departments, H. J. Ramsdell, superintendent. Classes for all ages.

The offering next Sunday for current expenses.

11:00 A. M.—The pastor will deliver the sermon, having for his subject "Two Important Questions."

There will be no night service at our church. We are joining with the M. P. Church in their worship.

The Junior League meets on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Miss Virginia LeCompte is superintendent, with Mrs. Grace Chason and Mrs. Job Pride assisting. All children under fourteen years of age invited.

The prayer and praise meeting will be held on Friday evening, instead of Wednesday evening, by the pastor.

Keep in mind the date of our Children's Day Sunday, June 18th, both morning and evening.

The Church School Board will meet on Monday evening at 7:30 sharp, H. J. Ramsdell presiding. The Official Board will meet the same evening at 8:15.

M. P. CHURCH NOTES

The regular monthly business and social meeting of the Loyal Workers Class will be held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. William H. Cahall. All members of the class are invited to be present.

The Ladies Aid Society meeting Tuesday evening will be a joint affair with the Ladies Auxiliary. This meeting of the Auxiliary is moved up since this meeting would come on the opening day of the Conference. At this union meeting Tuesday evening Mrs. R. W. Sapp will give a report of the Missionary Convention she attended at Pittsburgh. Don't forget to vote first.

This Sunday starts another Conference year. Let's start it right. How nice it would be if every member would come to the Communion Service and consecrate himself or herself anew to the work of Christ.

At night we will have the High School Baccalaureate service at 8:00 o'clock. The pastor will preach the sermon to graduates and others. His subject will be "The Solution to the Problem." It will deal not only with the solution of young people's problems, but the problems of adults. The text for this sermon will be "And they willingly received him into the ship, and immediately the ship was at the land whither they were going."—John 6:21.

Sunday evening week we will have our Children's Day service at 8:00 P. M. We invite you to come and get the message that these little ones have for you. The offering for missions in the Sunday School will not be taken this Sunday on account of the Children's Day offering the following week.

The third Sunday in June, which will be Conference Sunday, we expect to have two visiting members of the conference with us to preach. Rev. L. Colvin Randall, of Centerville, Md., will preach in the morning, and Rev. E. L. Bunce, who is well known to Harrington people because of the revival services he conducted four and five years ago, will be the evening preacher. We invite you to these special June services which start another year for us.

Statement of the ownership, management, etc., required by the act of Congress of August 24, 1912, of the Harrington Journal published weekly at Harrington, Del., for April, 1933.

State of Delaware
County of Kent

ss.
Before me a notary public in and for the State and County aforesaid, personally appeared J. Harvey Burgess, who having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the editor of the Harrington Journal; that the publisher, managing editor, business manager is J. Harvey Burgess, Harrington, Del.; that the owner is J. Harvey Burgess, Harrington, Del.

That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or securities are: R. W. Hartnett Co., Philadelphia, Pa.; H. S. Harrington, Harrington, Del.; The Intertype Corporation, Brooklyn, N. Y.

J. HARVEY BURGESS,
Sworn to and subscribed before me this 27th day of May, 1933.
Wm. H. Cahall, Notary Public.
My commission expires Dec. 11, 1934

FARMINGTON CHURCH NOTES.

A Temperance Rally is scheduled for 7:45 P. M., Saturday, June 3rd, at Todd's Chapel. Everyone is urged to come. Your cooperation is requested.

The Farmington Schol Commencement will be held in the Methodist Episcopal Church, Sunday evening, June 7th, at 8 o'clock. Rev. James F. Langrall has been requested to address the graduating class.

Let us look forward to the First Quarterly Conference, June 14th at 3:00 P. M.

The Farmington Ladies Aid meets at the home of Mrs. Marion Keyes, Thursday evening, June 8. A special invitation is extended to all the young people and their older friends.

Contributions of canned goods for Milford Emergency Hospital will be received at Todd's Chapel next Sunday morning, at Prospect in the afternoon and at Epworth on the following Sunday.

Everyone enjoyed the sermon preached by Rev. Robert S. Hodson at Farmington last Sunday evening. Many people remembered him as a former pastor of this charge. We hope he will visit us again in the near future.

Church Calendar—Sunday, June 4th. Farmington M. E. Church, 10:00 A. M. Sunday School, 11:00 A. M. Morning Worship, 8:00 P. M. Farmington School Commencement.

Prospect Church, 2:00 P. M. Sunday School, 3:00 P. M. Preaching.

When you buy a battery for your farm lighting plant, consult the one who knows—Satterfield & Ryan, Delco Authorized Sales & Service

THE HOTEL
PRESIDENT
awaits your visit on 48th ST. WEST OF BROADWAY
BEST HOTEL VALUE
IN NEW YORK CITY
FREE
Garage Facilities
Room with private bath
$3.50 Daily
Single $2.50, $3, $3.50
Double $3.50, $4, $4.50
Special Weekly Rates
Single $15 Weekly
Double $22 Weekly
Chickering 3800
Sidney J. Mitchell
Manager

Berkshire pigs for sale.—Norman Outten, Route 5, Harrington, Del.

Are You Protected?

Another Loss
Your home, business building or other premises (owned and occupied by yourself) may become untenable because of fire, windstorm, explosion or other damage. What then? Rents must be paid elsewhere. Are you fully protected against this two-fold loss? Your fire insurance policy does not cover the expense of renting a new home or business building. Consult us about a policy on rents or rental value.

Cars Being Built at World's Fair

Millions of people will have their first opportunity to see an automobile being built, when they visit this mammoth room where the Chevrolet Motor Company will assemble "Master Six" coaches and coupes in the special General Motors Building at "A Century of Progress" exposition. On the left, Fisher bodies are being fabricated on a "U" shaped line and on the right, Chevrolets are being assembled from the bare frame to the completed car, ready to be driven out of the building under their own power. Note, in the center of the photograph, the body being swung from the end of the Fisher line over to its place on a Chevrolet chassis. Visitors may purchase cars built here and drive them home.

You need no longer be told that you have an expensive foot

Enna Jettick
Health Shoes
add pep to your step

Abuse not use makes feet grow old—and the most common form of abuse is ill fitting shoes.

If you feel that because you choose to pay only $3 to $6 for your shoes you must make whatever you get in the way of fit you are mistaken.

ENNA JETTICKS come in all sizes and widths from AAAA to EEE—AND THAT'S WHY WE CAN AND DO FIT YOU.

LISTEN IN for the broadcast of ENNA JETTICK MELODIES every Sunday evening over at p. m. (our time) and Friday evenings over at p. m. (our time).

Successful POULTRYMEN say:

"Every penny counts in keeping hens for profit. For example, small orders received by telephone help to pay the feed bill."

SAFETY SALLY
says—
Study the Traffic Laws—and obey them. Ignorance is no excuse. They are for YOUR protection. Copies obtainable at any police station.

THE FARM HOME ESPECIALLY NEEDS A TELEPHONE

YOU CAN HAVE ONE FOR LESS THAN A DIME A DAY!

THE DIAMOND STATE TELEPHONE COMPANY