

J. HARVEY BURGESS, EDITOR

$1.00 Per Year in State; $1.50 Per Year Out of State.

Entered as second class matter on May 9, 1913, at the postoffice at Harrington, Delaware, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Articles for publication must be accompanied by the name of the writer to insure publication, but not necessarily for publication.

To insure publication in the current week, all communications should be in this office not later than 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

In mentioning the dedication of Harrington's new postoffice, Wilmington's morning paper referred to it as a $17,000-building. When the afternoon paper came out, about ten hours later, it referred to it as a $70,000-building. It doesn't take real estate long to advance in price in Harrington.

While the new postoffice was being dedicated here Saturday afternoon, and speakers affiliated with the Democratic party were delivering talks, some of the Pennsylvania Railroad's longest freight trains came by, making it impossible to hear the speakers.—Just another example of the big corporations always trying to drown out the voice of democracy!

Through it all, his family has enjoyed perfect health, and for this Jerry is grateful—but Jerry Malloy claims that he has had more reverses than any other man in the world. He had a fine crop in western Kansas several years ago, and the dust storms ruined it. He moved to Ohio, near Portsmouth, had the finest crop of corn in that section—and the Ohio river overflowed. He next tried Nebraska—and the grasshoppers ruined his crop. He purchased a small home in Toledo, Ohio—and the house burned before he could take out insurance. He invested what money he had left in a small New England manufacturing plant—and that was destroyed in the flood of September 22. Jerry Malloy is an optimist, and cheerfully grinning, he claims to be the champion hard luck fellow of America—and issues a challenge to all comers. Listen, Jerry; have you ever tried to publish a Democratic paper in Delaware?

MILLIONS OF OUR OWN ARE WITHOUT WORK

German refugees want to "mortgage" the quota of that country's aliens for the years 1939, 1940, 1941—and dump something like 80,000 people into the United States in a lump!

Boldly, baldly, bellicosely, belligerently, we beller: "Bah!"

We do not like the use of that word "mortgage"—and it's the word they used.

Regardless of race, color or creed, we are not in favor of any country sending people over here in numbers exceeding the quota; in fact, we'd cut the quota in two—and then further reduce it.

Under the proposed set-up, America would have to pay passage for these aliens, support them until they are able to support themselves.

Let's take some poor fellow in this country, one who has been sold out by the sheriff, and hasn't a nickel in the world with which to support himself and family—just how would he feel about this country of ours supporting refugees while he himself starved.

Bring them over here, fire the men who have the jobs and give the jobs to the aliens—that's what they are doing in New York at this very moment. For years and years, it has been almost impossible for an American to get a job in New York—because it is controlled by the foreign element. And now they would enlarge the system and the rest of the country would feel the blight.

Uncle Sam is a grand old fellow, as George M. Cohan and millions of others know—but huge armies of his nieces and nephews are suckers!

For a century Armenia sent its smoothest talkers over here for financial help, pleading that the "Un-speakable Turk" had persecuted them because Armenians are Christians. Our great-grandfathers fell for that one, so did our grandfathers, our fathers—and so did we—until a short time ago. An ancient proverb says: "A Greek is twice as smart as a Russian, and an Armenian is three times smarter than a Greek." Just where does that place us in the category of the wise—or the unwise?

Any major catastrophe in any part of the world finds your Uncle Samuel dishing out the coin generously and unwisely. Sam is a Lady Bountiful in skirts.

Some hard-working American acquires a fortune manufacturing soap or a gargle—and counts and no-counts from across the water swarm about the silly daughter. From Anna Gould down, these soap and gargle heiresses have carried hundreds of millions of American dollars to other countries.

We sacrificed the lives of a lot of our boys, spent billions of dollars of our own money and let the nations of Europ borrow further millions—and, with the exception of the poorest—and grandest—country of the lot, little Finland, no one has paid that debt.

Many people experience a glow of benevolence at the idea of making a contribution to go to some so-called heathen, who is smart enough to out-smart us, but shudder at the idea of assisting some poor unfortunate in their own country.

But—"I am my brother's keeper," you say with a sanctimonious smirk. The heck you are! Do you know how many "brothers" you have on this fearful clod that men call earth? You have something like 500,000,000 in China, almost as many in India—and hundreds of millions all over the world, many of them using our own money to gird themselves for Armageddon; many of them ready to stick a knife in your back without provocation.

The persecution in Germany is a horrible thing, a beastly thing—and if we must help the refugees financially, why not settle them in some other country, instead of bringing them over here to rob our own workmen of jobs.

We do not believe in mail-order charity.

Vaughn Warren was chairman of program at Tuesday evening's meeting of the Harrington Rotary Club, and he had George Spelvin as his speaker. Mr. Spelvin probably knows more of the theatre, and is better known to play goers than any other person living today. His talk was in a reminiscent vein and the Rotarians enjoyed his references to some of the colorful characters of the stage. A Ladies' Night and Inter-City Meeting is planned for Monday evening, Dec. 12, at which Dr. Alexander Cairns, well-known lecturer, who has spoken in Harrington eight times, will be the principal speaker.

THE DANGER OF DIPHTHERIA

Children of pre-school age are in almost as much danger of catching diphtheria as are their older brothers and sisters, if neither is immunized, since the latter may act as carriers to bring germs into homes, say State Board of Health authorities. The State Board of Health is now emphasizing to parents the necessity of having their young ones protected, even though they may not be in school.

Parents of children of pre-school age may have them immunized by their family physician, or take them to their local school, on the pre-announced day when toxoid treatments will be given there. Immunizing treatments are also given at the well baby conferences conducted weekly in health centers throughout the state.

Those desiring to have their pre-school age children immunized, if they cannot afford to take them to a private physician, to communicate with the nearest health center, at Georgetown, Dover or Newark, or with the 830 Kirkwood Street Center, Wilmington, to learn where they may take them to receive the protective treatment.
